Oats, No. 2 mixed	.30½
Flour, Minneapolis patents	$4.25
Cotton, middling	.10
Coffee, No. 7 Rio	.07¼
Sugar, granulated	5.60
Molasses, O. K. prime	.40
Beef, family	11.00
Beef hams	20.00
Tallow, prime	.05½
Pork, mess	13.75
Hogs, dressed, 160 lb	.07
Lard, prime	7.75
Butter, Western creamery	.21

CHICAGO, Jan. 14.—Cash quotations were as follows: Flour steady; No. 3 Spring wheat, 65@73c; No. 2 red, 75@76¾c; No. 2 corn, 37@37¼c; No. 2 yellow, 37¼@37¾c; No. 2 oats, 24@24¾c; No. 2 white, 26¾@27¼c; No. 3 white, 26@27c; No. 2 rye, 50@54c; fair to choice malting barley, 51@62c; No. 1 flaxseed, $1.66; No. 1 Northwestern, $1.67; prime timothy seed, $4.60; mess pork, per bbl, $14.25@14.37½; lard, per 100 lb, $7.40@7.42½; short ribs, sides, (loose,) $6.95@7.25; dry-salted shoulders, (boxed,) 6¾@6¾c; short clear sides, (boxed,) $7.30@7.40; whiskey, basis of high wines, $1.27; covered, contract grade, $11.

COTTON.—On the opening the market was easy, with prices 4@6 points lower, soon increased to a matter of 10@12 points by active selling from all directions, led by tired holders. The English cables were the cause for the decline and selling here, having reflected a weak situation at Liverpool, where both departments had suffered from liquidation. Steady cables had been expected. The basis for the heaviness abroad was larger cost, insurance, and freight offerings by nervous spot holders and the big crop estimate issued here Saturday last by E. T. Watson & Co. Liverpool continued weak to the very closing, and sold from time to time in our market all day. Spot cotton closed dull, with quotations ¼c lower, on the basis of 10c for middling upland and 10¾c for middling Gulf. Sales, 1,700 bales. Southern spot markets were telegraphed as follows: New Orleans quiet and easier, unchanged, at 9¾c; Mobile easy, unchanged, at 9¾c; Savannah quiet, 1-16c off, at 9 7-16c; Wilmington firm, unchanged, at 9¼c; Norfolk quiet, 1-16c lower, at 9 9-16c; Baltimore nominal, unchanged, at 10¼c; Augusta steady, 1-16c lower, at 9¾c; St. Louis dull, unchanged, at 9¾c.

Contract price ranged as follows:

	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.
January	9.75	9.75	9.67	9.69@...
February	9.48	9.48	9.40	9.37@9.39
March	9.43	9.43	9.35	9.34@9.36
April	9.37	9.37	9.31	9.30@9.32
May	9.41	9.41	9.30	9.30@9.31
June	9.37	9.37	9.34	9.28@9.29
July	9.35	9.35	9.27	9.26@9.27
August	9.05	9.05	8.97	8.97@8.98
September	8.58	8.58	8.58	8.50@8.54
October	8.17	8.20	8.17	8.15@8.16
November	8.10	8.10	8.10	...@...

LIVERPOOL, Jan. 14.—Spot Cotton—Moderate business; prices 1-32d lower; American middling fair, 5 28-32d; good middling, 5 10-32d; middling, 5 4-64; low middling, 5 11-32d; good ordinary, 4 27-32d. The sales of the day were 8,000 bales, of which 500 bales were for speculation and export, and included 7,800 bales American. Receipts, 20,000 bales, all American. Futures opened quiet and closed easy; American middling, low middling clause, January, 5 22-64@5 23-64d; sellers, January and February, 5 20-64@5 21-64d buyers; February and March, 5 18-64d buyers; March and April, 5 16-64d, sellers; April and May, 5 14-64d, sellers; May and June, 5 11-64@5 12-64d, buyers, June and July, 5 9-64d, buyers; July and August, 5 8-64@5 7-64d, sellers; August and September, 4 57-64d, buyers; September, 4 57-64d, buyers; October, 4 39-64d, nominal.

BREADSTUFFS.—WHEAT—In looking over the market situation yesterday morning, local operators made the mistake of supposing that Wall Street or other big interests were buying wheat again at Chicago, presumably with the idea of starting another bull campaign. Quite regardless of the bearish statistics at hand, which, under ordinary conditions, would have undoubtedly produced an important effort on the market, scalpers bought considerable wheat and then waited to see the market go up. To the extent of about 2½@2¾c these speculations were realized, but all efforts to elevate it further were in vain, and toward midday they were compelled to acknowledge their mistake in judgment, with the result that under liberal sales for long account prices dropped off sharply below the close of Saturday. World's shipments, according to the Chicharge figures, 7,451,000 bushels for the week, and, according to Broomhall, were 8,448,000 bushels, largely due to heavy shipments from this country last week. Seaboard flour clearances were very fair again, reaching 59,500 barrels, and wheat 269,300 bushels. The quantity increased 1,840,000 bushels. Quotations at cash were: No. 1 hard, Duluth, 90¾c, nominal; old No. 1 Northern, Duluth, 88¾c; No. 1 Northern, Duluth, 86¾c; No. 1 Northern, Chicago, 84¾c; No. 2 red, New York, 82½c, afloat; No. 2 hard, Chicago, 81¾c, prompt; No. 2 hard, New York, 80¼c; No. 2 red, next week, 82½c; No. 2 hard, Chicago, 81¾c, prompt; No. 2 hard, New York, 80¼c; No. 2 corn, next week, 40¾c; No. 2 corn, Jan. 23 to Feb. 10, 46¾c.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 14.—Wheat—No. 2 red, cash, 73c; January, 72¾c; May, 75¼c; July, 73¾c; No. 2 hard, 70¼@71¾c. Corn—No. 2 cash, 36c; January, 36c; May, 37½c; July, 39c. Oats—No. 2 cash, 23¾c; January, 25¼c; May, 25¾c; No. 2 white, 27½c.

DULUTH, Minn., Jan. 14.—Wheat—No. 1 hard, 77¾c; No. 1 Northern, 78¾c; No. 2 Northern, 67¾@68¾c; No. 3 Spring, 65¾@62¾c, to arrive; No. 1 hard, 76¾c; No. 1 Northern, 74¾c; May, 77¾c; July, 78¾c. Oats—25¾@25½c.

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 14.—Wheat—May, 76c; July 76¾@76¾c. On track: No. 1 hard, 76¾c; No. 1 Northern, 74¾c; No. 2 Northern, 71@72¾c. Flour and bran unchanged.

MILWAUKEE, Jan. 14.—Wheat—nominal; No. 1 Northern, 77¾c; No. 2 Northern, 73¼@74¼c. Rye—Dull; No. 1, 54c. Barley—Dull; No. 2, 90@91c; sample, 50@57c.

FLOUR AND MEAL—Spring patents were quoted at $4.10@$4.35; Winter straights, $3.45@$3.60; Winter patents, $3.70@$4; Spring clears, $3@$3.35; extra No. 1 Winter, $2.70@$3.90; extra No. 2 Winter, $2.50@$2.85; no Spring sale, $18.50@$19.25, spot and to arrive. Buckwheat flour, $2.10@$2.20. Rye Flour dull; fair to good, $2.80@$3.15; choice to fancy, $3.15@$3.60. Cornmeal quiet; kiln dried, $2.35@$2.40, as to brand. Bag meal steady; fine white and yellow, $1@$1.05; coarse, 91@92c. Feed firm; Spring bran, spot, $16.75@$17; sacks, to arrive, 200 lb, $17@$17.50; Spring bran, bulk, $16.25@$16.50; coarse white bran, $16@$18.50; city bran, $16.50@$17; cornmeal, $25; linseed oil cake, $27.75; corn oil cake, $19; hominy chop, $17; oil meal, $28.25.

FUTURES.

NEW YORK PRICES.

	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.
Wheat—
January	....	....	....	80¾
March	82 1-16	82 1-16	81¾	81¾
May	82 7-16	82 11-16	81¾	81¾
July	81 9-16	81 11-16	81½	81½
Corn—
January	45 15-16	46	45 15-16	46
May	44½	44½	43 15-16	44
July	43 15-16	43 15-16	43½	43¾
Lard—
January	....	....	....	$7.75

CHICAGO PRICES.

	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.
Wheat—
January	75 1-16	77⅝	74½	74⅝
May	77¾	78⅝	77½	77½
Corn—
January	36¾	36⅞	36¾	36¾
February	37¼	37⅝	37	37
May	38½	38¾	38⅜	38½
Oats—
January	....	....	....	22⅜
May	.25	25¼	24⅞	25
Lard—
January	....	....	....	$7.42½
May	$7.45	$7.52½	$7.45	7.52½
Ribs—
January	....	....	....	7.07½
May	7.10	7.20	7.10	7.20
Pork—
January	14.25	14.27½	14.25	14.27½
May	14.00	14.25	14.00	14.25

PROVISIONS.—PORK—Firm; quoted: Mess, $13.25@$14.50; family, $14.50@$16.50; short clear, $14.50@$17. BEEF—Steady; quoted: Mess, $9@$9.50; family, $10@$12; packet, $10@$10.50; extra India mess, $14@$16. BEEF HAMS—Dull; quoted: $19.50@$20.50. DRESSED HOGS—Easy; quoted: Bacons, 6¾@; 180-lb, 7c; 160-lb, 7c; pigs, 7¾c. CUT MEATS—Pickled bellies firm; quoted: Smoking bellies, 8¼c; 10-lb, 8c; 12-lb, 7¾c; 14-lb, 7¼c; pickled shoulders steady; quoted: 5¾@6c; pickled hams quiet; quoted: 8½@9¼c. TALLOW—Steady; city, 5¼c; country, 5⅛@5½c. LARD—Firm; quoted: $7.75; city lard firm; quoted: $7.25; refined lard firm; quoted: South America, $8.50; Continent, $7.95; Brazil, kegs, $9.50; compound dull; quoted: City, 5⅝@5¾c; Western, 5¾@5¾c. STEARINE—Steady; quoted: Oleo, 7¼c; city lard stearine, 8@8¾c.

LIVERPOOL, Jan. 14.—Closing—Beef; extra India mess dull, 66s. Pork—Prime mess Western dull, 56s. Hams—Short cut, 14 to 16 lb; firm, 44s. Bacon firm: Cumberland cut, 26 to 30 lb, 43s; short rib, 16 to 24 lb, 43s 9d; long clear middles, light, 28 to 34 lb, 43s; long clear middles, heavy, 35 to 40 lb, 41s 6d; short clear backs, 16 to 20 lb, 40s 3d; clear bellies, 14 to 18 lb, 43s. Shoulders—Square, 11 to 13 lb, 34s 6d. Lard—Firm; prime Western, in tierces, 37s 9d; American refined in pails, 39s 6d. Butter—Steady; finest United States, 100s; good United States, 82s 6d. Cheese—Steady; American finest white, 52s; American finest colored, 53s.

COFFEE.—Contract prices ranged as follows:

	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.
January	5.65	5.65	5.65	5.60@5.70
February	....	....	....	5.70@5.75
March	5.80	5.80	5.80	5.75@5.80
April	....	....	....	5.80@5.85
May	5.85	5.90	5.85	5.85@5.90
June	....	....	....	5.85@5.95
July	....	....	....	5.90@5.95
August	....	....	....	5.90@5.95
September	5.95	6.00	5.95	5.85@6.00
October	....	....	....	6.00@6.05
November	....	....	....	6.05@6.10
December	6.00	6.00	6.00	6.10@6.15

METALS.—Iron, Northern, No. 1 foundry, $16; iron, Southern, No. 2 soft, $15.50; steel rails, $26; pig iron warrants, $10; lake copper, frigot, $17; tin, $26.25; exchange lead, $4.37½; spelter, $4.12½.

SUGAR.—Centrifugal, 4⅝c; muscovado, 3⅞c; molasses, 3⅜c.

OILS.—Petroleum, barrels, $7.55, and in bulk, $5; Philadelphia, barrels, $7.60, and in bulk, $4.95; refined, cases, New York, $8.60. Cottonseed Oil—Prime crude, barrels, 26½, nominal; prime Summer yellow, 30@30½c; off Summer yellow, 29½c; prime white, 34@35c; prime Winter yellow, 30c. Linseed—American raw, 56c; American boiled, 58c; Calcutta raw, 85c; Western linseed quoted 2c under city brands. Lard oil, 62@66c.

WILMINGTON, N. C., Jan. 14.—Spirits of turpentine steady, 25½@26c; receipts, 36 casks. Rosin steady, $1.20@$1.25; receipts, 310 barrels. Crude turpentine quiet, $1.20@$2.30; receipts, 51 casks. Tar firm, $1.30; receipts, 307 barrels.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Jan. 14.—Spirits of turpentine firm, 36@36¼c bid; receipts, 219 casks; sales, 50 casks; exports, 7,105 casks. Resin firm and unchanged; receipts, 4,837 barrels; sales, 380 barrels; exports, 5,370 barrels.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 14.—Receipts: Resin, 938 barrels; turpentine, 62 casks; no exports.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Jan. 14.—Turpentine firm, 36c. Resin firm, unchanged.

BUSINESS TROUBLES.

New York City.

MOSES L. OLENICK.—Schedules in bankruptcy of Moses L. Olenick, manufacturer of waists and cloaks at 133 Greene Street, show liabilities $23,341 and nominal assets $6,062, consisting of debts due, $2,388; cash in bank, $39; insurance premiums, $7; stock and fixtures in the hands of a receiver, $2,628.

CHARLES S. LAKE.—Charles S. Lake, a salesman for typewriters at 327 Broadway, made an assignment yesterday to William C. Ryan without preference. Brigham & Baylis, his attorneys, said that the liabilities are $5,000 and nominal assets about the same. He was formerly Assistant Treasurer of the Herring-Hall-Marvin Company safes, and that concern owes him for back salary, which he has been unable to collect.

LAUTEN HOTEL COMPANY.—Judge Blanchard of the Supreme Court has appointed Thomas J. Hollowell, receiver for the Lauten Hotel Company, which formerly managed the Putnam House, at Fourth Avenue and Twenty-sixth Street, on the application of Acker, Merrall & Condit, who recovered a judgment against them on Nov. 20, 1900, for $2,702. The company was incorporated on April 29, 1898, with a capital stock of $5,000, and gave up the management of the hotel in October last.

Out of Town.

WILLIAM E. WOOD.—William E. Wood, proprietor of the Mansion House, Greenfield, Mass., owner of the restaurants on the Fitchburg Division of the Boston and Maine Railroad at Greenfield, Ayer, and Troy, N. Y., has made an assignment for the benefit of his creditors to Francis A. Eels, for several years manager for Mr. Wood. Last October a corporation with a capital of $30,000 was formed to carry on the business formerly conducted by Mr. Wood, except the Wellington Hotel, at North Adams, and the Pequog House, at Athol. It is understood that the debts of the company are about $20,000, and its assets consist of the furniture and fixtures of the Mansion House and the railroad restaurants. The personal liabilities of Mr. Wood are not made known, but are understood to be heavy.

PETITIONS IN BANKRUPTCY.

MEYER T. SLOMAN.—Meyer T. Sloman, furrier, at 328 East Sixth Street, has filed a petition in bankruptcy, with liabilities of $1,695 and assets of $100 in a stock of furs.

WILLIAM M. SWAYZE.—Involuntary bankruptcy proceedings have been instituted by several creditors in Utica against William M. Swayze of Oneida. Swayze formerly conducted a trading stamp store there. When the law prevented further operations with the stamps, he went to Oneida and opened a furniture store. The creditors allege that he has recently transferred considerable property to relatives.

LOUIS L. JACKSON.—Louis L. Jackson, stock broker, of 50 Broadway, has filed a petition in bankruptcy, with liabilities of $13,883 and no available assets. He has sixty-six shares of stock of the Brown Segmental Tube Wire-Wound Gun Company, subject to a lien of $697, value unknown, and some claims against members of the Consolidated Stock and Petroleum Exchange, which are valueless. The liabilities are principally for money loaned, differences in stock transactions, groceries, dry goods, stationery, and advertising. The largest creditor is de Bebian E. Jackson, $6,520, for borrowed money.

BANKRUPTCY DISCHARGE DENIED.

Judge Brown of the United States District Court has denied a discharge in bankruptcy to Frederick Horling, who kept a pool and billiard parlor at 158 and 160 West One Hundred and Twenty-fifth Street, on account of a chattel mortgage which was executed on the billiard tables and other appurtenances of the place. The mortgage was dated Aug. 14, 1898, was acknowledged April 8, 1899, and filed on April 10, 1899, which lacked one day within four months of the time he was adjudicated a bankrupt. The Judge said:

"The mortgage was executed and acknowledge by the bankrupt, and it was a pure sham and fraud, and the bankrupt's testimony is discredited."

"It therefore decided to be was the duty of the bankrupt to put the property covered by the chattel mortgage in his schedules, or set forth the facts relative thereto, which he did not do.

Against a Philadelphia Firm.

Deputy Sheriff Murray has received an attachment for $1,293 against Woodcock Brothers, manufacturers of hammocks and knit goods at Philadelphia, in favor of the James Freeman Brown Company of this city for yarn sold to them. Credit was given on the strength of a statement of the firm's affairs on Nov. 19 last, showing assets of $59,209 and liabilities of $16,472. In the assets the machinery was put in at $25,710, and the plaintiff claims that its real value is only $6,000. It was served on three merchants here, but they said that they had no property belonging to the firm.

Discharges in Bankruptcy.

Judge Brown of the United States District Court has granted discharges in bankruptcy to George D. Sherman of 1,586 Madison Avenue, formerly a women's tailor, whose liabilities were $7,836, and to Elias Marks, clerk, of 25 East One Hundred and Twelfth Street, formerly a tailor, whose liabilities were $10,504.

Judgments.

The following judgments were filed yesterday, the first name being that of the debtor:

AMBROSE, Thomas F.—C. Welde, commissioner, &c.	$110
APGAR, Harry J.—P. J. Devine	117
ARMSTRONG, Frank C.—M. Arnheim	53
ATWOOD, D. Topping—J. W. James	127
BARRAUCO, Ana M.—J. S. Darcy, guardian, and others	3,397
BARSKY, Max—Leibowitz & Son	134
BARRY, Daniel—W. E. Schwiebert	33
BRITTSCHNEIDER, Bruno—W. Nelson	296
BEACH, Charles E.—C. Welde, commissioner, &c.	110
BARNUM, Frederick L.—The Lawyers' Title Insurance Company	62
COHN, Morris—Harris Burger	127
CARLYLE, Francis—H. N. C. Barrett	143
CASPE, Abraham—F. Leibowitz	77
CONOVER, Alonzo E. and William E., executors, &c.—L. L. Bulkley	4,200
COHEN, Benjamin—H. S. Standinger	291
CASEY, Daniel—J. Victor, J. McQuade, and another	132
CUCKSEY, William—Consolidated Ice Company	21
DOCKERTY, Caroline—G. Gomprecht and another	67
DELLEGAR, Louisa—M. Edwards	12
DAMON, Charles E.—B. S. Mills	84
DE BELLIS, Grazio—The John Kress Brewing Company	2,018
DEMPSEY, Lavinia H. V.—H. Hartfield and another	232
DE BELLIS, Grazio—John Kress Brewing Company	368
DAVIDSON, George T., and Smith M. Weed—The Bloomfield National Bank	2,805
FESSLER, Michael—A. Prince	125
FISCHER, Louis, and John Kupperman—Keystone Varnish Company	37
FRANK KIERNAN & CO.—Manufacturers' National Bank of Brooklyn	163
GAUSS, Frederick, and James Noble—Edward Woods	564
GERAGHTY, Peter J.—Kessler-Kavanagh Company	140
GREENE, Charlee F.—C. Welde, Commissioner, &c.	110
GERSMAN, Rudolph—G. E. Hawkins	215
GWATHMEY, Archibald B.—C. Welde, Commissioner, &c.	110
HART, Robert—L. J. Rock	156
HUDGINS, Mary E.—I. N. Burdick, costs	88
HAMILTON, Robert H.—L. Marchesini	163
HATTON, Mary—J. L. Chadwick, costs	38
HARRINGTON, Samuel H.—E. C. Moffham	260
HERRLICH, Christian—J. E. Stubbert	80
HAYS, Annie C., formerly Annie C. Zaun—J. M. Burr and another	127
HIRSCH, Mendel, and Michael Judenl. Lewinthan	406
ISRAEL, Julius I.—German Hospital and Dispensary of the City of New York	3,306
JACOB, C. Albert—V. H. Mathunbkr	118
JOHNSON, St. Croix—B. D. Eisler	31
KUMMER, Frederick A.—H. M. Newington	219
KIERABER, Peter W.—E. M. Garrison, costs	39
KEIL, Francis J. and Henry F.—C. Benda, costs	119
LIMINSKY, Joseph C.—F. F. Ingram	20
LARIDON, Gustave H.—P. H. Smith	237
LEUMANN, William—A. Dietz, administrator, &c.	296
LEVENE, Albert—M. Daub	90
LONG, William S. and John T.—Crane Company	1,159
MARSHALL, Christine—C. E. Schuyler, costs	259
MAINS, Charles F. and Matthew C. Lowe—Rand Drill Company	168
MARCUS, George E.—The Edison Electric Illuminating Company of New York	20
METROPOLITAN STREET RAILWAY Company—J. Rosen	251
MIHLSTEIN, Philip—D. Rosenzweig	223
MONATSBERGER, Fritz—C. Reusse	2,732
MEYER, Hugo—Luxemburger Tuchfabriken	1,817
NEWMAN, Emil L.—F. H. Dodd, and others	16
McCALL, Ambrose O.—V. Altman and another, costs	126
O'REILLY, Daniel—J. Chambers	112
O'REILLY, John J.—Frank Sittig and others
PETERS, Henry—The Morton Boarding Stables	320
PERKINS, James J.—P. Gomprecht	673
PAYNE, Hulbert—The Edison Electric Illuminating Company of New York	139
ROSENZWEIG, Louis and Abraham—I. Maisel	238
ROSSI, Cesira—P. Canavari, costs	119
REILLY, John F.—W. & J. Sloane	278
SCHOONMAKER, Elmore, Isaac Files, and Albert B. Vorhis—Bronx Borough Bank	360
SCHATZKIN, Samuel—I. Blumberg	430
STEPHENS, Fred E.—F. H. Dodd and others	876
SPALLONE, Salvator—Ronalds & Johnson Company	718
SHELLEY, Henry A.—M. D. Shelley, costs	102
SAPERSTON, Herman—The Edison Electric Illuminating Company of New York	23
SWEENY, James F.—C. Welde, Commissioner, &c.	110
SIMPSON, Charles W.—E. Frederick	118
SONN, Minnie—M. Violette	25
STRINGHAM, Charles H. and William—A. Berliner and another	283
SINGER, Anne—Consolidated Ice Company	103
THE CLINTON NATIONAL BANK—The National Park Bank, costs	141
THE SUN PRINTING AND PUBLISHing Company—D. C. Potter	1,170
THE MAYOR, &c.—F. Brown and others	150
TOWELL, John E.—Jacob Hays and another, individually and as executors	108
THORN, Joseph A.—C. Welde, Commissioner, &c.	110
TOPLITZ, Monroe F.—H. Meyer and others	12
VAN CLIEF, Jacob—L. Carlin, costs	25
WALKER, Thomas—Pittsburg Plate Glass Company	316
WINKELMANN, Adolph—C. E. Randrup	32
WEIDIG, Louise C.—C. Koechling and another	41
XAVIER LAUNDRY—Belin & Hauser	35
ZUCKERMAN, Ignatz—S. Josephhowitz	122

Bankruptcy Notices.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States for the Southern District of New York.—In Bankruptcy.—In the matter of MORRIS HEINE, individually and as partner with Moses Silberman and others and as lessee of Oriental Theatre, and as partner with Moses Silberman and others, and as lessee of Pillings and Thalia Theatres, and as partner with Max Lewy and others, and as lessee of the Thalia Theatre, and as partner of the firm known as Heine & Goldberg, Bankrupt.—No. 3,363.

To the creditors of Morris Heine, individually and as partner with Moses Silberman and others and as lessee of Oriental Theatre, and as partner with Moses Silberman and others and as lessee of Pillings and Thalia Theatres, and as partner with Max Lewy and others and as lessee of the Thalia Theatre, and as partner of the firm known as Heine & Goldberg, was duly adjudicated bankrupt; that the first meeting of creditors will be held at my office, No. 346 Broadway, in the City, County, and State of New York, on the 24th day of January, A. D. 1901, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, at which time the said creditors may attend, prove their claims, appoint a Trustee, examine the bankrupt, and transact such other business as may properly come before said meeting.

SEAMAN MILLER,
Referee in Bankruptcy.

Dated New York, January 9th, 1901.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States for the Southern District of New York.—In bankruptcy. In the matter of HENRY ACKERMAN, bankrupt.

GREENWALD, KUPFERBERG, KARP & CO., JOS. SHONGOOD & SONS, United States Marshal's Auctioneers, will sell on at 10:30 A. M., at 26 and 28 Lispenard St., all the assets of the above bankrupt, consisting of a quantity of Woodens.

MONDAY, JAN. 28,

By order of EUGENE H. BLOCK, Trustee.
EPSTEIN BROS., Attorneys for Trustee, 320 Broadway.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE Southern District of New York.—No. 3,264.—In the matter of MAX OLITSKY, Bankrupt.

Notice is hereby given that Max Olitsky, bankrupt, has filed his petition, dated January 12th, 1901, praying for a discharge from all his debts in bankruptcy, and that all creditors and other persons are ordered to attend at the hearing upon said petition before the Hon. Addison Brown, United States District Judge, in the United States Court House and Post Office Building, in the City and County of New York, on Wednesday, the 23d day of January, 1901, at 10:30 A. M., and then and there show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of said petitioner should not be granted, and also attend the examination of the bankrupt thereon.

MACGRANE COXE,
Referee in Bankruptcy.

New York, January 14th, 1901.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States for the Southern District of New York.—In bankruptcy. In the matter of LOUIS SEPLER, bankrupt.—No. 3,265.

Notice is hereby given that Louis Sepler, bankrupt, has filed his petition, dated Jan. 11, 1901, praying for a discharge from all his debts in bankruptcy, and that all creditors and other persons are ordered to attend at the hearing upon said petition before the Hon. Addison Brown, United States District Judge, in the United States Court House and Post Office Building, in the City and County of New York, on Wednesday, Jan. 30, 1901, at 10:30 A. M., and then and there show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of said petitioner should not be granted, and also attend the examination of the bankrupt thereon.

STANLEY W. DEXTER,
Referee in Bankruptcy.

Dated January 14, 1901.

NO. 3,262.—UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT for the Southern District of New York.—EDWARD H. WAGNER, Bankrupt.

Notice is hereby given that Edward H. Wagner, bankrupt, has filed his petition, dated January 14th, 1901, praying for a discharge from all his debts in bankruptcy, and that all creditors and other persons are ordered to attend at the hearing upon said petition before the Hon. Addison Brown, United States District Judge, in the United States Court House and Post Office Building, in the City and County of New York, on Wednesday, February 13th, 1901, at 10:30 A. M., and then and there show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of said petitioner should not be granted, and also attend the examination of the bankrupt thereon.

JOHN TOWNSEND,
Referee in Bankruptcy.

New York, Jan. 14, 1901.

Referees' Notices.

NOS. 500 EAST 11TH STREET, 172 AVENUE A.—New York Supreme Court, County of New York.—JOHN M. BOWERS, as executor, etc., plaintiff, against BLINA BILLETT et al., defendants.

In pursuance of a judgment of foreclosure and sale, duly made and entered in the above-entitled action and bearing date the 3rd day of January, 1901, the undersigned, the referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on Friday, the 1st day of February, 1901, at twelve o'clock noon on that day, by D. Phoenix Ingraham, auctioneer, the premises described in said judgment, as follows:

All that certain lot, piece, or parcel of land situate, lying, and being on the southeasterly corner of Avenue A and Eleventh Street, in the Seventeenth Ward of the City of New York.

Beginning at the southeasterly corner of Avenue A and Eleventh Street; thence running easterly along the southerly side of Eleventh Street seventy-five feet six inches; thence southerly and parallel with Avenue A twenty feet; thence westerly and parallel with Eleventh Street, seventy-five feet six inches to the easterly side of Avenue A, and thence northerly along the said easterly side of Avenue A twenty feet, to the place of beginning.

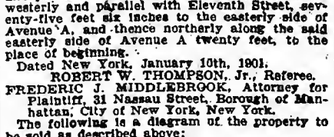
Dated New York, January 10th, 1901.

ROBERT W. THOMPSON, Jr., Referee.

FREDERIC J. MIDDLEBROOK, Attorney for Plaintiff, 31 Nassau Street, Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, New York.

The following is a diagram of the property to be sold as described above:

11th Street.



The approximate aggregate amount of the plaintiff's lien upon the premises with interest, costs, and disbursements is $18,727.63, and of taxes, assessments, and water rates, $685.70.

ROBERT W. THOMPSON, Jr., Referee.

FREDERIC J. MIDDLEBROOK, Attorney for Plaintiff. ja11-2aw3wF&Wsu

Surrogate Notices.

HESS, BERNARD.—IN PURSUANCE OF AN order, Hon. Frank T. Fitzgerald, a Surrogate of the County of New York,

Notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against BERNARD HESS, late of the County of New York, deceased, to present the same, with vouchers thereof, to the subscribers at their place of transacting business, No. 271 Broadway, in the City of New York, on or before the 1st day of August, 1901.—Dated New York, the 15th day of January, 1901.

BERTHA HESS,
LOUIS HESS,
Executors.

IN PURSUANCE OF AN ORDER OF HON. Frank T. Fitzgerald, a Surrogate of the County of New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against MARTIN METZGER, late of the County of New York, deceased, to present the same, with vouchers thereof, to the subscribers at their place of transacting business, at the office of John H. V. Arnold, No. 206 Broadway, Borough of Manhattan, in the City of New York, on or before the 15th day of July next.—Dated New York, the 15th day of January, 1901.

BELLA METZGER,
Executrix.
JULIUS I. METZGER,
OTTO I. METZGER,
Executors.
JOHN H. V. ARNOLD,
Attorney for Executrix and Executors, No. 206 Broadway, Borough of Manhattan, New York City.

Referees' Notices.

SUPREME COURT OF THE STATE OF NEW York, County of New York.—HARLEM SAVINGS BANK, plaintiff, against CHARLES TANGE, George Stark, and Marie Toelberg, defendants.—Action No. 1.

In pursuance of a judgment of foreclosure and sale, made and entered in the above-entitled action, bearing date the 11th day of January, 1901, I, the undersigned, the Referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on the 5th day of February, 1901, at 12 o'clock noon on that day, by Peter F. Meyer and Company, Auctioneers, the premises described by said judgment to be sold, and therein described as follows:

All that certain lot, piece or parcel of land with the building thereon erected, situate, lying and being in the Borough of the Bronx, City of New York, and known as Block 2,260, on the land map of the City of New York, and more particularly bounded and described as follows, viz.: Beginning at a point on the easterly side of Kelly Street, distant one hundred and fifty-two feet and 92-100 of a foot southerly from the southeasterly corner of said Kelly and One Hundred and Sixty-seventh Streets, and running thence easterly, at right angles to said Kelly Street, one hundred feet; thence southerly and parallel with said Kelly Street, seventeen feet; thence westerly, again at right angles to said Kelly Street, and for part of the distance through a party wall, one hundred feet to the said easterly side of said Kelly Street, and thence northerly and along said easterly side of said Kelly Street, seventeen feet to the point or place of beginning.

Being part of the premises conveyed to said Charles Tange by Marie Toelberg, by deed, dated June 23d, 1898, and on that day recorded in the office of the Register of the County of New York, Liber 15, Section 10, of Conveyances, Page 184.

Dated New York, January 14, 1901.

ABRAHAM HERSCHFIELD, Referee.

REUBEN MAPELSDEN, Plaintiff's Attorney, office and Post Office address, No. 257 Broadway, Borough of Manhattan, New York City.

The following is a diagram of the property to be sold:

167th Street.

The approximate amount of the lien or charge to satisfy which the above property is to be sold is $3,267.50, with interest thereon from January 9th, 1901, together with costs and allowances amounting to $191.17, together with the expenses of the sale; the approximate amount of taxes, assessments, or other liens which are to be allowed to the purchaser, out of the purchase money, or paid by the referee is $200.48 and interest.

Dated New York, January 14, 1901.

ABRAHAM HERSHFIELD, Referee.

ja15-2aw3wT&F&feb5&6

SUPREME COURT, CITY AND COUNTY OF New York.—MAUDE H. KIRTLAND, plaintiff, against ADOLPHE MONELL-SAYRE, also known as ADOLPHE MONELL SAYRE, defendant.—Plaintiff desires trial to be had in New York County.—Summons.

To the above-named defendant: You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action, and to serve a copy of your answer on the plaintiff's attorney within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the said amended complaint.

Dated Nov. 12, 1900.

HENRY WOLLMAN,
Plaintiff's Attorney,
Post Office Address and Office No. 27 William St., Borough of Manhattan, New York City.

To Adolphe Monell-Sayre, also known as Adolphe Monell Sayre, defendant:—The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication, pursuant to an order of Hon. David Leventritt, a Justice of the Supreme Court of the State of New York, dated December 26, 1900, and filed with the complaint in the office of the Clerk of the County of New York, City of the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York.

HENRY WOLLMAN,
Plaintiff's Attorney,
New Post Office Address and Office No. 20 Broad St., Borough of Manhattan, New York City. ja8-1aw6wTu

Surrogate Notices.

FIELD, MARY MOFFAT.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. Abner C. Thomas, a Surrogate of the County of New York, N. Y., notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against Mary Moffat Field, late of the County of New York, deceased, to present the same, with vouchers thereof, to the subscribers at their place of transacting business, at the office of Reid, Esselstyn & Ketcham, No. 36 Wall Street, in the Borough of Manhattan, in the City of New York, on or before the 21st day of July, 1901.—Dated New York, the 31st day of July, 1900. FREDERIC G. CUNNINGHAM, FRANK CUNNINGHAM, and WILLIAM CUNNINGHAM, Executors. REID, ESSELSTYN & KETCHAM, Attorneys for Executors, 36 Wall Street, Borough of Manhattan, New York City, N. Y. jy31-1aw6mTu

OTTIWELL, JOHN D.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. Abner C. Thomas, a Surrogate of the County of New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against JOHN D. OTTIWELL

FINANCIAL.

Hanover National Bank
Capital $3,000,000. Surplus and profits, $5,000,000.
9 and 11 Nassau St.

Colonial Trust Company
CAPITAL, SURPLUS, AND UNDIVIDED PROFITS, $2,000,000.00.
ST. PAUL B'LD'G, 222 B'way.

Washington Trust Company
Stewart Building, 280 Broadway.

Bankers' Cards.

G. Sidenberg & Kraus,
BANKERS & BROKERS,
20 BROAD ST., NEW YORK.
Members N. Y. Stock Exchange.
Orders Executed for Stocks and Bonds for cash or on margin.
INTEREST ALLOWED ON DEPOSIT.
Investment Securities.

FOURTH STREET NATIONAL BANK OF PHILADELPHIA.
Capital . . $1,500,000
Surplus . . 1,950,000
Deposits . 29,000,000

Henry L. Wardwell, Edward L. Adams.
Telephone 3243 Broad.
WARDWELL & ADAMS,
STOCK BROKERS,
16 BEAVER ST., NEW YORK
Members N. Y. Stock Exchange.
Stocks, Bonds, & Investments

New York Telephone, 3790 John. Brooklyn Telephone, 391 Brooklyn.
Geo. H. PRENTISS & CO.
DEALERS IN
LOCAL SECURITIES,
48 Wall Street, New York. 208 Montague St. Brooklyn.
MEMBERS OF N. Y. STOCK EXCHANGE.

OFFICE OF MILLER & COMPANY
Members New York Stock Exchange.
35 BROAD ST., New York.
'Phone 3244 Broad.
Branch Office: BALTIMORE, MD.

JACOB BERRY & CO.
MEMBERS CONSOLIDATED STOCK EXCHANGE.
44 and 46 Broadway, New York.
ESTABLISHED 1865.
STOCKS, BONDS, GRAIN, COTTON.
A commission house working in the interest of clients, executing all orders upon the exchange and giving names of Brokers with whom transaction is made in every instance. We issue upon request a book describing accurately the above markets and influences governing them. Also monthly fluctuation sheets and market reports. COMMISSION 1-10. MODERATE MARGINS.

Wm. Cossitt Cone & Co.
44 BROAD ST., NEW YORK.
MEMBERS CONSOLID'TD STOCK EXCHANGE
Execute Commission Orders.
PURCHASE OR SALE.
STOCKS, BONDS, WHEAT, COTTON.
MARKET LETTER & POCKET INVESTMENT GUIDE UPON APPLICATION.

FINANCIAL.

THE TRUST CO. OF AMERICA,
149 BROADWAY,
(Northwest Corner Liberty St.)

Capital - - - - - - $2,500,000.00
Surplus and Undivided Profits - $2,745,894.18

Allows Interest on Daily Balances, subject to check through the New York Clearing-house or payable at sight, and on Certificates of Deposit.

Acts as Trustee, Receiver, Committee, Executor, Guardian, Administrator, Assignee, Registrar, Transfer and Fiscal Agent.

OFFICERS:
Ashbel P. Fitch, Pres. | Wm. Barbour, V.-Pres
Wm. H. Leupp, V.-P. | H. S. Manning, V.-P.
R. J. Chatry, Secy. | T. C. Clarke, Jr., A. Sec.
A. L. Banister, Treas. | W. Hunt Hall, A. Treas.
Lawrence O. Murray, Trust Officer.

DIRECTORS:
Ashbel P. Fitch, Wm. Barbour, H. S. Manning, Saml. A. Maxwell, Myron T. Herrick, Chas. F. Cutler, Emery McMillin, Jas. M. Donald, George Crocker, Edw. C. Schaefer, S. C. T. Dodd, Joel F. Freeman, William E. Spier, Amasa R. Flower, H. S. Redmond, Jos. R. Hegeman, C. I. Hudson, Willard Brown, Philip Lehman, Edwd. F. Cragin, Geo. Blumenthal, Frank Jay Gould, Wm. A. Clark.

To the Stockholders
OF THE
AMERICAN STEEL AND WIRE CO.
PROXIES.

At the request of the holders of a large amount of the preferred and common stocks of this company, we solicit the co-operation and support of all stockholders who desire the election of an efficient Board of Directors at the next annual meeting to be held on the 19th day of February, 1901. We are prepared to receive proxies entitling us to vote stock at said meeting.

Blank forms of proxies can be obtained at our office.

WELLES, HERRICK & HICKS,
15 Wall St., New York.

The Ducktown Sulphur, Copper & Iron Co., Limited.

Sealed proposals will be received at the office of the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, 10, 16, 20 and 22 William Street, New York City, for the sale to the Trustee in accordance with the provisions of the mortgage dated August 5th, 1892, of a sufficient number of bonds to invest $2,433.25 of the Sinking Fund.

Proposals must be presented before 12 o'clock M. on January 30th, 1901, and should be directed as follows: "Proposals to Sinking Fund of The Ducktown Sulphur, Copper and Iron Company, Limited, The Farmers' Loan & Trust Company, 10, 18, 20 and 22 William Street, New York City."

The Farmers' Loan & Trust Co., Trustee.
By EDWIN S. MARSTON, President.
New York, January 2, 1901.

SINKING FUND NOTICE.
DULUTH, MISSABE AND NORTHERN RAILWAY COMPANY
First Consolidated Mortgage Bonds, Dated January 1st, 1893.

The CENTRAL TRUST COMPANY of New York gives notice that in accordance with Article V. of a certain Indenture made by the above Railway Company, dated January 1st, 1893, it will receive sealed proposals to sell the above-described bonds at a rate not to exceed 105 per cent. and accrued interest, the total after not to consume more than the amount of Eighty-three thousand five hundred and eighteen 81-100 dollars ($83,518.81.) The sealed proposals will be opened at the office of the CENTRAL TRUST COMPANY OF NEW YORK, in New York City, at twelve o'clock noon on the sixteenth day of January, 1901.

CENTRAL TRUST COMPANY OF NEW YORK,
TRUSTEE.
By G. Sherman, Vice President.

BROWN BROTHERS & CO.,
NO. 59 WALL ST.,
ISSUE INTERNATIONAL CHEQUES, COMMERCIAL and TRAVELERS' CREDITS AVAILABLE IN ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD.

WANTED.—By a gentleman 45 years of age, with twenty-five years' experience in Wall Street, a position either as cashier in a banking and brokerage office, or as loan, transfer, or general clerk in financial corporation; is fully conversant with all details of above positions; highest references. Address Wall Street, Box 175 Times.

BROKER'S OFFICE AT PUBLIC AUCTION this day, Tuesday, at 11 o'clock A. M., at the Metropolitan Storage Warehouse, 202 and 204 Mercer St.; complete office furniture: safe, desks, chairs, quotation board; broker's tax certificates, &c. WM. F. GRELL, Sheriff.

N. Y. & Staten Island Electric
1st Mortgage 5% Bonds.
DAVID PFEIFFER, 18 Wall St.

FINANCIAL.

$4,500,000
Indiana, Illinois & Iowa Railroad Co.
First Mortgage Four Per Cent. Gold Bonds.

DATED JULY 1, 1900. DUE JULY 1, 1950.

INTEREST PAYABLE JULY 1ST AND JANUARY 1ST IN NEW YORK CITY. Principal and Interest Payable in Gold Coin of the Present Standard of Weight and Fineness.

Amount of present issue - - - - - - $4,500,000

ILLINOIS TRUST AND SAVINGS BANK, Chicago, Trustee.

A LETTER OF T. P. SHONTS, ESQ., PRESIDENT OF THE COMPANY, STATES IN PART AS FOLLOWS:

The Indiana, Illinois and Iowa Railroad Co. now owns and operates about 200 miles of road, extending from South Bend, Ind., to a connection with the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad at a point near Illinois Valley and Northern Junction, from which place this Company has trackage rights over the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy to Clinton, Iowa. It also operates under lease the St. Joseph, South Bend and Southern Railroad Co., comprising 39 miles, extending from South Bend to St. Joseph, Mich., where connection is made with the Pere Marquette, making in all 239 miles under operation, with additional trackage rights of 60 miles over the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy. The property of this Company forms a connecting link between the following roads centring in the City of Chicago, thus constituting a short and convenient line for the interchange of traffic.

Eastern Connections:	Southern and Western Connections:
Michigan Central,	Chicago, Indianapolis and Louisville,
Lake Shore and Michigan Southern,	Chicago and Indiana Coal Road,
Wabash,	Illinois Central,
Grand Trunk,	Chicago and Eastern Illinois,
Lake Erie and Western,	Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis,
Baltimore and Ohio,	Wabash,
Pittsburg, Ft. Wayne and Chicago,	Chicago and Alton,
New York, Chicago and St. Louis,	Chicago, Burlington and Quincy,
Erie,	Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé,
Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis.	Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific.

The earnings of this Company for the years ending June 30th have been as follows:

	1899.	1900.
Gross Earnings	$902,305	$1,226,150
Net Earnings	$340,210	$468,086
Other Income	1,565	11,753
Total Income	$341,775	$479,839
Taxes and Rentals	51,203	54,750
Applicable to Interest	$290,572	$425,089

The net earnings for four months to October 31, 1900, show an increase of $47,952, or on the basis of about $150,000 net increase for the year. . . . and at the present rate of increase, the Company should show a net profit applicable to interest for the year ending June 30, 1901, of $575,000. The entire interest charges being interest on the bonds you have purchased, will amount to $180,000 per annum.

The Indiana, Illinois and Iowa is now paying regular dividends of 4 per cent. per annum upon its entire capital stock of $5,000,000.

The Company will have in its treasury on February 1st a working capital of approximately $400,000 in cash. The issue is limited to $12,000,000, of which $4,500,000 are now issued and the remainder reserved to be issued only to acquire additional property or for extensions or for improvements under most rigid restrictions in the mortgage. The bonds are secured by a first and only lien upon the entire property of the Company now owned or hereafter acquired. They are dated July 1, 1900, and mature July 1, 1950, principal and interest at 4 per cent. payable in gold, and are not subject to call before maturity.

WE OFFER FOR SUBSCRIPTION THE ABOVE DESCRIBED BONDS AT 97½ AND ACCRUED INTEREST.

INTERIM CERTIFICATES OF THE ILLINOIS TRUST AND SAVINGS BANK, EXCHANGEABLE FOR DEFINITIVE BONDS WHEN READY, WILL BE DELIVERABLE AT OUR OFFICE ON OR ABOUT FEBRUARY 1ST.

SUBSCRIPTION BOOKS WILL BE OPENED ON JANUARY 16TH AT OUR OFFICES AT 10 O'CLOCK A. M., AND CLOSE AT 3 O'CLOCK P. M. OR EARLIER THE SAME DAY.

PAYMENT IS TO BE MADE: 2½ PER CENT. ON ALLOTMENT, AND 95 PER CENT. AND ACCRUED INTEREST ON DELIVERY OF THE INTERIM CERTIFICATES.

THE RIGHT IS RESERVED TO REJECT ANY APPLICATION AND TO ALLOT SMALLER AMOUNTS THAN APPLIED FOR.

Lee, Higginson & Co.,
44 State St., Boston.

Redmond, Kerr & Co.,
41 Wall St., New York.

Meetings and Elections.

New York, January 12th, 1901.
Election Notice.
Missouri Pacific Railway Co.

Notice is hereby given that the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Missouri Pacific Railway Company will be held at the general office of the company, in the City of St. Louis, Missouri, on Tuesday, March 12, 1901, at 9:00 o'clock A. M., for the election of thirteen Directors for the ensuing year, and for the transaction of any other business that may come before said meeting. The annual meeting of the Directors will be held at the same office on the same day, at 12:30 o'clock noon. The transfer books will be closed on Tuesday, Jan. 29th, 1901, at 3:00 o'clock P. M., and reopened on the day following the annual meeting of the stockholders or any adjournment thereof.

GEO. J. GOULD, President.
A. H. CALEF, Secretary.

New York, January 12, 1901.
Election Notice.
St. Louis, Iron Mountain & Southern Railway Co.

Notice is hereby given that the annual meeting of the stockholders of the St. Louis, Iron Mountain and Southern Railway Company will be held at the general office of the company, in the City of St. Louis, Mo., on Tuesday, March 12th, 1901, at 9:00 o'clock A. M., for the election of thirteen Directors for the ensuing year, and for the transaction of any other business that may come before said meeting. The annual meeting of the Directors will be held at the same office on the same day at 12:00 o'clock noon. The transfer books will be closed on Tuesday, January 29, 1901, at 3:00 o'clock P. M., and reopened on the day following the annual meeting of the stockholders or any adjournment thereof.

GEO. J. GOULD, President.
A. H. CALEF, Secretary.

The Fourth National Bank
of the City of New York.
NEW YORK, January 10, 1901.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of this Bank, held January 8th, 1901, the following-named gentlemen were unanimously re-elected Directors:

Edward Simmons,	Robert W. Stuart,
Cornelius N. Bliss,	Richard T. Wilson,
Charles Stewart Smith,	William S. Opdyke,
James G. Cannon.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors held this day, Mr. J. Edward Simmons was unanimously re-elected President, and Mr. James G. Cannon was unanimously re-elected Vice President. CHARLES H. PATTERSON, Cashier.

PRESSED STEEL CAR COMPANY.
NOTICE OF ANNUAL MEETING.

71 Broadway, New York, December 24th, 1900.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of Pressed Steel Car Company will be held on the 23d day of January, 1901, at 12 o'clock noon, at the office of the company, 243 Washington Street, Jersey City, New Jersey, for the purpose of electing a Board of Directors, and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the meeting. The transfer books of the company, for both preferred and common stock, will be closed from three P. M. on December 26th, 1900, until 10 A. M., January 24th, 1901. W. C. DE ARMOND, Secretary.

Office of the F. O. Norton Cement Co.

92 Broadway, New York, Jan. 8, 1901.—The annual meeting of the F. O. Norton Cement Co., for the election of six Directors for the ensuing year, and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the meeting, will be held at the office of the Company, 92 Broadway, in the City of New York, on the 22d day of January, 1901, at 2 o'clock P. M. The transfer books will close on the 12th and will open on the 23d day of January.

A. H. PLUMMER, Secretary.

CONSOLIDATED GAS COMPANY OF NEW YORK, 4 Irving Place.—December 31st, 1900.—The Annual Meeting of the stockholders of this Company for the election of the Trustees to serve during the ensuing year will be held at this office Monday, Jan. 21st, 1901. Polls open from 12 M. to 1 P. M. Transfer books will close Saturday, January 5th, at 12 M., and reopen Tuesday, Jan. 22d, 1901.

O. F. ZOLLIKOFFER, Secretary.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT THE annual meeting of Stockholders of THE AMERICAN STANDARD TYPEWRITER COMPANY will be held at the Company's office, 256 Broadway, New York City, on Tuesday, January 22, 1901, at 2:00 o'clock P. M. for the election of five Directors, and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the meeting.

J. D. CAMERON, President.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT THE ANnual meeting of the stockholders of THE AMERICAN RAILWAY TYPEWRITER COMPANY will be held at the company's office, 256 Broadway, New York City, on TUESDAY, JANUARY 22D, 1901, at one o'clock P. M., for the election of five Directors and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the meeting

W. H. WOOLVERTON, President.

The Colonial Assurance Co.
of the City of New York.
45, 47, and 49 Cedar St.
New York, Jan. 7th, 1901.

An Election for five Directors of this Company for the ensuing year will be held at this office on Wednesday, the 16th day of January next. Polls will be open from 12 to 1 o'clock P. M.

E. E. HALL, Sec'y.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT THE ANnual meeting of stockholders of THE KEYSTONE TYPEWRITER COMPANY will be held at the company's office, 256 Broadway, New York City, on TUESDAY, JANUARY 22, 1901, at 1:30 o'clock P. M., for the election of five Directors and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the meeting.

E. H. SCHLEY, Sec'y.

FINANCIAL.

LOUIS MESIER, Auctioneer.
REGULAR AUCTION SALE OF
STOCKS AND BONDS
By ADRIAN H. MULLER & SON,
WEDNESDAY, JAN. 16TH, 1901,
At 12:30 o'clock, at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway.

BY ORDER OF THE WASHINGTON TRUST CO. OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK, SOLE EXECUTOR OF THE ESTATE OF CHARLES H. SCOTT, DEC'D.

$5,000 Ches. & Ohio Ry. Co. 1st Consld. Mtge. 5 p. c. Bds., 1939.
$5,000 St. Louis Southern R. R. 1st Mtge. 4 p. c. Bds., 1631.
$5,000 Chic. & Eastern Illinois R. R. 5 p. c. Genl. Consld. & 1st Mtge. Bds., 1937.
$5,000 Wabash R. R. 1st Mtge. 5 p. c. Bds., 1939.
$10,000 Montana Cent. Ry. 6 p. c. 1st Mtge. Bds., 1937.
$5,000 St. Paul, Minn. & Manitoba Ry. Consld. Mtge 6 p. c. Bds., 1933.
$10,000 Mil., Lake Shore & Western Extn. & Impt. 5 p. c. Skg. Fd. Mtge. Bds., 1929.
$5,000 Long Island R. R. Genl. Mtge. 4 p. c. Bds., 1938.
$5,000 Peoria & Eastern R'way 1st Consld. Mtge. 4 p. c. Bds., 1940.
$7,000 Toledo, Peoria & Western Ry. 1st Mtge. 4 p. c. Bds., 1917.
$5,000 Rochester & Pitts. R. R. Consld. 1st Mtge. 6 p. c. Bds., 1922.
$8,000 Tex. & Pac. Ry. 1st Mtge. 5 p. c. Bds., 2000.
$10,000 Chi., Mil. & St. Paul. Ry. (So. Minn. Div.) 1st Mtge. 6 p. c. Bds., 1910.
$4,000 Atch., Topeka & Santa Fé Ry. Genl. Mtge. 4 p. c. Bds., 1995.
$2,000 Atch., Top. & Santa Fé Ry. 4 p. c. Adj. Bds., 1995.
$5,000 Union Pacific R. R. 1st Mtge. R. R. & Land Grant 4 p. c. Bds., 1947.
$3,000 Mil., Lake Shore & Western Ry. 6 p. c. Consld. 1st Mtge Bds., 1921.
$5,000 Mil. & Northern R. R. 1st Mtge. 6 p. c. Bds., 1910.
$5,000 Norfolk & Western R. R. Genl. Mtge. 6 p. c. Bds., 1931.
$5,000 Scioto Valley & New England R. R. 1st Mtge. 4 p. c. Bds., 1989.
$5,000 Cent. Pacific Ry. 4 p. c. 1st Refund. Mtge. Bds., 1949.
$1,000 Chic., Milwaukee & St. Paul R. R. Consld. Mtge. (released from Skg. Fund) 7 p. c. Bd., 1905.
$1,000 Mil., Lake Shore & Western Ry. 6 p. c. Income Bd., 1911.
$3,000 Ohio Southern R. R. Gen. Con. Mtge. 4 p. c. Bds. (Trust Co. Certf.)
50 shs. Chi., Mil. & St. Paul Ry. pfd.
25 shs. Union Pacific R. R. pfd.

BY ORDER OF EXECUTORS OF CAROLINE R. GIHON, dec'd.

532 shs, 3d Avenue R. R. Co.

BY ORDER OF EXECUTORS.

15 shs. Importers & Traders' Natl. Bank.
40 shs. Natl. Broadway Bank.
$5,000 United N. J. R. R. & Canal 4 p. c. Bds., 1944.
$2,000 Chicago, St. Paul & Minn. R. R. 1st 6 p. c. Bds., 1918.
100 shs. Merchants' Exchange Natl. Bank.
31 shs. National Citizens' Bank.

BY ORDER OF TRUSTEES.

$1,500 City of New York 6 p. c. Consl. Gold Stock, 1901.

BY ORDER OF ADMINISTRATRIX.

$1,000 N. Y. & New Jersey Telephone Genl. Mtge. 5 p. c. Bd., 1920.
$1,000 Coney Island & Brooklyn R. R. 5 p. c. Ctfs. of Indebtedness, 1903.
15 shs. N. Y. & New Jersey Telephone Co.

FOR ACCT. OF ALBERT T. OTTO.

460 shs. Chicago Heights Land Association common.

FOR ACCOUNT OF WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.

85 shs. New York, New Haven & Hartford R. R.
80 shs. National Park Bank.
$13,000 United States Flour Milling Co. 1st 6 p. c. Bds., 1989, May, 1900, Coupons on.
60 shs. Dennett Surpassing Coffee Co. common (Hypd.)
20 shs. Natl. Bank of Commerce.
30 shs. Natl. City Bank.
20 shs. Hanover National Bank.
13 shs. Market & Fulton Natl. Bank.
80 shs. Natl. Bank of Commerce.
19 shs. National City Bank.
20 shs. American Cotton Oil Pfd.
$2,000 Edison Electric Illuminating, Co. of N. Y. 1st 5 p. c. Bds., 1910.
$2,000 Northern Pacific Terminal 1st 6 p. c. Bds., 1933.
$2,000 Richmond & Danville R. R. Consld. Mtge. 6 p. c. Bds., 1915.
$1,000 Northern Pacific Prior Lien Gold 4 p. c. Bds., 1997.
$5,000 Morgans' Louisiana & Texas R. R. & Steamship Co. 7 p. c. Bds., 1918.
$2,000 Manhattan Beach Hotel & Land Co., Ltd., 1st Mtge. 4 p. c. Bds.
20 shs. Manhattan Beach Hotel & Land Co. Pfd.
20 shs. Natl. City Bank.
20 shs. Natl. Bank of Commerce.
25 shs. Bowling Green Trust Co.
10 shs. Hanover Natl. Bank.
20 shs. National Park Bank.
55 shs. National Broadway Bank.
10 shs. Natl. Bank of Commerce.
50 shs. American Surety Co.
10 shs. Bowling Green Trust Co.
15 shs. Gallatin Natl. Bank.
100 shs. National Citizens' Bank.
88 shs. Importers & Traders' Natl. Bank.
107 shs. Natl. Shoe & Leather Bank.
$3,000 Manhattan Beach Hotel & Land Co. Genl. Mtge. 4 p. c. Bds., 1940.
20 shs. Colonial Trust Co.
25 shs. National City Bank.
5 shs. Importers & Traders' Natl. Bank.
29 shs. Union Trust Co.
50 shs. United N. J. R. R. & Canal Co. Guar.
89 shs. Cleve. & Pittsburgh R. R. Co. Guar.
50 shs. Erie & Pittsburgh R. R. Guar.
8 shs. Lincoln Natl. Bank.
2 shs. New Jersey Zinc Co.
61 shs. Cayuga & Susquehanna R. R.
60 shs. National Bank of Commerce.
30 shs. Atlantic Trust Co.
16⅔ shs. Atlantic Trust Co.
35 shs. Bank of New York, N. B. A.
$10,000 Milwaukee City R. R. 1st Mtge. 5 p. c. Gold Bds., 1908.
100 shs. Natl. Bank of Commerce.
25 shs. People's Trust Co.
$1,000 Peru La Salle Gas Light & Power Co. 1st Mtge 6 p. c. Bds., 1925.
6 shs. Peru La Salle Gas Light & Power Co.
100 shs. Inter-State Oil Co.
10 shs. Hanover Natl. Bank.
100 shs. Natl. Bank of Commerce.
20 shs. Bank of America.
25 shs. Merchants' Exchange Natl. Bank.
100 shs. Farmers' Loan & Trust Co.
$10,000 Ohio Mining & Mfg. Co. 5 p. c. Inc. Bds.
10 shs. Natl. Bank of Commerce.
25 shs. Westchester Trust Co.
50 shs. American Surety Co.
400 shs. Mahoning Coal R. R. Co. 5 p. c. Pfd. Guar.
10 shs. Gauley Land Co. Pref'd.
100 shs. Gauley Land Co. common.
$2,000 Manhattan Beach Hotel & Land Co. 1st Mtge. Bds.
160 shs. Smith-Vassar Telephone Co.
10 shs. North American Trust Co.
Certain raw material for the making of liquid Metal Polish, consisting of about 450 Kilos, contained in 6 cases, which are now located in the barn belonging to Alanson Traphagen, in the Village of Suffern, State of New York, said cases being marked as follows: sz T 23—T 14—T 5—T 11—T 19—T 24—T 18—T 7.
20 shs. Natl. Bank of Commerce.

LOUIS MESIER, Auctioneer.
By ADRIAN H. MULLER & SON,
WEDNESDAY, JAN. 30, 1901.
At 12:30 o'clock, at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway.

FOR ACCOUNT OF THE REORGANIZATION COMMITTEE OF THE CINCINNATI, JACKSON & MACKINAW RY. CO.

41,900 shs. The Cincinnati Northern R. R. Co. pref'd.
26,100 shs. The Cincinnati Northern R. R. Co. common.
1,500 shs. Jackson & Cincinnati Ry. Co. common.
15,000 shs. Detroit, Toledo & Milwaukee R. R. Co.
$300,000 Jackson & Cincinnati Ry. Co. 1st Mtge. 5 p. c. Bds., March, 1896, Coups. on.
$1,500,000 Detroit, Toledo & Milwaukee R. R. Co. 1st Mtge. 5 p. c. 50-year Gold Bonds.

RICHARD V. HARNETT & CO.
Auction Sale
STOCKS AND BONDS
Tuesday, Jan. 15, 1901, at 12:30 P. M., at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, 111 Broadway,
(By order of Executor of Estate of Wm. H. H. Childs.)

425 shares Bon Ami Co., $100 each.
(For account of whom it may concern.)
50 shares Bennington Petroleum Co., $5 each.
50 shares United States Hosiery Co., $10 each.
(By order of Frederick J. Stimson, Trustee.)
£610 Deferred Stock United States Trust and Guarantee Corporation, Limited (hypothecated).
Lists at Auctioneers', 71 and 73 Liberty St.

NORTHERN PACIFIC PREFERRED STOCK.
23 WALL STREET.
January 11th, 1901.

Holders of Northern Pacific Preferred Stock TRUST CERTIFICATES are urged to present the same for exchange for stock before FEBRUARY 15TH, 1901, after which date all Preferred Stock Trust Certificates that have not been exchanged will have to be presented for stamping before the dividend payable March 5th can be paid.

To facilitate this exchange we rescind our notice limiting the number of schedules to be received to 100 per diem for the Preferred Stock.

J. P. MORGAN & COMPANY, Fiscal Agents.

Copartnership Notices.

MR. EDWARD MORRISON AND MR. JOHN HENRY TOWNSEND (member of the New York Stock Exchange) have been this day admitted to partnership in our firm, and Mr. C. Schumacher, Jr., retires to devote himself to the stock brokerage business on his own account.

C. SCHUMACHER & CO.
New York, Jan. 11th, 1901.

Office of HALSTED & HODGES, 7 Wall St.
New York, Jan. 15, 1901.
We beg to announce that Mr. ALBERT R. FISH has an interest in our firm from this date.
HALSTED & HODGES.

FINANCIAL.

$3,000,000
New York, Ontario and Western Railway Company
5% Sinking Fund First Lien Gold Notes

(Part of an Issue Limited to $3,500,000)

Dated December 1st, 1900, and maturing by Semi-Annual Instalments from 1901 to 1915.

Interest payable semi-annually on June 1st & Dec. 1st in the City of New York.

PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST PAYABLE IN GOLD COIN.

Coupon Notes, in denomination of $1,000, with registration provision.

We offer these First Lien Gold Notes ON A BASIS TO YIELD 4½ PER CENT. INTEREST PER ANNUM, EQUALLING A PRICE OF 103 PER CENT. FOR THE AVERAGE RUNNING PERIOD OF THE NOTES. They are secured by FIRST MORTGAGE upon important coal properties in the Scranton district, recently acquired at a cost of about $6,000,000, and are the direct obligation of the New York, Ontario and Western Railway Company, the net earnings of which for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1900, according to its published statement, amount to more than double its fixed charges, viz.:

NET EARNINGS	$1,548,565.40
INTEREST, RENTALS, AND CHARGES	689,541.08
SURPLUS	$859,024.32

For further details reference is made to a letter from Thomas P. Fowler, Esq., President, and to the mortgage, as well as to the schedule of semi-annual maturities, all of which can be obtained upon application at our office.

The subscription list will be opened at 10 o'clock A. M. on Wednesday, the 16th inst., and will be closed at 3 o'clock P. M. or earlier on the same date, the right being reserved to reject any applications and to award a smaller amount than applied for.

NOTES AWARDED UPON SUBSCRIPTION ARE TO BE PAID FOR ON WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 23D, 1901, WHEN THEY WILL BE READY FOR DELIVERY.

Kuhn, Loeb & Co.,
January 11, 1901. 27 & 29 PINE ST.

United States Trust Company,
45 & 47 WALL STREET.

Capital	$2,000,000.00
Surplus and Undivided Profits	$11,152,346.17

This Company is a legal depository for moneys paid into Court, and is authorized to act as Guardian, Trustee or Executor.

INTEREST ALLOWED ON DEPOSITS, which may be made at any time and withdrawn after five days' notice, and will be entitled to interest at such rates as may be agreed upon.

Executors, Administrators, or Trustees of Estates, Religious and Benevolent Institutions, and individuals will find this Company a convenient depository for money.

JOHN A. STEWART, Pres. D. WILLIS JAMES, Vice-Pres.
JAMES S. CLARK, Second Vice-Pres.
HENRY L. THORNELL, Secretary.
LOUIS G. HAMPTON, Assistant Secretary.

TRUSTEES.

Samuel Sloan,	William H. Macy, Jr.,
D. Willis James,	Wm. D. Sloane,
John A. Stewart,	Gustav H. Schwab,
John Harsen Rhoades,	Frank Lyman,
Anson Phelps Stokes,	George F. Vietor,
John Crosby Brown,	James Stillman,
Edward Cooper,	John Claflin,
W. Bayard Cutting,	John J. Phelps,
Charles S. Smith,	John S. Kennedy,
Wm. Rockefeller,	D. O. Mills,
Alexander E. Orr,	Lewis Cass Ledyard,
	Marshall Field.

A Consolidated Stock Exchange Seat
wanted. Communicate with SECURITY, Box 195 Times.

Dividends.

OFFICE OF THE
Northern Pacific Railway Company,
MILLS BUILDING,
New York, January 9, 1901.

The Company has this day declared from the net earnings a dividend of One Per Cent. on its Preferred Stock for the quarter ending March 1, 1901, payable March 5, 1901, at the office of MESSRS. J. P. MORGAN & CO., NEW YORK, to the Preferred Stockholders of record in New York, and at the DEUTSCHE BANK, BERLIN, to the Preferred Stockholders of record in Berlin, at the closing of the transfer books on February 15, 1901.

For the purpose of such dividend the transfer books in New York and Berlin will close at 3 P. M. on February 15, 1901, and will reopen at 10 A. M. on February 26, 1901.

NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY,
By GEORGE H. EARL, Secretary.

28 Wall Street,
New York, January 9, 1901.

On and after March 5, 1901, the Voting Trustees will be prepared to distribute the above dividend of One Per Cent. among the parties entitled thereto upon presentation of their Stock Trust Certificates at our offices for stamping.

After February 15, when the Railway Company closes its transfer books, and until March 5, when it pays the dividend, a due bill will be given for dividends upon shares represented by Stock Trust Certificates deposited for conversion.

J. P. MORGAN & CO.,
DEUTSCHE BANK, BERLIN,
Agents for the Voting Trustees.

The Lawyers' Title Insurance Company of New York.
37 & 39 Liberty St., and 44½ & 46 Maiden Lane.
New York, January 9, 1901.

The Board of Directors of this Company has this day declared a dividend of Two and One-half Per Cent. and an extra dividend of One-half Per Cent., payable at the Company's office on February 1st, 1901. The transfer books will be closed Monday, January 14th, and reopened on Saturday, February 2nd.

JOHN DUER, Treasurer.

Green Bay & Western R. R. Co.

The Board of Directors has fixed and declared Three Per Cent. for the semi-annual payment on Class "A" Debentures, and a dividend of Three Per Cent. on the capital stock, out of the net earnings for the year 1900, payable at the office of Robert Winthrop & Co., No. 40 Wall St., New York, on and after February 1, 1901. Transfer books will be closed January 19 and reopened February 2, 1901.

MARK T. COX, Treasurer.

The American Stoker Company,
New York, December 10, 1900.

The Directors have this day declared quarterly dividend No. 11 of TWO PER CENT. on the preferred shares out of the earnings, payable January 15th, 1901, to holders of record December 31st inst. Transfer books will be closed on Monday, December 24th, at 12 o'clock, and reopened on Thursday, January 17th. Cheques will be mailed to registered addresses.

C. J. PEABODY, Treasurer.

THE TRANSFER BOOKS OF THE GENERAL First Mtge. 4 Per Cent. Registered Bonds of the Cincinnati, Indianapolis, St. Louis & Chicago Ry. Co. will close at the office of the Central Trust Co. of N. Y., Monday, Jan. 21, 1901, at 2 o'clock, preparatory to the payment of the quarterly interest thereon due Feb. 1, 1901, and will reopen Feb. 1, at 10 A. M.

E. F. OSBORN, Secretary.
Cincinnati, Ohio, Jan. 15, 1901.

THE TRANSFER BOOKS OF THE GENERAL First Mtge. 7 Per Cent. registered bonds of the Columbus & Toledo R. R. Co. will close at the office of J. P. Morgan & Co., N. Y., Monday, Jan. 21, 1901, at 3 o'clock, preparatory to the payment of the semi-annual interest thereon, due Feb. 1, 1901, and will open Feb. 1st, at 10 A. M.

WILLIAM N. COTT, Treasurer.
Columbus, Ohio, Jan. 15, 1901.

American Tin Plate Company.

A quarterly dividend of One and Three-Quarters (1¾) Per Cent. has been declared upon the Preferred Stock of this Company, payable on January 31st, 1901, to stockholders of record at close of business January 16th, 1901. The transfer books will be closed as to the Preferred Stock from January 17th to 31st, both days inclusive.

New York, January 4, 1901.

F. S. WHEELER, Treasurer.

American Steel Hoop Company.

A quarterly dividend of One and Three-Quarters (1¾) Per Cent. has been declared upon the Preferred Stock of this Company, payable on January 31st, 1901, to stockholders of record at close of business January 16th, 1901. The transfer books will be closed as to the Preferred Stock from January 17th to 31st, both days inclusive.

New York, January 4, 1901.

F. S. WHEELER, Treasurer.

THE FINANCIAL MARKETS

Stocks Irregular.

STOCK TRANSACTIONS.

	Shares.
Jan. 14	1,188,113
To date this year	15,937,464
Corresponding date last year	5,850,119

BOND TRANSACTIONS.

Jan. 14	$2,782,500
To date this year	$37,367,450
Corresponding date last year	$18,281,100

Money rate: Collateral loans on call, 2 @4 per cent.; at three months, 4¼ per cent.; at six months, 4½ per cent. Commercial paper, sixty to ninety days, 4@4½ per cent.

***

Net changes in stocks of one-half of 1 per cent. or more were:

Stocks Advanced.

American Express	10	Hocking Valley	1⅝
Am. Linseed pf.	⅝	Int. Power	½
Am. Smelt. & R.	3⅝	M., St. P. & S. S. M.	1⅝
Am. S. & R. pf.	1	Nat. Lead pf.	4
Am. Steel Hoop	⅝	Nat. Salt	1⅝
Am. Steel & W.	⅝	Nat. Salt pf.	2
Am. Tin Plate	⅞	Nat. Steel	1½
Am. Tobacco	1	N. Y. Air Brake	4
Chi. Great West.	⅝	Peoria & East.	½
Chi. G. W. pf. B.	⅝	P., C. C. & St. L.	1⅝
C., C., C. & St. L.	1⅝	Pressed S. Car pf.	1⅝
C., C. & St. L. pf.	3¼	St. J. & G. I. 2d pf.	1
Erie 1st pf.	1½	St. L. S. W.	½
Federal Steel	1½	St. L. S. W. pf.	1½
Gas & El., Ber. Co.	½	W. & L. E. 1st pf.	⅝
General Electric	1½

Stocks Declined.

Amal. Copper	1½	M., St. P. & S. S. M. pf.	1½
Am. Ice	⅝	Northern Pac. p

be abroad, Henry W. Cannon, President of the Chase National Bank being already on the other side. This will leave but two members of the committee—Frederick D. Tappen, President of the Gallatin National, and J. Edward Simmons, President of the Fourth National Bank—to attend to the business of the committee.

It appears, however, that President Baker of the First National Bank, who is also President of the Clearing House, is a member ex officio of the Clearing House Committee and has a vote in it. When this matter was brought to his attention yesterday and he was asked what provisions would be made for the contingency, Mr. Baker said that the matter would be taken care of when it became necessary to do so. He said that it was within his province to appoint members of the committee to act in the absence of the regular members, but declined to say whether or not he would do so.

WALL STREET TOPICS.

Members of the Cotton Exchange to vote on Thursday upon an amendment which makes the initiation fee for membership in the Exchange $10,000 and limits the number of memoerships to 450.

Surplus of $131,800 shown by last week's statement of outside banks, a decrease of $412,175, as compared with the previous week.

Elaborate arrangements perfected for the meeting of the Transcontinental Passenger Association, to be held in New Orleans to-day, when very important matters will be discussed.

According to St. Paul dispatches, the Northern Pacific has disposed of the entire remaining portion of the Federal land grant of 1864 to a syndicate composed of Mankato and St. Paul capitalists.

According to tabulated statements, the various companies doing business in the Connellsville coke region broke all records in the volume and value of their output last year.

National Salt Company reported to have earned from Jan. 1 to Nov. 30 last a net of $1,108,668.

Predictions that Missouri, Kansas and Texas earnings will show an increase of $300,000 gross in January.

MONEY AND EXCHANGE.

Money on call, 2½@4 per cent., closing at 3 per cent.

Time money, 4 per cent. for thirty days, 4@4½ per cent. for longer periods. Mercantile paper, 4@4½ per cent. for sixty to ninety days' indorsements, 4½@5 per cent. for choice four to six months' single names, and 5½@6 per cent. for others.

Clearing House statement: Exchanges, $138,254,767; balances, $7,480,149; Sub-Treasury debit balance, $1,169,176.

Money on call in London, 2½@3 per cent. Rate of discount in the open market, 4⅛@4 3-16 per cent. for short and 4⅛@4¼ per cent. for three months' bills.

Foreign exchange was steady. Nominal rates were $4.84 for sixty days and $4.88 for demand. Rates for actual business closed as follows: Sixty days, $4.83¾@4.83⅞; demand, $4.87⅛@4.87⅜; cables, $4.88⅛@4.88⅜; commercial bills, $4.82⅜@4.83⅛.

Continental exchange was quoted as follows: Francs, 5.17½ less 1-16@5.18⅛ and 5.15 less 1-16; reichsmarks, 94 9-16@94⅝ and 95 3-16@95¼, and guilders, 40⅛ and 40⅝.

Exchange on New York at domestic centres: Chicago—15c premium. Boston—Par @ 5c premium. New Orleans—Commercial, 25c discount; bank, par. San Francisco—Sight, 15c premium; telegraphic, 17½c premium. Charleston—Buying, par; selling, 1-10c premium. Savannah—Buying, ¼c discount; selling, par. Cincinnati—Between banks, 14½@15c premium; over the counter, 50c premium.

THE LONDON MARKET.

LONDON, Jan. 14.—Money was in fair supply to-day and steady. Discounts were firm.

Business on the Stock Exchange was undecided, operators being absorbed by the carry-over. Prices opened depressed, owing to fears of the result of the settlement. West Australians were weak, especially London and Globe securities. There was some relief when the result of the London and Globe meeting was known, though the effect generally was not marked. Governments were unsteady. Central-London Electric declined on rumors of an overhauling of the system.

Americans opened weak, but afterward were firmer. St. Paul was especially heavy on statements that the lease was likely to prove illegal. Union Pacific was exceptionally firm. Toward the close Americans weakened, but closed with a partial recovery. Kafirs were dull on the South Africa news.

The feature, on account of the fluctuation, was Americans. They were sometimes wild, closing below the best. Generally, the advance has been carried to such a height that the position is considered peculiarly dangerous.

On the Street Americans were heavy. Atchison and Erie went down ¾. St. Paul 1½, and other stocks from ¼ to 1 point.

Consols for money, 96⅞; consols for the account, 97; Atchison, 47¾; Canadian, 93¾; St. Paul, 166½; Illinois Central, 136; Louisville, 91¼; Union Pacific preferred, 86¼; New York Central, 150; Erie, 29¾; Pennsylvania, 77; Reading, 18; Erie first preferred, 67; Northern Pacific preferred, 90; Grand Trunk, 7⅝; Anaconda, 9⅝; Rand Mines, 9⅝.

Bar silver steady at 29¼d per ounce.

Money, 2½@3 per cent. Discount rates: Short bills, 4⅛@4 3-16 per cent., and for three months' bills, 4⅛@4¼ per cent.

Spanish 4s, 70¾.

Gold premiums are quoted as follows: Buenos Ayres, 131.10; Madrid, 34.60; Rome, 5.57½; Lisbon, 39.

American eagles are quoted in the open market at 76s 5½d, and bar gold at 77s 10½d.

In Continental Centres.

PARIS, Jan. 14.—Prices opened fairly firm on the Bourse to-day, but, owing to the unsatisfactory situation of certain industrials and the decline in Kafirs, the whole list became easier and the market was inactive throughout. Toward the close some tramways and tractions partly recovered. Right Contangos in London caused a favorable impression.

Three per cent. rentes, 101f 82½c for the account.

BERLIN, Jan. 14.—Prices all around were good on the Boerse to-day owing to the Chinese Peace Commissioners having signed the joint note of the powers. Chinese securities were in strong demand. Home funds were firm, and locals were harder. Americans and Canadian Pacifics were easier.

Exchange on London, 20 marks 46¼ pfennigs for checks. Discount rates: Short bills, 3 per cent.; three months' bills, 3¾ per cent.

MADRID, Jan. 14.—Gold was quoted today at 34.55.

PRATT & WHITNEY CO. ABSORBED.

Passes Into the Hands of the Niles-Bement-Pond Company.

After six months' negotiations the Pratt & Whitney Company of Hartford, Conn., yesterday passed into the hands of the Niles-Bement-Pond Company of New York, which has plants in Ohio, Pennsylvania, and New Jersey. The Pratt & Whitney Company will continue as a distinct and separate organization. That company manufactures a line of small machinery, while the specialty of the Niles-Bement-Pond Company is heavy machinery.

The old stockholders of the Pratt & Whitney Company retain the preferred stock, but the common stock has all passed into the hands of the Niles-Bement-Pond interests. The Pratt & Whitney Company is capitalized at $2,750,000. Of this, $1,225,000 is preferred stock and $1,525,000 common stock.

The new Pratt & Whitney Company organized by electing the following Directors: R. C. McKinney of New York, T. T. Gaff of Cincinnati, F. W. Gordon of Philadelphia, Amos Whitney of Hartford, C. C. Cuyler of New York, George W. M. Reed of Hartford, W. L. Clark of New York, C. L. Cornell of New York, and J. K. Cullen of Hamilton, Ohio. The Directors organized by electing Mr. McKinney President, Mr. Clark Vice President, and Mr. Cornell Treasurer. The Secretary of the new company is Francis C. Pratt. Mr. McKinney is also President of the Niles-Bement-Pond Company.

International Express Co. Directors.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the International Express Company yesterday the following Board of Directors was re-elected: Henry P. Booth, Lewis H. Spence, Edwin H. Warner, George B. Hopkins, Robert Gordon Shewan, Edward C. O'Brien, Putnam Bradlee Strong, Edward C. Burgess, Aaron Vanderbilt, and Walter R. Ogilvie.

OUTSIDE SECURITIES.

Further weakness appeared in the outside market yesterday, and the only issues that showed much activity were several that declined rather sharply. At the close of the day, however, some recoveries occurred which marked quotations up a little, so that the day ended at somewhat better prices than the worst. All told, however, the transactions were not in large amount, and the total changes were of relatively slight importance. Very little news was reflected in the course of prices.

***

CONSOLIDATED EQUIPMENT was more active than it has been on any recent day. The trading in the stock was accompanied by a rather sharp decline, and during the early part of the day the issue had little support. On the break, however, some fairly large buying orders came into the market, and the close was strong at 11 bid. Friends of the stock stated that the decline was in no wise attributable to any but technical causes. The position of the company is said to be constantly improving.

***

BRITISH COLUMBIA COPPER was probably the most active stock in the list. About 2,000 shares changed hands between 22⅝ and 20½. The lower figure was touched just at the close, which showed a net loss of 2½ points. The decline from 22 was quite sharp. This is the first reaction of importance that has occurred since the advance which recently carried the stock across 20. It closed weak and seemed to be without the inside support to which the recent strength of the stock has been attributed.

***

AMERICAN BRIDGE early in the day followed the general course of the market and declined substantially. During the last hour it sold as low as 42¼, but immediately rallied to 42¾, and closed there with a net loss of 1 point. The preferred stock suffered a net decline of about half a point, but in this issue, as in the common, the day's transactions were very small, being in fact limited to 300 or 400 shares. The other steel stocks were equally dull, but some were stronger than the Bridge stocks.

***

UNITED RAILWAYS OF ST. LOUIS 4s continued strong and sold as high as 89. The preferred stock shared the strength and advanced to 69½. St. Louis Transit was practically unchanged. The bonds showed fair activity, but trading in the stocks was small.

***

ELECTRIC BOAT showed slight improvement, the preferred stock advancing to 49½, a net gain of half a point.

***

DISTILLING OF AMERICA preferred moved rather irregularly, and ended the day at the lowest, with a net loss of a full point. The common suffered a fractional net loss, closing at 5⅞ bid.

***

UNION TYPEWRITER common sold up to 41, and closed with a fractional net gain at 40½ bid.

***

Closing quotations yesterday compared with those of Saturday were as follows:

Industrial and Miscellaneous.

	Jan. 14. Bid.	Asked.	Jan. 12. Bid.	Asked.
Am. Agricultural Chem..	29	30	29	30
Am. Agricult. Chem. pf.	80	81	80	81
American Bank Note.....	50	53	50	53
American Bicycle.....	5½	6¼	5½	6¼
American Bicycle pf.....	25	27	25	27
American Bicycle bonds.	72	73	72	73
American Bridge	42¾	43¾	43¾	44
Am. Bridge pf.....	91	91¾	01½	92
American Chicle	83	88	83	88
American Chicle pf.....	77	82	76	81
Am. Hide & Leather....	10	11	10	11
Am. Hide & Leather pf.	35½	39	35½	39
Am. Hide & Leather 6s.	90	90½	90	90½
*American Thread pf....	4	6	4	5
Am. Typefounders.....	57	62	57	62
Anthracite Coal	8	8½	8½	9
Arlington Copper.....	4	5	4	5
*British Columbia Copper	20	20½	22½	22⅝
British Exch. 8s.....	98½	99	98½	99
California Copper.....	1	1¼	1½	1⅝
Cast-Iron Pipe	5	6½	5	5½
Cast-Iron Pipe pf.....	35	37	55	57
Central & So. Am. Tel..	102	104	102	104
Central Fireworks	23	27	22	25
Central Fireworks pf....	70	75	70	75
Compressed Air	40	44	40	44
Con. Ry. N. & E.....	11	11¼	11½	12
Con. Rubber Tire	2½	4	2½	4
Con. Rubber Tire pf....	28	32	28	32
Continental Tobacco deb.	104	106	104	106
Crucible Steel	23½	24	22½	23
Crucible Steel pf.....	70	80½	73	80½
Cramps' Shipyard	81	83	81	85
Dist. Co. of Am. tr. rcts.	5⅞	6	6½	6½
Dist. Co. of Am. pf. tr. rcts	30¼	30½	31½	31¾
Electric Boat	27	29	27½	28½
Electric Boat pf.....	49	50	49	50
Electric Vehicle	17	18	17	18
Elastic Vehicle pf.....	40	44	40	44
Electric-Pneumatic	2½	3	2¾	3
Empire Steel	5	7	6	7
Empire Steel pf.....	39	48	39	48
Flemington Coal & Coke.	19	22	19	22
General Carriage	3	3⅝	3⅛	3¼
General Chemical	60	65	60	62
General Chemical pf....	97	98½	97	98½
German Treasury 4s.....	100¼	100⅝	100¼	100⅝
Havana Commercial	9¼	10¼	9½	10½
Havana Commercial pf...	44	46	44	46
Hudson River Tel.....	117	118	117	118
Illinois Transportation...	¾	1	¾	1
International Silver pf..	42	47	42	47
Inter-State Oil	4	5	2	5
Iron Steamboat	1	3	2	3
Iron Steamboat bonds...	55	65	55	65
Joseph Ladue Mining pf.	½	1	½	1
Lorillard pf	100	105	100	105
†Markeen Copper	2	3	1½	3
Mex. Nat. Construct. pf.	13¼	14	13¼	14
Nat. Enamel & Stamp....	17	20	17	20
Nat. Enam. & Stamp. pf.	80	84	80	84
National Gramophone ...	8	12	8	12
Nat. Sugar pf.....	100	102	100	102
New England Transport.	3¾	3¾	3¾	3¾
N. Y. Transportation....	1¼	1½	1¼	1½
Otis Elevator	28½	29½	28¼	29½
Otis Elevator pf.....	90½	91¾	90½	91¾
Peo., Dec. & Evans.....	¾	1	¾	1
Pitts., Bess. & L. Erie..	28¾	30	29	29¾
Retsof	12	...	12	...
Retsof bonds	75	85	78	85
Royal Baking Powder pf.	84	96	94	95
Royal Cooper	11	12	11	12
Rubber Goods Mfg.....	28½	29	28¾	29½
Rubber Goods Mfg. pf..	79	78½	79	79½
Safety Car Heat & Light.	119	121	120	121
St. Louis Transit	18¾	19¼	18¾	19
Seaboard Air Line 4s....	69½	70½	69½	71
Seaboard Air Line	10¼	10½	6½	10¼
Seaboard Air Line pf....	26¼	26¾	20½	26¼
Sheet Steel pf.....	75	75½	75	76
Singer Mfg.	250	275	250	275
Southern Light & Trac..	32	35	32	35
Standard Coupler	33	38	33	38
Standard Coupler pf....	120	125½	129	125½
Standard Oil of N. J....	805	808	804	800
Sterling Copper	5⅝	6	5⅝	5⅝
Storage Power	10	12	10	12
Tennessee Copper	17	19	18	19
Tel., Tel. & Co. of A., $15 paid	...	5½	...	5½
Trenton Potteries	5	8	5	6
Trenton Pot. pf.....	55	60	55	60
Tubular Dispatch	25½	26	24¾	25
Union Copper	4¾	5	4¾	5
Union Typewriter	40¾	41	39½	40½
Union Typewriter 1st pf.	112	114	112	114
Union Typewriter 2d pf.	113	114	112	114
United Rys. of St. L. 4s.	88¾	89½	...	88¾
United Rys. of St. L. pf.	69¼	69½	68¼	69
Va. Coal, I. & C.....	4	8	4	6
Va. Coal, I. & C. bonds.	84	35½	37	38½
Westingnouse Air Brake.	370	380	370	390
Worthington Pump pf....	111	114	111	114

*Selling dollars per share. Par value $5.
†Selling dollars per share. Par value $100.

Street Railways.

Broadway & 7th Av....	230	235	230	235
Broadway & 7th Av. 1st.	102½	102⅞	102½	..
Broadway & 7th Av. 2d.	113	116	...	113
Broadway Surface 1st 5s.	115	116	...	116
Broadway Surface 2d....	102½	103⅛	102½	103½
Brooklyn City R. R....	233	235	232	234
Brooklyn B. & W. E. 5s.	101¼	103	101½	103
Cent. Park, N. & E. R.	200	202	199½	201
Cent. Park, N. & E. R. 7s.	104½	105½	104½	105½
Columbus Railway	34	37	34	37
Columbus Railway pf....	90	92	90	92
Con. Traction of N. J....	53	60	53	60
Con. Traction 5s.....	108	109	108	109
Eighth Avenue Railroad.	390	400	390	400
42d St., M. & St. N. Av.	1st 113½	115	113½	115
42d St., M. & St. N. A.	2d. 99	100	99	100
Grand Rapids St. Ry....	27½	30	27½	30
Grand Rapids St. Ry. pf.	80	..	80	..
Jersey City, Hob. & Pat.	20	21½	20	21½
Jersey C., H. & P. 4s....	83	85	82½	88
Nassau Electric 4s.....	..	..	94½	..
New Orleans Traction...	22	..	22	..
New Orleans Traction pf.	94	98	94	98
9th Av. R. R.....	198	205	198	205
North Jersey St. R.R. 4s.	83½	84½	83½	84½
North Jersey St. R. R....	24	25	24	25
Second Av. R. R. consols.	113	119	113	119
Sixth Av. R. R.....	200	210	200	210
Steinway Ry. Co. 1st 6s.	116½	118	116½	118
Syracuse Rapid Transit..	15	20	15	20
Syracuse Rap. Transit pf.	37	40	39	43
28th & 29th St. 5s, 1998.	113¾	114½	113¾	114½
Union Ry., 1st 5s.....	111	113½	111	113½
United Trac., Providence.	109	111	109	111
United Traction bonds...	113½	115	113½	115
Worcester (Mass.) Trac..	84	35	35	37
Wor. (Mass.) Trac. pf..	105	108	105	108

Gas Companies.

Bay State Gas	1⅛	1½	1¼	1⅝
Buffalo (N. Y.) Stock...	6	9	6	9
Buffalo (N. Y.) 1st....	74	76	74	76
Central Union 5s, gtd..	103½	109½	103½	109½
Columbia Gas 5s.....	106	107	106	107
Con. Gas of Newark....	..	55	..	56
Con. Gas of New'k bds.	104	106	104	106
Con. Gas of New Jersey..	10	15	19	15
Con. Gas bonds of N. J.	80	85	..	80
Con's'rs Gas (J. C.) bds.	105¾	106	105¾	106
Denver Gas	250	275	250	275
Denver Gas 5s.....	63	68	63	68
Essex & Hudson Gas....	35	40	35	40
Indianapolis Gas	50	60	50	60
Indianapolis Gas bds. 6s.	94	96	92½	96
Mutual Gas of N. Y....	295	299	295	299
Madison (Wis.) stock....	70	75	70	75
New Amsterdam 5s.....	109	110	109	110
N. E. Gas & Coke.....	12½	13½	13	14
N. E. Gas & Coke 5s....	66	68	..	69
N. Y. & E. R. Gas co. 1st.	113½	114	111	114
N. Y. & E. R. Gas Co. con.	106	108	106	107
Northern Union 5s.....	106¾	108	106¾	106
Nor. Hud. L., H. & P. Co.	55	56	55	56
Nor. H. L., H. & P. Co. bds.	107	109	107	109

	Jan. 14. Bid.	Asked.	Jan. 12. Bid.	Asked.
Peo. Gas & El. (Oswego).	25	30	25	30
Peo. G. & E. (Os.) 5s, 1930.	99	101	99	101
St. Joseph (Mo.).....	31	38	31	38
St. Joseph (Mo.) 6s....	91	93	91	93
St. Paul Gas stock.....	..	50	..	50
St. Paul Gas bonds.....	75	90	75	90
Standard Gas, New York.	131	133	130	133
Standard Gas, N. Y., pf.	151	153	150	153
Standard Gas 1st.....	115	117	115	117
Syracuse Gas stock.....	8	10	8	10
Western Gas	96	100	96	100
Western Gas 1st 5s.....	105	107	105	107

Ferry Companies.

Brooklyn Ferry	19	21	19	21
Brooklyn Ferry 5s.....	85	88	85	88
East River Ferry	69	71	69	71
East River Ferry 5s.....	96	98	96	98
Hoboken Ferry con. 5s..	94	95	94	95
Hoboken Ferry 1st.....	110¾	112½	110½	112⅝
Hoboken Ferry	80	81	80	81
Metropolitan Ferry 5s...	108	110	108	110
Union Ferry	31	33	30	31½
Union Ferry bonds.....	91	92	91	92

BOSTON STOCK MARKET.

Special to The New York Times.

BOSTON, Jan. 14.—Erie Telephone was the feature, recovering 10, to 63, later 62, with over 2,000 shares traded in during the morning. American Telephone touched 163½ for an odd lot, and sold at 164 and 163 on larger transactions. Mines generally were steady, without feature; Montana was firm at 32, Osceola receded 1¼, to 82¾, but rallied to 84; Wolverine and Franklin were in good request; Tamarack was up 4, at 333; Gas and Coke 5s lost 1, to 67; Mexican Central 4s fell 1, to 79½, later 80; Massachusetts Electric lost ½, to 25¼; Isle Royale declined 2, to 36½, later 37¾; Amalgamated lost 1⅝, to 90¼; Westinghouse held strong at 57, but later receded to 56⅝; Agricultural Chemical receded 1, to 29; American Woolen was off 1, at 18½, later 18¾; Boston Electric was up 12, at 212; Franklin dropped to 17 in the afternoon, Fort Scott and Memphis rose 2, to 57. The market was slow, and dragged in late dealings.

Money at the Clearing House loaned at 2½ per cent., and New York funds sold at par and 5 cents premium.

Call money loaned to the best borrowers at 4 per cent., with weaker ones accommodated at 4½ per cent. The same range of 4 to 4½ per cent. applies generally to time money. The 4 per cent. rate is weakly held, however.

Closing:

Mining Stocks.

	Bid.	Asked.		Bid.	Asked.
Adventure ..	10	10½	Old Colony..	3½	4½
Alloues	7	8½	Old Dominion	32	82½
Arcadian	18¼	19½	Osceola	83½	84¼
Arnold	4¾	5	Parrot	49½	50
Ash Bed.....	.37½	.50	Quincy	175	178
Atlantic	28	29	Rhoda Island	4½	5
Baltic	34¾	..	Santa Fé....	6½	7
Bos. & Mont..	320	325	Santa Ysabel	2	3
Butte & Bos.	81	82	Shoe	31½	32
Cal. & Hecla	836	..	Tamarack ..	333	335
Centennial ..	23	23½	Utah Cons...	33	33¾
Franklin	17	17¼	Washington..	.50	1
Humboldt ..	.50	..	Winona	5¾	..
Isle Royal..	37½	38	Wolverine ..	49	49¾
Mohawk	24	24¾

Railroad Stocks.

Bos. & Alb..253	254	Bos. Gas 5s.	80	81
Bos. & Low..242	..	Fitchburg pf.139		140
Bos. & Me....194	196	N.Y. & N.E. 6s.	109¼	..
Bos. & Prov.800	..	N.Y. & N.E. 7s.	113	..
Bos. Elev....	160	West End...	88	93½

Miscellaneous Stocks.

Am. T. & T..163	163½	Mex. Tel....	2½ 2¾
Chi. St. Yds.144½	145½	N. Eng. Tel.180	.. ..
Dom. Coal... 80¾	87¾	U. S. Oil....	15 16
Dom. Coal pf.108	109	West. Elec..	56 56¼
Erie Tel..... 61¾	63	West. El. pf.	67½ ..

PHILADELPHIA PRICES.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 14.—An irregular opening in the Philadelphia market was followed by general declines, and these later were succeeded by a slow recovery, but prices did not reach the closing figures of Saturday. Philadelphia Electric was the most active stock on the list, due to reports that the negotiations for the absorption of the company in the United Gas Improvement Company were nearly completed. The stock rose to 6⅝, but absence of confirmation of the story as to absorption allowed it to fall back to 6. Reading common was in good demand all day, the stock reacting near a point, but later recovering some of the loss. Lehigh Valley acted in much the same manner, reacting a point in the morning, but gaining later until it was only ¾ below its closing price of Saturday.

The close was steady at the following bid and asked prices:

	Bid.	Asked.		Bid.	Asked.
Am. Ry. Lt..	32½	34	Lehigh Val..	84⅛	84⅜
Cambria	19⅞	20	Marsden	6⅝	6¾
Choctaw	38¾	39	North. Penn.	107	110
Con. Tr. N.J.	59½	61	Penn. Steel..	70	73½
C. Tr. N.J. 5s.	106¼	106½	P. Steel pf...	90	98
Con. T., Pitts.	27	27½	Peop. Tr. 4s.	103½	110
El. & Peo. 4s.	100½	100⅝	Phila. & Erie	34½	35
El. Stge. Bat.	76	80	Phila. Trac..	99¾	100
El. S. B. pf.	76½	82	Union Trac.	35	35½
El. Co. of Am.	9⅝	9¾	Un. Co's N.J.	274	276
Hunt'n & Bt.	18	20	Un. Gas Imp.	124	125
H. & Bt. pf.	48	50	Welsbach Lt.	44	46
Lehigh Nav..	67¼	68

CHICAGO QUOTATIONS.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Jan. 14.—Metropolitan Elevated showed some improvement to-day, the common opening at 28 and advancing to 28½, where it closed, and the preferred selling at 80½, with a close at 80. The remainder of the local list was dull and uninteresting. Biscuit common was steady around 40¼, closing at 40; the preferred closed at 94. There were a few scattering sales in Union Traction common at 13 and Northwestern Elevated preferred at 78. Lake Street Elevated income bonds sold at 37½.

		High.	Low.	Close.
100..	Linseed com.....	6⅞	6¾	6⅞
25..	Linseed pf	36	35¾	36
50..	Strawboard	33¼	33⅛	33¼
48..	Chicago Edison	150½	150¼	150½
28..	Chicago Telephone	250	250	250
23..	Diamond Match	135½	135	135½
300..	Chicago Union Trac. com.	13	12	13
10..	Lake Street Le.....	10¼	10¼	10¼
120..	Metropolitan L.....	28½	28	28½
633..	Metropolitan L pf.....	80½	80	80
672..	National Biscuit	40¾	40	40
62..	National Biscuit pf.....	94⅞	93½	94
12..	North Chicago	193	190	192
120..	Northwestern L	29½	29½	29½
230..	Northwestern L pf.....	78	78	78
75..	West Chicago	100	100	100
29..	Union L Ry.....	88	88	88

Sales....1,188,113

LONDON AND GLOBE AFFAIRS.

Stockholders Decide to Voluntarily Wind Up the Concern—Speech by Whitaker Wright.

LONDON, Jan. 14.—At the adjourned meeting to-day of the stockholders of the London and Globe Finance Corporation, Limited, it was resolved to voluntarily wind up the concern.

Whitaker Wright explained that the Directors wanted £500,000 to pay the debts and several hundred thousand pounds with which to carry on operations. Since the last meeting, he added, the Directors had been negotiating for the sale of the Baker Street-Waterloo Railroad for £500,000, and it was expected that an agreement would be signed at once. It was then proposed to proceed with the reconstruction of the corporation.

The corporation's assets, Mr. Wright added, amounted to nearly £3,000,000, and, though there had been a depreciation in prices, they would soon recover.

In regard to the alleged underhand scheming against the corporation, Mr. Wright said a certain engineer offered the manager of the Le Roi Mine £100,000 profit on the Stock Exchange to diminish the output and wreck the mine. In response to indignant shouts of "Name!" Mr. Wright replied that the matter was in the hands of lawyers, and, if it could be proved, the name would be made public.

In reply to other queries, Mr. Wright admitted that the Baker Street Railroad, which they were selling for £500,000, was valued on the books of the corporation at £800,000.

Lord Dufferin, in thanking the shareholders for their courtesy to him, said it was the last time he would preside. This was taken to mean that he had again resigned the Chairmanship of the corporation.

On the Stock Exchange the position of the London and Globe is considered to be most unsatisfactory. Nobody seems able to give a clear statement of what is to be paid or when the money will be distributed. The result is a continuance of uncertainty as to the financial position.

Old Liverpool Timber Firm Bankrupt.

LIVERPOOL, Jan. 14.—Pierce, Watts & Co., timber merchants, one of the oldest firms in the business, have been declared bankrupt. Their liabilities are estimated at £80,000, and their assets at £40,000.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE.

Complete Transactions in Stocks—Monday, Jan. 14, 1901.

Closing Bid.	Closing Asked.	Sales.		First.	High.	Low.	Last.	Net Change.
90¼	90⅝	19,895	Amalgamated Copper..	91	91⅝	90	90¼	—1⅛
21½	21⅝	980	Am. Car & Found. Co.	21½	21⅝	21¼	21½	— ⅛
70½	70⅝	1,650	Am. C. & F. Co. pf...	69¾	70⅜	69¾	70⅜	— ⅛
30	30½	600	American Cotton Oil..	30¼	30¾	30	30	— ⅛
87	89	100	Am. Cotton Oil pf....	89	89	89	89	— ⅛
178	182	254	American Express	180	180	180	180	—1½
88½	89½	200	American Ice Co.....	89¼	89½	89¼	89¼	— ⅝
6¾	7	20	American Linseed Co..	7⅛	7⅛	7⅛	7⅛	.....
35½	35⅝	639	Am. Linseed Co. pf...	35½	35⅝	35½	35⅝	+ ⅛
4¾	5	100	American Malting Co..	4¾	4¾	4¾	4¾	+ ⅛
63¼	63⅝	20,792	Am. Smelt. & Ref. Co.	61	64	60¾	63⅞	+3
98½	98⅞	3,989	Am. S. & R. Co. pf...	97	98½	97	98¼	+1
30¼	30½	2,800	Am. Steel Hoop Co...	29	30½	29	30½	+ ⅝
75¾	76	900	Am. Steel Hoop Co. pf.	75¾	76	75	75¾	— ⅛
40⅝	41	23,700	Am. Steel & Wire....	40	41½	38	41	+ ⅝
88¾	87	3,200	Am. Steel & Wire pf.	86¾	87	86	87	.....
136¼	136⅝	22,950	Am. Sugar Ref. Co...	138	139	136½	138⅝	—2
1.8	118½	10	Am. Sug. Ref. Co. pf..	117¾	117¾	117¾	117¾	.....
63¼	63¾	27,625	American Tin Plate...	64	65¼	62¾	63¾	+ ⅛
90	91	500	American Tin Plate pf.	91	91	90	90	— ⅛
115¾	116	36,100	American Tobacco	115	117½	115	116	+1
138	19	1,440	American Woolen	19¼	19½	18¾	18¾	— ⅝
45¾	46	15,650	At., T. & S. F.....	46¼	46⅞	45¾	45¾	— ⅛
85¾	85⅞	17,400	At., T. & S. F. pf....	86½	86½	85¾	85¾	—1
92⅝	92¾	11,908	Baltimore

IN THE REAL ESTATE FIELD

Another Deal on Longacre Square—Upper Broadway Corner and Lots in Fifth Avenue Section Change Hands.

McVickar & Co. have bought for a client the stable property 1,540 and 1,542 Broadway, 45.1 by 100, together with the dwelling 171 West Forty-fifth Street, 20 by 75.5, the two parcels forming an "L" surrounding the northeast corner of Broadway and Forty-fifth Street. The property is sold by Helen McGraw Smith, who was represented in the deal by Brokers J. Romaine Brown & Co. McVickar & Co. would not divulge the name of their client yesterday or say anything regarding the future of the property.

Slawson & Hobbs have sold for William L. Crow and James W. Taylor to an investor the plot at the southwest corner of Broadway and One Hundred and Fifteenth Street, 100.11 feet on Broadway by 75 feet on the street.

Herbert A. Sherman has sold for Franels K. Pendleton to Gustavus L. Lawrence, for about $180,000, the plot, 127.6 by 100.8, on the south side of Eighty-seventh Street, 102.2 feet east of Fifth Avenue.

Gustavus L. Lawrence has sold to Joseph Hamershlag the lot, 25.2 by 102, on Fifth Avenue, 25.2 feet north of Eighty-ninth Street. Mr. Hamershlag bought last week from Robert N. Bull the two lots adjoining the foregoing on the north. L. J. Phillips & Co. were the brokers in both transactions.

B. C. & F. T. Barty, in conjunction with L. J. Phillips & Co., have sold to a client the dwelling 8 East Eightieth Street.

Schrag & Richtberg have sold for Frank C. Meehan to Edwin O. Townsend, for $18,750, the five-story flat 453 West Twenty-first Street, 25 by 100.

Brokers Ruland & Whiting say that reports to the effect that 11, 11, and 13 Spruce Street have been sold are premature.

H. C. Senior & Co. have sold for Lizzie R. King to a client the five-story tenement 205 West Sixty-seventh Street, 25 by 90 by 100.5.

William Wise has sold to Dr. E. S. Messinger the four-story dwelling 41 West Thirty-fifth Street, 21.5 by 98.9.

William and Julius Baehrach have bought from Valentine Kramer the frame dwelling 245 East Eighty-first Street, on a lot 25 by 102.2.

Charles E. Schuyler & Co. have sold for John C. Platt to Mrs. A. L. Carroll, for $31,000, the five-story three-family flat 412 West One Hundred and Twenty-fourth Street, 25 by 87 by 100.

Eliabeth A. Wilcox will erect a ten-story mercantile building on the plot 33.4 by 100 at 31 and 33 West Thirty-first Street, at a cost of $140,000. The plans have been filed by Architects Israels & Harder.

Results at Auction.

Yesterday's offerings in the Trinity Building Salesroom resulted as follows:

By Philip A. Smyth.

688 to 698 East One Hundred and Eighty-sixth Street, south side, 180 feet east of Vanderbilt Avenue East, each 20 by 100, six four-story stone-front flats; foreclosure sale to John C. Barr.....$56,200

By William M. Ryan.

480 West Twenty-second Street, north side, 31.5 feet east of Tenth Avenue, 16.8 by 98.8, four-story brick dwelling; partition sale, to H. C. Backus..... 9,200

By Herbert A. Sherman.

1,206 East One Hundred and Sixty-seventh Street, south side, 284 feet east of the Southern Boulevard, 16.8 by 90, three-story brick dwelling; foreclosure sale, to Charles Brogop..... 6,000

Today's Auction Sales.

The following sales at auction are down for to-day at 111 Broadway:

TUESDAY, JAN. 15.—By William M. Ryan, public auction sale, 228 West Twenty-eighth Street, south side, 220.8 feet west of Seventh Avenue, 24.10 by 98.9, five-story double tenement, with store, and a four-story brick tenement at the rear; 144 West Twenty-sixth Street, south side, 500 feet west of Sixth Avenue, 20.2 by 98.9, five-story double tenement, with store; 11 Cornelia Street, northwest side, 115 feet southwest of Bleecker Street, 20 by 95, five-story front and rear double tenements.

By William M. Ryan, executor's sale, 182 East Sixty-fourth Street, south side, 125 feet west of Third Avenue, 25 by 100.5, four-story brick and brownstone-front double flat.

By William M. Ryan, foreclosure sale, Theodore W. Morris, Jr., referee, Kappock Street, Smeyten Doyvil, plot 37.6 by 73.7 by 37.6 by 60.3. Due on judgment, $806.

By Bryan L. Kennelly & Co., administrator's sale, 587 Grand Street, and 1 Corlears Street, being the southwest corner, 22.4 by -59.6 by 20.10 by 70, five-story brick double tenement, with store.

By Bryan L. Kennelly & Co., public auction sale, 92 Washington Square South, 96 feet east of Thompson Street, 25 by 119, four-story brick and stone dwelling, with extension.

By Bryan L. Kennelly & Co., executor's sale, 2,113 and 2,115 Lexington Avenue, east side, 63.11 feet north of One Hundred and Twenty-seventh Street, each 15 by 95, two three-story brick and stone dwellings; 145 East One Hundred and Twenty-seventh Street, north side, 20 feet east of Lexington Avenue, 15 by 63.11, three-story brick and stone-front dwelling.

By Bryan L. Kennelly & Co., executor's sale, 15 and 17 Manhattan Avenue, west side, 27.10 feet south of One Hundred and First Street, each 27 by 100, two five-story brick and stone double apartment houses.

By James L. Wells, foreclosure sale, Timothy Power, referee, Lot 44 on the map of Bronxwood Park, being on the south side of North Oak Drive, near Elm Avenue, 75 by 118. Due on judgment, $2,500.

By Peter F. Meyer & Co., foreclosure sale, William T. Emmet, referee, 369, 371, and 373 West One Hundred and Sixteenth Street, north side, 150 feet west of Manhattan Avenue, 28, 36, and 38, respectively, by 100.10, three seven-story brick flats. Due on judgment, $146,592.

By Peter F. Meyer & Co., foreclosure sale, Emil Goldmark, referee, 83 Lenox Avenue, west side, 25.11 feet north of One Hundred and Fourteenth Street, 25 by 100, five-story brick flat, with store. Due on judgment, $25,304.

By James L. Wells, executor's sale, Fifty-seventh Street, Brooklyn, north side, 240 feet east of Fifth Avenue, three lots, each 20 by 100; Sixty-seventh Street, Brooklyn, south side, 101.3 feet east of Fort Hamilton Avenue, ten lots, each 20 by 100.

THE BUILDING DEPARTMENT.

List of Plans Filed for New Structures and Alterations.

Bronx Terrace, west side, 53.6 feet north of Twelfth Street, William's Bridge; for three two-story frame dwellings, each 16.8 by 25; William E. Diller, Mott Avenue and One Hundred and Sixty-first Street, owner; G. A. Schellenger of 130 Fulton Street, architect; total cost, $6,000.

Eighth Avenue, southwest corner of One Hundred and Twenty-first Street; for a five-story brick flat, 25.11 by 94.11; Alexander McDowell of 388 Manhattan Avenue, owner; G. A. Schellenger, architect; cost, $32,000.

Eighth Avenue, west side, 25.11 feet south of One Hundred and Twenty-first Street; for three five-story brick flats, each 25 by 84.4; Alexander McDowell, owner; G. A. Schellenger, architect; total cost, $66,000.

Nos. 31 and 33 West Thirty-first Street; for a ten-story brick building, 33.4 by 88.9; Elizabeth A. Wilcox of 85 Ocean Avenue, owner; Israels & Harder of 194 Broadway, architects; cost, $140,000.

No. 225 East Eighty-second Street; for a six-story and basement brick flats, 25.10 by 87.5; Morris Monsky of 8 Ludlow Street, owner; George F. Pelham of 503 Fifth Avenue, architect; cost, $30,000.

Nos. 151 and 153 East Eighty-first Street; for a seven-story brick flat, 43.11 by 102.6; Mapes Avenue, east side, 430 feet north of One Hundred and Eightieth Street, for a two-and-a-half-story frame dwelling, 23 by 49; P. McDermott of 1,490 Lexington Avenue, owner and architect; cost, $3,250.

One Hundred and Sixteenth Street, north side, 143.8 feet west of St. Nicholas Avenue, for a seven-story brick flat, 100 by 65.2; John Bannon of 115 East One Hundred and Fourteenth Street, owner; Neville & Bagge, architects; cost, $200,000.

Webster Avenue, southeast corner of One Hundred and Sixty-ninth Street, for a one-story frame structufe, 7.10 by 7.3; John Eichler Brewing Company, owners; M. J. Garvin, architect; cost, $100.

Alterations.

No. 1685 Attorney Street, to a five-story brick tenement; L. Brand of 206 East One Hundred and Fourth Street, owner; Horenburger & Straub of 122 Bowery, architects; cost, $1,500.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.

In the following list "mtg" stands for mortgage and "R. S" for revenue stamps. The war revenue law provides that stamps shall be placed on all conveyances at the rate of 50 cents for each $500 of consideration. This "consideration" has been held to mean only the equity above the mortgage, except in the rate cases where the purchaser assumes payment of the mortgage. The amount of the mortgage plus 1,000 times the value of the revenue stamps on the conveyance should therefore show the true consideration:

Monday, Jan. 14.

AMSTERDAM AV, s e corner of 89th St, 100.8x200; 06th St, n s, 275 ft e of Amsterdam Av, 200x100; Boulevard, n e corner of 96th St, runs n 201.10 to 97th St; e 112.8± — to 96th St x w 86.8; Barclay St, 42; also property in Vermont; Ellen L. Fifield and others to William P. Dillingham and others, executors..... $1

AVENUE A, w s, 51.2 ft s of 81st St, 17x79; George Kessler to Ottilie Kessler, (R S 50c, mtg $5,000)..... Gift

BOULEVARD, or Public Drive, s e corner of 94th St, runs e 146x350.8x w 51.8x 300.5± w 100x n 146.5; Henry S. Pettit to Albert Bruns, (R S $5, mtg $154,000). 1

BROADWAY, s e corner of 94th St, runs e 146x s 56.3x w 51.8x s 30.4x w 100 to Broadway x n 83.4; Albert Bruns to Ada E. Bingham and another, (R S $25, mtg $97,500)..... 1

BRONX PARK AV, w s, 100 ft n of 179th St, 25x100; Thomas F. Gallagher to Timothy Sullivan..... 3,000

CONVENT AV, w s, 32.11 ft n of 143d St, 20x100; Anthony O. Von Klich to Arabella Sisker, (R S $9, mtg $17,000).. 1

CROTONA AV, n w s, 100 ft n e of 187th St, 25x100; William Suk to Maria Suk, (mtg $2,000; R S 50c)..... 1

FULTON AV, n w s, 50 ft from n e corner of Public Square, runs n e 50x n w 210x s w 50x s e 210.2; Paul C. George to Leopold E. George and another, (R S $4)..... 4,000

FULTON ST, w s, 100 ft n of Elizabeth St, 50x100, Wakefield; John E. Shannon to Anna J. Shannon, (R S $1.50, all liens)

HOME ST, s s, 52.11 ft s of Stebbins Av, 25x117.2x34.1x94; Darius D. Williams to Hannah E. Williams, (R S $4)..... 1

INDEFINITE ALLEY, s s, running e from Sullivan St, 12.3 ft w from land conveyed by Langdon to Stewart, runs s 24.6± w 12.6± n 24.6 to alley x e 3.6; Harry P. Pitts to Peter Roberts, quit claim..... 25

LEXINGTON AV, n e corner 67th St, 100.5x115; The City of New York to The Mount Sinai Hospital, leasehold changed to fee simple, (R S $100)..... 1

LOT 259, block G, map Mapes Estate, West Farms; Timothy Sullivan to Thomas F. Gallagher..... 800

LOTS 128 and 129, 2d map of Neill estate; Edward M. Neill and another, executors, to Joseph Diamond..... 2,200

LOTS 60 to 64, map of Neill estate; Edward M. Neill and another, executors, &c., to Joseph Diamond..... 2,050

MADISON AV, 1,758, w s, 30.5x70.5; Paul Hellinger, referee, to Maria E. Herrick, (R S $5, mtg $20,000)..... 5,000

MORRIS AV, c s, 194.9 ft n of Wellesley St, 25x100.4; J. Horner Hildreth to Hattie F. Fowler, (R S $2, mtg $3,500)..... 1

MONROE ST, 27 and 27½, 25x100.10x irreg; Leopold Kaufmann to Jonas Weil and another, (mtg $18,000; R S $8)..

ORCHARD ST, s e corner of Stanton St, 50x65.6; Elizabeth Herdtfelder to Louis Gordon and others, (all liens, R S $62).. 1

RYER AV, e s, 200 ft n of 180th St, 10.4 x100.2x24x105; Elizabeth A. Edwards to C. Adelbert Becker, (R S $1)..... 1

SETON AV, n e corner of 2d St, runs n 250x e 100x n 30 to 3d St x e 90x s 280 to 2d St x174 to beginning; also Seton Av, n w corner of 2d St, runs n 250x w 100x 30 to 3d St x w 80x s 280 to 2d St x e 180 to beginnlog; Bertha A. and Frederick A. Budde to Hiram R. Fisher, (R S $8.50)..... 1

UNION AV, lot 12, map William A. and John Ashe, at Morrisania, runs e 100x n 27.6± w 100 to Avenue x s 25; William T. Lavelle to Marie Ueckerman, (mtg $3,500, R S $4)..... 1

WASHINGTON ST, Lot 25, may of Elizabeth Ashe, 25x102; Darius D. Williams to Hannah E. Williams, (R S $2)..... 1

2D AV, e s, 98.9 ft n of 20th St, 20.3x90; Margaret Lynd to Charles J. Walton, (R S $3)..... 1

3D AV, e s, 200 ft s of 172d St, runs e 125x n 100x w 25x n 8x w 100x s 108; Henry Korn to Germano Fioravanti, (R S $44)..... 44,000

5TH AV, 1,453, e s, 25x85; Eva Rosenzweig to Benjamin Lyons and another, (R S $4) ½ part..... 3,750

7TH AV, e s, widened, 111.11 ft n of 135th St, 18x100; Leopold Kahn Company to Lloyd Kahn, (mtg $9,000, all liens, R S $5)..... 1

4TH ST, 228, w s, 26.5 ft s of 10th St, 26.5x101; Peter J. Morris to Maria A. Herter, (R S $2.50, mtg $35,000)..... 100

137TH ST, n s, 84 ft e of 1st Av, 25x 94.8; Charles Brandt, Jr., and another, executors, to Katharina Heck, (R S $10) 10,000

18TH ST, 419 East, 25x92; Biagio Furiati, to Clara Blumenthal, (R S $2)..... 1

33D ST, n s, 181.3 ft e of Madison Av, 18.9x98.9; Julia H. Browne to Madison Realty Company, (R S $13.50)..... 100

38TH ST, n s, 203 ft e of Madison Av, 22x98.9; Charles S. Bryan to Martha and Blanche Potter, (R S $53)..... 100

44TH ST, s s, 100 ft w of 1st Av, 125x 100.5; the Fred Oppenheimer, Jr., Brewing Company to United Dressed Beef Company of New York, (R S $45.)..... 45,000

58TH ST, n s, 65 ft w of 2d Av, 20x 100.5; Donald Robertson and another to Patrick McNulty..... 12,000

7TH ST, 161 East, 25x102.2; William H. Tailer to John W. Simpson, R S $12, mtg $20,000)..... 1

75TH ST, n s, 315.11 ft w of 9th Av, 16x 102.2; Simon G. Dessauer to Warren M. Baker, subject to life estate of Hannah Dessauer..... 1

78TH ST, n s, 315.11 ft w of 9th Av, 16x 102.2; Simon G. Dessauer to Warren M. Baker, ½ part, subject to life estate of Hannah Dessauer..... 1

81ST ST, n s, 101.8 ft e of 3d Av, 50.10x 102.2; Peter J. Herter to Maria A. Herter, (R S $2.50, mtg $37,000)..... 100

87TH ST, 62 East, 25.6x100.8; Betsey Solomon to Catharine E. Fitzpatrick, (R S $1, all liens)..... 1

88TH ST, s s, 184.5 ft w of Park Av, 51.1x100.8; Mary Ehrmann to William Evans and another, (R S $7)..... 1

100TH ST, 60 West, 25x100.11; John Ryan, heir to Margaret Ryan, R S $10).. 1

103TH ST, 104 East, 25.6x50; Chale Fine and another to Henriette Hustedt, (R S $5.50, mtg $7,000)..... 12,500

109TH ST, n s, 265.2 ft e of 3d Av, 19.10 x100.11; Charles G. F. Wahle to John Thomas, (mtg $8,000, R S $7)..... 1

115TH ST, n s, 150 ft w of Lenox Av, 25x100.11; Samuel N. Hoag and another, executors, to Josephine Friedman, (R S $7.50, mtg $18,000)..... 25,500

120TH ST, 305 West, 25x100.11; George A. Heisler to Henry Herrmann, (R S 50c, mtg $23,150)..... 1

123D ST, n s, 450 ft w of 8th Av, 17.2x 50.2; Pauline Neustaedter to Charles Mayne, (R S $8.50)..... 1

133D ST, 155 West, 25x99.11; Hattie A. Campbell to Appolonia Lahr, (R S $7.50, mtg $20,000)..... 1

134TH ST, 708 East, 16x100; Cora A. Coffin to Matilda Levy, (R S 50c.)..... 1

142D ST, 532 East, 17.1x80; William H. Sessions to Arthur M. Kirtland, (mtg $3,825, R S $2)..... 1

145TH ST, 719 and 721 East, 25x100x25 x99.11; Carl C. Anderson and another to Johanna C. Anderson, (R S $2)..... 1

146TH ST, n s, 100 ft w of St. Nicholas Av, 25x74.11; John P. Leo to Anthony Schwoorer, (R S $9, mtg $21,000)..... 30,000

175TH ST, s s, 147.3 ft e of Clinton Av, runs s 145± w 23.5± n 145 to St x 21.7 Tommaso Giordano to August P. Cerillo, (mtg $2,500, R S $3)..... 100

Recorded Leases.

10TH AV 818; Margretha Budke to Ernest N. Finck, 5¼ years.....$540 to 600

3D ST, s s, 400 ft w of Avenue A, 25x90; James R. Roosevelt and others, trustees, to Marie Albert, 20 years..... $725

29TH ST, 310 West; Gilman W. Spaulding to William E. Herbert, 2 years.... 1,140

Recorded Mortgages.

Interest is at 5 per cent., unless otherwise specified.

BACH, William, to Emigrant Industrial Savings Bank; 13th St, n s, 352.6 ft w of 2d Av, 1 year, 4 per cent.....$10,000

BARNES, Margaretta P., to Sarah and Harry F. Huchberger; Washington Place West, 86, 3 years..... 11,500

BAUMGARTEN, Clara M., to Bowery Savings Bank; Riverside Drive, e s, at centre line of block between 101st and 102d Sts, 1 year, 4 per cent..... 35,000

BEHLMER, Christian, to Henry A. Lots; 68th St, s s, 150 ft w of West End Av, 1 year, 6 per cent..... 2,500

BINGHAM, Ada E. and Mary A., to Joseph Wolf; Broadway, s e corner of 94th St, 83.3x146± irregular, 1 year, 6 per cent..... 112,500

BRANDT, John A., to Dimock & Fink Company; 140th St, 555 East, demand..... 500

CROSSMON, James R., to Constance Borland guardian, &c.; 165th St, s w corner of Tinton Av, 5 years..... 18,000

CROSSMON, James R., to Constance Borland, guardian, &c.; 165th St, s s, 30 ft w of Tinton Av, 5 years..... 12,000

CROSSMON, James R., to Jacob Schmitt; 165th St, s w corner of Tinton Av, 3 years, 6 per cent..... 4,000

CROSSMON, James R., to Jacob Schmitt; 165th St, s s, 30 ft w of Tinton Av, due Jan. 1, 1901, 6 per cent..... 2,000

CROSSMON, James R., to Jacob Schmitt; 165th St, s s, 60 ft w of Tinton Av, due Jan. 1, 1901, 6 per cent..... 2,000

DENNER, Edward F., to John Denner; 48th St, s s, 107.4 ft w of 2d Av, 5 years..... 5,000

DEEVES, Richard, to Mutual Life Insurance Company; 32d St, s s, 50 ft w of West End Av, 5 years, 4 per cent..... 22,000

DIAMOND, Joseph, to Edward M. Neill; Lots 60 to 64, map of Neill estate, due May 8, 1901..... 1,640

DIAMOND, Joseph, to Edward M. Neill; Lots 128 and 129, second map of Neill estate, due May 8, 1901..... 1,760

DROSSELMEIER, Appoloma, to Magdalena Scheerer; 154th St, s s, Lot 540, map of village of Melrose South, 8 years..... 1,000

EGAN, John J., and Daniel Hallecy to Metropolitan Life Insurance Company; 101st St, n s, 100 ft e of West End Av, 3 years..... 20,000

EGAN, John J., and Daniel Hallecy to Metropolitan Life Insurance Company; 101st St, n s, 116.3 ft e of West End Av, 3 years..... 20,000

EGAN, John J., and Daniel Hallecy to Metropolitan Life Insurance Company; 101st St, n s, 133.4 ft e of West End Av, 3 years..... 20,000

EGAN, John J., and Daniel Hallecy to Metropolitan Life Insurance Company; 101st St, n s, 150 ft e of West End Av, 3 years..... 20,000

EGAN, John J., and Daniel Hallecy to Metropolitan Life Insurance Company; 101st St, n s, 166.3 ft w of West End Av, 3 years..... 20,000

EGAN, John J., and Daniel Hallecy to Metropolitan Life Insurance Company; 101st St, n s, 183.4 ft e of West End Av, 3 years..... 20,000

EVANS, William, and John H. Buscall to Mary Ehrmann; 88th St, s s, 184.5 ft w of Park Av, 1 year, 6 per cent..... 8,000

FIORAVANTI, Germano, to Henry Korn; 3d Av, e s, 200 ft s of 172d St, due July 1, 1901..... 44,000

FIORAVANTI, Germano, to Henry Korn; 3d Av, e s, 200 ft s of 172d St, due June 1, 1901, 6 per cent..... 25,500

FISHER, Hiram R., to Bertha A. Budde; Seton Av, n e corner of 2d St; also Seton Av, n w corner of 2d St, 8 years.. 3,550

GITTERMAN, Henry, to Maurice S. Bondy; 46th St, n s, 410 ft e of 6th Av, 5 years, 4 per cent..... 25,000

GOODWIN, Emeline Y. and Joseph H., Jr., to Joseph H. Goodwin, Sr.; road leading to Fordham, w s, 50 ft s of road leading to William's Bridge, 1 year..... 5,000

GORDON, Louis, and others to Elizabeth Herdtfelder; Orchard St, 168 and 170, 5 years..... 50,000

GORDON, Louis, and others to John A. Weekes, Jr.; Orchard St, 168 and 170; due May 1, 1902, 6 per cent..... 3,500

HARRIS, Amelia, to Hannah Harris; 37th St, s s, 125 ft e of 9th Av, 3 years, 6 per cent..... 2,000

HECK, Katharina, to Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York; 10th St, 249 East, 3 years, 4 per cent..... 10,500

HUSTEDT, Henriette, to Chace and Etta Fine; 103th St, 104 East, ½ year..... 1,000

JANTZEN, Joseph, to J. Herman Volghts; 2d Av, 104 to 106; and 6th St, 303 and 305, n e corner, 3 2-3 years..... 14,000

JETTER, Jacob E., to George F. Droste; 91st St, s s, 150 ft e of 4th Av, 1 year, 4½ per cent..... 8,000

KIRTLAND, Arthur M., to Richard H. Moran; 142d St, s s, 83.5 ft e of College Av, 3 years..... 4,000

KOPPE, Paul E., and Anna K. to Magdalena Rohr; 15th St, s s, 153.9 ft e of Avenue B, Unionport, 3 years, 6 per cent 2,000

LAHR, Apollina, to Hattie A. Campbell; 123d St, n s, 275 ft e of 7th Av, installments, 6 per cent..... 1,500

LESSER, Abraham, to East River Savings Institution; 127th St, s s, 182 ft e of 8th Av, 5 years, 4 per cent..... 7,000

LIGGIO, Leonardo, and wife to Joseph Hindley, trustee, &c.; Clinton Av, e s, 30 ft s of 175th St, present lines, 3 years; 5,250

LIGGIO, Leonardo, and wife to Wilma V. Pollak; Clinton Av, e s, 57 ft s of 175th St, present lines, 3 years..... 5,250

LIGGIO, Leonardo, and wife to Wilma V. Pollak; Clinton Av, e s, 57 ft s of 175th St, present lines; Clinton Av, e s, 111 ft s of 175th St, present lines, 1 year, 6 per cent..... 5,500

LIGGIO, Leonardo, to Christopher Heiser; Clinton Av, e s, 30 ft s of 175th St, present lines; Clinton Av, e s, 111 ft s of 175th St, present lines, 1 year, 6 per cent..... 1,750

MADISON REALTY COMPANY to Title Guarantee and Trust Company; 33d St, 39 East, 2 years, 4½ per cent..... 23,000

MALANITZKI, Maly, to Charles H. Friedrich; 983 Jackson Av, demand, 6 per cent..... 2,000

MAYNC, Charles, to Pauline Neustaeder; 103d St, n s, 49.5 ft w of 8th Av, 5 years, 4 per cent..... 5,000

MULLER, Rudolph J., to Louis N. Ball; 85th St, n s, 146.5 ft w of Avenue A, 3 years, 6 per cent..... 2,500

PANDOZZA, Teresa, to Joseph Fucito and another; 117th St, s s, 100 ft w of 1st Av, 5 years, 6 per cent..... 1,100

POLLACK, Samuel, and Louis Oransky to Jacob Fischel; Ridge St, 29 and 31, 1 year, 6 per cent..... 18,000

POTTER, Martha and Blanche, to Title Guarantee and Trust Company; 38th St, 33 East, 1 year, 4½ per cent..... 30,000

REDFIELD, William H., to Second National Bank; Lexington Av, n e corner of 58th St, 1 year, 6 per cent..... 12,500

SCUDDER, Susan, to Agnes H. Robinson; Perry St, n s, 105 ft e of 4th St, 2 years. 7,800

STURK, John H., and others to Emil Thiele; 326 and 328 East 102d St, secures notes..... 4,050

TEKULSKY, Louis, and others, to Union Trust Company of New York; Lexington Av, 1,866, 5 years, 4 per cent..... 4,000

TEKULSKY, Louis, and others, to Union Trust Company of New York; Lexington Av, 1,868, 5 years..... 4,000

TEKULSKY, Louis, and others, to Union Trust Company of New York; Lexington Av, 1,870, 5 years, 4 per cent..... 4,000

TROWRIDGE, Charlotte F. and Miner, to Susan T. Pratt; Westchester Av, n e corner of Longfellow St, 3 years, 6 per cent..... 3,000

UECKERMANN, Marie, to George Stark; Union Av, Lot 12, map of property of William A. and John Ashe, at Morrisania, 1 year..... 3,000

UNITED DRESSED BEEF COMPANY of New York to Washington Life Insurance Company; 44th St, s s, 100 ft w of 1st Av, 5 years..... 20,000

VICTORY, Patrick, to Hudson P. Rose; Lot 275, Block G, amended map of Hudson P. Rose Mapes estate, 3 years..... 200

WARREN, Joseph, to Emigrant Industrial Savings Bank; Avenue B, n w corner of 11th St, 1 year, 4 per cent..... 10,000

WHITEMAN, John A., to the Lawyers' Mortgage Insurance Company; 15th St, s s, 273.4 ft w of 7th Av, 2 years, 4½ per cent..... 8,000

WOOD, Robert C., to Francena B. Partridge; Jerome Av, n w corner of 183d St; also Jerome Av, s w corner of 183d St, 3 years..... 9,800

Assignments of Mortgages.

BELL, John J. to Robert L. Wensley... $2,500

BINGHAM, Ada E. and Mary A., to Joseph Wolf..... 25,000

BOYD, Matilda, administratrix, to Matilda Boyd.....Nominal

DENNER, John, to Katharine Denner.... 11,000

D'ONOFRIO, Rocco, to Emilio D'Onofrio.....Nominal

ISGORO, Leopold F., executor, and another, to Paul C. George..... 5,000

HASTORF, Charlotte, to Herman Hastorf.....Nominal

KINDERVATTER, Emilie, to Eliza Eickhoff..... 1,000

LOTZ, Henry A., to Louis Wuehr..... 2,500

REDMOND, Helen C., to Lawyers' Mortgage Insurance Company.....

ROSENTHAL, Fannie, to Bank for Savings..... 7,500

TITLE GUARANTEE AND TRUST CO. to Frances W. A. Donohue..... 5,000

TITLE GUARANTEE AND TRUST COMPANY to George Kohler and wife..... 8,500

WING, John D., to Charles H. Snnderland..... 11,000

Mechanics' Liens.

BROADWAY, s w corner of 80th St, 100x 125; John Kuntz against J. J. Appleby, owner; Charles Evans and William D. Mann, contractors..... $421

BROOME ST, n e corner of Mulberry St, 22x81x irregular; Louis Miller and another against Leopold Kaufmann, owner; Morris Shapiro, contractor..... 170

PARKER & Co., 104 East 9th st, s of St. Raymond's Av, 25x100, 24th Ward; William D. Brown against Albert Asher, owner; Sylvanus Thibadeau, contractor.. 50

ST. ANN'S AV, n e corner of 139th St, 260 ft to 140th St x102.9x200 to 139th St 200; Charles Eggers against Frederick W. Hotchkiss and Samuel E. Jacobs, owners and contractors..... 468

TRACKS, roadbed, &c., Webster Av, from 165th to 187th Sts; James Quinn against the Union Railway Company, owner; Thomas E. Crimmins, contractor; Patrick S. Hannan, subcontractor..... 464

41ST ST, 144 to 148 East; Hyman D. Baker against Thomas J. McCahill, owner and contractor..... 3,113

49TH ST, 635 to 641 West; the Advance Whitewashing Company against Matthew Baird, owner; Thomas F. Mullen, contractor..... 125

108TH ST, n s, 175 ft e of Columbus Av, —x—; P. & M. Maher against Herman Klein and others, owners and contractors..... 1,250

136TH ST, n s, 250 ft e of St. Ann's Av, 50x100; Luigi Mazzuffi against Mayer Hamilton, owner; Abramo Cecone & Brother, contractors..... 26

156TH ST, s e corner of Prospect Av, 25x100; Mackenzie Brothers against Colcman J. Burke, owner and contractor. 385

150TH ST, s w corner of Melrose Av, 49.6x78; William Nelson against Minnie J. MacDonald, owner; Thomas Taylor, contractor..... 490

150TH ST, s w corner of Melrose Av, 50x100; Isaac N. Faulkner against Thomas Taylor, owner and contractor... 47

159TH ST, s e corner of Melrose Av, 50x100; John Anderson against Minnie McDonald, owner; Thomas Taylor, contractor..... 193

BUILDING LOAN CONTRACTS UNDER CHAPTER 78, LAWS OF 1900.

BROADWAY, s e corner of 94th St, 83.3x 146x irregular; Joseph Wolf, with Ada E. and Mary A. Bingham, 10 payments.$112,600

3D AV, e s, 92 ft s of 172d St, 108x125x 100x—; Henry Korn, with Germano Fiorvanti, 6 payments..... 25,500

9TH AV, n e corner of 54th St, —x—; Isidore Jackson, with George Monk and William Gillies, 10 payments..... 45,000

Lis Pendens.

ARTHUR AV, e s, 220.7 ft n of Bayard St, Bronx, 33.4x87.6; John B. Ryer against Fredericka Moessmer and others, (foreclosure of mortgage;) attorney, W. G. Mulligan.

AVENUE A, w s, 26.8 ft s of 86th St, 25x75.9; Solomon Dornberger and another against Dora Eden, individually and as executrix, and others, (foreclosure of mortgage;) attorneys, M. S. & I. S. Isaacs.

BOSTON AV, e s, 29 ft n of Teasdale Place, 29x 83.7x27x94.3; Frederick M. Johnson against George H. Gardner and others, (foreclosure of mortgage;) attorneys, White & Otheman.

EAST BROADWAY, 305; Jessie D. Servadio against Richard St. Nevin Name and others, (partition;) attorneys, Hays, Greenbaum & Hershfield.

MADISON AV, e s, 84.3 ft s of 104th St, 16.8x 70; Mercantile Trust Deposit Company of Baltimore against Charles Flynn and others, (foreclosure of mortgage;) attorneys, Peckham, Miller & Kling.

MAPLE ST, w s, Lot 60, map of village of Jerome, Westchester, 25x100; New York Building-loan Banking Company against Anselmo Bliotta and another, (foreclosure of mortgage;) attorney, B. Trapnell.

ST. NICHOLAS AV, e s, 105.5 ft n of 145th St, 19.6x110; John A. Stewart and others, trustees, against Alice Bodine and others, executors, &c., (foreclosure of mortgage;) attorneys, Philbin, Beekman & Menken.

22D ST, 144 East; Edward A. Ridley and another against Mary J. Fitzgerald and others, (action to set aside deed, &c.; attorneys, Baggott & Ryall.

69TH ST, n s, 385 ft w of Amsterdam Av, 19.1x 100.5; Henry B. Wesselman, administrator, &c., against Ella McCabe, individually and as administratrix, and others, (foreclosure of mortgage;) attorney, H. B. Wesselman.

74TH ST, n s, 213 ft e of 1st Av, 41.8x75x41x 79.6; Lewis J. Phillips and another, trustees, &c., against Isaac Kahn and others, (foreclosure of mortgage;) attorney, C. C. Levi.

84TH ST, 126 West; George N. Barnard against Charles W. Barnard and another, (action to set aside conveyance, &c.;) attorney, O. P. Carpenter, Jr.

94TH ST, n s, 154.4 ft w of Amsterdam Av, 28x— to 95th St x28.7x— to beginning; Orenville A. Smith against John B. Marsh and others; (action to recover possession;) attorney, J. A. Deering.

95TH ST, 211 East; John A. Stewart and others, trustees, &c., against Mina Oppenheimer and others, (foreclosure of mortgage;) attorneys, Philbin, Beekman & Menken.

96TH ST, e s, 160 ft e of Madison Av, 20x100.8; Sarah A. Konwenhoven against Francis J. Schnugg and others, (foreclosure of mortgage;) attorneys, De Grove & Riker.

96TH ST, e s, 180 ft e of Madison Av, 20x100.8; Luke Kouwenhoven against Francis J. Schnugg and others, (foreclosure of mortgage;) attorneys, De Grove & Riker.

125TH ST, s s, 279 ft e of Broadway, 107x 100.11; Patrick Brennan against Stefano Greco and others, (foreclosure of mechanic's lien;) attorney, W. H. Janea.

DECISIONS AND CALENDARS.

FEDERAL COURT.

United States Supreme Court.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—Supreme Court of the United States:

60—Aaron Bradshaw, plaintiff in error, vs. Mary E. Ashley et al.—In error to the Court of Appeals of the District of Columbia.—Judgment affirmed, with costs. Opinion by Justice Peckham.

387 and 406—Charles F. W. Neely, appellant, vs. William Henkel, United States Marshal, &c.—Appeal from the Circuit Court of the United States for the Southern District of New York.—Orders affirmed, with costs. Opinion by Justice Harlan.

The Chief Justice announced the following orders of the court:

492—Columbus Construction Company, petitioners, vs. Crane Company.—Petition for a writ of certiorari to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit denied.

511 and 512—Old Colony Steamboat Company, petitioner, vs. Edwin L. Pearce et al.—Petitions for writs of certiorari to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the First Circuit denied.

453—Eastern Building and Loan Association, plaintiff in error, vs. David W. Ebaugh.—Motions to dismiss or affirm postponed to the hearing of the cause on its merits.

460—The United States Trust Company of New York et al., appellants, vs. the Territory of New Mexico, and 461—The Territory of New Mexico, appellant, vs. the United States Trust Company of New York et al.—Motion to advance granted and cause assigned for argument Oct. 21 next.

478—Daniel H. Talbot, plaintiff in error, vs. the Sioux National Bank of Sioux City, Iowa.—Motions to dismiss or affirm postponed to the hearing of the cause on the merits.

488—The Guarantee Trust and Safe Deposit Company, petitioner, vs. the Della and Pinehand Company et al.—Petition for a writ of certiorari to the United Statea Circuit Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit denied.

527—Joseph N. Wolfson, petitioner, vs. the United States.—Petition for a writ of certiorari to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit denied.

528—The Ohio River Railroad Company et al., petitioners, vs. Stephens Lockwood.—Petition on a writ of certiorari to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit denied.

If (Original, ex parte)—In the matter of Theodore Deeve et al., petitioners.—Motion for leave to file petition for writ of mandamus granted and rule to show cause awarded returnable the 28th inst.

125—R. R. Scott et al., plaintiffs in error, vs. the Texas and Pacific Railway Company.—In error to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit.—Judgment affirmed, with costs, by a divided court, and cause remanded to the Circuit Court of the United States for the Eastern District of Texas.

No. 84—A. C. Campbell, appellant, vs. Edward F. Walte.—Appeal from the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the Eighth Circuit. Dismissed for the want of jurisdiction on the authority of Pratt vs. Fitzhugh, 1 Black 271; Kurtz vs. Moffitt, 115 U. S. 487, and cases cited; Cross vs. Burke, 146 U. S. 83; Perrine vs. Slack, 164 U. S. 452.

Nos. 387 and 406—Charles F. W. Neely, appellant, vs. William Henkel, United States Marshal, &c.—Mandates granted on motion of Solicitor General Richards for the appellee.

Original.—Ex parte—In the matter of the Christian Dancel et al., petitioners.—Motion for leave to file petition for a writ of mandamus submitted by Roger Foster for the petitioners.

No. 535—The American Sugar Refining Company, petitioner, vs. the City of New Orleans.—Petition for writ of certiorari to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit on writ of mandamus submitted

Real Estate at Auction.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

JAMES L. WELLS, Auctioneer,
at 111 Broadway, N. Y. Real Estate Salesroom,
TUESDAY, JANUARY 22, NOON,
Executors' Sale,
By order of Executors of
Estate of Bryan Lawrence, Deceased.

Choice Business Property,
BEING ENTIRE BLOCK BOUNDED BY
HARLEM RIVER,
SOUTHERN BOULEVARD,
3d & Lincoln Aves.
Together with
Water Front and Bulkheads.
70 PER CENT. CAN REMAIN ON MORTGAGE AT 4½ PER CENT.
Apply for maps to James L. Wells, Auctioneer, 141 Broadway, or to
WILLIAM C. ORR, ESQ.,
Attorney for Executors, 51 Chambers Street.

BRYAN L. KENNELLY, Auct'r.
BRYAN L. KENNELLY & CO.
will sell at auction,
TUESDAY, JANUARY 15, 1901,
at 12 o'clock noon, at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, 111 Broadway,
EXECUTOR'S SALE,
estate of Eugenia M. Moore,
15 and 17 Manhattan Ave.,
five-story brick and stone double apartment houses, seven rooms and bath to each apartment; hardwood trim, exposed plumbing, &c.; 27x100 each.
JAMES E. KELLY, Esq., Attorney, 220 Broadway.
Maps and further particulars with attorney, or at Auctioneers' offices, Kennelly Building, 7 Pine St.

BRYAN L. KENNELLY, Auct'r.
BRYAN L. KENNELLY & CO.
will sell at auction,
TUESDAY, JAN. 15, 1901,
at 12 o'clock noon, at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, 111 Broadway,
EXECUTRIX SALE,
Estate of J. Paul Jones, deceased,
2113 and 2115 Lexington Ave.,
two three-story and basement bay-window front high-stoop brick and stone Dwellings, in good order, 18x35 each.
143 EAST 127TH ST.,
two-story basement and cellar high-stoop brick and stone Dwelling, in good order; size of lot 50x100.
Maps, &c., at Auctioneers' office, 7 Pine St.

BRYAN L. KENNELLY, Auct'r
BRYAN L. KENNELLY & CO.
will sell at auction,
Tuesday, Jan. 15, 1901,
at 12 o'clock noon, at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, 111 Broadway, New York.
62 Washington Square South, four-story basement cellar and sub-cellar brick and brownstone dwelling; size of lot, 25x119.
Maps, &c., at Auctioneers' office, 7 Pine St.

PETER F. MEYER, Auctioneer,
Will Sell at Auction on
MONDAY, January 21, 1901,
at 12 o'clock, at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, 111 Broadway,
EXECUTOR'S SALE.
All the undivided one-half interest that Joseph W. Meeks had on the first day of March, 1878, the time of his death, in and to the following described tract of land situated in Archer County, Texas, being 738 acres of land off the west end of the William Baker survey of 7,817,535 square varas of land, patented to the heirs of William Baker, deceased, by Patent No. 433, Volume 21, Abstract No. 15, beginning 2,368 varas west of the southeast corner of said survey at a point on the south line of same; thence north 1,850 varas to the north line of said original survey; thence west 2,237 varas to a stake in the east boundary line of a survey in the name of A. J. Richardson, a mesquite, bears north 20 degrees east 3 varas; thence south 1,850 varas, with east boundary line of Richardson's survey, to a rock mound in prairie; thence east 1,650 varas, J. M. Taylor's, northwest corner 2,237 varas, to the place of beginning, containing 738 acres of land.
E. G. DUVALL, Esq.,
Atty. for Executors,
No. 141 Broadway, N. Y. City.

Brooklyn Real Estate for Sale.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

FOR SALE OR LEASE, 680 FEET WATER front, foot 39th St. Ferry, South Brooklyn, 500x240; yard and building; 32 feet water, low tide; also, for sale, three dwellings, Clinton Av., near Fulton; bargain. PIERSON & WOLFFE, 35 Nassau St. Tel. 588 Cort.

Call on Henry C. Wall, at the office of the late Henry W. Sherrill, 13 Willoughby Street, Brooklyn, for large, handsome house, overlooking Prospect Park South, with all its magnificent improvements; corner plot, 50x100.

Cheapest in Brooklyn: $3,300; easy terms; 722 Sackett St., near 5th Av. (Park Slope;) 2-story and basement; brick; 9 rooms; all improvements; decorated; cozy home; sacrifice. DEWSNAP, 150 Nassau St., Manhattan.

ONE LEFT.—2-FAMILY HOUSE, 2 STORY and basement, cellar; all improvements; 12 rooms and bath; price, $4,000; cash, $500, balance $30 quarterly; asphalt street. 1,249 Sterling Place; open; investigate.

Mortgage Loans.
New York and Brooklyn Property.
DIOSSY & CO., 5 COURT SQ., BKLYN.
FAILMEZGER, 1,030 Gates Av., Brooklyn.

Several plots, fine lots, fronting on trolley in Jamaica, $60 to $125; street graded; fine cement sidewalks, electric lights; $5 down, $1 per week; Title Guarantee policy free. Edwards, 1,258 Broadway, Brooklyn.

$3,300 BUYS (DURING JANUARY ONLY) NEW 8-room detached house, Vanderveer Park, worth $4,000; take advantage owner's necessity; terms easy. PARIS, Park Row Building.

$3,000, only $300 down, balance payments to suit, buys two-story brick dwelling, 25th Ward, near L and trolleys. Ketcham Bros., 1,565 Broadway.

Real Estate Wanted.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

Country place wanted on Larkawanna Road, one hour out, near depot; two acres; about $10,000. Address Cash, 263 Columbus Av.

Wanted—To buy lot or store next or on Tremont and 3d Avs, for cash. CLARENCE, 144 West 10th St.

Westchester Real Estate for Sale.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

SPLENDID HOME IN NEW ROCHELLE.—Fine stable; house all improvements; lot 75x825. Easy terms, $7,500. Apply to CHAS. H. NOXON, lawyer, 21 Park Row, 25th floor. Tel. 3681 Cortlandt.

New Jersey Property for Sale.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

$17.00 A LOT.

Adjoining Lakewood, N. J., the famous health and Winter resort, we offer plots containing five lots, $85.00. Small weekly payments. Particulars and tickets to visit the property, Sunday, January 20th, from R. HALLEY & CO., 2 East 125th St., N. Y.

TENAFLY:—$4,000 buys good modern house; large rooms and attic; wide porch; grounds 100 x140; station 10 minutes' easy walk.
H. WEATHERBY & CO., Englewood, N. J.

$18 BUYS 2½ ACRES.
$35 BUYS 5 ACRES.
Almost given away, to close estate at once; installments 50 cents weekly. APPLEBY, 10 Wall.

Demarest Station.—Charming Queen Anne house, eight lots, perfect order; cheap, $4,500.
THOMAS P. PAYNE, 96 Broadway.

Long Island Real Estate for Sale.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

Bath Beach, For Sale or Rent.—17th Av., near Cropsey, half block from beach, exclusive neighborhood, fine boarding house or hotel; 35 rooms; sanitary plumbing, Bramhall & Dean range, steam table, elegant large dining room, fine lawn, shade trees, laundry, and stable. Inquire H. F. Barre, 434 Broadway, New York.

For sale or exchange, 150 by 100 feet, including two-family frame house; all improvements; will sell singly; situated in one of the best streets in Long Island City. Address Owner, 316 East 91st St., city.

Country Real Estate for Sale.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

FOR SALE—1,000 acres choice Maine seashore land; best harbor in State; near Bar Harbor; suitable to put into stock company or for man of means; choice roads, fishing, hunting, canoeing, swimming, etc., etc. Waterworks, steamboat line, and hotels adjoining. Address Box 1,730 Boston, Mass.

At New Paltz, N. Y., adjoining college grounds, beautiful location; near depots; large house, 24 rooms, bath, closets, &c. J. COCHRANE, 2 West 125th St.

Farms and village property for sale and rent; easy homes from $1,200 to $2,500; farm, $100 per acre and upward. Charles H. Seabury, Hempstead, N. Y.

All country real estate a specialty; bargains and exchanges, all directions. Phillips & Wells, Tribune Building.

City Real Estate for Sale.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

$5,000 Cash and $4,500
mortgage will buy a beautiful Home and grounds; also a large variety of fruit trees. For further particulars address GEO. W. CAMPBELL, 122 West 103d St., or call between 9 A. M. and 9 P. M.

Corner plot on Manhattan Av
100.11 on the avenue by 145 ft. on the street. Terms to suit the buyer. For further particulars apply to GEO. W. CAMPBELL, 122 West 103d St. from 9 A. M. to 9 P. M.

FOR SALE,
A most attractive new 20-foot, five-story American Basement house.
NO. 318 WEST 107TH STREET,
on one of the most expensively improved blocks on the upper west side. Proximity to Riverside Drive and magnificent public improvements will very greatly enhance values in this section in the near future. Has beautiful reception room, hall in white enamel and mahogany; drawing, music and dining rooms; 8 family bedrooms and three bathrooms. Stone bay window, with charming view in both directions. Servants' stairs to fourth story.
PRICE ONLY $38,000.
Three-quarters may remain at 4½%.
CHARLES BUEK, Owner and Builder, No. 109 West 42d Street.

FOR SALE.
We are offering the following bargains in private houses:
In Eighties, a 20-foot brownstone house, suitable for altering, can be bought under $50,000
In 72d St., white stone Am. basement dwelling; owner anxious to sell under. 100,000
In Seventies, nr. Mad. Av., 2 houses adjoining; grand site for extra wide house. 70,000
Full width house in Sixties, near 5th Av., belongs to an estate, about..... 105,000
In East 54th St., 20 feet..... 65,000
In Murray Hill, old house to alter..... 55,000
On Madison Av., 20 feet..... 42,500
Call or write for further particulars and permits,
S. OSGOOD PELL & CO.,
542 5th Av., S. W. cor. 45th St.

LEASEHOLD PROPERTY,
ON WILLIAM STREET,
AT MODERATE PRICE.
RULAND & WHITING, 5 Beekman St.

Best and safest investment, on account of death in the family will sell at reasonable price, best built, well located flat property, paying handsome, percentage on equity; will stand closest examination. Particulars of H. Bernhardt, Room 12, 108, 110 East 125th St.

Handsome high-stoop brown-stone residence on West 78th St., near West End Av., 18.9x00x102.2; first-class in every respect; $10,000 equity; principals only; no postal cards. Address Owner, 184 5th St., Jersey City, N. J.

A palatial residence, perfect in all its appointments, 30 rooms, 5 baths, elevator; having four-story annex beautifully arranged for club; vicinity Union Square; no brokers. C. R., Box 74, 1,242 Broadway.

Fine five-story 27-foot brownstone double flat, west of 3d Av.; always rented; $24,500; mortgage, $17,000; might exchange for private dwelling Bronx Borough. H. BERNHARDT, room 12, 110 East 125th St.

A medium four-story basement dwelling, 21st St., between 5th and 6th Avs.; excellent for residence or investment; price, $27,000. S. B. GOODALE & SON, 6 West 24th St. Fifth Avenue Hotel.

Willis Av.—Magnificent five-story corner, four stores; always rented; finest tenants; corner liquor store for sale if desired; bargain; price $45,000; fast growing in value.
THOMAS P. PAYNE, 96 Broadway.

Attention!—Bargain hunters! $3,000 cash will buy five-story double flat, St. Nicholas Av. H. BERNHARDT, 110 East 125th St., room 12, 9 to 12 A. M.

Amsterdam Av.—Central location, corner building, with store; rental $3,600; price $40,000; mortgage 4; growing fast in value; bargain.
THOMAS P. PAYNE, 96 Broadway.

11th Av., near 48th St.—Fine full sized corner building, with store; always rented; bargain; $25,000; 5th Av. bargains.
THOMAS P. PAYNE, 96 Broadway.

$22,000.—Park Av. corner, in Seventies, elegant four-story high-stoop brown-stone private dwelling, 20x45x52.
THOMAS P. PAYNE, 96 Broadway.

Cold-water tenement, with stores, 100th St., near 8th Av.; always rented; finest tenants; $2,100; price, $21,500; easy terms. THOMAS P. PAYNE, 96 Broadway.

Avenue C, near 12th St.—5-story store and tenement, free and clear; will sell at sacrifice or would trade. H. RAPF, 156 Broadway.

Exchange lot 25x100, Westchester Av., near Prospect Av.; also 2 brick flats, 148th St., near Willis Av., 6 rooms, bath. OWNER, 2,809 3d Av.

Lots; Bronx bargains; Tremont, Woodycrest, Aqueduct Avs., Fordham Road; cheap Woodlawn corner. George Purvis, 156 Broadway.

Builders and agents take notice.—For sale, 207, 209, and 209½ Wooster St. SENFTNER & SENFTNER, 258 Broadway.

Madison Av., corner, below 42d St.; size 75x100; best site in the city for an apartment hotel. J. EDGAR LEAYCRAFT & CO., 1,507 Broadway.

Bargain; handsome private dwelling, East 50th St., near 2d Av.; little cash needed. George Purvis, 156 Broadway.

Choice corner lot on Grand Av., University Heights, two blocks from Jerome. TREU, 790 Amsterdam Av.

For Sale.—27-foot apartment house, Morningside Av., paying 14 per cent. EDWARD LARNER, 314 Mott Av.

Jerome Av.—34 lots to close an estate, cheap; must be sold. THORN COMPANY, Fordham.

Builders.—Lot 26x92; good tenement location; $13,000. Durosa, 242 West 14th St.

To Let for Business Purposes.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

TO LEASE,
NEW STORE AND LOFT BUILDING, NO. 5 WEST 14TH STREET.—Fine basement, extra large and light store, with gallery; light lofts; steam heat, electric light and power, freight elevator. Whole or part.
CHARLES BUEK, Owner, 109 West 42d St.

UNION SQUARE NORTH,
ADJOINING BROADWAY.
LOFT 184 FEET DEEP.
Building has
entrances on two streets.
Inquire at 31 East 17th St., or
J. EDGAR LEACRAFT & CO., B'way, cor. 44th.

Attractive, up-to-date three-story buildings, adjoining 3d Av., 206-208 East 58th St.; 35x100; finely lighted all sides; open plumbing; extra large elevator; suitable storage, automobile and wine warehouse, bottler, factory, express, stable, laundry, builder, undertaker, dyer, private stable; also, fine offices, stores; eight-room residence attached. Apply premises or 11A East 83d.

3D AV., NEAR 14TH ST.; FINE BUILDING; store has new double show windows; rent $1,700. J. EDGAR LEAYCRAFT & CO., B'way, cor. 44th.

CORNER 12TH ST. & THIRD AV.—Extra deep store, with large basement.
J. EDGAR LEAYCRAFT & CO., B'way, cor. 44th.

2d Av., 88.—Corner; parlor floor; down town; well adapted for any business; established physician's office; $60.

STORES, LOFTS, AND OFFICES
TO LET AT LOWEST RATES.
JACOB A. KING, 491 B'WAY—81 E. 125TH ST.

6th Av., 238.—Large floors, all modern improvements; will alter to suit tenants; ring janitor's bell.

326 Canal St.—Third and fourth lofts, 25x55; good light; $40 and $30. Apply to R. H. E. Elliott, 62 William St.

40th St., 438 and 440 West.—Large stores, with plate-glass fronts; two rooms; decorated; $15.

16th St., 427 West.—Large store, with three rooms and plate-glass front; newly decorated; $18.

Business Property Wanted.

Wanted—Part of ground floor in apartment for office, unfurnished, above 55th St., east side. Address, stating space and terms, G. A. M., 1,269 Broadway.

Excursions.

Cook's Winter Trips.
Including Hotels and All Expenses.
Washington, Jan. 17, 3 days, $12
Bermuda, Jan. 16, 8 days, $62
Florida, Jan. 18, 14 days, $65
Havana, Jan. 19, 11 days, $90
Descriptive Programmes free on application.
INDEPENDENT TICKETS EVERYWHERE.
THOS. COOK & SON
Downtown, 261 Broadway, N. Y.
Uptown, 1185 Broadway, N. Y.

Lost and Found.

BANKBOOK NO. 408,244 OF THE EMIGRANT Industrial Savings Bank; payment stopped. Please return book to bank, 51 Chambers St.

Real Estate for Exchange.

$60,000 EQUITY IN THREE FINE
Apartment Houses; will trade for west side Lots or free and clear Country Place. Send full particulars to GEO. W. CAMPBELL, 122 West 103d st., or call between 9 A. M. and 9 P. M.

$15,000 FREE AND CLEAR LOT;
what can you offer in exchange for same? Send full particulars to GEO. W. CAMPBELL, 122 West 103d st., or call between 9 A. M. and 9 P. M.

$40,000 EQUITY IN A PIECE OF
manufacturing Property, leased to one tenant, who does all repairs and pays the Croton water rent; what can you offer in exchange for the same? Send full particulars to GEO. W. CAMPBELL, 122 West 103d st., or call between 9 A. M. and 9 P. M.

$40,000 FREE AND CLEAR CORner Plot, on Park av., 100x80; what can you offer in exchange? Send full particulars to GEO. W. CAMPBELL, 122 West 103d st., or call between 9 A. M. and 9 P. M.

$22,000 EQUITY IN FINE FLAT
House, situated on 106th st., Central Park West; will trade for free and clear Country Place. Send full particulars to GEO. W. CAMPBELL, 122 West 103d st., or call between 9 A. M. and 9 P. M.

$250,000 FREE AND CLEAR
Apartment House; what can you offer in exchange for same? Send full particulars to GEO. W. CAMPBELL, 122 West 103d St., or call between 9 A. M. and 9 P. M.

$40,000 EQUITY IN FINE STORE
Property, near 28th St. and 6th Av.; will trade for private House and cash. For further particulars address GEO. W. CAMPBELL, 122 West 103d St., or call between 9 A. M. and 9 P. M.

$20,000 EQUITY IN FINE FLAT
House; will trade for free and clear private house; send full particulars. GEO. W. CAMPBELL, 122 West 103d St., or call between 9 A. M. and 9 P. M.

HAVE 3 GOOD PAYING INCOME PROPERties, Manhattan and Brooklyn; will trade for Long Island farm only; my equity is $15,000. Write all particulars, brokers invited, OWNER, Box V118 New York Times.

$100,000 equity elegant seven-story new apartment house; finest location west side.
THOMAS P. PAYNE, 90 Broadway.

Small houses in Brooklyn and Harlem, for unencumbered country or lots. S. H. BURR, 85 Nassau.

Winter Resorts.

30c. per line $4.50 per line for 30 times.

GOLF, HUNTING, FISHING.
FLORIDA GULF COAST HOTELS
PLANT SYSTEM.
Excellent Golf Courses, with Turf putting greens and tees, connected with hotels. Professionals in charge.
TAMPA BAY HOTEL, TAMPA, FLA., A. E. Dick, Manager. Open Jan. 15th.
Hotel BELLEVIEW, Belleair, on the Gulf, Fla. J. F. Champlin, Manager. Open Jan. 15th.
SEMINOLE HOTEL, Winter Park, Fla. Edw. R. Swett, Lessee and Prop. Open Jan. 15th.
OCALA HOUSE, Ocala, Fla. P. F. Brown, Manager. Open Jan. 15th.
HOTEL KISSIMMEE, Kissimmee, Fla. Now Open.
THE INN, Port Tampa, Fla. J. H. Murdick, Manager.
NEW YORK OFFICES, 12 West 23d St., and 260 Broadway. Also TRAVELERS' INFORMATION CO., 3 Park Place and 25 Union Square.

HEALTH, STRENGTH AND PLEASURE
In America's Great Winter Resorts
IN CALIFORNIA.
Take the luxurious
"SUNSET LIMITED"
which comprises everything that is up to date and modern in the railroad world, and is the only solid train between the Mississippi River and San Francisco remote from the inconveniences of high altitudes and snow.
Special through trains consisting of sleeping and dining cars leave New York every Monday, Thursday, and Saturday, connecting directly with the "Sunset Limited" at New Orleans.
For full information, free illustrated pamphlets, maps, and time tables, also lowest rates, sleeping-car tickets, and baggage checked, apply to Southern Pacific Co., 349 Broadway, N. Y. City.

Lake Lakewood
LAKEWOOD N.J.
THE LEADING HOTEL OF LAKEWOOD.
If you feel the first twinge of the Grippe, Lakewood is particularly and peculiarly the place for you to go. Grippe cannot prosper in the pine-laden air of this charming little village, set in the heart of the forest, and pneumonia in this climate is unknown.
The Lakewood is a perfectly appointed hotel, replete with every comfort and luxury, only ninety minutes' comfortable ride from New York City. JAMES N. BERRY, Manager.
GOLF.

HAMILTON HOTEL, BERMUDA
OPEN DECEMBER TO MAY
Situated on high elevation in the centre of the City of Hamilton, the capital of Bermuda. Send for booklet. A. C. BROOKS, Manager, Hamilton, Bermuda.

VICTORIA South Carolina Ave., near Beach, Atlantic City, N. J. Thoroughly renovated, heated by hot water heat, open all year. M. WILLIAMS.

Hotels and Restaurants.

20c. per line $4.50 per line for 30 times.

BARRETT HOUSE.
European Plan. 6th Av. & 38th St.
MINUTE FROM BROADWAY.
A select hotel for permanent and transient guests, convenient to leading theatres and shopping district, "L" station, and all car lines; rooms newly furnished and decorated; single or en suite, with or without private bath; steam heat, electric light, elevator.
W. P. BARRETT, Proprietor.

Loans.

A. Fidelity Loan Association.
INCORPORATED AND ESTABLISHED, 1887.
140 NASSAU STREET, CORNER BEEKMAN.
Loans on household furniture in use and storage, without removal, in Greater New York; assignments, rents, personal property, all kinds accepted; legal rates; confidential.

Dancing.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

Remey's Central Park Dancing Academy, 915-919 8th Ave., (54th St.)—We guarantee the Waltz, Polka, Two-step, Schottische, and Lanciers all for $5.00 in 5 private and 4 class lessons. Private lessons any hour. Classes daily. Circulars.

GEORGE W. WALLACE,
Leslie Rooms, 260 West 83d Street;
Ellerslie Rooms, 80-82 West 120th St.
Class and private tuition. See circular.

HARVARD DANCING ACADEMY, 158-162 W. 125th.—Waltz, schottische, two-step, polka, lanciers, waltz quadrille guarantsed 5 private, 4 class lessons, $5; 4 class lessons, $1.

BRADY'S 1,408 Amsterdam Av., 135-137 West 125th St. WALTZ

PROF. STERNS, expert instructor, 20th season Broadway, Myrtle Av., Brooklyn; clogs, reel, cakewalks, specialties, waltz, two-step.

Columbia Dancing Academy, 59th and 6th Av.—Classes forming; 4 lessons, $1; 24, $5; private lessons, (any hour,) $1. Prof. S. Warner.

Lester's Colonial Academy, 101st St. and Columbus Av.—Class and private lessons daily; receptions Wednesday and Saturday.

Apartments to Let—Unfurnished.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

The Choicest and Cheapest Elevator Apartments in Harlem.
THE EMERSON
S. E. COR. LENOX AV. & 116th ST.
Six and seven large rooms and bath; all the latest improvements; hall service; rents $50 to $65. Small, select families will apply to Agents, on premises.

THE BROADWAY,
S. W. COR. BROADWAY & 104ST ST.
Select families with first-class references, are respectfully invited to inspect above premises.
Suites of 7 Rooms and Bath,
with all the latest improvements; elevator all night; electric light, telephone; rent, $900 per annum; renting office on premises.

71st St. 342 West.
New apartments, overlooking the Hudson and Riverside Drive; 7, 8, and 9 extra large outside rooms, with pantry; two bathrooms each; parquette floors, elevator, electric light, telephones; $1,200 to $1,500. Superintendent.

BACHELOR AP'TS.
112 West 44th St.
2 large light rooms and bath.
ASHFORTH & CO., 1,509 Broadway.

117th St., 860-366 West., Near Morningside Park.—Handsomely decorated six rooms and bath, steam heat, hot water; private surroundings; near Columbia University and convenient to cable and elevated station; $25, $27; references.

Down-town, elegant 8-room apartment, single flat, all improvements, $38. 41 3d Av., near 10th St.

ST. NICHOLAS AV., 167, near 117th St.—Beautiful single flat; 7 large, light rooms; bath; $32.00; steam heated. Janitor.

93d St., 102 West.—First apartment; rent, $40; marble halls, staircases; hall boys, &c. Janitor, or A. K. MacKay, 6 Wall St.

Brooklyn.

Hicks St., 363—Desirable apartments of two and three rooms; prices, $7 and $8.

Apartments to Let—Furnished.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

For Rent—Handsome, beautifully furnished corner apartment, Hotel Majestic; family going South for six weeks will let suite to advantage for that time. Apply at hotel office.

City Flats to Let—Unfurnished.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

4 and 5 rooms at 91st St. and 1st Av.; new houses; $16-$18; all improvements; also at 304 to 310 East 92d St.
21 and 23 East 99th St., near 5th Av.—Six rooms and bath; private halls; from $23 to $26; 10 rooms and bath, $40.
4 and 5 rooms and bath, $16-$21, at 2 East 119th St., corner 5th Av.
New buildings, s. e. cor. 118th St. and Madison Av., 4 and 5 rooms and baths; hot water supply, &c., $15 to $23.

HALF MONTH'S RENT FREE.
234 West 122d St.; elegant apartments, 8 rooms newly papered and decorated; steam heat and hall service; $30 and upward. See janitor.

97th St., 155 West.—Elegantly decorated flats, 5 rooms and bath, hot water, steam heat. Janitor.

124th St., 230 West.—Large apartments; 6 rooms, bath; newly decorated; price, $16.

Jones St., 7, near West 4th St., 6th Av.—3-4 room apartments; decorated; $10-$14.50.

10th St., 224 East.—Three-room apartments; hot water, gas, and coal ranges; decorated; $12-$14.

104th St., 214 West.—Elegantly decorated 7 large light rooms and bath, near L; $30, $35. Janitor.

Coal and Wood.

BUY YOUR COAL & WOOD AT THEDFORD'S
2000 lbs. "THE STANDARD TON"
YARDS:
27TH ST. AND 9TH AVE., Tel. 386—18
79TH ST. & B'WAY., Tel. 717 Riverside.
223 W. 42D ST., Tel. 1715—38
55TH ST. & 10TH AVE., Tel. 1068 Colu.
55TH ST. AND N. R., Tel. 249 Colu.
88TH ST. AND B'WAY, Tel. 125 River
29TH ST. AND N. R., Tel. 375—38

MURRAY HILL WOOD YARD
36TH ST. AND FIRST AV. Tel. 279 Madison Sq.
Selected Pine and Oak for kindling. Pine Knots and extra dry Hickory for Grates and Andirons. Inspection solicited. Satisfaction guaranteed.

Instruction.

20c. per line $4.50 per line for 30 times.

HEFFLEY SCHOOL
243-245 Ryerson St., Brooklyn.
Receives State University diplomas for business, shorthand, and high-school courses and certificates for law, medical, and dental students. IT IS THE ONLY SCHOOL that fits students for ALL these credentials. Day and evening. Begin at any time.

SACRED HEART ACADEMY,
Select Catholic Boarding School; thorough academic and commercial course; athletics, military drill; terms moderate; 2nd term begins Feb'y 1st. Address BROTHER AUGUST, West Chester, N.Y.

ATTENTION! If you intend studying Bookkeeping, Stenography, Typewriting, Penmanship, etc., it will pay you to send for our prospectus to Dept. C.
WALWORTH-INSTITUTE, 110 East 125th St. 29 West 42d St.

REGENTS' Examinations. Central Preparatory School, 18 E. 42D ST. SEND FOR HANDBOOK.

ISAAC PITMAN SHORTHAND; PRIVATE AND class lessons; best instruction; reasonable rates. METROPOLITAN SCHOOL, 289 4th Av.

FRENCH, SPANISH, ITALIAN INSTRUCTION; best method; expert teachers; terms moderate. Prof. J. M. PELLERIN, 207 West 25th.

Musical.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

PIANOS AT 112 EAST 18TH ST.....The ONLY
N. Y. CONSERVATORY, 112 East 18th, BETWEEN 4TH AV. and IRVING PLACE. The FAMOUS MUSIC SCHOOL.....The FIRST in the COUNTRY. Lessons DAY and EVENING...Years on 14th St. ...GRADUATES PROVIDED with POSITIONS.

CORN EXCHANGE, BROOKLYN, 299 Carlton Av.—Church music teaching departments, John E. Webster, Director; Pupils trained for appointments; CHURCHES SUPPLIED WITH FIRST-CLASS organists and singers.

CHARLES A. KAISER,
SOLO TENOR; 5TH AV. CATHEDRAL,
VOCAL INSTRUCTION.
112 EAST 18TH ST.

VIOLIN. ARTISTICALLY TAUGHT, EITHER residence; terms reasonable; not payable in advance; references exchanged. CHADWICK, 2 Chambers St.

PAULINE ELLIOTT RYDER.—Violinist for concerts and musicales; highest social, musical references; pupils accepted. Address 43 W. 34th.

Mandolin instruction, thorough and rapid, 50c. a lesson at pupil's or my residence. Frederick K. Wineburgh, 1,129 Park Av.

VIOLIN INSTRUCTION BY JOSEPH GOLDstein, pupil of Cologne Conservatory, Germany. Terms moderate. 250 Sixth Av., Brooklyn.

VIOLINIST INSTRUCTS AT PUPIL'S HOUSE 60 cents per lesson; progress assured. VIOLINIST, Box 77, 1,242 Broadway.

PIANO; LADY, EXPERIENCED TEACHER, instructs at pupil's residence; 40 cents per lesson. TEACHER, Box 80, 1,242 Broadway.

Violin Studio, 160 West 23d St.—Advantage to beginners and advanced pupils; private or classes; terms reasonable.

LILY RUNALS. Ideal Song Recitals; harp accompaniment; vocal studio, 400 West 57th St.

Groceries, Liquors, &c.

Harris's Wine and Liquor Warehouse, 1,706 Madison Av., cor. 115th.—Special reductions, holiday wines and liquors.

S. KRAUS, FINE WINES AND LIQUORS. Lowest prices. 2,119 8th Av., near 115th St. Branch, 612 2d Av.

Purchase and Exchange.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

Books of every description bought, sold, and exchanged; small parcels or libraries purchased; highest cash prices paid; call at residences free; send postal. LOVERING'S NEW YORK BOOK EXCHANGE, 823 Broadway, near 12th St. Open evenings.

Household furniture, contents of houses and flats; pianos, carpets, &c. J. L., 113 University Place.

Business Opportunities.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

The product of a shipper of 20 years' experience, a simple and compact billing, shipping, and filing system, consisting of a filing desk, a manifolding machine, and a tag, receipt, and invoice envelope, in one, for local delivery; orders, invoices, shipping receipts, &c., either in duplicate or triplicate, at one writing; filing done instantaneously; these three patents are for sale or royalty. Address P. D. Q., care of P. Wendland, 215 Bowery, New York.

MANUFACTURING SITE
NEAR NEW YORK, ON ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS; OWNER'S PLANT ADJOINING; CAN FURNISH LIGHT, HEAT, POWER, AND TRACK FACILITIES; CORRESPONDENCE SOLICITED. MANUFACTURING, BOX 379, 1,269 BROADWAY.

A contractor, with established business and a varied experience of more than thirty years, desires to interest capital in the formation of a construction company or special partnership for the purpose of doing large contracts for the U. S. Government and municipal work. Address P., (mark personal,) Room 5, 315 Madison Av. N. Y. City.

$1,000.00 invested in a novel manufacturing business can be doubled annually; will secure $15 per week salary to ambitious party; larger amounts in like proportion; no scheme, no discretionary pools; safe; will bear investigation. Call Automatic Pic. Company, 88 Wall St.

Best-paying old-established boarding stable in Harlem; long lease; reasonable rent; 65 boarders; will stand strictest investigation; is a bargain to cash buyer; no agents. Address BARGAIN, Branch Times Office, 2,263 7th Av.

Incorporate Your Business.—Buy Organization and Management of Business Corporations. Gives Methods, Costs, Advantages, Details. Price $1.60. Send for Announcement. Ronald Press, 52 Broadway.

Established express, van and storage business, including equity in building; will sell at bargain to any one who is not afraid to invest; no agents. Address BARGAIN, Branch Times Office, 2,263 7th Av.

Active or silent partner wanted, either sex, $5,000 to $10,000, to build and run hotel apartment; location, building-loan secured. Address SECURITY, Times Office.

Be your own boss. Make your own fortune. Others have done it, so can you. Send stamp to Buckeye Novelty Co., B., Mt. Vernon, Ohio, for particulars, &c.

Sale or Rent.—Established Coal business; trestle, buildings to handle hay or grain; easy terms. E. C. Quarkenbush, Newark Av. and 7th St., Jersey City.

Advantageous Jersey daily opportunity; splendid Town; business $20,000; rare opportunity; $15,000. Publishers' Broker HARRIS, 150 Nassau St.

Advice Free.—Patents promptly procured; inventors' Guide FREE. EDGAR TATE & CO., Patent Attorneys, 245 Broadway.

Enterprising young man with $1,000 can learn of a splendid business opportunity by addressing E., Box 182, Times.

Music Boxes, 84 teeth, $24; 15 tunes free; other instruments. Prof. ADOLPH COHN, 157 West 23d St.

For Sale.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

IT WARMS THE LARGest room in five minutes. The Improved Fire Vase Gas Heater for warming rooms and light cooking; fits on ordinary gas burner as easily as a chimney on a lamp; requires no pipe or hose; the gas flame is increased 500 per cent.; no explosion, odor; economical. Introduction price, small size, $1.25; large, $1.50; money refunded within twenty-four hours if not found satisfactory. The KING INCANDESCENT STUDYING LAMP beats any lamp in the market; burner, 100 candle power; double strength mantle chimney and shade. Introduction price, 75c. Mail orders filled everywhere. Sole agents for the improved Fire Vase Gas Heater, and distributers for the King Incandescent Lamp.
1,079 3d Av.,
Between 63d and 64th Sts.

I BUY OLD METAL.
Have you any old LEAD, BRASS, COPPER, ZINC, PEWTER, TEA LEAD, OLD TYPE, ELECTROTYPE, STEREOTYPE, OLD BOOKS, PAPERS? SEND POSTAL CARD. I WILL CALL.
BORNSTEIN, 84 Centre St.

CREDIT TO ALL
DIAMONDS and WATCHES on small weekly or monthly payments; lowest prices; best quality; goods guaranteed.
NATIONAL DIAMOND WATCH CO., 177-179 BROADWAY. Take Elevator.

CREDIT TO ALL WITHOUT SECURITY.
CLOTHING for Ladies, Men, and Boys, ready made or to order. Millinery, Furs, &c. PROGRESSIVE CLOTHING AND CLOAK CO., 7 W. 14th St., bet. 5th and 6th Avs. (Open eve.)

TYPEWRITERS.—Remingtons, Smith Premiers, and all standard makes rented, kept in repair; stands and ribbons free. Sold 25% to 75% less than manufacturer's prices. No relics of past ages carried in stock. Every machine sold kept in repair for one year free. F. S. WEBSTER CO., 317 Broadway. Telephone, 1,838 Franklin.

IDEAL CLIP.—Have this clip attached to your eyeglasses and you will agree that it is the only one that gives entire satisfaction. MEYER & ELTING, Opticians, 617 Sixth Av., near 36th St., New York.

TYPEWRITERS.—Remingtons, Smiths, Blickenderfers, Hammonds, Williamses, Jewetts, Franklins, Calligraphs, sold, rented, exchanged, repaired. GORMAN, 79 Nassau St.

TYPEWRITERS REPAIRED BY EXPERTS; rented, sold, exchanged. Telephone for estimate. DURRANT, McLEAN & CO., 265 Broadway.

Typewriter, (new,) $40; remodeled Remington, Smiths, $35; rentals reduced; repairing, (telephone.) New York CONSOLIDATED TYPEWRITER EXCHANGE, 241 Broadway.

At Ehle's Art Gallery, 105 West 42d St., near 6th Av.—Antiques, curios, old jewels, silverware, rare fans, paintings, miniatures, and weapons. Old gold bought.

ONLY HEADQUARTERS FOR GENUINE Welsbach lights is now at 66 West 125th St., between 5th and Lenox Avs.; sell at reduced prices; put up free; satisfaction guaranteed.

P. SORENSEN, UPHOLSTERER, DECORATOR, 2,071 7th Av., near 124th St.; slip covers cut, made; mattresses made over.

BRAATZ, NEW HAIR LIFE; LATEST DISCOVERY and finest ever compounded hair tonic; hairdressing parlors, 135 West 125th St.

Bicycle taken apart, thoroughly cleaned, for $1; repairing and enameling a specialty. TUXTO CYCLE COMPANY, 27 West 125th St.

TYPEW

"'Tis true, 'tis pity, and pity 'tis 'tis true," but our advertising department went off half cock—loaded better now.

We advertised sack suits marked down to $15 from higher prices when the marking hadn't all been done.

There are several hundred $30, $28, $25 and $22 suits—small lots—that have only just been admitted.

Sizes 35 to 46, $15.
Sizes 32 to 34, $13.
Overcoats same prices.

ROGERS, PEET & COMPANY.

258 Broadway, cor. Warren, and 7 and 9 Warren St.
569 Broadway, cor. Prince.
1260 Broadway, cor. 32d, and 54 West 33d St.

We fill orders by mail.

THE NEW HEIRS TO THE RICE MILLIONS

How Their Whereabouts on Farms in Missouri Was Discovered.

Letter from One of Them, a Nephew, Tells of the Adventurous Life of the Millionaire's Missing Brother.

Back of the announcement made in the dispatch received from Missouri yesterday telling of the discovery of three new heirs to the estate of William Marsh Rice, there is a story which reads like a romance. The record of this story is among the papers filed in the Surrogates' office on which application was made for a supplementary citation by which the newly discovered heirs could be served with notice to appear in the Surrogate's Court on Feb. 7 and protect their interests in the estate.

Instead of the usual dry legal affidavits, the papers tell a peculiar story, beginning with the disappearance of the brother of W. M. Rice, his part in the war with Mexico, his death, and then the recent discovery of his three children living almost in poverty on small farms in Missouri, and ending with the long journey of a law clerk from this city to the farms of the heirs in order to personally serve them with the papers in the case.

There are two wills of the millionaire on file. In one Albert T. Patrick, the lawyer who is now a prisoner in the Tombs on the charge of forging checks bearing the name of W. M. Rice, is the chief beneficiary. The other gives the estate to entirely different parties. It was under this other, or "first," will, that the citations for heirs have been issued. The law firm of Hornblower, Byrne, Miller & Potter appear for the executors under this will, and it was that firm which filed the papers which tell the story.

It appears that Benjamin Franklin Rice of Radical, Stone County, Mo., among hundreds of other people bearing the name of Rice, read of the arrest of Albert T. Patrick and the mystery surrounding the estate of William Marsh Rice and the possibility that all relatives of the millionaire would come in for a share in his estate. B. F. Rice accordingly wrote to Capt. George McCusky, then in charge of the Detective Bureau, making some inquiries as to the estate, and was referred to the law firm in charge of the will. This letter evidently came as a surprise, because John D. Bartine, one of the executors, in his affidavit filed with the papers, says that the father of the Missouri claimants was supposed to have disappeared in the early sixties, leaving two sons, one of them, William A. Rice, now living at Wilbraham, Mass., and the other, David Rice, who died about eight years ago, leaving two children.

The letter of B. F. Rice, telling of his family history, which is attached to the papers, fully explains the facts. It is as follows:

My father's name is David Rice. He was born in the State of Mass. He had three brothers and two sisters, their names is William M. Rice, Caleb Rice, Fredrick, Louise and Charlotta Rice. I am not able to tell you where they reside, who they married or how many descendants they may have, at the age of manhood my father married a young lady of Springfield, Mass. 2 sons was born to them. William A. and David Rice. My Father's wife died, leaving his two sons with his parents. He come west. He was commissioned Col. of a company of Rangers by Sam Houston and afterwards was made Col. by the U. S. and was in the largest Battles of the Mexican war. Including the capture of the city of Mexico, during these years his brother William M. Rice came out to texas & established a firm known as the Firm of Rice and Nickles of Houston, texas, his brother Caleb & Fredrick came out to texas. But caleb soon went back to Mass., but Fredrick married in texas & was living there when last herd of. Soon after uncle Caleb and Fredrick Rice come to texas, my father's two sons (or my half brothers) William A. and David Rice come out to texas and was there until on or about the commencement of the late war or the Rebellion. My father his two sons and brothers all got seperated and my father has never herd from any of them since although He has written many letters. He come to the conclusion that they were all dead & and I am sure they thought him dead. After the war my father settled here in Missouri and married Miss Pauline Schlicht, formerly of Pilot Mound, Iowa. Five children were born to them, three sons and 2 daughters, two of them is dead and 3 are living & I am the oldest one of them that is alive. All three of us are living here at Radical. Our mother is living here with us. Father died the 30 of December 1899, being a few years older than his brother William M. Rice.

Another letter from Benjamin Franklin Rice attached to the papers in the case gives dates of the births of the different children of David Rice and names these surviving with himself as Walter Scott Rice and Charlotte Rice Clarke, all of Radical, Mo.

Up to the receipt of the letters from Benjamin Franklin Rice all parties concerned were confident that David Rice, the brother of W. M. Rice, had perished during or immediately after the war of the rebellion, as he was known to have been actively engaged in it as a soldier in the Confederate Army and had not been heard of after his enlistment. The facts presented by B. F. Rice were apparently so authentic that it was decided to serve him as well as his brother and sister with citations. The service by publication would have delayed the hearing on the will, so Miles C. Owens was sent to the little town of Radical, which is nearly thirty miles from a railroad, and there he served the papers on the nephews and niece of the late millionaire which may result in their getting a share in the large estate.

The Caleb Rice, a brother of the millionaire, mentioned in the letter as having been South, also disappeared mysteriously and for seventeen years his whereabouts was unaccounted for. Since the death of W. M. Rice, however, a son of his has been found living at Saranac Lake.

Joseph Stoll Missing.

The Jersey City police were yesterday asked to look for Joseph Stoll, a prominent mason and contractor who disappeared from his home, 259 New York Avenue, on Wednesday last. Mrs. Stoll said her husband had recently met with business reverses. She did not know the extent of his losses, but she feared he had committed suicide.

STERN BROTHERS

will continue to-day their sale of

Ladies' Underwear

of Nainsook, Cambric and Muslin

And in addition will offer

A large collection of very desirable

Taffeta Silk Waists at $3.75 and $4.98
Taffeta Silk Petticoats at $5.95, 6.50, 8.50
Mohair Petticoats at $1.98 and $2.95

West Twenty-third Street

BROADWAY AND 11TH ST.
JAMES McCREERY & CO.

Sale of Dress Veilings.

10,000 yards, — fashionable SHEER FABRICS.

For Visiting or evening gowns,—showing the latest designs, weaves and colors, of the season.

"RICE" GRENADINES, gauze weight,—tan, brown, navy and "old" blue and green.

CHINA CREPES,—fine crinkle weave.

SILK THREAD NUN'S VEILINGS,—silver grey, blues, brown and heliotrope.

95 cents per yard,
Usual Price $1.50.

Upholstery Dep't.

1000 yards Imported Silk Damask and Tapestry,—in lengths from 2 to 8 yards,

$1.75, $2.25 and $2.75 per yard;
Values $3.50, $4.50 and $5.50.

1000 yards Cotton Tapestry,—very effective for all kinds of drapery or hanging,

35 and 50 cents per yard; Value 60 and 85 cents.

Heavy Armure Tapestry Portieres, fringed top and bottom,

$3.75 per pair; Value $5.00.

Bagdad Portieres, $3.50 per pair; Value $5.00.

JAMES McCREERY & CO.,
BROADWAY AND 11TH STREET.

CHIEF DEVERY TESTIFIES

Subordinates Never Asked Permission of Him to Arrest Offenders.

MISSIONARY'S EAST SIDE WORK

Miss Price Often Prayed with Disorderly Women in the "Red-Light" District—Was Never Molested.

Interest in the trial of Capt. John D. Herlihy yesterday afternoon centred in the appearance of Chief of Police Devery in the witness chair. When he appeared in the courtroom he was attired in civilian dress and was evidently ill at ease.

In reply to ex-Judge Olcott's question, Mr. Devery said he was appointed to his present position two years and seven months ago.

"Capt. Herlihy was in command of the Twelfth Precinct between Sept. 25, 1899, and Nov. 18, 1900, was he not?"

"I believe so," was the Chief's reply.

"Did he ever during that time report to you that he had good grounds for believing any house, room, or premises within his precinct was kept or used for lewd or obscene purposes—"

"Don't answer, Chief," cried Lawyer Grant, Herlihy's attorney, rising excitedly.

But Mr. Olcott went on regardless of the interruption:

"Or amusements, and ask you to authorize in writing members of the police force to enter same and to arrest all persons found offending against the law?"

Mr. Grant objected to the question, but it was promptly overruled. Chief Devery was then instructed to answer. After deliberating a moment, he said:

"During my twenty-odd years' experience in the Police Department—"

"Never mind about that. Just a awer yes or no," remonstrated Mr. York. "That is what the question calls for."

"I never heard of any subordinate officer of the Police Department making such a request," said Chief Devery.

"And Capt. Herlihy did not make such a request?" questioned Mr. Olcott.

"If he had I would not have granted it," said the Chief.

Mr. Olcott moved that the last answer be eliminated from the records, and President York so instructed. On cross-examination by Lawyer Grant, Chief Devery testified that in his whole experience as a police officer he had never known of a subordinate police officer applying to the Chief for such a warrant as Mr. Olcott described. In reply to a question put by Mr. Olcott as to whether any application had been made to a Deputy Chief for warrants of the nature described, Chief Devery said:

"I can only say positively that there have never been any such requests made by any subordinate officers to my knowledge."

Miss Ruth Price of the Rescue Army was also a witness. Her work is among the fallen women of the east side. She said that she had been employed as a woman missionary in the "red-light" district since Nov. 18, 1899. She explained that she had been in the habit of visiting houses in the district daily and talking to the inmates with the idea of influencing them to lead better lives. Miss Price testified to having visited twenty-one houses in the "red-light" district at various times since she engaged in missionary work, and related some of her experiences.

Mr. Olcott asked if she had ever been molested in houses which she visited. Miss Price said she was sometimes refused admittance to houses, but that after being admitted she was always treated with consideration. Housekeepers had sometimes allowed her to go up stairs with girls to their rooms and hold religious services and pray with them. Miss Price also testified to having seen girls hail men passing by the house from a front window.

In his cross-examination, Mr. Grant strenuously tried to break down her testimony, but he did not succeed. Miss Price had spoken of the women's costumes as indecent.

"Have you ever seen at a theatre women in low-neck dresses?" the lawyer asked.

"I never go to the theatre," replied the witness.

The last witness was the Rev. Albert Heyhoe, rector of the Camp Memorial Church, 141 Chrystie Street. Mr. Heyhoe testified that Capt. Herlihy called upon him on Oct. 14, 1900, in regard to an interview published in an evening paper on vice in the "red-light" district. In the interview Mr. Heyhoe said he had been incorrectly quoted as saying that a "poolroom flourished within sight of his windows." Capt. Herlihy had asked him to point out a poolroom, and he pointed to a building from the rear window of his house, 141 Clinton Street, which he had been informed was being used as a poolroom. Capt. Herlihy had said that the house was Miner's Theatre. Capt. Herlihy asked him to correct the interview, and he did so.

Mr. Heyhoe testified to having been frequently solicited by women standing in front of 147 Chrystie Street. He said that he complained to Capt. Herlihy of this open solicitation in the vicinity of his church, and stated that members of his congregation were solicited by these women. Capt. Herlihy, he said, promised that this would be stopped, but it was not stopped.

"Not until the shake-up—net until Capt. Herlihy left the district, was the soliciting stopped," said Mr. Heyhoe.

Mr. Grant did not bring out any new facts in his cross-examination.

The trial was adjourned until to-morrow afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

CHIEF SEES MR. PHILBIN.

Mr. Devery's Visit May Have to Do with Police Indictments.

Chief of Police Devery made a late call on District Attorney Philbin shortly after 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, more than an hour after the time of the official closing of the office. At the end of this time he hurried out of the office and stepped briskly toward the elevator.

"Have you anything to say regarding your conference?" he was asked.

"Not a werd, not a word," replied the Chief shortly.

"Did your visit have anything to do—"

"Not a word," repeated the Chief, as he darted into the waiting car and was whisked away.

Mr. Philbin was a little more communicative. He said the Chief called simply to pay his respects, declared that the visit was entirely unexpected, and that he had never seen the head of the Police Department before. Nothing, he said, of any particular moment had been discussed. He denied that Chief Devery's call one hour after William H. Baldwin of the Committee of Fifteen had held a lengthy conference with him had any special significance. Mr. Baldwin stated that he had called to talk with Mr. Philbin on the line of action to be pursued by his committee. No evidence, he said, has as yet been submitted.

Among the Criminal Court attaches the explanations given by the Chief and Mr. Philbin were not accepted at their face value. Mr. Philbin's recently expressed determination to insure the validity of all indictments against police officials, that it may be necessary to find as a result of the reform committee's work, is also connected with the conference of the officials.

Mr. Philbin stated that, in order to avoid having indictments against officials decreed void, after demurrers alleging that a knowledge of illegal conditions was not shown to the Grand Jury, he would first submit evidence sent him by either the Committee of Five or Fifteen to the police officers in whose precincts the conditions complained of were said to exist. If after a proper time no improvement was discernible, he declared it to be his intention to move vigerously against such officers. To the District Attorney's purpose to lay before police officials evidence of wrongdoing before asking for indictments is attributed the visit of the Chief of Police yesterday.

The evidence in the hands of Assistant District Attorney Schurman has not as yet been placed before the Grand Jury.

POLICE COMMISSION SILENT.

Mr. Nixon Not Wholly Pleased with Vice Inquiry, He Says.

All the Police Commissioners stated last evening that no event of the day had changed the police situation or the status of Chief Devery. It had been arranged to hold a meeting of the board after the adjournment of the trial of Capt. Herlihy, but this was put off until 1 o'clock this afternoon.

President York said that at this meeting an accumulation of routine business would be disposed of and that he knew of nothing of more than ordinary importance that would be considered. Chief Devery declined to talk about himself or any police subject.

The Chief, nearly all the Captains of the city, except those recently appointed, and the Deputy Chiefs and Inspectors met at 3 P. M. in Chief Devery's office, as members of the New York City Police Endowment Association. This gives $1,000 to each member or his family in case of retirement, dismisal, resignation, or death.

The members elected as new members the sixteen new Captains, and the following officers for 1901 were chosen: President—Chief W. S. Devery; Vice President—Deputy Chief E. P. Clayton; Treasurer—Deputy Chief W. W. McLaughlin; Secretary—Inspector Adam A. Cross; Trustees—Capts. Kililea, Dean, Blake, Baldwin, and Darcy.

Deputy Chief Clayton succeeds the late Deputy Chief John Mackellar, who died last month. No other business was transacted, and no Police Department business of any sort was mentioned at the meeting.

The Tammany Hall Investigating Committee held a short executive session in the Germania Bank Building in the afternoon. All the five committeemen were present. When the meeting was over, Chairman Nixon announced that the committee would make no report and that no disclosures in regard to any business in which the committee has been engaged since the meeting of Jan. 7 would be made. Mr. Nixon evaded questions, and the other committeemen would not talk, on the plea that he was their spokesman. He hurried away, after admitting that affairs of the committee had not progressed to his satisfaction.

"We are," he said, "doing all we can, but I would like it to do better. I cannot say that so far I am satisfied. We meet next Monday."

SAYS SHE IS INSANE.

Albert Frank Has His Wife Committed for Examination.

The long-continued family troubles between Albert Frank, a dry goods dealer at Seventy-second Street and Third Avenue, and his wife, Rose, culminated yesterday by Mrs. Frank being committed by Magistrate Zeller, in the Harlem Court, to Bellevue to be examined as to her sanity. Mrs. Frank was arraigned in the Yorkville Court two weeks ago on a charge of attempting suicide by taking acid. She admitted that she had been feigning and was discharged. The couple were married a year ago, and, after many bitter quarrels, they separated. On Friday Mrs. Frank was arraigned in the Yorkville Court, charged by her husband with threatening and annoying him.

She was placed under $500 bonds to keep the peace for six months. She could not furnish the bonds, and was sent to jail, but on the following day her husband appeared in court and consented to her being paroled upon her agreeing to let him alone. She got to his store, however, even before he could return there, and raised a row.

On Sunday night Frank said he went to pay a visit to his mother, who lives in Ninety-third Street, near Madisen Avenue. He found his wife standing on the street in front of the house. She began to abuse him, and, picking up various articles from the street, he says, she hurled them at him. He retreated toward the East Eighty-eighth Street Station, and his wife followed, yelling at him. A big crowd followed. Frank rushed into the police station, while his wife bombarded the station house from without. A detective finally went out and arrested her.

When arraigned in court yesterday morning Mrs. Frank was stylishly dressed and wore a number of jewels. The husband said he was able to provide for his wife and was willing to do so. He was of the opinion, however, that she was mentally deranged, and so pronounced by the doctors he would send her to a private asylum.

Mrs. Frank said it was a plan on the part of her husband to get her out of the way.

The Alabama Testing Her Big Guns.

The United States battleship Alabama left her anchorage at Tompkinsville yesterday morning and passed out of the Narrows to test her big guns. She will probably return to-day or to-morrow. On board was the Board of Inspection, the head of which is Capt. Robley D. Evans.

Household Linens.

Fine Flemish Double Damask Table Cloths and Napkins,—handsome designs,—perfect finish.

Table Cloths.
2 x 2 yds. . . . . 3.50 each.
2 x 2½ " . . . . . 4.50 "
2 x 3 " . . . . . 5.50 "
22 inch napkins to match . 4.50 per doz.
26 " " " " . 6.00 " "

Irish Linen Damask Cloths,
2 x 3 yds . . . . . 2.50 each.
2 x 4 yds . . . . . 3.25 "

Damask Tea Cloths,—hemstitched,
34 inch . . . . . 1.15 each.
43 " . . . . . 1.50 "

Towels,—all pure linen Damask,
24 x 45,—with knotted fringes, . $3.00 per doz.
24 x 48,—fringed,—very fine quality, $5.00 per doz.
24 x 48,—fringed and open-work borders, $6.00 per doz.

Hemmed Huck Towels,
$1.50 and $1.75 per doz.

James McCreery & Co.,
Twenty-third Street.

IN ALL OUR STORES
$18 to $48
WINTER RAGLANS
AND LONG OVERCOATS
NOW $12, $15 & $22½

New Oxford Mixtures in all shades (not old Kerseys) made in the long, loose shapes, worsted lined, silk shoulders. Some silk lined throughout.

All sizes—take your choice.

MEN'S TROUSERS
$3, $4 & $5
Down From
$4.50 to $7.50

Newest weaves in Worsteds and Cheviots.

A most opportune reduction coming at a time when your old ones are beginning to look the worse for wear.

Smith, Gray & Co.
NEW YORK STORE, BROADWAY, COR. 31ST ST.
BROOKLYN STORES, Broadway & Bedford Ave. Fulton St. & Flatbush Ave.

Ladies' Gloves.

Suède,—12 and 16 button length. Pale Colors,

$1.00 per pair.

Piqué sewn, kid, 2 clasp,—All fashionable tans, reds, browns, greys and black or white,

$1.00 per pair.

James McCreery & Co.,
Twenty-third Street.

FLINT'S FINE FURNITURE

THE IDEAL DRESSING TABLE.

One that is pretty, yet not obtrusive in design, simple enough to show the rich wood; yet large enough to have a place for everything—all the boxes, bottles, brushes, combs, and trays, with roomy drawers and a good mirror.

We have many styles now at reduced factory prices, which will enable you to easily find your particular fancy, if you promptly

"BUY OF THE MAKER"

GEO. C. FLINT CO.
43 45 AND 47 WEST 23RD ST
NEAR BROADWAY.
FACTORY, 154 AND 156 WEST 19TH STREET

AN 8-YEAR-OLD POLITICIAN.

Young Murphy Wishes "Pa" to be Made Roundsman and Sees Chief Devery About It.

Frank Murphy, Jr., the eight-year-old son of Patrolman Murphy of the Mulberry Street Station, has started the profession of politics early in life. For a week or more he has been hearing about Police Headquarters schemes incident upon the recent promotions. He thought long on the question. He listened to his father tell how fine it would be to become a Roundsman. Finally, yesterday, he went to Headquarters, bent on doing a little work for his fond papa. He left home secretly, telling not a soul in the house whither he was bound.

The little boy's home is at 276 Mulberry Street, not very far from the office of the Chief of Police. In a few minutes he reached Headquarters, and walked into the office of that dignitary. To Capt. Flood, Chief Devery's chief of staff, he told his mission.

"I want to see Mister Dev'ry," he began.

"What for?" asked the Captain.

"To tell him that I wish him to make pa a Roundsman," was the reply.

After some talk, during which Capt. Flood noticed that the child had lost one of his arms, it was agreed between them that the mission was of enough importance to warrant disturbing the busy Chief. Whereupon the chief of staff retired into the rear room to arrange an interview for the young politician. He came out in a few minutes. There was a long line of Tammany men, who were waiting to see the Chief, but Capt. Flood disregarded all of them and motioned to Master Frank to enter.

"Where did you lose your arm?" asked the Chief, when the door had closed behind his visitor.

"A wagon ran over it a year ago."

"What do you want?"

"To get my father made a Roundsman."

"And why do you want that?" was Chief Devery's next question.

"It will be more better," said the boy.

"Do you go to school?"

"Yes, and I'll be better in school if you'll make pa a Roundsman."

This was said in a tone that branded it as an unanswerable argument.

"All right, my boy," replied the Chief. "I'll do what I can for you."

Mr. Murphy, Jr., was ushered out smiling, as if he had not the slightest doubt that his mission had been successfully completed.

COMPLAINT AGAINST APPRAISER.

Special Agents from Washington Here to Make Investigation.

Walter S. Chance, Supervising Special Treasury Agent, and Frank E. Johnson, private secretary to Gen. O. L. Spaulding, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, were at the Appraisers' office for some time yesterday, having come from Washington under instructions to investigate the charges made against the local office by Robert McDonald & Co., lace importers. The Appraiser, when seen earlier in the day, said that he had not received any notice of such an investigation.

The charges are made by McDonald on the ground of excessive valuation by the appraisers of laces imported by his house. McDonald claims that an employe who was recently discharged by his firm, threatened to use his influence at the Appraisers' office to injure the house. This he believes has been done, but Appraiser Wakeman says he has looked into the complaint and that nothing could be found to show that any such influence was at work.

O'Neill's.

Important Values in Furs

Alaska Sable Neck Scarfs
Finished with Cluster of Tails.
The 6.98 quality at . 3.98 Each
The 9.98 quality at . . 6.98 Each
The 15.00 quality at . 9.98 Each

Blended Baum Marten Scarfs 15.00 Each.
Regular Value 25.00

Electric Seal Collarettes
With Persian Paw Yoke, fine Satin Lining, Regular Value, 10.00, 5.98

Equally good values in Muffs, Jackets and Capes.
These Furs are excellently made, splendidly matched and all remarkable values.

Special Values in Cloth Jackets.
All New Goods, Stylish and Serviceable.
FINE KERSEY JACKETS, high storm Collars and stitched Reveres, lined with Satin of excellent quality,
8.98 Each.
JACKETS of Unfinished Worsted Pebble Cheviots and Kerseys, some with Satin facings, others plain, all elegantly tailored,
Regular Value, 18.00, 9.98 Each.

Automobile Coats of fine Kersey, in Black, Tan and Castor, high Collars, large Reveres, lined with fine Satin,
Regular Value, 25.00, 15.00 Each.

A choice assortment of the new Cotton Waists and Dress Skirts at Popular Prices.

Sixth Avenue, 20th to 21st Street.

Engrossed and Illuminated Resolutions and work of a similar character. W. H. Cowie Designer. St. James Building, 1135 Broadway, New York. Phone

USE BRUMMELL'S
CELEBRATED COUGH DROPS.
Positively relieve Coughs and Colds and all Irritation of the throat. Sold by Druggists everywhere.

Amusements.

EMPIRE THEATRE. B'way & 40th St. Evgs. 8:20. Matinées. 2:15.
"Decided success."—Herald. Mats. Wed. & Sat.
Empire Theatre Company in MRS. DANE'S DEFENSE

CHARLES FROHMAN'S CRITERION THEATRE, B'way and 44th St.
EVENINGS at 8. MATINEE SATURDAY.
JULIA MARLOWE | WHEN KNIGHTHOOD WAS IN FLOWER.

MADISON SQ. THEATRE, 24th St., nr. B'way. Mats. Wed. and Saturday. Evenings, 8:30.
HERBERT KELCEY | MY LADY DAINTY
EFFIE SHANNON

GARRICK THEATRE, 35th St. & B'way. Evenings, 8:15. Mats., 2:15
Matinées Wednesday and Saturday.
WM. H. CRANE as DAVID HARUM.

GARDEN THEATRE—27th St. & Madison Av. Mr. E. S. WILLARD | Evenings, 8:20. TOM PINCH. Matinées Wednesday & Saturday. The Professor's Love Story.
Next Mon., Tues. & Wed. Evg., The Middleman.

TOSELLI
This Afternoon at 2:30 o'clock,
CARNEGIE HALL,
American Debut of the Eminent Young Italian Pianist.
Tickets now on sale at Box Office.
The Knabe Used.

DALY'S B'way & 30th, at 8:15. DANIEL FROHMAN'S COMPANY. Dan'l Frohman, Mgr. Mats. Wed. & Sat. 2.
Lady Huntworth's Experiment.
By R. C. Carton. Anthor Lord & Lady Algy
Friday, 2:30, WALTER DAMROSCH, (Rheingold.)

LYCEUM 4th Av. & 23d..... At 8:30 Daniel Frohman...Manager Matinées Thurs. & Sat., 2:15
.....LAST THREE WEEKS.....
ANNIE RUSSELL in A ROYAL FAMILY.
TO-DAY, Sam Franko's LAST CONCERT, 3:30.
American Symphony Orchestra

CARNEGIE HALL
BOSTON SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA
Wilhelm Gericke, Conductor
Thurs. Evg., Jan. 17. HUGO BECKER
Sat. Aft., Jan. 19. COURTLANDT PALMER
Tickets, $1.50 to 75c. Now on sale at box office and Tyson's (5th Av. Hotel) at regular prices.

Proctor's
23d St. | Continuous Performance. | 15, 25, 50c. Vaudeville.
5th Ave.
58th St. | Clayton White, Marie Stuart & Co., Delbosq, Cushman, Holcomb & Curtis, Maxwell's Living Statuary, Papinta, Harry Watson's Co., Thorne & Carleton, Tom Nawn & Co., Ralph Johnstone, 3 Mascagnos, Carroll Johnson, and others. Geo. W. Monroe, Chas. R. Sweet, Al Lesch & 3 Rosebuds, Law Hawkins, etc.
125th St.

MENDELSSOHN HALL.
This Afternoon at 3 o'Clock,
David Bispham's
SONG RECITAL, assisted by Hermann Hans Wetzler.
Reserved seats, $1.50, at Schuberth's, 23 Union Sq.
General Admission One Dollar.

MARQUIS DE SOUZA
The Phenomenal Portuguese Baritone
Management M. L. Pinkham & Gustav Thalberg.
First appearance in N. Y. Carnegie Hall, Thur. Ev., Jan. 24 with SEIDENKING and Orchestra.
Tickets at Schuberth's, Tyson's, Rullman's, & box office.

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN.
OPEN 9 A. M. TO 10:30 P. M.
SIXTH NATIONAL EXHIBITION OF CYCLES MOTOR CYCLES
Automobiles and Accessories.
50c..... ADMISSION .....50c.

DALY'S THEATRE. Friday 2:30.
WALTER DAMROSCH
PIANO LECTURE RECITAL EXPLANATORY OF DAS RHEINGOLD.....AT 2:30
Jan. 22—Die Walkure. Jan. 25—Siegfried.

WORLD IN WAX. EDEN MUSEE CINEMATOGRAPH.
Xtra attractions. Charming Concerts.

MENDELSSOHN HALL, To-night at 9 o'clock.
CARRIE BRIDEWELL
and HEINRICH MEYN.
Seats at Schuberth's and Mendelssohn Hall.

BIJOU—AMELIA BINGHAM COMPANY.
To-night at 8:15. Mat. To-morrow | In Clyde Fitch's Latest Play, THE CLIMBERS.

Amusements.

METROPOLITAN OPERA HOUSE
GRAND OPERA SEASON 1900—1901
Under the direction of Mr. Maurice Grau.
To-morrow Evg., at 8, and Sat. Aft., Jan. 19th, at 2—Revival of LE CID. (in French.) Mmes. Lucienne Bréval and Melba; MM. Jean and Ed. de Reszke, Sizes, and Plancon. Conductor, Mancinelli.
Fri. Ev'g, Jan. 18, at 7:45—DIE WALKURE, (in German.) Mmes. Ternina, Schumann-Heink, and Nordica; MM. Van Dyck, Blass, and Bertram. Conductor, Damrosch.
Sat. Aft., Jan. 19, at 2—LE CID. (in French.) Same cast as on Wednesday evening.
Sat. Ev'g, Jan. 19, at 8, at Popular Prices—DER FLIEGENDE HOLLANDER, (The Flying Dutchman,) (in German.) Mmes. Gadski and Olitzka; MM. Dippel, Blass, Bars, and Bertram. Conductor, Damrosch.
Sun. Ev'g., Jan. 20, at 8:15.—Grand Popular Concert. In addition to a miscellaneous concert, Rossini's STABAT MATER will be performed. Soloists: Mmes. Nordica, Scheff, and Schumann-Heink; MM. Imbart de la Tour, Campanari, and Plancon, together with Entire Orchestra and Chorus. Conductor, Mr. Mancinelli.
WEBER PIANOS USED.

ST. NICHOLAS SKATING RINK
66 WEST 66TH STREET.
CHAMPIONSHIP HOCKEY MATCH,
Crescent A. C. vs. Hockey Club of N. Y.
To-night at 8:15 o'clock.
Admission 50c. . . . . Reserved Seats 50c extra
Music. . . . . Skates Free.
ja15-1aw6mTu Executors.

BROADWAY Theatre, 41st St. & B'way. Evgs., 8:15. Mat. Sat., 2:15.
JEFFERSON DE ANGELIS | LAST WEEK. A ROYAL ROGUE.
WEDNESDAY, JAN. 23RD.
JOHANN STRAUSS'S LATEST OPERETTA, VIENNA LIFE. (Wiener Blut.)
SEAT SALE THURSDAY, JAN. 17TH, 9 A. M.

KNICKERBOCKER. Evs. 8.25. Mat. Sat., 2.20.
—ADA— REHAN | LAST WEEK. "SWEET NELL OF OLD DRURY."
Next Week, Seat Sale Thursday.
N. C. GOODWIN—MAXINE ELLIOTT.
"When We Were Twenty-One."

Hammerstein's VICTORIA 42d St., B'way and 7th Av. Ev'gs, 8:30. Matinée Saturday, 2:15. GENERAL ADMISSION, 50c.
LAST WEEK DRESSLER. Comedy Triumph.
Nt wk, Mathews & Bulger, "The Night of the 4th"

HERALD SQUARE THEATRE. Mats. at 2. Evgs. at 8.
Charles Frohman's Musical Comedy Co. with EDNA MAY. "Best of All Girls." THE GIRL FROM UP THERE. Mats. To-morrow & Sat.

CASINO B'way & 39th St. Ev., 8:15. Mat. Sat. FLORODORA

WALLACK'S Eves. at 8:30. Matinées Wednesday & Saturday, 2:15.
MARY MANNERING —IN— JANICE MEREDITH

Theatre Ev's., 8:15. REPUBLIC 42d St., nr. B'way. Mats. Wed. & Sat., 2:15.
VIOLA ALLEN "In the Palace of the King."

THE NEW YORK, B'way, 45 St. Ev. 8:15. Mats. Wed. & Sat.
New special vaudeville features Followed by Rosenfeld & Sloane's Successful review, The GIDDY THRONG

ACADEMY OF MUSIC. 14th St. & Irving Pl.
QUO VADIS LAST 2 WEEKS. Wilton Lackaye, Elita Proctor Otis, Aubrey Boucicault.
Prices 25, 50, 75, 1.00. Mats. Wed. & Sat. 2. Eve. 8.

THE DEWEY E. 14th St. MATINEE TO-DAY. UTOPIAN BURLESQUERS NEW LIVING PICTURES.

MANHATTAN THEATRE. 33d & B'way. Evg., 8:15. Mats. Wed. & Sat.
THE BURGOMASTER.

WEBER & FIELDS' MUSIC HALL. Mats. Tues., Sat., 2. Evgs. 8:15 Sharp.
FIDDLE-DEE-DEE and Burlesques of Gay Lord Quex and A Royal Family.

KEITH'S DELLA FOX. QUAKER CITY QUARTET. LEW SULLY. TECHOW'S PERFORMING CATS AND DOGS.

KOSTER & BIAL'S W. 34 Strt. Grand 25c. All Orc. Mat. Daily. Evgs. 25, 50, 75. Sunday Concerts. Tavary Opera Co. & Big Vaudeville Olio.

14th Street Theatre, nr. 6th Av. Mts. Wed. & Sat.
MR. CHAUNCEY OLCOTT | In his greatest success, GARRETT (all new songs) O'MAGH

IRVING PLACE THEATRE. Last week of the roaring farce, "Die Strengen Herren." Matinée Saturday, (popular prices,) "Uriel Acosta."

AMERICAN 42D ST. & 8TH AV. Evgs., 8:15. 25c., 50c. Mat. Daily (except Monday) 25c. THE ENSIGN.

HARLEM OPERA HOUSE. Evgs., 8:10. Matinée Saturday, 2:00. Mr. John Hare | The Gay Lord Quex

HURTIG & SEAMON'S West 125th St. Mats. Wed. & Sat.
Dan. E. Bandman & Co. in David Garrick, etc.

MURRAY HILL THEATRE, 42d St. & Lex. Av. Matinee Every Day, 25c.
This Week—THE MAN FROM MEXICO.

GRAND WARD AND VOKES

HUBER'S 14TH ST. [illegible]

"All the News That's Fit to Print."

The New York Times.

THE WEATHER.
Probably rain in the afternoon, southerly winds.

COPYRIGHT, 1901, BY THE NEW YORK TIMES COMPANY.

VOL. L...NO. 15,920. NEW YORK, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 16, 1901.—SIXTEEN PAGES. ONE CENT In Greater New York, Jersey City, and Newark. Elsewhere. TWO CENTS.

NO POLICE BILL HEARING?

Committee Reports the Measure to the Assembly.

Senator Stranahan Intimates that No Hearing Will Be Necessary in His Committee—Provisions of the Old Cantor Bill.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Jan. 15.—The New York City Single-Headed Police Commission bill was taken up by the Assembly Committee on the Affairs of Cities to-day and reported out favorably without amendment by a vote of 7 to 3. The vote on the bill was on strict party lines. All the Republicans on the committee voted to report it with the exception of Messrs. O'Malley, M. E. Lewis, and Cotton, who were absent. The Republicans who voted for the bill were Messrs. Kelsey of Livingston, De Graw of Kings, Davis of New York, Burnett of Ontario, Seymour of New York, Hammond of Onondaga, and Ross of Albany. The Democrats who voted against the bill were McKeown of Kings, Bradley of Erie, and Fitzgerald of New York.

Chairman Kelsey, in explanation of the fact that no hearing on the bill had been given, said none had been asked for. Mr. Kelsey said he was opposed to the proposed Democratic amendment for a trial board for offenders of the Police Department. Such an amendment, he said, would rob the bill of its effectiveness.

The Senate Committee on Cities also took up the bill in an informal way. Senator Grady said there need be no hope of Democratic support for the bill unless it was amended. The amendments which the Democrats desire are to have the provision giving the Governor the power of removal stricken out, and a provision inserted for a trial board for all members of the department arraigned for offenses.

When the Senate committee had adjourned Chairman Stranahan made a significant statement. He said: "There has been no application for a hearing on the New York Police bill, and consequently no date for a hearing has been set. I understand that the objections are minor ones. We hope to amend the bill so that it will conform to the ideas of all. There may be no hearing on the measure, for the amended bill may meet with general approval."

A high authority on the proposed police legislation for New York City, in speaking to-day of the bill now before the Legislature, said:

"When the necessity for reform in the police system of New York was first considered a proposition was advanced to have a bill which would provide for three Commissioners for a term of one year. These proposed Commissioners, one of whom was to be an army officer, one a lawyer, and one a man of affairs representing the Governor, were to be intrusted with the work of thoroughly reorganizing the Police Department. When they had completed their work, for which they were to be allowed a year's time, they were to go out of office, and then a single Commissioner was to be appointed by the Mayor. The idea was to get the Police Department in good shape and then to put it up to the Mayor to keep it in that condition by having a single Commissioner, subject to his authority."

Why this plan was not adopted the gentleman did not divulge. But, taken in connection with the statement of Senator Stranahan, the assertion of the authority quoted has created an impression that perhaps the bill reported by the Assembly Committee on the Affairs of Cities to-day may be so amended on the floor of the Assembly and Senate that Tammany may be deprived of the issue of home rule, which the Tammany leaders are now seeking to raise out of the Police bill in its present form.

Gov. Odell is said to favor two amendments to the bill. One is to provide that a Commissioner removed by the Governor cannot be reappointed; the other is that when the Governor removes a Commissioner, the Commissioner's successor must be appointed without delay.

Some comment having been made relative to the fact that Jacob A. Cantor introduced a bill for a single-headed Police Department for New York City in 1898, a copy of the bill has been obtained and is interesting in view of the present agitation, and the further fact that at that time the scheme was repudiated by both parties. The bill provided that the Police Commission in office in New York City at the time of the enactment should cease to exist on Aug. 15, following, and that the control of the Police Department of that city should thereafter be administered by a single-headed commission, to be known as "Commissioner of Police." The Mayor of New York City was authorized to appoint the Commissioner of Police and his successors, and the term of office of each appointee was fixed at two years, and the salary at $7,500 per year.

The Mayor was also directed to appoint a Chief of Police, who could be removed from office by the Mayor, but for cause only. His salary was to be $10,000 per year. All Chiefs after the first were to be taken from among the members of the police force above the grade of Sergeant. Each Chief was to be retired when he reached sixty-five years of age.

The Chief of Police was given power to appoint his deputy, to hold office at his pleasure, but he was to be selected from the members of the force above the rank of Sergeant, and upon his retirement from the deputyship he returned to the rank he held prior to his appointment. His salary was fixed at $5,000.

The Chief of Police was to be the head of the police force and to be held responsible for its efficiency and discipline and for the preservation of order and the prevention of crime and apprehension of offenders within the City of New York. He was vested with power to appoint all members of the police force and to make all promotions and changes and to suspend any member of the force for cause, but the latter were to be given a trial on the charges before the Commissioner of Police who is given power to reinstate him.

The Chief was given authority to raid gambling and other unlawful houses and to enter the same for the purpose of raiding if two or more holders reported to him in writing that there were good grounds for believing that the places were used for unlawful purposes. He was required also to co-operate with the Board of Elections and to perform such other service as usually comes within the pale of the duties of Chief of Police.

Hearing on Buffalo Measure Refused.

ALBANY, Jan. 15.—No date was fixed for a hearing on the Buffalo Police bill, which is a measure similar to the New York City one. Attorney James Quackenbush of Buffalo, who will oppose the bill on behalf of certain lawyers and other residents of Buffalo, asked the committee to fix a date for a hearing, but, owing to the absence of Assemblyman Schneider, the introducer of the measure, Chairman Kelsey refused to grant the request. It is expected that a hearing will be held in the very near future.

SENATOR SULLIVAN IN ALBANY.

Has Nothing to Say About Mr. Nixon's Work—May Talk Later.

ALBANY, Jan. 15.—Senator T. F. Sullivan made his first appearance of the session in the Senate this morning. A huge basket of roses was placed on his desk, which the Senator, with a frown, immediately transferred to the desk of Senator Grady. To a correspondent he said:

"I have nothing to say at this time concerning the Nixon gambling insinuations. Perhaps I will later on. A man can talk too much at times, and I guess an attack of lockjaw would benefit some of those fellows in New York."

TO LEGALIZE PABST PORTICO.

Senator Grady Introduces a Bill in the State Legislature.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Jan. 15.—The Pabst Hotel is in Senator Elsberg's district. Senator Elsberg brought in a bill legalizing the portico over which there has been such a protracted fight in Albany, but for some reason he did not care to introduce it himself. He prevailed upon Senator Grady to introduce it.

It is said here that if by any chance the bill should become a law a number of restaurants and cafés in the Tenderloin would at once utilize the sidewalk upon which they front for similar obstructions. No date for a hearing upon the bill has yet been set.

"It's the first I've heard of it," said Commissioner of Highways Keating, when his attention was called to the Grady bill last night. "If they legalize that," he continued, "they'll legalize a lot of stuff, and if they legalize that they'll ruin New York."

"But will the introduction of this bill stop you from doing your duty as set forth in your last ultimatum?"

"It will if they pass the bill."

"Are you going to wait for them to pass the bill?"

"Now, this is the first I knew about it, and you're not going to get a word out of me on it until I am better informed. Why don't they stop the bill? Write to the Governor. I'll wait until the time given to take down the portico is up before I will say anything. That will be on Thursday.

"But the bill is not a law yet. It's got to go through both houses and to the Governor and Mayor. I won't say another word on the subject, and, mind you, quote me correctly."

John Whalen, Corporation Counsel, was confined yesterday to his home at High Bridge by an attack of influenza. The introduction of the Pabst Portico bill was reported to him, and he was asked if an illegality of the kind could be legalized.

"I do not," he replied, "care to give offhand an opinion on the subject. I may be down town to-morrow."

"Do you know of a precedent for such action?"

"I certainly do not. When did you say the bill was introduced?"

"To-day."

"Oh, well, there's plenty of time for action."

Two ultimatums have been sent to James B. Regan, proprietor of the Pabst Hotel, by the Commissioner of Highways. The last of these was sent on Jan. 8, and the time in which the portico must be removed expires to-morrow, a five days' additional extension having been granted at the request of counsel.

An attempt to legalize the portico and inclosed balcony of the Pabst Hotel by the Municipal Assembly was recently foiled by Alderman Joseph Oatman, who recalled the legalizing resolution, which was passed in his absence, from the Mayor.

DANGERS OF THE "SALT CURE."

Chicago Doctor Says Self-Treatment Will Lead to the Prevalence of Scurvy.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—Physicians throughout Chicago are complaining that an "epidemic of salt" has broken loose. They say these days when they are called to attend a patient about the first thing they hear is, "Doctor, don't you think an injection of salt would cure me?"

This is attributed to the recent agitation of the merits of salt solution as given publicity through the scientific discoveries recently made by Prof. Loeb of the University of Chicago. Dr. Elmer E. Prescott to-day expressed the opinion that so prevalent had become the idea that salt would cure any ailment, that if the public was not put on its guard the whole city would be suffering from scurvy inside of six months. Dr. Prescott said:

"I was called some days ago to attend a woman suffering from scurvy. She had been complaining for several years of a nervous trouble; some time ago she read of the discovery of the 'Elixir of Life' in the common table salt. She immediately began putting salt into her drinking water and eating salted meats. She began to get weak rapidly, her limbs became very tender to the touch, and finally the hemorrhagic stage of the disease made its appearance under the skin and in the connective tissues of the body, having very much the appearance of the black and blue spots following an injury."

NATIVE ART NOT ENCOURAGED.

J. H. Twachtman Says Students Return from Europe to Find Galleries Full of Foreign Pictures.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—"You give your artists prizes and scholarships and send them to Europe prepared for carrying on their studies. When they return to America they find the walls of your galleries covered by foreign masters. They find no place for themselves."

This was the burden of John H. Twachtman's final lecture at the Art Institute, given yesterday afternoon. Conditions, he said, were discouraging to local artists and not at all likely to develop native talent. American art institutes in general, and the Chicago Art Institute in particular, did not sufficiently recognize and support their Alumni, as the French schools did.

TO BROADEN YALE CHURCH.

Special to The New York Times.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Jan. 15.—At a meeting of the Yale College Church tonight a resolution was introduced by Prof. George T. Ladd greatly broadening the scope of the institution and reorganizing it to take in all students professing any Christian faith instead of as now, simply Congregationalists. The resolution was passed unanimously, and a committee consisting of Profs. Brastow, Ladd, Perrin, and ex-President Dwight, was appointed to draft a new and broader form of admittance profession.

The action of the committee removes all doctrinal objections to any man's entering the college church, and will result in greatly broadening the work of the institution. The name of the church is changed from the Yale College Church to the Church of Christ of Yale.

Chicago Road to Issue More Stock.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—Chicago City Railway stockholders to-day unanimously voted in favor of authorizing the issuance of $5,000,000 new stock, so as to be able to meet the obligations on the $4,619,500 4½ per cent. bonds which mature July 1 next. The resolution provides the stock when issued shall go to the stockholders at par. The retiring Directors were re-elected. The annual statement shows a considerably smaller percentage earned on the stock, but the surplus decreases only $55,000.

Poland! Poland! Poland Water!
Millions of gallons prescribed for the kidneys.—Adv.

INDEX TO DEPARTMENTS.

Stocks weak. Financial Affairs.—Pages 12 and 13.
Wheat, No. 2 red, 81c; corn, No. 2 mixed, 47c; oats, No. 2 mixed, 30½c; cotton, middling, 9⅞c; iron, Northern No. 1 foundry, $16. butter, Western creamery, 21c. Commercial World.—Page 10.
Amusements.—Page 8.
Arrivals at Hotels and Out-of-Town Buyers.—Page 2.
Business Troubles.—Page 10.
Court Calendars.—Page 10.
Legal Notes.—Page 16.
Losses by Fire.—Page 2.
Marine Intelligence and Foreign Mails.—Page 7.
New Corporations.—Page 13.
Railroads.—Page 10.
Real Estate.—Page 11.
Society.—Page 9.
United Service.—Page 6.
Weather Report.—Page 2.
Yesterday's Fires.—Page 2.

Poland! Poland! Poland Water!
Millions of gallons prescribed for the kidneys.—Adv.

ARMY OF VIGILANTES TO PURIFY THE CITY

Is Being Organized in Accordance with Bishop Potter's Plan.

Will Number 5,000 Workers, It Is Said—Reform Bodies to Meet in Conference To-day.

It was learned yesterday, although Bishop Potter declined to discuss the matter, that his plan to form a large vigilance committee, as suggested by him in his recent address on "God and the City," at a noonday meeting in St. Paul's Chapel, has taken firm root and that such a committee has been organized and will be ready for active work very shortly. It is said the committee will number 5,000 members.

Chairman William H. Baldwin, Jr., of the Committee of Fifteen, and Prof. Charles Sprague Smith, one of its members, both criticised the plan adversely, saying that in such a large body there would be many young men who would be apt to be led into evil ways through contact with the city's wickedness.

Bishop Potter, when this was brought to his attention last evening, said:

"First get your facts—then moralize. The statement that I have formed, am forming, or am going to form any such committee as these gentlemen so freely criticise is entirely apocryphal."

"But do you know of any such committee being formed?" he was asked.

"Ah, that's another question," was the reply.

This will be an important day in the crusade against vice and Tammany misrule, and the focus of activity will be the United Charities Building, where in the afternoon the Committee of Fifteen will hold a general meeting to discuss its work and to receive reports from sub-committees, while in the evening there will be a joint conference of all reform organizations in the city in favor of the adoption of the amendments proposed by the Charter Revision Commission. It is expected that every reform body in the city excepting the Tammany Committee of Five will be represented by one, two, or three delegates at this meeting, which is to be held under the auspices of the Citizens' Union.

The call for the Citizens' Union conference is signed by John W. Weed, R. Fulton Cutting, John E. Eustis, J. Warren Greene, R. M. Gignoux, and John L. Wilkie.

Mr. Eustis said yesterday that his organization, though not approving of every part of the Charter Revision Commission's recommendations, still was willing to swallow it whole, believing that the result would be better than if legislative committees were allowed to tinker with it for several weeks.

He said that Chairman George L. Rives, and perhaps other members of the commission, would appear before the meeting, and that Controller Coler's opinion on the matter would be presented, perhaps by the Controller in person.

The meeting will not be open to the general public, though it is expected that large public meetings will be held as a result of the conference.

It is understood that the pending Police bill will be dealt with by the Sub-Committee on Legislation of the Committee of Fifteen, which, it is believed, will not approve it in its present form. Objection is raised to the measure because it places in the hands of the Governor, as well as in those of the Mayor, the power to remove the combined Chief and Commissioner who will rule the department. It is pointed out that should there be, as at present, a Republican Governor with a Democratic Mayor, the bi-partisan principle would still rule the department, for, with its commanding officer at the mercy of both the head of the City and State Governments, it is easy to conceive of frequent situations where compromise would be the only course by which he could save his official head.

CHINA'S SEAL ON THE NOTE.

Ching Goes to Forbidden City to Obtain It—Gov. Yuan Ordered to Assist in Peace Negotiations.

PEKING, Jan. 15.—Prince Ching and his staff were a long time in the Forbidden City to-day. Accompanied by the chief eunuch, they saw a woman servant guarding the imperial seal. She produced the seal, the papers were sealed in her presence, and then the seal was returned.

Owing to the lateness of the hour the papers thus sealed will not be presented to the foreign envoys until to-morrow.

In the American district a Chinese court of justice will come into being and operation to-morrow. The death penalty may be inflicted for murder, manslaughter, attempted murder, robbery, counterfeiting, looting, and burglary. It may also be inflicted upon those known to have been Boxers who have done injury to life or property. Other punishments, like whipping, imprisonment, and the imposition of fines, can be inflicted.

SHANGHAI, Jan. 15.—Yuan-Shi-Kai, Governor of the Province of Shan-Tung, has been ordered to proceed to Peking to assist in the peace negotiations; but it is expected here that he will decline to go.

SAVES A TRAIN BY SLEEPING.

If Operator Had Been Awake There Would Have Been a Wreck.

Special to The New York Times.

CLARKSBURG, West Va., Jan. 15.—William Browne, night operator at Flemington, a point on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, went to sleep at his post at 4 o'clock this morning, and his nap prevented a frightful wreck.

The New York Flyer passed a fast freight at Flemington at the hour named. The freight took the siding on time, and Browne went to sleep. Engineer Pat Flannery of the flyer, when half a mile away, noticed the red light and whistled for a clear track. The operator slept on and Flannery put on the air, wondering why the red block did not drop. As his train got down to a ten-mile gait it swerved on to the siding and banged the freight train. Flannery had two ribs broken, but no one else was hurt.

The freight brakeman had failed to close the switch after his train took the siding. Had the operator been awake he would have given a clear track signal and the flyer would have hit the freight at sixty miles an hour, down grade.

THIEF AT CASINO BOX OFFICE.

Smashed the Window and Grabbed at a Pile of Bills.

Detectives of the West Thirtieth Street Station were scouring the Tenderloin last night for a well-dressed man who made a desperate attempt to rob the Casino box office early in the evening. The would-be robber arrived at the theatre at about 6:30 o'clock and found the box office window closed, but a big pile of bills was lying within tempting distance inside the glass. He broke the pane with his elbow and grabbed for the money, but Gilbert Gordon, an employe of the house, who was standing in the lobby, jumped for him, and the man ran and lost himself in the passing crowds on the sidewalk.

Assistant Treasurer Dunlevy had been selling tickets all the afternoon, but had gone to dinner a few minutes before, leaving Gordon in charge. As there were no customers in sight, he closed the office and stepped outside the door into the lobby. There was about $250 in the pile of bills at which the thief aimed. Gordon says he could have caught the man had not his first thought been for the money, and he secured that lest there might be accomplices about before he ran out and summoned the police.

Poland! Poland! Poland Water!
Millions of gallons prescribed for the kidneys.—Adv.

COL. ROOSEVELT IN DANGER.

Falls While Fleeing from a Wounded Bear, but His Companions Kill the Brute.

Special to The New York Times.

MEEKER, Col., Jan. 15.—An unlucky stumble all but placed Col. Roosevelt within the grasp of a Rocky Mountain grizzly yesterday, but the coolness of the New Yorker and the persistency of his companions' fire served to win for them another trophy. After slaying the lion Saturday morning the party proceeded to the Keystone Ranch. Monday morning saw them in the saddle and ready for the first onslaught on Coyote Basin. Dr. Webb rode into Meeker to-day and detailed the second adventure.

"It was still quite early in the morning when we entered the basin," said he. "Goff assured us that we would stand an excellent chance at that time if bears were around. We had hardly ridden a quarter of a mile when Goff called our attention to a huge brute lumbering unsteadily up Miniature Canon to one side. We dashed up the rocks, dismounted, and resumed our pursuit on foot. Hastily the Colonel took a shot. The bear but moved faster. Roosevelt was wild with enthusiasm, and despite the guide's warnings, dashed ahead of us all.

"The bear had now almost reached the head of the canon and there was no escape except by scaling the cliff. Roosevelt's last shot stung him, and rearing on his hind legs and snarling fiercely, he started toward Teddy. 'Run, Colonel!' yelled Goff, for the bear was mad and his twelve hundred odd pounds were fairly quivering with rage. Roosevelt took another shot, but the bear was now under full swing and coming with speed.

"One more shot and then Roosevelt turned to flee, but to our horror he stumbled and fell sprawling. I took careful aim and fired, but still he came; Goff ran forward and shot, and Roosevelt scrambled to his feet with the brute 15 feet away. He coolly turned and fired again and stopped the animal. A fusillade from all followed, and with a last stagger toward us the game old animal lay down and died."

ABSCONDER STOLE $250,000.

Was Confidential Clerk in a Wholesale House in This City.

Acting under instructions from Chief of Detectives George F. Titus, Scotland Yard officials will arrest to-day in Liverpool as he steps off an incoming steamer, the defaulting confidential clerk of a large wholesale house on Walker Street, who is said to have gotten away with $50,000 of the firm's funds at the time of his flight, and to have embezzled nearly $200,000 before he was even suspected.

Assistant District Attorney Gans obtained from Judge Cowing, in General Sessions, yesterday a warrant for the defaulter's arrest. The Grand Jury had his case on the calendar yesterday, but it was not considered, and no indictment against him was handed up.

The utmost secrecy is being observed about the case by Capt. Titus and District Attorney Philbin. Beyond admitting that there is such a case they will make no details public, and refuse to give even the name of the defaulter, the name of the boat he sailed on, or the name of his employers.

Mr. Philbin said that the defalcation was such a large one and the case so important that he did not feel at liberty to discuss it at this time.

Capt. Titus states that the case is one of the largest he has had since assuming charge of the Detective Bureau. The clerk for a long time enjoyed a position of trust, and the utmost confidence was reposed in him by his employers. His social connections are excellent, and no shadow of suspicion attached to him up to a short time before his flight. His stealing of the larger amount extended over several years, and was effected by means of forgery and false entries.

Capt. Titus traced him to Boston, from there to Portland, and later to Quebec, from which place he took passage for England. Full particulars of the defalcation and a complete description of the absconder were at once cabled to London, and unless the plans of the police go awry he will be taken into custody to-day.

Detective Frazee is awaiting news of the arrest to start for Liverpool to bring the prisoner back to America. Requisition papers have been asked for already. It will be necessary to secure three sets of these, State, National, and international.

THE VIGILANCIA AGROUND.

Ward Liner on Colorado Banks, West of Havana—Orizaba Sent to Take Passengers Off.

HAVANA, Jan. 15.—The Ward Line steamer Vigilancia is aground off the Banks of Los Colorados, about eighty miles westward of Havana.

The Vigilancia was on her way from Vera Cruz, Mexico, Jan. 10, for Progreso, Havana, and New York. She has fifty-eight passengers on board, and is commanded by Capt. Reynolds.

She struck early yesterday morning during a fog, six miles from the mainland. Word of the disaster reached her agents here last night. The steamer is fast on the reefs, resting in eleven feet of water forward and fourteen feet aft. She is pounding in the norther which is now blowing. She is, however, in no immediate danger.

The steamer Orizaba, Capt. Leighton, from New York, Jan. 9, for Havana, with two tugs and lighters, has been sent to the assistance of the Vigilancia. No difficulty is expected in transferring her passengers and in unloading her freight.

The steamer Vigilancia is of 2,934 tons net register. She is 320 feet long, has 45 feet beam, and is 27 feet deep. She was built in 1890 at Chester, Penn., and is owned by the New York and Cuba Mail Steamship Company, (James E. Ward & Co.) of New York.

At the offices of the company it was said yesterday that the amount of damage to the Vigilancia was not known.

LINCOLN RELIC DESTROYED.

House Where Nancy Hanks Plighted Her Troth Burned Down.

Special to The New York Times.

DANVILLE, Ky., Jan. 15.—The house where Nancy Hanks plighted her troth to Thomas Lincoln has been destroyed by fire. It was the first two-story residence erected in Boyle County, and was over a century old. It was built by Judge James P. Mitchell. Here it was that Nancy Hanks, a frequent visitor to the Mitchell family, accepted, in the Winter of 1805, the hand of Thomas Lincoln.

On a June day Lincoln saddled one of Judge Mitchell's horses and, taking his fiancée behind him, rode to Springfield, a distance of twenty-five miles, where they were married. They returned and spent their honeymoon with the family of Judge Mitchell, after which they built and occupied the modest log cabin in what is now Larue County, where three years later Abraham Lincoln was born.

Lectures at Yale This Winter.

Special to The New York Times.

NEW HAVEN, Jan. 15.—Announcement of a number of important lectures to be given at Yale this Winter was made by Secretary Stokes to-night. Besides the appointment of Whitelaw Reid to the Isaac K. Bromley lectures, several others were announced. Poultney Bigelow, '79, will speak on colonial administration; Prof. Dyer of Oxford will appear before the Archaeological Institute, Frederic Harrison, the English historical writer, will speak in March; Booker T. Washington and Mrs. Ballington Booth will speak in the Dwight Hall course, and David J. Brewer will deliver six lectures in the Dodge lectureship on "The Responsibilities of Citizenship."

Poland! Poland! Poland Water!
Millions of gallons prescribed for the kidneys.—Adv.

VENEZUELA SEIZES SHIPS

Two Vessels of a British Trading Company Taken.

For Use Against "Revolutionists"—President of the Concern, a New Yorker, Now In Venezuela.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—A dispatch was received at the State Department to-day from Minister Loomis, announcing that the Venezuelan Government had seized two vessels belonging to the Orinoco Shipping and Trading Company, and purposed using them against the "revolutionists." What he means by the "revolutionists" is not explained. Venezuela has affected to consider the Asphalt Trust as in rebellion, but Minister Loomis obviously does not refer to it.

A mysterious sort of alleged revolution has been heard from at intervals ever since about Christmas. It was alleged to be headed by Gen. Peraza, but there has been from the first the strongest doubt about its reality. No battles have been fought, and with the first news of the Venezuelan Government's intention to use harsh measures toward the Asphalt Trust came the news that the alleged Peraza revolution had been "suppressed." Nothing has been heard of it since, until this act of war necessity, the seizing of the Orinoco Company's vessels to be used as ships of war.

The Orinoco Shipping and Trading Company is a British concern. Its steamers ply between Trinidad and Ciudad Bolivar. Paraza is understood to be in the mountains, a long distance inland, and it is not known of what use these coasting steamers would be in attacking him, or, even if they were of use, why there should be such a pressing necessity for them that Venezuela should risk the enmity of Great Britain and the United States by seizing them.

On the face of it, and without any explanation, the seizure of the vessels is an affront to Great Britain. But, although the Orinoco Company is a British concern, a large amount of the stock is held by Americans, and President Olcott of the Orinoco Company is a New Yorker. It is admitted at the State Department that Great Britain seems to have the first right to interfere, and that if she does not object to the seizure of her vessels it would be hard for the United States to find ground for objection. At the same time the State Department will not deny that remonstrance may yet be made. The American course of action has not been determined upon, and hence no instructions as yet have been sent to Minister Loomis.

President Olcott is now in Venezuela. He went there recently with Minister Loomis. Apparently the two are friends. The seizure of President Olcott's ships at this time looks, when left without explanation, like a determined effort on Venezuela's part to get into all the trouble she can find. She has already defied the United States on the Asphalt Trust question, and in response to the State Department's protest against the dispossession of the trust, Venezuela has replied that she does not recognize the right of the United States to interfere in her local affairs. The impressment of the Orinoco ships seems like an attempt to defy the United States still more, and at the same time to bring Great Britain into the difficulty. That there is politics of some kind in it cannot be doubted.

Minister Pulido of Venezuela has not received a word from his Government intimating the existence of the alleged revolution of Peraza.

GORMAN VISITS THE SENATE.

Said to be Advising Against Encouragement of D. B. Hill.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Ex-Senator Gorman was on the floor of the Senate this afternoon for the first time since he left that body as a member. He went about calling, talking a while with Senator Cockrell, then with Senator Jones, later with Senator Martin of Virginia, and occasionally with a Republican who came over to the Democratic side to greet him.

The mission that brought Mr. Gorman to the Senate was not disclosed. As he meets the Senators frequently in Washington, it was assumed not to be a social visit merely. One Senator, who would not be likely to sympathize with any political ambition of Mr. Gorman, said that he had heard the intimation that Mr. Gorman was moved to offer his advice concerning the reported effort of Mr. Coler to promote the cause of David B. Hill as a candidate for President, and to remonstrate against any encouragement of that programme.

He is said to be prepared to join in any Democratic movement that will result in the elimination of Populism and Populistic candidates from future consideration by the Democratic Party, but to be doubtful about the experiment of relying upon a New York candidate to pull the party through in 1904. "Just a personal call upon old friends," was Mr. Gorman's quiet reply to a question as to whether his visit to the Senate had any political significance.

CITY MAY CLAIM GAS PLANT.

Chicago Council Acts on Reported Sale of the Ogden Company.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—Alderman Finn introduced an order into the City Council last night calling upon the Corporation Counsel to ascertain if the city cannot claim the plant of the Ogden Gas Company and declare the franchise forfeited. The order reads, in part:

"Whereas, Section 13 of the franchise of the Ogden Gas Company provides that the rights and privileges of the said company are granted upon the express condition that the company shall not at any time directly or indirectly sell, lease, or transfer its plant, property, rights, or privileges to any other gas company, and if it does sell, lease, or transfer its property, then the rights and privileges granted to the Ogden Gas Company shall cease to exist and be of no more effect, and the entire plant of the company, with all its machinery, tools, appliances, mains, and pipes, shall be forfeited.

"Therefore, be it ordered that the Corporation Counsel be instructed to investigate at once this reputed sale of the Ogden Gas Company to the so-called Gas Trust, and report to the Council whether or not the sale or transfer is a violation of Section 13 and a forfeiture of the Ogden Gas Company's franchise."

The order passed without question.

PROF. PUPIN BUYS LAND.

Inventor Invests in a Rocky and Marshy Tract in Connecticut.

Special to The New York Times.

WINSTED, Conn., Jan. 15.—Prof. Michael I. Pupin of Columbia University, who says he received $400,000 for his recent invention of a system by which ocean telephony is made possible, has bought another tract of marshy and rocky land in Norfolk, where he owns a handsome Summer villa. His latest purchase comprises twenty-five acres, which together with the rest of his lands in that mountain Summer resort town, makes him one of the heaviest land owners of Norfolk.

When asked by a friend his reason for investing in such poor land the professor replied: "Different people have different hobbies. Some prefer fast horses, but I had rather buy that apparently worthless parcel of land and develop it."

Deerfoot Farm Sausages.

With increasing knowledge of the danger to health through carelessly prepared food, consumers grow more and more fastidious in their selection. "Deerfoot" means purity, daintiness, and cleanliness.—Adv.

Poland! Poland! Poland Water!
Millions of gallons prescribed for the kidneys.—Adv.

MR. KRUEGER COMING HERE?

John E. Milholland Took an Invitation to Him, and Is Sure It Will Be Accepted.

LONDON, Jan. 16.—The Daily Express says:

"Mr. John E. Milholland, who arrived in London last week, bearing an invitation from a number of well-known New York citizens to Mr. Krüger to proceed to the United States, has been to see him, and has offered him a palatial residence in New York City.

"In the course of an interview, Mr. Milholland told a representative of The Daily Express that he was quite sure Mr. Krüger would accept the invitation and would go to New York about the middle of next month."

THE LIGHT FLASH FROM MARS.

Prof. Pickering Makes a Statement in Regard to Alleged Signals.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Jan. 15.—Prof. Pickering of the Harvard Observatory to-day said:

"Early in December we received from the Lowell Observatory in Arizona a telegram that a shaft of light had been seen to project from Mars (the Lowell observatory makes a specialty of Mars) lasting seventy minutes.

"I wired these facts to Europe and sent out neostyle copies through this country. The observer there is a careful, reliable man and there is no reason to doubt that the light existed.

"It was given as from a well-known geographical point of Mars. That was all. Now the story has gone the world over. In Europe it is stated that I have been in communication with Mars, and all sorts of exaggerations have sprung up.

"Whatever the light was, we have no means of knowing. Whether it had intelligence or not, no one can say. It is absolutely inexplicable."

THE WESTERN MARYLAND ROAD

Edward Lauterbach Offers $6,000,000 for It—New Hard Coal Route to Tidewater Planned.

Special to The New York Times.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 15.—Plans of New York and Philadelphia parties supposed to be identified with the Reading Railroad interests for the securing of the Western Maryland Railroad for a new route to tidewater from the anthracite coal fields are maturing. The Mayor and Finance Commissioners have received a direct offer from Edward Lauterbach, acting in conjunction with the Manhattan Trust Company, to buy the road. When asked by city Directors in the company what he would be willing to pay for the property, Mr. Lauterbach is reported to have said about $6,000,000.

Representatives of the Manhattan Trust Company have had several interviews with the city authorities the past week. Surveys are now being made for a terminal line around the city from the Western Maryland and Baltimore and Lehigh Railroads to tidewater, at Canton. It has been suggested that the move has some connection with the recent Reading-Jersey Central amalgamation.

In the negotiations during 1899 for the acquirement of the city's interest in the Western Maryland Railroad, John I. Waterbury, President of the Manhattan Trust Company, was an active spirit. Examinations were made by expert accountants. The intended purchasers at that time offered the amount of the principal of the debt due the city, without interest, placed at $4,485,000, and agreed to liquidate the floating debt to an amount not exceeding $500,000, but opposition arose and the deal fell through. During the negotiations there was some difference of opinion among the lawyers on the two sides as to the legal procedure for acquiring the property.

KAISER INSTRUCTS ACTORS.

Witnesses Rehearsal of Two Festival Plays, One of Them Written from His Suggestions.

BERLIN, Jan. 15.—Emperor William this evening, after the regular opera performance, witnessed a rehearsal of two special festival plays—"The Testament of the Great Elector" and "Adlerflug." These are to form the programme for the gala performance on Friday night at the Opera House in honor of the Prussian bi-centenary.

Count von Hochberg, Director of Royal Theatres, sat with the Kaiser in a box, the two being the only spectators of the rehearsal. The Emperor interrupted the actors several times and suggested changes. "Adlerflug" is from the Kaiser's own idea, worked out by Capt. Lauff.

MR. AND MRS. A. G. VANDERBILT.

Newly Married Couple Arrive in Pittsfield, Mass.—To Spend Several Days in the Berkshires.

Special to The New York Times.

PITTSFIELD, Mass., Jan. 15.—Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt arrived in Pittsfield unexpectedly this evening, and registered at the Wendell Hotel. They came in a parlor car attached to the regular express due in Pittsfield at 8:10 o'clock. They are occupying the finest suite of rooms in the hotel, on the northeast corner of the third floor, commanding a magnificent view over the snow-covered Berkshire Hills.

The bride and bridegroom, on arriving at the hotel, went immediately to their rooms and were not seen again this evening. Mr. Vanderbilt registered, in a clear and small hand, "Mr. and Mrs. A. Vanderbilt," and the signature attracted a great deal of attention during the evening.

It is understood that Mr. and Mrs. Vanderbilt will spend several days of their honeymoon trip in Pittsfield and the Berkshire Hills, where the sleighing is now excellent.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney are expected at William C. Whitney's lodge on October Mountain to-morrow, and with Mr. and Mrs. Vanderbilt they will take numerous sleighrides over the hills in and about Lenox and Pittsfield.

JUDGE THRASHES A LAWYER.

Adjourns Court for the Purpose—Had Only One Arm, but It Was Enough.

Special to The New York Times.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Jan. 15.—Justice Louis Jacobs adjourned court yesterday afternoon long enough to take a belligerent lawyer by the ears and thrash him. The attorney was James B. Martin, Chairman of the Democratic Town Committee, a prominent politician, and a lawyer of good reputation.

Martin was arguing before the Justice a case where his clients wished to retain possession of some doves that flew into their yard. The case was a slight one, but was bitterly contested, and the upshot was that Chairman Martin broke out against the Justice with, "Jacobs, you don't know anything. You're a liar."

The Justice tried to calm the lawyer, but Martin, it is said, struck him squarely in the face with his fist. Justice Jacobs, who has but one arm, immediately adjourned legal proceedings, jumped down from the platform, and hammered Martin, using fist and foot alike with telling effect. The Democratic committeeman made his escape while the witnesses in the case looked on in wonderment. Suit for assault will be brought against Martin.

Poland! Poland! Poland Water!
Millions of gallons prescribed for the kidneys.—Adv.

JENNIE BOSSCHIETER KILLED BY CHLORAL

Prof. Witthaus Testifies that Dose Given to Her Was Fatal.

SENSATIONAL SCENES IN COURT

Death Fiercely Gives the Lie to a Detective, and Is Placed Upon the Stand — Another Policeman Weeps as He Testifies.

Special to The New York Times.

PATERSON, N. J., Jan. 15.—The Bosschieter murder case was replete with startling incidents to-day, and the three men—Walter C. McAlister, Andrew J. Campbell, and William A. Death—who are accused, with George J. Kerr, of having caused the death of the mill girl, underwent a terrible ordeal. In the morning Prof. Rudolph A. Witthaus, the chemical expert, and several other physicians testified to finding hydrate of chloral in the stomach of the dead girl, and also in the broken bottle which was picked up in a spot where the cabman Sculthorpe testified yesterday he had heard it land on a stone on the night of the tragedy. In the afternoon the developments followed one another with such rapidity as to keep even the auditors in a flurry of excitement.

The men most concerned in the case did not bear up so well under the strain as they did yesterday. Death was particularly nervous, and once he shook his finger at a witness and gave him the lie. His demonstration created excitement in court, which Justice Dixon made no effort to suppress. Scarcely had this sensation subsided when Death himself was called upon the stand in rebuttal of what the Detective Sergeants said of the manner in which they elicited the incriminating statements from him. Then followed the breakdown of an old and experienced detective, who cried like a child when called upon to testify against Campbell, whom he has known since he was a child. Later came the evidence of Detective Perry, who gave so dramatic a recital of a half hour he spent with Death that the courtroom became hushed with a silence that was oppressive. His testimony, more than anything which has happened yet, vividly pictured the shocking nature of the crime and the havoc it has caused in so many homes in Paterson. Last not be likely to disclose the presence of chloral?"

"No, Sir."

"Is it quickly absorbed?"

"It is."

"When taken up by the blood, what does it do to a person?"

"Puts him to sleep. Kills if enough is taken."

"Does it interfere with respiration?"

"Yes."

"What did the quantity of chloral found in this case indicate?"

"That a much larger quantity had been taken."

"How do you account for the disappearance of the rest?"

"It was absorbed and carried to various organs, where it produced physiological effects."

"What you found wouldn't have caused death?"

"No more than if it had staid in the bottle."

"Then the part that was missing was the part which caused death?"

"Yes."

"If the deceased died suddenly, the death being preceded for three hours by a deep coma, and the autopsy failed to disclose a cause of death, what would you say caused this girl's death?"

"Chloral hydrate."

Ex-Judge W. T. Hoffman of Jersey City took the expert in hand for cross-examination. The points which were raised by the questioning lawyer were watched with the keenest interest by the three prisoners. They leaned forward in their seats fearful that they would not hear the replies of the witness, and in other ways displayed entire absorption.

"Would you be satisfied with one of the half dozen tests which you say you made?" Mr. Hoffman asked.

"Not with one. I drew my conclusion from all."

"Can you tell that a fatal dose was taken in this particular case?"

"My analysis accounts for 10 grains, 5 in the stomach and 5 scattering. Now, 20 grains is a fatal dose; has been known to kill. In all my experience I never found but one corpse in which there was enough unabsorbed poison to cause death. I am convinced that the girl died of chloral poisoning."

"Wouldn't a large dose of absinthe cause the same effect as chloral?"

"If it was sufficient to produce these effects it would produce them. The effects might resemble each other, but in the case of absinthe poisoning there would be delirium of a much more violent sort than the rare delirium following chloral poisoning. I never heard of a case of absinthe poisoning. I can't remember that I ever read of one."

"Is there enough alcohol and other ingredients in champagne or Manhattan cocktails to kill?"

"I don't think a person could drink enough Manhattan cocktails to kill him."

Dr. F. N. Todd and Dr. William H. Newman were put on the stand to testify regarding the amount of chloral necessary to produce death. They corroborated Dr. Williams substantially.

After the recess Chief of Police Grau was called. He told of going to the Rock Road on the morning of Oct. 19. The most important thing which he said was that he had found the white rag which was tied around one of the dead girl's fingers.

Detective Sergt. John H. Taylor, who assisted in arresting all four of the prisoners, was called to the witness-stand by Mr. Ilmley to tell the manner of the arrest of the accused, but principally to pave the way for the introduction of the statements, in the nature of confessions, made by Death and Campbell.

"When Death was brought in did he say anything regarding the charge?" Taylor was asked.

"He did."

DEATH'S STATEMENT VOLUNTARY.

"Were his statements of his own free will, uninfluenced by a threat?"

"They were."

Mr. Dunn anxiously took up the witness for cross-examination. It became evident in a minute that the defense proposed to closely question the detective regarding the confessions which were made by their clients, evidently with a view to keeping them out if they could.

"You say no threats were made, or promises held out, to Death if he made a statement?" Mr. Dunn began.

"No, Sir; none."

"Were there any revolvers on the table."

"I don't remember."

"Did any one say that the other prisoners had already told all?"

"No, Sir."

"Did any one tell Death that Kerr and McAlister were down stairs, meaning the prison?"

"No."

"What was said to him to induce him to talk?"

"I don't know, unless it was that we told him that the hack driver had told all."

"Why did you want him to talk?"

"We wanted to find the fourth man. We knew that his name was Andrew, but that was all. When Death had made his statement we also had the last name."

"When he got through telling his story didn't some one of you detectives who were present tell him that he lied?"

"No; it was this way: Some one said: 'Do you mean to tell us that you were not with Jennie Bosschieter on the night of Oct. 18? Why, we know better than that.'"

At this point ex-Judge Scott rose to his feet and objected. He said that the law was very delicate about confessions—more delicate in some States than in New Jersey; that the statements which had been made should be shown to have been made voluntarily, not after a warning.

Justice Dixon said that he would not allow the witness to testify regarding the statements of the prisoner unless he had proof that it was made voluntarily. Taylor was thereupon excused.

Detective Sergeant Henry Titus was next called. He said that he was one of the four officers who took down the statements made by Death. His testimony was similar to that of Taylor.

Detective Sergeant McInerney followed him. He also went over the same ground, but began to supplement it by saying:

"At 6 o'clock I went to Death's cell and asked him—"

"You lie!" rang fiercely through the courtroom.

Death was on his feet and was shaking his finger at the witness. Ex-Judge Scott, who sat beside him, put him down into his chair again.

The statements made by Death were finally admitted by Justice Dixon. They proved to be merely pencil notes made by the detectives when Death was arrested. In these statements Death is quoted as having said that he saw McAlister put two doses of something in Jennie Bosschieter's drink.

To the surprise of everybody in court ex-Judge Scott requested the privilege at this point to put Death upon the stand to show that threats had been used to cause him to make the statements which he made.

DEATH ON THE WITNESS STAND.

The Justice granted the privilege, and Death went upon the stand displaying no more concern than the witnesses who had testified against him. He was questioned by ex-Judge Scott.

"When were you arrested?"

"At 12:30 at night."

"Who were the officers who arrested you?"

"Detective Taylor and a policeman."

"Where were they when you first saw them?"

"In the kitchen of my home."

"Who let them in?"

"My mother-in-law opened the door for them. My wife told me they were there. She said a man was outside who wanted to see me, and I went down and they told me I was under arrest."

"What did they say to you?"

"They told me to hurry up and get dressed."

"Where did they take you?"

"To the detectives' quarters."

"Who was there when you got there?"

"Detectives Titus, Lord, Taylor, and McInerney."

"What did they say to you?"

"They said: 'Billy, you don't need to be afraid. You're not very deep in this thing. We have McAlister and Kerr down stairs. You better tell the truth; it will be better for you. Tell it all; we'll make it easy for you.'"

Under cross-examination by Mr. Emley, Death stuck to his original statement that the detectives promised him that he would come out all right if he made a statement.

Detective Titus was then recalled to the stand, and was questioned regarding the confession of Campbell. He was going along pretty well with his testimony, when he said that Campbell had suddenly broken in upon him with the remark:

"This is a bad job."

"I knew it to be a bad job, and also knew the boy," the witness continued, and there halted. He could go no further, his voice was choked by sobs, and tears trickled down his face. It was some time before he could resume again. He was soon afterward excused.

Detective Perry added the last dramatic incident to the afternoon's proceedings. He said that on the night when Campbell was arrested he (the detective) was ordered to sit in a room with Death, but not to speak of the crime. He said that he obeyed the injunction for about twenty minutes, but that the silence then became monotonous.

"I lit a pipe, and Death lit a cigarette," Perry went on. "Then Death suddenly asked me what I thought they would do to him, and I told him I couldn't tell, as I didn't know the nature of the charge against him.

"He then began telling me his whole history, beginning with where he said he was born, and which, he said, was at Stratford-on-Avon, the birthplace of Shakespeare. He then went over the experiences of the night when Jennie Bosschieter was killed, leaving out nothing."

Mr. Emley said that he would rest with the prosecution at this point.

Several detectives were recalled to the stand after that, however. They brought out only the one new fact, that Death had s[illegible] during his confessions:

"My, but wasn't she dopey?"

NEW GERMAN TARIFF.

Announcement in Reichstag that Negotiation of Fresh Treaties Will Be Begun as Soon as Possible.

BERLIN, Jan. 15.—In the Reichstag today the Secretary of the Interior, Count von Posadowsky-Wehner, in concluding an announcement of the desire of the Imperial Chancellor, Count von Bülow, that the new customs tariff should be presented to the Reichstag as soon as possible, said:

"The progress of our industries has made it necessary that we should build up our commercial policy on a new foundation. As soon as the new tariff is approved by the Federal Council and Reichstag, even before notice is given of the termination of current treaties, negotiations will be opened with the Governments concerned for the conclusion of new treaties. I am convinced that it will be possible in this way to establish treaty relations on a new basis with the States concerned."

FRENCH ASSOCIATIONS BILL.

Debate on Measure Directed Against Religious Congregations Begins in the Chamber.

PARIS, Jan. 15.—In the Chamber of Deputies to-day M. Renault Morlière (Republican, representing Mayenne) opened the debate on the proposed law of associations. He made a lengthy legal argument against the bill, which, he claimed, was unjust and would lead to abuses. The Government, he asserted, evidently wished to reach the cash boxes of the congregations. He warned the House not to play the game of the Collectivists, as the confiscation of property, beginning with the congregations, might become infectious.

René Viviani (Radical Socialist, Department of the Seine) said he regarded the measure as not sufficiently drastic so far as the congregations were concerned, as many of these could evade it. The Government, he declared, had to fight against the eternal alliance of the Church and the congregations. He described the funds of the congregations as the "war chests of the Caesarian conspirators to overturn the republic." The present bill, he predicted, would prove merely a skirmish to future struggles. "We must not shrink from battles," he exclaimed, "in pursuing the régime of justice against the congregations and the Church."

The debate was adjourned until Thursday.

HANOVERIANS DESIRE FREEDOM.

Mass Meeting of Guelf Supporters Sends Telegram to Mr. Krueger.

HANOVER, Prussia, Jan. 15.—A mass meeting of Guelfs in Hanover to-day, under the Presidency of Baron von Schelewünstorf, who represents one of the Hanoverian districts in the Reichstag and is himself a Guelf and anti-Prussian, telegraphed to Mr. Krüger an expression of sympathy, together with the hope that God would help both the Boers and the people of Hanover, which country Prussia annexed, to a final victory. The following was the text of the dispatch:

"Three thousand Hanoverians, whose country was annexed by Prussia, declare their heartfelt sympathy with you and with the cause of right and freedom, which you represent; and they hope that the Almighty will ultimately decree victory for the Boer peoples and the Hanoverians."

GERMAN OFFICERS' DUELS.

Debate in Reichstag on the Action of a Regimental Corps.

BERLIN, Jan. 15.—The Government, in the Reichstag to-day, was interpellated in regard to an occurrence at Cologne, where some young Catholic non-commissioned officers, who had qualified as army reserve officers, were, contrary to the regulations, asked to set forth their views on dueling, and were rejected because they declined to recognize that dueling was obligatory.

Gen. von Gossler, the Minister of War, replied. He said the Imperial order forbidding questions on dueling had been sufficiently complied with by the erasure from the records of the proceedings in question, and there was no reason for the military administration to take special action.

Speakers of all parties condemned the Cologne affair, and several of them inquired if the time had not come to abolish the selection of officers by the officers' corps of regiments.

Gen. von Gossler said there were only four duels fought in 1900, and, he added, three of these were bloodless. The system for the selection of officers, the Minister explained, dated from the regeneration of the army, and must on no account be abolished.

French Desperado Kills Himself.

TROYES, France, Jan. 15.—An army officer and a Commissary of Police at 7 o'clock this morning decided to enter the house at Saint Savine of the murderer Coquard, who, last Friday, when pursued by the police, shut himself in the garret with a quantity of arms and ammunition and threatened to kill any one who approached. They found the house empty, and proceeded to the barn, where, surrounded by soldiers with loaded rifles, they forced the windows open, and finally found the body of Coquard hanging in the garret. He had also fired a gun under his chin, the shot emerging from an eye. It was apparent that Coquard committed suicide yesterday.

Coming Here on the Oceanic.

LIVERPOOL, Jan. 15.—The passenger list of the White Star liner Oceanic, which sails from this port, via Queenstown, for New York to-morrow, contains the names of Mrs. Arthur Paget, Sir William Orr-Ewing, Bart.; Sir Weetman Dickinson Pearson, Bart., and Lady Pearson, and Robert Lorraine. The last-named has just returned from South Africa, where he served in the Yeomanry, and he goes to New York to play the leading part in "To Have and to Hold."

Rebels Defeated Outside Panama.

COLON, Colombia, Jan. 15.—Gen. Alban attacked the revolutionary forces outside the City of Panama on Saturday. The fighting was of short duration. The revolutionists were defeated, losing many killed and wounded, as well as two chiefs captured. The Government forces sustained a loss of seven killed and wounded.

Accident to Duchess of Marlborough.

LONDON, Jan. 15.—The Duchess of Marlborough, while hunting with the Heythorp hounds yesterday, was thrown from her horse while clearing a fence. The horse rolled over her, but she escaped with nothing worse than a severe shaking.

M. Pichon Not to be Supplanted.

PARIS, Jan. 15.—The Minister of Foreign Affairs, M. Delcassé, denies that he intends to replace M. Pichon, the French Minister at Peking. He hopes M. Pichon will be enabled to pursue the negotiations to the end.

THE WEATHER.

LOCAL FORECAST.—Probably rain in the afternoon; southerly winds.

Occasional snow or rain is indicated for to-day in New England, the northern portion of the Middle Atlantic States, the lake regions, and the extreme Northwest; elsewhere generally fair weather will obtain, with falling temperatures in the western portion of the lower lake region, the upper lake region, the Ohio Valley, the Mississippi Valley, Central and Lower Missouri Valley, and the northern portion of the West Gulf States. Fresh to brisk southerly winds are indicated for the New England Coast; fresh to brisk southerly, shifting to southwesterly winds on the Middle Atlantic Coast, and light to fresh southerly to southwesterly winds on the South Atlantic Coast.

The record of temperature for the twenty-four hours ended at midnight, taken from THE NEW YORK TIMES'S thermometer and from the thermometer of the Weather Bureau is as follows:

	—Weather Bureau—		TIMES
	1900.	1901.	1901.
3 A. M.	33	37	39
6 A. M.	34	37	38
9 A. M.	39	36	41
12 M.	41	40	45
3 P. M.	42	42	45
6 P. M.	40	43	42
9 P. M.	40	40	41
12 P. M.	39	39	40

THE TIMES'S thermometer is 6 feet above the street level; that of the Weather Bureau is 285 feet above the street level.

Average temperatures yesterday were as follows:

Printing House Square.....41½
Weather Bureau.....39
Corresponding date, 1900.....38
Corresponding date for last twenty-five years.30

The maximum temperature yesterday was 43 degrees at 6 P. M.; the minimum temperature was 35 degrees at 12:30 A. M. At 8 A. M. the barometer registered 29.79; at 8 P. M. it registered 29.88. The humidity at 8 A. M. was 85 per cent.; at 8 P. M. it was 66 per cent.

NEGRO DIES AT THE STAKE

Fred Alexander Dragged from Leavenworth Jail by a Mob.

Then Taken to the Scene of the Murder of Pearl Forbes and Burned to Death—Protests His Innocence to the Last.

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., Jan. 15.—Fred Alexander, the negro who on Saturday evening attempted to assault Miss Eva Roth, and who, it is supposed, assaulted and killed Pearl Forbes in this city in November last, was taken from the Sheriff's guard by a mob to-day and burned at the stake at the scene of the Forbes murder, half a dozen blocks from the centre of the city. Probably 8,000 people witnessed the burning.

The negro was taken from his cell at the State penitentiary at 3 o'clock this afternoon, placed in a hack, and brought to town. Fifty Deputy Marshals surrounded him, and Deputy Sheriffs Myers and Brown sat in the hack on either side of him.

There were fifty buggies and wagons in the procession which followed the hack. The trip to town was made quietly, and there was no attempt to create a disturbance on the road.

When the corner of Fourth and Olive Streets was reached, the police who were in the hack following the one in which Alexander rode jumped out and chased several negroes. This created a diversion which attracted the attention of every one, and during the excitement the hack carrying Alexander was frantically driven to the county jail, where the prisoner was locked in a cell just as the mob reached the doors. All the doors of the jail were then locked.

THE JAIL BROKEN OPEN.

The crowd first attempted to gain admission by peaceful means, but Sheriff Everhardy refused to deliver the negro. Then the crowd pushed its way to a side door, and the door was forced from its hinges. Then the crowd surged into the corridor by the narrow doorway. A huge iron bar was secured, and the iron door of the cellroom attacked. This was finally bent so that it could be forced far enough back for men to climb over it. Several gained an entrance in this manner. In the meantime the crowd pushed down the side gate of the stockade, and in a moment there was a yelling pack in the jail yard.

The other side door, which was made of heavy sheet iron, was the next object of attack. Several men had provided themselves with sledge hammers and cold chisels, and it was the work of only a few moments before the hinges were cut from outside, and off came the door. More men pushed inside, the iron bar was again called into play, and the doors of the cellroom broken down.

Then the cry went up: "He is not here; he has escaped. Search the Court House; there is a tunnel between, and he has been taken out that way."

But a man with sharp eyes espied a shapeless mass crouched in a corner of a dark cell. An exultant cry broke out:

"He is here! We've got him! Bring the keys."

Several keys were found lying about the corridors, and these were passed to the crowd. They would not work. Then again a sledge hammer was called into action, and in five minutes the heavy lock had been broken off. A yell of terror issued from the cell. The tension at this time was so great that men filled the corridors with hysterical laughter. Outside the crowd was yelling itself hoarse. Then into the cell rushed those who were nearest the door.

The mob issued forth in a moment, dragging the negro by the coat collar. He had been struck over the head with a hammer, but was still conscious. Men fought to get at him, and, infuriated, struck savagely at him, hitting only his captors, who guarded him well.

"Don't hurt him!" they cried. "We'll burn him!" was the response.

NO CONFESSION OBTAINED.

Outside the stockade the crowd surged. Alexander and his captors were surrounded by a solid wall of human beings. Across Third Street and up the hill into the Court House yard they dragged him. Then they stopped.

"Confess before we harm you," they said.

"I am innocent," the negro replied. "I am dying for what another man did. I see lots of my friends here; they know I did not do it. If I had been guilty I would have said so at the penitentiary and would have staid there for life. The Warden told me so. The policemen told me so. Would not I have told them if I was guilty?"

"You lie!" the mob cried, and one huge fellow struck Alexander in the forehead with his fist three times. This seemed not to have the slightest effect on the negro. When he talked his voice was steady. He spoke with the resignation of a man who sees before him only death.

When he had finished talking a move was made for a large cottonwood tree in a corner of the Court House yard. The negro was backed up against it and search made for a chain. One could not be found, and while the mob waited, Alexander received another chance to confess.

"My God, men!" he cried, "I have told you that I am innocent. I can't tell you any more. I didn't do it."

"He lies; burn him!" cried the mob.

"Take him where he committed the murder," suggested one.

The suggestion met with instant approval, and the crowd, carrying the negro, pushed on toward Fourth Street. There were many wagons standing about, and into one of these Alexander was thrown. The wagon was started for the vicinity of Lawrence Avenue and Spruce Streets, followed by the crowd.

At 5:15 o'clock Alexander was brought to the scene of the murder of Pearl Forbes, at the corner of Lawrence Avenue and Spruce Street. The wagon was stopped in front of the ravine and surrounded by the crowd. The leader of the mob called for silence. The roar ceased, and Alexander was pushed forward into full view of the crowd. A howl went up, which was hushed as the prisoner raised his shackled hands and began to speak.

"You are going to kill me, whatever I say," he said; "but you men are wrong. I want to tell you right now you've got the wrong man. I did not do that, and some day you men here will run up against the man who did. I know it ain't any use to say so, for you're going to kill me; but I didn't do it."

The men standing behind Alexander then dragged him from the wagon, and the roar from the crowd drowned every other sound. The negro was quickly driven down the embankment to a pile of wood, with his hands still shackled, and there he was bound to the stake.

THE IMPROVISED STAKE.

Long before the wagon containing the doomed man arrived at the place a crowd had gathered. Many carried rails and boards. Several seized railroad irons and carried them to the ravine. The spot chosen for the stake was the exact one on which Pearl Forbes's body was found on the morning of Nov. 7.

The first thing done was to plant a railroad iron upright in the mud. This was made fast to cross irons. Around the improvised stake wood and boards were piled. The negro was chained in a standing position to the upright railroad iron. Chains were bound round him, and he was made fast to the post. Coal oil was then poured over him.

Before the match was applied John Forbes, father of the murdered girl, stepped up to Alexander and said: "Are you guilty of murdering my daughter?"

"I don't know what you have me here for," said Alexander.

Forbes replied: "For killing my girl on this very spot."

"Mr. Forbes, if that's your name, you have the wrong man," said the negro.

"Burn him! Burn him!" cried the crowd.

NEGRO CALLS FOR HIS MOTHER.

"Gentlemen, you've got lots of time," said Alexander. "You're burning an innocent man. You took advantage of me. You gave me no show. Can I see my mother?"

A man called for the negro's mother, but she was not in the crowd.

Alexander then said: "Will you let me shake hands with all my friends?"

"You have no friends in this crowd," said one of the men in charge of the negro. "If you have anything to say, say it in a hurry."

Another man then stepped up and said to Alexander: "Make your peace with your God, nigger, for you will surely die."

Coal oil was then applied for the second time, and while this was being done Alexander called to acquaintances in the crowd and said good-bye to them. He talked rationally until John Forbes lighted the match. Again Alexander was asked to make a confession, but he replied that he had nothing to say.

As the flames leaped about him Alexander turned a ghastly hue, and, clasping his hands together, began to sway to and fro, while the crowd yelled.

In five minutes the negro was hanging limp and lifeless by the chains that bound him. As soon as the crowd saw that life was extinct it began to slowly disperse. Hundreds, however, staid to the last.

CROWD SEIZES SOUVENIRS.

Men kept piling on wood until about 7 o'clock, when the flames were allowed to die down. From 6 to 8 o'clock there was a continuous stream of people going to the scene of the burning. These were persons who had been unable to get away from their work in the afternoon and who were determined not to miss seeing the awful spectacle. When the fire had died down sufficiently to allow the crowd to approach the remains of Alexander there was a wild scramble to obtain relics. Bits of charred flesh, pieces of chain, scraps of wood—everything that could possibly serve as a souvenir—was seized.

After Alexander's arrest he was taken before Miss Roth, who identified him. Since then a mob has surrounded the penitentiary day and night.

GOV. STANLEY INDIGNANT.

Blames the Sheriff—Death Penalty May Be Established in Kansas as a Result of the Mob's Act.

TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 15.—Gov. Stanley is indignant over the lynching at Leavenworth. He says it will result in the establishment of the death penalty in Kansas, as it should do.

Gov. Stanley condemns Sheriff Everhardy of Leavenworth in unmeasured terms. He says the Sheriff should be made to make suitable retribution, if such a thing is possible.

"The Sheriff of Leavenworth is either a despicable scoundrel or a despicable coward," said the Governor to-night. "There was no reason in the world why the negro should not have been protected to the last. The whole militia power of the State would be devoted to that effort, and the Sheriff knew it all the time.

"I ordered the militia of Lawrence and Topeka to be ready, and they would have been sent to the scene of the trouble the minute the Sheriff said he needed them. Instead of that, however, the Sheriff was sure that he could guard the man. Upon receiving repeated assurances from Sheriff Everhardy that he could and would protect the prisoner to the last, I reluctantly countermanded the order for the troops to go to Leavenworth.

"The Warden of the penitentiary had no right to keep Alexander there, as he had been convicted of no crime. He could do nothing else than deliver him to the Sheriff when that individual insisted that it should be done.

"But the life of the negro should have been preserved at all hazards, and it is to the lasting shame of the great State of Kansas that such an infamous proceeding should have been allowed to take place within a few miles of the capital city."

Most of the members of the State Legislature, when interviewed to-night, expressed the opinion that the only way to avoid future acts of the kind will be to make it possible to hang a man for the commission of a capital crime.

The Judiciary Committee of the Senate announced to-night that a bill will be prepared making death the penalty for murder.

AT THE HOTELS.

MURRAY HILL HOTEL—Judge J. Rider Cady, Hudson.

WALDORF-ASTORIA—Ex-Gov. W. A. McCorkle, West Virginia; Judge John Sanford, Amsterdam, N. Y.

GRAND—Capt. A. G. Hammond, United States Army; Capt. E. E. Winslow, United States Army.

VICTORIA—Ex-Mayor Bruce Whitney, Peoria, Ill.; Major R. P. Camden, Wheeling; Judge J. W. Connor, Knoxville.

FIFTH AVENUE—Senator Nelson W. Aldrich, Rhode Island.

HOFFMAN—Judge Andrew Hamilton, Albany.

ASTOR—Frank M. Baker, Owego.

PLAZA—F. W. Huidekoper, Washington.

MANHATTAN—Wu Ting Fang, Chinese Minister, Washington; Samuel Belden, Commander, United States Navy.

EMPIRE—G. Robertson, Montreal.

ARRIVAL OF BUYERS.

Dey Brothers & Co., Syracuse, N. Y.; J. A. Russell, cloaks and suits; 66 Grand Street; New Amsterdam Hotel.

Rosenthal, M., San Francisco, Cal., notions, linens, and white goods; 360 Broadway; Broadway Central Hotel.

Ely & Walker Dry Goods Company, St. Louis, Mo.; A. Jungk, gloves; 258 Church Street; Hotel Earlington.

Ferguson, McKinney, Dry Goods Company, St. Louis, Mo.; F. Ferguson, linings; 45 Leonard Street.

Miller & Rhoads, Richmond, Va.; W. Scott, dress goods and silks; Hoffman House.

Wald, L., & Co., Cincinnati, Ohio; H. Cusson, furnishing goods; 62 White Street; Hotel Imperial.

Carson, Pirie, Scott & Co., Chicago, Ill.; H. F. Streich, woolens and cotton goods; W. H. Price, notions; 115 Worth Street.

Field, Marshall, & Co., Chicago, Ill.; W. R. Wiley, dress goods; 104 Worth Street.

Hunter & Hunter, Detroit, Mich.; M. P. Murray, upholstery goods; 57 White Street.

Schwartz, L., & Co., San Angelo, Texas; L. Schwartz, notions; 43 Leonard Street.

Smith & Murray, Springfield, Mass.; C. A. Rochat, notions, fancy goods and linings; 65 White Street; Murray Hill Hotel.

Sanger Bros., Waco, Texas; L. Bear, notions and furnishing goods; 13 Walker Street; Belvidere House.

Farwell, J. V., Co., Chicago, Ill.; F. M. Hayden, cloaks; 115 Worth Street.

Whitney, W. M., & Co., Albany, N. Y.; J. P. Reed, housefurnishing goods; 335 Broadway; Park Avenue Hotel.

Stearns, R. H., & Co., Boston, Mass.; W. L. Barnard, cloaks and suits; Hotel Imperial.

Houghton & Dutton, Boston, Mass.; S. A. Douglass, domestics and dress goods; Hotel Vendome.

Lyons Brothers, Chicago, Ill.; H. Sunnowith, linens, laces, and white goods; 258 Church Street; Herald Square Hotel.

Kaufman Brothers, Pittsburg, Penn.; C. M. Igel, housefurnishing goods; A. Kaufman, dry goods; 349 Broadway; Hoffman House.

Solomon & Ruben, Pittsburg, Penn.; J. Bibro, cloaks and suits; 13 Astor Place; Hoffman House.

Bloch, A., & Co., Cincinnati, Ohio; O. J. Bloch, tailors' trimmings; 53 Worth Street; Hoffman House.

McTeer, Hood & Co., Knoxville, Tenn.; J. F. McTeer, woolens; Hoffman House.

Almy, Bigelow & Washburn, Salem, Mass.; Miss M. A. Breeden, trimmings; 2 Walker Street.

Adam, Meldrum & Anderson Company, Buffalo, N. Y.; F. S. Collins, notions; C. R. Rick, fancy goods; 2 Walker Street.

Dive, Pomeroy & Stewart, Reading, Penn.; R. J. Caim, house furnishing goods; 2 Walker Street.

Brown, Thompson & Co., Hartford, Conn.; T. Elsner, millinery; 2 Walker Street.

Hansen, H., Milwaukee, Wis.; furs; Holland House.

Moler, G. G., & Son, Columbus, Ohio; W. S. Moler, cloaks and waists; Grand Hotel.

Lesher, J. H., & Co., Chicago, Ill.; I. A. Lesher, trimmings; Hotel Burlington.

Smith & Murray, Springfield, Mass.; H. J. Donnelly, laces and embroideries; 57 White Street; Murray Hill Hotel.

Reid & Hughes, Norwich, Conn.; A. Reid, dry goods; 52 Franklin Street; Murray Hill Hotel.

Shartenberg & Robinson, Pawtucket, R. I.; J. Shartenberg, dry goods; 52 Franklin Street; Park Avenue Hotel.

Wyman, Partridge & Co., Minneapolis, Minn.; D. C. Warden, furnishing and white goods; R. M. Ankery, dry goods; 258 Church Street; Hotel Navarre.

Baird, D., & Son, Louisville, Ky.; W. J. Baird, millinery; 622 Broadway; Hotel Marlborough.

Hub (The,) Baltimore, Md.; W. Schleisner, clothing; B. Schleisner, clothing; Hotel Marlborough.

McCarthy, D., & Sons, Syracuse, N. Y.; B. L. Young, upholstery goods; 43 Leonard Street; Herald Square Hotel.

Conrad & Co., Boston, Mass.; M. A. Hellbrun, cloaks and suits; Hotel Vendome.

Flint, F. E., Washington, D. C., cloaks and suits; Hotel Navarre.

Saks, L., Birmingham, Ala.; clothing; H. Saks, clothing; Herald Square Hotel.

Dives, Pomeroy & Stewart, Harrisburg, Penn.; A. J. Kleine, housefurnishing goods; 2 Walker Street; Herald Square Hotel.

White Fruit House, Fort Wayne, Ind.; A. B. White, notions and fancy goods; Herald Square Hotel.

Rosenberg, J., & Co., Pittsburg, Penn.; H. Rosenberg, clothing; F. D. Rosenberg, clothing; Herald Square Hotel.

Almy, Bigelow & Washburn, Salem, Mass.; H. Batt, housefurnishing goods; 2 Walker Street; Herald Square Hotel.

Siegel, Cooper & Co., Chicago, Ill.; J. Hollywood, carpets; Sixth Avenue and Eighteenth Street; Herald Square Hotel.

Maxwell & McClure Notion Company, Kansas City, Mo.; R. M. Maxwell, notions, white goods, laces, and furnishing goods; Hotel Albert.

Hundley & Frazier Dry Goods Company, St. Joseph, Mo.; W. A. Graham, furnishing goods; 43 Leonard Street; Hotel Albert.

Daniels & Fisher, Denver, Col.; J. W. Warren, stationery; 56 Worth Street; Hotel Albert.

McKelvey, G. M., Company, Youngstown, Ohio; E. G. Miller, domestics, cloaks, fancy goods, muslin underwear, and corsets; 335 Broadway; Hotel Imperial.

Bartel, Adam H., Company, Richmond, Ind.; B. C. Bartel, notions, fancy goods, and jewelry; 61 Leonard Street; Hotel Albert.

Jones & Podmore, Troy, N. Y.; J. W. Podmore, jewelry; Hotel Albert.

Hillmans, Chicago, Ill.; M. R. Wieman, jewelry; 337 Broadway.

Wanamaker, John, Philadelphia, Penn.; C. G. Darnell, hosiery and umbrellas; Broadway and Tenth Street; St. Denis Hotel.

Branders, J. L., & Sons, Omaha, Neb.; E. Branders, clothing; 328 Church Street; Criterion Hotel.

Hecht Brothers & Co., Baltimore, Md.; S. Hecht, Jr., dry goods; A. S. Hecht, dry goods; Hotel Marlborough.

Rubitschek, Frank, & Miller, Minneapolis, Minn.; J. N. Frank, notions; Hotel Marlborough.

Strauss Brothers, Baltimore, Md.; S. Strauss, dry goods; Hotel Marlborough.

BEST & CO

Boys'

Extra Pants,

$1.29.

At the end of each season we make up the remnants of our fine woolens into extra pants and sell them at a nominal price. The lot just finished is especially good—regular price would be from $1.75 to $3—all for $1.29.

A chance to test our make of Boys' Clothing at a small outlay.

60-62 West 23d St.

HOMER DAVENPORT TELLS OF HIS CARTOONS

Senator Spooner's Baby Recognized His Caricature.

Mr. Gladstone Surprised at the Visit of a Man from Oregon—How a Negro Recognized Senator Hanna.

Homer Davenport, the cartoonist, made a speech at the dinner of the Quill Club in the Hotel Savoy last night. He told anecdotes of celebrities whom he had met for the purpose of distorting their features on paper, remarking, incidentally, that he thought a cartoon was sometimes a better likeness of the person represented than the best photograph, in that the exaggerated portrayal of certain distinguishing characteristics in a man's face would often give a truer idea of the man than would an exact likeness.

"One story of the effect of a cartoon that is especially good," he said, "is about an experience I had with Senator Spooner of Wisconsin. The hair on the back of his head stood somewhat awry, as you know, and when I drew a cartoon of him I made his locks look more disarranged than they really were, of course. After the Senator saw the picture he told all his friends that it was not one of him. He took pains to tell this to every one he saw, and so it came about that many of his acquaintances really believed that they had been mistaken in first thinking the drawing meant to depict him. When he had pretty well spread the report that there had been an error, he saw me.

"'Well, well,' he said, 'I have fooled most of them, but there was one person that could not be deceived. I took the picture home and showed it to the baby, who is about sixteen months old, and can't talk much as yet. When I asked him whose picture it was, he replied, 'Papa.'"

Mr. Davenport told of his experience in interviewing Gladstone with a view of getting new ideas for cartoons of that statesman. He had noticed, he said, that those who had drawn the Grand Old Man for the comic papers, Phil May included, had always represented his eyes by great black dots.

"I decided to go down to the old man's home and see him. Julian Ralph, whose advice I asked about the proposed visit, said to me that Gladstone would not see those who had reason to see him, and that I might get an interview with him because there was no earthly reason for my doing so. After we had talked the matter over it was determined that I should go to Hawarden Castle and send in a letter of introduction, in which it would be said that I was from a little village in Oregon. The purpose of this was to make Mr. Gladstone think where in the world that place might be, thus arousing his interest so that he would see me. This part of my plan completed, I listened to some advice from Ralph as to how I should conduct myself at Hawarden.

"'Don't joke with him,' said my friend. 'He has no time for that. And don't let the conversation drag. He hasn't any time for that either.'

"I drove out to the castle in a hansom, rehearsing what I was going to say as I went along. After I had alighted, and was walking up toward the main entrance, I heard a voice say: 'Oh, you haven't learned any manners yet.' Looking about, I saw Gladstone himself, who was remonstrating with a pet dog. I presented my letter. When he had read it, he said:

"'Well, well, I hope you have not come all the way from Oregon to see me.'

"'Yes, I have,' I replied, not being able to think of another answer.

"'You must be fond of traveling,' he mused, as he gazed at me with those great eyes, the pupils of which certainly looked as though they were big black dots. I understood why the other cartoonists had drawn them as they had.

"His last remark surely seemed to be in the nature of a jest, but I remembered Ralph's warning and thought that I must be mistaken. I could not think of anything to say. Then I remembered that all the houses and fences in the neighborhood had on them pictures or outlines of things that looked like crows. I said:

"'Mr. Gladstone, I notice that everything about your place has crows on it.' I pointed toward the figure of one of the black birds on a gable of the castle.

"'Crows?' he queried, not seeing my motion.

"'Yes, crows,' I repeated, pointing at the figure again.

"'Rooks,' he cried, and his voice was full of disgust at my ignorance.

"As I drove away from the place, after a few more words with him, I concluded that it would be well for me to draw a line or two to keep the ideas I had gotten in my memory, so I told the cabby to stop not far from the castle and began to sketch. It seems that the cabby looked at me through his peephole for in a minute or so he called down: 'If the old man you were going to bring away the Grand Old Man with you, I would have brought a two-seater.'"

The speaker told how he came to draw the cartoon entitled "Lest We Forget." It represented Uncle Sam pointing his finger at Admiral Dewey, who stood on the bridge of a battleship in the midst of the smoke of a great battle.

"This had a different effect from some other sketches of the cartoon species," he said. "A New England preacher, who had forbidden the paper in which it was published to come into his house because of cartoons, changed his order and became a regular subscriber to the sheet. The Admiral sent for me and told me that he had received thousands of letters to the effect that the cartoon expressed the sentiments of the writers. A Washington dealer asked me for a lot of original drawings to sell. This one, although I placed a fancy price on it to keep it from going, was the first sold, John R. McLean buying it for Admiral Dewey."

Another story told by the artist was one about Senator Hanna. An old negro from Georgia named Dr. Brown came into the lobby of the Senate Chamber and met the Senator, whom he recognized at first sight. When Mr. Hanna asked how it was that he was recognized by a man who had never seen him, Dr. Brown answered that he had seen pictures. After being urged he confessed that these pictures were cartoons. He acknowledged this with reluctance, and added by way of apology:

"Well, Mr. Senator, to tell you the truth, they didn't look like you a little bit, but I knew you by 'em in a minute."

While Mr. Davenport told the stories, he drew cartoons on a big board beside him, making a sketch of each man as he talked about him, and explaining the different lines necessary to bring out particular characteristics. He closed his talk by telling, by request, how he came to be a cartoonist, saying that his father had to force the choice of that profession, he himself wishing in his boyhood to be a shoemaker and spending the greater part of his time in the shop of a man of that craft.

New York's Leading Fur Establishment.

Importer and Manufacturer, HALL Established 1856.

Important Sale of Furs.

Reduction of 33⅓ To-day and Thursday.

Jackets.

$175	Sealskin Coats at	$125
$200	" " "	$150
$225	" " "	$1 5
$250	" " "	$200
$275	" " "	$225
$350	" " "	$250
$400	" " "	$300
$125	Persian Lamb at	$65
$175	" " "	$100
$225	" " "	$150
$275	Broadtail Persian,	$175
$300	" "	$ 25
$350	" "	$250
$400	" "	$300
$35	Electric

QUAY AGAIN SENATOR FROM PENNSYLVANIA

Some Former Opponents Help to Elect Him.

His Commission Already Signed and He Starts for Washington To-day—Senatorial Elections in Other States.

HARRISBURG, Penn., Jan. 15.—After a memorable struggle which had continued for several years, Col. M. S. Quay, regular Republican nominee for United States Senator, was elected to-day by the Pennsylvania Legislature to fill the vacancy created by the expiration of his term on March 4, 1899. His combined vote in the Senate and House was 130, or 3 more than the number necessary to a choice. The House and Senate will meet jointly at noon to-morrow to canvass the vote and declare an election. Mr. Quay's commission has already been prepared and signed, and he will take it to Washington to-morrow afternoon. A party of his friends will go with him, to be present when he takes his seat in the Senate on Thursday.

The Democratic vote was cast almost solidly for Col. James M. Guffey of Pittsburg, and that of the anti-Quay Republicans was divided among nine candidates. Representative William J. Galvin of Schuylkill, who two weeks ago voted with the Republicans on the organization of the House, was the only Democrat who voted for Mr. Quay. When he cast his vote the followers of Col. Quay broke into cheers which continued for more than a minute.

The wildest excitement prevailed during the balloting in the House. Long before that body convened at 3 o'clock the Chamber was packed with legislators and spectators. The crush at the doors was so great that many members had to have the aid of police to get into the hall. The entrances were guarded by a cordon of policemen, but they were powerless to cope with the crowd. In a rush to admit Representative Galvin the door in one of the lobbies was broken down, and the hall was soon crowded to suffocation.

Speaker Marshall called the House to order at 3 o'clock and directed the Sergeant at Arms to clear the aisles. The House officers were unable to handle the crowds, and the Harrisburg police force was called in to assist them. Just before the ballot was taken Charles W. Neeb of Allegheny and John H. Thompson of Centre, Republicans, who were absent on account of illness when the House organized two weeks ago, presented themselves at the bar and were qualified by Judge Wilson of Denver. These members were claimed by both sides, and when they voted for Col. Quay they were heartily applauded by his followers. Thomas K. Beaver of Lumlata voted for Mr. Olmsted, but before the result was announced he changed to Mr. Quay.

Before casting his vote for Mr. Quay, Thomas J. Reynolds of Lackawanna said he had been nominated and elected as an anti-Quay Republican, but that he believed in majority rule and would vote for the caucus nominee. He voted with the anti-Quayites on the organization of the House. Representatives Samuel A. Kendall of Somerset and Donald P. McPherson of Adams, who also voted with the anti-Quayites at the organization, voted for Mr. Quay.

The Senate chamber was also crowded with spectators during the balloting by that body. When the vote was announced a great cheer went up from the gallery, in which a number of the Senators participated.

The election of Col. Quay ends the struggle which began at the organization of the Legislature in 1899 and has since continued without interruption. Seventy-nine ballots were taken by the last Legislature without a choice, and then the Legislature adjourned. The day following, April 21 Gov. Stone appointed Mr. Quay to the Senate, and on April 25, 1899, his appointment was rejected by the Senate by one vote. Pennsylvania has since had only one United States Senator, Mr. Penrose.

Col. Quay received the news of his election at his residence near the Capitol. He was naturally elated with his victory, but declined to make a statement. He held an informal reception this afternoon for his friends throughout the State, who came here to be present when the vote was taken. Col. Quay has leased a house in Harrisburg for the session and he expects to spend much time here urging the passage of appropriations, ballot reform, and other legislation to which the Quay Republicans are committed.

The anti-Quayites are out to-night with a statement declaring that the election of Mr. Quay is a disgrace to the State and denouncing those of their organization who voted for Quay. They say that these men were elected on a platform opposing Quay, had signed a pledge to continue to oppose Quay, and had proved traitors to their cause. Then they say:

"No language could suffice properly to characterize perfidy so gross. No excuse whatever can be pleaded for it that will be believed by honest men. The pledge was voluntarily taken, and it has been openly and unblushingly broken. These men have parted company with their honor for reasons which they dare not avow, and have condemned themselves to lives of social and political disgrace.

"The treason of Benedict Arnold resulted in a distinct benefit to the Nation in that it crystallized the National spirit, and at the same time furnished a warning and moral for all time. But the perfidious treason to the strongest possible moral obligations committed by these pledge breakers must work incalculable evil aside from its immediate results, as their conduct will be used as a precedent and justification by every political leper in the country.

"The motive which prompted these men and the inference to be drawn from their conduct we leave to their constituents and the intelligent and decent people of the country."

The statement bears the signatures of fifty-eight Senators and Representatives who opposed Quay to the last.

PATTERSON WINS IN COLORADO.

Democrats, Populists, and Silver Republicans Elect Him.

DENVER, Jan. 15.—Thomas M. Patterson was to-day elected United States Senator to succeed Edward O. Wolcott. Mr. Patterson was the nominee of the Democrats, Populists, and Silver Republicans, receiving seventy-four votes out of a total of eighty-seven cast at the joint caucus last night. Following is the result of the ballot taken by both branches of the Legislature in separate sessions this afternoon: Senate—Patterson, 25; Wolcott, 1; absent, 1. House—Patterson, 58; Wolcott, 7. The Senate and House will meet in joint session to-morrow and ratify to-day's ballot.

Thomas M. Patterson was born in Ireland, Nov. 4, 1840. With his parents, he came to America in 1853. After a short residence in New York, the family removed to Crawfordsville, Ind., where Thomas worked for some time in a printing office. He enlisted at the first call for troops, but served only a few months, on account of poor health. He read law and practiced his profession for a time in Indiana. In 1872 he came to Denver, and formed a partnership with Charles S. Thomas, who, it is interesting to note, was his leading opponent in the Senatorial contest just closed. This partnership lasted a year, but was resumed in 1879, and continued until 1885. In 1874 Mr. Patterson was chosen Territorial Delegate to Congress, and greatly aided in securing Statehood for Colorado. In 1876 he was sent back to Congress, this time as a Representative. At the end of his term Mr. Patterson resumed the practice of law in Denver.

In 1892 Mr. Patterson was a delegate to the National Democratic Convention, in which he made a strong fight for the addition of a free-silver plank. Being unsuccessful, he led the bolt against Cleveland, which carried the State of Colorado for Weaver. In 1896 he was a delegate to the Populist National Convention, which indorsed Bryan, and in 1900 he was permanent Chairman of the convention of that party. It is understood that he now considers himself a Democrat.

DELAWARE DEAD-LOCK UNBROKEN.

Addicks and Du Pont Factions Will Not Vote Together.

DOVER, Del., Jan. 15.—The result of last night's Union Republican caucus, when sixteen members of the Legislature nominated J. Edward Addicks for United States Senator, lent interest to the initial vote for the two Senatorships, taken separately by the two houses of the General Assembly to-day. Prior to the convening of the Legislature to-day the anti-Addicks, or, as they are termed, Regular Republicans, held a caucus and agreed to vote for Charles F. Richards of Georgetown for the short term for United States Senator and Col. Henry A. Du Pont of Wilmington for the long term. The Union Republicans, on the other hand, recognize no candidate but Mr. Addicks.

The refusal of the Regular Republicans to go into the Union Republican caucus, even with the assurance that they could have the long-term Senatorship at their disposal, indicated, as the first ballot showed, that a dead-lock would be the result. The total vote of the two houses on the first ballot was as follows:

For the Constitutional term beginning March 4, 1901.—Richard R. Kenny, Democrat, Kent County, 23; John Edward Addicks, Union Republican, New Castle County, 16; Henry A. Du Pont, Regular Republican, New Castle County, 8; William C. Spruance, Anthony Higgins, and Levi C. Bird, Regular Republicans, each 1 vote.

For unexpired term beginning March 4, 1899—Willard Saulsbury, Democrat, New Castle County, 23; John Edward Addicks, Union Republican, New Castle County, 16; Charles F. Richards, Regular Republican, Sussex County, 10; William S. Hill and Benjamin Nields, Regular Republicans, each 1 vote.

Absentees—Two Regular Republicans.

The total number of votes in both houses is 52, and 27 are necessary to a choice.

Clark of Montana Lacks One Vote.

HELENA, Mont., Jan. 15.—William A. Clark of Butte lacked one vote of the number required to elect him to the United States Senate to-day. The first ballot for Senator was taken at noon by both houses. Two members were absent. Had the vote been in joint session Clark would have been elected, as he received a majority of the vote cast. A joint ballot will be taken to-morrow. Meantime the absent Republican members are expected to arrive. There were thirty Republicans in the Senate and House, and they voted for Senator Thomas H. Carter for the long term and ex-Senator Mantle of Butte for the short term. Ten Labor men in the house voted solidly for A. E. Spriggs for the long term, while three of the four independent Democrats voted for Major Martin Maginnis of Helena.

Meiklejohn's Fight in Nebraska.

LINCOLN, Neb., Jan. 15.—The first vote for the two United States Senators to be elected was taken to-day by the two houses of the Legislature separately. For the long term sixteen men were voted for in the House. For the leading candidates for the long term the vote was: Meiklejohn, 16; Currie, 9; Crounse, 8; Rosewater, 8. For the short term: Hainer, 4; Hindshaw, 9. In the Senate the vote for the prominent candidates for long term was: Currie, 8; Rosewater, 4; short term, D. F. Thompson, 7. The complimentary vote of the Populists in the House and Senate is largely for W. V. Allen and of the Democrats in the Senate for W. H. Thompson. In the House the Democrats voted for G. M. Hitchcock.

Democrats Help Re-elect Hoar.

BOSTON, Jan. 15.—George Frisbie Hoar of Worcester was re-elected to-day in both Senate and House of the Massachusetts Legislature to succeed himself in the United States Senate for the term commencing March 4, 1901. The vote in the Senate was 29 for Hoar and 8 for Richard Olney of Boston. One Democratic Senator voted for Hoar. The vote of the House was 169 for Hoar, 48 for Olney, and 1 for Charles H. Bradley (Social Democrat) of Haverhill. Four Democratic members of the House voted for Hoar.

McMillan of Michigan Re-elected.

LANSING, Mich., Jan. 15.—Senator James McMillan of Detroit was re-elected by the Michigan Legislature this afternoon, being the unanimous choice of the Republican majority. He received 85 votes in the House and 31 in the Senate. Thomas E. Barkworth of Jackson was given a complimentary vote by the Democratic minority. Five members of the Legislature were absent when the vote was taken. The vote will be verified in joint convention to-morrow noon.

Frye Wins Out in Maine.

AUGUSTA, Me., Jan. 15.—The principal work of the session of the Legislature this forenoon was the election of a United States Senator. In the House, Senator William P. Frye, Republican, received 107 votes, and Swasey M. Staples, Democrat, 13. In the Senate, Mr. Frye received 24 votes and Mr. Staples 1.

The joint convention will meet to-morrow at noon to indorse the work of the two bodies.

Burnham Is New Hampshire's Choice.

CONCORD, N. H., Jan. 15.—Both houses of the New Hampshire Legislature to-day voted for United States Senator to succeed William E. Chandler. In the Senate the vote was: Henry E. Burnham, Republican, 22; Charles F. Stone, Democrat, 1. In the House Henry E. Burnham, 270; Charles F. Stone, 85; Henry M. Baker, Independent, 1. Both houses, in joint convention, to-morrow will ratify the election.

Dubois Beats Shoup in Idaho.

BOISE, Idaho, Jan. 15.—The Legislature, balloting in separate session for United States Senator to-day, elected ex-Senator Fred T. Dubois. The vote in the Senate was: Dubois, 13; Shoup, 7; Joseph C. Rich, 1. In the House: Dubois, 28; Shoup, 20; Rich, 1.

Fusion Nomination in Kansas.

TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 15.—At a caucus of the fusion members of the Legislature tonight David Overmyer of Topeka was nominated for United States Senator, defeating Jerry Simpson.

NEW JERSEY LEGISLATURE.

Nominations Sent to the Senate—Bill to Prohibit Railroad Monopoly Combinations.

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 15.—The two houses of the Legislature held short sessions to-day, and then adjourned until next Monday evening.

Gov. Voorhees sent to the Senate the following nominations:

For Justices of the Supreme Court—ABRAHAM Q. GARRETTSON and J. FRANKLIN FORT.

For Adjutant General—ALEXANDER C. OLIPHANT.

For District Court Judge of Atlantic City—ROBERT W. INGERSOLL.

These are all reappointments.

In the House, Mr. Abbett, (Dem., Hudson,) introduced a bill to prohibit railroad companies from entering into combinations to control passenger and freight rates under penalty of forfeiture of their charter. Mr. Abbett also introduced these bills:

Providing that the amount of stock to be issued by corporations for the purchase of property shall be subject to the approval of the State Board of Assessors; providing that the present State tax on railroad property shall hereafter go to the municipalities in which the property is situated; increasing the annual franchise tax on corporations with more than $3,000,000 capital from $50 on each million in excess of three millions to one-twentieth of 1 per cent.

Mr. Williams (Rep., Essex,) introduced a bill repealing the present law prohibiting insurance agents from allowing a rebate on insurance premiums.

COUNTY SALARIES BILLS.

Register James R. Howe Replies to Hugh McLaughlin's Criticism.

Register James R. Howe yesterday gave out the following statement in reply to Hugh McLaughlin's criticism of the county salaries bills introduced in the Legislature, at Albany, by Senator Marshall:

"The people through the platform upon which I was nominated and elected have a right to expect that the Republican Party in this county will stand by its pledge to make the offices of Register, County Clerk, and Sheriff salaried ones, and which I have every reason to believe they will, thus taking them out of politics at least to the extent of prohibiting the centralization of their emoluments in a single head, and thereby preventing a premium being placed upon the official heads of these officers and through which campaign funds are largely obtained. Why should not these offices be made salaried ones, as is the Commissioner of Taxes and other departments of our borough.

"I do not know what the emoluments were of any of my predecessors, but I do know what they have been in my office during the past twelve months. After expending at least $20,000 more than was probably ever expended in giving the county a broad and liberal service, and after giving away upward of $8,000 for charitable purposes, there still remains to my credit more than $45,000. These are the facts, and I appeal to any intelligent citizen to say that after the most liberal provision in conducting the office why more than $50,000 should go into the pocket of the Register, or whether he should receive a stated salary for his services, and the balance go into the County Treasury."

ARREST FOR PERJURY IN A DAMAGE CASE

Witness Rensing Accused by the Metropolitan Traction Company.

SAW CAPT. RHOADS KILLED

Made Affidavit that He Swore Falsely—Mrs. Rhoads's Attorney Says the Arrest Is a Conspiracy.

The arrest of Peter Rensing, nineteen years old, of 2,472 Eighth Avenue, charged with perjury by agents of the Metropolitan Street Railway Company, is the latest development in the court history of the tragic death of Capt. George B. Rhoads of the Seventh Regiment, who was killed by an Eighth Avenue trolley car in June, 1899. His widow was awarded a verdict of $37,000 damages in a suit brought against the company. The case is now on appeal.

Capt. Rhoads, in the early morning of June 10, while crossing One Hundred and Thirty-third Street at Eighth Avenue, was struck by a swiftly moving "dead" car of the Eighth Avenue line, thrown violently to the ground, and instantly killed. His valuable watch was stolen by Policeman O'Brien of the West One Hundred and Twenty-fifth Street Station, who is now serving a four years' sentence in Sing Sing Prison therefor.

Peter Rensing and James Gallagher, two of the principal witnesses for the plaintiff, testified that they were eye-witnesses of the accident, and that the car was coming "like a cyclone."

The Metropolitan's attorneys presented to Justice Russell, who sat in the damage case brought by Mrs. Rhoads, an affidavit of Rensing swearing that his original testimony was false. Justice Russell announced that he would appoint a referee to take the testimony in the case and decide upon the apparent contradictions.

In the Centre Street Court yesterday Rensing was charged with perjury, and an alleged confession, signed and sworn to by him, was presented, in which he states that his testimony before Justice Russell was untrue, and that he arrived at the scene of the accident some time after it had happened.

Vernon M. Davis and Frank L. Eckerson are Rensing's counsel. Mr. Eckerson said to Magistrate Mayo that emissaries of the Metropolitan Street Railroad had obtained the alleged confession from Rensing by paying him $15 therefor; that he had been taken without the State and kept away from New York until Justice Russell passed upon a motion for a new trial, and that Rensing claims that he had no knowledge of the contents of the affidavit he signed, being unable to either read or write.

The alleged confession sworn to before Henry Melville of 120 Broadway alleges that Frank L. Eckerson of 140 Broadway gave money to Rensing at various times. Mr. Eckerson is the attorney of record in the action as brought by Mrs. Rhoads. Mr. Eckerson said yesterday:

"This is one of the most frightful jobs to defeat the decree of the Supreme Court ever brought to light in this city. All sorts of browbeating methods have been employed and Rensing was continually harassed by agents of the Metropolitan Road. Rensing was first interviewed by Judge Thomas Allison, who was retained in this case originally, but he became ill and asked me to appear as counsel. Rensing and Gallagher made affidavits in Judge Allison's office that they had witnessed the accident at One Hundred and Thirty-third Street and Eighth Avenue, and that they were standing on the corner directly in front of Capt. Rhoads at the time. These affidavits were made on June 12, 1899. Judge Allison makes affidavit to these facts under date of Dec. 1, 1900. He says that the two young men freely and frankly answered all questions put to them by him without prompting from any one. Rensing and Gallagher testified to exactly the same statements at the trial one year later. We also have the affidavit of Mrs. Rensing, the boy's mother, who states that these same men on the night of the accident and described it to her.

"Rensing made a second affidavit to me on Nov. 10, 1900, that his statements on the witness stand were true. He also told me that during the trial he had been approached by a man named O'Connor, a detective of the company, who had endeavored to make him change his testimony, saying, 'We'll take care of you and take you in out of the cold.' Rensing says O'Connor also remarked, 'Five hundred dollars is a great deal better than nothing.' Rensing also says that O'Connor offered him $50 to testify for the company, which he refused.

"From the day the verdict was rendered," continued Mr. Eckerson, "agents of the road kept at Rensing and Gallagher. They filled them full of grog and kept them up all hours of the night. On the 17th of November they got Rensing to sign the affidavit that they presented to Justice Russell. On the 23d they spirited both away to Philadelphia, then to Washington, to keep them out of New York until Justice Russell passed on the motion for a new trial.

"When Rensing got back he told his mother what he had done, and then went to Mrs. Rhoads with the story. He has also made affidavit to us concerning these matters, and we have affidavits from Washington and Philadelphia showing that the two boys with O'Connor, another detective of the company named Hopper, and another named Meese, stopped at various hotels. Rensing says that he can neither read nor write and that he does not know what was in the statement he signed, as part of it was dictated while he was out of the room. He was given $15 for signing it, and at various times, once in the building where the company's offices are, he was given money by O'Connor.

"Last Saturday he was again taken to Jersey City by Hopper and Meese and kept there until 3 o'clock in the morning when he skipped away saying that he did not again want to be caught in such a trap. His original statement on the stand, he swears, is true."

Rensing was held by Magistrate Mayo in $1,500 for further examination.

REFUSED TO PAY FUNERAL COSTS.

Suit Shows Mother-in-Law's Will Has Not Been Probated.

Justice Schuchman in the City Court yesterday directed a jury to find a verdict of $600 and costs against Mrs. Josephine Schmid in favor of James E. McLarney & Son, undertakers, for the funeral expenses of Mrs. Schmid's mother-in-law, Mrs. Eliza Schmid, who died in February, 1900. Mrs. Josephine Schmid is the widow of Augustus Schmid, who was of the firm of Schmid and Bernheimer, brewers. She lives at 807 Fifth Avenue.

It appears that Mrs. Eliza Schmid left a will disposing of a large amount of property, and although she has been dead nearly a year this will has not been offered for probate. Mrs. Josephine Schmid ordered the services of the undertaker, but has contended that this payment should be made out of the estate of her mother-in-law. The undertaker took the position that the person ordering his services should pay him, and the Court held the same opinion.

Mrs. Schmid will appeal the case. She did not appear at the trial yesterday, although her sister, Emma Schwartz, and her husband, Anton Schwartz, gave testimony that was really immaterial, the only fact brought out from them being that Mrs. Schwartz was named as one of the executors of the will of Eliza Schmid which has not yet been probated. When questions were asked as to why the will had not been offered for probate the questions were objected to, and the objections sustained. None of the lawyers interested would discuss the matter.

Mrs. Delmour's Sister a Nun.

Miss Henrietta Freelingsdorf, a sister of Mrs. Lawrence Delmour, entered a convent of the Sisters of Mercy at Providence, R. I., a few days ago. Her name in religion will be Sister Mary Anacleius. She is twenty-four years old, and has had a home with Lawrence Delmour, the Tammany politician, for several years. Miss Freelingsdorf has been intensely religious, and for years has been a devoted Catholic and helper of the poor people of the neighborhood.

Bellevue Nurses Graduated.

Graduating exercises for the class of 1900 of the Bellevue Training School for Nurses were held last evening at the Nurses' Home, 426 East Twenty-sixth Street. Twenty young women received diplomas, and the ceremony was witnessed by about 200 friends and relatives of the nurses. A reception was afterward held, and then followed dancing. Supper was served to the guests at midnight.

STOWAWAY'S LONG VOYAGE.

Fourteen-Year-Old James P. Haynes Ran Away from Home and Sailed Around the World.

When the three-masted schoner Norwood, which sailed for the Orient on Nov. 15, 1899, had cleared the Hook and stretched away for the Far East, hidden away in her forepeak was discovered James Pearley Haynes, fourteen years old, a stowaway from Portland, Me. He was an orphan, but had been carefully looked after and educated by an uncle and aunt, the former of whom was the master carpenter of the Boston and Maine Railroad. He was about to graduate from the Portland Grammar School, but the school authorities refused in the Fall of 1899 to rematriculate him owing to the schoolboy pranks and escapades that had occurred in which he was concerned. The youngster decided to shift for himself and went to New Hampshire and then to Boston in search of employment, but failed. He went to Providence, where he boarded a boat and came to New York. He drifted down to the river front and got on board the Norwood.

The mate, noting his apparent good breeding, took pity on him, led him into the messroom, and gave him a square meal. Encouraged by the kind treatment, the boy decided to ask Capt. Roy for permission to ship on the schooner. He was disappointed, as the skipper had signed all the men needed. Haynes was determined to sail anyway and remained in the vicinity of Pier 47 East River, where the Norwood was tied up, and made up his mind to slip aboard on the day of sailing and hide away until the schooner was out to sea. The skipper, before sailing, sent the youngster on an errand up the city, thinking the schooner would have cleared and be under way before the boy got back. But the boy got back in time, managed to get aboard, and hide away without being discovered until the ship was beyond Sandy Hook, and then it was too late for the Captain to put him ashore.

Yesterday morning the Norwood returned to this port, and, as on her last visit, tied up at Pier 47, East River, where the bright stowaway, now grown into a well-seasoned foremast hand, told his experiences as a sailor.

SALMAGUNDI CLUB SALE.

With Bruce Crane acting as auctioneer the Salmagundi Club succeeded in realizing the respectable sum of $5,353 at its "Stag Auction Sale" last night. The auction was held for the benefit of the club fund, and one hundred and fourteen pictures painted by members of the club were sold to the highest bidder at prices ranging all the way from $5 to $280. There was a large attendance, consisting mostly of artists, but with a good sprinkling of outsiders.

The competition was lively, and as a rule, the paintings were sold at fair prices, although some of them did not bring as much as it had been expected they would. The pictures were principally oil paintings, with a few water colors, sketches, &c. The great majority were landscapes, and the many "evening," "moonlight," and other such compositions made the sale somewhat monotonous, especially as in almost every case the sky was decorated with a profusion of white clouds.

The highest price realized for any picture was paid for an oil painting entitled, "Sunset, Plymouth," by George H. Bogert. "Home Again," by W. Verplanck Birney, and "Landscape with Sheep," by Louis P. Dessar, brought $215 each, while a landscape, "Uplands," by J. Francis Murphy, was bid up to $205.

Other pictures which brought over $100 were W. C. Fitler's "Sombre Days of Autumn," $150; Frederick Naegele's "A Little Girl," $125; "Snowy Day in the City," by Cblide Hassam, $100; "The Straw Hat," by Carroll Beckwith, $100; "Evening," by Bruce Crane, $135; "Lilacs," by Charles E. Proctor, $155; "Evening," by George Inness, Jr., $111; "Morning on the Dunes," by E. Irving Couse, $140; "A Pastoral," by Frank Russell Green, $100, and "A Gloucester Fisherman," by Edward Potthast, which was sold to George Inness, Jr., on one bid of $100.

An original cartoon by Henry Myer went for $10, while a head of Tennyson, finely modeled in clay by William Ordway Partridge, and reported as without duplicate, brought $110. After the auction a cold supper was served.

CONSUMERS' LEAGUE PROTESTS

The Consumers' League of the City of New York, through its President, Mrs. Frederick Nathan, has addressed an open letter to Gov. Odell protesting against the consolidation of the Department of Factory Inspection with any other department of the State Government, as proposed in his inaugural message. The league asks that instead the department be raised to a higher plane of efficiency by appointing to it men of ability in all the branches of its work.

Ten Inspectors, she asserts, are continually needed for the garment workshops of this city alone, and their work is a matter of National importance, as clothing produced here is sold in every part of the Union. Mrs. Nathan declares that there are many garment workers in this city carrying on business without licenses, and that there are others who have licenses to which they are not entitled.

She asserts that the local Board of Health is so far from being able to take upon itself any work now assigned to the State Board of Factory Inspection that it fails to enforce many sanitary provisions now intrusted to it, and Mrs. Nathan urges that the authority of the State Board in this regard be enlarged.

Proper supervision of the bakeshops she mentions as being next in importance to guarding the clothing industry, and says that it is better for the community at large that these places should be kept clean and not used for sleeping rooms, than that the hours of those who work in them should be restricted.

OLD TWEED DEPUTY DEAD.

William H. Shields, sixty-six years of age, died at his home, in Mount Vernon, yesterday. He was a Deputy Sheriff of New York County during the Tweed régime and attained notoriety by being the man from whom Genet, the gambler, escaped. Shields was taking Genet to the Tombs when Genet asked him to take him home, that he might see his wife. Shields did so, and sat in the parlor while Genet went out of the room. Before Shields became suspicious Genet had gotten away.

Mr. Shields had lived in Mount Vernon for the past twenty years. He was well off.

JOHANN FABER IS DEAD.

NUREMBERG, Jan. 15.—Johann Faber, the pencil manufacturer, is dead.

Johann Faber was eighty-four years old. He was born in Stein, near Nuremberg, and for many years was employed in the pencil factory of A. W. Faber. Twelve years ago he severed his connection with A. W. Faber, and in company with his sons organized the Faber Manufacturing Company.

Herr Faber retired from business five years ago and since that time the business has been conducted by his sons. He is survived by three sons and one daughter. His wife died about one year ago.

BELLEVUE SCANDAL INQUIRY.

Charities Commissioner John W. Keller appeared before the Grand Jury yesterday to tell of his administration of Bellevue affairs and the reforms he had effected since the revelation of existing conditions was brought about by the death of Louis Hilliard at the hands of three Bellevue insane pavilion nurses, now under indictment for manslaughter. Mr. Keller said that he "had been invited" to appear before the inquisitorial body. He remained in the Grand Jury room about an hour.

Ex-Superintendent O'Rourke, Dr. Fitch, and Dr. Wildman, the Examiners in Insanity, and Dr. J. W. Moore, the young physician who had charge of the insane pavilion at the time of Hilliard's death, were also present under subpœna, prepared to testify before the Grand Jury, but they were not called yesterday.

Assistant District Attorney Pierce and Peter Cuff, the official draughtsman of the District Attorney's office, went to the insane pavilion yesterday afternoon to take measurements of Hilliard's cell and to make diagrams of the pavilion, the cells, and the furniture therein. These diagrams will be used in the trial of Nurses Marshall, Dean, and Davis.

Boxes for Purim Association Ball.

The sale of the boxes for the annual ball of the Purim Association, for the benefit of the United Hebrew Charities, to be held in the Metropolitan Opera House on Feb. 14, took place last night in one of the anterooms of the Temple Emanu-El. Forty-third Street and Fifth Avenue. The sale netted $7,500. The highest price paid was by George A. Kessler, for Box 35, the figure being $1,000.

CAKE WALK AND JIG AT A JUBILEE DINNER

Republicans Noisily Enthusiastic in Celebrating the Election.

Diners with Bones and Tambourines Accompanied the Band Playing Coon Songs—Some Political Talks.

The Business Men's Republican and Sound Money Association gave a jubilee dinner last night at Delmonico's. More than 300 of the men who marched up Broadway on Nov. 3 last for McKinley and Roosevelt were the diners.

Col. Charles F. Homer, the Vice President of the association, presided, and with him at the table were Joseph L. Barbour of Hartford, Conn.; Col. A. Noel Blakeman, Cornelius N. Bliss, Frank Brainard, Justice John Proctor Clarke, Edward A. Drake, William F. King, Gen. Anson G. McCook, John F. Plummer, Charles A. Schieren, Charles H. Tenney, and George T. Wilson.

The hall was decorated with American flags and reminders of the famous parade. Over the guest table was the banner bearing the inscription, "We Know no Class Distinction in This Fair Land of Ours," which was suspended over the grand stand at Madison Square, and which was the sentiment sent by President McKinley at the request of the Parade Committee.

George T. Wilson, Third Vice President of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, was Chairman of the Committee on Noise, and he bent all his energies in filling his office. He supplied the diners with a pair of clappers and tambourines, so that when the band played negro melodies, the diners resolved themselves into an amateur minstrel organization and carried out the purposes of the Committee on Noise.

Among those who were supplied with tambourines was Charles A. Moore, the machinery man, of Brooklyn, who at the same time was the heaviest man among the diners. Mr. Moore and Mr. Wilson enlivened the proceedings by introducing a cakewalk, which was one of the features of the jubilee. After this part of the programme had been carried out, Mr. Wilson possessed himself of a stuffed gamecock which had ornamented the principal table, and, accompanied by Mr. Moore and a majority of the diners, they marched around the room to the inspiring strains of "Four, Four, Four Years More," after which Mr. Wilson executed a jig on the principal table.

It took Col. Homer a long while to bring the boisterous diners to a realization that they had a lot of after-dinner speeches to listen to. He paid a glowing tribute to the late Mayor Strong, who was President of the association, and at the conclusion of his eulogy the diners rose and drank to the memory of the former Mayor.

Every mention of the names of President McKinley and Vice President Roosevelt was met with a storm of applause and cheers, and especially was this the case when Col. Homer read a telegram from the President in which he regretted his inability to attend and extended his hearty congratulations and good wishes.

Joseph L. Barbour made the first address, on "Commercial Expansion." He said that he disliked to throw the pall of oratory over such enthusiasm, but as he had been chosen to do so he did not see how he could very well avoid it. Mr. Barbour aroused intense enthusiasm during his address. Mr. Barbour said the Declaration of Independence, containing the consent-of-the-governed clause, was signed by men one-half of whom owned slaves; that the American Indians were governed without their consent, and that the people of the Territories, and even of the City of Washington itself, had no voice in the Government. "Not even the thousands of lovely, sweet, accomplished women of our fair land have a voice in our Government," said the speaker; "and I see no reason why George Washington Aguinaldo should have more rights than these."

William F. King, President of the Merchants' Association, said the duty of soundmoney men was to keep the ball of prosperity rolling.

New York was destined to be the foremost city in the world, but the problem to be solved was how to secure a good and clean government above suspicion of any wrongdoing in any of its branches.

What was wanted is that men of means should hold public office, and hold it for the benefit of the public at large. Then, he said, the city would expand like a beautiful flower.

The Rev. S. Parkes Cadman rose to reply to the toast to President McKinley's motto, "We know no class distinction in this fair land of ours." He said:

The President did not mean there were no class distinctions in America, for he was sure there were. There were class distinctions in heaven, the speaker believed, and also in the other place, for all he knew to the contrary.

What the President really meant was that the United States offered equal opportunities to all men.

Charles H. Schieren, ex-Mayor of Brooklyn, the next speaker, said it was every man's duty to lend a hand to clean the stable. Gen. Anson G. McCook and John Proctor Clarke also spoke.

DEPORTING FILIPINO REBELS.

Thirty Sail for Guam To-day—1,300 Suspects Arrested at Cockfights.

MANILA, Jan. 15.—Thirty insurgents who have been sentenced to be deported to the Island of Guam, were taken on board the United States transport Rosecrans to-day. She will sail to-morrow.

The sentence of deportation has been suspended in the case of two priests of the party, who are charged with collecting money for the insurgents. But they will be kept in confinement. The families of the prisoners bade them farewell on the wharf.

Nearly 1,300 men were arrested in cockpits situated in various towns south of Manila Sunday on suspicion of being guerrillas. Most of them were released.

WOOING ENDED DISASTROUSLY.

Rejected Suitor's Persistence Caused Him to Fall Foul of Telephone Girl's Big Brother and Friends.

With a sound walloping for the persistent wooer in the climax, melodramatic precedent has been ruthlessly shattered in the story of love and firearms revealed by the presence in the Eastern District Hospital of George F. Byrnes, a young chemist, of 98 South Second Street, Brooklyn. Incidentally, the young man is under arrest, and when he leaves the hospital to-day he will be arraigned in the Myrtle Avenue Police Court on a charge of carrying concealed weapons. An additional charge—that of threatening to kill—may also be preferred.

Edward McAlpin, Jr., the son of a well-known Seventh Ward politician, is the one who is alleged to be responsible for the injuries which necessitated Byrnes's sojourn in the hospital. It is about the sister of McAlpin that the whole story centres, and it was all told in court yesterday, despite the fact that the young chemist was absent, undergoing repairs.

Miss Alice McAlpin is employed at the central office of the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company, at 80 Willoughby Street. About two years ago she met Byrnes and he asked if he might call. Permission being granted, he did so frequently. The couple saw much of each other, went to the theatres, and attended parties together. But a short time ago Miss McAlpin avers, she learned that the chemist looked upon the wine that was red. She told him that he needn't come 'round any more. He persisted. She resisted. Her brother insisted. And thereupon Byrnes desisted, and took to telephoning. A few nights ago the 'phone bell tinkled, and Miss McAlpin answered it.

"I want you to reconsider your determination," came the voice over the wire. It sounded like Byrnes's.

"Henceforth we are strangers," answered the young woman. Then she hung up the receiver.

On Monday night a man was seen hanging about the McAlpin home in Emerson Place. The brother with three of his friends, made a reconnoissance, and discovered that it was the rejected suitor. Active hostilities followed, and after a severe pummeling Edward McAlpin and his friends took Byrnes over to De Kalb Avenue, where they told the story to a policeman. The brother said that he had been informed that Byrnes had threatened to shoot his sister. Investigation on the part of the policeman brought to light two loaded revolvers in the young chemist's pockets. He was placed under arrest, but was so badly battered that an ambulance was summoned and he was sent to the hospital.

BROADWAY AND 11TH ST.
JAMES McCREERY & CO.

SPRING 1901.

New Cotton Dress Goods.
A very extensive and varied stock.
Latest weaves, colors and patterns.

Foulard Silks.
New, handsome designs, and this season's fashionable shades.
This material is said to be the most popular of all fabrics for the advance model gowns.

Linens.

LINEN SHEETS,—hemstitched.
2 x 2 5-8 - $3.50 and $4.50 per pair.
2½ x 2 5-8 $3.95, $4.25 and $6.50 per pair.

LINEN PILLOW CASES,—hemstitched.
22 x 36 inches, 75c, 85c and $1.00 per pair.
25 x 36 " $1.35, $1.50 " $1.75 " "
27 x 36 " $1.50, $1.75 " $2.00 " "

Hemstitched and embroidered.
22½ x 36, . . . $1.75; Formerly $2.25.
25 x 36, . . . $2.00; " $2.50.
27 x 36, . . . $2.25; " $2.75.

DAMASK TABLECLOTHS.
2 x 2 yards, . . . $1.50 each.
2 x 2½ " . . . $1.85 "
2 x 3 " . . . $2.70 "

BROADWAY AND 11TH ST.
JAMES McCREERY & CO.

R. H. Macy & Co.'s Attractions Are Their Low Prices.
Macy's
Broadway, 13th Street to 14th St. 6th Ave. from 13th to 15th, 6th Ave.

Guimps and Passementeries
$1.25 to $3.00 Qualities at 49c.

AT 49c Fine Cut Jet on Brussels Net, bright beads and nail heads in artistic designs, very much in vogue for trimming velvet and velours—2½ to 5 inches wide—value $2.00 to $3.00 per yard.

AT 49c Chiffon-and-Jet Trimming—large variety of rich patterns, especially appropriate for evening gowns—1½ to 2 inches wide—value $1.75 to $2.25 per yard.

AT 49c Cut Steel and Jet Trimmings, showy scroll and leaf designs, very handsome and effective—1 to 2 inches wide—value $1.25.

AT 49c Hand-made Pure Mohair Braid, in patterns meant to be applied to the sides of skirts, 2½ to 6 inches wide—value $2.00 to $3.00 per yard.

AT 49c Black Hand-made Silk Cord-and-Braid Passementerie, plain or with chiffon centres, in a variety of choice patterns, 1½ to 3 inches wide—value $1.25 to $1.75.

SWEARING OFF TAXES.

Long Line at the Department All Day—Why Assessments Are Kept Secret.

The swearing off of personal taxes began yesterday in the Department of Taxes, in the Stewart Building. As early as 8 o'clock there was a line of fifty persons. At 10 o'clock the tax officials had more than they could do. One door was used for those assessed for less than $10,000 and one for persons assessed over $10,000 and for corporations. In the line assessed under $10,000 were many apparently poor men. Some were young clerks, who treated the matter as a great joke and smoked cigarettes and tried to look wealthy. From the time the office opened until 4 o'clock there was a continual line outside of the tax office. Inside the tax officials were taking the oaths of those who claimed to have no assessable property.

President Feitner, when asked yesterday about the personal tax lists, said: "This department has no desire to keep any records secret. There are many designing lawyers and other persons who, if we allowed an indiscriminate examination of the personal tax books, would resort to questionable methods, which might involve the department. If the newspapers of New York des

The Wanamaker Store The Wanamaker Store The Wanamaker Store

A Trio of Tempting Attractions With a DOZEN ATTENDANT OFFERINGS

The Silver Sale, The Sale of White and the Annual Wall Paper Clean-up offer wide interest to Our Public to-day. Each is a movement of broad scope and large money saving opportunity. But the store interest is broadened by a dozen other attractions hinted of below:

SHOE NEWS

News of two sorts—of regular shoes that are unmatchable, and special shoes of values unapproachable.

The Wanamaker-Reliable Shoes for women—handsome, substantial, stylish—not equaled by any shoes at their price.

Storm shoes of box calf; lace and button; high or regular cut; $3.
Dress shoes of kid or patent leather, with high Louis XIV. or Cuban heels; button and lace; $3.
Walking shoes of kidskin or enamel grain leather; broad soles, square heels, $3.
House shoes of fine kidskin, with light turned soles and neat heels; button or lace; $3.
Medium weight shoes of kid, with patent tips; patent leather, lace or button; ideal kid, lace or button, $3.
Shoes for every occasion in styles to suit any fancy, and in sizes varied enough to fit any normal foot.

This stirring special news to-day:

These in Basement, main store.

Women's $3.50 Shoes at $2—
Handsome dress shoes, with turned soles; tips of kidskin or patent leather; for evening or dancing shoes far better than slippers. A trade-marked shoe selling readily in neighboring stores at $3.50.

Women's $5 and $4 Shoes at $2.50—
Shoes from our regular stock reduced only, because the lots are small and lines to be discontinued. If your size is here you save a half; and we will help you to find it.

Children's Shoes at 95c—
Splendid kidskin in this lot; firm, bright and durable; all spring heels; sizes 11 to 1½. Smaller sizes cost 75c and 85c.

These in Bargain Store, across Ninth street, from the main store.

Men's $3 and $4 Shoes at $1.20—
318 pairs; hardly two pairs alike, samples, special pairs, odd lots: Some are soiled or mussed a bit, but all are perfect; and with a good range of the medium sizes.

Men's $4 Shoes at $2.85—
Black lace shoes of a well-known advertised line; wax calf and patent leather, stylish, well finished shoes in nearly every size; selling regularly in hundreds of good stores at $4.

Boys' Shoes at $1.25—
Strong and sensibly shaped shoes; selling at a third less than usual; all with heels, sizes up to 5.

GOLF CAPES

Dispossessed. About 150 are affected by the order, and there's no appeal from it. And yet there's no fault with these tenants. Might be said to be no more than a mere whim to mark these prices down as shown below. A new lot of golf capes is on the way here, but it is doubtful whether it will contain any handsomer or better styles than these. All that remain in stock are to-day grouped in this manner:

$5 for choice among values up to $10
$7.50 for choice among values up to $15
$10 for choice among values up to $20
$15 for choice among values up to $32

Imported capes in the higher priced lots. Second floor, Broadway.

Women's Eiderdown Sacques and Robes

And they're both priced exceptionally low. The sacques are 35c each. We sold them at 50c—they were so popular at that price we could hardly supply the demand. Various solid colors; full front fitted back; all union stitched seams; ribbon at neck. Not more than 3 of these to any purchaser.

The Bath Robes, of excellent ripple eiderdown, are reduced from $5 to $3.75. The collar and cuffs are bound with satin; frogs and girdle. Pretty, solid colors. Second floor, Fourth avenue.

Prince Albert Coats

The man who wears a Prince Albert frock coat usually does so when he wishes to be well-dressed. He frequently labors under the impression that, in order to get one of these coats to fit him, he must have it made for him, and pay a custom tailor's price.

We can prove to him that he is mistaken—that it isn't necessary. We can supply him with a frock coat that is as stylish, as well made, and that will fit him as perfectly, no matter what his physical peculiarities, as one made to his measure, and in so doing, save him nearly half of what he would otherwise have to pay. Proofs:

At $20—Of all-wool black Thibet, serge lined and silk faced to button-holes. The same, silk lined throughout, at $25.

At $35—Of imported black vicuna, soft and luxurious; lined throughout with heavy silk; white silk sleeve linings.

Double-breasted vests with all Prince Albert frock coats. Second floor, Fourth avenue.

Boys' Clothing

More odd lots, priced even more oddly. They result from a very rigid overhauling the stocks are now undergoing. They're brought to view, mentioned here—gone. It's the way they're priced. But new odd lots are constantly being made, too. As fast as certain lines, not again to be replenished, become just a bit broken as to sizes, they join the odd lot class. To-day:

Seventy-five vestee suits, in 3-year sizes only; values up to $7, price $2.50.
Fifty sailor suits, 11 and 12-year sizes; values $7 and $8, price $2.50.
Eighty double-breasted suits for boys of 12 to 16 years; values $5 and $6, price $3.25.
Seventy-five kersey and cheviot reefers, in 3 to 8-year sizes; values up to $11, price $5.

Second floor, Ninth street.

HAND BAGS

They are imported. Were expected for the holiday selling. Came too late. Tardy but still very welcome. They represent the newest ideas in bags for various uses—the newest effects in the usual leathers, and the newest shapes.

There are handsome bags of suede leathers, suitable for shopping or for opera glasses, in gray and tan, variously lined with leather or moire silk; some round, others in the long shape, at $2.25 and $2.75.

And hand-bags of glazed morocco, alligator, levant and seal, fitted with card case, purse and vinaigrette, at $5.25 to $19. Broadway.

All Around the Store

An Office Desk Bargain—At $30 from $42, quartered golden oak; high roll-top; 54 in. long, 32 in. deep, 50 in. high; two pedestals with four drawers in each; slide over top of each pedestal; top has 36 open pigeon holes and 4 small drawers; usual paper and pen racks and letter drops; writing bed has centre of bird's-eye maple, and desk is paneled on ends and back; heavy moulded base; automatic lock to roll curtain.

White Shirt Waist Goods. Every day witnesses the arrival of additions to our collection of this season's newest, soft finished goods for white shirt waists. Many a hint is here. To-day there are new embroidered nainsooks at 25c yard, and piques with mercerized stripes, at 50c.

Women's Shoes. Of the best kidskin or patent leather; made slowly and carefully by hand, on lasts that have character and never become common. $7 a pair; button or lace, as you prefer. They're worth every bit of this price—and more.

Snapping Mottoes. The Candy Store is showing a new assortment of these indispensable climaxes to children's parties, in many original conceits.

Artificial Flowers, for Decorating. A few of these charming flowers, which add a bright touch here and there to the decorations of the home, are still left. 5c, 10c and 15c, reduced from 75c, $1 and $1.25.

Irkutz Sable Capes. Prices in the Fur Store are abnormally low at present. Take, for example, these capes of Irkutz Sable, elegant and luxurious, at $17.50 to $50, according to length. They were $30 to $75 but a little while ago.

Infants' Long Slips. Among the dainty garments to deck out baby with are some at 25c, of nainsook; full front; finished on neck and sleeves with hemstitched ruffle. At 70c, of nainsook; with square yoke of hemstitched plaits, and one embroidery insertion; yoke finished with neat embroidery ruffle.

Typewriter Paper. The Commercial Stationery Store sells a good quality of Bond paper, 8x10, at 50c for a ream of 500 sheets.

Handkerchiefs. Men's, of an excellent quality of pure linen, well laundered, are moderately priced at $1.50 a dozen, or 12½c each; women's, same quality, $1 a dozen, or 10c each.

Laundry Bags. Here are some ample, roomy ones, big enough for the family wash. They're made of figured cretonne in attractive patterns, with double drawing string. 85c each.

Clothes Hampers. They're of Indian makes, in various attractive colors, and either round or square in shape. 75c each, although good $1.50 values.

The SILVER SALE

A group of sumptuous pieces of Sterling Silver adds interest to the sale to-day. We didn't expect them to arrive in time; but their coming is most fortunate, to replace the lots the last two busy days have sold.

The whole reputable silver manufacturing trade has been levied upon to collect these offerings. There is nowhere any goods of worthy character likely to go on the market under-price for months to come. This opportunity stands alone. Shoddy bargain-wares, made for special selling will, of course, be frequently offered; but no goods of high quality and artistic design will soon again be offered at such tempting prices.

One day more—possibly two will see the end of this sale, except for fragmentary lots. The vast selling of the last two days suggests that buying must be immediate, if at all. These in good supply to-day:

Sterling Silver Table Ware—
Bread Trays, $15.75, $17, $17.50, $18.25.
Berry Bowls, $12.50, $15, $17, $18.75, $30.
Gravy Boats, $12.50.
Comports, $7.50, $9.50, $18.75.
Butter Dishes, $4.75.
Bonbon Dishes, $4.50, $4.75, $7.50, $10, $10.75, $11.25, $12.50, $13.75.
2-piece Carving Sets, sterling handles, $3.
3-piece Carving Sets, sterling handles, $3.75.
Dessert Knives, $11 a dozen.
Medium Knives, $12 a dozen.
6-piece Tea Sets, $150, $185 and $257.
Vegetable Dishes, $92.
Soup Tureens, $105.
Meat Dishes, $20 and $22. Ice Bowls, $17.50.
French Coffee Pots, $10.25.
Coasters, $12.50, $15.
Coffee and Tete-a-tete Sets, 3 pieces, $32.50, $58 to $150.
Bread Trays, $18.
Berry Bowls, $10.75, $16.25.
Crumb Trays, $14.50. Crumb Scrapers, $7.25.
Butter Dishes, $10.75 to $21.
Vases, $2.50, $4.50, $14.25, $15.75 to $77.
Waiters, $10, $18, $20.25, $25, $38.75.
Water Pitchers, $22.50, $35 to $50.
Tea Caddies, $4.50, $5.75, $7.50 to $17.50.
Syrup Pitchers, $3, $6 to $7.25.
Tea Bells, $1.75.
Candlesticks, $9 to $10.35.
Funnels, $1.75 to $2.25.
Muffineers, $12.50.

Plated Flat Ware—Rogers' and other first-class makes—
Tea Spoons, $1.10 a dozen
Dessert Spoons, $2 a dozen
Table Spoons, $2.20 a dozen
Table Forks, $2.20 a dozen
Coffee Spoons, $1.10 a dozen
Main floor aisles, Broadway.

Plated Flat Ware—Rogers' and other first-class makes—
Orange Spoons, $1.50 a dozen
Oyster Forks, $1.35 a dozen
Butter Spreaders, $2 a dozen
Berry Spoons, 65c ea — Jelly Spoons, 45 ea
Sugar Spoons, 20c ea — Salt Spoons, 10c ea
Mustard Spoons, 10c ea — Butter Knives, 25c ea
Pie Knives, 65c ea — Crumb Knives, $1 ea
Fish Knives, 85c ea — Fish Forks, 85c ea
Cream Ladles, 35c ea — Gravy Ladles, 45c ea
Oyster Ladles, 75c ea
Soup Ladles, $1 and $1.25 each
Cheese Scoops, 50c each
Children's Sets, 3 pieces on card, 50c a set
Triple plate Medium and Dessert Knives, $2.25 a dozen.

Quadruple-Plate Table Ware—
4-piece Tea Sets, $5
5-piece Tea Sets, $8.75, $9.50 to $18.50
Baking Dishes, $3.25, $5
Butter Dishes, $1.75, $2
4-Light Candelabra, $4.25
5-Light Candelabra, $4.75
Bread Trays, $1.50
Waiters, 65c, $1.25
Water Pitchers, $2.75, $3.50
Individual Tureens, $2.50
Children's Cups, 50c, 75c
Fruit Dishes, $1.25, $4.50
Pickle Jars, $1.60
Loving Cups, $3 to $5
Comports, $2.50 — Cups and Saucers, $1
Kettles, $4.75 — Coffee Urns, $7.50
Odd Coffee Pots, $2.25 — Ice Pitchers, $5
Coffee Sets, $4.50, $4.75
3-piece Dessert Sets, $4.50

Sterling Silver Toilet Ware and Novelties—
Hair Brushes, $2 and $2.75
Cloth Brushes, $1.75 — Atomizers, $2

Sterling Silver Toilet Ware and Novelties—
Velvet Brushes, $1.25 — Mirrors, $4.25
Military Brushes, $1.75 — Combs, 50c
Bonnet Brushes, $1
Salve Jars, 50c, 75c — Ring Trees, $1
Cigar Jars, $2.50, $3 — Pin Trays, $2
Shaving Brushes, $1.25 — Shoe Hooks, 50c
Shoe Horns, $1.25, $2 — Nail Files, 50c
Nail Brushes, 50c — Cuticle Knives, 50c
Whisks, 75c, $1.60 and $2.50
Puff Boxes, $1, $1.35 and $2
Glove Powder Bottles, $1
Cologne Bottles, $2, $2.50, $3.25, $4.50
Flasks, $1.40, $2.25 and $2.50
Tooth Brushes, 50c
Inkstands, $1.25, $1.35, $1.60, $1.75, $3

Fine Table Cutlery—
Three-piece stag handle beef carving set, in fancy box, $1.60.
Two-piece pearl handle bird carving set; sterling silver ferrules; in fancy box, $2.
Three-piece pearl handle beef carving set; sterling silver ferrules; in fancy box, $6.
Two-piece stag handle steak carving set, $1.25.
Two-piece stag handle beef carving set; sterling silver ferrules, $1.25.
Two-piece stag handle beef carving set, $1.
Three-piece pointed stag handle beef carving set, silver plated ferrules, $3.
Three-piece stag handle beef carving set; sterling silver ferrules, $3.25.
Two-piece stag handle beef carving set; silver-plated ferrules, $2.
Pearl handle fruit knives; sterling silver ferrules, $5 a dozen.
Celluloid handle orange knives; saw edge; in fancy box, $2 a half-dozen.
Celluloid handle butter knives, 25c each.

Annual Sale of WALL PAPER

We have made the interiors of many homes beautiful during the past season. The expert who presides over the selecting of our wall paper and the direction of its uses and combinations, has spent a life-time in this work among the best homes in the land.

The stock now on hand contains the styles that have greatest decorative possibilities for refined and artistic effects; yet with new goods coming we wish to get present stocks out of the way speedily, and make these offerings to-day, which are

HALF PRICE and Less

Included are the best goods of English, French and American makes, in large and small quantities; often just enough for a single room, with combination lots for walls, friezes and ceilings.

This sale offers exceptional opportunity for the redecorating of city residence, country home, or cottage by the sea. These price-hints:

265 styles at 5c to 10c that were 10c to 25c.
195 styles at 12½c to 25c that were 25c to 50c.
129 styles at 25c to 75c that were 75c to $1.25.
London Cretonne Papers at 50c, formerly $1.
127 styles, 18-in. border and friezes, from 4c to 12½c a yard; were 8c to 25c. Desirable for plain or tinted walls.
Choice colors of Ingrains at 12½c a roll, formerly 20c.
Remnants of Dyed Burlaps at 15c a yard.

Better bring with you the measurement of your rooms, thus: Measurements at floor—height above baseboard, number and width of windows and doors; that we can tell you how much you require, and you may take prompt advantage of the best bargains.

We furnish estimates and specifications for Painting, Tinting and all kinds of Decorating Work. Also for Parquet Floors.

Third floor, Fourth avenue.

Tumbling Over the DINNER SETS

He doesn't seem to be happy unless he's announcing some new, exceptionally good values, this china chief of ours. When china makers the world over fail to furnish him with bargains, he turns to his own stocks. Then goods that have been here but a week or two, and very moderately priced, at that, have to suffer. This time he's among the dinner sets, and price-destruction immediately ensues.

Fine Austrian China Dinner Sets, with wreath decoration, and narrow bands of green or blue on edge—101 pieces—were thought to be reasonable enough at $50. The price is now $35. New goods, too.

Here are others, and less expensive, though no less attractive offerings:

$6.50—American and English porcelain dinner sets, in good underglaze decorations; 100 pieces. Value $8.
$9—American porcelain dinner sets, with soup tureen; underglaze decorations. Value $12.
$12.50—American porcelain dinner sets, with soup tureen; two decorations in colors and gilt; 100 pieces. Value $18.
$14—American porcelain dinner sets; flower decorations and gilt; 113 pieces, with soup tureen and 4 dishes. Value $20.
$25—French china dinner sets; two border decorations and gilt; 100 pieces. Value $35.
$27.50—French china dinner sets; four fine decorations and gilt; 101 pieces. Value $37.50.

Basement.

Muslin Underwear

The sale attracts hundreds daily. Why shouldn't it? The women who know the character of these sales of ours need no more than the mere announcement of our readiness with each succeeding event. They know, and we want a larger public to know, the reasons that stand for the popularity of ever-increasing these movements. Chief among these is sterling quality—good muslins, honestly put together, tastefully finished. Unmatched assortment is another feature. Add to those features the unmatched prices. Some follow. See what they represent.

Night Gowns—
75c—Of muslin; square neck; yoke of fine plaits and insertion; neck and sleeves trimmed with embroidery.
$1—Of cambric; square neck, front, and high back trimmed with hemstitched lawn ruffle and insertion.
$1.25—Of cambric; high neck; yoke of fine plaits in cluster and 4 rows of insertion; neck and sleeves trimmed with neat embroidery.
Other styles, 38c to $9.

Short Petticoats—
25c—Of muslin; cambric ruffle and plaits above.
50c—Of cambric; ruffle of embroidery and plaits above.

Corset Covers—
25c—Of cambric; full cover; gather at waist; V neck and square front trimmed with torchon lace.
50c—Of cambric; square neck trimmed with torchon lace and insertion.
Others up to $3.75.

Petticoats—
90c—Of cambric; deep ruffle of lawn, hemstitched plaits and wide hem.
$1.25—Of muslin; deep ruffle of cambric trimmed with torchon lace and 2 rows of insertion.
$1.75—Of cambric; umbrella ruffle trimmed with deep ruffle of blind embroidery.
Others up to $15.

Chemises—
35c—Of cambric; round neck trimmed with hemstitched lawn ruffle and insertion.
50c—Of cambric; round neck trimmed with neat embroidery; cambric ruffle on skirt.
75c—Of nainsook; round neck trimmed with Valenciennes lace and ribbon.
Others up to $4.50.

Drawers—
15c—Of muslin or cambric; deep hem and plaits above. Not more than 3 to a buyer.
25c—Of muslin; cambric ruffle, wide hem and plaits.
50c—Of cambric; ruffle of neat embroidery and plaits above.
Others up to $4.25.

Paris Notes from the office of JOHN WANAMAKER

44, RUE DES PETITES-ECURIES,
PARIS, January 4, 1901.

The pale-toned cloths and exquisite embroideries that now compose the attire of our elegantes make it absolutely necessary to possess a carriage, for to walk down the streets in such toilettes would be quite "outre" in style. Fashion for afternoon toilettes, is showing nothing but these beautiful appliques, laces and embroideries on exquisitely pale-shaded cloths and silks.

As the winter progresses, fresh novelties continually make their appearance; for the Parisienne, that is to say, the typical Parisian woman who has taste, beauty, style, leisure and plenty of money to spend, declines to wear the same models the whole season through. The latest gowns are very elaborate. Gold continues to hold its omnipotent way with the mode-makers. Gold buttons fasten the tailor-made gowns, gold braid adorns their edges; cloth of gold is employed for evening frocks; gold lace even replaces white lace on many of the newest dinner dresses, and a thin gold tissue, covered with an overdress of chiffon and lace over that, is one of the prettiest effects in vogue with the dress-makers.

Even millinery reflects this somewhat gaudy mode of the moment, inasmuch as the three-cornered hat and other shapes are not alone edged with narrow gold braid or velvet ribbon bordered with the same, but gold spots appear on the trimmings with which they are adorned. Indeed, this taste for glittering tissues rages fiercely, and belts, both straight and folded, of the same shining material, are seen encircling the waist of almost every elegante whose tailor-built gown boasts a bolero. Even the very elect amongst couturiers have taken up this fancy, and only this week Worth himself has built a dinner gown for a very notable "femme du monde," the component parts of which are champagne colored satin, cloth of gold with flowers in natural colored silks woven into it, sable edging and real lace.

In great contrast and contradistinction to this voyant form of decoration is the growing taste for dull, sombre-looking leathers, chiefly in black, dark green, gray and tan, which now claim fashionable favor as trimming. Trails of leaves in autumnal colors, berries, Virginia creeper and bunches of grapes look extremely well with this new form of decoration, and are applique on cloth skirts with charming effect. White leather on white cloth or serge is a "haute nouveaute" and will figure on many smart gowns that are being made for the Riviera.

The puffiness which is now in vogue for sleeves is not always confined to that part between the elbow and the wrist, but creeps up higher sometimes. Quite the prettiest of these sleeves, which come over the hand in a puff, have an upper sleeve, which is tight at the top and falls straight and loose over the muslin sleeve below.

For embroidery there is a mania, and hand-painted gowns have lost none of their prestige. A lovely black gown admired at the Cafe de Paris, where at supper time one sees the smartest of smart frocks, was of black tulle made in Princess shape over taffeta. It was embroidered around the hem and down the front in a design of jet, among which disported themselves crepe poppies and their leaves, painted so as to get exactly the right shades. As the wearer of this excellent gown entered, she threw off a long cloak of black panne, lined with puckered and shaded red mousseline de soie, and having a hood all of poppies. Another beautiful gown seen on the same occasion was of white mousseline de soie, hand-painted in a design of Parma violets, the flowers being in sprays, not in sprigs. The skirt was plaited lightly over the hips, and fell over any number of tiny white mousseline de soie ruffles, each one edged with a narrow roll of mauve chenille. The bodice had a high ceinture of mauve panne and a fichu of the chenille-edged muslin frills. The rest of the bodice and the flat elbow sleeves were of the hand-painted mousseline de soie.

Chenille is still very much used, and now it is being utilized as an embroidery, decorated with all kinds of precious stones and gold.

There is a very decided tendency to introduce the low coiffure at present, especially for "jeunes filles," who are wearing it loose at the side. Many, of course, will not give up the present mode of dressing their hair on the top of their head.

Fascinating little nothings are among the novelties displayed in the Rue de la Paix—such as broad gold belts, studded with jewels, dainty cravats of all shapes and sizes, with gold fancy stitching introduced as entredeux or as an edging to gold studded taffeta bows. Gold fringe to "fil d'or" embroidered crepe de Chine cravats is prettily introduced. Of small bags, their name is legion. They are made in suede, thickly spangled with gold or silver, and are much in favor with the Parisiennes for carrying the thousand and one little nothings which Parisian coquetry finds an important item of necessity.

Smyrna RUGS

They've not as many lives as a cat, yet twice as many as other ordinary rugs. Wear them out on one side, then turn them. The other will still be good. Rug men say that good Smyrnas give much better service for the money they cost than any other. And ours don't cost much. This lot particularly. It comprises several of the best-known makes, and is a very positive bargain. The prices are about a quarter less than even our regular fair prices:

18x34 inches, 85c.; value $1.15
21x45 inches, $1.25; value $1.65
26x54 inches, $1.75; value $2.25.
30x60 inches, $2.15; value $3.
36x72 inches, $3.15; value $4.25.
48x84 inches, $5.15; value $7.
30x33 inches, $1.35; value $1.85.
36x40 inches, $1.90; value $2.50
48x54 inches, $3.35; value $4.50
7½x10½ feet, $18; value $22.50
9x12 feet, $23.50; value $28.50
9x15 feet, $32; value $42
12x15 feet, $43; value $56.

Third floor.

PORTIERES

These handsome goods became ours at a price. They are fresh, perfect, mercerized silk portieres, in designs that coming season's productions will hardly excel. Nor will the color combinations be more varied or more effective. With a storekeeper's commission for handling the portieres, the prices are now:

$10.25 a pair for the $14.50 quality. Seven colorings in this lot. Some fringed top and bottom, others corded.

$7 a pair for the $10 grade. Eight colorings. These two are shown with either cord or fringe, at top and bottom. Third Floor.

HANDY BOOKS

More than fifty titles of such books as you've either read or want to read; neatly bound in cloth, and stamped with silver. Usually sold for 18c and 20c; now at ten cents each

This hint of the titles—some have never been in less than dollar editions before:

Abbe Constantin. Ludovic Halevy.
Auld Licht Idylls. J. M. Barrie.
Bacon's Essays.
Childe Harold's Pilgrimage. Byron.
Confessions of an Opium Eater. De Quincey.
Cricket on the Hearth. Dickens.
Dolly Dialogues. Anthony Hope.
Dreams. Olive Schreiner.
Dream Life. Ik Marvel.
Ethics of the Dust. John Ruskin.
Frankenstein. Mrs. Shelley.
Girl in Ten Thousand. A. Meade.
Good Luck. L. T. Meade.
Grace Abounding to the Chief of Sinners. John Bunyan.
Grandfather's Chair. Nathaniel Hawthorne.
House of the Seven Gables. Nathaniel Hawthorne.
Inez, Augusta J. Evans.
Idylls of the King. Tennyson.
In Memoriam. Lord Tennyson.
Laila Rookh. Thomas Moore.
Lamb's Last Essays of Elia.
Lamb's Tales from Shakespeare.
Lang's Green Fairy Book.
Lang's Red Fairy Book.
Lang's Blue Fairy Book.
Lays of Ancient Rome. Macaulay.
Lays of Scottish Cavaliers. Aytoun.
Longfellow's Poems.
Lowell's Poems.
Macbeth. Shakespeare.
Man in Black. Stanley J. Weyman.
Marmion. Sir Walter Scott.
My Friend, the Murderer. A. Conan Doyle.
Moralings in Florence. John Ruskin.
My Lady Nicotine. J. M. Barrie.
Natural Law in the Spiritual World. Henry Drummond.
One of the Profession. White, Jr.
Paradise Regained. John Milton.
Past and Present. Thomas Carlyle.
Phillips Brooks' Addresses.
Queens of the Air. John Ruskin.
Rasselas. Samuel Johnson.
Representative Men. Emerson.
Romeo and Juliet. Shakespeare.
Sartor Resartus. Thomas Carlyle.
Sesame and Lilies. John Ruskin.
Sign of the Four. A. Conan Doyle.
Sketch Book. Washington Irving.
Story of an African Farm. Olive Schreiner.
Shattered Idol. Charlotte M. Braeme.
Study in Scarlet. A. C. Doyle.
Three Men in a Boat. Jerome K. Jerome.
Through Gates of Gold. M. Colline.
Thoughts from Marcus Aurelius Antoninus.
Tillyloss Scandal. J. M. Barrie.
Treasure Island. R. L. Stevenson.
Water Babies. Kingsley.
Window in Thrums. J. M. Barrie.

Book Store, Ninth street.

Under-price Store

These notes of latest offerings. Some relate of goods needed for the household, and there's an item or two that will be of interest to mothers. New lots are coming to the Under-price Store daily. Visit it regularly, and look out for the announcements.

Women's Handkerchiefs—
A specially good purchase of ours, supplemented by some reductions. These hand-embroidered initial handkerchiefs are 75c a dozen. They are worth a dollar, or more. And these with drawn-work, or revers, at 10c, instead of 20c; the lot is unlaundered. And here's a group of two qualities, both embroidered, at 17c and 25c—values 25c and 35c.

Two Lots of Boys' Waists—
One of waists at 25c each, though regularly 50c to $1. They're of madras and French flannel. Sizes 6 to 13 years.
The other lot is of flannel blouses, at 50c, and they are 75c and $1 values. Sizes 3 to 12 years.

Children's White Dresses—
Various lots that were reasonably priced at $1 to $3.15—now 75c to $2.25. Some of nainsook, some of lawn. All trimmed with embroidery or lace, Mother Hubbard style, and some with waist. Sizes 6 months to 3 years.

Sash Curtain Piece Goods—
Some Swiss Muslin, 36 in. wide, at 13c and 15c a yard—was 18c and 20c; 48 in. width, at 18c—was 25c.
Plain Net with narrow edging and insertion, 27 and 30 in. wide, at 25c to 32c a yard, reduced from 30c to 45c.
Tambour Swiss lace, 27 in. wide, at 23c to 60c a yard. 35c to 85c were the already fair prices.

Crocheted Bedspreads—
They're pure white, in handsome Marseilles patterns, and were really cheap at $1.10. Now they're 80c each.

Snapping Mottoes, 6c, from 8c

Table Linen Remnants—
Mostly in 2 to 3¼ yard lengths. All excellent qualities, and now priced at one-fourth to one-third less than regular. Little lots of napkins—half dozens—reduced in like manner.

12½c Fringed Towels, at 10c

Formerly A. T. Stewart & Co.

JOHN WANAMAKER

Broadway, Fourth Avenue, Ninth and Tenth Streets.

FINANCE, CHIEF TOPIC OF THE MAYOR'S MESSAGE

Increase of City Debt Laid to Mayor Strong's Administration.

BONDED DEBT IS $279,725,370

Mandatory Laws Held Responsible for Other Expenses — References to Rapid Transit and Bridges.

Mayor Van Wyck's last annual message was sent to the Municipal Assembly yesterday. He says that the "orgy of financial extravagance which was indulged in prior to consolidation" during Mayor Strong's administration was responsible for the large burdens placed on the city during the last three years. There are no promises or recommendations as to what the city should do in the future.

The only reference the Mayor makes to his record is in this paragraph:

"The statistics contained demonstrate that this showing, which might appear discreditable to those unfamiliar with matters of municipal finance, or which might be made to appear so by sensationalists of hostile prejudice determined to distort the truth, is, in reality, most creditable to the administration over which I have the honor to preside."

In explanation of the enormous increase in the city's bonded indebtedness in 1900, Mayor Van Wyck claims that about two-thirds of the city's credit has been used for the purpose of liquidating old indebtedness of Mayor Strong's administration, and "the remainder has been applied to public improvements of the most necessary character."

The first section of the message contains a statement of the city's indebtedness on Jan. 1, 1901. The Mayor states that, according to the records of Controller Coler's office, the net bonded indebtedness on Jan. 1, 1901, was $279,725,370.

The bonded indebtedness of the city on Jan. 1, 1900, was $252,670,035. The increase in the bonded debt of $24,049,334 in the year 1900 is reduced to $20,508,417 by the registration of bonds which appeared on Jan. 1, 1900, to be outstanding, but not recorded or not approved as to legality. He then writes:

Even this increase, however, appears at first sight to be so remarkable as to call for explanation, and I particularly invite your analysis of the detailed statement hereinafter presented.

The statistics therein contained demonstrate that this showing, which might appear discreditable to those unfamiliar with matters of municipal finance, or which might be made to appear so by sensationalists of hostile prejudice determined to distort the truth, is in reality, most creditable to the administration over which I have the honor to preside.

DISTRIBUTION OF THE DEBT.

A statement of the purposes for which the bonds were issued is printed. The message shows that $9,724,300 of bonds were issued for building the new Hall of Records, new public schools and schoolhouse sites, for high schools, for a Court House site in Harlem, for an extension to the Metropolitan Museum of Art, and for an addition to the Museum of Arts and Sciences in Brooklyn.

The sum of $6,315,196 was spent on public parks, the money being acquired from bond sales. Of this $2,000,000 was for a park bounded by Houston, Stanton, Pitt, and Sheriff Streets; $886,886 for a park on the East River, between One Hundred and Eleventh and One Hundred and Fourteenth Streets, and the rest for park lands and improvements.

Bonds to the amount of $5,317,000 were issued in 1900 for the construction of bridges. Of this sum, $4,500,000 was for the new East River Bridge, $500,000 for the Willis Avenue Bridge, and $180,000 for a bridge across Newtown Creek, in Brooklyn.

The repaving and improvements of streets and roads cost New York in 1900 $3,010,200, and $3,450,000 was spent for the improvement of the water supply. The work on the new aqueduct in 1900 cost the city $2,750,000.

The above expenditures are all in addition to the amounts allowed for the maintenance of the several departments in the tax budget.

Bonds to the amount of $3,874,705 were issued for the use of the Department of Docks and Ferries.

In the miscellaneous list Mayor Van Wyck includes $1,000,000 of bonds issued to start work on the rapid transit railroad; $2,598,211 for opening and widening streets; $1,784,553 for replenishing the fund for street and park openings; $1,124,275 to carry out the mandatory provisions of the Davis law, which increased school teachers' salaries, and $2,874 to "Thomas J. Dunn, late Sheriff of New York County, in defending actions brought by or against him for acts done in his official capacity."

The summary of these bond issues follows:

Corporate stock	$32,678,012.93
Assessment bonds	1,067,185.35
Special revenue bonds	5,388,335.94
Total	$39,133,534.22

EXPLANATION OF THE EXPENSES.

The Mayor explains this large increase in the city's debt as follows:

Of the $32,678,012.93 corporate stock issued over $20,000,000 were issued for the purpose of liquidating liabilities incurred by the City of New York prior to consolidation. Part of this amount was needed to provide for payments on contract obligations incurred prior to that time, but for which bonds had either not been issued at all or else issued for insufficient amounts. A large portion of this $20,000,000 was also needed to pay awards for lands taken by condemnation proceedings instituted prior to Jan. 1, 1898. It will thus be seen that about two-thirds of the use of the city's credit during the years 1900 has been for the purpose of liquidating old indebtedness; the remainder has been applied to public improvements of the most necessary character. The policy of economy in the use of the city's credit outlined in my message to your honorable body of Jan. 3, 1898, has been faithfully observed. It is not a showy policy nor a grateful one for any Administration, but the necessity for it has been imperative during the past three years owing to the orgy of financial extravagance which was indulged in prior to consolidation. The process of liquidation, though still incomplete, has so far progressed that it is certain that at the end of this year, if the exceptional liability on the rapid transit contract be excluded, as it should be, from consideration, the indebtedness of this city outside of its funded debt will be reduced to a minimum, and a most satisfactory comparison can be made with the staggering burden of debt of this character assumed on the date of consolidation.

The debt of the city not represented by bonds has been reduced in the last three years $21,248,747.

COMPARISON OF CITY BURDENS.

Mayor Van Wyck then shows the comparative cost of the city Government in 1899, 1900, and 1901 by this table of the city budgets:

	1899.	1900.	1901.
The Mayoralty	$63,755	$63,755	$63,755
The Municipal Assembly	200,052	200,052	200,052
Dept. of Finance	779,391	779,305	842,305
Law Department	399,758	399,758	399,758
Board of Public Improvements	239,500	239,500	289,500
Department of Highways	2,520,099	2,251,844	2,178,144
Sewers	787,479	803,073	801,350
Bridges	406,522	431,957	431,728
Public Buildings, Light, and Supplies	3,617,804	3,819,083	3,904,809
Water Supply	1,450,817	1,442,914	1,525,219
Parks	1,729,235	1,825,113	1,863,238
Pub. Charities	1,610,315	1,595,912	1,895,491
Correction	704,995	762,775	755,775
Health	1,119,538	1,055,515	1,053,990
Police	11,797,586	11,092,503	11,938,343
Street Cleaning	4,573,500	5,031,282	5,001,922
Fire	4,441,994	4,518,678	4,864,485
Buildings	523,295	546,525	546,525
Taxes	329,200	334,450	334,450
Board Assessors	35,700	42,700	42,700
Dept. Education	13,040,052	14,594,111	18,512,817
Col. City of N.Y.	200,000	200,000	220,000
Normal College	175,000	175,000	195,000
Coroners	165,150	165,150	165,150
Comrs. of Accts.	160,000	156,000	156,000
Board City Rec'd	425,000	480,200	563,200
Libraries	226,504	214,779	299,663
Local city courts	967,500	926,050	985,250
Char. Institutions	1,784,846	2,857,084	2,786,011
Borough officers	51,300	51,300	51,300
Miscellaneous	934,567	955,173	987,978
Total	$55,785,439	$59,555,144	$63,853,912
Fund for street and park openings	$4,448,513	.....	$1,184,553
Int. on city debt	11,430,778	$11,707,544	12,100,206
Redemption of city debt	12,046,061	7,969,073	10,332,173
County expenses, (incluc. State taxes,) New York County	6,961,011	8,301,332	7,658,704
Kings	2,320,097	2,026,663	2,437,945
Queens	403,806	405,039	363,801
Richmond	118,283	136,174	160,056
Total	$93,520,082	$90,778,972	$98,096,413

The Mayor says that a comparison which would include 1898 would be misleading, as "the financial operations of the city were not fully experienced until 1899."

THE INCREASE EXPLAINED.

Mayor Van Wyck then explains in detail the increases in the cost of New York's government during the past three years, as follows:

Of the increase in 1900 over 1899, $1,554,058.14 is in the Department of Education, $1,373,942 having been specifically appropriated in that year for increases of teachers' salaries, to carry into effect the provisions of the so-called Ahearn act.

The increase of $1,072,237.49 in the appropriation for charitable institutions was only apparent, as the effect of charging the budget with payments, theretofore made from the Excise Fund, was to increase correspondingly the general fund for the reduction of taxation, and the net tax levy remained in that respect unchanged.

In the Park Department an increase of $45,000 was made in the appropriations required by law to be made to the several museums under private management located in the parks. The Police Department appropriation was increased $194,906.52, to provide for mandatory increases of policemen's salaries and for election purposes. In the Street Cleaning Department there was an increase of $465,482.26, most of which was required to carry into effect in the Borough of Brooklyn the mandatory provisions of the charter relative to the extension of the Manhattan system of street cleaning.

The Fire Department appropriation was increased $397,012.37, largely on account of the mandatory provisions of Section 740 of the charter relative to the equalization of pay of Brooklyn firemen and promotions throughout the entire force. In the remaining appropriations the decreases substantially offset the increases.

The causes of the increase of $4,303,767.56 in the budget of 1901 over 1900 are even more apparent.

Ninety-one per cent. thereof is to be found in the appropriation of the Department of Education, which increased $3,918,705.60, nearly all of which was due to the mandatory "four mills" provision of the so-called Davis law.

FOR SCHOOLS AND BRIDGES.

The message shows that during the year 1900, $3,500,000 was authorized for schoolhouses and sites, and that in 1899 the sum of $7,673,640 was spent for the same purposes. In the budget for 1901, provision is made for a further issue of $3,500,000 for schoolhouses and sites, and Mayor Van Wyck states that in three years the city has increased its bonded indebtedness for the purposes of schoolhouses and sites alone in the sum of $14,673,640.

Mayor Van Wyck refers to the record of his administration in bridge building as follows:

During the year 1900 bonds to the amount of $4,000,000 were authorized to be issued for the purpose of carrying on the construction of the New East River Bridge. During the year past the work of construction has so far progressed that the anchorages of the bridge have been completed so far as can be done before the completion of the cables. The steel towers have been erected and cable saddles have been placed thereon ready for cable making to begin. Preparations are being made to begin the erection of temporary foot bridges, which serve as false works for the support of the main cables during erection. It is expected that the construction of these temporary foot bridges will be completed and the work of constructing the main cables begun during the approaching Spring.

During the past year the issue of corporate stock to the amount of $1,000,000 for the construction of an additional bridge, known as Bridge No. 3, between the Boroughs of Manhattan and Brooklyn, has been duly authorized; the plans for the proposed bridge have been approved by the War Department of the United States, and the contract for soundings and borings has been awarded, and the necessary soundings and borings have been completed.

Plans for the construction of a bridge between the Boroughs of Manhattan and Queens were transmitted to the Secretary of War in September, 1899, and that officer declined to take action upon them until furnished with the specific authority for the construction of the bridge. An ordinance authorizing the building of the bridge was introduced in the Council on Nov. 18, 1899, but it was not finally adopted by the Municipal Assembly until it passed the Board of Aldermen on Nov. 6, 1900, receiving my approval on the 16th day of November. Notwithstanding that a copy of this ordinance has been brought to the attention of the Secretary of War, whose approval of the plans is necessary before actual construction of the bridge can commence, he has up to this date failed to act upon the same.

THE RAPID TRANSIT TUNNEL.

Referring to the rapid transit matter, the Mayor reports as follows:

In February, 1900, the Board of Rapid Transit Railroad Commissioners awarded a contract for the building of a system of underground rapid transit, extending from the City Hall in the Borough of Manhattan, through that borough and into the Borough of The Bronx. The board having fixed the cost of the proposed work at $35,000,000, made requisition upon the Board of Estimate and Apportionment for that amount of money, and on March 1, 1900, the Board of Estimate and Apportionment authorized the issue of corporate stock of the City of New York in that amount. During the year 1900, therefore, a system of rapid transit which has been so long promised to the people of the city, and so long looked forward to, has taken definite shape, and its completion has been assured by the execution of a contract for the doing of the necessary work and by the assumption on the part of the city of an aggregate indebtedness of $36,500,000, the amount necessary to carry out and complete the proposed system according to the plans and specifications adopted by the Board of Rapid Transit Railroad Commissioners.

It is further gratifying to call attention to the fact that work under the proposed contract has been commenced promptly in various parts of the city, and is steadily progressing.

It still remains for the city to provide such an addition to the system already adopted as will insure an adequate and complete system of underground rapid transit between the Boroughs of Manhattan and the Bronx and the Borough of Brooklyn. While the demand for rapid transit may proceed from boroughs or localities in the city, the benefits to be derived from it are shared by the city as a whole. During the year 1900 the Board of Rapid Transit Railroad Commissioners have taken up and given consideration to proposed plans for this necessary extension to the Borough of Brooklyn. There is every reason to believe that the formalities required by law as prerequisite to the laying out of a route and the awarding of a contract for doing the work will be complied with during the current year. When this is done, the local authorities can be relied upon to obligate the city for the necessary cost of construction, due regard being had to the Constitutional debt limit,

THE "HOLD-UP" OF BOND ISSUES.

In closing his message Mayor Van Wyck writes that he called the attention of the Municipal Assembly last year to the fact that "unnecessary delay in such matters [bond issues] may result in pecuniary loss to the city, and it cannot fail to disarrange the plans for public improvements made by the heads of administrative departments." Mayor Van Wyck then shows that the Board of Aldermen and the Council are still delaying public business and causing the city pecuniary loss by continuing to hold up bond issues. He gives a list of the bonds authorized by the Board of Estimate and unacted on by the Municipal Assembly.

The closing paragraphs of the message are as follows:

Such delays have resulted not merely in delaying the completion of important public works, but have also compelled the city to pay out of its Treasury thousands of dollars for interest on awards for lands taken for public purposes, when such payment was wholly unnecessary, as the city could at any time borrow all the money requisite to meet its obligations at rates much less than the maximum rate of interest allowed by law in such cases.

The provisions of the present charter require for the adoption of ordinances authorizing public works the affirmative votes of three-fourths of all the members elected to both houses of the Municipal Assembly. This means twenty-two affirmative votes in the Council and forty-five in the Board of Aldermen. This provision permits an obstructive minority of small size to hold up ordinances for bridges, public buildings, and public improvements generally.

The message was not read yesterday at the meeting of the Board of Aldermen or the Council, but was ordered printed in the minutes.

Judiciary Committee Reports Bills.

ALBANY, Jan. 15.—The Judiciary Committee of the Assembly has reported favorably the bill of Assemblyman H. Wilson, providing for the proper indexing of lien notices in the County Clerk's office of Kings County; also Mr. Davis's bill authorizing the guardians of Evelyn K. Parsons, Schuyler L. Parsons the Younger, and of Amy B. Johnson to invest the principal of the estate of Margaret L. Whitney in the Bradish Johnson Corporation.

Suspension of B. E. Valentine Affirmed.

ALBANY, Jan. 15.—The Court of Appeals to-day affirmed the decision of the General Term of the Supreme Court, in Brooklyn, in suspending from practice for a period of two years Benjamin E. Valentine of New York City, an attorney at law. The case dates back to December, 1893, when charges were made by Charles Hewlitt in Brooklyn that Valentine had been guilty of fraudulent practices.

To Report Nominations Favorably.

ALBANY, Jan. 15.—The Senate Finance Committee met this noon and decided to report favorably all the nominations made by ex-Gov. Roosevelt during recess, and by Gov. Odell, referred to the committee during the past week. Exception is made in the case of John E. Kraft of Kingston, named Monday night by Gov. Odell to be Civil Service Commissioner in place of Silas W. Burt, removed.

Bill to Benefit Street Cleaners.

Patrick J. McNulty, business agent of the Hostlers and Drivers' Association of the Street Cleaning Department, reports that a bill will be sent to the Legislature next week providing that street cleaners get the benefit of the eight-hour law and be paid for overtime for Sunday work, and forbidding dismissal without a hearing.

EVIL OF OVERCROWDING IN LEGAL PROFESSION

Caustic Comment by President of State Bar Association.

Lax Requirements and Lack of Training Border on Disgrace—Minister Wu Expounds Chinese Law.

ALBANY, Jan. 15.—Caustic and sensational were the statements made by Judge Francis M. Finch, formerly Associate Judge of the Court of Appeals, in an address as President of the State Bar Association, when he declared that the legal profession was overcrowded; that the rush is an evil and a hardship both to the old and the new members; that, pressed by the necessities of a livelihood, there is danger that men may be tempted to gain money by questionable means and may bring scandal and disgrace upon the profession. He said, in part:

"Even the veterinary student may not doctor a horse unless he has studied for two years in a competent institution. Is the law so much easier, so much simpler, so much less loaded with responsible duty, that a college graduate may practice if after a two years' lingering in a law office and a non-graduate in one year more? I mean to free myself from all responsibility for the situation, for it borders on disgrace to see the profession which should outrank all the rest trailing far in the rear and tempting with its easy-swinging doors a scramble of the unfit.

"In this country it is a National fault that we make lawyers but never jurists. We study law as an art, but never as a science. That fault is an outcome of our intensely practical lives, never inclined to ask why, but always determined to know what. The mistake of it lies in this. Law is not a mere catalogue of arbitrary rules if that were so, to know those rules would be enough. Law is a growth, and is growing yet, and will continue to grow when you and I are gone."

"I would not go so far as did that committee of the American Bar Association, whose report, though unaccepted, was an admirable product of their research and their thought. I would not say, as they did, that our whole system of study should be overthrown and in its place be put the study of law as a science and not merely as an art; but I do say that it is a shame to graduate a lawyer densely and absolutely ignorant of the history of his own profession, and that it is entirely possible with better preparation and a longer course to parallel the lines of technical study with the elements of jurisprudence.

"And so I plead with our admirable court that the schools may have the opportunity through the requirement of higher preparation and longer lines of study to train up men who will be an honor to the profession and a blessing to the State.

"And now I must relieve your patience. I have said what I should; I have done what I could. This effort in behalf of legal education is possibly the last service which I can render to the State in which my life has been lived, and to which I owe both allegiance and gratitude. It might have been more interesting to have discussed before you some problem of the law or some unsettled question of jurisprudence, but what I have said has seemed to me a duty not to be postponed or neglected or in any way subordinated to the mere pleasures of the occasion. No man knows more thoroughly than I do the need of speaking as I have spoken, and whatever the outcome I shall feel at least that I have not been unfaithful to my chosen profession."

Judge Finch advocated a plan to raise the standard of preliminary education, making it equivalent to a four years' course in a high school and four years' study at law in the case of students who study wholly in law offices, and three years for students who study in law schools.

Wu Ting-fang, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of China to the United States, addressed the members of the association at Hermanus Bleecker Hall to-night. The hall was filled with 1,000 persons, who listened with great attention to Minister Wu's address, the subject of which was "Chinese Jurisprudence." On the stage were seated Judges of the Court of Appeals and Supreme Court, State officers, members of the Legislature, and prominent members of the bar.

Mr. Wu's address was a rather technical exposition of the Chinese law, which he sketched in considerable detail, enumerating many of the offenses recognized in China and the punishments provided for each. He asserted that on the whole the Chinese law, both in its character and in its administration, is much superior to that in any other Asiatic country. He suggested, however, that the Penal Code, which has been in use for 250 years, and which was suited to the time when it was adopted, should be changed now to bring it into accord with modern conditions. He himself had made efforts without success. A commercial code, he added, to regulate business intercourse between the Chinese and foreigners engaged in trade in China, is an urgent necessity.

The annual election of officers resulted as follows:

President—William B. Hornblower, New York; Vice Presidents—First District, Charles W. Dayton, New York; Second District, Macgrane Coxe, Southfield; Third District, Edmund L. Fancher, Albany; Fourth District, John I. Gilbert, Malone; Fifth District, Elon R. Brown, Watertown; Sixth District, John P. Grant, Stamford; Seventh District, De Merville Page, Hornellsville; Eighth District, John G. Milburn, Buffalo; Secretary—Frederick E. Wadhams, Albany; Corresponding Secretary—George Lawyer, Albany; Treasurer—Albert Hessberg, Albany.

HEARING ON RAMAPO BILL.

Repeal of the Company's Charter to be Argued Next Tuesday.

ALBANY, Jan. 15.—Assemblyman Morgan of Kings appeared before the Cities Committee of the Assembly this afternoon and asked that a date be set for a hearing on his bill to repeal the special charter of the Ramapo Water Company. Chairman Kelsey fixed upon Tuesday, the 22d inst., as the date for a hearing.

Mr. Morgan's other Ramapo bill, authorizing the city to go into any other State for its water supply, will not be taken up until the Charter Revision Commission has submitted its report. It is expected that the commission will provide for this emergency in its report. If not, then Mr. Morgan's bill will be pushed.

Among those who will appear in favor of the bill will be representatives from the Merchants' Association, the Brooklyn League, and the Manufacturing Association.

Mr. Morgan does not expect any opposition to his bill except from the company itself. The company's legal representatives are Hoadly, Lauterbach & Johnson. Last year, when the bills were up for argument, Mr. Limburger appeared as the representative of the firm.

THE PROPOSED COMMISSIONERS.

Eligibility Under Bills to Reduce Prison and Charities Boards.

ALBANY, Jan. 15.—Attention was called to the fact to-day that the bills providing for a new Prison Commission and a State Board of Charities permit the Governor to designate as two members of each board "members of the Land Board or Constitutional State officers." The question at once arose as to what State officers will be eligible for designation under that provision.

The Land Board is composed of the Lieutenant Governor, the Speaker of the Assembly, the Secretary of State, the Controller, the Treasurer, the State Engineer and Surveyor, and the Attorney General. In addition to these, the other Constitutional officers are the State Superintendent of Prisons, the State Superintendent of Public Works, and the members of the State Commission in Lunacy, the State Board of Charities, and the State Prison Commission.

In selecting the Constitutional officers to serve on the State Prison Commission and the State Board of Charities the Governor may select any of the above-enumerated officers, with the exception of the present members of the State Board of Charities and the Prison Commission, who will be legislated out of office by the creation of the new boards and therefore cease to be eligible for appointment as Constitutional officers.

STATE BOARD OF CHARITIES.

Private Institutions Ask to be Heard by Governor on Proposed Changes.

Representatives of the private charitable associations of the city of every denomination, Hebrew, Roman Catholic, and Protestant, yesterday sent to Gov. Odell a protest against the enactment of any measure regarding the State Board of Charities until they have an opportunity to be heard.

Robert W. Hebberd, Secretary of the State Board, was in the city yesterday and passed much of the day in consultation with Chairman William R. Stewart at 31 Nassau Street.

Secretary Hebberd denied emphatically a report that his presence here was for the purpose of formulating a protest against the adoption of Gov. Odell's recommendation for a single-headed commission for the Board of Charities. "I am simply here on routine business and preparing the annual report," he said.

"Do you believe a single-headed commission would be beneficial or would it be harmful?" he was asked.

"That is a matter that it would be indelicate for me to discuss," he answered.

AGAINST RAINES LAW HOTELS.

Bill Introduced to Raise Price of Licenses and Fix Room Tax.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Jan. 15.—Senator Davis of Buffalo this morning introduced a bill which has for its main object the abolition of the so-called Raines law hotel. "The bill," says Senator Davis, "eliminates the unwise and unpleasant features of the Raines liquor tax law and retains all its meritorious points."

The bill provides for local option in cities, which can be submitted at election each year. It increases the price of hotel licenses one-half above the present tax, so that if a hotel pays $500 license, it will be required to pay $750. And if there are more than twenty-five rooms in the hotels an extra tax of $1 for each room is required.

"If a legitimate hotel business is being carried on," Senator Davis said, "there will be no difficulty in paying the tax, but if the hotels are off color, they will probably be suppressed by this additional tax." Senator Davis's bill does not meddle with the present State Excise Department and the saloon licenses are the same.

Senator Davis's bill was drawn by Lodowick H. Jones, a young lawyer and reformer of Buffalo, who has devoted two years to acquiring a personal knowledge of the working of the Raines law and its violations.

Mr. Jones says the object of the bill is to permit the people of each community to decide just what they want to do about the liquor traffic in their town. He believes that having laws on the statute books which are not enforced tends to degrade the morals of the people.

TO SELL PENITENTIARY LANDS.

Strong Effort to Secure Removal of the Kings County Institution.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Jan. 15.—A determined effort is to be made at this session of the Legislature to secure legislation for the tearing down and removal of the Kings County Penitentiary. Bills with this end in view were introduced to-day by Senator Marshall in the Senate and Assemblyman Remsen in the House. The removal of the penitentiary is said to be desired by the citizens of Brooklyn generally. The institution is situated in a section which has of recent years been developing into one of the finest residence sections in Brooklyn, and the existence of the penitentiary building in its present location is an obstacle to further progress.

At the last session of the Legislature a bill providing for the removal of the penitentiary was passed by the Legislature, but the Mayor vetoed it because one of its provisions was that the inmates of the penitentiary were to be removed to Barren Island. This island, which is situated in the Rockaway Inlet, is almost inaccessible in the Winter time on account of the ice. In a letter which he wrote to the Mayor Commissioner of Correction Lantry gave it as his opinion that the island would not be a proper place to keep the penitentiary prisoners. The feature which caused the failure of the bill passed last year has been eliminated from the present bill.

Under the terms of the present bill the Commissioner of Correction is authorized and directed to commence at once the tearing down and removal of the penitentiary building, the material so obtained to be used in his discretion in the erection of another building upon any island within the limits of the City of Greater New York, or to be sold and the proceeds derived paid into the general fund of New York City.

The inmates of the penitentiary are to be removed to any one or more of the penitentiaries within the limits of the city.

The Controller is authorized to sell at public auction the lands upon which the penitentiary is located, and all lands adjoining the same belonging to the city, subject to the penitentiary's removal. Before making such sale the Controller shall cause the lands to be surveyed and laid out into separate building lots and appraised in separate lots by three appraisers, to be appointed by him. The terms upon which the land is to be sold are one-third cash, with a mortgage to the city for the remainder for a period not to exceed five years, and at a rate of interest not exceeding 5 per cent.

In discussing the proposed removal of the penitentiary, Assemblyman Remsen said to-day: "The penitentiary is located in the vicinity of Prospect Park upon ground so high that it commands a view of the whole surrounding country, and which has become among the most desirable property for residence extension in the whole of Brooklyn. The penitentiary grounds would make at least 140 twenty-foot lots, which would bring all the way from $2,000 to $3,000 each. There is no good reason why the penitentiary should be kept up. It is an immense building with accommodations for about 2,000 prisoners, but there are scarcely ever more than 300 prisoners confined there, and nearly all of these are short term prisoners. The Commissioner of Correction has informed me that these prisoners could be taken care of in other penal institutions of the city without any crowding."

TO ABOLISH DEATH PENALTY.

Senator Cocks Preparing a Bill—Gen. Curtis Says Capital Punishment Increases Lynchings.

ALBANY, Jan. 15.—Senator William Willets Cocks of Old Westbury was to-day busily engaged in framing his bill for the abolition of capital punishment. He proposes that any person found guilty of murder, first degree, shall be confined in prison during the term of his natural life, and that those convicted of murder in the second degree shall be imprisoned for thirty years, with no reduction of the term of servitude for good behavior. Senator Cocks has been in communication with the Society of Friends, and to-day received a letter from the President containing his views. Mr. Cocks is a Quaker, and claims that there is a strong sentiment against capital punishment, and he believes that there is a better chance this year to pass the bill than ever before.

Gen. Newton M. Curtis, in a letter to Senator Cocks, said that only one lynching was reported last year in a State where the death penalty had ceased to exist. This was Colorado. "In Indiana," he wrote, "where capital punishment is inflicted, there have been, on an average, eight lynchings in each year for a long time. During a similar period Michigan, a neighboring State, in which there is no death penalty, has had only four lynchings altogether. Lynchings, so the statistics show, have decreased or increased in the same ratio as the infliction of the death penalty has increased or decreased."

Gen. Curtis further said that John G. Carlisle, ex-Gov. Foster of Ohio, and Senator James H. Berry of Arkansas, had admitted to him that the death penalty often thwarted the ends of justice, in that lawyers defending a culprit accused of murder would in many cases have it arranged so that their client might be indicted for murder in the first degree, in order thus to secure more easily the prisoner's acquittal.

AGAINST CONEY ISLAND RESORTS.

Bill to Fix License of Dance Halls at $100—$500 for Other Places.

ALBANY, Jan. 15.—Senator Samuel Slater introduced a bill to-day which he says is aimed at the notorious "board-walk" dancing resorts existing at Coney Island. The Senator believes that the way to compel these resorts to quit business is to charge them a license which shall be too expensive for them to pay. As a whole, his measure is permissive, giving the resorts a legal status that they do not now enjoy.

Technically the bill amends the Greater New York charter relative to the licensing of places of public exhibitions and amusements. Section 346 is amended to read: "The Police Board is authorized to grant licenses for public exhibitions and amusements," &c. The words "and amusements" are new matter.

Section 1,472, which defines what public exhibitions are unauthorized without a license, is amended to read:

It shall not be lawful * * * to permit dancing in any place licensed for the sale of liquor or where liquor is sold, or in any room, place, or apartment connected therewith by any door, window, or other aperture, until a license for the place of such exhibition or dancing for such purpose shall have first been obtained.

Section 1,473 is amended to read:

The Police Department is authorized and empowered to grant such licenses * * * for other purposes than dancing for the sum of $500, and for each license so granted and before the issuing thereof, for the purpose of dancing, $100.

The penalty for not procuring a license for dancing is fixed at $100 for each performance, thus legalizing the dance halls, although making them more expensive to maintain.

Senator Slater said concerning his bill: "My bill is not meant to legalize the Coney Island board-walk dance halls. On the contrary, it is aimed against them. They exist now, and if we put a high license on them they will be driven out of business."

Senator Slater introduced another bill, the object of which, he says, is to abolish the dance halls now flourishing on West One Hundred and Tenth Street, in New York City, objection to which has been made by the respectable residents of that vicinity. The bill contains the same license provisions as the Coney Island measure.

NEW CONEY ISLAND BOARDWALK.

Bill for $350,000 Structure—Property Owners to Pay Half for Land.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Jan. 15.—Assemblyman Remsen to-day introduced a bill for the construction of a $350,000 board walk at Coney Island. The bill provides for the condemnation of a strip along the ocean front on Coney Island from West Thirty-seventh Street to West Fifth Street. The strip to be condemned is 8,000 feet in length by 40 feet in width, with a 110-foot easement between board walk and ocean.

One-half the cost of the property condemned is to be paid by the property owners and one-half by the city. The city is to bear the whole cost of the construction of the walk. A commission of three members, to be appointed by the Supreme Court, is to act with the Controller and President of the Borough of Brooklyn to condemn the property.

LOWER INCORPORATION FEES.

Bill Introduced to Make Them 1-50 Instead of 1-8 of 1 Per Cent.

ALBANY, Jan. 15.—Senator Elsberg introduced a bill to-day that provides for the reduction of the fee for incorporation in the State from one-eighth of 1 per cent. to one-fiftieth of 1 per cent., to carry out the strenuous recommendations of Deputy Controller Theodore Gilman, made to the Legislature.

Mr. Gilman asserts that because of a low incorporation tax New Jersey, during the last year, collected more than $1,000,000 in organization taxes, and during the same period the great State of New York collected only the sum of $356,778 from the same source. He believes that more than 80 per cent. of the vast amount paid into the Treasury of New Jersey was contributed by New York capital. It would be well, he says, if the difficulty ceased at this point, but it does not. After becoming incorporated under the laws of another State, these corporations continue to pay taxes into the Treasury of that State annually aggregrating more than $1,000,000.

"It is manifest," says Mr. Gilman, "that more leniency might be shown to our domestic corporations now subject to taxation if these changes are made, and the State gain at least $2,500,000 per annum."

MUNICIPAL TENEMENT HOUSES.

Labor Bodies Indorse a Bill Which Will Be Sent to the Legislature.

Alexander Law, a Knight of Labor carpenter, is preparing a bill empowering the city to build a municipal tenement house with a frontage of a city block. He proposes that the tenement be built on the same plans as municipal tenements in Glasgow and London, with all the modern improvements of flathouses of the better class. The money for building and running the municipal tenement house is to be appropriated by the city and be repaid in rents. The bill, Mr. Law says, has been indorsed by a number of labor bodies.

LEGISLATURE'S PROCEEDINGS.

ALBANY, Jan. 15.—Lieut. Gov. Woodruff still being ill with grip, President pro. tem. Ellsworth presided over the Senate this morning.

Senator Wagner presented a large petition from taxpayers of Bushwick Avenue, Brooklyn, asking that the street be paved with asphalt. The signatures were in a large book and numbered several thousand.

The Senate having named committee clerks, adjourned at 11:16 o'clock until to-morrow morning at 11 o'clock.

The Assembly was in session about ten minutes this morning, long enough to listen to the first reading of bills. Mr. Harburger of New York, who has introduced his usual bill amending the excise law, urged the Excise Committee to get to work speedily on his bill, as the people of the State were clamoring for a change. His remarks caused a hearty laugh from the majority members.

OTHER BILLS INTRODUCED.

ALBANY, Jan. 15.—These bills were introduced to-day:

Mr. REMSEN—Providing for the removal of the Kings County Penitentiary from the Borough of Brooklyn to Barren Island; also, prohibiting the construction of railroads upon Bedford Avenue, in Brooklyn; also, providing for the appointment of Commissioners of Appraisal, Estimate, and Assessment for the Bedford Avenue improvement.

Mr. PRINCE—Amending the loan association law of 1893 so as to make its provisions apply only to the City of New York. The bill is the same as one already introduced by Senator Wagner this session, with the exception that it fixes at 2 per cent. per month the interest rate on the foreclosure of the security interest or discount, and providing that no loan greater than $100 shall be made at one time.

Mr. KELSEY—Providing that State, county, city, town, and village employes shall have leave of absence, with pay, on Memorial Day.

Mr. SMITH—Relieving the Evangelical Lutheran Church of Our Saviour, on Audubon Avenue and One Hundred and Seventy-ninth Street, New York City, of the taxes for 1899 now due and unpaid.

Mr. A. R. SMITH—Amending the fish and game law by providing that trout and white fish shall not be taken in Otsego Lake before May 1, 1906, except by angling through the ice.

Mr. SANDERS—His bill of last year regulating the sale of tobacco cigarettes with paper wrappers. The license is fixed at $50. Any person who sells cigarettes to a person under twenty-one years of age shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction, fined $25. A second conviction means a revocation of the license of the dealer.

Senator WAGNER—Providing for the asphalting of Bushwick Avenue, Brooklyn, at a cost not exceeding $190,000.

Senator Cocks—Providing that the penalty and bond of the Receiver of Taxes of Hempstead, Queens County, be not less than $50,000.

Senator WHITE—For the acquisition of lands on Onondaga Salt Springs Reservation for park lands. The expense must not exceed $25,000.

Senator AHEARN—Providing that all advertisements required to be printed under the Greater New York charter act shall be inserted in a daily Jewish newspaper published in New York.

Senator HILL—Changing the name of the Niagara Fire Insurance Company of Erie County to the Prudential Fire Insurance Company of Buffalo.

Incorporate to Bury Chinese.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 15.—Articles of incorporation of the Christian Chinese Burial Association, with the principal office in New York City, were filed with the Secretary of State to-day. It is proposed to provide cemetery plots for a free Christian burial place for Chinamen and members who may die in New York City and vicinity. The Directors are Edward Wright Peet, Arthur Irving Perry, Hull Kin, William James Main, John Roberts, and Kwai Fong Pang of New York City, and Cyrus Brainerd Ventres of Brooklyn.

Another Anti-Gambling Bill.

ALBANY, Jan. 15.—Assemblyman Leon Sanders of New York to-day introduced his Anti-Gambling bill, which is more stringent in its provisions than his bill of last year. Bucket shops are criminal from this year's bill, which makes it a misdemeanor to furnish directly or indirectly information by telegraph or otherwise to pool sellers, bookmakers, &c., upon the result of any chance, or casualty, unknown, or contingent event whatsoever. The penalty upon first conviction is $50 or imprisonment for thirty days. Upon a second conviction the crime is accounted a felony, the fine for which is $2,000 and imprisonment for two years.

For Volunteer Factory Inspectors.

A movement has been started by the Church Association for the Advancement of the Interests of Labor to present a bill to the Legislature providing for the appointment of fifty unpaid Factory Inspectors. Volunteers can be had to assist the paid force of Inspectors in the city. It is proposed that the volunteers devote their attention to the factories on the east side. Gov. Odell will be asked to use his influence to have the bill passed.

Liquor Sales at Buffalo Exposition.

ALBANY, Jan. 15.—Senator Davis of Buffalo has refused to stand for the "Wide-Open" Saloon bill, affecting Buffalo during the Pan-American Exposition. He has a bill which differs from the Brooks bill, in the Assembly, inasmuch as the Sunday-opening provision is entirely eliminated. Senator Davis said he could not conscientiously act as sponsor in the Senate for the measure. The Davis bill permits saloons to be open all night, but not on Sundays.

Hearings by Senate Committee.

ALBANY, Jan. 15.—The Cities Committee of the Senate will give a hearing on Senator Slater's bill widening One Hundred and Thirty-fifth Street, New York, on Jan. 22. On the same day they will give a hearing on Senator Mills's bill amending the charter of Mount Vernon.

Hilda Clark Laid Up for Two Wee

ARMY BILL IS STILL BEFORE THE SENATE

Mr. Bacon and Mr. Hanna Get Into a Political Argument.

The Bacon Amendment Depriving the President of Discretionary Power to Increase Army Tabled.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Some progress was made by the Senate to-day in the consideration of the Army Reorganization bill. One amendment that has created much debate was disposed of, and an intimation made that a vote would be reached "very soon." To-day's debate opened with statements by Mr. Pettus, (Dem., Ala.,) Mr. Bate, (Dem., Tenn.) and Mr. Cockrell, (Dem., Mo.,) members of the Committee on Military Affairs, in opposition to the measure. Mr. Pettus said he regarded a large standing army as "the greatest threat to the liberties of a republic that could be made by mortal man."

Mr. Cockrell made it perfectly clear that he was opposed to the authorization of a large standing army in the pending measure, and declared his intention to vote against it. He believed it to be the duty of Congress, however, to pass the bill as speedily as was consistent with proper debate. He pointed out that delay in the passing of the bill would seriously embarrass the Government in the transportation of troops to and from the Philippines.

Mr. Bacon (Dem., Ga.,) then took the floor in support of his amendment to strike out of the bill the words, "conferring upon the President power to increase from the minimum to the maximum limit the strength of the infantry, artillery, and cavalry arms of the service." He declared that the army was not intended to control our people, and there was no logic in the proposition that the army ought to be increased in proportion to the population.

"Does the Senator think," interrupted Mr. Scott, (Dem., Va.,) "that the vote at the polls last Fall indicated that the American people are afraid of a standing army?"

The Georgia Senator declined to be diverted from his line of argument, promising to answer the question later.

In reply to the remarks of Mr. Bacon, Mr. Foraker (Rep., Ohio,) contended there was no warrant for the statement that the discretionary power conferred upon the President was unprecedented. As a fact, he said, it was distinctly in line with all precedents, and he cited instances where similar authority had been delegated by Congress to the President.

Mr. Bacon then replied to the inquiry made of him by Mr. Scott. He did not think the American people had passed upon the question of increasing the army. They had not voted upon the question whether the United States should pass from a free Republic to an imperialistic Government. He declared that the Republicans in the campaign "took advantage of serious mistakes of their political opponents" and skilfully used those mistakes to their advantage.

"They won the fight," declared Mr. Bacon, "upon the financial question and the full dinner pail."

When Mr. Bacon reiterated his statement that the American people had not passed upon the question of "imperialism," Mr. Hanna, Chairman of the Republican National Committee, interrupted him to say that "every issue made by the Kansas City Convention was met and disposed of."

Mr. Bacon replied that the newspapers quoted Mr. Hanna, when the distinguished leader of the Republican Party made his brilliant tour through the Northwest, as saying that "there was no question of imperialism involved in the campaign."

"The question was not one of imperialism," suggested Mr. Hanna, "but whether the policy of the Administration should be supported. I said there was no such thing as imperialism in our Government, and could not be. Without any offense to the party on the other side, I regard imperialism as a fake issue."

Mr. Bacon maintained that Mr. Hanna's statement bore out his assertion that the American people had not passed upon the question of imperialism.

Mr. Bacon's amendment was then laid upon the table, the vote being 39 to 20.

Mr. Teller (Sil. Rep., Col.,) then offered his amendment to the section of the bill authorizing the President to retire an army officer under suspension by sentence of a court-martial, and took the opportunity to discuss the Philippine question in many of its phases. He alluded to a statement made a few days ago by Mr. Hawley (Rep., Conn.,) about the possibility of war on account of the jealousy of European powers.

"Is not the Senator perfectly aware," inquired Mr. Hawley, with evident warmth, "that I repudiated that statement?"

"I do not care whether you did or not," retorted Mr. Teller.

"I know you do not," observed Mr. Hawley.

"I have got it here and I'll read it," said the Colorado Senator. "The Senator spoke of something in the air and he referred to the purchase of the Danish Islands. The newspapers of the country took it up and used it. There is no danger of a foreign war on account of the Danish Islands with the South Sea Islands thrown in. We do not need the great army of 100,000 men to resist any threatened or supposed war from any people in the world.

"I know we are not loved in Europe," continued Mr. Teller. "Our competition in trade is creating great feeling over there, but I fail to see any nation in the world that is going to war with us on account of trade.

"It seems to me," said Mr. Teller, "only necessary to say to the American people, to have them see the folly of this bill, that no man stands here and gives a good reason for an army of 100,000. It is the policy of the party now in power to have an army of 100,000 men. It may be that the proposed increase of the army has some connection with the changes that seems to be taking place in the country. It may be that the cry of imperialism has some ground; that it is feared that imperialism will not suit the people, and therefore that the great army is not intended to put down Anarchists, revolutionists, and insurrectionists in the Philippines, but those at home."

Mr. Warren, (Rep., Wyo.,) a member of the Committee on Military Affairs, challenged the accuracy of the statement that the bill provided for a standing army of 100,000 men. It provides, he maintained, for a standing army of 54,000 men, all of whom are absolutely needed, according to information laid before Congress. Mr. Warren urged that as a business proposition the pending measure ought to be disposed of. The best evidence of the good faith of those who had framed it was that the number of officers called for by the bill was only sufficient properly to command an army of 54,000 men.

Mr. Allison (Rep., Iowa) suggested that until the Army bill was disposed of the Senate hereafter meet at 11 o'clock each day. This was objected to by Mr. Jones (Dem., Ark.) because the Indian Committee was now considering the Indian Appropriation bill, and an early session would interfere with the work.

Mr. Pettigrew (Sil., S. D.) suggested that the request be withdrawn, as he thought a vote would be reached "very soon."

The resolution presented a few days ago by Mr. Teller providing for the printing, as a public document, of the petition of 2,006 Filipinos, was, after a short debate, referred to the Committee on the Philippines. The Senate then went into executive session.

WANTS ACTION IN NEELY CASE.

Mr. Richards Asks that a Mandate Be Issued Immediately.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—In the Supreme Court to-day Solicitor General Richards made a statement concerning his request for the immediate issuance of the mandate in the Neely case. He said that he had received a telegram from Neely's attorney, John D. Lindsay, complaining of the haste of the Department of Justice in this matter, and stating that he (Lindsay) had an understanding with the department that no immediate request of this kind should be made, but that on the contrary, in case of the affirmative action of the court time was to be allowed to Neely before the issuance of the writ and the prisoner's removal, for him to decide upon a course of action.

Mr. Richards stated that this understanding was entered into, and was to be binding only in case the decision was based upon a technicality, and he read a letter from Mr. Lindsay in support of this position. He did not change his request of the court, nor did the Court alter its order of yesterday for the immediate issuance of the mandate.

The State Department will be called upon to act in the Neely case. Under the law the warrant of extradition must be issued by the Secretary of State, when he is satisfied of the sufficiency of the application. In view of the elaborate attention given to the case by the judicial bench, it is probable that this will be accepted as conclusive on the merits of the case, and that the issuance of the warrant will be merely a formality when the papers are properly brought before the department. It is expected this will take some days, as the Supreme Court decision must be forwarded to the New York courts and proper orders made there for the holding of Neely.

The department warrant will give the custody of Neely to William Henkel, who has been appointed as the agent of the military authorities to receive the prisoner and take him to Cuba.

READY FOR NEELY IN CUBA.

Seven Judges Will Hear the Case Against the Alleged Embezzler.

HAVANA, Jan. 15.—Mr. Lamar, who is associated with Mr. Rubens in the prosecution of the Post Office fraud cases for the Government, says that, with the exception of some evidence which Mr. Rubens will bring from the United States, especially what is contained in the Lawshe report, the Government is now ready to proceed with the trial of C. F. W. Neely, charged with embezzlement while acting as Financial Agent of the Department of Posts.

Neely has already been indicted by the Court of First Instance, and on his arrival here under the extradition proceedings he will be imprisoned to await trial before the Audiencia. Seven Judges will sit in the case. Spanish law allows an appeal to the Supreme Court, but the decision of the latter tribunal is final.

INSULAR CASES CLOSED.

After Arguments by Messrs. Richards and Smith Court Takes Last of the Actions Under Advisement.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Solicitor General Richards to-day made reply to Mr. Smith's argument in the Hawaiian insular case, now on hearing before the United States Supreme Court. In this case, he said, it was obviously the intention of Congress, as soon as practicable, to treat the territory as a part of the United States for legislative purposes, so that the revenue and commercial laws which apply in the United States should operate there. "But," he went on, "before these laws could be put in operation in the Hawaiian Islands it was necessary that a period of preparation should intervene after the passage of the resolution of annexation. On July 7, 1898, when the annexation resolution was passed, there were no customs laws of the United States in operation in Hawaii and no customs officers of the United States there. The customs laws of the Republic of Hawaii were in force, and they were the only laws of that character.

"It is obvious, therefore, that if the resolution of annexation immediately abrogated the customs laws of the islands the territory would have been left without any customs law, open to the ships of the world. The customs laws of the United States could not have effective operation, because there were no agencies there to enforce them.

"If, then, the resolution of annexation threw open the ports of Hawaii to the world at the same time, according to the contention of opposing counsel, it threw open the ports of the United States to ships coming from Hawaii. The effect of this would have been to give an open door, through Hawaii, into our ports. We could not inquire, when goods came into the United States from Hawaii, whether they had been brought into Hawaii as an entrepôt to the United States."

Mr. Richards argued that this sort of thing could not be permitted, and he expressed the opinion that if Congress had believed such a consequence would ensue, the resolution of annexation would not have passed at the time, nor until arrangements could have been made to put in operation our customs and commerce regulations immediately. So far as customs matters are concerned, evidently the islands were not to be deemed a part of the United States for customs purposes until Congress should further legislate on the matter by a law extending the United States customs laws and regulations to the islands. He called attention to the act of annexation, saying that it did not make the Hawaiian Islands a part of the United States, but a part of the territory of the United States.

"It is," he said, "obvious that territory annexed or ceded to the United States becomes 'a part of the territory of the United States,' but it does not become 'a part of the United States' in either a Constitutional or legislative sense until Congress shall so determine."

In conclusion, Mr. Richards said: "In the annexation resolution it was expressly provided that the customs regulations of the Republic of Hawaii should continue until Congress should extend the customs laws of the United States to the Islands. It was not until the passage of the act of April 30, 1900, that the islands became a part of the United States for customs purposes by the extension of our laws to them."

Mr. Richards was interrogated by the Chief Justice and by Justices Harlan, Peckham, White, and McKenna. In reply to Justice Harlan, he said that if it became desirable to do so the United States could part with Hawaii, as it could with the Philippines, because neither is a part of the Union. He did not contend, he said, that Congress could disintegrate the Union, but he did hold that Congress could dispose of territory which simply belongs to this country.

In connection with his contention concerning the necessary time between the acquisition of territory and the putting into effect of our laws, Mr. Richards read extracts from the treaty negotiated in 1893 for the annexation of the islands that, he said, made explicit provision for temporary extension of our laws, as had been done under the resolution of annexation. He laid some stress upon the fact that this treaty had been negotiated during the Administration of President Harrison.

Mr. Richards was followed by Mr. Smith, who closed the case for the appellants. This is the last of the insular cases on the docket. About a dozen of them have been heard, and the Court now has them under advisement.

POST OFFICE APPROPRIATION BILL.

Carries $122,748,688, but Fails to Provide for Pneumatic Tube Service.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—The House Committee on Post Offices and Post Roads to-day practically completed the Post Office Appropriation bill. The total amount carried by the bill is $122,748,688, as against $113,658,238 for this year. The appropriation for rural free delivery is increased from $1,750,000 to $3,500,000. The usual provisions for special facilities between New York and New Orleans, and between Kansas City and Newton, Kan., are placed in the bill, but no provision is made for pneumatic tube service. The amount allowed for the Philippine postal service is $50,000, as against $200,000 for this year.

Other items of appropriation are: Clerk hire, $14,303,000, an increase of over $1,500,000; for street car service, $400,000, an increase of $50,000. An increase of $800,000 for mail transportation by railroad and $350,000 for transportation by star route is allowed. The present appropriation of $80,000 for payment to the ocean steamship companies for mail transportation on the Pacific is reduced to $45,000, the company having changed its route.

RIVER AND HARBOR BILL DEBATE.

Western Men Work Unsuccessfully for Reclamation of Arid Lands.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—The House spent another day on the River and Harbor bill without completing it. Twenty-six pages were disposed of to-day. The friends of the bill successfully resisted all attempts to load down the bill with new projects, and only one or two unimportant amendments were adopted.

The Western members labored unsuccessfully to secure an entering wedge for their pet scheme for the reclamation of the arid lands, but received only very limited support.

Speaker Henderson's New Gavel.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Speaker Henderson called the House to order to-day with a gavel presented by Col. McCaskey, Twentieth Infantry, United States Army, who is stationed at Fort Santiago, Manila. The gavel is part of the official flagstaff of the Philippine Islands from which the Spanish colors were lowered and upon which those of the United States were hoisted on the day of the surrender, Aug. 13, 1898.

Will Contest Seat in Congress.

BUFFALO, Jan. 15.—Rowland B. Mahany has served formal notice on Representative Ryan that his election as a member of the Fifty-seventh Congress will be contested. The alleged grounds for the contest are bribery, political intimidation, and transposition of election returns. Ryan's plurality was 316.

B. Altman & Co.

For a short season, Special Orders will be taken for Tailor-made and Dressy Gowns, etc., at reductions from regular prices. New Model Gowns are shown designed especially for Early Spring wear and suitable for every occasion.

Dressmaking and Tailoring Department, Third Floor.

TO IGNORE GREAT BRITAIN.

Mr. Morgan Declares Clayton-Bulwer Treaty Is Not a Bar to Construction of Nicaragua Canal.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Senator Morgan to-day introduced a resolution declaratory of the non-effect of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty upon the right of the United States to construct the Nicaragua Canal. The resolution cites the protocol with Nicaragua and Costa Rica as a preamble and then proceeds as follows:

"Resolved, That the Clayton-Bulwer treaty of July 4, 1850, gives no right to Great Britain to demand that the Congress of the United States shall withhold its ratification of said agreements or shall abstain from legislation to provide for their prompt execution.

"That the ratification by Great Britain of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty of Feb. 5, 1900, as the same has been amended in the Senate, is not a condition precedent to legislation by Congress in providing for the execution of said agreements with Costa Rica and Nicaragua; nor are the principles or provisions of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty any just or admissible ground of objection on the part of the Government of her Britannic Majesty to the enactment of a law by Congress providing for the execution of such agreements with Costa Rica and Nicaragua."

At the conclusion of the routine business in the Senate Mr. Morgan asked unanimous consent that a final vote upon the Nicaragua Canal bill and its amendments be taken at 5 o'clock P. M. on Feb. 11. Mr. Daniel (Dem., Va.,) objected.

British Action on Canal Undecided.

LONDON, Jan. 15.—United States Ambassador Choate and the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, the Marquis of Lansdowne, had a second conference to-day on the amended Hay-Pauncefote treaty. An outline of the action Great Britain intends to pursue was not developed, and no definite decision is likely to be reached by Great Britain for several days.

NAVAL BILL, $77,000,000.

House Committee Orders the Measure Reported — $21,000,000 for Increase of the Navy.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—The House Naval Affairs Committee to-day completed the consideration of the Naval Appropriation bill, and Chairman Foss was directed to report the bill to the House. No authorization of additional vessels of the Holland submarine class will be recommended by the committee at this time.

The total amount carried by the bill is $77,000,000, an increase of $11,000,000 over that for the present year. Two battleships and two cruisers are to be contracted for.

The sum of $21,000,000 is allowed under the head of increase of the navy as against $12,000,000 for the current year. This amount is for the continuance of work, &c., already contracted for, no appropriations being made for the ships authorized by the bill. For continuing the improvements at the Naval Academy the committee allowed $3,000,000.

An increase of 5,000 men in the enlisted strength of the navy is provided for, bringing it up to 22,500 men. Provision also is made for the commission as Ensigns of the two classes of naval cadets now at sea and also the class which finishes its four years' course at the Naval Academy in June. This will add immediately about 150 men to the commissioned force of the navy.

For armor plate the committee allowed the amount required during the year by the department to carry out the terms of the contract recently made by the Secretary of the Navy with the armor furnishing companies. Appropriations approximating $400,000 were made for the new coaling station at Algiers, La., to pay for the necessary land, equipments, buildings, &c.

HARLAN'S CONFIRMATION BLOCKED.

Mr. Pettigrew Refers to Appointment of Justice's Son as "Indecent."

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—While the Senate was in executive session to-day an effort was made to secure confirmation of the nomination of James S. Harlan, son of Justice Harlan of the United States Supreme Court, to be Attorney General for Porto Rico, but action was prevented by the objection of Senator Pettigrew, (Sil., S. D.) Senators Foraker (Rep., Ohio,) and Spooner (Rep., Wis.,) united in an appeal to Mr. Pettigrew to withdraw his objection, saying that Mr. Harlan was an excellent lawyer and an accomplished gentleman, and would fill the place as acceptably as any one who could be named.

Mr. Pettigrew responded that he had no doubt of Mr. Harlan's personal fitness for the position for which he had been named, and added that he had no personal objection to him. His opposition, he said, was based on higher grounds. He then recited the fact of the nominee's relationship to Justice Harlan, and declared that the nomination was entirely out of place, in view of the fact that important litigation affecting the island to which Mr. Harlan is appointed is now pending before the court of which the father is a member.

"I make no charge against the Supreme Court," said Mr. Pettigrew, "but I do say that the appointment of the sons of two of the members of that court to important positions under the Administration at this juncture of affairs in the Supreme Court is, to say the least, indecent."

He referred in this connection to the nomination of Justice McKenna's son to the office of Major in the army, saying that in giving him this place he had been promoted over 118 other Lieutenants and Captains. Mr. Pettigrew also commented on the removal of Major Harrison, son of the ex-President, intimating that this action was occasioned by the fact that the attitude of Mr. Harrison's father on the question of our relationship to our insular possessions was not in accord with the Administration's course in those matters.

Mr. Pettigrew said he had no doubt that Mr. Harlan would be confirmed, but he added that a yea and nay vote would be necessary to that accomplishment, and for that reason it would be necessary to have a quorum present when the nomination should be acted upon.

There was no quorum present and the Senate adjourned without action.

WORKING ON TAX REDUCTION.

Senate Committee Discusses the Bill—Hopes to Report Soon.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—After several weeks of seeming lethargy the Finance Committee of the Senate appears to have gone to work upon the War Revenue Tax bill as if it intended to report it. A member of the committee said to-night that at the session to-day a disposition was shown to complete a bill, but that no substantial progress was made in the direction of deciding what changes should be made in schedules. It was not true, as had been reported, that there was a determination to radically change the House bill, but it was true that some changes were contemplated.

In the session to-day there was considerable discussion of the tax on telegrams, but no decision was reached as to whether there should be a change. Some of the Republican members of the committee expressed themselves as favorable to the House amendment removing the tax on commercial and Custom House brokers, and the present indications are that those provisions will be allowed to remain unmolested. On the other hand, opposition developed to the House action in removing the tax from bank checks and that imposed upon proprietors of theatres and other places of amusement.

The committee also evinced a strong disposition to reduce the tax on tobacco and to leave the beer tax as fixed by the House.

One of the committee speaking of the discussion of the bill to-day said:

"We are now at work, and hope to agree—and by that I mean Republicans and Democrats—upon a bill before long. I have not the slightest doubt that the bill will be passed, and that the opposition, by which I mean the Democrats, will not offer prolonged or obstinate resistance to it, as reported. As for the amount of reduction, that remains to be decided upon. There is difference of opinion on that proposition."

Another member of the committee was not so sanguine about the chances for getting a bill out or for passing it when reported.

"Until we know what the gross appropriations are to be," he said, "it will not be safe to cut off the revenues. The army will cost as much if not more than last year; pensions will cost more, rivers and harbors will cost much more, ships will cost many millions if the Subsidy bill is passed; if we get a Nicaragua Canal bill, we will have to spend money right away in preliminary work, and the navy is to be extended at a considerable outlay. It is not yet clear that the tax reduction bill ought not to go over until the long session of the Fifty-seventh Congress."

The committee will meet again Thursday and daily thereafter until a bill is reported.

PLAN TO PASS SUBSIDY BILL.

It Is Reported that the Measure Will Be Made Part of the River and Harbor Bill.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Senator Hanna denied with contemptuous emphasis the report that reached him to-night that it had been announced that he would withdraw the Shipping Subsidy bill in a few days in consequence of the manifest impossibility of getting it through the Senate during this session. On the contrary, the news bureau that is run in the interests of the Shipping bill announces to-night a very satisfactory situation.

Senators Aldrich, (Rep., R. I.,) Spooner, (Rep., Wis.,) McMillan, (Rep., Mich.,) and Allison, (Rep., Iowa,) it is asserted, have been reconciled to the bill by the promise to make certain amendments, and after another conference will be ready to offer, with the convinced friends of the bill, a united front against the opponents of the measure, who are now filibustering against the Army Reorganization bill to keep the Subsidy bill from being considered.

It is asserted in to-night's bulletin that the proposed amendments are really not necessary, and that the only reason they are demanded is because those who ask for them are not fully informed as to the contents and objects of the bill as reported. The very positive objection by Western Senators to the long term allowed the subsidies to run is not one of these witless objections, evidently, as it is admitted that the subsidy term may be reduced to twenty years.

While the report is denied that the bill is to be withdrawn, its friends will not talk about the later one that there will be an attempt made to attach the Shipping bill to the River and Harbor bill when that measure reaches the Senate.

The advocates of the subsidies know that the River and Harbor bill appeals very powerfully to Democratic as well as Republican members of both houses. It carries so many millions of dollars to be expended in so many districts that there would be great reluctance to beat it, and deprive the districts of the prosperity that will follow the working out of big contracts.

While the subsidy people do not admit that they intend as a last resort to make the River and Harbor bill carry both improvement appropriations and the subsidy scheme, they say that Senator Frye (Rep., Me.,) has been advised to give the opposition "a dose of their own medicine," and use the River and Harbor bill as a club to force the opposition to desist from its fight.

The suggestion is plainly thrown out of a possible holding up of the River and Harbor bill. The bill will come from the Commerce Committee, which reported the Subsidy bill. It may say that it requires more time to consider all the items than it can easily find during the rest of the session, or it may adopt the other course and report the River and Harbor bill as an amendment to the Subsidy bill, and permit the Senate to say whether both shall pass or both die.

This coercive course may prove futile. The Senators who are proving obstinate and who are openly declaring that they will not let the Shipping bill pass, are not greatly concerned about the River and Harbor bill. Indeed, it is not at all certain that they would not be glad to have two such money spenders killed together. While some very important works on rivers and harbors would be delayed by the failure of the Appropriation bill, its failure would not make necessary an extra session of the Congress, and no Republican asserts that an extra session is likely to be held exclusively to pass the Subsidy bill.

MADISON, S. D., Jan. 15.—It is announced by the Social-Democrats of this city that Senator Pettigrew will, at the proper time, introduce a substitute for the Subsidy bill, which will provide for the same amount of money expended in building new vessels to be owned by the Government and to be known as the commercial navy, to be chartered for commercial purposes in time of peace, and used as transports in time of war, but always to be officered and controlled by Government officers.

MR. McKINLEY'S INAUGURATION.

House Refuses to Vote Amendment Providing for a Stand at the East Front of the Capitol.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Four years ago, President McKinley was sworn into office from a platform built out in front of the Senate end of the Capitol, because the consent of the House of Representatives could not be obtained to the use of the half of the east front that is under control of the House. This grew out of the dissatisfaction of the House in not being consulted about the arrangements for the inauguration. The theory of the Senate has been that the House of Representatives that existed an hour before the inauguration is dead at the time the inauguration takes place, and hitherto this question has been considered so settled that the Senate's right as a continuous body to take charge of the arrangements has not been disputed.

The matter came up to-day in the House on the motion to adopt an amendment, reported by the Committee on Appropriations, providing for $7,000 to erect a stand at the east front for the ceremonies of inauguration. In moving it, Mr. Bingham said that each member of the House was to receive six seats for the stand. The chronic resentment of the House was expressed by Mr. Dalzell, who referred to the disregard of the House shown by the Senate on such occasions.

Mr. J. D. Richardson explained that the Senate had always taken charge of such functions, which provoked Mr. Gaines to suggest that when there was a supply of tickets, speculators got hold of and sold them at big prices.

Mr. Hepburn went so far as to recommend that the House refuse to have anything to do with the inauguration ceremonies. He recommended the members neither to go to the Senate to be treated discourteously, as they repeatedly had been, nor to struggle to get places on an east front platform. "Keep away altogether," was his advice.

Notwithstanding Mr. Bingham's statement that there was to be a platform for 2,000 persons for the use of the House, the motion of Mr. Dalzell to recommit the amendment, with instructions to report a resolution providing for a joint committee of the Senate and the House to conduct the inauguration, was adopted.

This may provoke the Senate to resolve that the second inauguration of Mr. McKinley shall be a one-sided affair, like the first.

THE UNITED SERVICE.

Army.

A board of officers is appointed to meet at San Antonio, Texas, at the call of the President of the board, for the examination of such officers as may be ordered before it for examination to determine their fitness for promotion. Detail—Lieut. Col. S. John Simpson, Deputy Quartermaster General; Col. Peter J. A. Cleary, (Deputy Surgeon General,) Lieut. Col. Cyrus S. Roberts, (Thirteenth Infantry,) Major S. Charles B. Byrne, (Surgeon,) Major John L. Bullis, (Paymaster,) and Capt. Frederick W. Sibley, (Second Cavalry,) recorder. The following-named officers will report to Lieut. Col. Simpson, President of the board, at such time as he may designate, for examination as to their fitness for promotion: Capt. Charles G. Ayres, (Tenth Cavalry,) First Lieut William J. Glasgow, (Second Cavalry,) Second Lieuts. Thomas A. Roberts, (Tenth Cavalry,) Charles A. Romeyn, (Tenth Cavalry,) Ferdinand W. Fonda, (Tenth Cavalry,) James Huston, (Tenth Cavalry.)

Capt. Barrington K. West, Commissary of Subsistence, will report to the Commissary General of Subsistence for temporary duty in his office.

Capt. Charles A. Varnum, Seventh Cavalry, will report to Lieut. Col. George B. Rodney, Fourth Artillery, President of the examining board appointed to meet at Fort Riley, Kansas, for examination as to his fitness for promotion.

Capt. Henry J. May, Assistant Quartermaster United States Volunteers, will report to the general Superintendent of the army transport service at New York for assignment to duty until such time as his services are required on the transport Crook, now undergoing repairs.

Navy.

Lieut. F. H. Brown is detached from the Torpedo Station and ordered to the Essex.

Pay Inspector W. Goldsborough is ordered to the Naval Academy as cadet storekeeper and as relief of Pay Inspector J. P. Loomis, (deceased.)

HONORS FOR HIRAM MAXIM.

Awarded a Personal Grand Prize in Gunnery at the Paris Exposition.

From The Augusta (Me.) Journal.

The managers of the Paris Exposition not only gave gold medals and grand prizes to the great manufacturing firms for their exhibits, but they also gave what are called personal grand prizes to eminent men who have contributed the most during the last decade to the advancement of the particular science with which they are connected, and this year we find that, notwithstanding the whole world was represented, only four personal grand prizes were given in the artillery and gunnery department. Two of these went to eminent Frenchmen, one to a great Russian General, and the fourth to Mr. Hiram Stevens Maxim.

In order to understand what one must do to gain a personal grand prize, we might recapitulate some of the notable work relating to artillery which has been done by Mr. Hiram Stevens Maxim. He was the first man to invent and make an automatic gun working with the recoil of the barrel. He was the first to make an automatic gun working by the escaping gases. He was the first to invent the semi-automatic system for guns, such as is now employed for three-pounder, six-pounder, and fourteen-pounder naval guns. He invented a gun mounting which has now gone into general use throughout the whole world. He was the first to train large guns by electricity.

When a demand arose for a smokeless powder, it was found that Mr. Hiram Stevens Maxim, working in conjunction with Mr. MacRoberts of Scotland, had made a species of cordite almost identical with the British cordite of to-day as long ago as 1887, or one year ahead of Nobel's patent, and many years ahead of all other inventors. In the great cordite case, which was in reality a friendly lawsuit conducted in England between Nobel and the Government in order to ascertain who was the real inventor of smokeless powder, Sir Richard Webster, the British Attorney General, now the Right Honorable the Lord Chief Justice of England, said that Mr. Hiram Stevens Maxim was the first man to combine nitro-glycerine and gun cotton in a smokeless powder. At this trial, notwithstanding that every inventor who had ever done anything in the production or development of smokeless powder had his work thoroughly dissected and investigated, Mr. Hiram Stevens Maxim was the only American whose name was mentioned as having contributed anything to the discovery of smokeless powder.

In addition to these inventions, Mr. Hiram Maxim has also invented and made a very large gun for throwing aerial torpedoes, the projectile being provided with a peculiar form of delayed-action fuse, the moving parts of which are liberated by centrifugal force. This gun employed the first progressive powder, and was designed to throw torpedoes sufficiently large to sink a ship by falling into the water near the ship. Although this system was thoroughly worked out, and two specimens of the gun were made, it would appear that it has never been taken up by the Government.

During the late African war a great deal has been said about the "pom-pom." The pom-pom is in reality a fully automatic Maxim gun, having a belt feed. The projectiles are of cast iron, loaded with black powder, and provided with a percussion fuse. On striking they explode, and, as the gun has a very long range, and fires at the rate of 300 rounds a minute, is light, and can be transported easily, it has proved itself to be a remarkable arm, and it is truthfully said that the "pom-pom" has been the artillery surprise of the present war. The automatic system of firearms which Mr. Hiram Maxim is acknowledged to be the author, is now taking the place of all sorts of firearms, is of small calibre, from pistols up to fourteen-pounders.

But the personal grand prize is not the only recognition which Mr. Maxim has received from the French Government, as we find that as long ago as 1881 he was made a chevalier of the Legion of Honor at the Electrical Exhibition in 1881. It will be remembered that he was the first to deposit carbon by heating carbon rods electrically in an atmosphere of hydro-carbon. He was also the first to make a current regulator for electricity which would keep the potential of the current always the same, quite irrespective of the number of lamps in the circuit, and it was for these discoveries that he was made chevalier of the Legion of Honor. Mr. Maxim has also been decorated by many of the crowned heads of Europe.

T. W. OGDEN AND WIFE BURIED.

Aged Couple Laid to Rest in St. Paul's Churchyard.

Funeral services over the bodies of Thomas W. Ogden and Mrs. Ruth Schuyler Ogden, who died within six hours of each other in Morristown, N. J., last Saturday, were held in St. Paul's Chapel, this city, yesterday morning at 11 o'clock. The bodies were brought over from Morristown during the forenoon. There were no pall bearers, but nineteen male representatives of the family followed the caskets into the church.

On the husband's casket was a simple wreath of palms. On the wife's was a beautiful bouquet of Bride's roses resting on a bed of Autumn leaves and ferns. The Rev. Montague Geer, Vicar of St. Paul's, officiated, assisted by the Rev. William P. Taylor of St. Peter's Church, Morristown. The interment was in the Ogden vault under the plazza at the west end of the chapel.

Mr. Ogden was a retired broker, formerly living in New York, but for many years a resident of Morristown. He was ninety-one years old, and the couple had been married sixty years. Mr. Ogden's father was a partner of Alexander Hamilton at the time of Hamilton's death.

BURIED THROUGH CHARITY.

Father of Neufeld Too Poor to Visit Him Before His Execution.

The body of William Neufeld, who was executed in Sing Sing Prison on Monday for the murder of Mrs. Annie Kronmann, was buried yesterday afternoon in Silver Lake Cemetery, on Staten Island. Neufeld's father was too poor to provide for his son's funeral, and it was not until the body was about to be lowered into a grave of quicklime in the prison cemetery that the tears of the aged man brought help from the Aguidath Achim Chesed Schel Emeth, a charity society.

The funeral services were conducted in the society's headquarters, at 54 Canal Street, but only three members were present, the dead man's father remaining at his home until it was time to leave for the cemetery. The aged man took a car for South Ferry, so as to be at the cemetery when the body arrived.

After the execution, the father, crying bitterly, was met by a reporter from The Jewish Abend Post. He had not seen his son for five months, as he was too poor to pay the railroad fare to Sing Sing. He was referred to the society which consented to bury the executed man. At the grave there was no one but the heartbroken father.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE'S HOME.

Property Formerly Known as Real Estate Exchange Secured.

Morris K. Jesup, President of the Chamber of Commerce and Chairman of its Board of Trustees, having charge of the real estate of the Chamber and the construction of the proposed building for its own purposes, yesterday signed a contract with Henry Morgenthau, President of the Central Realty Bond and Trust Company, for the purchase of the property 59, 61, 63, and 65 Liberty Street, formerly known as the Real Estate Exchange. Possession will be given May 1 next, when the Chamber will begin at once to demolish the structure to make way for its new home.

The building to be constructed will be classic in its architecture. While it will not be as ornamental in design as some buildings in the down-town section, the Board of Trustees say they intend to make it a credit to the city. The structure above the ground floor will be occupied solely by the Chamber. The ground floor has been leased for a long term of years to the above-named company, the late owners of the property.

Don't Forget That—

"The oyster crackers with a taste to them" are now called

Kennedy's Oysterettes

(Instead of Junior Oyster Crackers)

They taste as good no matter what you call them!!

Sold everywhere—served everywhere.

5 Cents a Package

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

An Oyster Cracker with a Taste to it.

The delightful flavour and unmistakable aroma peculiar to especially adapt it to High Balls, as the addition of water, still or carbonated, does not affect its taste in the slightest degree, no matter how great the dilution. Used in cocktails or other mixed drinks "CANADIAN CLUB" retains the fragrant and delicious qualities which are peculiar to it.

"CANADIAN CLUB" WHISKY

A city full of stores could give you no greater values, no greater satisfaction. Our Remnant Sale is a friend-maker for us.

Suits to order, $14, formerly $16 to $40. Coat and vest, $10.50, formerly $12 to $30. Trousers, $4, formerly $5 to $10. All fancy silks vestings, to order, $6, formerly $10 to $15. Overcoats, satin lined, $20, made of Imported Friezes and Cheviots, and trimmed in the smartest manner. Our protection is, clothes to suit, or money back.

ARNHEIM,

BROADWAY & 9TH STREET.

Rev. B. O. Denham preaches to-night at the Christian Church, 323 W. 56th St. Services at 8 o'clock. Subject: "Twentieth Century Pilates. Are You One?"

ZOOLOGICAL SOCIETY NEEDS.

Annual Membership of 3,000 and Income of $30,000 a Year Wanted.

At the meeting of the New York Zoological Society held yesterday the following officers were re-elected: President—Levi P. Morton; Executive Committee, Levi P. Morton, ex-officio; Henry F. Osborn, Chairman; John L. Cadwalader, counsel; Charles T. Barney, John S. Barnes, Philip Schuyler, Madison Grant, and William White Niles.

The report of the Executive Committee set forth the necessity for an increase of annual membership to 3,000. The income is now $7,000 annually, and what is needed is an income of $30,000 annually. When the lion house and monkey house are completed $30,000 will be needed in addition to the City Maintenance Fund. This increase will enable the society to supply the parks very handsomely with animals and make constant additions to the buildings.

In 1899 the city contributed $30,000 and the society $7,038.81 to maintain the parks. In 1900 the maintenance fund of $40,000 was too small, and the deficiency was met by the society by a contribution of $6,324.04.

The society is free from debt. On Jan. 1 it owed only about $3,300, and had as assets $12,000 due from the city and $4,250 of unpaid subscriptions. The report says "in addition to this there is still a balance of $35,500.12 which must be subscribed during the next few months in order to complete the fund of $250,000, which we are obliged to raise, under our original agreement with the city."

The report speaks of the increasing attendance, and says that with the additional increase from rapid transit the walks, paths, and buildings will be taxed to their utmost. The total attendance for the year was 325,925.

The report goes very fully into the plans for Baird Court, prepared by leading architects and landscape experts. Charles McKim and Charles Platt were appointed as an expert committee, in conjunction with John De Wolf, to deal with the building of the court. The report closes with a description of the sculptural and artistic treatment of the new buildings. Designs were made by A. P. Proctor and Eli Harvey, who came over from Paris to prepare designs for sentinel lions, a frieze, and panels upon the lion house.

POGGENBURG'S GOOD PLAY

The Season's Amateur Billiard Record at Hanover Club.

ASSOCIATION CHAMPIONSHIP

Second Game in the Tournament Now Progressing in Brooklyn—Gardner Was Outclassed.

Ferdinand Poggenburg played the best game of billiards last night at the Hanover Club, Brooklyn, that has been seen this season in amateur circles. He met Frank Gardner, the billiard champion of the Crescent Athletic Club, and defeated him easily in a fourteen-inch balk-line game by 300 points to 111. The beauty of the game was that Poggenburg made his score in 31 innings, missing by 8 points an average of 10.

The game was the second in the tournament, which began Monday night for the championship of the National Association of Amateur Billiard Players. As Poggenburg made his first appearance in a billiard match this season, a larger crowd of enthusiasts was attracted to the Hanover Club than was in evidence at the opening game Monday night. Fully 600 persons witnessed the match, and the brilliant plays were frequently greeted with applause.

Gardner started the balls rolling, and made 4 points in his first inning. They did not roll for Poggenburg, and he only scored 1. He atoned for his poor start by a pretty run of 20 in the next inning, and in the fourth inning made 39, the highest run of the evening. Expectations of brilliant playing were promptly realized at the start, and it is seldom that a billiard contest has been opened amid such intense interest. At the end of the fourth inning Poggenburg had 90 points to 30 for Gardner. The former kept forging steadily and easily ahead, finishing the tenth inning with 92, and immediately followed it with a run of 36, giving him the high average of over 11 points for eleven innings. A difficult massé shot in this inning brought out a round of applause.

The fast and methodical play of Poggenburg was evidently disconcerting to Gardner, for he failed to show his best form. His unsteadiness was noticeable in many innings, although he made one run of 22 and another of 20.

In the thirtieth inning Poggenburg had 45 to make in order to finish the game. He rolled off 37, and then missed a draw shot by a mere hair's breadth, and a sigh of despair arose from the crowd. Had he made 8 points more, an average of 10 would have been earned. He ran out in the next inning, however.

Poggenburg won the Hanover Club championship last year, and the inter-city tournament, as well as the Lelderkranz Club championship of this city. He is clearly the favorite for winning honors in the present event.

It was definitely announced by the committee that J. Byron Stark had decided, notwithstanding his recent attack of the grip, to play in the tournament. It was thought at first that he would have to retire, owing to his somewhat weakened condition. If he can hold his game he is likely to prove the most dangerous rival to Poggenburg. Stark will play to-night with Edward Gardner of the Passaic Club, New Jersey. The scores:

Ferdinand Poggenburg, 1 20 0 39 19 1 0 1 4 7 8d 14 0 0 10 21 3 0 2 2 2 4 21 1 0 6 12 18 19 37 8. Total, 300; average, 9 21-31; high runs, 39 37 36 21 21 20 19 19 18 14.

Frank Gardner, 4 8 5 13 1 0 0 1 4 1 22 7 8 4 0 0 4 0 0 20 6 3 1 0 0 6 0 0 4 4 11 2. Total, 141; average, 4 17-31; high runs, 22 20 13 11 8.

Edward McLaughlin was referee.

Knickerbocker A. C. Billiards.

Two more handicap games in the Knickerbocker Athletic Club tournament were played last night. In Class X, W. R. Bracken, handicap 110, defeated Addison Bennett, handicap 150, by 100 points to 98. In Class Y, Joseph Steiner, handicap 100, and Dr. C. R. Fletcher, handicap 90, were the competitors, Steiner won by 100 points to 56. The tournament will be continued this evening.

TWO TROPHIES FOR N. Y. Y. C.

Many Members Attend Last Meeting in the Madison Avenue Clubhouse.

The announcement that last night's meeting of the New York Yacht Club would be the last to be held in the old clubhouse at 67 Madison Avenue, which has been the home of the club since May 1, 1884, brought out one of the largest gatherings of members that the cozy little clubhouse has ever seen.

There was a great deal of reminiscent talk, and a flashlight picture of the meeting was taken for presentation as a souvenir of the meeting.

The principal business of the meeting was the presentation to the club by Rear Admiral Henry Erben, United States Navy, in behalf of the navy members of the club of two handsome silver cups, one as a trophy for schooners and the other for sloops.

In accepting the cups the club adopted the following resolutions:

Resolved, That in accepting the welcome gift of the navy members of the club, presented through Admiral Erben, United States Navy, the New York Yacht Club desires to express its deep appreciation of the interest in its welfare shown by the navy members. It has always been a pleasure to the club to have so large a number of the officers of the navy enrolled among its members, and it earnestly hopes that its association with the navy may be continued and strengthened.

The cups presented by the navy members will be among the most treasured trophies of the club.

Former Commodore E. M. Brown, for the committee on the new clubhouse, then made the following statement:

"Your committee on new clubhouse is ready to turn over the management of it to the House Committee. We cannot at the present time make our final report to the club, as there are still minor details to be arranged. I would therefore offer the following resolution:

Resolved, That on and after this date the House Committee shall have general supervision of the new club house and shall exercise in reference thereto the power conferred by Article X. of the constitution, but the committee on new club house is hereby continued for the purpose of enabling them to settle and close their accounts and to complete any details of construction or equipment.

The resolution requested by the committee on the new clubhouse was then adopted by a unanimous vote.

A most interesting summary of the comparative growth of the club from 1845 to the present time was taken by Secretary Oddie. The club moved into its clubhouse at Elysian Fields, Hoboken, July 15, 1845, and the publication of the first book in 1846 showed that the club had then 122 members and a fleet of twelve yachts.

In 1871 the club moved into its first city clubhouse at the southwest corner of Madison Avenue and Twenty-seventh Street. It then had 452 members, and a fleet of 37 schooners, 14 sloops, and 8 steamers. On May 1, 1884, when the club moved to 67 Madison Avenue, it had a membership of 590 and a fleet of 50 schooners, 23 sloops, 35 steamers, and 6 launches, and at the present time upon the eve of removal into its palatial quarters in West Forty-fourth Street it numbers 1,495 members and has a fleet of 80 schooners, 119 sloops, cutters, and yawls, 174 steamers, 3 naphtha yachts, and 19 launches, a total of 395 vessels.

ANOTHER CENTREBOARD BOAT.

Herreshoff Has Planned a Model Sloop to Meet the Hanley Yacht.

BRISTOL, R. I., Jan. 15.—It was learned to-day that Designer Herreshoff has modeled and ordered plans for a centreboard sloop in order to be in readiness to meet the proposed Hanley boat in case it is constructed. It is understood here that a syndicate of which August Belmont is the head is back of the plan to build a centreboard boat here.

The crew of sailmakers has been increased by six men.

A consignment of twenty-nine plates of bronze for the cup defender arrived here soon after midnight last night from Ansonia, Conn. They are from 10 to 12 feet long, from 18 inches to 3 feet wide, and seven-fortieth of an inch thick. They will be used for plating the overhang of the sides of the boat. About 10 o'clock this morning a special express car attached to a special locomotive arrived from Phoenixville, Penn., with a consignment of steel bulb angles for the boat. There are 80 angles, from 18 to 35 feet in length, 2 inches thick on the face and 1 inch on the bulb.

The work of setting up the frames of the boat has not begun, and it is understood that this will be delayed as long as there is any other work on hand, as the builders do not wish to divulge the lines of the boat until it is absolutely necessary. The work of preparing the plates and other work is progressing rapidly.

YACHT BUILDING AT NIGHT.

Keel of Shamrock II. Run at Denny's on New Year's Day.

GLASGOW, Jan. 15.—The keel of the Shamrock II., challenger for the America's Cup, was run while Denny's yard was closed on New Year's Day. Since then a score of the side frames have been set up to port and starboard.

Work on the challenger is now all done at night. Everything, even the waste and scraps of metal, is locked up in a shed and seated before the yard is opened for the day workmen. Ninety-five tons of lead were melted for the keel. The finished block weighs within a few pounds of ninety tons.

Boston Yacht Will Be Light.

BOSTON, Jan. 15.—The Oregon pine log, 112 feet in length, which will be the main boom on the Lawson boat, went to the sparmakers at Lawley's yard this afternoon. All but 18 feet of the length has been sawed. The log is proving to be a good one, with few knots or bad cuts. When fashioned into shape it will be decagonal.

Designer Crowninshield is somewhat in doubt as to the value of the steel gaff, and a stick of Oregon pine 70 feet long is more to his liking. He has figured out that a steel gaff, with enough metal in it to withstand the bucking strain, will be really heavier than a wooden gaff.

As the work on the boat progresses, it is more evident that the Boston boat will be considerably lighter than her rival at Bristol.

Capt. Haff will visit Boston within the next ten days to settle matters connected with the crew. Designer Crowninshield has forwarded to him a large number of applications he has received for places on the boat.

Harvard Will Row Yale Only.

Special to The New York Times.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Jan. 15.—Capt. A. Bullard of the Harvard crew gave out a statement to-night denying the report that Harvard will enter the inter-collegiate race at Poughkeepsie with Cornell, Columbia, and Pennsylvania this Spring. He said: "Harvard has no desire or intention to break away from her present agreement with Yale, and even if she had she has received no invitation from the inter-collegiate committee to row in the Poughkeepsie regatta. To accept such an invitation would mean that the Yale race should be declared off. It is a Faculty rule that the Varsity can row but one race each year, and the Yale race, in my mind, is one of the most important events in Harvard athletics. We certainly shall row Yale at New London this year. To enter the inter-collegiate race, if we should get an invitation, would mean another crew, and I can state definitely that it is out of the question."

Penn's Good Crew Prospects.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Penn., Jan. 15.—Fifty-seven candidates for the University of Pennsylvania crews reported to Coach Ward to-day in the clubhouse at Franklin Field. Of this number thirty-six signified their desire to try for the 'Varsity crew, and twenty-one youngsters are anxious to secure seats in the freshman boat. Physically the candidates equal those of any previous year. Ward announced in an emphatic manner that no new candidates for the 'Varsity shell would receive consideration after Feb. 1. He has a set rule for training the men, beginning with the elementary principles of the stroke, then body work until the crews get on the water, when more attention is given to blade work and all round watermanship.

Officers for Bloomingdale Boat Club.

At the annual meeting of the Bloomingdale Boat Club, held at the boathouse on Sunday, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President—H. J. Lang; Vice President—J. C. De Jonge; Corresponding Secretary—A. J. Breuel; Financial Secretary—F. Raefle; Captain—F. Raefle; First Lieutenant—F. Malchow; Second Lieutenant—M. J. O'Keefe; Trustees—A. Troesterer, H. L. Selz, George Fischer, F. Malchow, H. Petersen.

American Yachtsmen Elect Officers.

The American Yacht Club held its annual session last night, and the following officers were chosen for the term: Commodore—Henry W. Eaton; Vice Commodore—William H. Browning; Rear Commodore—George W. Quintard; Secretary—H. De B. Parsons; Treasurer—William Porter Allen; Fleet Surgeon—Samuel B. Lyon, M. D.; Measurer and Consulting Engineer—George W. Magee, United States Navy; Members of the Board of Trustees, Class of 1904—William Porter Allen, John Murray Mitchell, and William H. Parsons.

BICYCLE SOUVENIRS POPULAR.

Carnations and Stick Pins Given Away at the Garden—Miss Gast on a Motor Cycle.

Every bicycle show has its special fad or feature, and the present one, now in progress at the Madison Square Garden, is not without its distinctive attraction. It developed strongly Monday night, and was continued with unabated ardor last evening. Briefly, it is the collection of souvenirs, of which an unusually fine variety are being distributed by the leading exhibitors. One firm gives away 2,000 carnations every evening, and they are handed out, only to the ladies, however, by two attractive young women. Many a man employs his most gallant arts to win a flower for his buttonhole, but the fair donors are seldom tempted, and few members of the sterner sex secures the pinks.

In other souvenirs there are watch charms, penholders, miniature looking glasses, stick pins, medals, calendars, and badges. It looked as though every other person in the Garden last night was wearing a gilt pin representing a winged female figure, and a yard or two of ribbon, flying through the air astride of a coaster brake. It requires nearly 3,000 of these to supply the demand for each day.

More than usual interest was also centred in the basement of the Garden yesterday, for two whizzing motor cycles were kept in almost perpetual motion around the brick floor, and one was ridden by Miss Marguerite Gast, who, by her continuous centuries in all kinds of weather on Long Island roads, has earned the title of champion long-distance bicycle rider of her sex. Miss Gast rode astride, of course, and kept one of the latest models in motor cycles spinning at a dizzy pace around the track.

To the practical wheelman or wheelwoman, the latest thing in coaster brakes demands the closest interest. It is barely a year since this important contrivance for easy riding and speed has come out, yet the improvements shown this season are surprising. One of the latest models comes in six pieces, but so simple that the most unmechanical can put it together in a few seconds. These may be fitted to any wheel by unlacing the old wheel, removing the old brake, and putting the coaster brake hub in its place. They are made for 1½, 1⅝, and 1¾ inch chain line, and have no pauls, cams, springs, fibre, or soft metal posts, technical terms which the practical cyclist will understand and appreciate. One excellent feature of the coaster brake is that it permits the pedals to be set stationary when desired, while the wheels continue to revolve. The pedals can also be thrust back out of the way of the feet.

In the voting for the triplet cycle to be awarded to the most popular cycling club, the votes cast on Saturday night, and including Monday night's balloting, are as follows: Greenwich Wheelmen, 640; Westchester Wheelmen, 546; Hackensack Wheelmen, 510.

The school teacher votes for the chainless and chain wheels are coming in fast, and the names scatter the vote so that it would at the present time show a confusing tabulation. Nearly 3,000 votes had been cast, on Saturday night and including Monday night, distributed among over 200 names.

It has been decided that all the contests will be closed after Friday night's voting.

Poultry Show Next Week.

Beginning next Wednesday morning and lasting until Saturday night, the New York Poultry and Pigeon Association will give its twelfth annual exhibition in Madison Square Garden. This year there will be a special exhibition of caged birds under the auspices of the Ornithological Society. The caged birds and possibly the pet stock will be located in the concert hall. The club meetings will be held during the show, and the awards to be made will be under the direction of competent judges.

AMATEUR FENCING CONTESTS.

A. A. U. Junior Foil Championship Bouts at the N. Y. A. C.

Twelve amateur swordsmen last night competed for the junior foil championship of the United States in a tournament held under the auspices of the Amateur Fencers' League of America in the fencing room of the New York Athletic Club. The competition was conducted under the new rules of the Fencers' League, the competitors being divided into groups of six or less to a group, each man in each group fencing with each other man, and the first and second in each group meeting in the finals.

The twelve men who tried for the junior championship were Cecil Lyons and E. C. De Villaverde of the New York Athletic Club, and F. B. Clark, E. S. Hewitt, A. L. Queneau, and E. J. Kelly of Columbia University, who competed in Group No. 1, and J. Albert Hawkins, F. L. Erving, and G. A. Lawrence of the Fencers' Club; M. P. Arnold of the New York Athletic Club, and S. N. Arnold and W. E. Meyers of Yale University, who fenced in the second group, Queneau and Clark being chosen from the first group and Erving and S. V. Arnold from the second, for competition in the finals. The sword play was not all that the critics among the spectators seemed to expect, but the fencers made up in earnestness for what they lacked in skill and the thirty-six bouts required to decide the junior championship in favor of Erving were interesting from start to finish. Summary:

FIRST GROUP.—Lyons defeated Clark; De Villaverde defeated Hewitt; Queneau defeated Kelly; Hewitt defeated Lyons in an extra round; Queneau defeated Clark; De Villaverde defeated Kelly; Queneau defeated Lyons; Clark defeated Hewitt; Queneau defeated De Villaverde; Lyons defeated Kelly; Clark defeated De Villaverde; Hewitt defeated Kelly; Lyons defeated De Villaverde; Queneau defeated Hewitt; Clark defeated Kelly.

SECOND GROUP.—Hawkins defeated M. P. Arnold; S. N. Arnold defeated Erving; Lawrence defeated Meyers; Erving defeated Hawkins; S. N. Arnold defeated Meyers; Lawrence defeated M. P. Arnold; Hawkins defeated Meyers; Erving defeated M. P. Arnold; S. N. Arnold defeated Lawrence; Meyers defeated M. P. Arnold; S. N. Arnold defeated Hawkins; Erving defeated Lawrence; S. N. Arnold defeated M. P. Arnold; Hawkins defeated Lawrence; Erving defeated Meyers.

FINALS.—Erving defeated S. N. Arnold; Queneau defeated Clark; S. N. Arnold defeated Queneau; Erving defeated Clark; S. N. Arnold defeated Clark; Erving defeated Queneau.

SHOOTING ON ARMORY RANGES.

Company F of Seventh Regiment Make Good Scores for Trophies.

The marksmen of Company F had their turn at the targets in the annual competition of the company teams of the Seventh Regiment for the Kemp and Clark Trophies last night, and in both cases improved upon the scores mades by Company D on the preceding evening. The scores follow:

COMPANY F—KEMP TROPHY.

Name.	200 Yds.	500 Yds.	Total.
Sergt. A. Stevens	23	24	47
Q. M. Sergt. F. W. Perkins	22	24	46
Corp. H. L. Dederer	22	24	46
Private M. J. Mammanor	22	24	46
Corp. F. M. Gossett	22	24	46
Private G. A. Fournier	22	23	45
Lieut. R. O. Fisher	22	23	45
Private F. Kahrs	20	25	45
Sergt. L. W. Stotesburg	22	22	44
Private B. F. Goodapeed	22	22	44
Lieut. T. C. Wiswall	21	23	44
Sergt. W. S. Covell	21	23	44
First Sergt. H. B. Turner, Jr.	21	23	44
Sergt. C. Drake	20	23	43
Private G. Kemble	19	24	43
Private W. P. Cornell	20	22	42
Private F. E. Baker	20	22	42
Corp. C. H. Turner	21	20	41
Private J. S. Woodhouse	21	20	41
Private W. D. Edwards	20	21	41
Private W. E. McCord	20	19	39
Private R. W. Millie	20	19	39
Private S. B. Rogers	20	18	38
Corp. S. J. Mack	18	20	38
Private G. H. Bird	18	16	34
Total	510	548	1,067

COL. EMMONS CLARK TROPHY.

Name.	200 Yds.	500 Yds.	Total.
Private M. Shackleford	22	22	44
Private A. G. White	21	21	42
Private R. H. Patton	19	23	42
Capt. M. B. Stelle	20	21	41
Private F. H. Hurd	20	21	41
Private A. N. Lawrence	18	23	41
Private E. Woehr	18	23	41
Private H. S. Curtis	20	19	39
Private C. H. Cadwell	20	19	39
Private F. M. Foye	20	19	39
Private C. W. Ford	20	19	39
Corp. W. K. Hitchcock	22	16	38
Corp. J. F. Meurer	19	19	38
Private J. S. Clark	18	20	38
Private E. G. Andresen	21	16	37
Private G. E. Marcus	17	20	37
Private H. L. Powers	20	17	37
Private J. R. Dederer	18	18	36
Private W. J. Pidce	18	18	36
Corp. A. W. Perry	18	18	36
Private C. S. Busse	21	15	36
Private J. P. Marshall	21	12	33
Private R. E. Moss	19	13	32
Private F. W. Edwards	16	14	30
Private B. H. Platt	18	11	29
Total	482	456	938
Kemp Trophy total	519		1,067
Grand total	1,001	1,004	2,005

Shooting for the Riker Trophy.

Company B of the Twelfth Regiment won the first competition for the Riker trophy on the armory ranges Monday evening with a score of 211 out of a possible maximum total of 250. The conditions called for five-men teams, with five shots each at 200 yards and 500 yards, respectively. The competing teams represented all of the ten companies and the field and staff and non-commissioned staff as well. The scores follow:

COMPANY B.

	200 Yds.	500 Yds.	Total.
First Sergt. C. M. Smith	22	23	45
Q. M. Sergt. D. J. Coughlin	18	21	39
Corp. Alexander	20	22	42
Private A. Nice	21	22	43
Private A. B. Van Heusen	21	21	42
Team total	102	109	211

Field and staff and non-commissioned staff, 205; Company E, 199; Company K, 192; Company D, 191; Company C, 185; Company A, 184; Company G, 179; Company I, 176; Company H, 173; Company F, 158.

HOCKEY CLUB SHUT OUT.

Crescent A. C. Team Gains a One-Sided Victory by a Score of 6 to 0.

A perfect defense and splendid team play on the part of Dobby and Wall were two of the things that gave the Crescent Athletic Club a decided advantage over the Hockey Club of New York in the seventh championship hockey match at the St. Nicholas Rink last evening. Although they played pluckily, the local team was outclassed by the Brooklynites and shut out by a score of 6—0.

The Crescents gave a splendid exhibition of defensive work, and only at rare intervals did the New Yorks get the puck as far as Hallock, the Crescent goal keeper. Whenever the little disk did come close to the net it was invariably safely shoved aside. The Crescents played a good, clean game and their usual rough tactics were not particularly in evidence. Although the Hockey Club started unnecessarily aggressive work at the beginning, Wall and Dobby were all over the ice, and Wall especially played a clever defensive game, time and again capturing the puck from the opposing forwards. Dobby did some excellent work in bringing the puck down the ice and scoring on individual shoots and in helping his team mate, Wall, to tally.

The New York seven had no collective play and an utter inability to shoot speedily or accurately. "Benny" Phillips played his usual desperate game, but his tactics were more spectacular than effective.

Dobby got the first score on a straight shoot. There had been a warm mix-up between De Casanova and Sheibler, and the latter finally got the puck and sent it across to Dobby. Sheibler gained the second and last point of the half by team work with the other forwards.

The second period found Crescent fresh, while the Hockey Club had tired considerably. Wall made the third goal on a shot from the side. Dobby soon dribbled the rubber down the ice, and passing the puck to Wall, the latter tallied. Wall gained the fifth goal by similar work with Dobby. Dobby made a spectacular, dodging dash down the rink just as time was up and scored unassisted. Line-up:

Crescent A. C., 6.	Position.	Hockey Club, 0.
Hallock	Goal	Ellison
Randall	Point	Cunningham
Drakely	Cover Point	Newbery
Kennedy	Forward	Phillips
Dobby	Forward	Leo
Wall	Forward	De Casanova
Sheibler	Forward	Russell

Goals scored by—Dobby, 3; Wall, 2; Sheibler, 1. Referee—Mr. Belden, New York Athletic Club. Time of game—Twenty-minute halves.

Princeton Hockey Team for Canada.

PRINCETON, Jan. 15.—Manager Hugh Wilson of the university hockey team announced to-night that the team will take a trip to Canada immediately after the midyear examinations next month. They will play the Queens College and other Canadian teams.

The schedule of games has not yet been definitely arranged. The team will leave here for Toronto on Feb. 7. Practice on the Stony Brook Creek has been in order during part of the Winter, and as soon as the weather conditions will permit, the Brokaw tennis courts will be flooded for practice.

Columbia Freshmen Won at Hockey.

The Columbia University freshmen hockey team went over to the Clermont Avenue Ice Skating Rink, in Brooklyn, last night, and in a one-sided match defeated the seven representing the Adelphi Academy of Brooklyn by the score of 4 to 0. Line-up:

Adelphi Academy, 0. Columbia Freshmen, 4.

Position.
Goal	Von Bernuth
Point	Work
Cover point	Eakins
Forward	Akin
Forward	Putnam
Forward	McKee
Forward	Holmes

Referee—Hugh Bullen, Skating Club of Brooklyn. Goal umpires—W. S. Walsh, Second Naval Battalion, and H. Cameron, Columbia University. Goals—Aiken 3, Holmes 1. Time—Twenty minute halves.

Yale's New Athletic Policy.

Special to The New York Times.

NEW HAVEN, Jan. 15.—Announcement was made to-day that the full amount of the debt on the Yale Field had been removed, and that the $6,000 owing on the field had all been subscribed by graduates of the university.

Now that the debt can be paid there remains no further obstacle to the reorganization of university athletics. Last Spring a plan was broached that had for its chief aim the reorganization of all Yale's athletics under one central committee, which would have charge of all the athletic interests of the university, and which would see to it that all the organizations received an equal amount of attention. A board to consist of salaried director, two graduate and undergraduate representatives of all the athletic teams is to be formed, and all of the business affairs of the college teams are to be managed by this committee.

New Field for Hobart College.

GENEVA, N. Y., Jan. 15.—At the semi-annual meeting of the Board of Trustees of Hobart College held here to-day the petition of the students for a new athletic field was granted. The present field has been destroyed by the erection of new buildings. Work on the new field will be begun at once.

N. Y. A. C. Governors Meet.

The new Board of Governors of the New York Athletic Club held its first meeting last night in the clubhouse, Fifty-ninth Street and Sixth Avenue, and devoted its attention entirely to organization. A full list of committees for all branches of the club's business and the sports fostered by the organization was considered and approved, but the names of the committeemen were withheld until the board is assured that all those selected will consent to serve.

Fifty new members were admitted. These, with the number of applications for membership, will bring the list of members close to the limit fixed by the club's rules.

No action was taken toward the proposition for rebuilding the Summer clubhouse on Travers Island, which recently was destroyed by fire. A special committee, it is expected, soon will take charge of that matter.

ON LOCAL BOWLING ALLEYS.

Prospect Five Win Two Games in North Side League Series.

The Prospect bowlers won two of their three games with the Hooker team in the North Side League tournament on Pump's North Side Palace Alleys last night. The scores:

HOOKER B. C. Name.	1st.	2d.	3d.
Junge	179	174
W. Heins	179	154	157
J. Heins	166	175	189
Van Lehn	131	...	...
Pump	193	192	172
Bilrka	188	140
Total	848	833	823

PROSPECT B. C. Name	1st.	2d.	3d.
Spring	163	160	172
Stumpf	184	189	180
Blaiser	163	126	173
P. Hecht	180	157	203
Brann	166	190	186
Total	856	802	915

The Royal Arcanum Wheelmen outrolled the Grove Hill and the Cyclone teams, in the Columbia League tournament, on Schlusing's Columbia alleys last night, and the Cyclones beat the Grove Hills. The scores:

FIRST GAME.—Grove Hill Bowling Club—Potts, 165; Voigt, 143; Snyder, 160; Eckstein, 128; Ireland, 150. Total, 746.

Royal Arcanum Wheelmen—Detleff, 177; Cook, 179; Crum, 157; Doncourt, 126; Cantrell, 151. Total, 790.

SECOND GAME.—Cyclone Bowling Club—C. Boettjer, 147; A. Boettjer, 157; Le Blan, 157; Johannsmeyer, 181; Setzer, 183. Total, 825.

Grove Hill Bowling Club—Potts, 156; Volgt, 187; Snyder, 134; Eckstein, 181; Ireland, 150. Total, 808.

THIRD GAME.—Royal Arcanum Wheelmen—Detleff, 134; Cook, 224; Crum, 212; Doncourt, 128; Cantrell, 149. Total, 845.

Cyclone Bowling Club—C. Boettjer, 124; A. Boettjer, 145; Le Blan, 136; Johannsmeyer, 167; Setzer, 134. Total, 706.

Yonkers Council won the majority of games in the New York Royal Arcanum League on Starr's alleys. Scores:

FIRST GAME.—Yonkers Council—Barnes, 191; Brewer, 177; Lawrence, 141; Crawford, 126; Kellock, 154. Total, 789.

Knickerbocker Council—Von Glahn, 155; Blair, 101; Fruiesen, 161; Kreger, 180; Schlimpmann, 147. Total, 744.

SECOND GAME.—Dedendam Council—Frank, 118; King, 159; Wilson, 122; Haynor, 120; Warner, 143. Total, 662.

Knickerbocker Council—Von Glahn, 150; Struhan, 104; Fruiesen, 134; Kreger, 147; Schlimpmann, 153. Total, 688.

THIRD GAME.—Yonkers Council—Barnes, 143; Brewer, 127; Lawrence, 181; Crawford, 161; Kelloch, 161. Total, 773.

Defendam Council—Henrich, 157; King, 103; Frank, 131; Haynor, 93; Warner, 144. Total, 634.

The Lotus team defeated the Knickerboeker and the Grove Hill bowlers in the Harlem League tournament on Thum & Kahlsdorf's Harlem Palace alleys last night, and the Knickerbockers beat the Grove Hill team, which was short one man. The scores:

FIRST GAME.—Knickerbocker Bowling Club—Meyer, 177; Wieser, 142; Snyder, 173; La Forest, 191; Lehrbach, 234. Total, 917.

Lotus Bowling Club—W. Gerdes, 205; Sieberg, 161; Modersohn, 150; Warmuth, 183; F. Gerdes, 185. Total, 895.

SECOND GAME.—Grove Hill Bowling Club—Beyer, 174; Walters, 130; Volgt, 208; Rohltzek, 169. Total, 681.

Knickerbocker Bowling Club—Meyer, 214; Wieser, 155; ——, 168; La Forest, 181; Lehrbach, 217. Total, 925.

THIRD GAME.—Grove Hill Bowling Club—Beyer, 121; Walters, 131; Volgt, 139; Rohltzek, 181. Total, 572.

Lotus Bowling Club—W. Gerdes, 203; Sieberg, 171; Modersohn, 170; Warmuth, 170; F. Gerdes, 194. Total, 917.

The Rosedale bowlers forfeited two games in the American National tournament on Jahn's and Germania alleys last night, and the Metropolitan team defeated the Germania five. The scores:

FIRST GAME.—Metropolitan Bowling Club—Klingelhoffer, 143; Kellar, 177; Borland, 197; Starr, 200; Arnold, 178. Total, 895.

Rosedale Bowling Club—Forfeited.

SECOND GAME.—Germania Bowling Club—L. Sauer, 153; Shaw, 178; Eckerson, 136; Schuh, 159; C. Sauer, 143. Total, 769.

Rosedale Bowling Club (forfeited.)

THIRD GAME.—Metropolitan Bowling Club—Klingelhoffer, 165; Kellar, 137; Borland, 203; Starr, 193; Arnold, 213. Total, 971.

Germania Bowling Club—L. Sauer, 180; Shaw, 169; Eckerson, 135; Schuh, 169; C. Sauer, 150. Total, 848.

The Bushwick Wheelmen defeated the Tamaqua and the Mutual Wheelmen, and the Tamaquas beat the Mutuals in the bowling tournament of the Associated Cycling Clubs of Long Island on Thum & Ehler's Palace alleys, Brooklyn, last night. The scores:

FIRST GAME.—Bushwick Wheelmen—Schreiber, 100; Mahler, 157; Van Pelt, 180; Markwell, 162; Landmann, 156. Total, 815.

Tamaqua Wheelmen—Van Siclen, 128; Dunham, 178; Higgins, 128; Jordan, 185; Shipley, 154. Total, 773.

SECOND GAME.—Mutual Wheelmen—Gifford, 187; W. Ruthman, 146; H. Ruthman, 151; Holman, 171; Robinson, 178. Total, 853.

Tamaqua Wheelmen—Van Siclen, 230; Dunham, 183; Higgins, 181; Jordan, 166; Shelley, 157. Total, 922.

THIRD GAME.—Bushwick Wheelmen—Schreiber, 183; Mahler, 178; Van Pelt, 169; Markwell, 143; Landmann, 157. Total, 825.

Mutual Wheelmen—Gifford, 181; W. Ruthman, 128; H. Ruthman, 143; Holman, 187; Robinson, 141. Total, 760.

The Queens County Bank forfeited two games and the Manufacturers' Trust Company defeated the Sprague National Bank in the Brooklyn Bank Club League tournament on Knubel's Fulton Street alleys, Brooklyn, last night. The scores:

FIRST GAME.—Sprague National Bank—Holzel, 187; Doremus, 90; Sullivan, 121; W. Hodges, 133; McKane, 123. Total, 654.

Queens County Bank—Forfeited.

SECOND GAME.—Mnufacturers' Trust Company—Noregaard, 128; Paddock, 106; Noyes, 177; Whitlock, 185; Ryder, 180. Total, 776.

Queens County Bank (forfeited.)

THIRD GAME.—Sprague National Bank—Holzel, 144; Doremus, 131; Hackett, 104; W. Hodges, 139; McKane, 156. Total, 674.

Manufacturers' Trust Company—Norregaard, 86; Paddock, 148; Noyes, 135; Whitlock, 176; Ryder, 173. Total, 778.

Race Track Results.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Jan. 15.—Mile—Sarilla, 102, (Black,) 1; Old Fox, 103, 2; Trebor, 109, 3. Time—1:50. Mile and a half—Silver Coin, 94, (Cochran,) 1; Admetus, 96, 2; Albert Vale, 107, 3. Time—2:46¼. Mile and a sixteenth—Azim, 95, (Wonderly,) 1; Picadore, 95, 2; Dagmar, 101, 3. Time—1:57¼. Handicap, one mile—Varro, 104, (Dale,) 1; Egyptian Prince, 95, 2; Porter B., 98, 3. Time—1:48¼. Six furlongs—Lady Contrary, 101, (Walsh,) 1; Alpaca, 107, 2; Mordelmo, 105, 3. Time—1:20. Seven furlongs—Lillian Reed, 104, (Dale,) 1; Agitator, 108, 2; Tourney, 101, 3. Time—1:35.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 15.—Five and a half furlongs—Delvista, 100, (Mounce,) 1; Parmenion, 99, 2; Frank Woods, 100, 3. Time—1:11. Five furlongs—Kenilworth, 114, (Turner,) 1; Grafton, 119, 2; El Topio, 114, 3. Time—1:03¾. Six furlongs—Gunto, 85, (J. Ransch,) 1; Sam Fullen, 105, 2; Prejudice, 102, 3. Time—1:17¾. One and a quarter miles—Topmast, 106, (Mounce,) 1; Locochee, 106, 2; Fille d'Or, 99, 3. Time—2:16. Five and a half furlongs—Nellie Forrest, 102, (Dominick,) 1; Loneliness, 102, 2; El Sonoro, 102, 3. Time—1:13. Futurity Course—Flamero, 107, (Mounce,) 5 to 1; La Mascotta, 105, 2; Necklace, 105, 3. Time—1:15¼.

Yale Won at Basket Ball.

HARTFORD, Conn., Jan. 15.—Yale defeated Trinity to-night by a score of 26 to 6 in a basket ball game for the collegiate championship of the State.

Harvard Won at Basket Ball.

WORCESTER, Mass., Jan. 15.—Harvard University basket ball team easily defeated Holy Cross College to-night, 20 to 10.

HENRY MILLER'S NEW PLAY.

"Richard Savage" Will Succeed "A Royal Family" Feb. 4.

Daniel Frohman has arranged that the attraction to follow Miss Annie Russell in "A Royal Family," at the Lyceum Theatre, Feb. 4, will be Henry Miller in his new play, "Richard Savage," the most recent work of Madelne Lucette Ryley. The play is based on the career of a poet who lived in the middle of the eighteenth century. Mr. Miller was to have followed Miss Russell some time later in the season, but it has been impossible to secure any further extension of her time at the Lyceum in consequence of contracts calling for her appearance elsewhere.

Mr. Miller, in his new production, will have the assistance of several prominent artists, among them Florence Rockwell, Louise Thorndyke Boucleault, Jennie Eustace, Owen Fawcett, Arthur Elliott, H. S. Nortbrup, and Joseph Wheelock.

NEW PLAY BY CLYDE FITCH.

"Lover's Lane" Will Be Produced at the Manhattan Feb. 1.

William A. Brady and Florence Ziegfeld, Jr., will produce at the Manhattan Theatre, Friday evening, Feb. 1, a new play by Clyde Fitch, entitled "Lover's Lane." The piece is said to be a play of life in a small town, and has to do with the experiences of a young clergyman of great simplicity of character who stirs his congregation into a ferment by the unconventionality of his methods in the performance of good works.

With his "Barbara Frietchie" at the Academy of Music, "The Climbers" at the Bijou, "Capt. Jinks of the Horse Marines" about to be produced at a Broadway theatre, Mr. Fitch will enjoy the unique distinction of having four of his plays performed simultaneously in this city.

Manager Lawrence Better.

At the home of Business Manager Walter Lawrence of Daly's and the Lyceum Theatre last night it was said that while he was still suffering from the grip, his condition was most gratifying.

SHIPPING AND FOREIGN MAILS.

Miniature Almanac—This Day.

A. M.	P. M.	A. M.
Sun rises...7:22	Sun sets...4:58	Moon rises...3:42

High Water This Day.

A. M.	A. M.	A. M.
S. Hook...3:52	Gov. Isl'd...4:18	H. Gate...0:14
P. M.	P

The New York Times.

"All the News That's Fit to Print."

PUBLISHED EVERY DAY IN THE YEAR.

NEW YORK, WEDNESDAY, JAN. 16, 1901.

OFFICES:

NEW YORK:
Publication Office.....41 Park Row
All American District Telegraph Offices.
WASHINGTON.....515 Fourteenth St.
SWITZERLAND, Geneva: P. Drehmann, Librairie Nouvelle, Rue du Mont Blanc.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.
BY MAIL, POSTAGE PAID.

DAILY, per Month	$0.50
DAILY, per Year	6.00
DAILY AND SUNDAY, per Year	7.50
SUNDAY, per Year	1.50
MONDAY, with Financial Supplement, per Year	1.00
DAILY AND SUNDAY, per Month	0.65
THE NEW YORK TIMES SATURDAY REVIEW, per Year	1.00

For postage to foreign countries add 80 cents per month.

SIXTEEN PAGES.

THE MAYOR.

With the present extraordinary Mayor of the City of New York admonition is wasted and remonstrance futile. But we hope it will be remembered by the people that at a time when their attention was fixed upon the official corruption and the dreadful moral conditions that have been shown to be prevalent, this Mayor gave them an annual message exclusively devoted to the bonded debt, the expenditures, and the financial condition of the municipality. With pestilence in the family the head of the household delivers a homily upon the marketing.

It is proper that the Mayor should talk about the debt and the finances. We do care a great deal about the cost of the City Government and about the way the money is spent. If this message illuminated the subject it would be received with interest and gratitude. But it is of darkening counsel. It throws back upon the Strong administration and upon the communities that came into the consolidated city the responsibility for the increase of $20,000,000 in the bonded debt during the past year, but says not a word about the open and notorious extravagances of Tammany Government. In particular, the public would like to know the justification for the innumerable increases in the salaries paid to Tammany placemen. It amounts to a large sum in the budget. The Mayor overlooks it altogether.

But surely there is no other man in this community, not even in Tammany Hall, who could at this time have written a Mayor's message about bonds without one word concerning the load of responsibility and of infamy that recent events have fixed upon the shoulders of that officer.

THE FILIPINO PETITION.

We observe with much surprise that in the petition sent to Congress by certain Filipinos who are vouched for by Senator HOAR and Senator TELLER no mention is made of the famous alliance between the Government of the United States and AGUINALDO. This alliance has become somewhat celebrated in history for the reason that Mr. SCHURZ has often defied the world to point to any act of deeper perfidy on the part of any republic than our course in making war on our former allies; and the anti-imperialists generally have made the alliance one of their strong points. The Filipino gentlemen who have petitioned Congress to set their people free must be perfectly familiar with the facts. If there was an alliance they must know all about it. It would have fortified their petition tremendously had they set forth the simple facts. There is nothing they have in the document half so potent for their purposes, nothing that would put us so clearly in the wrong or shame us so much as the attestation of the fact of an alliance with AGUINALDO. It is inconceivable that they could have overlooked so convincing a basis of appeal. We must therefore conclude that the alliance is a myth.

An examination of the petition fills us with a lively curiosity to know something about its authorship and origin. It is not homogeneous. There is evidence of various hands. Some of it was either translated by a native or written by one who had mastered the reasoning processes and the phrases of anti-imperialism without attaining to a sure command of English idiom. But the exordium is in the Boston dialect. No living Filipino, even in moments of exaltation, would think of describing the original league of the natives as "a present example for all time, and a fitting apogee for poet and historian." It is not mere carping and certainly not flippant to point out these peculiarities of the petition. They go to the very root of the matter, for it is the first business and duty of Congress to ascertain whether this piebald document is a spontaneous expression of Filipino aspirations or whether it is of quite a different origin.

It is unfortunate that the authors of the petition, whoever they may be, should have embodied in it a historical recital that is known in this country to be untrue. They picture the beginning of the revolt in 1896, when the leaders signed the compact in blood and amid cries of "Fatherland" swore to be free or die, and they have the hardihood to hold up before the American people this portrait of AGUINALDO:

> AGUINALDO, the most prominent figure in the revolution, is the idol of the people, the constant object of their blessings and affectionate regards, because he understands the aspirations of the country; he strives unceasingly for her independence; he represents her highest ideals.

Now, it was only one year after the execution of the blood-signed compact, in December, 1897, that Don EMILIO AGUINALDO signed the treaty of Bac-na-Bato, agreeing for himself and his men to cease fighting, "surrender the arms they have been using against their fatherland," and acknowledge the lawful Spanish authority, retaining their status of "Spanish Filipino citizens, which they desire to preserve." It was further agreed that on Dec. 29 AGUINALDO should take his departure in consideration of "a letter payable to the order of the Spanish-Filipino Bank upon some bank in Hongkong for the sum of $400,000." That ended the insurrection. The chiefs had been bought off by Spain. There was no insurrection at the time DEWEY sailed into Manila Bay.

Furthermore, it was this same AGUINALDO who on Jan. 9, 1899, prepared and issued orders to his men to gain admission inside our lines by profession of peaceful errands in order to prepare for the general massacre which we have evidence in his own handwriting that he intended to perpetrate. We know so well the character of this rebel chief that we are compelled to doubt either the judgment or the sincerity of these natives who speak of him in these most unfitting terms.

It would be impossible not to sympathize with the longing for liberty of which so much is said in the Filipino petition did we not fully understand that in this case it is a longing for the means of sure destruction. The document does not convince us of the capacity of the race for self-government. On careful reading it has the contrary effect, tending to confirm the opinion that these people have little conception of the nature of the responsibilities they are so eager to assume. Even The Evening Post gives space to the views of a recent visitor to the islands who "thinks that the Filipinos are unfit for self-government and would imitate the worst of South American republics if left to themselves."

Nevertheless, this Filipino petition should receive the grave consideration not only of Congress but of the Administration. It reflects a condition the continuance of which is making the natives of the islands discontented and restless. Who can blame the signers of this petition, assuming that they are representative men, for expressing their dissatisfaction? We have been two years at war with AGUINALDO and his followers, and we have not dispersed or conquered them. We have not established order and civil government in the Philippines. It is time for the Administration to determine upon a policy that will end armed revolt, that will clear the way for the civil government it is pledged to set up and maintain. It will be the duty of Congress to co-operate in the execution of this policy, if one can be devised that shall command its approval. The country is tired of the fighting in the Philippines.

THE BRITISH IN CHINA.

Nothing in its own kind could have been more soothing and reassuring to American citizens than a letter which has recently appeared, from its Peking correspondent, in The London Times. Because, in the first place, the Peking correspondent of The Times has, as we all know—all of us who read The London Times—been concurrently pained with the New York correspondent of that same great journal over the reluctance of the United States to join, in China, "the concert of Europe." There can be no reasonable question that we have, as a matter of fact, joined it half-heartedly, or not at all. It seems that we, meaning our State Department, had so little confidence in the concert that the only proceedings of it in which we enthusiastically joined were those for the rescue of the legations. We have since learned from the Russian Minister of Finance that it was Russia alone which performed that feat. But nobody out of Russia believes the assertion, and, for that matter, no Russian who knows anything about the matter from his own personal knowledge. The attempt of M. DE WITTE to make it appear that it was Russia which performed all the feats of that toilsome, adventurous, and, at first, very doubtful expedition, is likely, in view of the other and discordant reports, to make the Russian Finance Minister the laughing stock of all Europe, of all America, and of all that part of Asia which really counts, meaning Japan, not to mention his own country.

It is not, however, on this account, or on account of Russia at all, that we refer to Dr. MORRISON'S letter to The London Times. It is rather on account of the gloomy column which the Peking correspondent of The London Times contributed to a recent issue of that journal about the high-handed and outrageous proceedings that were taking place in China in the name of the European concert. The same correspondent, if we mistake not, had reprehended the United States for not more enthusiastically joining that concert. According to this correspondent, the acts of the concert, meaning the acts of "the allied forces under the command of F. M. the Graf VON WALDERSEE," had been confined, in the so-called "punitive expeditions," to perfectly irrelevant and "irresponsive" acts of arson, burglary, murder, and rape. And the correspondent raises a solemn query whether Great Britain ought not at once to dissociate herself from these proceedings. Apparently, the rightful emotion of Britons, in the face of such a showing, is envy of the United States, which, thanks to the circumspection with which its State Department has been conducted, has avoided all these complications by simply ordaining, when the legations had been rescued, as we have all been astonished to be informed, by the exclusive operations of Russia, that all its troops should be withdrawn from the control of the "commander of the allied forces in China," who has made so bad and scandalous a use of the forces still remaining to him. The Peking correspondent of The London Times does not draw that particular moral. Still, as the American historian of the "One Hoss Shay" has powerfully observed, it is "a moral that runs at large."

THE NEELY DECISION.

It would have been a great pity if the Supreme Court had found that the law of the United States effectually sheltered one of the employés of the United States who had been charged with swindling in Cuba, and had taken refuge in this country. Whatever the technical ground on which such a decision might have been reached, the actual result of it would have been most mortifying. It is, therefore, entirely gratifying to know that NEELY will be sent back to Cuba to be tried under Cuban law and punished as he may deserve.

There has been a good deal of talk, especially in Washington, on the light thrown on the probable decision of the court in the Porto Rico cases by its action in the Neely case. There is no analogy between the former and the latter, and there is nothing in the opinion of the Court in the Neely case from which its opinion in the others can fairly or plausibly be inferred. The United States took Porto Rico and the Philippines from Spain in the treaty unconditionally and with no avowal of what it would do with them. It did not so much take Cuba from Spain as it evicted Spain from the island. This it did with the distinct avowal of its intention to turn the island over to the Cubans when it was pacified. Our occupation and control in the one case were voluntarily limited; in the other they were subject to no defined or inferred limitation whatever. The extradition of NEELY was asked for by the Government of the United States from the Court on the sole ground that it was authorized by a law passed in full recognition of the temporary nature of our occupation. The decision of the Court, given on these facts, has and can have no bearing on the decision of the Court as to the scope and nature of the authority of the United States in territory held on entirely different conditions.

THE REMOVAL OF COL. BURT.

It is incumbent on Gov. ODELL to give more precise reasons than he has given for the removal of SILAS W. BURT from the State Civil Service Commission. It is not easy to infer from Col. BURT'S public record any really good reasons for the removal. On the other hand, the evidence of that record is very strong that the "best interests of the State," which, the Governor declares, induce him to reorganize the commission, would be directly and powerfully served by the continuation of Col. BURT in his office.

The only fact mentioned in Albany as bearing on the change is that Col. BURT is not regarded by the Democratic organization in the State as a satisfactory representative of the minority party. But it is a strange misconception of the purpose of the law to suppose that it requires the minority party to be represented by an extreme and narrow partisan. The object of the law in providing that the three Commissioners shall not belong to the same party is to avoid partisan action, not to promote partisanship. For this purpose, Col. BURT is admirably adapted, because, while he is a Democrat by conviction, and has long been one, he is not a partisan. Moreover, there was in the possession of the Governor a paper signed by a number of the most prominent and representative Democrats of this city explicitly asking that Col. BURT be not removed. Considering that the prime intent of the civil service law, which the Commissioners are selected to carry out, is to secure appointments for merit and fitness according to the Constitutional requirement, and consequently to exclude partisanship from the service covered by the law, it is hard to understand why any weight should be given to partisanship of the lower type in making up the commission. We cannot readily believe that the Governor attached much importance to this phase of the matter.

We have alluded to the Constitutional requirement as to appointments. It is very broad and clear. Article V., Section 1, Paragraph 9, says: "Appointments and promotions in the civil service of the State, and of all civil divisions thereof, shall be made according to merit and fitness." This, of course, does not limit in any degree the legitimate discretion of the Governor in such appointments as are vested in him by the Constitution or by law. But it does define the principle by which his discretion shall be guided. The fact that the principle is that which the intelligence and conscience of a competent Executive would commend if it were not embodied in the Constitution only increases its binding force. So far as the public are aware the record of Col. BURT sustains in a remarkable degree his merit and fitness for the place in which he has been continued by three successive Governors. Owing to his firm and skillful application of the merit system in the Naval Office at this port for years before there was any law requiring it; to the intelligence with which he developed the system after the law was passed; to his experience as Chief Examiner in the State service under Gov. CLEVELAND, and to his experience and faithful work in the office from which he is now removed, the presumption is strongly in favor of the inference that he is peculiarly fitted for its duties, and that his merit in the performance of them has stood the severest tests.

In the entire absence of all accessible evidence of Col. BURT'S unfitness, and in view of the statement of the Governor that there are no "personal" reasons for his removal, it seems, as we have said, incumbent on the Governor to make public the actual reasons that induced him to take this action, and to do so with some precision. It will be understood that we make no claim in behalf of Col. BURT, and that in this matter we regard solely the interests of the State. We ask the Governor for his reasons only because we cannot understand them from the facts known to the public. We are sincerely anxious to be able to approve the policy of the Governor because we had not expected great things of him, and his opening message to the Legislature disclosed his desire to follow a higher standard than we had attributed to him. He may be sure of the support of THE TIMES and of the people of the State generally in the honest and intelligent application of that standard to the performance of the duties of his important office. But the condition of such support is necessarily a full knowledge of the facts which justify it, and in the case of Col. BURT all the known facts make the action of the Governor seem mistaken and mischievous.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES.

—"Jersey justice," as illustrated by the progress of the trial in Paterson of the men charged with the murder of the BOSSCHIETER girl, suggests most of all, perhaps, a comparison between the speed with which a jury was secured there and the time which would have been consumed in the same task here. In Paterson the box was filled and the opening address for the prosecution had begun within an hour after court opened. A case of similar importance and notoriety, and involving the safety of men able through their command of legal services to take advantage of every technicality which the law puts within the reach of the accused person, could hardly in New York have reached the same point under two weeks, and might not have been well started in less than a month. This difference is entirely too great not to excite the suspicion that in one State or the other the situation evidences the necessity for reform. On the one hand, we see the counsel for the defense and the prosecution accepting jurymen, in most instances, after only a silent scrutiny, and in the remainder after a few simple questions designed merely to disprove the existence of special disqualifications. The theory there seems to be that any man selected from the intelligent portion of the general public is willing and able to weigh conflicting testimony correctly and to render an honest verdict. On the other hand we see the lawyers on both sides subjecting a vast number of potential jurors to prolonged and searching examinations, and rejecting in one way or another all to whom they can make any real or fanciful objection. The questions which arise are, Is the prisoner adequately protected in New Jersey? and, Is he more than adequately protected, to the great detriment of the public treasury, in New York? The wide dissimilarity of procedure in neighboring communities with much the same ideas as to the administration of justice indicates that something is wrong, somewhere. And, to be quite frank, it looks as though the golden mean were nearer to our neighbor's extreme than to our own.

—With two or three great exceptions, nothing done by the Government has excited so much either of denunciation or of ridicule as the annual distribution of seeds which it is accustomed to make. The original purpose—or pretense—of placing directly in the hands of the people new varieties of fruits, vegetables, grasses, and the like was long since frankly abandoned, and for years practically all the seeds sent out are of the commonest varieties, purchasable in the shop of every dealer in such merchandise, and therefore the only end accomplished is the disturbance of legitimate business by illegitimate interference—and the real or supposed assistance of a few Congressmen in their hunt for popularity among their constituents. We say "supposed" because the average farmer, though prompt enough in taking such free seeds as coms his way, is usually as ready as anybody else to laugh at or condemn the system by which even he profits only to a minute degree, and the number of votes thus made cannot be large enough to deserve serious consideration from any except the most anxious of petty politicians. And yet, as is shown in a circular just sent out by the Secretary of the Wholesale Seedmen's League, the distribution, which amounted to 10,000,000 packets in 1896, has steadily increased despite all argument and opposition until this year the output is to be 24,000,000 packets, valued at about $1,200,000. "These seeds," declares the Secretary, "are contracted for by the Government contractor in big lots, consequently at extremely low prices, and are grown entirely in excess of normal quantities required by the regular seed trade. The growing of these seeds does not profit the seed merchant to the extent of one cent, and the seed farmer is forced to grow them at starvation prices, so very low that no assurance can possibly exist as to their reliability. If the Government seeds were thrown upon the market no reputable seed merchant would purchase them at any price, for the reason that every reputable seed merchant well knows that the Government seeds are likely to be entirely mislabeled as to variety, as well as impure in quality." One of our readers asserts with entire correctness that every objection to the ship subsidy scheme applies with full force to this seed steal. In both cases the idea is to use public funds for the advantage of individuals in a narrowly limited class.

—All enlightened opinion is agreed in condemning the complication of the present campaign against police and other officials in league with the professional exploiters of vice by injecting into it the advocacy of municipal ownership ideas. Equally objectionable, and for the same reasons, is the course pursued by the members of the organization commonly known as the Parkhurst Society in trying to fasten public attention at this time upon the fact that many years ago Mr. RICHARD CROKER was accused of shooting a man in a street broil. It is true that he was so accused, but what relevancy has that to the condition that now confronts the citizens of New York? The Vigilant, the organ of the society mentioned, took the trouble the other day to rehearse at length the old story of Mr. CROKER'S arrest and examination, and by so doing it undoubtedly proved that his early associations were distinctly low, but, in common fairness, it should have gone on, as it did not, and narrated the outcome of the episode, which was, in the repeatedly expressed opinion of reputable Judges and other good legal authorities, the complete breakdown of the case against Mr. CROKER. He was virtually acquitted of the charge brought against him, and, so far as we are aware, the justice of the acquittal has never been successfully impugned. The man who really did the killing went unpunished, indeed, but that was his luck, not Mr. CROKER'S, and the latter was not then of sufficient importance in local politics to have exerted any appreciable influence over the proceedings. We are not saying all this out of affection for the Tammany boss, for whom, as most people know, our regard is not ardent. Even him, though, we would not hear condemned for crimes he did not commit, if for no other reason than that false accusations or baseless insinuations against him, instead of hastening his downfall, will only strengthen his supporters by exciting for him sympathy in a way deserved. The reformers should think of these things and avoid mistakes like that committed by The Vigilant. The present supplies campaign material in abundance for their use, and they should not employ their endeavors to no purpose or to bad purposes.

—Ex-Gov. W. C. OATES of Alabama has contributed to The Birmingham Age-Herald a letter in which he expresses earnest opposition to the disfranchisement of negroes, as such. With the policy of restricting the exercise of the franchise privilege to men of fair intelligence and good character he declares his hearty sympathy, and he admits that honest elections, which he calls the basis of good government, are impossible in Alabama unless the ballot can be taken from the ignorant and corrupt, but he protests against the drawing of a race barrier around the polling booth and demands the application of the same tests to white and black alike. "The disfranchisement of the whole negro race," writes the ex-Governor, "would be unwise and unjust. They constitute a large minority of our State population—over 800,000. Among them are many honest, industrious, and good citizens, capable of fairly understanding the issues of a campaign and for what they would be called upon to vote. Such men are patriotic. When volunteers are wanted to fight our battles, they furnish their quota. Some have acquired property, and pay their taxes. * * * Who will say that BOOKER WASHINGTON, COUNCILL, GRANT, CALHOUN, and hundreds of other citizens of Alabama shall not vote if they choose? No one can deny their intelligence and qualification. Shall they be excluded merely because they belong to the colored race? I say no." Educational and property qualifications are not approved by the ex-Governor. He would disfranchise, without regard to race, the felon, the man of notoriously bad character, the man who does not pay his poll tax, the man who sells his own vote or buys that of another, and all who cannot understand the Constitution when it is read to them. By the passage of laws to this effect he believes that the end to be desired in the Southern States—the disfranchisement of the ignorant and corrupt negro majority—would be accomplished, but they and others would thereby be incited to make themselves better citizens, and so no excuse would be given for decreasing the representation of the South in Congress.

MR. ROONEY REPLIES TO RUSS.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

I read with pleasure and amusement the letter in your to-day's issue from my anonymous critic, "Russ," in reply to my communication condemning Lord Kitchener's reconcentrado order and policy in South Africa. "Russ" hurls at me the awful charge that I am an Irishman. I cannot, if I would, reply in kind, as "Russ" takes the precaution not to sign his real name. Can it be that "Russ" hides a Russian, or is it "rus in urbe"? In any event, I must commend my anonymous critic's good judgment in not defending the reconcentrado system of Lord Kitchener over his own name in an American city. As for my being an Irishman, I am not, nor was my father before me, but I have the honor of being descended from that race the very mention of whose name is a reproach, confessed by generation after generation of liberal statesmen in England, to the boasted civilization of the British Government. The fact that Edmund Burke and Sheridan, our steadfast friends during the Revolution, were Irishmen does not diminish American gratitude to their memory or lessen their claims to the affectionate regard of mankind. Nor has the noble attitude of Charles James Fox, the Earl of Chatham, and Pitt dimmed the lustre about their names.

"Russ" does not deny the existence of Kitchener's reconcentrado system in South Africa—my main contention; but he proceeds to show that in clearing the country of inhabitants and food "is really an admirable system." "Instead of being condemned for this humane policy," he says, "Lord Kitchener merits, and should receive, commendation"! This "humane policy" consists of "taking within the military lines the inhabitants and the food supplies." Such a policy needs only to be stated to be condemned by impartial justice. It must be perfectly clear that herding—concentrating—90,000 women, old men, and children in military camps, 15 miles from the bases of food supply at the sea, and in such a climate, can result only in terrible suffering and death. Yet "Russ," my anonymous critic, calls it an "admirable system"!

"Russ" says I "transcend the limits of modesty" when I condemn such practices, as a Christian, and say that God will avenge such wrongs, and "Russ" adds that God, "in His divine wisdom, would probably not select Rooney as His representative on earth." Conscience makes every man the representative of God on earth. Nor is my conscience in revolt against this policy of Kitchener in Africa and complacent toward our own performances in the East.

Finally, permit me to quote for the benefit of "Russ" and all the apologists of national greed and conquest the words of a great Englishman, John Ruskin, the latchets of whose shoes the modern jingoes are not worthy to loose:

> No matter who rules a country, no matter what it is officially called, or how it is formally divided, eternal bars and doors are set to it by the mountains and seas, eternal laws enforced over it by the clouds and stars. The people that are born on it are its people, be they a thousand times again and again conquered, exiled, or captive. The stranger cannot be its King, the invader cannot be its possessor, and, although just laws, maintained whether by the people or their conquerors, have always the appointed good and strength of justice, nothing is permanently helpful to any race or condition of men but the spirit that is in their own hearts, kindled by the love of their native land.

JOHN J. ROONEY.
New York, Jan. 10, 1901.

NUGGETS.

Earnestness.

"Ever notice," asked the Cornfed Philosopher, "that when a man wants to make you think he is speaking from the bottom of his heart, he speaks at the top of his voice?"—Indianapolis Press.

His Fervent Hope.

Mrs. Sleepyize—Henry, the alarm clock just went off.

Mr. Sleepyize—Thank goodness! I hope th' thing'll never come back.—Columbus (Ohio) State Journal.

Not Up to His Name.

"How much money has my husband in bank?" demanded the woman. "I cannot tell you that, Madam," replied the man behind the grating. "Why, they told me you were the teller," snapped the woman.—Philadelphia Record.

Cause for Complaint.

"Yes, she wouldn't speak to the editor when she met him."

"Had he offended her?"

"I should say he had. His society reporter called her one of the last century's buds."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

She Knew All About It.

"Harry is so well posted on this South African war," said young Mrs. Kidder, "and he just loves to discuss it with me because, he says, I have such an intelligent conception of it."

"Is that so?" said her friend.

"Yes, and last night he explained in detail how the Swiss navy, in command of Gen. De Elliott, was going to help the Boers."—Philadelphia Press.

THE VALLEY SHADOWS.

Ripley D. Saunders in St. Louis Republic.

The shadows in the valley,
They gather grim and gray,
We needs must pass their darkness through,
It waits on every way;
But from the heights descending,
O soul, be brave and strong,
And make the valley shadows ring
Unto the hilltop song!

The shadows in the valley,
They gather gray and grim,
But all their darkened roads go straight
From mountain brim to brim;
And now the heights ascending,
The way behind you long,
How steadfast sounds your faithful chant,
The valley's hilltop song!

DRAMATIC AND MUSICAL

New American Comedy Acted by a New Stock Company.

"The Climbers," by Clyde Fitch, Produced at the Bijou Theatre by Amelia Bingham—Gossip of the Stage.

"The Climbers," a new comedy, (or, in the popular phraseology, "comedy-drama,") treating of social life in our own environment and in the present hour, was splendidly acted for the first time at the Bijou Theatre last night by a company organized by Amelia Bingham. The house was crowded, and there were evidences on every hand that the occasion had been regarded beforehand as one of uncommon importance by many persons who have the best interests of the stage at heart.

Such an occasion, indeed, it turned out to be. The play, if not exactly an epoch-maker, is, for three of the four acts, an exceedingly smart and welcome addition to our small stock of modern American plays. It is, in those episodes, reasonably true to both the spirit and the surface facts of the life around us, is remarkably ingenious and novel in its employment of pictorial device, is piquant in its use of wit and humor; evolves in its action at least one scene, with a suddenly darkened stage, which may fairly be called a "thriller," and rises, through a series of fine and strong emotional passages, to a powerful and moving penultimate climax in its third act.

It will probably be said of its humorous scenes, by some of the old-stagers, that they are flippant. A vulgar but prodigiously wealthy youth named Trotter, who is said to employ a shop window dresser to set the table for him when he gives a dinner; the leader of one of the "fast sets" in society, an unmarried woman with a spectacular vocabulary and a character just faintly open to suspicion; a slangy, frivolous girl, and half a dozen social chatterers are concerned conspicuously in these scenes.

One of them represents a gay Christmas dinner in a fine modern mansion, with no lights except the candles on the board; another is the succeeding Christmas tree festival, interrupted by an incident of almost tragic import.

The play begins with the return of a vain and shallow widow and her three daughters in deep mourning from the fashionable funeral of the husband and father. The sincere grief of two of the daughters, held in check by their good sense and taste; the vanity and thoughtlessness of the widow and her youngest daughter make up a scene novel, touching, and infused with a sort of bitter humor. The sale to condoling friends of new gowns that cannot be worn in the period of mourning is one of the satirical episodes. The fact that the man died bankrupt is presently revealed, and then follows the revelation of the dishonesty of the son-in-law, the husband of the heroine.

He is threatened with disgrace. The efforts of his wife to shield him and to save him, for the sake of her son, lead to the serious action of the play. Most of the other personages are more or less involved in the financial operations of the protagonist.

There is, of course, another man (that inevitable college chum and "best man" at the wedding,) who secretly loves the wife. All playgoers know this estimable gentleman, the tenderness of his heart, the depth of his affection, and his wonderful power as an adjuster of all difficulties in a crisis. But it is in the unhackneyed manner of his treatment of this very character that the greatest strength of Mr. Fitch's new play lies.

The scene in which Edward Warden, in a moment of tumultuously passionate self-revelation, induces a supposedly heartless woman of the world to forego a chance for revenge and petty social triumph is one of the best scenes ever written by a modern dramatist.

It is wonderfully well acted, too, by Robert Edeson and Clara Bloodgood. The man has never before struck the note of passion so firmly and convincingly. The variety of tone, the aptness and verity in the woman'c acting, cannot fail to enhance her artistic repute.

The succeeding scene of three, between the wife, the husband, and the lover, which closes the act, is stronger in a purely theatrical sense, and therefore serves, but it is more artificial and less reasonable. The play falls off in the last act. Unless this act can be rewritten, the play will probably fail.

Miss Bingham carries the arduous rôle of the young wife with grace and dignity and sufficient power. Frank Worthing is absolutely in his element in the complex rôle of the ruined specialist. What good there is in the man, his affection and his self-contempt, he denotes clearly, while he indicates vividly also the superficial traits of the operator who takes "big chances."

Mr. Worthing's is the histrionic triumph in the thrilling dark scene, in which the lights are turned out so that he may tell the truth about his misdoings without feeling the condemning gaze of the listeners. There is more than a hint of trickery in the episode, of course, but it will probably serve.

For the rest, Annie Irish is admirable as a sensible, good-hearted woman of the world; Minnie Dupree as piquant as ever in the rôle of an incorrigible girl, Ferdinand Gottschalk diverting as the "dodo-bird," and no part is badly acted. The scenery, dressing, and decorations are all exactly right. Mr. Physioc's three interiors and Mr. Ernest Albert's view of the yard of the Hermitage at William's Bridge (Hopkinson Smith's "Laguerre's") in a snow-storm are admirable pictures.

Miss Bingham made a pretty and touching and carefully studied speech after Act III., and Mr. Fitch was called to the front many times and forced at last to say he thought he had better not make a speech.

The fourth act, with its suicide, was obviously not liked by the audience so friendly in the early part of the evening, and the curtain fell in silence. But a play that holds the attention three-quarters of its length can generally be saved. "The Climbers" is too long, anyhow.

But clearly Miss Bingham deserves the cordial support of the public. She still has many obstacles to overcome in spite of her ownership of this new play and her control of a company of competent and interesting actors. This community esteems itself clever, but it is often slow to recognize merit and frequently permits itself to be deceived by charlatans.

The theatre now occupied by Miss Bingham and her associates is clean and bright and centrally situated. It has modern appliances and its stage is large enough for such plays as "The Climbers." But the house has been associated with acrobatic farce and buffoonry, its long and narrow audience room does not seem cozy, and its name, when associated with serious drama, seems silly. Nevertheless, no other playhouse being available, Miss Bingham has gone just the right way to work to do something worth doing for the sake of dramatic art. She has secured the best new play she could find, and has employed a company of good actors.

Richard Sterling	Frank Worthing.
Edward Warden	Robert Edeson
Frederick Mason	John Flood
Johnny Trotter	Ferdinand Gotschalk
Dr. Steinart	George C. Boniface
Godesby	J. B. Sturges
Servant	Henry Warwick
Jordan	Edward Moreland
Leonard	Henry Stokes
A Footman	Frederick Wallace
Richard Sterling, Jr.	Harry Wright
Mrs. Hunter	Madge Carr Cook
Mrs. Sterling	Amelia Bingham
Jessica Hunter	Maud Monroe
Clara Hunter	Minnie Dupree
Miss Hunter	Annie Irish
Miss Godesby	Clara Bloodgood
Miss Sillerton	Ysobel Haskins
Thompson	Lillian Eldridge
Marie	Florence Lloyd

YESTERDAY IN MUSIC.

Mr. Samuel Franko's Third Symphony Concert at the Lyceum Theatre.

It will surely delight many music lovers to know that Mr. Samuel Franko's series of concerts of old music has proved so successful that an additional series is to be given in Lent on the afternoons of Feb. 26, March 12, and March 26. This announcement is evidence of the fact that there are enough persons with chaste musical taste in this community to support orchestral concerts in which the hackneyed things are not done in the hackneyed way, and to obtain from the simple and graceful measures of the old masters that pleasure which they gave to contemporaries of their composers. The last of Mr. Franko's concerts took place yesterday afternoon in the Lyceum Theatre. The programme consisted of the following numbers: Overture, "L'Hotellerie Portugaise," Cherubini, first time in America; Sinfonia Concertante for oboe, clarinet, horn, and bassoon, with orchestra, Mozart, first time in America; the ballet music from Grétry's "Cephale et Procris," first time in America, and Saint-Saëns's suite, Opus 49. The three novelties, as may be seen, were of the old style, while the music of the living Frenchman fitted itself into the scheme because it was patterned after the works of the elders.

Cherubini died in 1842, and his one-act opera, of which the overture was heard yesterday, was produced in 1798. Mozart died in 1791, and the composition heard yesterday may possibly date from 1788, though that is uncertain. Grétry died in 1813, and his "Cephale et Procris" was first performed in 1773. So the audience of yesterday afternoon heard three novelties, all over a century old. And charming novelties they were, too. The Cherubini overture is not so important a work as his familiar overture to "Anacreon," but it is characteristic and richly scored. It was admirably played, and it sounded quite brilliant in the small theatre. Transferred to a large hall it would undoubtedly lose some of its effect.

The Mozart work was well worth bringing forward. It must be admitted that the slow movement is rather slow in the modern sense of that word, but the other two are charming. As in all Mozart's similar compositions the four solo instruments are treated with equal respect, and each of them has something interesting to say. The amount of technical facility demanded by the music, especially in the case of the horn, must have astonished some who did not realize that there were virtuosi also in those days. The variations of the last movement, somewhat naïve indeed, were thoroughly enjoyable. The Grétry ballet music proved to be piquant and fascinating, and the quaint little gavotte had to be repeated. The solo players in the Mozart music were Alfred Doucet, oboe; Emil Schenck, clarinet; Xaver Reiter, horn, and Henry Toede, bassoon. They acquitted themselves with great credit. Mr. Franko conducted well, and his orchestra showed the results of careful rehearsal.

DEBUT OF TOSELLI.

A Young Italian Pianist Heard in Carnegie Hall.

Enrico Toselli, announced as "Italy's great pianist," made his first appearance in America yesterday afternoon at Carnegie Hall in a recital programme. The list of pieces was as follows: Toccata and fugue, Bach-Tausig; a musette and a gavotte, arranged by Martucci on airs by Handel; the Rubinstein study on false notes, Chopin's E flat nocturne, "Berceuse," and A flat polonaise; Liszt's "Liebestraum," and a toccata and a tarantelle by Martucci. Mr. Toselli was born nineteen years ago at Nice. At twelve years of age he became a pupil of Sgambati, and afterward he studied for a short time under Martucci. He made his début four years ago, and is said to have stirred his excitable countrymen to great enthusiasm. He subsequently played in France and England, and his press agent says he was praised in those countries just as heartily as he was in Italy. There is room here for the proverbial grain of salt. In Italy the piano has not figured in the musical Renaissance, in which the young school of opera composers have been so conspicuous, and in which Sgambati and Martucci have had some share. It would not be difficult, perhaps, to make a noise in the sunny land of song with strong wrists and agile fingers. But in France and England they hear great pianists, and it would not be so easy to beguile them with the tinkling of wires.

Of all places on earth in which there is no hope for the superficial and merely clever in music New York is easily the first. All the hysteria here goes to the opera; the concert room, after first appearances, is usually the abode of sanity. It must therefore be announced in the fewest possible words that Mr. Enrico Toselli, after playing half of yesterday's programme, took an undisputed position in the glorious company of mediocrities who have sacrificed themselves on the altar of their own ignorance of the state of music knowledge in these United States. The youth played the Bach very clearly, but glibly and flippantly. And then he launched himself into the music of the salon, and dallied with Martuccian trifles of the music-box order in a music box style. His performance of the Rubinstein study would not have been tolerated from a conservatory pupil, and as an encore number—for of course there were people there to applaud him—he performed a weird piece of schoolgirl music, probably written by himself at about the age of fourteen.

The boy has fairly good fingers, but his technic is not more than half developed. He knows nothing about tone coloring, and his intellectual attributes, as far as shown yesterday, would not more than stock a zither player. There is no use whatever for such piano playing in this town, where better pianists are still taking lessons of local teachers.

A Joint Song Recital.

At Mendelssohn Hall last night Miss Carrie Bridewell, contralto, of the Metropolitan Opera House, and Mr. Heinrich Meyn, baritone, gave a joint song recital, in which they had the aid of Mme. Delhaze-Wickes, pianist, and Max Liebling, accompanist. The entertainment began with the usual duets, the composers being Dvorak and Dietrich. Mr. Meyn sang songs by Spicker, Arms-Fisher, May Catlin, Boildieu, Brahms, Schubert, Loewe, Rubinstein, and Meyer-Helmund. Miss Bridewell sang numbers by Saint-Säens, the eternal "Printemps," from "Samson"—Brahms, von Fielitz, Wagner, Stange, Grammann, and Franz. Mme. Delhaze-Wickes played a fantasia by Chopin and a study by Martucci. The concert came to an end with a duet from Saint-Säens's "Samson et Delilah."

Mr. Meyn is an experienced song singer, and though his voice is hard and inflexible, his method vicious, and his intonation uncertain, he has some musicianship and some comprehension of his art. Operatic singers usually know enough about their own deficiencies to cling to the surroundings of the theatre and not expose their musical nakedness in recitals. Miss Bridewell, however, is young in her calling, and must learn by experience. She has a valuable voice, but her song singing last night disclosed grave defects of method, with the inevitable results in the shape of unmusical tone, a cold and unpoetic style, and a general want of knowledge of the subtleties of detail required in the art which she essayed. Mme. Delhaze-Wickes showed that her fingers had been well trained, but there was nothing in her playing to excite interest. It was technically clean and musically colorless. The audience was large, and the applause of a most generous kind. It is, indeed, a good-natured public.

Mr. Bispham's Song Recital.

Mr. David Bispham, the popular baritone of the Metropolitan Opera House, gave a song recital yesterday afternoon in Mendelssohn Hall. His programme comprised songs by Purcell, Schumann, Mendelssohn, Brahms, Franz, H. H. Wetzler, a local composer, who accompanied him in yesterday's performance; Sullivan, Stanford, Brockway, and Loewe. There was a large audience, which made the usual manifestations of satisfaction at Mr. Bispham's delivery of the songs. This need not now be a subject of comment. The baritone's style is so familiar that for once his work may be permitted to pass with the simple remark that it is always instinct with earnestness and never devoid of dramatic expression. At the close of the recital he announced that he would sing—and he did sing—a newly discovered Irish folk song, and this unexpected novelty seemed to give the audience especial delight. Mr. Wetzler's songs, too, were cordially received.

Successful New Opera in Munich.

MUNICH, Jan. 15.—Munich operagoers have just witnessed the successful premiere of "Cupid and Psyche," a three-act opera by Max Zenger, a Munich composer. The libretto, which is by William Schriefer of Vienna, and which was written as early as 1806, follows the tale in Apuleius's "Golden Ass." The music is Mozartean, and is enthusiastically applauded by the critics, who refer to it as "glorious."

Katherine Grey's Condition.

Mrs. John B. Mason, professionally known as Katherine Grey, who was brought back to this city Monday from Pittsburg suffering from typhoid fever, was doing well last night.

MORE TROOPS TO BE SENT TO KITCHENER

British War Office Will Enlist 5,000 Volunteers.

Various Commands Believed to be Joining De Wet—Mining Companies Must Pay and Feed Guards.

LONDON, Jan. 16.—The Government has decided to send large reinforcements to Lord Kitchener, and the War Office in carrying out this decision has determined to enlist 5,000 yeomanry volunteers.

At a meeting held at the War Office yesterday afternoon this plan and others for securing more men were discussed and approved, and it is understood that the Government will in the course of a day or two issue a communique on the subject.

Indications are not wanting that the decision of the Government to send reinforcements has not been taken a moment too soon. Col. Colville's mobile column, which has been pursuing the Boers, has been obliged to rest at Greylingstad, to erect a blockhouse, and to cease operations until reinforced by mounted troops.

The casualty list shows that there has been a severe engagement, with a loss of six killed, seventeen wounded, and five missing, at Murraysburg, where the Dutch are said to have been joining the invaders. Murraysburg is sixteen miles west of Graaf Reinet.

Gen. Paget has taken his force to Pretoria for refitting. Many of the men are suffering from enteric fever.

Three hundred Boers captured a small British convoy at Bronkhurstspruit, near Pretoria, but made off after liberating the prisoners.

Gen. Brabant, while addressing a conference of Mayors at Cape Town, said the authorities were anxious to keep the war away from Cape Town if possible, but that the only hope of doing this lay in sending 1,000 men to the front. He urged that no precaution should be omitted to prevent the enemy from advancing further south.

Reporting to the War Office, under date of Pretoria, Jan. 14, Lord Kitchener says:

"Bever's whole force crossed the railway near Kalfontein on Jan. 12, making to the east.

"There are no important changes in the positions in the colonies. Several small parties appear to be returning to the Orange River Colony.

"Some Cape rebels, who accompanied a commando into the colony, have surrendered."

Lord Roberts further emphasizes the unsatisfactory condition of South Africa in a letter to the Mayor of Portsmouth, postponing the presentation of a sword of honor from that city. He says:

"It is most distasteful to me to be honored and feted and called upon to rejoice while so many are in bitter grief and before we can properly return thanks that the cloud is being rolled away which has for more than a year darkened the homes and crushed the hearts of so many in our country."

CAPE TOWN, Jan. 15.—Sir Alfred Milner's Consultative Committee of Uitlanders is telegraphing to the various committees of the Uitlanders throughout the country the terms of the order regarding the formation of guards for mines.

Each mining company is to pay and feed its own men.

KROONSTAD, Orange River Colony, Jan. 14.—The refugee camp is now occupied by 2,000 persons. Another is being formed at Rhenoster.

Supplies of all kinds in the towns are shortening daily.

The Boers are most active northward, and also in the direction of Lindley. Various commands appear to be joining Gen. De Wet to the southward.

"FROM BOER TO BOER."

De Wet Infuriated at Paul Botha, the Author of a Book Bitterly Attacking Krueger.

KROONSTAD, Orange River Colony, Jan. 14.—The success of the Burgher Peace Committee in distributing among the republicans Paul Botha's book, "From Boer to Boer," has infuriated Gen. De Wet.

It is reported that De Wet swears that he will shoot the author at the first opportunity.

The Daily Mail (London) published on Dec. 11 a number of extracts from Paul Botha's book. The author is a member of the Free State Raad, and is described in The Daily Mail as a "typical, rugged, intelligent, and upright Boer."

Mr. Botha makes a bitter attack on ex-President Krüger, who, he declares, has caused all the troubles of the burghers. The only way, he says, that he can explain the mystery of the admiration for Krüger abroad is because "a veil of romance has grown round that rugged old man, and Europe, being 6,000 miles away, accepts him as seen through the eyes of his duped burghers."

"Let me," says Mr. Botha, "tear this veil of false romance from him. . . . We know him—an unreliable, unscrupulous, and hypocritical man, who sacrificed an entire people to his cupidity. His one aim and object was to enrich himself, and he used every means to this one end. He used the Transvaal as a milch cow for himself and his following."

Mr. Botha then goes on to speak of the immense sums of money obtained by the Transvaal Government from the sale of monopolies, and asks:

"What benefit has the country derived from any of these? Are there any institutions for the public benefit in the Transvaal, such as schools, universities, industrial institutions, public works, roads, or railways to justify the vast expenditure of money? No!

"If you want to know where the money has gone, search the pockets of Paul Krüger & Co."

The writer then goes on to speak of Krüger's immense salary, and states that he never gave a sixpence to charity. He once promised £10 for the sufferers of the dynamite explosion, but never paid it.

Mr. Botha states that Krüger's policy completely changed the character of the Bond. "It," he says, "you were anti-Kruger you were stigmatized as 'Engelschgezind, (pro-English,) a traitor to your own country." He then speaks of the subsidized Afrikander newspapers and their influence, and then refers to the influence of the Boer preachers in the following terms:

"When I come to think of the abuse the pulpit made of its influence I feel as if I cannot find words strong enough to express my indignation.

"God's Word was prostituted; a religious people's religion was used to urge them to destruction; a minister of God told me himself, with a wink, that he had to preach at the English because otherwise he would lose favor with those in power. These parsons who snorted fire and destruction from the pulpit, however, carefully staid at home during the war. I heard one anxious parson in a war sermon urge his burghers, 'Go forth, meet the enemy; I shall remain on the mountain top praying for you like Moses of old,' solemnly adding that his dear wife, who felt for them as much as he did, would take the place of Aaron and support him when he got tired."

Mr. Botha also says:

"I tingle with indignation to hear that the cruel author of all this avoidable misery, rich, smug, and safe, is on his way to Europe, and going to be received by the Queen of Holland and made a hero of—a hero who was known in the Free State thirty years ago, before he found better means of enriching himself, as a swindling dealer in oranges and tobacco, and one whom we strongly suspected of being a very cute slave dealer."

Imprisoned German Appeals to Berlin.

BERLIN, Jan. 15.—Official confirmation is given to a report that Diehl, a German merchant in Koffyfontein, whom the British arrested, has appealed to Count von Bülow, Imperial Chancellor, for aid, the appeal being forwarded through a brother of Diehl. The German Consul General in Cape Town has been instructed to cable full details regarding the case. Upon the Consul General's report will depend whether or not the German Ambassador in London will take further steps.

Krueger to Consult an Oculist.

THE HAGUE, Jan. 15.—Mr. Krüger starts for Utrecht in a few days to consult an oculist.

CHILD PINNED UNDER A CAR.

Mother Stands By While Mangled Boy Is Taken Out.

While running an errand for his mother, Harry Steller, four years old, of 24 Bogart Street, Brooklyn, was run down by a trolley car at Flushing Avenue and Forest Street last evening. One wheel of the car passed over his left leg at the hip, and before the car stopped his body was caught by the rear wheel and held so firmly that the car had to be raised before he could be extricated. Word of the accident was carried to the little boy's parents, and they had hurried from their home near by and watched the work of raising the car, and when at last her mangled child was lifted from the track, the mother sank to the sidewalk in unconsciousness.

A wagon passed as the little boy came to the corner, and he waited for it to go by and then ran behind it directly in front of the car. The fender scooped him in, and for an instant he seemed to be safe, but he rolled out of the basket before the wheel.

The child was taken to St. Catharine's Hospital in an ambulance, where his leg was amputated. The doctors say he will die. The motorman was arrested.

RARE AUTOGRAPHS SOLD.

Genealogy of George Washington in His Own Handwriting Brings $1,750 at Clark Sale in Boston.

BOSTON, Jan. 15.—The autograph genealogy of George Washington, at the auction sale of the Clark collection of prints and autographs here to-day, brought $1,750. The book went to Dodd, Mead & Co. of New York, who, is is understood, purchased it for the account of George W. Vanderbilt.

Another of the autographs sold was an original manuscript record of the formation of the Concord company of minute men, who met on Jan. 17, 1775, and chose their officers, with a list of fifty-two members. With this is a record of the meetings of the company, with an additional slip, one of the entries being: "Concord, April the 19th, 1775, then we ware cold a Way to Cambridg, then the battel be gune." This brought out some lively bidding, and the work was finally sold, upon order, at $275.

An autograph of the Rev. John Eliot, the Indian Apostle, sold for $61. An account of Lovewell's fight at Pequakct, in 1725, written by Elaser Melvin, a participant in the fight, brought $31, and an old book which was worth possibly a few cents itself, but which had "Nathan Hale's book, 1769," written on the flyleaf was sold, after some lively bidding, for $150, to Goodspeed of this city.

A page letter written by Benjamin Franklin brought $40, and a military order issued by Col. Benjamin Church was sold for $70. A broadside issued by the Provincial Congress at Watertown, in 1775, was sold for $65. One of the parliamentary blue stuffings which caused so much trouble under the act of 1765 was sold for $20.

Primarily, however, the sale is one of prints, and promises to be one of the most remarkable of the kind ever held in this country, as there are some very fine and rare Washington prints to be disposed of. An inlaid print of John André, taken from the rare Hibernian Magazine, of which the British Museum contains only an imperfect copy, was sold to J. C. Wright for $27.

The highest priced print sold to-day was that of Jonathan Bird of Connecticut, for $71. The morning sale brought in about $3,000, with only 170 out of 2,060 lots disposed of.

MONEY FOR HOSPITALS.

Satisfactory Report at Annual Meeting of the Saturday and Sunday Association.

The annual meeting of the Hospital Saturday and Sunday Association, held yesterday at the United Charities Building, was largely attended, George Macculloch Miller in the chair. An election for officers and Board of Trustees resulted as follows:

President—George Macculloch Miller; Vice President—Isaac Wallach; Recording Secretary—George P. Cammann; Corresponding Secretary—Rev. George S. Baker, D. D.; Treasurer—Charles Lanier. Board of Trustees—George M. Miller, Isaac Wallach, Rev. George S. Baker, D.D., George P. Cammann, Charles Lanier, Jacob H. Schiff, William Alexander Smith, A. G. Agnew, John S. Bussing, George G. Wheelock, M. D., James Speyer, J. A. Stursberg, Robert Olyphant, O. Egerton Schmidt, R. Vander Ende, Walter H. Lewis, Louis Stix, Charles Renauld, Henry Maillard, W. Oliver Moore, M. D., Leonard Weber, M. D., Henry Rosenwald, Eugene H. Conklin, A. B. Ansbacher, A. H. Wellington, H. R. Kunhardt, R. S. Cross, Marcus M. Marks, Mrs. Edmund L. Baylies, and Mrs. James Speyer.

Mrs. James Speyer, Treasurer of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Association, reported that the returns from the appeal to the women of New York, issued by the auxiliary, exceeded at this date the responses of any previous year, and the general agent, Mr. P. Cook, reported a like prosperity on behalf of the church and trade collections, giving an assurance that the collection of 1900-1901 would be the largest in the history of the association.

Mr. Miller, the President, made a strong appeal to the members to do all in their power to interest the benevolent public in behalf of the Associated Hospitals in this their hour of great need.

PUBLIC ACCOUNTANTS' MEETING

Officers Elected and Speeches Made at the Annual Dinner.

The American Association of Public Accountants held its annual meeting yesterday afternoon, and this was followed by a dinner at the Astor House. At the meeting the following officers were elected: President—Leonard H. Conant; Vice President—Ferdinand W. Lafrentz; Secretary—Thomas Cullen Roberts; Treasurer—James Grant. A Board of Trustees was also elected.

At the afternoon meeting Controller Coler addressed the association, saying he approved of the work of public accountants and believed that his office, as well as all other offices in both the city and State, had been handicapped because public accountants could not be retained at any time.

The American Association of Public Accountants was organized in 1887, and an idea of its almost universal reputation can be gleaned from the following extract from a letter written from "80 Bhuleswar 3rd, Bholwada, Bombay." The letter is an application for membership in the association, and in part reads as follows:

Formation of a body of accountants representing American diplomas here in Bombay will very much tend to draw the two sister countries in ease and harmony and will strengthen the commercial ties existing between them. In the recent famine the valuable and opportune assistance that your famous country rendered to us gives ample proof and expression to the noble character of the people on your side.

In conclusion I beg to add that when the door of your honorable association is opened for an Indian it would be always kept so for anybody desiring to approach it, without any distinction of cast or creed, so long as "liberty" holds its own in your country; otherwise there is every possibility of doing injustice to new-comers.

Hoping you will kindly spare a few moments to drop me a few lines of the subject and oblige, I remain, your most obedient servant,

CURSANDAS BALGOVANDAS.

The letter was referred to the Board of Trustees for action.

The President acted as toastmaster at the dinner which was attended by nearly all of the members of the association. Charles W. Haskins, President of the New York State Society of Certified Public Accountants and a member of the State Board of Examiners, was the first speaker. He declared that the work of a public accountant was on a level with that of the physician and lawyer and should be justly called a profession and not a business. F. W. Childs, President of the New York Chapter of the Institute of Accounts, followed with a short speech. The Rev. Dr. John L. Hunt, a member of the Board of Education, the next speaker, told of the need of the new Commercial High School to give a practical business education to young men aspiring to enter business.

Henry Loewenthal, as one of the guests of the association, was then introduced by President Conant. J. A. Lassin of The Financial News and F. H. Lancaster of Business also spoke, as did Edward C. Spaulding, who represented the Pennsylvania Society of Public Accountants. Frank Bronker and Thomas Arnold, members of the association, also made a few remarks.

At the guests' table with the speakers was James Walden, the oldest President of the association. He was active in it before the State law was passed requiring public accountants to pass an examination and be duly licensed.

MRS. JOHN JACOB ASTOR GIVES A LARGE DANCE

More Than Three Hundred Guests in the Fifth Avenue Mansion.

Seventy-five Couples Take Part in the Cotillion, Led by Craig Wadsworth and the Hostess.

For the first time in several seasons Mrs. John Jacob Astor gave last evening at her residence, 840 Fifth Avenue, a large dance. This entertainment was not as elaborate as the ball given by Mrs. Astor, the hostess's mother-in-law, last week, nor was the invitation list so catholic. It was, however, an entertainment which could hardly be called a "small dance," the fashionable name for anything where less than 500 guests are asked.

One of the features of the dance last evening was the number of débutantes and young people present. As a rule very fashionable "small dances" are given for the younger married set and débutantes have to content themselves with the Assembly, the Junior Cotillion, the meetings of the dancing classes, and an occasional dinner dance. The dance last evening, as are all the entertainments at the Astor residence, was one perfectly appointed and thoroughly enjoyable. Although there were over 300 guests present and 75 couples in the cotillion, there was never once the suggestion of the rooms being crowded. It is true that both of the Astor houses were thrown open and made into one, as is the usual custom at all the large entertainments given by either Mrs. Astor or her daughter-in-law, Mrs. John Jacob Astor. The dance was quite a late one. There were quite a number of dinners before it, and it was nearly midnight when the guests began to arrive.

There was no attempt whatever at elaborate floral decoration. Everywhere, around the great entrance hall and in the rooms where the guests were, there were large vases of American Beauty, Liberty, and other roses and cut flowers. These were all supplied from the conservatories of Col. John Jacob Astor, at Rhinebeck. After the guests had reached the first floor and were divested of their wraps, they went into the white and gold drawing room on the right, in the residence of Col. and Mrs. John Jacob Astor.

At the door of the drawing room Mrs. John Jacob Astor received her guests. She was alone. She wore a gown of white chiffon, veiled with white net, inlaid with medallions of black lace, and diamonds.

The reception lasted about an hour, and those who wished to dance went into the picture gallery, or ballroom, in the residence of the elder Mrs. Astor, where there was general dancing until supper was announced. There were no decorations whatever in this room. Nahan Franko's Orchestra played for the general dancing and for the cotillion. Supper was served at small tables scattered through the two dining rooms and the halls at about 12 o'clock. Each table was simply decorated with American Beauty roses.

The following was the menu, served by Sherry:

Bouillon a la Riche en Tasse.
Terrapene, Maryland.
Filet de Boeuf a La Renaissance.
Canard Canvasback,
Hominy Croquettes.
Pate de Caneton en Bellevue.
Salade Orientale.
Parfait au Café.

Gateaux. Bonbons.

Café.

Moet & Chandon Imperial Brut. Apollinaris.

It was nearly 2 o'clock before the cotillion began. It was led by Craig Wadsworth with Mrs. John Jacob Astor. The favors comprised silver articles, pencils, cigarette cases, and other trifles for both the girls and men; leather pocketbooks, mounted in gold and silver, for the girls, and match safes for the men; natural flowers in corsage bouquets for the women, and boutonnières of pink roses for the men; tulle scarfs in various colors for the girls and lucky coins for the men, and a charming rose garden figure, in which Mrs. Collins had sprays of roses in different shades attached to wands for the girls, and for the men fancy walking sticks, decorated with flowers to match.

Mrs. Astor wore a gown of white satin covered with lace spangled with gold, and wore her famous diamonds.

Mrs. Hamilton McK. Twombly was gowned in pale mauve satin embroidered in pearls, and wore pearl ornaments.

Miss Florence Twombly wore delicate blue satin trimmed with chiffon and forget-me-nots.

Mrs. Edmund L. Baylies was in black satin with steel embroidery, trimmed with red roses, and wore diamonds.

Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt wore a gown of white velvet, and her jewels were diamonds.

Mrs. Lloyd Bryce was in white lace, and wore pearls and diamonds.

The Misses Claire and Leila Bryce were both in white.

Mrs. Luther Kountze was in pale heliotrope velvet trimmed with Venetian lace.

Miss Helen Kountze was in white lace embroidered in silver, and white sash.

Miss Marie de Neufville was in white tulle spangled with gold over satin, and a knot of gold.

Miss Kathleen Neilson wore yellow satin trimmed with cream lace.

The Misses Elsie, Edith, and Ethel Cryder wore frocks of white tulle over white taffeta, trimmed with tiny pink roses.

Miss Rosamond Street wore pink satin trimmed with chiffon, and pink roses.

Among the guests were:

Mrs. Astor,	Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Harriman,
Mr. and Mrs. O. Wilson,	Mrs. Beverley Robinson,
Mr. J. J. Van Alen,	Miss Carrie Edgar,
The Misses Van Alen,	Ernest Iselin,
Mr. and Mrs. O. Mills,	William Sloane,
The Misses Gerry,	Phoenix Ingraham,
Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Baylies,	Bradish Johnson, Jr.,
The Misses A. Blight,	M. Robinson,
Miss Anna Sands,	Robert L. Gerry,
Miss Wetmore,	E. T. Wilson, Jr.,
Mr. and Mrs. C. Vanderbilt,	Mr. and Mrs. T. Suffern Tailer,
Mrs. W. Seward Webb,	The Misses Bryce,
Miss F. Webb,	Col. and Mrs. W. Jay,
Mrs. H. McK. Twombly,	Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Mackay,
Miss T. Twombly,	Mr. and Mrs. S. Fish,
Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Cryder,	Lady Cunard,
The Misses Cryder,	Mr. and Mrs. S. Smith,
Mrs. S. Schenck,	Mr. and Mrs. George B. De Forest,
Miss Nathalie Schenck,	Mr. and Mrs. W. Street,
Mrs. Frederick Nelson,	Miss Rosamond Street,
Miss Kathleen Nelson,	Miss Mary Harriman,
Miss Catherine Dix,	Miss Pauline Robinson,
Mrs. Ogden Goelet,	Mr. and Mrs. N. Edgar,
Miss Mary Goelet,	Alonzo Potter,
Mrs. Kountze,	Robert Livingston,
Miss Helen Kountze,	Duncan G. Harris,
Miss Evelyn Parsons,	Count Gheredesca,
Mrs. C. T. Barney,	Coster Wilmerding,
Miss Helen Barney,	Robert Goelet,
Mr. and Mrs. C. Oliver Iselin,	W. Whitehouse,
Miss Nora Iselin,	James W. Gerard,
Miss Therese Iselin,	Heber R. Bishop,
Mr. and Mrs. I. Townsend Burden,	Mr. and Mrs. O. Rhinelander,
The Misses Burden,	Thomas Cushing,
Miss Caroline Livingston,	Miss Lily Oelrichs,
Miss J. Johnson,	Mr. and Mrs. A. Kemp,
Mr. and Mrs. H. Barbey,	Richard Peters,
The Misses Barbey,	C. Livingston,
Mr. and Mrs. L. Norrie,	Mr. and Mrs. W. Storrs Wells,
Mrs. Orville Ksne,	Prince Henri de Croy,
Miss Sybil Kane,	Creighton Webb,
Mr. and Mrs. John R. Livermore,	Mr. and Mrs. H. Le Roy Emmet,
Mr. and Mrs. M. Brooks,	Miss Bishop,
Miss Gladys Brooks,	Mr. and Mrs. F. K. Pendleton,
Mrs C. Albert Stevens,	Lispenard Stewart,
Mr. and Mrs. N. de R. Whitehouse,	Mr. and Mrs. Charles Oelrichs,
Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Harriman,	Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Alexander,
Mr. and Mrs. L. Bryce,	Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Harrison,
Mr. and Mrs. S. White,	Phillip Benkard,
Miss Eleanore Jay,	R. Van Courtlandt,
Mrs. Hermann Oelrichs,	Miss Nathalie Wells,
Miss Greta Pomeroy,	Prince Ruspoli,
Mr. and Mrs. W. Starr Miller,	James de W. Cutting,
Mrs. Adolph Ladenberg,	Harry Lehr.
The Misses Kernochan,
Miss Marion Fish,

Cupid Busy Among School Teachers.

Three public school teachers of West Hoboken filed their resignations with the School Trustees yesterday. Miss Kate Fletcher and Miss Georgia Osterman said they were about to be married, and Miss Kate Randall announced that she was married on Christmas Eve. She is now Mrs. Henry H. Lewis, and will reside in Northern New York. Five teachers of the West Hoboken schools were married during 1900.

Changes in District Attorney's Office.

District Attorney Philbin yesterday requested the resignation of Chief Stenographer Robert E. Nicholls and immediately promoted Stenographer James E. Lynch to the vacancy. Alfred Hearing, a relative of ex-Assistant District Attorney Unger, was also requested to resign. Mr. Lynch's salary will be $1,600 per year. Miss Mattox, also a stenographer, was transferred from the contingent fund to the salary list.

WHAT IS DOING IN SOCIETY.

Local society has resumed its normal attitude now that the Vanderbilt-French wedding is over, although, with the exception of a lull in the entertaining, there was no perceptible difference in the ranks of fashion. Yesterday, however, was a day of receptions and an evening of dinners. The dance given by Col. and Mrs. John Jacob Astor was, of course, the most prominent of all the entertainments. A description of it appears elsewhere.

***

Among the dinners of last evening were those given by Mrs. J. Langdon Schroeder for Miss Marie De Neufville, her sister, at 50 West Eleventh Street—this was one of ten covers; Mr. and Mrs. Pembroke Jones of 13 West Fifty-first Street, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Parrish in honor of Capt. and Mrs. Cowles, Mrs. Sidney Smith, Mrs. Maturin Livingston, and the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Morgan, Dix for Miss Frederica V. Webb. Miss Webb, by the way, has been quite ill with the grip, and was prevented therefrom going to the wedding of her cousin, Alfred Vanderbilt, at Newport.

***

From a close study of the passenger lists on the outgoing ocean steamers it would seem as if very few Americans will go abroad this Winter. The trend of travel will be to the South. The Germanic, which sails to-morrow, has not a large passenger list, but booked upon her are Mr. and Mrs. Diaz Albertini, Miss Caroline Choate, and Mrs. J. E. Mercer.

***

Mr. and Mrs. Rollins Morse of Boston are in New York for a short stay. They have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Clews. Mr. and Mrs. Sartell Prentico and Miss Prentice of Chicago are at the Murray Hill Hotel. They are here for the wedding to-morrow of their son and brother, E. Parmlee Prentice, who weds Miss Rockefeller.

***

Mr. and Mrs. J. Hooker Hammersley have planned to give a series of dinners at their residence, 1,030 Fifth Avenue, the first of which will take place on Friday evening, and the next one on Friday, Jan. 23.

***

Mrs. W. Seward Webb will give a small dance this evening for her daughter, Miss Frederica V. Webb, at her residence, 680 Fifth Avenue. There will be several dinners, and the guests will afterward go to the Webb dance. It will be merely for young people. This will be the second entertainment of the week in honor of Miss Webb.

***

This afternoon the various bridge whist classes will meet. One assembles at the residence of Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish, Madison Avenue and Seventy-eighth Street, and another at that of Mrs. Pembroke Jones. Mrs. Daniel Butterfield, 616 Fifth Avenue, will give her second reception, with music. Gen. and Mrs. Butterfield will leave shortly for Palm Beach. Mrs. William A. Perry, 7 East Fifty-sixth Street, will be at home, and other receptions will be given by Mrs. Russell Bellamy, 810 Park Avenue; Mrs. Ramsay Turnbull, 8? Park Avenue, and Mrs. George Alfred Lawrence, 55 East Fifty-fifth Street.

***

A reception will be given this afternoon in Boston, for which many cards have been received in New York. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bailey Aldrich are the host and hostess, and they are to give the entertainment in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Frost Aldrich, who were married on Christmas Day. The dance which Mrs. E. V. R. Thayer gave in Boston on Monday evening was also largely attended by New Yorkers. Mrs. Thayer was in this city last week, and was at the opera with Mrs. Astor. She came to attend the Astor ball.

***

Mr. and Mrs. George R. Schieffelin will give a dinner at 8 East Forty-fifth Street to-morrow evening in honor of Miss Sarah Gibbs Thompson. Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Ismay, son-in-law and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Schieffelin, will sail from Liverpool to-day for a visit to them. There will be a number of entertainments given in their honor. The Knickerbocker Whist Club, which met at the Schieffelins' a fortnight ago, will meet to-morrow evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rutherfurd, and Capt. and Mrs. Warren C. Beach will give a dinner to-morrow evening at their residence, 585 Fifth Avenue.

***

The report that John D. Rockefeller has purchased the residence, 5 West Fifty-third Street, as a present for his daughter, who is to marry E. Parmelee Prentice to-morrow, lacks confirmation. Mr. and Mrs. Prentice are to live for the present in Chicago. The ceremony to-morrow will be very simple indeed. Only the members of the two families and a few school friends of Miss Rockefeller are asked. The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. Dr. Willard S. Richardson, the pastor of the Fifth Avenue Baptist Church, assisted by the Rev. Dr. William H. P. Faunce, President of Brown University. The ushers are nearly all Chicago men. Among them are Emerson B. Tuttle, Charles R. Carruth, Munro Johnson, Henry H. Porter, Jr., of that city, and John D. Rockefeller, Jr. Mr. Prentice will give his farewell bachelor dinner this evening at the University Club. His Chicago friends arrived in town yesterday.

***

Owing to illness Mrs. Philip Livingston recalled the invitations she had issued for a large dinner at the Metropolitan Club Annex last night, and will not give to-day the reception scheduled to introduce Miss Caroline Livingston, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cambridge Livingston. She will, however, give a coming out reception next Wednesday for Miss Livingston. Mr. and Mrs. Livingston have invitations out for a dinner on the evening of Thursday, Feb. 7. Mrs. Robert Goelet has sent out cards for a dinner to be given on Friday night at her residence, 591 Fifth Avenue, and Mrs. Ogden Mills has issued invitations for a dinner to be given at her town house, 2 East Sixty-ninth Street, on Tuesday evening next. Mrs. Pembroke Jones also has cards out for a dinner on Tuesday evening. Mrs. Astor's dinner on that date has also been announced.

***

Dr. Morgan Dix and Mrs. Dix gave a large and handsomely appointed dinner last night at their residence, 27 West Twenty-fifth Street, for Miss Frederica Vanderbilt Webb. Covers were laid for thirty-two, and the guests were seated at tables decorated with ferns and cut flowers. After the dinner a number of the guests went to Mrs. John Jacob Astor's dance. Besides Miss Webb there were present the following débutantes: The Misses Nora Iselin, Eleanor Jay, Rosamond Street, Molly Lee, Leila Bryce, Mary Harriman, Marian Fish, Florence Twombly, Therese Iselin, Catharine Dix, and of older girls the Misses Metcalf, Gardiner, Carrie Edgar, and Pauline Robinson. Of young men present there were Ernest Iselin Alonzo Potter, Hermann Kinnicut, Barclay Kountze, Robert Livingston, Edward Truedeau, William Sloane, Phoenix Ingraham, Bardish Johnson, Jr., William Coffin, Coster Wilmerding, Allan Wallace, and William Whitehouse.

***

At the reception given yesterday afternoon by Mrs. James Wilson Clark and Miss Catharine M. Clark, the Misses Evelyn Daily, Elizabeth Swift, Elizabeth Bigelow, and Anna Mead poured tea.

***

Miss Esther M. Hunt, whose marriage to George M. Woolsey is to be celebrated on Feb. 15 at Grace Church, will have as her bridesmaids the Misses Leita Sloane, May Kernochan, Belle Gurnee, and Elsa Bronson. The ushers are to be Bronson Winthrop, Alexander Webb, Jr., John Wadsworth, Charles Bull, and Joseph H. Hunt. Mr. Woolsey's best man is to be his brother, John Woolsey.

***

A number of prominent society women held a meeting at the residence of Mrs. Henry Winthrop Gray, 33 Irving Place, yesterday afternoon and completed arrangements to give a concert at the Metropolitan Opera House on Feb. 12, Lincoln's birthday, for the benefit of St. John's Guild and the Red Cross Hospital. The services of Eduard Strauss's Orchestra have been secured, and Herr Strauss has promised to lead the orchestra in person. The list of patronesses has not yet been completed, but it will be made public in a few days.

DANCE AT SENATOR DEPEW'S.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—A dinner dance at Senator Depew's occupied the attention of the younger portion of society this evening. The ballroom, in which a company of some two hundred assembled between 10 and 11 o'clock, was decorated with holly, Southern smilax, palms, and masses of pink and white azaleas.

Dancing began at 11 o'clock. A seated supper was served at 1 o'clock, small tables being placed in the dining room and library.

Among the guests were the Misses Pauncefote, The Countess Marguerite de Cassini, the Misses Hay, Miss Root, the Misses Hitchcock, Miss Fuller, Miss Hildegarde McKenna, Miss Winslow, Miss Wadsworth, Miss Loring, Miss Sheridan, the Misses Tyler, Miss Texas Bates, Miss Alice Ward, Miss Claggett, Miss Wetmore, Miss Helen Patten, Miss Hagner, Miss Johnson, Miss Rose Wallach, Miss Williams, Miss Julia Foraker, Miss Webb, Mr. and Mrs. Fairfax Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. Legare, the Austrian Minister and Baroness Hengelmüller, the Minister from the Netherlands, Baron von Herman, and Count von Hacke of the German Embassy, M. Thiebaut, Lieut. Commander de Lafajole, and M. de Geofroy of the French Embassy, Count Baudouin de Lichtervelde, and M. Wauters of the Belgian Legation, Lieut. von Pflugle of the Hungarian Army, and Mr. Norman of the British Embassy.

A DAY'S WEDDINGS.

Kip—Strong.

The wedding of William V. B. Kip, son of Dr. Isaac L. Kip and Mrs. Kip, and Miss Elisa Strong, daughter of Col. John M. Strong of Syracuse, N. Y., was celebrated at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the residence of the bride's cousin, Mrs. Samuel J. Penniman, 8 East Seventy-seventh Street. The house was beautifully decorated with palms and flowers, pink roses being used in all the rooms save the drawing room on the second floor, where the wedding took place, there the decorations were Bride roses and ferns and palms. The suite of rooms on the second floor were thrown together and the bridal party, which formed in the library, paseed through an aisle formed of broad satin ribbons to the drawing room to a bower of green and white, where the ceremony was performed.

The ushers were Philip Livingston, Philip Rhinelander, Cecil Landale, and Gerald H. Gray, came first, followed by the bridesmaids, the Misses Marie C. Hewitt and Miss Cornelia Brady Harris, who were gowned in white chiffon, trimmed with lace, and relieved by knots of pale pink Liberty satin on the bodices, and who carried pink Bridesmaid roses. Then came the maid of honor, Miss Constance Knower, who was in white chiffon, trimmed with lace, the costume being similar to that of the bridesmaids, save that it had no touch of color. She carried pink roses and lilies of the valley. Both the maid of honor and the bridesmaids wore short tulle veils, fastened with Prince of Wales clusters of ostrich tips. Following these came the bride on her father's arm. Her gown was an exquisite affair of Brussels point lace over ivory white satin, her tulle veil was caught to her coiffure by a diamond pendent, a gift of Mrs. Penniman, and her shower bouquet was of white gardenias and lilies of the valley.

Mr. Kip and his best man waited for the bride in the drawing room, and the Dev. Dr. W. H. Vibbert, rector of Trinity Chapel, performed the ceremony. There was no reception after the wedding. A collation was served in the dining room, which was decorated in pink roses and ferns. Mrs. Kip, the bridegroom's mother, was gowned in black velvet, with entredeux of black guipure over white satin, and the bodice had added touches of white in chiffon and lace. Mrs. Penniman was in black velvet, trimmed with rose point, and Mrs. Benjamin Knower also wore black velvet and Venetian lace. Among the guests invited to the wedding were:

Dr. Isaac Kip and Mrs. Kip,	Mr. and Mrs. de Heredia,
Mr. and Mrs. William Rhinelander,	Mr. and Mrs. H. Mills Day,
The Rev. L. W. Kip and Mrs. Kip,	Dr. and Mrs. M. Dix,
Mr. and Mrs. P. Rhinelander,	Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Eno,
The Rev. William and Mrs. Farrington,	Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Goddard,
Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Taller,	Mr. and Mrs. J. Goodwin,
Mr. and Mrs. T. Suffern Taller,	Mr. and Mrs. C. Griswold,
Gen. H. L. and Mrs. Burnett,	Mrs. Frederic Goodridge,
Mr. and Mrs. H. Mortimer Brooks,	Mr. and Mrs. T. Hitchcock,
Mr. and Mrs. T. J. O. Rhinelander,	udge and Mrs. Hamersly of Connecticut,
Mr. and Mrs. F. J. de Peyster,	Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Kingsland,
The Misses de Peyster,	Mr. and Mrs. C. Marshall,
Baron and Baroness de Seillière,	Mrs G. H. Penniman,
Mrs. Jules Reynal,	Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Pinchot,
Mr. and Mrs. R. Stuyvesant,	Mr. and Mrs. W. Rockefeller,
Mr. and Mrs. P. Livingston,	Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Phillips,
Mrs. G. Kortright,	Mr. and Mrs. F. Sheldon,
Mr. and Mrs. J. Hooker Hammersley,	Mrs. A. G. Phelps,
Mrs. John R. Harris,	Mr. and Mrs. A. Moran,
Mr. and Mrs. B. Johnson,	Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Bridge,
Mr. and Mrs. J. de Navarro,	Mr. and Mrs. B. Knower,
Mr. and Mrs. Amory S. Carhart,	Bishop and Mrs. McLaren of Illinois,
The Rev. and Mrs. W. W. Rutherfurd,	Miss Katheleen Neilson,
Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Abercrombie,	Walton L. Oakley,
Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Richards,	H. Cruger Oakley,
Mr. and Mrs. Byam K. Stevens,	W. F. Morgan, Jr.,
Mr. and Mrs. H. Pell,	Mrs. A. Kingsland.
Mr. and Mrs. McVickar,	Mrs. F. Neilson,
The Rev. Dr. David H. Greer and Mrs. Greer,	Bishop and Mrs. H. C. Potter,
Mr. and Mrs. P. Kuhne,	Mrs. A. S. Sullivan,
Mr. and Mrs. George R. Schieffelin,	Mr. and Mrs. W. Suydam,
Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Trevor,	Mr. and Mrs. W. Tillinghast,
Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Eastwick,	Mrs. S. Le Roy,
Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Stickney,	Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Henop,
Gen. and Mrs. Butterfield,	The Misses Henop,
Dr. and Mrs. L. B. Bangs,	The Misses Knower,
	The Hon. J. Allen,
	The Misses Allen,
	Davis Cossitt,
	Andrew J. Bibby,
	R. K. Richards,
	Miss Furniss,
	Capt. W. W. C. Beach.

ADA REHAN'S MOTHER DEAD.

Actress, Who Is Ill, Has Not Yet Been Informed of Her Bereavement.

Mrs. Harriet Crehan, the mother of Miss Ada Rehan, the actress, died at her home, 165 Coffey Street, Brooklyn, yesterday afternoon. She had been ill for about a week. Death was due to bronchitis. Mrs. Crehan's daughters, Mrs. Oliver Byron and Mrs. Harriet Russell, were with her at the time of her death. The news has not yet been conveyed to Miss Rehan, who is ill with the grip

NEWS OF THE RAILROADS

Annual Meeting of Lehigh Valley Elects Directors.

J. P. Morgan & Co.'s Complete Control Is Demonstrated — Most of the Shares Voted by Proxy.

The annual meeting of the Lehigh Valley Railroad, which was held in Philadelphia yesterday, was a demonstration of the complete control now exercised by J. P. Morgan & Co., not only over that railroad, but over the entire anthracite coal road combination. There were six new Directors elected and six members of the old board were re-elected. The new Directors elected represent the various other anthracite coal roads and J. P. Morgan & Co. The new Directors are:

Eben B. Thomas, President of the Erie Railroad; George F. Baker, President of the First National Bank of this city and a Director of the Lackawanna Railroad; J. Rogers Maxwell, President of the Central Railroad of New Jersey, which recently passed into the control of Morgan interests; George F. Baer, a Director of the Philadelphia and Reading Railway, representing the Morgan interests in that company; Charles Steele of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co., and Robert C. Lippincott, a lumber merchant, the only Philadelphian among the new Directors.

The old Directors who were re-elected were Edward T. Stotesbury of Drexel, Morgan & Co., Joseph Wharton, Irving A. Stearns, Abram Nesbitt, B. Borie, and Wilson S. Bissell. The retiring members of the old board were: E. P. Wilbur, John B. Garrett, Charles Hartshorn, Eugene Delano, and Robert M. Galloway. Alfred Walter was re-elected President of the company. It is probable that the vacancy in the office of Vice President, caused by the resignation of John B. Garrett, will remain unfilled. No changes, however, will be made in the operating department of the railroad.

The meeting was not largely attended. Only 408,957 shares were voted, which is slightly over 50 per cent. of the total issue and most of which was voted by proxy.

ADVISORY COMMITTEE MEETS.

Announcement Made that Western Rates Are Well Maintained.

The Advisory Committee appointed by the conference of Western Presidents to use its influence in order to stop rate cutting held a conference yesterday in this city. E. H. Harriman, James Stillman, Aldace F. Walker, and Robert Bacon were present. The situation was talked over, and it was the general opinion that rates were being pretty well maintained. Reports from the West are to the effect that the railroads with hardly any exceptions are maintaining tariff rates, and the eastbound rate situation is said to be better than it ever has been.

The same may be said of the west-bound rate situation in this city. Broadway freight agents declare that all leaks have been stopped. The Lake Erie and Western and the Peoria and St. Louis Routes are no longer offering inducements to their connections to ship over their line, and a channel has thus been closed which heretofore has been an outlet for much manipulation. Regarding the New England rate situation, it is generally believed that the advent of Percy R. Todd into that territory as Vice President in charge of the traffic of the New York, New Haven and Hartford will mean the speedy settlement of all rate questions among New England lines.

Will Build Yerkes's London Roads.

CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—James R. Chapman, electrical engineer for the Union Traction Company, has been employed by Charles T. Yerkes, the street railway magnate, to superintend the construction and equipment of his underground railway system in London. Mr. Chapman has been identified with the construction and equipment of practically all the surface electric lines on the North and West Sides, as well as the Northwestern and Union Elevated Roads in this city.

Denies Ocean-to-Ocean Line Report.

MILWAUKEE, Jan. 15.—President H. F. Whiteomb of the Wisconsin Central Railway Company denied to-day that there is any truth in the story that another ocean-to-ocean railway scheme is being worked, so far as his line is concerned. Mr. Whitcomb said he knew nothing whatever of the scheme.

Brief Railroad Items.

There was a meeting of the Middle States Freight Committee yesterday, at which the opinion was generally expressed that rates were in a very fair condition.

President E. T. Jeffery of the Denver and Rio Grande is in the city. He declares that the outlook for good business is very favorable.

The meeting of the Steel Rate Committee, which was to have been held yesterday, was indefinitely postponed, as the matters in issue had been settled outside of the committee.

The Santa Fé will make an experiment in manufacturing its own tinware, instead of buying it. Lamps, headlights, buckets, oilcans, and other articles of tinware will be manufactured by the company.

The Colorado Midland Railroad will open an Eastern agency in this city, and has appointed Charles D. Simonson as its representative, the appointment to take effect Feb. 1. Mr. Simonson is one of the best-known railroad men in the East. He was for a number of years the New York representative of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé Railroad.

Meetings of Directors of the New York, Chicago and St. Louis and the Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis will be held to-morrow and on Jan. 23, respectively, and it is expected that action will be taken on the question of dividends.

The Lackawanna Railroad has opened a new restaurant in the Hoboken terminal. The kitchen has been thoroughly fitted with the most perfect modern equipment and is prepared to handle rapidly and thoroughly the great variety of dishes which are included in the menu. The restaurant proper is roomy, light, and airy, and its tables are fitted with high-grade china, crystal, silver, and linen. The bill of fare includes a large variety of dishes. In addition to the restaurant a large lunch counter will be maintained in the Hoboken terminal for the accommodation of those who desire quicker service and less elaborate meals.

The order issued some days ago dividing the traffic and freight divisions of the Long Island Railroad went into effect yesterday. Increased office facilities will be furnished at Long Island City to accommodate the freight department. The change means a more intimate connection between the Long Island and Pennsylvania freight departments in the way of a direct service by floats between Jersey City and the Long Island Railroad terminals at Bay Ridge and Long Island City.

The New York, New Haven and Hartford has reorganized its divisions, the changes to take effect on Feb. 1. The revised divisions and their Superintendents are as follows: Western District—Shore Line Division—J. V. A. Trumbell, Superintendent; Air Line, Northampton Division —W. A. Waterbury, Superintendent; New Haven Terminal—P. E. Bowman, Superintendent; Eastern District—Plymouth Division—J. H. French, Superintendent; Tauton Division—I. N. Marshall, Superintendent; Worcester Division—A. R. Whaley, Superintendent.

Provident Institution for Savings.

The annual report of the Provident Institution for Savings, Jersey City, shows deposits aggregating $10,588,584.49, as against $9,838,315.93 on Jan. 15, 1900. On Jan. 1, 1901, the total assets of the bank were $11,927,268.94. The officers of the bank are: President—Edward W. Kingsland; Vice President—William E. Pearson; Secretary and Treasurer—James S. Newkirk; Assistant Secretary and Treasurer—George K. Camp.

BUSINESS TROUBLES.

New York City.

OTTO B. SHULHOF & CO.—A meeting of the creditors of Otto B. Shulhof & Co., manufacturers of furs at 737 Broadway, was held yesterday at the office of N. S. Smith, referee in bankruptcy, at 302 Broadway. About thirty claims were filed, and O. G. Becker was elected trustee.

PROVIDENT CO-OPERATIVE SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATION.—Judge Blanchard of the Supreme Court has granted an order dissolving the Provident Co-operative Savings and Loan Association, formerly at 621 Broadway, and appointed William H. Ricketts permanent receiver of the concern. He was appointed temporary receiver on March 7, 1898.

JAMES A. LOWE.—Judge Leventritt of the Supreme Court has appointed Louis L. Benedict receiver in supplementary proceedings for James A. Lowe of 74 Warren Street, on the application of the Bridgeport National Bank, a judgment creditor for $620. Mr. Lowe has been in business about twenty-five years as a manufacturer of paper specialties, but the business has been in his wife's name since last May.

THE HOLTIN CHEMICAL COMPANY.—The Holtin Chemical Company, manufacturers of patent medicines at 93 and 95 Maiden Lane, made an assignment yesterday to Harry L. Leavitt. The deed was signed by C. B. Frazier, Secretary and Treasurer. Melvin G. Weinstock, the attorney, said that the failure was due to poor collections. The liabilities are $4,500, and nominal assets are $5,500. The company was incorporated in August, 1899, under West Virginia laws, with an authorized capital stock of $75,000, of which, it was said, $7,500 was paid in cash.

PETITIONS IN BANKRUPTCY.

ARNOLD NACKE, ALBERT BRINKMANN, AND JOHN W. MASON.—Arnold Nacke, Albert Brinkmann, and John W. Mason, individually and late trading as Nacke, Brinkmann & Co. and the Union Stone Works of Philadelphia, were yesterday adjudged voluntary bankrupts in the United States District Court. Liabilities were fixed at $48,243.60. There are also individual liabilities and certain individual assets.

ABRAHAM FRACKMAN.—A petition in involuntary bankruptcy has been filed against Abraham Frackman, dealer in jewelry at 379 Grand Street, by three creditors: Charles Altschil, $514; Jacob O. May, $97, and Rudolph Brudezky, $100. It was alleged that while insolvent he had transferred part of his stock of jewelry. Judge Brown of the United States District Court has appointed Theodore M. Taft temporary receiver of the assets, with a bond of $5,000. The store was in the hands of a City Marshal. He has been in business five years.

WILLIAM L. MERCER.—William L. Mercer, stock broker at 20 Broad Street, who resides at the Park Avenue Hotel, has filed a petition in bankruptcy, with liabilities $51,500 and no actual assets. He has notes of several persons to the amount of $21,000, but they are considered worthless. Most of the debts were contracted in this city and Rochester. Among the creditors are the Union Trust Company of Rochester, $7,500; Union Bank of Rochester, $2,500; Central Bank of Rochester, $5,046; German-American Bank of Rochester, $3,000, Granville W. Williams, Utica, $12,500, and William Holmes Carey of Boston, $5,000. Mr. Mercer began business here in January, 1899, as a partner in the firm of Mercer & Vaughan, who dissolved in May, 1900. It was stated that Mr. Vaughan does not join in the petition. As the firm has dissolved, there are no firm assets, and Mr. Vaughan is not a bankrupt.

STAKE & ELDREDGE.—A petition in involuntary bankruptcy has been filed against Emil J. Stake and Arthur Eldredge, composing the firm of Stake & Eldredge, fur manufacturers, at 428 Fifth Avenue, by two creditors, Otto Erler, $7,146, and Thure & Praetorious, $18,134. It was alleged that they admitted in writing on Jan. 12 their inability to pay their debts and willingness to be adjudged bankrupt on that ground, and that they transferred part of their stock, amounting to $5,000. Judge Brown of the United States District Court has appointed William Ford Upson receiver of the assets, with a bond of $5,000. Heinrich Bumenstein, representing Dr. Erler, stated that on July 1 last the firm made a statement of their condition on Feb. 1, 1900, showing assets over liabilities to the amount of $31,000, and on Jan. 12, 1900, they furnished another statement, showing that their entire surplus had disappeared, and there was besides a deficiency of $30,000; that Mr. Stake has absented himself from their place of business, and that there was danger of the landlord dispossessing them for non-payment of rent. They have a stock of fur garments on hand worth about $5,000. Both partners were formerly employed by a fur manufacturer, and started in business for themselves in May, 1894.

IN FAVOR OF PUBLISHER NEELY.

Morris S. Wise, referee in bankruptcy, has reported that F. Tennyson Neely, publisher, formerly at 114 Fifth Avenue, who filed a petition in bankruptcy on Oct. 21, 1899, with liabilities of $359,351, is entitled to a discharge in bankruptcy, the specifications of the opposing creditor not having been sustained.

Out of 450 creditors, only one firm filed specifications of objection, that Mr. Neely had knowingly concealed from his trustee forty-nine bicycles valued at $1,000, located in Chicago, which bicycles were omitted from the original schedules, but on June 27, 1900, the schedules were amended by adding a mention of these bicycles. The bankrupt swore that the omission was inadvertant and unintentional, and that they had been transferred to a firm of Chicago attorneys before the bankruptcy as security for a debt he owed them. The referee does not think that the creditor established the essential and necessary fact that the omission of these bicycles from his schedules was done either knowingly or intentionally.

D. M. WILLIAMS & CO. SCHEDULES.

Schedules in bankruptcy of David M. Williams, doing business as D. M. Williams & Co., dry goods department store, at One Hundred and Twenty-fifth Street and Third Avenue, show liabilities, $179,560, and nominal assets, $202,053. The assets consist of stock $119,656, fixtures $35,990, horses and wagons $13,298, debts due him $21,240, cash in hands of the receiver $4,743, cash in banks $5,617, 10 shares of stock of the Hamilton Bank $1,500.

In addition to these he has 83 shares of stock of the Bank Building Company of Harlem, value unknown, and 10 shares of stock in the New York and Suburban Co-operative Building and Loan Association.

Permanent Receivers for Chosen Friends.

NEWARK, N. J., Jan. 15.—No one appeared before Vice Chancellor Stevens today to object to the continuance of the receivership of the Order of Chosen Friends. As a result, the appointment of Cyrus J. Clark of Indianapolis and Mason Young of Morristown as co-receivers of the organization for New Jersey was made permanent.

Judgments.

The following judgments were filed yesterday, the first name being that of the debtor:

AMERICAN STAMPING COMPANY—M. Shaffron 732
BALDWIN, William W.—Abbie E. Allen $242
BURKE, William, administrator, &c.—S. Fiske and another 128
BULLWINKLE, George—Acker, Merrsll & Condit 1,190
BARKER, Carrie M.—David Stevenson Brewing Company 69
BARKER, Carrie M.—David Stevenson Brewing Company 113
BROUGHTON, Catherine E.—L. J. Phillips and others 473
BLAKE, Henry L.—E. L. Brown 43
BERNEY, Louis A.—D. Harris 228
CENTRAL CROSSTOWN RAILROAD Company—B. Immerzluck 893
COLLINS, Charles W.—W. H. Payne 403
CARL, Frederick—G. B. Christman and another 400
COHEN, Barned—Thomas W. Whalen 392
CAMPBELL, Joseph W.—N. Sussman 67
CROSHER, Henry P.—E. C. Wickstead 300
CODY, Joseph W.—Theresa A. S. Sheridan 460
DRESSNER, Lelia B.—Continental Trust Company of New York, trustee 75
DE LACEY, Thomas R.—Manhattan Bath Tub Company 509
DI BELLO, Lucia—Dry Dock, East Broadway and Battery Railroad Company, costs 108
EGGENBERGER, Annetta, and Carrie Norden—R. Badines 538
FRITZ, John J.—F. Rix 208
FRENCH, Joseph W.—H. A. French 854
FOSS, Humboldt—R. C. Bright 340
FECHTMAN, Henry—G. W. Smith and another 136
FISH, Frederick K., Jr., and Herbert W. Hopper—Erie Railroad Company 778
GOSSEL, Henry—N. King 690
GLUTZER, William—S. Piaut 109
GILLETTE, Morgan G.—A. T. De La Mare Printing and Publishing Company, Limited 1,172
GOTTLIEB, Frederick H.—Prentiss Tool and Supply Company 88
HUSSEY, Jessie—German-American Real Estate Title Guarantee Company 122
HERR, Franklin H.—H. O'Neill 162
HUGHES, James J.—R. D. Douglass 126
JACOBS, Charles, and S. Marx—M. Lewis 2,378
KLAHN, Hugo—H. Menaker and others 140
KEEN, Albert R.—The Acolian Company 187
LUENGENE, Charles H.—Mechanics' Bank 730
LANGENSTEIN, Charles—W. Kander 72
MANDELSTEIN, Morris, and Leopold Wormster—J. H. Tienkan and another 399
MASON, Perley H.—H. H. Baker, trustee 98
MAY, Louisa, administratrix, &c.—L. Goodall 340
MAY, Louisa, administratrix, &c.—Peter T. May 764
METROPOLITAN STREET RAILWAY Company—J. Bannon 696
MEYER, Henry—United Wire and Trading Company 147
MILLS, Harry W.—T. O. Patterson 99
MINTZ, Nathan—E. J. Gillies and another 97
NESBITT, Theodore W.—C. Mahon 108
O'BRIEN, John E.—G. J. Stephens 528
PARKER, Nora—A. Lamoreau 244
PITTMAN, Henry C. and Preston B. Seaman—William Whitlock 248
RINGHOLM, John A. and Emily O.—A. Anderson 647
ROGERS, Robert—Henry E. Hillier 79
RANDALL, William H.—J. H. Veil 246
REICHE, Mary—A. J. Hague 39
RUCKEL, Anthony T.—F. Hasbrouck 286
RICE, Howard E.—T. Emberson 400
RAFFERTY, George A.—T. A. Reichardt, costs 113
SIMON, George—J. H. Semel 110
SILVERMAN, Solomon—F. H. Leggett and others 106
SCHNEIDER, Philip—The Aliman Gas Engine and Machine Company 31
SEARLES, Arthur C., and Frederick Wandelt—A. Post 1,360
STEWART, Frank—C. D. Sullivan 110
TAYLOR, Arthur A., as trustee, &c.—S. L. Pakas 3,048
THE HOME TREATMENT COMPANY—B. A. Keppich and another 286
THE CITY OF NEW YORK—J. E. Begg 71
THE NEW YORK CENTRAL AND Hudson River Railroad Company—W. Robbins, by guardian, &c. 1,125
THE NINTH AVENUE RAILROAD COMPANY—K. Karrigan 1,442
THE GEORGE BECHTEL BREWING Company—J. Wallace, by guardian, &c. 900
THOMAS, John and J. Howard—J. R. Salmon 30
UNITED STATES PNEUMATIC HORSE Collar Company—E. E. Fingarr 5,356
VELSOR, Winfield S.—F. L. Kans 281
WILLIAMS, Fletcher—A. T. Kelly 243
WALLACE, William—M. Hallanan 561
WELLINGTON, Henry—A. A. Redfield and others 499
ZACHMANN, Theresa—L. Wehrle 209

THE COMMERCIAL WORLD

CASH QUOTATIONS.

Wheat, No. 2 red	.81
Corn, No. 2 mixed	.47
Oats, No. 2 mixed	.30½
Flour, Minneapolis patents	$4.25
Cotton, middling	.09⅞
Coffee, No. 7 Rio	.07½
Sugar, granulated	5.60
Molasses, O. K. prime	.40
Beef, family	11.00
Beef hams	20.00
Tallow, prime	.05½
Pork, mess	14.25
Hogs, dressed, 160 lb	.07
Lard, prime	7.85
Butter, Western creamery	.21

CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—Cash quotations were as follows: Flour quiet and unchanged; No. 3 Spring wheat, 71@72c; No. 2 red, 75½@77½c; No. 2 corn, 37c; No. 2 yellow, 37c; No. 2 oats, 24@24½c; No. 2 white, 26½@27c; No. 3 white, 26@26½c; No. 2 rye, 53c; fair to choice malting barley, 52@60c; No. 1 flaxseed, $1.64; No. 1 Northwestern, $1.65; prime timothy seed, $4.60; mess pork, per bbl, $14.20@14.25; lard, per 100 lb, $7.47½@7.50; short ribs sides, loose, $7@7.30; dry-salted shoulders, (boxed,) 6¼@6½c; short clear sides, (boxed,) $7.40@7.50; whisky, basis of high wines, $1.27; sugars, cut loaf, $6.39; granulated, $5.75; confectioners' A, $5.69; off A, $5.54; clover, contract grade, $11.

COTTON.—It was a wearing, most unsatisfactory day on the Cotton Exchange for the bulls and the friends of the market, while the bears could hardly be said to have been thoroughly successful owing to the fact that they repeatedly covered on the decline, thus losing considerable of the profits which otherwise would have gone to their credit. The regular semi-weekly interior town figures failed to produce any marked effect upon the pit, being quite in line with earlier estimates. The singular weakness in the January option led to rumors that this contemplated "squeeze" had been abandoned and that holders were attempting to get out before delivery day. The market closed steady and net 20@18 points lower. Spot cotton closed dull, with quotations ⅛c decline on the basis of 9¾c for middling upland and 10¼c for middling Gulf. Sales, 634 bales. Southern spot markets were telegraphed as follows: New Orleans steady and easy, 1-16c decline, at 9½c; Mobile easy, ⅛c decline, at 9¼c; Savannah easy, 1-16c decline, at 9⅜c; Charleston quiet, ⅛c lower, at 9¼c; Wilmington firm, unchanged, at 9½c; Norfolk quiet, 1-16c lower, at 9½c; Baltimore nominal, unchanged, at 10c; Augusta quiet, ⅛c lower, at 9⅜c; St. Louis quiet, 1-16c lower, at 9 9-16c.

Contract prices ranged as follows:

	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.
January	9.72	9.72	9.51	9.51@9.52
February	9.41	9.41	9.27	9.27@9.29
March	9.37	9.38	9.25	9.25@9.26
April	9.34	9.34	9.22	9.23@9.25
May	9.33	9.33	9.22	9.23@9.24
June	9.28	9.28	9.22	9.22@9.24
July	9.28	9.29	9.20	9.20@9.21
August	8.98	8.98	8.91	8.91@8.92
September	8.54	8.54	8.45	8.47@8.50
October	8.15	8.15	8.12	8.13@8.15
November	8.12	8.12	8.12	...@..

LIVERPOOL, Jan. 15.—Spot cotton, moderate business; prices, 3-32d lower. American, middling, fair, 5⅞d; good middling, 5 5-16d; middling, 5 15-32d; low middling, 5 5-16d; good ordinary, 5 1-16d; ordinary, 4 18-16d. The sales of the day were 8,000 bales, of which 500 bales were for speculation and export, and included 500 bales of American. Receipts, 15,000 bales; all American. Futures opened quiet and closed weak; American middling, low middling clause, January, 5 20-64d, sellers; January and February, 5 18-64d, buyers; February and March, 5 15-64d, buyers; March and April, 5 13-64d, value; April and May, 5 11-64d, sellers; May and June, 5 9-64d, sellers; June and July, 5 6-64@5 7-64d, buyers; July and August, 5 4-64d, sellers; August and September, 4 55-64d, sellers; September, 4 55-64d, sellers; October, 4 38-64d, nominal; October and November, 4 29-64d, nominal.

BREADSTUFFS.—WHEAT—The wheat market yesterday was one of the least attractive from a speculative standpoint of any market since the bull movement started some weeks ago. There seemed to be an entire absence of outside interest, although the bulls imagined several times that Wall Street had taken a fresh hold again at Chicago. Quotations of cash wheat, free on board, afloat, basis, were as follows: No. 1 hard, Duluth, 80¾c, nominal; old No. 1 Northern, Duluth, 88¾c; No. 1 Northern, Duluth, 86¾c; No. 1 Northern, Chicago, 84¾c; No. 2 red, New York, 81c, afloat; No. 2 hard, Chicago, 81¾c, prompt; No. 2 hard, New York, 79½c, scarce; No. 2 corn, next week, 46¾c; No. 2 corn, Jan. 30 to Feb. 10, 46¾c.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Jan. 15.—Wheat—Cash, 74¼c; May, 75½@75¾c; July, 76¾c. On track: No. 1 hard, 76¼c; No. 1 Northern, 74¼c; No. 2 Northern, 71¼@72¼c. Flour—First patents, $4.20@$4.30; second patents, $4@$4.10; first clears, $2.80@$2.90; second clears, $2@$2.10. Bran in bulk, $11.75@$12.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 15.—Wheat—No. 2 red, cash, 72½@73c; January, 72½c; May, 74¾c; July, 73¾c; No. 2 hard, 70@71c. Corn—No. 2 cash, 35¾c; January, 35¾c; May, 37¾c; July, 37¾c. Oats—No. 2 cash, 25c; January, 25c; May, 25¾c; No. 2 white, 27@27¼c.

DULUTH, Minn., Jan. 15.—Wheat—No. 1 hard, cash, 75¾c; to arrive, 76¾c; May, 78¾c; No. 1 Northern, cash, 73¾c; to arrive, 74¾c; May, 77¾c; July, 78¾c; No. 2 Northern, 63¾@69¾c; No. 3 Spring, 55¼@62¼c. Corn, 35¾c. Oats, 25¾@25½c.

MILWAUKEE, Jan. 15.—Wheat steady; No. 1 Northern, 77½c; No. 2 Northern, 73@74½c. Rye lower; No. 1, 52@54c. Barley dull; No. 2, 60c; sample, 47@56c.

FLOUR AND MEAL—Spring patents were quoted, $4@$4.35; Winter straights, $3.45@$3.55; Winter patents, $3.65@$4; Spring clears, $3@$3.30; extra No. 1 Winter, $2.70@$2.90; extra No. 2 Winter, $2.50@$2.65; no grade, $18.50@$19.25, spot and to arrive. Buckwheat flour $2.10@$2.20. Rye flour dull; fair to good, $2.80@$3.15; choice to fancy, $3.16@$3.60. Cornmeal steady; kiln dried, $2.35@$2.40, as to brand. Bag meal quiet; fine white and yellow, $1@$1.05; coarse, 91@92c. Feed dull; Spring bran, spot, $16.75@$17; sacks, to arrive, 200 lb, $17@$17.50; Spring bran, bulk, $16.25@$16.50; coarse Winter bran, $16@$18.50; city bran, $16.50@$17; cornmeal, $25; linseed oil cake, $27.75; corn oil cake, $19; hominy chop, $17; oil meal, $28.25.

FUTURES.

NEW YORK PRICES.

	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.
Wheat—
January	..	..	..	79½
March	.81	81	80⅞	81
May	.81 7-16	81½	81⅛	81⅝
July	.80 11-16	80 11-16	80⅛	80⅝
Corn—
January	..	..	..	46
March	..	..	..	44½
May	.44	44	44	44⅝
July	..	..	..	44⅝
Lard—
January	..	..	..	$7.85

CHICAGO PRICES.

	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.
Wheat—
January	74⅜	74 9-16	74	74½
February	74⅝	74 15-16	74⅝	74½
May	77¼	77 7-16	76⅞	77
Corn—
January	36¾	36¾	30½	36½
February	37	37	36¾	36⅞
May	38⅜	38⅝	38¼	38⅝
Oats—
January	23 7-16	23 9-16	23⅝	23⅝
May	24 15-16	25	24⅞	24⅞
Lard—
January	$7.62½	$7.52½	$7.47½	$7.47½
May	7.60	7.62½	7.57½	7.60
Ribs—
January	..	..	..	7.10
May	7.25	7.30	7.25	7.25
Pork—
January	14.50	14.50	14.17½	14.17½
May	14.37½	14.45	14.27½	14.27½

FEDERAL COURTS.

United States Supreme Court.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Supreme Court of the United States:

106—Charles F. Champion, appellant, vs. John C. Ames, United States Marshal.—Reassigned for argument Feb. 25 next, after the cases already set down for that day, on motion of Solicitor General Richards for the appellee.

515—George W. Crossman et al., appellants, vs. The United States.—Argument continued by W. Wickham Smith for the appellants, by Solicitor General Richards for the appellee, and concluded by W. Wickham Smith for the appellants.

45—H. Drusilla Mitchell, petitioner, vs. The First National Bank of Chicago.—Reargument commenced by Theodore M. Maltbie for the petitioner and continued by Percy S. Bryant and William C. Case for the respondent.

Call for Wednesday: 45, 139, 142, 143, 144, 391, 278, 126, 146, 147.

Calendars for Wednesday, Jan. 16.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT—Wheeler, J.—Calendar called in Room 48, Post Office Building, at 11 A. M. Day Calendar. Jury.

204—Realmato vs. Fisk.
135—Sidney vs. St. Michael's P. E. Church
160—Beattie vs. Edge Moor Bridge Works.
163—Rothbard vs. Met. St. Ry.
165—Krausz vs. 3d Av. R. R.
166—Richardson vs. O'Hara.
168—Donato vs. 3d Av. R. R.
55—Markey vs. N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R.
86—Ryan vs. same.
112—Simpson vs. same.
132—Reilly vs. same.
133—Davis vs. same.
139—Hayes vs. same.
143—Smith vs. same.
145—Blundell vs. same.
1½—United States vs. Walsh.
171—Wheeler vs. N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R.
172—Ferguson vs. same.
281—Hess vs. Bien & Co.
76—Childs vs. N. Y. Times.
181—Bay Shoe Co. vs. Mayburry.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT—Brown, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. in Room 66, Post Office Building. Bankruptcy proceedings.

In re Morris Weisbard.
In re Shapiro & Novick.
In re Samuel Knobel.
In re Wm. W. Vaughan.
In re A. Mayers.
In re Raphael Aizeman.
In re Joseph Vidostky.
In re Henry Gutwillig.
In re Jacob Slomka.
In re D. M. Williams & Co.
In re A. R. Scheinbaum.
In re David Brecher.
In re Leopold Smoke.
In re Louis Liebovitz.
In re Louis M. Hornthal.
In re Mark Chambers.
In re David Loevl.
In re Henry A. Stadler.
In re Jacob Van Clief.
In re Homer J. Beaudet.
In re Henry W. Brackett.
In re Morris Silberstein.
In re Frank T. Neely.
In re Rollins Gold & Silver Mining Co.
In re Gumprecht & Aschelm.
In re William H. Riker.
In re Barbara Welsch.
In re Alfred Williamson.

In re Cohen & Co.
In re Elias Marks.
In bankruptcy. Discharges.
1500—George H. Baker.
2981—John McCord, Jr.
3217—Richard Haas.
3081—Edgar Strakosch.
3197—Marcus Hoffberg.
3137—David Garcewich.
3166—John Bauer.
3210—Abraham Strauss.
1251—Boose & Cameron.
3229—Otto Bluhm.
3209—Louis Adler.
3101—Oscar F. Spate.
3207—Thomas A. Kenyon.
228—M. & E. Jarmulowsky.
2090—J. M. & P. M. Finlay.
3165—Thomas B. Reynolds.
Under objection.
3163—Moritz Freedman.
3175—Charles Buek, Jr.
2022—John Welcker.
2765—Henry Bischof.
2026—Charles H. Bliss.
Adjourned case.
2882—John C. Graul.

STATE COURTS.

Court of Appeals.

Meislahn vs. Meislahn; Ball vs. Williams.—Motions to place on calendar denied, without costs.

Smith vs. Vail; Rosenberg vs. Third Avenue Railroad Company.—Motions to prefer granted, without costs.

Conkling vs. Roman Catholic Orphan Asylum; Ames vs. Manhattan Life Insurance Company of New York; Withgerbee vs. Meyer.—Motions to advance granted, without costs.

Murphy vs. Supreme Council, Catholic Mutual Benefit Association.—Motion to strike cause from calendar granted, $10 costs.

Hutchinson vs. Doyle.—Motion to strike cause from calendar denied, $10 costs.

The United States of America for the use of Snyder vs. Stratford.—Motion to dismiss appeal granted, with costs.

Washburn vs. Palmer.—Motion to vacate order dismissing appeal denied, $10 costs.

In the matter of probate of will of Albinger.—Motion to restore case to calendar granted, on payment of $10 costs by appellant's attorneys, without prejudice to the right of respondent to move to dismiss appeal if he shall be so advised.

National Bank of the Republic vs. Cox.—Motion to withdraw appeal granted on payment by moving party of the costs that have accrued in this court and $10 costs for opposing motion.

Cook vs. White-Conroy.—Motion to open default granted, without costs.

Weiss vs. Metropolitan Street Railway Company.—Motion to send back return to Supreme Court to amend order denied, $10 costs.

Quigley vs. Levering.—Motion to place on calendar and advance granted, without costs.

McKevin vs. Solvay Process Company.—Motion to vacate order dismissing appeal granted, without costs.

Hascall vs. King, Jr.—Motion to amend remittitur granted in accordance with memorandum, with $10 costs, and to that end the Supreme Court is requested to return the remittitur to this court.

McLaughlin vs. Eidlitz.—Motion to withdraw appeal granted, on payment of the costs, and upon the further condition that it be stipulated that the testimony of such witnesses as shall actually reside out of the State when the case shall be tried be read.

In re Valentine, an attorney.—Order affirmed, with costs.

To-day's calendar: 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 13, 14, 15.

New York Calendars—This Day.

SUPREME COURT—Appellate Division—Van Brunt, P. J.; Rumsey, Ingraham, McLaughlin, and Hatch, JJ. Opens at 1 P. M. Enumerated motions.

51—Mansbach vs. New.
60—McDonald vs. Union Surety & Guaranty Co.
35—Miller vs. Miles.
43—Ehrhard vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.
39—Moss vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.
54—Lawior vs. Magnolia Metal Co.
55—Magnolia Metal Co. vs. Sugden.
57—Whitney vs. Wilcox.
58—Same vs. Pugh.
64—Whitehead vs. Heidenheimer.
67—Conlon vs. Starbuck.
68—Schlesinger vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.
69—Leyser vs. Leyser.
70—In re Brown.
72—Battenhasser v a. Templars of Liberty of America.

SUPREME COURT—Appellate Term—For the hearing of appeals from the City Court and Municipal Court. Recess.

SUPREME COURT—Special Term—Part I.—Beach, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Litigated motions.

1—Fine vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.
2—Hepner vs. Hepner.
3—Lerner vs. Autler.
4—State Bank vs. Solomon.
5—Hope vs. Daily Telegraph Co.
6—Schuyler vs. Rorkhum.
7—Mack vs. State Civil Service Commission.
8—Boyle & Everts Co. vs. Romberg.
9—Long Island Elec. Gas & W. Co. vs. Kearny.
10—Riedinger vs. Weiner.
11—Browning vs. Sire.
12—People, &c., vs. U. S. Mut. Accident Association.
13—In re Mooney.
14—McDermott vs. Man. State Hospital.
15—In re Squire.
16—Berinstein vs. Ginsberg.
17—Denier vs. Zolty.
18—Lawrence vs. same.
19—N. Y. Gas Light Co. vs. same.
20—Washington Life Ins. Co. vs. Osborne.
21—Goldsmith vs. Long.
22—Drum vs. Wabash R. R. Co.
23—Lanzetta vs. Redfield.
24—Popular Banking S. & Loan Assn. vs. Weiss.
25—Levine vs. American Woolen Co.
26—Bank of Metropolis vs. Mackey.
27—Castle vs. Marks.
28—In re Kaye.
29—McKelvey vs. Osborne.
30—Mark vs. Cianclimino
31—In re Cruger.
32—Friedlander vs. Flouman.
33—In re Honig.
34—Leavitt vs. Weber.
35—O'Sullivan vs. D. M. Nesbit Co.
36—Evslin vs. Evslin.
37—Tishman vs. Anowitz
38—Whieting vs. Everlin.
39—Marx vs. Hirsch.
40—Oetting vs. Lyons.
41—Struck vs. Baar.
42—Voight vs. Frayer.
43—In re Forgay.
44—Ledyard vs. Butler.
45—In re Goldberg.
46—McDougall & Potter Co. vs. De Hart.
47—Robertson vs. Whiton.
48—Petlit vs. Kane.
49—Homann vs. Holland
50—Voiger vs. Foree & Dye.
51—In re Greer.
52—In re Jerome Av.
53—Fuller vs. Byar.
54—Ridley vs. Fitzgerald.
55—In re Rahan.
56—In re Quigley.
57—Girard Nat. Bank of Phila. vs. Herdling.

SUPREME COURT—Special Term—Part II.—Fitzgerald, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Ex parte business.

SUPREME COURT—Special Term—Part III.—Freedman, J.—Opens at 10:15 A. M. Calendar clear. Divorces.

2003—Lebowitz vs. Lebowitz.
2274—Rabinovitch vs. Rabinovitch.
2236—Seaman vs. Seaman.
2032—Stone vs. Stone.
2261—Osterhout vs. Osterhout.
1479—Riley vs. Riley.
2494—Baker vs. Baker.
2240—Hoffman vs. Hoffman.
1593—Dahnken vs. Dahnken.
1995—Faure vs. Faure.
2210—Root vs. Root.
2251—Wesler vs. Wesler.
2252—Schwerdtfeger vs. Schwerdtfeger.
2253—Rabboch vs. Rabboch.
2254—Leve vs. Leve.
2255—James vs. James.
2256—Diamond vs. Diamond.
2257—Daniel vs. Daniel.
2258—Delling vs. Delling.
2259—Drumm vs. Drumm.
2260—Conlon vs. Conlon.
2261—Collins vs. Collins.
2262—Ackermann vs. Ackermann.
2264—Goldberg vs. Goldberg.
2428—Chessen vs. Chessen.
2428—Chessen vs. Chessen.

Highest number reached in regular call on general calendar, 2427.

SUPREME COURT—Special Term—Part IV.—J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M.

SUPREME CO

IN THE REAL ESTATE FIELD

Large Deal Involves Whole Block Front on Upper Broadway.

NO. 101 FIFTH AVENUE SOLD

George C. Boldt Buys 440 Broadway—Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church Property Changes Hands.

Another large deal in the section between Longacre Square and the Grand Circle, which came to light yesterday, has for its ultimate object the acquisition by the Central Realty, Bond and Trust Company of the entire block front on the east side of Broadway, between Fifty-sixth and Fifty-seventh Streets, and extending 171.5 feet in depth on the former and 166 feet on the latter. Five different sellers are involved in the transaction, and it is said that negotiations with at least two of these are still pending, which fact probably accounts for the unwillingness of the interested parties to discuss the deal.

The greater part of this large plot is sold by the Grannis estate, represented by Charles B. Grannis and others. It consists of a plot at the northeast corner of Broadway and Fifty-sixth Street, fronting 75 feet on Broadway and 171.5 feet on the street, together with two lots, 50 by 114.3, which have a frontage on the south side of Fifty-seventh Street, 116 feet east of Broadway. Contracts for the purchase of this property by the Central Realty, Bond and Trust Company have already been signed.

The southeast corner of Broadway and Fifty-seventh Street, which is completely surrounded by the Grannis estate's plot, is composed of four smaller parcels belonging to as many different owners. Beginning on the east side of Broadway, just north of the Grannis property, Amos F. Eno owns a frontage of 50.10 feet; the 24 feet adjoining to the north belongs to J. H. V. Cockroft; Henry C. Thacher of Boston owns the next 46 feet of Broadway frontage, while on the immediate corner of Broadway and Fifty-seventh Street is a small triangular plot, 11.6 by 60.6 by 64.6, which is the property of Henry L. Eno.

George C. Boldt has bought, through Folsom Brothers, from Rafael G. Rosa N., and Amelia G. Ribon of Paris, the five-story iron-front building, 440 Broadway, sixty feet north of Howard Street, 30.6 by 98. Mr. Boldt has acquired the property as an investment, and has already leased it for a term of twenty-one years to the Childs Unique Dairy Company.

The Central Realty Bond and Trust Company has bought the old Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church at the southwest corner of Madison Avenue and Fifty-third Street, together with the six-story apartment house adjoining on the street. The church occupies a plot having frontages of 125 feet on the avenue and 140 feet on the street, while the apartment house stands on a lot 37.6 by 100.5. Both structures will be removed and the plot resold either as a whole or in smaller lots suitable for residence sites. It is reported that the price paid for the entire property was about $400,000.

Pease & Elliman have sold for John T. and James A. Farley the five-story American basement dwelling 439 Madison Avenue, 25.5 by 75. This completes the sale of the four houses erected by the Messrs. Farley on part of the old Columbia College block.

S. B. Goodale & Son have sold for the Cutting estate to Frederick W. Marks the four-story building 101 Fifth Avenue, east side, 39 feet north of Seventeenth Street, 22.6 by 100.

W. E. & P. B. Taylor have resold for the Central Realty, Bond and Trust Company the property 4 and 6 East Forty-ninth Street, 50 by 100.5, recently purchased by the company from the Livingston estate. The buyers on the resale are a syndicate composed of four members of the Union Club, who will erect a bachelor apartment house on the site.

The estate of Matthew Byrnes has sold the four-story brownstone-front dwelling 59 Mark Avenue, 25 by 80.

It is reported that Isaac H. Clothier has sold the plot, 75.4 by 100.8, on the north side of Eighty-eighth Street, 125 feet east of Fifth Avenue.

Plummer & Shurman have sold for Thomas J. McLaughlin the five-story stone-front dwelling 358 West End Avenue, southeast corner of Seventy-seventh Street, 24.2 by 55.

Bell & Clouet have sold to a client of John Byrne the two five-story double flats, 1,073 and 1,075 Washington Avenue, each 30 by 85 by 98. The same brokers have also sold the similar adjoining property, 1,077 Washington Avenue.

Cornish & Anderson have sold for Mrs. S. E. Fountain the five-story flat 107 West One Hundred and Fourteenth Street, 31 by 100.11, the buyer giving in part payment the three-story brownstone-front dwelling 22 West One Hundred and Thirty-first Street, 15 by 84.11.

G. Tuoti & Co. have sold to Mandelbaum & Lewine the five-story double tenement 325 East One Hundred and Sixth Street, 25 by 100.11.

Max Marx has bought, through H. R. Snyder, the five-story two-family flat 56 West Ninety-third Street, 27.8 by 100.

W. P. Mangam has sold for a Mrs. Smyth the three-story brownstone-front dwelling 57 East One Hundred and Twenty-seventh Street, 18 by 100, to a Mr. Sutherland.

Title passed yesterday in the deal by which the John S. Parker Company disposes of its twelve-story building at the southeast corner of Fourth Avenue and Nineteenth Street. Jennie S. Parker conveyed the property to John F. Hollingsworth for $700,000 over mortgages for $700,000.

The New York Realty Company took title yesterday to the five lots at the southeast corner of Fifth Avenue and Fifty-second Street, purchased recently from the Barney-Sheldon syndicate. The consideration shown by revenue stamps on the deed is $370,000 over mortgages for $380,000.

Results at Auction.

Yesterday's offerings in the Trinity Building Salesroom resulted as follows:

By William M. Ryan.

228 West Twenty-eighth Street, south side, 320.8 feet west of Seventh Avenue, 24.10 by 98.9, five-story double tenement, with store, and a four-story brick tenement at the rear; public auction sale, to John J. Bogert.....$18,250

144 West Twenty-sixth Street, south side, 500 feet west of Sixth Avenue, 20.2 by 98.9, five-story double tenement, with store; public auction sale, to Edward Greenberg..... 17,650

182 East Sixty-fourth Street, south side, 125 feet west of Third Avenue, 25 by 100.5, four-story brick and brownstone-front double flat; executor's sale, to Hugo Cohn..... 21,300

Kappock Street, Spuyten Duyvil, plot 37.6 by 73.7 by 37.6 by 60.3; foreclosure sale, to W. J. Graff..... 950

By Bryan L. Kennelly & Co.

587 Grand Street and 1 Corlears Street, being the southwest corner, 23.4 by 50.6 by 20.10 by 70, five-story brick double tenement, with store; administrator's sale, to Mandelbaum & Lewine..... 16,600

2,113 and 2,115 Lexington Avenue, east side, 83.11 feet north of One Hundred and Twenty-seventh Street, each 18 by 35, two three-story brick and stone dwellings, together with 142 East One Hundred and Twenty-seventh Street, north side, 20 feet east of Lexington Avenue, 15 by 63.11, three-story brick and stone-front dwelling; executor's sale, to C. E. Neler..... 10,500

By James L. Wells.

Lot 44 on the map of Bronxwood Park, being on the south side of North Oak Drive, near Elm Avenue, 75 by 135; foreclosure sale, to the plaintiff, Alfred A. Keller..... 1,000

By Peter F. Meyer & Co.

83 Lenox Avenue, west side, 25.11 feet north of One Hundred and Fourteenth Street, 25 by 100, two-story brick flat, with store; foreclosure sale, to Sophia Ruthschild..... 33,500

By James L. Wells.

Executor's Sale.

Fifty-seventh Street, Brooklyn, north side, 240 feet east of Fifth Avenue, 60 by 100.2, vacant; to John H. Hanley..... 2,100

Sixty-seventh Street, Brooklyn, south side, 101.3 feet east of Fort Hamilton Avenue, 100 by 100, vacant; to H. Mahnken..... 1,000

Sixty-seventh Street, Brooklyn, south side, 100 feet west of Tenth Avenue, 50 by 100, vacant; to H. Mahnken..... 400

To-day's Auction Sales.

The following sales at auction are down for to-day at 111 Broadway:

By William M. Ryan, foreclosure sale, Thomas F. Wentworth, referee, One Hundred and Eleventh Street, northwest corner of Park Avenue, 17.9 by 100.11 and irregular, three-story brick dwelling, with two-story brick building at the rear. Due on judgment, $10,840.

By William M. Ryan, foreclosure sale, John E. Ward, referee, 309 Seventh Avenue, east side, 78.1 feet south of Twenty-eighth Street, 21.3 by 103.3 and irregular, five-story stone-front tenement, with store. Due on judgment, $22,000.

By Charles A. Berrian, foreclosure sale, Thomas S. Bassford, referee, 304 West Seventieth Street, south side, 100 feet west of West End Avenue, 19 by 100.5, three-story brick dwelling. Due on judgment, $10,775.

THE BUILDING DEPARTMENT.

List of Plans Filed for New Structures and Alterations.

St. Raymond's Avenue, north side, 100 feet west of Parker Avenue, for a two-story brick dwelling, 21 by 52, with extension 13 by 9; Emille Cook of 164 Commonwealth Avenue, owner; Arthur Boehmer of 751 Tremont Avenue, architect; cost, $4,000.

Hughes Avenue, east side, 270.8 feet south of King's Bridge Road, for four two-story frame dwellings, each 16.8 by 43; Louis Eickwort of 1,849 Anthony Avenue, owner; W. C. Dickerson, architect; total cost, $12,000.

Third Avenue, west side, 200 feet south of One Hundred and Thirty-fourth Street, for a four-story iron elevator shaft, 8.6 by 86; J. L. Mott Iron Works of Third Avenue and One Hundred and Thirty-fourth Street, owners; H. Van Alta, architect; cost, $2,500.

Lind Avenue, east side, 262.9 feet north of One Hundred and Sixty-fifth Street, for a three-story brick and stone tenement, 26.10 by 70; J. Coleman, owner; W. A. Gorman of 1,059 Ogden Avenue, architect; cost, $12,000.

Alterations.

No. 514 East One Hundred and Fiftieth Street, to a two-story brick dwelling and store; Antonio Del Cioppi of 506 Morris Avenue, owner; Louis Falk of 2,785 Third Avenue, architect; cost, $1,000.

No. 553 East One Hundred and Forty-ninth Street, to a one-and-one-half-story frame dwelling; Michael Turley of 551 East One Hundred and Forty-ninth Street, owner; Louis Falk, architect; cost, $300.

No. 910 Trinity Avenue, to a two-story brick and frame dwelling; Lizzie Kraemer, premises, owner; Gustav Schwarz of 558 East One Hundred and Fifty-eighth Street, architect; cost, $200.

No. 21 Washington Square North, to a three-story brick stable; Charles A. Post, premises, owner; George B. Post, architect; cost, $200.

Nos. 68 and 70 West One Hundred and Thirty-fifth Street, to a one-story brick school; city, owner; C. M. Morgan, architect; cost, $200.

No. 66 West Forty-ninth Street, to a four-story brick dwelling; Charles C. Ransom of 152 West Forty-eighth Street, owner; William E. Moran of 160 Fifth Avenue, architect; cost, $1,000.

No. 141 to 147 Columbus Avenue, to a four-story brick storage and lofts building; C. T. Barney of 71 Broadway, owner; James Smith, Jr., of 257 Bathgate Avenue, architect; cost, $400.

No. 1,610 Broadway, to a two-story brick dwelling and store; William J. Phillips, premises, owner; William T. Totten of 113 West Broadway, architect; cost, $150.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.

In the following list "mtg" stands for mortgage and "R. S" for revenue stamps. The war revenue law provides that stamps shall be placed on all conveyances at the rate of 50 cents for each $500 of consideration. This "consideration" has been held to mean only the equity above the mortgage, except in the rate cases where the purchaser assumes payment of the mortgage. The amount of the mortgage plus 1,000 times the value of the revenue stamps on the conveyance should therefore show the true consideration:

Tuesday, Jan. 15.

ANTHONY AV, n w s, 108.3 ft n e of Burnside Av, 25x100; Minnie E. Randall to William R. Sanders, (mtg $2,500, R S $4).....$100

ANTHONY AV, n w corner of Bush St, 25 x92.3x23.0x100; Josephine I. Smyth to William Begg, (R S $3)..... 2,900

AVENUE B, w s, 130.6 ft s w of Cliff St, runs e — to w s of Cauldwell Av x s 19.6 x w — to a line of B w 19.6; Henrietta Hoppock to Annie M. Knobloch and another, (R S 25c)..... 1

AVENUE C, 206, e s, 25x62.3; Marie A. Lichtschein and another to Lulu Mason, (R S $5, mtg $10,000)..... 1

AVENUE C, 206, e s, 25x62.3; Marie A. Lichtschein and another to Lulu Mason, (R S $5, mtg $10,000)..... 1

AVENUE D, 42, e s, 24x100; Jacob Frankenthaler to Morris Asch, ½ part, (R S $5, mtg $9,000)..... 1

CHARLTON ST, 11, n s, 24.6x100; Anne L. McManus to Ellen C. McManus..... 1

CHARLTON ST, 13, n s, 24.6x100; Ellen C. McManus and another to Anne L. McManus..... 1

COLUMBUS AV, 550, w s, 27.3x95; John F. Cerdes to Samuel Siegler and another, (R S $21.50, mtg $23,000)..... 100

DECATUR AV, w s, 399 ft s of Gun Hill Road, 109.4x101x95.5x100; Charles M. Hayward to Florence D. Kellogg, re-recorded..... 1

DELANCEY ST, n e corner of Pitt St, 50x54; Samuel Michelson to Barney Cohen, (R S $6.50, mtg $42,000)..... 100

EAST BROADWAY, n s, 149 ft e of Montgomery St, 20.6x90; Ellen C. and James J. McManus to Anne L. McManus, all title..... 1

ELDRIDGE ST, 111, n w s, 25x100; Hyman Safier and another to Lena Silverman, (R S $5.50, mtg $19,250)..... 1

GRAND ST, 484, n e corner of Willett St, 19x60; Thomas S. Hebert to Jacob Bier, (R S $6, mtg $13,000)..... 1

HAMILTON PLACE, s e corner of 141st St, 108.9x99.3x99.11x141.7; Frederick N. Do Bois to George Ehrt. (R S $70)..... 1

HESTER ST, 70, s s, 25x75; Barnett Goldstein and wife to Frank E. Rosen and others, (R S $1)..... 1

HESTER ST, 70, s s, 25x75; Mary Myzanski to Frank E. Rosen and others, quitclaim, (R S $1)..... 1

HESTER ST, 70, s s, 25x75; Barnett Goldstein and wife to Frank E. Goldstein and others, (R S $1)..... 1

HUDSON ST, 223, e s, 22.10x70x22.3x70; Fanny E. McVickar, widow, and others to Esther A. Hyle and others..... 1

LOT 103, map of Van Nest Park; Lillie Rurt to Eugenia P. Delle, (mtg $225, R S 50c.)..... 1

LOT 193, map of North Marble Hill, 25x 100; William E. Thorn to Amelia A. Thorn, (R S $1)..... 1

LOTS 54 and 55, map of Undercliff Terrace; E. B. Levy to Margaret E. Jones, (R S $3)..... 100

MADISON AV, e s, 25.2 ft s of 118th St, 25.3x80; Francis J. Schnugg to Alfred Rosenzweig..... 24,000

MADISON AV, e s, 75 ft s of 118th St, 25.3x80; Francis J. Schnugg to Joseph Rosenzweig..... 24,000

MADISON ST, s s, 211.5 ft e of Pike St, 25x100; Bernard Gordon to Gussie Kleinbaum, (mtg $22,000, R S $9)..... 1

MADISON ST, 236 and 238, s s, 40x90; Isidor Olmberg to Rachel J. Brown, (R S $13, mtg $57,000)..... 1

MARCHER AV, w s, at n s of land conveyed by Cochrane, as executor, to Lancaster, April 11, 1900, runs n 151.7x e 2.10x n 78.1 to centre line of Anderson Av x e 10.11 to w s of Marcher Av x s 61.5; Jane C. Spearing to George W. Collier. (R S 50c)..... 1

MARCHER AV, present w s, at n s of land conveyed by Man to Collier Aug. 11, 1900, runs w — to former e s of Marcher Av x s — x e — to beginning, gore; also, plot beginning at n w corner of above, runs — to centre line of former Marcher Av x s — x e — to e s of Marcher Av, old line, x n — to beginning; William Farrell to George W. Collier, (all liens, R S 50c)..... 1

MARKET ST, e s, 100.2 ft n of Cherry St, 23.9x60.8x23.6x60.6; William F. Kearns, devisee, to Timothy F. Kearns, (R S $7)..... 1

MORRIS AV, n w corner of 150th St, 50.2 x100; Algernon S. Norton, referee, to Leopold Hutter and another, (R S $2.50, mtg $8,500)..... 2,500

MOTT ST, 118, 27x irregular; Pauline Rimoldi to Maria Silena, (mtg $8,500, R S $7)..... 15,850

NATHALIE AV, w s, Lots 47 and 48, map of 16 villa sites and 80 lots, portion of Anthony estate, King's Bridge, 50x80.3x 50.4x80.2; Mary A. Lowes and others to Leah Atkelin..... 5,800

PARK ROW, s e s, 24x119 to Theatre Alley x26x109; George A. Brewster and others to New York Security and Trust Company..... 1

PARK ROW, e s, 160 ft e of Duane St, 17.1x64.6; 17th St, e s, 181.5 ft s of 1st Av, 25x100.4; also property out of town; Moses Hamerschlag to Marks Hamerschlag, (R S $2.50)..... 1

PROSPECT TERRACE, w s, 94 ft s of 14th St, 25x100, William's Bridge; Daniel F. Cohalan, referee, to the Mutual Benefit Loan and Building Company of New York, (R S $3.50)..... 3,450

PROSPECT TERRACE, w s, 39 ft s of 14th St, 50x100, William's Bridge; the Mutual Benefit Loan and Building Company of New York to E. Webster Fleet, (R S $7)..... 1

ST. ANN'S AV, 417, w s, 24.11x97; Robert J. Ferns to George Waas, (R S $5, mtg $2,000)..... 1

ST. ANN'S AV, 419, w s, 24.11x97; Seba Bogert to George Waas, (R S $5, mtg $15,000)..... 1

SHIEL ST, n e corner of 6th Av, 100x100, William's Bridge; Frank Koch to John Corr, (R S $2.50)..... 700

STANTON ST, n s, 25 ft w of Pitt St, 25x70; Anne L. McManus and another to James V. McManus..... 1

VILLA AV, w s, 359.11 ft n of Southern Boulevard, old line, 25x100; William T. Hawke to Catharine M. Hawke, (R S 60 cents)..... 1

WEST END AV, w s, 38 ft n of 92d St, 17.7x25x irregular; George A. Stimpson to the Riverside Building Company, (R S $19, mtg $31,000)..... 1

WEST END AV, w s, 38 ft n of 92d St, 17.7x25x irregular; the Riverside Building Company to George A. Stimpson, (R S $22, mtg $28,000)..... 1

WILLIS AV, e s, 25 ft n of Southern Boulevard, 75x80; Henry A. Gumbleton to Adolph C. Hottenroth, (R S $10, mtg $55,000)..... 37,500

WILLIS AV, n e corner of Southern Boulevard, 25x115x irregular; also, Willis Av, e s, 25 ft s of 134th St, 75x40; Adolph C. Hottenroth to Henry A. Gumbleton, all title, (mtg $25,000, R S $18.50) 26,500

4TH AV, s e corner of 19th St, 131x150; Jennie S. Parker to John F. Hollingsworth, (R S $700, mtg $700,000)..... 100

5TH AV, 901, 27x100x irregular; Allen C. Beach and another, trustees, to Anson R. Flower..... 150,000

5TH AV, 903, 22.5x100; Emma G. Halsey and another to Anson R. Flower..... 110,000

5TH AV, 1,410, 27.11x100; Eleonora Wallach to Samuel Rapp, (mtg $30,000, R S $10)..... 1

5TH AV, s e corner of 52d St, 125.5x 100; Charles T. Barney and another to New York Realty Company, (R S $370, mtg $380,000)..... 1

5TH AV, 1,451, e s, 25x85; Kassel Oshinsky to Eva Rosenzweig, (mtg $18,000, R S $7.50)..... 1

7TH AV, widened, s w corner of 144th St, 24.11x75; John H. Rogan, referee to Clarence Cary and another, trustees, &c. 30,000

10TH ST, Lot 211, map of Unionport, 100 x108; Annie Crimmins to William H. Sellman, (R S $2.50)..... 2,080

14TH ST, s e, 100 ft w of Prospect Terrace, 27.5x114, William's Bridge; Daniel F. Cohalan, referee, to E. Webster Fleet, (R S $3.50)..... 3,450

14TH ST, s s, 127.5 ft w of Prospect Terrace, 25x114, William's Bridge; Daniel F. Cohalan, referee, to E. Webster Fleet, (R S $8.50)..... 3,500

49TH ST, 225 West, 21.0x100.5; Cora W. Trow and others to Albert R. Smoot, (R S $17)..... 1

51ST ST, s s, 225 ft w of 11th Av, 25x36.8x25.3x40.6; Patrick Reilly to Charles Reilly, (R S $1)..... 1

52D ST, n s, 325 ft e of 9th Av, 20x100.5; Charles A. Flammer and another to Leopold Hutter, (R S $10.50)..... 10,500

53D ST, n s, 250 ft w of 9th Av, 25x100.5; Cornelius R. Blauvelt to Ferdinand Brameyer, (R S $8.50, mtg $16,500)..... 1

55TH ST, 532 West, 25x100.5; Elbe D. Cordts to Herbert E. Sudderly, (mtg $6,000, R S $9)..... 1

55TH ST, 19 West, 25x100.5; Charles A. Baudoine and another, trustees, to Daniel S. Lamont, (R S $65)..... 65,000

55TH ST, 238 West, 20x100.5; Jessie B. Wright to Nelson D. Stilwell, (R S $11, mtg $11,000)..... 1

55TH ST, 236 West, 20x100.5; William F. Chambers to Nelson D. Stilwell, (R S $7, mtg $15,000)..... 100

64TH ST, s s, 74 ft w of Madison Av, 21x 100.5; George A. Brewsteri and others to New York Security and Trust Company..... 1

64TH ST, 28 East, 24.9x100.5; George H. Warren, trustee, to Frederic B. Studwell, (R S $77)..... 77,500

64TH ST, 28 East, 24.9x100.5; W. J. H. Pollard, trustee, to George H. Warren, Jr., trustee..... 1

80TH ST, n s, 281.6 ft e of 1st Av, 25x 102.2; Katherine Karst to Mary Karst, (mtg $15,500, R S $4.50)..... 1

84TH ST, 341 West, 17x102.3; Peter Wagner to Simon Rosenstamm, (R S $3.50, mtg $21,000)..... 1

95TH ST, s s, 81.9 ft w of Madison Av, 17x100.8; John H. Judge, referee, to George W Arthur..... 29,500

95TH ST, s s, 65.9 ft w of Madison Av, 10x100.8; John H. Judge, referee, to George W Arthur..... 27,500

95TH ST, s s, 65.9 ft w of Madison Av, 33 x100.8; George W. Arthur to German-American Real Estate Title Guarantee Company, (mtg $52,000, R S $1)..... 1

99TH ST, 100 ft w of Park Av, 25x 100.11; Samuel J. Ruth and another to George Schuster, (R S $6, mtg $18,000).. Exch.

103D ST, n s, 125 ft w of 1st Av, 125x 100.9; Jonas Weil and another to Julius Brown, (R S $12, mtg $20,000)..... 1

117TH ST, 57 and 59 East, 66x100.11; William H. Jackson to Esther Bernhardt, (mtg $56,000, R S $10)..... 100

117TH ST, n s, 108 ft e of Madison Av, 53 x100.11; 117th St, n s, 227 ft e of Madison Av, 92.6x100.11; John McKeon to Esther Bernhardt, (mtg $74,000, R S $12) 100

118TH ST, s s, 252.3 ft of 3d Av, 25x 100.11; Lewis L. Delafield, referee, to George A. Barker and another, executors and trustees, (R S $18)..... 18,000

119th St, n s, 100 ft w of Manhattan Av, 100x100.11; Leopold Kahn Company to Leopold Kahn, (all liens, R S $27.50)..... 1

126TH ST, s s, 275 ft w of 7th Av, 25x 99.11; Anastasia Mullen to Josephine Mullen, (R S $7, mtg $18,000)..... 1

129TH ST, n s, 225 ft e of 8th Av, 50x 99.11; Emil Engelman to Max Just, ½ part, (R S $3.60)..... 8,500

133D ST, 4 East, 20x99.11; Anna Markman to Kate Johnsen, (R S $5)..... 1

136TH ST, 217 West, 16x99.11; Herbert B. Shoemaker, assignee, to Stephen H. Keating, (R S $12.50)..... 12,500

136TH ST, 217 West, 16x99.11; Henry E. Janes to Stephen H. Keating, quitclaim. 1

150TH ST, n s, 115 ft w of Amsterdam Av, 15x99.11; John C Coleman, referee, to Austin B. Fletcher and others, trustees, &c..... 12,000

150TH ST, n s, 130 ft w of Amsterdam Av, 15x99.11; John C Coleman, referee, to Austin B. Fletcher and others, trustees, &c..... 12,000

157TH ST, n s, 24.6 ft w of Melrose Av, 24.6x101.0; Eilen J. Taylor to Kate Colwell, (R S 50c.)..... 1

159TH ST, n s, 275 ft w of Elton Av, 25x 100; Frank Mayrew to William W. Rand, (mtg $12,100, R S $8)..... 1

159TH ST, s s, Lot 112, map of Village of Melrose, 50x100; Minnie J. McDonald to Ellen J. Taylor, (R S 50c.)..... 1

175TH ST, 747 East, 17.6x100; Charles Lasell to Cornelius R. Blauvelt, (R S $3.50, mtg $5,600)..... 1

163D ST, s w s, 540 ft s e of Courtlandt Av, 25x100; Margaret Gleeson to Timothy Gleeson, ½ part 1

Recorded Leases.

BOWERY, 18, w s; Ellen Cavanagh to Maurice Gelula, 3 years..... $600

BOWERY, 88 and 90; Angelo Sisto to Samuel Lang, 3 years..... 1,300

RUTGERS ST, 49; Anthony Schiesinger and another to Isaac E. Shalkowsky, 3 years..... 3,425

WILLETT ST, 53; estate of Adam Mosback to Mindel Honig, 3½ years..... 2,252

2D AV, 1,705; Max Frankenbelm to Emil Gerstenberger, term from Jan. 14, 1901, to May 1, 1906..... 1,260

3D AV, 302; Jacob Lorilland and others, trustees, to Frank Tiernan, 7 years..... 10,500

3D AV, 3,199, w s, 34 ft s of 162d St; John Corbett to Joseph Corbett, 3 years. 1,200

10TH AV, 95; Central Railroad of New Jersey to Daniel Rafferty, 5 years..... 1,500

4TH ST, 326 East; Abraham Aufses to Dr. D. J. Hyman, 5 years..... 1,080

11TH ST, 620 and 622 East; Nettis Simons and another to Emil Seidle and another, 7 years..... 5,500

85TH ST, 332 East, first flat; William F. Ebeling to Frederick Herrmann, 3½ years ..... $180 to 192

Recorded Mortgages.

Interest is at 6 per cent., unless otherwise specified.

ALHEIT, Charles, to the Franklin Savings Bank; 144th St, 718 East, 1 year, 4½ per cent..... $3,000

ARTHUR, George W., to Gertrude E. Shannon; 95th St, s s, 81.9 ft w of Madison Av, 3 years..... 27,000

ARTHUR, George W., to Sarah J. Flanagan; 95th St, s s, 65.9 ft w of Madison Av, 3 years 25,000

ASCH, Morris, to Jacob Frankenthaler; 42 Avenue D, all title, ½ part, 1 year, 6 per cent..... 750

BERNSTEIN, Adolph, to John F. Halsted and others, trustees; 5th St, 226 West, 3 years, 4½ per cent..... 11,000

BIER, Jacob, to Real Estate Mortgage Company of New Jersey; Grand St, 484, 3 years..... 16,000

BOEHRINGER, Henry F., and wife to Charles Schade; St. Ann's Av, 162, 2 years 2,000

BRAMEYER, Ferdinand, to Margaret F. Schwind; 53d St, n s, 250 ft w of 8th Av x n 79.11 to e s of Marcher Av x s 61.5; Jane C. Spearing to George W. Collier. (R S 50c)..... 1

BRAUN, Julius and Jenny, to Jonas Weil and another; 103d St, n s, 125 ft w of 1st Av, demand, 6 per cent..... 10,000

BROWN, Rachel J., to Isidor Ginsberg; 236 and 238 Madison St, 4 years, 6 per cent..... 2,500

BRUNS, Albert, to John O. Baker; Broadway, e s, at centre line of old Apthorp's Lane and 83.3 ft s of 94th St, demand, 6 per cent..... 6,500

BRUSH, Walter, to the Board of the Church Erection Fund of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America; 39th St, 313 East, 3 years, 4½ per cent..... 9,000

BURNES, Edward, executor, &c., and another to Caroline Wandell; 78th St, 338 East, 1 year..... 1,000

COHEN, Barney, to Sarah and Lina Michelson; Delancey St, n e corner of Pitt St, 9 years, 6 per cent..... 13,500

CROSBY, Walter F., to Fidelity and Deposit Company of Maryland; 97th St, s s, 311 ft w of 8th Av; also property in Colorado; secures undertaking on appeal 35,000

DAHLEM, Christian, to American Mortgage Company; St. Ann's Av, s w corner of 157th St, 3 years..... 19,000

DAHLEM, Christian, to Maximilian Morse; St. Ann's Av, w s, 105 ft n of 156th St, 3 years..... 13,000

DAHLEM, Christian, to Maximilian Morse; St. Ann's Av, w s, 130 ft n of 156th St, 3 years..... 13,000

DAHLEM, Christian, to Maximilian Morse; St. Ann's Av, w s, 155 ft n of 156th St, 3 years..... 13,000

DAHLEM, Christian, to Ferdinand A. Sieghardt; St. Ann's Av, s w corner of 157th St, 2 years, 6 per cent..... 4,500

DAHLEM, Christian, to American Mortgage Company; St. Ann's Av, w s, 105 ft n of 156th St, 2 years, 6 per cent..... 2,500

DAHLEM, Christian, to American Mortgage Company; St. Ann's Av, w s, 130 ft n of 156th St, 2 years, 6 per cent..... 2,500

DAHLEM, Christian, to American Mortgage Company; St. Ann's Av, w s, 155 ft n of 156th St, 2 years, 6 per cent..... 2,500

DIAMOND, Joseph and Natalie, to Maria Burkhardt; Bronx Park Av, e s, 150 ft s of 177th St, 3 years..... 2,800

DIVVER, Catherine, to Katherine Neas; Avenue C, s e corner of 12th St, Unionport, 3 years, 6 per cent..... 100

EBERT, George, to Frederick N. Du Bois; Hamilton Place, s e corner of 141st St, 1 year..... 36,000

FLEET, E. Webster, to Joseph F. Mooney, trustee; Prospect Av, w s, 39 ft s of 14th St, William's Bridge, 3 years, 6 per cent..... 2,250

FLEET, E. Webster, to Joseph F. Mooney, trustee; Prospect Terrace, w s, 64 ft s of 14th St, William's Bridge, 3 years, 6 per cent..... 2,250

FLEET, E. Webster, to Peter R. Egan; 14th St, s s, 100 ft w of Prospect Av, William's Bridge, 1 year, 6 per cent..... 2,500

FREY, Joseph, to the Emigrant Industrial Savings Bank; 3d St, 75 West, 1 year, 4 per cent..... 6,000

GERMAN-AMERICAN REAL ESTATE Title Guarantee Company to Frederick A. O. Schwarz; 174 and 176 East 104th St, 3 years 20,000

GERSTENBERGER, Emil, to George Ehret; 2d Av, 1,708, saloon lease, demand 5,500

GUMBLETON, Henry A., to Adolph C. Hottenroth; Willis Av, widened, n e corner of Southern Boulevard; also Willis Av, e s, 25 ft s of 134th St, 1 year, 6 per cent..... 4,000

HOLLENGSWORTH, John F., to the Lawyers' Mortgage Company; 4th Av, s e corner of 19th St, 5 years, 4½ per cent 800,000

HOLLENGSWORTH, John F., to Jennie S. Parker; 4th Av, s e corner of 19th St, 3 years..... 57,250

HOLLENGSWORTH, John F., to Duane P. Cobb; 4th Av, s e corner of 19th St, due as per bond..... 47,250

HUERSTEL, Julia, to Albert E. Wickes; Boston Road, s e s, 146 ft n e of 166th St, extends to Cauldwell Av, 3 years, 6 per cent..... 3,000

HUTTER, Leopold, to William H. and Caroline A. Lane; 92d St, 347 West, 5 years, 4½ per cent..... 7,500

JONES, Margaret E., to Ephraim B. Ely; Lots 54 and 55, map of Undercliff Terrace, Morris Heights, 1 year..... 2,000

KASHARE, Isadore, to Julius Lawine; Pleasant Av, 835, installments..... 1,000

KEATING, Stephen H., to Title Guarantee and Trust Company; 136th St, 217 West, 3 years, 6 per cent..... 6,000

KNOBLOCH, Annie M., and another to Mary S. Haynes; Avenue B, w e, 130.6 ft s of Cliff St, runs e 80 to w e of Cauldwell Av, new line, x s 19.6x w 80 to Avenue B x n 19.6, 3 years..... 6,000

LOWTHER, George, and others to Mutual Life Insurance Company; 81st St, n s, 275 ft e of 1st Av, with land under water, &c., 5 years, 4 per cent..... 51,000

MAICKEL, Catherine A., to the Emigrant Industrial Savings Bank; 89th St, n s, 250 ft w of 1st Av, 1 year, 4 per cent..... 10,500

MAICKEL, Catherine A., to John Rottkamp; 89th St, n s, 250 ft w of 1st Av, 2 years, 6 per cent..... 1,000

MASON, Lulu, to Adolf Weiss; Avenue C, 206, 1 year, 6 per cent..... 8,500

MICHELSON, Samuel, to the Roman Catholic Orphan Asylum; Delancey St, n e corner of Pitt St, 5 years, 4½ per cent..... 42,000

MORGAN, Catherine D., to Emily A. Ryder; 121st St, n s, 325 ft w of 7th Av, 3 years, 6 per cent..... 8,000

MOREHOUSE, Samuel, to Catherine E. Weber; 94th St, 133 West, 3 years..... 13,500

MOSHER, William, and wife to Patrick J. Owens; 161st St, 93.9 ft e of Cauldwell Av, demand, 6 per cent..... 1,000

NICHOLS, Grant L., to United States Life Insurance Company; 131st St, n s, 267.11 ft e of 7th Av, 3 years..... 50,000

NICHOLS, Grant L., to George F. Norton; 131st St, n s, 267.11 ft e of 7th Av, 2 years, 6 per cent..... 5,000

PALEY, Samuel, and Elias Lapin to the State Bank; Essex St, 40, 1 year, 6 per cent..... 10,000

PALEY, Samuel, and Elias Lapin to the State Bank; Delancey St, 91, 1 year, 6 per cent..... 10,000

PARNASS, Samuel, to Isidore Jackson and another; Madison St, s w corner of Clinton St, demand, 6 per cent..... 7,000

PETERS, Mary E., to the Emigrant Industrial Savings Bank; 89th St, n s, 275 ft w of 1st Av, 1 year, 4 per cent..... 10,000

REILLY, Patrick, to Charles L. Cohn and others; 51st St, e s, 225 ft w of 11th Av, demand 600

ROSEN, Frank E., individually and as guardian, &c., and others to Rosa E. Rainsford; Hester St, 70, 5 years, 4½ per cent..... 13,000

SCHAEFER, Caroline, to Abbie E. Wille; Arthur Av, widened, s w corner of 178th St, 3 years, 6 per cent..... 3,000

SCHULTEIS, William H., and Albert Miller to William P. Sandford; 156th St, s s, 75 ft e of Union Av, demand, 6 per cent..... 1,400

SCHNEEKLOTH, Ernst, to Wilhelmina D. Stahl; 20th St, n e s, 125 ft n w of 2d Av, leasehold, 3 years, 6 per cent..... 1,000

SIEGLER, Samuel and Julius, to the Title Guarantee and Trust Company; Columbus Av, 586, 3 years, 4 per cent..... 15,000

SILENA, Marie, to Pauline Rimoldi; Mott St, 118, installments, 6 per cent..... 5,850

SMOOT, Albert R., to M. Adele Smith and another, executors, &c.; 225 West 49th St, 3 years..... 13,500

STEEVES, John F., and others to the Bowery Savings Bank; Wesher Av, n e corner of 189th St, runs e 231.7 to Park Av West, n n 147.10x irregular to Thomas Av x w 20.1 to 188th St, x s 91.4 to beginning, 1 year, 4 per cent..... 15,000

STIMPSON, George A., to Theresa Josephthal; West End Av, w s, 38.1 ft n of 92d St, 5 years, 4 per cent..... 31,000

SUSSMAN, Martha R., and Thomas R., to Eugene and Ida Underhill, executors, &c.; 88th St, 333, 3 years..... 30,000

SUDDERLY, Herbert E., to Erbe D. Cordts; 55th St, 532 West, 3 years, 4 per cent..... 4,600

THE NEW YORK REALTY COMPANY to Charles T. Barney and another; 5th Av, s e corner of 52d St, 2 years..... 193,750

VELDERS, Jan C., to Fred M. St. John; Lot 370, map of McGraw estate, 3 years, 6 per cent..... 2,000

WALL, Jacob, to the Seamen's Bank for Savings; 21st St, s s, 74 ft e of 6th Av, 2 years, 4 per cent..... 10,000

WAAS, George, to Robert J. Ferns; St. Ann's Av, 417, 3 years, 6 per cent..... 2,000

WAAS, George, to Seba Bogert; St. Ann's Av, 419, 3 years, 6 per cent..... 2,000

WEINSTEIN, Rachel and Jacob, to John T. Willets, guardian, &c.; 13th St, 239 East, 5 years, 4½ per cent..... 40,000

WEINSTEIN, Rachel and Jacob, to John T. Willets, guardian, &c.; 13th St, 235 East, 5 years, 4½ per cent..... 40,000

Assignments of Mortgages.

ARNSTEIN, Eugene, and another, executors, &c., to Sarah Emanuel, ½ part..... $5,106

BERNARD, Abram, to Solon L. Frank and another ..... Nominal

CORNISH, Samuel G., and others, executors, &c., to Samuel G

FINANCIAL.

Hanover National Bank
Capital $3,000,000. Surplus and profits, $5,000,000.
9 and 11 Nassau St.

Phenix National Bank
62 Wall Street.

Colonial Trust Company
CAPITAL, SURPLUS, AND UNDIVIDED PROFITS, $2,000,000.00.
ST. PAUL BLD'G. 222 B'way.

Bankers' Cards.

Redmond, Kerr & Co.
BANKERS.
41 WALL ST., N. Y.
Members N. Y. Stock Exchange.
Transact a general banking business. Receive deposits subject to draft. Dividends and interest collected and Remitted. Act as Fiscal Agent for and negotiate and issue loans of railroads, street railways, gas companies, etc. Securities bought and sold on commission. DEAL IN High-Grade Investment Securities. List of current offerings sent on application. PHILADELPHIA CORRESPONDENTS, GRAHAM, KERR & CO.

KOUNTZE BROTHERS,
BANKERS,
Broadway & Cedar St., NEW YORK,
BUY AND SELL
Investment Securities.
Receive accounts of Corporations, Firms and Individuals on favorable terms.
Make loans against approved collateral.
LETTERS OF CREDIT.

DOUGLAS & JONES,
Members New York Stock Exchange.
ESTABLISHED 1886.
24 Broad St., New York City.
STOCKS AND BONDS BOUGHT AND SOLD ON COMMISSION AT THE NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE AND CARRIED ON MARGIN.
Daily Market Letter on Application.
CORRESPONDENCE INVITED.

Vermilye & Co.,
BANKERS,
New York and Boston.

New York Telephone, 3790 John. Brooklyn Telephone, 391 Brooklyn.
Geo. H. PRENTISS & CO.
DEALERS IN
LOCAL SECURITIES,
48 Wall Street, New York. 208 Montague St. Brooklyn.
MEMBERS OF N. Y. STOCK EXCHANGE.

Established 1868. Tel. call, 2383 Cortlandt.
FRED. H. SMITH,
STOCK BROKER, 8 BROAD ST., N. Y.
Member New York Con. Stock Exchange.
Stocks, Bonds and Grain.
Bought, sold, and carried on margin.
COMMISSION 1-16TH.
Book of Railway Statistics upon application.

FINANCIAL.

MORTON TRUST COMPANY,
38 NASSAU STREET.
Capital, $2,000,000
Surplus & Undivided Profits, $3,000,000

OFFICERS:
LEVI P. MORTON, President
THOMAS F. RYAN, Vice-President
JAMES K. CORBIERE, 2d Vice-Pres't
H.M. FRANCIS, Secretary
W. REDMOND CROSS, Treasurer
EUGENE E. VARET, Asst. Secretary
H. B. DERRY, Trust Officer

DIRECTORS:
John Jacob Astor, George F. Baker, Edward J. Berwind, Frederic Cromwell, James B. Duke, Henry M. Flagler, G. G. Haven, Joseph C. Hendrix, Abram S. Hewitt, James N. Jarvie, Walter S. Johnston, A. D. Juilliard, Joseph Larocque, D. O. Mills, Levi P. Morton, Richard A. McCurdy, W. G. Oakman, George Foster Peabody, Samuel Rea, Elihu Root, Thomas F. Ryan, Jacob H. Schiff, John Sloane, William C. Whitney.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE:
LEVI P. MORTON, THOMAS F. RYAN, EDWARD J. BERWIND, G. G. HAVEN, JOSEPH C. HENDRIX, JAMES N. JARVIE, GEORGE FOSTER PEABODY, JACOB H. SCHIFF, WILLIAM C. WHITNEY.

CENTRAL REALTY BOND AND TRUST COMPANY
59 TO 65 LIBERTY ST., NEW YORK.
Capital and Surplus, $1,500,000.
Allows interest on deposits subject to check and transacts all Trust Company business.
HENRY MORGENTHAU, President.
HUGH J. GRANT, 1st Vice-Pres. T. STALLKNECHT, 2d Vice-Pres.
W. J. B. MILLS, Treasurer. ERNEST EHRMANN, Secretary.

DIRECTORS:
Frederic P. Olcott, James Stillman, Anthony N. Brady, Alwyn Ball, jr., John D. Crimmins, Michael Coleman, Ernest Ehrmann, Augustus D. Juilliard, Henry O. Havemeyer, William A. Nash, James N. Jarvie, James H. Post, Frederick Southack, Hugh J. Grant, Henry Morgenthau.

REAL ESTATE TRUST CO. OF NEW YORK,
No. 30 Nassau Street.
APITAL, SURPLUS AND UNDIVIDED PROFITS $1,000,000.
DESIGNATED LEGAL DEPOSITORY.
Allows interest on deposits.
Acts as Executor, Trustee, Registrar, &c. HENRY C. SWORDS, President.
H. H. Cammann, V.Pres. H. W. Keighley, Sec.

BROWN BROTHERS & CO.,
NO. 59 WALL ST.,
ISSUE INTERNATIONAL CHEQUES, COMMERCIAL and TRAVELERS' CREDITS AVAILABLE IN ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD.

N. Y. & Staten Island Electric
1st Mortgage 5% Bonds.
DAVID PFEIFFER, 18 Wall St.

FINANCIAL. FINANCIAL. FINANCIAL.

ARIMEX CONSOLIDATED COPPER COMPANY.

Capital. . . . . $5,000,000.

This company was organized under the laws of the State of New Jersey for the purpose of purchasing and operating copper producing properties.

Its capital is $5,000,000, divided into 200,000 shares of common stock of the par value of $25 each. It has no bonds or mortgage debt.

Of this capital 120,935 shares, or $3,023,375 of the capital stock, has been issued in payment for certain properties. The balance of 79,065 shares remains in the treasury of the company.

The company owns the following properties:

1,750,000 shares out of a total of 2,000,000 of the par value of $5 each, of the Table Mountain Copper Company of Illinois	$8,750,000
90,000 shares out of a total of 100,000 of the par value of $10 each, of the Angang Copper Company of New Jersey	900,000
500,000 shares out of a total of 500,000 of the par value of $10 each, of the Oxide Copper Company of New Jersey	5,000,000
	$14,650,000

The Oxide Copper Company owns the Copper Prince group of copper claims, located in the Silver Bell mining district, Pima County, Arizona, comprising thirty claims. Early in the Spring of the year 1900 a contract was entered into by the company for extensive developments by sinking a shaft five hundred feet, which, with cross-cuts, would develop a large part of the property, and in other ways. At the present time this shaft is down about 370 feet, and work is being vigorously pushed.

The Table Mountain Company owns twenty-seven claims, situated in the Bunker Hill Mining District, Pinal County, Arizona.

The Angang Copper Company consists of about four hundred mining claims, situated at Zituacuaro, in the State of Michoacan, Mexico, known as the Chirianganguceo Mines. Development was planned early in the year on a large scale, and Mr. Adolphe Rock, the resident director and general manager of the company, has devoted himself to this work. These mines were worked many years ago by Mexicans in a very desultory manner, large bodies of ore having been taken out and large dumps remaining, showing the extent of the former operations. Mr. Rock has unwatered the shafts, built houses for the workmen, buildings for the company, begun work on the roads, and generally begun a systematic development of the property on a large scale.

During the year 1900 development work on an extended scale has been carried on vigorously on the property at the Angang and Oxide Companies, and to a smaller extent on the properties of the Table Mountain Company, under the supervision and direction of the President of the Arimex Company, Mr. Charles H. Dickey of Baltimore, Md. The development has proven the property to be so rich as to warrant immediate extension of development operations on a very large scale, which operations, in the opinion of the Directors, will give enormous net returns.

From the fact that this property has been in charge of practical copper mining men, and that the chief executive officer, Mr. Dickey, is also President of the Parrot Company—which, since the formation of the Amalgamated Copper Company, has been one of that company's largest producing copper properties—the chances of mistakes have probably been reduced to a minimum.

For the purpose of placing all these properties upon a dividend earning basis in the shortest time possible, the Board of Directors have voted that 60,000 shares of the treasury stock of the company be sold by subscription at par, $25.00 per share, by Messrs. E. N. Morison & Company, Bankers, Baltimore, Md., and any other selling agents they may select.

American Loan & Trust Company, Boston, Transfer Agents.
International Trust Company, Boston, Registrars.

CHARLES H. DICKEY, President.
HARRY A. NORTON, Secretary and Treasurer.

Jan. 12, 1901.

OFFER FOR PUBLIC SUBSCRIPTIONS.

Notice is hereby given that offers for public subscription for 60,000 Shares, of the value of $25 each, of the stock of the

ARIMEX CONSOLIDATED COPPER COMPANY

will be received at the office of either of the undersigned until the twenty-third day of January, 1901, at the rate of $25 per share. Subscriptions must be accompanied by certified check for 20 per cent. of the amount of such subscription, the balance to be payable within ten days after notice of allotment.

Temporary negotiable receipts will be issued, on payment of sums due on allotment, exchangeable for certificates of stock as soon as same can be engraved.

We reserve the right to allot any or all of the above-named amount at any time on or before January 23.

We also reserve the right to allot or reject any subscription in whole or in part.

Subscription blanks sent on application.

We respectfully refer intending subscribers in Baltimore, Washington, and Philadelphia, who are more or less unfamiliar with the investment quality of copper stocks generally, to the following statement of Thomas W. Lawson of Boston, Mass.:

COPPERS IN THE PAST.

Four years ago I publicly called attention to "Coppers"—to the fact that although they had been actively dealt in on the Boston Stock Exchange for over fifty years, and had been and were still the basis of a large portion of New England's wealth, their merits as first-class and semi-speculative investments were almost unknown to investors and speculators in this country and Europe; to the fact that investigation would prove that an investment in the stock of any of the good producing "Coppers" would give much larger yearly net returns, with a surer guarantee of permanency for a longer period of time, than a like investment in any other class of stocks, and I stated my belief that so soon as these facts became known to investors and speculators throughout this country and Europe, there would begin a "scramble" for "Coppers" unparalleled in the history of the stock market, with the result that the price of such stocks then for sale in the open market would multiply, that this increased value would hold and be further increased for years to come.

At this time, and in all my subsequent statements, the following were named as some of the leading "Coppers" which would multiply in price: Butte & Boston, then selling at $2 to $14; Boston & Montana, then selling at $50 to $75, and Calumet & Hecla, then selling at $225. So radical did these views seem that they were adversely criticised by those interested in financial matters, and more particularly by professional financial critics, but it is now known and admitted that my predictions erred on the conservative side only, for the present prices of the "Coppers" then called to the attention of the public show an increase in value of hundreds of millions of dollars, or more than has ever accrued to any other class of stocks in a like period. The prices of the three named, Butte, Montana, and Calumet, alone show an increase in value of $115,000,000.

It is now known that never in the history of stocks has there been a parallel to the "scramble" for "Coppers" which carried the price of Butte from $2 to $108 per share, Montana from $50 to $400 and Calumet from $225 to $900, and others in like proportion, or another instance where such a tremendous increase in price held and became permanent. The fact that the public were so quickly educated, that such a great increase in values came in such a short time, and that this increase has held and is still advancing, and that seven out of every ten persons interested in financial matters in this country and Europe are now familiar with the merits of "Coppers," when four years ago not one in one thousand had even an intelligent idea of their worth, in my opinion proves the following statement, which was used in all my public utterances:—

"Owing to a peculiar combination of conditions, this great industry, copper, is the only one of all the great staples that has absolutely escaped the march of modern progress—escaped it for fifty years, until to-day it is possible for capital to be invested in this business on a basis that will give to it 100 per cent. net profit on all gross business—a business where the working of a natural law of supply and demand, not the artificial law of arbitrary combination, allows the producer to make his selling price such as will give to him from 100 to 150 per cent. net profit on his entire product."

THE FUTURE OF "COPPERS."

Intending purchasers of "Coppers" for investment or for speculation should first find a correct answer to these questions:—

(1) Will the earnings of "Coppers," at the present price of the metal, allow of larger net returns than can be secured from any other class of stocks?

(2) Can the permanency of production of copper mines be as surely ascertained as the future earning capacity of corporations which are the basis of other stocks, and,

(3) Will the present price of copper, the metal, be maintained? The answer to these three questions will enable one to decide whether "Coppers" are a purchase at present prices. A cursory investigation of "Coppers" will prove that no other class of business will give as large net earnings as are at the present time derived from "Coppers" at the ruling price of the metal.

A careful investigation of the present method of conducting the copper mining business will prove that in no other industry can the future earnings be as surely ascertained for so long a time in the future as "Coppers."

The reason for this is that all good producing copper mining companies first, that is, before beginning to "produce," "block out" for years in advance the copper ore which they afterwards are to "produce," and each year thereafter add to this reserve an amount of ore equal to from 50 to 100 per cent. of their yearly production; in other words, "Coppers," while paying the very large dividends they do pay, set aside each year in the form of blocked-out ore, 50 to 100 per cent. additional dividends.

So consistently has this been practiced, that mines like the Boston & Montana can at any time after their ore has "run out" pay to their stockholders a sum equal to the present selling price of their entire capital stock.

A thorough investigation will prove conclusively that the present price of copper, the metal, is permanent, that is, that it will surely be maintained for years to come, and that it will be maintained through the working of the natural law of supply and demand.

The present selling price of copper, the metal, is about 17 cents per pound. The cost of production is from 5 to 7 cents, yet with this enormous disproportionate net profit, the consumption throughout the world is so rapidly and steadily increasing beyond the possibility of production as to insure for years to come this or any other price which does not actually prohibit the use of this metal.

The only factor that can adversely affect the selling price of copper, the metal, is the discovery of new mines.

Demonstrated facts indicate conclusively that the entire production of all new mines for the coming ten years will probably not equal what has been taken from the old ones in the past three years.

The answers to these questions prove that no purchase of stocks can be made which will be so free from the risk of loss, so sure to pay for the present and for the future such large returns, and consequently so sure to give such large profits as "Coppers." In my opinion, the purchase of good, producing "Coppers" at present prices will give as large, if not larger, returns in the coming two years than have been realized in the past four.

"COPPERS" AS AN INVESTMENT.

In buying "Coppers" for speculation or investment, intending purchasers should, if possible, confine their purchases to the stocks of established, producing mines, for while such stocks are freer from the risk of loss than any other class of stocks, there is no greater risk than that which attends the purchase of the stocks of new copper mines.

No investment in a gold or silver mining stock, the stock of a land company or an industrial based upon patents, is attended with so great a risk, as an investment in the stock of a new copper mine. At least 499 in each 500 of the new copper mines whose stocks are offered for sale publicly are worthless, a large proportion of them being swindles of a most flagrant character, organized and conducted for the sole purpose of selling stock.

The reason for this is self-evident; to mine copper and legitimately conduct a copper mining business at the present time calls for the investment of a very large amount of cash capital. No new copper mining company can begin business, under the necessary modern methods, without the expenditure of at least $1,000,000 to $5,000,000 cash before any dividends can be earned, making it the most uninviting field for small capitalists who intend to conduct the business legitimately, and the most inviting field for schemers whose only purpose is to sell stocks on promises which can never be redeemed.

As an illustration of the difficulty of securing new copper mining properties: "During the past few years it has been necessary for me to closely follow all alleged discoveries of copper mining properties in the United States, Canada and Mexico. Of these there were four hundred and eighty odd which appeared to have sufficient merit to warrant investigation. Of the four hundred and eighty investigated, in only forty odd instances did they have sufficient merit to justify the expenditure necessary for complete investigation by the employment of engineers and mining machinery, and of these forty odd only three met all the requirements necessary for the establishment of a legitimate copper mining business."

E. N. MORISON & COMPANY,
BANKERS,
212 East German St., Baltimore, Md.

BROWN, RILEY & CO.
Bankers and Brokers,
Members Boston and New York Stock Exchanges.
20 Congress St., Boston.

LAWSON, ARNOLD & CO.
Bankers and Brokers,
Members Boston and New York Stock Exchanges,
33 State St., Boston.

FINANCIAL. FINANCIAL.

$4,500,000

Indiana, Illinois & Iowa Railroad Co.

First Mortgage Four Per Cent. Gold Bonds.

DATED JULY 1, 1900. DUE JULY 1, 1950.
INTEREST PAYABLE JULY 1ST AND JANUARY 1ST IN NEW YORK CITY.
Principal and Interest Payable in Gold Coin of the Present Standard of Weight and Fineness.

Amount of present issue - - - - - $4,500,000

ILLINOIS TRUST AND SAVINGS BANK, Chicago, Trustee.

A LETTER OF T. P. SHONTS, ESQ., PRESIDENT OF THE COMPANY, STATES IN PART AS FOLLOWS:

The Indiana, Illinois and Iowa Railroad Co. now owns and operates about 200 miles of road, extending from South Bend, Ind., to a connection with the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad at a point near Illinois Valley and Northern Junction, from which place this Company has trackage rights over the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy to Clinton, Iowa. It also operates under lease the St. Joseph, South Bend and Southern Railroad Co., comprising 39 miles, extending from South Bend to St. Joseph, Mich., where connection is made with the Pere Marquette, making in all 239 miles under operation, with additional trackage rights of 60 miles over the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy. The property of this Company forms a connecting link between the following roads centring in the City of Chicago, thus constituting a short and convenient line for the interchange of traffic.

Eastern Connections:	Southern and Western Connections:
Michigan Central,	Chicago, Indianapolis and Louisville,
Lake Shore and Michigan Southern,	Chicago and Indiana Coal Road,
Wabash,	Illinois Central,
Grand Trunk,	Chicago and Eastern Illinois,
Lake Erie and Western,	Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis,
Baltimore and Ohio,	Wabash,
Pittsburg, Ft Wayne and Chicago,	Chicago and Alton,
New York, Chicago and St. Louis,	Chicago, Burlington and Quincy,
Erie,	Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé,
Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis.	Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific.

The earnings of this Company for the years ending June 30th have been as follows:

	1899.	1900.
Gross Earnings	$902,305	$1,226,150
Net Earnings	$340,210	$468,086
Other Income	1,565	11,753
Total Income	$341,775	$479,839
Taxes and Rentals	51,203	54,750
Applicable to Interest	$290,572	$425,089

The net earnings for four months to October 31, 1900, show an increase of $47,052, or on the basis of about $150,000 net increase for the year. . . . and at the present rate of increase, the Company should show a net profit applicable to interest for the year ending June 30, 1901, of $575,000. The entire interest charges being interest on the bonds you have purchased, will amount to $180,000 per annum.

The Indiana, Illinois and Iowa is now paying regular dividends of 4 per cent. per annum upon its entire capital stock of $5,000,000.

The Company will have in its treasury on February 1st a working capital of approximately $400,000 in cash. The issue is limited to $12,000,000, of which $4,500,000 are now issued and the remainder reserved to be issued only to acquire additional property or for extensions or for improvements under most rigid restrictions in the mortgage. The bonds are secured by a first and only lien upon the entire property of the Company now owned or hereafter acquired. They are dated July 1, 1900, and mature July 1, 1950, principal and interest at 4 per cent. payable in gold, and are not subject to call before maturity.

WE OFFER FOR SUBSCRIPTION THE ABOVE DESCRIBED BONDS AT 97½ AND ACCRUED INTEREST.

INTERIM CERTIFICATES OF THE ILLINOIS TRUST AND SAVINGS BANK, EXCHANGEABLE FOR DEFINITIVE BONDS WHEN READY, WILL BE DELIVERABLE AT OUR OFFICE ON OR ABOUT FEBRUARY 1ST.

SUBSCRIPTION BOOKS WILL BE OPENED ON JANUARY 16TH AT OUR OFFICES AT 10 O'CLOCK A. M., AND CLOSE AT 3 O'CLOCK P. M. OR EARLIER THE SAME DAY.

PAYMENT IS TO BE MADE: 2½ PER CENT. ON ALLOTMENT, AND 95 PER CENT. AND ACCRUED INTEREST ON DELIVERY OF THE INTERIM CERTIFICATES.

THE RIGHT IS RESERVED TO REJECT ANY APPLICATION AND TO ALLOT SMALLER AMOUNTS THAN APPLIED FOR.

Lee, Higginson & Co.,
44 State St., Boston.

Redmond, Kerr & Co.,
41 Wall St., New York.

New York Building-Loan Banking Co.

111 Fifth Avenue, New York.

ELEVENTH ANNUAL REPORT.

January 1, 1901.

ASSETS.		LIABILITIES.
Cash on hand and in Banks	$47,606.85	Liability to Shareholders	$6,678,112.27
Bills Receivable	2,680.36	Maturity Fund	554,168.56
Loans on Bond and Mortgage	4,297,925.80	Cash Payments on Account of Purchases	515.00
Real Estate purchased for Members, secured by Deeds and Leases	3,369,210.58	Due on Loans	26,130.00
Paid on Account of Uncompleted transactions	2,800.00	Dividends and Interest on Mortgages Accrued	66,656.30
Temporary Loans on Shares	46,344.17	Interest Paid in Advance	5,324.70
Furniture and Fixtures	6,841.04	Due for Taxes, Repairs and Insurance, etc.	21,375.90
Interest and Premium in course of collection	51,974.96	Guarantee Fund and Surplus	515,529.89
Taxes, Insurance, Fees for Searches, etc., in course of collection	24,414.13
Agents Debit Balances	4,407.11
Due for Cash Payments on account of purchases	3,060.00
Guarantee Stock Issue Account	11,047.62
	$7,868,312.62		$7,868,312.62

We, the undersigned, certify that the foregoing Statement of the Secretary has been compared with the books and Accounts of the Corporation, and that we find the same correct.
J. HARRIS BALSTON,
JAMES F. DALEY, } Examining Committee.
RICHARD P. MORLE,

Comparative Statement Showing the Growth of the Company.

	Total assets.	Total Earnings.	Guaranty Fund and Surplus.
January 1st, '91	$13,895.10	$1,815.13	$8.01
" '92	267,895.42	35,275.19	24,622.21
" '93	516,001.59	84,646.18	45,328.25
" '94	776,571.48	154,522.47	61,672.56
" '95	1,135,887.28	267,108.78	83,587.46
" '96	1,464,497.70	465,887.11	90,961.96
" '97	2,120,014.42	630,233.05	112,257.26
" '98	3,143,960.93	992,036.80	190,840.90
" '99	4,315,029.61	1,381,187.90	206,473.58
" 1900	6,002,929.36	1,933,199.48	242,303.04
" 1901	7,868,312.62	2,610,871.04	515,529.89

This, the eleventh Annual Report, finds the New York Building-Loan Banking Company with a record of progress which has never been equalled in the history of Building and Loan Associations in this Country. The causes for this are chiefly twofold—first, that its real estate investments are all located at home, in the Metropolitan District of the City of New York, and second, that in the administration of its affairs speculation in Real Estate has never been permitted. Money invested with this Company is reinvested for its members either upon Real Estate located as above, or upon its own stock—a security which it would seem could not be questioned by the most conservative. All its expenses and dividends are paid from profits. Except at maturity, the withdrawal value of its shares is always less than its book value. It is the only company of the kind with an adequate fund, guaranteeing its share obligations to its members. Increase of assets decreases the ratio of expense, and increases the per cent. of profit. It solicits the patronage of the public, and in connection therewith requests the most thorough investigation of its methods and condition. It is under the supervision and reports annually to the State Superintendent of Banks, and is examined by that official at least once a year.
CHARLES R. HALL, President.

Dividends.

OFFICE OF THE
Northern Pacific Railway Company
Mills Building, New York, Dec. 12, 1900.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors, held this day, there was declared from the net earnings of the company a dividend of ONE PER CENT. on the Common Stock of the Company, the same to be paid Feb. 5, 1901, to the stockholders of record at the closing of the transfer books on December 24, 1900.

For the purpose of such dividend, and for the purpose of facilitating the exchange of stock for voting trust certificates, the transfer books of this company will be closed at 3 P. M. on December 24, 1900, and will be reopened at 10 A. M. on January 10, 1901.

NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY,
By GEORGE H. EARL, Secretary.

23 Wall Street.
New York, Dec. 12, 1900.

The transfer books of the Voting Trustees for Common Stock Trust Certificates of the NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY will close in New York and Berlin at 3 P. M. on Dec. 24, 1900.

On Feb. 5, 1901, the Voting Trustees will be prepared to distribute the above dividend of One Per Cent. on the Common Stock of the Company, when received by them, among the parties entitled thereto, as the same appear of record on their books when closed as above.

The Voting Trustees having dissolved the Voting Trust, to take effect January 2d, 1901, the transfer books of the Voting Trustees will not be reopened.

J. P. MORGAN & CO., New York,
DEUTSCHE BANK, Berlin,
Agents for Voting Trustees.

Louisville & Nashville R. R. Co.

The Board of Directors of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Co. this day declared a dividend of TWO AND ONE-HALF (2½) PER CENT., payable on and after February 11th, proximo, to such as shall be registered stockholders of the Company at 3 P. M. on January 28th, 1901.

The stock transfer books will close at 3 P. M. on the 28th inst., and reopen at 10 A. M. on February 11, 1901.

AUGUST BELMONT, Chairman.
New York, Jan. 10, 1901.

THE TRANSFER BOOKS OF THE GENERAL First Mtge. 7 Per Cent. registered bonds of the Columbus & Toledo R. R. Co. will close at the office of J. P. Morgan & Co., N. Y., Monday, Jan. 21, 1901, at 3 o'clock, preparatory to the payment of the semi-annual interest thereon, due Feb. 1, 1901, and will open Feb. 1st, at 10 A. M.
WILLIAM N. COTT, Treasurer.
Columbus, Ohio, Jan. 15, 1901.

Pacific Fire Insurance Company.
NINETY-SEVENTH DIVIDEND.

A semi-annual Dividend of FIVE PER CENT. (5%) is payable on demand at the office of the Company, No. 32 Pine Street, New York.
GEORGE JEREMIAH, Secretary.
New York, January 10, 1901.

Dividends.

National Tube Company.
No. 26 Cortlandt St., New York.
COMMON STOCK DIVIDEND NO. 3.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors, held January 15th, 1901, a quarter-yearly dividend of ONE AND ONE-HALF PER CENT'M, upon the Common Capital Stock of the National Tube Company was declared out of the net profits of the Company, payable February 15th, 1901, at the New York office of the Company, No. 26 Cortlandt St., New York City.

The Common Stock Transfer Books will be closed on Tuesday, January 29th, 1901, at 3 o'clock P. M., and will remain closed until Monday, February 18th, 1901, at 10 o'clock A. M.
A. F. LUKE, Treasurer.

The Trust Company of America.
DIVIDEND NO. 2.

149 Broadway, New York, January 10, 1901.

The Board of Directors of the Trust Co. of America have this day declared a dividend of THREE AND ONE-HALF PER CENT. upon the Capital Stock of the Company, from the net earnings of the Company for the six months ending December 31, 1900, payable January 21, 1901, to stockholders of record on the 17th of January, 1901.

Transfer books will be closed at 3 P. M., January 17, 1901, and reopen 10 A. M. January 22, 1901.
RAYMOND J. CHATRY, Secretary.

DIVIDEND NOTICE.
American Tin Plate Company.

A dividend of Eight (8) Per Cent. has been declared upon the Common Stock of this Company, payable quarterly during 1901. The first quarterly payment of two per cent. (2) will be paid on February 15th, to Stockholders of record at close of business January 25th.

The transfer books will be closed as to the Common Stock from January 20th to February 15th, both days inclusive.
F. S. WHEELER, Treasurer.
New York, January 15th, 1901.

Homestake Mining Company,
MILLS BUILDING, 15 BROAD STREET,
NEW YORK, January 15th, 1901.
DIVIDEND NO. 305.

The regular monthly dividend, TWENTY-FIVE (25) CENTS PER SHARE, has been declared for December, payable at the transfer agency in New York, on the 25th inst. Also EXTRA DIVIDEND (NO. 306) of Twenty-five (25) Cents, payable at the same time and place.

Transfer books close on the 19th inst.
LOUNSBERY & CO., Transfer Agents.

BOND & MORTGAGE GUARANTEE CO.

175 Remsen St., Brooklyn, N. Y., Jan. 14, 1901.

A QUARTERLY DIVIDEND OF TWO AND ONE-HALF PER CENT. has this day been declared by the Board of Directors, payable February 15th, 1901, to the stockholders of record on the closing of the Transfer Books at 3 P. M. on February 7th. The books will be opened at 10 A. M. February 15th, 1901.
MARTIN WELLS, Treasurer.

FINANCIAL.

LOUIS MESIER, Auctioneer,
REGULAR AUCTION SALE OF
STOCKS AND BONDS
By ADRIAN H. MULLER & SON,
WEDNESDAY, JAN. 16TH, 1901,
At 12:30 o'clock, at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway.

BY ORDER OF THE WASHINGTON TRUST CO OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK, SOLE EXECUTOR OF THE ESTATE OF CHARLES H. SCOTT, DEC'D.
$5,000 Ches. & Ohio Ry. Co. 1st Consld. Mtge. 5 p. c. Bds., 1939.
$5,000 St. Louis Southern R. R. 1st Mtge. 4 p. c. Bds., 1931
$5,000 Chic. & Eastern Illinois R. R. 5 p. c. Genl. Consld. & 1st Mtge. Bds., 1937.
$5,000 Wabash R. R. 1st Mtge. 5 p. c. Bds., 1939.
$10,000 Montana Cent. Ry. 6 p. c. 1st Mtge. Bds., 1937.
$5,000 St. Paul, Minn. & Manitoba Ry. Consld. Mtge 6 p. c. Bds., 1933.
$10,000 Mil., Lake Shore & Western Extn. & Impt. 5 p. c. Skg. Fd. Mtge. Bds., 1929.
$5,000 Long Island R. R. Genl. Mtge. 4 p. c. Bds., 1938.
$5,000 Peoria & Eastern R'way 1st Consld. Mtge. 4 p. c. Bds., 1940.
$7,000 Toledo, Peoria & Western Ry. 1st Mtge. 4 p. c. Bds., 1917.
$5,000 Rochester & Pitts. R. R. Consld. 1st Mtge. 6 p. c. Bds., 1922.
$8,000 Tex. & Pac. Ry. 1st Mtge. 5 p. c. Bds., 2000.
$10,000 Chi., Mil. & St. Paul. Ry. (So. Minn. Div.) 1st Mtge. 6 p. c. Bds., 1910.
$4,000 Atch., Topeka & Santa Fé Ry. Genl. Mtge. 4 p. c. Bds., 1995.
$2,000 Atch., Top. & Santa Fé Ry. 4 p. c. Adj. Bds., 1995.
$5,000 Union Pacific R. R. 1st Mtge. R. R. & Land Grant 4 p. c. Bds., 1947.
$3,000 Mil., Lake Shore & Western Ry. 6 p. c. Consld. 1st Mtge Bds., 1921.
$5,000 Mil. & Northern R. R. 1st Mtge. 6 p. c. Bds., 1910.
$5,000 Norfolk & Western R. R. Genl. Mtge. 6 p. c. Bds., 1931.
$5,000 Scioto Valley & New England R. R. 1st Mtge. 4 p. c. Bds., 1989.
$5,000 Cent. Pacific Ry. 4 p. c. 1st Refund. Mtge. Bds., 1949.
$1,000 Chic., Milwaukee & St. Paul R. R. Consld. Mtge. (released from Skg. Fund) 7 p. c. Bd., 1905
$1,000 Mil., Lake Shore & Western Ry. 6 p. c. Income Bd., 1911.
$3,000 Ohio Southern R. R. Gen. Con. Mtge. 4 p. c. Bds., (Trust Co. Certf.)
50 shs. Chi., Mil. & St. Paul Ry. pfd.
25 shs. Union Pacific R. R. pfd.

BY ORDER OF EXECUTORS OF CAROLINE R. GIHON, dec'd.
532 shs. 3d Avenue R. R. Co.

BY ORDER OF EXECUTORS.
15 shs. Importers & Traders' Natl. Bank.
40 shs. Natl. Broadway Bank.
$5,000 United N. J. R. R. & Canal 4 p. c. Bds., 1944.
$2,000 Chicago, St. Paul & Minn. R. R. 1st 6 p. c. Bds., 1918.
100 shs. Merchants' Exchange Natl. Bank.
31 shs. National Citizens' Bank.

BY ORDER OF TRUSTEES.
$1,500 City of New York 6 p. c. Consl. Gold Stock 1901.

BY ORDER OF ADMINISTRATRIX.
$1,000 N. Y. & New Jersey Telephone Genl. Mtge. 5 p. c. Bd., 1020.
$1,000 Coney Island & Brooklyn R. R. 5 p. c. Ctfs of Indebtedness, 1903.
15 shs. N. Y. & New Jersey Telephone Co.

FOR ACCT. OF ALBERT T. OTTO.
480 shs. Chicago Heights Land Association common.

FOR ACCOUNT OF WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.
85 shs. New York, New Haven & Hartford R. R. Co.
90 shs. National Park Bank.
$13,000 United States Flour Milling Co. 1st 6 p. c. Bds., 1938, May, 1900, Coupons on.
60 shs. Dennett Surpassing Coffee Co. common (Hypd.)
20 shs. Natl. Bank of Commerce.
30 shs. Natl. City Bank.
20 shs. Hanover National Bank.
13 shs. Market & Fulton Natl. Bank.
80 shs. Natl. Bank of Commerce.
19 shs. National City Bank.
20 shs. American Cotton Oil Pfd.
$2,000 Edison Electric Illuminating Co. of N. Y. 1st 5 p. c. Bds., 1910.
$2,000 Northern Pacific Terminal 1st 6 p. c. Bds., 1933.
$2,000 Richmond & Danville R. R. Consld. Mtge. 6 p. c. Bds., 1915.
$1,000 Northern Pacific Prior Lien Gold 4 p. c. Bds., 1997.
$5,000 Morgans' Louisiana & Texas R. R. & Steamship Co. 7 p. c. Bds., 1918.
$2,000 Manhattan Beach Hotel & Land Co., Ltd., 1st Mtge. 4 p. c. Bds.
20 shs. Manhattan Beach Hotel & Land Co. Pfd.
20 shs. Natl. City Bank.
20 shs. Natl. Bank of Commerce.
25 shs. Bowling Green Trust Co.
10 shs. Hanover Natl. Bank.
20 shs. National Park Bank.
55 shs. National Broadway Bank.
10 shs. Natl. Bank of Commerce.
50 shs. American Surety Co.
10 shs. Bowling Green Trust Co.
15 shs. Gallatin Natl. Bank.
100 shs. National Citizens' Bank.
88 shs. Importers & Traders' Natl. Bank.
107 shs. Natl. Shoe & Leather Bank.
$3,000 Manhattan Beach Hotel & Land Co. Genl. Mtge. 4 p. c. Bds., 1940.
20 shs. Colonial Trust Co.
25 shs. National City Bank.
5 shs. Importers & Traders' Natl. Bank.
29 shs. Union Trust Co.
50 shs. United N. J. R. R. & Canal Co. Guar.
80 shs. Cleve. & Pittsburgh R. R. Co. Guar.
50 shs. Erie & Pittsburgh R. R. Guar.
6 shs. Lincoln Natl. Bank.
2 shs. New Jersey Zinc Co.
61 shs. Cayuga & Susquehanna R. R.
60 shs. National Bank of Commerce.
30 shs. Atlantic Trust Co.
16⅔ shs. Atlantic Trust Co.
38 shs. Bank of New York, N. B. A.
$10,000 Milwaukee City R. R. 1st Mtge 5 p. c. Gold Bds., 1908.
100 shs. Natl. Bank of Commerce.
25 shs. People's Trust Co.
$2,000 Peru La Salle Gas Light & Power Co. 1st Mtge 6 p. c. Bds., 1928.
6 shs. Peru La Salle Gas Light & Power Co.
100 shs. Inter-State Oil Co.
10 shs. Hanover Natl. Bank.
100 shs. Natl. Bank of Commerce.
20 shs. Bank of America.
25 shs. Merchants' Exchange Natl. Bank.
100 shs. Farmers' Loan & Trust Co.
$10,000 Ohio Mining & Mfg. Co. 5 p. c. Inc. Bds.
10 shs. Natl. Bank of Commerce.
25 shs. Westchester Trust Co.
50 shs. American Surety Co.
400 shs. Mahoning Coal R. R. Co. 5 p. c. Pfd. Guar
10 shs. Gauley Land Co. Prefd.
100 shs. Gauley Land Co. common.
$2,000 Manhattan Beach Hotel & Land Co. 1st Mtge. Bds.
160 shs. Smith-Vassar Telephone Co.
19 shs. North American Trust Co.
20 shs. Natl. Bank of Commerce.
5 shs. Morton Trust Co.
25 shs. Bowling Green Trust Co.
20 shs. Trust Co. of America.

HAIGHT & FREESE CO.,
53 Broadway, N. Y. City.
Branches { 85 State St., Boston, Mass. / 402 Walnut St., Philadelphia, Pa.
Bonds, Stocks, Grain & Cotton bought and sold on commission, either for cash or on moderate margin.
Government & Municipal B

FINANCIAL.

$3,000,000

New York, Ontario and Western Railway Company

5% Sinking Fund First Lien Gold Notes

(Part of an Issue Limited to $3,500,000)

Dated December 1st, 1900, and maturing by Semi-Annual Instalments from 1901 to 1915.

Interest payable semi-annually on June 1st & Dec. 1st in the City of New York.

PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST PAYABLE IN GOLD COIN.

Coupon Notes, in denomination of $1,000, with registration provision.

We offer these First Lien Gold Notes ON A BASIS TO YIELD 4½ PER CENT. INTEREST PER ANNUM, EQUALLING A PRICE OF 103 PER CENT. FOR THE AVERAGE RUNNING PERIOD OF THE NOTES. They are secured by FIRST MORTGAGE upon important coal properties in the Scranton district, recently acquired at a cost of about $6,000,000, and are the direct obligation of the New York, Ontario and Western Railway Company, the net earnings of which for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1900, according to its published statement, amount to more than double its fixed charges, viz.:

NET EARNINGS	$1,548,565.40
INTEREST, RENTALS, AND CHARGES	680,541.08
SURPLUS	$859,024.32

For further details reference is made to a letter from Thomas P. Fowler, Esq., President, and to the mortgage, as well as to the schedule of semi-annual maturities, all of which can be obtained upon application at our office.

The subscription list will be opened at 10 o'clock A. M. on Wednesday, the 16th inst., and will be closed at 3 o'clock P. M. or earlier on the same date, the right being reserved to reject any applications and to award a smaller amount than applied for.

NOTES AWARDED UPON SUBSCRIPTION ARE TO BE PAID FOR ON WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 23D, 1901, WHEN THEY WILL BE READY FOR DELIVERY.

Kuhn, Loeb & Co.,

January 11, 1901. 27 & 29 PINE ST.

REDEMPTION NOTICE NO. 8.

RICHMOND AND DANVILLE RAILROAD COMPANY

EQUIPMENT MORTGAGE BONDS, DATED SEPTEMBER 3, 1889.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that fifty-three (53) Equipment Mortgage Bonds of the Richmond and Danville Railroad Company were this day drawn for the sinking fund, in accordance with the requirements of Article Three of the Trust Mortgage, numbered as follows, viz.:

27	204	302	548	832	1000	1121
81	241	378	550	846	1022	1122
43	274	382	607	885	1037	1184
64	281	437	614	890	1080	1185
141	290	448	651	934	1086	1204
152	310	483	728	948	1103	1238
171	320	490	752	961	1119	1249
178	338	544	758

ALL future interest of any of the bonds so designated ceases with the coupons due March 1st, in accordance with the terms of the mortgage.

CENTRAL TRUST COMPANY OF NEW YORK,
By E. F. HYDE,
2d Vice President.

New York, December 5, 1900.

We, the undersigned, hereby certify that the fifty-three bonds were designated by lot in our presence as above stated.

FRED C. RANDALL,
With Central Trust Company of New York.
R. D. LANKFORD,
With Richmond & Danville R. R. Co.
FRANK B. SMIDT,
(Seal) Notary Public, N. Y. Co.

In accordance with the foregoing certificate, said mentioned bonds, and the coupons thereto maturing March 1, 1901, will be paid at this office on or after the first day of March, 1901, at par.

Central Trust Company of New York,
Trustee.
By E. F. HYDE,
2d Vice President.

BOSTON UNITED GAS BONDS.
FIRST SERIES.

Notice is hereby given that $90,000 is now on deposit with The Mercantile Company to meet the requirements of the Sinking Fund for the year 1900 provided for in the Trust Agreement of January 1st, 1889, and that sealed proposals for the sale of Trust certificates (Boston United Gas Bonds) will be received at the office of the Trust Company, No. 120 Broadway, New York City, on or before 1st day of March, 1901, noon, at a price not exceeding 5% premium and accrued interest.

THE MERCANTILE TRUST COMPANY, Trustee,
By LOUIS FITZGERALD, President.

Dated Jany. 15th, 1901.

WANTED—Position Feb. 1, by active young man, at present cashier of Stock Exchange house. E. H., Box 200 Times.

Meetings and Elections.

THE ANNUAL MEETING OF THE STOCKholders of THE FORTY-SECOND STREET, MANHATTANVILLE AND ST. NICHOLAS AVENUE RAILWAY COMPANY, for the election of thirteen Directors and three Inspectors of Election, and to act upon any other business that may be brought before the meeting, will be held at the office of the Company, Numbers 118 and 120 East Forty-second Street, New York City, on Thursday, January 17th, 1901, at 12 o'clock noon. Polls open from 12 to 1 P. M.

Transfer books of this Company will be closed from 3 P. M. January 2d, 1901, until 10 A. M., January 18th, 1901.

THOMAS A. MAHER, Secretary.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT A MEETING of the stockholders of the McDowell Garment Drafting Machine Company will be held at the office of the Company, No. 6 West 11th Street, in the City of New York, Borough of Manhattan, on the 16th day of January, 1901, at twelve o'clock, noon, for the purpose of electing four Directors for the ensuing year and two Inspectors of Election to serve at the next annual meeting, and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before said meeting.—Dated New York, December 31, 1900.

JAY LEISER, Secretary.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT A MEETing of the stockholders of The Warren Chemical and Manufacturing Company, a domestic corporation, will be held at the office of said company at No. 91 Fulton Street, New York City, Manhattan Borough, on the 23d day of January, 1901, at three o'clock in the afternoon of that day, for the purpose of voting upon a proposition that the said Warren Chemical and Manufacturing Company be forthwith dissolved.

THOMAS M. BRANHARD, Secretary.

New York, Dec. 28, 1900.

The Peoples Gas Light & Coke Co.
(of Chicago.)

The annual meeting of the Stockholders of The Peoples Gas Light & Coke Company will be held at the office of the Company in Chicago, Adams Street and Michigan Avenue, on Monday, February 11th, 1901, at 11 o'clock A. M. The transfer books will be closed, in accordance with the by-laws, at the close of business on Saturday, January 19th, and will reopen Wednesday, February 13th, 1901. C. K. G. BILLINGS, President.

CONSOLIDATED GAS COMPANY OF NEW YORK, 4 Irving Place.—December 31st, 1900.—The Annual Meeting of the stockholders of this Company for the election of the Trustees to serve during the ensuing year will be held at this office Monday, Jan. 21st, 1901. Polls open from 12 M. to 1 P. M. Transfer books will close Saturday, January 5th, at 12 M., and reopen Tuesday, Jan. 22d, 1901.

O. F. ZOLLIKOFFER, Secretary.

THE ANNUAL MEETING OF THE STOCKholders of The Sicilian Asphalt Paving Company for the election of Trustees and Inspectors of Election for the ensuing year, and for such other business as may come before the meeting, will be held at the offices of the Company, Rooms 47 to 50 Times Building, in the City of New York, on Wednesday, the 30th day of January, 1901, at 3:30 P. M.

C. S. CHAMBERLIN, Secretary.

THE ANNUAL MEETING OF THE STOCKholders of the Universal Car Bearing Company of West Virginia will be held at the office of the company, 11 Broadway, New York, on January 29th, 1901, at 3:30 o'clock P. M.

H. G. WEIL, Secretary.

FINANCIAL.

Meetings and Elections.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL R. R. CO.

Public notice is hereby given that a special meeting of the stockholders of the Illinois Central Railroad Company will be held at the Company's Office in Chicago, Illinois, on Saturday, January, 26, 1901, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, for the purpose of acting on these five propositions and transacting such other business as may, in connection therewith, come before the meeting.

FIRST—That in order to provide necessary moneys for the purchase of additional cars and locomotive engines needed for the accommodation of the growing traffic on the Company's lines of railway; the construction of additional second tracks, side tracks, and station and terminal facilities; the reduction of grades; the elimination of grade crossings at different places along said railway lines, and other improvements of a permanent character, some of which purchases, additions and improvements have already been undertaken, and for other corporate purposes, the capital stock of the Illinois Central Railroad Company be increased by an issue of 60,000 new shares of $100 each, from 700,000 shares to 760,000 shares of $100 each, thus making the whole capital stock of the Company $101,000,000.

SECOND—That each shareholder shall have the privilege of subscribing at par on or before March 4, 1901, for one share of such new stock, for every ten shares of stock registered in his name on the transfer books of the Company at the close of business on December 20, 1900, and for fractions of shares in like proportion—payment for the new stock to be made in full at the Company's office in the City of New York, on or before Monday, March 4, 1901.

THIRD—That stockholders entitled to subscribe for fractions of shares shall, upon payment therefor, receive scrip convertible into full-paid stock when presented in sums of $100 or multiples thereof, but such scrip shall not draw dividends.

FOURTH—That the shares, or fractions of shares, of the new issue, if any, not subscribed and paid for on or before March 4, 1901, may be disposed of by the Board of Directors at such price, or prices, not less than par, as may be approved by them.

FIFTH—That the new shares shall be entitled to participate in all dividends which may be declared payable after March 4, 1901.

For the purposes of this meeting, the stock transfer books will be closed at 3 P. M. on Thursday, December 20, 1900, and remain closed until the morning of Monday, January 7, 1901.

By order of the Board of Directors.

A. G. HACKSTAFF, Secretary.

November 21, 1900.

Frankfort American Insurance Company.
100 William Street.
New York City, January 16, 1901.

The annual meeting of the Stockholders of the Frankfort American Insurance Company will be held at its office, No. 100 William Street, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on the 30th day of January, 1901, at three o'clock P. M., for the purpose of electing Directors for the ensuing year and Inspectors of Election to serve at the next annual meeting, and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before such meeting. The polls will remain open one hour.

Transfer books will be closed from January 16th, 1901, to January 30th, 1901.

GORDON MACDONALD, Secretary.

Irving National Bank.
New York, January 15th, 1901.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of this Bank, held January 8th, 1901, the following-named gentlemen were elected Directors:

Charles F. Mattlage,	Charles Reed,
John W. Castree,	John W. Nix,
Charles H. Fancher,	Henry Kroger,
William H. B. Totten,	Daniel P. Morse,
Samuel B. Downes,	William H. Barnard,
	William C. Demorest.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors, held this day, Mr. Charles H. Fancher was re-elected President, Mr. Charles F. Mattlage was re-elected Vice President, and Mr. John W. Castree was re-elected Second Vice President, all unanimously. J. DENNISON, Cashier.

The Fourth National Bank
of the City of New York.
New York, January 10, 1901.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of this Bank, held January 8th, 1901, the following-named gentlemen were unanimously re-elected Directors:

J. Edward Simmons,	Robert W. Stuart,
Cornelius N. Bliss,	Richard T. Wilson,
Charles Stewart Smith,	William S. Opdyke,
	James G. Cannon.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors held this day, Mr. J. Edward Simmons was unanimously re-elected President, and Mr. James G. Cannon was unanimously re-elected Vice President. CHARLES H. PATTERSON, Cashier.

MOBILE & OHIO RAILROAD COMPANY.

The Annual Meetings of the registered holders of the General Mortgage Bonds of the Mobile & Ohio Railroad Company, pursuant to the General Mortgage of May 15, 1888, and of the holders of the Preferred Income and Sinking Fund Debentures of said Company, pursuant to the Deed of Trust of May 1, 1879, will be held at the office of the Company, No. 11 Pine Street, in the City of New York, on Wednesday, February 6, 1901, at 12 o'clock noon and 2 o'clock P. M., respectively. The Voting Register of the said General Mortgage Bonds and the Transfer Books of the said Debentures will close at 3 o'clock P. M. on Wednesday, January 30, 1901, and reopen on Thursday, February 21, 1901.

HY. TACON, Secretary.

Mobile, Ala., January 14, 1901.

The Bank of New York National Banking Association.
New York, Jan. 15, 1901.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors, held this day, Mr. Herbert L. Griggs was unanimously elected a Director to fill a vacancy.

Subsequently Mr. Herbert L. Griggs was unanimously elected President, and Mr. John L. Riker was unanimously re-elected Vice President. CHAS. OLNEY, Cashier.

Copartnership Notices.

MR. EDWARD MORRISON AND MR. JOHN HENRY TOWNSEND (member of the New York Stock Exchange) have been this day admitted to partnership in our firm, and Mr. C. Schumacher, Jr., retires to devote himself to the stock brokerage business on his own account.

C. SCHUMACHER & CO.

New York, Jan. 11th, 1901.

THOMPSON & MAIRS,
1 Broadway.

We beg to announce that Mr. PHILIP CURTIS has been admitted to membership in our firm from this date. THOMPSON & MAIRS.

N. Y., Jan. 15, 1901.

THE FIRM OF SCHWARTZ & ROSENBERG of 340 Stanton Street has this day been dissolved by mutual consent.

N. Y., January 15th, 1901.

MRS. TONY SCHWARTZ,
JACOB ROSENBERG.

THE FIRM OF STERN & LEBENSTEIN HAS this day dissolved by mutual consent. Both will sign in liquidation.—Jan. 2d, 1901. GUSTAV STERN, JACOB LEBENSTEIN.

CRUDE RUBBER COMBINATION.

Referring to rumors about the International Crude Rubber Company, William M. Ivins of the law firm of Ivins, Kidder & Melcher said yesterday:

"The International Crude Rubber Company was organized by my firm under instructions from clients, for the purpose of harmonizing large manufacturing and importing interests, and to secure such economies in the purchase and shipment of rubber in large bulk from the Amazon under the most favorable conditions as to price and charges. I understand that negotiations are in progress for securing concessions from one of the Amazon States, which I visited some time ago in the same behalf.

"Permanent Directors of the company have not yet been elected or determined on, but the company will be under the control of leading consumers and importers. I do not know when it will be prepared to go actively into business, but understand that it will be done as soon as all preliminary contracts are secured."

BULLION AND MINING.

Silver bullion certificates were quoted on the Stock Exchange at 64½@65½. There were no sales.

Bar silver was quoted in London at 29⅛d per ounce, and in New York at 63¼c. Mexican silver dollars at 49⅞c.

On the Consolidated Exchange 200 shares of Alice sold at .48, 500 Anaconda Gold at .43, 200 Consolidated California and Virginia at 1.95, 1,000 Cripple Creek Consolidated at .12, 500 Golden Fleece at .25, 400 Isabella at .15, seller 10; 100 Small Hopes at .75, and 80 Standard at 4.20.

NEW CORPORATIONS.

Shingling Clamp Company of Buffalo; capital, $1,000. Directors—R. B. Cox, M. Kimball, and G. M. Wendell, Buffalo.

Standard Commission Company of Buffalo; capital, $20,000. Directors—E. S. Npte, J. L. Bement, and B. M. Cheater, Buffalo.

Fowler Stamping Company of New York City; capital, $60,000. Directors—F. W. Fowler, C. C. Pearsall, and S. H. Giblet, Brooklyn.

Jermyn Manufacturing Company of Rochester; capital, $10,000. Directors—Henry Jermyn, O. E. Upton, and W. I. Gordon, Rochester.

Gloversville Plumbing and Heating Company; capital, $50,000. Directors—Frank Curtin, James Curtin, and M. D. Hebert, Gloversville.

American Cigar Company of New York City; capital, $1,000. Directors—A. H. Hamel, S. A. Hamel, and M. S. Hamburger, New York City.

Babbitt-Richards Company of Clayville; capital, $10,000. Directors—J. L. Babbitt, Whitesborough, and E. F. Richards and B. G. Babbitt, Clayville.

Excelsior Ring Packing Company of Brooklyn; capital, $5,000. Directors—A. S. Neuberger, Herman Schurckart, and W. E. Werner, New York City.

Century Manufacturing Company of Mechanicsville; capital, $10,000. Directors—N. Packer, William J. Howland, and William R. Mosher, Mechanicsville.

Schwarzenbach Brewing Company of Hornellsville; capital, $100,000. Directors—Herman Schwarzenbach, Germania, and J. E. Schwarzenbach and Roland Schwarzenbach, Hornellsville.

Pan-American Railroad and Steamship Advertising Company of Buffalo; capital, $4,000. Directors—N. S. Hallett, A. B. Striker, and F. T. McDonald, Buffalo.

The Empire State Idaho Mining and Development Company, with its principal business office in New York City, has filed a certificate of increase of capital stock from $1,000,000 to $6,000,000.

THE FINANCIAL MARKETS

Stocks weak.

STOCK TRANSACTIONS.

	Shares.
Jan. 15	1,136,717
To date this year	17,074,181
Corresponding date last year	6,046,753

BOND TRANSACTIONS.

Jan. 15	$2,258,000
To date this year	$39,623,450
Corresponding date last year	$19,987,100

Money rate: Collateral loans on call, 2½@3 per cent.; at three months, 4¼ per cent.; at six months, 4½ per cent. Commercial paper, sixty to ninety days, 4@4½ per cent.

***

Net changes in stocks of one-half of 1 per cent. or more were:

Stocks Advanced.

Am. Smelt. & R. pf..	⅝	Nat. Tube	⅝
Am. Tin Plate pf	1½	Pacific Mail	1
Con. Tobacco	1	Pers Marquette	1½
Erie	1⅝	Pressed Steel Car	⅞
Erie 1st pf	⅞	St. J. & G. I.	⅝
Erie 2d pf	½	St. L. & S. F.	1¼
Kan. & Mich	5	St. L. & S. F. 2d pf.	⅝
Knick. Ice, Chi	1	Tenn. Coal & Iron..	⅝
Manhattan	2	Wells-F. Exp	1
Met. W. S. El., Chi.	1	Wis. Central	1⅝
Minn. & St. L. pf..	⅝

Stocks Declined.

Am. Car & Fdy	⅝	Hocking Valley	½
Am. C. & F. pf	⅝	Hock. Val. pf	⅛
Am. Cotton Oil	½	Illinois Central	⅝
Am. Express	3	Int. Paper pf	1
Am. Malt pf	1½	Int. Silver	⅝
Am. Steel Hoop	1⅜	Iowa Central	⅝
Am. Steel & Wire..	⅝	Kan. City. So. pf..	⅝
Am. S. & W. pf	1¼	Lehigh Val.	⅝
Am. Sugar Ref	3½	Met. Street Ry	1⅝
Am. Sug. Ref. pf	⅝	Met. W. S. El., Chi., pf	8⅝
Am. Tin Plate	2½	National Biscuit	1
Am. Tobacco	1½	Nat. Salt pf	1¾
Am. Woolen	1½	Nat. Steel	⅝
Balt. & Ohio	⅝	N. J. Central	1
Canada South	½	N. Y. Central	1¼
Canadian Pacific	2¾	Norf. & West	⅝
Ches. & Ohio	½	Northern Pacific	1
Chi., Bur. & Q	1⅝	Penn. R. R.	1½
Chi. G. W., deb	½	People's Gas	½
Chi. Ind. & L.	1	Peoria & East	½
Chi., I. & L. pf	⅝	Reading	1
Chi., M. & St. P.	1½	Reading 2d pf	½
Chi., R. I. & Pac.	⅝	Rep. Steel	⅝
Chi. Term. Trans.	1	Rep. Steel pf	⅝
Chi. Term. Tr. pf	1½	St. J. & G. I. 2d pf.	⅝
C., C., C. & St. L.	⅝	St. L. & W.	⅝
C., C., C. & St. L. pf.	⅝	St. L. & W. pf	⅝
Col. Fuel & Iron	1½	Southern Pac.	½
Col. F. & I. pf	½	Southern Railway	⅝
Col. So. 1st pf	⅝	Southern Railway pf.	⅝
Col. & H. C. & I.	⅝	Southern Railway 5s	⅝
Consol. Gas	½	Union Pacific	⅝
Cont. Tobacco pf	½	U. S. Leather	⅝
Del. & Hudson	8¼	U. S. Leather pf	1½
Del., L. & W.	2	U. S. Rubber pf	1½
Den. & Rio Grande..	½	Wabash pf	⅝
Federal Steel	4½	West. Union Tel	⅛
Federal Steel pf	1½	W. & L. E. 1st pf	1
General Electric	2½

***

Net changes in bond quotations of 1 per cent. or more were:

Bonds Advanced.

B., C. R. & N. 1st	1½	Dul. & Iron R. 1st	2
Chi. & Alt. ref. 3s	1	East. Tenn. r. i.	2
Chi., I. & L. ref. 6s	2	Kan. & Mich. 4s	2
C., M. & St. P., H. & D. 5s	3½	N. Y., N. H. & H. deb. ctfs. 4s	1½
Chi. & N. W. con. 7s	2¼

Bonds Declined.

Am. Sp. Mfg. 6s	2
Brooklyn City 1st	1½

MARKET MOVEMENT.

Bear traders became more aggressive in the stock market yesterday than on any day since election, and by concerted raids in a number of specialties, notably the steel group, succeeded in causing some sharp declines and in producing an appearance of weakness in the rest of the market, though they did not succeed in forcing any liquidation. Of news developments influencing to the lower prices there was none. On the contrary, all the news of the day was considered good. There was a sharp decline in sterling exchange, removing in large measure the probability of gold exports in the immediate future; a number of stocks in the steel group declared dividends, that of Tin Plate being unexpectedly favorable; the admission of new interests into Lehigh Valley disclosed further the growing policy of community of interest among the coal roads, Erie and Jersey Central officials being admitted to the Lehigh board; while evidence of the prosperity of the railroads of the country—borne out by the increased dividends last week on Louisville and Nashville, and Delaware and Hudson—was presented in the first declaration, 2 per cent. on the common stock of Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburg.

But as a matter of fact no attention whatever was given to these developments. Instead, the bears put out a variety of unfavorable rumors calculated to depress market values, one of them, which broke Federal Steel 7 points and naturally affected the rest of the market, being to the effect that the Directors of the company at their meeting in the late afternoon purposed to take no action on the common stock dividend. Actual developments showed a 5 per cent. dividend declared.

It was a noticeable fact that there was good buying on the decline, particularly in the railroad stocks, and there were evidences that some of the larger interests on the bull side were encouraging the short selling.

Call money fell as low as 2½ per cent. during the day.

In the coal stocks the Eries were the feature, showing good strength on buying both for London and for home account. A meeting of the Directors of the company is to be held to-morrow, and there is expectation in some quarters that a semi-annual dividend of 2 per cent. is then to be declared. This view, however, is not encouraged by officials of the company.

The Readings were bought on the semi-official assurance of an increased dividend at the forthcoming meeting, while the same buying that has held Ontario and Western strong was again in evidence. The Ontario property is now the only independent coal road, but the belief is that it will soon be "taken into the fold," though on what basis is only a matter of conjecture.

***

There was absolutely no news to explain the movements in the general railway group. Prices fluctuated irregularly, inclining lower, because of the persistent bear pressure. Banking interests, however, continued as buyers. In Missouri Pacific and Texas Pacific Rockefeller brokers appeared from time to time as purchasers.

***

The decline in Sugar Trust stock was on the report that President Havemeyer is shortly to leave for an extended trip, and preliminary to his departure was disposing of some of his stock. Inasmuch as Mr. Havemeyer will not discuss the matter, there is no means of learning whether or not there is any truth in the report. Boston was a heavy seller of the stock.

***

It was announced definitely in Wall Street yesterday that the much-discussed meeting of Nickel Plate Directors will be held in this city to-morrow. It is now said to be not likely that the second preferred stock will receive a dividend of more than 3 per cent.

***

Local railway shares moved irregularly, but toward the close Manhattan advanced sharply, under the stimulus of good buying. A meeting of the Executive Committee of the company was held during the day, but at its conclusion it was announced that no business of public interest had been transacted.

***

Northern Pacific's decline was on the face of a statement of earnings showing for the first week of January earnings of $464,690, an increase of $34,700, as compared with the same week a year ago.

***

A decline of one-fourth of 1 cent in sterling exchange yesterday rather took Wall Street by surprise, and even foreign exchange authorities declared some astonishment at the drop. The decline is said practically to remove all probability of gold exports in the immediate future, and it is understood that several bankers who were figuring on shipments have stopped all negotiations.

***

Pension payments continue on a fairly large scale at the Sub-Treasury, and to a great extent they are responsible for the gain of about $3,000,000 made by the banks this week from the Sub-Treasury. At the same time, the banks continue to receive large shipments from the interior, and there is every indication that the bank statement on Saturday will show another very large increase in cash holdings.

***

London bought about 40,000 shares on balance yesterday, taking fairly large blocks of the Readings, Eries, and Ontario and Western. Private cables from London were to the effect that advices from New York told of still further developments to come in the coal-trade combination.

BANK OF NEW YORK PRESIDENT.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Bank of New York yesterday, Herbert L. Griggs was elected President to succeed the late Ebenezer S. Mason. Mr. Griggs was for many years a partner in the banking house of Baring, Magoun & Co., and will assume his new duties at once.

It is understood that all negotiations are off looking to the purchase of a majority of the stock of the bank for control, the talk at the time being that the bank might be merged with the Western National.

WALL STREET TOPICS.

Shipments of 507,000 ounces of silver to Europe by to-day's steamer.

Reports from Philadelphia that if the plan of reorganization of the Pennsylvania Steel Company is adopted, the directors will declare a 6 per cent. stock dividend to the common stock holders, to be taken from Treasury stock now being used by the company for working capital.

Increase of $3,359,865 in exports of general merchandise for the week as compared with the previous week, and increase of $704,795 as compared with the corresponding week last year.

Declaration of the first dividend on Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburg common stock since the reorganization of the company some years ago.

According to dispatches from Boston it is understood there that because of internal differences the organization of the International Crude Rubber Company has been abandoned.

Increase of ½ per cent. to 2½ per cent. in the quarterly dividend of the Bond and Mortgage Guarantee Company.

Appointment of a committee from representatives of the various banks of Montreal to make arrangements for the establishment of a clearing house in that city.

MONEY AND EXCHANGE.

Money on call, 2¼@3 per cent., closing at 2½ per cent.

Time money, 4 per cent. for thirty days, 4@4½ per cent. for longer periods. Mercantile paper, 4@4½ per cent. for sixty to ninety days' indorsements, 4½@5 per cent. for choice four to six months' single names, and 5½@6 per cent. for others.

Clearing House statement: Exchanges, $353,302,533; balances, $12,260,467; Sub-Treasury debit balance, $2,070,998.

Money on call in London, 2½@3 per cent. Rate of discount in the open market, 4 3-16 per cent. for short and 4⅛@4¼ per cent. for three months' bills.

Foreign exchange was easier. Nominal rates were $4.84 for sixty days and $4.88 for demand. Rates for actual business closed as follows: Sixty days, $4.83⅝; demand, $4.87@$4.87½; cables, $4.88; commercial bills, $4.82½@$4.83.

Continental exchange was quoted as follows: Francs, 5.18¾ and 5.15 less 1-16@5.15⅝; reichsmarks, 94 9-16 and 95 3-16, and guilders, 40⅛ and 40⅜.

Exchange on New York at domestic centres: Chicago—5c premium. Boston—Par. New Orleans—Commercial, 25c discount; bank, par. San Francisco—Sight, 15c premium; telegraphic, 17½c premium. Charleston—Buying, par; selling, 1-10c premium. Savannah—Buying, ⅛c discount; selling, par. Cincinnati—Between banks, 14⅛@15c premium; over the counter, 50c premium.

THE LONDON MARKET.

LONDON, Jan. 15.—Money was in fair demand, plentiful, and easy to-day. Discounts were steady. Much caution was manifested, owing to the uncertainty of the outlook.

On the Stock Exchange operators were more confident, though there was a degree of nervousness over the settlement. Consols were firm on the cessation of sales for money in connection with the settlement. Home rails were in good demand, operators being on the tiptoe of expectation regarding dividends.

Americans opened weak and below parity. There was considerable profit taking. Afterward they advanced, the facilities for carrying over not being withdrawn, as predicted. Later they were easier, closing dull.

Foreigners had a better tone, on Paris advices and the possibility of a new Japanese loan for military works being discussed. Kafirs improved on vigorous bidding on the report of the surrender of Cape rebels. West Australians were better, except London and Globes, which were dull owing to fears about the position of the corporation. West Africans boomed.

Consols for money, 97 1-16; consols for the account, 97 3-16; Atchison, 47; Canadian, 92; St. Paul, 154½; Illinois Central, 135; Louisville, 91⅝; Union Pacific preferred, 86; New York Central, 149; Erie, 36¼; Pennsylvania, 76½; Reading, 17⅝; Erie first preferred, 63½; Northern Pacific preferred, 89; Grand Trunk, 7⅝; Anaconda, 9⅝; Rand Mines, 37⅝.

Bar silver steady at 29⅛d per ounce.

Money, 2½@3 per cent. Rate of discount in the open market for short bills, 4⅛@4 3-16 per cent., and for three months' bills, 4⅛@4¼ per cent.

Spanish 4s, 71½.

The amount of bullion withdrawn from the Bank of England on balance to-day was £50,000. Gold premiums are quoted as follows: Buenos Ayres, 132.30; Madrid, 34.55; Lisbon, 39; Rome, 5.62½.

American eagles are quoted in the open market at 76s 5d.

In Continental Centres.

PARIS, Jan. 15.—Prices were firm on the Bourse to-day, being favorably impressed by the China news and stimulated by the Government's success in the Chamber of Deputies yesterday. Internationals were in great favor. Spanish 4s were in strong request on the rumor of the convenio being definitely abandoned. Brazilians advanced sharply on improved exchange. Rio Tintos were firm. Kafirs advanced on English buying.

Three per cent. rentes, 101f. 97½c. for the account. Exchange on London, 25f. 11½c. for checks.

Spanish 4s closed at 72.07½.

BERLIN, Jan. 15.—On the Boerse to-day prices were firm. Home funds were in good demand, and internationals were harder, especially Spanish 4s, on Paris advices. Americans and Canadian Pacifics were easier. Banks were maintained. Austrian credits weakened on Vienna sales. Mines advanced on bear covering.

Exchange on London, 20 marks 46 pfenigs for checks. Discount rates: Short bills, 3 per cent.; three months' bills, 3⅝ per cent.

MADRID, Jan. 15.—Spanish 4s closed today at 77.90. The gold quotation was 34.65.

SECURITIES AT AUCTION.

Richard V. Harnett & Co. sold at auction yesterday at the Real Estate Auction Rooms, 111 Broadway, the following securities:

By order of executor of William H. H. Childs.
425 sharse Bon Ami Company, $100 each, 17½ per cent.

By order of Frederick J. Stimson, Trustee.
£616 Deferred stock United State Trust and Guarantee Corporation, Limited, (hypothecated,) $225 for lot.

EXPORTS OF MERCHANDISE.

The exports of merchandise from the Port of New York for the week were valued at $12,393,284, against $9,033,419 in the preceding week and $11,588,487 in the same week last year. Since Jan. 1 the exports of merchandise amounted to $20,425,786, against $24,662,380 last year.

FINANCIAL ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Details will be found in another column of dividends declared by the National Tube Company, American Tin Plate Company, Homestake Mining Company, and Bond and Mortgage Guarantee Company.

BREAK IN STEEL STOCKS

Weakness in Face of Three Companies' Favorable Dividends.

Tin Plate and Federal Steel Drop Sharply Under Bear Pressure—Former Company Elects Officers.

In the face of favorable dividend action on the part of the Directors of three companies in the so-called steel group—American Tin Plate, Federal Steel, and National Tube—Wall Street was yesterday treated to the sight of decided weakness in the entire steel group, with especial heaviness in two of the issues in which the most favorable developments were announced.

In Tin Plate, for example, the Directors met during the day and declared a dividend of 8 per cent. on the stock—a full 3 per cent. more than had been expected—while at the same time an excellent statement of earnings was submitted. Yet, notwithstanding this, the stock, selling at 6 when the dividend announcement was made, broke sharply to 60⅝, closing only fractionally better, a net loss for the day of 2¼ points on trading in 38,000 shares.

More striking even was the course of Federal Steel Dividend action on the stock was to be taken after the close of the market, but some time ago there had been given official assurance that a lump dividend of 5 per cent. for the past year was certain to be declared, and it was intimated also that action might be taken looking to the establishing of the stock on a regular quarterly dividend basis, but in spite of this assurance, the bears in the market put out a story to the effect that no 5 per cent. dividend would be declared, but merely that a quarterly dividend of 1¼ per cent. would be made. Thereupon, aided by concerted bear pressure, the stock broke sharply from a high figure of 56⅜ to 49. In the final trading, however, a rally appeared, the stock closing at 51½, a net loss, however, of 4⅞ points on trading in 105,800 shares. Subsequently it developed that the full 5 per cent. dividend had been declared, as had been promised, though, so far as could be learned, nothing was done in respect to the action understood to be contemplated looking to the amendment of the charter of the company so that quarterly dividends might hereafter be declared.

This heaviness, credited almost entirely to bear raids by the so-called "Waldorf clique," resulted in sympathetic weakness in all the other stocks in the group, except Tennessee Coal and National Tube, the Directors of which latter company declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1¼ per cent., advancing it fractionally, while in a measure the weakness in the steel stocks tended temporarily to demoralize the entire market. The largest declines in the other steel shares were: Colorado Fuel, 1½; American Steel and Wire, ⅝; National Steel, 1, and Republic Iron and Steel, ⅝.

***

The Federal Steel meeting, which was held at the offices of the company, 71 Broadway, lasted somewhat more than half an hour. At its conclusion the only announcement made was that the 5 per cent. dividend had been declared on the common stock for the year 1900, payable Feb. 20, books closing Jan. 28. All information as to what dividend policy would be pursued for 1901 was refused, while no statement of earnings was given out. In relation to a report that $10,000,000 was expended for new plants nothing could be learned. The Directors, in short, refused to discuss the business of the company in any way whatsoever.

***

At the Tin Plate meeting, held in Orange, N. J., George Greer, Cecil A. Robinson, and Warner M. Leeds were elected Directors for five years. The board organized at once and elected the following officers: President—D. G. Reid; First Vice President—W. T. Graham; Second Vice President—Warner Arms; Third Vice President—W. M. Leeds; Treasurer—F. S. Wheeler; Secretary and Assistant Treasurer—E. G. Applegate; Assistant Secretary and Second Assistant Treasurer—H. B. Wheeler.

After declaring the dividend of 8 per cent. on the common stock the company issued the following statement, showing the general balance sheet of the company as of Dec. 31:

ASSETS.

	1900.	Increase.
Plants, patents, &c.	$43,494,161	$89,653
Securities purchased in the year	1,127,801	1,127,801
Other securities	375,000	375,000
Merchandise	4,851,544	*100,382
Assets receivable	1,468,193	*50,054
Cash	3,367,246	2,377,262
Total	$54,683,945	$3,819,280

LIABILITIES.

Preferred stock	$18,325,000	.....
Common stock	28,000,000	.....
Total	$46,325,000
Purchase money mortgage	195,000	*$75,000
Accounts payable	946,424	*707,815
Surplus	7,215,521	4,602,095
Total	$54,683,945	$3,819,280

*Decrease.

The net cash assets, after paying dividends on the preferred stock and all other charges, Dec. 31, 1900, were $10,049,360. Net cash assets, after paying dividends on the preferred stocks and all other charges Dec. 31, 1899, were $5,471,663. Increase in net cash assets during the fiscal year ended Dec. 31, 1900, $4,574,667, equal to 16 1-3 per cent. on the common stock. After the meeting of the stockholders the Board of Directors met and charged off $1,500,000 for depreciation.

MINING STOCK QUOTATIONS.

Special to The New York Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 15.—The official closing quotations for mining stocks to-day and yesterday were as follows:

	Tuesday.	Monday.
Alta	.04	.06
Alpha Con.	.03	.05
Andes	.08	.09
Belcher	.14	.19
Best & Belcher	.23	.25
Bullion	.02	.04
Caledonia	.18	.20

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE.

Complete Transactions in Stocks—Tuesday, Jan. 15, 1901.

—Closing.— Bid	Asked.	Sales.		First.	High.	Low.	Last.	Net Change.
90¾	91	6,050	Amalgamated Copper..	90¾	91½	90¼	90¾	+ ¼
20⅞	21	1,950	Am. Car & Found. Co.	21⅝	21⅞	20⅝	20⅞	+ ⅛
68¾	70	915	Am. C. & F. Co. pf....	70	70½	68¾	70	+ ⅝
29½	30	600	American Cotton Oil..	30	30	29½	29½	+ ½
179	180	225	American Express	180	180	177	177	— 3
39	40	1,800	American Ice Co.....	39	39½	38½	39	— ¼
6¾	6⅞	310	American Linseed Co..	7	7	6⅝	6⅝	— ⅛
35⅜	36	400	Am. Linseed Co. pf...	35⅞	36	35⅞	36	+ ¼
25½	26½	100	Am. Malting Co. pf...	26	26	26	26	— 1½
64¾	64½	23,162	Am. Smelt. & Ref. Co.	64½	65½	62¾	64¼	+ ⅜
99	99½	4,720	Am. S. & R. Co. pf....	99	100	98¾	100¼	+ ⅝
29	29¼	6,300	Am. Steel Hoop Co....	29¼	31¾	28¾	28¾	— ⅛
75½	76½	370	Am. Steel Hoop Co. pf.	76	76	76	76	+ ¼
40⅝	40¾	22,610	American Steel & Wire	41	43⅛	39	40¾	+ ¾
85¾	86¼	986	Am. Steel & Wire pf..	86¾	87	85¾	86¾	+ ¼
133⅜	135⅝	76,880	Am. Sugar Ref. Co....	136⅝	137	133	133⅝	— 3¼
118	118¾	714	Am. Sug. Ref. Co. pf.	118	118	118	118	— ¾
608	615	38,500	American Tin Plate..	65	65¼	60⅝	60¾	— 2½
90⅝	91½	942	Am. Tin Plate pf.....	91½	91⅝	91½	91⅝	— 1½
114½	114⅞	16,570	Am. Tobacco ex div..	114	115⅜	114	114⅜	— 1½
17	18	1,370	American Woolen	18⅜	18⅜	17½	17½	— 1¼
46¾	47	400	Anaconda Cop. M. Co.	47	47⅜	47	47	.....
45⅝	45¾	9,400	At., T. & S. F.....	46⅜	46⅝	45¾	45¾	— ⅜
85⅞	85½	8,820	At., T. & S. F. pf....	85¾	86	85⅜	85½	.....
91¼	91⅝	12,600	Baltimore & Ohio....	92¾	92⅝	91⅜	91⅜	— ⅝
90¾	91	1,150	Baltimore & Ohio pf..	90	90¼	90	90¼	.....
84½	84¾	22,482	Brooklyn Rapid Tran..	85⅛	85⅞	84½	84⅝	+ ¼
10	10	100	Brunswick City	9⅝	9⅝	9⅝	9⅝	— ⅛
57	57½	100	Canada Southern.....	57¼	57¼	57¼	57¼	— ¼
89	90	400	Canadian Pacific	89¼	89¼	89	89	— 2¾
39⅞	40	3,800	Chesapeake & Ohio...	40¼	40⅜	39⅝	39⅝	— ⅛
32¾	33⅛	5,050	Chicago & Alton	33¼	33½	32¾	32¾	— ⅝
75	75½	1,812	Chicago & Alton pf....	75¼	75⅝	75¼	75⅛	— ⅜
142⅝	142¾	22,815	Chi., Bur. & Quincy....	144	144⅞	142½	142⅝	— 1½
94¾	95¼	200	Chicago & Eastern Ill.	95	95	95	95	.....
174	175	6,300	Chicago Great West...	173½	180¼	173½	174½	.....
70½	70¾	200	Chi. Ind. & Louisv. pf	70⅝	70⅝	70⅝	70⅝	— ⅛
44½	44½	100	Chi Gr. West. pf. B..	44¾	44¾	44¾	44¾	+ ¼
92	92⅝	800	Chi. Gr. West., deb...	92	92⅝	92	92	— ⅛
25	25½	400	Chi., Ind. & Louis....	26	26	25	25	— 1
60	60½	500	Chi., Ind. & Louis. pf.	60¾	60¾	60¼	60¼	— ⅝
149¾	149⅝	51,829	Chi., Mil. & St. Paul..	151	151⅞	149⅝	149⅝	— 1½
173	174	50	Chicago & Northw....	174½	174½	174½	174½	.....
123	123⅛	6,102	Chi., R. I. & Pac.....	124	124¼	120	121	— ¾
11	12	340	Chi. Term. Trans.....	12¾	12¾	11¼	11¾	— 1
35½	35	450	Chi. Term. Trans. pf.	35⅝	35⅝	35½	35½	— ½
70	80	3,500	C., C., C. & St. Louis	80	81	79	79	— 1½
118	119	209	C. C. C. & St. L. pf..	118¾	118¾	118¾	118¾	— ¼
48¾	49¾	4,000	Colorado Fuel & Iron..	51¼	51¾	49½	49⅞	— 1½
119	121	100	Col. Fuel & Iron pf...	120½	120½	120½	120½	— ½
7⅞	7¾	500	Colorado Southern	8	8	7⅞	8	— ⅛
42	43	120	Col. Southern 1st pf...	42¼	42¼	42¼	42¼	— ¾
14	14½	200	Col. & H. C. & Iron...	15⅜	15⅜	14½	14⅝	— ⅜
192½	193	430	Consolidated Gas	193	193	192½	192½	— ½
44½	44¾	35,410	Con. Tobacco Co.....	44	45	43¾	44¾	+ 1
94½	95	850	Con. Tobacco Co. pf..	95	95	95	95	— ¼
23⅝	23¾	2,550	Delaware & Hudson....	154	155	152¾	152¾	— ¾
194	195	300	Del., Lack. & West....	195	195	195	195	— 2
31⅜	32	425	Denver & R. G.....	32¼	32⅜	31½	31½	— ½
.....	.....	100	Dul., S. S. & At. pf...	135	135	135	135	.....
39⅝	39⅞	124,550	Erie	39⅝	39⅞	39⅝	39⅝	+ ⅛
67½	67¾	45,753	Erie 1st pf	67⅝	68¼	66¾	67½	+ ⅜
44⅜	45	3,000	Erie 2d pf	44⅝	45¼	44	45	+ ½
51¾	51⅝	105,380	Federal Steel	56	56¾	49	51¼	— 4
73⅝	73¾	2,725	Federal Steel pf.....	76	76	74	74	— 1¾
189½	190	800	General Electric.....	190	190	189	189	— 2½
48	49	50	Glucose Sugar Ref....	47¾	47¾	47¾	47¾	.....
96	97	153	Glucose Sug. Ref. pf..	97¼	97¼	97¼	97½	.....
194¾	196	414	Great Northern pf....	195	196	194¾	194¾	— ¼
45	45¼	2,000	Hocking Valley	45¼	45⅝	44½	44½	— ¾
70¾	71¼	1,150	Hocking Valley pf....	72	72¼	71	71⅛	— ⅝
130½	131	350	Illinois Central	131½	131⅝	130¾	130¾	— ¼
22¾	23	200	International Paper ..	23⅝	23⅝	22½	22½	— ¾
71¼	71½	2,855	Internat. Paper pf....	72	72	71	71½	— ¼
37	37½	200	Internat. Power Co....	37½	37½	37	37	— ½
81	90	160	Ingernational Silver..	81	81	80	80	— 1
76½	76¾	300	Int. Steam Pump pf....	76¾	76¾	76	76	+ ¼
23¾	24	130	Iowa Central	24	24	24	24	— ½
50½	51	200	Iowa Central pf.....	50⅝	50⅝	50½	50½	.....
26⅞	27¼	5,457	Kanawha & Michigan..	28	28	28	28	+ ½
145	148	100	Kansas City Southern..	145¾	145¾	145	145¾	— ¾
38	38½	600	Kansas City South. pf.	38¾	38¾	38	38	— ⅝
6	6½	250	Keokuk & D. M.....	6	6	6	6	.....
20	22	200	Keokuk & D. M. pf....	20	20	20	20	.....
16	16	100	Kinterbocker Ice.....	16	16	16	16	+ 1
111	112	10	Lake Erie & West. pf..	112¾	112¾	112¾	112¾	.....
88⅞	89	9,253	Louisville & Nashville	89¼	89¾	88¾	89	— ⅜
121	121⅜	44,225	Manhattnn Elevated...	119¾	121⅝	119	121¼	+ 2
166	166⅞	3,620	Met. Street Railway..	168¾	168¾	166½	166½	— 1⅝
.....	.....	1,935	Met. St. Ry., rights..	1	1⅛	⅞	⅞	.....
27	28	100	Met. W. S. El., Chi...	28	28	28	28	+ 1
70½	70	120	Met. W. S. El., Chi., pf.	70½	70½	70½	70½	— ⅜
142	145	400	Mexican Central	142	144½	142	144½	+ ½
69½	70	1,000	Minn. & St. Louis.....	70	70⅝	70	70	— ¼
106	108	100	Minn. & St. L. pf.....	107¾	107¾	107¾	107¾	— ¼
165	167	2,400	Mo., Kan. & Texas....	167	167⅝	165	165	— 1
47¾	48¼	7,350	Mo., Kan. & Texas pf..	47¾	48⅝	47¾	48	+ ¼
84¾	84⅞	12,775	Missouri Pacific.....	85	86	84⅜	85	+ ⅛
46	47	100	Mobile & Ohio.....	47	47	47	47	— 1
38½	39½	430	National Biscuit Co...	40	40	39	39	— 1
92	95½	428	Nat. Biscuit Co. pf..	94	94	94	94	+ ½
85½	87	230	Nat. Lead Co. pf.....	85⅞	86	85¾	86	.....
44⅝	45⅜	2,500	National Salt Co.....	45⅜	45⅝	44⅝	45⅛	+ ⅛
73	74	100	Nat. Salt Co. pf.....	73½	73½	73½	73½	— ¼
40⅝	41¼	14,280	National Steel Co.....	42	42	40½	41	— ¼
92	92⅜	150	Nat. Steel Co. pf.....	92	92	92	92	+ ⅛
56	56½	12,800	National Tube Co.....	57	57⅜	55⅝	56	+ ¾
99	99⅝	640	National Tube Co. pf..	99¼	99½	99	99¼	+ ¼
155	156	100	New Jersey Central ..	156	156	156	156	— 1
143	143¾	7,575	New York Central	144	144	142¾	143½	— 1¼
22	22¼	100	N. Y., Chi. & St. L....	22½	22½	22½	22½	.....
53	54	120	N. Y., C. & S. L. 2d pf.	53	53	53	53	.....
155	157	14	N. Y., Lack. & West..	154½	154½	154½	154½	.....
210	213	61	N. Y., N. H. & H.....	213	213	212	212	— ¾
32⅝	32¾	20,200	N. Y., Ont. & Western.	33¼	33¾	32⅝	32⅝	— ⅝
45¾	45¾	6,100	Norfolk & Western....	45⅝	45⅞	45	45¼	— ⅜
203½	204	3,250	North American	204	204½	203	203½	— ⅞
82⅞	83	15,885	Northern Pacific	82⅞	83	82¾	82¾	— ⅛
86⅞	86¾	2,750	Northern Pacific pf...	86¼	86½	86⅛	86⅛	— ⅝
42	42¼	100	Pacific Mail	42	42	42	42	+ 1
148⅝	148¾	16,800	Pennsylvania R. R....	149	149⅝	147¾	148⅝	— 1¼
101½	101⅝	12,870	People's Gas, Chicago.	102¾	102⅝	101¼	101⅜	— ½
16	17	250	Peoria & Eastern.....	16	16	16	16	— ½
35½	36	200	Père Marquette.....	35	36	35	35	+ 1
43¾	44	2,450	Pressed Steel Car.....	43½	44¼	43	43⅞	+ ⅞
79½	82	362	Pressed Steel Car pf..	80	80	80	80	.....
198	199¾	100	Pullman Company	199	200	199	200	.....
33¾	33¾	26,290	Reading	34⅜	34¾	33	33¾	— 1
72½	73	6,100	Reading 1st pf	73¼	73¼	72	72¾	— ⅛
43¾	44	6,470	Reading 2d pf	44½	45	43⅜	44	— ⅛
14¼	14⅜	5,794	Republic Iron & Steel.	15	15⅛	14¼	14¼	— ⅛
59	60	830	Rep. Iron & Steel pf..	61	61	59⅞	59⅞	— ⅛
8	8⅜	100	St. J. & G. I.	8⅜	8⅜	8⅜	8⅜	— ⅛
20	21	100	St. J. & G. I. 2d pf...	20½	20½	20½	20½	— ⅛
27¼	27½	9,000	St. L. & San Fran....	26	27⅜	25¾	27	+ 1¼
80	82	200	St. L. & S. F. 1st pf..	79½	80	79½	80	.....
57¾	57⅞	4,800	St. L. & S. F. 2d pf..	57	57¾	56⅝	57½	+ ⅜
22	22½	1,300	St. Louis Southw.....	23	23	22	22	— ½
50¾	51	11,300	St. Louis Southw. pf..	51½	51¾	50¾	50¾	— ⅜
20	21	140	Sloss-Sh. S. & I. Co....	22⅜	22⅜	22⅛	22⅛	+ ⅛
42¾	42⅞	17,650	Southern Pacific.....	42⅝	42⅞	42¾	42	— ⅝
20½	20¾	4,200	Southern Railway	21	21	20½	20½	— ¾
71⅝	71¾	2,100	Southern Railway pf..	72⅛	72⅛	71¾	71½	— ¾
53¾	54	4,027	Tenn. Coal & Iron....	55	55¾	54	55¾	+ ⅝
26⅝	26⅞	5,300	Texas Pacific	27	27¼	26½	26⅝	— ⅛
121½	122	800	Third Avenue	122¾	123	121¾	121¾	— ⅝
15⅞	16⅛	200	Un'n Bag & Paper Co.	16½	16½	15⅝	15⅝	— ⅜
71	71½	100	Union B. & P. Co. pf.	71	71	71	71	.....
84½	84⅝	68,550	Union Pacific	85⅜	86	84¼	84½	— ⅛
83½	83⅝	3,785	Union Pacific pf.....	84¼	84¾	83½	83½	— ⅝
58½	58⅝	150	United States Express	58	58	58	58	— ¼
123⅝	125	7,850	United States Leather.	127⅝	127⅝	123⅝	124½	— ¼
73¾	74¼	1,300	U. S. Leather pf.....	74⅝	74⅝	73	73½	— 1⅛
21½	21⅝	3,000	United States Rubber.	21¼	21⅞	21	21½	+ ⅛
60	60¼	1,700	U. S. Rubber pf., x d.	61¼	61½	59⅝	60	— 1½
11¾	12¾	1,000	Wabash	12⅝	12⅝	12	12	— ⅜
26¼	26⅝	3,800	Wabash pf	26½	26⅞	26	26¼	— ⅜
135	140	125	Wells-Fargo Express..	137	137	137	137	+ 1
85⅝	85¾	3,200	Western Union Tel....	85¾	85⅞	85¼	85⅜	— 1
12	12⅜	940	Wheeling & Lake Erie.	12⅜	12⅝	11⅞	12	— ⅛
55	55⅜	875	Wheel. & L. E. 1st pf.	55⅜	55⅞	54½	55¼	— 1
28½	29	1,220	Wheel. & L. E. 2d pf.	28⅝	29	28⅝	28¾	+ ¼
.....	.....	1,570	Wisconsin Central	13⅝	13⅞	13⅜	13⅜	+ ⅛
.....	.....	3,000	Wisconsin Central pf..	39¾	41	39¾	39⅝	— ⅛

Sales..... 1,136,717

BID AND ASKED QUOTATIONS.

The following were the closing quotations for Government bonds and for stocks in which there were no transactions:

	Bid.	Asked.		Bid.	Asked.
2s, reg. 1930	105¼	106¾	Ev. & T. H. 42½	43½
2s, c. 1930	105¾	106¾	Ev. & T. H.
5s, reg. 1918	109½	110½	pf..... 80	85
5s, c. 1918	110	111	Homestaks.. 78	80
5s, reg. 1908	101	101	Hud. R.
4s, reg. 1907	114	114½	Joliet & Chi. 175
4s, c. 1907	111	111½	Kinc. & P.
4s, reg. 1925			K. I., C., pf. 47	50
ex int.....	130½	137	Lacl. Gas.... 70	73
4s, c. 1925	137½	138	Lacl. Gas pf.. 99	100
2s, reg. 1930			Lake Shore..230	250
ex int.....	103½	111½	Long Island. 67	70
2s, c. 1901	111½	112½	Mah. C. R..195	...
3s, reg. 1908	125	...	Man. Beach. 12	15
			Mo. Coal pf. 70	80
			Mex. N. pfs. 4	4¼
Adams Exp. 145	148		Mich. Cent..106	...
Alb. & Sus. 195	...		M., St. P. &
Alle. & Ken. 120	...		S. S. M.... 19	20
Am. Coal..170	200		M., St. P. &
A. C. Co. pf. 88	90		S. S. M. pf. 53	55
A. L. Co. pf. 68	70		Mor. & Es..192	195
A. M. Co. pfs. 4	5		Nat. Lead.... 16½	17¼
Am. Tob. pf....			N. Cent. C.... 35	40
ex div.....	143		N. Y. A. B..154	160
Am. W.	71		N. Y. Ch. &
Am. W. pf.	29	29¾	St. L. 1st pf. 105	108
Ann Ar. pf. 50	58		N. & W. pf. 83	84½
B. A. L. pf. 108	...		N. & W. 2d pf. 25	35
B. Un. Gas. 177	180		Ont. Mining. 8	8¼
B. R. & P. 83	85		Pac. Coast.... 57½	59
B. R. & P.			P. C. 1st pf. 91	94
pf..... 121	130		P. C. 2d pf. 66½	68
B. C.			Peo. Coal.. 840	850
C. N. 125	130		Pere M. pf.. 72	75
C. & E. Ill.			P. C., C. &
pf..... 119½	122		St. L..... 57	60½
C. M. & St.			P. C., C. &
P. pf..... 188	190½		St. L. pf.. 87	89
C. St. P. M.			P. Ft. W. &
& O.... 135	140		C..... 190	...
C. St. P. M.			P. Ft. W. &
& O. pf.. 180	190		C. pf..... 188	...
C., L. & W. 27	28		Rens. & Sar. 201	...
C., L. & W.			R., W. & O. 135	...
pf..... 68	70		Rio Gr. W.. 85	...
Cleve. & P. 186	...		R. G. W. pf. 92	95
C. S. 2d pf.. 165	174		St. J. & G. I.
Com. Cable.. 165	...		1st pf..... 61	62
Consol. Coal. 58	...		St. L. ctfs. 64½	65½
D. & R. G.			Sixth Av.... 200	225
pf..... 83¾	83½		Sloss-S. pf.... 67½	68
D., M. & Ft.			S. R. & T.. 4½	5
D..... 18½	19½		T., St. L. &
D., M. & Ft.			T., P. & W. 8½	9
D. pf..... 115	125		T. C. R. T.. 67½	69
Eighth Av.. 375	425

RAILROAD EARNINGS.

	1901.	1900.	1899.
CHICAGO TERMINAL TRANSFER—
Mileage	103	94	94
1st week Jan.....	$25,777	$23,347	.....
From July 1.....	740,822	643,449	.....
GRAND TRUNK SYSTEM—
Mileage	3,707	3,707	3,707
1st week Jan.....	501,040	466,284	.....
KANSAS CITY, FORT SCOTT & MEMPHIS—
Mileage	973	973	973
1st week Jan.....	112,195	85,622	72,153
KANSAS CITY, MEMPHIS & BIRMINGHAM—
Mileage	276	276	276
1st week Jan.....	38,25.	28,067	26,053
PERE MARQUETTE—
Mileage	1,766	1,766	1,766
1st week Jan.....	130,757	117,251	109,820

BID AND ASKED QUOTATIONS.

The following were the closing quotations for Government bonds and for stocks in which there were no transactions:

	Bid.	Asked.		Bid.	Asked.
2s, reg. 1930	105¼	106¾	Ev. & T. H.	42½	43½
2s, c. 1930	105¾	106¾	Ev. & T. H.
5s, reg. 1918	109½	110½	pf.....	80	85
5s, c. 1918	110	111	Homestaks..	78	80
5s, reg. 1908	101	101	Hud. R.
4s, reg. 1907	114	114½	Joliet & Chi.	175
4s, c. 1907	111	111½	Kinc. & P.
4s, reg. 1925			K. I., C., pf.	47	50
ex int.....	130½	137	Lacl. Gas....	70	73
4s, c. 1925	137½	138	Lacl. Gas pf..	99	100
2s, reg. 1930			Lake Shore..	230	250
ex int.....	103½	111½	Long Island.	67	70
2s, c. 1901	111½	112½	Mah. C. R..	195	...
3s, reg. 1908	125	...	Man. Beach.	12	15
			Mo. Coal pf.	70	80
			Mex. N. pfs.	4	4¼
Adams Exp.	145	148	Mich. Cent..	106	...
Alb. & Sus.	195	...	M., St. P. &
Alle. & Ken.	120	...	S. S. M....	19	20
Am. Coal..	170	200	M., St. P. &
A. C. Co. pf.	88	90	S. S. M. pf.	53	55
A. L. Co. pf.	68	70	Mor. & Es..	192	195
A. M. Co. pfs.	4	5	Nat. Lead....	16½	17¼
Am. Tob. pf....			N. Cent. C....	35	40
ex div.....	143		N. Y. A. B..	154	160
Am. W.	71		N. Y. Ch. &
Am. W. pf.	29	29¾	St. L. 1st pf.	105	108
Ann Ar. pf.	50	58	N. & W. pf.	83	84½
B. A. L. pf.	108	...	N. & W. 2d pf.	25	35
B. Un. Gas.	177	180	Ont. Mining.	8	8¼
B. R. & P.	83	85	Pac. Coast....	57½	59
B. R. & P.			P. C. 1st pf.	91	94
pf.....	121	130	P. C. 2d pf.	66½	68
B. C.			Peo. Coal..	840	850
C. N.	125	130	Pere M. pf..	72	75
C. & E. Ill.			P. C., C. &
pf.....	119½	122	St. L.....	57	60½
C. M. & St.			P. C., C. &
P. pf.....	188	190½	St. L. pf..	87	89
C. St. P. M.			P. Ft. W. &
& O....	135	140	C.....	190	...
C. St. P. M.			P. Ft. W. &
& O. pf..	180	190	C. pf.....	188	...
C., L. & W.	27	28	Rens. & Sar.	201	...
C., L. & W.			R., W. & O.	135	...
pf.....	68	70	Rio Gr. W..	85	...
Cleve. & P.	186	...	R. G. W. pf.	92	95
C. S. 2d pf..	165	174	St. J. & G. I.
Com. Cable..	165	...	1st pf.....	61	62
Consol. Coal.	58	...	St. L. ctfs.	64½	65½
D. & R. G.			Sixth Av....	200	225
pf.....	83¾	83½	Sloss-S. pf....	67½	68
D., M. & Ft.			S. R. & T..	4½	5
D.....	18½	19½	T., St. L. &
D., M. & Ft.			T., P. & W.	8½	9
D. pf.....	115	125	T. C. R. T..	67½	69
Eighth Av..	375	425

CONSOLIDATED EXCHANGE SALES.

Stocks.

Sales.		First.	High.	Low.	Close.
100	Amal. Copper...	90¾	91¾	90½	91¼
20	Am. Cotton Oil..	29⅝	29⅝	29⅜	29⅝
41,520	Am. Steel & W..	41¼	43⅝	38¾	40
68,970	Am. Sugar Ref..	136⅜	136⅝	133	133½
1,950	Am. Tin Plate..	64⅜	65¼	61½	61¾
100	Am. Tin Plate pf.	65	65	65	65
1,210	A., T. & S. F. pf.	85¾	86	85¼	85½
130	Balt. & Ohio...	92	92½	91¼	91¾
42,730	Brook. Rap. Tr..	85½	86	84¼	84¾
5,460	C., R. I. & Q....	144⅜	144⅝	142	142¾
30	Chi. Gt. West..	17⅞	17⅞	17½	17¼
10,280	C., M. & St. P..	151	151¼	149¾	149¾
880	C., R. I. & Pac..	124¼	125¼	123¼	123¾
3,340	Cont. Tobacco..	44	45¼	43⅝	44½
26,170	Erie.....	39½	40	39	39½
9,640	Erie 1st pf....	67¼	68¾	66¾	67⅛
47,820	Federal Steel..	56¾	56¾	49	51
10	Federal Steel pf.	75½	75½	75½	75½
380	Louis. & Nash..	89⅝	89⅝	89⅝	89⅝
8,310	Manhattan.....	119¾	121¼	119¼	121
6,770	Mo. Pacific....	85¼	85¾	84¼	85
1,900	N. Y., O. & W..	33⅝	33⅝	32¾	32¾
250	Nor. & West..	46	46	46	46
2,340	Nor. Pacific....	83¼	83½	82	82¾
40	Pennsylvania..	148⅝	148⅝	148	148
4,390	People's Gas....	102½	102⅝	101¾	101¾
1,580	Reading.....	34½	34½	33½	33½
650	Read. 1st pf....	74¼	74¼	73¾	73¾
100	Rep. Iron & Steel.	14¾	14¾	14¾	14¾
2,330	Southern Pac....	43	43	42	42
350	Southern Ry....	21¾	21¾	20⅝	20⅝
20	Southern Ry. pf.	71⅜	71⅜	71⅜	71⅜
2,050	Tenn. Coal & I..	55¼	55¾	54	55½
350	Texas Pacific...	27¼	27¼	26½	26½
9,580	Union Pacific...	85⅞	86	84⅜	84⅜
10	Union Pac. pf..	85¾	85¾	85¾	85¾
1,490	U. S. Leather...	12⅞	12⅞	12⅜	12⅜
140	U. S. Rubber...	21¼	22	21¼	21½
240	Wabash pf....	26⅞	26⅞	26⅜	26⅜
100	West. Union....	85¾	85¾	85½	85½
392,890

Bonds.

Sales.		First.	High.	Low.	Close.
$10,000	Wis. Cent. 4s...	86	86	86	86

THE MERCHANTS' ASSOCIATION.

Is Not In Politics, President's Annual Report Says—Directors Elected.

William F. King, President of the Merchants' Association, presided at the annual meeting of that body, held yesterday afternoon.

President King presented his annual report, in which he calls particular attention to the Ramapo and other investigations made by the association, and declares that the association is not in politics, has no candidate for office, and does not purpose to indorse any candidate for office.

The following Directors were elected to serve until 1904: William F. King, John C. Eames, Second Vice President of the H. B. Claflin Company; William E. Tefft of Tefft, Weller & Co.; Gustav H. Schwab of the North German Lloyd Steamship Company, and James B. Dill of Dill, Bomeisler & Baldwin.

The officers of the Real Estate at Auction.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

Bryan L. Kennelly, Auctr

BRYAN L. KENNELLY & CO.
WILL SELL AT AUCTION

Tuesday, January 29, 1901,

At 12 o'clock Noon, at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, 111 Broadway, New York City.

Absolute Trustee's Sale of 43 Parcels,

By order of James S. Herrman, Esq., trustee of the Estate of Philip Herrman, Deceased.

320 West 14th Street,

4-story and basement brick and brownstone trimmed single flat; well rented; size of lot, 21.8½x103.11½.

321 and 323 West 14th St.,

Two 4-story and basement brick and brownstone single flats; size of each, 25x103.11½ and 25x103.

333 West 14th Street,

4-story and basement brick and stone single flat; size of lot, 25x125.6½.

336 and 338 West 14th St.,

Two 4-story and basement brick and stone private dwellings, with extensions, well rented; size of each, 15x103.3.

340 West 14th Street,

4-story brownstone private dwelling, with extension; size of lot, 19.11x103.3.

405 and 407 West 14th St.,

Two 4-story and basement brick buildings, with extension; used for business and apartments; size of lots, 25x120 each.

404 and 406 West 15th St.,

Two 4-story and basement brick double tenements, size of lots, 25x86.6 each.

425 and 427 West 17th St.,

Two 4-story brick double tenements, with stores; size of lots, 25x92 each.

531 and 533 East 134th St.,

Two 5-story brick and stone double tenements, with stores; size of lots, 21.11x100 and 25x100.

South Side 135th St.,

225.01 Feet East Lincoln Av.
Two Choice Lots, 25x100 each.

HOBOKEN, N. J.

26 CHOICE LOTS,

TO BE SOLD SEPARATELY.

Situated on 13th and 14th Streets, Park and Willow Avenues. Comprising entire block.

RICHARD T. GREENE, Esq., Attorney for Trustee, 41 Park Row, New York City.

Maps and further particulars at office of Attorneys, or with Auctioneers, Kennelly Building, 7 Pine St., New York City.

L. J. PHILLIPS & CO.,

AUCTIONEERS,
WILL SELL AT PUBLIC AUCTION,
ABSOLUTE SALE,
To close the estate of Simon Bing, Jr.,

TUESDAY, JAN. 22d, 1901,

At 12 o'clock noon, at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, N. Y. City.

268 Rivington, Cor. Columbia St.,

4-story tenement, with stores; lot 25x70. Also

243 & 245 W. 29TH ST.,

2 four-story flats, with rear buildings; 56x98.2. At 12 o'clock non, at the New York Real Estate RING, Att'y, 257 B'way, or Auct'rs, 158 B'way, N. Y. City.

City Real Estate for Sale.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

$5,000 Cash and $4,500

mortgage will buy a beautiful Home and grounds; also a large variety of fruit trees. For further particulars address GEO. W. CAMPBELL, 122 West 103d St., or call between 9 A. M. and 9 P. M.

Corner plot on Manhattan Av

100.11 on the avenue by 145 ft. on e street. Terms to suit the buyer. For further particulars apply to GEO. W. CAMPBELL, 122 West 103d St. from 9 A. M. to 9 P. M.

FOR SALE.

A very superior new 20-foot five-story American basement house at

NO. 312 WEST 107TH STREET.

Has large and handsome reception room and cover hall, passenger elevator all the way up; three bathrooms and refrigerator built in. Is on the highest ground of the upper west side, close to Riverside, in a most quiet, select, and convenient location. Just the house for an invalid.

PRICE ONLY $36,000.

Three-quarters may remain at 4½ %.
Owner and Builder,
CHARLES BUEK, No. 109 West 42d Street.

FOR SALE.

We are offering the following bargains in private houses:

In Eighties, a 20-foot brownstone house, suitable for altering, can be bought under	$50,000
In 120 St., white stone Am. basement dwelling; owner anxious to sell under..	100,000
In Seventies, nr. Mad. Av., 2 houses adjoining; grand site for extra wide house.	70,000
Full width house in Sixties, near 5th Av., belongs to an estate, about.....	105,000
In East 54th St., 20 feet.....	65,000
In Murray Hill, old house to alter.....	55,000
On Madison Av., 20 feet.....	42,500

Call or write for further particulars and permits.
S. OSGOOD PELL & CO.,
542 5th Av., S. W. cor. 45th St.

FOR SALE,
4 AND 5 STORY BUILDINGS,
ON WEST 53D ST., NEAR 8TH AV.,
53 FEET FRONT, WELL ADAPTED
FOR LIGHT MANUFACTURING,
LAUNDRY OR OTHER PURPOSES.
GOOD CONDITION.
CARRIAGE LIFT; DRIVEWAY.
ASHFORTH & CO., 1,509 BROADWAY.

Best and safest investment, on account of death in the family will sell at reasonable price, best built, well located flat property, paying handsome percentage on equity; will stand closest examination. Particulars of H. Bernhardt, Room 12, 108, 110 East 125th St.

Handsome high-stoop brown-stone residence on West 78th St., near West End Av., 18.9x60x102.2; first-class in every respect; $10,000 equity; principals only; no postal cards. Address Owner, 184 5th St., Jersey City, N. J.

A medium four-story basement dwelling, 21st St., between 5th and 6th Avs.; excellent for residence or investment; price, $27,000. S. B. GOODALE & SON, 6 West 24th St. Fifth Avenue Hotel.

Avenue C, near 12th St.—5-story store and tenement, free and clear; will sell at sacrifice or would trade. H. RAPP, 156 Broadway.

Exchange lot 25x100, Westchester Av., near Prospect Av.; also 2 brick flats, 148th St., near Willis Av., 6 rooms, bath. OWNER, 2,899 3d Av.

Lots; Bronx bargains; Tremont, Woodycrest, Aqueduct Avs., Fordham Road; cheap Woodlawn corner. George Purvis, 156 Broadway.

Madison Av., corner, below 42d St.; size 75x100; best site in the city for an apartment hotel. J. EDGAR LEAYCRAFT & CO., 1,507 Broadway.

Bargain; handsome private dwelling, East 50th St., near 2d Av.; little cash needed. George Purvis, 156 Broadway.

Big Bargain.—203 East 100th St., 5-story tenement, with stores; must sell; owner going abroad.

Choice corner lot on Grand Av., University Heights, two blocks from Jerome. TREU, 790 Amsterdam Av.

For Sale.—27-foot apartment house, Morningside Av., paying 14 per cent. EDWARD LARNER, 314 Mott Av.

Jerome Av.—34 lots to close an estate, cheap; must be sold. THORN COMPANY, Fordham.

Builders.—Lot 20x92; good tenement location; $13,000. Duross, 242 West 14th St.

Lost and Found.

BANKBOOK NO. 469,335 OF THE BOWERY Savings Bank is missing. The finder is requested to return it to the Bank. If not restored before the 18th day of January, 1901, application will be made to the Bank for a new Book.

BANKBOOK NO. 408,244 OF THE EMIGRANT Industrial Savings Bank; payment stopped. Please return book to bank, 51 Chambers St.

Real Estate.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

THE LAWYERS' TITLE INSURANCE COMPANY

OF NEW YORK,

37 and 39 Liberty Street,
44 1-2 and 46 Maiden Lane.

Always has money to loan on Bond and Mortgage at current rates of interest and moderate charges. Prompt action on good applications.

Real Estate for Exchange.

$60,000 EQUITY IN THREE FINE

Apartment Houses; will trade for west side Lots or free and clear Country Place. Send full particulars to GEO. W. CAMPBELL, 122 West 103d st., or call between 9 A. M. and 9 P. M.

$15,000 FREE AND CLEAR LOT;

what can you offer in exchange for same? Send full particulars to GEO. W. CAMPBELL, 122 West 103d st., or call between 9 A. M. and 9 P. M.

$40,000 EQUITY IN A PIECE OF

manufacturing Property, leased to one tenant, who does all repairs and pays the Croton water rent; what can you offer in exchange for the same? Send full particulars to GEO. W. CAMPBELL, 122 West 103d st., or call between 9 A.M. and 9 P.M.

$40,000 FREE AND CLEAR COR-

ner Plot, on Park av., 100x80; what can you offer in exchange? Send full particulars to GEO. W. CAMPBELL, 122 West 103d st., or call between 9 A. M. and 9 P. M.

$22,000 EQUITY IN FINE FLAT

House, situated on 106th st., Central Park West; will trade for free and clear Country Place. Send full particulars to GEO. W. CAMPBELL, 122 West 103d st., or call between 9 A. M. and 9 P. M.

$250,000 FREE AND CLEAR

Apartment Houses; what can you offer in exchange for same? Send full particulars to GEO. W. CAMPBELL, 122 West 103d St., or call between 9 A. M. and 9 P. M.

$40,000 EQUITY IN FINE STORE

Property, near 28th St. and 6th Av.; will trade for private House and cash. For further particulars address GEO. W. CAMPBELL, 122 West 103d St., or call between 9 A. M. and 9 P. M.

$20,000 EQUITY IN FINE FLAT

House; will trade for free and clear private house; send full particulars. GEO. W. CAMPBELL, 122 West 103d St., or call between 9 A. M. and 9 P. M.

HAVE 3 GOOD PAYING INCOME PROPERties, Manhattan and Brooklyn; will trade for Long Island farm only; my equity is $15,000. Write all particulars, brokers invited, OWNER, Box V116 New York Times.

Brooklyn Real Estate for Sale.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

Call on Henry C. Vail, at the office of the late Henry W. Sherrill, 13 Willoughby Street, Brooklyn, for large, handsome house, overlooking Prospect Park South, with all its magnificent improvements; corner plot, 50x100.

Cheapest in Brooklyn; $3,300; easy terms; 722 Sackett St., near 5th Av. (Park Slope;) 2-story and basement; brick; 9 rooms; all improvements; decorated; cozy home; sacrifice. DEWSNAP, 150 Nassau St., Manhattan.

Mortgage Loans.

New York and Brooklyn Property.
DIOSSY & CO., 5 COURT SQ., B'KLYN.
FAILMEZGER, 1,030 Gates Av., Brooklyn.

Several plots, fine lots, fronting on trolley in Jamaica, $60 to $125; street graded; fine cement sidewalks, electric lights; $5 down, $1 per week; Title Guarantee policy free. Edwards, 1,258 Broadway, Brooklyn.

$3,300 BUYS (DURING JANUARY ONLY) NEW 8-room detached house, Vanderveer Park, worth $4,000; take advantage owner's necessity; terms easy. PARIS, Park Row Building.

$3,000, only $300 down, balance payments to suit, buys two-story brick dwelling, 25th Ward, near L and trolleys. Ketcham Bros., 1,565 Broadway.

Westchester Real Estate for Sale.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

SPLENDID HOME IN NEW ROCHELLE.—Fine stable; house all improvements; lot 75x325. Easy terms, $7,500. Apply to CHAS. H. NOXON, lawyer, 21 Park Row, 25th floor. Tel. 3631 Cortlandt.

Staten Island Property.

COMMERCIAL WATER FRONTS, FACTORY property, houses, with large grounds, worth $75,000, free and clear; exchange for city property. D. CORNELL, Stapleton, S. I.

New Jersey Property for Sale.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

$17.00 A LOT.

Adjoining Lakewood, N. J., the famous health and Winter resort, we offer plots containing five lots, $85.00. Small weekly payments. Particulars and tickets to visit the property, Sunday, January 20th, from R. HALLEY & CO., 2 East 125th St., N. Y.

TENAFLY!—$4,000 buys good modern house; large rooms and attic; wide porch; grounds 100 x140; station 10 minutes' easy walk. H. WEATHERBY & CO., Englewood, N. J.

Country Real Estate for Sale.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

For Sale—Handsome house in Residence Park, New Rochelle; nine rooms and bath; complete order; unfurnished; $5,000, one-third cash. Apply R. GRAU, 22 Meadow Lane, New Rochelle.

At New Paltz, N. Y., adjoining college grounds, beautiful location; near depots; large house, 24 rooms, bath, closets, &c. J. COCHRANE, 2 West 125th St.

Farms and village property for sale and rent; cozy homes from $1,200 to $2,500; farm, $100 per acre and upward. Charles H. Seabury, Hempstead, N. Y.

All country real estate a specialty; bargains and exchanges, all directions. Phillips & Wells, Tribune Building.

Real Estate Wanted.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

If you want a quick sale of your property or are about to be foreclosed, send description and lowest price. BUYER, Box 201, Times.

Lawyers.

Accidents, damages obtained, lawsuits defended, defamation, contracts, collections. ED. W. BRENEN, counsellor, 171 Broadway; consultation free.

WALDRON'S DETECTIVE BUREAU, 271 Broadway.—Expert detective services; lawyer with bureau; advice free. Telephone, 2144 Cortlandt.

Clothing.

Highest prices paid for ladies', gentlemen's, and children's fine discarded Clothing, Jewelry, Furs, Bric-a-Brac, Furniture, Carpets. Mme. Mo of Mrs. NAFTAL, 744 6th Av.

To Let for Business Purposes.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

TO LEASE,

NEW STORE AND LOFT BUILDING, NO. 5 WEST 14TH STREET.—Fine basement, extra large and light store, with gallery; light lofts; steam heat, electric light and power, freight elevator. Whole or part.
CHARLES BUEK, Owner, 109 West 42d St.

ST. ANN BUILDING,

3 & 5 West 18th St.,
1 door from 5th Av.
SECOND LOFT.
Modern Fireproof building, with all conveniences.
Passenger & Freight Elevators.
WARREN & SKILLIN, 96 Broadway.

UNION SQUARE NORTH,
ADJOINING BROADWAY.
LOFT 184 FEET DEEP.
Building has
entrances on two streets.
Inquire at 31 East 17th St., or
J. EDGAR LEACRAFT & CO., B'way, cor. 44th.

Attractive, up-to-date three-story buildings, adjoining 3d Av., 206-208 East 56th St.; 35x100; finely lighted all sides; open plumbing; extra large elevator; suitable storage, automobile and wine warehouse, bottler, factory, express, stable, laundry, builder, undertaker, dyer, private stable; also, fine offices, stores; eight-room residence attached. Apply premises or 11A East 83d.

3D AV., NEAR 14TH ST.; FINE BUILDING; store has new double show windows; rent $1,700. J. EDGAR LEAYCRAFT & CO., B'way, cor. 44th.

307 WEST BROADWAY.

STORE AND FIRST LOFT.
Strong building. Good light. Power, if required.

CORNER 12TH ST. & THIRD AV.—Extra deep store, with large basement. J. EDGAR LEAYCRAFT & CO., B'way, cor. 44th.

STORES, LOFTS, AND OFFICES
TO LET AT LOWEST RATES.
JACOB A. KING, 401 B'WAY—61 E. 125TH ST.

A VERY LIGHT STORE and basement to let at 19 Beekman St.; suitable for warehouse and manufactory. RULAND & WHITING, 5 Beekman St.

6th Av., 238.—Large floors, all modern improvements; will alter to suit tenants; ring janitor's bell.

326 Canal St.—Third and fourth lofts, 25x55; good light; $40 and $30. Apply to R. H. E. Elliott, 62 William St.

40th St., 438 and 440 West.—Large stores, with plate-glass fronts; two rooms; decorated; $15.

16th St., 423 West.—Large store, with three rooms and plate-glass front; newly decorated; $18.

Apartments to Let—Unfurnished.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

The Choicest and Cheapest Elevator Apartments in Harlem.

THE EMERSON

S. E. COR. LENOX AV. & 116TH ST.
Six and seven large rooms and bath; all the latest improvements; hall service; rents $50 to $65. Small, select families will apply to Agents, on premises.

THE BROADWAY,

S. W. COR. BROADWAY & 101ST ST.
Select families with first-class references, are respectfully invited to inspect above premises.
Suites of 7 Rooms and Bath, with all the latest improvements; elevator all night; electric light, telephone; rent, $800 per annum; renting office on premises.

71st St. 342 West.

New apartments, overlooking the Hudson and Riverside Drive; 7, 8, and 9 extra large outside rooms, with pantry; two bathrooms each; parquette floors, elevator, electric light, telephones; $1,200 to $1,500. Superintendent.

Morningside Park.

Splendid location; six and seven rooms and bath; hot water; steam heat; gas ranges; open plumbing; porcelain bathtubs; $32 to $50. Janitor, 371 W. 119th, or GEO. W. LEE, 2,107 7th Av.

BACHELOR AP'TS.

112 West 44th St.
2 large light rooms and bath.
ASHFORTH & CO., 1,509 Broadway.

117th St., 360-366 West.—Near Morningside Park.—Handsomely decorated six rooms and bath, steam heat, hot water; private surroundings; near Columbia University and convenient to cable and elevated station; $25, $27; references.

ST. NICHOLAS AV., 167, near 117th St.—Beautiful single flat; 7 large, light rooms; bath; $32.00; steam heated. Janitor.

Riverside Drive.—Eight light rooms; every improvement; elevator, electric light; $1,000; also nine, 127 Riverside, 65th.

Brooklyn.

Hicks St., 368—Desirable apartments of two and three rooms; prices, $7 and $8.

Apartments to Let—Furnished.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

For Rent—Handsome, beautifully furnished corner apartment, Hotel Majestic; family going South for six weeks will let suits to advantage for that time. Apply at hotel office.

City Flats to Let—Unfurnished.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

4 and 5 rooms at 91st St. and 1st Av.; new houses; $16-$18; all improvements; also at 804 to 310 East 92d St.

21 and 23 East 99th St., near 5th Av.—Six rooms and bath; private halls; from $23 to $26; 10 rooms and bath, $40.

4 and 5 rooms and bath, $16-$21, at 2 East 118th St., corner 5th Av.

New buildings, s. e. cor. 118th St. and Madison Av., 4 and 5 rooms and baths; hot water supply, &c., $15 to $23.

HALF MONTH'S RENT FREE.
234 West 122d St.; elegant apartments, 8 rooms newly papered and decorated; steam heat and hall service; $30 and upward. See janitor.

85th St., 221 East.—New apartments; 3, 4 rooms; baths and bedrooms heated; hot water; open plumbing; gas ranges; hardwood finish; decorated; $13 upward. Janitor.

Flats, all improvements, 3 light rooms, private hall, rent $11. 775 East 162d St., station 161st St.

124th St., 230 West.—Large apartments; 6 rooms, bath; newly decorated; price, $16.

Jones St., 7, near West 4th St., 6th Av.—3-4 room apartments; decorated; $10-$14.50.

10th St., 224 East.—Three-room apartments; hot water, gas, and coal ranges; decorated; $12-$14.

Coal and Wood.

BUY YOUR COAL & WOOD AT THEDFORD'S

2000 lbs. THE STANDARD TON

YARDS:

27TH ST. AND 9TH AVE.,	Tel. 386—18
70TH ST. & B'WAY.,	Tel. 717 Riverside
223 W. 42D ST.,	Tel. 1715—38
55TH ST. & 10TH AVE.,	Tel. 166 Cols.
55TH ST. AND N. R.,	Tel. 249 Cols.
88TH ST. AND B'WAY,	Tel. 125 River
29TH ST. AND N. R.,	Tel. 375—38

MURRAY HILL WOOD YARD

36TH ST. AND FIRST AV. Tel. 279 Madison Sq. Selected Pine and Oak for kindling. Pine Knots and extra dry Hickory for Grates and Andirons. Inspection solicited. Satisfaction guaranteed.

Excursions.

Cook's Winter Trips.

Including Hotels and All Expenses.

Florida,	Jan. 18, 14 days, $65
Havana,	Jan. 19, 11 days, $90
Bermuda,	Jan. 21, 8 days, $62

Descriptive Programmes free on application. INDEPENDENT TICKETS EVERYWHERE.
THOS. COOK & SON
Downtown, 261 Broadway, N. Y.
Uptown, 1185 Broadway, N. Y.

Detective Agencies.

BAYERS'S INTERNATIONAL DETECTIVE Agency, former detective Police Department, licensed and bonded, 320 Broadway, Rooms 717-718; telephone 1631 Franklin; all civil and criminal cases attended to by expert detectives; male and female.

United States Detective Bureau; male and female operators; shadowing, investigation; evidence reliable; secrecy guaranteed; night and day; telephone connections. 41-43 Maiden Lane, 1,486 5th Av.

Pianos and Organs.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

AT

WEBER PIANO WAREROOMS,

5th Ave., corner 16th St.

$210

WILL BUY A NEW
STUYVESANT UPRIGHT PIANO.
DURABLE, RELIABLE, AND OF GOOD TONE QUALITY.

This instrument may be exchanged at any time for a new WEBER PIANO, when a fair allowance will be made, or if exchanged within two years the full price will be allowed. Catalogues and full particulars mailed free to any address.

WEBER WAREROOMS,
Corner Fifth Ave. and Sixteenth St.

WISSNER PIANOS

Used by Eminent Artists.

BROOKLYN: COR. FULTON ST. & FLATBUSH AV. NEW YORK: 25 EAST 14TH ST.
Second-Hand Uprights of Good Makers.
$85—$125. Grands, $175—$300.

PEASE PIANOS

109 W. 42d St., Just West of 6th Ave.

For 55 years a standard of excellence—a tone that is famous for singing qualities. Direct from manufacturer. Easy terms. Good used pianos different makes $125 up. Write for catalogue.

MATHUSHEK & SON AND OPERA PIANOS

The balance of our Holiday stock at reduced prices. You can obtain a bargain from our large stock of slightly used pianos recently taken in exchange, including some celebrated makes; rents, $4 up.
MATHUSHEK & SON, B'way cor. 47th St.

KRAKAUER

PIANOS.
FOR SALE AND TO RENT. EASY TERMS.
113 EAST 14TH ST.

THE BIG WEST SIDE PIANO HOUSE.

A small cash payment secures for you a fine piano stool and scarf; delivered free; balance on easy payments; rents, $4 up.
741-743 8th Av., near 46th St.

$5.00 MONTHLY BUYS FULL-SIZE "BILLINGER & CO." UPRIGHT; EVERY PIANO GUARANTEED. WESER BROS., 524 W. 43D ST.

$10.00 FIRST PAYMENT, BALANCE EASY INSTALLMENTS, ELEGANT NEW UPRIGHT; DELIVERED FREE. WESER BROS., 524 W. 43D ST.

WINTERROTH PIANOS, CASH, INSTALMENTS, $125 UPWARD. 105 EAST 14TH ST. & 98 5TH AV. Open Evenings

EMERSON PIANOS.—Beautiful new designs; several slightly used; at unusually low prices; Steinway Parlor Grand; rare bargain. GEO. W. HERBERT, 10 East 17th St.

BARGAINS.—Upright pianos, $100 upward; more value for money than elsewhere guaranteed; square, $20 upward; rented, exchanged; easy payments. CHRISTMAN, 21 East 14th St.

ELEGANT MAHOGANY UPRIGHT PIANO, slightly used, for $175; easy payments if desired; fully guaranteed. W. F. TWAY PIANO CO., 94 5th Av.

GUSTAVE REHN! PIANIST!—Desires a few more pupils; thorough instruction; very moderate terms. 1 East 113th St.

SPECIAL SALE OF FINE UPRIGHT PIANOS this week, extraordinary bargains for cash. HAHN, 165 W. 23d St.

STEINWAY; EVERY IMPROVEMENT; BEAUTIFULLY carved; great sacrifice; Elegant Upright, only $75. BIDDLE'S, 7 East 14th St.

CALL AND EXAMINE OUR FOUR AND FIVE pedal pianos; something entirely new. WESER BROS., 524 West 43d St.

Large assortment slightly used uprights; squares taken in exchange; "Weber" bargain. Weser Bros., 524 West 43d St.

$125 elegant Wheelock upright, rosewood piano, full size; Mason Amblin organ; bargains. 319 9th Av., near 28th St.

Sacrifices nearly new upright piano for $110; cost $625; need money. 72 Lexington Av., near 26th St.

$200 New piano, stool and scarf, $7 per month. Call at 1,569 B'way, cor. 47th St.

$3.00 to $5.00 per month rent, pianos with mandolin attachment. Weser Bros., 524 W. 43d St.

Instruction.

10c. per line $4.50 per line for 30 times.

SACRED HEART ACADEMY.

Select Catholic Boarding School; thorough academic and commercial course; athletics, military drill; terms moderate; 2nd term begins Feb'y 1st. Address BROTHER AUGUST, West Chester, N.Y.

ATTENTION! If you intend studying Bookkeeping, Stenography, Typewriting, Penmanship, etc., it will pay you to send for our prospectus to Dept. C.
WALWORTH-INSTITUTE, 110 East 125th St.

REGENTS' Examinations. Central Preparatory School, 18 E. 42D ST. SEND FOR HANDBOOK.

Isaac Pitman Shorthand; private and class lessons; best instruction; reasonable rates. METROPOLITAN SCHOOL, 280 4th Av.

FRENCH, SPANISH, ITALIAN INSTRUCTION; best method; expert teachers; terms moderate. Prof. J. M. PELLERIN, 207 West 25th.

Musical.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

AT 112 EAST 18TH ST.....
.....The ONLY N. Y. CONSERVATORY, 112 East 18th, ...BETWEEN 4TH AV. and IRVING PLACE. The FAMOUS MUSIC SCHOOL.....
.....The FIRST in the COUNTRY. Lessons DAY and EVENING...Years on 14th St. ....GRADUATES PROVIDED with POSITIONS.

CHOIR EXCHANGE, BROOKLYN, 299 Carlton Av.—Church music teaching departments, John E. Webster, Director; Pupils trained for appointments. CHURCHES SUPPLIED WITH FIRST-CLASS organists and singers.

CHARLES A. KAISER,
SOLO TENOR 5TH AV. CATHEDRAL,
VOCAL INSTRUCTION.
112 EAST 18TH ST.

VIOLIN ARTISTICALLY TAUGHT, EITHER residence; terms reasonable; not payable in advance; references exchanged. CHADWICK, 2 Chambers St.

GUSTAVE REHN! PIANIST!—Desires a few more pupils; thorough instruction; very moderate terms. 1 East 113th St.

VIOLIN INSTRUCTION BY JOSEPH GOLDstein, pupil of Cologne Conservatory, Germany. Terms moderate. 250 Sixth Av., Brooklyn.

VIOLINIST INSTRUCTS AT PUPIL'S HOUSE 60 cents per lesson; progress assured. VIOLINIST, Box 77, 1,242 Broadway.

PIANO; LADY, EXPERIENCED TEACHER, instructs at pupil's residence; 40 cents per lesson. TEACHER, Box 80, 1,242 Broadway.

Violin Studio, 160 West 23d St.—Advantage to beginners and advanced pupils; private or classes; terms reasonable.

Dancing.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

Remey's Central Park Dancing Academy, 915-919 8th Ave., (54th St.)—We guarantee the Waltz, Polka, Two-step, Schottische, and Lanciers all for $5.00 in 5 private and 4 class lessons. Private lessons any hour. Classes daily. Circulars.

GEORGE W. WALLACE,
Leslie Rooms, 260 West 83d Street;
Ellersile Rooms, 80-82 West 126th St.
Class and private tuition. See circular.

HARVARD DANCING ACADEMY, 158-162 W. 125th.—Waltz, schottische, two-step, polka, lanciers, waltz quadrille guaranteed 5 private, 4 class lessons, $5; 4 class lessons, $1.

BRADY'S 1,408 Amsterdam Av., 135-137 West 125th St. WALTZ

PROF. STERNS, expert instructor, 20th season Broadway, Myrtle Av., Brooklyn; clogs, reel, cakewalks, specialties, waltz, two-step.

Columbia Dancing Academy, 58th and 6th Av.—Classes forming; 4 lessons, $1; 24, $5; private lessons, (any hour,) $1. Prof. S. Warner.

Lester's Colonial Academy, 101st St. and Columbus Av.—Class and private lessons daily; receptions Wednesday and Saturday.

Business Opportunities.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

STATISTICS SHOW THAT THE SALE OF toilet articles in the United States amounts to MORE than $40,000,000.00 annually. Do you desire a fortune? Here is your opportunity; I want a partner with capital, or a person with capital to form a stock company for the purpose of increasing manufacture and exploit of seven Turkish Toilet articles, now on the market, for ladies. Highest recommendations; handsomest packages. Address, Col. J. F. MILLIKEN, 287 Broadway, N. Y. City.

WHY BE HARD UP OR OUT OF BUSINESS? We have a sure road to wealth. Our coin-controlled machines are the best made and are quick sellers, or can be placed on the percentage plan. Write for particulars. The best chance ever offered to make big money on a small investment. Address THE CAILLE-SCHEIMER CO., corner Woodward and Baltimore Av., Detroit, Mich.

Gold Mining Inexpensive.—I have perfected hydraulic system that will make it pay land placers, swamps, and old trailing dumps valuable; can operate with little water; fall not necessary; want to meet company or party that is interested in placer mining; valuable experience; easy terms. Address MECHANICAL ENGINEER, Times.

Active or silent partner wanted, either sex, $5,000 to $10,000, to build and run hotel apartment; location, building-loan secured. Address SECURITY, Times Office.

Sale or Rent.—Established Coal business; trestle, buildings to handle hay or grain; easy terms. E. C. Quarkenbush, Newark Av. and 7th St., Jersey City.

$2,000 to manufacture patented article, great value and demand, will secure position worth amount invested every year. Address MECHANICAL ENGINEER, Box 375, 1,269 Broadway.

Advantageous Jersey daily opportunity; splendid town; business $20,000; rare opportunity; $15,000. Publishers' Broker HARRIS, 150 Nassau St.

5 and 10-Cent Store for sale; splendidly equipped; full stock of goods; fine location. Good reasons for selling. PETER WHITNEY, No. 100 Broadway, New York.

Experienced office man desires to invest $3,000-$5,000 in established mercantile business; give full particulars. A. K., Box 197 Times Office.

Advice Free.—Patents promptly procured; inventors' Guide FREE. EDGAR TATE & CO., Patent Attorneys, 245 Broadway.

Printers.—Wanted estimates on printing a small weekly newspaper. Address NEWS, Box 199 Times Office.

Music Boxes, 84 teeth, $24; 15 tunes free; other Instruments. Prof. ADOLPH COHN, 157 West 23d St.

For Sale.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

IT WARMS THE LARGest room in five minutes. The improved Fire Vase Gas Heater for warming rooms and light cooking; fits on ordinary gas burner as easily as a chimney on a lamp; requires no pipe or hose; the gas flame is increased 500 per cent.; no explosion, odor; economical. Introduction price, small size, $1.25; large, $1.50; money refunded within twenty-four hours if not found satisfactory. The KING INCANDESCENT STUDYING LAMP beats any lamp in the market; burner, 100 candle power; double strength mantle, chimney and shade. Introduction price, 75c. Mail orders filled everywhere. Sole agents for the improved Fire Vase Gas Heater, and distributers for the King Incandescent Lamp.

1,079 3d Av.,
Between 63d and 64th Sts.

I BUY OLD METAL.

Have you any old LEAD, BRASS, COPPER, ZINC, PEWTER, TEA LEAD, OLD TYPE, ELECTROTYPE, STEREOTYPE, OLD BOOKS, PAPERS? SEND POSTAL CARD. I WILL CALL.
BORNSTEIN, 84 Centre St.

CREDIT TO ALL

DIAMONDS and WATCHES on small weekly or monthly payments; lowest prices; best quality; goods guaranteed.
NATIONAL DIAMOND WATCH CO.,
177-179 BROADWAY. Take Elevator.

CREDIT TO ALL WITHOUT SECURITY.

CLOTHING for Ladies, Men, and Boys, ready made or to order. Millinery, Furs, &c.
PROGRESSIVE CLOTHING AND CLOAK CO., 7 W. 14th St., bet. 5th and 6th Avs. (Open eve.)

TYPEWRITERS.—Remingtons, Smiths Premiers, and all standard makes rented, kept in repair; stands and ribbons free. Sold 25% to 75% less than manufacturer's prices. No relics of past ages carried in stock. Every machine sold kept in repair for one year free. F. S. WEBSTER CO., 317 Broadway. Telephone, 1,338 Franklin.

IDEAL CLIP.—Have this clip attached to your eyeglasses and you will agree that it is the only one that gives entire satisfaction. MEYER & ELTING, Opticians, 617 Sixth Av., near 36th St., New York.

TYPEWRITERS.—Remingtons, Smiths, Blickenderfers, Hammonds, Williamses, Jewetts, Franklins, Caligraphs, sold, rented, exchanged, repaired. GORMAN, 79 Nassau St.

TYPEWRITERS REPAIRED BY EXPERTS; rented, sold, exchanged. Telephone for estimate. DURRANT, McLEAN & CO., 265 Broadway.

Typewriter, (new,) $40; remodeled Remington, Smiths, $35; rentals reduced; repairing, (telephone.) CONSOLIDATED TYPEWRITER EXCHANGE, 241 Broadway.

At Ede's Art Gallery, 105 West 42d St., near 6th Av.—Antiques, curios, old jewels, silverware, rare fans, paintings, miniatures, and weapons. Old gold bought.

ONLY HEADQUARTERS FOR GENUINE Welsbach lights is now at 66 West 125th St., between 5th and Lenox Avs.; sell at reduced prices; put up free; satisfaction guaranteed.

P. SORENSEN, UPHOLSTERER, DECORATOR, 2,071 7th Av., near 124th St.; slip covers cut, made; mattresses made over.

BRAATZ, NEW HAIR LIFE; LATEST DISCOVERY and finest ever compounded hair tonic; hairdressing parlors, 135 West 125th St.

Bicycle taken apart, thoroughly cleaned, for $1; repairing and enameling a specialty. TUXTO CYCLE COMPANY, 27 West 125th St.

TYPEWRITERS RENTED, BOUGHT, SOLD; expert repairing. R. & O. TYPEWRITER CO., 202 Broadway. Telephone, 999 Cortlandt.

PHONOGRAPHS BOUGHT, SOLD, AND EXchanged; cash or $1.00 weekly; gramaphone records, $2.50 dozen. 143 East 58th St.

GOODYEAR'S RUBBER GOODS, MACKINtoshes, Clothes Wringers, Carpet Sweepers, &c., at lowest prices. Call, 105 West 125th St.

Typewriters sold and rented; expert repairing done. General Typewriter Exchange, 1 Park Place. 'Phone, 1573 Cortlandt.

For Sale—Fully equipped machine works; down town, New York City; capacity, 25 men. Address 618 6th St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

LOT OF VIENNA BENTWOOD CHAIRS, Sofas, and Divans. New, at 20c. on the dollar, at Casino Auction Rooms, Broadway & 39th St.

TYPEWRITERS.—All makes; guaranteed; rented $2, $3 monthly; ribbons, stands free. CENTRAL TYPEWRITER EXCHANGE, 203 Broadway.

HIGHEST CASH PRICES PAID FOR SECOND-hand furniture, carpets, pianos, &c. Address LENOX, 61 West 125th St.

$10.00 BARGAINS THIS WEEK.—Domestic, New Home, Singer Sewing Machines. Cash buyers. BROWN, 39 West 125th St.

At 344 6th Av. and 172 West 23d St.—Foot Knitting Co.; stockings refooted; underwear repaired.

COHEN BROTHERS.—Fine upholstering and cabinet making. 25 East 125th St.

The only Harlem Office for Genuine Welsbach Lights, 129 West 125th St., opposite Koch & Co.

Watches and Jewelry.

WEEKLY PAYMENTS; FINE DIAMONDS, watches; goods guaranteed; lowest prices; business confidential. WATCH SUPPLY, Three Maiden Lane.

EASY PAYMENTS.—Watches and diamonds; reliable goods only. AMERICAN WATCH AND DIAMOND CO., 19 Maiden Lane.

Credit, diamonds, watches, oil paintings, weekly payments, lowest prices, confidential. MANHATTAN DIAMOND CO., 37 Maiden Lane.

Good Will and Interest for Sale.

DAIRY STORE AND MILK ROUTE FOR SALE, 213 Columbus Av.

Purchase and Exchange.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

Books of every description bought, sold, and exchanged; small parcels or libraries purchased; highest cash prices paid; call at residences free; send postal. LOVERING'S NEW YORK BOOK EXCHANGE, 823 Broadway, near 12th St. Open evenings.

Household furniture, contents of houses and flats, pianos, carpets, &c. J. L., 113 University Place.

Groceries, Liquors, &c.

Harris's Wine and Liquor Warehouse, 1,706 Madison Av., cor. 113th.—Special reductions, holiday wines and liquors.

S. KRAUS, FINE WINES AND LIQUORS. Lowest prices. 2,119 6th Av., near 115th St. Branch, 413 2d Av.

Boarders Wanted.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

7th Av., 2,305.—One block from 6th Av. "L"

THE PLANT WILL CONTEST

Widow of the Millionaire Seeks to Set Aside the Instrument.

Alleged that It Was Drawn in Violation of Law—Estate Now Worth $17,000,000.

The estate of Henry Bradley Plant, which is valued at $17,000,000, is the prize in a legal battle which is being fought before Justice Leventritt in the Special Term, Part III., of the Supreme Court.

The widow is trying to have the will set aside.

The widow is contesting the will of her husband on the ground that the third codicil to it was illegally drawn. By the provisions of the third and last codicil the heirs of the six-year-old grandson of the testator are made the residuary legatees of the vast estate left by Mr. Plant, and the estate cannot be distributed until the youngest son of this grandson reaches the age of twenty-one years.

If offered for probate in the State of New York this will would be declared invalid. Connecticut is the only State in the Union, it is said, where such an instrument would be held legal and binding.

By the terms of the will the widow and Morton F. Plant, a son by a former marriage, are given an allowance of $30,000 a year each. If the will is probated in New York the entire estate will pass into the hands of these two persons. The son, Morton F. Plant, as one of the trustees of his father's peculiar will, is nominally a defendant in the suit. Mr. Plant makes no secret of the fact that his sympathies are entirely with the plaintiff. New York State laws do not permit a testator to establish a trust lasting for more than two generations. The testator went to Connecticut a few days before his death and, the plaintiff alleges, with fraudulent intent claimed citizenship there, having a desire to circumvent and evade the laws of New York State, of which State he had been a resident for many years.

Mrs. Margaret J. Plant, who will come into the possession of about $7,000,000 if she wins her suit, is a woman of middle age. She was one of the early arrivals at court yesterday, and was accompanied by a party of friends, including Henry Sandford, former President of the Adams Express Company, an intimate friend and associate of her late husband. There were two members of the clergy and several women with Mrs. Plant.

The plaintiff was represented by Attorneys William D. Guthrie, John E. Parsons, Noel Gale, and ex-Judge Henry E. Stoddart of New Haven. The four defendants in the suit, Lynde Harrison, Morton Freeman Plant, George H. Tilley, and Robert G. Erwin, were represented by Attorneys L. C. Ledyard and Maxwell Evarts. Henry S. Wardner appeared as guardian ad litem for the infant defendant.

Mrs. Plant set forth in her complaint that her husband died on June 22 last, three days after he executed, at New Haven, Conn., the third and last codicil to his will. He was eighty years old at the time and had a permanent home at 580 Fifth Avenue, this city.

In their answer the defendants set forth that the United States Court has final jurisdiction over the matters involved; that the plaintiff should have applied to the Probate Court of the State of Connecticut for relief; that the will and the codicils were properly probated in the State of Connecticut, and that Mr. Plant was a legal resident of that State at the time of his death.

Attorney William D. Guthrie made the opening address for the plaintiff. He told of the visit of Mr. Plant to his country home at Bramford, and of his sudden illness. Mrs. Plant did not know that her husband had acquired citizenship in Connecticut until she appeared before the Judge there. The estate of Mr. Plant, the lawyer said, had largely increased in value, and now amounts to about $17,000,000.

Maxwell Evarts, for the defendants, made a motion to dismiss the case on the grounds that the decree of a court of another State could not be set aside; that the judgment of the Connecticut court must stand until it was reversed. Mr. Evarts contended that there was not the slightest proof of fraud in connection with the will, but if there was such, the plaintiff must go to the courts of the State where the judgment was given to prove it. Because the plaintiff had invoked the judgment of the Connecticut courts, Mr. Evarts claimed that those courts had jurisdiction of the parties.

At the opening of the afternoon session Mr. Evarts resumed his argument for a dismissal of the case. It was 3 o'clock when Mr. Evarts closed, and Mr. Guthrie rose to reply. In his argument Mr. Guthrie said that the plaintiff desired to secure a judgment as to the domicile of Mr. Plant, and that having been secured, he thought that the courts of Connecticut would give all the relief necessary. The fact that Mr. Plant had died with assets in New York made it necessary for the courts here to consider the question of his domicile.

Mr. Evarts replied to the argument of the defendants' counsel. His remarks were cut short by the adjournment of the court. Mr. Evarts will resume his argument when the court opens this morning.

MISS LOUISE SCHAEFER BURIED

Was Thought to be Dead Jan. 3, but Revived—Expired on Sunday.

Miss Louise Schaefer, formerly a teacher in Public School No. 25, in Fifth Street, was buried yesterday from her home, at 140 East One Hundred and Twelfth Street. This was the second time that the undertaker was called upon to prepare her for burial. The young woman had gastro-enteritis, and was so low on Jan. 3 that her father, who, with a servant, was alone in the house with her, thought she was dead.

Dr. U. S. Ward of 1,808 Lexington Avenue was called in and administered powerful restoratives which brought her gradually to consciousness, but when he returned in about an hour to note the effect of the drugs he found the undertaker on the premises and dismissed him with an explanation. Miss Schaefer was removed to a private hospital, and for a time hope of her recovery was entertained, but she died on Sunday.

TO PROSECUTE A PHYSICIAN.

Dr. Dreyer Accused of Giving Typhoid as Cause of Smallpox Patient's Death.

Corporation Counsel Kinney has been asked by Dr. Black, the Sanitary Superintendent of the Borough of Brooklyn, to proceed against Dr. M. W. Dreyer of 80 McKibbin Street, the physician who attended Benjamin Tranofski, who died of smallpox at his home, 31 Boerum Street, on Monday evening, on the charge that Dr. Dreyer presented a false death certificate. The fact that it was a smallpox case was reported by Dr. James Huber of Manhattan, who when summoned to attend the patient found that Tranofski was dead.

Dr. Dreyer was called to the Health Department and was first questioned by Dr. Black, who turned him over to Dr. Sylvester Byrne for examination. He said that he did not know what was the matter with the patient, but that he had given typhoid fever as the cause of death because the man was so very sick. When asked if he had ever seen any smallpox cases, Dr. Dreyer said that he had seen more than 100 of them in Russia.

STEAMSHIP HELD FOR SMALLPOX.

The British steamship Tyrian, which arrived from West Indian ports Monday night, is held at Quarantine for investigation. It was reported to Dr. Doty by the Health Officer of Inagua that several cases of smallpox had developed on board on the recent voyage.

Capt. Hall of the Tyrian denies that there have been any cases of the disease on board. The only person stricken was a passenger, who was transferred from Inagua to Santa Marta. It was learned that on her outward voyage the Tyrian picked up ten laborers at Inagua and twenty-eight others at other ports, who were finally landed at Inagua, and it is probable that the disease developed among these persons.

Pastor Helm's New Charge.

The Rev. Edwin Helm, rector of St. Alban's Protestant Episcopal Church, Canarsie, has accepted a call to St. Michael's Church on North Fifth Street, Brooklyn. Mr. Helm expects to take up his new charge in February.

Besides being so effective with the worst colds, another good feature is that it is safe for the tenderest infant.—Jayne's Expectorant.—Adv.

MARINE KILLED BY A BLOW.

Private Stafford Denounced the Army and Navy and Bartender Henry Resented It.

After creating a disturbance in a saloon at 129 Bowery at midnight Monday night, John Stafford, twenty-six years old, a private in the United States Marine Corps, attached to the Brooklyn Navy Yard, was killed by a blow on the chin struck by John Henry, the bartender of the place, who was attempting to eject him. Henry escaped.

Stafford, who was on shore leave, became intoxicated and entered the saloon about 11:30 o'clock in an ugly humor, according to the stories told to the police by witnesses. He denounced everything American, and particularly the army and navy. He declared that the marines were slaves and were treated like dogs by their officers. Then he declared himself to be an Irishman, and announced that he could whip any American or Englishman living. He finally became so violent and noisy that Henry, the bartender, attempted to eject him. In the struggle Henry struck Stafford a violent blow on the chin. The marine released his hold and, staggering backward, fell to the floor unconscious.

Henry then put on his coat and hat and left the place. Stafford remained unconscious, and finally a policeman was summoned. The officer in turn sent for an ambulance. The surgeon pronounced the marine dead. He said that only an autopsy could determine the exact cause of death. Six detectives of the Eldridge Street Station were sent out to look for Henry, but he has not yet been found. The police arrested five men who were in the place at the time of the disturbance and held them as witnesses.

CANNOT PROBATE WILL.

A Witness Declares that the Testator Had Not Power to Sign Instrument.

Surrogate Thomas yesterday denied the probate of a will on the grounds that it had either been signed after the testatrix was dead, by placing the pen in her hand, or else it was signed, or rather marked, with a cross when she was unconscious. This peculiar condition of affairs was developed at the contest over the will of Sophia Pelkington, who died at her residence, 499 West Broadway, on Nov. 16 last. In her will, executed the same day, the testatrix left all her property to her brother, George Pelkington. Elizabeth Brown, a sister, contested the will on the ground of fraud. The testimony disclosed the fact that the will had actually been drawn according to Miss Pelkington's request, but that she became so ill before she could sign the paper that her name was placed on it and arrangements made to have her make a cross.

Mrs. Jennie O'Connor, a witness to the will, testified that before the will was executed by Miss Pelkington she was seized by a violent fit of vomiting and immediately expired.

"I was then told," said the witness, "by George Pelkington to take hold of her hand, place a pen in it and guide it until her mark was made on the paper. I did so. Miss Pelkington was perfectly lifeless at the time. The whole thing was a put-up job, and I tell what happened, being ready to accept any blame for my actions."

An attempt was made on behalf of George Pelkington to show that Mrs. O'Connor claimed $450 for board and lodging supplied to Marcella Pelkington, the niece of the decedent, who is now in Ireland, and that she threatened unless she got it to break the will.

Surrogate Thomas said he should deny probate, and that the will was fraudulently executed, as the old woman was either dead or in such a state as to have no knowledge of what she was doing.

LEGAL NOTES.

WOMAN ALIGHTING FROM A STREET CAR.—Sarah C. Smith as awarded a verdict for $5,000 by a jury, on the trial of her suit, in the Supreme Court, in Ulster County, against the Kingston City Railroad Company, for injuries she received while alighting from one of the company's street cars. It appeared that Mrs. Smith's dress caught upon the plunger, and that, before it was loosened, the car started and dragged her by the dress so attached. The Appellate Division, at Albany, affirmed the judgment, holding, in an opinion by Presiding Justice Parker, that a woman alighting from a street car should be given time enough to step off, and also to clear her skirts from any obstruction on the platform upon which they may have caught; if the conductor starts the car the instant she alights, before she has had time to release her skirts from such obstruction, and she is dragged along by the car and injured, the railroad company is held to be liable for the injuries thus sustained.

The Court held, also, that the fact that the passenger wore a dress so long that it would be likely to catch upon such appliances as necessarily extended above the platform, was not of itself negligence, as a matter of law.

***

INJURED BY THE FALL OF A CHIMNEY.—Catherine Kaiser brought suit in the Supreme Court, in Albany, to recover damages from Hiram S. Washburn for injuries she received by the falling upon her of bricks from a chimney on premises owned by him. A yard next to the house in which she resided adjoined a house owned by Mr. Washburn. While Mrs. Kaiser was in the yard she was injured by a shower of bricks which suddenly fell from the chimney. It appeared that for a year prior to the accident, the chimney had been in a dangerous condition; that Mr. Washburn did not occupy the house, and that three months before the accident he rented the portion in which the defective chimney was located to a tenent. The Appellate Division, at Albany, has reversed the decision given on the trial, non-suiting the plaintiff, holding that it was a question for the jury whether Mr. Washburn, in the exercise of reasonable care, should have discovered and remedied the defect in the chimney. Proof of previous knowledge on the part of Mrs. Kaiser of the defective condition of the chimney, the Court held, did not establish, as a matter of law, that she was guilty of contributory negligence.

***

THE RAILROAD LAW AND RATE OF FARE.—Joseph Parker, who was a passenger on the Elmira, Cortland and Northern Railroad on Feb. 25, 1895, from Freeville to Cortland, in this State, and was charged at the rate of nearly 4 cents a mile, brought suit against the railroad corporation in Tompkins County to recover a penalty of $50, and also 7 cents excessive fare, which it was claimed accrued to him under Section 39 of the Railroad law. That section enacts that any railroad corporation charging more than the lawful rate of fare, "unless such overcharge was made through inadvertence or mistake, not amounting to gross negligence," should forfeit $50. The company contended that it might charge more than the 3 cents a mile prescribed by the Railroad law, under a private statute, enacted in 1872, allowing the Utica, Ithaca and Elmira Railroad Company, whose road was afterward consolidated to make up the defendant corporation, to charge 4 cents a mile.

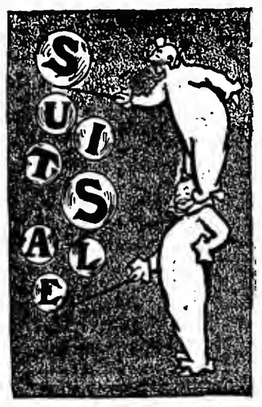
A judgment given on the trial in favor of the company was affirmed by the Appellate Division, at Albany, and that decision is now upheld by the Court of Appeals; so that Mr. Parker not only loses his case, but is mulcted in heavy costs. Judge O'Brien, giving the unanimous decision of the court of last resort, holds that the special act authorizing a charge of 4 certs a mile was not repealed by the Railroad law, fixing the fare on such roads at not exceeding 3 cents a mile. The sale of the road under foreclosure, its purchase by individuals for the purpose of vesting the title in another corporation, and its subsequent consolidation into a general system, Judge O'Brien says, did not impair the right of the consolidated company to charge the rate of fare on the constituent line authorized by its original act.

Anglo-American Company's Real Estate.

Ex-Justice George C. Reynolds, as a referee appointed by Justice Maddox of the Supreme Court in the matter of the proposed transfer of the realty of the Anglo-American Savings Loan Association to the Empire Realty Company, took testimony yesterday at the offices of the loan association to determine on the advisability of the transfers. Joseph M. Dickey, one of the temporary receivers, and John A. Kennedy, a real estate broker of Buffalo, gave testimony on the value of the real estate held in Buffalo. The hearing will go on again this morning at 11 o'clock.

Policeman Dermody Reinstated.

The first meeting of the Police Board in ten days, at which routine business was transacted, was held yesterday afternoon. The only business of interest transacted was the reinstatement of Patrolman Joseph T. Dermody, who was acquitted in the Court of General Sessions of the charge of stealing a watch on the east side.



We've been doing a little juggling with figures.

Result:

Some of our best sack suits—over 1,000 of them were $22, $25, $28 and $30—are now marked the one price of $15.

Young men's sizes are $13.

Kersey overcoats, same prices.

ROGERS, PEET & COMPANY.

258 Broadway, cor. Warren, and 7 and 9 Warren St.
569 Broadway, cor. Prince.
1260 Broadway, cor. 32d, and 54 West 33d St.

We fill orders by mail.

West 14th St.

ESTD 1807. COWPERTHWAIT'S TRADE MARK "RELIABLE" CARPETS

ORIENTAL RUG SALE

of perfectly blended colors that will harmonize with any furnishings,

CARABAGHS, GUENDJIS & BELOOCHISTANS,

$7.50.

(Value $10.00 to $15.00.)

All a thick heavy pile and colors that will year by year fade into delicious tints.

Odd pieces and suites of furniture now at greatly reduced prices, and "Long Credit" awaits your convenience for payment.

CASH OR CREDIT

COWPERTHWAIT & CO.

104 106 and 108 West 14th St.

NEAR 6TH AV.

Brooklyn Stores: Flatbush Av. near Fulton St.

BLINN'S CHILDREN TESTIFY.

Tell of His Illness and How He Came to Deed Away Property.

The action in which Christian Blinn is trying to recover property worth $120,000 from Julia Schwarz, which he alleges was deeded to her at the time his memory was a blank, some time between 1892 and 1895, is still on trial in the Supreme Court, before Justice Truax and a jury. Blinn claims that he was sent to the sanitarium at Flushing, and on his return from there three years later he found that nearly $1,000,000 worth of real estate had been deeded by him to various tenants of his property in Harlem.

Christian Blinn, Jr., a son of the plaintiff, testified that his father had a severe attack of the grip in 1889, and subsequently went to Bermuda. He said that at that time the family lived at 365 West Fifty-fifth Street.

"Did you ever see your father sign a deed?"

"I did," was the reply.

"Where was that?"

"In the dining room of our home."

"Tell us about it."

"Well, my father was brought into the dining room. My mother was on one side of him and Henry Umbrich on the other. They led my father to a revolving chair. They showed him a paper and asked him to sign it. My father refused to sign it, saying: 'Maggie, this is not right. I don't want to sign it.' My father was forced to sit down in the revolving chair, and the deed was placed in front of him. He was persuaded to sign it. Finally he signed it."

"Was that the deed to the Eightieth Street property?"

"It was."

Henrietta Blinn, the daughter of the plaintiff, was the next witness. She testified as to attending her father during his illness in 1889, and said that he objected to taking the medicine, because he thought he was being poisoned.

"Do you think your father was rational or irrational at that time?"

"Irrational."

Louis H. Umbrich testified that the gross rental of the property in dispute amounted to over $6,000 a year. Julia Schwarz, the defendant, gave testimony as to the income from the property. She said that in 1891 there was a mortgage of $14,000 on the property. She testified as to interest she paid on the mortgage and the taxes.

The case will be continued this morning.

DEFENSE OF PROF. FLECK.

The attention of President Hunter was yesterday called to a publication in which the methods and manners of Henry T. Fleck, Professor of Music at the Normal College, were criticised. President Hunter said: "Prof. Fleck was selected only after the most careful consideration as to his musical ability, antecedents, and character. A subcommittee of the board, consisting of Commissioners Adams and Kittel, devoted six months to a consideration of the merits of the fifty or more applicants. Politics did not enter into the selection. He was engaged with the understanding that he would remain only six months if he proved unsatisfactory."

GRIP ON THE SCHOOLSHIP.

An ambulance call from the schoolship St. Mary's yesterday afternoon was responded to by Dr. McDonald of Bellevue Hospital, who found when he boarded the ship at the foot of East Twenty-sixth Street that the grip had taken possession of the vessel and had full swing there. Eleven cadets were in the clutches of the prevailing malady, and the physician had all he could do for an hour.

He had a hard time quieting the fears of the ship's company, who were under the impression that some sort of plague had broken out on board. Only two of the eleven patients had very high temperatures, and none of the cases was sufficiently severe to necessitate the removal of the patient to the hospital.

At the Board of Health it was stated yesterday afternoon that there were seventy-five deaths from grip last week, of which forty-five were in Manhattan, twenty-eight in Brooklyn, and four in Queens. There were thirty-six deaths from grip during the week preceding.

SUCCESSOR TO BISHOP WIGGER.

A meeting of the Diocesan Council and irremovable rectors of churches in the Diocese of Newark, N. J., was held at the residence of Archbishop Corrigan yesterday, and a ballot taken for candidates for a successor to Bishop Wigger of the Diocese of Newark. Ballots were cast for three candidates designated as dignus, dignior, and dignissimus.

Twelve ballots were cast, each ballot containing the names of three candidates. The vote will be submitted to a council of the Bishops of New Jersey and New York, constituting the Province of New York. The Bishops will also take a vote upon the names, revising the list according to their judgment. A duplicate of both ballots will be forwarded to the Pope at Rome, who will name the candidate.

The names of the candidates voted for, by a rule of the Church, will be kept secret until the Pope's decision is promulgated.

Upholstery Dep't.

4th Floor.

About 350 pairs,—Arabian Lace Curtains,—a wide range of novel designs. Full size,

$5.75, $7.50 and $8.50 per pair.

Cluny Lace Curtains, mounted on scrim, or heavy bobbinette,

$4.00, $5.50 and $6.75 per pair.

Reversible Armure Portieres,—art shades,—finished with heavy rope cord,

$3.00 per pair.

10,000 yards,—fine French and English Art Cretonnes,—suitable for furniture slip covers and country house draperies, 15, 25 and 35 cents per yard.

James McCreery & Co.,

Twenty-third Street.

Another New Price.

This time $12.00, for a choice from some full lines of our higher priced Overcoats that were $22, $18 and $16—the same attractive values we always give when we change prices.

One $15.00 sale of the Finer Overcoats, and also of Suits, continues with its unabated vigor.

And $5 is all we ask now for a number of $7 & $6 Trousers.

It's a long while to the end of the season—profit by it.

Hackett, Carhart & Co.

3 BROADWAY Stores: Cor. 13th St. Cor. Canal St. Near Chambers St.

JUSTICE FOR THE NEGRO.

North Carolina's Governor Says Since Blacks Cannot Vote Their Interests Must Be Safeguarded.

RALEIGH, N. C., Jan. 15.—Charles B. Aycock was inaugurated to-day as Governor of North Carolina. In the course of his inaugural address he said:

"I shall confidently expect you gentlemen of the Legislature, without regard to party, to frame an election law fair in every purpose, clear in every detail, and to provide machinery by which every man qualified under our Constitution shall be able to vote and shall know that his vote is effective. We can have safety, security, and integrity on no other basis.

"The white people owe a high duty to the negro. It was necessary to the safety of the State to base suffrage on capacity to exercise it wisely. The result is exclusion of a great number of negroes from the ballot, but their right to life, liberty, property, and justice must be even more carefully safeguarded than ever. It is true that a superior race cannot submit to the rule of an weaker race without injury; it is also true that the strong cannot oppress the weak without destruction.

"We are intrusted with power not for our good alone, but for the negro as well. We hold our title to power by tenure of service to God, and if we fail to administer equal and exact justice to the negro whom we deprive of suffrage, we shall in the fullness of time lose power ourselves, for we must know that the God who is love trusts no people with authority for the purpose of enabling them to do injustice to the weak."

A QUEER WILL CONTEST.

Frederick Martin Did Not Know His Wife Had So Large an Estate.

A contest of the will of Wilhelmina Martin by her husband, Frederick Martin, a Brooklyn jeweler, is on trial in the Surrogate's Court. Martin did not know, until he was served with the citation, that his wife, who died two years ago, had left a will. He declared the document offered is a forgery. Mrs. Martin left over $12,000 worth of diamonds and at least $15,000 in bank deposits. The alleged will bequeathes all to her children by a former marriage. They claim that the estate of their mother was worth at least $50,000.

Mrs. Martin's first husband was Ernest August Christleman, a carpenter. Two children, Wilhelmina Christleman Knab and E. A. Christleman, were born of this marriage. Mr. Christleman died in 1891, and his widow married Frederick Martin, the jeweler, about two months later. After her death, in 1899, Mr. Martin, who had for seventeen years kept a jewelry store on Avenue B, married Mrs. Weitlauf, a widow. The couple soon removed to Brooklyn, where Mr. Martin opened a jewelry store.

The alleged will, which, was filed by W. S. Katzenstein, counsel, is dated Sept. 15, 1896, and gives the entire property to the Christieman children.

Mr. Martin said last night: "I never knew that my wife had so much money and so many diamonds. In my answer I stated positively that I did not believe she ever executed such a will, and when the case comes up for a hearing before the Surrogate on Feb. 4 I will be ready to show that I turned over to her children everything that she had. She closed out her only bank account before she was married to me. I will show that my dead wife had no such estate. There is something wrong about the entire matter."

Mr. Katzenstein, as counsel for the heirs, says that he believes they will make out their case.

Louis A. Gourdain Discharged.

Louis A. Gourdain, who was arrested three months ago for violating the lottery laws on the day of his release from the penitentiary, where he had been for nearly a year, was yesterday discharged on his own recognizance by Judge Cowing, upon motion of Assistant District Attorney Townsend. Gourdain during his imprisonment in the Tombs issued subpoenas for over fifty well-known persons to attend his trial.

Gourdain had opened an office at 1 Madison Avenue, where he ran the Louisiana State Loan and Trust Company, which Capt. Price alleged was in violation of the lottery laws.

FF FLINT'S FINE FURNITURE

"THE SURVIVAL OF THE FITTEST."

Our furniture will be like a Louis Quinze screen which was in vogue in the eighteenth century and which now, in the opening year of the twentieth century, is leading all rivals, having outlived the changing styles of all those changing years.

We make our furniture of carefully selected wood, in beauty and variety of design, and skilful workmanship and reduced factory prices on many pieces make it especially economical for you to now

"BUY OF THE MAKER"

GEO. C. FLINT CO.

43 45 AND 47 WEST 23RD ST

NEAR BROADWAY.

FACTORY 154 AND 158 WEST 19TH STREET

Amusements.

Proctor's — Continuous Performance. — 15, 25, 50c. Vaudeville.
23d St. — Clayton White, Marie Stuart & Co., Delbosq, Cushman, Holcomb & Curtis.
5th Ave. — Murrell's Living Statuary, Papiota, Harry Watson's Co., Nideley & Carlisle.
58th St. — Tom Nawn & Co., R. Johnstone, 3 Mascaghos, Carroll Johnson, Ida Van Sicklen.
125th St. — Geo. W. Monroe, Chas. R. Sweet, Al Leech & 3 Rosebuds, Lew Hawkins, etc.

BROADWAY THEATRE. 41st St. & B'way. Evgs., 8:15. Mat. Sat., 2:15.
JEFFERSON DE ANGELIS in A ROYAL ROGUE. LAST WEEK.
WEDNESDAY, JAN. 23RD.
JOHANN STRAUSS'S LATEST OPERETTA, VIENNA LIFE. (Wiener Blut.)
SEAT SALE TO-MORROW, 9 A. M.

KNICKERBOCKER. Evs. 8.25. Mat. Sat., 2.20.
THEATRE CLOSED Wednesday and Thursday.
Miss Rehan will positively appear Friday evening.
ADA REHAN — LAST WEEK. "SWEET NELL OF OLD DRURY."
Next Week. Seat Sale To-morrow.
N. C. GOODWIN—MAXINE ELLIOTT, "When We Were Twenty-One."

CARNEGIE HALL
BOSTON SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA, Wilhelm Gericke, Conductor.
Thurs. Evg., Jan. 17, HUGO BECKER
Sat. Aft., Jan. 19, COURTLANDT PALMER
Tickets, $1.50 to 75c. Now on sale at box office and Tyson's (5th Av. Hotel) at regular prices.

ST. NICHOLAS SKATING RINK
69 WEST 66TH STREET.
CHAMPIONSHIP HOCKEY MATCH,
St. Nicholas S. C. vs. Quaker City.
Thursday, Jan. 17th, 8:15 P. M.
Admission, 50c. . . . Reserved Seats 50c. extra
Music . . . . . Skates Free.

CASINO B'way & 39th St. Ev., 8:15. Mat. Sat. FLORODORA

ACADEMY OF MUSIC, 14th St. & Irving Pl. LAST 2 WEEKS.
QUO VADIS Wilton Lackaye, Elitta Proctor Otis, Aubrey Boucicault.
Prices 25,50,75,1.00. Mats. To-day & Sat. 2. Eve. 8.

THE DEWEY E. 14th St. MATINEE TO-DAY. UTOPIAN BURLESQUERS NEW LIVING PICTURES.

CHILDREN'S THEATRE — The New Play, The Clown and the Locket TO-DAY and Sat. Aft. at 3, and Sat. Eve. at 8.
CARNEGIE LYCEUM, 57th St. & 7th Av.

BIJOU—AMELIA BINGHAM COMPANY.
To-night at 8:15. MATINEE To-day at 2:15. In Clyde Fitch's Latest Play, THE CLIMBERS

THE NEW YORK, B'way, 45 St. Ev. 8:15. Mats. To-day & Sat. New special vaudeville features Followed by Rosenfeld & Sloane's Successful review, The GIDDY THRONG

Theatre Evs., 8:15. REPUBLIC 42d St., jt west of B'way. Mats. To-day & Sat. 2:15.
VIOLA ALLEN "In the Palace of the King."

WEBER & FIELDS' FIDDLE-DEE-DEE MUSIC HALL. Evgs. 8:15 Sharp. Mats. Tues., Sat., 2. and Burlesques of Oay Lord Quex and A Royal Family.

KEITH'S DELLA FOX. QUAKER CITY QUARTET. LEW SULLY. TECHOW'S PERFORMING CATS AND DOGS.

WORLD IN WAX. EDEN MUSEE CINEMATOGRAPH. Xtra attractions. Charming Concerts.

Amusements.

Hammerstein's VICTORIA B'way, 45 St. 42d St., B'way and 7th Av. Ev'gs, 8:30. Matinée Saturday, 2:15. GENERAL ADMISSION, 50c. LAST WEEK DRESSLER. Comedy Triumph. MISS PRINNT. Jan. 21, Mathews & Bulger. "The Night of the 4th"

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN. SIXTH NATIONAL EXHIBITION OF CYCLES, MOTOR CYCLES. Automobiles and Accessories. Open 9 A. M. to 10:30 P. M. Adm., 50c.

HERALD SQUARE THEATRE. Mats. at 2. Evgs. at 8. Charles Frohman's Musical Comedy Co. with EDNA MAY. "Best of All Girls." THE GIRL FROM UP THERE. Mats. To-day & Sat.

WALLACK'S Evs. at 8:30. Matinées To-day & Saturday, 2:15. MARY MANNERING IN JANICE MEREDITH

Amusements.

EMPIRE THEATRE. B'way & 40th St. Evgs. 8:20. Matinées, 2:15. "Decided success."—Herald. Mats. To-day & Sat. Empire Theatre Company in MRS. DANE'S DEFENSE

CHARLES FROHMAN'S EVENINGS AT 8:15. MATINEE SATURDAY. JULIA MARLOWE — CRITERION THEATRE. B'way and 44th St. WHEN KNIGHTHOOD WAS IN FLOWER.

MADISON SQ. THEATRE, 24th St., nr. B'way. Mats. To-day and Saturday. Evenings, 8:30. HERBERT KELCEY, EFFIE SHANNON — MY LADY DAINTY

GARRICK THEATRE, 35th St. & B'way. Evenings, 8:15. Mats., 2:15. Matinées To-day and Saturday. WM. H. CRANE as DAVID HARUM.

GARDEN THEATRE—27th St. & Madison Av. Mr. E. S. WILLARD. Evenings, 8:20. TOM PINCH. Matinées To-day & Saturday. The Professor's Love Story. Next Mon., Tues. & Wed. Evg., The Middleman.

DALY'S B'way & 30th, at 8:15. Dan'l Frohman, Mgr. Mats. Wed. & Sat. 2. DANIEL FROHMAN'S COMPANY. Lady Huntworth's Experiment. Friday, 2:30, WALTER DAMROSCH, (Rheingold.)

LYCEUM 4th Av. & 23d.....At 8:30 Daniel Frohman....Manager Matinées Thurs. & Sat., 2:15 .....LAST THREE WEEKS..... ANNIE RUSSELL in A ROYAL FAMILY. A ROYAL FAMILY.

14th Street Theatre, nr. 6th Av. Mats. Wed. & Sat MR. CHAUNCEY OLCOTT in his greatest success, GARRETT (all new songs) O'MAGH

GRAND Opera House. WARD & VOKES in "The Floorwalkers." MAT. To-day. 25c-50c

IRVING PLACE THEATRE. Last week of the roaring farce, "Die Strengen Herren." Matinée Saturday, (popular prices,) "Uriel Acosta."

Amusements.

METROPOLITAN OPERA HOUSE
GRAND OPERA SEASON 1900—1901
Under the direction of Mr. Maurice Grau.
TO-NIGHT, at 8, and Sat. Aft., Jan. 19th, at 2—Revival of LE CID. (In French.) Mmes. Lucienne Bréval and Melba; MM. Jean and Ed. de Reszke, Sizes, and Plancon. Conductor, Mancinelli.
Fri. Ev'g, Jan. 18, at 7:45—DIE WALKÜRE, (In German.) Mmes. Ternina, Schumann-Heink, and Nordica; MM. Van Dyck, Blass, and Bertram. Conductor, Damrosch.
Sat. Aft., Jan. 19, at 2—LE CID, (In French.) Same cast as on Wednesday evening.
Sat. Ev'g, Jan. 19, at 8, at Popular Prices—DER FLIEGENDE HOLLANDER, (The Flying Dutchman,) (In German.) Mmes. Gadski and Olitzka; MM. Dippel, Blass, Bars, and Bertram. Conductor, Damrosch.
Sun. Ev'g., Jan. 20, at 8:15.—Grand Popular Concert. In addition to a miscellaneous concert, Rossini's STABAT MATER will be performed. Soloists: Mmes. Nordica, Scheff, and Schumann-Heink; MM. Imbart de la Tour, Campanari, and Plancon, together with Entire Orchestra and Chorus. Conductor, Mr. Mancinelli.
REPERTOIRE FOR NEXT WEEK.
Mon. Ev'g, Jan. 21, at 8:15.....LA BOHEME
Wed. Ev'g, Jan. 23, at 8.....DON GIOVANNI
Fri. Ev'g, Jan. 25, at 8..TRISTAN UND ISOLDE
WEBER PIANOS USED.

MANHATTAN THEATRE. 334 & B'way. Evg., 8:15. Mats. To-day & Sat. THE BURGOMASTER.

KOSTER & BIAL'S W. 34 Strt. Grand 25c. All Orc. Mat. Daily. Evgs. 25, 50, 75. Sunday Concerts. Tavary Opera Co. & Big Vaudeville Olio.

WALTER DAMROSCH At Daly's—Friday, 2:30, Das Rheingold

AMERICAN 42D ST. & 8TH AV. Evgs., 8:15. 25c., 35c., 50c. Mat. Daily (except Monday) 25c. THE ENSIGN.

MURRAY HILL THEATRE, 42d St. & Lex. Av. Matinee Every Day, 25c. This Week—THE MAN FROM MEXICO.

HARLEM OPERA HOUSE. Evgs., 8:10. Matinée Saturday, 2:00. Mr. John Hare | The Gay Lord Quex

HUBER'S 14TH ST. MUSEUM. Trapeze Dogs; Giantess; Trained Goats.

Send for free "Catalogue," "Objects of Art from the far away East."

Vantine's ORIENTALISTS & JEWELLERS, BROADWAY & 18TH ST.

The "Sirdar," Vantine's Egyptian Cigarette, 25c. Box, Postpaid.

Delayed Importations of Oriental Goods at Material Reductions

Fourth Floor.

Turkish, Persian & Indian Rugs and Hall Strips

Not a rug among these imports has ever been shown before.

100 Turkish and Persian Rugs, Values $7 to $9, — $5.00

150 Antique and Modern Missoul and Guendjec Rugs, About 4x7.6 ft., worth $16.00 and $18.00, — $12 and $14

100 Fine Kazaks, Average 4½ to 7½ ft., Values $30 each, — $20.00

100 Persian Hall Strips, Sizes from 3 to 4 ft. wide, to 12 to 17 ft. long. Values $50, — $28.00

100 Fine Beloochistans, Averaging 5½x8 ft., Value $45.00, — $28.00

Also:

85 Turkey, Persia & India Carpets

At $30, $42, $50, $65, $85, to $120.

Representing savings of from $20 to $40 on a carpet.

Reductions apply likewise to hundreds of cases of:
JAPANESE SCREENS, PICTURES, FANS, PORCELAINS, BRONZES, CUSHIONS.

BROADWAY AND 11TH ST.
JAMES McCREERY & CO.

Furs.

Entire remaining Stock of NOVELTY COLLARETTES,—various combinations of Fur, $5.00 to $135.00: Formerly $10.00 to $200.00.

Alaska Sable and Mink STORM COLLARS, $22.50.

FUR-LINED CAPES, $15.00; Value $25.00.

SCARFS.
Alaska Sable,—with tails, $7.50 and $9.50; Value $10.00 to $13.00.
Mink,—with cluster tails, $12.50 to $25.00
Blue and Sable Wolf, ... $15.00

MUFFS.
Astrakhan, ... $2.00
Dyed Skunk, ... $5.00
Persian Lamb, ... $6.00 and $8.50
Blue and Sable Wolf, ... $10.00
Mink, ... $12.50

SEALSKIN JACKETS, ... $125.00

BROADWAY AND 11TH ST.
JAMES McCREERY & CO.

"All the News That's Fit to Print."

The New York Times.

COPYRIGHT, 1901, BY THE NEW YORK TIMES COMPANY.

THE WEATHER.

Fair and colder; brisk northwesterly winds.

VOL. L...NO. 15,921. NEW YORK, THURSDAY, JANUARY 17, 1901.—SIXTEEN PAGES. ONE CENT In Greater New York, Jersey City, and Newark. Elsewhere. TWO CENTS.

ENGLAND'S TRADE RIVALS

Lord Rosebery Thinks America Is the Most Formidable.

THE GREAT POWER OF TRUSTS

American Combinations Can Compete with Any Trade in the United Kingdom.

LONDON, Jan. 16.—The Earl of Rosebery, responding to a toast to his health this evening at the annual banquet of the Wolverhampton Chamber of Commerce, spoke of the "great commercial warfare being waged against England."

"The chief rivals to be feared," he said, "are America and Germany. The Americans, with their vast and almost inexhaustible resources, their acuteness and enterprise, and their huge population, which will probably be 100,000,000 in twenty years, together with the plan they have adopted for putting accumulated wealth into great co-operative syndicates or trusts for the purpose of carrying on this great commercial warfare, are perhaps the most formidable.

"On the other hand, the Germans, with their calculating and conquering spirit, and the energy with which they seize and use the best and most economical methods, are but little less redoubtable than the Americans.

"The Americans, scarcely satisfied with gigantic individual fortunes, use these by combination to make of capital a power, which, wielded by one or two minds, is almost irresistible, and if this power is concentrated against Great Britain in trade warfare, it will be a danger we cannot afford to disregard.

"A trust of many millions might compete with any trade in England, underselling all her products at a considerable loss. This is a possible outcome of the immediate future.

"A curious feature, if I may say so without impertinence, seems to be that in combination with the American faculty for the acquisition of money there is a complete contempt for money except as a means of making more and more for power. These millionaires of whom we hear so much are often men of simple lives, whose simple rule is to make enormous accumulations in order to acquire more power.

"England, in order to withstand international competition, must thoroughly educate her youth, and I would suggest sending batches of young men abroad to learn the best our rivals know."

Lord Rosebery prefaced his declarations regarding commercial warfare with the following observations:

"The enormous and constantly increasing armament of Europe may be the means of preserving peace. In the first place, this may be so because war is an operation of such incalculable magnitude, producing such immeasurable results, that any nation hesitates to trust its fortunes to the issue, and, in the second place, there is scarcely any territory in the world now to acquire except countries so densely populated that the cost of their acquisition would be incalculably greater than their material value to the conqueror."

HORSE RAN INTO A FUNERAL.

Runaway Horse Overturns a Carriage and Many Are Injured.

Eight persons were injured and a number of others were severely shaken up yesterday afternoon when a runaway horse dashed into a funeral procession in upper Fifth Avenue and smashed a coach, scattering the occupants of the vehicle over the street. None of the injured persons were taken to the hospitals, although there were a few broken bones and many scalp wounds.

The horse that caused all the trouble was drawing a truck containing a window of plate glass about 12 feet square. In the truck were the driver, William Hanskemp, David Glass, and John Kransky. At Ninetieth Street and Fifth Avenue the horse took fright and became unmanageable. The animal dashed wildly up the avenue with the driver tugging helplessly at the reins.

A funeral procession was turning into the avenue at One Hundred and Fourth Street, from the east, and with speed unchecked the runaway horse dashed into one of the carriages of the procession. The carriage was driven by Edward Capper of 1,814 Park Avenue, and in it were seated Mr. and Mrs. William Linstedt of 308 East One Hundred and Thirty-fifth Street; Mrs. Nellie Rose, and Mrs. Burgoson, both of 605 West One Hundred and Twenty-seventh Street. The carriage was overturned and almost completely demolished. Its occupants were thrown to the ground and buried in the débris. The three men in the runaway truck were thrown to the pavement with great force, while Capper the driver of the coach, was sent sprawling. The runaway horse continued up the avenue until caught by a policeman.

An inventory of the injured and their wounds resulted as follows: Edward Capper, driver of the carriage, bruised and cut about the body; David Glass, fracture of collar bone and scalp wound; John Kransky, left foot crushed; William Hanskemp, fractured rib; Mr. and Mrs. Lindstedt, Mrs. Rose, and Mrs. Burgoson, all slightly cut and bruised about the body.

LONDON AND GLOBE'S LINE SOLD.

LONDON, Jan. 16.—It is understood here that Tom L. Johnson, the American street railroad capitalist, has bought the Baker Street and Waterloo Underground Railroad from the London and Globe Finance Corporation, Limited.

The officials of the company, however, decline to give the name of the purchaser. It is understood that the price, £500,000, carries a concession to extend the surface lines to Brighton, which Mr. Johnson tried to secure a year ago.

Mr. Legare, Mr. Johnson's representative, sailed for New York to-day on the Oceanic.

Special to The New York Times.

CLEVELAND, Jan. 16.—When seen here to-night Tom L. Johnson said he knew nothing about the sale of the Baker Street-Waterloo road.

Albert L. Johnson said last night that there was no truth in the report that his brother had bought the Baker Street road.

Lieut. Crimmins Married.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 16.—Lieut. Martin L. Crimmins of the Sixth Infantry, United States Army, and Miss Margaret Cole of this city were married at St. Mary's Cathedral in this city to-day by Vicar General J. J. Prendergast. The ceremony was performed under a magnificent bell of roses and lilies of the valley. The bride was attired in a dress of white mulle, and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley. Miss Florence Cole, sister of the bride, acted as maid of honor and the best man was John D. Crimmins, Jr. Lieut. Crimmins is a son of John D. Crimmins of New York.

INDEX TO DEPARTMENTS.

Stocks unsettled. Financial Affairs.—Pages 12 and 13.
Wheat, No. 2 red, 75¾c.; corn, No. 2 mixed, 40¾c.; oats, No. 2 mixed, 30½c.; cotton, middling, 9½c.; iron, Northern No. 1 foundry $16; butter, Western creamery, 21c. Commercial World.—Page 11.
Amusements.—Page 8.
Arrivals at Hotels and Out-of-Town Buyers.—Page 2.
Business Troubles.—Page 14.
Court Calendars.—Page 14.
Legal Notices.—Page 16.
Marine Intelligence and Foreign Mails.—Page 5.
New Corporations.—Page 14.
Railroads.—Page 5.
Real Estate.—Page 14.
Society.—Page 9.
United Service.—Page 5.
Weather Report.—Page 5.
Yesterday's Fires.—Page 5.

Poland! Poland! Poland Water!
Millions of gallons prescribed for the kidneys.—Adv.

THE TEXAS OIL DISCOVERY.

General Manager of the Santa Fe Road Says the Well at Beaumont Is a World Beater.

Special to The New York Times.

AUSTIN, Texas, Jan. 16.—Col. L. J. Polk, General Manager of the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fé Railway, arrived here to-day from Beaumont, where he visited the newly discovered great oil well. He says the discovery is unquestionably a world beater, and is only the beginning of many other equally as wonderful wells which will be drilled in the same locality as rapidly as drilling rigs can be shipped there and set to work.

Col. Polk says that the daily output of the new well, at the most conservative estimate, is 15,000 barrels of oil, and that many reliable oil well experts who are on the ground assert that the flow is as great as 25,000 barrels daily. There are three joint owners of the land upon which the well is situated, and their share is one-eighth of all the oil produced by this well or any others that may be drilled on the land.

When Col. Polk left Beaumont the oil had formed a lake covering between fifty and seventy-five acres and many feet in depth. It is believed, however, that the waste of oil will be comparatively small, owing to the character of the earth forming the bottom of the oil lake.

Prospective oil investors from Pennsylvania, Ohio, and Indiana oil fields are arriving at the scene by every train, and the excitement over the discovery is increasing. Prices of land in the locality are still going up, but some of the wealthy oil syndicates that have already been formed are willing to pay the fabulous prices that are asked, and big deals for leases and purchase of land outright have already been made.

A COSMOPOLITAN SWINDLER.

"Prince George de la Howarl" Arrested in Genoa for a Theft in Berlin.

BERLIN, Jan. 16.—Georg Manolesco, alias "Prince George de la Howarl," who was arrested this morning in Genoa, has played a considerable rôle in Berlin social and racing circles. He was at one time an officer in the Roumanian Army. He fled from Roumania on the discovery that he had committed forgery, and went to Paris, London, New York, and other cities, everywhere representing himself as a Prince and practising the arts of a sharper.

In this city he secured entrée into some of the most exclusive clubs. Finally, at a Berlin hotel, he stole from a Russian woman of rank a diamond necklace worth 40,000 marks.

His arrest in Genoa followed upon the request of the Berlin Criminal Police, and his extradition is expected soon.

HORSE MEAT FOR BEEF.

Slaughter House in Yonkers Investigated by the Board of Health.

YONKERS, N. Y., Jan. 16.—Dr. J. T. Dorian of the Yonkers Board of Health reported to that body this afternoon that he had discovered a place in the Seventh Ward of this city where horses were slaughtered and the meat taken to New York and sold as beef. He said that when he visited the place he found eight carcasses dressed and ready for shipment.

Outside in the yard there were several horses that had died, and the doctor said that he understood that the meat from such animals was made into frankfurters, which was supposed to be shipped abroad, but were probably sold in New York City, if not in this city. The horses killed were old ones purchased in New York.

Several horses which were waiting to be killed, the doctor said, appeared to be worn out hack or car horses. He was directed to prosecute.

THE PRESIDENT AT WORK.

Attends a Short Cabinet Meeting at the White House.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—The Cabinet meeting to-day, which was held in the private parlor of the White House and which was the first one held since the President's illness, lasted about thirty minutes. No business question was brought before the meeting.

It is likely there will not be another Cabinet meeting unless something extraordinary occurs before the beginning of the week. The President is feeling very well to-day, but he still shows to a slight degree his illness and that he has not fully recovered his usual vigor.

Owing to the long illness of the President the judicial reception announced for next Wednesday evening will be abandoned. While the President is steadily improving, the anxiety to Mrs. McKinley has been most distressing, resulting in a great loss of strength which may necessitate her withdrawal from all social functions for the remainder of the season.

THE PUPIN INVENTION.

Gen. Greely Does Not Think the Government Will Adopt It.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—Gen. A. W. Greely, Chief Signal Officer of the Army, was asked to-day if there was any probability that the Government will take up the Pupin discovery. "No," he replied. "That is a subject for the telegraph lines. It might be tried between Cuba and Key West, but the Government has nothing to do with it. That line is controlled by a private corporation."

Gen. Greely was asked about its use in connection with the Pacific cable. "That is the finest place in the world where it will be applied," he said. "It is the longest line in the world, and it will of course not be put in there until it has first been experimented with on the shorter lines."

Gift to Augustana College.

Special to The New York Times.

ROCK ISLAND, Ill., Jan. 16.—E. C. and J. A. Eriesson of Boone, Iowa, have given to Augustana College 280 acres of coal land in Iowa, worth $30,000, the returns from which are to be used to support a Professor of the Swedish language at the college. J. T. Robinson of this city has agreed to pay half the salary of a $1,200 professorship for a period of two years. The Directors to-day nominated for the Presidency of the college, which has been vacant since the death of Dr. O. Olsson, the Rev. P. L. A. Johnston of St. Paul, the Rev. L. G. Abrahamson of Chicago, and Dr. Gustave A. Andreen of Yale College. These names will be voted on at the annual meeting of the Synod in June.

To Build Motor Street Sweepers.

Special to The New York Times.

WINSTED, Conn., Jan. 16.—Waldo L. Curtiss of Winsted has organized the Hartford Motor Machine Company, with a capital stock of $250,000. The company controls the patents on a motor street sweeper, which was invented by John T. Collins of Hartford, and will engage in manufacturing and placing the sweeper on the market. The officers of the company are: President—Thomas Sisson of Hartford; Vice President—H. Farnan of New Haven; Secretary and Treasurer—P. Day of Hartford. The company purposes to erect a large factory in Parkville, a suburb of Hartford. The sweeper will cost from $3,000 to $5,000.

Shoe Shining Rate Fixed in Kansas.

Special to The New York Times.

TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 16.—The Kansas Legislature to-day declared by resolution that 5 cents was a sufficient charge for shining a pair of shoes. This maximum price was fixed for the Representative Hall shoe-shining stand. The Democrats and Populists fought hard for a maximum fee of 10 cents, but the Republican members pleaded for economy and outvoted them.

Poland! Poland! Poland Water!
Millions of gallons prescribed for the kidneys.—Adv.

CHIEF DEVERY WILL GO OUT WITHOUT A PENSION

He Refuses to Retire, and Will Fight for His Legal Rights.

Will Seek Redress for Deprivation of His Rights by Any Act of the Legislature.

"Chief Devery has no intention of retiring or of acquiescing in any action of the board to this end. He will stick to the last. If any act of the Legislature removes him from office he will leave the department without a pension. But he will be tenacious of his rights and seek legal redress for any deprivation of office which an enactment like the single-headed Police Commission bill might bring about."

This statement was made yesterday on authority which has the force of official declaration. It sets at rest a host of stories with such captions as "Devery to Retire To-morrow," "Police Board to Retire Devery," "Devery to Go on Tuesday," and like fiction. It also makes clear that the Chief in his resolve to dis with the board will abandon his pension of $3,000 a year. His fortune, much of it in the best of real estate, is estimated at from $250,000 to $300,000.

The announcement, taken in the light of his Tammany Hall affiliations, which are opposed to Lewis Nixon and the other members of the Tammany Hall Investigating Committee, emphasizes the conviction that the Devery-Sullivan-Grady-Scannell-Sexton faction dominates the situation, and bids defiance to the Committee of Five and, incidentally, to the Committee of Fifteen, Richard Croker, and District Attorney Philbin. And Devery may be said to have shied his castor into the ring on the day that he, by a general order expressed his contempt and disregard for State Superintendent John McCullagh.

Chief Devery's "Not a word," when asked about himself and his intentions, was just as emphatic yesterday as it has been for weeks. The four Police Commissioners said that they had no plan in regard to him, and that they had no information on which to gauge his intentions.

"Should the single-headed Police Commission bill be enacted and remove you from office will you contest such removal in the courts?" was asked of the Commissioners yesterday.

Commissioners Abell and Hess replied that they would acquiesce in the operations of the law and would make no contest, but Commissioners York and Sexton would not discuss it.

Deputy Chief Cortright denied a story that he was about to apply for retirement.

Capt. A. G. Hasslacher of the East Twenty-second Street Station, who has been ailing for some time, has, at his own request, been ordered before the Police Surgeons with a view to being retired on a pension

GET $6,000 OF CONVICT'S GOLD.

Indiana Detectives Think It Is Part of the Cudahy Ransom.

Special to The New York Times.

MUNCIE, Ind., Jan. 16.—Detectives from Indianapolis and Lafayette dug up $6,000 in gold to-day from a vacant lot in this city. They claim the money belongs to the notorious Frank Buck, alias Frank Fresch, who was arrested in Muncie a few days ago and who confessed to stealing a number of valuable horses in Eastern Indiana recently. Buck was followed to Muncie by two farmers, who compelled him to surrender. He was taken back to Lafayette and re-sentenced to Jeffersonville Prison, having been out on parole. He stated that he had money in a number of Indiana banks and $6,000 handy, with which he expected to go into business.

Upon his arrival at prison Buck gave a book to Detective Winehammer of Lafayette, who took him to prison, and claimed that he had $6,000 buried in Muncie. In the book he had drawn a plat which enabled the detectives to dig up the money.

It is the accepted theory that Buck was one of the principals in the Cudahy kidnapping case at Omaha, as he spent nothing but gold while in Muncie.

VIGILANCIA'S PASSENGERS LAND.

Taken to Havana on the Orizaba—The Vessel May Be Saved.

HAVANA, Jan. 16.—The passengers of the Ward Line steamer Vigilancia, which went ashore on Monday morning on the reefs of Los Colorados, about eighty miles west of this city, in a fog, have arrived here on the steamer Orizaba, which went to the assistance of the Vigilancia with two tugs and lighters.

The wind has veered southward, and there is no sea running. It is thought that the vessel will be saved if the weather holds. Wreckers are expected from the United States.

The Vigilancia now lies in eleven feet of water. She has a bad list to starboard and her boilers are displaced. They cannot be used. She is, however, not making water. The cattle and freight on board of her have been unloaded and sent to Havana.

NEW MATCH COMPANY.

The Continental, with a Capital of $1,000,000, Is Incorporated at Trenton.

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 16.—The Continental Match Company, with a capital of $1,000,000, was to-day incorporated, with Horace S. Gould, John I. Billings, and Kenneth K. McLaren, all of Jersey City, as incorporators.

The Colorado Smelting and Mining Company was incorporated here to-day with a capital of $5,000,000. The incorporators are Albert E. Reynolds, Denver; Charles A. Starbuck and John C. Thompson, New York.

CARNEGIE COMPANY GETS ROAD.

Formal Lease of the Old Pittsburg, Bessemer and Lake Erie Railroad.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 16.—The minority stokholders of the Pittsburg, Bessemer and Lake Erie Railroad Company, at a meeting in the company's offices in the Carnegie Building to-day decided, without a dissenting vote, to lesse the road to a newly organized railroad concern known as the Bessemer and Lake Erie Railroad Company, which is subsidiary to the Carnegie Steel Company. The new company will take charge of the road on April 1 next and operate it thereafter. The lease is for 999 years.

The minority stockholders are guaranteed by the leasing company an annual dividend of 3 per cent. on the par value of their stock, $50 per share. Heretofore they have not been getting any dividends.

Delpit Marriage Case in Civil Court.

Special to The New York Times.

MONTREAL, Jan. 16.—Counsel for Edouard Delpit has made formal application to the Superior Court here to have legal effect given to the judgment of the Ecclesiastical Court sitting at Quebec annulling his marriage with Marie B. A. J. Cote, thus bringing this famous case before the civil courts. The suit is brought on the ground that two Catholics cannot be married, under the law, by a Protestant clergyman. The marriage was set aside by the Ecclesiastical Court "for the reason of clandestiness."

Burnett's Vanilla
leaves a good taste in the mouth. It is pure and wholesome. Don't be cheated with cheap goods.—Adv.

Poland! Poland! Poland Water!
Millions of gallons prescribed for the kidneys.—Adv.

W. A. CLARK AGAIN A SENATOR.

Montana Legislature Elects Him on the First Ballot—He Buys All the Wine in Helena.

Special to The New York Times.

HELENA, Mont., Jan. 16.—W. A. Clark was elected United States Senator to-day on the first ballot. It required 47 votes to elect, and he received 57 of the 93 cast. His election was greeted with cheers that came from the spectators who crowded the galleries of the Auditorium, where the balloting took place as well as from many of the lawmakers on the main floor.

When Speaker Corbett cast the last vote for Clark he did so with a whoop, and the audience and lawmakers cheered to the echo. In the confusion that followed many friends of Mr. Clark who were seated on the main floor crowded about him. Among the first to congratulate him was F. Augustus Heinze.

There were cries for a speech, and Mr. Clark was escorted to the platform, where he delivered an address thanking the legislators for the honor conferred upon him, and incidentally referring to the defeat of Senator Chandler of New Hampshire, who was his veritable foeman in the Senatorial investigation.

The Senators and Representatives assembled in the big hall a few minutes after noon. Hundreds of spectators had crowded in the galleries and others followed the lawmakers into the main hall. Lieut. Gov. Higgins presided, and after the usual formalities incident to roll call had been disposed of the Legislature proceeded to business, Clark being elected on the first ballot. The ballot for short-term Senator resulted in no choice and the Legislature adjourned until to-morrow.

A special train, having aboard the Boston and Montana Band and several hundred Clark enthusiasts, arrived to-night from Butte to attend the banquet being given in honor of the new Senator. Speeches were made by Mr. Clark, Gov. Toole, and others.

Mr. Clark bought all the wine in Helena, and it is being served free, together with cigars and lunch, over two bars to all comers.

EX-GOV. MOUNT DIES SUDDENLY

Stricken by Heart Disease in an Indianapolis Hotel—Retired from Office Last Monday.

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 16.—James A. Mount, who retired Monday at noon from the office of Governor of the State of Indiana, died very suddenly at 6:45 o'clock tonight in his apartments at the Denison Hotel. He had attended a reception tendered by Mrs. Mount to a number of prominent ladies of the city, during the afternoon, and shortly after the guests departed he started out for a walk. Upon his return he said nothing about being ill, and after removing his hat and overcoat sat down to read. In a few minutes he turned to his wife and niece, who were in the room, and said:

"I am sick; it is my heart; send for a doctor at once."

Dr. O. S. Runnels was called, but Mr. Mount had died before his arrival.

During the forenoon Mr. Mount visited the office of Col. Charles E. Wilson, his former private secretary, and was in consultation with him for several hours. In the afternoon he made a speech before the Indiana State Wool Growers' Association and was elected President of the association, and again spent some time with Col. Wilson. Part of the time he spent assisting in receiving his wife's guests. Word was at once sent to Gov. Durbin, who was at Anderson, and instructions were issued at once ordering the issuing of a proclamation.

James Atwell Mount, who was Governor of Indiana from January, 1897, until Jan. 14 of this year, was born on a farm in Montgomery County, Ind., March 23, 1843. He received his education in the country schools of his native county, and at the Presbyterian Academy at Lebanon, Ind., spending a year at the latter institution after the civil war. Throughout the war between the States Mr. Mount served as a member of Wilder's Brigade, being a Sergeant in the Seventy-second Indiana Regiment. At one time he was a member of the Indiana Senate, and was the Republican nominee for Congress in the Eighth District in 1890, but was defeated.

Mr. Mount had long been noted as one of the best informed members of the Presbyterian Church, in the service of which denomination, as a member of presbyteries, synods, and assemblies, he always took the greatest interest. He had served as President of the National Horse Thief Detective Association and also as President of the Farmers' Insurance Company of Montgomery and Fountain Counties.

Recently much attention was directed to Gov. Mount on account of his refusal to honor a requisition for the return to Kentucky of William S. Taylor, who, when he was indicted for complicity in the murder of William Goebel, fled to Indianapolis.

Three children and Mrs. Mount are the surviving members of the family. The oldest child is Mrs. Charles Butler, who lives on a farm in Montgomery County. The Rev. Harry M. Mount, pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Connersville, and Mrs. John W. Nicely, who is now in Syria, are the other children.

"SAM" LEWIS LEFT £4,000,000

Desire Expressed in His Will that His Widow Shall Give £950,000 for Charitable Objects.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—Samuel Lewis, the money lender and usurer, who died on Sunday, left £4,000,000, all of which goes under his will to his widow, with the exception of £200,000, which is divided among relatives.

In his will Mr. Lewis expresses a desire that his widow should give in her own name £400,000 to provide dwellings for the poor of all creeds, £250,000 to the Prince of Wales's Hospital Fund, £100,000 to the Jewish Board of Guardians of London, and £200,000 to various hospitals.

MOTHS DISABLE FLOUR MILLS.

Special to The New York Times.

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 16.—Some of the flour mills at Superior, Wis., those which have been lying idle since the collapse of the McIntyre Flour Trust, are said to be infested with the dreaded Mediterranean moth. The moth is a terror; it thrives in flouring mills, evidently feeding on flour dust, and multiplies at an enormous rate. Thus far no effective way has been found to get rid of it.

The immature worms play havoc with the machinery plant, weaving webs in the machinery, in the dust collectors, and in various chutes of the mill, and blocking operations. In one of the mills of Superior the moths got into some of the wooden chutes, and finally it was necessary to take out the chutes and burn them.

The moths are transferred from mill to mill, it is believed, through the interchange of sacks and bags. Duluth millers are greatly exercised for fear that the moth may in some way get entrance into their plants. Indeed, all the millers in the Northwestern States will guard vigilantly against such a calamity.

The moth has not made its appearance in the Minneapolis mills.

M. Lasies Repudiates His Offer.

PARIS, Jan. 17.—Le Figaro publishes this morning an amusing sequel to the recent declaration in the Chamber of Deputies by M. Lasies, Nationalist, that he would give 1,000f. for a photograph showing the Premier, M. Waldeck-Rousseau, conversing with Père du Lac. M. Waldeck-Rousseau, according to Le Figaro, sent to the deputy a snap-shot taken by Mme. Waldeck-Rousseau on the occasion of the visit of the celebrated Jesuit to the Premier's country seat, with a polite request that the money be given to charity. M. Lasies, who was much disconcerted, refused to comply, saying that he had only spoken figuratively.

The One Way to Travel
When going West is to use the Pennsylvania Limited, palatial as well as comfortable in its appointments.—Adv.

Poland! Poland! Poland Water!
Millions of gallons prescribed for the kidneys.—Adv.

VENEZUELAN CRISIS ACUTE

Armed Force Demands Surrender of the Asphalt Lake.

The Scorpion Ordered to the Scene to Prevent Dispossession of Americans —To Use Force if Necessary.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—The property of the Asphalt Trust has been attacked by an armed force of Venezuelans. The trust has a private army of its own on the scene and the attacking force has ordered the Americans to lay down their arms. The Scorpion has been ordered to the scene of hostilities and there is every likelihood that other American warships will be sent there. The two ships seized by the Venezuelan Government and belonging to the Orinoco Shipping and Trading Company are believed to be about to proceed to the asphalt region as ships of war. They are the best ships in the Venezuelan Navy.

The attack on the asphalt property is reported to be the work of "revolutionists," but it is learned late to-night that there is no expectation of trouble with revolutionists, not even with bogus revolutionists. The trouble expected is with the troops of the Venezuelan Government. The orders to Commander Sargent direct him to resist any attempt to dispossess the New York and Bermudez Company. The action now taken by Venezuela, whether by nominal revolutionists or by regular troops, is Castro's answer to the last and most vigorous protest of the State Department.

Part of this news was communicated to the State Department to-day, not by Minister Loomis but by the New York and Burmudez Company, the branch of the trust which is resisting the Venezuelan Government in its attempt to convey a portion of the asphalt region to the Felleldad Company. It was this company which asked for the aid of the Scorpion. It does not appear from the report that a battle has yet taken place at the pitch lake. An army force has appeared before the trust's possessions, and ordered the men to surrender and give up their arms. If the demand is not complied with at once there will undoubtedly be bloodshed before the arrival of the Scorpion, which is now at La Guayra. Her men cannot reach the asphalt region within two days.

Secretary Long responded very promptly to the request of the State Department, and within a few minutes after its receipt Capt. Cowles, who is acting as Chief of the Navigation Bureau during the illness of Admiral Crowninshield, was in conference with acting Secretary Hill at the State Department respecting the movements of the naval vessel and the character of the instructions to be sent to Lieut. Commander Sargent. Respecting these instructions nothing could be learned at the State Department beyond the statement that Commander Sargent had been instructed to avoid bloodshed and the destruction of property if possible. Still, taken in connection with what has gone before, there is little doubt that if the disturbing forces in Venezuela are seeking to dispossess the incumbents in the asphalt concession in defiance of the tacit agreement that there first should be a thorough judicial inquiry, the United States warship will prevent that action, peaceably if possible, forcibly if necessary.

The Scorpion is a converted gunboat of 850 tons, obtained during the Spanish-American war. She carries eight guns, and has eighty or ninety men. There are no marines aboard. She is under Lieut. Commander Nathan Sargent. The nearest ships are the Hartford, the Lancaster, and the Bancroft. The two former are training ships. The Bancroft is in Central American waters, and would probably be the first vessel sent to the region if trouble arose. Admiral Schley's South Atlantic Squadron is a long way down the South American coast, and is said not to be available.

Official inquiries have been made of the Navy Department to ascertain what ships of importance can be sent to the scene of hostilities. The ships within easy reach are all small. The Navy Department is ready to send the Kearsarge and Massachusetts.

According to the asphalt trust's report the principal trouble is at Guanoco. This town does not appear on any of the official maps, and Venezuelans say that it must be a small town of no commercial importance lying up the Orinoco River about two days' run from La Guayra, so that the Scorpion should be at the seat of the trouble before the end of the present week.

It is positively asserted on the highest authority that no movement worthy the name of revolution is now going on in Venezuela. The alleged revolution, headed by Gen. Peraza, which was suppressed, did not originate in the State of Bermudez, in which the asphalt lakes are located, and there have been no revolutionists in that neighborhood.

The Venezuelan Government was on the point of doing the very thing which the "revolutionists" are now reported to have done, when it was stopped by a vigorous protest from the United States. Venezuela then refused to recognize the right of the United States to interfere, but gave no hint of her own intentions in the matter. Now the "revolutionists" seem to be making war, not upon President Castro's Government, but upon his enemy, the asphalt trust.

It turned out to-day that although the Orinoco Shipping and Trading Company's ships, whose vessels were seized by Venezuela, have a British register, they fly the Venezuelan flag. This seems to leave Venezuela within her legal rights as far as Great Britain is concerned, but the State Department intends to look into the matter because of the interest of the American stockholders. The Venezuelan navy consists of only a few little gunboats, chiefly for service on rivers, and all they have had to do hitherto has been to catch smugglers. The navy has never been called into service hitherto in the great revolutions of Venezuela, and why that country should now feel the need of warships in coping with an uprising which nobody can locate, and which does not appear to amount to anything, is a question.

Venezuela's regular army is about 8,000 strong, but the reserves for domestic service bring it up to 18,000. She has, however, a further reserve for foreign wars, and her total military strength in such a case is about 100,000. The last time all the reserves were called out they mustered 90,000 men. This was during the trouble with Great Britain which provoked President Cleveland's message in 1895, and since then the foreign war reserves have been increased.

VOLUNTEERS READY TO SAIL.

Thirty-sixth Infantry Arrives at Manila on the Way Home.

MANILA, Jan. 16.—The United States transport Buford arrived here from Vigan, on the northwest coast of the Island of Luzon, this evening, with the Thirty-sixth Regiment of Infantry, (United States Volunteers.) The soldiers will land to-morrow, camp on the Luneta, and sail on the transport Pennsylvania for San Francisco Jan. 25.

This regiment was the earliest organized of the present volunteers. Some of the men will join the new Manila police, under Provost Marshal General J. Franklin Bell, the original Colonel of the Thirty-sixth Regiment.

The United States transport Indiana will sail for San Francisco with sick soldiers on the return of the hospital ship Relief from Aparri, (a town on the northern extremity of the Island of Luzon.)

Mrs. Kaplin Dies at a London Hotel.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—Mrs. Kaplin, wife of a New York diamond merchant, died yesterday at the Hotel Cecil.

Poland! Poland! Poland Water!
Millions of gallons prescribed for the kidneys.—Adv.

MEMORIAL TO DR. I. M. WISE.

Discussion of Plan to Raise $500,000—Council of Hebrew Congregations at Cincinnati Adjourns.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 16.—The seventh council of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations closed to-night and will meet in St. Louis in 1903. A standing committee was appointed on circuit preaching, to employ field secretaries, to organize country congregations, and for such missionary work as the Jews have not done heretofore. The recommendation of the Committee on Finance to require every Jewish congregation of the country to join the Council Union was adopted.

Memorial resolutions in respect to the late Dr. I. M. Wise were adopted. Most of the day was devoted to the consideration of a proposition to raise $500,000 for the endowment of the Hebrew Union College in this city, to be called the Wise Memorial Fund. There are more than 700 Jewish congregations in the United States and only about 150 of them are in the union. The rabbis of all congregations were required to assist in raising this fund.

A resolution was adopted creating a standing committee of twenty-one members of the Isaac M. Wise National Memorial Fund, with headquarters in Cincinnati, and to make a final report at the next meeting in St. Louis. It was reported that more than $100,000 had already been secured, $40,000 of it from Cincinnati.

The Committee on Civil and Religious Rights reported, condemning the cruelties to Jews in Europe and appealing for the relief of the Russian and Roumanian Jews.

The following new members of the Executibe Board were selected: Louis J. Goldman and Sol Fox, Cincinnati; Lewis Gans, New York; B. F. Teller, Philadelphia; I. Michaels, St. Louis; Morris Cohn, Little Rock; Ben Wild, Milwaukee; A. Mahler, Cleveland; I. Oppenheimer, Buffalo, and M. A. Stern, Rochester. Most of the members of this board held over or were re-elected. This board will organize to-morrow, and also elect officers of the union and the Governors of the Hebrew Union College.

$60,000,000 BILL PASSED.

River and Harbor Measure Goes Through the House—Is in No Danger in the Senate.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—The River and Harbor Appropriation bill was passed by the House this afternoon, and there is great rejoicing to-night among those members of the House who have obtained liberal shares of the $60,000,000 carried by the bill. They do not doubt that the same interests in the Senate that made its passage through the House possible will assure its adoption by the Senate, and there is no concern about what will happen to it when it goes to the White House.

The friends of the Missouri River improvement, although they were unsuccessful in securing what they desired, persuaded Chairman Burton to offer an amendment to permit owners of property abutting on the Missouri to build dikes and wing dams for its protection, where such structures do not interfere with the navigation of the stream.

The section empowering the President to negotiate with Great Britain for the maintenance of suitable levels on the great lakes was broadened so as to provide for a joint commission to conduct the negotiations.

Some of the old members of the House are recalling the action of President Cleveland upon a bill that was passed in May, 1896, while he was in his second term. The Treasury was not then in such good condition as it now is, but Congress made a bill that, by direct and continuing contract expenditures, involved the outlay of $80,000,000. Only $17,000,000 was authorized to be spent at once, and there were continuing contracts to almost $62,000,000. The bill just passed is somewhat different in its make-up. It carries $22,800,000 to be expended in the next fiscal year, and authorizes contracts to satisfy which $37,150,000 must be provided. Many of the continuing contracts authorized by the bill rejected by Mr. Cleveland have been completed, but since the continuing-contract system was adopted it has increased the bulk of river and harbor appropriations steadily and largely. The Senate, it is emphatically stated, will not cut down the bill. If all propositions submitted in the Senate in the way of amendments to the bill are approved by the Commerce Committee, that committee will not only greatly increase the amount to be drawn from the Treasury to meet river and harbor expenditures, but will immensely stiffen the chances for getting the Subsidy bill through if it should be considered necessary to roll both into one, as was reported yesterday.

SUBSIDY BILL NEXT IN ORDER.

Populists Who Delayed Army Bill Are Ready to Filibuster Against Shipping Measure.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—The agreement to vote on the Army Reorganization bill on Friday causes the advocates of the Shipping bill the utmost gratification, for, although the Subsidy bill will be taken up on Monday, fully a week later than the latest date it was expected to reach it, Mr. Hanna is inspired with the hope that in a few days the bill will be in the House, or possibly in a committee of conference.

This sanguine expectation does not seem quite consistent with the persistent reference to the possibility of combining the Subsidy bill and the River and Harbor bill, nor does it take into account the fact that there are Republicans not determined to vote against the bill whose support will be conditioned upon the very material amendment of the measure.

The ability of the Senate to consume time in debate has just been illustrated in its prolonged discussion of the Army Reorganization bill. It was known by the opponents of the Shipping bill that the Army bill would be passed, if it came to a vote, but they knew also that if they could use up a week talking over a bill that would eat up time the Subsidy bill would crowd business, and perhaps be squeezed out at last because there was no time in which to complete it. The Subsidy bill is much more interesting, too, to both sides.

The Republicans have managed to compel the Democrats and Populists to do most of the talking on the Army Reorganization bill. That will not be the case with the Shipping Subsidy bill. There are many Republican speeches ready to be delivered. Almost every Democrat is opposed to the theory and practice of the bill. Then the Populists, who have been filibustering on the Army bill, will get to work in earnest to stop the Subsidy bill where they were only arguing to postpone the Army bill.

The postponement having been effected, the Populists now rely upon their staying qualities and the pressure from behind for appropriations, to make good their determination to drive the Subsidy bill over to a later session.

A CONGRESS OF RELIGIONS.

Michigan Conference to Consolidate All Religious Bodies.

Special to The New York Times.

BENTON HARBOR, Mich., Jan. 16.—With 200 delegates representing nearly all sections of the United States, the Michigan Congress of Religions began a three-day convention to-day for the purpose of discussing plans for the consolidation of all the different religious bodies into one universal church.

The Rev. A. K. Beem of the Universalist Church welcomed the delegates. As the originator of the Congress he explained his idea, and briefly gave the reasons which caused him to issue the call. The Rev. J. Stitt Wilson responded. He is the co-worker of the Rev. George D. Herron in the crusade for practical religion.

The address of the evening was made by the Rev. F. V. Hawley of the Louisville (Ky.) Universalist Church. To-morrow the Rev. Jenkin Lloyd Jones of Chicago will address it on "The Parliament of Religion and What Next."

Across the Continent.
The Pennsylvania Railroad connects at Chicago with through trains to the Pacific Coast.—Adv.

Poland! Poland! Poland Water!
Millions of gallons prescribed for the kidneys.—Adv.

BOSSCHIETER VERDICT MAY BE REACHED TO-DAY

McAlister and Other Defendants Testify for Themselves.

DENY GIVING POISON TO GIRL

They Declare She Was Ill and the Fatal Drive Was Taken to Revive Her.

Special to The New York Times.

PATERSON, N. J., Jan. 16.—That Jennie Bosschieter, the mill girl, was not poisoned—that the four men accused of causing her death took her on that fatal ride over the Goffle road merely to revive her—such the defense proved to be when Lawyer Michael Dunn sat down after his opening address for to make her intoxicated, so that she could not control her will. While it was stated here that Mr. Death had stated that he had taken liberties with this woman, there is no such statement. Whatever relations Mr. Death had with this girl was before she had a drop to drink; before she left Saul's saloon and with her consent. There never was a prearrangement between these defendants to harm a hair of that girl's head. When "Andy" Campbell escorted her to the saloon it was to oblige her friend, and with the purpose to go away at once and keep his engagement with Mr. Duggan. It was an accident with which these men met that night, an accident that might happen to the most innocent son of any father.

"We deny that the girl died of chloral poisoning. We don't know that she died of any poison. We shall ask you for a verdict."

When Mr. Dunn had concluded, the defense called its first witness, David Vermeulen, brother of the undertaker who testified yesterday. He merely stated that he assisted in embalming the body of Jennie Bosschieter on the night of Friday, Oct. 19.

"Have you given a sample of the embalming fluid to Dr. Vanderburr?" Mr. Dunn asked the witness. The cat was out of the bag. The name of the expert for the defense had been mentioned.

Thomas Duggan, a Paterson newspaper reporter, testified that he was the man who had the engagement with Andrew Campbell in Myer's saloon, which had been mentioned in Mr. Dunn's address. He said that he did not get to the place fixed for the meeting until after 1 o'clock, and was informed that Campbell had been there.

"Walter McAlister!" cried the clerk.

The dominating spirit among the four accused men, and the man who has been regarded to be the most notorious among them, stepped to the witness stand amid a hum of whispers which went up from the audience. His pink complexion did not fade a bit when he was called upon to explain away the damaging charges which have been made against him. His voice, which was low, betrayed no nervousness as he answered the questions.

McALISTER IN HIS DEFENSE.

He began, at the suggestion of Mr. Dunn, to tell of his going to Kent's drug store on the night of Oct. 18 to meet Mr. Kerr, there, and of his having met Death and Campbell, whom he knew, but who had not been particular comrades of his. While at the store, he said, he saw Jennie Bosschieter pass.

"Did you know her?" Mr. Dunn asked.

"For two years and a half."

"Had you been out to any places of amusement with her?"

"I had been out riding with her—the first time two and a half years ago."

McAlister then narrated his movements during the early part of the evening, much as Mr. Dunn had spoken of them. He said that he went to Saul's saloon, not knowing that Death or Campbell were there.

"What did Miss Bosschieter do when you went into Saul's back room?"

"She jumped up and put her arms around me."

"What was her condition?"

"I should say she was jolly full."

"What was her condition when the party left the saloon?"

"She was very drunk."

"Did you or anybody else put anything into her drink?"

"No, Sir."

"Was anything done to this girl by you men when you were driving out on the Golfie Road?"

"No, Sir."

"When you got out on the Rock Road did you spread a blanket, for her on the ground?"

"Yes, Sir; she wanted to sit down. She was weak."

"Did any of you take any liberties with her?"

"No, Sir, and we were not out of the carriage five minutes."

"How near was the girl's home did you come that night?" asked ex-Judge Scott.

"About 400 or 500 feet."

"Why didn't you take her home?"

"There were too many men on the street. Our first intention was to leave her on the street."

Mr. Emley began his cross-examination of the witness by questioning him about his business. He followed up immediately after by asking:

"You have been leading for some time rather a 'sporty' life, haven't you?"

The question was ruled out.

"What was the nature of your engagement with Mr. Kerr on the night of Oct. 18?"

"To meet two ladies at the Ash Street Bridge."

"Who were they?"

"I refuse to answer."

"On what grounds?"

"They were respectable."

Mr. Emley kept up a continual fire of questions at McAlister regarding his actions in the saloon. The most incriminating reply which he made was that he sat next to the girl in the saloon. He said that she got into bad shape quickly after having taken the drinks.

"When did you decide to go with the carriage?" McAlister was asked.

"Before Kerr came with the carriage."

"Did it occur to you when you started out that it might be best to take the girl home?"

"We didn't want her to go home in that condition."

"You all knew where she lived?"

"Yes."

"Did she speak on the ride?"

"She mumbled two or three times. We didn't pay much attention, as we were all laughing and joking."

"Laughing and joking about Jennie and her condition?"

"No, Sir. Just telling stories and talking."

"Why did you tell the hackman not to talk about the case?"

"Frightened, nervous," said McAlister, rather nonchalantly. "Didn't want to be connected with the case."

DEATH'S TESTIMONY.

The defendant, Death, succeeded McAlister on the stand. He stuck, in the main, to the story outlined by Mr. Dunn.

"Did Jennie say anything to you about your marriage?" Death was asked.

"She said: 'When you were marrying, why didn't you marry me?' I told her I didn't think we thought enough of each other."

Death had a respite then, because the recess hour had arrived.

Mr. Emley took up the thread of the cross-examination at the beginning of the afternoon session by asking Death to explain his statements at the time of his arrest, as they had been told to the jury by Detective Titus. "I mean that portion where in your statement you were called upon to explain what you meant by 'dopey.'"

"I meant that Jennie was 'dopey' after she had drank the absinthe," Death replied quickly.

Mr. Emley brought out the fact that on the night of Jennie Bosschieter's death Death had only been married about four weeks. He made him admit that he did not care to be seen walking with the girl because he was afraid of a scolding from his wife, and so had delegated Campbel to go to the saloon with her. He said that one of the reasons why he went to the saloon was to get his pin back which Jennie had taken out of his tie.

"Why didn't you take it back from her while you were in the saloon; it was sticking in her waist, wasn't it?"

"Yes, but I forgot all about it."

Mr. Emley produced the pin. "Yes, that's it," said Death.

DEFENDANT CAMPBELL'S STORY.

Andrew J. Campbell was the last of the three accused men who was called to the stand. He was the best witness of the trio. He accounted for what the hackman testified he had seen from his seat on the victoria near the woods at the Rock Road by explaining that they were all on their knees trying to resuscitate the dead girl by moving her arms and by rubbing her wrists, face, and ankles.

"Didn't you say in your statement to the police that you had seen McAlister pouring something into Jennie's glass from a bottle?" Campbell was asked.

"I meant I saw him pouring the wine—the champagne."

Dr. Charles J. Latham of Paterson was next called to tell whether absinthe could kill. He said that it could; that one and a half ounces might kill a weak person on an empty stomach, and that three ounces could kill a strong man.

Dr. Vanderburr, the principal chemist for the defense, was next called. He said that he had been a chemist since 1898, at one time connected with the chemical department of the College of the City of New York. He testified at great length about what he did with the same kind of drinks which Jennie Bosschieter had taken into her stomach on the night she died. He said that he had analyzed the ingredients after having pinead them in hydrochloric acid, caustic potash, and caustic soda, and had in each case obtained the same result. His evidence was intended to show that a satisfactory test of what was in Jennie Bosschieter's stomach was difficult because of the fluids which Jennie Bosschieter had imbibed.

Mrs. Sally Buffett Dead.

HUNTINGTON, L. I., Jan. 16.—Mrs. Sally Buffett died Tuesday night after a short illness. She was ninety years old. She was one of six children born to Smith Sammis and Mary Rogers. She was married to Joseph Buffett, and soon went to the farm, south of this village, where she always resided. Mr. Buffett died about twelve years ago.

Nine children were born to her, four of whom survive.

ADDICKS'S PETITION DENIED.

Delaware Regulars Refuse to Make a Senatorial Deal.

DOVER, Del., Jan. 16.—The General Assembly met in joint session at noon to-day and voted for two United States Senators—one for the full term, beginning in March, the other for the unexpired term of four years.

The vote was practically the same as in separate session yesterday, the twenty-nine Republicans again dividing on both propositions. The ballot for the long term was as follows: Kenney, Democrat, 23; Addicks, Union Republican, 16; Dupont, Republican, 8; scattering, Republicans, 4.

For the short term: Saulsbury, Democrat, 23; Addicks, Union Republican, 16; Richards, Republican, 9; scattering, Republicans and Democrats, 4. Absent, one regular Republican. Necessary to choice, 26.

Before the members met in joint session a petition signed by the sixteen Union Republicans, and evidently having the approval of Mr. Addicks, was placed in the hands of the regular Republicans. The petition suggested that both factions unite and vote for Addicks for the long term and Dupont for the short term. An early reply was requested. That the Dupont faction is opposed to such a move was indicated when the ballot was taken soon afterward.

No Choice in Nebraska.

LINCOLN, Neb., Jan. 16.—The Legislature, in joint session, to-day, balloted for Senator, with the following result: Allen, (Fusion,) 56; W. H. Thompson, (Fusion,) 58; Crounz, 10, Currie, 20; Hainer, 5; Hinshaw, 18; Meiklejohn, 26; Rosewater, 14; D. F. Thompson, 32; balance scattering.

Minority Nomination in Illinois.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 16.—Samuel Alschuler of Aurora, who ran for Governor on the Democratic ticket in the recent election, was to-day nominated for United States Senator by a caucus of the Democratic minority in the Legislature.

Tillman Succeeds Himself.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Jan. 16.—The General Assembly of South Carolina to-day unanimously re-elected B. R. Tillman United States Senator, to succeed himself.

Tennessee Elects Carmack.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Jan. 16.—The Legislature, in joint convention, elected E. W. Carmack United States Senator for the term beginning March 4, 1901.

OSCAR S. STRAUS CHOSEN.

Nominated for the Presidency of the Board of Trade and Transportation—His Acceptance.

At a meeting of the Board of Trade and Transportation, held yesterday afternoon the Committee on Nominations reported that it nominated for President, as successor to W. H. Parsons, who could not serve as President another year, Oscar S. Straus, who has been First Vice President of the board for several years, and was in that office when appointed by President McKinley as Minister to Turkey.

Mr. Straus, who is in Lakewood, recovering from an attack of the grip, sent the committee the following letter:

I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 12th inst., informing me that at a meeting of the Committee to Nominate Officers of the New York Board of Trade and Transportation for the ensuing year I have been your unanimous choice for the position of President.

I desire to express to you my high appreciation for the honor in being selected by you for this responsible position, which it gives me great pleasure to accept with the hope that we may be able to advance and promote the best interest of the board which has already rendered such excellent public services. While I feel a reluctance to accept new responsibilities, I deem it my duty to you and to the Board of Trade which you represent not to decline your nomination for so honorable a position, and I trust, should I be elected, with your active co-operation and that of the Directors and members of the board, we may succeed in making its influence for good felt, not only in the metropolitan city, but on the side of those larger questions that await a wise solution on the part of conservative and patriotic citizens.

I have the honor to be your most obedient servant, OSCAR S. STRAUS.

John H. Washburn, James Talcott, and Andrew B. Rogers were nominated for Vice Presidents. Frank O. Herring was nominated for Treasurer and Frank S. Gardner for Secretary.

AGAINST LINSEED OIL TRUST.

CHICAGO, Jan. 16.—By a ruling of the Appellate Court, in a decision handed down by Judge Horton yesterday, the Linseed Oil Trust became liable for damages which may aggregate a large amount. The case is that of the Heath & Milligan Manufacturing Company against the National Linseed Oil Company, which was reorganized two years ago and became the American Linseed Oil Company. The Court found that the custom of the company in selling seven and a half pounds of oil as constituting a gallon was illegal and amounted to short weight. In so holding the Court reversed the finding of the court below and ordered the entry of a judgment against the company for $12,013, with costs.

The case was a test one brought by Heath & Milligan after the discovery by A. M. Heath that a gallon of linseed oil in reality weighed seven and three-quarters pounds instead of seven and a half pounds, as sold by the trust.

ALBERT B. BRADY'S FUNERAL.

The body of Mr. Albert B. Brady, Secretary of the S. S. McClure Company, who died at Rome, Italy, Dec. 24, arrived yesterday on the steamer Columbia, from Naples, accompanied by Mrs. Brady, her son, Dr. Homer Wakefield, and his family.

The funeral services will take place Friday noon at the Chapel of the Stephen Merritt Company, and will be conducted by the Rev. H. A. Stimson.

The honorary pall bearers will be Mr. John S. Phillips, Mr. A. F. Jaccaci, Mr. T. C. McClure, Dr. John H. Finley, Mr. George Andrew, Mr. Charles A. Lanier, Mr. F. N. Doubleday, and Dr. John H. Huddleston.

The interment, which will be private, will be at Kensico Cemetery. Mr. Brady's parents, who live in Davenport, Iowa, and his wife's relatives from Bloomington, Ill., have arrived in the city. Mr. Brady was considered one of the most brilliant young men in the profession, and his early death is mourned by a large circle of friends in this city and in the West.

Bishopric for Rev. M. C. O'Brien.

ROME, Jan. 16.—The Very Rev. M. C. O'Brien was appointed Bishop of Portland, Me., at the last meeting of the Congregation of the Propaganda.

BANGOR, Me., Jan. 16.—The Very Rev. M. C. O'Brien is Vicar General of the Maine Diocese, and, as next in succession on Bishop Healey's death, his elevation to the Bishopric was expected. Father O'Brien was born in County Kerry, Ireland, fifty-eight years ago, and has been in the priesthood thirty-five years. Nothing concerning the date of his consecration or other details can be learned, owing to his absence.

Harvard Favors Pan-American Sports.

Special to The New York Times.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Jan. 16.—Capt. Hallowell of the Harvard track team said to-night that Harvard would be represented at the Pan-American games at Buffalo in case the other colleges agree to enter. She is not particularly desirous to go to Buffalo, he said, because of the inconvenient time at which the game will come and the poor material at hand. The matter will be considered more at length at a mass meeting to be held in the interests of track athletics next Tuesday. At this meeting Everett Wendall, George Morrison, Ellery Clark, and other graduates will endeavor to arouse an interest among the students in the coming season's work. At the intercollege meeting to be held Feb. 23 to consider the Pan-American proposition Harvard will cast an affirmative vote.

Indoor Golf for Yale Fund.

Special to The New York Times.

NEW HAVEN, Jan. 16.—The Rev. Anson Phelps Stokes, Jr., Secretary of the Yale Corporation, has decided to try a novel method of raising money for the Yale bicentennial fund. Mr. Stokes is an enthusiastic golfer, and is a prominent member of the New Haven Country Club. The idea that an indoor game of golf would prove popular was acted upon at once, such a game was invented by Mr. Stokes and patented. He will turn over half of the receipts of the sale of the game to the Bi-Centennial Fund Committee.

PEDDLER'S DEAD BODY FOUND IN A TRUNK

Meyer Weisbard Robbed and His Throat Cut.

POLICE ARE FOLLOWING CLUES

Trunk Containing the Body Found on Pier 11 Yesterday—Weisbard's Movements Traced to Tuesday Noon.

Cramped up in an old trunk, lying on a pile of skids at the head of Pier 11, within sight of the Old Slip Police Station, the body of Meyer Weisbard, an east side jewelry peddler was found yesterday, with the throat cut from ear to ear. When the body was discovered, a little before noon, it was not yet stiff, and, according to Coroner Zucca, who examined it, the murder could not have been committed much before midnight on Tuesday.

Weisbard was a salesman for the jewelry firm of Jacob Alexander & Co. at 288 Madison Street. He lived with his wife and three children at 212 Henry Street. He had been connected with Alexander & Co. for the last two months and was last seen by any one connected with his employers at 8 o'clock on Tuesday morning.

At that time he was starting from the corner of East Broadway and Clinton Street to make a canvass of his customers, all of whom live on Elizabeth, Mott, and Mulberry Streets. He had then a black case containing watches, rings, and other articles of jewelry to the value of $200.

The police learned of his disappearance on Tuesday evening through Adolph Sachs, a collector for the firm. He had made an appointment to meet Weisbard in Mulberry Bend during the afternoon, and becoming alarmed when it was not kept, notified the Detective Bureau that he had been robbed of $200 worth of jewelry by Weisbard.

So far the police have succeeded in tracing him up to 2 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon. At that time, according to Capt. Titus, he was seen by a woman on the east side, whom he told that he was on his way to keep an appointment with Sachs. He said that he was late for the appointment, according to the woman, and appeared to be in a great hurry.

The trunk in which the body was found had been lying all yesterday morning in the broad sunshine underneath the bowsprit of a schooner which was moored at the dock. The loungers about the place noticed it lying there as early as 7 o'clock in the morning, but it attracted little attention until a truckman, examining it to see if there was a tag on it, discovered that the bottom was stained with blood.

When the trunk, which was tied loosely with a piece of sash cord, was opened and its ghastly contents discovered the detectives of the Old Slip Station, of the Harbor Squad, and all the men of the Detective Bureau at Police Headquarters who were available were immediately set to work on the case. Within three hours of the time the body was discovered Capt. Titus had succeeded in establishing the identity of the dead man. Capt. Titus has succeeded in tracing him up to Tuesday afternoon, and says that he expects to make arrests in the case at any time. It is the theory of the police that Weisbard was murdered in some tenement house for the $200 worth of jewelry which he carried with him, and that his body was packed in the trunk and carted down to Old Slip about midnight.

The only material clues that the police have as to the identity of the murderer are an old dark figured cotton apron, an oilcloth table cover bearing a picture of Dewey in the centre, which were found in the trunk; the sash cord, and the trunk itself. The latter, which is an old green lacquered tin affair, with wooden slats, had evidently formed part of the furniture of some tenement house. There were no tags or inscriptions on it. The green lacquer on the tin was worn off in some places, as if the trunk had been used as a seat.

Alfred Sparks, who, with his brother John Sparks, runs a trucking establishment with a little office at Pier 11, was the first to take any particular notice of the trunk. He had seen it lying on the pier all morning, and at 11:30 he went over to examine it to see if there were any tags on it. He called the attention of Policeman Reilly of the Harbor Squad to it.

"Here's a trunk that has been lying here all morning," he said. "I suppose it was left here to go aboard some ship, but there's no tag on it to show where it is to go."

As Sparks spoke he lifted the trunk up on one end to ascertain its weight.

"Good God!" he exclaimed, dropping it again, "the bottom's all covered with blood."

The policeman then tried to untie the sash cord which bound the trunk. It was a new piece of cord and had been tied evidently by an experienced hand in what is known by sailors as a flat fishhook knot. Inside the trunk, covered up with an overcoat, was Weisbard's body, with the throat cut. He was completely dressed except for the overcoat and his shoes, which were thrown in carelessly on top of the body. There was a big gash in the jacket and waistcoat on the right breast, which looked as if it might have been made by a sharp knife, and the overcoat was cut in the same place. Underneath the coat was the oilcloth table cover. It was very much worn and looked as if it might have been in use for a long time.

THE POLICE ON THE SCENT.

Reilly, after taking one look at the body, ran across the street to the Old Slip Station House and notified the Sergeant there. The Detective Bureau at Police Headquarters and the steamboat squad were immediately notified, and in a very short time Capt. Titus of the Detective Bureau was at the Old Slip Station to take charge of the case. Within half an hour after his arrival he announced that he had examined the body and would be able to identify it. He said that he had found some papers in the coat pocket, but refused to tell what they were. He summoned Detectives Alondie, Cary, Frazee, Welley, Petrosino, and Arfken of his staff, and set them to work on the case immediately. A little after 1 o'clock two of the detectives arrived at the Old Slip Station in a cab with a woman. She was hurried to the room where the trunk had been placed, and a moment later was led away by the detectives before any one had a chance to speak to her. She was short and stout and had light hair. After she left the station house she was crying in spite of the efforts the detectives were making to console her. After she had left, Capt. Titus announced that the body had been identified.

"It's the body of Meyer Weisbard," he said. "He is an east side jewelry pedlar and sells a great deal of jewelry on the installment plan. He has a wife and a large family and has been working about the east side for fifteen years. I think that he was murdered some time last night, but I cannot give out any further information or tell where he lived until I have gone further into the case. The motive for the crime, I think, is robbery."

Inquiries among the longshoremen at Old Slip showed that the trunk containing the body had been seen there as early as 7 o'clock yesterday. Thomas C. Murphy of 77 Roosevelt Street says that he saw it there at that time, but thought nothing of it, as trunks were frequently left there by sailors who wished to go on board boats in the harbor. Later in the day two other longshoremen noticed the trunk and sat upon it, smoking their pipes, without having any suspicion as to what was inside it.

C. O. Roberts, the cook on the three-masted schooner which has been moored to Pier 11 for the last week, with its bowsprit reaching out over the spot where the trunk was found, says that he saw the trunk about 11 o'clock yesterday morning.

"At about 11:30 on Tuesday night," he said, "I left the alley to go on deck to get a meat saw. I noticed a yellow-slatted wagon drawn by two horses and containing two men going past the pier. After the wagon had gone past the pier it turned and went back again. I do not remember exactly, but I think it stopped for a few moments opposite the pier."

Later in the afternoon it was learned where Weisbard had been employed. He went there every morning and reported for duty. Then he took his case of trinkets and started out on the day's rounds. Sometimes he came back before luncheon, but more often he did not show up until late in the afternoon, just before dinner time. When he called in for this last visit he reported his sales for the day, straightened out his accounts with the collector of the firm, and then went home.

His home was at 212 Henry Street, in the front apartment on the fourth floor. There he lived with his wife and eight children. The oldest daughter, a girl of nineteen years, was seen last night. She said that she had last seen her father on Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock, when both had started out to their day's work.

"I do not know the names of any of his customers," she added, "but they are all over about Mulberry Bend. He had been working for the Alexander firm for two months, having before that time conducted a jewelry installment business on his own account. He was perfectly sober in his habits, as far as we knew. We have no idea here in the house as to who were his murderers—not even the slightest suggestion of a clue."

The girl said that her father's customers were for the most part Italians, and that he had often said that he was afraid of them.

"He used to speak of them frequently," she said, "and sometimes said that he was afraid that some of them might kill him for the jewelry that he carried. He sometimes had quarrels with some of them, and we were all afraid that he might be stabbed some time."

Mrs. Weisbard was too much overcome with grief to talk at all about her husband's death. She sat in a corner of the room in silence and paid no attention to the questions that were addressed to her.

When Adolph Sachs, Alexander's collector, was questioned yesterday afternoon he replied that the police had told him not to say anything. Nevertheless, he said this much:

"The last time I saw Weisbard was early yesterday morning. After reporting at this office, he walked with me down East Broadway and Clinton Street, where I jumped on a car. Which way he went from there I do not know. That was before 9 o'clock.

"As he did not appear at the usual time in the late afternoon, I went to Police Headquarters last night and told those in charge there that he was missing. This morning they sent me the message that his body had been found in a trunk at Pier 11, East River. I sent a woman down to the Old Slip Police Station to identify the body, which she did."

Sachs refused to tell the home address of the dead man, but he said that the latter was survived by a wife and many children. The value of the jewelry that the man had in his case when he went away was about $200. The case was a small one, casket-shaped and black in color. In it were rings, chains, and the like.

"He sold the jewelry on the installment plan," said Sachs, "and his customers were all, or nearly all, Italians. When he sold a trinket the usual installment bill was written out, and after that he had nothing to do with the collections, which I made myself. So he saw little of his old customers. He was always getting new ones. I do not know that he had any engagement yesterday. He may have agreed to meet somebody whom he knew, but he did not tell me so."

COLLECTOR SACHS ALARMED.

The territory canvassed by the agent extended from James Street to Houston, and from Broadway to the East River. Most of his work, however, was done in the neighborhood of Mott, Elizabeth, and Mulberry Streets. Sometimes, said Sachs, Weisbard went out of this area for a few blocks, but these diversions were infrequent. Sachs did not know any saloons or other resorts where the man was accustomed to pass his leisure moments. He declined, at the instigation of the police, to give a list of the customers that had been secured by the agent. This list he gave to the police themselves, and it is believed that they are working on lines suggested by it.

Sachs said later in the day that he had an appointment to meet Weisbard in Mulberry Bend on Tuesday afternoon, and that he had been greatly alarmed when Weisbard did not keep it. Weisbard's absence was reported at Police Headquarters late on Tuesday night, but it was reported as a robbery, it being thought that he had left the city with jewels which he had with him in the morning. His family were also very much alarmed over his disappearance, and he was reported missing at the Madison Street Police Station by his wife.

When Capt. Titus was told of the statement made by Sachs he said that he had traced Weisbard up to the time when he was starting to go to Mulberry Bend to meet Sachs.

"I have learned from a woman that he was seen on the east side at 2 o'clock in the afternoon," he said. "He told the woman who saw him that he was on the way to Mulberry Bend to keep an appointment and that he was already an hour late. He may have arrived there, and found that Sachs had grown tired of waiting and gone away, or he may have never arrived there. That is all that I can say at present."

GOVERNMENT BY THE PUBLIC.

President Hadley of Yale Lectures on the Three Means of Regulating Communities.

PRINCETON, N. J., Jan. 16.—The first Trask lecture before the university students this year was given in Alexander Hall to-night by President Arthur Twining Hadley of Yale University. President Hadley spoke on "Government by Public Opinion," and said in part: "There are three distinct means by which the social activity of large bodies of men can be regulated—political machinery, self-interest, and public opinion.

"Whenever we have government by a small class, political machinery is the means upon which that class relies for making its authority felt. Aristocracy being a thing of the past, self-interest inadequate to do what is expected of it, and overlegislation an evil worse than that which it undertakes to cure, our only recourse is to accept the principle of government by public sentiment.

"This is a phrase which is often ridiculed, but chiefly by those who misunderstand what public sentiment really is. The mere fact that a number of people want a thing does not prove that there is a public sentiment in its favor.

"The desire may be the outcome of widespread personal interest. Most people object to trusts. Why? Largely because they do not own them. If a man really believes that a trust is a good thing, and would refuse to countenance its proceedings if he were given a majority interest in its stock, he can fairly call his own objection and that of men like himself by name of public sentiment.

"What is true of the trust agitation is partly though not wholly true of the silver agitation. To some degree this was based upon a feeling that gold had appreciated and that public wrong resulted therefrom. For the most part, however, it was an appeal (not wholly confined to one side) to the personal interests of men who wished to pay their debts in a particular kind of money.

"Public sentiment or public spirit is a sort of political conscience, which bears the same relation to the affairs of the State that personal conscience has to the affairs of the individual.

"Public opinion is a judgment formed in accordance with the dictates of that feeling. Where it exists it is not only powerful, but all powerful. The recent investigation in regard to hazing at West Point shows that a code of honor which is recognized as a social obligation counts for more than all the regulations of the academy in determining the conduct of the students. Our experience in liquor legislation, in railroad control, and in many other subjects of modern activity, shows that even under the present system public opinion counts for much more than any statute in determining whether a law shall be enforced or remain unenforced."

Discounts on New Window Glass Prices

Special to The New York Times.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 16.—The Executive Board of the National Window Glass Jobbers' Association was in session to-day, considering the new discounts named on the revised price of window glass. The discounts were agreed to by representatives of the American Window Glass Company and the Independent Glass Company. W. T. Gray, Chairman of the Jobbers' Association, has in contemplation the placing of an order for glass ranging from 600,000 to 1,000,000 boxes.

THE GRIPPE.

We don't know the origin of it. Doctors are puzzled about it. If care is taken, it can generally be cured without serious results.

Stay in the house; go to bed; consult your doctor; and after the acute attack, take SCOTT'S EMULSION of Cod Liver Oil. It will renew your strength, and prevent Pneumonia or Bronchitis.

Send for trial bottle free.

SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl street, New York.

ANNUAL STATEMENT OF

THE MANHATTAN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

NEW YORK.

TOTAL PAYMENTS TO POLICY-HOLDERS SINCE ORGANIZATION OVER

$46,860,000.00

RECEIPTS IN 1900.

For Premiums	$1,961,691.65
For Interest and Rents	832,909.80
	$2,794,601.43

DISBURSEMENTS IN 1900.

For claims by death, and matured endowments	$1,242,598.65
Return to Policy-holders (dividends, annuities and surrendered policies)	318,336.31
Total Payments to Policy-holders	1,560,934.96
Taxes, Commissions and all other expenses	744,160.16
	$2,305,095.12

ASSETS JANUARY 1st, 1901.

United States and other Bonds owned by Company	$3,574,591.00
Bonds and Mortgages, first lien	5,529,109.30
Loans on Stocks and Bonds	1,524,029.72
Real Estate owned by Company	3,996,757.72
Loans and Liens on Policies in force	1,046,343.18
Cash in Bank and on hand	167,159.90
Net Deferred Premiums and Premiums in course of collection	183,707.46
Interest due and accrued, and all other assets	345,937.41
	$16,367,635.69

LIABILITIES.

Amount required to re-insure outstanding policies, New York Standard, 4%	$14,364,642.00
All other liabilities	196,138.71
FUND TO PROVIDE FOR POSSIBLE DEPRECIATION IN ASSETS	100,000.00
	$14,660,780.71

Surplus, $1,706,854.98.

We, the undersigned, a Committee elected by the Board of Directors of the Manhattan Life Insurance Company to examine the accounts of the Company, hereby certify that we have carefully examined in detail the assets of the Company, and that they are correctly shown in the foregoing statement. The liabilities shown include the reserve on policies in force as calculated and certified to by the New York Insurance Department.

BENJAMIN GRIFFEN, WALTER C. STOKES, N. F. PALMER, SIMEON FORD, } Committee.

Gain in Surplus, Gain in Assets, Gain in Insurance written, Gain in Insurance in force, Gain in Income,

HENRY B. STOKES, President.

J. L. HALSEY, Vice-President. H. Y. WEMPLE, Second Vice-President.
J. H. GIFFIN, Secretary. F. MACKEL, Assistant Secretary.
M. W. TORREY, Actuary.
W. B. LANE, Sup't of Agencies.
Z. T. EMERY, M. D., Consulting Physician G. W. WELLS, M. D., Resident Physician.

REV. DR. VAN DE WATER ATTACKS REFORMERS

Praise for the Police and Bellevue at Sheriff's Jury Dinner.

City Calumniators Prevent Reform, He Says, by Being Such Pessimists that They Belie the Truth in Their Statements.

The annual dinner of the first panel Sheriff's jury took place at Delmonico's last evening, about 220 men prominent in politics and business circles sitting down at the seven long tables. The National colors were draped behind the Chairman's seat and also decorated other parts of the dining hall.

At the speakers' table were William H. McElroy, the Rev. George R. Van De Water, M. J. Verdery, the Rev. W. H. Crowe, Judge Rufus B. Cowing, John G. Milburn, Justices Francis M. Scott, Charles H. Van Brunt, J. Henry Bischoff, Henry M. Gildersleeve, J. M. Fitzsimmons, James A. Blanchard, James A. Fitzgerald, Warren W. Foster, and Martin T. McMahon. In the body of the hall, among others, were Police Commissioner John B. Sexton, Capt. George W. McClusky, ex-District Attorney Gardiner, and John F. Carroll.

Owing to a severe attack of the grip, Sheriff William F. Grell was unable to be present, and William H. McElroy acted as toastmaster. Under Sheriff Henry P. Mulvany greeted those present in place of Sheriff Grell and thanked them for their co-operation.

The Rev. Dr. George R. Van de Water, who spoke, took as his text "Our City." He said the red lights on the tables as he entered the dining room had given him a theme. [Laughter.] He was, he said, an old New Yorker, and the good name of the city was very dear to him. He had seen many reform movements, and some had lasted a little while longer than others.

He exhorted his hearers not to go crazy on the subject of reform. He had, he said, recently visited Blackwell's Island, and he could truthfully say that nowhere in the world is there a more magnificently organized work of charity than that now under the administration of Commissioner John W. Keller.

"Sometimes," he continued, "a drunken patient may be unruly and be ill-treated by a nurse, but is it fair to condemn an entire system for the act of one individual? For one abuse that exists in the hospitals, surely there are a hundred benefits.

"Something may be wrong in the police administration. Yet surely the entire police system is not wrong. I have good policemen in my parish. Something goes wrong, but not everything. Don't join those calumniators of our fair city who actually prevent reform by being such pessimists that they belie the truth in all their statements. I love my city, but I have no sympathy with those New Yorkers who run away to avoid paying their taxes or only stay at home to complain. That is the trouble with us. We complain about everything.

"We complain of the weather. When a man sneezes he declares the climate is changing. We complain of the lack of rapid transit, yet I, who live in Harlem, experience no inconvenience. We shall complain of the Almighty after a while. New York is the finest city of the world to live in. Reform it all you can, but for one thing that needs reform there are nine things that stimulate our pride.

The next speaker was John G. Milburn, President of the coming Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo. Mr. Milburn said that when the exposition was first conceived every one pronounced it an audacious idea, but now it was so near being a great success he was glad they had been audacious. The total outlay represented at the exposition would, he said, amount to $10,000,000.

It was, however, only an accident that the exposition was to be held in Buffalo, for it was really a State affair, and its success would reflect credit on New York State, New York City, and the entire country, and they needed the co-operation of business men in this city to insure it being a great success.

The Rev. W. H. Crowe spoke on "The Spirit of the Time."

GOVERNMENT BY THE PUBLIC.

President Hadley of Yale Lectures on the Three Means of Regulating Communities.

PRINCETON, N. J., Jan. 16.—The first Trask lecture before the university students this year was given in Alexander Hall to-night by President Arthur Twining Hadley of Yale University. President Hadley spoke on "Government by Public Opinion," and said in part: "There are three distinct means by which the social activity of large bodies of men can be regulated—political machinery, self-interest, and public opinion.

"Whenever we have government by a small class, political machinery is the means upon which that class relies for making its authority felt. Aristocracy being a thing of the past, self-interest inadequate to do what is expected of it, and overlegislation an evil worse than that which it undertakes to cure, our only recourse is to accept the principle of government by public sentiment.

"This is a phrase which is often ridiculed, but chiefly by those who misunderstand what public sentiment really is. The mere fact that a number of people want a thing does not prove that there is a public sentiment in its favor.

"The desire may be the outcome of widespread personal interest. Most people object to trusts. Why? Largely because they do not own them. If a man really believes that a trust is a good thing, and would refuse to countenance its proceedings if he were given a majority interest in its stock, he can fairly call his own objection and that of men like himself by name of public sentiment.

"What is true of the trust agitation is partly though not wholly true of the silver agitation. To some degree this was based upon a feeling that gold had appreciated and that public wrong resulted therefrom. For the most part, however, it was an appeal (not wholly confined to one side) to the personal interests of men who wished to pay their debts in a particular kind of money.

"Public sentiment or public spirit is a sort of political conscience, which bears the same relation to the affairs of the State that personal conscience has to the affairs of the individual.

"Public opinion is a judgment formed in accordance with the dictates of that feeling. Where it exists it is not only powerful, but all powerful. The recent investigation in regard to hazing at West Point shows that a code of honor which is recognized as a social obligation counts for more than all the regulations of the academy in determining the conduct of the students. Our experience in liquor legislation, in railroad control, and in many other subjects of modern activity, shows that even under the present system public opinion counts for much more than any statute in determining whether a law shall be enforced or remain unenforced."

Czar Ordered Protection of Mission.

ROME, Jan. 16.—The Pope, in the course of private conversation with members of the Sacred College to-day, spoke with great satisfaction of a letter from Emperor Nicholas replying to the Pope's thanks for the protection of the Catholic mission in Manchuria. The Czar, whose answer was couched in the most sympathetic terms, said the Russian troops had obeyed orders given directly by himself.

NICARAGUA IS FRIENDLY.

Consul Sorsby Says the Natives Feel Kindly Toward the United States.

"The disposition of the people and the Government of Nicaragua is most friendly toward the United States, not only with regard to the proposed canal, but in other matters," said William B. Sorsby, United States Consul at Greytown to a TIMES reporter at the Fifth Avenue Hotel yesterday.

Mr Sorsby is a native of Clinton, Miss. He has been Consul for three years, and expects to return within sixty days. He left Greytown on Jan. 6, and will go to Washington in a few days.

"When I left Greytown," said Mr. Sorsby, "affairs were in a most satisfactory condition. No actual work has yet been done on the canal, and cannot be until Congress and the President take the necessary steps. The preliminary surveys have been made and the reports sent to Washington. The Maritime Canal Company abandoned the work in 1891.

"Costa Rica also has an interest in the proposed canal, and the people of the republic shew the same spirit toward the United States as the Nicaraguans.

"There is general prosperity in Nicaragua, and the political conditions are most satisfactory. I don't expect any internal troubles there, and there has been no revolution in several years.

"President Zelaya is a very strong man, probably the ablest and strongest man in Central America. He is very popular with the masses, and is giving them an excellent Government.

"There is no better climate in Central America than nt Greytown. The city has a population of about 1,000, very few of whom are natives. About 50 per cent. of them are negroes from the West Indies. Greytown is a free port and the headquarters for the operations of the Canal Commission. On the Pacific Coast of Nicaragua the trade is almost exclusively with the United States. Coffee is the principal product of Nicaragua, but the republic also furnishes hides, rubber, gold dust, bananas, and other fruits. About 65 or 70 per cent. of its products are sent to the United States, while 80 per cent. of the imports come from this country. These, in the main, consist of oil, canned goods, flour, and boots and shoes."

Accused of "Planting" Witnesses.

A verdict for $15,000 against the Brooklyn Heights Railroad Company was awarded yesterday in the Supreme Court, Brooklyn, to Mrs. Anna K. Ericius and Frank Zimmermann, as executrix and executor of the will of Dr. Moritz A. Ericius, who was crushed between the car and a guard rail at the Manhattan terminal of the bridge. Lawyer Baldwin, for the plaintiffs, said in his argument that the railroad company had tried to "plant" witnesses.

AT THE HOTELS.

HOLLAND.—Capt. P. C. Shote-Lowhart, London.

CAMBRIDGE.—Baron Herman, Military Attaché of the German Embassy, Washington; S. Allen Steinson, Member of Parliament, Montreal.

GRAND.—Capt. C. H. McKinstry, United States Army.

IMPERIAL—R. Lyman Cox, Buffalo.

JAMES BUTLER CHOICE GROCERIES

NEW YORK:
Borough of Manhattan,
EAST SIDE.
217 First Ave., cor. 13th St.
340 First Ave., cor. 20th St.
506 Second Ave., bet. 28th & 29th Sts.
641 Second Ave., cor. 35th St.
857 Second Ave., cor. 46th St.
1042 Second Ave., cor. 55th St.
1143 Second Ave., cor. 60th St.
1463 Second Ave., cor. 76th St.
1679 Second Ave., cor. 87th St.
2047 Second Ave., cor. 105th St.
2241 Second Ave., cor. 115th St.
1936 Third Ave., near 95th St.
1828 Third Ave., cor. 101st St.
2005 Third Ave., cor. 110th St.
2223 Third Ave., cor. 121st St.
WEST SIDE.
2175 Fifth Ave., cor. 133d St.
2170 Eighth Ave., cor. 117th St.
2288 Eighth Ave., cor. 123d St.
2301 Eighth Ave., cor. 128th St.
2466 Eighth Ave., cor. 132d St.
2566 Eighth Ave., cor. 137th St.
2366 Eighth Ave., near 142d St.
552 Ninth Ave., cor. 30th St.
702 Ninth Ave., cor. 39th St.
762 Ninth Ave., cor. 48th St.
149 Tenth Ave., cor. 20th St.
451 Tenth Ave., cor. 35th St.
614 Tenth Ave., cor. 44th St.
662 Tenth Ave., cor. 47th St.
750 Tenth Ave., cor. 51st St.
851 Tenth Ave., cor. 56th St.
332 West 125th St., cor. St. Nicholas Ave.
26 Amsterdam Ave., near 60th St.
74 Amsterdam Ave., cor. 63d St.
109 Amsterdam Ave., near 65th St.
175 Amsterdam Ave., cor. 68th St.
520 Amsterdam Ave., cor. 85th St.
774 Amsterdam Ave., cor. 98th St.
867 Amsterdam Ave., near 102d St.
1640 Amsterdam Ave., cor. 141st St.
1735 Amsterdam Ave., cor. 149th St.
754 Columbus Ave., cor. 97th St.
503 Hudson St., near Christopher St.
286 Bleecker St., cor. Commerce St.

Borough of Bronx.
2756 Third Ave., cor. 146th St.
2363 Third Ave., near 196th St.
249 Willis Ave., cor. 139th St.
753 Tremont Ave., cor. Bathgate Ave.

PRIDE OF ST. LOUIS FLOUR

OF the quality of this Flour nothing need be said to those who have used it. To the housekeeper who has not tried it we ask a trial, which means no risk, as the Butler guarantee as to quality follows every pound sold. We know that better Flour can't be made, as we have all our Flour specially milled for us by one of the largest and most reputable milling companies in America. For this sale,

THURSDAY, FRIDAY AND SATURDAY,
PRIDE OF ST. LOUIS FLOUR

Barrels, $4.40 — 24½ lb. Bag, 55c. — 7 lb. Linen Bag, 18c.

Freight added at Suburban Stores.

BUTTER.
SALE CONTINUED.
FINEST CREAMERY
A Pound, 23c.

POTATOES.
CHOICEST LONG ISLAND
A Basket, 12c.

Peaches—Patapsco brand, Baltimore pack, 3 cans 29c. a can 10c
Pears—Royal Belle brand, Baltimore pack, 3 cans 29c.; a can 10c
String Beans—Bootha brand, 3 cans 20c.; a can 7c
Cherries—Essie brand, best California, 3 cans 59c.; a can 20c
Peaches or Pears—Essie brand, best California, 3 cans 53c.; a can 18c
Apricots—Essie brand, best California, 3 cans for 50c.; a can 17c
Butler's Cream—Full weight, 3 cans 25c; a can 9c
Clenewel Washing Powder—4-lb. pkge., 13c.; 1-lb., 4c; 6 oz. 2c
Cocoa—Butler's brand, 1-4 lb. cans 9c
Strong Ammonia large bottle 5c
Oat Flakes—Very best, 4 pounds for 10c

Coffee—Very Best Maracaibo—Fresh roasted, in the bean, a pound 18c
Very Best Combination Coffee—2 pounds for 25c
Very Best High-Grade Tea—Mixed, English Breakfast, Formosa Oolong, Ceylon, India, Japan, Gunpowder or Young Hyson, a pound 47c
Very Fine Teas—Mixed, English Breakfast, or Oolong, a pound 30c
Orange or Lemon Peel—Fine new goods, a pound 13c
Jelly—5-lb. pails, extra quality, a pail 16c
Prunes—Very best, extra large, a pound, 8c.; good Prunes, but smaller 5c
Peerless Catsup—Very fine, pint bottle 12c
Oranges—Large California Navel, a dozen, 27c.; sweet seedlings 15c
Lemons—Fine juicy Messina, a dozen 10c

French Sardines (with key)—Rolland or Clerment brands, a can 9c
Oil Sardines (1-4s)—Regatta brand, with key, a can 7c
Peerless Codfish Shreds—A package 5c
Marrow Beans—Hand picked, a quart, 9c.; Pea Beans, a quart 8c
Blue Ribbon Table Salt in moisture-proof carton 5c
Blue Ribbon Baking Powder—1-lb cans, 28c.; 1-2-lb. cans, 15c.; 1-4-lb. cans 8c
Peerless Prepared Flour—3-lb. package 8c
New Orleans Molasses, a quart bottle 10c
X L C R Gelatine, a package 5c
French Mustard—Very fine quality, a bottle, 5c
Triumph Parlor Matches—A box of 500 3c

NEW YORK:
Borough of Brooklyn.
126 Bridge St., near Prospect St.
110 Smith St., cor. Pacific St.
242 Smith St., cor. Douglass St.
306 Columbia St., cor. Woodhull.
347 Van Brunt St., cor. Walcott.
517 Court St., cor. 9th St.
1185 Third Ave., cor. 48th St.
1315 Third Ave., cor. 86th St.
97 Atlantic Ave., near Hicks St.
77 Fifth Ave., cor. Prospect Place.
185 Fifth Ave., cor. Berkeley Place.
423 Fifth Ave., cor. 8th St.
598 Fifth Ave., cor. Prospect Ave.
692 Fifth Ave., cor. 21st St.
171 Myrtle Ave., cor. Prince St.
259 Myrtle Ave., cor. Division St.
462 Myrtle Ave., cor. Washington.
699 Myrtle Ave., cor. Spencer St.
849 Fulton St., cor. Vanderbilt Ave.
1109 Fulton St., cor. Ormond Place.
2643 Atlantic Ave., cor. Pennsylvania Ave.
268 Grand St., cor. Roebling St.
720 Manhattan Ave., near Meserole St.
993 Manhattan Ave., cor. Huron St.

Borough of Queens.
173 Main St., cor. Willow St., Astoria.
102 Vernon Ave., cor. 6th St., Long Island City.
46 Main St., Flushing.

Borough of Richmond.
52 Castleton Ave., cor. Elizabeth St., West New Brighton.

Jersey City.
102 Newark Ave., near Grove St.
222 Newark Ave., near Coles St.
636 Newark Ave., near Five Corners.
192 Pavonia Ave., cor. Grove St.
132 Jackson Ave., cor. Forrest St.
225 Central Ave., cor. Griffith St.
148 Ocean Ave., cor. Pearsall Ave., Greenville.

Hoboken and Union Hill.
167 Bergenline Ave., Union Hill.
117 Washington St., bet. First and Second Sts., Hoboken.

Suburban.
Freight Added.
389 Avenue D, cor. Andrew St., Bayonne, N. J.
52 First St., bet. Fulton and Franklin, Elizabethport, N. J.
279 Main St., cor. Smith St., Paterson, N. J.
3 Main St., Yonkers, N. Y.
137 South Fourth Ave., Mount Vernon, N. Y.
56-58 Orchard St., Tarrytown, N. Y.
270 Main St., New Rochelle, N. Y.
31 Railroad Ave., cor. Lexington Ave., White Plains, N. Y.

ANNIVERSARY OF THE BROADWAY TABERNACLE

White-Haired Men Tell of Church's Early Struggles.

Celebration Will Continue Until Next Wednesday and Close with a Banquet.

Some strongly defined contrasts were presented by the congregation which gathered in the chapel of the Broadway Tabernacle, Broadway and Thirty-fourth Street, last evening, for the initiatory services incident to the celebration of the sixtieth anniversary of the founding of the church. There were a number of white-haired men present who had been among those who saw the beginnings of the present congregation in the old Broadway Tabernacle, in the building east of Broadway, between Leonard and Worth Streets, then known as Anthony Street and Catherine Lane. But by far the greatest number of those present were men and women whose youthful appearance indicated that their association with the church had its beginning much later. The celebration which began last evening will continue until Wednesday, Jan. 23, on which evening a banquet will be given.

Last night's programme was devoted to reminiscences, and the subjects dealt with by the speakers brought back memories of the time when, according to one of the Elders, a Congregational church outside of New England was looked upon much as a Mormon temple or a Christian Science church might be to-day. But in telling the story of the founding of the church and its subsequent history, the speakers touched upon the feverish times of the civil war, when the old building was at once "a forum and a tribune of the people." It was there that anti-slavery speeches were made by Wendell Phillips, William Lloyd Garrison, and Henry Ward Beecher. There also Louis Kossuth met with an enthusiastic reception, and the foremost speakers of the day addressed audiences that filled every available inch of space in the big hall.

The Rev. Charles E. Jefferson, pastor of the church, presided last evening. Deacon Charles Whittemore spoke on "The Old Tabernacle," tracing the history of the church from the time when its membership consisted of thirty-seven men and thirty women, to the time when the site at Broadway and Thirty-fourth Street was purchased and the new church erected.

"Memories of Early Times" formed the subject of a paper by William B. Holmes of Montclair, N. J.

"What Faneuil Hall was to Boston or Exeter to London the Tabernacle was to us," he said. "It was the forum where the advanced thought of the day was presented to the people. In 1855 its furthest up-town parishioners lived in Fourteenth Street, and when the Thirty-fourth Street site was selected that spot marked the outpost of the residential part of the city.

"The price paid for the lots on which the present church stands, $80,000, compared with their value to-day, illustrates concretely the growth of the city."

In speaking of "The Early Pastors" Deacon Richard A. Gorman paid tributes to the Rev. E. W. Andrews, the first pastor, and to the succeeding pastors, the Rev. Joseph P. Thompson and the Rev. William M. Taylor.

"Nearly fifty years ago," he said, "I was a pupil in the old Tabernacle. In those days the women went to the mission meetings in the mornings, and took their lunches along, remaining at the church all day. In April, 1861, when the war broke out the pent-up patriotism of Dr. Anderson manifested itself. In those days the speakers were often applauded in church. Soon after the battle of Bull Run, when the President asked for more men, the church raised $30,000 in one evening, to equip a regiment. Dr. Thompson received a letter from President Lincoln, the money being returned, with the information that the action of the church had so inspired the whole country that no more volunteers were needed.

"Dr. Thompson's son wrote to him and said that he wanted to enlist. The pastor wrote to a friend asking his advice, and the answer came: 'Some men's sons must go—why not hers?' Then the pastor gave his consent to the young man's enlistment. He died in camp. I do not think the pastor ever got over the loss of his eldest born.

"There was no fear of militarism in those days—no thought of imperialism. To-day we see America standing in the forefront of the Nations."

Other speakers were Deacon John H. Washburn, whose subject was "The Old Struggles and Victories," and Deacon William H. Thomson, who paid a tribute to "The Old Friends."

The Broadway Tabernacle Church is an outgrowth of the great revival movement which followed the preaching of the Rev. Charles G. Finney. Dr. Finney planned the building, which was put up in 1835-36, east of Broadway, between Leonard and Worth Streets. The Tabernacle was 100 feet square, 100 feet from Broadway, with an entrance from the street 25 feet wide. It was a most commodious audience room, seating 2,500 people.

Dr. Finney left New York for Oberlin in 1837, and after about three years of varied experience the church he had founded disbanded, the tabernacle having been bought by David Hale, through whose influence the present Broadway Tabernacle Church was immediately organized, July 6, 1840. The first pastor, the Rev. E. W. Andrews, was succeeded April 15, 1845, by the Rev. Joseph P. Thompson. During the sixty years of its existence this church has enjoyed two remarkable pastorates, those of Dr. Thompson and Dr. William M. Taylor, covering between them a period of about forty-eight years.

Union services were so frequent in the tabernacle—the present building, corner of Sixth Avenue and Thirty-fourth Street, first occupied in 1859—that during the riots of July, 1863, the mob was with difficulty prevented from burning the building.

The present pastor, Dr. Charles E. Jefferson, formerly of Chelsea, Mass., has been settled over the tabernacle for nearly three years.

GROUP SEVEN'S ANNUAL DINNER.

New York Bankers Meet and Discuss Finance.

The annual dinner and reception of Group Seven of the New York State Bankers' Association was held last evening at the Montauk Club, on Eighth Avenue, Brooklyn. Stephen M. Griswold, Chairman of the group, presided at the dinner.

Mr. Griswold, in opening the speechmaking, said that the United States was entering upon an era of prosperity unparalleled in its history, which had been brought about by the wise administration of the Government and the course followed by the banks in placing the currency on a sound basis. This Nation would, in the future, he said, lead the world in commerce and finance.

Controller Coler, who was then introduced, said that while New York might not be the best city, it was the greatest. He then spoke of the city's finances, saying that the mandatory provision which equalized salaries was costing the city $15,000,000 a year extra.

"If a saint were Mayor," continued the Controller, "he could not reduce the budget of the city a million dollars, owing to the mandatory provisions of the charter. I do not speak in a political way. While we talk of the bad things, let us develop the good. The papers to-day are filled with the vicious side of New York. I wish we could get a column or two for the better side."

Superintendent Kilburn and the other speakers discussed the banking business.

Chairman Griswold announced that the State Convention is to be held at Buffalo, June 20, 21, and 22.

HOME FOR PAUPER CHILDREN.

Those at Snake Hill, N. J., to be Transferred May 1.

Michael B. Holmes of Jersey City, Director of the Hudson County Board of Freeholders, yesterday announced that the 250 pauper children now at Snake Hill will be removed from that institution by May 1. In the event of the passage of Senator Hudspeth's bill to authorize the creation of an industrial home for the children, the provisions of the bill will at once be carried into effect. Should the bill be defeated the children will at once be transferred to the custody of the State Board of Children's Guardians.

Mrs. Mary Hudspeth Benson, Senator Hudspeth's mother, who has taken a great interest in the welfare of the pauper children, believes that their future will best be conserved by placing them in an industrial home, and President Fox of the State Board has consented to this plan provided the necessary legislation can be secured.

Under the present arrangement the estimated cost of maintaining the children is $10 per month per capita.

A MODEL BURGLAR.

Bohnzinsky, Well Known to Artists, Looted the Apartments of Oscar R. Meyer—Why He Stole.

Bolesias Bohnzinsky, a Russian, fifty-five years old, who has for the past twelve years been known among the artists of this city as a model, was held in $5,000 bail in the Jefferson Market Police Court yesterday, on a charge of burglary. Bohnzinsky was arrested by Central Office Detective Doyle last Thursday as he was trying to sell two large paintings in a Sixth Avenue pawnshop. He was arraigned in Jefferson Market Court on the same day, and, after John La Farge, the artist, said that he had known the old man for a dozen years as a model and believed him honest, the prisoner was paroled until Saturday. He did not appear on that day, but walked into court on Monday and was locked up.

Yesterday he confessed that he had walked over the roofs of the houses from his room at 955 Sixth Avenue to the house occupied by Oscar R. Meyer and his mother, at 48 West Fifty-fourth Street, and had looted the house of everything of value that he could carry away. Valuable paintings, furniture, and bric-a-brac were carried away and sold in pawnships and art stores. Mr. Meyer and his mother were in Europe and the Russian had opportunity to make many visits. Mr. Meyer said yesterday that not less than $10,000 worth of goods had been taken. When Bohnzinsky was arraigned in court yesterday he said:

"I meant no harm, your Honor. I am a great pianist, greater than Paderewski. I am the greatest artist in the world on the piano, but I had no money, and I stole in order to get money to rent a hall so I could give a concert. I would at once be famous and every one would throw money at my feet. I knew this would be the case, your Honor, and I intended to reimburse the gentleman from the proceeds of my first concert."

"I believe you," said the Magistrate, "but I am compelled to hold you for trial."

CAREY'S VIVID VISION.

His Terrier with a Pink Face Turned to a Paving Stone and Carey Broke His Foot.

A tale that filled the "drunks" in the Butler Street Police Court, Brooklyn, with a feeling of nervousness was told there yesterday by Patrick Carey, a prisoner arraigned for intoxication. Carey was arrested on Friday last.

"I'll tell yer how it was, Judge," he explained to the Magistrate. "Yer see, I was walkin' along Butler Street when I saw a rat runnin' along just ahead of me. It was a pink one and very big. I chased after it, but when I came up to the thing it suddenly changed into a blue and green fox terrier. The terrier grew and grew until it was as big as a bloodhound, changing color all the while. When it stopped growin' it had a pink face, a red tail, and a polka dot body. The thing scared me and I made a kick at it. But in a second it had turned itself into a big paving stone and I broke the big toe of my right foot on it."

Policeman Royal, who arrested Carey, then took up the remarkable tale, adding that he had Carey taken to the Long Island College Hospital, where he remained four days while his toe was being repaired. Carey was discharged.

SULLIVAN'S QUEER ILLNESS.

Autopsy Reveals the Existence of Meningitis and a Brain Clot.

John Sullivan, found two months ago in an unconscious condition and removed to St. Vincent's Hospital, died in Bellevue Hospital yesterday, whither he had been transferred Dec. 15. Sullivan's case has puzzled many physicians under whose observation it has come. He was a month unconscious in St. Vincent's Hospital, and had been in a kind of stupor ever since reaching Bellevue. At times he become the opposite, physically, when he had to be restrained. He never became mentally conscious.

Dr. Hamilton Williams performed an autopsy on the body yesterday afternoon and found that death was due to meningetis and a clot on the brain.

BOWDOIN COLLEGE ALUMNI.

President Hyde Extols Athletics at the Annual Dinner.

At the thirty-first annual dinner of the Bowdoin Alumni Association of New York, which was held at the Hotel Manhattan last night, President William D. W. Hyde of Bowdoin College paid a glowing tribute to the value of football and college athletics as factors in college education. He declared that he believed that the training that a college athlete received made a better man of him mntally as well as physically, built up a strong character, and developed mental faculties that were invaluable in the battle of life. President Hyde said:

"Athletics and football have a splendid influence for good in the college life of today. To do anything as hard as one possibly can, and to do it in strenuous competition with others as the football player does, is invaluable training for a young man. It teaches him many things of great value. He learns that the battle is generally won before the pistol is fired. He sees the necessity of caretul training. He comes to an appreciation of the law of cause and effect. I believe in the college athlete; his presence in college has a wholesome effect."

William J. Curtis presided at the dinner, which was attended by about seventy members of the association. Addresses were made by Major Gen. O. O. Howard, George H. Putnam, Hamilton W. Mabie, and Thomas H. Hubbard. Among those present at the dinner were John H. Goodenow, Edward B. Marrill, George E. Mouiton, James McKeen, Prof. John G. Wight, William S. Dennett, Frederick G. Dow, George F. Harriman, Parker P. Simmons, Frederick H. Dillingham, Charles W. Morse, H. E. Henderson, Edward T. Little, William L. Black, Earl L. Merrill, Albert S. Ridley, Henry E. Cutts, Frank H. Cothren, Herbert R. Gurney, James D. Merriman, Augustus A. Hussey, Sterling Fessenden, and Henry H. Pierce.

THREATENS HUSBAND'S SLAYER.

Mrs. Striano Driven to Frenzy by Acquittal of Constabile.

An Italian vendetta turned things upside down in and about the Kings County Court House yesterday. Two hot-blooded Sicilians, mother and son, infuriated by the acquittal of a man charged with killing the woman's husband, sought to wreak vengeance upon him, the son chasing the discharged prisoner through the streets for several blocks.

The exciting occurrence was the culmination of the trial in the County Court of Luigi Constabile of 11 Carroll Street, charged with shooting and killing Frank Striano of 13 Carroll Street on June 24 last. When Angela Striano, the widow of the victim, was called to the stand, she startled the court by declaring that, no matter where Constabile might go, she would follow him and avenge her husband's death. The jury acquitted Constabile without leaving the box. Constabile and his friends, wild with joy, made their way from the court house, laughing and gesticulating.

The woman turned to her son, Angelo Fuski, with an impassioned cry, and, screeching, ran after her husband's liberated slayer. Mother and son reached the court house entrance together. The son took off his overcoat, and, throwing it to his mother, started away down Joralemon Street at the top of his speed in pursuit of the slayer of his stepfather.

Down through the quiet streets of the Heights sped the vengeance-seeking Fuski. Sergt. Maude, fleeter of foot than he, gaining upon him at every step. At last, on Remsen Street, the sprinting Sergeant overhauled his man and placed him under arrest. Fuski was taken back to the District Attorney's office, where a revolver was found on him. He was then taken to the Adams Street Police Court, where Magistrate Brenner fined him $5 for carrying concealed weapons.

"That's all right now," said the woman as she and her son left court with a crowd of their friends.

Kings County Physicians' Election.

The Medical Society of the County of Kings has elected these officers: President—William Browning; Vice President—Henry A. Fairbairn; Secretary—David Myerle; Treasurer—O. A. Gordon; Directing Librarian—J. M. Winfield; Trustee—George R. Fowler. Dr. Louis S. Pilcher, the retiring President, was the opposing candidate for re-election.

MRS. WINTERS WAS PROFANE.

Nurse Says She Swore Like a Pirate—Consideration Given for Fifth Avenue Property.

Mrs. Lavinia H. Chaplin, who acted as nurse to Anne Marie Winters, whose will bequeathing her $2,000,000 estate to her youthful husband, Byram L. Winters, is being contested, resumed the stand before Justice Bischoff and a jury in the Supreme Court yesterday.

In her testimony Mrs. Chaplin said that Mrs. Winters suffered from hallucinations.

"She thought she was in a Catholic seminary, and was a little girl," said Mrs. Chaplin. "She was then eighty years old."

"Did you ever hear her use profanity?" was asked.

"Yes. She used to swear at me like a pirate when she became angry," was the reply.

The witness said that Mrs. Winters was given a preparation containing opium when she became violent.

Mr. Winters was next called to the stand and questioned about certain deeds executed by his late wife.

"Was not the property at Eightieth Street and Fifth Avenue and seven lots in the Twelfth Ward deeded to you by your wife?"

"Yes."

"Was the consideration love, affection, marriage, and $10 in cash?"

"Yes."

The deed was read in evidence. It was executed Feb. 20, 1896. At the conclusion of Winters's testimony an adjournment was taken until to-day to give counsel time to prepare the hypothetical questions to be put to the experts, Drs. Carlos MacDonald and Austin Flint.

REV. MR. COX RESIGNS.

Lee Avenue Congregational Church Will Find a New Pastor.

At a meeting of the Societies of the New England Congregational and the Lee Avenue Congregational Church, which recently consolidated, held on Tuesday night, the resignation of the Rev. Sidney H. Cox, the pastor of the Lee Avenue Congregational Church was accepted. The meeting was presided over by C. Van Veuen of the New England Church.

A Pulpit Supply Committee was also appointed, and will look about for a new pastor to fill the pulpit. Mr. Cox will continue to fill the pulpit until a new pastor is secured. In the meantime Mr. Cox will consider several fields which have opened to him, one of which is the superintendency of church extension work in the Bronx.

SMASH ON THE ELEVATED.

Trains Meet at Third Avenue and Fourth Street, but No One Is Injured.

There was a collision on the Third Avenue Elevated Railroad last evening near Fourth Street. A northbound City Hall train was waiting for an opportunity to pull into the Ninth Street Station when a South Ferry train, also northbound, turned the curve quickly and dashed into the train ahead.

The rear car was badly damaged. There was considerable excitement among the passengers in the car, but no one was injured.

Traffic on the road was blocked for three-quarters of an hour. No report was made to the police.

Policeman Kearney's Will Contested.

Surrogate Abbott of Brooklyn yesterday heard the contest of the will of Patrick Kearney, a retired policeman, who lived at 80 Fourth Place, Brooklyn, who died last Fall, leaving an estate of $7,500 to his wife. Edward Kearney, his brother, a fireman in Manhattan, contests the will, alleging that ex-Congressman Daniel O'Reilly, the lawyer who drew the document, guided Kearney's hand while the latter was signing the will, and that at the time his brother was unconscious.

William J. Kinsley, a handwriting expert, who figured in the Molineux case, testified that it appeared to him that Kearney did not control or guide the pen. Lawyer O'Reilly declared that he could get another expert, just as good, as experts went, to testify in the other direction. Dr. T. D. Lehaine, a medical expert, testified that he believed Kearney to have been mentally incompetent at the time the will was signed.

JEWELERS AT DINNER.

Annual Banquet of the Board of Trade an Elaborate Affair.

Nearly 600 persons enjoyed last night at the Waldorf-Astoria the second annual banquet of the Jewelers' Association and Board of Trade. It was an elaborate affair. Major A. K. Sloan, President of the association, officiated as toastmaster.

The banquet hall was very handsomely decorated. The menu was a gem, and the work of one of the largest jewelry houses in the country. The souvenir was a matchbox of sterling silver.

Alongside each plate was a leaflet entitled "Jewelers' Choruses," and within the covers were the choruses of the popular airs. As the band played the songs the diners joined in the chorus with a will.

At the guests' table were Controller Bird S. Coler, Gen. Stewart L. Woodford, J. Warner Hutchins, President of the Jewelers' Association of Philadelphia; Hayden W. Wheeler, Aaron Carter, Leopold Stern, and Collector of Customs George R. Bidwell.

Gov. Foster M. Voorhees of New Jersey spoke of "The Possibilities of the Twentieth Century." The Rev. Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis of Plymouth Church, Brooklyn, responded to "The Diffusion of the Beautiful in Modern Life as an Instrument of Happiness and Social Progress." Ex-Mayor Charles F. Warwick of Philadelphia made the response to "Retrospective of the Nineteenth Century," and Job E. Hedges gave a humorous discussion of "The President." Remarks were also made by Controller Coler, Gen. Woodford, and others.

A SCRATCH PROVES FATAL.

Woman Who Objected to Drunken Man's Attentions in Serious Trouble.

As a result of a slight wound inflicted with a table knife a few weeks ago, Florence Melichar, an Austrian, of 520 Sixth Street, died yesterday at Bellevue Hospital of blood poisoning.

Melichar attended a party at 362 East Tenth Street on New Year's Eve, and while there became slightly intoxicated and began to kiss and hug the ladies present. Among the latter was Mrs. Rosie Lang, who was present with her husband, and who objected to Melichar kissing her. When he threw his arms about her she snatched up a table knife and stabbed him slightly in the left arm. Melichar laughed at the wound at the time and called it a mere scratch. He gave it no attention, and ten days later blood poisoning set in, necessitating his going to the hospital.

He grew dangerously ill, and Mrs. Lang was arrested last Friday and held without bail to await the result of his injuries. Mrs. Lang was taken before Coroner Bausch yesterday and committed by him to the Tombs to await the result of the inquest.

THE HAMPTON LAUNCHED.

Crescent Shipyards Beats the Record in the Construction of the Vessel.

The Hampton, a new steel vessel for the Old Dominion Steamship Line, was launched at the Crescent Shipyard in Elizabeth yesterday. The Hampton, despite difficulties in obtaining building materials, says Lewis Nixon, was completed in ninety days, a period of construction never yet equaled at any other shipyard.

The Hampton is 190 feet long, 55 feet wide above the guards, and will draw 9 feet of water in service. The vessel has a guaranteed speed of nineteen miles an hour.

Miss Marie Guillaudet, daughter of President Guillaudet of the Dominion Line, christened the new boat.

William R. O. Bergholz Dead.

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., Jan. 16.—William Rudolph Otto Bergholz, sixty-eight years of age, died here this morning of heart disease. Mr. Bergholz was born in Germany. He came to this country when twenty-two years of age. For a time he followed landscape gardening. He was in the South during the civil war, and joined Sherman's army just before the march to the sea. After the war he devoted himself to railroad engineering. He is survived by his wife and one son, Leo Allen Bergholz, now United States Consul at Erzroum, Turkey.

WENTWORTH HEARD FROM.

He and Miss Ackerman, with Whom He Eloped, Are Living in Chicago.

Miss Marie Louise Ackerman and Lawyer George Emmons Wentworth, who eloped from this city about three weeks ago, deserting his wife, with whom he lived at 225 Amsterdam Avenue, have been heard from in Chicago.

Mrs. Katherine C. Fay, aunt of the young women, with whom she lived at 20 West Fifteenth Street up to the time of her departure, received a joint letter from her and Wentworth on Tuesday and another from the young woman yesterday morning.

The letters stated that they were settled in Chicago, and that letters addressed to Wentworth at the General Post Office in that city would reach them. Neither communication mentioned Mrs. Wentworth. The couple declared that they purposed remaining in Chicago, as there seemed to be a broader opportunity for Wentworth's talents there than here. Wentworth declared the young woman to be his "affinity," and Miss Ackerman wrote that in the man she had found hers, and there was a lot more of the same purport. Wentworth's part of the missive covering nearly three sheets of finely written note paper. The first letter asked that Miss Ackerman's wardrobe and other effects be turned over to an expressman, who would call, and yesterday's letter asked that some money coming to her from the large estate which she inherited from her mother be turned over also to the expressman to be forwarded to her.

Miss Irene Ackerman, a cousin of the runaway girl, said last night that her belongings would be delivered, as requested, but that the money would be sent through the mails in the form of a check. From other relatives the family had heard that the couple were living somewhere in Clark Street. She said she did not see how anything could be done to separate them.

Miss Ackerman has many relatives in Chicago, among them being her uncle, William K. Ackerman, ex-President of the Illinois Central Railroad and Auditor of the World's Fair.

Miss Irene Ackerman said that her cousin had plenty of money, but that Wentworth did not have any.

LOOKING FOR McGUIRE'S MONEY.

Cabman's Property Is Locked Up in a Vault That Cannot Be Located.

The relatives of James McGuire, an independent cabman, who was drowned while bathing in the surf at Bath Beach June 22 last, are trying to locate a box in some safe deposit vault, the key number to which is 716, which it is believed contains a sum of money and other valuables and important documents that belonged to the deceased.

McGuire, at the time of his death, lived at 8 Greenwich Avenue. A few days prior to June 22 he drew a sum of money from a savings bank and told his most intimate friend, Charles Treanor of 217 West Seventeenth Street, that he had placed it, together with his bank book, life insurance policy, and some jewelry, in a safe deposit vault. After his death no money, documents, jewelry, or bank book could be found. An envelope, however, inscribed "Masonic Safe Deposit Vaults" was found. It contained a key numbered 716, and bore the stamp of the makers, "Herring-Hall-Marvin."

Relatives have visited most of the safe deposit vaults in the city, but have been unable to locate the strong box. Meantime the estate of the dead man remains unsettled.

Missing Man Enlisted.

Charles Markus disappeared from Union Hill, N. J., sixteen months ago. Nothing was heard from him until yesterday, when Fred Schlemm, a son of the man by whom Markus had been employed, received a letter from him. The letter came from Manila, and said Markus was a member of Company H, Twenty-seventh Regiment, United States Volunteers. Markus said he would return with his regiment, and when mustered out would return to Union Hill.

Veteran's Sword Buried with Him.

Charles Stateley, a veteran of the civil war, will be buried in Union Hill to-day. He died on Monday, and his last request was that when he was buried his sword be broken and rest upon his coffin during the funeral services and that the pieces be interred with his body. His request will be granted.

The Wanamaker Store The Wanamaker Store The Wanamaker Store

Annual Clean-up Sale of HOSIERY and UNDERWEAR

THIS event is a distinctive feature of the Wanamaker Store. No other store does it in the same radical way. The clearance is decisive; the prices are startling; but our policy demands stocks swept clean once every year. You can't buy goods more than twelve months' old at Wanamaker's, at any time. The fact that styles change little, tempts stores universally to sell nothing but bad stock at a bargain. We sell everything, good and indifferent, that is in small lots, or has not lately come to us. In fact, so clean a sweep do we make of fancy hosiery, for instance, that we may have nothing to show you between this sale and the end of February. Of course regular lines of staple goods are kept complete always. But then everything will be absolutely fresh and new. You like such a clean-swept stock, we're sure—that's why we risk not supplying you for the weeks between. Of course stocks are broken—you expect that. This sale is made up from odd lots; yet it is a tremendous collection when all are grouped together. Here are—

Men's Hosiery

3 pairs for 25c, were 12½c a pair—
Cadet blue cotton.

12½c a pair, were 18c and 25c—
Black and tan cotton.
Striped and embroidered cotton.
Black cotton, unbleached soles.
Colored merino.

18c a pair, were 38c—
Fancy cotton, stripes and dots.

25c a pair, were 50c and 75c—
Cotton and lisle; open work, embroidered and striped.

50c a pair, were $1 to $1.75—
Finest French lisle thread; fancies of 1900.

$1 a pair, were $2—
English bicycle hose, with and without feet.

$2.50 a pair, were $3.75 to $6—
Finest French pure silks; open work and embroidered, striped and embroidered, vertical stripes, embroidered fronts.

Men's Underwear

25c each, were 50c—
Shirts and drawers of French Balbriggan.

50c each, were $1—
Shirts and drawers of merino and Balbriggan.

50c each—Seconds of our $1 quality—
Shirts and drawers of natural and white merino.

75c each, were $1.50 to $2.50—
Shirts and drawers of crepe lisle, silk-and-lisle. Drawers of merino.

$1 each, were $2 to $2.50—
Shirts and drawers of silk, merino, silk fleeced.

$1.50 each, were $2.50—
English natural merino.

$2.50 each, were $4.25 to $6.25—
Silk-mixed shirts and drawers.

Women's Hosiery

15c a pair, were 25c and 38c—
Cotton; black, unbleached feet and soles, stripes; printed; lisle, black and colors, ribbed, stripes and lace effects; merino, Oxford mixed.

25c a pair, were 50c to 75c—
Cotton, black, unbleached soles, all black and fancy.
Lisle, open work, stripes, printed and fancy.

50c a pair, were $1 to $1.75—
Lisle, open work, stripes, fancies.

50c a pair, were $1 to $1.75—
Silk, open work, plain colors.
Cotton, embroidered.

75c a pair, were $1.50—
Silk, French, black, silk clocked.

$2.50 a pair, were $3.50 to $10—
Silk, open work instep, open work allover, open work and embroidered.
A few handsome silk hose—not many pairs:
At $3 a pair, were $5 to $10.
At $5 a pair, were $10 to $20.

Women's Underwear

3 for 25c, were 18c each—
Vests of white cotton, fancy necks.

15c each, were 25c and 38c—
Vests of cotton, lisle thread, silk-and-cotton.
Drawers of lisle thread.

25c each, were 38c to 75c—
Vests of lustre cotton, merino, silk-and-cotton.
Drawers of merino.
Corset covers of cotton-and-merino.
Tights of lisle thread.
Suits of lisle thread.

50c each, were 75c to $1.25—
Vests of merino, silk-and-lisle, lisle-and-silk.
Corset covers of lisle, silk plated, merino.
Tights of merino.
Drawers of merino.
Suits of lisle.

75c each, were $1.25 and $1.50—
Vests of merino and silk.
Drawers of merino.

75c each, were $1.25 and $1.50—
Corset covers of silk-and-cotton and wool.

$1 each, were $1.50 to $2.50—
Vests of merino, silk-and-cotton, silk-and-merino.
Drawers of merino.
Tights of Balbriggan, lisle and cashmere.
Suits of merino and lisle.
Corset covers of silk-and-wool.

$1.50 each, were $2.25 to $3.50—
Vests of silk and silk-and-wool.
Suits of merino, Balbriggans, lisle and silk-and-cotton.

$2 each, were $3 to $4.50—
Vests of silk.
Drawers of silk and silk-and-wool.
Suits of merino and silk-and-cotton.

$3.50 each, were $7 to $8—
Corset covers of China silk, lace shoulders.
Suits of flesh colored silk.

Children's Hosiery

5c a pair, were 20c—Tan ribbed cotton.
12½c a pair, were 18c to 60c—Black ribbed cotton, black ribbed lisle, colored ribbed silks.
25c a pair, were 45c to 80c—Black ribbed cotton, French, all black and unbleached feet.

Children's Underwear

12½c each, were 25c—
Vests, pantalettes and drawers of ribbed cotton. Shirts and drawers, fleeced.

25c each, were 50c—
Shirts and drawers of merino cotton. Vests and pantalettes of cotton. Union suits of cotton.

50c each, were 95c to $1.70—
Vests, pantalettes and drawers of merino. Union suits of merino.

Twenty-five Thousand Pairs of Stockings
Twenty-two Thousand Pieces of Underwear
For MEN, WOMEN and CHILDREN

It includes certain lots, large or small, from practically every sort of Hosiery and Underwear we sell. The movement is of interest to every man, woman and child in Greater New York, and to all outside who can get here promptly enough to share the offerings. Some lots may be gone in an hour; others in two hours; but there will be quite an interesting collection for those who come to-morrow—not to compare with the bargains that will be secured to-day; but still better than will be found in any bargain sale outside this store. Yes; come to-morrow, if you can't come to-day; but don't let ordinary things prevent your coming to-day, if sterling merchandise at half its value is interesting to you.

Main floor aisles, and Basement.

DRESS GOODS

Two thousand yards of very desirable stuffs at less than one-third their regular price. They are plaids—all-wool camel's-hair cloth and all-wool twilled cheviot. There are 16 good patterns in the two lots, as we begin their sale this morning. The cloth plaids are in quiet colorings, brightened by the camel's-hair overplaids. The cheviot plaids are in rather dull, but rich colorings. Either sort will make attractive gowns—and they're very serviceable goods, too, all 36 in. wide.

2,000 yards. They should last no longer than one day. Goods made to sell at 50c a yard. The Price is 15c Ninth street.

Muslin Underwear

"Can't match it at that price."
"Willing to accommodate you, but would lose too much money."
"Haven't time to work for no profit now."

These are the replies we get from manufacturers to whom we go for more goods to match those bought last summer, to make this sale last longer.

It emphasizes our bargains, but it suggests a shorter than usual sale. Prompt folks will get the best and pay the least. These hints to-day:

Night Gowns—

75c—Of muslin; yoke of cluster of plaits and 4 rows of insertion; V-neck trimmed with torchon lace.

85c—Of cambric; square neck trimmed with lawn ruffle and torchon lace.

$1—Of fine muslin; yoke of cluster of plaits and 2 rows of insertions; V-neck trimmed with embroidery.

Petticoats—

75c—Of muslin; umbrella ruffle of cambric; deep hem, hemstitched.

85c—Of cambric, with two lawn ruffles; trimmed with lace.

$1—Of muslin, with deep cambric ruffle; trimmed with embroidery and hemstitched plaits.

Short Petticoats—

35c—Of muslin, with deep cambric ruffle; hemstitched hem.

50c—Of cambric; trimmed with torchon lace and plaits above.

75c—Of cambric, with deep ruffle of lawn; trimmed with torchon lace and insertion.

Drawers—

15c—Of muslin or cambric; deep hem and plaits above. Not more than 3 to a buyer.

18c—Of muslin, with cambric ruffle; hemstitched hem.

35c—Of muslin; trimmed with embroidery and plaits above.

Corset Covers—

35c—Of cambric; square neck trimmed with neat embroidery.

50c—Of cambric; round neck trimmed with neat embroidery and ribbon; short cover to waist.

Second floor.

Girls' DRESSES

How old is a girl when she begins to take pride in her dress? Six months, perhaps; but she has developed her own ideas pretty well where our story begins to-day. And this is a story of such smart and stylish dresses as girls of 6 to 16 years will be delighted with. They are in light weights, such as may be worn until next summer; yet heavy enough for immediate wear. But the price is the point! See how these are marked to-day:

At $7.50—Values up to $15—One and two-piece dresses for girls of six to twelve years, in plain and fancy striped materials; attractively made and trimmed.

At $10—Values up to $20—One and two-piece dresses for girls of twelve to sixteen years, in handsome, plain and plaid effects; beautifully made and trimmed.

Second floor, Ninth street.

BOOKCASES

Not many, but what are here offered are unusually good bargains. They are of mahogany, open front; 5 feet 6 inches high, and nearly 3 feet wide; 4 shelves,—not adjustable; a long drawer in top; ornamental cabinet top with moulded edges. Of splendid construction and high polish. Regularly $16. Price, $10. Fourth floor.

Bath CABINETS

"Turkish Bath" Cabinets—they're very appropriately termed. And this is a particularly meritorious brand. With one of these cabinets a Turkish, medicated or vapor bath is most easily arranged, and the enjoyment of either sort, in the privacy of your own room, will not cost more than about three cents.

Three grades—$4.50, $6.75 and $9.75. Basement.

All Around the Store

Webster's Dictionary. A complete dictionary of the English language, with colored plates of flags of all nations, yacht club signals, etc., a pronouncing gazetteer of geographical names, dictionary of familiar allusions, appendix of 10,000 new words, and 1,300 illustrations, is sold for the little price of 95c.

Mattresses. Pure horse-hair mattresses, full size, weighing 40 lbs., in one or two parts, as best suits you, covered with best blue-and-white or fancy ticking, are priced at 37½c a pound, or $15. They're the regular $20 kind.

Children's Dresses. Short dresses of pink-and-white or blue-and-white striped gingham, with deep ruffle on yoke; hemstitched ruffle on neck and sleeves; finished with feather-stitched braid, are 50c for sizes for 2 and 3 years.

Handkerchiefs for men. Novelties in colored hemstitched handkerchiefs, all linen, in effective new designs, at $1. In silk-and-linen, hemstitched, in pretty plaids and checks, at 75c each.

Embroidery Stripes. This collection comprises both edgings and insertions, in pieces of 4½ yards each. Scarcely two pieces are alike. They're a splendid offering, for, though worth fully twice as much, they're priced at 25c., 50c and 75c the piece.

Dog Collars. You need one for your dog, for identification as well as ornament. We can fit him, whether toy terrier or Great Dane. 25c to $5. We can cover him, too—blankets at $1.75 to $3.25.

Persian Lamb Jackets, with collar and ravers of chinchilla, beautiful and luxurious garments, are priced at $125.

Dressing Sacques. Of flannelette, in neat light-colored stripes; full front; fitted back; rolling collar. They are trimmed with ruffle in solid color and ribbon at neck. 35c each, reduced from 50c.

Breakfast Napkins. While the White Sale continues, we are selling napkins, 18x18 in., of an excellent quality of pure linen, at $1.10 a dozen for a regular $1.50 value.

New Fancy Taffetas. They're here in a complete variety of solid colors, suitable for both day and evening wear. They're made to resemble the plaited silks, and the similarity is striking, while the price is much less—85c a yard.

Women's Gloves. The excellent Princess May, the best $1 glove for women there is, in all suitable in tan, mode, beaver, pearl, white and black suede.

A New Garter for Men. They have been invented by us, especially for the men who won't wear ordinary garters, because they bind, or stop the circulation. These won't. They're of suede calfskin, not elastic; but fit just snugly enough. In tan and gray, 50c a pair.

Bohemian Glass. The China Store is showing a collection of this beautiful glass, in richly decorated pieces, such as bon-bon and puff boxes, at prices ranging from 25c to $2.

America's Earliest FASHION PICTURE

The first note of the robin red-breast is more delightful music than the chorus of the woods when spring is fully here. Something of the same pleasure is in store for you to-day at Wanamaker's; for here—before any fashion magazine has announced it; before the trade even has heard it whispered, come the Wanamaker models which forecast our interpretation of Fashion's foremost feature for this first Spring of the New Century.

Chiefest innovation is—

The Princess Skirt

The skirt, for the first time, does away with the band, and runs up under the waist or jacket of suit or costume. It is an evolution of the Empire effect—beautiful and practical. The picture shows one of the dresses here to-day. There are a dozen other styles equally fascinating. There are many other new features; but the Princess Skirt will interest broadly all votaries of fashion, and make a stir of hurry for adaptation by every manufacturer in the trade. We are glad to have it so. But Our Public gets earliest peep; and our customers may own and wear the season's most marked and beautiful novelty, a week or two before fashion's earliest word can announce it.

In addition to the cloth costumes, is a fascinating group of new silk dresses full of style thought and inspiration. Welcome to all—students of style, as well as you who wish to share and wear these first fashion buds of Spring.

Second floor, Broadway.

The SILVER SALE

Moved to the Under-price Store to-day. A more important movement requires the main floor aisles. But there is still splendid variety—full variety, in fact, of the spoons, forks, and knives; and excellent selection among both solid silver and silver-plated table wares.

But you must be prompt. No equal offering of goods of this high character may be looked for in the immediate future. This chance gone means a third more to double to pay, for goods no better.

These are here this morning, and in fairly good supplies. Mail orders will be too late, in most cases.

Sterling Silver Table Ware—
Bread Trays, $18
Berry Bowls, $10.75, $18.50, $28
Comports, $7.50, $9.50
Bonbon Dishes, $4.50, $4.75, $7.50, $10, $10.75, $11.25, $12.50, $13.75
2-piece Carving Sets, sterling handles, $3
3-piece Carving Sets, sterling handles, $3.75
Dessert Knives, $11 a dozen
Medium Knives, $12 a dozen
5-piece Tea Sets, $150, $185 and $257
Vegetable Dishes, $92
Soup Tureens, $103
Meat Dishes, $20 and $22 Ice Bowls, $17.50
French Coffee Pots, $10.25
Coasters, $12.50, $15
Coffee and Tete-a-tete Sets, 3 pieces, $32.50, $53 to $150
Berry Bowls, $10.75, $16.25
Crumb Trays, $14.50
Butter Dishes, $10.75 to $21
Vases, $2.50, $4.50, $13.25, $15.75 to $77
Waiters, $10, $15, $25, $28.75
Water Pitchers, $22.50, $35 to $50.
Tea Caddies, $5.75, $17.50
Syrup Pitchers, $3, $6 to $7.25
Tea Bells, $1.75
Candlesticks, $8 to $10.35
Funnels, $1.75 to $2.25
Muffineers, $12.50

Plated Flat Ware—Rogers' and other first-class makes—
Tea Spoons, $1.10 a dozen
Dessert Spoons, $2 a dozen
Table Spoons, $2.20 a dozen
Table Forks, $2.20 a dozen

Plated Flat Ware—Rogers' and other first-class makes—
Coffee Spoons, $1.10 a dozen
Oyster Forks, $1.35 a dozen
Berry Spoons, 65c ea Jelly Spoons, 45c ea
Sugar Spoons, 20c ea
Mustard Spoons, 10c ea Butter Knives, 25c ea
Pie Knives, 65c ea Crumb Knives, $1 ea
Fish Knives, 85c ea Fish Forks, 85c ea
Cream Ladles, 35c ea Gravy Ladles, 45c ea
Oyster Ladles, 75c ea
Soup Ladles, $1 and $1.25 each
Children's Sets, 3 pieces on card, 50c a set
Triple plate Medium and Dessert Knives, $2.25 a dozen

Quadruple-Plate Table Ware—
5-piece Tea Sets, $8.75, $12.50
Baking Dishes, $3.25, $5
Butter Dishes, $1.75, $2
4-Light Candelabra, $4.25
Bread Trays, $1.50
Water Pitchers, $2.75, $3.50
Individual Tureens, $2.50
Children's Cups, 50c 75c
Fruit Dishes, $1.25, $4.50
Pickle Jars, $1.50
Comports, $2.50 Cups and Saucers, $1
Kettles, $4.75
Odd Coffee Pots, $1.50 Ice Pitchers, $5
Coffee Sets, $4.50

Sterling Silver Toilet Ware and Novelties—
Hair Brushes, $2 and $2.75
Cloth Brushes, $1.75 Atomizers, $2
Velvet Brushes, $1.25 Mirrors, $4.25
Military Brushes, $1.75 Combs, 50c
Bonnet Brushes, $1
Salve Jars, 50c, 75c Ring Trees, $1
Cigar Jars, $2.50, $3 Pin Trays, $2
Shaving Brushes, $1.25 Shoe Hooks, 50c
Shoe Horns, $1.25, $2 Nail Files, 50c
Nail Brushes, 50c Cuticle Knives, 50c
Whisks, 75c, $1.00 and $2.50
Puff Boxes, $1, $1.35 and $2
Cologne Bottles, $2, $2.50, $3.25, $4.50
Flasks, $1.40, $2.25 and $2.50
Tooth Brushes, 50c
Inkstands, $1.25, $1.35, $1.60, $1.75, $3

Fine Table Cutlery—
Three-piece stag handle beef carving set, in fancy box, $1.60.
Two-piece pearl handle bird carving set; sterling silver ferrules; in fancy box, $2.
Three-piece pearl handle beef carving set; sterling silver ferrules; in fancy box, $6.
Two-piece stag handle steak carving set, $1.25.
Two-piece stag handle beef carving set; sterling silver ferrules, $1.25.
Two-piece stag handle beef carving set, $1.
Three-piece pointed stag handle beef carving set, silver plated ferrules, $3.
Three-piece stag handle beef carving set; Sterling silver ferrules, $3.25.
Two-piece stag handle beef carving set; silver plated ferrules, $2.
Pearl handle fruit knives; sterling silver ferrules, $5 a dozen.
Celluloid handle orange knives; saw edge; in fancy box, $2 a half-dozen.
Celluloid handle butter knives, 15c each.

Oriental RUGS

There are just 57 in this offering. And they represent a half dozen high-grade kinds. And numerous sizes. The prices are reduced one-fourth to one-third for no better reasons than that some one thought certain rugs had been here a bit too long, or that a few lots were a trifle too large.

Turkish—9 ft. by 5 ft. 9 in., $29; from $42. 10 ft. 3 in. by 6 ft. 11 in., $36; from $55
Yap Rak—11 ft. 6 in. by 9 ft. 1 in., $60; from $90. 15 ft. 6 in. by 10 ft., $89; from $132
Kirman—12 ft. 3 in. by 9 ft. 3 in., $90; from $110. 18 ft. 2 in. by 12 ft., $200; from $310
12 ft. 3 in. by 9 ft 2 in., $110; from $163. 14 ft. 6 in. by 9 ft., $110; from $165
Herez—10 ft. 9 in. by 7 ft. 6 in., $90; from $135. 13 ft. by 9 ft., $70; from $98
11 ft. 2 in. by 9 ft. 7 in., $75; from $98. 12 ft. 6 in. by 11 ft. 4 in., $80; from $125
Gulistan—20 ft. 4 in. by 13 ft. 6 in., $130; well worth $250.
Smaller Rugs—$7, $8, $9 and $10. Third floor.

LINENS

Pure flax—never a thread of cotton subterfuge in any Wanamaker linens at any price. No tell-tale furzy-heads of cotton are rubbed through after the laundry test. How you housekeepers hate them—and rightly. Cotton has many virtues, but is never anything but a cheat when mixed in "linen" cloth. Yet there are not a half dozen stores in America that don't admit cotton mixtures; and two of those are Wanamaker's.

This absolute assurance, and yet these stirring prices:

60c Table Linen at 45c a yard—
Cream white; 60 inches wide; excellent quality.

$1.25 Table Linen at 90c a yard—
Bleached Belgian Damask, 69 inches wide.

$3.75 Napkins at $2.75 a dozen—
Scotch full-bleached double damask, 24 inches square. 22-inch size at $2.50 from $3.

"Old Bleach" Huckaback Towels at 25c each—
Superb quality; with hemstitched, hemmed or fringed ends.

60c Bath Mats at 35c—

15c Toweling at 12½c a yard—
Bleached, twilled or plain, with neat border; 18 in. wide. Fourth avenue.

Furniture FABRICS

Coverings of various kinds—tapestries, armures and damasks—in 3 to 15-yard lengths, are reduced in price. The cullings amount to about 500 yards, all in desirable colorings and designs, all goods that have been here but a few months.

The tapestries of which there are several grades, are now 90c to $1.35 a yard. They were $1.35 to $2.

Damasks, at $2.25 to $8 upward—were $4 to $12.

Armures, at 75c to $1 a yard—were $1.25 to $1.75.

Figured and striped velours, at $1.65 to $2.25—were $2.25 to $3.50. Third floor.

Men's SUITS

They are $10 each now, though the values in the numerous little lots comprise suits that were priced up to $20. There are cutaway frock suits, all black—the kind you can wear for dress all the year 'round. Stylish fabrics—the rough-faced cheviots and rich looking Thibet. Made up in correct style, too. Upon that you may always depend regarding any clothing offering here. Incomplete lots, all of them, but your size is in one or another of them, and there's a good chance of obtaining it at about half its worth.

Choice at Ten Dollars. Second floor, Fourth ave.

Boys' Overcoats

Splendid stylish top-coats in a wide variety of qualities—all honest and durable, and moderately priced. These $5 reefers, for instance,—$5 here, but a particularly good value at that price. Shown in blue and gray frieze, with high storm collar; sizes 6 to 16 years.

A very warm, reliable and good looking reefer is that style shown for the 4 to 12-year boys. It's of chinchilla, and is lined throughout with red flannel; buttons to neck with velvet collar. Price, $6.

Then here's a substantial Russian hood overcoat, with belt; Oxford and blue frieze; red flannel lining; 4 to 12-year sizes. Very reasonable, at $8.50.

Second floor, Ninth street.

The BOOK SALE

New lots come to the "hurt book" table to-day. They're not hurt much—the more serious injury is to the prices. Most of them are cut to one-half and even one-third original prices.

Then there's a lot of valuable reference works that now become part of this sale. Also some standard works of fiction. Surprisingly low prices on all of these. This is but a partial list:

Encyclopedia Britannica, with American Revisions and Additions. 25 vols., cloth, $28.50.
Encyclopedia Britannica, with American Revisions and Additions. 25 vols., half morocco, $40; published at $75.
Standard American Encyclopedia. 8 vols., cloth, $5.50; was sold at $19. Half Morocco, $6.50; was $23.
Encyclopedic Dictionary. 12 vols., half Russia, $7; published at $22.
Library of the World's Best Literature. Edited by Charles Dudley Warner. 30 vols., bound in full red Morocco. Publisher's price, $165; our price, $70.
Dickens's Works. Chapman and Hall Edition. 30 vols., cloth, $13.50; published at $45.
Shakespeare's Works. 12 vols., cloth, $1.50; published at $4.
Blaine's Twenty Years in Congress. Illustrated. 2 vols., $2.50; published at $7.50.
Saracinesca. F. Marion Crawford. Illustrated. 2 vols. Publisher's price, $5; our price, $1.75.
Kipling's Works. 6 vols., cloth, $1.50. Sold in sets only. Plain Tales from the Hills, Soldiers Three, Story of the Gadsbys, In Black and White, Under the Deodars, The Phantom Rickshaw, Wee Willie Winkie, Life's Handicap, Stories of Mine Own People, Ballads and Barrack Room Ballads, The Light That Failed.
Self Interpreting Bible. Over 400 illustrations. Quarto size, 4 vols., half Morocco, $3.50; about one-fourth publishers' price.

Book Store, Ninth street.

Under-price Store

A very important corner to-day. The silverware sale, elsewhere mentioned, takes up a considerable part of the Under-price Store's territory. Another large slice is devoted to certain of the offerings in the notable sale of knit underwear, also announced to begin to-day. Besides, these new of other wanted goods, just added:

Flannel Remnants—
A large accumulation of short lengths, including flannelettes, cotton-and-wool flannels and all-wool embroidered flannels, with designs of dots, bow-knots, clover leaves and fleurs de lis, embroidered in silk. The lengths are from 2½ to 6 yards. Prices were 8c to $1.50 a yard, now 5c to $1.

Wood Serving Trays—
Austrian Ware. About 100, and they comprise 12 styles. Were 50c to $2.50 yesterday. 25c to $1.25 this morning.

Framed Pictures—Half Price—
They are etchings—a dozen good subjects. All in gilt frames. Some are 17x26 in., others 14x28 in. $2 regularly, now $1.

Formerly
A. T. Stewart & Co.

JOHN WANAMAKER

Broadway, Fourth Avenue,
Ninth and Tenth Streets.

SENATE VOTES ON THE ARMY BILL TO-MORROW

Agrees to Take Final Action on the Measure.

Messrs. Allen, Butler, and Teller Occupy the Day in Making Speeches Against the Bill.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—A final vote upon the pending Army Reorganization bill will be taken by the Senate at 4 o'clock Friday, under the terms of an agreement reached late to-day. Speeches in opposition to the bill were delivered to-day by Mr. Allen, (Pop., Neb.,) Mr. Teller, (Sil. Rep., Col.,) and Mr. Butler, (Pop., N. C.) Mr. McCumber (Rep., N. D.,) made an argument in support of the measure.

As soon as the bill was taken up for consideration to-day, Mr. Teller moved to strike out that paragraph of the bill which empowered the President to place on the retired list any officer who has been suspended from duty by sentence of court-martial or by executive order in mitigation of such sentence. Mr. Teller said that the paragraph might apply to Major Joseph W. Wham, whose record he dwelt upon as a splendid one filled with acts of gallantry at Nashville, Franklin, and other battlefields. He read a number of recommendations from influential people urging Major Wham's appointment as Paymaster General, and said this recommendation seemed to have brought on Major Wham an infamous persecution. The amendment was accepted by the committee and it was agreed to.

Mr. Carter (Rep., Mont.,) then asked that a final vote upon the bill and all amendments then pending be taken at 4 o'clock to-morrow. Mr. Allen said that for the time being he would object, although subsequently he might withdraw his objection.

Mr. Allen then entered upon an extended discussion of the measure, declaring his opposition to it in any form it might be presented. He declared it was wrong in its purposes and radically wrong constitutionally. There was no good reason for the passage of the measure in its present form. Adverting to the Philippine question, which, he said, he had no purpose to discuss, he maintained:

"The Filipinos never owed allegiance to the United States, and do not to-day. They owe allegiance only to their own island government, however weak and puny it may be. They are not rebels, though they may be insurgents. I am opposed to this bill because its avowed purpose is to provide soldiers to be sent to the Philippines."

Discussing the presentation a few days ago, of a petition of 2,000 Filipinos to the Senate, Mr. Allen urged that the signers of the appeal simply were exercising their right to appeal to Congress, yet, he said, the petition was denounced by Mr. Hayley (Rep., Conn.,) as treason.

"The flippancy with which the terms traitor and treason are being used these days," said Mr. Allen, "is getting to be a stench in the nostrils of some of us."

Discussing the situation in the Philippines, Mr Teller declared the conditions in the islands had not improved since the United States had succeeded Spain there. Capable and intelligent observers, Mr. Teller asserted, had pronounced the Filipinos as equal to seven Gilmerselves as any other Oriental race. In conclusion Mr. Teller said:

"I am not in favor of giving up the islands. I want to hold them because I think that would be better for the Filipinos and that the islands will be valuable to us. If, however, we can hold them only by force, there is no consideration, financial, commercial, of any other, that will justify us in retaining them."

Mr. Butler, in opposing the pending measure, said he was ready now to vote for any army that the Government might need for the present emergency, or any emergency that might arise, but he was unalterably opposed to the creation of a large standing army. He urged that not a single reason had been furnished for the creation of an army of 100,000 soldiers and for the rejection of the proposition to supply to the Government a volunteer army for service in the Philippines.

"Every soldier in the army under this bill will be a volunteer," interjected Mr. Hawley. "We do not regard it as a permanent standing army. The longest period of enlistment is only three years. We will be here next year and can take care of the situation as may be deemed desirable."

Mr. Butler responded that that was a mere sham and dodge and not a reason for the proposed action.

Mr. Hawley asked for unanimous consent that a final vote be taken on the bill and amendments at 3 o'clock to-morrow. Mr. Daniel (Dem., Va.,) objected. Mr. Hawley then modified his request to fix the time for final voting at 4 o'clock on Friday. To this no objection was entered, and the agreement was announced formally.

FIGHT ON HARLAN NOMINATION.

Senators Foraker and Pettigrew Get into a Heated Argument—Confirmation Again Delayed.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—There was another effort in to-day's executive session of the Senate to secure the confirmation of James S. Harlan to be Attorney General of Porto Rico, and, as on yesterday, the effort failed because of the absence of a quorum. The attempt to reach a vote resulted in an animated scene, in which Senators Foraker (Rep., Ohio,) and Pettigrew (Sil., S. D.,) were the principal actors. There was a lively exchange of personalities. The trouble arose over an apparent misconstruction of what Senator Foraker said yesterday concerning the attitude of the Supreme Court on the insular cases now pending before that tribunal.

Senator Pettigrew to-day, in the course of some remarks opposing Mr. Harlan's confirmation, referred to Senator Foraker's speech, and said that the latter had indicated a knowledge of what Justices Harlan and McKenna would hold in the cases pending before the court. This statement brought Mr. Foraker to his feet with a sharp and somewhat excited interruption, in which he disclaimed having given any such intimation.

Mr. Pettigrew responded with equal spirit to the effect that his words were capable of the construction that he (Pettigrew) had placed upon them, and added that he could bring any number of Senators to substantiate him.

Responding, Mr. Foraker repeated what he had said yesterday, according to his recollection, and said that he had meant to say and had said that he had such confidence in the principle of the legislation with reference to our newly acquired possessions that he had not doubted for a moment the position the court would take when it came to the adjudication of questions under that tribunal.

"It would, to my mind, be a waste of raw material in the way of time," he went on, "for the Administration to give places to the sons of Justices of the Supreme Court in order to influence their fathers to support the Administration in these matters. For I have such confidence in the soundness of our position that I count absolutely upon sustaining the constitutionality of our legislation. That I said yesterday," he added, "and I have said it many times both in open and executive session, and I repeat the statement again to-day."

In view of his confidence in the position taken, he ridiculed the idea of bribery by the giving of official place as entirely out of the question, and added that "it is unbecoming in the Senate to indulge such talk." He again referred to the high character of Mr. Harlan as a man and a lawyer, and said that he had been tendered the same position for which he is now a nominee a year ago, when there were no insular cases before the court, and had declined it.

"To my mind," he said, "the nomination is an exceptionally worthy one. I think we are very fortunate in securing the services of a man so eminently fit for the position, and I think the nomination should be confirmed forthwith, in order that he may proceed to Porto Rico while the Legislature is in session, when his services are especially required."

In conclusion, Mr. Foraker appealed to other Senators who knew Mr. Harlan to substantiate his statement as to the man's character. Granted even for argument that the nomination had not been made at the most fitting time, he thought the Senate could not do better than confirm it, and he advised speedy action, especially in view of the pressing need for such services as Mr. Harlan could render.

Among the Senators to whom Mr. Foraker appealed for testimonials in regard to Mr. Harlan's fitness were Messrs. Teller, (Sil. Rep., Col.,) Spooner, (Rep., Wis.,) and Fairbanks, (Rep., Ind.) All responded favorably, but Mr. Teller added that he doubted the propriety of the nomination at this time.

When the debate closed, it was ascertained that there were only forty-one Senators, or fewer than a quorum, present, and the nomination again went over.

WANTS TO ADVANCE SAMPSON.

Secretary Long Again Urges Revival of Vice Admiral's Rank.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—Secretary Long has written letters to the Chairmen of the Congressional Naval Committees, calling attention to the various recommendations for legislation in the interests of the navy contained in his last annual report, and urging their favorable consideration by Congress. In particular he advocated the revival of the grade of Vice Admiral in the navy, presumably with a view to the promotion of Rear Admiral Sampson to that grade, the effect of which would be to make him the second ranking officer in the navy, Admiral Dewey being his only superior.

PORTO RICAN BILLS PASSED.

First Measure Was One to Establish Jury Trials.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, Jan. 16.—Gov. Allen to-day signed the first bill passed by both houses of the Porto Rican Legislature, providing for the establishment of jury trials.

A bill appropriating $10,000 for a Porto Rican exhibit at the Pan-American Exhibition, to be held at Buffalo, has passed both houses.

A committee of the Council which had the matter under consideration has reported in favor of placing the salary of native Councilors at $3,000 instead of $4,000.

The Insular Government will take over the control of the telegraph system Feb. 1, when the Signal Corps retires.

William H. Elliott, Commissioner of the Interior, has introduced a bill which, if passed, will provide Gov. Allen with a military staff.

FREE TRADE FOR JOLO ISLANDS.

Philippine Commission Passes Laws—Cable to Negros Completed.

MANILA, Jan. 16.—The Philippine Commission has passed acts giving, in domestic products, the Jolo Archipelago free trade with all Philippine ports, and providing for the issuance of licenses to masters and mates of seagoing vessels.

Further hearing on the Educational bill has been postponed until Monday in order to give the Commissioners opportunity to consider privately the proposed amendments to the measure.

The United States cable ship Burnside has finished the work of laying the cable connecting the Island of Negros with Northern Mindanao. Zamboango and Jolo will be connected soon.

Lt. Phelps Whitmarsh, recently appointed Governor of the Province of Benguet, reports that several towns in the province have held elections and organized local governments.

TRUST COMPANIES' ELECTIONS.

Directors and Officers of Many Institutions Chosen at Annual Meetings.

The annual meetings of the stockholders and Directors of various trust companies were held yesterday, with the following results:

The Colonial Trust Company elected John E. Borne, Lee C. Dessar, George W. Quintard, W. Seward Webb, Henry N. Whitney, Daniel O'Day, and Perry Belmont Trustees. John E. Borne was elected President; Richard Delafield, Cord Meyer, and James W. Tappin Vice Presidents; Arpad S. Grossmann, Treasurer; Edmund L. Judson, Secretary, and Philip S. Babcock, trust officer.

The Directors of Bowling Green Trust Company elected Edwin Gould President; Samuel C. Thomas, First Vice President; W. H. Taylor, Second Vice President; John A. Hilton, Treasurer, and William M. Laws, Secretary.

The stockholders' meeting of the Real Estate Trust Company elected Horace S. Ely, Charles A. Schermerhorn, James I. Raymond, E. A. Cruickshank, H. K. Pomroy, Percy Chubb, Harrison E. Cawtry, and James Roosevelt Directors for the term ending January, 1904.

The stockholders' meeting of the Continental Trust Company re-elected these Trustees, whose term of office had expired: William Jay, Alfred M. Hoyt, Rudolph E. F. Flinsch, Robert S. Holt, Oliver Harriman, Jr., Henry S. Kerr, Joseph Walker, Jr.

The stockholders' meeting of the Morton Trust Company, re-elected John Jacob Astor, Frederic Cromwell, Henry M. Flagler, Walter S. Johnston, Augustus D. Juilliard, Thomas F. Ryan, William C. Whitney, and Jacob H. Schiff Directors to serve until 1904. The Morton Trust Company yesterday loaned on call between $3,000,000 and $4,000,000 at 3 per cent.

At the annual meeting of the Exploration Company of New York the old Board of Directors was re-elected, with one exception. Frederick G. Corning was elected President; Thomas J. Hurley, Vice President, and C. Van Rensselaer Cogswell, Secretary and Treasurer. The usual semi-annual dividend of $5 per share was paid yesterday.

The Directors of the Central Realty, Bond and Trust Company elected these officers: Henry Morgenthau, President; Hugh J. Grant, Vice President; Thorwald Stallknecht, Second Vice President; W. J. B. Mills, Treasurer; Ernest Ehrmann, Secretary. The Executive Committee for the year is: Frederic P. Olcott, President of the Central Trust Company; James Stillman, President of National City Bank; Hon. Hugh J. Grant, ex-Mayor of New York City; Augustus D. Juilliard, James N. Jarvie of Arbuckle Brothers, Frederick Southack, and Henry Morgenthau.

DIVIDEND ON TIN PLATE COMMON.

NEWARK, N. J., Jan. 16.—The American Tin Plate Company, which moved its entire office force from Chicago to New York a few months ago, held its annual meeting to-day. A dividend of 8 per cent., payable in quarterly installments, was declared on the common stock. This is the first dividend which has been declared on the common stock.

The officers chosen were: President—D. G. Reid; First Vice President—W. T. Graham; Second Vice President—Warner Arms; Third Vice President—W. M. Leed; Treasurer—F. S. Wheeler; Secretary—E. G. Applegate. The members of the Board of Directors elected were: W. M. Leed, William H. Moore, J. H. Moore, W. T. Graham, Warner Arms, George Greer, James McLean, W. E. Reis, D. G. Reid, J. A. Matthews, Cecil Robinson, James B. Dill, W. B. Leed, and Richard R. Quay.

TOOTHACHE CAUSES A ROW.

Because Samuel Dodge of 1,848 Washington Avenue, Borough of the Bronx, had the toothache so badly that he forgot to ring the outside door bell of the apartment of Dr. H. A. Parmertier of 727 Tremont Avenue, to whom he went for relief very early this morning, he came very near having his head shot off by the irate doctor, and frightened Mrs. Parmertier so badly that she aroused the entire neighborhod by her cries of "Police," "Thieves," and "Murder."

Shortly after midnight the residents of the vicinity of Dr. Parmertier's house were roused from their sleep by the terrified screams of a woman shouting "Police!" at the top of her voice. Passersby on the street stopped and a crowd gathered in a minute's time. The screams came from a front window of Dr. Parmertier's apartments and the crowd made a rush for the street door. They burst open the door, which was unlocked, and beheld Dr. Parmertier confronting one of Tremont's prominent citizens and leveling a revolver at his head.

The doctor's prisoner stood with uplifted hands and in moaning tones begged him not to shoot. Then he was recognized as Samuel Dodge, and explanations followed. Mr. Dodge declared he was nearly frantic with an aching tooth and had gone to the physician to have it extracted. In his agony he forgot to ring the outside door bell, but giving the door a quick jerk pulled the lock from the frail fastening. He said then he stepped inside. The next instant he heard a scream and a ringing of bells all over the house. Then before he was aware what had happened he found himself confronted by Dr. Parmertier, who levelled a revolver at his head and inquired his business and his name.

After the explanations the crowd departed, and Mr. Dodge was taken into Dr. Parmertier's office and the tooth that had caused all the trouble extracted. Mr. Dodge was profuse in his apologies, and went home minus the disturbing molar.

CAPT. GODFREY'S BODY HERE.

The body of Capt. George F. Godfrey of the Twenty-seventh United States Infantry, who was killed in the Philippines on June 3, was brought from San Francisco to the home of his mother, 516 East One Hundred and Twentieth Street, last night.

Funeral services will be held at the house on Saturday, and the burial will be at West Point.

Capt. Godfrey was born Feb. 14, 1862, and was graduated from West Point in 1886. He immediately entered active service, in which he remained up to the time of his death.

THE AMENDED CANAL TREATY.

If Lord Lansdowne's Views Prevail, Great Britain Will Not Accept It.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—Nicaragua Canal matters have been brought forcibly before the public by means of an editorial in The Daily Telegraph of yesterday, and a lengthy dispatch from the American correspondent of The Times. Each takes an exactly opposite view. It is stated officially that neither can be taken to represent the Government's views, for the excellent reason that these views are not yet concentrated into a decision.

The conferences so far held between United States Ambassador Choate and the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, Lord Lansdowne, have taken place at the instigation of the latter, and were for the purpose of enlightening Lord Lansdowne on various technicalities, so as to enable him to explain them to the Cabinet meeting of Friday. Until that is held, Great Britain's attitude will not be known. Forecast thus develops into speculation.

The United States Embassy officials appear to be hopeful of the acceptance of the amendments to the Hay-Pauncefote treaty. In spite of this impression, and taking into full consideration the opportunities of the Embassy officials in determining which way the cat is likely to jump, there is excellent reason to believe that if Lord Lansdowne's voice predominates in the Cabinet, Great Britain will not accept the amendments. There is hardly a shadow of doubt that if the opinion of the Foreign Office, as a department, is followed, Great Britain will either regretfully express her inability to comply with the amendments or fail to take any action whatever, in which case the treaty will lapse of itself. Several of Lord Lansdowne's advisers favor the latter course. Their feelings can well be judged from a statement of one of the foremost of them, who, replying to a remark that the canal was not worth a row, said:

"Perhaps not, but it does not do to apply that principle in every case."

The dispatch of the American correspondent of The Times is a bitter invocation of Great Britain not to give anti-British-Americans an opportunity for exultation over her surrender, and finds a hearty editorial echo in The Globe, which declares that though Americans, as a whole, are learning to take a more sober view of the relations with Great Britain, "there is still a group of politicians whose main object is to annoy and humiliate Great Britain."

Various American dispatches refer pointedly to Washington's growing assumption that Great Britain will accept the amendments. According to rumor here, this is greatly due to private conversations with Lord Pauncefote some time ago. Whatever truth there is in the reports of the conversations with Lord Pauncefote, and they are not credited at the Foreign Office, it can be said that the matter has now gone beyond the phase where Lord Pauncefote's views are likely to turn the scale one way or the other.

Were not the question regarded from the broad standpoint of Great Britain's general policy toward the United States, it would be safe to say that the Senate's amendments would meet with a prompt refusal, and if that does occur, it will be done with a full appreciation on the part of Great Britain of any and all consequences.

The Chicago-Atlantic Canal Project.

BERLIN, Jan. 16.—Discussing the project of a deep-water canal from Chicago to the Atlantic Ocean, the National Zeitung says: "Such an undertaking would in all probability prove profitable, and American engineering is quite equal to the task. Moreover, the will of the American people is too strong to permit any schemes to defeat the enterprise. So far as the money needed is concerned, we believe it could easily be raised in these good times."

PROMOTION FOR CAPT. BOWLES.

President Nominates Him for Chief Constructor of the Navy.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—The President to-day sent to the Senate the nomination of Capt. Francis T. Bowles to be Chief Constructor and Chief of the Bureau of Construction and Repair of the Navy Department. Capt. Bowles will succeed Admiral Hichborn on March 4, the date of the latter's retirement.

Capt. Bowles was born in Springfield, Mass., in 1858. His grandfather, Samuel Bowles, was the founder of The Springfield Republican, and his father, Benjamin F. Bowles, was also connected with that paper. Young Bowles was appointed to the Naval Academy in 1875. He was graduated with honors in 1879, and then spent several years at the Royal Naval College at Greenwich, England. On his return home he was stationed in Washington as Secretary of the Advisory Board under Chandler and Whitney.

In 1896 he was sent to Norfolk, Va., to reconstruct the navy yard, and then to build the battleship Texas and the cruiser Raleigh. In 1895 he was transferred to the New York Navy Yard. Capt. Bowles's present rank is that of Captain, but under his new office he will hold rank as Rear Admiral.

THE UNITED SERVICE.

Army.

A board of officers is appointed to meet at St. Paul at the earliest date practicable, at the call of the President of the board, for the examination of such officers as may be ordered before it to determine their fitness for promotion. Detail: Lieut. Col. Edward Hunter, Deputy Judge Advocate General; Lieut. Col. Calvin De Witt, Deputy Surgeon General; Major George E. Pond, Quartermaster; Major P. Henry Ray, Eighth Infantry; Capt. Alfred E. Bradley, Assistant Surgeon, and Capt. Frederick Perkins, Eighth Infantry, Recorder. The following-named officers will report to Lieut. Col. Hunter, President of the board, at such time as he may designate, for examination as to their fitness for promotion: First Lieuts. Elmer Lindsley, First Cavalry; Robert C. Williams, First Cavalry; Walter M. Whitman, First Cavalry; Second Lieuts. Robert C. Foy, First Cavalry, and Leslie A. i. Chapman, First Cavalry.

Capt. Peter W. Davison, Assistant Quartermaster, United States Volunteers, will report to the Commanding General, Division of the Philippines, for assignment to duty under his direction.

Capt. David S. Stanley, Assistant Quartermaster, will take temporary station in New York City, pending repairs to the transport Sedgwick.

Capt. William Crozier, Ordnance Department, after complying with the orders of Oct. 2, 1900, will report to the Chief of Ordnance for temporary duty in his office.

First Lieut. Jens Bugge, Third Infantry, will report to Lieut. Col. Otto Hein, Commandant of Cadets, (Captain First Cavalry,) President of the examining board appointed to meet at the Military Academy at West Point, at such time as he may designate, for examination as to his fitness for promotion.

First Lieut. Howard R. Perry, Seventh Infantry, will report to Lieut. Col. John Simpson, Deputy Quartermaster General, President of the examining board appointed to meet at San Antonio, Texas, at such time as he may designate, for examination as to his fitness for promotion.

Capt. Robert P. P. Wainwright, First Cavalry, will report to Lieut. Col. Mott Hooton, Fifth Infantry, President of the examining board appointed to meet at Fort Sheridan, Ill., for examination as to his fitness for promotion.

Major William A. Glassford, Signal Officer, United States Volunteers, will report in person to the Chief Signal Officer of the Army for temporary duty in his office.

Navy.

Commander E. S. Prime is detached from the Brutus and is ordered to the Asiatic Station via the transport sailing Feb. 1 from San Francisco.

Movements of Naval Vessels.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—The hospital ship Solace and the Zafiro arrived at Manila to-day.

The Ajax has arrived at Fort Said.

The Essex is at Newport.

The Powhatan arrived at Philadelphia yesterday.

Army and Navy Promotions.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—The President to-day sent the following nominations to the Senate:

Lyle F. Bellinger of Georgia to be a civil engineer in the Navy.

Army: Volunteers—Promotions, First Lieutenants to be Captains—W. H. Butler, Forty-ninth Infantry; H. F. McFeely, Forty-second Infantry.

Second Lieutenants to be First Lieutenants—W. Huffman, Forty-ninth Infantry; E. F. Hackett, Jr., Forty-second Infantry.

Sergeants to be Second Lieutenants—H. F. Sykes, Forty-second Infantry; C. W. Stewart, Thirtieth Infantry; H. H. Goodyear, Twenty-eighth Infantry.

Regulars—Second Lieut. S. F. Dallam, Eighth Cavalry, to be First Lieuteoant; Edward P. Rockhill of Pennsylvania to be Assistant Surgeon, with rank of First Lieutenant.

New Yorker to Build Cuban School.

HAVANA, Jan. 16.—The Government has signed a contract for a fifty-thousand-dollar schoolhouse in Santiago. It will be the first modern schoolhouse in Cuba, and will be built of stone. O. B. Stillman of New York is the builder. Contracts aggregating $110,000 have been awarded for the purchase of school books. The successful bidders are Ginn & Co., Houghton, Mifflin & Co., the Hammett Company, the American Book Company, Silver & Burdett.

OPPOSES THE POLICE BILL.

Provision for Power of Removal of the Commissioner Criticised by the Committee of Fifteen.

The Committee of Fifteen met yesterday, but the only business transacted which could be made public was that the report of the Sub-committee on Legislation had been accepted, with minor changes. The report protests against giving the power of removal of the single head of the Police Department under the proposed law to both the Governor and Mayor.

"The bill," the committee reports, "contains one provision which, if adopted, will perpetuate the worst evils of the present situation, and that is the provision which gives both to the Mayor and Governor the power of summary removal. These officials are often of different political parties, and the responsibility for removing or not removing the Commissioner will then be divided and shared by both parties. The Commissioner, having charge of the discipline of some 8,000 men, may find himself in the position of being removed by the Governor if he obeys the wishes of the Mayor, and by the Mayor if he obeys the wishes of the Governor. Apart from any other objection, such a position will make the Commissioner the laughing stock of the force.

"But the more serious difficulty is that it will be impossible under such a law to obtain the services of a really competent Commissioner, for no man fit for the place will consent to try to serve two masters. A vicious Commissioner, on the other hand, will always be ready to make the attempt by a deal between the leaders of the two political parties. He will be able to keep his place only by consenting to enforce the law to the extent and in the manner which the exigencies of political parties may demand. The consequence will be that the control of the force will pass from the hands of the Commissioner, and will, in fact, be in the hands of the two political parties. The result is that under the specious appearance of reform the bill is in fact a bill to continue the existing conditions in their most obnoxious form."

EVIDENCE IS VALUELESS.

District Attorney Will Not Ask Indictment on the Facts Presented by the Tammany Committee.

Evidence gathered by the Tammany Committee of Five in the recent movement against vicious conditions in the "red-light" district, submitted recently to District Attorney Philbin by M. Warley Platzek, was yesterday declared by a member of the District Attorney's staff to be wholly valueless, and insufficient to warrant an indictment against any person.

Lewis Nixon, Chairman of the Committee of Five, when told of the statement emanating from the District Attorney's office, said:

"The evidence submitted to Mr. Schurman was not hearsay. It was supported by affidavits. Having received no official notification from the District Attorney that the evidence is insufficient and valueless, I do not care to discuss the matter. I will say that I do not believe that the District Attorney made any such statement. I am not a lawyer, and hence no judge of the legality of evidence."

"Was the evidence you submitted against police officials or the owners or proprietors of illegal resorts?" was asked.

"I won't say who it was against. It was gathered along the lines I have been investigating."

"What were those lines?"

"I do not say at present. No doubt everybody in the city will be glad to hear that the evidence is said to be valueless. Nobody in town has wanted to see the Committee of Five accomplish any actual results."

"Are you satisfied with the progress of the work of your committee?"

"I am not. We are not getting along half as fast as I wish. This is due to obstacles we encounter on every side. But this makes us all the more determined."

"Are those obstacles within or without the Democratic organization?"

"I will not say at present."

Neither District Attorney Philbin nor Assistant District Attorney Schurman, who has charge of the evidence, would make a statement.

The recent conference between Chief Devery and District Attorney Philbin, it was stated at the latter's office, had nothing to do with reform matters.

GAMBLING MEN INTERESTED.

A Bill in the Legislature Recalls the Rich "Strike" by a Senator.

There was much interest in gambling circles yesterday over the introduction in the Assembly of a bill by Leon Sanders making it a misdemeanor to furnish, indirectly or directly, information by telegraph or otherwise to poolsellers or bookmakers upon the result of any chance or casualty, unknown or contingent event whatsoever. The introduction of the bill recalls to the poolroom keepers how last year they were mulcted out of $143,850 by a State Senator who saw in the bill his opportunity of holding up the gamblers to his own profit and whose scheme was explained in THE NEW YORK TIMES of July 20 last.

There had never been any question of Mr. Sanders's good faith in introducing the measure, but as was said at that time the Senator considered that he would be flying in the face of Providence not to take advantage of such an opportunity. When the bill had been sent to the Senate for action the Senator's agents went among the poolroom keepers and collected from 411 of them $350 each for the ostensible purpose of killing the bill in the Senate. No Senator but the one in question ever saw a penny of this money, a large part of which was left in famous resorts by the Senator when he visited them for his health a while later.

The Senator, who was also a member of the "Gambling Combine" discovered by Mr. Nixon a few weeks ago and by THE NEW YORK TIMES in March last, received special permission from the commission to do a little collecting on his own account. The gamblers made a great outcry when they saw they had been bunkoed, but they were whipped into line a while later, when the Senator returned from his trip, and forced to give him a reception.

There is no indication that the Senator will use the bill again as a strike measure.

Capt. Herlihy Trial Adjourned.

Just as the Police Commissioners assembled yesterday afternoon to continue the hearing of the trial of Capt. Herlihy, the attorney for the prosecution, W. M. K. Olcott, announced that he had finished his examination of witnesses. Thereupon Mr. Grant, the accused Captain's lawyer, asked for an adjournment of a few days, that he might have time to go through the evidence and decide what course he would pursue. The next hearing was set for Monday morning at 11 o'clock. In answer to a question of President York, Mr. Grant said that his defense would be finished in a week at the most.

THE WEATHER.

LOCAL FORECAST.—Fair and colder; brisk northwesterly winds.

The storm Wednesday morning, central north of Lake Huron, has moved eastward, with decreasing energy, and last night was central over Eastern Ontario. Fair weather is indicated for to-day, except occasional snows in the lake regions and northern New England and rains in the southern portion of the Gulf States. Lower temperatures are indicated generally for the Atlantic and Gulf States, in the Ohio Valley, the middle slope, and the eastern portion of the lower lake region. High southwest to northwest winds and gales are indicated for the New England and Middle Atlantic Coasts, and fresh to brisk west to northwest winds on the South Atlantic Coast. Storm warnings are displayed on the Atlantic Coast from Delaware Breakwater to Eastport.

The record of temperature for the twenty-four hours ended at midnight, taken from THE NEW YORK TIMES'S thermometer and from the thermometer of the Weather Bureau is as follows:

	—Weather Bureau—		—TIMES.
	1900.	1901.	1900.	1901.
3 A. M.	39	36	41
6 A. M.	30	37	40
9 A. M.	34	46	49
12 M.	40	50	55
4 P. M.	45	50	55
6 P. M.	41	50	52
9 P. M.	38	48	49
12 P. M.	36	46	48

THE TIMES'S thermometer is 6 feet above the street level; that of the Weather Bureau is 285 feet above the street level.

Average temperatures yesterday were as follows:

Printing House Square	48⅝
Weather Bureau	44
Corresponding date 1900	40
Corresponding date for last twenty-five years	30

The maximum temperature yesterday was 53 degrees at 3:30 P. M.; the minimum temperature was 34 degrees at 2 A. M. At 8 A. M. the barometer registered 29.80; at 8 P. M. it registered 29.60. The humidity at 8 A. M. was 88 per cent.; at 8 P. M. it was 70 per cent.

The PIANOLA

As an Entertainer During Winter Evenings and Stormy Weather

Pianola In Use with Upright Piano. Price $250.

There is a wealth of pleasure to be found in a Piano, and the Pianola gives you access to it at will.

It makes no difference if you do not know one note from another.

With the aid of the Pianola, you can play on the Piano everything ever written for that instrument, and regulate the expression according to your own taste.

Have you ever spent a long evening at home with nothing of especial interest to do, and felt a desire to hear again the catchy music of the latest Light Opera, or some of the selections you enjoyed at a particular Grand Opera performance? Have you ever felt a desire to have Paderewski present himself in your own drawing-room and play for you some of the grand works of the old composers—have you ever felt a desire to play Paderewski's repertory yourself, and see what you could do with it?

The Pianola offers you this opportunity.

It aids you in entertaining your friends. It enables you to play accompaniments for all other musical instruments; for an impromptu dance; or for solo or chorus singing.

Its cost is but $250.

It makes your piano worth to you all that it was intended to be worth.

The Pianola can be bought by moderate monthly payments if desired.

The Aeolian Co., 18 West Twenty-third St., New York. 500 Fulton Street, Brooklyn.

If unable to call send for Catalogue No. 4.

NEWS OF THE RAILROADS.

PRESENTS FOR AGENTS.

Western Lines Accused of Violating the Spirit of the Passenger Agreement.

Three Western lines, the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, the Colorado Midland, and the St. Louis and San Francisco, have been accused by General Passenger Agents of other Western systems of a violation of the spirit if not the letter of the anti-commission agreement which was entered into about a year ago by railroads in various parts of the country, and which prohibited the paying of commissions to ticket agents. The action complained of against the Burlington is that one of its traveling agents shortly before Christmas distributed five-dollar silk umbrellas among thirty ticket agents of Eastern lines with a view, it is alleged, of influencing traffic in favor of the Burlington lines. If the matter had stopped there little comment would probably have been aroused by this expenditure of $150 for Christmas presents to personal friends by the agent in question.

Somebody, however, called the attention of the St. Louis and San Francisco's Pittsburg agent to this appearance as Santa Claus of the Burlington's representative. The "'Friseo's" agent, it is said, immediately went forth and bought barrels of Christmas apples. These he had packed in neat baskets, and not long after the Christmas silk umbrellas had brought joy into the heart of the favored ticket agents the baskets full of nice red apples arrived to emphasize the season's happiness.

The St. Louis and San Francisco explains that the apples were part of a carload which had been shipped over its lines, but which the consignee had refused to accept. The apples were therefore thrown on the hands of the railroad, and rather than let them go to waste the plan was conceived to distribute them among friends of the Pittsburg agent as Christmas greetings. It was a mere coincidence that these friends were Eastern ticket agents.

A meeting of the Western Passenger Association has been called to look into the case.

Brief Railroad Items.

The position of Traffic Manager of the Intercolonial Railway, which has been vacant for some time, has been filled by the appointment of M. E. Tiffin, heretofore Freight Agent of the Canadian Pacific.

Francis B. Clarke, General Traffic Manager of the Great Northern, and Arthur Street, General Freight Agent of the Northern Steamship Company, are in the city.

The Broadway office of the Clyde Steamship Line will be moved from 375 Broadway to 353 Broadway on Saturday next.

SMALLPOX IN SOUTHHOLD.

Three Cases Discovered in One Family Following Visits from New Yorkers.

SOUTHOLD, L. I., Jan. 16.—Much alarm has been caused here by the appearance of three cases of smallpox in the family of Joseph H. Thompson. Nicholas McQuillan, who died last Thursday at the age of 103 years, lived with the Thompsons. On New Year's Day Mr. McQuillan was visited by several relatives from New York and Brooklyn. After this visit Dr. Hartranft, who was called to attend others of the family, discovered that two of the children had smallpox in a light form and were being treated for colds.

The doctor is the Health Officer of the town and immediately quarantined the premises. All the doctors of the town are now busy vaccinating, and yesterday the rush of persons to be treated was so great that all the virus was exhausted and more was telegraphed for to New York.

To Vaccinate 500 Street Railway Men.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Jan. 16.—General Manager McNamara of the United Traction Company has issued an order that all the Inspectors, motormen, and yardmen employed by the company, 500 in number, must submit to vaccination. Half of the men will be inoculated Friday afternoon and the remaining half Saturday afternoon. Health Officer Craig will superintend the work of vaccinating them.

Smallpox Case in Brooklyn.

Mary Knapp, sixteen years old, of 96 Wythe Avenue, Brooklyn, was found to be suffering from smallpox yesterday afternoon, and was removed to North Brother Island. Miss Knapp is supposed to have contracted the disease while visiting a family in Roseville Street last week, two members of which have since been removed to the pesthouse, suffering from the same malady.

No Smallpox on Tyrian.

The steamship Tyrian, which was detained at Quarantine Monday night owing to the report that several cases of smallpox had developed on board during the voyage, was released last night. The vessel was thoroughly disinfected during the day.

YESTERDAY'S FIRES.

(From 12 o'clock Tuesday night until 12 o'clock Wednesday night.)

2:40 A. M.—335 Rivington Street; fruit stand; damage, $10.

3:30 A. M.—Ninety-ninth Street and First Avenue; Consolidated Gas Company; damage, $500.

7:50 A. M.—305 West Thirty-eighth Street; Adam Schupheir; damage, $10.

8:10 A. M.—1,906 Third Avenue; Young & Greenwald; damage, $1,000.

1:05 P. M.—343 East Thirty-fourth Street; Charles Levera; damage, $25.

4:35 A. M.—627 West One Hundred and Fifteenth Street; unfinished building; damage slight.

3:40 P. M.—180 Stanton Street; Benjamin Shnyxel; damage, $15.

8:15 P. M.—47 West Seventy-fifth Street; Charles A. Tilford; damage, $250.

8:54 P. M.—92 Bowery; Philip Freedman & Brothers; damage, $200.

9:14 P. M.—40 Downing Street; Joseph Morton; damage, $15.

BELLEVUE MEDICAL BOARD.

Its Findings Submitted to Commissioner Keller—No Divided Responsibility.

The Medical Board of Bellevue Hospital held a lengthy session yesterday afternoon, Dr. A. A. Smith presiding. The special committee appointed to confer with Commissioner Keller in regard to the alleged abuses in the hospital and necessary reforms, made a lengthy report, which was adopted, and the Secretary, Dr. Alexander Lambert, was instructed to communicate the action of the board to Commissioner Keller. This will be done this morning, and pending the action the Secretary refused to disclose the action of the board on the points at issue.

Commissioner Keller said yesterday that the proposed rules would do away with the division of responsibility which has heretofore cheated discipline at Bellevue. These will so definitely fix the responsibility in each case that the proper person can be held accountable for any abuses that may occur.

DR. MOORE ON DUTY.

Suspended Physician Resumes His Work in Bellevue Hospital.

Dr. John W. Moore, who was suspended by Commissioner Keller several days ago, resumed duty at Bellevue Hospital last night. It was rumored that Dr. Moore had been reinstated. When asked if the rumor was true, Dr. Moore replied:

"I don't care to say anything to-night, but will tell you definitely to-morrow."

At the time of his suspension Dr. Moore was on insane ward duty.

To Protect Bellevue Against Suits.

ALBANY, Jan. 16.—Senator Grady to-day introduced a bill which he says is to prevent a serious condition that will result from the abuses in Bellevue Hospital. It seems that if a patient is maltreated or abused and a suit brought is successful, the money to pay the damages is obtained from funds provided by the State or city for maintenance. The bill provides that hereafter suits for ill-treatment or any other misdemeanor committed must be against the attendants or physicians and cannot be against the corporation running the hospital.

SHIPPING AND FOREIGN MAILS.

Miniature Almanac—This Day.

A. M.		P. M.		A. M.
Sun rises	7:21	Sun sets	5:00	Moon rises	4:39

High Water This Day.

A. M.		A. M.		A. M.
S. Hook	4:44	Gov. Isl'd	5:08	H. Gate	7:04
P. M.		P. M.		P. M.
S. Hook	5:16	Gov. Isl'd	5:33	H. Gate	7:29

Outgoing Steamships.

TO-DAY, (THURSDAY,) JAN. 17.

	Mails Close.	Vessels Sail.
El Paso, New Orleans	.....	3:00 P. M.
Jeffersen, Norfolk	.....	3:00 P. M.
La Champ

ANOTHER ELECTION BILL

Measure Introduced at Albany Supplants Stranahan Bill.

Sweeping Amendments to the Law Proposed by Senator Raines—New Measure Likely to Pass.

ALBANY, Jan. 16.—Senator Raines introduced to-day an Elections Bureau bill which is a rival to the measure introduced by Senator Stranahan last Monday night. At the present time the indications are that the Stranahan bill has been side-tracked by its more voluminous and exhaustive successor. Senator Stranahan has apparently abandoned his bill to the action of the Senate Judiciary Committee without making any effort to have it reported out, in preference to the Raines act.

The Raines measure amends the general election law of the State where it applies to the City of New York. He has altered the text in nearly fifty places, so that the word "police" is eliminated from the present statute and the words "Bureau of Elections" substituted. This, he claims, would have been necessary eventually, even were the Stranahan bill to become a law. But the great difference between the Raines and the Stranahan bill is that in the Raines bill the Commissioners of Election in New York are to be elected at the same time and for the same term that the Mayor of the city is. In the Stranahan bill they are appointed by the Mayor.

In Section 2 of the Stranahan bill the text reads.

> There shall be a Board of Elections in the City of New York to consist of four members appointed by the Mayor, and to be known as Commissioners of Elections, * * * not more than two of whom belong to the same political party.

The Raines bill establishes a Board of Elections in every city of the first class in the State which does not contain within its boundaries one or more counties. These boards are to contain four Commissioners; they are to be elected at the same time the Mayor is, and are to serve the same term as the Mayor. They may be removed from office by the Governor the same as the Sheriff.

Practically the Raines bill lifts the Stranahan bill in full and incorporates it in a general act, with the exception that it provides for the election of the Commissioners by the people, and not for appointment by the Mayor. There is much speculation as to which of the bills the organization intends to make a party measure. It is understood that Gov. Odell does not care which of the bills comes to him for approval, as he will sign either.

In the Senate this morning after the Raines bill had been sent to the Senate Committee on Judiciary, Senator Stranahan moved that the Cities Committee be discharged from further consideration of his New York Election Bureau bill, and that it be sent to the Judiciary Committee with the Raines measure. There was a protest from some members, but the transfer was made. This is taken to indicate that Senator Stranahan has repudiated his own bill.

Senator Raines said to-day: "The Stranahan bill, or rather most of its provisions, with one or two exceptions, has been incorporated in my bill because I think that an amendment to the general election act will make the act stronger and better." Assemblyman Kelsey, Chairman of the Assembly Cities Committee, said: "I have not been informed as to what the Raines bill does, but I should imagine that if it incorporates the Stranahan bill and alters the text in the general elections law it would, most likely, be passed."

Senator Brackett, Chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, thinks the Raines bill will be the one passed.

There is some discussion as to how the bill will reach the situation immediately. It is pointed out that there can be no change until after the next election under the Raines bill.

FIGHT ON PURE BEER BILL.

Brewers of the State to Oppose the Measure to the Last.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Jan. 16.—In the Assembly today Mr. Henry, Chairman of the Health Committee, endeavored to have the reference of the Pure Beer bill changed from the Excise Committee to his committee. His motion was opposed by Leader Allds, Mr. Harburger, and Mr. Burnett, the introducer of the measure. The speaker said that to his knowledge Pure Beer bills always went to the Excise Committee, but it was optional with the Chair in deciding such references. The motion to change the reference was lost by a viva voce vote.

The bill is destined to meet with strong opposition from the brewers of the State. Already they are perfecting their plans to fight it. Their objection to it is that it will be injurious if not ruinous to their industry without effecting the result at which it aims.

The argument which the brewers will make against the bill is that with pure and expensive beer manufactured in the State a flood of impure and cheap beer would come from beyond the borders. Under the original package decision of the United States Supreme Court it will be impossible to prevent the introduction of beer manufactured outside the State. Consequently, it is urged, the only way in which pure beer can be guaranteed to the consumers of New York is through Federal legislation.

COLLATERAL INHERITANCE TAX.

Proposed Bill Provides for Appraisers in Several Counties in Place of Fees.

ALBANY, Jan. 16.—The rough draft of the bill for carrying out Gov. Odell's idea of collecting the collateral inheritance tax at a less cost than at present is completed, and the perfected bill will be ready for introduction, it is believed, to-morrow morning. It was delivered to Controller Knight to-day, and after typewriting will go to the Legislature.

It provides for special Appraisers in the following counties where it has been the custom to pay large fees: Monroe, Suffolk, Onondaga, Oneida, Rensselaer, Albany, Westchester, Orange, Dutchess, Queens, and Richmond, in addition to Erie, Kings, and New York, where there are now Appraisers. It gives the Controller of the State power to appoint Appraisers in these counties with salaries ranging from $1,500 in Suffolk, Monroe, Albany, and Westchester, to $1,000 in the others mentioned.

The most significant part of the bill is that which does away with County Treasurers' fees in all other counties, and this brings in New York City's Controller, who in 1899 got $15,975 and in 1900 over $19,000 for fees.

Under the bill the County Treasurers in counties not mentioned above will have to act as official Appraisers without compensation.

Senator Krum of Schoharie will introduce the bill in the Senate to-morrow.

POLICE BILL LAID OVER.

Measure Is Reported to the Senate and Recommitted.

ALBANY, Jan. 16.—By agreement with Minority Leader Frisbie in the Assembly to-day, the bill for a single-headed Police Department in New York was laid over until next week.

Chairman Stranahan of the Senate Cities Committee reported the New York Police bill this morning with a few minor changes. The most important is the amendment which provides that the Commissioner when removed by the Mayor or Governor shall be ineligible for reappointment thereto. The successor shall be appointed within ten days after the vacancy occurs. The bill was ordered reprinted and recommitted to the Cities Committee.

Assemblyman Allds, the Republican leader, said of the proposed amendments today:

"The bill, although very carefully drawn, was found to contain one serious fault. We are to amend it so that the head of the department once removed cannot be reappointed."

Extension of Corporation Tax Law.

ALBANY, Jan. 16.—The carrying out of Gov. Odell's suggestions for taxing trust companies, bank and insurance companies 1 per cent. on capital employed and surplus will not be done by a single bill. After conference it has been practically decided that there will be three distinct bills, so that if any question of legality arises from one division of the taxed corporations it will not affect the others. Already the banks are out against the proposed tax. They say that they pay now from 3 to 3½ per cent. on their capital for all kinds of taxes, while trust companies pay but one-tenth of 1 per cent., and insurance companies nothing.

TO REPORT BILLS FAVORABLY.

ALBANY, Jan. 16.—The Ways and Means Committee will report the following bills favorably to the Assembly to-morrow:

Mr. ALLDS—Authorizing the Regents to use not more than $3,000 of the appropriation of 1900 for the services of binders and other persons employed in binding books for the State Library.

Mr. KELSEY—Increasing the salary of the Deputy State Controller from $4,000 to $4,500.

Mr. H. WILSON—Authorizing the State Land Board to convey and cede jurisdiction of Governors Island, in the Harbor of New York, to the United States.

Mr. ALLDS—Appropriating $48,500 for the payment of the balance due newspapers for the publication of the general laws of the State for 1900, and appropriating $20,000 additional for deficiency in the appropriation for the publication of the session laws and the official canvass and official notices provided by law.

HEARINGS ON ASSEMBLY BILLS.

ALBANY, Jan. 16.—The Committee on Labor and Industries of the Assembly has fixed upon Tuesday next for a hearing on the Costello bill creating the office of Commissioner of Labor and abolishing the offices of Commissioner of Labor Statistics, Factory Inspector, and State Board of Mediation and Arbitration.

The Ways and Means Committee will give a hearing on Wednesday next on Assemblyman Fancher's Tuberculosis bill, which provides that the Commissioner of Agriculture instead of the State Board of Health shall have jurisdiction relative to diseases of domestic animals.

To Legalize Firemen's Appointments.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Jan. 16.—Senator Audett today introduced a bill legalizing and confirming all appointments of firemen made by the Fire Commissioner of the Borough of Brooklyn in January, 1896, "after a competitive examination, but in the absence of an eligible list prepared under the direction of the Civil Service Commission"; also legalizing the action of the Board of Fire Commissioners of Long Island City in appointing persons to positions in the Fire Department who had passed a competitive examination, but who failed to undergo the regulation physical examination. The bill provides that the Fire Commissioner of New York shall assign these men to duty and that their term of service shall be considered as dating from the day of their appointment.

To Equalize City Magistrates' Pay.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Jan. 16.—Assemblyman James E. Smith to-day introduced a bill to amend the charter of Greater New York relating to inferior courts of criminal jurisdiction so as to equalize the salaries of City Magistrates of the First Division of the City of New York. The bill provides that the present City Magistrates shall hold office until the expiration of their terms and shall be known as the City Magistrates of the First Division. Their successors when appointed are to be paid a salary of $7,000 each a year. The salary of the present Magistrates is $6,000.

To Report Common Law Marriage Bill.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 16.—Assemblyman Weekes's bill abolishing common law marriages will be reported favorably to-morrow as amended by the Codes Committee of the Assembly. The amendment is purely technical, and does not alter the provisions of the bill, which requires that there must be a written contract signed by both parties stating the place of residence of each of the parties, and the date and place of marriage, and acknowledged in the manner required for the acknowledgment of a conveyance of real estate.

To Amend the Military Code.

ALBANY, Jan. 16.—Bills amending the Military Code in accordance with the recommendation of the special board appointed to revise that statute were introduced in both houses to-day. The bills provide for a Hospital Corps, for National Guard headquarters, for regiments and battalions made up of separate companies, and for a signal corps with each naval battalion. The Governor is authorized to retire any National Guard officer after twenty-five years' service.

To Close Side Doors of Saloons.

ALBANY, Jan. 16.—Mr. Hatch of Steuben this morning introduced in the Assembly a bill prohibiting the use of the side door of saloons in cities having a population of more than 50,000. Mr. Hatch asserts that nine-tenths of the crime committed in New York has its origin in the back room of the saloon. The bill provides also that the bar and the drinking room shall be exposed to the public gaze at all times.

Eight-Hour Law for Railroads.

ALBANY, Jan. 16.—Senator Wagner has introduced a bill making a penalty for railroad violation of the eight-hour law. It fixes a fine of $500 or imprisonment for six months or both.

MISCELLANEOUS BILLS.

ALBANY, Jan. 16.—These bills were introduced in the Legislature to-day:

Mr. O'BRIEN—Appropriating $89,500 for construction and completion of the patients' dining room and the administration building and residence at Dannemora Prison, including a heating, heating, and plumbing system in each building.

Mr. BEDELL—Providing for the appointment of a State Examiner of Engineers, who has had five years' practical experience as a stationary engineer in charge of a steam boiler. He is to hold office for five years.

Mr. DEVAN—A concurrent resolution providing that members of Assembly shall be chosen for two years the same as Senators.

Mr. SANDERS—Amending the New York City Municipal Court procedure so that no order of arrest shall issue in an action brought for the detention or conversion of wearing apparel, books, sewing machines, furniture, and household property of the value of $25 or less, or where that amount remains unpaid on installments.

Mr. H. WILSON—Amending the Code of Civil Procedure relating to the mode of introducing testimony, applications for depositions, appointments of referees, and the effect of documentary evidence.

Mr. KNIPP—Providing that the Board of Managers of Elmira Reformatory must consent to all appointments made by the Superintendent of that institution.

Senator WAGNER—Providing that if the Commissioner of Public Buildings notifies the owners or operators of electrical conductors in New York City that they must put poles and wires under ground within a specified time and they shall refuse to comply with the work, that the Commissioner shall cause such poles and wires to be removed at owners' or operators' expense.

Senator DAVIS—Appropriating $20,000 for the construction of a steel bridge over the Erie Canal in Tonawanda.

Senator WILLARD—Providing compensation of Loan Commissioners appointed under the State finance law shall be $10 for superintending sales, $2 for preparing notices of sales, $2 for executing conveyances.

Senator STEWART—Amending the charter of Elmira so that when defalcation of a Chamberlain has been confessed or discovered and the amount has been determined by an accountant, a Chamberlain's bond may be satisfied and discharged upon the payment by the surety of the amount of the surety's liability thereunder.

Senator HILL—To facilitate State commerce by increasing the depth of water in Erie Basin at Buffalo and appropriating $75,000 therefor.

Senator ELSBERG—Amending Sections 21, 29, and 31 of the tax law to prevent discrimination in the assessment of real estate. The Assessors are to estimate the selling value of the property.

Senator MILLS—To prevent disturbances of religious camp meetings, the punishment provided being a fine of $10 and imprisonment for ten days.

Senator ELSBERG—Enlarging the public place known as Grand Circle, Eighth Avenue and Fifty-ninth Street, New York.

Senator BROWN—Amending the game law, providing that wild fowl shall not be taken from March 1 to Sept. 30 for the next three years.

Senator TRAINOR—Providing for the payment of the claim of M. A. Diamond, executrix of the John Diamond estate, for labor and material furnished to Grammar School No. 70, New York.

Senator HILL—Amending the executive law relating to public printing other than legislative so that its provisions shall not apply to militia brigades or regiments.

Senator SLATER—Making the term of the City Marshals of New York ten years.

Senator HENNESSY—amending the liquor tax law in relation to excise tax in territory adjoining the annexed territory of New York City, making it the same as in a city having a population of less than 15,000.

Assembly Passes Minor Bills.

ALBANY, Jan. 16.—The Assembly to-day passed the following bills:

Mr. ALLDS—Amending the charter of the village of Norwich.

Mr. BEDDELL—To improve and extend the water supply system of Goshen.

Mr. ROGERS—Enabling the City of Binghamton to issue bonds in order to take up the balance of deficiency growing out of the loss of moneys in the National Broome County Bank.

Gov. Odell's Confidential Clerk.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Jan. 16.—William Doyle of Newburg, who since the Fifty-fourth Congress has had a position in the House, has been summoned from Washington by Gov. Odell to become his confidential clerk. Mr. Doyle arrived here to-day and assumed his new duties.

CHARTER COMMISSION REPORT INDORSED

Representatives of Various Organizations Take Action.

TO APPOINT COMMITTEE OF 250

Edward M. Shepard Warmly Praises the Work of Revision—Some Opposition Manifested.

In compliance with a call issued by a committee of the Citizens' Union, the representatives of a number of organizations met last evening in the United Charities Building to discuss the report of the Charter Revision Commission to the Legislature. Those present were supposed to be in favor of adopting the new charter as a whole, but before the meeting adjourned it became apparent that many of the organizations represented would make a fight against certain proposed changes in the charter recommended by the commission appointed by Gov. Roosevelt.

It was decided after a long discussion of the Charter Revision Commission report to appoint a committee of 250 citizens who will undertake to urge upon the Legislature the adoption of all of the report of the Roosevelt Commission without a change.

Among the organizations invited to attend the meeting were the Central Labor Union, Independent Club, City Club, Merchants' Association, West End Association, Association for Improving the Condition of the Poor, City Improvement Society, Brooklyn Democratic Club, National Civic Society, City Vigilance League, Flushing Association, Brooklyn Vigilance League, Public Education Association, and the League for Political Education.

R. Fulton Cutting, Chairman of the Citizens' Union, explained the object of the meeting. George L. Rives, who was Chairman of the Charter Revision Commission, then took the platform to explain the proposed amendments to the charter.

Chairman Rives explained in detail the work of the commission. He said that when the commission held public hearings in the outlying boroughs the commission found all the people opposed to the Greater New York charter. While sitting in the Borough of Queens Chairman Rives told of the appearance of an Irishman before the commission who said that the ferryboats from Manhattan were loaded in the morning with office holders, who found their way to the Borough Hall in Queens and returned to Manhattan on the ferryboats the same evening. Mr. Rives said that the same condition of affairs was found in other boroughs.

Mr. Rives also told of the appearance of a Celtic wit at a hearing in Staten Island, who said that the government of Staten Island was very much the same as that of Ireland. It was the case of a large island, Manhattan, governing a smaller one, and the inhabitants of the more powerful island did not seem to care the welfare of the poor people of the smaller island.

Mr. Rives described in detail the principles of the new charter. He said that it was better to keep the term of the Mayor at four years because once in four years the people would become aroused to take part in a municipal election and that probably once in eight years a so-called "citizens' candidate" could be elected over the candidate of the politicians. Mr. Rives said that the politicians would like to hold an election for Mayor once a week because then the men who made a business of politics could continue in control of the City Government and no chance would be given to the taxpayers to take a hand.

The question of the abolishment of the legislative branch was, according to Mr. Rives, discussed by the Charter Revision Commission, but the members were not ready to favor such a radical change in the principles of municipal government of the city. Mr. Rives spoke about the government of the City of Washington by a commission of three men appointed by Congress as an example of one form of control of city affairs. The question of the powers of the Board of Aldermen under the new charter was fully discussed. Mr. Rives said that it was decided that the new Board of Aldermen should be given more power than to grant licenses for peanut and newspaper stands. The most important addition to the powers of the Board of Aldermen was that which allowed them to fix the salaries of all city officials, including those of Mayor, the Controller, and all other subordinates by co-operation with the Board of Estimate. The Board of Aldermen were only given power to reduce salaries and not to increase after action by the Board of Estimate.

Mr. Rives discussed the question of representation to the new Board of Aldermen, and argued that if it was to be composed of sixty members, the membership might just as well be increased to 120 to give a fairer basis of representation to the smaller sections of the city. Mr. Rives discussed many phases of the report of the commission and then made an appeal to have the report of the commission adopted without amendments.

Edward M. Shepard spoke of the masterly and statesmanlike report of the Charter Revision Commission, and then proceeded to dissect the document. He said that there were three reforms proposed which were of importance. The first was the proposed enlargement of the powers of the Mayor, giving him authority to remove the head of any city department during his term of office instead of during the first six months of his term, as at present.

The second was the greater power granted to the borough officers and the third proposed reform was the fixing of the salaries of city officials by action of the Board of Estimate and the Board of Aldermen. Mr. Shepard made an appeal for those interested in these great reforms to put aside their objections to minor parts of the new charter, stop criticising, and go to work to rouse public sentiment to force the Legislature to pass the new charter. He said the time was propitious politically for such a movement. He charged that the Legislature was responsible solely for the passage of the Ahearn and Davis school laws, by which so many millions had been added uselessly to the burdens of the taxpayers, and he said that it would be many years before a Legislature would be found who would run counter to the sentiment of the people of the city and pass measures which the large majority of the taxpayers opposed. Mr. Shepard spoke of the masterly document of Gov. Black when he refused to sign a bill increasing the salaries of teachers, and he cited how Gov. Roosevelt signed the Ahearn and Davis laws, increasing teachers' salaries, which cost the city so many millions of dollars.

Mr. Shepard urged that a committee composed of several hundred men be named, and no man should be kept off of that committee because of his supposed affiliation with the "Platt machine or the Croker machine or this and that boss," but that public interests should be made to outweigh all other considerations and appeals should be made to all citizens to adopt the report of the Charter Revision Commission entire.

John W. Weed of the Citizens' Union then moved the appointment of a committee of 250 to hold public meetings to induce the Legislature to accept the commission's report without change. Horace Deming moved an amendment that the Legislature should be appealed to to pass the Constitutional features of the report, especially those relating to the Dock Department bonds. The motion of Mr. Weed was adopted. A representative of the Republican Club said that his organization was considering whether it would be proper to oppose certain parts of the report of the Charter Revision Commission. Several other men present stated that their organizations were opposed to certain features, and would circulate petitions to members of the Legislature to accomplish the defeat of certain sections.

Chairman R. Fulton Cutting said he did not know when he would appoint the committee of 250 to urge the passage of the charter.

Charter Revision Report Received.

ALBANY, Jan. 16.—The New York City Charter Revision Commission report, signed by all the members, was received by Gov. Odell to-day. It will be sent to the Legislature without comment by the Governor, and will be referred to the two Cities Committees.

GOV. ODELL'S POSITION.

Believes Single-Headed Commissions Are Constitutional—No Wish to Usurp Legislative Functions.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Jan. 16.—Gov. Odell said to-day that he had not as yet received a protest from the United Charities, said to have been sent to Albany, against the abolishment of the Board of Charities and the appointment of a single-headed commission. The Governor intimated, however, that such protests had been anticipated. They will not cause him to recall his recommendation. Before making his recommendations for the substitution of single-headed commissions for boards which exist by Constitutional provision Gov. Odell inquired carefully into the legality of such legislation. He obtained opinions from some of the best Constitutional lawyers in New York on the subject. He was assured that the action which he proposed would in no sense be violative of the Constitution.

A fact which largely influenced Gov. Odell in making his recommendation for a single-headed commission to take the place of the State Board of Charities is that under the State law the Charities Aid Society has the right to go into any charitable institution in the State and investigate the conditions existing in such institution. It seemed to the Governor that this society could perform the office of the State Charities Board so far as exercising special supervision over the charitable institutions of the State was concerned. To give the right of supervision to the Charities Aid Society and delegate the same duty to the Board of Charities looked to the Governor like a duplication of effort.

This specific statement by Gov. Odell will be read with interest by those who are interested in proposed legislation:

"I do not intend to usurp in any way the legislative functions. I have made certain recommendations, and I hope the Legislature will carry them out. I am not at all insistent as to the form in which my recommendations are carried out. I leave that to the best judgment of the Legislature."

This would indicate that the Governor is not averse to amendments to his commission bills, and it is intimated that the low salaries fixed in the bills will be made larger.

THE PABST PORTICO BILL.

Mr. Grady Explains Why He Introduced It—Regan Asks the Court for an Injunction.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Jan. 16.—The Pabst Portico bill has been referred to the Senate Committee on Cities, but no date for a hearing upon it has been set. Senator Grady said to-night that a hearing upon it would undoubtedly be granted if desired. The bill has not been introduced in the Assembly, and Senator Grady states that probably it will not be.

The bill was the cause of an interesting incident in the Senate to-day. Previous to the opening of the Senate, Senator Elsberg made an explanation to THE TIMES correspondent of his connection with the bill.

"I did not bring the bill to Albany," said the Senator. "It was brought up here by James B. Regan, the proprietor of the Pabst Hotel. Mr. Regan's hotel is in my district, and he came to me with several letters of introduction. He was introduced to me by Senator Grady. He asked me if I would introduce the bill. Before deciding upon the matter I concluded to confer with some parties in New York. The nature of the replies which I received were such that I concluded not to introduce the bill. I don't know whether I will vote for it when it comes up. When I informed Mr. Regan that I would not introduce the bill he then asked Senator Grady to introduce it and Senator Grady agreed to do so."

When the Senate assembled this morning Senator Grady arose and announced that he desired to make a personal explanation. He said:

"The statement having been made that I was prevailed upon by my colleague, Senator Elsberg, to introduce for him a bill relating to the Pabst Hotel portico, I desire to say that I did not introduce the bill at the request of Senator Elsberg, but at the instance of the proprietor of the Pabst Hotel, who himself handed me the bill. I introduced it because I believed that the owner of this hotel is being singled out for persecution by THE NEW YORK TIMES.

"The portico in front of his place, to which objection is made, is not so offensive to the public, or to architectural discrimination, as several other like structures in New York about which no complaint is made. It is not half so objectionable as the porticos in front of the Metropolitan Opera House or the Madison Square Garden, structures of the existence of which THE TIMES seems to be unaware."

Senator Elsberg followed Senator Grady with a brief statement, in which he said that, instead of his influencing Senator Grady to do things, Senator Grady was much more likely to influence him. He acknowledged that the Pabst Hotel was in his district, but gave the Senate no explanation as to why he had refused to introduce the bill which his constituent prevailed upon Senator Grady to introduce.

When Senator Grady was seen after the adjournment of the Senate and asked if he had not presented Mr. Regan to Senator Elsberg for the purpose of having Senator Elsberg introduce Mr. Regan's bill, and that Senator Elsberg had suggested that Senator Grady introduce the bill himself, Senator Grady said that at the time he introduced Mr. Regan to Senator Elsberg he did not know Mr. Regan had a bill which he desired introduced.

Yesterday Emanuel Blumenstiel, of counsel for Regan, proprietor of the Pabst Hotel, applied to Justice Francis M. Scott, sitting in Part III. of the Supreme Court, for an order on Commissioner Keating to show cause why he should not be enjoined from interfering with the portico and inclosed balcony of the Pabst Hotel. The order was granted and is returnable next Wednesday in Part I. of the Supreme Court. Terence Farley, Assistant Corporation Counsel, will appear for the Law Department and Mr. Keating.

Corporation Counsel John Whalen declined yesterday to further discuss the bill legalizing the portico of the Pabst Hotel.

"As head of the Law Department," he said, "the bill would come to me, and if it is a bad one I shall certainly oppose it."

Mr. Whalen would not be more explicit in his statement. He has on several occasions spoken of the portico as existing without a pretense of legalization, and recently furnished Commissioner Keating with an opinion to this effect.

MR. WU VISITS ALBANY.

He Makes Addresses in Both Houses of the Legislature.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Jan. 16.—Wu Ting Fang, the Chinese Minister, addressed both the Senate and the Assembly of New York to-day, and later was accorded an audience with Gov. Odell. The addresses of the Chinese diplomat created the impression that at some time in his career he has made a visit to the blarney stone. In the Assembly Mr. Wu said that it gave him great pleasure to see the representatives of a great State assembled and conducting the business of the State. The United States was a young Nation and China was an old nation, but it sometimes happened that the old nations could learn much from the new. The custom of having representatives of the people legislate was one of the things that China might learn from the United States. It would probably be a long time, he said, before China would be ready to give the people a voice in the affairs of the nation, but he hoped that some day it would come.

In the Senate Mr. Wu paid a compliment to Lieut. Gov. Woodruff which made the Lieutenant Governor blush. He said the applause with which the Lieutenant Governor was received showed the esteem in which he was held, and indicated that it would not be long before he would be called to a higher office in the State.

The manner of legislating for New York State was similar, Mr. Wu said he had observed, to the manner of legislating in Washington. But as New York had existed before Washington it was evident that Washington had copied after New York, and not New York after Washington.

Legislature's Proceedings.

ALBANY, Jan. 16.—Lieut. Gov. Woodruff presided at to-day's session of the Senate, having recovered from the grip. Senator Higgins of the Finance Committee reported favorably on a number of nominations made by Govs. Roosevelt and Odell. The only objection was made by Senator Grady to the confirmation of Gov. Odell's appointment of Bernard Stark of Albany, as a member of the Board of Mediation and Arbitration. Senator Higgins withdrew Mr. Stark's name. In the Assembly Mr. Harburger of New York introduced a privileged resolution which went over until Monday night, denouncing Gov. Odell's recommendations relative to the excise law as unwise, prejudicial, and subversive of good government.

Secretary Root Has the Grip.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—Secretary Root was not feeling well to-day and was compelled to abandon his official duties early in the afternoon and go to his home for rest and medical treatment. He has an incipient attack of the grip.

HANDLE CADETS SEVERELY

Mr. Driggs Indulges in a String of Seventeen Adjectives.

Says What He Thinks of the Hazing of Young MacArthur, Whose Condition Was Not Reported.

WEST POINT, N. Y., Jan. 16.—The three cadets who testified to-day before the Congressional committee which is investigating hazing at the academy were severely handled by members of the committee. Cadet Dockery, who was one of the witnesses, acknowledged in his testimony that he had exercised a number of cadets, including MacArthur. Mr. Driggs asked:

You are satisfied you hazed Mr. MacArthur, and that he was sick, in fact had convulsions after it?

Yes Sir.

Did you think it was cruel?

Yes, Sir.

Well, young man, for your information I will tell you that I think it was atrocious, base, detestable, disgraceful, dishonorable, disreputable, heinous, ignominious, ill-famed, nefarious, odious, outrageous, scandalous, shameful, shameless, villainous, and wicked.

The torrent of adjectives almost took away Dockery's breath. Mr. Driggs, after taking a long breath, watched the witness to see what effect his invective had on the young cadet and then said:

That is all I care to say.

Judge Smith got Dockery to admit that when he found that MacArthur was ill he felt anxious on account of his responsibility for the young fellow's condition. Gen. Dick asked:

Instead of exercising this young man to such a degree, why did you not give him a chance to fight?

He could have fought instead if he had chosen to do so.

Was he so notified?

Every fourth-class man knows that, Sir.

Can you think of anything more cruel than to exercise a man into convulsions?

No, Sir.

Was there anything soldierly about it?

No, Sir.

No person was punished for it by the authorities of the academy?

No, Sir.

And if any one had been punished you would have been punished also?

Yes, Sir.

Gen. Dick then made the witness admit that he was worried and went to MacArthur's tent. It was dark, and he could just see MacArthur lying still on his bed, and that, fearing detection, MacArthur was allowed to lie there without medical aid.

Then you and the others who took part in the hazing of MacArthur were afraid to report his serious condition, fearing that by doing so the facts would become known to the authorities and you would be dismissed from the Military Academy?

Yes, Sir.

What became of Haskell, who was hazed at the same time as MacArthur?

I heard that he was sick, too, Sir, but I did not go to see him.

You were not anxious about his condition?

Yes, Sir.

But your anxiety was not sufficiently great to make you call for aid?

I suppose so, Sir.

Gen. Dick switched to the methods of calling out fourth-class men and pitting them against well trained upper-class men. He warned the witness against practices, and scored him heavily for taking part in unmanly methods of practically forcing a new-comer to sure defeat and a sound drubbing at the hands of a picked representative of an upper class.

Cadet Pegram of Virginia fared quite as badly as Dockery. Pegram said that Cadet Barry, who hazed MacArthur, was not aware that he had been exercised before.

Then Mr. Barry should have been excused for a little mistake like that?

No, I think that Barry was rather careless in not ascertaining in advance whether MacArthur had been hazed previously.

Indeed. Were certificates issued as to what the fourth class had gone through, or how much they could stand, so that upper classmen could see at a glance what form of exercise they should administer?

No, Sir.

Mr. Driggs then shot a volley of adjectives at the witness, and asked him if he did not think that all of them or any of them would be applicable in describing the inhumanity shown by the cadets who hazed MacArthur and Kensel. Pegram said he did not, and then Mr. Driggs threw up his hands, saying: "That's all; I don't wish to say any more."

Judge Smith took Pegram in hand, and asked him what right had he or any other cadet to asperse the truthfulness of a man who said he was faint or who had fainted. He said:

You upper classmen arrogate to yourselves the right to judge whether fourth classmen are truthful. You think that your standard of truthfulness is so excellent that you can tell with almost supernatural certainty whether a man is lying or not.

I don't say so, Sir.

Well, you certainly act as if you were possessed of some infinite power in that respect. You should belong to the Electrical Corps. You would indeed be an invaluable addition to it. When you are, as you say, able to tell the following morning whether a man had fainted the night before.

At the conclusion of his testimony Pegram said he did not think that the fighting should be done away with at the academy, but Gen. Dick made it quite clear that he did not agree with the young cadet.

Cadet Mahaffey of Texas came off a little better than the other two cadets, but he was subjected to a good deal of sharp questioning, and was glad when he was excused from further examination.

SENATORS DENOUNCE HAZING.

Mr. Allen Declares He Would Either Stop It or Dismantle the West Point Academy.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—In the course of the debate in the Senate to-day on the Army Reorganization bill a number of the Senators vigorously denounced the practice of hazing at West Point. The matter was brought up by Mr. Allen, (Pop., Neb.,) who declared that brutality had been developed at West Point which would not be expected to exist among barbarians.

"This thing called hazing—prizefighting!" exclaimed Mr. Allen. "Why, the prizefighter is a gentleman compared with some of those young ruffians at West Point. Indeed, life has been lost recently."

After a brief review of the Booz case Mr. Allen declared that the first thing a fourth class man met at West Point was brutal assault and humiliating indignity.

"And these things," shouted Mr. Allen, "take place within the knowledge of the officers of the institution. These new cadets are compelled to eat soap, they are compelled to get down on their knees and jump like a frog, and they are compelled to endure other indignities which I would not dare in this presence to mention.

"Some of the regular army officers say hazing cannot be helped—that it cannot be prevented. You place one of the old volunteer officers at the head of that institution, and in six weeks he will put a stop to it or there will be some dead cadets there. This brutal outrage ought to be suppressed, and it can be suppressed. Boy or man, he who will use his superior strength in humiliating or brutally treating a weaker person is a coward. And yet this bill encourages and supports West Point as at present it is conducted.

"With authority I would stop that brutality at West Point or I would dismantle the school and turn over to the various States the education of the youth of the country for military pursuits.

"I have information which leads me to believe that hazing at West Point is resorted to for the purpose of forcing out of the institution cadets appointed from civil life in order to make room for the sons of army officers. And if they cannot force out the cadet by humiliation and intimidation they prescribe a course of examination, which is in their own hands and which they could not pass themselves, and thus force the proscribed cadet from the school."

Mr. Gallinger (Rep., N. H.,) interrupted to say that the testimony taken by the investigating committee showed that young Grant and young Sheridan had been hazed quite as seriously as any others.

Mr. Money (Dem., Miss.,) declared that the hazing was never warranted, and that he knew of some cadets who had been hazed to the point of danger. "They were hazed to a degree," said Mr. Money, with deep feeling, "that would have warranted the haze in killing the hazers."

"They ought to have been killed," interjected Mr. Allen.

"And I want to say," continued Mr. Money, "that if I were a cadet at West Point and was hazed in so cowardly and brutal a manner I would kill the hazers, if the opportunity did not come for a hundred years afterward."

Continuing his discussion of the action of the cadets at West Point Mr. Allen said:

"Those cadets carry hazing almost to the extent of taking life. In one instance recently they have taken life, and the Senator from Mississippi [Mr. Money] says they have taken life in several instances."

Mr. McCumber (Rep., N. D.,) also vigorously handled the practice of hazing. "That practice," said he, "creates the worst character of brutality and the worst character of cowardice. Any bully who is guilty of attempting to punish one who is physically unable to meet him is such a coward that he should be discharged from the service."

JOSIAH QUINCY SUED.

Writ of Attachment Issued in This City Against Boston's ex-Mayor.

Deputy Sheriff Radley yesterday received an attachment for $5,000 against Josiah Quincy of Boston in favor of William Tolmann, which was obtained by Howard R. Bayne, attorney for Mr. Tolmann, on the ground that Mr. Quincy, as a non-resident, was formerly Mayor of Boston.

The claim is on a note made in Boston on Oct. 15, payable three months after date to the order of H. W. Bates, who indorsed it and delivered the note to Mr. Tolmann. The note was payable in this city, and was presented for payment at the Seventh National Bank, but was not paid. The Sheriff served the attachment on the Seventh National Bank, but it was said that Mr. Quincy had no money there.

Special to The New York Times.

BOSTON, Jan. 16.—The report of an attachment against Josiah Quincy causes some surprise here. Although the ex-Mayor has always been considered a poor man, comparatively speaking, it was not supposed that he was in financial straits. He and H. W. Bates of Boston are the owners of the concern known as The Financial News, which publishes hourly stock reports and operates a ticker service. It is said that they have been negotiating for a sale of the property. Mr. Quincy is said to be in New York to-night.

Mr. Bates declines to say anything, except that he indorsed the note as he has indorsed other notes for Mr. Quincy, and previous notes have always been paid. Mr. Quincy is a Director in the Seventh National Bank. Mr. Tolman and he have had some sort of disagreement.

MORE CHANGES BY MR. PHILBIN.

District Attorney Philbin yesterday requested the resignation of Deputy Assistant District Attorney Michael J. Sullivan. Mr. Sullivan was appointed by Col. Gardiner Oct. 1, 1898, at a salary of $3,000.

The District Attorney announced that Deputy Assistants James Lindsay Gordon and James Dickson Carr, the latter the colored deputy, would be retained on the professional staff at salaries of $4,500 and $2,000, respectively.

Died 25 Years Ahead of Her Prediction.

Margaret Brown was one of the best known fortune tellers and clairvoyants on the west side and had a large clientage among the poorer classes. She had lived to be seventy-five years old and she stated confidently that she would live to be just a century old. She fell short in her prognostications just twenty-five years, for she was found dead in her bed yesterday morning in her apartments at 348 West Thirty-eighth Street. She had been ailing for several days and on Monday the neighbors offered to send for a doctor. She replied that she could cure herself. The neighbors broke open her door yesterday and found her. Old age and exhaustion caused her death.

Genealogical Society's Officers.

At a meeting of the Board of Trustees of the New York Genealogical and Biographical Society held in the society's house, 226 West Fifty-eighth Street, on Tuesday, the following officers were elected: President, Samuel P. Avery; First Vice President, Thomas G. Evans; Second Vice President, James J. Goodwin; Secretary and Librarian, H. Calkins, Jr.; Treasurer, Henry F. Gibson; Historian, John V. L. Fruyn; Necrologist, Ellsworth Eliot, M. D.; Registrar of Pedigrees, M. E. Dwight.

To Raise Tracks in Newark.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 16.—Pennsylvania Railroad officials in this city to-day signed the ordinance recently passed by the Newark (N. J.) City Council for the elevation of the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks in that city, and the ordinance is now in the hands of the officials of the Central Railroad of New Jersey for their signatures. As soon as the ordinance is signed by the two railroad companies and the city officials of Newark work will be actively begun on the elimination of the grade crossings.

ALL CARS TRANSFER TO

Bloomingdales

3RD AVE. 59TH & 60TH STS.

Dress Linings---Annual Sale.

Many chances here, in this sale, for savings.

The most desirable Dress Linings at prices materially less than the cost of production.

17c. Lining at 9 1-2c. Yd.—Our very popular Fairy Moire Lining, of which we have sold many thousands of yards, has given perfect satisfaction. It is fully 36 inches wide, and has a very beautiful silk finish. We control all the manufacturers produce. Similar goods are being sold elsewhere at 17c. per yard.

21c. Prize Percaline 11 3-4c. Yd.—An extremely fine quality Percaline Lining, made of fine combed yarn, has a beautiful finish; is fast black. Similar goods are being sold from 21

AMERICA'S RIGHT TO ACQUIRE TERRITORY

And Its Power to Govern It After Acquisition.

REPLY TO BENJAMIN HARRISON

Made by Charles A. Gardiner of the New York Bar.

He Says Mr. Harrison Was the Originator of Present Insular Policy—Maintains Porto Ricans and Filipinos Are Not Federal Citizens.

ALBANY, Jan. 16.—Charles A. Gardiner of New York to-day replied to ex-President Harrison, whose recent address at Ann Arbor was devoted to his views on the status of the insular possessions of the United States. The reply was made before the State Bar Association in a paper on "The Constitution and Our New Possessions," as follows:

Our right to acquire and govern foreign territory was advocated before this association two years ago. The problem then so momentous has passed from the stage of controversy into final judgment. The right to acquire and govern is now conceded; for two years Congress and the President have exercised it; and in the last election, the action of the people's representatives was sustained by the overwhelming vote of the people themselves.

The problems now before the Nation arise from the government of our new possessions. In his recent Ann Arbor address Gen. Harrison discussed them with such profound learning and fervor of conviction that his opinions demand the serious consideration of every American. He bases his entire argument on the self-expansion of the Constitution. Annexation ipso facto, he says, extends the document over annexed territory. It becomes operative therein proprio vigore, and confers on the inhabitants our bill of rights, and the civil and political franchises of American citizens. Congress, therefore, cannot govern the islands with plenary power, but is subject to all Constitutional limitations.

THE PROPRIO VIGORE DOCTRINE.

I. What is the history of this doctrine? Prior to the adoption of the Thirteenth Amendment, the Constitution authorized slavery; in States only, said the North; in States and Territories also, said the South. The issue was political, and after long debate Congress enacted first the Missouri Compromise act and then other statutes excluding slavery from the Territories. But with each annexation of new territory the struggles in Congress broke out afresh, and in the crisis of 1847, during the debates on the Wilmot Proviso and Oregon bill, "Calhoun came out with his new and supreme dogma of the transmigratory function of the Constitution and the instantaneous transportation of itself in its slavery attributes into all acquired territories" (2 Benton, 713.) Finally, in 1849, in the last hours of the Thirtieth Congress, Calhoun caused a rider to be introduced to the General Appropriation bill, which again precipitated the entire pro-slavery agitation in its most violent form. In the discussion that followed Webster maintained that the Constitution did not "extend to the Territories." Calhoun replied: "I am very happy, Sir, to hear this proposition thus asserted, for it will have the effect of narrowing very greatly the controversy between the North and South as regards the slavery question in connection with the Territories. The simple question is, Does the Constitution extend to the Territories or does it not? It is the supreme law not within the limits of the States of this Union merely, but wherever our flag waves. * * * Is not Congress the creature of the Constitution? And shall we, the creature of the Constitution, pretend that we have any authority beyond the reach of the Constitution?" And this, as Benton says, "was the last slavery creed of the Calhoun school and the one on which his disciples stand," (2 Benton, 733.)

CALHOUN'S SLAVERY CREED.

Calhoun constructed his creed with his most inexorable logic: The Constitution authorized slavery; annexation ipso facto extended the Constitution; the Constitution proprio vigore operated wherever extended and overruled all laws inconsistent therewith. Hence the Missouri Compromise and all other Federal, and all territorial, statutes prohibiting slavery in the Territories, he argued, were unconstitutional and void; hence, also, any future similar legislation would be unconstitutional and void; and hence, finally, slavery would follow the Constitution, and the Constitution would follow the flag wherever American sovereignty extended.

THE LINCOLN CONVENTION.

Calhoun died, but his dogma survived, and finally became the great issue in the momentous election of 1860. The Breckinridge convention was for it; the Lincoln convention was against it; and so far as the Douglas and Bell conventions expressed any opinion they opposed it. Section 7 of the Lincoln platform reads: "The new dogma, that the Constitution of its own force carries slavery into any or all of the Territories of the United States, is a dangerous political heresy, at variance with the explicit provisions of that instrument itself, * * * is revolutionary in its tendency and subversive of the peace and harmony of the country." The issue thus joined was submitted to the people, and Lincoln was elected, Breckinridge receiving only 845,763 votes out of 4,677,353. This was a decision upon the political aspects of the question by the highest authority, the sovereign people. From this election the South appealed to the arbitrament of arms, and was again defeated.

If any political question, any rule of interpretation, any view of the Constitution, can be settled by the people who made it, then this doctrine originated by Calhoun, and now resurrected and advocated by Gen Harrison, may be claimed to be forever settled and laid at rest.

OUR PRACTICE FOR 114 YEARS.

II. Originally the Constitution was operative in the thirteen States which ratified the document (Art. VII., Sec. 1.) Those States were a mere fringe along the Atlantic; but we have since expanded and annexed over 3,250,000 square miles of new territory. What rule of practice has Congress observed in extending the Constitution over this vast domain? The Ordinance of 1787 was enacted by the Confederation before the Federal Constitution was adopted. Every Territory organized out of the northwestern lands had a vested right to it, guaranteed by Art. VI. of the Constitution. (14 Pet. 417.) It was to be expected, therefore, that Congress would extend the Ordinance as each new Territory was successively organized out of the vast northwestern grant.

What more logical procedure, too, than that Congress should harmonize its entire practice and extend the same Ordinance not only to the Northwestern Territories, but to all new Territories? This, in fact, it did, and by successive acts extended the Ordinance of 1787 to every Territory organized prior to 1850 except Louisiana, Florida, Missouri, and Arkansas. During sixty-three years Congress thus continued to make laws for the successive Territories, irrespective of the Constitution, and often even in conflict therewith. Many provisions were common to both documents; many in the Ordinance were not in the Constitution; but no less than sixteen of the civil rights of the Constitution were not in the Ordinance at all, including some of the most essential guarantees of personal liberty. Even the treason clauses, to which Gen. Harrison refers, were never specifically extended to a single Territory prior to 1850.

In Orleans Territory, which existed from 1804 to 1812, there was an established Church, a clergy paid out of the public treasury, a son could not sue without consent of his father, certain criminals were not only denied jury trial but could be executed by the head of the family without trial, a separate port law existed for New Orleans, and lower duties were charged at that port on French and Spanish imports by 25 per cent. than elsewhere in the United States. Of this Government, Rodney of Delaware said: "It shows that Congress have a power in the Territories which they cannot exercise in the States, and that the limitations of power found in the Constitution are applicable to the States, not to the Territories." Yet its validity has been sustained repeatedly by the Supreme Court.

EXTENSION AFTER 1850.

In 1850 Congress organized the Territory of New Mexico and enacted that the Federal Constitution should extend thereto so far as applicable. Since 1850, as each new Territory was organized, Congress inserted in the organization act a substantially similar provision.

Such has been our practice for 114 years. From 1787 to the present day, every President, every Congress, all parties—Republicans and Democrats, Federalists and Whigs—believed, and acted on the belief, that the Ordinance of 1787, and not the Federal Constitution, was the fundamental law of the Territories, with few exceptions, prior to 1850, and that since 1850 the Constitution has been made operative merely as statutory law over new Territories, when and to such extent as Congress determined by special enactment. Never in our history has any one in authority assumed that annexation ipso facto extended the Constitution, nor that it existed in the Territories proprio vigore.

PROPRIO VIGORE ANALYZED.

III. But how can the Constitution extend anywhere proprio vigore? What does proprio vigore here mean? Absolutely nothing. A Constitution is only an organic law; it has no inherent vitality, no life, no innate power of migration or expansion. It is not a soul, that Gen. Harrison or Virgil or some other Pythagorean might claim transmigrates proprio vigore, from one political body to another, animating each with its own vitality. It is a creature, not a creator. It does not act, it regulates action. It cannot create rights, or extend itself, or do anything but regulate. It is itself inert; the life is in the people who institute it.

The separate clauses of the Constitution are equally incapable of automatic action. They may all be extended by external force, but none by innate power; and, as we have seen, in every instance the extending power is an act of Congress, the agent of the living people. There is no provision in the Constitution for self-extension of any part of it. Corporate mortgages often provide for extension proprio vigore over after-acquired property. But the Constitution has no such provision. Laws are necessary in the United States and in all the States, not only to put it into operation, but to keep it going. Let us examine these clauses in detail.

BILL OF RIGHTS INOPERATIVE.

(1.) Guarantees of civil rights are inoperative. The only absolutely essential portions of the Constitution are those organizing the Government and distributing the sovereign powers. But they all relate to the Nation and the States, and cannot be made operative in Territories by annexation, act of Congress, or otherwise. (9 How. 244; 141 U. S. 180.)

The Constitution also contains a Bill of Rights, and Gen. Harrison's principal argument is that this Bill of Rights at least, or the civil rights guaranteed by the Constitution, extend proprio vigore to annexed territory.

A distinction must be made between natural and civil rights. Natural rights are given by the Creator to all people; they are the inalienable rights of the Declaration of Independence. Civil rights are guarantees by which natural rights are protected; they are statutory and Constitutional and belong solely to the nation or race that institutes them. The Federal Constitution deals solely with civil rights; and our courts have held that when any people has acquired by birthright or political action, the civil rights of our Constitution, Congress will not interfere therewith. In a late case the Court said: "The Bill of Rights was not intended to lay down any novel principles of government, but simply to embody certain guarantees and immunities which we had inherited from our English ancestors." (165 U. S. 281.) "The right of the people to assemble," said Chief Justice Waite in the Cruikshank case, "was not created by the amendment, neither was its continuance guaranteed, except as against Congressional interference. * * * The right to bear arms is not a right granted by the Constitution, neither is it in any manner dependent upon that instrument for its existence." (92 U. S. 553.)

This is true of freedom of speech, the right of petition, due process of law, or any other of our civil rights which belong to a people subject to the government of Congress. Congress can pass no law interfering with their enjoyment. But inability to act is not extension of power. Can a mere restriction upon the power of Congress to pass certain laws as rules and regulations for the government of new territory be held to extend, not the restrictions, but the affirmative rights themselves? In no sense of the word. I repeat can this negative operation of the prohibitions in the Bill of Rights be said to extend the Constitution over Porto Rico or the Philippines.

BILL OF RIGHTS FOR CITIZENS ONLY.

The Bill of Rights, moreover, applies only to Federal citizens. It is a social compact between the United States and its citizens, (94 U. S. 124.) Referring to it, Mr. Justice Field said: "The rights thus recognized and declared are rights of citizens of the United States, under their Constitution, which could not be violated by Federal authority." (144 U. S. 362.) And it was long since decided that the Bill of Rights operates only to protect Federal citizens as distinguished from citizens of the States. (7 Pet. 247; 123 U. S. 166; 175 U. S. 172.)

NATIVES NOT CITIZENS.

But Porto Ricans and Filipinos are not Federal citizens. There is no citizenship of a Territory, and the only citizenship Congress can confer is National. (92 U. S. 542.) Its sources are two, said the Supreme Court, "and two only—birth and naturalization." (112 U. S. 101; 169 U. S. 702.) Persons may be naturalized either individually under the naturalization acts, or "collectively," as the Court explained, "by the force of a treaty by which foreign territory is acquired." (112 U. S. 102.) Porto Ricans and Filipinos have not been naturalized in either manner.

The only other source of American citizenship is birth, and that must be where the Constitution is operative. No Constitution, no Fourteenth Amendment; hence no citizenship by birth. (169 U. S. 655.) Until Porto Rico and the Philippines become States, or until Congress naturalizes their inhabitants, they will not be Federal citizens, and hence will not be entitled to the civil rights of the Constitution.

OUR BIRTHRIGHT.

Again, two things must unite to entitle a people to the protection of our Constitutional guarantees—they must own the rights of their own title, and the rights must be the identical ones specified in our Constitution. But the civil rights of our Constitution belong by inheritance to the Anglo-Saxon race alone. Other races may have civil rights, but not those we possess. They are our birthright; they were the rights of our ancestors during the Saxon era of English history; they were lost in the Norman Conquest; they were only partly regained by the Magna Charta and Acts of Confirmation; they were brought by the American colonists to this continent; they were claimed by the Continental Congress as the "rights of Englishmen" in the petition of 1774 to George III.; they were secured to our patriot fathers by the Revolution and the Constitution; and as our fathers and their descendants migrated from the older States they carried them westward, all over the country "as their birthright," said the Supreme Court, as a part of the common law of the land, said Mr. Justice Gray. (152 U. S. 52.) but always as the same historic rights inherited from our Saxon ancestors (136 U. S. 448.) Porto Ricans and Filipinos did not possess these rights before annexation; they do not now. They have their own, which they cherish and doubtless prefer. Unless Congress expressly enacts the Bill of Rights as a law, it will not exist in our new possessions, nor will the inhabitants be entitled to any of its guarantees.

NO UNIFORM TARIFF.

(2.) The Uniformity Clauses are inoperative. Article I., Section 8, requires that all tariff, bankruptcy, and naturalization laws shall be "uniform throughout the United States." If Porto Rico and the Philippines are integral parts of the United States, the uniformity clauses must apply; if they are not, but are only "outlying dominions," (101 U. S. 133) or "dependencies," (3 Wash. C. C. R. 286,) then the uniformity clauses do not apply. Geographical inclusion or exclusion is the test, not Constitutional extension; and the question is unqualifiedly political, belonging to Congress and the President, and not to the courts. Political questions differ from judicial in that none but the sovereign can determine them. A sovereign decides by his own will, sic volo, sic jubeo. A court decides according to the law prescribed by the sovereign.

The maintenance and extension of our National dominion "is a political, not a judicial, problem. The reasons are thus stated: "The President and Congress are vested with all the responsibility and powers of the Government for the determination of questions as to the maintenance and extension of our National dominion. It is not the province of the courts to participate in the discussion or decision of these questions, for they are of a political nature, and not judicial. Congress and the President having assumed jurisdiction and sovereignty, and having made the declarations and assertions as to the extent of our National authority and dominion, * * * all the people and courts of the country are bound by such governmental acts," (50 Fed. Rep. 110.) A question like this, as Chief Justice Marshall said, is "more a political than a legal question; and in its discussion the courts of every country must respect the pronounced will of the Legislature," (2 Pet. 308.)

The wisdom, also, of the action of the political departments, in manner and degree of annexing new territory, is not open to question. As the court said in the Williams case, (13 Pet. 420,) it is not material to inquire, nor is it the province of the court to determine, whether the political departments are right or wrong. It is enough to know that they have decided the question. Having done this, their decision is conclusive, upon "the Judges, as well as all other officers, citizens, and subjects of the Government," (137 U. S. 212.)

ANNEXATION ISSUES.

Hence all questions incident to the acquisition and government of Porto Rico and the Philippines, whether we should annex them permanently or sub modo; whether they should be part of our "outlying dominion," or integral portions of the United States; whether they should have local Governments or be ruled from Washington; whether the inhabitants should be citizens or subjects; whether the Dingley act should apply or there should be separate tariffs; these and all similar problems of government are political, belonging exclusively to the legislative and Executive departments, and "not within the province of the judiciary to contravene or question," (9 How. 154.)

McENERY RESOLUTION.

What have Congress and the President done to define the geographical and legal status of the islands? On the same day on which the Senate ratified the treaty, it resolved: "By the ratification of the treaty of peace with Spain, it is not intended to incorporate the inhabitants of the Philippine Islands into citizenship of the United States; nor is it intended to permanently annex said islands as an integral part of the territory of the United States," (McEnery Resolution.) In the provisional act for Porto Rico, Congress defined the political status of the inhabitants as "citizens of Porto Rico entitled to the protection of the United States," and imposed tariff and tax laws differing from those imposed upon its own territory, and levied duties on commerce between the two countries.

It thus appears by affirmative action of Congress that the islands are not "permanently annexed," but only sub modo; that they are not "an integral part" of the United States, and that their inhabitants are not citizens.

No clearer definition and interpretation of the geographical status of the islands and the political status of their inhabitants could be given; and this Congressional action constitues the law of the case, binding on the President, the Secretary of War and all other executive officers, and conclusive upon "the Judges, as well as all other officers, citizens, and subjects of the Government," (137 U. S., 212.) The same reasoning applies to naturalization and bankruptcy. Hence none of these clauses operates proprio vigore in Porto Rico or the Philippines.

TREASON ARGUMENTS FALLACIOUS.

(3.) Miscellaneous Clauses.—Gen. Harrison's argument on treason is utterly fallacious. Treason is a crime of citizens, he argues; Porto Ricans and Filipinos, unless the Constitution operates, are not citizens; citizens alone can be protected by the Constitutional inhibitions relating to treason; hence Congress, being unrestricted, can enact all the bloody laws of the Middle Ages, and no Porto Rican or Filipino can "know how to behave himself; to do, speak or say, for doubt of the pains of treason," (N. A. Rev. p. 14.)

This error is patent. Treason is not a crime against citizenship, but against allegiance. Any person who violates his allegiance to the United States commits treason whether he be a citizen or not. Porto Ricans and Filipinos are not citizens, but subjects. In 1817 Mr. Justice Story thus defined a subject: "A person domiciled in a country, and enjoying the protection of its sovereign, is deemed a subject of that country," (2 Wheat., 227). Again, in 1874, the Supreme Court said: "Each member of the nation * * * owes it allegiance. * * * Allegiance and protection are reciprocal obligations. The one is a compensation for the other; allegiance for protection and protection for allegiance," (21 Wall., 162). Hence, every person entitled to protection is the Nation's subject; and hence, also, every person, in States or Territories, who violates that allegiance commits treason against the United States.

How absurd, however, to claim that annexation extends the treason clauses. From the adoption of the Constitution they have extended over the whole world wherever the relation of American sovereign and American subject existed—in States, Territories, American Consulates, and even on the high seas aboard our men-of-war; it is impossible to extend them further. In their essential nature they do not apply to territory as uniformity clauses do, and have nothing to do with territorial expansion per se. They are made for persons without regard to residence. They govern the relations of the United States with their subjects, wherever they exist, conditioned on allegiance alone, and this renders their territorial expansion unnecessary and impossible.

AMBASSADORS AND TITLES.

Finally, there are a number of powers which the sovereign people denied to the Federal Government. Some of these, like the prohibition against conferring titles of nobility, are mere restrictions on the power to act anywhere. It is equally absurd to speak of these clauses as extending to our new Territories by annexation. Article I., Section 9, provides: "No title of nobility shall be granted by the United States." That is, it cannot be granted to a Porto Rican or a Filipino, nor yet to an Englishman or German; but that does not mean that the Constitution extends over Porto Rico or the Philippines any more than over England or Germany. Under Article I., Section 6, Congressmen cannot be appointed Ambassadors to a foreign Court—France or Russia for instance; but that does not mean that such prohibition thereby extends the Constitution over France and Russia.

POWER OF CONGRESS UNLIMITED.

IV. Gen. Harrison argues that the Constitution extends to new territory only "so far as applicable." But what is applicable? The Constitution is silent. Who shall determine? This admission begs the whole question. Gen. Harrison argues himself completely out of court. If the Constitution extends only "so far as applicable," then Congress may and must, as the sole depositary of the political discretion of the Nation, determine whether the annexation shall be temporary or permanent, whether the territory shall be an integral part of the United States or an outlying dependency, whether the inhabitants shall be citizens or subjects, and all the other questions involved in deciding what provisions are applicable and what are not, to the new possessions. This is equivalent to saying that no part of the Constitution extends proprio vigore, but only as decided in the absolute discretion and plenary power of Congress, and this is the true theory of the law, supported by every decision the Supreme Court has made on the subject. Sixty years ago it laid down this broad rule: "The term 'territory,' as here used, (Article IV., Section 3,) is merely descriptive of one kind of property and is equivalent to the word 'lands.' Congress has the same power over it as any other property belonging to the United States, and this power is vested in Congress without limitation and has been considered the foundation upon which the Territorial Governments rest." (14 Pet., 537.)

Ten years later the Court announced the comprehensive principle that Territories "are not organized under the Constitution nor subject to its complex distribution of the powers of government as the organic law; but are the creations exclusively of the legislative department and subject to its supervision and control." (9 How., 242.) Chief Justice Waite, sustaining this power, said: "All Territories within the jurisdiction of the United States not included in any State must necessarily be governed by or under the authority of Congress. The Territories are but political subdivisions of the outlying dominions of the United States. * * * It has full and complete legislative authority over the people of the Territories, and all the departments of the Territorial Governments." (101 U. S. 133.) And summarizing the whole matter, the Court announced this opinion through Mr. Justice Brewer: "A Territory is a political community, organized by Congress, all whose powers are created by Congress, and all whose acts are subject to Congressional supervision." (139 U. S. 446.) The power of Congress is, therefore, plenary and absolute and can be exercised without Constitutional restrictions in our new possessions.

HARRISON OFFERS NO SOLUTION.

V. What solution does Gen. Harrison offer for these momentous problems? None whatever. He criticises and denounces, but has no remedy. If Congress can rule with plenary power, he says, it will be an "un-American" Government, a "state of vassalage," "tyranny" will prevail, and it will be altogether "shocking". Porto Ricans and Filipinos will be "slaves"; the principles of the Declaration will be abandoned; and our Revolutionary fathers, who fought "for rights, not privileges—for a Constitution, not a letter of instructions," will be disgraced in their descendants.

But such fervid rhetoric adds nothing to a Constitutional argument. Indian Territory for ninety-eight years and Alaska for thirty-four have been unorganized Territories. The Constitution has not been operative therein, they had no local government and few Federal statutes. For four years President Harrison's Administration ruled them directly from Washington—more absolutely than the present Administration is ruling Porto Rico with its local Government, and the Philippines with the Taft Commission. Were the inhabitants of Alaska and Indian Territory "slaves"? Were they in a "state of vassalage"? Was their Government "un-American"? Did Gen. Harrison flagrantly violate the Declaration and merit the maledictions of our Revolutionary fathers?

HARRISON'S HAWAIIAN RECORD.

Let us go a step further. Who was it that inaugurated our present insular and extra-territorial policy? That policy received its first practical and definite expression in the transmission to Congress by President Harrison on Feb. 15, 1893, of a treaty providing for the immediate annexation of Hawaii. He then said: "The treaty does not attempt to deal in detail with the questions that grow out of the annexation. * * * The Commissioners representing the Hawaiian Government have consented to leave to the future and to the just and benevolent purposes of the United States the adjustment of all such questions. If it meets the aproval of the Senate, peace and good order will be secured in the islands under existing law until such time as Congress can provide by legislation a permanent form of government for the islands."

PRESENT INSULAR POLICY.

Gen. Harrison is here confronted with a distressing dilemma. Was he right in 1893, or is he right now? He urged Congress to annex immediately, but only sub modo, as we have annexed Porto Rico and the Philippines, and then the operation of the Constitution and Federal Statutes was to be suspended "until such time as Congress can provide by legislation a permanent form of government." For a year after ratification, and pending Congressional action, Hawaii was also to retain its separate tariff laws, and its Chinese inhabitants were forever excluded from American soil "as if entering from a foreign country." The policy of the present Administration is identical with that initiated by Gen. Harrison.

Again, he urged that all questions arising out of annexation should be left "to the future and to the just and benevolent purposes of the United States." When President McKinley issued his instructions for the government of the Philippines he not only followed the Hawaiian precedent, but adopted Gen. Harrison's language—he guaranteed the Filipinos a "just and benevolent government" according to the principles and "purposes of the United States." And yet Gen. Harrison now—seven years later—bitterly attacks his own policy. Referring to Porto Ricans and Filipinos, he says: "We offer them only this highly consolatory thought: Seventy-six millions of free Americans can be trusted to deal benevolently with you." "The man whose protection from wrong rests wholly upon the benevolence of another man or of a Congress is a slave." Our fathers "accounted that to hold these things (rights) upon the tenure of another man's benevolence was not to hold them at all." (N. A. Rev. pp. 8, 10, 12.)

Gen. Harrison makes his plea to the equity bar of the American people. He has arraigned the Administration, its policy and practice. He must conform to equity rules. He who would seek equity must do equity. He must show clean hands. But he is disbarred from court, condemned out of his own mouth. He initiated the present insular policy, he invented its phraseology, and of all men in public life he alone cannot now rise up to call it accursed!

DECISION OF PENDING ISSUES.

But "these questions will soon be decided by the Supreme Court," says Gen. Harrison. That is impossible. The Supreme Court cannot and will not decide them; and even if it attempted to do so, its action would be revolutionary and void. Can it mandamus the President? Can it enjoin the Congress? Can it prohibit this sovereign Nation from exercising its sovereignty over conquered territory? Unless it overrules the precedents of a century, and repudiates a practice that has prevailed since its foundation, the court will decide only problems of a strictly judicial character, refuse to pass on those of a political nature, and relegate their further consideration to the political departments of the Government. It will thus settle few if any of the great problems discussed by Gen. Harrison and now agitating the American public.

Undoubtedly the court will follow the construction of National power, first laid down by Chief Justice Marshall and uniformly adhered to since, that this is a sovereign Nation and can annex territory absolutely or sub modo, and upon any terms and conditions it pleases. Having decided this much, it will logically follow that it must dismiss from further consideration the propriety of the particular terms of annexation, as matters within the exclusive jurisdiction of the President and Congress.

If annexation be Constitutional all appropriate means of effecting it are Constitutional, and to inquire into the necessity or wisdom of the means would be, as Chief Justice Marshall said, "to pass the line which circumscribes the judicial department and to tread on legislative ground. This court disclaims all pretensions to such power" (4 Wheat. 423.) Otherwise, as Mr. Justice Miller explained, the court could "annul declarations of war, suspend the levy of armies, and become a great international arbiter instead of a court of justice for the administration of the laws of the United States." (1 Woolw. 156.) These views were not presented to the court on behalf of the Government in the pending cases. I submit with deference that they should have been. They present the only solution of the situation and the one I believe the court will ultimately adopt; a solution that provides a method for determining pending issues, and yet confines the judicial and political departments within the functions assigned them by the Constitution.

PROBLEMS FOR CONGRESS.

Hence all these questions must be left to the sovereign people and their duly constituted agents, Congress and the President. Is there, then, no restraint on their actions? All there ever has been in our history. During 114 years we have annexed and governed 3,250,000 square miles of new territory. The power of Congress therein has been plenary, but its exercise has been just; its authority has been absolute, but its use has been for the greatest good of humanity. During all that time the rights of territorial inhabitants, though not guaranteed by the Constitution, have been amply protected by the fundamental, unwritten laws of our civilization. "We must be content to limit power where we can," said that sturdy patriot, Mr. Justice Iredell, "and where we cannot, consistently with its use, we must be content to repose a salutary confidence. It is our consolation that there never existed a Government, in ancient or modern times, more free from danger in this respect than the Government of America" (3 Dall. 398).

Like Mr. Justice Iredell, we should repose confidence in our Nation, its policies are not chimerical; they are supported by law; they are wise and conservative. We have the right to annex Porto Rico and the Philippines; the right to hold and govern them; the right to give or refuse the Constitution; the right to organize them into Territories; the right even to make them into States—why should we not continue in the future as in the past to exercise these lawful, plenary, and sovereign powers? We hold the islands by a perfect title; no other nation does. We are in possession; no other nation is. Why should we give away or sell or lease or abandon a single foot of the territory? Why should we not restore order, open courts, and found schools? Why should we not give the inhabitants a government of liberty, regulated by law, and honestly administered—taxation without tyranny; justice without bribe; freedom of religious worship, and protection to life, liberty, and property?

Behold the new century, and at its very portals behold Milton's prophecy fulfilled. "a noble and puissant Nation rousing herself like a strong man after sleep and shaking her invincible locks"—our Republic rousing herself to the vast opportunities and tremendous responsibilities of the future; every artery of her National life throbbing and pulsating with new vigor; her Constitution revered, implicitly obeyed, and protecting all the rights of her citizens; her reserve powers unrestrained by Constitutional limitations and equal to every demand of the most potential sovereignty—our Republic, with her sublime and infinite possibilities, destined to become not only a world power, but the pulsant and dominating power of the new century, a noble, beneficent, and peaceful primacy among the nations of the earth.

CONCENTRATED STRENGTH IS LIEBIG COMPANY'S EXTRACT OF BEEF. Signed: J. v. Liebig in blue.

LAWYERS TAIK OF DIVORCE.

Devote Closing Session at Albany to the Subject—Bishop Doane Gives His Views.

ALBANY, Jan. 16.—The State Bar Association this afternoon held its closing session, at which the subject of divorce was thoroughly discussed. While no formal action was taken, it was evident that the association is opposed to the bill as it is now drawn.

One of the papers of divorce was written by Bishop Doane, but on account of his absence in Boston, was read by George A. Lawyer. The Bishop said that apart from his intense convictions as a Christian man and a clergyman that the bond of matrimony can only be severed by death, he has the deepest feeling as a man on purely human, social, and legal grounds that the old English law which granted a divorce, with no right of remarriage, was sound.

But, he added, if that provision could not be made in the bill, he would perforce be content with that which could be obtained. In referring to the provisions of the bill, he said:

"The features of the proposed legislation which seem to be most valuable are the requirement for a bona fide permanent residence in effect and in intention in the State where the suit is brought; the limitation of grounds of divorce to the law of the State in which the case arose; the requirement of the hearing before the court in open session, and the restriction in regard to the personal service of process upon the defendant. Such legislation, generally adopted would make our courts cease to be 'schools for scandal,' and would tend largely to remove from America the evil repute which has come upon her for loose methods of dealing with this matter of paramount importance to society and humanity."

The annual banquet was held to-night at the Hotel Ten Eyck. The speakers included Wu Ting Fang, Gov. Odell, Lieut. Gov. Woodruff, Justices M. J. O'Brien, Herbert P. Bissell, Commander Wadhams, United States Navy; Lewis E. Carr, ex-Senator David B. Hill, and Chief Judge Alton B. Parker of the Court of Appeals.

Gov. Odell responded to the toast "The State." He said that "the nearer the Executive and the Legislature can come to the simplification of the laws the nearer do we approach perfect government and the millenium."

LYNCHERS MAY GO SCOT FREE.

No Steps to Punish Leavenworth Mob Leaders—Miss Thole Did Not Identify the Negro.

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., Jan. 16.—Chief of Police Cranston, when asked to-day if any effort would be made to arrest the leaders of the mob which burned the negro Alexander at the stake yesterday, said:

"No, I think not. I know of no movement to arrest any one. I do not approve of the burning of Alexander, but he should have been hanged."

Probate Judge L. Hawn said: "There are some bad features about the affair, and I am sorry for it all. The burning part is too bad; it hurts the community. It was intended to give an object lesson, but hanging would have been better."

The Coroner has not decided when he will hold an inquest. He is looking up evidence in the matter, but is unable to find any one who can testify. Nothing has been done toward making any arrests, and when the Mayor was asked if he would take any steps he answered: "It is a State case. I have nothing to do with it."

Miss Thole, who, it is said, was assaulted by Alexander and threatened with death if she said anything about it, stated to a reporter to-night that the announcement that she had identified Alexander as her assailant was erroneous. Her statement was that Alexander looked like the man, but she was not positive about it.

TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 16.—Gov. Stanley decided to-night that he would not issue an offer of a reward for the arrest of the perpetrators of yesterday's negro-burning in Leavenworth.

"It would be absolutely no use to issue the offer," said the Governor. "If the guilty persons were arrested they would necessarily have to undergo the first trial in Leavenworth County, and on account of the present condition of public sentiment there it would be absolutely useless to attempt to prosecute anybody there for the crime."

The Governor had decided last night that he would offer the reward, but deliberation on the subject induced him to change his mind.

THE MOLINEUX RECORD.

Counsel Devise a Plan for Getting It Before the Higher Court.

Roland B. Molineux's counsel will present to the Court of Appeals, despite the ruling of Recorder Goff, all matters excluded from the case on appeal prepared by Weeks & Battle, including the wrangles of counsel, remarks of the Court, examinations of talesmen not selected as jurors, and all other extraneous matters cut out of the record by the order of settlement.

This legal manoeuvre will be accomplished by Weeks & Battle making before the Recorder a motion to resettle the case and include all matter cut out. Naturally the Recorder will not reverse his first decision, and the preparation of two cases for the inspection of the Court of Appeals will result. The transcript, as it will read under the Recorder's order of settlement, will be printed.

This decision was arrived at during a conference between Weeks & Battle and Assistant District Attorney Osborne and District Attorney Philbin, held yesterday at the latter's office. Weeks & Battle will appeal from the Recorder's ruling denying their motion for a resettlement, and when arguing this appeal before the higher court, will present the matter cut out in their briefs. The case proper will be argued after a ruling as given on this point. The printing will cost the county about $10,000, and the cost to the defendant's lawyers for printing their case will be about the same.

FEITNER WARNS TAXPAYERS.

Says Persons Claiming a "Pull" with His Department Should Be Arrested.

President Feitner of the Department of Taxes said yesterday that frequent complaints had come to his official attention of people who were going around claiming to taxpayers that they could have assessments on realty and personal property reduced through political influence and other means.

"If a man comes to any taxpayer with a plan of that kind he should be arrested at once as a fraud," was the advice President Feitner gave to the taxpayers yesterday. "We hear frequent complaints about men doing such things, and the people should be informed that all the work of the Department of Taxes is done in this office and through no outsider can assessments be reduced."

Mr. Wharton's Bequest to Missions.

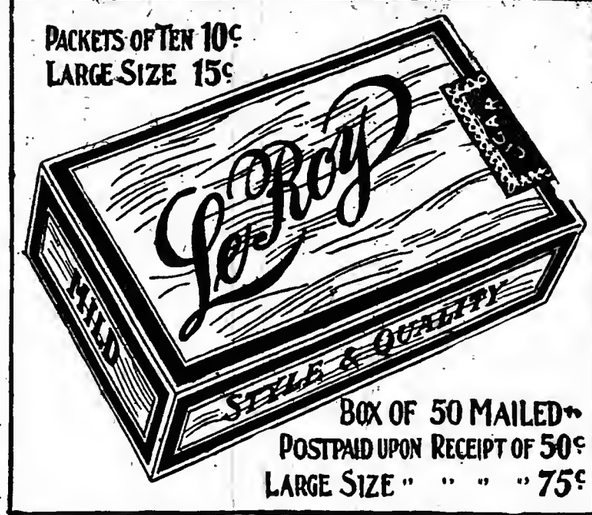
NEWARK, N. J., Jan. 16.—The will of John Wharton, the well-known hat manufacturer, which was admitted to probate to-day, bequeaths $2,500 to the Board of Foreign Missions of the Reformed Church, and a like amount to the Board of Domestic Missions. The remainder of the estate, which is large, is divided among relatives, the widow being the chief beneficiary.

Concert for Chaplain Chidwick.

The New York Letter Carriers' Band of fifty pieces, under Bandmaster Frank E. Houts of the General Post Office, will tender a complimentary concert to the Rev. Father Chidwick and his sailor boys on board the receiving ship Vermont, at the Brooklyn Navy Yard, this evening.

LE ROY LITTLE CIGAR

PACKETS OF TEN 10¢
LARGE SIZE 15¢



BOX OF 50 MAILED
POSTPAID UPON RECEIPT OF 50¢
LARGE SIZE " " " 75¢

L. MILLER & SONS 543 B'WAY N.Y.

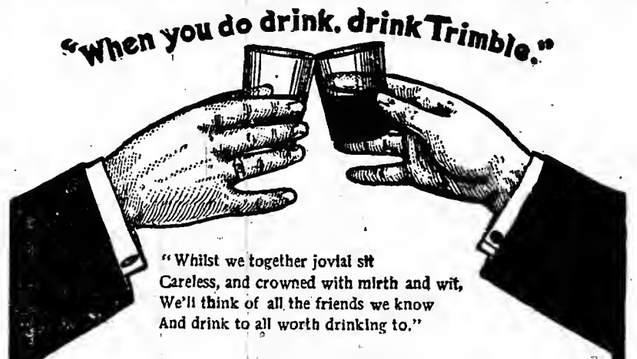
Buy a

Sparklet Bottle

and buy one to-day. At a cost of 2½ cents a pint you can make any sparkling drink for yourself—water, wine, tea, milk. It gives all the sparkle of life.

Buy a Sparklet bottle at your druggist's or grocer's, or at our store, 1127 Broadway. Buy one anywhere, but buy one.

"When you do drink, drink Trimble."



"Whilst we together jovial sit
Careless, and crowned with mirth and wit,
We'll think of all the friends we know
And drink to all worth drinking to."

Trimble Whiskey Green Label

We guarantee that it is a pure, unadulterated Rye, 10 years old aged by time not artificially. AT ALL FIRST-CLASS DEALERS.
WHITE, HENTZ & CO., Phil. and N. Y., Sole Proprietors. ESTABLISHED 1793.

E. A. NOBLETT ON TRIAL.

Charged with Swindling the Watson Brothers Out of $10,000—His Criminal Record.

Edwin Arden Noblett, whose checkered career is well known in the financial district and in the courts of the county, was placed on trial before Recorder Goff in General Sessions yesterday, charged with obtaining $10,000 from Edward H. and Walter S. Watson of 115 Broadway under false pretenses.

The Watsons, it appears, in reply to a business personal in a morning newspaper, called at Noblett's office, then in Nassau Street, in March, 1899, and deceived, they claim, by Noblett's representations that he was worth $200,000, and that he did a large and profitable banking and brokerage business, were persuaded to pay to Noblett $10,000 for a half interest in his business. The Watsons are both young men. Noblett showed them documents purporting to be stocks, bonds, deeds to real estate, and a rubber concession in Brazil, which he stated were worth $100,000.

He also exhibited a paper which set forth that his earnings in the year 1898 from his brokerage business were $46,563.23, and his expenses not quite $6,000. The Watsons thought this a chance not to be neglected and straightway purchased a half interest. Subsequently Noblett obtained from them and converted to his own uses, they claim, $11,000 of bonded warehouse whisky receipts, and $5,500 from the sale of a portion of these.

Assistant District Attorney Osborne says that Noblett holds the record for arrests in criminal and civil actions, and has appeared before Judges and Magistrates more times than any other man outside of State prison.

Noblett's New York court history begins on Oct. 16, 1893, when he was indicted for swindling Jennie Race, a poor girl, out of a small sum under promise of securing her employment. This indictment was dismissed. One year later he was indicted and convicted of a similar offense in General Sessions before Judge Cowing. A new trial was granted upon the affidavit of George Greene, Jr., alleging the discovery of new evidence. Greene was subsequently indicted for attempting to bribe a juror at the Goslin trial. On July 25, 1899, Noblett was arrested in a civil action to recover $7,500 brought by E. S. Pratt. H. A. Grady caused his arrest on a similar charge Sept. 16, 1898. In July, 1899, he obtained possession of a life insurance policy of B. B. Poyntz of Maysville, Ky., and obtained a loan of $3,872 thereon. He is represented by Vernon M. Davis.

Henry T. Dortic's Charitable Bequests.

The will of Henry T. Dortic, who died in Paris on Nov. 14, was filed for probate in the Surrogates' Office yesterday. Adrien Iselin, Jr., and the widow of the testator are named as executors. The charitable bequests are: Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, $3,000; New York Eye and Ear Infirmary, $3,000; New York Society for the Relief of Ruptured and Crippled, $3,000; Holy Trinity Mission, (Paris,) $3,000; St. Vincent de Paul French Orphan Asylum of New York, $3,000; Manhattan Eye and Ear Hospital, $3,000; St. Mary's Free Hospital for Children, $3,000; New York Skin and Cancer Hospital, $3,000; New York Free Circulating Library, $3,000; New York Home for Incurables, $3,000.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3.50 SHOE UNION MADE

W. L. Douglas makes and sells more

The New York Times.

All the News That's Fit to Print."

PUBLISHED EVERY DAY IN THE YEAR.

NEW YORK, THURSDAY, JAN. 17, 1901.

OFFICES:

NEW YORK:
Publication Office.....41 Park Row
All American District Telegraph Offices.
WASHINGTON.....515 Fourteenth St.
SWITZERLAND, Geneva: P. Drehmann, Librairie Nouvelle, Rue du Mont Blanc.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.
BY MAIL, POSTAGE PAID.

DAILY, per Month	$0.50
DAILY, per Year	6.00
DAILY AND SUNDAY, per Year	7.50
SUNDAY, per Year	1.50
MONDAY, with Financial Supplement, per Year	1.00
DAILY AND SUNDAY, per Month	0.65
THE NEW YORK TIMES SATURDAY REVIEW, per Year	1.00

For postage to foreign countries add 80 cents per month.

SIXTEEN PAGES.

A QUESTION OF POLITICAL STATUS.

Ex-President HARRISON declared in his Ann Arbor address upon the status of our new possessions that "a legal argument upon this subject is quite outside of my purpose." As Mr. HARRISON treated the question as one of law, not of policy, it is hard to see how he expected to convince the public judgment by arguing a legal question in a lay manner. In his answer to Mr. HARRISON, read before the State Bar Association yesterday, Mr. CHARLES A. GARDINER of the New York bar, arguing and demonstrating that the question is political, not legal, nevertheless argues and reasons strictly like a lawyer, save that he permits himself an amusing digression to show that our present insular policy was originated by President HARRISON himself, in the Hawaiian treaty sent to the Senate by him and recalled by President CLEVELAND. The advantage of arguing a question of this nature in a legal manner will be apparent to every reader of Mr. GARDINER'S able, lucid, and learned paper, which we publish in full this morning. It seems to us quite the best of all the arguments yet made on the subject.

It must be borne in mind that neither Mr. HARRISON nor Mr. GARDINER attempts to tell us what should be done about the Philippines. The ex-President argues that the President and Congress can do nothing in the Philippines or Porto Rico that is not permitted by the Constitution in the States. Mr. GARDINER argues that the islands are not under the Constitution at all, that the instrument does not extend to them by its own force, but will apply to them only when made to apply by act of Congress, which, until such an act is passed, exercises without limitation the power of governing them.

It is interesting to note the historical point made by Mr. GARDINER that the ex proprio vigore doctrine invented by CALHOUN in the interest of the slave owners, and now adopted by Mr. HARRISON, was specifically rejected by the people in the election of LINCOLN, from which an appeal to arms was taken, and has now again been rejected by the people in the re-election of MCKINLEY, the appeal upon this occasion being taken to the Supreme Court. But the convincing strength of Mr. GARDINER'S argument rests in his array of citations from decisions of the Supreme Court, of which it may be said that they are so great in number and so pertinent to the present issue that the conviction they create can be removed from no candid mind save by an equally imposing array of contrary opinions, which would leave one in a condition of helpless bewilderment—or by a demonstration that these citations are not applicable to the question now under discussion.

The court has repeatedly held that the Constitution does not by automatic action extend to the Territories, and that the power for their government vested in Congress is without limitations. Moreover, Congress has exercised this unlimited authority, extending the ordinance of 1887 over Territories without regard to the Constitution and often in disregard of its provisions. The unvarying policy of the Nation, supported by a long line of judicial decisions, stands opposed to the views now entertained by the leaders of anti-imperialism. Mr. GARDINER would seem to stand upon solid ground when he argues that freedom of speech and of the press and the other privileges of the Bill of Rights are not conferred by the Constitution, but are the birthright of the Anglo-Saxon, for which reason the Constitution forbids Congress to abridge them. But they are not the birthright of the Filipinos, nor can the negative act of prohibiting interference with them here accomplish the positive act of establishing them in the Philippines. When Congress extends those guarantees to the Filipinos they will become vested—not before. Mr. GARDINER'S conclusion is here presented:

> In a late case the Court said: "The Bill of Rights was not intended to lay down any novel principles of government, but simply to embody certain guarantees and immunities which we had inherited from our English ancestors." (165 U. S. 281.) "The right of the people to assemble," said Chief Justice WAITE in the Cruikshank case, "was not created by the amendment, neither was its continuance guaranteed, except as against Congressional interference. * * * The right to bear arms is not a right granted by the Constitution, neither is it in any manner dependent upon that instrument for its existence." (92 U. S. 553.)
>
> This is true of freedom of speech, the right of petition, due process of law, or any other of our civil rights which belong to a people subject to the government of Congress. Congress can pass no law interfering with their enjoyment. But inability to act is not extension of power. Can a mere restriction upon the power of Congress to pass certain laws as rules and regulations for the government of new territory be held to extend, not the restrictions, but the affirmative rights themselves? In no sense of the word, I repeat, can this negative operation of the prohibitions in the Bill of Rights be said to extend the Constitution over Porto Rico or the Philippines.

If the law and the reasoning of this argument are sound, it may be that the public by its nature and its brevity. A ruling that Congress has power to impose customs duties at the ports of Porto Rico upon goods sent there from the United States would dispose of the ex proprio vigore doctrine and determine the status of the island as not an integral part of the Union and not under the Constitution. The whole question would by that decision be dismissed from the jurisdiction of the court and relegated to Congress as of an exclusively political nature. It is to be expected, however, that considerations of the importance of the issue as a probable source of litigation will prevail upon the court to gather up the scattered threads of interpretation and present in its opinion a body of doctrine that, one way or the other, will determine the principles that must guide the Nation in these new questions of policy.

It is a serious defect of Mr. HARRISON'S contention that it is purely destructive. He does not tell us, none of the oracles of anti-imperialism tells us, what we shall and ought to do in the Philippines. Shall we abandon them, shall we recognize the Government of AGUINALDO under an American protectorate, shall we sell them back to Spain, or to Germany, or to Japan? There is no answer. It is impossible to say how far a heartless and selfish wish to get rid of the Filipinos because they are a source of danger, trouble, and cost to us enters into the motives of the anti-imperialists. Many of their arguments and positions are intelligible on no other theory than that of a desire to "pull out" of a situation that already gives us trouble and may give us more. A National policy determined by such considerations would be abhorrent to the ideas of modern civilization.

THE ARMY AND THE ARMY BILL.

It will no doubt be agreed by a very great majority of the officers of the United States Army that the army law which is to come out of the successive "amendments" of the Senate and of the House will be by no means as good a measure as that which the Secretary of War originally introduced. But when we say the great majority of the officers of the army, we by no means mean the majority of officers stationed in Washington, and accessible to Senators and Representatives, or to whom Senators and Representatives are accessible. Mr. ROOT'S bill was drawn, as is evident on the face of it, with an honest and single purpoae to increase the efficiency of the United States Army. He took the opinions, not of the favored officers who were stationed in Washington, and to whom the actual horrors and hardships of war were known only by reports, as to civilians, and who meant to have them so remain unknown. He tried to put the case of the actual, unfavored officers on the fighting line, when there is any fighting going on, or on actual and discouraging frontier service when there is no fighting going on. The Secretary is entitled to say with WALT WHITMAN:

> Through me there sing the many long dumb voices.

The country and its representatives in Congress assembled ought to have heard and heeded such an appeal. Because, in the memorable Spring of 1898, when the efficiency of the United States Army was at last, after a peaceful generation, to be tested, it was the line that stood the test triumphantly. It was the inarticulate, unexpressed line of which the new Secretary has made himself the spokesman that did us credit and made us proud. The favored staff, which had had its own way for so many years in Army bills, and had built up little irresponsible satrapies of bureaus in Washington, did not cover itself with glory, but very decidedly with the other thing. The showing of those days was, if ever such a showing was, that there were Augean stables clamoring to be cleansed.

The cleansing is what the Secretary has undertaken. But he finds the opposition too strong for him. His bill has been emasculated until he can scarcely recognize it. A gush of sentimental and ignorant enthusiasm has swept out the establishment of the canteen, by the testimony of all officers in actual touch with troops the most effectual agency for the promotion of temperance, good morals, and discipline ever established in the army. The barnacles of the staff, whom he struggled to dislodge, or at least to aerate by a continual infusion of fresh blood from the line, still, by dint of their "pull" upon Congress, hold their places "and grin defiance upon their baffled pursuers." The organization that was so thoroughly discredited three years ago is still, in spite of the Secretary of War, the organization of the United States Army.

Doubtless, it is absurd to have a necessarily ignorant Congress undertaking to prescribe the details of army organization. Army officers are quite within their rights when they are pointing out these absurdities. Nearly all the questions with which Congress has been delaying the progress of a confessedly urgent measure are matters which are properly subjects, not for Congressional deliberation at all, but for department regulation. How large an army we should have and where it should be stationed are questions properly political and legislative. But how it should be organized is a question for the army itself, that is to say, for the War Department, when, as now, we have the luck to have at the head of that department a man who is well known not to be a small, self-seeking politician, but a faithful and intelligent public servant, and who understands the needs of the army. We do not recall a question upon the Army bill which has been debated in Congress that could not evidently have been better settled if it had been left, as it might have been, to the discretion of

DE WET'S MOVEMENTS AGAIN A MYSTERY

Conflicting Rumors as to His Whereabouts Reach London.

False Reports as to His Position May Have Been Spread to Cover a Junction with Cape Invaders.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—An important report has been received from Johannesburg to the effect that Gen. De Wet has crossed the Vaal and joined forces with the Transvaal commandoes. If true, this probably means the concentration of the 7,000 Boers, with several guns, for another big attack.

There is a rumor current in Cape Town that several Boer leaders are urging an attack upon the mines. It has long been understood that Gen. De Wet has been anxious to join the invaders in Cape Colony, and this rumor and the Johannesburg report may have been spread to cover an attempt to break southward.

A small Boer commando entered Sutherland, cut the telegraph wires, looted the stores, and then proceeded northward.

According to the Cape Town correspondent of The Daily Mail, the Boers occupied Aberdeen, forty miles south of Graaf Reinet on Tuesday.

Bennet Burleigh, who has returned to Cape Town, sends to The Daily Telegraph an enigmatical dispatch, dated Jan. 16, saying:

"All our soldiers, whether from Orange River Colony or the Transvaal, look the picture of health, and it is hoped that the end is steadily coming nearer.

"The few recent successes of the Boers are annoying. Twenty thousand reinforcements have arrived, and they are very welcome in Cape Colony, where the Dutch decline to rise. The raiders are sixty miles north of the town, and are being pressed by our troops.

This presumably means that Lord Kitchener has sent 20,000 men into Cape Colony.

As an outcome of the circumstance that the Boers in several instances have worn khaki, a Government notice has been promulgated in Pretoria, prohibiting civilians from wearing khaki and notifying all persons who wear a costume which is likely to be mistaken for the British uniform that they will render themselves liable to arrest and imprisonment.

The response to the Government's call for volunteers is said to be very satisfactory in both London and the provinces.

Defensive measures in South Africa proceed apace. Seven thousand men have joined the City Guard in Cape Town and 3,000 others have volunteered in the suburbs. An additional big gun has been mounted on Table Mountain.

A unique feature of Kitchener's fighting scouts is the enrollment of 300 Matabele camp followers for riding and leading the spare horses. This is likely to renew the color agitation.

KRUEGER WANTS RECOGNITION.

To Come Here If Mr. McKinley Will Receive Him Officially—Difficulties in Way of Such Action.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—Mr. Krüger will visit America if assured that President McKinley will receive him officially as President of the South African Republic. The friends of Mr. Krüger do not desire the old man, in his present state of health, to undertake an arduous journey in cold weather if it is to be fruitless.

John E. Milholland, representing a group of American pro-Boers, visited Mr. Krüger a fortnight ago, with W. T. Stead, and invited him to visit America. Afterward, while ill, Mr. Krüger wrote saying his health forbade him to do so. He has since recovered, and has declared that he is willing to make the trip if he could be satisfied that his visit would tangibly help the Boers. He tells his friends that he has reason to hope for the Czar's moral support.

The operation on Mr. Krüger's eyes, at Utrecht next week, although slight in itself, will necessitate absolute quiet for some time.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—Until Mr. Krüger shall have intimated in some formal way to the Administration his intention to visit the United States and to pay his respects to the President, the Administration will not feel called upon to express any opinion as to whether he will be officially received or not. The report that Mr. Milholland had invited the former President of the Transvaal to visit New York was read without excitement by State Department officers. The President has not had any extended conversation with his Secretary of State since his illness, and the subject has not been brought before him. Indeed, there was no occasion for discussing the subject.

Although refusing to discuss a hypothetical question not yet requiring to be answered, the Department of State suggests some difficulties that may stand in the way of the official reception of Mr. Krüger. It has been the object of the Administration to maintain an attitude of strict neutrality in the matter of the South African war. That contest has proceeded to a stage where the British Government has taken possession of the territory of the Orange Free State and the Transvaal. The announced object of the visit of Mr. Krüger to Europe and to the United States, if he shall decide to accept the invitation of Mr. Milholland, is to secure encouragement for the Boers in their hope for a restoration to them of their liberties and the government of their States. The official reception of Mr. Krüger might be regarded by Great Britain as a departure by the United States from the observance of that neutrality which has been maintained and which Great Britain regarded with such studious care when the United States was at war with Spain. The status of Mr. Krüger would be somewhat anomalous. He is powerless to enforce any order he may give, and he has no admitted authority to accredit even himself as the representative of the Transvaal.

Mr. Krüger might receive a great popular greeting, but the general public would not be troubled about the responsibility of maintaining a correct international position.

The general opinion is that Mr. Krüger will not venture to come here, and that if he does so he will have to content himself with such a reception at the White House as was extended to Messrs. Fischer, Wessels, and Wolmarans.

Americans for Baden-Powell's Police.

OTTAWA, Ontario, Jan. 16.—Among the applications reaching the military department for positions on the Baden-Powell police force in South Africa are many from the United States. Fifty applications were received at the department to-day and half of these came from New York.

THE SANTO DOMINGO DISPUTE.

Dominican Minister of Foreign Affairs Will Visit Washington to Explain His Government's Action.

SANTO DOMINGO, Jan. 16.—The Chamber of Commerce has adopted a resolution to ignore the notice issued by the San Domingo Improvement Company of New York. The notice declared null and void the Government's disposition and collection of the customs duties. The Chamber demands that the Directors of the company withdraw the notice, which has caused irritation.

The Minister of Foreign Affairs will leave here to-morrow on a mission to the Government of the United States.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—United States Consul Maxwell, at Santo Domingo, to-day advised the State Department by cable of the intended visit of the Dominican Minister of Foreign Affairs to Washington to personally explain to the United States Government the difficulty which has grown out of the attempt of the Dominican Government to terminate the arrangement with the American syndicate.

The Consul General's report is regarded as a sufficient warrant for non-intervention on the part of the State Department, certainly pending the arrival of the Minister of Foreign Affairs. It appears, moreover, that the insular revenues are being collected, not by the Dominican Government itself, but by a commission referred to by the Consul General as an honorable one, composed of Consular representatives and reputable merchants.

The Dominican authorities are satisfied that they can establish the fact that the syndicate has defaulted in its obligations to a degree warranting a termination of the agreement. Moreover, it is asserted that the arrangement itself was never fully ratified by the bondholders, who, under the terms of the agreement, had a voice in the matter.

M. GOHIER WOUNDED IN DUEL.

Author of "L'Armee Contre la Nation" Fights with M. Latapie.

PARIS, Jan. 16.—A duel with swords was fought to-day between Urbain Gohier, the well-known anti-military writer and author of "The Army Against the Nation," and M. Latapie, a journalist, who considered himself insulted by one of M. Gohier's articles in L'Aurore.

M. Gohier was severely wounded in the abdomen in the first onslaught, and the duel was stopped.

M. Gohier, a French publicist, became well known in the early part of 1899 through his book "L'Armée Contre la Nation," in which he gave vivid pictures of the degeneracy of a standing army in time of peace, of the immorality of French garrison life, and of the utter destruction of the power of the army as a fighting body through the peculiar system of French militarism. He was arrested, charged with having insulted the army. His defense was that he attacked the system and not individuals, and he was acquitted on March 14, 1899. He contributed several monographs which went to swell the mass of Dreyfusard literature. His subjects were for the most part those dealing with French militarism and the influence of the Roman Catholic Church on the army.

Although less aggressive than Yves Guyot of Le Siècle, M. Gohier is nevertheless an ardent supporter of the British cause in South Africa, and his article "Anglophobia: A Warning to England," which was published in The National Review a year ago, was widely and favorably commented on throughout Great Britain.

In regard to the present dispute in France over the Associations bill, M. Gohier is an extremist, going so far as to say that an absolute divorce of Church and State is the only method which can prevent Roman Catholic communities from becoming centres of political propaganda inimical to the republic.

Alsace-Lorraine Reichstag Members.

BERLIN, Jan. 16.—In the course of the proceedings of the Budget Committee of the Reichstag to-day Dr. Lieber, the Centrist leader, expressed the hope that the members of the Reichstag for Alsace-Lorraine would hereafter participate in all debates relating to Alsace-Lorraine, and that, as representatives of the whole German people, they would also participate in all matters before the Reichstag. Herr Riff, (Liberal,) one of the members for Strasbourg, promised that he and his colleagues from Alsace-Lorraine would willingly take part in all Parliamentary discussions.

Has No Use for British Workman.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—The Daily Mail publishes an interview with Francis Clergue, a Canadian financier, who represents an American syndicate for the development of Algoma, Western Ontario. William C. Whitney is a member of the syndicate. Mr. Clergue, who sailed for the United States yesterday on the Oceanic, said the syndicate expected to get the greater part of the colonists not from Great Britain, but from Scandinavia and North Germany.

"The British workman's idea," he remarked, "seems to be to do as little work for his pay as possible, and he must have rum or whisky before breakfast."

Rebellion in Dahomey Feared.

PARIS, Jan. 16.—According to advices from Dahomey, the Moslem tribes are openly preparing for rebellion. They refuse to recognize the sovereignty of King Toffa, and the Governor has been obliged to suspend his tour of the north country. He has asked for the recall of the functionary alleged to be responsible for the situation.

Duchess of Marlborough Recovering.

LONDON, Jan. 16.—The Duke of Marlborough states that the Duchess of Marlborough, who was thrown from her horse while hunting with the Heythorp hounds on Monday, is recovering from the results of the accident. There is no truth in the report that the Duchess suffered an injury to her spine. She was able to remount after the fall, and was out driving yesterday.

The Castellane-Wertheimer Suit.

PARIS, Jan. 16.—Judgment in the Castellane-Wertheimer suit was to-day postponed for another week.

ANOTHER FRANK DANIELS.

Comic Opera Singer Says He Has Not Been Married Recently.

Frank Daniels, the comic opera comedian, has recently been subjected to considerable annoyance through the announcement that another Frank Daniels, an actor, had been married at Fargo.

Mr. Daniels, after a performance of "The Ameer," in which he has been touring the country, took advantage of an opportunity when he was called upon to make a speech, to inform his hearers that the recent reports of his marriage were absolutely false. He has been happily married for many years, he says. His family lives at Rye, N. Y.

SAM BERNARD SIGNS CONTRACT.

Comedian Will Join Weber & Fields Next Season.

Sam Bernard will next season become a member of the Weber & Fields stock company. A contract to this effect was signed yesterday. It has been known in theatrical circles for some time that Mr. Bernard would likely become a member of the company next season, owing to the withdrawal of David Warfield, who, it is said, will be starred by David Belasco in a play which will be written for him.

Mr. Bernard has been identified with George W. Lederer's production, "The Belle of Bohemia," this season, appearing in the rôle of Adolph Klotz, a wandering photographer, which he created.

Attachment Against Fanchon Thompson

An attachment has been obtained against Fanchon Thompson, the actress, for $152 in favor of Barron Fredericks, for services and materials furnished in making and framing some photographs for her between Nov. 20 and Jan. 8. It was granted on the ground that she is a resident of Paris.

THEATRICAL GOSSIP.

The date for the initial performance of the dramatization of the book "Unleavened Bread" at the Savoy Theatre, has been changed to Saturday evening, Jan. 26.

About one hundred delegates to the General Traffic Association Convention attended the New York Theatre last night. The actors in the "Giddy Throng" referred pleasantly to the visitors several times during the rendering of the piece.

The annual Actors' Fund benefit, which is to be under the management of Daniel Frohman, is to take place on Friday, March 1, at the Broadway Theatre. Many novelties will be provided and many of the stars in the city at that time will take part in the entertainment.

Rudolph Aronson has engaged Charles Drew to play the part of the Prince in Johann Strauss's operetta, "Vienna Life," which will have its first production at the Broadway Theatre on Wednesday, Jan. 23.

Tim Murphy will produce his new comedy this Spring. It is a story of Washington life by Paul Hatlach. Although the title has not yet been decided upon, both the comedian and the author say the play is entirely original and not the dramatization of a book.

Immediately after the first performance of "The Climbers" at the Bijou Theatre on Tuesday evening a conference was held between Clyde Fitch, the author of the play, and Amelia Bingham, after which it was decided that many alterations should be made in the piece. A rehearsal was called for yesterday forenoon, and at its conclusion it was found that the last act was considerably changed and shortened in such a way that the performance terminates at 11 o'clock. Another important change occurs in the second act, when the villain confesses his crime to his wife while the entire house is thrown into total darkness. It was deemed wise to overcome this darkness somewhat, so that hereafter the auditorium will contain some light.

When Molly Elliot Seawell and William Young's play, "The Sprightly Romance of Marsac," was withdrawn from the Theatre Republic the managers of the production announced that the termination of the engagement was only temporary, as no Broadway theatre at that time could be secured. However, since then Maclyn Arbuckle, who had been starred in the play, has been engaged by Charles Frohman and David Belasco to assume one of the principal rôles in Paul M. Potter's play, "Under Two Flags," which is to be produced at the Garden Theatre following the engagement there of E. S. Willard. William J. Ferguson, who was also a prominent member of the disbanded company, has been secured, to succeed Willie Edouin in "Florodora."

WEDDINGS OF A DAY.

Gilpin—Chase.

Miss Gertrude May Chase, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cotton Chase, and C. Montaith Gilpin were married last evening at All Angels' Protestant Episcopal Church, West End Avenue and Eighty-first Street. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Morris Kemp of Trinity Parish, assisted by the Rev. S. De Lancey Townsend, rector of All Angels'. The church was elaborately decorated with wreaths of pink roses, and in the chancel a bank of palms. The bride, who entered the church on the arm of her father, had a gown of heavy white satin, with a corsage of point lace and pearl embroidery, and drapings of point on the skirt, held with pearl roses. Her veil of tulle was held with three white jeweled ostrich tips. She wore the gift of the bridegroom, a harvest moon of diamonds, and she carried a shower bouquet of orchids and valley lilies. Guy Howard of Maryland was best man, and the ushers were Edward Tootle, Fred Cowles, and Robert Pennington.

Miss Ruth C. Overton of Brooklyn was maid of honor. She wore pink crêpe de chine, embroidered in silver. The bridesmaids—Miss Howard of Maryland, Miss Frances Condid, Miss Marie Wilson, Miss Stella Sommers, and Miss Elsie Trippe—were in gowns of old rose crêpe de chine and carried Bridesmaid roses. There were 1,000 invitations to the church and about 400 to the reception which followed at the Hotel Majestic. The Rose Parlor suite was reserved for the occasion. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ashbel P. Fitch, Mr. and Mrs. Charles de Cordova, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bramble Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Cowles, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Riker, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Mills Judson, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Coykendall, the Prince and Princess Auersperg, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Shrady, Mr. and Mrs. Olin D. Gray, and Mr. and Mrs. Ross Weir.

Munyon—Gillam.

In Grace Church yesterday afternoon Miss Alice May Gillam, oldest daughter of M. M. Gillam, was married to Duke Munyon, eldest son of Prof. J. M. Munyon. The ceremony was performed by the Right Rev. W. R. Huntington, rector of the church. The bride is a typical American girl. She is an accomplished horsewoman, a long-distance swimmer, an expert in many outdoor sports, vivacious, quick-witted, and always bubbling over with good spirits. As a pen and ink artist she has reached a foremost place. Hundreds of the outline sketches which helped to make the Wanamaker advertising famous were made by her, and her name is familiar in the fashion work of leading magazines.

The bridegroom, too, is something of an athlete, ranking high as a runner and holding positions on the baseball and football teams of his college. He is now the manager of an important branch of his father's vast business.

Among Prof. Munyon's gifts to the young couple were the title deeds, free and unincumbered, for $100,000 of his most productive real estate. The wedding dinner was given at the Waldorf-Astoria. This morning Mr. and Mrs. Munyon will leave New York on the Pennsylvania Limited for a lengthy tour. They will spend a month or more in California and then proceed leisurely through Mexico, Florida, and Cuba.

Sturgis—Hicks.

Miss Lynda Belle Hicks of 225 Ryerson Street, Brooklyn, was married on Tuesday afternoon to Russell Sturgis, a clerk in the Health Department of Brooklyn. The Rev. Mr. Angel, rector of St. Mary's Protestant Episcopal Church, officiated at the ceremony, which was performed at the home of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Sturgis have gone away on their wedding tour.

Dudley—Brown.

Miss Lyda Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edmond L. Brown, was married at the home of her parents, in the Marie Antoinette Apartments, Sixty-sixth Street and Broadway, to George Dudley of Winsted, Conn., last night. The Rev. J. O. Wilson, D. D., of St. Andrew's Church performed the ceremony.

Andrew—Garrettson.

Miss Mary Raymond Garrettson, the daughter of Rutland M. Garrettson, and Mr. Henry R. Andrew of Boston were married yesterday at the residence of the bride's father, 230 West Ninety-seventh Street, by the Rev. Dr. John Peters. There was no reception.

Tyler—Clark.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—Miss Caroline Anderson Clark, daughter of the late Col. M. Lewis Clark of Louisville, Ky., was married to Nathaniel Tyler, Jr., of this city today at noon at St. Margaret's Church. The Rev. Herbert S. Smith, rector of the Church, officiated. The ushers were Alfred Tyler, Harry H. Rousseau, William J. Peters, Robert Mason, Frederic Huntingdon, and Julian Peabody.

The bride was escorted by her brother, Churchill Clark of Chicago, and had as her only attendant maid her sister, Miss Mary B. Clark.

A breakfast and reception at the home of the bride's mother, in Q Street, followed the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Tyler leaving later in the afternoon for a trip of several weeks.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Peabody, Jr., Miss Damon, and Mrs. R. P. Huntington, all of New York, and Mr. and Mrs. James P. Helm. Miss Helm, the Misses Bruce, Miss Alice Castleman, and Miss Edith Wilder, all of Louisville, Ky.

Houghton—Hodges.

Special to The New York Times.

BOSTON, Jan. 16.—Many well-known clergymen attended the wedding this noon of Miss Jennie Leonard Hodges, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Danforth Comstock Hodges of Roxbury, and the Rev. Victor M. Houghton of Clinton, who is the son of the Rev. James Houghton of Bryn Mawr. The ceremony was performed in St. James's Church, Roxbury, by the Rev. Percy Browne, pastor of the church, who was assisted by the father of the bridegroom. The bride was gowned in white chiffon and lace, and her sister, Miss Alice C. Hodges, was maid of honor. The bridesmaids, all in white, were Miss Hodges, Miss Cherry, and the Misses Houghton.

Forbes—Cabot.

Special to The New York Times.

BOSTON, Jan. 16.—The wedding at noon to-day in the First Parish Church, Brookline, of Miss Elise Cabot, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Channing Cabot of Heath Street, and Ralph Werson Forbes of Milton was a simple one. A very large number of relatives and friends were, however, present.

The bride was dressed in ivory white satin. She was unattended and proceeded to the chancel on the arm of her father, preceded by ten ushers.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William H. Lyon, pastor of the church. The church was beautifully decorated.

SOCIETY IN WASHINGTON.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—Cabinet receptions were very generally resumed this afternoon, when all the ladies of the Cabinet were at home to visitors, with the exception of Mrs. Hay, wife of the Secretary of State, and Mrs. Long, wife of the Secretary of the Navy.

Mrs. Gage had receiving with her Mrs. Taylor, wife of the Assistant Secretary; Mrs. Robert Patterson of Chicago, Mrs. Wilkins and Mrs. Stanley Brown.

Mrs. Root was assisted by Mrs. Bates, wife of the Paymaster General of the Army; Miss Root and Miss Hagner.

Mrs. Griggs had with her her three young stepdaughters, with Miss McKenna, Miss Carlisle, and Mrs. Lewis.

Mrs. Charles Emory Smith had the largest receiving party of the day, among those who assisted her being Mrs. Arthur Lee, Miss Satterlee, Miss Miller of New York, Miss Phelps and Miss Ruth Hanna.

Mrs. Hitchcock, in addition to her daughters, was assisted by Mrs. Scanlon of St. Louis, Mrs. H. G. Sharp, and Miss Sheridan.

Miss Wilson's assistants were Mrs. Hill, wife of the Assistant Secretary of State; Mrs. Thomas F. Walsh, and Miss Cockrell.

Mrs. Henderson, wife of the Speaker, gave her weekly reception this afternoon. Assisting her were Mrs. Payne and Mrs. Stewart of New York, Miss Kean, sister of the Senator from New Jersey, and Mrs. John Daizell.

Boy Hurt by Trolley Car is Dead.

Harry Steller of 24 Bogart Street, Brooklyn, the boy who was run down by a trolley car and pinned beneath it at Flushing Avenue and Forest Street, Tuesday night, died yesterday in St. Catharine's Hospital. Henry Denig, the motorman, was arraigned in the Ewen Street Police Court on a charge of homicide. The hearing was adjourned.

WHAT IS DOING IN SOCIETY.

The tasts for small entertainments seems to prevail generally in society this Winter. Many of them are really very large affairs, but the term implying only that a few were asked prevents ill-feeling on the part of those the honor of whose company was not requested.

***

The postponement of several dances on account of death and of illness has left some blanks in the general entertaining. Last week a complication of this kind occurred. Mrs. Frederick Gallatin was obliged to postpone her dance because of the serious illness of an old and valued servant. The guests at Mrs. Charles R. Henderson's and at other houses who were there for dinner, with the object of going afterward to Mrs. Gallatin's, were obliged to seek some other form of amusement. Mr. Dallas Bache Pratt kindly arranged a large card party. This week the dances at Mrs. Robert McAllister Lloyd's and the one for Miss Morris at the Metropolitan Club have been called off, on account of the death of Mr. Arthur J. Peabody. This will make a great difference in the gayeties of the week.

***

The programme, consequently, for to-day is one of "at homes" and receptions. Mrs. Frederic J. de Peyster and the Misses de Peyster of 185 Madison Avenue will entertain in this manner, as will also Mrs. Stephen H. Thayer, 138 East Sixteenth Street; Mrs. William Loring Andrews, 11 East Thirty-eighth Street; Mrs. Russell Hoadly and Miss Hoadly, 62 East Seventy-third Street; Mrs. Edward H. Bonner and Miss Beatrice Bonner, 42 East Fifty-seventh Street, this latter reception being for Mrs. Frederick Marshall and Miss Marshall of Astoria; Mrs. David M. Milton, 17 East Fifty-fifth Street; Mrs. William Graves Bates, 47 West Thirty-seventh Street, and Mrs. George Place, 44 East Thirty-first Street.

***

Mrs. William Street of 43 Park Avenue will give a large dinner this evening for her daughter, Miss Rosamond Street, who made her début this Winter. The guests will be of the younger set, who were present at the dinner given by Dr. and Mrs. Morgan Dix on Tuesday for Miss Webb, and at the Webb dance last evening. James J. Van Alen also gives a large dinner next Tuesday evening for his younger daughter, Miss Sara Van Alen. Mr. and Mrs. George R. Schieffelin have a dinner this evening for Miss Sarah Gibbes Thompson, and the Knickerbocker Whist Club meets at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rutherfurd. The third Cinderella cotillion at Dodworth's and the third Bachelors and Spinsters' dance at Delmonico's are among the meetings of dancing classes.

***

Mrs. Kate Douglas Wiggin will give a reading this afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Henry F. Dimock, 25 East Sixtieth Street, for the benefit of the New York Kindergarten Association. The reading is under the patronage of a number of well-known women in society.

***

Dr. W. Seward Webb and Mrs. Webb (Miss Lila Osgood Vanderbilt) gave at their city residence, 680 Fifth Avenue, last night a dance for their débutante daughter, Miss Frederica Vanderbilt Webb. Mrs. Webb and Miss Webb were assisted by Miss Webb's cousin, Miss Florence Twombly. Miss Webb was gowned in a delicate blue frock, very fluffy and simple. There was general dancing, which was followed by a cotillion after the supper, which was served by Sherry at small tables in the dining room. The cotillion was led by Alexander Hadden, who danced with Miss Webb. There were a number of favor figures. In one of them painted satin hearts were given to the girls and arrows to the men; in another miniature toboggans and snow shoes were used. There were also ribbons and bells, &c., and in the shepherdess figure there were decorated shepherd's crooks and hats to match. Other favors were roses, rosettes, &c., and besides these there were a number of other charming trifles. The decorations were extremely simple, as the house itself is too rich in its finishings to require any other ornamentation. There were about forty couples in the cotillions and about 100 guests in all. These were the débutantes and the very young married people. Among the dancers were Mr. and Mrs. Francis Burton Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Waterbury, Natalie Wells, Nora Iselin, Eleanor Jay, Therese Iselin, Marian Fish, Gladys Brooks, Florence Twombly, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Trimble, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hammond, Sydney Stuart Henop, Pauline Robinson, Leila Bryce, Marie de Neufville, Mr. and Mrs. Ernesto Fabbri, Kathleen Neilson, Rosalie Moran, Mary Harriman, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Livermore, Mary Lane, Rosamond Street, Evelyn Sloane, Nathalie Schenck, Catherine Dix, Helen Kountze, Caroline Wilmerding, Evelyn Burden, Helen T. Barney, Miss Cryder, Miss Gallatin, Leila Sloane, Esther Hunt, Carrie Edgar, Sophie Langdon, Miss Gardiner, Caroline Livingston, and Ernest Iselin, Barclay Kountze, Coster Wilmerding, John Sloane, Goelet Gallatin, Herman Kinnicutt, Robert Livingston, Phoenix Ingraham, William Sloane, Archibald Cary Harrison, Edward Spencer Rhoades, Alonzo Potter, Bradish Johnson, Jr., Allan Wallace, Walton Oakley, William Coffin, William Whitehouse, Arthur Street, and Messrs. Harris, Lawrence, and Bishop. Dr. Webb and Mrs. Webb are to give a larger dance for Miss Webb on Jan. 30, to which a number of older guests are to come.

***

The bridge whist club organized by Mrs. Henry G. Trevor, and known as the Southampton Club, met yesterday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. J. J. Emery, 5 East Sixty-eighth Street. There are twenty-one members, and the prizes yesterday, which were given by Mrs. Emery, were handsome silver vases.

***

Yesterday's receptions included the second of two given by Mrs. Ramsay Turnbull of 87 Park Avenue, and a reception with music, also the second of two, by Mrs. Daniel Butterfield, at which Victor Harris and an orchestra of seventeen pieces rendered various selections from Bach, Chopin, and others. Mrs. G. Alfred Lawrence also gave a reception, and others who received were Mrs. Sedley and the Misses Sedley, Mrs. Clarence Pell, and Mrs. Walter Jennings. In the evening dinners were given by Capt. Warren C. Beach and Mrs. Beach, Mrs. Stephen R. Lesher, Miss Delia Gurnee, Mrs. W. Lanman Bull, and others.

***

Mrs. J. J. Emery has cards out for two luncheons to be given on Jan. 18 and 21, respectively. The last will be in honor of Miss Esther Morris Hunt, whose engagement to George M. Woolsey was recently announced, and the first is for the Countess de Laugier-Villars. Mrs. George B. De Forest has cards out for a dinner to be given on Sunday evening.

***

The Duke of Newcastle, for whom Mr. and Mrs. Francis Burton Harrison gave a large and handsome dinner on Saturday last, left for Florida yesterday afternoon.

***

Cards have been sent out by Howard Constable for his annual entertainment on Saturday evening next. Several hundred invitations have been issued, and there are to be vaudeville and other attractions.

***

A wedding of interest yesterday was that of Lieut. Martin J. Crimmins, the son of John D. Crimmins of this city, to Miss Margaret C. Cole of San Francisco, which took place in that city. Lieut. Crimmins is a member of several clubs in this city. His brother, John D. Crimmins, Jr., went on to attend the wedding.

***

Miss Elise Waterbury is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Waterbury at their new home, at 34 Park Avenue.

***

Among the forthcoming entertainments are a dinner and euchre party on Monday, Jan. 21, to be given by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lispenard Suydam of 43 East Twenty-second Street; a luncheon by Mrs. David Lydig of 49 East Twenty-ninth Street tomorow afternoon, an afternoon reception by Mrs. William F. Wharton of 16 West Thirty-sixth Street on Jan. 28, and receptions to-day by Miss Julia Whitehead and A. Whitehead at 25 East Seventy-fourth Street, and the Misses Parsons at 30 East Thirty-sixth Street.

***

The Euchre Club, which met last Tuesday at the residence of Mrs. Charles Berryman, 107 East Seventeenth Street, will meet next Tuesday at the residence of Mrs. Charles A. Abercrombie, 25 Madison Square North.

***

The funeral of William Hollingshead Gillian will take place this noon from the Church of the Transfiguration, Twenty-ninth Street, near Fifth Avenue. Mr. Gillian was one of the oldest and most popular members of the Calumet Club. He for a number of years was engaged in the wool importing business in this city. His father was a well-known merchant of Philadelphia. He was about fifty years of age and unmarried.

***

The programmes of Lenten entertainments are beginning to be announced. The first meeting of the Monday Evening Bowling Club has been arranged to take place on Monday evening, Feb. 24. The Knickerbocker Sewing Class has already begun its meetings, and the new sewing class known as Mrs. J. Borden Harriman's will meet on Feb. 6 at the residence of Mrs. W. Jay Schieffelin, 5 East Sixty-sixth Street.

***

The first afternoon meeting of the Knickerbocker Bowling Club will take place on Wednesday, Feb. 6, at the Tennis Building, 212 West Forty-first Street. Among the patronesses this year are Mrs. Frederick Sheldon, Mrs. Eyam K. Stevens, Mrs. George L. Kingsland, Mrs. Philip Rhinelander, and Mrs. Prescott Hall Butler.

***

The wedding of Miss Alta Rockefeller, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, and E. Parmelee Prentice of Chicago will take place this afternoon at the residence of the bride's parents, 4 West Fifty-fourth Street. It will be a very quiet affair, to which only the relatives and intimate friends of the family will be bidden. Mr. E. Parmelee Prentice, the bridegroom-elect, gave his farewell bachelor dinner at the University Club last evening. Among his guests were John D. Rockefeller, Jr., R. Hall McCormick, Emerson B. Tuttle, Charles R. Carruth, Henry H. Porter, Jr., and M. Johnson of Chicago.

***

Handpainted china will stimulate the wits of a large number of women at the Waldorf-Astoria to-day. The china will be in prizes—fifty of them—and the women will play progressive euchre to win them. The game is for the benefit of the New York Keramic Art Society, to raise money to send the society exhibit to the Pan-American Exposition in Buffalo. A big game is expected, as the society is a large one and its members have many friends. Tickets can be obtained from Miss M. T. Wynne, 11 East Twentieth Street; Miss Helen Montfort, 142 East One Hundred and Twenty-fifth Street, and at the hotel.

***

The wedding of Robert Chetwood Beatty, son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Beatty (Miss Hetty Bull) of 3 East Ninth Street, and Miss Jean Burlingame, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Burlingame, will be celebrated at 4 P. M. on Wednesday, Jan. 30, in St. James's Church at Seventy-first Street and Madison Avenue.

***

The engagement is announced of Julia Post Brown and Benjamin C. Fincke. Miss Brown is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Waldron Post Brown (Isabella M. Wright of 32 East Thirty-fifth Street, and Mr. Fincke is the son of Mrs. James W. Ellsworth, (Miss Julia M. Clarke.) Miss Brown is a niece through her father of Mrs. Anson W. Hard and Mrs. James Taylor Soulter, and through her mother of Mrs. Henry A. Barclay.

MRS. ODELL'S FIRST "AT HOME."

ALBANY, Jan. 16.—Mrs. Odell gave her first "at home" this afternoon at the Executive Mansion. In the receiving party were Mrs. Woodruff, Mrs. McDonough, Mrs. Alton B. Parker, Mrs. Graham, Mrs. William Gorham Rice, Mrs. Spencer L. Dawes, Mrs. Augustus Pruyn, Miss Parker, Miss Marvin, Miss King, Miss Treadwell, Miss Applegate, Miss Craig, Miss Weller, Miss Matthews, and Miss Odell, the last five named from Newburg. An interesting feature of the afternoon was the presence of Minister Wu and later of Gov. Odell.

Mrs. J. Newton Fiero gave a dinner of sixteen covers this evening in honor of Mrs. Benjamin B. Odell. The dinner was served at a long table in the mezzanine apartment of the Ten Eyck, which was decorated with American Beauty roses. Afterward the guests listened to the speeches of the State Bar Association.

Those who were present at the dinner were Mrs. Odell, Mrs. Timothy L. Woodruff, Mrs. Alton B. Parker, Mrs. John Alden Dix, Mrs. Simon W. Rosendale, Mrs. Graham, Mrs. Haight, Mrs. Irving G. Vann, Mrs. Spencer L. Dawes, Mrs. William P. Rudd, Mrs. Frederick Wadhams, Mrs. Fletcher W. Battershall, Miss Clara Odell, the Governor's sister, and Miss O'Brien.

DEATH LIST OF A DAY.

William Greene Ward.

William Greene Ward, Brigadier General National Guard, New York, died at his New York residence, 351 Lexington Avenue, of heart disease, at 4 o'clock yesterday morning. He was born in New York City, July 20, 1832, and was graduated from Columbia College in 1851. He was formerly a banker in the firm of Ward & Co.

He was in the United States service as Lieutenant Colonel of the Twelfth Regiment, New York State Militia, April 19 to Aug. 4, 1861. He was also a Colonel in the same regiment in the United States service from May 31 to Oct. 8, 1862, and participated in the defense at Harper's Ferry, and was paroled at the surrender, Sept. 15, 1862. He also served later in the Pennsylvania campaign in Dana's Division and Couch's Corps.

He was a grandson of Lieut. Col. Samuel Ward of the Revolutionary Army, and at the time of his death was President of the New York State Society of the Cincinnati. He was one of the early members of the college fraternity of Delta Psi, in which he always maintained active interest.

He married Emily Graham McKnight of Bordentown, N. J., June 17, 1857. Two daughters survive him. The funeral services will be held at Grace Church, Broadway and Tenth Street, Saturday morning, the 19th inst., at 10 o'clock.

Hiram R. Revels.

Special to The New York Times.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 16.—Hiram R. Revels, United States Senator from Mississippi from February, 1870, to March 4, 1871, dropped dead of paralysis at Aberdeen, Miss., to-day while addressing the Mississippi Methodist Church Conference. Mr. Revels was one of the most prominent and influential negroes in Mississippi in the early years of Republican rule after the civil war. He was a quadroon, the son of free colored parents. He was born in Fayetteville, N. C., Sept. 1, 1822, and was educated at the Friends' Seminary in Liberty, Ind. Later he was ordained a minister in the African Methodist Episcopal Church and became a leader among the negroes of Ohio, Illinois, Indiana, and Missouri.

During the civil war he assisted in organizing colored regiments in Maryland and at St. Louis, and followed the Federal Army to Jackson, Miss., preaching to the emancipated slaves. For many years he was President of Alcorn Agricultural University for negroes at Rodney, Miss.

At the time of his death Mr. Revels was Presiding Elder of the Holly Springs District Conference of his church.

Jacob Peabody Palmer.

Jacob Peabody Palmer, who for the past eleven years has been connected with the diamond department of Tiffany & Co., died of pneumonia Tuesday evening at the Chelsea. Mr. Palmer was identified with the jewelry business for many years. His father established the firm of Palmer, Bacheider & Co. in Boston, where for years the busines was noted as a high-class jewelry house. Mr. Palmer was more than ordinarily painstaking in all his business transactions, and this strongly developed faculty, with his uniform affability, endeared him as a friend to many of his patrons as well as his associates. He was in his sixty-ninth year. He leaves a daughter, Miss Bertha Palmer, who resided with him, and two sons, one a doctor in San Francisco, the other in business in Seattle, Washington. Funeral services were held at the Chelsea last night. The body will be taken for interment to Boxford, Mass.

Mrs. Elizabeth T. Addicks.

Mrs. Elizabeth T. Addicks, wife of Frederick P. Addicks, prominent in the copper industry, and a sister-in-law of J. Edward Addicks, died at the Hotel Netherland, where she lived, yesterday of pneumonia after an illness of about one month.

She was the daughter of William Bankson Taylor of Philadelphia, and married Mr. Addicks about twenty-five years ago at St. Mark's Protestant Episcopal Church in that city. She leaves three sisters in Philadelphia and a brother in Boston, but no children. Mrs. Addicks was very active in church work, and was a member of St. Bartholomew's in this city, and had for many years been taking a leading part in the work of All Souls' Church, in Brookline, Mass., where she resided until about a year ago. Arrangements for the funeral had not been completed last night, but the services will be held in Philadelphia, probably on Saturday.

The Rev. William F. Sheehy.

A requiem mass was celebrated yesterday morning in the Church of St. Mary's of the Immaculate Conception, at Leonard and Maujer Streets, Brooklyn, over the body of the Rev. William F. Sheehy, assistant rector of the church. Father Sheehy died on Sunday in St. Catherine's Hospital, of pneumonia. He had been ill but a few days.

Father Sheehy was born in Ireland thirty-five years ago. He had his classical course in Mount Mellery College, and then came to the United States. He was adopted into Brooklyn

ROAD CYCLES IN DEMAND

Fancy Runs to Serviceable and Easy Riding Wheels.

FEW RACERS IN THE GARDEN

New Motor-Cycle Adds Interest to the Exhibit—Thousands of Souvenirs Given Away.

A significant feature in the present bicycle show at the Madison Square Garden is the small space occupied by the racing wheel. This is in marked contrast to the shows three years ago and more, when the racer attracted a large part of the bicycle interest. Almost every big firm then was employing professional riders to use their machines and establish new records. Scores of these worn and battered wheels were exhibited as trophies of the track. Now scarcely one is to be seen. With the exception of the one ridden by Floyd A. McFarland, when he won the recent six-day bicycle race with Elkes, and the wheel upon which Charles M. Murphy made his mile record of 57 4-5 seconds, scarcely a professional racer is to be seen.

Nearly every big concern, however, shows a racing machine, but without exception they all admit that there is very little demand for them.

"The easy days of the professional cyclist are gone," said one salesman. "Why, a professional can't hardly get a wheel now unless he pays his money down like any other ordinary individual."

The tendency of the year is running more strongly in favor of comfortable, all-around roadsters. With their cushion frames, smaller tubing, less clumsy tires, coaster brakes, and other modern appliances for ease and lightness, the roadster of to-day is a model of neatness and durability, beside which the standard price one-hundred-dollar wheel of three years ago appears heavy and uncouth. The best racing machines may be purchased from $50 to $75, while well-made roadsters run from $25 to $50. One firm is showing an excellent racer for $10, while its highest-priced chain roadster is $35. The chainless wheels are higher, from $60 to $75.

"The cheaper prices do not mean that there has been any cheapening in manufacture," said a member of one prominent firm. "On the other hand, bicycles were never able to withstand so much wear and tear as to-day. Automatic machinery is the secret of the ability to sell at low prices, and improvements in machinery have benefited the bicycle immensely. Our best all-around machine for this year weighs twenty-three pounds and sells for $40."

While $75 seems to hold as the standard chainless price, two or three firms have some beauties for $60, one manufacturer making them this year for the first time.

In women's bicycles the double curved frames are the favorite styles, although the lower straight frame is by no means uncommon. "In England they are all straight," said one manufacturer, "but the American idea runs more to curves, and they certainly present a more graceful appearance." As a matter of fact, straight frames are really more durable, if there is to be any hard riding. A few tandems are seen, but they are evidently not as popular as a year or two ago.

The distinctive color of each make of wheels is a feature that is noticeable at once, and adds considerable brilliancy to the exhibit. Each manufacturer uses his special color, so that one who is posted on bicycles knows at a glance what name the wheel bears. Among the attractive colors are yellow, crimson, green, cherry, white, purple, maroon, and black.

Motor cycles are receiving a big boom in the present show, and the groups of spectators that are constantly to be found in the basement watching the practical tests, as the buzzing machines spin around the eight-lap track, are illustrative of the deep interest taken in this automobile contrivance for the bicycle. A new motor cycle was added yesterday. It is the first make of one of the smaller firms, and represents several months of careful experiment. Experts looked upon it with high favor. All the machinery, except the gasoline tank, which is behind the saddle, is within the diamond frame, but the most characteristic feature is the lower position of the motor. The weight, being thrown low, gives more steadiness and reduces the vibration to a minimum. There are also less levers to operate, and no lever is needed to control the gasoline. The tank holds 2¼ quarts of gasoline, and will last for fifty miles at the highest speed of twenty-five miles an hour, but it can be reduced as low as four miles. The weight is seventy-six pounds, and it costs about $200.

Evidences of the constant cheapening in price are noticeable everywhere. The man who cast his wheel aside three years ago or more will be amazed to see the large variety of durable and neat low-price bicycles, with fittings far more elaborate and improved than was his standard price one-hundred-dollar machine. A well-known firm is exhibiting a perfect beauty for $15 less than the bicycle it got out last year, and, said the agent, "this machine is stronger, lighter, and easier riding than the wheel of a year ago."

The fashion in saddles shows a marked tendency to return to the old English style of suspension saddle, instead of the padded saddle. Some of the padded saddles that were the thing two and three years ago are now seldom called for. The ladies' saddles are being made shorter and broader, and without the nose. Tan and maroon are the favorite colors this season.

There was an excellent attendance last night, and from 2,000 to 5,000 souvenirs were given away at many of the booths.

The tricycle, which will go to the most popular wheelmen's club, the voting to close to-morrow night, is being eagerly contested for. The vote up to Tuesday night shows: Greenwich Wheelmen, 1,449; Westchester Wheelmen, 637; Hackensack Wheelmen, 468; Harrison Wheelmen, 414.

There are over 500 names in the list of ballots for the chainless wheel to be won by the most popular school teacher, and for the chain wheel to be won by the most popular boy or girl pupil. Nearly 4,000 ballots have been received, many of the coupons cut from the newspapers coming in bunches. The voting for these wheels will also close to-morrow evening.

Large Entry List for Cycle Races.

Over 100 entries have been received for the cycling races at the Eighth Regiment Armory on Saturday evening, and each of the four events is well filled. For the team pursuit race, which will be the feature of the evening's entertainment, seven entries have been received, representing the Kings County Wheelmen, the Seventy-first Regiment, the Howard Wheelmen, the Twelfth Regiment, the Orange Wheelmen, the Eighth Regiment, and the Harlem Wheelmen.

On Saturday, Jan. 28, the finals in the bicycle races will take place, as well as the following athletic programme: 60-yard dash, handicap; 300-yard run, handicap; 880-yard run, novice, and one-mile run, handicap. Entries for the athletic events close at the armory with Capt. George F. Jacoby, Jan. 21, 1901.

Race Track Results.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Jan. 16.—Dissatisfaction with the riding of Jockey May during the meeting caused the stewards to suspend him to-day, pending an investigation. The stewards also decided to refuse further entry of the horse Spurs.

Owner S. W. Gary was suspended pending an investigation of the running of the horse Tourney in the last race to-day. The weather was cloudy and the track heavy. Don Clarencio was the only winning favorite. Summaries: Mile—Callear, 112, (Mitchell,) 1; Hinsdale, 100, 2; Cogswell, 104, 3. Time—1:49. Six furlongs—Sakatuck, 109, (Winkfield,) 1; W. J. Deboe, 100, 2; W. J. Baker, 107, 3. Time—1:19. Handicap hurdle chase, short course—Don Clarencio, 132, (Finnegan,) 1; Harve B., 135, 2; Brakeman, 137, 3. Time—3:32¾. One and one-eighth miles, handicap—Dramburg, 94, (Slack,) 1; Major Mansir, 97, 2; Ben Chance, 107, 3. Time—2:01¼. Seven furlongs—Goodale, 107, (Dale,) 1; Col. Cassidy, 107, 2; Braw Lad, 110, 3. Time—1:34¼. Seven furlongs—Waterhouse, 107, (Winkfield,) 1; Thurles, 110, 2; Pantland, 104, 3. Time—1:34.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 16.—Long shots were in evidence at Oakland. Alzura and Astor, both quoted at 25 to 1, were among the winners. Astor also won easily. Coburn was on three winners. Favorites captured the other four events. Results: Six furlongs—Marcato, 104, (Dominick,) 1; Florine III., 103, 2; Spry Lark, 102, 3. Time—1:18¼. Futurity course—Alzura, 107, (O'Connor,) 1; Maresa, 107, 2; Birdie Stone, 107, 3. Time—

HOCKEY PLAYER ASSAULTED.

Cobb of N. Y. A. C. Badly Injured in a Game in Brooklyn Rink—Brooklyn Team Won.

The growing tendency to roughness and rowdyism in hockey has been a conspicuous feature of the game since the competition for the championship began this season, but all former exhibitions of ruffianly methods were eclipsed last night at the Clermont Avenue Rink, in Brooklyn, when a plain case of assault, resulting in the dangerous wounding of a hockey player, was the result of a championship game between the Brooklyn Skating Club and the New York Athletic Club hockey teams. Murray of the Brooklyn club was the aggressor. In a scrimmage for the puck Murray, pushing into a tangle of players, had his hand raised in an effort to check the puck, when a blow from the hockey stick of Cobb of the New York Athletic Club caught him on the hand with a force that fractured several small bones and sent Murray into the surgeon's care. After the wounded member had been dressed and bandaged Murray went back into the game, and the play was resumed.

He had hardly got on the ice, when, passing the New York players, who were in a close group, Murray halted and whirled toward the New York Athletic Club men. The spectators, excited over the contest, saw Murray turn, raise his heavy hockey stick and bring it down with all the force that he could put into the blow on Cobb's head. There was an instant outburst of hisses and groans. Cobb pitched forward and fell senseless at Murray's feet, bleeding profusely from a long and deep scalp wound. Then the hisses and groans gave place to clamor for the Brooklyn skater's arrest. Murray was pursued off the ice by the clamor of the spectators. Several women fainted at the sight of the bleeding athlete on the ice.

Cobb, unconscious, was taken into the dressing room, where a surgeon, who was called, put eighteen stitches in the wound Murray's blow had caused. Later he was able to get up and, aided by his friends, go home.

Murray, after he reached the dressing rooms, stated that he was provoked to the assault by a sneering remark and offensive epithet Cobb applied to him as he attempted to skate past the group of New Yorkers. He denied that his action was to revenge the injury Cobb had inflicted on him earlier, and said that he would have paid no attention to his own hurt, except for the further provocation of Cobb's sneer and remark. Murray's action, however, was condemned on all sides, even his club mates blaming him for his loss of temper and ruffianly conduct. The game, however, was finished, and the New York team, weakened by the loss of Cobb, who could not play, was beaten by the score of 6 to 2. The roughness which was a feature of the early part of the contest was entirely absent from the finish. The Brooklyn team had the lead, and a big advantage from the start, and in the first period, to the surprise of the spectators, had a winning advantage. The result, in fact, was hardly in doubt when, in the second period, Murray assaulted and incapacitated Cobb. Leaving out the unseemly features of the contest, the Brooklyn club played a strong game, and one that was a revelation to the hockey enthusiasts, who expected little from Brooklyn. On the form of last night's contest, Brooklyn promises to be a strong factor in the championship. The line-up:

New York Athletic Club, 2.	Position.	Skating Club of Brooklyn, 6.
O'Donnell	Goal	McKenzie
Hunt	Point	Post
Radcliffe	Cover point	Jennison
Cobb	Forward	Williams, Holden
Fenwick	Forward	Lifflton
Hornfeck	Forward	Murray
Belden	Forward	Bullen

Referee—William Dobby, Crescent A. C. Umpires—S. Kennedy, Crescent A. C., for the Skating Club of Brooklyn, and Harry Niven, Hetley School, for the New York A. C. Timekeeper—J. Allen mith, Clermont Hockey Club. Goals—Liffiton, 2; Murray, 3; Cobb, 1; Williams, 1; Hornfeck, 1. Time—Twenty-minute halves.

Princeton Easily Won Hockey Game.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 16.—Swarthmore was at no stage of to-night's hockey match in the same class with Princeton, and the orange and black won as she pleased by the one-sided score of 7 goals to 0. The Quakers seemed at a loss how to act, and their slowness resulted in the Tigers making more than one goal. As a matter of fact, Swarthmore only had one shoot at Princeton's goal, and that was in the second half, when Capt. Clothier broke through the opposition and dribbled the puck the length of the rink, but he shot wide of the mark. Play otherwise was continually in the Quaker's territory and nothing but the excellent work of Harris at goal kept the Tiger score down. Princeton's team work was well nigh perfect, her passing being fine and every man from point down lending valuable assistance to the man with the puck. Purnell, Little, Ogden, Poe, and McAlpin did the bulk of the work for Princeton, and Price excelled for Swarthmore. The line-up:

Princeton, 7.	Position.	Swarthmore, 0.
Paul	Goal	Harris
Sheffield, Homans	Point	Welsh
Little	Cover point	Sinclair
Purnell	Forward	Clothier
Poe	Forward	Price
Ogden	Forward	Matthews
McAlpin	Forward	Hall

Goals—Purnell, 3; Ogden, 4. Referee—George W. Orton, Quaker City Hockey Club. Umpires—Messrs. Robertson and Roser. Timekeeper—Mr. Ballingall. Time—Fifteen-minute halves.

PENN MAY BAR ATHLETES.

Tewksbury and Baxter to be Refused Admission to Intercollegiate Contests.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 16.—Tewksbury, the famous runner, and Baxter, the champion high jumper, are likely to be declared ineligible to represent the University of Pennsylvania this season.

As far as can be learned Baxter is taking only one course in the department of law, and this course requires an attendance of but two hours a week. This may probably be the cause of his disqualification for the gymnastic team. With Tewksbury, however, matters are different. By all the rules of the Intercollegiate Athletic Association and the far stricter ones of the University of Pennsylvania Faculty Committee, Tewksbury is in perfectly good standing. But certain members of the Faculty Committee, the Board of Directors of the Athletic Association, and the student body are opposed to Tewksbury representing the university.

It seems that Pennsylvania is face to face with a crisis in athletics. If her authorities really believe that it is for the best interest of college sport that star athletes, after having graduated or left college, should not be brought back for post-graduate courses, now is the time for her to say so, and to prove her good faith by withdrawing her own offenders, no matter how valuable they may be. No proposal of a rule covering the question will be accepted from Pennsylvania in good faith by the intercollegiates after she has derived advantage from the practice she aims to abolish.

BASEBALL PROMOTERS HERE.

Representatives of four cities that are to be included in the new American Association, which it is proposed shall be formed to oppose "Ban" Johnson's American League, arrived in New York yesterday in obedience to a call for a meeting for organization of the newest and most entangible body engaged in promoting professional baseball. The meeting, it is announced, will be held at the Marlborough Hotel at noon to-day. Those who are here to attend it are F. C. Richter of Philadelphia, Harry D. Quinn, A. H. Koch, and Charles F. Havenor of Milwaukee; W. H. Watkins of Indianapolis, and Arthur Irwin of Boston. It was said that delegates from Baltimore and Washington will be here to-day.

The new baseball association was planned by the club owners of the National League to oppose and give fight to "Ban" Johnson's association in the cities to be included in his baseball plans, but the announcement has been made specifically that the National League will not in any way finance the new organization. On that question the men who are identified with the new body say they want no help, as they have been promised all the money they possibly can need. Of those who are here Koch has promised to furnish the capital for the Philadelphia Club, Havenor for Chicago, and Quinn for Baltimore. The Washington Club, it is said, will be backed by a Washington newspaper owner. There is doubt as to who will represent two other Western clubs, which are expected to be Louisville and Detroit.

Mr. Quinn, who was prominent in the formation of the American League, which

RARE BILLIARDS BY STARK

He Makes a Run of Fifty Points at Hanover Club.

LOUD CHEERS FOR THE VICTOR

Gardner Makes a Game Fight in the Association Championship, but Is Outclassed.

Brilliant billiards was again the characteristic feature of the championship tournament last night at the Hanover Club, Brooklyn, under the auspices of the National Association of Amateur Billiard Players. It was the third competition, and the last pair of the six competitors. J. Byron Stark of Wilkesbarre, Penn., and Edward Gardner of the Passaic Club, New Jersey, were the centre of an appreciative group of 500 or more billiard enthusiasts. The game, as all the matches are, was 300 points at fourteen-inch balk line, and Stark earned the victory, scoring his 300 points in thirty-seven innings, to 207 for Gardner.

While the game required six innings more than that won by Poggenburg Tuesday evening, it was characterized, probably, by the most brilliant finish seen in a billiard match this season. Stark made three runs of 36, 37, and 50, respectively, just missing by 4 points running it out, but in the next and thirty-seventh inning he made the final 4. His run of 50 is the highest single run made in a fourteen-inch balk-line game this season, and when Stark reached it the audience for the first time this week, broke out into cheers and wildly demonstrative applause.

Gardner had the honor, but made a poor opening, failing to score by a narrow margin. Stark then made his first appearance in a billiard contest in this locality this season, and his first inning was the most brilliant of any similar inning seen in a billiard tournament this year. He did not stop until he had rolled up 30 points.

This brilliant play, however, was not continued immediately, for not until the fifteenth inning was reached did Stark make another run in double figures, when he scored 11, his total then being only 63 to 39 for Gardner. At the twentieth inning, there was a return of high-class billiards, Stark rolling up 25 points and Gardner 21. It was the first really good show made by the Passaic Club champion, and he showed rare skill in many difficult open shots around the table.

At this point the game became more interesting. At the end of the twenty-fourth inning, Gardner was within 2 points of his famous rival, and at the conclusion of the next inning the Passaic cracksman was in the lead for the first time of the evening. It was only by 4 points, however, and he only held his advantage for two innings, for in the twenty-seventh inning Stark showed his very best form, and largely by the delicate touch which he possesses in so marked a degree he held the balls well together until he scored 27 points. This advanced him materially, giving him 160 points to 135 for Gardner.

Twenty-seven innings had been necessary to pass the 150 mark, and the remainder of the match was finished in ten innings. Stark reached the pinnacle of his rare play in the thirty-fourth, thirty-fifth, and thirty-sixth innings, scoring 123 points for those three innings, closing with his glorious run of 50. The scores:

J. Byron Stark—30 0 3 1 7 2 1 0 3 0 0 2 1 2 1 1 0 8 4 1 2 25 20 2 1 4 1 4 2 7 0 3 2 0 1 7 36 37 50 4. Total, 300. Average, 8 4-37. High runs, 50, 37, 36, 30, 27, 25, 20, 11.

Edward Gardner—0 2 1 1 5 5 0 6 3 1 4 0 2 7 2 7 5 0 0 2 1 15 12 5 18 6 0 3 2 3 10 1 7 0 7 20 10 12. Total, 207. Average, 5 22-37. High runs, 21, 20, 18, 15, 12, 12, 10, 10.

The game this evening will be between Frank Gardner, the Crescent Athletic Club champion, and Edward Gardner. Edward McLaughlin, as formerly, refereed the game.

Knickerbocker A. C. Billiards.

Three billiard games in the handicap tournament at the Knickerbocker Athletic Club were finished yesterday. Two were played and one taken by default, the latter going to A. M. Serrenson, whose opponent, L. A. Jirsa, failed to appear. The closest match was in the Class X series between F. W. Andress, handicap 125, and A. M. De Leeuw, handicap 110. The latter won by 110 to 124, a narrow victory of 1 point. In the Class Y game William Fraley, handicap 100, beat Dr. C. R. Fletcher, handicap 90, by 109 points to 76. J. A. Bennett will meet M. Lissberger to-day, and W. G. Hewitt and H. White will play in the other match.

TRAP SHOTS IN TWO MATCHES.

Thompson, Winner in First, Then Beaten by Morfey.

Two interesting pigeon shooting matches, both under handicap conditions, were decided at Inter-State Park, Queens, L. I., yesterday afternoon, while an appreciative gallery watched the efforts of the gunners and warmly applauded the skill of the marksmen. For want of attendance a big sweepstakes which had been announced did not take place, but the two matches made fairly well atoned for the failure of the sweepstakes. The birds shot at were all fast, strong pigeons, but beyond that, a wind that was half a gale blew from the southwest and added much to the hazards of each shot. The birds had only to rise to feel the force of the wind, and then immediately would wheel and fly with the full force of the high wind aiding them, getting up and away with such suddenness that quick work was demanded from the gunners. Even when hit, it commonly took a second barrel to save the bird before the boundary was reached.

In the first match J. A. Thompson of Yonkers, who has figured among those who made high scores in Grand American Handicaps, killed 24 birds in 25, the one last bird leaving behind a number of feathers to denote that he did not get away untouched. The winner of this match, who proved to be Thompson, had agreed to shoot another match against Thomas Morfey, and Morfey was then returned winner, killing 18 of 20 pigeons shot at. The scores follow:

HANDICAP MATCH, AT 25 LIVE BIRDS.

				K. M.
J. A. Thompson, 30 yards—	12¢2	12212	21111	21212—24 1
C. A. Brooks, 29 yards—	21121	221*1	11112	12112 *1111—22 3

HANDICAP MATCH, AT 20 LIVE BIRDS.

				K. M.
Thomas Morfey, 30 yards—	22221	012*2	21222	21122—18 2
J. A. Thompson, 29 yards—	22021	11122	201*1	12111—17 3

Referee—C. A. Lockwood of Jamaica.

GYMNASTS MAKE PROTEST.

Eighteen Societies Condemn Decrease of Recreation Space in City's Parks.

The New York members of the North American Gymnastic Union, composed of eighteen separate athletic and gymnastic societies, and numbering 2,500 members, has prepared for presentation to the Municipal Council a set of resolutions protesting against the proposed reduction of the space devoted to open-air recreation in the city parks. This protest is as follows:

Whereas, It has been reported in the public press that it is the intention of our city officials to reduce the area of the recreation lots in the new William S. Seward Park, thereby crippling and nullifying to a great extent the noble, beneficial, and unselfish work of the Outdoor Recreation League, and

Whereas, Our organizations have taken an active part in the establishment of playgrounds for the children, entailing no expense to the city whatever,

Therefore, be it resolved:

First—That we most emphatically condemn all efforts tending to discourage public spirited citizens from lending a hand in the establishment of beneficial and progressive improvements.

Second—That our organizations, having been laboring for the physical development of youth the last fifty years by erecting and maintaining gymnasia and at present employing in this cause property worth $300,000 in this city, most sincerely deplore any and all attempts to frustrate the results of our painstaking labors.

Third—That we implore all citizens to join us in our plea in order to save for the children of our swarming east side a place for the healthy development of their souls and bodies.

Fourth—That we call the attention of our city officials to the noble example of other municipalities in establishing public grounds for recreation and physical exercise, a fact which should remind us all emphatically that our new century is not the time of retrogression.

Fifth—Be it further resolved that a copy of

ON LOCAL BOWLING ALLEYS.

Liberty Bowlers Win Two Games in North Side League Series.

In the North Side Bowling League tournament on Pump's North Side Palace Alleys last night the Liberty team won two of three games with the Hyperion five. The scores:

HYPERION.	B.	C.		LIBERTY.	B.	C.
Name.	1st.	2d.	3d.	Name.	1st.	2d.	3d.
Stiefel	165	163	194	Wallace	163	159	131
Schlett	164	146	159	Cregan	133	168	184
McKenzie	138	129	173	King	179	125	136
Fecher	172	130	144	Collinger	153	181	159
Herrman	165	147	177	Mische	167	203	175
Total	798	711	847	Total	800	786	775

Company D of the Twelfth Regiment won three games from Company K in the regimental bowling tournament on the armory alleys last night. The scores:

FIRST GAME.—Company D—Heller, 135; Fitch, 95; Taylor, 139; McRae, 109; Bacon, 159. Total, 637.

Company K—Maidhoff, 113; Michaels, 129; King, 83; Filsen, 96; Osborn, 85. Total, 506.

SECOND GAME.—Company D—Heller, 121; Fitch, 107; Taylor, 110; McRae, 181; Bacon, 183. Total, 702.

Company K—Maidhoff, 111; Michaels, 150; King, 85; Filsen, 107; Osborn, 109. Total, 542.

THIRD GAME.—Company D—Heller, 116; Fitch, 116; Taylor, 102; McRae, 96; Bacon, 155. Total, 585.

Company K—Maidhoff, 100; Michaels, 114; King, 54; Osborn, 119; Filsen, 103. Total, 490.

Team No. 2 of Our Council not only won both its games in the tournament of the New York Royal Arcanum Bowling League on Starr's alleys last night, but also made a new high team score for the tournament of 907. The scores:

FIRST GAME.—Harlem Council—Cowles, 161; Cook, 153; G. Wagner, 194; Wyman, 158; Linden, 179. Total, 845.

Empire City Council—S. Walter, 196; Knubel, 179; Naugle, 170; Sullivan, 171; Gross, 165. Total, 880.

SECOND GAME.—Our Council Team No. 2—Coleman, 162; Wenderoth, 215; Watkins, 113; Ahner, 150; Starr, 223. Total, 863.

Harlem Council—Cowles, 146; Cook, 141; G. Wagner, 140; Wyman, 191; Linden, 155. Total, 773.

THIRD GAME.—Empire City Council—S. Walter, 175; Knubel, 140; Naugle, 151; Sullivan, 191; Gross, 180. Total, 836.

Our Council Team No. 2—Coleman, 171; Wenderoth, 208; Watkins, 159; Ahner, 183; Starr, 186. Total, 907.

In the Life Insurance League tournament on Ehlers's alleys last night, the Prudential and Mutual No. 2 teams each won two games and lost one, and the Germania and Mutual No. 1 teams each won one game and lost two. The scores:

FIRST GAME.—Germania Life Insurance Company—Huberth, 192; Junge, 125; McDowell, 112; Kruse, 184; Leyser, 163. Total, 786.

Mutual Life Insurance Company Team No. 2—Denning, 163; Moran, 167; Grinda, 141; Geisser, 141; Whitney, 158. Total, 771.

SECOND GAME.—Mutual Life Insurance Company Team No. 1—Babcock, 185; Carbonelle, 137; Mandeville, 139; Garrison, 130; Sorenson, 138. Total, 729.

Mutual Life Insurance Company Team No. 2—Denning, 165; Moran, 170; Grinda, 93; Whitney, 219; Geisser, 170. Total, 817.

THIRD GAME.—Germania Life Insurance Company—Huberth, 145; Junge, 131; McDowell, 139; Kruse, 149; Leyser, 162. Total, 726.

Mutual Life Insurance Company Team No. 1—Babcock, 120; Carbonelle, 148; Mandeville, 173; Garrison, 146; Sorenson, 180. Total, 774.

FOURTH GAME.—Prudential Life Assurance Company—Pierson, 167; Austin, 175; Green, 134; Schiff, 168; Olozaga, 126. Total, 770.

Germania Life Insurance Company—Huberth, 169; Junge, 158; Arnhelter, 117; Kruse, 162; Leyser, 194. Total, 791.

FIFTH GAME.—Prudential Life Assurance Company—Pierson, 200; Austin, 147; Green 146; Schiff 156; Olozaga, 213. Total, 862.

Mutual Life Insurance Company, Team No. 1—Babcock, 141; Carbonelle, 150; Mandeville, 168; Garrison, 195; Sorenson, 136. Total, 790.

SIXTH GAME.—Prudential Life Assurance Company—Pierson, 155; Austin, 154; Green, 164; Schiff, 167; Olozaga, 182. Total, 812.

Mutual Life Insurance Company Team No. 2—Denning, 153; Moran, 152; Grinda, 113; Geisser, 190; Whitney, 188. Total, 775.

The Corinthian bowlers outrolled the Friendship and the Enterprise teams in the Columbia League tournament, on Schlesing's Columbia Alleys, last night, and the Friendship five beat the Enterprise team, which was short one man in the first game. The scores:

FIRST GAME.—Friendship Bowling Club—Hewes, 183; Speck, 201; Higbie, 179; H. Ebling, 247; Brodbeck, 179. Total, 989.

Enterprise Bowling Club—Schuhmacher, 164; Weinstock, 160; Hunken, 119; Schlumbohn, 155. Total, 598.

SECOND GAME.—Enterprise Bowling Club—Schumacher, 169; Weinstock, 170; Hunken, 119; Schlumbohn, 175; Pickens, 166. Total, 799.

Corinthian Bowling Club—Holden, 193; Brocker, 223; Vollinger, 149; Smith, 159; Schaefer, 203. Total, 927.

THIRD GAME.—Corinthian Bowling Club—Holden, 106; Brocker, 154; Vollinger, 179; Smith, 198; Schaefer, 205. Total, 902.

Friendship Bowling Club—Hewes, 202; Speck, Holden, 166; Brocker, 154; Vollinger, 179; Total, 849.

The Standard team defeated the Premier and the Century Wheelmen fives in the Harlem League tournament on Thum & Kahlesdorf's Harlem Palace Alleys last night, and the Premiers beat the Wheelmen. Kohler of the Standards made a new high individual score of 256. The scores:

FIRST GAME—Standard Bowling Club—Kohler, 256; Ruckert, 164; Steeves, 159; Allison, 168; Kahlsdorf, 190. Total, 937.

Premier Bowling Club—E. Moses, 157; Lichtenberg, 144; Davison, 125; Ullman, 163; L. Moses, 190. Total, 779.

SECOND GAME.—Premier Bowling Club—E. Moses, 153; Lichtenberg, 199; Davison, 157; Ullman, 211; L. Moses, 185. Total, 905.

Century Wheelmen—Walsh, 157; Dumble, 179; L. Mulford, 139; Sauer, 163; Meyer, 147. Total, 784.

THIRD GAME.—Century Wheelmen—Walsh, 178; Dumble, 146; L. Mulford, 168; Saver, 140; Meyer, 188. Total, 818.

Standard Bowling Club—Kohler, 186; Ruckert, 152; Steeves, 165; Allison, 150; Kahlsdorf, 183. Total, 836.

Spalding Literary Union Team No. 1 defeated Cathedral Catholic Club Team No. 2 and St. Monica Catholic Club in the Archdiocesan Union League tournament, on Thumann's Colonial Alleys, last night, and the Cathedral team also beat the St. Monica five. The scores:

FIRST GAME.—Cathedral Catholic Club Team No. 2—Callahan, 140; W. Fox, 167; Gillespie, 147; B. Fox, 143; Lawrence, 206. Total, 812.

Spalding Literary Union Team No. 1—Scheffler, 156; Stafford, 166; Corrigan, 103; Davis, 133; F. J. Powers, 169. Total, 817.

SECOND GAME.—St. Monica Catholic Club—W. Connolly, 141; Flanegan, 132; Daly, 117; H. Connolly, 143; Gounod, 151. Total, 684.

Cathedral Catholic Club Team No. 2—Callahan, 142; W. Fox, 164; Gillespie, 138; B. Fox, 153; Lawrence, 169. Total, 766.

THIRD GAME.—Spalding Literary Union Team No. 1—Scheffler, 171; Stafford, 163; Corrigan, 157; Davis, 180; F. J. Powers, 145. Total, 816.

St. Monica Catholic Club—W. Connolly, 125; Flanagan, 141; Daly, 172; H. Connolly, 100; Gounod, 132. Total, 670.

The Golden Rod team forfeited two games in the American National tournament on Thrum's Germania alleys last night, and the Palace bowlers beat the Bleecker five by three pins. The scores:

FIRST GAME.—Palace Bowling Club—Finnigan, 188; Hertzog, 127; Cahoon, 139; Jackson, 153; Beinert, 211. Total, 818.

Golden Rod Bowling Club—Forfeited.

SECOND GAME.—Bleecker Bowling Club—Beam, 188; Munro, 135; Rosenberg, 171; Wragge, 167; Ritter, 163. Total, 824.

Golden Rod Bowling Club—Forfeited.

THIRD GAME.—Bleecker Bowling Club—Beam, 172; Munro, 149; Rosenberg, 168; Wragge, 132; Ritter, 170. Total, 800.

Palace Bowling Club—Finnigan, 186; Hertzog, 168; Cahoon, 172; Jackson, 153; Beinert, 144. Total, 803.

The Bulletin team won two games from The Tribune eight in the tournament of the Morning Newspaper Bowling League on Thum's Germania alleys yesterday. The scores:

New York Commercial Bulletin—Hughes, 157; Halligan, 132; Hall, 130; Valentine, 125; White, 118; Sweeny, 102; Flanagan, 206; Melville, 198. Total, 1,166.

Tribune Bowling Club—Vanderveer, 132; McKee, 109; Riley, 134; Bentley, 153; Christy, 121; Born, 133; Louis, 148; Roll, 105. Total, 1,035.

SECOND GAME—New York Commercial Bulletin—Hughes, 188; Halligan, 198; Hall, 109; Valentine, 128; White, 168; Powell, 109; Flanagan, 140; Melville, 169. Total, 1,204.

New York Tribune—Vanderveer, 179; O'Neil, 138; Riley, 145; Bentley, 150; Christy, 109; Bullard, 96; Louis, 157; Roll, 165. Total, 1,148.

Quaker Golfers Arrange Open Events.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 16.—Metropolitan golfers received much consideration at the annual meeting of the Golf Association of Philadelphia, held here to-day. In addition to an all-Philadelphia tournament, it was decided to offer a trophy called the Philadelphia Cup, which will be likely attract golfers from the metropolitan and other districts. The tournament will be played during the season over the course of the Philadelphia Country Club at Bala.

The encouragement of inter-city matches is the aim of the Golf Association of Philadelphia, and home-and-home contests with the Metropolitan Golf Association, and, if expedient, with Baltimore and Washington, were decided upon.

The delegates made one important change in the election of officers for the ensuing year. Alan H. Harris, who has filled the position of Secretary and Treasurer of the association since its organization, was compelled to resign the office, owing to the pressure of other business, and C. P. Linegan was elected to fill the vacancy.

Golden Rod Bowlers Forfeit.

The Golden Rod team forfeited two games in the American National tournament on Thrum's Germania alleys last night, and the Palace bowlers beat the Bleecker five by three pins. The scores:

FIRST GAME.—Palace Bowling Club—Finnigan, 188; Hertzog, 127; Cahoon, 139; Jackson, 153; Beinert, 211. Total, 818.

Golden Rod Bowling Club—Forfeited.

SECOND GAME.—Bleecker Bowling Club—Beam, 188; Munro, 135; Rosenberg, 171; Wragge, 167; Ritter, 163. Total, 824.

Golden Rod Bowling Club—Forfeited.

THIRD GAME.—Bleecker Bowling Club—Beam, 172; Munro, 149; Rosenberg, 168; Wragge, 132; Ritter, 170. Total, 800.

Palace Bowling Club—Finnigan, 186; Hertzog, 168; Cahoon, 172; Jackson, 153; Beinert, 144. Total, 803.

The Bulletin team won two games from The Tribune eight in the tournament of the Morning Newspaper Bowling League on Thum's Germania alleys yesterday. The scores:

New York Commercial Bulletin—Hughes, 157; Halligan, 132; Hall, 130; Valentine, 125; White, 118; Sweeny, 102; Flanagan, 206; Melville, 198. Total, 1,166.

Tribune Bowling Club—Vanderveer, 132; McKee, 109; Riley, 134; Bentley, 153; Christy, 121; Born, 133; Louis, 148; Roll, 105. Total, 1,035.

SECOND GAME—New York Commercial Bulletin—Hughes, 188; Halligan, 198; Hall, 109; Valentine, 128; White, 168; Powell, 109; Flanagan, 140; Melville, 169. Total, 1,204.

New York Tribune—Vanderveer, 179; O'Neil, 138; Riley, 145; Bentley, 150; Christy, 109; Bullard, 96; Louis, 157; Roll, 165. Total, 1,148.

Sporting Goods.

Have You Seen Our New Ones?

Men's Chainless, - - - $60
Women's Chainless, - - $60
Chain Racer, - - - - - $50

Better call at the

Rambler

department at the

CYCLE SHOW

and see them. They are up-to-date and a little ahead.

New York Salesrooms:
939-943 Eighth Avenue.

Brooklyn:
342-344 Flatbush Avenue.

PERFECT IN EVERY DETAIL
Prices That Suit Buyer and Seller.
1901 MONARCH BICYCLES
ABSOLUTELY NOTHING LEFT FOR IMPROVEMENT.

9 New Models in Roadsters, Light Roadsters, Bevel Gear Chainless Cushion Frame.

1901 IMPROVEMENTS
New Crank Hanger Mechanism, Smaller Tubing, Lighter Weight, Superb Enameling, Unexcelled Nickeling.

TELL US WHAT YOU THINK OF MONARCHS AND GET OUR SOUVENIR.
Monarch Sales Department, 20 Warren Street.

Automobiles
propelled by the various motive powers,
ELECTRICITY, STEAM, GASOLINE, are exhibited at the CYCLE SHOW by the American Bicycle Company, AUTOMOBILE DEPARTMENT
NEW YORK STORE, 91 FIFTH AVE.

HARTFORD BICYCLES.

Hartfords have always been medium-priced, but they have met every condition of work and wear more fully than many bicycles for which more pretentious claims have been made. Price $35.

VEDETTE BICYCLES are for those who want low-priced machines that are reliably guaranteed by makers of known name and reputation. Price $25.

NEW MODELS
Now on Exhibition at the Columbia Booth, Madison Square Garden.

COLUMBIA SALES DEPT.,
HARTFORD, CONN.
NEW YORK BRANCH,
12 Warren Street.

SHOOTING ON ARMORY RANGES.

Company K of the Seventh Regiment Leads in Clark Trophy Contest.

In the annual rifle competition of the Seventh Regiment for the company team championships, which was continued on the armory ranges last night, the teams of Company K scored totals of 1,061 for the Edward Kemp trophy for teams of twenty-five men and 2,007 for the Col. Emmons Clark trophy for teams of fifty men. The latter score is the best of the series so far, being two points better than the score of 2,005, made by Company F on the preceding evening, which in turn was two points better than Company D's score of 2,003 on Monday evening. For the Kemp trophy, Company F leads with a score of 1,067, Company K is second, with last night's score of 1,061, and Company D is third with 1,041.

The competition will be continued this evening. Last night's scores follow:

COMPANY K—KEMP TROPHY.

Name.	200 Yds.	500 Yds.	Total.
Private T. A. Johnson	23	25	48
Private W. C. Meissner	23	24	47
Private A. Lenssen, Jr.	23	23	46
Capt. R. McLean	22	24	46
Private J. McKesson

THE COMMERCIAL WORLD

CASH QUOTATIONS.

Wheat, No. 2 red	.70¾
Corn, No. 2 mixed	.46
Oats, No. 2 mixed	.30½
Flour, Minneapolis patents	$4.20
Cotton, middling	.09¾
Coffee, No. 7 Rio	.07 3-16
Sugar, granulated	5.00
Molasses, O. K. prime	.40
Beef, family	11.00
Beef hams	20.00
Tallow, prime	.05 3-16
Pork, mess	14.25
Hogs, dressed, 160 lb	.07
Lard, prime	7.75
Butter, Western creamery	.21

CHICAGO, Jan. 16.—Cash quotations were as follows: Flour dull and easy; No. 3 Spring wheat, 65@72c; No. 2 red, 75@76c; No. 2 corn, 36¾c; No. 2 yellow, 36¾c; No. 2 oats, 24c; No. 2 white, 29½@29¾c; No. 3 white, 29@29½c; No. 2 rye, 52½c; fair to choice malting barley, 52@62c; No. 1 flaxseed, $1.65; No. 1 Northwestern, $1.66; prime timothy seed, $4.65; mess pork, per barrel, $13.80@$14; lard, per 100 lb, $7.40@$7.42½; short ribs, sides, (loose,) $7@$7.25; dry-salted shoulders, (boxed,) 6¾@6¾c; short clear sides, (boxed,) $7.30@$7.40; whisky, basis of high wines, $1.27.

COTTON.—The tables were turned completely in yesterday's market for cotton futures, the bulls being in control of the pit from opening to closing, while the bears were in retreat much of the time. Before the demand for cotton had been appreciably lessened, prices had risen to a level of 140@11 points above the closing bids of Tuesday, while Liverpool had reached a net gain of 3 to 4½ points. Claims that cotton mill conditions were improved, that spot cotton South was bringing fully 1-8c higher prices, and that receipts were in shape to fall off considerably, all helped to strengthen bull convictions and to weaken the confidence of overstaid shorts. During the afternoon the market ruled generally firm, though quiet, and at the close was steady, with prices net 12@16 points higher. Spot cotton closed dull, with quotations unchanged on the basis of 9¾c for middling upland and 10¼c for middling Gulf. Sales, 1,500 bales. Southern spot markets were telegraphed as follows: Galveston, New Orleans, steady, unchanged, at 9 7-16c; Mobile steady, unchanged, 9¼c; Savannah steady, 1-16c advance, at 9 7-16c; Charleston steady, unchanged, at 9¼c; Wilmington firm, unchanged, at 9¼c; Norfolk steady, unchanged, 9¼c; Baltimore nominal at 10c; Augusta firm, unchanged, at 9¾c; St. Louis quiet, 1-16c lower, at 9¾c.

Contract prices ranged as follows:

	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.
January	9.57	9.68	9.57	9.64@9.65
February	9.37	9.46	9.37	9.43@9.45
March	9.30	9.41	9.30	9.40@9.41
April	9.28	9.35	9.28	9.36@9.38
May	9.28	9.37	9.27	9.36@9.37
June	9.28	9.35	9.28	9.34@9.35
July	9.25	9.35	9.25	9.32@9.34
August	8.96	9.08	8.96	9.07@9.08
September	8.52	8.60	8.52	8.57@8.59
October	8.17	8.27	8.17	8.26@8.28
November	8.15	8.15	8.15	8.15@8.20

LIVERPOOL, Jan. 16.—Spot Cotton—Increased demand; prices, 1-32d lower; American middling fair, 5 13-16d; good middling, 5 17-32d; middling, 5 7-16d; low middling, 5 9-32d; good ordinary, 5 1-32d; ordinary, 4 25-32d. The sales of the day were 10,000 bales, of which 500 bales were for speculation and export, and included 8,700 bales American. Receipts, 15,000 bales, including 9,100 bales American. Futures opened steady and closed firm; American middling, low middling clause, January, 5 24-64d buyers; January and February, 5 22-64d buyers; February and March, 5 19-64d buyers; March and April, 5 17-64d buyers; April and May, 5 15-64d buyers; May and June, 5 13-64d buyers; June and July, 5 10-64@5 11-64d buyers; July and August, 5 8-64d sellers; August and September, 4 59-64@4 60-64d buyers; September and October, 4 59-64@4 60-64d buyers; October, good ordinary clause, 4 44-64d nominal; October and November, good ordinary clause, 4 32-64d nominal.

BREADSTUFFS.—WHEAT—Although for a time yesterday the wheat market gave some indications of making a turn for the better, it fell off again near the close and finished the day in a weak, unsettled state, with prices at the lowest point since the reaction began last week and 3@4½c lower than the previous night. On the curb, at 3 o'clock, May wheat was 1-16c below the close and sentiment very much unsettled by the day's events, which have proved a great surprise to the operat ors who believed that prices had touched bottom for the time being around 81c for May, and bought accordingly. At one time calls for all of next week sold at 84½c. Quotations of cash wheat, free on board afloat, were as follows: No. 1 hard, Duluth, 80½c, nominal; old No. 1 Northern, Duluth, 80½c; No. 1 Northern, Duluth, 85½c; No. 1 Northern, Chicago, 81½c; No. 2 red, New York, 79¾c, afloat; No. 2 hard, Chicago, 80¾c, prompt; No. 2 hard, New York, 78¾c, nearby.

DULUTH, Jan. 16.—Wheat—No. 1 hard, cash, 74½c; to arrive, 75½c; May, 78½c; No. 1 Northern, cash, 72½c; to arrive, 73½c; May, 76½c; July, 77½c; No. 2 Northern, 69@69½c; No. 3 Spring, 54@61c. Corn, 35¾c. Oats, 25¾@25¾c.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 16.—Wheat—No. 2 red, cash, 71¾c; January, 71½c; May, 75¼@75½c; July, 77¾c. Corn—No. 2 cash, 36½c; January, 37½c; May, 37½c. Oats—No. 2, cash, 25c; January, 24½c; May, 25½c; No. 2 white, 27½c.

MILWAUKEE, Jan. 16.—Wheat lower; No. 1 Northern, 76@77½c; No. 2 Northern, 72@73½c. Rye lower; No. 1, 53c. Barley steady, No. 2, 60c; sample, 44@55c.

FLOUR AND MEAL.—Spring patents were quoted $4@$4.35; Winter straights, $3.45@3.55; Winter patents, $3.60@3.80; spring clears, $3@$3.30; extra No. 1 Winter, $2.70@2.90; extra No. 2 Winter, $2.50@2.65; no grade, $1.80@$1.90; spot and to arrive, buckwheat flour, $2.10 @2.20. Rye Flour—Dull, fair to choice, $3.15@$3.45; choice to fancy, $3.45@3.60. Cornmeal—Quiet. Kiln dried, $2.35@2.40, as to brand. Bag Meal—Easy. Fine white and yellow, $1; coarse, 90@95c. Feed—Dull. Spring bran, spot, $16.75@$17; sacks to arrive, 200 lb, $17@$17.50; Spring bran, bulk, $16.25@$16.50; coarse Winter bran, $16@$18.50; city bran, $16.50@$17; corn meal, $25; linseed oilcake, $27.75; corn oilcake, $19; hominy chop, $17; oil meal, $28.25.

NEW YORK PRICES.

Wheat—	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.
January	....	....	....	78½
March	80 11-16	80 11-16	79¾	80¼
May	81 1-16	81 3-16	80	80¾
July	80½	80½	79¾	79¾
Corn—
January	....	....	....	46
March	....	....	....	44¾
May	43 15-16	43 15-16	43⅝	43¾
July	....	....	....	43¾
Lard—
January	....	....	....	$7.70

CHICAGO PRICES.

Wheat—	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.
January	73¾	74	72 7-16	72½
February	74½	74¾	72 13-16	73
May	76¾	76¾	75 5-16	75½
Corn—
January	36⅞	36⅞	36⅜	36⅜
February	36⅝	36⅞	36⅜	36⅜
May	38½	38 5-16	38	38
Oats—
January	23⅞	23⅞	23¼	23⅛
May	24⅜	24⅝	24¾	24⅜
Lard—
January	....	....	....	$7.75
May	$7.55	$7.55	$7.45	$7.45
Ribs—
January	....	....	....	7.00
May	7.20	7.20	7.10	7.12½
Pork—
January	13.97½	13.97½	13.90	13.90
May	14.17½	14.17½	13.95	14.00

PROVISIONS.—PORK—Quiet; mess, $13.75@$14.75; family, $15@$16; short clear, $14.50@$17. BEEF—Steady; mess, $9@$9.50; family, $10@$12; packet, $10@$10.50; extra India mess, $14@$16. BEEF HAMS—Dull, $19.50@$20.50. DRESSED HOGS—Steady; bacon, 6¾c; 180-lb, 7c; 160-lb, 7c; pigs 7¾c. CUTMEATS—Pickled bellies steady; smoking, 8¾c; 10-lb, 8c; 12-lb, 7¾@8c; 14-lb, 7¼c; pickled shoulders dull, 5¾@6c; pickled hams steady, 8½@9¼c. TALLOW—Firm; city, 5¾@5¾c; country, 5¼@5¾c. LARD—Weak; $7.75; city lard quiet, $7.30; refined lard easier; South America, $8.50; Continent, $7.85; Brazil, $8.50; compound easy; city, $5.50@5.62½; Western, $5.50@5.62½. STEARINE—Steady; oleo, 7½c; city lard stearine, 8@8¼.

COFFEE.—Contract prices ranged as follows:

	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.
January	5.75	5.75	5.70	5.65@5.70
February	5.80	5.80	5.80	5.75@5.80
March	5.90	5.90	5.85	5.80@5.85
April	....	....	....	5.80@5.90
May	5.95	5.95	5.90	5.85@5.90
June	....	....	....	5.90@5.95
July	6.05	6.05	6.00	5.95@6.00
August	....	....	....	5.95@6.00
September	6.10	6.10	6.00	5.95@6.00
October	6.10	6.10	6.05	6.00@6.05
November	....	....	....	6.00@6.05
December	....	....	....	6.10@6.15

NAVAL STORES.—Tar, regulars, $2; tar oil, bbls., $4; spirits of turtentine, 40@40½c; resin, common to good strained, $1.70@ F, $1.75; F, $1.80; G, $1.85; H, $1.90; I, $1.95; K, $2; M, $2.15; N, $2.35; W G, $2.55; W W, $3.10.

WILMINGTON, N. C., Jan. 16.—Spirits of turpentine—Nothing doing; receipts, 23 casks. Resin steady, $1.20@$1.25; receipts, 245 bbls. Crude turpentine quiet, $1.30 and $2.55; receipts, 22 casks. Tar firm, $1.30; receipts, 280 bbls.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Jan. 16.—Turpentine firm, 37c. Resin firm, unchanged.

OILS.—Petroleum, bbls, $7.45, and in bulk, $4.90; Philadelphia, bbls, $7.45, and in bulk, $4.85; refined, cases, New York, $8.50, Cottonseed Oil—Prime crude, bbls, 23c; nominal; prime Summer yellow, 30@30½c; off Summer yellow, 29¼c; prime white, 34@35c; prime Winter yellow, 33c. Linseed—American, raw, 56c; American, boiled, 58c; Calcutta, raw, 85c; Western linseed quoted 2c under city brands. Lard oil—62@63c.

METALS.—Iron, Northern, No. 1 foundry, $16; iron, Southern, No. 2 soft, $15.50; steel rails, $26; pig iron warrants, $16; lake copper, inget, $17; tin, $26.50; exchange, lead, $4.37½; spelter, $4.07½.

SUGAR.—Centrifugal, 4⅝c; muscovado, 3⅝c; molasses, 3⅜c.

Bankruptcy Notices.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States for the Southern District of New York.—In bankruptcy.—In the matter of GOTTSCHALK COHN, bankrupt.—In Bankruptcy.

To the creditors of Gottschalk Cohn of the City and County of New York, and district aforesaid, a bankrupt:

Notice is hereby given that on the 7th day of January, A. D. 1901, the said Gottschalk Cohn was duly adjudicated bankrupt, and that the first meeting of creditors will be held at the office of F. K. Pendleton, referee, No. 27 William Street, Room 1,412, in the City and County of New York, on the 25th day of January, A. D. 1901, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, at which time the said creditors may attend, prove their claims, appoint a trustee, examine the bankrupt, and transact such other business as may properly come before said meeting.

F. K. PENDLETON,
Referee in Bankruptcy.

January 16th, 1901.

Summonses.

NEW YORK SUPREME COURT.—Trial desired in New York County.—ELLEN BLACKBURNE, plaintiff, against CHARLES W. FURBER, and Emma B. Furber, his wife; Amthelo J. Furber; Amelia F. Dykman, if living, and if she be dead, John Doe and Richard Roe, and all other persons having or claiming to have as legatees, legal representatives, executors, administrators, or assigns of Amelia F. Dykman, or otherwise, any interest in a certain mortgage made to Amelia F. Dykman by Charles W. Furber and Emma A. Furber, dated September 9th, 1882, and recorded in the office of the Register of the City and County of New York, in Liber 1,692 of Mortgages, Page 14, said names John Doe and Richard Roe being fictitious, and the said John Doe and Richard Roe and all other persons having any interest in said mortgage being unknown to this plaintiff; George W. Proctor Knott; Eleanor Knott; New York Telephone Company; Robert B. Nooney, Commissioner of Jurors in the City of New York; Patrick Curry; the Sunlight Oil and Gasoline Company; Laura Landgraff, executrix of the last will and testament of Henry A. Landgraff, deceased, defendants.—Amended summons.

To the above-named defendants and each of them: You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action, and to serve a copy of your answer on the plaintiff's attorney within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service, and in case of your failure to appear, or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default, for the relief demanded in the complaint.—Dated New York, May 26, 1900. DAVID THORNTON,
Plaintiff's Attorney,
Office and Post Office address, 38 Park Row, Manhattan, New York City, N. Y.

To Thomas Rae, Barbara Rae Simpson, defendants:

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication pursuant to an order of Honorable David Leventritt, Justice of the Supreme Court, dated the 19th day of December, 1900, and filed with the complaint in the office of the Clerk of the County of New York, at the County Court House, the Borough of Manhattan, New York City, N. Y. DAVID THORNTON,
Plaintiff's Attorney,
Office and Post Office address, 38 Park Row, Manhattan, New York City, N. Y.
d27-1aw6wTh

N. Y. SUPREME COURT.—Trial desired in New York County.—JEANNETTE W. RYER, plaintiff, against CHARLES A. RAE and Amanda Rae, his wife, Barbara Rae Simpson, Thomas Rae, Mary E. Rae, George Watson, husband of Margaret Watson, deceased; Edward Watson, James Watson, Mary Watson, Gertrude Watson, Francis Watson, and Margaret Rae Watson, defendants.

To the above-named defendants:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action, and to serve a copy of your answer on the plaintiff's attorney within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service, and in case of your failure to appear, or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default, for the relief demanded in the complaint.—Dated May 22d, 1900.
GEORGE WOOD, Plaintiff's Attorney,
Office and Post Office address, 54 Market Street, Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

To Thomas Rae, Barbara Rae Simpson, defendants:

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication pursuant to an order of Honorable David Leventritt, Justice of the Supreme Court, dated the 19th day of December, 1900, and filed with the complaint in the office of the Clerk of the County of New York, at the County Court House, in the Borough of Manhattan, New York City, N. Y. GEORGE WOOD,
Plaintiff's Attorney,
Office and Post Office address, 54 Market Street, Poughkeepsie, N. Y.
d27-1aw6wTh

Bankruptcy Notices.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States for the Southern District of New York.—In bankruptcy.—In the matter of CLOTILDE AIKAN, bankrupt.—No. 3,591.

To the creditors of Clotilde Aikan, of the County of New York, and district aforesaid, bankrupt.

Notice is hereby given that on the 12th day of January, A. D. 1901, the said Clotilde Aikan was duly adjudicated bankrupt; and that the first meeting of creditors will be held at my office, No. 302 Broadway, City and County of New York, N. Y., on the 29th day of January, A. D. 1901, at 10:30 o'clock in the forenoon, at which time the said creditors may attend, prove their claims, appoint a trustee, examine the bankrupt, and transact such other business as may properly come before said meeting.

NATHANIEL A. PRENTISS,
Referee in Bankruptcy.

New York, January 16th, 1901.

NO. 2,866.—UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT for the Southern District of New York.—JOSEPH BASKIN and the copartnership of NEWMAN & BASKIN, Bankrupts.

Notice is hereby given that Joseph Baskin, one of said bankrupts, has filed his petition, dated January 14, 1901, praying for a discharge from all his debts in bankruptcy, and that all creditors and other persons are ordered to attend at the hearing upon said petition before the Hon. Addison Brown, United States District Judge, in the United States Court House and Post Office Building, in the City and County of New York, on Wednesday, February 6, 1901, at 10:30 A. M., and then and there show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of said petitioner should not be granted, and also attend the examination of the bankrupt thereon.

THEODOR AUB,
Referee in Bankruptcy.

New York, January 16, 1901.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States for the Southern District of New York.—In Bankruptcy.—In the matter of WILLIAM H. C. JACKSON, Bankrupt.—In Bankruptcy.

To the creditors of William H. C. Jackson, of the County of New York, and district aforesaid, a bankrupt:

Notice is hereby given that on the 12th day of January, A. D. 1901, the said William H. C. Jackson was duly adjudicated bankrupt; and that the first meeting of creditors will be held at the office of Nathaniel A. Prentiss, Referee in bankruptcy, 120 Broadway, New York City, on the 23th day of January, A. D. 1901, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, at which time the said creditors may attend, prove their claims, appoint a trustee, examine the bankrupt, and transact such other business as may properly come before said meeting.

NATHANIEL A. PRENTISS,
Referee in Bankruptcy.

Jan. 16th, 1901.

NO. 3,377.—IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF the United States for the Southern District of New York.—In Bankruptcy.—In the matter of ABRAHAM LEVY, bankrupt.

To the creditors of Abraham Levy, of the City and County of New York, and district aforesaid, a bankrupt; and of the firm of Gohen & Levy:

Notice is hereby given that on the 9th day of January, A. D. 1901, the said Abraham Levy was duly adjudicated bankrupt, and that the first meeting of creditors will be held at my office, No. 66 Wall Street, Borough of Manhattan, in New York City, on the 29th day of January, A. D. 1901, at 10:30 o'clock in the forenoon, at which time the said creditors may attend, prove their claims, appoint a trustee, examine the bankrupt, and transact such other business as may properly come before said meeting.

MACGRANE COXE,
Referee in Bankruptcy.

New York, January 10th, 1901.

U. S. DISTRICT COURT FOR THE SOUTHern District of New York.—No. 3,284.—In the matter of ADOLF MOSKOVITZ, bankrupt.

Notice is hereby given that Adolf Moskovitz, bankrupt, has filed his petition, dated January 3d, 1901, praying for a discharge from all his debts in bankruptcy, and that all creditors and other persons are ordered to attend at the hearing upon said petition before the Hon. Addison Brown, U. S. District Judge, in the U. S. Court House and Post Office Building, in the City and County of New York, on Wednesday, February 6th, 1901, at 10:30 A. M., and then and there show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of said petitioner should not be granted, and also attend the examination of the bankrupt thereon.

MACGRANE COXE,
Referee in Bankruptcy.

New York, January 10th, 1901.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States for the Southern District of New York.—In Bankruptcy.—In the matter of JOHN E. SCHARSMITH, Bankrupt.—No. 3,285.

Notice is hereby given that John E. Scharsmith, bankrupt, has filed his petition, dated January 10th, 1901, praying for a discharge from all his debts in bankruptcy, and that all creditors and other persons are ordered to attend at the hearing upon said petition before the Hon. Addison Brown, United States District Judge, in the United States Court House and Post Office Building, in the City and County of New York, on Wednesday, January 30th, 1901, at 10:30 A. M., and then and there show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of said petitioner should not be granted, and also attend the examination of the bankrupt thereon.

STANLEY W. DEXTER,
Referee in Bankruptcy.

Dated January 10th, 1901.

Surrogate Notices.

HAVEMEYER, WILLIAM M.—In pursuance of an order of Honorable Abner C. Thomas, a Surrogate of the County of New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against WILLIAM M. HAVEMEYER, late of Buenos Ayres, Argentine Republic, South America, deceased, to present the same, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscribers at his place of transacting business, No. 32 Nassau Street, in the City of New York, on or before the 14th day of June next.—Dated New York, December 13th, 1900. WILLIAM R. WILLCOX, Executor.
HENRY H. WHITMAN, Attorney for Executor, 41 Wall Street, New York City.

HODGINS, JAMES.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. Abner C. Thomas, a Surrogate of the County of New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against JAMES HODGINS, late of the County of New York, deceased, to present the same, with vouchers thereof, to the subscribers, at their place of transacting business, at the office of Bilger & Nixon, No. 7 Beekman Street, in the City of New York, (Borough of Manhattan,) on or before the 10th day of March, 1901, next.—Dated New York, the 31st day of August, 1900. DANIEL DONOVAN, Executor. BILGER & NIXON, Attorneys for Executor, 7 Beekman Street, N. Y. City, (Borough of Manhattan.)

HOFF, IGNATZ.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. Frank T. Fitzgerald, a Surrogate of the County of New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against IGNATZ HOFF, late of the County of New York, deceased, to present the same, with vouchers thereof, to the subscribers, at their place of transacting business, as No. 42 West 61st Street, Borough of Manhattan, in the City of New York, on or before the first day of July, 1901.—Dated New York, the 12th day of December, 1900.
ANDREW WEIS,
LAWRENCE SCHLOSSER,
Executors.
JOHN L. BROWER, Attorney for Executors, 156 and 158 Broadway, Borough of Manhattan, City of New York. d13-1aw6mTh

PEARSE, AUGUSTUS F.—The People of the State of New York, by the grace of God free and independent, to MARY L. PEARSE, Martha W. Hedden, Augustus F. Pearse, Lura Hollenbeck, Edwin A. Hollenbeck, Martha Wilkinson, George A. Pearse, Jun., Lucretia Burt, Laura Augueta Smith, Charles F. Hedden, George A. Hedden, William H. Hedden, Edward Hedden, Florence Laughlin, Nelson Stuart Smith, Anna Cole Smith, Laura M. Gorman, Carrie V. Rooney, George A. Pearse, Junior, Frederick W. Pearse, Edward H. Pearse, and Pauline Pearse, and to all persons interested in the estate of AUGUSTUS F. PEARSE, late of the County of New York, deceased, as creditors, legatees, next of kin, or otherwise, send greeting:

You and each of you are hereby cited and required personally to be and appear before our Surrogate of the County of New York at the Surrogate's Court of said county, held at the County Court House in the County of New York, on the fifteenth day of February, 1901, at half past ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, then and there to attend a judicial settlement of the accountings of Charles B. Pearse and Edward Tillou as Executors of and Trustees under the last will and testament of said deceased and such of you as are hereby cited, as are under the age of twenty-one years, are required to appear by your guardian, if you have one, or if you have none, to appear and apply for one to be appointed, or in the event of your neglect or failure to do so, a guardian will be appointed by the Surrogate to represent and act for you in the proceeding.

In testimony whereof, we have caused the seal of the Surrogates' Court of the said County of New York to be hereunto affixed. Witness, Hon. Abner C. Thomas, a Surrogate of our said County of New York, at said county, the 20th day of December, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred.

[Seal.] J. FAIRFAX McLAUGHLIN,
Clerk of the Surrogates' Court.

GURDON S. BUCK, Attorney for Executors, No. 55 Liberty Street, Borough of Manhattan, New York City.

ÜBELHÖR, JOHANN.—The people of the State of New York, by the grace of God free and independent, to Henry Übelhor, Sophie Hasselbacher, Elisabeth Übelhor, the widow, heirs, and next of kin of Johann Übelhor, otherwise called Johann Uebelhoer, John Übelhorr and John Ubelhor, deceased, send greeting:

Whereas, Charles Übelhor, of the City of New York, has lately applied to the Surrogates' Court of our County of New York, to have a certain instrument in writing, relating to both real and personal property, duly proved as the last will and testament of said JOHANN ÜBELHÖR, otherwise called Johann Uebelhoer, John Übelhor, and John Ubelhor, late of the County of New York, deceased. Therefore you and each of you are cited to appear before the Surrogate of our County of New York, at his office in the County of New York, on the first day of March, one thousand nine hundred and one, at half-past ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, then and there to attend the probate of the said last will and testament.

And each of you as are hereby cited, as are under the age of twenty-one years, are required to appear by your guardian, if you have one, or if you have none, to appear and apply for one to be appointed, or in the event of your neglect or failure to do so, a guardian will be appointed by the Surrogate to represent and act for you in the proceeding.

In testimony whereof, we have caused the seal of the Surrogates' Court of the said County of New York to be hereunto affixed.

[L. S.] Witness, Hon. Abner C. Thomas, a Surrogate of our said County of New York, at said county, the 24th day of January, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and one.

J. FAIRFAX McLAUGHLIN,
Clerk of the Surrogates' Court.
ja10-1aw6wTh&f21

Referees' Notices.

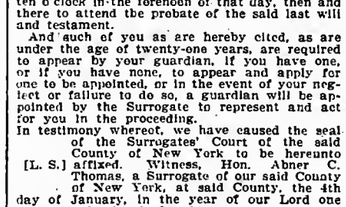
SUPREME COURT, COUNTY OF NEW YORK. —TITLE GUARANTEE AND TRUST COMPANY, plaintiff, against JACOB D. BUTLER and others, defendants.—Action No. 2.

In pursuance of a judgment of foreclosure and sale, duly made and entered in the above entitled action, and bearing date the 11th day of December, 1900, I, the undersigned, the referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction, at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on the 7th day of February, 1901, at 12 o'clock noon on that day, by Peter F. Meyer, auctioneer, the premises directed by said judgment to be sold, and therein described as follows:

All that plot of land in New York City bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a point in the northerly side of One Hundred and Sixty-fourth Street, distant one hundred feet west of Amsterdam Avenue; and running thence northerly, and parallel with Amsterdam Avenue, ninety-nine feet eleven inches; thence westerly, parallel with One Hundred and Sixty-fifth Street, fifty feet; thence southerly, and again parallel with Amsterdam Avenue, ninety-nine feet eleven inches to the northerly side of One Hundred and Sixty-fourth Street; and thence easterly along said northerly side of One Hundred and Sixty-fourth Street, fifty feet to the point or place of beginning.

Subject to certain agreements contained in instrument recorded in the office of the Register of the County of New York in Liber 993 of Conveyances, Page 196.—Dated New York, January 16th, 1901. JOHN H. JUDGE, Referee.
WILLIAM H. STOCKWELL, Attorney for Plaintiff, 146 Broadway, Borough of Manhattan, City of New York.

The following is a diagram of the property to be sold:



The approximate amount of the lien or charge to satisfy which the above described property is to be sold, is $15,695.84, with interest thereon from the 5th day of December, 1900, together with costs and allowance amounting to $147.06, together with the expenses of the sale. The approximate amount of the taxes, assessments, and water rates or other liens, to be allowed to the purchaser out of the purchase money or paid by the referee, is $399.00 and interest.—Dated New York, 16th day of January, 1901.

JOHN H. JUDGE, Referee.

ja17-2aw3wTh&F&f17

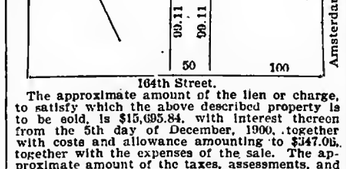
SUPREME COURT, NEW YORK COUNTY.—CAROLINA GRAF, plaintiff, against PAULINA OTT, Amalia Ott, Hedwig Ott, and Flora Ott, defendants.

In pursuance of an interlocutory judgment of dower and sale entered in the above-entitled action, on the 26th day of December, 1900, I, the undersigned, the referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction, at the New York Real Estate Salesrooms, No. 111 Broadway, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on the 7th day of February, 1901, at 12 o'clock noon on that day, by Peter F. Meyer & Co., auctioneers, the premises directed by said judgment to be sold, and therein described as follows:

Beginning at a point on the westerly side of Second Avenue distant forty (40) feet ten (10) inches, northerly from the northwesterly corner of Second Avenue and One Hundred and Nineteenth Street; and running thence westerly partly through the centre of a party wall and partly through the centre of One Hundred and Nineteenth Street eighty (80) feet; thence northerly and parallel with the Second Avenue twenty (20) feet; thence easterly and partly through the centre of another party wall and parallel with One Hundred and Nineteenth Street eighty (80) feet, to the westerly side of the Second Avenue, and thence southerly along the westerly side of the Second Avenue twenty (20) feet to the point or place of beginning; being premisee known by the street Number 2,325 Second Avenue, in the Borough of Manhattan, County and City of New York.—Dated New York, December 28th, 1900.

THOMAS C. O'SULLIVAN, Referee.
GEO. W. WEIFFENBACH, Atty. for Pltff., 52 William Street, Borough of Manhattan, City of New York.

The following is a diagram of the property to be sold, as above described, the street number being 2,325 Second Avenue:



The above-described property is to be sold to fully satisfy and discharge the plaintiff's right of dower therein, and the approximate amount of taxes, assessments, and other liens which are to be allowed to the purchaser or paid by the referee, including a certain mortgage subject to which said property is to be sold, is $5,000.00 and interest.—Dated New York, December 28th, 1900.

THOMAS C. O'SULLIVAN, Referee.

d31-2aw3wM&Th&ja22

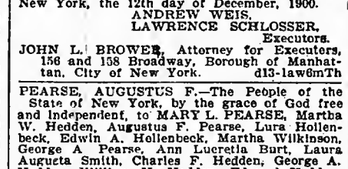
Referees' Notices.

SUPREME COURT, COUNTY OF NEW YORK. —RICHARD COHN, plaintiff, against ADELLE GALLIKER and others, defendants.

In pursuance of a judgment of foreclosure and sale, duly made and entered in the above-entitled action, bearing date the 13th day of December, 1900, I, the undersigned, the referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on the 17th day of January, 1901, at 12 o'clock noon on that day, by Philip A. Smyth, auctioneer, the premises directed by said judgment to be sold, and therein described as follows:

All that certain lot, piece, or parcel of land, with the building and improvements thereon erected, situate, lying, and being in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, and bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a point on the southerly side of 65th Street, distant 409 feet westerly from the corner formed by the intersection of said southerly side of 65th Street with the westerly side of Amsterdam (formerly Tenth) Avenue, and running thence southerly and parallel with said westerly side of Amsterdam (formerly Tenth) Avenue, 100 feet and 5 inchea to the centre line of the block, thence westerly along said centre line of the block, 24 feet and 7 inches, thence northerly again parallel with said westerly side of Amsterdam (formerly Tenth) Avenue, but to and so far as the same extends along the easterly side of the easterly wall of the brick building adjoining on the west the premises hereby described 100 feet and 5 inches to said southerly side of 65th Street, distant 424 feet and 7 inches westerly from said westerly side of Amsterdam Avenue; and thence easterly and along said southerly side of 65th Street 24 feet and 7 inches to the point or place of beginning, be the aforesaid several distances and dimensions more or less, and being same premises now known by the street number as No. 234 West 65th Street.—Dated New York, Dec. 24th, 1900.

JOSEPH ROSENZWEIG, Attorney for Plaintiff, No. 99 Nassau Street, New York City, Borough of Manhattan.



The approximate amount of the lien or charge to satisfy which the above-described property is to be sold is $3,557.00, with interest thereon from the 1st day of December, 1900; together with costs and allowances amounting to $247.71, with interest from Dec. 13th, 1900, together with the expenses of the sale. The approximate amount of taxes, assessments, or other liens which are to be allowed to the purchaser out of the purchase money or paid by the referee is $427.52 and interest and penalties.

The premises are to be sold subject to a first mortgage of $15,000, with interest thereon at the rate of 4½% per annum, due August 1st, 1900, and to the "lis pendens" filed and action now pending to foreclose said mortgage, and to existing monthly tenancies and to agreement as to easements recorded Aug. 20, 1870, in Liber 65, Section 4 of Conveyances, at page 449, and to any state of facts which an accurate survey would show.—Dated New York, Dec. 24th, 1900.

JOHN E. DUFFY, Referee.

d24-2aw3wW&F&j17

NEW YORK SUPREME COURT, COUNTY OF New York.—HIRAM V. V. BRAMAN and Irene B. Braman, plaintiffs, against HENRY NICHOLSBURG and others, defendants.

In pursuance of a judgment of foreclosure and sale, duly made and entered in the above-entitled action, bearing date the 31st day of December, 1900, I, the undersigned, the referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on the 28th day of January, 1901, at 12 o'clock noon on that day, by Peter F. Meyer & Company, auctioneers, the premises directed by said judgment to be sold, and therein described as follows:

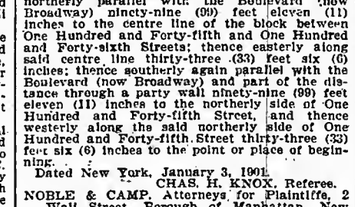
All that certain lot, piece, or parcel of land, with the buildings and improvements thereon erected, situate, lying, and being in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, and bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a point on the northerly side of One Hundred and Forty-fifth Street, distant 424 feet and 7 inches easterly from the corner formed by the intersection of the easterly side of the Boulevard (now Broadway) with the northerly side of One Hundred and Forty-fifth Street, running thence northerly and parallel with the Boulevard (now Broadway) ninety-nine (99) feet eleven (11) inches to the centre line of the block between One Hundred and Forty-fifth and One Hundred and Forty-sixth Streets; thence easterly along said centre line thirty-three (33) feet six (6) inches; thence southerly again parallel with the Boulevard (now Broadway) and part of the distance through a party wall ninety-nine (99) feet eleven (11) inches to the northerly side of One Hundred and Forty-fifth Street, and thence westerly along said northerly side of One Hundred and Forty-fifth Street thirty-three (33) feet six (6) inches to the point or place of beginning.

Dated New York, January 3, 1901.
CHAS. H. KNOX, Referee.

NOBLE & CAMP, Attorneys for Plaintiffs, 2 Wall Street, Borough of Manhattan, New York City.

The following is a diagram of the premises to be sold:

No. 533 West 145th Street.



The approximate amount of the lien or charge to satisfy which the above-described property is to be sold is $31,245 82-100, with interest thereon from the 22nd day of December, 1900, together with costs and allowances amounting to $382 25-100 with interest from January 3, 1901, together with the expenses of the sale. The approximate amount of taxes, assessments, or other liens which are to be allowed to the purchaser out of the purchase money or paid by the referee is $427.52 and interest and penalties.

The premises are to be sold subject to a first mortgage of $15,000, with interest thereon at the rate of 4½% per annum due August 1st, 1900, and to the "lis pendens" filed and action now pending to foreclose said mortgage, and to existing monthly tenancies and to agreement as to easements recorded Aug. 20, 1870, in Liber 65, Section 4 of Conveyances, at page 449, and to any state of facts which an accurate survey would show.—Dated New York, Dec. 24th, 1900.

JOHN E. DUFFY, Referee.

d24-2aw3wW&F&j17

NEW YORK SUPREME COURT, COUNTY OF New York.—HIRAM V. V. BRAMAN and Irene B. Braman, plaintiffs, against HENRY NICHOLSBURG and others, defendants.

In pursuance of a judgment of foreclos

FINANCIAL.

Hanover National Bank
Capital $3,000,000. Surplus and profits, $5,000,000
9 and 11 Nassau St.

Central National Bank
320 Broadway.

The Nassau Bank
Corner Beekman and Nassau Streets.

Colonial Trust Company
CAPITAL, SURPLUS, AND UNDIVIDED PROFITS, $2,000,000.00.
ST. PAUL BLDG. 222 B'way.

Washington Trust Company
Stewart Building, 280 Broadway.

Bankers' Cards.

Spencer Trask & Co.
BANKERS,
27 & 29 Pine Street, New York.
Transact a general banking business; act as Fiscal Agents for corporations, and negotiate security issues of railroads and other companies. Execute commission orders and deal in
INVESTMENT SECURITIES.
Members New York Stock Exchange.
Branch Office: 65 State St., Albany.

G. Sidenberg & Kraus,
BANKERS & BROKERS.
20 BROAD ST., NEW YORK.
Members N. Y. Stock Exchange.
Orders Executed for Stocks and Bonds for cash or on margin.
INTEREST ALLOWED ON DEPOSIT.
Investment Securities.

HENRY CLEWS & CO.,
BANKERS,
11, 13, 15, and 17 Broad St.
MEMBERS N. Y. STOCK EXCHANGE.
Orders executed for investment or on margin. Interest allowed on deposits, subject to check at sight. Act as Financial Agents for Corporations and Investors. Industrial Combinations Organized. Government and other Investment Bonds bought and sold.
BRANCH OFFICES:
22 W. 33d St., op. Waldorf. 202 5th Av., cor. 25th St.
467 B'way, Silk Ex. Bldg. 56 Worth & 39 Thomas Sts.
87 Hudson St., Merc. Ex. 16 Court St., Brooklyn.

New York Telephone, 3700 John. Brooklyn Telephone, 391 Brooklyn.
Geo. H. PRENTISS & CO.
DEALERS IN
LOCAL SECURITIES,
48 Wall Street, New York. 208 Montague St. Brooklyn.
MEMBERS OF N. Y. STOCK EXCHANGE.

J. F. MEAD. T. H. CURTIS.
I. F. MEAD & CO.,
44 & 46 BROADWAY, N. Y.
Twenty-five years' membership in N. Y. Stock Exchange.
STOCKS AND BONDS
Bought and Sold for Cash or on Margin.

Henry L. Wardwell. Edward L. Adams.
Telephone 3243 Broad.
WARDWELL & ADAMS,
STOCK BROKERS.
16 BEAVER ST., NEW YORK.
Members N. Y. Stock Exchange.
Stocks, Bonds, & Investments

P. J. Goodhart & Co.,
Dealers in
Bank & Trust Co. Stocks
Members N. Y. Stock Exchange.
88 WALL STREET.

Dominick & Dominick,
BANKERS,
100 Broadway, New York.
BONDS AND INVESTMENTS.

JACOB BERRY & CO.
MEMBERS CONSOLIDATED STOCK EXCHANGE.
44 and 46 Broadway, New York.
ESTABLISHED 1865.
STOCKS, BONDS, GRAIN, COTTON.
A commission house working in the interest of clients, executing all orders upon the exchange and giving names of Brokers with whom transaction is made in every instance. We issue upon request a book describing accurately the above markets and influences governing them. Also monthly fluctuation sheets and market reports.
COMMISSION 1-16. MODERATE MARGINS.

Wm. Cossitt Cone & Co.
44 BROAD ST., NEW YORK.
MEMBERS CONSOLIDATED STOCK EXCHANGE
Execute Commission Orders.
PURCHASE OR SALE,
STOCKS, BONDS, WHEAT, COTTON.
MARKET LETTER & POCKET INVESTMENT GUIDE UPON APPLICATION.

FINANCIAL.

To the Stockholders
OF THE
AMERICAN STEEL AND WIRE CO.
PROXIES.
At the request of the holders of a large amount of the preferred and common stocks of this company, we solicit the co-operation and support of all stockholders who desire the election of an efficient Board of Directors at the next annual meeting to be held on the 19th day of February, 1901. We are prepared to receive proxies entitling us to vote stock at said meeting.
Blank forms of proxies can be obtained at our office.
WELLES, HERRICK & HICKS,
15 Wall St., New York.

LOUISVILLE & NASHVILLE R. R. CO.,
1210 BROADWAY,
New York, November 23, 1900.
Pensacola & Atlantic R. R. Company 6% Mortgage.
In accordance with the terms of the mortgage of the Pensacola & Atlantic Railroad Company, the following forty-nine (49) bonds have this day, in the presence of the Trustees, been drawn for the sinking fund, viz.
6, 97, 143, 237, 241, 303, 382, 409, 412, 423, 461, 539, 607, 613, 674, 676, 681, 716, 832, 834, 874, 994, 1070, 1398, 1327, 1432, 1499, 1575, 1690, 1724, 1728, 1748, 1829, 1901, 2019, 2036, 2101, 2147, 2216, 2276, 2291, 2301, 2445, 2469, 2501, 2639, 2728, 2755, 2801.
The interest on the same will cease February 1, 1901, and the principal of the bonds will be redeemed at this office on and after that date, plus 10 per cent. premium.
A. W. MORRISS, Assistant Treasurer.

SINKING FUND NOTICE.
Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway Company.
30 Broad Street, New York, January 2d, 1901.
Notice is hereby given that the following-described bonds of this company for $1,000 each, known as Income Sinking Fund Convertible 5 per cent. bonds, have been selected by lot in accordance with the terms of the bonds, to be paid for at 105 per centum of principal, with accrued interest, on presentation at this office. The numbers are as follows:
197 307 829 832 836 1116 1747 1760
891 990 839 835 1115 1117 1749 1885
295
Interest on these bonds will cease on the 2d day of February, 1901.
ROSWELL MILLER, Chairman.

MORTON TRUST CO.
38 NASSAU STREET.
Capital, Surplus & Undivided Profits, $5,000,000
Levi P. Morton, President. Thomas F. Ryan, V.-Pres. James K. Corbiere, 2d V.-P. H. H. Francis, Sec. W. Redmond Cross, Treas. H. B. Berry, Trust Officer.

BROWN BROTHERS & CO.,
NO. 59 WALL ST.,
ISSUE INTERNATIONAL CHEQUES, COMMERCIAL and TRAVELERS' CREDITS AVAILABLE IN ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD.

FINANCIAL. FINANCIAL.

Southern Railway Company.
St. Louis Division First Mortgage Four Per Cent. Fifty-Year Gold Bonds.

Principal payable January 1, 1951. Interest January 1st and July 1st

Both payable in gold coin of the United States of the present standard of weight and fineness, and without deduction, from either principal or interest, of any tax or taxes which said Company may be lawfully required to pay or retain therefrom by any present or future laws of the United States or any of the States thereof.

Coupon bonds of $1,000 each, bearing interest from January 1, 1901, exchangeable for registered bonds without coupons.

23 Wall Street,
New York, January 17, 1901.

We offer, subject to sale, $10,750,000 of the above-described bonds at 97½% and interest.

For particulars as to the property and mortgage security, reference is invited to the accompanying letter of Mr. Samuel Spencer, President of the Southern Railway Company. Copies of the mortgage and any further information desired may be had upon application at our office.

We recommend these bonds as an undoubted investment of unusual character.

J. P. MORGAN & CO.

SOUTHERN RAILWAY COMPANY.
Office of the President,
80 Broadway,
New York, January 14, 1901.

Messrs. J. P. MORGAN & COMPANY,
23 Wall Street, City.

Dear Sirs:

In respect to the Southern Railway Company, St. Louis Division, First Mortgage Four Per Cent. Gold Bonds, I beg to say:

The bonds now offered are to provide for the payment by the Southern Railway Company of the purchase price of the property and franchises which formerly belonged to the Louisville, Evansville and St. Louis Consolidated Railroad Company.

These bonds are the direct absolute obligation of the Southern Railway Company and are secured by its first mortgage on all of this railroad property, as purchased and now held by the Southern Railway Company and embraced in its St. Louis Division, made up of the following lines:

Line of railway New Albany, Indiana, to East St. Louis, Illinois	263.50 miles.
Branches to Evansville, Cannelton, Rockport, Jasper and Belleville, and Belt Line a: East St. Louis	101.09 "
Total Mileage	364.68 miles.

The property also includes valuable terminals at East St. Louis, including the Belt Line of the old Venice & Carondelet Railroad, now a portion of the St. Louis Division, and about 300 acres of valuable real estate fronting about 4,000 feet on the Mississippi River, and ample additional real estate for yards, shops and all other needed terminal facilities.

The Belt Line reaches most of the important industries and all the railway and ferry connections in East St. Louis, including those of the Terminal Railroad Association, the terminal facilities of which in St. Louis the St. Louis Division uses under arrangements similar to those enjoyed by other lines terminating at East St. Louis.

The line connects at New Albany with the Kentucky & Indiana Bridge and Railroad Company, in which the Southern Railway Company owns a one-third interest, and of which, including the terminals in Louisville, it has the right of perpetual use, at cost, for all of its traffic, including that of the St. Louis Division.

The total authorized issue of bonds is	$15,000,000
Of these there have been issued for the St. Louis Division properties and Receivers' obligations	$10,750,000
Reserved under careful restrictions for new construction, improvements, or additional equipment	4,250,000
	15,000,000

The reports of Mr. George T. Jarvis, recently Receiver, show the following results for the property for the last three calendar years:

	1898.	1899.	1900. [December Estimated.]
Gross Earnings	$1,566,130.02	$1,818,011.23	$2,026,000.00
Operating Expenses and Taxes	1,222,772.89	1,285,132.42	1,547,000.00
Net Earnings from Operation	$343,357.13	$532,878.81	$479,000.00

The average net earnings per annum for the last two (2) years have been	$505,989
Interest on $10,750,000 bonds now issued	430,000
Balance in excess of present fixed charges	$75,989

The Receiver spent in betterment improvements upon the property during the years 1898, 1899, and 1900 $583,526, and these improvements have been of a character to add materially to the operating efficiency of the property.

It is confidently expected that the future operations of the property as a portion of the Southern Railway System, instead of as an isolated line, will add materially to both its gross and net earnings, and at the same time its acquisition will add to the strength of position and earning power of the Southern Railway System as a whole.

The income of the Southern Railway Company for the last two fiscal years, ending June 30, 1899 and 1900, has been:

	1900.	1899.	Increase.
Gross Earnings from Operation	$31,200,869.89	$25,353,686.07	$5,847,183.82
Operating Expenses and Taxes	21,831,440.86	17,356,355.37	4,475,091.49
Net Income from Operations	$9,369,423.03	$7,997,330.70	$1,372,092.33
Income from Other Sources	318,805.48	328,469.81	(Dec.) 9,664.53
	$9,688,228.51	$8,325,800.51	$1,362,428.00
Interest and Rentals	$6,755,442.30	$6,207,252.80	$548,189.50
Other Deductions from Income	15,534.71	24,028.22	(Dec.) 8,493.52
	$6,770,977.01	$6,231,281.03	$539,695.98
Balance in excess of Fixed Charges	$2,917,251.50	$2,094,519.48	$822,732.02

The Southern Railway Company's earnings for the six months ended December 31, 1900, show an increase as compared with the year previous of $1,007,502 in gross and about $200,000 in net, the month of December being estimated.

Yours very truly,
SAMUEL SPENCER,
President.

Dividends.

Ninety-second Semi-annual Cash Dividend.
Illinois Central Railroad Co.
The Board of Directors has this day declared a dividend of THREE PER CENT. in cash, payable March 1st, 1901, to the holders of the Capital Stock of the Illinois Central Railroad Company, as registered at the close of business February 1st, 1901.
The stock transfer books will be closed for the purpose of the above dividend from February 1st until February 23d, 1901.
A. G. HACKSTAFF, Secretary.
New York, January 16, 1901.

DIVIDEND NOTICE.
American Tin Plate Company.
A dividend of Eight (8) Per Cent. has been declared upon the Common Stock of this Company, payable quarterly during 1901. The first quarterly payment of two per cent. (2) will be paid on February 15th, to Stockholders of record at close of business January 25th.
The transfer books will be closed as to the Common Stock from January 26th to February 15th, both days inclusive.
F. S. WHEELER, Treasurer.
New York, January 15th, 1901.

The Lawyers' Title Insurance Company of New York.
37 & 39 Liberty St., and 44½ & 46 Maiden Lane.
New York, January 9, 1901.
The Board of Directors of this Company has this day declared a dividend of Two and One-half Per Cent. and an extra dividend of One-half Per Cent., payable at the Company's office on February 1st, 1901. The transfer books will be closed Monday, January 14th, and reopened on Saturday, February 2nd.
JOHN DUER, Treasurer.

Central Fireworks Company.
Office of the Treasurer.
Preferred Stock dividend No. 4.
Common Stock dividend No. 8.
The regular semi-annual dividend of 3½ per cent. on the Preferred Stock and a dividend of 1 per cent. on the Common Stock have been declared, both payable February 9th to stockholders of record February 2d, 1901. Transfer Books will be closed February 1st and re-opened February 11th, 1901. Checks will be mailed.
GEO. T. EGBERT, Treasurer.

American Tin Plate Company.
A quarterly dividend of One and Three-Quarters (1¾) Per Cent. has been declared upon the Preferred Stock of this Company, payable on January 31st, 1901, to stockholders of record at close of business January 10th, 1901. The transfer books will be closed as to the Preferred Stock from January 17th to 31st, both days inclusive.
New York, January 4, 1901.
F. S. WHEELER, Treasurer.

American Steel Hoop Company.
A quarterly dividend of One and Three-Quarters (1¾) Per Cent. has been declared upon the Preferred Stock of this Company, payable on January 31st, 1901, to stockholders of record at close of business January 10th, 1901. The transfer books will be closed as to the Preferred Stock from January 17th to 31st, both days inclusive.
New York, January 4, 1901.
F. S. WHEELER, Treasurer.

THE TRANSFER BOOKS OF THE GENERAL First Mtge. 4 Per Cent. Registered Bonds of the Cincinnati, Indianapolis, St. Louis & Chicago Ry. Co. will close at the office of the Central Trust Co. of N. Y., Monday, Jan. 21, 1901, at 3 o'clock, preparatory to the payment of the quarterly interest thereon due Feb. 1, 1901, and will reopen Feb. 1, at 10 A. M.
E. F. OSBORN, Secretary.
Cincinnati, Ohio, Jan. 15, 1901.

Dividends.

NATIONAL SALT COMPANY.
26 Broadway, New York, N. Y., Jan. 16, 1901.
Preferred Stock Dividend No. 7.
Notice is hereby given that a quarterly dividend of ONE AND THREE-QUARTERS (1¾) PER CENT. has been declared, payable February 1st, 1901, to the holders of Preferred Stock of record Jan. 24th, 1901. Transfer books of the Preferred Stock will close at 3 P. M. Jan. 24th, and reopen at 10 A. M. Feb. 1st. Dividend checks will be mailed.

Common Stock Dividend No. 3.
Notice is hereby given that a quarterly dividend of ONE AND ONE-HALF (1½) PER CENT. has been declared, payable Feb. 1st, 1901, to the holders of Common Stock of record Jan. 24, 1901. Transfer books of the Common Stock will close at 3 P. M. Jan. 24, and reopen at 9 A. M. Feb. 1st. Dividend checks will be mailed.
C. L. PAAR, Asst. Secretary.

OFFICE OF
THE CONSOLIDATION COAL COMPANY,
44 SOUTH STREET.
Baltimore, Md., Jan. 15th, 1901.
The Board of Directors of this company have this day declared a dividend of Two Dollars Per Share on the capital stock, payable at the office of the Guaranty Trust Company of New York, No. 85 Cedar Street, New York, on and after February 1st, 1901. Dividend checks will be mailed to stockholders.
The transfer books will be closed at 3 o'clock P. M., January 25th, 1901, and reopen at 10 A. M., February 2d, 1901. T. K. STUART, Secretary.

Henderson Bridge Company.
The Board of Directors of the Henderson Bridge Company this day declared a dividend of TWO AND ONE-HALF (2½) PER CENT. on its capital stock, payable on and after the first prox.
The transfer books will be closed at 3 P. M. on the 21st inst., and reopen at 10 A. M. on the second day of February.
J. H. ELLIS, Secretary.
Louisville, Ky., January 15th, 1901.

The Procter & Gamble Company.
Cincinnati, Ohio, January 15th, 1901.
The Directors of this Company have this day declared a quarterly dividend of THREE PER CENT. on the Common Stock of the Company, payable on and after February 15th. The transfer books will be closed from February 1st to February 15th, inclusive.
D. B. GAMBLE, Sec'y.

THE TRANSFER BOOKS OF THE GENERAL First Mtge. 7 Per Cent. registered bonds of the Columbus & Toledo R. R. Co. will close at the office of J. P. Morgan & Co., N. Y., Monday, Jan. 21, 1901, at 3 o'clock, preparatory to the payment of the semi-annual interest thereon, due Feb. 1, 1901, and will open Feb. 1st, at 10 A. M.
WILLIAM N. COFF, Treasurer.
Columbus, Ohio, Jan. 15, 1901.

Copartnership Notices.

MR. EDWARD MORRISON AND MR. JOHN HENRY TOWNSEND (member of the New York Stock Exchange) have been this day admitted to partnership in our firm, and Mr. C. Schumacher, Jr., retires to devote himself to the stock brokerage business on his own account.
C. SCHUMACHER & CO.
New York, Jan. 11th, 1901.

DISSOLUTION NOTICE.
TAKE NOTICE THAT THE FIRM OF MORRISON & CO. has been dissolved by mutual consent, A. PELL and M. L. SHILLAK withdrawing from the firm. The business will be conducted as heretofore at No. 106-108 Fulton Street, Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, under the name of MORRISON & CO., by MORRIS MORRISON. MORRISON & CO.

FINANCIAL.

NOTICE TO STOCKHOLDERS OF THE
Distilling Company of America.
New York, January 10, 1901.

Notice is hereby given that the right is now granted to Stockholders of the Company, as they may appear of record at the closing of the Transfer Books at three o'clock P. M. on January 17, 1901, to subscribe for the $5,000,000 Five Per Cent. Ten Years Collateral Trust Gold Bonds of the Company at 85 per cent. of their par value, to an amount not exceeding ten per cent. of their respective holdings of Preferred Stock and five per cent. of their respective holdings of Common Stock, but in cases where such stock is represented by certificates of deposit of The Mercantile Trust Company the holders of such certificates, if the same shall be presented at the office of The Mercantile Trust Company, 120 Broadway, in the City of New York, at or before three P. M. of the 17th day of January, 1901, for proper indorsement, shall have the right to subscribe as stockholders on the above basis.

Subscriptions must be made in writing upon blank forms which may be obtained from The Mercantile Trust Company, and all subscriptions must be lodged with The Mercantile Trust Company, at its office, No. 120 Broadway, Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, at or before three o'clock P. M. on the 21st day of January, 1901. The right to subscribe will then expire.

Every subscription must be accompanied by a payment to The Mercantile Trust Company in New York funds of fifty per centum of such subscription price in cash or by certified check; the balance to be paid as follows:

Twenty-five per centum on the 1st day of March, 1901, and

Twenty-five per centum on the 1st day of April, 1901;

for all of which payments negotiable certificates of said Trust Company will be given, exchangeable for bonds when the same shall be issued, and proper interest adjustment will be made upon delivery of the bonds.

Subscribers may, when filing their applications, make the full payment of the amount of their subscriptions, if they so desire.

In the event of any default in making said payments, or any of them, The Distilling Company of America may sell for account of the defaulting subscriber the bonds so subscribed for, and retain out of any payments made by such defaulting subscriber five per cent. of the par value thereof as liquidated damages for failure to comply with the contract of subscription.

The success of the proposed issue of bonds is assured by an underwriting of $4,000,000 thereof, and any bonds not subscribed for or taken will be disposed of as the Directors may determine.

As no bonds for less than $1,000 will be issued, it will be necessary for stockholders holding less than 100 shares of Preferred or 200 shares of Common Stock to cause their stock to be transferred or combined with other stock to entitle them to a subscription, no subscriptions for a fractional amount of bonds being receivable.

The allotment of bonds will be made by The Mercantile Trust Company, and shall be final and conclusive and binding upon all subscribers.

The Transfer Books of the Company will be closed on the 17th day of January, 1901, at three o'clock P. M., and will be reopened on the 22d day of January, 1901, at ten o'clock A. M.

Stockholders are referred to the report of the Committee for particulars as to this issue of bonds.

A copy of the mortgage is on file at the office of The Mercantile Trust Company.

By order of the Board of Directors.
S. M. RICE, President.
THOS. H. WENTWORTH, Secretary.

AN ASSURED 7% INVESTMENT
(Interest January and July)
Positive Certainty of Large Additional Dividends.

An exceptional opportunity for safe and unusually profitable investment, in the shares of a Corporation which at present controls prosperous Western properties, and which has extraordinary opportunities for increasing its holdings and earnings, and do so upon an absolutely safe basis.

The investment offered contemplates the purchase of 7 per cent. cumulative preferred stock at par, and with it, full paid and non-assessable common stock, as a part of the same consideration. The payment of the dividends on the preferred stock, when and as stipulated, and commencing with the current year, is fully assured and definitely provided for.

Such Company has the active co-operation and support of one of the most important railway systems of the country, and by recent arrangements is assured of controlling interests in a large number of important dividend earning properties.

The sale of these shares is to enable the Company to acquire the above interests and extend its operations. As the earnings upon industries already under such company's control will provide ample income to pay dividends on the preferred stock, any earnings from these additional properties will go to the common stock, which, it is safe to assert, will commence to earn liberal dividends at a very early day.

A careful investigation will satisfy conservative investors that the Preferred shares offered afford an absolutely safe investment, and that the common shares promise to, very soon, become very valuable.

Full information furnished on application to AMERICAN FINANCE AND TRUST CO.,
Park Row Bldg., New York City.

United States Mortgage & Trust Co.
50 CEDAR STREET, NEW YORK.
CAPITAL $2,000,000
SURPLUS $2,500,000
Pays Interest on Check Accounts and Time Deposits.
Acts in all Trust Capacities for Individuals and Corporations.

OFFICERS.

GEORGE W. YOUNG	President
LUTHER KOUNTZE	Vice-President
JAMES TIMPSON	2d Vice-President
ARTHUR TURNBULL	3d Vice-President
CLARK WILLIAMS	Treasurer
WILLIAM F. ELLIOTT	Secretary
RICHARD M. HURD	Asst. Secretary
CALVERT BREWER	Asst. Treasurer
ALEXANDER PHILLIPS	Manager For'n Dep't

DIRECTORS.
Samuel D. Babcock.

Wm. H. Baldwin, Jr.,	Gustav E. Kissel,
Frederick O. Barton,	Luther Kountze,
C. Ledyard Blair,	Charlton T. Lewis,
Dumont Clarke,	Richard A. McCurdy,
C. C. Cuyler,	Theodore Morford,
Charles D. Dickey,	Robert Olyphant,
William P. Dixon,	Charles M. Pratt,
Robert A. Granniss,	James Timpson,
G. G. Haven, Jr.,	Eben B. Thomas,
Charles R. Henderson.	George W. Young.

TO HOLDERS OF FIRST MORTGAGE SIX PER CENT. BONDS OF The Mechanical Rubber Co.
The undersigned Trustees, under the mortgage above referred to, desire, under authority of said mortgage, to expend the sum of twelve thousand two hundred and thirty-one dollars and seventy-four cents ($12,231.74) in the purchase of bonds of said issue, provided such purchase can, in their opinion, be now made advantageously.
Sealed offers of said bonds may be sent to the KNICKERBOCKER TRUST COMPANY, 66 Broadway, New York, addressed to the undersigned, on or before February 1st, 1901. The Trustees reserve the right to reject any and all bids not in accordance with the above announcement.
CHAS. T. BARNEY, }
JOHN McANERNEY, } Trustees.
New York, Jan. 17, 1901.

The Trust Co. of America,
149 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.
Capital and Surplus, $5,245,804.13.
ASHBEL P. FITCH.....President.
WILLIAM R. LEUPP, WILLIAM BARBOUR, Vice Presidents.
RAYMOND V. CHATRY, RENRY S. MANNING, Secretary. Vice President.
ALBERT L. BANISTER, Treasurer. LAWRENCE O. MURRAY Trust Officer.

Composite Type Bar Co. Stock.
DAVID PFEIFFER, 18 Wall St.

FINANCIAL.

Meetings and Elections.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL R. R. CO.
Public notice is hereby given that a special meeting of the stockholders of the Illinois Central Railroad Company will be held at the Company's Office in Chicago, Illinois, on Saturday, January 26, 1901, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, for the purpose of acting on these five propositions and transacting such other business as may, in connection therewith, come before the meeting.
FIRST—That in order to provide necessary moneys for the purchase of additional cars and locomotive engines needed for the accommodation of the growing traffic on the Company's lines of railway; the construction of additional second tracks, side tracks, and station and terminal facilities; the reduction of grades; the elimination of grade crossings at different places along said railway lines, and other improvements of a permanent character, some of which purchases, additions and improvements have already been undertaken, and for other corporate purposes, the capital stock of the Illinois Central Railroad Company be increased by an issue of 60,000 new shares of $100 each, from 300,000 shares to 660,000 shares of $100 each, thus making the whole capital stock of the Company $66,000,000.
SECOND—That each shareholder shall have the privilege of subscribing at par on or before March 4, 1901, for one share of such new stock, for every ten shares of stock registered in his name on the transfer books of the Company at the close of business on December 26, 1900, and for fractions of shares in like proportion—payment for the new stock to be made in full at the Company's office in the City of New York, on or before Monday, March 4, 1901.
THIRD—That stockholders entitled to subscribe for fractions of shares shall, upon payment therefor, receive scrip convertible into full-paid stock when presented in sums of $100 or multiples thereof, but such scrip shall not draw dividends.
FOURTH—That the shares, or fractions of shares, of the new issue, if any, not subscribed and paid for on or before March 4, 1901, may be disposed of by the Board of Directors at such price, or prices, not less than par, as may be approved by them.
FIFTH—That the new shares shall be entitled to participate in all dividends which may be declared payable after March 4, 1901.
For the purposes of this meeting, the stock transfer books will be closed at 3 P. M. on Thursday, December 20, 1900, and remain closed until the morning of Monday, January 7, 1901.
By order of the Board of Directors.
A. G. HACKSTAFF, Secretary.
November 21, 1900.

Erie Telegraph and Telephone Company.
NOTICE OF SPECIAL AND ANNUAL MEETING OF THE STOCKHOLDERS.
A meeting of the stockholders of the Erie Telegraph and Telephone Company, which will be the annual meeting for 1901, and also a special meeting for each of the purposes hereinafter specified, will be held at the office of the company, 100 Broadway, New York City, at 12 M. on Thursday, the 31st day of January, 1901, for the following purposes, to wit:
1. To reduce the number of Directors from twenty-five to fifteen.
2. To adopt by-laws providing as follows, viz.:
(a) That one-third in number of the Directors shall be elected annually, and that the term of office of Directors elected after the present year shall be three years.
(b) That the date of the annual meeting of the stockholders be changed from the second Tuesday in June each year, as now fixed by the by-laws of the company, to the Thursday in January next preceding the first day of February in each year.
3. To make any other alterations in the company's by-laws that may seem desirable to the stockholders assembled at the meeting.
4. To elect a Board of fifteen Directors, of whom one-third shall hold office for one year, one-third for two years, and one-third for three years from the 31st day of January, 1901, and until their successors shall have qualified to take the place of the present Board of Directors, all of whom have presented their resignations to take effect upon the election of their successors in the manner indicated in this notice.
5. To transact any other business that may come before an annual meeting of the stockholders.
6. To pass any votes or take any proceedings with respect to any of the foregoing matters.
By order of the President.
CHARLES J. GLIDDEN, President.
GEORGE B. PERHAM, Secretary.
Dated Albany, N. Y., January 14th, 1901.

Title Guarantee and Trust Company.
NEW YORK, January 15th, 1901.
At the annual meeting of the stockholders of this company, held January 15th, 1901, the following-named gentlemen were elected Trustees:

John Jacob Astor,	John S. Kennedy,
Frank Bailey,	Woodbury Langdon,
Charles S. Brown,	James D. Lynch,
Julien T. Davies,	Charles Matlack,
William J. Easton,	Robert Olyphant,
Charles R. Henderson,	Alexander E. Orr,
Benj. D. Hicks,	Charles A. Peabody, Jr.,
John D. Hicks,	Frederick Potter,
William M. Ingraham,	Charles Richardson,
Augustus D. Juilliard,	Elihu Root,
Martin Joost,	Elihu D. Williams,
Clarence H. Kelsey,	George G. Williams,
	Louis Windmuller.

At a meeting of the Board of Trustees, held this day, the following officers were unanimously re-elected: Mr. CLARENCE H. KELSEY, President; Mr. FRANK BAILEY, Vice President; Mr. EDWARD O. STANLEY, Treasurer; Mr. CLINTON D. BURDICK, Secretary; Mr. JOHN W. SHEPARD, Assistant Treasurer; Mr. J. WRAY CLEVELAND, Assistant Secretary. Mr. NELSON E. SIMON was also elected an Assistant Secretary.
CLINTON D. BURDICK, Secretary.

New York, January 12th, 1901.
Election Notice.
Missouri Pacific Railway Co.
Notice is hereby given that the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Missouri Pacific Railway Company will be held at the general office of the company, in the City of St. Louis, Missouri, on Tuesday, March 12, 1901, at 9:00 o'clock A. M., for the election of thirteen Directors for the ensuing year, and for the transaction of any other business that may come before said meeting. The annual meeting of the Directors will be held at the same office on the same day, at 12:00 o'clock noon. The transfer books will be closed on Tuesday, Jan. 29th, 1901, at 3:00 o'clock P. M., and reopened on the day following the annual meeting of the stockholders or any adjournment thereof.
GEO. J. GOULD, President.
A. H. CALEF, Secretary.

New York, January 12, 1901.
Election Notice.
St. Louis, Iron Mountain & Southern Railway Co.
Notice is hereby given that the annual meeting of the stockholders of the St. Louis, Iron Mountain and Southern Railway Company will be held at the general office of the company, in the City of St. Louis, Missouri, on Tuesday, March 12th, 1901, at 9:00 o'clock A. M., for the election of thirteen Directors for the ensuing year, and for the transaction of any other business that may come before said meeting. The annual meeting of the Directors will be held at the same office on the same day at 12:00 o'clock noon. The transfer books will be closed on Tuesday, January 29, 1901, at 3:00 o'clock P. M., and reopened on the day following the annual meeting of the stockholders or any adjournment thereof.
GEO. J. GOULD, President.
A. H. CALEF, Secretary.

Thuringia American Fire Insurance Company,
100 William Street, New York City.
New York, January 17, 1901.
The annual meeting of the Stockholders of the Thuringia American Fire Insurance Company will be held at its office, No. 100 William Street, in the Borough of Manhattan, in the City of New York, on the 31st day of January, 1901, at 3:30 P. M., for the purpose of electing Directors for the ensuing year and Inspectors of Election to serve at the next annual meeting, and for the transaction of each other business as may properly come before such meeting. The polls will remain open one hour.
Transfer books will be closed from January 17th to January 31st, 1901.
JOHN M. SMITH, Secretary.

REAL ESTATE TRUST COMPANY OF NEW YORK, NO. 30 NASSAU STREET.
At the annual meeting of the Stockholders of this Company, held on the 16th day of January, 1901, the following gentlemen were unanimously elected Trustees or Directors of the Company for the term ending January, 1904:
Horace S. Ely. Henry K. Pomroy.
Charles A. Schermerhorn, Percy Chubb.
James I. Raymond. Harrison E. Gawtry.
Edwin A. Cruikshank, J. Roosevelt Roosevelt, and the following gentlemen as Inspectors of Election for 1902:
Newbold T. Lawrence,
Percy R. Pyne,
Arthur D. Weekes.
HENRY W. REIGHLEY, Secretary.

The Fourth National Bank
of the City of New York.
New York, January 10, 1901.
At the annual meeting of the stockholders of this Bank, held January 8th, 1901, the following-named gentlemen were unanimously re-elected Directors:

J. Edward Simmons,	Robert W. Stuart,
Cornelius N. Bliss,	Richard T. Wilson,
Charles Stewart Smith,	William S. Opdyke,
	James G. Cannon.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors held this day, Mr. J. Edward Simmons was unanimously re-elected President, and Mr. James G. Cannon was unanimously re-elected Vice President.
CHARLES H. PATTERSON, Cashier.

The New York Clearing House Building Company,
77 Cedar Street,
New York, January 7th, 1901.
The annual meeting of the stockholders of The New York Clearing House Building Company, for the election of five Directors for the ensuing year, and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the meeting, will be held at the office of the Company, No. 77 Cedar Street, in the City of New York, on Thursday, January 31st, 1901, at 12 o'clock noon.
WM. SHERER, Secretary.

The American District Telegraph Company,
The annual meeting of stockholders of the American District Telegraph Company will be held at 195 Broadway, Room 60, New York, on Thursday, January 24, 1901, at 1 o'clock P. M., for the election of Directors and Inspectors of Election for the ensuing year, and for such other business as may properly come before the meeting. Transfer books will be closed on January 17 at 3 o'clock P. M., and reopened on January 25 at 10 o'clock A. M.
C. S. SHIVLER, Secretary.
Jan. 10, 1901.

CONSOLIDATED GAS COMPANY OF NEW YORK, 4 Irving Place.—December 31st, 1900.—The Annual Meeting of the stockholders of this Company for the election of the Trustees to serve during the ensuing year will be held at this office Monday, Jan. 21st, 1901. Polls open from 12 M. to 1 P. M. Transfer books will close Saturday, January 5th, at 12 M., and reopen Tuesday, Jan. 22d, 1901.
O. F. ZOLLIKOFFER, Secretary.

THE ADJOURNED ANNUAL MEETING OF the Edison, Jr., Electric Light & Power Company will be held at 27 William Street, on Tuesday, January 22d, 1901, at 3:00 P. M.
T. HURLEY, Secretary.

THE FINANCIAL MARKETS
Stocks unsettled.

STOCK TRANSACTIONS.

	Shares.
Jan. 16	1,235,388
To date this year	18,309,769
Corresponding date last year	6,390,491

BOND TRANSACTIONS.

Jan. 16	$2,847,500
To date this year	$42,472,950
Corresponding date last year	$21,019,100

Money rate: Collateral loans on call, 2½ @3½ per cent.; at three months, 4¼ per cent.; at six months, 4½ per cent. Commercial paper, sixty to ninety days, 4@4½ per cent.

Net changes in stocks of one-half of 1 per cent. or more were:

Stocks Advanced.

Am. Ice	⅞	Hock. Valley pf.	⅞
Am. Ice pf.	⅝	Knick. Ice, Chi.	2
Am. S. & R. pf.	½	Lake Erie & West.	½
Am. Sug. Ref. pf.	¾	Nat. Salt pf.	1¾
Am. Tobacco pf.	1	Nat. Tube	1
Chi., Bur. & Qy.	1¾	Northern Pacific	⅝
Chi. Great West.	1	St. J. & G. I. 2d pf.	½
Chi. G. W. pf. B	⅝	St. L. & S. F. 2d pf.	½
Chi., M. & St. P.	⅝	St. L. S. W.	½
Chi. Term. Tr. pf.	⅜	U. S. Leather pf.	½
Gas & El., Ber. Co.	½	Wells-Fargo Exp.	½

Stocks Declined.

Am. C. & F. pf.	½	Ken. & Mich.	3
Am. Cotton Oil	1	Lake Erie & W. pf.	1
Am. Linseed pf.	⅝	Louis. & Nash.	½
Am. Smelt. & R.	1½	Manhattan	1¼
Am. Steel Hoop	1¼	Met. Street Ry.	¾
Am. Steel & W. pf.	1⅜	Mexican Central	½
Am. Woolen	½	Mo., K. & T.	⅝
Am. Tin Plate	1½	Mo., K. & T. pf.	¾
Am. Tobacco	1	National Biscuit	1¾
Anaconda Copper	1	National Biscuit pf.	1¾
At., T. & S. F.	⅝	National Salt	1⅝
Balt. & Ohio pf.	½	National Steel	1
Brooklyn R. T.	1½	National Tube pf.	½
Ches. & Ohio	⅝	N. J. Central	1½
Chi. & Alton	¾	N. Y. Air Brake	7
Chi. & East. Ill.	½	N. Y., C. & St. L.	½
Chi. & E. Ill. pf.	3½	N. Y., Ont. & W.	⅝
Chi. & N. W.	2	Nor. & W. pf.	⅝
C., St. P., M. & O.

STEEL STOCKS GO LOWER

Report that Federal Steel Will Issue $10,000,000 in Bonds.

Payment of Its Common Stock Dividend, Said to be the Last to be Made for Some Years, May Be Enjoined.

Wall Street was filled yesterday with a variety of disquieting and disturbing, though rather indefinite, rumors in relation to the steel and iron trade in general and Federal Steel in particular. It was declared with much positiveness that the continuing weakness of the steel stocks in the face of favorable dividend declarations was significant of facts now known only to insiders, but which in time would be bound to develop. Secret cutting of prices and increased activity and competition on the part particularly of the Carnegie Company were said to be chief of the disturbing factors, one result of which, it was declared, would be a serious loss to all the companies in the way of revenues.

The affairs of Federal Steel were, however, the chief subject of discussion, probably growing out of the numerous reports in relation to the company. One of these reports—of which no official denial can be obtained—is to the effect that the company contemplates an issue of $10,000,000 in bonds, these to go toward the payment of a new plant and certain improvements in contemplation. Another report has it that dissatisfied preferred stockholders are preparing to contest the legality of the 5 per cent. lump dividend declared on Tuesday on the common stock for 1900 and will seek to enjoin its payment, though on what ground is not disclosed.

On both these subjects officials of the company are silent, though Wall Street construes the absence of a positive denial of the reported contemplated bond issue as tending to indicate that the issue will actually be made.

At the office of the company several efforts were made to see President Gary, but it was declared that he had nothing whatever to say, and would not be seen. Directors seen in the matter were equally uncommunicative, saying that it was no... the company's own business if bonds were issued.

Concerning the talk of enjoining the payment of the dividend, so far as can be learned this is only talk. At any rate, thus far none of the principals in the movement has chosen to reveal his identity. Payment of a dividend on the common stock was enjoined a year ago, but then on the ground that the full year's dividend on the preferred had not been paid. Now, however, all last year's preferred stock dividend has been paid. According to the report, if any suit is brought to restrain the common stock dividend payment it will be on the ground that the surplus will be so eaten into that there will be little available money for current expenses and that, inasmuch as a bond issue is contemplated, the company should conserve its resources. The amount required to pay a 5 per cent. dividend on the common stock is $2,300,000.

According to all information, it has been officially decided that this common stock dividend will be the last declared for some years, and hence it was that at the meeting on Tuesday no effort was made to amend the charter of the company so as to permit of the payment of quarterly dividends. This, in effect, THE NEW YORK TIMES is told by one of the Directors, who says:

"Our plan hereafter will be to husband our resources. We declared the 5 per cent. on the common stock for last year because we had practically assured stockholders that this declaration would be made. We took no action for the present year in the way of amending the charter to permit quarterly dividends because we did not see our way clear to do so. It may be that all the steel companies will come upon hard times in the next few years—who knows? Competition is becoming keen; sometimes even insiders themselves cannot agree on what is the best policy to pursue. However, it is clear that it never harms to save money, and a saving of nearly $2,500,000 a year in the way of deferring common stock dividend payments is something. However, don't understand me to say that we will not pay a dividend next year. I merely indicate the wisdom of such a policy."

"The truth, however, is that the newspapers are paying altogether too much attention to the steel companies. The companies can manage their own business."

In this connection, one of the Wall Street news bulletins put out in the late afternoon a statement, believed to have been semi-officially inspired, relating to Federal Steel and saying, among other things:

There were rumors on the Street to-day that the cause of the weakness of Federal Steel was that the company was likely to issue bonds to enlarge and improve some of its plants. Good authorities believe that such a proposition is being considered in a general way, but that no definite action has been taken and no decision may be reached for months to come. The rumor is that a bond issue of $10,000,000 is proposed. An authority on iron and steel affairs said in regard to the rumor that he knew nothing of it, but would not be surprised if the same proved to be true. The fact is, he said in substance, that the steel companies are really in a formative condition, with immense future possibilities before them. All the large companies own plants that are more or less antiquated or obsolete, and these must be replaced by more modern and up-to-date plants. The efforts of steelmakers and of the manufacturers of finished steel products have been toward the cheapening of such manufactures, and this can only be done by adopting the newest methods. Not only the Federal Steel but probably all steel companies will find themselves compelled to renew a considerable portion of their plants in the near future. The effort and aim of every steel manufacturer is to reach the markets of the world. While the United States has made great strides in this direction in the last two years, it has found itself checked at many points by foreign manufacturers. But by the improved methods now being adopted by American manufacturers and by the adoption of new processes and machinery, it will be able to maintain the iron and steel markets of the world, and this is the goal that the iron and steel industry of this country is reaching for. It is not impossible therefore that bond issues may be resorted to by Federal Steel and other companies to meet the first cost of proposed new improvements.

***

All the steel stocks suffered as a result of these rumors, and there was evidence of considerable liquidation. Federal Steel itself, which on the previous day had broken seven points in the face of the 3 per cent. dividend declaration, broke again four points, though recovering somewhat at the close, the final figure showing a net loss of 2⅝ points on dealings in 122,000 shares. The preferred stock was even weaker, losing 3¼ points on dealings in 8,800 shares.

Tin Plate, on which the company has an 8 per cent. dividend had been declared, also broke lower nearly three points, closing with a net loss of 1⅝ on dealings in 20,000 shares.

Nearly all the other stocks in the group lost also, among the declines being: Steel and Wire, 1⅜; Steel Hoop, 1½; Colorado Fuel, 2; National Steel, 1; Pressed Steel Car, ⅞; Tennessee Coal and Iron, 1¾.

GOLD GOING TO PARIS.

Foreign exchange bankers yesterday engaged $1,640,000 in gold bars at the Assay Office for shipment to Paris to-day by La Champagne. Of this amount Heidelbach, Ickelheimer & Co. will send $1,000,000 and Goldman, Sachs & Co. $640,000, the latter having increased their engagement of $500,000 during the day.

It was said yesterday that the shipments were really intended for the benefit of the London market, having been negotiated on the "triangular basis." It was also said in the Street yesterday that the movement initiated would assume considerable proportions, with regular shipments to follow. Everything depends, however, on the situation abroad, since the return currency flow promises to continue in sufficient volume to protect local money supplies and more than offset the drain caused by gold shipments.

IRON AND STEEL SITUATION.

The Iron Age in its weekly review of the situation does not take a pessimistic view, as will appear from its article herewith:

While the reports of important movements among the large producing interests are agitating the trade they have practically no influence upon current business, since they cannot affect trade for a long time to come. Of more immediate interest is the report of negotiations between the most ambitious and substantial of recent new enterprises now approaching completion and the Tin Plate and Wire consolidations. It carried through, they would mean the handling of their products by the consolidations.

There is nothing in the talk of great new combinations, the report recently cabled from London being particularly silly.

ly being the leaders in the effort to take large business for more distant delivery. It should be stated, however, that a little uneasiness has also developed in Eastern Pennsylvania.

No new business is being booked for export. On the contrary, merchants here are endeavoring to cancel engagements, because the pig iron can be sold to greater advantage at home.

It is reported that a little more tonnage is coming up in the billet market, and it is intimated that a little later on the effort to advance the price may prove successful.

On the eve of the meeting of the steel rail manufacturers it is again asserted that prices will be advanced. It is argued that, now that the large roads have nearly all bought, the small purchasers ought to pay more. During the week a good deal of tonnage has been placed, a Chicago estimate making it 100,000 tons. Among those who have bought are the Chesapeake and Ohio, the Gould system, and the Mexican Central, and the placing of contracts by one trunk line and by important Canadian roads is momentarily expected. It is estimated that before the week is out the total tonnage booked from Oct. 1 to date will aggregate 1,500,000 tons, including Mexico and Canada but excluding export sales.

The enormous pressure on the plate mills continues, and both Western and Eastern mills report further commitments. So far as the structural business is concerned, reports from the interior cities indicate a heavy flow of specifications and new contracts.

In the bar trade the leading interests are bestirring themselves to take orders for Spring delivery. It appears that before many months are over some of the contracts taken last August and September at such very low prices will be filled and work to replace them is being sought.

Until the Europeans get over their fright and realize how completely the situation has changed here since October, little new business can be expected in the heavier lines.

Efforts to market German wire rods in Canada have proved futile, because the wire manufacturers there realize that a sharp break in manufactured wire goods might follow a desertion of American rod mills.

RAILROAD BONDS OFFERED.

J. P. Morgan & Co. to Float $10,750,000 at 97½ Per Cent.

J. P. Morgan & Co. offer for sale, at 97½ per cent. and interest, $10,750,000 first mortgage 4 per cent. fifty-year gold bonds of the St. Louis Division of the Southern Railway Company. The bonds are in denominations of $1,000 each, coupon or registered, and bear interest from Jan. 1, 1901.

In a letter to Morgan & Co. describing the property Samuel Spencer, President of the company, says that the bonds are to provide for the payment of the Southern Railway Company's purchase price of the property and franchises which formerly belonged to the Louisville, Evansville and St. Louis Consolidated Railroad Company. The bonds are secured by the Southern Railway's first mortgage on all the railroad property embraced in the St. Louis Division, with a total mileage of 364.53, besides terminals and real estate.

Mr. Spencer says that it is confidently expected that the future operations of the property as a part of the Southern Railway system, instead of as an isolated line, will add materially to both its gross and net earnings, and at the same time its acquisition will add to the strength of position and earning power of the Southern Railway system as a whole.

SECURITIES AT AUCTION.

Adrian H. Muller & Son sold the following securities at auction yesterday at the Real Estate Auction Rooms, 111 Broadway:

By Order of the Washington Trust Company of the City of New York, Sole Executor of the Estate of Charles H. Scott, Deceased.

$5,000 Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company first consolidated mortgage 5 per cent. bonds, due 1939, coupons May and November, 120⅜.

$5,000 St. Louis Southern Railroad first mortgage 4 per cent. gold bonds, due 1931, coupons March and September, 104⅝.

$5,000 Chicago and Eastern Illinois Railroad Company general consolidated and first mortgage 5 per cent. bonds, due 1937, coupons May and November, 110.

$5,000 Wabash Railroad Company first mortgage 5 per cent. gold bonds, due 1939, coupons May and November, 118¼.

$10,000 Montana Central Railway Company first mortgage 6 per cent. gold bonds, due 1937, coupons January and July, 132⅜.

$5,000 St. Paul, Minneapolis and Manitoba Railway Company, consolidated mortgage 6 per cent. gold bonds, due 1933, coupons January and July, 141¼.

$10,000 Milwaukee, Lake Shore and Western Railroad extension and improvement 5 per cent. sinking fund mortgage bonds, due 1929, coupons April and October, 126⅝.

$5,000 Long Island Railroad Company general mortgage 4 per cent. gold bonds, due 1938, coupons June and December, 104¼.

$5,000 Peoria and Eastern Railway Company first consolidated mortgage 4 per cent. bonds, due 1940, coupons April and October, 95½.

$7,000 Toledo, Peoria and Western Railway Company first mortgage 4 per cent. gold bonds, due 1917, coupons January and July, 80¼.

$5,000 Rochester and Pittsburg Railroad Company consolidated first mortgage 6 per cent. gold bonds, due 1922, coupons June and December, 123½.

$8,000 Texas and Pacific Railway Company first mortgage 5 per cent. bonds, due 2000, coupons June and December, 115½.

$10,000 Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway Company (Southern Minnesota Division) first mortgage 6 per cent. bonds, due 1910, coupons January and July, 118.

$4,000 Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé Railway Company general mortgage 4 per cent. bonds, due 1995, coupons April and October, 102½.

$2,000 Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé Railway Company 4 per cent. adjustment bonds, due 1995, 89.

$5,000 Union Pacific Railroad Company first mortgage railroad and land grant 6 per cent. gold bonds, due 1947, coupons January and July, 105⅞.

$1,000 Milwaukee, Lake Shore and Western Railway Company consolidated first mortgage 6 per cent. bonds, due 1021, coupons May and November, 132.

$5,000 Milwaukee and Northern Railroad Company first mortgage 6 per cent. bonds, due 1910, coupons June and December, 113½.

$5,000 Norfolk and Western Railroad general mortgage 4 per cent. gold bonds, due 1931, coupons May and November, 104¾.

$5,000 Scioto Valley and New England Railroad Company first mortgage 4 per cent. gold bonds, due 1989, coupons May and November, 101⅝.

$5,000 Central Pacific Railway Company 4 per cent. first refunding mortgage bonds, due 1949, coupons February and August, 101.

$1,000 Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad Company consolidated mortgage 7 per cent. bond, due 1905, (released from sinking fund,) coupons January and July, 170.

$1,000 Milwaukee, Lake Shore and Western Railway Company 6 per cent. income bond, due 1911, coupons May and November, 111½.

$3,000 Ohio Southern Railroad Company general consolidated mortgage 4 per cent. bonds, (Manhattan Trust Company certificate of deposit,) 7½.

50 shares Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad Company preferred, $100 each, 190.

25 shares Union Pacific Railroad Company preferred, $100 each, 83½.

By Order of the Executors, Estate of Caroline Hentz Gibson, Deceased.

532 shares Third Avenue Railroad Company, $100 each, 120-120¾.

By Order of Executors.

15 shares Importers and Traders' National Bank, $100 each, 535½.

40 shares National Broadway Bank, $25 each, 248.

$2,000 Chicago, St. Paul and Minneapolis Railroad Company first mortgage 6 per cent. bonds, due 1918, coupons May and November, 130.

100 shares Merchants' Exchange National Bank, $50 each, 135.

31 shares National Citizens' Bank, $25 each, 150.

By Order of Trustees.

$1,500 City of New York 6 per cent. consolidated stock coupon bond, due July 1, 1901, 101.

By Order of Administratrix.

$1,000 New York and New Jersey Telephone Company general mortgage 5 per cent. convertible bond, due 1920, interest May and November, 114⅝.

For Account of Albert T. Otto.

480 shares Chicago Heights Land Association common, $100 each, $80 lot.

For Account of Whom It May Concern.

85 shares New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company, $100 each, 212¾.

60 shares Dennett Surpassing Coffee Company common, (hypothecated,) $11 per share.

20 shares American Cotton Oil preferred, $100 each, 88¼.

$2,000 Edison Electric Illuminating Company of New York first mortgage 5 per cent. bonds, due 1910, 109¾.

$2,000 Northern Pacific Terminal first mortgage 6 per cent. bonds, due 1933, 122½.

20 shares National Bank of Commerce, $100 each, 320½.

55 shares National Broadway Bank, $25 each, 248.

60 shares National Citizens' Bank, $25 each, 151.

88 shares Importers and Traders' National Bank, $100 each, 535¼.

10 shares National Shoe and Leather Bank, $100 each, 111.

20 shares Union Trust Company, $100 each, 1,404.

50 shares United New Jersey Railroad and Canal Company, $100 each, guaranteed by Pennsylvania Railroad Company, 277.

80 shares Cleveland and Pittsburg Railroad Company, $50 each, guaranteed by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, 161¼.

50 shares Erie and Pittsburg Railroad Company, $50 each, guaranteed by Pennsylvania Railroad Company, 162.

6 shares Lincoln National Bank of New York, $100 each, 345.

2 shares New Jersey Zinc Company, $100 each, 202.

61 shares Cayuga and Susquehanna Railroad Company, $30 each, 213.

38 shares Bank of New York, N. B. A., $100 each, 340.

25 shares People's Trust Company, $100 each, 350.

30 shares Atlantic Trust Company, $100 each, 222¼.

162 shares Atlantic Trust Company, $100 each, 222¼.

100 shares Inter-State Oil Company, $4¾ per share.

6 shares Peru La Salle Gas Light and Power Company, $1.10 per share.

OUTSIDE SECURITIES.

The conditions that prevailed on the earlier days of the week in the outside market continued yesterday, and, with the exception of a few stocks, transactions were on an even smaller scale. Prices were irregular and net losses appeared in a number of issues, although here and there in the list strength appeared. The United Railways of St. Louis securities were again notable for the strength which they displayed, and with them a few other issues were well bought. In most cases, however, the demand for stocks was light and quotations were inclined to recede. News played a very small part in the day's operations, only one or two issues being directly affected by developments of the day.

***

PITTSBURG, BESSEMER, AND LAKE ERIE was fairly active and advanced fractionally. The strength of the stock was due to the announcement from Pittsburg that the proposed lease to the Carnegie Company had been ratified and the common stock given a guarantee of 3 per cent. per annum. This news also resulted in a better demand for the preferred stock, which closed at 60 bid. At the price at which the common stock is selling, the 3 per cent. guaranteed is equivalent to about 5½ per cent. on the investment. The movement in the stock was slight.

***

CONSOLIDATED EQUIPMENT was unusually active, the day's trading in this stock amounting to about 3,000 shares. The stock seemed to be well taken, and at the close it showed a loss of only an eighth of a point. All the transactions were made between 10⅞ and 11⅛.

***

AMERICAN BRIDGE suffered a still further decline, selling as low as 42 and closing at that price. The transactions in the stock were much larger than on Tuesday and totaled about 1,500 shares. The preferred stock was quieter and stronger. It closed with a net gain of half a point, at 91 bid, having sold as high as 91¾. The other steel stocks were dull and little changed from the previous day's prices.

***

UNION COPPER sold up to 5⅛, and closed unchanged at 4⅞ bid. The day's transactions in this, as well as in the other copper shares, were small.

***

UNITED RAILWAYS OF ST. LOUIS preferred again showed much strength. On small transactions it sold up to 72 and closed at 72 bid, a net gain of 1¾ points. The bonds were steady at the previous day's quotation. St. Louis Transit advanced to 20, but later reacted fractionally, and at the close showed no change for the day. The bonds were much less active than they were on Tuesday.

***

NEW YORK TRANSPORTATION was offered down to 4⅝, and at the close the best bid was 3¾, which showed a net loss of five-eighths of a point. The stock is now at the lowest figure at which it has ever sold.

***

DOMINION IRON AND STEEL common, which has never been traded in in this market, was inquired for yesterday. A bid of 28 was made for 1,000 shares of the stock.

***

ELECTRO-PNEUMATIC declined sharply to 1⅝. It lost three-quarters of a point net.

***

Closing quotations yesterday compared with those of the previous day were as follows:

Industrial and Miscellaneous.

	Jan. 16. Bid.	Asked.	Jan. 15 Bid.	Asked.
Am. Agricultural Chem.	29½	30	29½	30
Am. Agricult. Chem. pf.	90½	91½	89½	91½
American Banknote	50	53	50	53
American Bicycle	5⅛	6¼	5½	6¾
American Bicycle pf.	24	26	25	27
American Bicycle bonds.	72	78	72	72½
American Bridge	42	42¾	42	42⅞
Am. Bridge pf.	91	92	90½	91¾
American Chicle	79	81	79	81
American Chicle pf.	77	82	77	82
Am. Hide & Leather	10	11	10	11
Am. Hide & Leather pf.	35½	39	35½	39
Am. Hide & Leather 6s.	90	90½	90	90¼
*American Thread pf.	4	5	4	5
Am. Typefounders	57	62	57	62
Anthracite Coal	8	8⅛	8	8⅛
Arlington Copper	4	5	4	5
*British Columbia Copper	20⅝	20⅞	20⅞	21⅜
British Exch. 6s	98½	99	98½	99
California Copper	1	1¼	1	1¼
Cast-Iron Pipe	5	6	5	6
Cast-Iron Pipe pf.	33	37	35	37
Central & So. Am. Tel.	102	104	102	104
Central Fireworks	23	27	23	27
Central Fireworks pf.	70	75	70	75
Compressed Air	40	45	40	45
Con. Ry. N. & E.	10⅞	11¼	11	11¼
Con. Rubber Tire	2½	4	2½	4
Con. Rubber Tire pf.	28	32	28	32
Continental Tobacco deb.	104	104	104	100
Crucible Steel	22½	23	23	23½
Crucible Steel pf.	80	81	79	80½
Crampe' Shipyard	81	83	81	83
Dist. Co. of Am. tr. rcts.	5¾	6⅛	5¾	6
Dist. Co. of Am. pf. tr. rcts.	29¾	30¼	29¾	30¼
Electric Boat	26½	28	26	27
Electric Boat pf.	49	51	48½	49½
Electric Vehicle	17	18	17	18
Electric Vehicle pf.	30	40	40	44
Electro-Pneumatic	2½	3	2¾	3
Empire Steel	5	7	6	7
Empire Steel pf.	39	48	39	48
Flemington Coal & Coke.	19	22	19	22
General Carriage	2	2½	2⅜	2½
General Chemical	60	65	60	62
General Chemical pf.	97	99	97	98½
German Treasury 4s	100¾	100⅞	100¼	100⅜
Havana Commercial	9½	10½	9½	10½
Havana Commercial pf.	44	46	44½	45
Hudson River Tel.	117	119	117	119
Illinois Transportation	⅝	1	⅝	1
International Silver pf.	42	47	42	47
Inter-State Oil	3½	5½	4	15
Iron Steamboat	2	3	2	3
Iron Steamboat bonds	55	65	55	65
Joseph Ladue Mining pf.	½	1	½	1
Lombard pf.	100	105	100	105
†Markeen Copper	1½	3	1½	3
Mex. Nat. Construct. pf.	13½	14¾	13½	14¾
Nat. Enamel & Stamp	17	20	17	20
Nat. Enam. & Stamp. pf.	80	84	80	84
National Graphophone	6	12	6	12
Nat. Sugar pf.	100	102	100	102
New England Transport.	3½	3⅝	3½	3⅝
N. Y. Transportation	4⅝	5¼	4⅝	5¼
Otis Elevator	28½	29½	28½	29½
Otis Elevator pf.	91	91⅝	91	91⅜
Peo., Dec. & Evans.	⅝	1	⅝	1
Pitts., Bess & L. Erie	29½	29⅝	28½	29½
Retsof	32	..	32	..
Retsof bonds	78	85	78	85
Royal Baking Powder pf.	94	95	94	95
Royal Copper	11	12	11	12
Rubber Goods Mfg.	28¼	29	28½	29
Rubber Goods Mfg. pf.	78½	79½	78½	79½
Safety Car Heat & Light.	121	..	119	121
St. Louis Transit	19¾	19⅞	19¼	19½
Seaboard Air Line 4s	69¼	70½	69¼	70½
Seaboard Air Line	10¼	10½	10¼	10½
Seaboard Air Line pf.	26¼	26½	26¼	26½
Sheet Steel pf.	74½	76	74	75
Singer Mfg	250	275	250	275
Southern Light & Trac.	32	35	32	35
Standard Coupler	33	38	33	38
Standard Coupler pf.	120	125½	120	125½
Standard Oil of N. J.	805	808	805	808
Sterling Copper	5¾	5⅞	5⅝	5⅝
Storage Power	..	12	10	12
Tennessee Copper	..	18	..	18
Tel., Tel. & Co. of A., $15 paid	..	6	..	6
Trenton Potteries	5	8	5	8
Trenton Pot. pf.	55	60	55	60
Union Copper	4⅞	5⅛	4⅞	5
Union Typewriter	40½	41	40¼	40¾
Union Typewriter 1st pf.	112	114	112	114
Union Typewriter 2d pf.	113	114	112	114
United Rys. of St. L. 4s	88¾	89⅞	89¾	90¼
United Rys. of St. L. pf.	72	..	70¼	71
Va. Coal, I. & C.	3½	4½	4	5
Va. Coal, I. & C. bonds	33	35	34	35½
Westinghouse Air Brake	370	380	370	380
Worthington Pump pf.	111	114	111	114

*Selling dollars per share. Par value $5.
†Selling dollars per share. Par value $100.

Street Railways.

Broadway & 7th Av.	230	235	230	235
Broadway & 7th Av. 1st.	102½	102½	102½	..
Broadway & 7th Av. 2d.	110	113	110	113
Broadway Surface 1st 5s.	115	116	115	116
Broadway Surface 2d.	102½	103½	102½	103½
Brooklyn City R. R.	233	235	232	234
Brooklyn R. T. W. & F. 5s.	100	101⅛	100	101⅛
Cent. Park, N. & E. R.	200	202	199½	201
Cent. Park, N. & E. R. 7s.	104½	105½	104½	105½
Columbus Railway	34	37	34	37
Columbus Railway pf.	90	92	90	92
Con. Traction of N. J.	56	60	58	60
Con. Traction 5s.	108	109	108	109
Eighth Av. Railroad.	390	400	390	410
42d St., M. & St. N. Av. 1st.	113¼	115	113½	115
42d St. M. & St. N. A. 2d.	99	100	99	100
Grand Rapids St. Ry.	27½	30	27½	30
Grand Rapids St. Ry. pf.	80	..	80	..
Jersey City, Hob. & Pat.	20	21¾	20	21¾
Jersey Cy. H. & P. 4s.	82½	83	82½	83
Nassau Electric 4s.	95½	..	95½	..
New Orleans Traction	22	..	22	..
New Orleans Traction pf.	94	98	94	98
9th Av. R. R. 5s.	195	205	198	206
North Jersey St. R. R. 4s.	83½	84½	83½	84½
North Jersey St. R. R.	24	25	24	25
Second Av. R. R. consols.	118	119	118	119
Sixth Av. R. R.	200	210	200	210
Steinway Ry. Co. 1st 6s.	116½	118	116¾	118
Syracuse Rapid Transit.	15	20	15	20
Syracuse Rap. Transit pf.	37	43	39	43
28th & 29th St. 5s. 1906.	113¾	114½	113¾	114½
Union Ry. 1st 5s.	111	113½	111	113½
United Trac., Providence.	109	111	109	111
United Traction bonds.	113½	115	113½	115
Worcester (Mass.) Trac.	84	86	84	86
Wor. (Mass.) Trac. pf.	105	108	105	108

Gas Companies.

Bay State Gas	1¼	1¾	1½	1¾
Buffalo (N. Y.) Stock	6	9	6	9
Buffalo (N. Y.) 1st	74	76	74	76
Central Union 1st gtd.	108¼	109¼	108¼	109¼
Columbus Gas 5s.	106	107	106	107
Con. Gas of New York	255	..	255	..

	Jan. 16. Bid.	Asked.	Jan. 15 Bid.	Asked.
Mutual Gas of N. Y.	296	299	296	299
Madison (Wis.) stock	70	75	70	75
New Amsterdam 5s.	109	110	109	110
N. E. Gas & Coke	12	13	12½	13½
N. E. Gas & Coke 5s.	65	68	65	68⅓
N. Y. & E. R. Gas Co. 1st.	112½	114	111	114
N. Y. & E. R. Gas Co. con.	108	109	106	108
Northern Union 5s.	105½	106	105½	106
Nor. Hud. L., H. & P. Co.	55	56	55	56
Nor. H. L., H. & P. Co. bds.	107	109	107	109
Peo. Gas & El. (Oswego).	25	30	25	30
Peo. G. & E. (Os.) 5s, 1980.	99	101	99	101
St. Joseph (Mo.)	31	38	31	38
St. Joseph (Mo.) 6s.	91	93	91	93
St. Paul Gas stock	..	50	..	50
St. Paul Gas bonds	75	80	75	80
Standard Gas, New York.	131	133	130	133
Standard Gas, N. Y., pf.	151	153	150	153
Standard Gas 1st	115	117	115	117
Syracuse Gas stock	8	10	8	10
Western Gas	96	100	96	100
Western Gas 1st 5s.	105	107	105	107

Ferry Companies.

Brooklyn Ferry	19	21	19	21
East River Ferry	69	71	69	71
East River Ferry 5s.	96	98	96	98
Hoboken Ferry con. 5s.	94	95	94	95
Hoboken Ferry 1st.	110½	112½	110½	112½
Hoboken Ferry	80	81	80	81
Metropolitan Ferry 5s.	108	110	108	110
Union Ferry	31	33	30	31½
Union Ferry bonds	91	92	91	92

BULLION AND MINING.

Silver bullion certificates were quoted on the Stock Exchange at 64½@65½. There were no sales.

Bar silver was quoted in London at 29 3-16d per ounce, and in New York at 63⅝. Mexican silver dollars at 49⅝c.

On the Stock Exchange, 200 shares of Standard sold at $4.30@$4.25.

On the Consolidated Exchange, 500 shares of Argentum Juanita sold at .28, 200 Brunswick at .28, 1,000 Comstock bonds at .05, 800 Chrysolite at .10, 1,000 Creede & Cripple Creek at .12, seller 10; 100 Elkton at 1.85, 200 Ophir at .81, 100 Portland at 3.20, 100 Small Hopes at .80, and 100 Standard at 4.20.

***

Closing bids for mining stocks on the Consolidated Exchange were as follows:

Alice	.45	Ontario	6.25
Adams Consol.	.20	Ophir	.60
Belcher	.12	Occidental	.03
Best & Belcher	.20	Phoenix G. M. Co.	.10
Breece	2.00	Potosi	.10
Bruns. Con.	.28	Savage	.18
Caledonia, B. H.	.02½	Standard	4.15
Collar	.10	Small Hopes	.70
Crown Point	.14	Union Consol.	.20
Chrysolite	.09	Utah	.04
Con. Cal. & Va.	1.50	Victor	.25
Com. T. Co. stock	.05	Yellow Jacket	.12
Com. T. Co. bonds	.60	Argentum Juanita	.27
Com. T. Co. scrip	.05	Alliance	.11
Crescent	.05	Anaconda	.40
Catalpa	.10	Crip. Creek Cons.	.11
Dunkin	.10	Isabella	.65
Deadwood Terra	.54	Mollie Gibson	.20
Daly	1.05	Mount Rosa	.35
Eureka Consol.	.16	Pharmacist	.07
Father De Smet	.35	Portland	3.15
Gould & Curry	.40	Work	.19
Hale & Norcross	.15	Damon	.14
Horn Silver	1.15	Elkton	1.80
Iron Silver	.65	Findlay	.11
Julia Consol.	.02	Garfield	.08
Kingston & Penub	.10	Jack Pot	.63
La Crosse	.14	Pinnacle	.03
Leadville, Con.	.06	P. I. W. No. 2	10.50
Little Chief	.90	P. I. W. No. 3	10.00
Mexican	.20	P. I. W. No. 4	9.25
Moulton	.30	P. I. W., Grey F.	9.25

BOSTON STOCK MARKET.

Special to The New York Times.

BOSTON, Jan. 16.—Boston had a busy morning in Federal Steel, 6,000 shares of it selling in the first two hours and one-half. Sugar, Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, and Tube also were active, 9,000 shares of Chicago, Burlington and Quincy selling in the morning, the stock being in eager demand. In home specialties a rise of 1½, to 39, in Copper Range, on continued brisk inquiry, was a feature, while a drop of 2, to 13, in United States Oil, on the Texas oil developments, was another. Franklin rights sold at 30@20 cents, mostly at 25 cents; Franklin stock sold at 16 ex-rights, 16¼ cash, a decline of ⅜; Baltic lost ⅞, to 34; Gas and Coke 5s were off 1¼ more, at 66; Old Dominion lost 1½, to 30; Erie Telephone gained 2, to 67, later receding to 66; American Telegraph was firm at 161½. In the late trading Isle Royale came down 1½, to 35; Tri-Mountain gained ½, to 12¾; Parrot lost ½, to 49¼; Dominion Coal lost ½, to 37; Montana touched 325, but fell back to 320. The close was quiet and heavy.

Money loaned at the Clearing House at 2½ per cent., and New York funds sold at par and 5 cents' discount.

Call money is readily within a range of 3½ to 4½ per cent. There is a wide market for four to six months' paper at 4 per cent., with strong borrowers obtaining as low as 3½; less desirable paper is quoted at 4 to 5 per cent.

Closing bid and asked:

Mining Stocks.

	Bid.	Asked.		Bid.	Asked.
Adventure	9¾	10¼	Old Colony	3½	4½
Alloues	..	..	Old Dominion	30	30¼
Arcadian	18	19	Osceola	82	..
Arnold	4½	5	Parrot	40¼	40⅝
Ash Bed	.87½	.50	Quincy	176	179
Atlantic	23	29	Rhode Island	4½	4¾
Baltic	33½	34	Santa Fe	6¾	6⅞
Bos. & Mon.	320	80	Santa Ysabel	2	3
Butte & Bos.	78½	80	Shoe	31½	32
Cal. & Hec.	845	850	Tamarack	828	832
Centennial	22½	23	Utah Cons.	33	33¾
Franklin	16	16¾	Washington	.50	.60
Humboldt	50	1	Winona	5¼	5⅞
Isle Royale	35½	36	Wolverine	48½	49
Mohawk	..	24

Railroad Stocks.

Bos. & Alb.	254	254½	Cent. Mass.	14½	16
Bos. & Lowell	242	..	Fitchburg pf.	139½	140
Bos. Gas 5s.	80	81	N. Y. & N. E. 8s.	109½	..
Bos. & Me.	194	195	N. Y. & N. E. 7s.	113½	..
B

CONSOLIDATED EXCHANGE SALES.

Stocks.

Sales.		First.	High.	Low.	Close.
30	Amal. Copper. ..	90½	90½	90½	90½
320	Am. Smelting..	64¾	64¾	64¼	64¼
12,640	Am. Steel & W..	41¼	38⅞	39⅝	39⅝
85,120	Am. Sugar Ref..	133½	132½	134¾	134¾
100	Am. Tin Plate..	60½	60½	60½	60½
610	Am. Tobacco..	115¼	113	113¾	113¾
1,300	A., T. & S. F..	46	44¾	44⅝	45
1,650	A.,T. & S.F. pf.	85¾	84¾	84½	84⅝
200	Balt. & Ohio....	91½	91	91	91
54,460	Brook. Rap. Tr.	85¾	84¾	82⅞	83½
20	Cent. of N. J....	155	155	155	155
150	Ches. & Ohio....	40⅛	39	39	39
83,680	C., B. & Q.....	143⅝	143⅝	143½	144½
100	Chi. Gt. West...	18	18¼	18	18⅛
13,480	Chi., M. & St. P.	150	154⅜	150	150⅞
670	C., R. I. & Pac.	123	124⅝	122⅞	122⅞
250	Col. Fuel.....	49½	49½	47¼	47¼
1,240	Cont. Tobacco..	45¾	45¾	43⅝	43⅝
4,180	Erie.....	30¼	30⅝	29⅛	29⅛
2,800	Erie 1st pf....	67	67¾	65⅞	65⅞
49,350	Federal Steel..	53⅝	52	46⅞	48¼
110	Fed. Steel pf....	72	72	71	71
770	Louis. & Nash..	89½	90	88¾	88¾
26,460	Manhattan.....	123⅝	125⅜	119	119⅝
10	Mex. C. & T. pf.	47⅝	47⅝	47⅛	47⅛
2,540	Mo. Pacific....	84¾	85⅝	83⅜	84¼
20	N. Y. Central...	144	144	144	144
1,020	N. Y., O. & W..	32¾	33⅜	31½	31⅝
100	Norf. & West...	45	45	44½	44½
6,020	Nor. Pacific...	82¾	84⅞	82⅜	84⅛
1,300	Nor. Pac. pf....	80½	80½	80½	80½
150	Pacific Mail...	42¾	43	41	41
7,500	People's Gas, Chi.	101⅞	102⅝	98⅞	99⅝
4,140	Reading.....	33⅜	34¼	31⅝	32
1,590	Read. 1st pf....	73	73	71¼	71⅜
40	Read. 2d pf....	45¾	45¾	45¾	45¾
10	St. L. S. W. pf.	56⅞	56⅞	56⅜	56⅜
8,000	Southern Pac....	42¾	43⅜	42¼	42½
440	Southern Ry....	29½	29⅝	29	29⅜
50	South. Ry. pf....	71⅜	71¾	71¼	71⅜
50	Stand. R. & T..	5	5	4¾	4¾
1,220	Tenn. Coal & I..	53½	53½	52½	53
600	Texas Pacific...	26⅝	26¾	25⅝	26
13,900	Union Pacific...	84⅞	85⅝	83¼	83⅝
40	Union Pac. pf....	84	84	83	83
870	U. S. Leather...	12¼	12½	12	12¼
13,150	U. S. Rubber....	21⅜	21⅝	21¼	21½
100	Wabash pf.....	26⅝	26⅝	25¾	25¾
130	West. Union....	84⅝	85⅜	84⅛	85⅜
290,280

Bonds.

Sales.		First.	High.	Low.	Close.
$20,000	A., T. & S.F. adj.	80⅝	80⅝	80⅜	80⅜

MINING STOCK QUOTATIONS.

Special to The New York Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 16.—The official closing quotations for mining stocks today and yesterday were as follows:

	Wednesday.	Tuesday.
Alta	.04	.04
Alpha Con.	.02	.02
Andes	.08	.01
Belcher	.13	.14
Best & Belcher	.23	.23
Bullion	.02	.02
Caledonia	.17	.18
Challenge Con.	.18	.19
Chollar	.11	.11
Confidence	.63	.64
Con. Cal. & Va.	1.65	1.65
Con. Imperial	.02	.02
Crown Point	.15	.14
Gould & Curry	.43	.41
Hale & Norcross	.17	.17
Julia	.02	.02
Justice	.01	.01
Kentucky Con.	.01	.02
Lady Washington Con.	.02	.02
Mexican	.33	.36
Occidental Con.	.04	.04
Ophir	.63	.64
Overman	.14	.14
Potosi	.11	.11
Savage	.15	.15
Sag Belcher	.02	.02
Sierra Nevada	.21	.21
Standard	4.00	4.00
Sunbeam	.09	.10
St. Louis	.08	.10
Union Con.	.23	.22
Utah Con.	.06	.06
Yellow Jacket	.13	.14
Silver bars	62¾	63¼
Mexican dollars	50½	50½
Drafts, sight	.15	.15
Telegraph	.20	.20

Special to The New York Times.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Jan. 16.—Gardner & Co. report closing quotations as follows:

	Wednesday.		Tuesday.
	Bid.	Asked.	Bid.	Asked.
Acacia	26½	27	27½	28
Atlanta	11⅝	12	11⅝	12
Argentum	30	500	28	30
Anaconda	42	44	42½	45
Butterfly-Terrible	2½	3	2½	3
Battle Mountain	25	26	24½	25
Blue Bell	14¼	14½	14½	14½
C. C. Cons.	11½	11⅝	11⅝	12
C. C. & M.	9½	9½	9	9½
Columbine Victor	11½	12	11½	11¾
Cortelyou	18½	19	19½	19½
Dante	9	10	8½	9
Damon	14½	15	14½	15½
Doctor Jackson con.	65	68	97½	99½
Elkton	185	188	185	187
El Paso	48	48	46	47
Findley	12	13	12½	13
Golden Fleece	25	27	25	30
Gibson	20	25	20	30
Gold King	100	115	100	115
Gold Knob	10	11	10	11
Gold Coin	225	600	225	500
Gold Dollar	24½	24¾	23½	23⅝
Gold Sovereign	78	85	75	75½
Gould	25	25½	20	21
Hart	15	16	15	17
Ingham	21½	24	21½	23
Isabella	67	67½	68	68
Independence	29	31	30	31
Jackpot	60	68	65	68
Keystone	13½	14	13½	14
Last Dollar	65	68	65	68
Lexington	12½	12⅝	12½	12⅝
Mount Hosa	40	50	40	50
Mary Cashen	13	13½	13½	14
Moon Anchor	30	30	30	30
National	90	95	90	90
New Haven	75	77½	75	77½
Nugget	20	22	20	22
Ophir	35	40	35	40
Orphan	16	18	16	18
Pharmacist	7½	8	7½	8
Pinnacle	15	17½	18	18½
Pointer	17½	17½	16	16
Portland	325	325	320	320
Rose Nicol	10½	10⅝	10	10½
Rawlings	15	22½	18	22½
Sedan	14⅝	15½
Vindicator	125	130	125	130
Work	20½	21	20½	21
Zoe	18½	18⅝

NEW CORPORATIONS.

Union Furniture Company of Union; capital, $15,000. Directors—G. D. Lincoln, A. Jewell, and H. C. Jewell, Union.

Cuba Telephone Company of Cuba; capital, $12,000. Directors—Charles Richer, Clarence Richer, and G. H. Richer, Cuba.

Dr. Brown Medical Company of Albany; capital, $2,000. Directors—E. A. McNamee, G. C. Sniper, and Dr. J. C. Brown, Albany.

Bay Ridge Lumber Company of Brooklyn; capital, $4,000. Directors—C. P. Reid and R. L. Reid, New York City; Edward Orrell, Jr., Brooklyn.

Chaffee & Selchow of New York City, to publish magazines; capital, $200,000. Directors—H. B. Chaffee, F. N. Selchow, and L. R. Kidder, New York City.

Sound Beach Tool Company of New York City; capital, $12,000. Directors—D. A. Numan and C. W. Coleman, New York City; W. G. Adams, Sound Beach, Conn.

John T. Brady & Co. of New York City, to carry on a contracting business; capital, $20,000. Directors—John T. Brady, J. P. Butler, and J. F. Gordan, New York City.

IN THE REAL ESTATE FIELD

Charles A. Gould Buys 64 Wall Street—Variety of Dealing in Small Properties—Results at Auction.

George R. Read has sold for James H. Stebbins to Charles A. Gould the three-story building 64 Wall Street, north side, between William and Pearl Streets, 25.5 by 89.

Samuel Goldsticker has sold for John O'Neil to a Mr. Parsons the Edgecombe Stables property on the north side of One Hundred and Fortieth Street, 150 feet west of Eighth Avenue. The building is four stories in height, of brick construction, and occupies a plot 100 by 99.

The Beekman estate has sold the plot, 75 by 100.5, on the north side of Sixty-fourth Street, 110 feet east of Broadway.

John N. Golding has sold for C. C. Marshall the plot on the north side of Eighty-eighth Street, 127.9 feet east of Fifth Avenue, 78 by 100.5.

Pease & Elliman have sold for Charles Buek the five-story American basement dwelling 339 East Forty-ninth Street, 20 by 100.5.

George R. Read reports that he has sold a dwelling on Madison Avenue, facing Madison Square, but declines to give further particulars regarding the transaction for the present.

Peter Wagner has sold the two four-story dwellings 337 and 339 West Eighty-fourth Street, on a plot 34 by 102.2.

Ranald H. Macdonald & Co. have sold for Robert A. Sasseen, for $103,000, the two dwellings 35 and 37 West Thirty-first Street, 35.4 by 98.9. Plans were filed at the Building Department on Monday for a ten-story business building to be erected on this property by Elizabeth A. Wilcox.

It is reported that the four-story flat 1,502 First Avenue, 25 by 94, has been sold by the estate of Theodore E. Heldenfeld for about $20,000.

Bryan L. Kennelly & Co. have sold for Leopold Hutter to John Conlan the four-story brick flat, with store, 347 West Fifty-second Street, 20 by 100.5.

William Seeligsberg has sold for E. and G. Doctor to Mrs. G. Bunger the three-story brownstone-front dwelling 140 West One Hundred and Twenty-third Street, 16.8 by 100.11.

J. T. Stockdale & Co., Amsterdam Avenue, corner of Ninety-third Street, have negotiated with John W. Stevens, a builder of 156 Fifth Avenue, for the purchase of 10 West Eighteenth Street, a private dwelling, on a lot 28 by 92. This house will be torn down, and replaced with a nine-story loft building. The builder purchases the property with a building loan.

Lionel Froehlichs & Son bought from Edwin T. Bartram and Miss A. Wilkins for their clients 132 East Seventy-third Street, 15 by 65 by 100, three-story American basement dwelling, and 114 East Ninety-fifth Street, 15 by 60 by 100, three-story American basement dwelling, on private terms.

Results at Auction.

Yesterday's offerings in the Trinity Building Salesroom resulted as follows:

By William M. Ryan.

One Hundred and Eleventh Street, northwest corner of Park Avenue, 17.9 by 100.11 and irregular, three-story brick dwelling, with two-story brick building at the rear; foreclosure sale, to Mary E. Maurer $10,200

304 West Seventieth Street, south side, 100 feet west of West End Avenue, 17 by 100.5, three-story brick dwelling; foreclosure sale, to the plaintiff, Margie B. Lucey, as executrix 11,500

To-day's Auction Sales.

The following sales at auction are down for to-day at 111 Broadway:

By William M. Ryan, foreclosure sale, Louis Adler, referee, 4 Washington Place, southeast corner of Mercer Street, 100 by 49.9, five-story brick hotel. Due on judgment, $156,647.

By William M. Ryan, foreclosure sale, Stanley H. Bevins, referee, Amsterdam Avenue, southwest corner of One Hundred and Thirty-first Street, 24.11 by 100, vacant. Due on judgment, $7,680.

By William M. Ryan, foreclosure sale, John H. Judge, referee, 554 to 562 West Twenty-fifth Street, south side, 100 feet east of Eleventh Avenue, 125 by 98.9, four-story brick building. Due on judgment, $73,450.

By Philip A. Smyth, foreclosure sale, John E. Duffy, referee, 254 West Sixty-fifth Street, south side, 400 feet west of Amsterdam Avenue, 24.7 by 100.5, six-story brick tenement, with stores. Due on judgment, $43,805; subject to another mortgage for $15,000.

By James L. Wells, foreclosure sale, Grenville B. Winthrop, referee, 532 West One Hundred and Forty-ninth Street, south side, 341.8 feet west of Amsterdam Avenue, 16.8 by 99.11, three-story stone-front dwelling. Due on judgment, $13,000.

By William Kennelly, foreclosure sale, John F. Brennan, referee, 203 and 205 West One Hundred and Second Street, north side, 100 feet west of Amsterdam Avenue, each 30 by 100, two five-story stone-front flats. Due on judgment, $31,916.

By William Kennelly, foreclosure sale, George W. Ellis, referee, 54 West Ninety-seventh Street, south side, 500 feet west of Central Park West, 20 by 100, four-story brick dwelling. Due on judgment, $21,554.

By Phoenix Ingraham & Co., foreclosure sale, Lucas L. Van Allen, referee, 36 New Chambers Street, running through to Rose Street, southwest side, 75 feet west of Pearl Street, 28.10 by 17.11 by 25.1 by 3.3, three-story brick building; also, a gore formed by the junction of New Chambers and Rose Streets, adjoining the foregoing, 6.4 by 6.6 by 3.3. Due on judgment, $5,251.

By McVickar & Co., foreclosure sale, Samuel S. Slater, referee, 60 and 62 East Ninety-sixth Street, south side, 120 feet east of Madison Avenue, each 20 by 100.8, two five-story brick flats. Due on judgment, on each, $18,781.

By Richard V. Harnett & Co., foreclosure sale, M. S. Gulterman, referee, 1,056 and 1,058 Home Street and 1,182 Stebbins Avenue, being the southeast corner, 55 by 94 by 102.9 by 33, three three-story frame flats, with store on the corner. Due on judgment, $13,410.

By Peter F. Meyer & Co., foreclosure sale, Edward Browne, referee, 325, 327, and 329 West Eleventh Street, north side, 117.5 feet west of Greenwich Street, 28.8, 28.5, and 28.8, respectively, by 95.4, three five-story brick tenements, with stores. Due on judgment, $7,661; subject to other mortgages for $80,250.

By Peter F. Meyer & Co., foreclosure sale, Edward Browne, referee, 71 Convent Avenue, southeast corner of One Hundred and Forty-fourth Street, (proposed,) 20 by 100, four-story brick dwelling. Due on judgment, $26,016.

THE BUILDING DEPARTMENT.

List of Plans Filed for New Structures and Alterations.

Thirteenth Street, south side, 275 feet east of Avenue B, Unionport, for a two-story frame dwelling, 19 by 30; Francis Zentgraf, Unionport, owner; T. L. Newman, architect; cost, $2,500.

Second Avenue, east side, 100 feet south of Union Avenue, for a one-and-one-half-story frame shed, 19 by 13; J. Peterson, Westchester, owner and architect; cost, $150.

No. 231 Thompson Street, for a six-story brick flat, 25 by 65.2; Charles Friedman, premises, owner; M. Bernstein, of 245 Broadway, architect; cost, $20,000.

No. 466 East Seventy-first Street, for a six-story brick flat, 25 by 90; John K. Oats of 658 Ninth Avenue, owner; James W. Cole, architect; cost, $20,000.

Hill Avenue, east side, 250 feet south of Jefferson Avenue, for a two-and-one-half-story frame dwelling, 18 by 32.6; Kate Johnson of 48 Bedford Street, owner; C. P. Johnson of 8 East Forty-second Street, architect; cost, $2,500.

Union Avenue, east side, 217 feet south of One Hundred and Sixty-fifth Street, for two four-story brick flats, each 30 by 88; Ole Olsson of 984 Union Avenue, owner; Edward Wenz of 1,491 Third Avenue, architect; total cost, $42,000.

No. 171 East Broadway, for a six-story brick flat, with stores, 26.1 by 83.6; Y. Goldberg of 133 East Broadway, owner; F. Ebeling of 97 Seventh Street, architect; cost, $2,000.

Alterations.

Nos. 48 and 60 Pitt Street, to two five-story brick tenements and stores; Samuel Greenfield of 335 East Fourth Street, owner; M. Bernstein of 245 Broadway, architect; cost, $1,000.

Nos. 71 and 73 Worth Street, to a five-story brick store and lofts; Elizabeth W. Aldrich of 200 Madison Avenue, owner; cost, $800.

Lexington Avenue, northwest corner of Twenty-fourth Street, to a three-story brick store and laundry; Mrs. M. Cordes, owner; C. Schwarz, premises, lessee; Edward L. Young, architect; cost, $500.

Grand Central Station yard, at the north side of Forty-sixth Street, to a two-story brick shop; New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company, owner and architect; cost, $1,500.

Park Avenue, east side, Thirty-second to Thirty-third Street, to a two-story brick car house; Metropolitan Street Railway Company, owner; A. V. Porter of 621 Broadway, architect; cost, $2,000.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.

In the following list "mtg" stands for mortgage and "R. S" for revenue stamps. The war revenue law provides that stamps shall be placed on all conveyances at the rate of 50 cents for each $500 of consideration. This "consideration" has been held to mean only the equity above the mortgage, except in the rare cases where the purchaser assumes payment of the mortgage. The amount of the mortgage plus 1,000 times the value of the revenue stamps on the conveyance should therefore show the true consideration.

Wednesday, Jan. 16.

AMSTERDAM AV, w s, 30 ft s of 181st St, 49.11x100; Susan H. and Jacob A. Geissenhainer to Frederick W. Hunter, (R S $20) $1

AMSTERDAM AV, s w corner of 181st St, 24x100; Mary L. Hunter and others, executrix, &c., to Frederic W. Hunter, quitclaim 1

ARNOLD AV, e s, 115 ft s of James St, Throgg's Neck, 25x100; Rebecca J. Clarke to Ellen Anderson, quitclaim...Omitted

ARNOLD AV, e s, 175 ft s of James, St, Throgg's Neck, 25x100; Ellen Anderson to Minnie E. Flagg ..... Gift

CHRISTOPHER ST, 75x100.2x25x100.1; George Schuster to Samuel J. Ruth and another, mtg $12,000, R S $60) 1

FAIRMOUNT PLACE, s s, 322.9 ft w of Marmion Av, 25x85.1x25.1x70.8; Emma Hiner to John Firner 1

GRAND ST, 99.8 ft e of Essex St, 23.6x100.4x23.4x100.8; Jonas Well and another to Julius Schattman, (R S $38, mtg $60,000) 1

HENRY ST, 180, s s, 21.10x100; Charles Saul to Henry I. Jacobs, (R S $2.50, mtg $24,000) 27,500

HESTER ST, 59 and 61, 41.7x irregular; Abraham Kassel, executor, &c., to Morris Marans, (all title, &c.) 1

HESTER ST, 63; also 325 and 334 Ludlow St, n e corner; Abraham Kassel to Morris Marans, quitclaim 1

MONROE ST, 167, n s, 20.7x100; David Ravitch to Jacob Wohlberg, (R S $6, mtg $10,000) 100

PARK AV, 1,073, 25x82.6; Rosie and Simon Haberman to Henry C. Glaser, (mtg $18,000, R S $9) 100

PEARL ST, 100 and 102, s s; the National Conduit Manufacturing Company to the National Conduit and Cable Company, (all title, &c.) 1

PROSPECT AV, w s, 108 ft n of 165th St, 50x175; Christina Montag to Albertine Paul, (R S $4, mtg $7,700) 100

PROSPECT TERRACE, s w corner of 14th St, 39x100; Thurlow J. Kelsh, referee, to Joseph F. Mooney, trustee, (R S $4.50) 3,400

PROSPECT TERRACE, w s, 89 ft s of 14th St, 25x100; Maunsell B. Field, referee, to Joseph F. Mooney, trustee, (R S $4) 3,400

ROCKFIELD ST, 748.9 ft w of William's Bridge Road, 50x100; Joseph J. Maloney, executor, to William F. McNamara, (R S $4.50, mtg $2,850) 3,250

STANTON ST, n w corner of Orchard St, 43.11x99, irregular; Lena Miller to Clito Weingarten, (mtg $45,000, R S $17) 1

ST. NICHOLAS AV, n w corner of 116th St, 89.1x97x75.11x143.8; Michael McCormack to Simon E. and Max E. Bernheimer, (mtg $270,000, R S $125) 100

UNION AV, w s, 276.8 ft n of George St, 25x140; Samuel Love and others to Edward S. Rourke 2,000

6TH ST, s s, 200.1 ft w of Avenue A, 25.2x97; Barbara King and others, executrix, to Barbara Grossman, (R S $4, mtg $18,000) 21,800

6TH ST, s s, 200.1 ft w of Avenue A, 25.2x97; Veronika Kropf and another to Barbara Grossman, (R S $4, mtg $18,000) 100

26TH ST, n s, 260 ft w of 10th Av, 40x98.9; George A. Stimpson to Michael Tully, (R S $6, mtg $9,000) 100

26TH ST, n s, 260 ft w of 10th Av, 40x98.9; Marie Obry to George A. Stimpson, (R S $15) 100

38TH ST, n s, 200 ft w of 1st Av, 25x98.9; Ludwig Heck to Catharine Burns, (R S $4, mtg $10,000) ..... Gift

50TH ST, n s, 300 ft e of 9th Av, 25x100.5; Charles W. Doherty and others, executors, &c., to Nelson D. Stilwell, (R S $22.50) 16,000

72D ST, 115 East, 20x102.2; Frederick A. Constable and others to Walter B. Chambers, ½ part, quitclaim, (R S $1) 1

72D ST, 115 East, 20x102.2, all, Walter B. Chambers to Sara G. Bronson, (R S $36, mtg $21,000) 36,000

76TH ST, 120 West, 20x102.2; Anna M. Spencer to Diedrich Flink 34,000

80TH ST, 310 West, 50x102.2; Michael Tully to Marie Obry, (R S $55, mtg $70,000) 125,000

95TH ST, 211 East, 27x100.8; Randolph Guggenheimer to Sigmund Blumenthal, (mtg $15,400, R S $15) 1

101ST ST, n s, 100 ft w of 1st Av, 100x100.11; Sigmund Blumenthal to Randolph Guggenheimer, (mtg $18,942, R S $11) 1

106TH ST, 305 West, 20x100.11; Joseph A. Farley to Henry F. Schwarz, (mtg $11,000, R S $14) 1

112TH ST, 9 to 17 West, 125x100.11; Julius Schattmann to Jenny Braun, (R S $15, mtg $120,000) 1

116TH ST, 105 East, 15.10x100.11; Lexington Av, 1,747, e s, 20x93; Sutherland R. Haxtun, trustee, to Catharine J. Smith, (R S $1) 1,000

122D ST, 61 East, 27x100.11; Chessie E. Zeller to William J. Hyland, (R S $10, mtg $10,000) 29,000

132D ST, 81 West, 26x99.11; David Burton to Carrie Bargebuhr, (mtg $20,000, R S $6) 1

133D ST, s s, 279 ft w of Willow Av, 50x100; Barbara Brantigam to Joseph A. Brantigam, (all liens, R S $1) 1

144TH ST, s s, 575 ft e of Willis Av, 25x — to w s of Mill Brook x57x100; Charles Albelt to Mary M. Albelt, (R S $2.50,) ½ part 1

169TH ST, s e corner of Prospect Av, 26.5x90.5x25x98.11; Ira G. Bowman to Eugene M. Bowman, (R S $4,) ½ part 1

183D ST, s s, 252.10 ft w of Amsterdam Av, 17.5x104.11; Edward L. Parris, referee, to Caroline Eichberg and others, executors, (R S $7.50) 7,300

Recorded Leases.

LEXINGTON AV, 40; 24th St, 131 East; Mary Cordes to Carl Schwarz, 5 years, $2,040, $2,100

MAIN ST, w s, 50 ft n of Cross St, (the Bridge Hotel;) Mary C. Burke to John Kerr and another, 4 years $480, 600

RIDGE ST, 151; Joseph Bloom to Isaac Sebalowitz, 3 years 660

3D AV, 2,721; Robert Crawford to Gustav Burchardt, 3 years $1,320, 1,260

107TH AV, 98, n e corner of 16th St; Henry Frey to Richard Grant, 5 years. 1,650

Recorded Mortgages.

Interest is at 5 per cent., unless otherwise specified.

ALTENREITH, Henry G., and James R. Cowan to the Equitable Life Assurance Society; part of Lot 4, map of the property at Fort Washington, contains about 2 203-1,000 acres, 5 years, 4½ per cent. ..$18,000

BARGEBUHR, Carrie, to David Burton; 132d St, 81 West, 1 year 1,000

BERRAN, Mary F., to Albert Liebman; Boston Road, s s, 148.11 ft e of Woodruff St, 3 years 2,750

BLOOMFIELD, Isabella and William, to David Scott; 5th St, n s, 150 ft e of White Plains Av, installments, 6 per cent. 312

BLUMENTHAL, Sigmund, to Randolph Guggenheimer; 95th St, n s, 206 ft e of 3d Av, 2 years, 6 per cent. 3,553

BRONSON, Sara G., to Sara G. Brown, executrix, and others; 115 East 72d St, demand 10,000

BROWN, Genevieve and James, to Yonkers Savings Bank; Fordham Av, s e corner of a 20-foot lane, City Island, 1 year 3,000

CANAVAN, Odelie, to H. Kochler & Co.; 2,128 8th Av, saloon lease, demand, 6 per cent. 5,000

COWMAN, Thomas, to Mary L. Walker; 130th St, s s, 150 ft w of Amsterdam Av, 1 year, 6 per cent. 1,000

DAVIDSON, Isaac, to Jennie R. Fogel; 178 Lexington Av, 2 years 1,978

FLAGG, Minnie E. and George W., to Annie N. Phelps; Arnold Av, e s, 175 ft s of James St, Throgg's Neck, 3 years, 6 per cent. 1,500

GARST, John D., to Jacob Korn; lot 152 to 155, map of the Hermitage Div. No. 6, on 47th St, n w s, 100x100.4, 1 year, 6 per cent. 6,000

GILLESPIE, Patrick, to Patrick F. Christopher; Columbus Av, s e part 24, map of 211 lots of Downing estate, 1 year, 6 per cent. 200

HARRISON, John B., to Broadway Savings Institution; Madison Av, s w corner of 118th St, rerecorded, 1 year, 4½ per cent. 55,000

HEISE, John, to Edward J. Sparenberg; 6th Av, 394 and 398, leasehold, 1 year, 6 per cent. 2,000

KARST, John D., to William Pennington; 47th St, s s, 200 ft e of 11th Av, 75x100.4, 5 years, (three mortgages,) each 18,000

KARST, John D., to Stephen G. Bogert, trustee; 47th St, 542 West, 3 years 18,000

KLEINSCHMIDT, Ludwig, to Moritz Lesser; 86th St, n s, 100 ft w of Avenue A, 5 years, 4½ per cent. 20,000

LEVIN, Nathan, and Adelaide Blum to Margaret J. Nestor; 139th St, s s, 325 ft e of Willis Av, 3 years, 4½ per cent. 13,000

MEYER, Jacob, to George Ehret; Clinton Place, 37, or 8th St, 35 East, lease, demand, 8 per cent. 4,000

RAFTER, Edward, to Knickerbocker Trust Company; 92d St, n s, 165 ft w of Broadway, 5 years, 4½ per cent. 48,000

RUESS, Daniel and Christian, to Sarah M. Harlow, executrix, &c.; Broadway, e s, 75.11 ft n of 131st St, 1 year 2,000

SCHAEFFER, Caroline, to Charles F. Wille and another, executors, &c.; Arthur Av, widened, s w corner of 178th St, 3 years, 6 per cent. 1,000

SCHATTMAN, Julius, to Jonas Well and another; Grand St, s s, 66.8 ft e of Essex St, installments, 6 per cent. 15,000

SIEBERN, Henry W., to Marcus Beckmann; Madison Av, s w corner of 109th St, 1 year, 6 per cent. 1,750

STANTON, Edwin B., to Bruno Benziger; 39th St, n s, 200 ft w of 9th Av, 3 years 18,000

STILWELL, Nelson D., to Charles W. Doherty and others, executors, &c.; 50th St, n s, 300 ft e of 9th Av, 2 years 16,000

STILWELL, Nelson D., to City Mortgage Company; 55th St, s s, 105.10 ft w of Broadway, 1 year, 6 per cent. 10,000

STIMPSON, George A., to American Mortgage Company; 26th St, n s, 160 ft w of 10th Av, 1 year 3,000

STUMPF, Catharine J., to William McAllister and another, executors, &c.; Prospect St, s s, 200 ft w of Main St, City Island, 3 years 1,428

THE NATIONAL CONDUIT AND CABLE Company, a corporation, to Seamen's Bank for Savings; 160 and 162 Pearl St, 3 years, 4 per cent. 50,000

TULLY, Michael, to the United States Trust Company; 80th St, 310 West, due as per bond 70,000

TULLY, Michael, to E. Ellery Anderson; 70th St, s s, 82 ft e of West End Av, 3 years, 4½ per cent. 20,000

WEINGARTEN, Clle, to Lena Miller; Stanton St, n w corner of Orchard St, due July 1, 1901 6,600

WEYMANN, Ernst C., to J. C. Julius Langbein; Potter Place, s s, 716.4 ft e of Marion Av., 1 year, 6 per cent. 200

WILSEY, Marletta, to Helen L. Anthon; 98th St, s s, 214.11 ft w of Columbus Av, 3 years, 4½ per cent 11,500

WOHLBERG, Jacob, to David and Joseph Ravitch; 167 Monroe St, 6 years, 6 per cent. 6,000

Assignments of Mortgages.

ARNSTEIN, Eugene, and another, executors, &c., to Anselm Jakobi, ½ part $2,023

DOWNES, Eliza B., to William G. Mullegan 3,000

GOLDEN, Bernard, to Henry de F. Weekes ..... Nom.

HOWARD, Louise, to Frederic D. Shear.. 500

MARSHALL, Christina, to Charles S. Campbell 500

MARSHALL, Christina, to Charles S. Campbell 1,000

MITCHELL, Lewis A., to L. Napoleon Levy ..... Nom.

STRAFFORD, Cora, and Andrew W. Smith, executors, &c., to Cora Strafford and another, trustees, &c. ..... Nom.

TITLE GUARANTEE AND TRUST COMPany to the United States Life Insurance Company 25,000

TITLE GUARANTEE AND TRUST COMPany to Anna M. Fortmann, administratrix 11,000

WEIL, Simon R., and another, executors, &c., to Simon R. Weil, assigns four mortgages, re-recorded ..... Nom.

WEIL, Simon R., and another, executors, &c., to Theodore G. Weil, re-recorded, assigns four mortgages ..... Nom.

Mechanics' Liens.

BROADWAY, 335; Thomas M. Smith against Myra Mosher and Cora M. Brenwell, owners; John J. Parker, contractor $241

ESSEX ST, 104 and 106; Seward Engineering Company against Kidensky & Levy, owners; George Dellon, contractor. 170

GROVE ST, 70; Wilbert H. Smith against Marie Kohler and another, owner and contractor; Camille Aubrey, owner 50

MACDOUGALL ST, 22 to 26; Brooklyn Slate Mantel Company against Samuel Ginsberg, owner and contractor ..... ,86

RIVERSIDE DRIVE, s e corner of 94th St, 9110.11x100; Michael Kuchenbrod against Bernard S. Levy, owner and contractor 2,222

ST. NICHOLAS AV, w s, 27 ft n of 117th St, 76.11x100; 117th St, n s, 107.11 w of St. Nicholas Av, 25x25; August Heil against John F. Scannell, owner and contractor 45

1ST AV, 2,279 and 2,281; Olansky & Parkin against Michael Naughton, owner and contractor; M. J. Naughton, contractor 433

10TH ST, 417 and 419 West; Gregory I. Leahy against Isaiah Dahut, owner; Joseph and Vincent Giretto, contractors 90

13TH ST, s s, 100 ft w of Avenue A, 50x100; Morris S. Rubin against Minnie J. McDonald, owner; Thomas Taylor, contractor 487

BUILDING LOAN CONTRACT, UNDER CHAPTER 78, LAWS OF 1900.

MADISON ST, 258; Isidore Jackson and Abraham Stern with Samuel Parnass, 3 payments $7,000

Lis Pendens.

CLINTON ST, 222; Charles I. Schampain against Julius Israel and others, (foreclosure of mortgage;) attorney, C. I. Schampain.

HUDSON ST, w s, Lot 10 of map by Samuel S. Doughty, Ninth Ward, 24.10x72.6x25.2x73.4; also Hudson St, s w corner of Bank St, 25x72.6x26x71.9; Morton St, n w corner of Bleecker St, 50x86x50x81; Hammond St, 59; Hermine B. Straus against Albert G. Bogert, executor, &c., and others, (partition;) attorneys, Cardozo Brothers.

MADISON AV, n w corner of 179th St, 60x176 to West Farms Road x0ix181, equity part taken to open Bathgate Av; the Lawyers' Mortgage Insurance Company against William Oppenheim and others, (foreclosure of mortgage;) attorneys, Cary & Whitridge.

SPRING ST, n e corner of Crosby St, 50x109x 50x112; John Tucker against the Meia Realty Company and another, (action for reformation of mortgage;) attorneys, L. & A. U. Zinke.

SUMMIT AV, w s, 128.11 ft n of 165th St, 40x75; Antonio Guarino against Sarah Weinstock and others, (foreclosure of mechanic's lien;) attorney, T. J. L. McManus.

WALKER ST, n s, 127.7 ft e of Elm St, old line, 44.10x75x43.11x75; also Walker St, s s, 101.8 ft e of Elm St, old line, 25.5x75; Charles C. Worthington against John J. Buckley and others, (foreclosure of mortgage;) attorneys, Harris & Downe.

WEST END AV, s e corner of 97st St, 60x100; the Louis Weber Building Company against John Wilson and others, (foreclosure of mortgage;) attorney, A. P. Fitch.

10TH AV, n e corner of 35th St, 24.9x100; Louise Groh against Michael J. Quinn and others, (foreclosure of mortgage;) attorneys, James, Schell & Elkus.

10TH AV, n w corner of 55th St, 20.5x80, leasehold; the Mount Morris Co-operative Building and Loan Association against Edward V. Loew and others, (foreclosure of mortgage;) attor

Real Estate at Auction.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

JAMES L. WELLS, Auctioneer,

at 111 Broadway, N. Y. Real Estate Salesroom,
TUESDAY, JANUARY 22, NOON,
Executors' Sale.
By order of Executors of
Estate of Bryan Lawrence, Deceased.

Choice Business Property,

BEING ENTIRE BLOCK BOUNDED BY

HARLEM RIVER,

SOUTHERN BOULEVARD,

3d & Lincoln Aves.

Together with
Water Front and Bulkheads.
70 PER CENT. CAN REMAIN ON MORTGAGE AT 4½ PER CENT.
Apply for maps to James L. Wells, Auctioneer, 141 Broadway, or to
WILLIAM C. ORR, ESQ.,
Attorney for Executors, 51 Chambers Street.

PETER F. MEYER, Auctioneer,
Will Sell at Auction on
MONDAY, January 21, 1901,
at 12 o'clock, at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, 111 Broadway,
EXECUTOR'S SALE.

All the undivided one-half interest that Joseph W. Meeks had on the first day of March, 1878, the time of his death, in and to the following described tract of land situated in Archer County, Texas, being 538 acres of land off the west end of the William Baker survey of 6,517.76 square varas of land, patented to the heirs of William Baker, deceased, by Patent No. 433, Volume 21, Abstract No. 15, beginning 2,368 varas west of the southeast corner of said survey at a point on the south line of same, thence north 1,850 varas to the north line of said original survey; thence west 2,237 varas to a stake in the east boundary line of a survey in the name of A. J. Richardson, a mesquite, bears north 20 degrees, east 3 varas; thence south 1,850 varas, with east boundary line of Richardson's survey to a rock mound in prairie; thence east 1,650 varas, J. M. Taylor's, northwest corner 2,237 varas, to the place of beginning, containing 738 acres of land.

E. G. DUVALL, Esq.,
Atty. for Executors,
No. 141 Broadway, N. Y. City.

Real Estate.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

TITLE GUARANTEE AND TRUST COMPANY.

Knows and discovers all that can be known or discovered about a

Real Estate Title.

All that is unknowable and undiscoverable it insures against.

CAPITAL AND SURPLUS, - $5,000,000
146 Broadway, New York.
175 Remsen St., Brooklyn.

City Real Estate for Sale.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

$5,000 Cash and $4,500

mortgage will buy a beautiful Home and grounds; also a large variety of fruit trees. For further particulars address GEO. W. CAMPBELL, 122 West 103d St., or call between 9 A. M. and 9 P. M.

Corner plot on Manhattan Av

100.11 on the avenue by 145 ft. on the street. Terms to suit the buyer. For further particulars apply to GEO. W. CAMPBELL, 122 West 103d St. from 9 A. M. to 9 P. M.

FOR SALE.

A beautiful new 20-foot five-story American Basement House,

NO. 310 WEST 107TH STREET,

close to Riverside, on the highest ground and in the choicest restricted location of the upper west side, has reception hall, basement billiard room, drawing, music, and dining rooms and library; six family bed rooms, three bathrooms, and servants' stairs; select and convenient location, with fine view of the river.

PRICE ONLY $37,000.

CHARLES BUEK, OWNER AND BUILDER, 109 West 42d Street.

Three-quarters may remain at 4½ per cent.

FOR SALE.

We are offering the following bargains in private houses:

In Eighties, a 20-foot brownstone house, suitable for altering, can be bought under	$50,000
In 72d St., white stone Am. basement dwelling; owner anxious to sell under..	100,000
In Seventies, nr. Mad. Av., 2 houses adjoining; grand site for extra wide house.	70,000
Full width house in Sixties, near 5th Av., belongs to an estate, about.....	105,000
In East 54th St., 20 feet.....	65,000
In Murray Hill, old house to alter.....	55,000
On Madison Av., 20 feet.....	42,500

Call or write for further particulars and permits.
S. OSGOOD PELL & CO.,
542 5th Av., S. W. cor. 45th St.

LEASEHOLD PROPERTY, ON WILLIAM STREET, AT MODERATE PRICE.

RULAND & WHITING, 5 Beekman St.

Best and safest investment, on account of death in the family will sell at reasonable price, best built, well located flat property, paying handsome percentage on equity; will stand closest examination. Particulars of H. Bernhardt, Room 12, 108, 110 East 125th St.

Madison Av., corner, below 42d St.; size 75x100; best site in the city for an apartment hotel. J. EDGAR LEAYCRAFT & CO., 1,507 Broadway.

Handsome high-stoop brown-stone residence on West 78th St., near West End Av., 18.6x90x102.2, first-class in every respect; $10,000 equity; principals only; no postal cards. Address Owner, 184 5th St., Jersey City, N. J.

A medium four-story basement dwelling, 21st St., between 5th and 6th Avs.; excellent for residence or investment; price, $27,000. S. B. GOODALE & SON, 6 West 24th St. Fifth Avenue Hotel.

Avenue C, near 12th St.—5-story store and tenement, free and clear; will sell at sacrifice or would trade. H. RAPP, 159 Broadway.

Exchange lot 25x100, Westchester Av., near Prospect Av.; also 2 brick flats, 148th St., near Willis Av., 6 rooms, bath. OWNER, 2,959 3d Av.

Lots: Bronx bargains; Tremont, Woodycrest, Aqueduct Avs., Fordham Road; cheap Woodlawn corner. George Parvis, 156 Broadway.

Bargain; handsome private dwelling, East 50th St., near 2d Av.; little cash needed. George Parvis, 156 Broadway.

Investors, Builders.—Plots on and near Broadway, 14th to 59th St. THEO. ROGERS BRILL, 251 West 39th St.

Choice corner lot on Grand Av., University Heights, two blocks from Jerome. TREU, 790 Amsterdam Av.

Jerome Av.—34 lots to close an estate, cheap; must be sold. THORN COMPANY, Fordham.

Builders.—Lot 26x92; good tenement location; $13,000. Duross, 242 West 14th St.

Country Real Estate for Sale.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

FOR SALE—ESTATE OF 605 ACRES, RAPPAHANNOCK River, in sight of Chesapeake Bay, heavy timber, fine land, mill, hunting, fishing, sailing, oyster shore, elegant mansion 100 feet long, rooms wainscoted, oak paneling, stables, servants' quarters; steamers daily. Price $18,000, which is about cost of main building. Apply to owner, G. O. TEMPLE, Danville, Va.

For Sale—Handsome house in Residence Park, New Rochelle; nine rooms and bath; complete order; unfurnished; $5,000, one-third cash. Apply R. GRAU, 22 Meadow Lane, New Rochelle.

At New Paltz, N. Y., adjoining college grounds, beautiful location; near depots; large house, 24 rooms, bath, closets, &c. J. COCHRANE, 2 West 125th St.

All country real estate a specialty; bargains and exchanges, all directions. Phillips & Wells, Tribune Building.

Country residence for sale or exchange for city lots or business property. D. A. Clarkson, Newburg, N. Y.

Staten Island Property.

COMMERCIAL WATER FRONTS, FACTORY property, houses, with large grounds, worth $15,000, free and clear; exchange for city property. A. CORNELL, Stapleton, S. I.

Real Estate for Exchange.

$60,000 EQUITY IN THREE FINE

Apartment Houses; will trade for west side Lots or free and clear Country Place. Send full particulars to GEO. W. CAMPBELL, 122 West 103d st., or call between 9 A. M. and 9 P. M.

$15,000 FREE AND CLEAR LOT;

what can you offer in exchange for same? Send full particulars to GEO. W. CAMPBELL, 122 West 103d st., or call between 9 A. M. and 9 P. M.

$40,000 EQUITY IN A PIECE OF

manufacturing Property, leased to one tenant; who does all repairs and pays the Croton water rent; what can you offer in exchange for the same? Send full particulars to GEO. W. CAMPBELL, 122 West 103d st., or call between 9 A.M. and 9 P.M.

$40,000 FREE AND CLEAR COR-

ner Plot, on Park av., 100x80; what can you offer in exchange? Send full particulars to GEO. W. CAMPBELL, 122 West 103d st., or call between 9 A. M. and 9 P. M.

$22,000 EQUITY IN FINE FLAT

House, situated on 166th st., Central Park West; will trade for free and clear Country Place. Send full particulars to GEO. W. CAMPBELL, 122 West 103d st., or call between 9 A. M. and 9 P. M.

$250,000 FREE AND CLEAR

Apartment House; what can you offer in exchange for same? Send full particulars to GEO. W. CAMPBELL, 122 West 103d St., or call between 9 A. M. and 9 P. M.

$40,000 EQUITY IN FINE STORE

Property, near 28th St. and 6th Av.; will trade for private House and cash. For further particulars address GEO. W. CAMPBELL, 122 West 103d St., or call between 9 A. M. and 9 P. M.

$20,000 EQUITY IN FINE FLAT

House; will trade for free and clear private house; send full particulars. GEO. W. CAMPBELL, 122 West 103d St., or call between 9 A. M. and 9 P. M.

Brooklyn Real Estate for Sale.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

Call on Henry C. Vail, at the office of the late Henry W. Sherrill, 13 Willoughby Street, Brooklyn, for large, handsome house, overlooking Prospect Park South, with all its magnificent improvements; corner plot, 50x100.

Cheapest in Brooklyn; $3,300; easy terms; 722 Sackett St., near 5th Av. (Park Slope); 2-story and basement; brick; 9 rooms; all improvements; decorated; cozy home; sacrifice. DEWSNAP, 150 Nassau St., Manhattan.

Several plots, fine lots, fronting on trolley in Jamaica, $60 to $125; street graded; fine cement sidewalks, electric lights; $5 down, $1 per week; Title Guarantee policy free. Edwards, 1,258 Broadway, Brooklyn.

$3,300 BUYS (DURING JANUARY ONLY) NEW 8-room detached house, Vanderveer Park, worth $4,000; take advantage owner's necessity; terms easy. PARIS, Park Row Building.

$3,000, only $300 down, balance payments to suit, buys two-story brick dwelling, 25th Ward, near L and trolleys. Ketcham Bros., 1,565 Broadway.

New Jersey Property for Sale.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

$17.00 A LOT.

Adjoining Lakewood, N. J., the famous health and Winter resort, we offer plots containing five lots, $85.00. Small weekly payments. Particulars and tickets to visit the property, Sunday, January 20th, from R. HALLEY & CO., 2 East 125th St., N. Y.

TENAFLY!—$4,000 buys good modern house; large rooms and attic; wide porch; grounds 100 x140; station 10 minutes' easy walk. H. WEATHERBY & CO., Englewood, N. J.

Winter Resorts.

20c. per line $4.50 per line for 30 times.

Not least among the glories of NEW ORLEANS is that here begins the ROYAL MARCH of the SOUTHERN PACIFIC—QUEEN AMONG RAILROADS.

Its three Routes.—Shasta, (Northern,) Ogden, (Central,) Sunset, (Southern,) each traverses more scenic Loveliness than is to be found bordering any other railroad on earth, and all who have ever been its guests, whether for health, recreation, or for rest, attest its sumptuous equipment, service, and cuisine.

"SUNSET LIMITED" is merely its BEST TRAIN, where ALL are GOOD.

For full information, free illustrated pamphlets, maps, and time tables, lowest rates, sleeping car and steamer reservations, baggage checked, etc., apply to SOUTHERN PACIFIC COMPANY, 349 Broadway, or 1 Battery Place, (Washington Building,) New York City.

GOLF. HUNTING. FISHING.

FLORIDA GULF COAST HOTELS

PLANT SYSTEM.

Excellent Golf Courses, with Turf putting greens and tees, connected with hotels. Professionals in charge.

TAMPA BAY HOTEL, TAMPA, FLA., A. E. Dick, Manager. Open Jan. 15th.
HotelBELLEVIEW, Belleair, on the Gulf, Fla. J. F. Champlin, Manager. Open Jan. 15th.
SEMINOLE HOTEL, Winter Park, Fla. Edw. R. Sweet, Lessee and Prop. Open Jan. 15th.
OCALA HOUSE, Ocala, Fla. P. F. Brown, Manager. Open Jan. 15th.
HOTEL KISSIMMEE, Kissimmee, Fla. Now Open.
THE INN, Port Tampa, Fla. J. H. Murdick, Manager.

NEW YORK OFFICES, 12 West 23d St., and 290 Broadway. Also TRAVELERS' INFORMATION CO., 1 Park Place and 25 Union Square.

The Lakewood
LAKEWOOD N.J.

THE LEADING HOTEL OF LAKEWOOD.

If you feel the first twinge of the Grippe, Lakewood is particularly and peculiarly the place for you to go. Grippe cannot prosper in the pine-laden air of this charming little village, set in the heart of the forest, and pneumonia in this climate is unknown.

The Lakewood is a perfectly appointed hotel, replete with every comfort and luxury, only ninety minutes' comfortable ride from New York City. JAMES N. BERRY, Manager.
GOLF.

HAMILTON HOTEL, BERMUDA

OPEN DECEMBER TO MAY

Situated on high elevation in the centre of the City of Hamilton, the capital of Bermuda. Send for booklet. A. C. BIGGONS, Manager, Hamilton, Bermuda.

Hotels and Restaurants.

20c. per line $4.50 per line for 30 times.

BARRETT HOUSE.

European Plan. 6th Av. & 38th St.
MINUTE FROM BROADWAY.

A select hotel for permanent and transient guests, convenient to leading theatres and shopping district. "L" station, and all car lines; rooms newly furnished and decorated; single or en suite, with or without private bath; steam heat, electric light, elevator.
W. P. BARRETT, Proprietor.

Furs.

FUR GARMENTS REMADE, REDYED, BLENDED into fashionable shapes. Seal Sacques a specialty; estimates given. THE BARKER FUR CO., 111 West 38th St.

ROSENBLAT & FRANK, 1,032 3D AV., NEAR 61st St.—Bargains, Fur Boas, Muffs; Altering, Repairing a specialty.

Machinery.

DYNAMOS AND MOTORS, ALL SIZES IN stock, direct from factory of Triumph Electric Co.; send us postal, we do the rest. CHINNOCK ELECT. CO., 39 Cortlandt St., N. Y.

To Let for Business Purposes.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

UNION SQUARE NORTH,
ADJOINING BROADWAY.
LOFT 184 FEET DEEP.
Building has
entrances on two streets.
Inquire at 31 East 17th St., or
J. EDGAR LEACRAFT & CO., B'way, cor. 44th.

Attractive, up-to-date three-story buildings, adjoining 3d Av., 206-208 East 56th St.; 35x100; finely lighted all sides; open plumbing; extra large elevator; suitable storage, automobile and wine warehouse, bottler, factory, express, stable, laundry, builder, undertaker, dyer, private stable; also, fine offices, stores; eight-room residence attached. Apply premises or 11A East 53d.

3D AV., NEAR 14TH ST.; FINE BUILDING; store has new double show windows; rent $1,700. J. EDGAR LEAYCRAFT & CO., B'way, cor. 44th.

307 WEST BROADWAY.
STORE AND FIRST LOFT.

Strong building. Good light. Power, if required.

CORNER 12TH ST. & THIRD AV.—Extra deep store, with large basement. J. EDGAR LEAYCRAFT & CO., B'way, cor. 44th.

Corner store, suitable for cheap cash grocer, dry goods, barber; altered to suit tenant; elegantly situated. Mrs. MILLS, 691 East 158th St.

STORES, LOFTS, AND OFFICES
TO LET AT LOWEST RATES.
JACOB A. KING, 401 B'WAY—81 E. 125TH ST.

6th Av., 24s.—Large floors, all modern improvements; will alter to suit tenants; ring janitor's bell.

326 Canal St.—Third and fourth lofts, 25x55; good light; $40 and $50. Apply to R. H. E. Elliott, 62 William St.

40th St., 438 and 440 West.—Large stores, with plate-glass fronts; two rooms; decorated; $15.

16th St., 423 West.—Large store, with three rooms and plate-glass front; newly decorated; $18.

Apartments to Let—Unfurnished.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

The Choicest and Cheapest Elevator Apartments in Harlem.

THE EMERSON

S. E. COR. LENOX AV. & 116th ST.

Six and seven large rooms and bath; all the latest improvements; hall service; rents $50 to $65. Small, select families will apply to Agents, on premises.

THE BROADWAY,

S. W. COR. BROADWAY & 101ST ST.

Select families with first-class references, are respectfully invited to inspect above premises.

Suites of 7 Rooms and Bath,

with all the latest improvements; elevator all night; electric light, telephone; rent, $800 per annum; renting office on premises.

71st St. 342 West.

New apartments, overlooking the Hudson and Riverside Drive; 7, 8, and 9 extra large outside rooms, with pantry; two bathrooms each; parquette floors, elevator, electric light, telephones; $1,200 to $1,500. Superintendent.

BACHELOR AP'TS.

112 West 44th St.
2 large light rooms and bath.
ASHFORTH & CO., 1,509 Broadway.

ST. NICHOLAS AV., 167, near 117th St.—Beautiful single flat; 7 large, light rooms; bath; $32.00; steam heated. Janitor.

128th St., 83 West.—Upper floor, private house, to small family; 5 rooms and bath; $17.

Brooklyn.

Hicks St., 308—Desirable apartments of two and three rooms; prices, $7 and $8.

Apartments to Let—Furnished.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

Elegantly furnished, sun-flooded apartment, eight large rooms, bath, and large closets; elevator and telephone. Crow, 251 West 95th St.

City Flats to Let—Unfurnished.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

New houses, all improvements, at 304 to 310 East 92d St.; $13 to $16; 4 rooms.
21 and 23 East 99th St., near 5th Av.—Six rooms and bath; private halls; from $23 to $28.
New buildings, s. e. cor. 118th and Madison Avs., 4 and 5 rooms and baths; hot water supply, &c.; $15 to $23.

HALF MONTH'S RENT FREE.

234 West 122d St.; elegant apartments, 8 rooms newly papered and decorated; steam heat and hall service; $30 and upward. See janitor.

Flats with all improvements; light, 3 rooms; extra location, $11; 4 rooms, $14. 775 East 162d St., station 161st St.

124th St., 230 West.—Large apartments; 6 rooms, bath; newly decorated; price, $16.

Jones St., 7, near West 4th St., 6th Av.—3-4 room apartments; decorated; $10-$14.50.

10th St., 224 East.—Three-room apartments; hot water, gas, and coal ranges; decorated; $12-$14.

Coal and Wood.

BUY YOUR COAL & WOOD AT THEFORD'S

We sell and deliver 2000 lbs. THE STANDARD TON

YARDS:
27TH ST. AND 9TH AVE., Tel. 886—18
79TH ST. & B'WAY., Tel. 717 Riverside.
223 W. 42D ST., Tel. 1715—38
55TH ST. & 10TH AVE., Tel. 166 Cols.
55TH ST. AND N. R., Tel. 249 Cols.
88TH ST. AND B'WAY, Tel. 125 River
20TH ST. AND N. R., Tel. 375—38

MURRAY HILL WOOD YARD

38TH ST. AND FIRST AV. Tel. 279 Madison Sq. Selected Pine and Oak for kindling. Pine Knots and extra dry Hickory for Grates and Andirons. Inspection solicited. Satisfaction guaranteed.

Excursions.

Cook's Winter Trips.

Including Hotels and All Expenses.

Florida, Jan. 18, 14 days, $65
Havana, Jan. 19, 11 days, $90
Bermuda, Jan. 21, 8 days, $62

Descriptive Programmes free on application. INDEPENDENT TICKETS EVERYWHERE.

THOS. COOK & SON
Downtown, 261 Broadway, N. Y.
Uptown, 1185 Broadway, N. Y.

Dentistry.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

Artificial teeth of continuous gum highly improved.—These teeth represent the highest art in dentistry. They restore form and expression to the face. The gums and roof of mouth, without seam or crevice, (all one piece, porcelain on platinum,) are a perfect reproduction of nature, even in color. Dr. DEANE, Dentist, 454 Lexington Av., cor. 45th St.; received highest award Columbian Exposition.

Real Estate Wanted.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

If you want a quick sale of your property or are about to be foreclosed, send description and lowest price. BUYER, Box 201, Times.

Lawyers.

Accidents, damages obtained, lawsuits defended, defamation, contracts, collections. ED. W. BRENEN, counsellor, 171 Broadway; consultation free.

WALDRON'S DETECTIVE BUREAU, 271 Broadway.—Expert detective services; lawyer with bureau; advice free. Telephone, 2144 Cortlandt.

Groceries, Liquors, &c.

Harris's Wine and Liquor Warehouse, 1,706 Madison Av., cor. 113th.—Special reductions, holiday wines and liquors.

S. KRAUS, FINE WINES AND LIQUORS. Lowest prices. 2,119 8th Av., near 115th St. Branch, 612 2d Av.

Loans.

A. Fidelity Loan Association.

INCORPORATED AND ESTABLISHED, 1887. 140 NASSAU STREET, CORNER BEEKMAN. Loans on household furniture in use and storage, without removal, in Greater New York; assignments, rents, personal property, all kinds accepted; legal rates; confidential.

Pianos and Organs.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

AT

WEBER

PIANO WAREROOMS,

5th Ave., corner 16th St.

$210

WILL BUY A NEW

STUYVESANT UPRIGHT PIANO.

DURABLE, RELIABLE, AND OF GOOD TONE QUALITY.

This instrument may be exchanged at any time for a new WEBER PIANO, when a fair allowance will be made, or if exchanged within two years the full price will be allowed.
Catalogues and full particulars mailed free to any address.

WEBER WAREROOMS,
Corner Fifth Ave. and Sixteenth St.

WISSNER PIANOS

Used by Eminent Artists.

BROOKLYN: COR. FULTON ST. & FLATBUSH AV. NEW YORK: 25 EAST 14TH ST.
Second-Hand Uprights of Good Makers.

$85—$125. Grands, $175—$300.

PEASE PIANOS

100 W. 42d St., Just West of 6th Ave.

For 55 years a standard of excellence—a tone that is famous for singing qualities. Direct from manufacturer. Easy terms. Good used pianos different makes $125 up. Write for catalogue.

MATHUSHEK & SON AND OPERA PIANOS

The balance of our Holiday stock at reduced prices. You can obtain a bargain from our large stock of slightly used pianos recently taken in exchange, including some celebrated makes; rents, $4 up.

MATHUSHEK & SON, B'way cor. 47th St.

THE BIG WEST SIDE PIANO HOUSE.

A small cash payment secures for you a fine piano stool and scarf; delivered free; balance on easy payments; rents, $4 up.
741-743 8th Av., near 46th St.

$5.00 MONTHLY BUYS FULL-SIZE "BILLINGER & CO." UPRIGHT; EVERY PIANO GUARANTEED. WESER BROS., 524 W. 43D ST.

$10.00 FIRST PAYMENT, BALANCE EASY INSTALLMENTS. ELEGENT NEW UPRIGHT; DELIVERED FREE. WESER BROS., 524 W. 43D ST.

WINTERROTH PIANOS. CASH, INSTALMENTS, $125 UPWARD. 105 EAST 14TH ST. & 98 5TH AV. Open Evenings

EMERSON PIANOS.—Beautiful new designs; several slightly used; at unusually low prices; Steinway Parlor Grand; rare bargain. GEO. W. HERBERT, 10 East 17th St.

BARGAINS.—Upright pianos, $100 upward; more value for money than elsewhere guaranteed; square, $20 upward; rented, exchanged; easy payments. CHRISTMAN, 21 East 14th St.

ELEGANT MAHOGANY UPRIGHT PIANO, slightly used, for $175; easy payments if desired; fully guaranteed. W. F. TWAY PIANO CO., 94 5th Av.

SPECIAL SALE OF FINE UPRIGHT PIANOS this week, extraordinary bargains for cash. HAHN, 165 W. 23d St.

CALL AND EXAMINE OUR FOUR AND FIVE pedal pianos; something entirely new. WESER BROS., 524 West 43d St.

Steinway, every improvement, beautifully carved; great sacrifice. Elegant Upright, only $75. BIDDLE'S, 7 East 14th St.

Large assortment slightly used uprights; squares taken in exchange; "Weber" bargain. Weser Bros., 524 West 43d St.

$125 elegant Wheelock upright, rosewood piano, full size; Mason Amblin organ; bargains. 319 9th Av., near 28th St.

Sacrifices nearly new upright piano for $110; cost $625; need money. 72 Lexington Av., near 26th St.

$200 New piano, stool and scarf, $7 per month. Call at 1,569 B'way, cor. 47th St.

$3.00 to $5.00 per month rent, pianos with mandolin attachment. Weser Bros., 524 W. 43d St.

Instruction.

20c. per line $4.50 per line for 30 times.

SACRED HEART ACADEMY.

Select Catholic Boarding School; thorough academic and commercial course; athletics, military drill; terms moderate; 2nd term begins Feb'y 1st. Address BROTHER AUGUST, West Chester, N.Y.

HOW TO GET STRONG.

Handball, boxing, fencing, baths, &c. Wood's Gymnasium, 6 East 28th St. Entrance, $5.00; monthly dues, $2.00.

REGENTS' Examinations. Central Preparatory School, 18 E. 42D ST. SEND FOR HANDBOOK.

Isaac Pitman Shorthand; private and class lessons; best instruction; reasonable rates. METROPOLITAN SCHOOL, 289 4th Av.

FRENCH, SPANISH, ITALIAN INSTRUCTION; best method; expert teachers; terms moderate. Prof. J. M. PELLERIN, 207 West 125th St.

Musical.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

AT 112 EAST 18TH ST.....
.....The ONLY N. Y. CONSERVATORY, 112 East 18th,
....BETWEEN 4TH AV. and IRVING PLACE.
The FAMOUS MUSIC SCHOOL.....
.....The FIRST in the COUNTRY.
Lessons DAY and EVENING...Years on 14th St.
....GRADUATES PROVIDED with POSITIONS.

CHOIR EXCHANGE, BROOKLYN, 299 Carlton Av.—Church music teaching departments, John E. Webster, Director; Pupils trained for appointments; CHURCHES SUPPLIED WITH FIRST-CLASS organists and singers.

VIOLIN ARTISTICALLY TAUGHT, EITHER residence; terms reasonable; not payable in advance; references exchanged. CHADWICK, 2 Chambers St.

GUSTAVE REHN! PIANIST!—Desires a few more pupils; thorough instruction; very moderate terms. 1 East 113th St.

PIANO; LADY, EXPERIENCED TEACHER, instructs at pupil's residence; 40 cents per lesson. TEACHER, Box 80, 1,242 Broadway.

Banjo, Mandolin instruction 10 weeks private lessons free, for annual concert. Dobson, 17 East 125th St.

Dancing.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

Remey's Central Park Dancing Academy, 915-919 8th Ave., (54th St.)—We guarantee the Waltz, Polka, Two-step, Schottische, and Lanciers all for $5.00 in 5 private and 4 class lessons. Private lessons any hour. Classes daily. Circulars.

GEORGE W. WALLACE,
Leslie Rooms, 260 West 83d Street;
Ellerslie Rooms, 80-82 West 126th St.
Class and private tuition. See circular.

HARVARD DANCING ACADEMY, 158-162 W. 125th.—Waltz, schottische, two-step, polka, lanciers, waltz quadrille guaranteed 5 private, 4 class lessons, $5; 4 class lessons, $1.

BRADY'S 1,408 Amsterdam Av., 135-137 West 125th St. WALTZ

Lester's Colonial Academy, 101st St. and Columbus Av.—Class and private lessons daily; receptions Wednesday and Saturday.

COLUMBIA DANCING ACADEMY, 59th and 6th Av.—Classes forming; 4 lessons, $1; 24, $5; private, (any hour,) $1. Prof. S. Warner.

Purchase and Exchange.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

Books of every description bought, sold, and exchanged; small parcels or libraries purchased; highest cash prices paid; call at residences free; send postal. LOVERING'S NEW YORK BOOK EXCHANGE, 823 Broadway, near 12th St. Open evenings.

Household furniture, contents of houses and flats; pianos, carpets, &c. J. L., 113 University Place.

Detective Agencies.

BAYERS'S INTERNATIONAL DETECTIVE Agency, former detective Police Department, licensed and bonded, 320 Broadway, Rooms 717-718; telephone 1631 Franklin; all civil and criminal cases attended to by expert detectives; male and female.

United States Detective Bureau; male and female operators; shadowing, investigation; evidence reliable; secrecy guaranteed; night and day; telephone connections. 41-43 Maiden Lane, 1,436 5th Av.

Business Opportunities.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

STATISTICS SHOW THAT THE SALE OF toilet articles in the United States amounts to MORE than $40,000,000.00 annually. Do you desire a fortune? Here is your opportunity; I want a partner with capital, or a person with capital to form a stock company for the purpose of increasing manufacture and exploit of seven Turkish Toilet articles, now on the market, for ladies. Highest recommendations; handsomest packages. Address, Col. J. F. MILLIKEN, 287 Broadway, N. Y. City.

$1,000.00 OR MORE INVESTED

In a novel manufacturing business can be doubled annually with good salary; bear investigation. AUTO. PIC. CO., 88 Wall St.

A French dressmaker and tailor established in New York for many years would like to hear of a lady with society acquaintance and small capital to enter partnership; experience not necessary. For particulars and references address A., Box 254, 1,260 Broadway.

Active or silent partner wanted, either sex, $5,000 to $10,000, to build and run hotel apartment; location, building-loan secured. Address SECURITY, Times Office.

Sale or Rent.—Established Coal business; trestle, buildings to handle hay or grain; easy terms. E. C. Quarkenbush, Newark Av. and 7th St., Jersey City.

Advice Free.—Patents promptly procured; Inventors' Guide FREE. EDGAR TATE & CO., Patent Attorneys, 245 Broadway.

Music Boxes, 84 teeth, $24; 15 tunes free; other instruments. Prof. ADOLPH COHN, 157 West 23d St.

For Sale.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

IT WARMS THE LARGest room in five minutes. The Improved Fire Vase Gas Heater for warming rooms and light cooking; fits on ordinary gas burner as easily as a chimney on a lamp; requires no pipe or hose; the gas flame is increased 500 per cent.; no explosion, odor; economical. Introduction price, small size, $1.25; large, $1.50; money refunded within twenty-four hours if not found satisfactory. The beats any lamp in the market; burner, 100 candle power; double strength mantle chimney and shade. Introduction price, 75c. Mail orders filled everywhere. Sole agents for the Improved Fire Vase Gas Heater, and distributers for the King Incandescent Lamp.

KING INCANDESCENT STUDYING LAMP

1,079 3d Av., Between 63d and 64th Sts.

I BUY OLD METAL.

Have you any old LEAD, BRASS, COPPER, ZINC, PEWTER, TEA LEAD, OLD TYPE, ELECTROTYPE, STEREOTYPE, OLD BOOKS, PAPERS? SEND POSTAL CARD. I WILL CALL.

BORNSTEIN, 84 Centre St.

Eye Glasses Free!

THIS WEEK our opticians will examine your eyes and sell you a pair of our $2.50 gold spring eye glasses for $1, and give you a gold plated eyeglass chain with a safety hook, also leather case, "absolutely free." It's a $3.50 outfit for $1. Spectacles at the same price. KEENE'S OPTICAL CO. 140 Fulton St., New York, (near Nassau St.) Hours, 8 to 6.

CREDIT TO ALL

DIAMONDS and WATCHES on small weekly or monthly payments; lowest prices; best quality; goods guaranteed.
NATIONAL DIAMOND WATCH CO.,
177-179 BROADWAY. Take Elevator.

CREDIT TO ALL WITHOUT SECURITY.

CLOTHING for Ladies, Men, and Boys, ready made or to order. Millinery, Furs, &c.
PROGRESSIVE CLOTHING AND CLOAK CO., 7 W. 14th St., bet. 5th and 6th Avs. (Open eve.)

We make wringers fit stationary tubs; allow something for your crippled wringer if it cannot be put in condition for use in our hospital; latest improved Bissell carpet sweepers. Send postal and our ambulance will call for wringers or sweepers needing repairs. American Wringer Co., 7-9 East 125th St.

TYPEWRITERS.—Remingtons, Smith Premiers, and all standard makes rented, kept in repair; stands and ribbons free. Sold 25% to 75% less than manufacturer's prices. No relics of past ages carried in stock. Every machine sold kept in repair for one year free. F. S. WEBSTER CO., 317 Broadway. Telephone, 1,333 Franklin.

IDEAL CLIP.—Have this clip attached to your eyeglasses and you will agree that it is the only one that gives entire satisfaction. MEYER & ELTING, Opticians, 617 Sixth Av., near 36th St., New York.

FOR BASKET BALL, ROLLER SKATING,

etc., A large room in Carnegie Hall. Address Room 60.

TYPEWRITERS.—Remingtons, Smiths, Blickenderfers, Hammonds, Williamses, Jewetts, Franklins, Caligraphs, sold, rented, exchanged, repaired. GORMAN, 79 Nassau St.

TYPEWRITERS REPAIRED BY EXPERTS; rented, sold, exchanged. Telephone for estimate. DURRANT, McLEAN & CO., 265 Broadway.

Typewriter, (new,) $40; remodeled Remington, Smiths, $35; rentals reduced; repairing, (telephone.) CONSOLIDATED TYPEWRITER EXCHANGE, 241 Broadway.

At Eble's Art Gallery, 105 West 42d St., near 6th Av.—Antiques, curios, old jeyels, silverware, rare fans, paintings, mintatures, and weapons. Old gold bought.

ONLY HEADQUARTERS FOR GENUINE Welsbach lights is now at 66 West 125th St., between 5th and Lenox Avs.; sell at reduced prices; put up free; satisfaction guaranteed.

WM. SCHLINGLOFF'S PAPER-BOX MANUfacturing Co., established 1854; all machine boards and papers; 120 Fulton St., cash $800.

P. SORENSEN, UPHOLSTERER, DECORATOR, 2,071 7th Av., near 124th St.; slip covers cut, made; mattresses made over.

BRAATZ, NEW HAIR LIFE; LATEST DISCOVERY and finest ever compounded hair tonic; hairdressing parlors, 135 West 125th St.

Bicycle taken apart, thoroughly cleaned, for $1; repairing and enameling a specialty. TUXTO CYCLE COMPANY, 27 West 125th St.

TYPEWRITERS RENTED, BOUGHT, SOLD; expert repairing. R. & G. TYPEWRITER CO., 202 Broadway. Telephone, 999 Cortlandt.

PHONOGRAPHS BOUGHT, SOLD, AND EXchanged; cash or $1.00 weekly; gramaphone records, $2.50 dozen. 148 East 58th St.

GOODYEAR'S RUBBER GOODS, MACKINtoshes, Clothes Wringers, Carpet Sweepers, &c., at lowest prices. Call, 105 West 125th St.

Typewriters sold and rented; expert repairing done. General Typewriter Exchange, 1 Park Place. 'Phone, 1573 Cortlandt.

For Sale—Fully equipped machine works; down town, New York City; capacity, 25 men. Address 618 6th St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

LOT OF VIENNA BENTWOOD CHAIRS, Sofas, and Divans, New, at 20c. on the dollar, at Casino Auction Rooms, Broadway & 39th St.

TYPEWRITERS.—All makes; guaranteed; rented $2, $3 monthly; ribbons, stands free. CENTRAL TYPEWRITER EXCHANGE, 203 Broadway.

HIGHEST CASH PRICES PAID FOR SECOND-hand furniture, carpets, pianos, &c. Address LENOX, 61 West 125th St.

$10.00 BARGAINS THIS WEEK.—Domestic, New Home, Singer Sewing Machines. Cash buyers. BROWN, 39 West 125th St.

At 344 6th Av. and 172 West 23d St.—Foot Knitting Co.; stockings refooted; underwear repaired.

Plumbing shop, 203 East 118th St.; big stock and tools; 3 men; steady jobbing; fine fixtures.

COHEN BROTHERS.—Fine upholstering and cabinet making. 25 East 125th St.

The only Harlem Office for Genuine Welsbach Lights, 129 West 125th St., opposite Koch & Co.

Examine Stock. Reduced rates. Going out of business, at 231 Washington Street.

Teas.—Choice teas, 25c. per lb.; choice coffees, 15c. per lb. DUNCAN, 110 Wall St.

Watches and Jewelry.

WEEKLY PAYMENTS; FINE DIAMONDS, watches; goods guaranteed; lowest prices; business confidential. WATCH SUPPLY, Three Maiden Lane.

EASY PAYMENTS.—Watches and diamonds; reliable goods only. AMERICAN WATCH AND DIAMOND CO., 19 Maiden Lane.

Credit, diamonds, watches, oil paintings, weekly payments, lowest prices, confidential. MANHATTAN DIAMOND CO., 87 Maiden Lane.

For best workmanship and reliable goods go to the leading Harlem jeweler, Otto

MRS. RENSING ACCUSES DETECTIVE O'CONNOR

Says Metropolitan Railway Agent Spirited Her Son Away.

GALLAGHER IS NOW MISSING

Conflicting Statements from Parties at Interest in the Case of Capt. Rhoads.

The arrest of Peter Rensing on a charge of perjury growing out of the damage suit brought by Mrs. Elizabeth R. Rhoads for the death of her husband, who was killed by a Metropolitan Company trolley car June 10, 1899, drew out further conflicting statements yesterday from the opposing attorneys.

The most significant statement yesterday came from Mrs. Rensing, who said that Daniel O'Connor, one of the Metropolitan Company's detectives, tricked her and spirited her son away without her knowledge. She also says that the boy was frightened into repudiating his true testimony and swearing to what was false.

John M. Scribner, who tried the case for the railroad company, refused to discuss it yesterday, saying that he had been beaten and that the case would now come up before a referee and he tried on the affidavits. L. E. Julien of the company's law department, who worked up the case, said:

"Instead of being harassed by our agents, as Mr. Eckerson says, Rensing and Gallagher, the other witness, told O'Connor that certain men on the other side were threatening them, if they made affidavit that their first statement was false. They asked protection, saying they wanted to be kept out of the way. Notwithstanding all statements to the contrary, Rensing gave his confession voluntarily before Henry Melville, at 120 Broadway. He signed it that night, Nov. 17, at the rooms of the Bar Association, in West Forty-third Street, because Mr. Melville wanted Rensing to meet him there, as he did not care to remain down town so late. These boys swore that they had been bribed. I can't say who bribed them, but that is what they said.

"In the first place, these boys aroused our suspicions by their testimony at the trial. They heard that we were making an investigation, and a few days later Rensing offered to confess. It was in November that we took them to Philadelphia to get them out of the way of the men who, they said, were trying to tamper with them. We had their parents' consent and our detectives looked after them while they were away.

"Despite what Mr. Eckerson says, no money was paid to the boys, and they were back in New York weeks before Justice Russell decided to grant a new trial. We have Gallagher where we want him and do not propose to have him tampered with any more. It is evident that Rensing was tampered with after the trial, but all that we want now are the facts."

Mr. Julien would not tell where Gallagher is. He lives at 2,478 Eighth Avenue, but has not been home for several days. His family say they know nothing of his whereabouts.

O. J. Waite, who was associated with Mr. Eckerson in the case, characterized Mr. Julien's statements as false.

"You cannot believe the Metropolitan people," said he. "We knew the company would steal our witnesses. It is a terrible thing to think what liars those people are. Just to show what methods the Metropolitan Company follows in these suits, I will tell you that when I was in Philadelphia on this case William F. Poth, chief clerk of the Hotel Bernot, told me that some time ago a man and woman stopped there in charge of a man by the name of Fox, whom he afterward heard, he said, was employed by the Metropolitan Company. Poth said that Fox paid all their bills for several weeks, and he afterward heard that they were witnesses in a damage suit and were being kept out of the way by the company.

"Now as to this case, the company didn't do anything until after the judgment, and then they suddenly sent detectives up to Eighth Avenue and marked these boys, paying for drinks and, as Rensing made affidavit, giving them money. I have learned that these boys said, referring to us: 'These Rhoads people are no good; they won't give up.' That doesn't look as though we were trying to bribe them. It's money they were after, and the Metropolitan is a rich company. Talk about bribing witnesses and intimidating them, I wonder the company doesn't get into trouble!"

"The case ended Oct. 17," said Mr. Eckerson, "and on Nov. 17 Rensing made this alleged confession that he did not see the accident. Between these two dates he was hounded all the time. As he cannot read, he did not know what he was signing never gave these young men money, but I am told that Gallagher seems to have plenty of it. His father says he does not work and seems to be well supplied with cash. Where Gallagher is now I do not know."

Mrs. Rensing, at her home, 2,497 Eighth Avenue, was emphatic last evening that her son is not guilty of wrongdoing.

"My son saw the accident by which Capt. Rhoads was killed," said she, "and I have proof of that. David Little, who rooms with me, and who was with him at the time, saw it, and will go on the stand and swear to it. After the case was started James Gallagher was in my rooms one day, and he said: 'Mrs. Rensing, Mrs. Rhoads is going to win this case. Peter and I are chief witnesses, and we saw it all.'"

"Can you explain the reason for your son's so-called confession?"

"My boy is weak-minded, and has been ever since he was seven years old, and of course he is easily scared and influenced. These detectives from the railroad company have just hounded him. Daniel O'Connor is at the head of it all. He and a man called 'Bob,' and another called 'Farmer' Jones, all from the company, were at him for weeks. This man O'Connor is the worst of all of them, and I'm going to have him sent up if I can. When he first came here he pretended to be sorry for my boy, as he said he had sworn to what was not true, and as he had boys himself he wanted to save him. On Nov. 15 or 16 he gave me a ten-dollar bill and told me to say nothing. I didn't want it, but he persuaded me to take it. Later he gave me $5 on two separate occasions. Another time these three men asked if Eckerson had offered me money, and I said no.

"The first time they took Peter away in November, O'Connor misled me. He said it would be for only two days, but I didn't see my boy after that for four weeks."

Mrs. Rensing went on to say that last Saturday Hopper, one of the company's detectives, came to her flat and asked for her son.

"I wouldn't let him go," added Mrs. Rensing, "because O'Connor made a fool of me, and I told Hopper so. Then Hopper said: 'We did it for his own good. He's done perjury.' Then Hopper got him down stairs, saying he could come back in a minute. I didn't see my boy until the next day, Sunday morning, at 7 o'clock. He came in looking frightened and said Hopper and another man had taken him over to Jersey City, some place four miles from a trolley line, and kept him in a house in company with Gallagher. He got away at 3 o'clock in the morning, while the others were asleep, and came home.

"If I'd known just how matters stood in the first place I would never have let my boy go on the stand. I suppose those detectives frightened him into a confession that was not true. They had him in the company's office and scared him. If there's any law I'll have it on O'Connor."

O'Connor could not be found last night.

MISS GROGAN'S GOOD FORTUNE.

She Is the Sole Heir to Her Grand-Uncle's Estate in France.

Miss Daisy Grogan, a soubrette, has been advised that she has fallen heir to the entire estate of her grand-uncle, Joseph le Gueral of Palmpol, France. She will go abroad on La Champagne on Jan. 24 to investigate her inheritance. In 1864 Pierre, the brother of Joseph le Gueral, came to this country, bringing his daughter Annette, then six years old. Sixteen years later she was married to Malachi Grogan in San Francisco. In 1895 Joseph visited this country to seek his heirs, his brother having died. He found his niece, Mrs. Grogan, in San Francisco. She was a widow with one child, her daughter Daisy.

Daisy went with her grand-uncle to France, where she spent three years at a convent school. In opposition to Joseph le Gueral's wishes she came back to this country and went on the stage. Both the niece and the grand-niece believed that they had forfeited all hope of succeeding to his estate, but on Christmas Day Mrs. Grogan received a letter informing her of the death of Joseph, with the statement that she had been made sole executrix of the will which made Daisy Grogan sole heir.

PLANT WILL CONTEST.

Effort to Establish the Residence of the Testator—Rumors of a Settlement Out of Court.

In the Plant will case yesterday Justice Leventritt, in Special Term, Part III., of the Supreme Court, overruled the motion made by the attorneys for the defendants to dismiss the suit. Justice Leventritt said that the motion to dismiss on the ground that the court had no jurisdiction involved such weighty legal questions that he was unable to answer them offhand. He decided to hear the suit, and will hand down a decision on the motion to dismiss later in writing.

The attorneys for the plaintiff had a large number of witnesses in court. Henry Sanford, formerly President of the Adams Express Company, and a friend of Mr. Plant, was the first witness called. The testimony of Mr. Sanford and the testimony of the Rev. George H. Smythe, who followed him, was to show that the dead millionaire was a resident of New York City for many years. The next witness was William Plimley, chief clerk of the Bureau of Registration. By means of the Electoral lists, showing the qualified voters of the city, Mr. Plimley showed that Mr. Plant had been a resident of this city since 1874.

Gen. Daniel E. Sickles, another old friend and business associate of the late Mr. Plant, was called to the witness stand to show that Mr. Plant lived in this city and considered this city his home. Miss Fanny Hinds, who said that she had been housekeeper for Mr. Plant since 1874, said that she was in charge of the entire household and had sole charge of the personal effects, clothing, and jewelry of the late Mr. Plant.

Miss Hinds was on the witness stand when the trial adjourned, and her examination will be continued to-day. Mrs. Margaret J. Plant, the plaintiff, was in court all day, as well as Morton F. Plant, the son of the testator.

After the adjournment of the trial to-day Morton F. Plant was asked whether negotiations for a settlement of the suit out of court were being carried on. He said:

"I guess that I had better not say anything about that."

In regard to the report that his sympathies are with the plaintiff in this suit, Mr. Plant said:

"I have been persistently misrepresented in this matter. I am not in sympathy with the plaintiff. I hold the obligations of my father's will higher than the pecuniary advantage that I would derive if the plaintiff wins the suit."

PUGSLEY WASN'T HUNGRY.

After Dining at the Hotel Empire He Tried to Beat the Hostelry and Lands on the Island.

A fifteen-year-old boy entered the dining room of the Hotel Empire yesterday morning, and, remarking to the head waiter, who seated him, that he was not feeling particularly hungry, ordered an orange, a bowl of oatmeal and cream, two boiled eggs, a sirloin steak with onions, potatoes in cream, a pot of coffee, and a half pint of sherry. He disposed of these articles, and then, his appetite having been almost completely destroyed, ordered six buckwheat cakes, which he consumed in a languid manner. The waiter sympathetically presented him with a bill for $2.10, whereupon the lad walked casually up to the clerk's desk and told that official to send the bill up to Room 240. The clerk, knowing that No. 240 was unoccupied, engaged the boy in conversation while he sent around for a policeman. The youngster was arrested just as he was telling the clerk how easy it was to beat New York hotels. When arraigned in the West Side Court he gave his name as George Pugsley, fifteen years old, of New Brunswick, Canada. Magistrate Hogan, hearing the charge, said that he had been arraigned before him two days ago for the same offense. No complainant had appeared against the boy on that occasion, although he admitted having victimized many hotels.

A charge of vagrancy was made against the boy, and he was sent to the Island for three months.

THE BROOKLYN DEATH RATE.

Official Figures Show that It Is Greater than Birth Rate—Dr. Byrne's Explanation.

Brooklynites who take more or less interest in local vital statistics have found something to surprise them in the recently issued report of Dr. Sylvester J. Byrne, head of the Bureau of Records of the Brooklyn Health Department. In this report it appears that there have been more deaths than births recorded in the Brooklyn Health Office. Dr. Byrne's report shows that in 1900 the number of deaths reported in Brooklyn was 23,475; the number of births, 22,572. In 1899, according to the report, 21,683 persons died in Brooklyn, while only 21,203 babies were born in the borough during the same year. The figures in 1898 were: Deaths, 21,856, and births, 21,395.

It would appear from these figures that more Brooklynites are going out of the world than are coming into it, but Dr. Byrne, when seen last night in relation to the matter, declared that such was not the case. The births in Brooklyn quite invariably exceeded the deaths in number, he said, although the records of the Health Department did not show this to be so. The failure of the department records to present this fact, he said, was very easy of explanation. It was due to the negligence of physicians in reporting the same to the Health Department. Many births occurred in Brooklyn each year, he said, which were never reported, although the law required that report be made by physicians and provided a penalty for failure to do the same.

It was quite impossible, Dr. Byrne said, to get together a complete record of births. Every death occurring in the borough, however, he said, must necessarily be reported, and for this reason it frequently appeared from the records that the deaths exceeded the births in number, whereas the reverse was really the case.

TOO MUCH MATHEMATICS.

Isaac Levene Demonstrated by Algebra that He Did Not Owe for a Meal.

Isaac Levene of 82 West Ninetieth Street ate 90 cents' worth of food in a Sixth Avenue restaurant yesterday afternoon. When the check was presented to him he made a mathematical problem of it, and after figuring it out by algebra, arrived at the conclusion that he owed nothing. He tried to demonstrate his process to the waiter, but the waiter did not understand algebra, and called the proprietor of the restaurant, with whom Levene went over his figures, but even the proprietor could not get the thing right, and called in a policeman. Levene labored with the policeman for a brief time, but the latter knew less about algebra than either of the others, and took Levene to the Jefferson Market Police Court.

"It's a simple algebraic problem, Judge," said Levene to Magistrate Flammer, when asked why he did not pay the 90 cents. If I ate an amount equal to 2 X plus 3 Y, and afterward it was said it was equivalent to 4 XZY minus 3 XZ, then by equation I would be found to owe nothing."

The Magistrate conceded that there was something defective in Levene's reasoning, and sent him to Bellevue to be examined.

ASSESSMENTS TO BE MADE PUBLIC

Tax Commissioners Will Publish List of Taxes on Personal Property.

A meeting of the Tax Commissioners was held yesterday at which a resolution was adopted giving publicity to the assessments laid on the personal property of many New York citizens. The resolution deciding to make public the personal assessments follows:

Whereas, It is the opinion of this board that the utmost publicity should be given to the transactions of this department at all times, consistent with the efficient administration thereof; Resolved, That President Feitner and Commissioner Saimon be appointed a committee to make arrangements for such publicity, and to arrange for the convenience thereof, in connection with the business of the department.

President Feitner said that the list would be made public on Friday or Saturday of this week.

Frank S. Hastings's Illness.

Frank S. Hastings, President of the Manhattan Electric Light Company, Vice President of the Kern Incandescent Gas Light Company, and an officer of other corporations, who is identified with the Stock Exchange firm of E. C. Benedict & Co., is recovering at 15 West Fiftieth Street from an attack of typhoid fever which seized him early in December. It will be many weeks, however, before Mr. Hastings will be able to resume business.

Don't have to dip deep!

$13 deep if you are lucky enough to have a 32, 33 or 34 inches chest; $15 deep if you throw a bigger one.

Suits to put on now; not to put in camphor for next Summer or next Winter.

Suits that for the most part represent this Winter's successes—of which there are only a few of a few sizes left.

But they total to over a thousand of our $20, $22, $25 and $28 suits.

ROGERS, PEET & COMPANY.

258 Broadway, cor. Warren, and 7 and 9 Warren St.
589 Broadway, cor. Prince.
1260 Broadway, cor. 32d, and 54 West 33d St.

We fill orders by mail.

BANK TELLER A DEFAULTER.

Employe of Continental National Short $12,000 in His Accounts—Thefts Extended Over Seven Years.

J. Prevost Mason, third teller of the Continental National Bank, 7 Nassau Street, was arraigned yesterday morning before United States Commissioner Shields charged with embezzling $12,000 belonging to the bank. Mason, who had worked his way up from an ordinary clerkship, had been employed in the bank for twenty-seven years and was one of its most trusted employes. The money was stolen during the past six or seven years, and the method of covering the deficits was a clumsy one, reliant principally on the trust put in the teller by his employers.

Until last Saturday no one had a suspicion that all was not right in Mason's department. On that day Bank Examiner Hanna went to the bank to examine into the books. The examiner had not been long at work when Mason complained of not feeling well and was allowed to go home. A clerk who was put into his place noticed that there were irregularities in the books. The bank examiner was notified at once and the accounts of Mason were gone over, showing that in a number of places they had been doctored. Then the bank officials went through the books and up to Saturday night discovered shortages which amounted to $9,000.

The Fidelity and Casualty Company, which was on a bond of $10,000 for the teller's honesty, was told of the suspicion, and A. M. Birdsall, attorney for the company, took charge of the case. He saw Mason at his home, corner of Washington and Wendover Avenues, and, Mr. Birdsall says, the teller confessed to him that he had stolen the money for a period ranging over six to seven years. It was 1 o'clock Sunday morning when Mr. Birdsall, accompanied by an Inspector, called at Mason's home to inform him that shortages had been found in his accounts. After securing the confession, Mr. Birdsall says, he left the Inspector in charge of Mason, who was shadowed from that time until 11 o'clock Tuesday night, when he was arrested. By the time Mason was arrested the bank examiner had finished his work on the books and had discovered in all a shortage of $12,000. Second Vice President Seymour said that Mason had confessed that he had spent the money he had stolen on living expenses, as his salary at the bank was but $1,800 annually.

When Mason appeared before Commissioner Shields he was represented by Lawyers Abraham Levy and former Assistant District Attorney Unger. He pleaded not guilty and asked for an examination. He was held in $10,000 bail, in default of which he was locked up in Ludlow Street Jail. Mason has an uncle, who is Prof. Joseph Weir Mason of the College of the City of New York and who resides at 32 West One Hundred and Twenty-ninth Street. He also has a brother, Frank G. Mason, who is employed in the Custom House.

ALVORD GETS THIRTEEN YEARS.

Defaulting Note Teller Who Stole $690,000 Hears His Fate with Equanimity.

Cornelius L. Alvord, Jr., former note teller of the First National Bank, who pleaded guilty to having stolen $690,000 from that institution, was sentenced to thirteen years' imprisonment for his crime yesterday by Justice Thomas in the Criminal Branch of the United States Circuit Court. The prisoner was almost immediately afterward taken to Sing Sing Prison, where he will serve his sentence.

There were very few spectators in the courtroom yesterday when the defaulting teller appeared to receive his sentence. He entered the courtroom from the pen carrying his head erect and swinging his arms as if he was out in the park enjoying a constitutional. He appeared perfectly unconcerned about the fate in store for him. So far as known none of his friends was in the courtroom. His counsel, Jacob F. Miller, in answer to Judge Thomas's question, said he had said all he had to say about the case. "I will leave him in your hands," said the counsel.

Judge Thomas in imposing sentence said that the words of a Judge should not be harsh. After examining the case carefully, he said, he considered that he had met with an old-time case of common thievery, but that the adroitness of the crime and its far-reaching effects should be taken into consideration. The banks were trusted by the public, and the prisoner had betrayed that trust.

The prisoner was then sentenced to eight years in Sing Sing under count No. 39 of the indictment, which charged him with making false entries in the books of the bank, and five years under count No. 50, which charged him with falsifying the Clearing House sheet. The five-year sentence is to begin at the expiration of the eight-year term. Alvord heard the sentence without the slightest show of feeling, although his counsel said it was much more severe than he had been led to expect.

The prisoner, in company with two Deputy United States Marshals, took a train at the Grand Central Station shortly after 1 o'clock for Sing Sing. Alvord passed cigars to his two traveling companions as the train pulled out of the station, and, lighting one himself, took one last look at the busy crowds at the station and settled himself back for a comfortable journey.

SING SING, Jan. 16.—C. L. Alvord, the defaulting bank clerk, reached the depot here in custody of a Deputy Sheriff at 2:45 o'clock. He was at once taken to the State Prison. After his pedigree had been taken he was taken to the State shop, where he was given a bath, a shave, his hair cut, and his own clothing exchanged for a striped suit. He was weighed there and tipped the scales at 292 pounds. He is now in Cell 451, Gallery 24, where he must remain for ten days in quarantine against disease. He will have to serve eight years and three months if he behaves himself, as he will be allowed four years and nine months for good conduct.

Deaf Man Killed by a Train.

CORNING, N. Y., Jan. 16.—At noon today, John Scott of Bath, aged, seventy and very deaf, was walking along the Lackawanna Railroad tracks to the scene of last night's wreck, when he was struck by a train and cut to pieces. His head was found on the engine pilot after it had run a mile to the station.

BROADWAY AND 11TH ST.
JAMES McCREERY & CO.

January Sale of Remnants, of ZIBELINE, CAMEL'S HAIR, ARMURE, CREPE CLOTH, TAILOR SUITINGS and FRENCH NOVELTY GOODS, 50, 75 and 95 cents per yard;

Value $1.25 to $2.50.

Handsome CAMEL'S HAIR PLAIDS, SCOTCH and FRENCH PLAIDS, 75 cents;
Value $1.25 to $2.00.

8,000 yards LIBERTY WAIST VELVETEEN. Dotted, striped and scroll designs. Old rose, reseda green, gobelin blue, light gray and black-and-white,
50 cents per yard;
Reduced from $1.00.

Umbrellas.

2000,—MEN'S AND WOMEN'S.

All silk, steel rod, eight rib, paragon frame. Handles,—26-inch,—crystal, sterling silver, dresden and natural wood.
28-inch,—natural woods,
$1.95 each;
Formerly $2.25 to $4.50.

BROADWAY AND 11TH ST.
JAMES McCREERY & CO.

DETECTIVES AWAIT ABSCONDER HERTZ

Employe of Stiefel, Sachs & Co. Embezzled About $100,000.

Drew Forged Checks on the Firm's Bank Account and Destroyed the Vouchers—He Lived a Double Life.

LONDON, Jan. 16.—The forger for whose extradition the United States authorities are asking is Sigmund Hertz, alias Emden, of New York City. He is supposed to be on board the steamer Corinthian, which left Halifax Sunday, Jan. 7, for Queenstown and Liverpool. The police of those cities are watching for him.

The alleged absconder whom the Scotland Yard detectives have been asked to arrest is Sigmund Hertz of 21 East One Hundred and Eleventh Street, an employe of Stiefel, Sachs & Co. of 18 Walker Street.

Hertz has been missing since Jan. 2, and sailed under the name of Emden or Lunden on the steamship Corinthian. His wife is with him. He was the confidential financial man of the firm, and had been introduced by them at the Chemical Bank, where they made heavy deposits, the house being a branch of the firm of Sachs Brothers & Co. of San Francisco. He would draw money on forged checks and destroy the vouchers. Another method was to raise checks sent in part payment of accounts, place the same on deposit, and take the difference from the cash in the safe. The bank officials say that to do this for any length of time he must have had an accomplice. One forgery for $7,800, and another for $2,500 have already been brought to the attention of the bank.

Assistant District Attorney Gans said yesterday that the rumor that the firm had been mulcted in about $200,000 was an exaggeration, and half that figure he believed would be nearer the correct sum. It was not until Hertz had been away from his work for two days after reporting himself ill that the firm learned that he had gone with all his portable belongings.

Detectives have learned that Hertz lived a double life. He bought a pair of horses and a handsome carriage, which he stabled in Columbus Avenue, and frequently drove out in company with a woman whom he introduced at various roadhouses and restaurants as his wife, and sometimes as his sister-in-law. He bought diamonds for her from a Sixth Avenue jeweler. Once he ordered $5,000 worth of gems sent upon approval. He purchased $1,000 worth and returned the others. All his jewelry bills were paid in checks.

Hertz was at one time a clerk in the jewelry store from which he made his largest purchases, and was afterward a bookkeeper for the Genesee Fruit Company, at 501 West Street, of which ex-Mayor Franklin Edson is President. He was in the employ of Stiefel, Sachs & Co. for several years.

Sigmund Hertz is a son of Morris J. Hertz, who lives at 61 East One Hundred and Eighth Street with his two daughters and another son. The father was almost prostrated by the publicity of the case, and as he lay in bed last night talked concerning his son. He declared that neither he nor any member of the family knew anything about the matter. He said his son never visited them but once every two or three weeks, and then only for a few minutes at a time. He last heard from his son on Jan. 4, when he received a postal card saying: "I must go to San Francisco on business. I will tell you all about it later."

Mr. Hertz said his son had been married about three years, and that he always appeared to be very devoted to his wife.

LEGAL NOTES.

NOTE GIVEN UNDER DURESS.—Frederick Lutjens, when sued by Robert Douai in Brooklyn upon a promissory note for $300 made by him to the order of Charles Wehle, claimed that the note was obtained from him by duress. The evidence showed that when one Berncamp was arrested in a civil action Lutjens became surety on an undertaking to discharge him from arrest and that Wehle, who was plaintiff's attorney, exacted the note as a condition of consenting to the discharge. A judgment given in favor of the defendant on the trial was affirmed by the Appellate Division in Brooklyn, and the Court of Appeals now decides that that was correct and holds, on the opinion of Justice Cullen below, that such a note was void as between the parties and as to all others except bona fide holders of value. The court says that a person claiming to be a bona fide holder of such a note must show under what circumstances and for what value he became such. The mere production of the note was insufficient.

***

INCOMPETENT EVIDENCE IN SUIT AGAINST BONDSMEN OF DEFAULTING CASHIER.—When the State Bank of Pike, doing business in the village of Pike, N. Y., appointed Earle S. White as its cashier, in January, 1893, he gave a bond in the penal sum of $20,000, with George M. Brown and others as sureties. On White's ceasing to be cashier, in August, 1895, he was found to be a defaulter in a considerable amount, consisting of sums which came into his possession as cashier, including moneys deposited for which certificates were issued. In a suit by the bank against the sureties judgment was directed on the referee's report in favor of the plaintiff for $1,867.12. This decision was affirmed by the Fourth Appellate Division, but the Court of Appeals last week ordered a reversal, and new trial, because of incompetent evidence having been given on the trial before the referee. The Court of Appeals holds, in an opinion by Judge Vann, that the books of the bank, and computations made from them, were not admissible as evidence against the bondsmen, without preliminary proof of their accuracy or regularity; it appearing that the entries relied upon were made by persons other than the cashier.

NEW BOOKS.

There were over 5,000 new books published in 1900. You cannot read all of the new books, but you can get an intelligent idea of what they contain by reading THE NEW YORK TIMES SATURDAY REVIEW. No person who wishes to keep informed of what is going on in the world of letters can do without.

THE NEW YORK TIMES SATURDAY REVIEW.

This weekly paper is mailed to any address for One Year for ONE DOLLAR. It is strictly a Literary Newspaper and the only publication of the kind in the world.

Here is presented a popular and useful guide to what is best in current literature. It contains a mine of information about books. Nothing approaching this offer has ever before been presented to the American public.

Parents who wish the best possible literary guidance for their children; Professors, Teachers, and Students, who wish a constant and certain help in their course of instruction; busy professional men and merchants; in fact, intelligent and thoughtful persons of all classes, will find THE NEW YORK TIMES SATURDAY REVIEW indispensable. Thousands have already found it indispensable. Thousands more will do so.

Send one dollar in stamps, postal note or money order to

The New York Times,
New York.

Sample copy forwarded on application.

USE BRUMMELL'S
CELEBRATED COUGH DROPS.
Positively relieve Coughs and Colds and all irritation of the throat. Sold by Druggists everywhere.

THREE PER CENT. CITY BONDS.

Controller Coler Will Offer $3,000,000 on Feb. 1.

On Feb. 1 Controller Coler will offer for sale $3,000,000 of New York City bonds, bearing interest at the rate of 3 per cent. This is the first time in five years that bonds bearing such a low rate of interest have been offered for sale, with the exception of a small lot of Silver Lake Improvements bonds sold under direct authorization of the Legislature.

Controller Coler thinks that by establishing New York bonds on a 3 per cent. basis, the city will in the long run get money cheaper. He believes that the public are coming to look on the city bonds as one of the best investments that can be made. The last bonds sold on a 3 per cent. basis amounted to $3,345,000 and were bought by J. P. Morgan & Co.

Capt. J. G. Gesner's Funeral.

The funeral of Capt. John G. Gesner, who died at his home at 504 Pavonia Avenue, Jersey City, on Sunday from debility incident to old age, took place yesterday. Capt. Gesner was born at Nyack, N. Y., in 1827. He was one of the oldest steamboat engineers in the country, and was at one time a chief engineer of the old Erickson Line plying between New York and Liverpool. He was also employed on several steamships running to China and Australia. He leaves a wife, one son, and two daughters.

O'Neill's.

Special Values IN Muslin Underwear

MUSLIN SKIRTS with three rows of Torchon Insertion, Edged Ruffle, also with Lawn Ruffle finished with Cluster of small Tucks; also MUSLIN GOWNS, Empire and V shaped neck, some finished with Torchon, others with Embroidery,
79c each value 1.00

MUSLIN SKIRTS, Torchon Insertion, Edged Ruffle,
MUSLIN GOWNS, Empire and V shaped neck, trimmed with Embroidery or Torchon Insertion and Tucks,
CAMBRIC and MUSLIN DRAWERS; some with Umbrella Ruffle and Insertings, others with deep Embroidered Ruffle,
CAMBRIC CHEMISES, Square or Circular neck, finished with Embroidery or Lace,
59c each value 79c

Women's Suits.

TAILOR-MADE SUITS of Venetian, Tans, Browns and Gray, Coat lined with Taffetta, Skirt with Percaline
9.98 each value 18.00

FINE TAILOR-MADE SUITS in Coverts and Venetians, Tans and Gray, full lined in fine quality of Taffeta,
14.98 each value 25.00

FINE PEBBLE CHEVIOT SUITS, Black, Brown and Navy, Jacket is the new double-breasted box-front and with Peau de Soie Revers and Facings, lined throughout with Taffeta, Skirt shows the new gored effect and lined with French Percaline,
16.98 each

Sixth Avenue, 20th to 21st Street.

Shirts.
Made-to-measure,
of advance Spring materials in new weaves and designs.

The Tendon cord Cloths,—in Linen and Madras, Satin Broche, Dimities and Nainsook Rayee, are among the latest importations of this very extensive stock.

James McCreery & Co.,
Twenty-third Street.

Amusements.

METROPOLITAN OPERA HOUSE
GRAND OPERA SEASON 1900—1901
Under the direction of Mr. Maurice Grau.
To-morrow Ev'g. at 7:45—DIE WALKURE. (In German.) Mmes. Ternina, Schumann-Heink, and Nordica; MM. Van Dyck, Blass, and Bertram. Conductor, Damrosch.
Sat. Aft., Jan. 19, at 2—LE CID. (In French.) Mmes. Lucienne Bréval and Melba; MM. Jean and Ed. de Reszke, Sizes, and Plancon. Conductor, Mancinelli.
Sat. Ev'g, Jan. 19, at 8, at Popular Prices—DER FLIEGENDE HOLLANDER, (The Flying Dutchman.) (In German.) Mmes. Gadski and Olitzka; MM. Dippel, Blass, Bars, and Bertram. Conductor, Damrosch.
Sun. Ev'g., Jan. 20, at 8:15.—Grand Popular Concert. In addition to a miscellaneous concert, Rossini's STABAT MATER will be performed. Soloists: Mmes. Nordica, Scheff, and Schumann-Heink; MM. Imbart de la Tour, Campanari, and Plancon, together with Entire Orchestra and Chorus. Conductor, Mr. Mancinelli.
Mon. Ev'g, Jan. 21, at 8:15—LA BOHEME, (in Italian.) Mmes. Melba and Scheff; MM. Saléza, Gilibert, Journet, and Campanari. Conductor, Mancinelli.
Wed. Ev'g, Jan. 23, at 8—DON GIOVANNI, (in Italian.) Mmes. Nordica, Scheff, and Gadski; MM. Ed. de Reszke, Saléza, Journet, and Scotti. Conductor, Mancinelli.
Fri. Ev'g, Jan. 25, at 8—TRISTAN UND ISOLDE, (in German.) Mmes. Ternina and Schumann-Heink; MM. Jean and Ed. de Reszke, Muhlmann, and Bispham. Conductor, Damrosch.
WEBER PIANOS USED.

ST. NICHOLAS SKATING RINK
69 WEST 66TH STREET.
CHAMPIONSHIP HOCKEY MATCH, St. Nicholas S. C. vs. Quaker City.
TO-NIGHT AT 8:15 O'CLOCK.
Admission 50 cents. Reserved Seats 50c. extra. MUSIC. SKATES FREE.

DALY'S THEATRE. Friday 2:30.
WALTER DAMROSCH
PIANO LECTURE RECITAL EXPLANATORY OF DAS RHEINGOLD.....AT 2:30
Jan. 22—Die Walkure. Jan. 25—Siegfried.

BIJOU | TO-NIGHT at 8:15. MATINEE SATURDAY.
AMELIA BINGHAM
Presents Her COMPANY in Clyde Fitch's Latest Success,
THE CLIMBERS
ENTHUSIASM OF THE PRESS.
TIMES—"Miss Bingham has gone first the right way to work to do something worth doing for the sake of Dramatic Art." "It is true to life, splendidly acted."
HERALD—"The Climbers' is a success."
WORLD—"Thrilling modern play! None stronger has been written!"
EVE. SUN—"Amelia Bingham has covered herself with glory." "An American actress and an American dramatist scored a triumph."
SEATS NOW SELLING.

BROADWAY Theatre, 41st St. & B'way. Evgs., 8:15. Mat. Sat., 2:15.
JEFFERSON DE ANGELIS | LAST WEEK. A ROYAL ROGUE.
WEDNESDAY, JAN. 23RD.
JOHANN STRAUSS'S LATEST OPERETTA. VIENNA LIFE. (Wiener Blut.)
SEAT SALE TO-DAY, 9 A. M.

KNICKERBOCKER. Evs. 8.25. Mat. Sat., 2.20.
THEATRE CLOSED To-night. Miss Rehan will positively appear to-morrow evening.
—ADA— REHAN | LAST WEEK. "SWEET NELL OF OLD DRURY."
Next Week. Sent Sale To-day. N. C. GOODWIN—MAXINE ELLIOTT. "When We Were Twenty-One."

DALY'S B'way & 30th, at 8:15. Dan'l Frohman, Mgr. Mats. Wed. & Sat. 2.
DANIEL FROHMAN'S COMPANY.
Lady Huntworth's Experiment
Friday, 2:30, WALTER DAMROSCH, (Rheingold.)

LYCEUM 4th Av. & 23d.....At 8:30 Daniel Frohman...Manager Matinées Thurs. & Sat., 2:15
.....LAST THREE WEEKS.....
ANNIE RUSSELL in A ROYAL FAMILY. A ROYAL FAMILY.
Feb. 4—Henry Miller in "RICH'D SAVAGE."

Proctor's 23d St. 5th Ave. 58th St. 125th St. | Continuous Performance. | 15, 25, 50c. Vaudeville. | Clayton White, Marie Stuart & Co., Delbosq, Cushman, Holcomb & Curtis, Mlle Nel's Living Statuary, Pepinta, Harry Watson's Co., Midgley & Carlisle, Tom Nawn & Co., R. Johnstone, Mlle Cargos, Carroll Johnson, Ida Van Sicklen, Geo. W. Monroe, Maxwell & Simpson, Al Leech & 3 Rosebuds, Lew Hawkins.

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN.
SIXTH NATIONAL EXHIBITION OF CYCLES, MOTOR CYCLES. LAST 3 DAYS.
Automobiles and Accessories.
Open 9 A. M. to 10:30 P. M. Adm., 50c.

WEBER & FIELDS' MUSIC HALL. Evgs. 8:15 Sharp. Mats. Tues., Sat., 2. FIDDLE-DEE-DEE and Burlesques of Gay Lord Quex and A Royal Family.

THE NEW YORK, B'way, 45 St. | Ev. 8:15. Mats. Wed. & Sat. New special vaudeville features Followed by Rosenfeld & Sloane's Successful Review. The GIDDY THRONG

KOSTER & BIAL'S 23d St. | Grand 25c. All Orc. Mat. Daily. Evgs. 25, 50, 75. Sunday Concerts. Blocksom & Burns, Harry Le Clair Others & Act V. Faust, Tavary Op. Co

IRVING PLACE THEATRE. Last week of the roaring farce, "Die Strengen Herren." Matinée Saturday, (popular prices,) "Uriel Acosta."

Amusements.

CARNEGIE HALL
To-night at 8:15.
Programme:
SCHUMANN, Overture, Scherzo and Finale, op. 52; HAYDN, Concerto for Violoncello, in D; RICHARD STRAUSS, Symphonic Fantasie, "In Italy," op. 16.
Soloist, Mr. Hugo Becker
Sat. Aft., Jan. 19, at 2:30.
Programme: TSCHAIKOWSKY, Symphony No. 5, in E minor, op. 64; CESAR FRANCK, Symphonic Variations for Piano and Orchestra; LISZT, Symphonic Poem, No. 3, "The Preludes." Soloist, Mr. Cortlandt Palmer
Boston Symphony Orchestra
Mr. Gericke, Conductor.
Tickets, $1.50 to 75c. On sale at box office and Tyson's (5th Av. Hotel) at reg. prices. Adm., 50c.

CARNEGIE HALL
Tuesday evgs., January 22 & February 12,
Pittsburgh Orchestra
VICTOR HERBERT, Conductor. | Soloist, January 22, Mrs. Dorothy Harvey
Seats, 50c. to $1.50. Boxes, $12 & $15. Now on sale at Schuberth's, Tyson's, Hotels, & Box Office.

FF FLINT'S FINE FURNITURE
TASTE IN DECORATION.
The great fault with most interiors is overdecoration—ornamentations being added long after it is finished. Rugs are laid on figured carpets, pictures hung on strongly marked walls, books, giving rich mosaics of color, properly used, are lined against "decorated" library walls.
We know when and where to stop in decoration, as well as how to begin.
We understand the necessity of using plain figures to accent and back harmonious combinations of colors.
Refinement, restfulness, simplicity are the ends we seek—and we know how to secure them.
Visit our Studio—learn how low factory prices are, and
"BUY OF THE MAKER"
GEO. C. FLINT CO.
43, 45 AND 47 WEST 23RD ST
NEAR BROADWAY.
FACTORY 154 AND 156 WEST 19TH STREET

Amusements.

MARQUIS DE SOUZA
First appearance in N. Y. Carnegie Hall, Thur. Ev. Jan. 24 with SIEVEKING and Orchestra.
The Phenomenal Portuguese Baritone. Tickets at Schuberth's, Tyson's, Rullman's & box office. Management M. L. Pinkham & Gustav Thalberg.

EMPIRE THEATRE. B'way & 40th St. Evgs. 8:20. Matinées, 2:15.
Empire Theatre Company in MRS. DANE'S DEFENSE
"Decided success."—Herald. Mats. Wed. & Sat.

CHARLES FROHMAN'S CRITERION THEATRE. B'way and 44th St.
EVENINGS AT 8:15. MATINEE SATURDAY.
JULIA MARLOWE | WHEN KNIGHTHOOD WAS IN FLOWER.

MADISON SQ. THEATRE, 24th St., nr. B'way. Mats. Wed. and Saturday. Evening, 8:30.
HERBERT

"All the News That's Fit to Print."

The New York Times.

THE WEATHER.
Clearing, with fresh northwesterly winds.

COPYRIGHT, 1901, BY THE NEW YORK TIMES COMPANY.

VOL. L...NO. 15,922. NEW YORK, FRIDAY, JANUARY 18, 1901.—FOURTEEN PAGES. ONE CENT In Greater New York, Jersey City, and Newark. Elsewhere. TWO CENTS.

SECRET BRITISH ORDERS?

Commanders Said to Have Directed a Policy of Extermination.

BOERS NOW THREATEN NATAL

Are Concentrating at Carolina and Ermelo—Few Dutch Joining Cape Colony Invaders.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—The "Stop-the-War" Committee yesterday passed the following resolution:

"Orders which a British officer reports he personally received reveal the adoption by Lord Roberts and Lord Kitchener of a policy having for its aim the extermination of a heroic nationality by starving its women and children and the deliberate massacre of unarmed prisoners."

The latter clause alludes to alleged secret orders from Lord Kitchener to De Wet's pursuers to take no prisoners.

Copies of letters from an unnamed British officer, containing these and other charges, will be sent by the committee to Lord Salisbury, Lord Roberts, and others.

Lord Kitchener, telegraphing from Pretoria, under date of Jan. 16, says the concentration of three thousand Boers at Carolina, (Transvaal,) is reported.

It is alleged that the Boers who are concentrating at Carolina and Ermelo are preparing to descend into Natal.

Information as to the doings of the Cape Colony invaders is hard to obtain, but it is clear that they are getting very little help from the Dutch. Twice they attempted to capture Barkly East, but both times they were repulsed. For three days they occupied Sutherland, but they cleared out on the approach of a British column. Small scattered parties are reported operating in various parts of the Ceres district.

Apparently the invaders abandoned the idea of attacking Clanwilliam on finding the town well defended. A commando of 1,000 Boers been active in the Richmond District, but there the Boers have secured only 100 Dutch recruits.

The casualty list issued yesterday shows that the Boers have released 297 British who were captured.

The authorities continue to hold a hopeful view regarding the situation, but they seem to recognize that vigorous measures are necessary. The proclamation of martial law throughout almost the whole of Cape Colony, Lord Kitchener's strong measures against the population of the republics, the placing on reduced rations of the wives of men on commando, and similar measures go to show that there is still heavy work ahead.

British offensive operations have ceased for the present. It is supposed that Lord Kitchener is collecting his strength for a final effort to crush out or to capture the commandoes by a repetition of the tactics which caused the surrender of Gen. Cronje and Gen. Prinsloo.

It is asserted that more heavy naval guns will be landed at the Cape.

Lord Roberts, who was entertained privately at dinner last evening by the United Service Club, the guests including the Prince of Wales, the Duke of York, the Duke of Cambridge, and some three hundred officers, has issued from the War Office a stirring appeal to the country for a prompt response to the call for 5,000 yeomanry, the past services of which body in South Africa he highly commends to the gratitude of the nation.

PRETORIA, Jan. 17.—Boer families and their stock are being systematically brought in to convenient centres from all over the country. They are kept in camps and fed. Those who surrender voluntarily are supplied with full rations, and those whose husbands are still in the field are provided for on a reduced scale, which is raised when the husbands surrender to a full allowance.

Every opportunity is offered to the refugees to work for pay and for special privileges. Prominent burghers who have surrendered are allowed to visit the camps in order to ascertain the facts as to the treatment.

CAPE TOWN, Jan. 17.—Martial law has now been proclaimed in every part of Cape Colony, except the districts of Cape Town, Simonstown, Wynberg, Port Elizabeth, and East London. It has also been proclaimed in Tomouland, Griqualand East, and in East and West Pondoland.

It has been proclaimed unlawful for any person in the Cape Peninsula, except officials and regular or irregular troops, to possess arms or ammunition.

BOERS DEFEATED BY COLVILLE.

STANDERTON, Jan. 16.—Colville's mobile column, marching from New Denmark to Vlaklangte, was attacked by 1,000 Boers, divided into two forces.

One force made a determined attempt on the baggage, and the other on the cavalry constituting the rear guard.

The cavalry was compelled to retire until protected by four companies of rifles, hidden behind a ridge, who were waiting with bayonets. The Boers then made a speedy retreat, leaving several dead and wounded from the heavy British fire.

Eventually both attacks were repulsed, the Boers losing heavily.

The British were not able to pursue the Boers, owing to the necessity of protecting their baggage. Their casualties were one killed and fifteen wounded.

Boers Imprison a Peace Advocate.

STANDERTON, Jan. 17.—Boer women, brought in by the military, report that William Steyn, who was appointed a delegate of the Boers here to ask the fighting Boers to surrender under Lord Kitchener's proclamation, was made a prisoner and sent to Pietrewief, accused of high treason.

Queenaland Offers 10,000 Troops.

BRISBANE, Jan. 17.—Robert Philp, Premier and Treasurer of Queensland, asserted to-day that the Colony was prepared to contribute 10,000 additional troops for South Africa.

Report of Boer Prisoners' Escape.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—The Evening Standard says it hears that a number of Boer prisoners have escaped from Ceylon.

GEN. ALGER HAS A RELAPSE.

Special to The New York Times.

DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 17.—Gen. Alger suffered a relapse yesterday and is now again confined to his bed, a very sick man. One week ago last Monday he left his office not feeling well, and before the end of the day a cold had set in with marked symptoms of grip. He was forced to take to his bed.

Last Monday the General was feeling sufficiently well to permit of getting up, and until yesterday he was about his house. Yesterday morning the fever which had accompanied the attack returned. It is admitted that his illness is quite serious.

INDEX TO DEPARTMENTS.

Stocks weak. Financial Affairs.—Pages 10 and 11.
Wheat, No. 2 red, 79¼c.; corn, No. 2 mixed, 46¼c.; oats, No. 2 mixed, 30½c.; cotton, middling, 9⅞c.; iron, Northern, No. 1, $16; butter, Western creamery, 21c. Commercial World.—Page 9.
Amusements.—Page 6.
Arrivals at Hotels and Out-of-Town Buyers.—Page 2.
Business Troubles.—Page 8.
Court Calendars.—Page 12.
Legal Notes.—Page 14.
Losses by Fire.—Page 3.
Marine Intelligence and Foreign Mails.—Page 8.
New Corporations.—Page 12.
Railroads.—Page 5.
Real Estate.—Page 12.
Society.—Page 7.
United Service.—Page 5.
Weather Report.—Page 3.
Yesterday's Fires.—Page 2.

OPPOSES AMENDED TREATY.

The Times (London) Urges the British Government to Stand on the Original Agreement.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—The Times, in the course of an editorial on the Nicaragua Canal controversy, expresses itself gratified to find that "the crudeness of Mr. Morgan's methods has startled the press on his own side." It quotes from its New York correspondent, Mr. Smalley, the statement:

"I do not believe that a majority of intelligent Americans either expect or desire Great Britain to submit to what is unmannerly."

The Times commends to Americans the attitude of the Boston Chamber of Commerce in its report on the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, which, the paper asserts, "takes practically the British view of the canal question."

"It may be taken for granted," continues The Times, "that, in some form or other, Lord Lansdowne will explain to President McKinley and Secretary Hay that we do not share the Senate's views of the freely repudiable character of an international bargain, and that we have no notion of allowing the Senate to accept all we offered by the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, and then to take all we retained as a condition of our offer.

"It will only be necessary to recall the terms of the agreement accepted a year ago with gratitude by American statesmen to refuse assent to a wholly different agreement and to intimate that, until the agreement is ratified or other reasonable proposals are courteously presented by the American Government, we shall continue to stand upon the Clayton-Bulwer treaty."

SHIPYARDS FOR CARNEGIE.

Report Project to Extend Conneaut Plant and to Build Dry Docks There Also.

Special to The New York Times.

ASHTABULA, Ohio, Jan. 17.—The latest announcement made in this section concerning the gigantic projects of the Carnegie Company is to the effect that shipyards and a dry dock are to be built the coming Spring at Conneaut, and that work will begin on these plants at about the same time that operations on the construction of the tube works begin. The Conneaut Evening News asserts with positiveness that these new plants are to be built, and claims that it will be but the carrying out of a project which was planned last Winter. It says:

"It is supposed that the Carnegie Company wants to be entirely independent of the combine that owns and controls the shipbuilding plants of the lakes. The dry dock would be indispensable here for repair work on vessels." The two plants would employ between 2,000 and 3,000 men the year round.

Considering that there is no shipyard within a distance of 70 miles of Conneaut on the west and 100 miles on the east it is argued that such plants should follow the completion of the harbor owned by Carnegie, and which is to be the shipping port for a large part of the product of his new tube works. Should dry docks and shipyards be built at Conneaut it will bring the Carnegie Company almost as much in competition with the shipping combine as their tube works will bring them in competition with the National Tube Company.

The new shipyards and dry docks would not only do the repair work and building for the Carnegie Company, but, like most plants, would probably reach out for all the business they could get, and thus competition would become strong. Ashtabula, which receives a large per cent. of all the ore vessels which come down the lakes, is within fifteen miles of Conneaut Harbor. Shipyards at Conneaut would afford the nearest dry dock to Ashtabula.

THE VENEZUELAN SITUATION.

No Further Advices Received—The Scorpion Sails from La Guayra—Scene of the Trouble.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The Scorpion sailed to-day from La Guayra to the point where the employes of the New York and Bermudez Company are besieged by Venezuelans. It is improbable that she will get there before Sunday morning, and as the last report from the scene of hostilities indicated that a fight was imminent it will probably have taken place before the warship arrives.

Guanaco, the scene of the trouble, is seventy miles up the San Juan River, a stream near the mouth of the Orinoco. It is about fifteen miles from shore. It is a small town, which has grown up since the development of the asphalt industry began, and a small railway, owned by the New York and Bermudez Company, runs from the river to the town. It bluejackets are sent ashore they will proceed by this railroad to Guanaco, which is the headquarters of the beleaguered Americans.

The fiction of a revolution in Venezuela is still maintained to some extent, although there is no longer any disposition to deny that the attack on the asphalt trust's property is being made by Government troops. How that reason the revolution story was started it is impossible to tell. Peraza has completely disappeared, and those who claim that a revolution is imminent in Venezuela have given him up and are now conjuring with the names of Andrade and Hernandez. Both of these revolutionists, however, are maintaining absolute quiet, and neither of them has manifested the slightest desire to make use of the complications in which his country is being drawn to advance his personal fortunes.

A mutiny among some of the soldiers in Caracas has been reported to the State Department, but according to the best information it was nothing but a local brawl and was promptly suppressed. It seems to have been confined to the barracks.

The Venezuelan Legation has received from the Consul General a dispatch which he received from Venezuela yesterday in reply to a telegram of inquiry sent by him. It states that there is no rebellion or even an uprising of any kind.

The State Department has obtained from the Navy Department a list of all the available warships and their whereabouts.

ARCHITECTS WIN COMPETITION.

Rankin & Kellogg to Plan Public Building at Indianapolis.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Another award of a public building to architects selected after competition under the Tarsney law was made to-day by the Secretary of the Treasury. Eleven sets of drawings were offered in response to the advertisement calling for designs for a Post Office and Custom House building at Indianapolis. A commission consisting of H. Langford Warren of Harvard University, Edward B. Green of Buffalo, J. H. Marshall of Washington, James Knox Taylor, the Supervising Architect of the Treasury, and D. H. Burnham of Chicago, considered the plans, and having thrown out one because it was marked in a manner to distinguish it and because an effort was made to secure approval of it, they decided in favor of the design offered by Rankin & Kellogg of Philadelphia.

The new building will be 320 by 155 feet in dimensions, rectangular, with a long façade presenting a colonnade of fourteen Ionic columns. The entrances are to be in flanking pavilions, and the design calls for groups of statuary as a part of the decorative scheme.

West and Southwest.
The Pennsylvania Railroad offers convenient service to all the great trade centres.—Adv.

FIGHT FOR LIVES OF BOSSCHIETER PRISONERS

Counsel in Final Argument For and Against the Accused Men.

Death Penalty and Acquittal Demanded—The Accused Men May Know Their Fate To-day.

PATERSON, N. J., Jan. 17.—The evidence in the Bosschieter case being all in, the legal wrangle for the lives of Walter C. McAlister, William A. Death, and Andrew J. Campbell was begun to-day. It was expected that the speechmaking of the lawyers in the summing up would be ended early in the afternoon, and that the case would go to the jury late in the day. This prediction proved wrong, however, and another day will be required to give the men who will judge of the guilt or innocence of the accused the usual amount of enlightenment concerning the facts in the case. Ex-Judge Hoffman of counsel for the accused men will open with his final effort to-morrow morning. He will be followed by Prosecutor Emley, and the Judge will then charge the jury.

The men who spoke to-day were Assistant Prosecutor Ralph Shaw for the State, and ex-Judge Scott and Lawyer Michael Dunn for the defense. They began with the opening of the morning session, and concluded—that is to say, Mr. Dunn did—a few minutes before 4 o'clock in the afternoon. Then ex-Judge Hoffman of counsel for the accused men arose and requested of Justice Dixon the privilege of deferring his concluding address until the morning, a request which was granted. This change in the programme was considered a point highly favorable to the prisoners, who by the way in which they nodded at one another evidently shared this view.

What Mr. Dunn has been revealed as to the possible verdict the jury is likely to reach. The arguments of the three men who have thus far addressed the jury, in fact everything which has passed during the trial, have indicated that the efforts of the lawyers were directed to conviction of murder in the first degree or acquittal. And yet one of four verdicts may be found by the jury. It may bring in a verdict of murder in the first degree, a verdict of murder in the second degree, the penalty of which is thirty years' imprisonment; a verdict of manslaughter, the penalty of which may be either one day and $1, or ten years or $1,000, or both, and it may acquit.

The prisoners came into court in the morning apparently none the worse for their ordeal of yesterday. They were at times a little restless under the lash of the Assistant Prosecutor's whip, especially when he indicated that they deserved the extreme penalty, and when at last he concluded with the remark:

"The State is compelled to ask for a verdict of murder in the first degree."

There was another point where they betrayed some nervousness. It was during the address of their counsel, ex-Judge Scott. He was telling the jury that if murder had resulted from an assault, the assault in itself would be murder in the first degree. "But," added Mr. Scott, "that this woman died as the result of an assault is not the case. That charge disappears. There has been no evidence to show it."

Justice Dixon interrupted with this explanation:

"If the girl, while in the saloon was given poison with intent to commit an assault, then that act must be considered a part of the assault. Any overt act in connection with the assault is a part thereof."

The three accused men leaned forward, fearful, apparently, that a word of the Justice's remarks would escape them. Their faces betrayed annoyance.

ASSISTANT PROSECUTOR'S ADDRESS.

Shortly after court opened, Assistant Prosecutor Shaw began with the preliminary address of the summing up by the State. He made no great attempt to work upon the feelings of the jury, but in a plain, matter-of-fact way outlined the testimony as he said he understood it. He began by reminding the jury that a murder which occurred during the perpetration of a felony constituted murder in the first degree.

"We have learned," he said, "that Jennie Bosschieter was not quite eighteen years old She is entitled to the presumption that she was a virtuous, honest, and upright girl. There is no evidence to the contrary. She was industrious and healthy. Her physical condition was such that she must have been able to take two or three drinks without bad effect. We have her in that condition on Oct. 18. On the evening of that day she came down town from her home and was seen talking to Campbell, one of the defendants, on Main Street. She seemed to be excited, and was heard to say, "No, no," in answer to some solicitation or request of Campbell's.

"She goes to Saal's saloon. There, she and Campbell are joined by Death. They had a cocktail, a glass of cider, and a glass of beer. There is no certainty as to which of these she drank, but none of them would likely have caused the death of a girl like the dead one. Then McAlister came into the saloon. Was that an accident, with no object in view? Then there was another round of drinks, one of the drinks being a pony of absinthe. Then McAlister joined the three in the back room and champagne was served. Then McAlister poured into Jennie's glass three times chloral hydrate. That is poison. Then she became unconscious and was carried from the saloon to a hack. Kerr and Campbell, so as not to attract attention, walked up Governor Street and entered the hack near Paterson Street.

"Then they started with the dying girl for the lonesome drive along the Goffle Road and Rock Road. Arriving at the open place in the roadside the girl was lifted from the hack and taken to the blanket on the ground.

"The details are too horrible to repeat. No regard for womanhood, themselves, or their families was shown. It was the meanest and lowest type of assault. Then she was taken back to the hack, then to the brook where the girl in her last gasp fell dead. Then they started for Dr. Wiley's for their own protection. Then they sought Dr. Townsend, and when he pronounced the girl dead the hackman wanted to take her body to her home. They said no and ordered him to drive out again to the place where they left the body and where it was found. They threw it down like a dead dog or a cat on the rock.

"Those good Samaritans took her out there to show their philanthropy! How brutal! But I will not say brutal, as I would not so insult the brute creation. Then came the examination of the girl and the finding of the chloral by Dr. Witthaus.

"All the defendants are equally guilty as principals in this crime. The stories told by the defendants on the witness stand proved a miserable failure as a defense. Such a defense is worthy of no consideration. It was never told before in court here. Their story is to be weighed by what they had said before, no matter under what circumstances they told it. With these facts presented the State is compelled to ask you, putting aside all sympathy, and in the name of justice, for a verdict of murder in the first degree."

FIRST SPEECH FOR THE DEFENSE.

When Mr. Shaw had concluded ex-Judge Scott opened for the defense. He began by saying that the State was charging an impossible crime.

"From the moment the accusation was made against these young men it was believed by everybody," Mr. Scott continued. "No voice was raised to ask whether or not the accusation had any foundation in fact. The prisoners' mouths were closed because what they said was distorted by everybody. The State's case has been heralded about for three months and everybody seems to have believed it. Not until yesterday, like a thunderbolt out of a clear sky, was the truth heard, and you paused. You said, 'We must look into this.' You cannot convict these men on prejudices; you cannot convict on long inferences.

"Are these men monsters? One would suppose so from the vivulence with which they have been pursued by the State. I appeal to you to have the courage to do your duty. The State has shown malice and the indictment has two counts. The first count is that there was evidence that in committing an assault the girl was killed. If that were true the defendants would be guilty of murder in the first degree, according to the provisions of the law. The fact that the girl died from the effects of an assault is not in this case."

It was here that the Justice corrected Mr. Scott.

"The second count," continued ex-Judge Scott, "is a general one, charging the murder of the girl, and any kind of murder may be proved. The State may try to prove that she was killed by poison. It is important to know whether the poison was given with intent to kill or not. The law does not state that it must be premeditated to kill to be murder in the first degree. As I understand the law, if the girl died from the effects of poison, it must have been given with willful and premeditated intent to kill to be murder in the first degree. The statute says murder, but that is common law.

"There are two sides to every story. This case is made up of circumstantial evidence. First, Mrs. Bosschieter told you that when Jennie left home that night she started for the drug store to get some baby powder. Did it appear whether she ever got the baby powder? She left home at 8 o'clock and was seen on Main Street in front of Kent's drug store at 9 o'clock. She had a habit of being out late at night, though scarcely sixteen years of age. Arrangements had been made by her mother that when Jennie staid out after 10 o'clock at night she could gain entrance to the house by knocking. The girl was under no control.

"On Oct. 18 she willingly went with two men, and one a married man, to Saal's saloon to carouse. The girl was not necessarily wicked, but foolish and vain. The Assistant Prosecutor told you that Jennie had a pony of absinthe in the saloon. Saal told you that it was a whole glass.

"Now as to that poor hackman. What kind of a man is he to stand by and see a crime committed without interference? Under these circumstances is he not equally guilty with the defendants? Yet it is the story of this lying cabman that you have got to believe to convict these men of criminal assault. There is no other story. You are not going to hang a man upon a confession you have not heard from a man's own lips, upon a confession distorted by these detectives? I don't say that these detectives are bad men, but their purpose is to convict."

In the end Mr. Scott asked the jury to restore the prisoners to liberty, and clear Paterson's name of its stain.

Lawyer Michael Dunn followed Mr. Scott. He arose at 12 o'clock. He began by calling Sculthorpe a lot of bad names that would not look well in print.

"The State alleges," he said, "that Death confessed to them that the girl was doped, and that when the detectives asked him what he meant by dope, he replied, 'Knock-out drops.' I don't believe a word of it."

Mr. Dunn kept up his speech until nearly 4 o'clock in the afternoon. He reviewed the entire testimony.

J. D. ARCHBOLD GIVES $400,000.

Increases Endowment of Syracuse University After Making Series of Annual Gifts of $40,000 or More.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Jan. 17.—Announcement is made to-night that "a friend" has given $400,000 to the endowment fund of Syracuse University, conditional only upon a like amount being raised among other friends of the institution. The gift is made anonymously, and Chancellor James R. Day refuses to divulge his name, but it is learned from reliable sources that it is John D. Archbold of New York, a Vice President of the Standard Oil Company.

Mr. Archbold is President of the Board of Trustees of Syracuse University, and a close friend of Chancellor Day. This gift follows a long series of annual gifts of from $40,000 to $60,000 made by the same man in a similar anonymous manner.

The sum realized from these benefactions will be applied to wipe out the floating debt on the university property and to establish an endowment fund. Chancellor Day will start immediately to raise the amount equal to this anonymous donation. A part of the amount, he said, is already in sight, and the whole will probably be raised within a year.

NO PRESIDENTIAL RECEPTIONS.

Usual Series of Dinners May Also Be Abandoned on Account of Mr. McKinley's Condition.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Not in many years has there been such confusion at the capital in regard to the social programme as there is just now. A plan was prepared before Christmas by the President and Mrs. McKinley for the entertainment of the Diplomatic Corps, the judiciary, Congress, the Army and Navy, and the public.

The usual programme was arranged, and the invitations to the diplomatic reception were out, when the President was prostrated by the grip. That was considered at first to be a matter of inconvenience and some disappointment to visitors, but it was not thought necessary to abandon the events. Now, however, the President having failed to recover his strength rapidly, and Mrs. McKinley finding herself in bad health through her anxiety about the President's condition, all the White House receptions for the season have been crossed off.

It may be that the President will also be obliged to forego the pleasure of entertaining at dinner the groups of guests usually invited to accept his hospitality. The most trying dinner of the series, that to the Diplomatic Corps, was scheduled for last night, and the invitations were withdrawn when it was decided by Dr. Rixey that the President and Mrs. McKinley ought not to subject themselves to the fatigue incidental to the function. Already there have been many interruptions of the dinners given by the members of the Cabinet to the President and each other, and it is evident that the series will be very incomplete, as it is difficult to catch up with it when once the arranged programme is disturbed.

The President has a task on hand that he must attend to, even if all receptions and dinners are abandoned. He must prepare his inaugural address. At the same time he must keep up with the business of Congress, and coax back his strength by taking all the rest possible at such a busy season.

Among those unofficial society people who have made up their programmes with reference to avoiding conflict with the functions at the White House and Cabinet houses, there is some regret that they could not have known what was to happen, and some scrambling to make good by picking up released persons of distinction.

JUROR DIES IN COURT.

Asks to be Excused and Falls to the Floor, Expiring at Once.

Special to The New York Times.

PORT JERVIS, N. Y., Jan. 17.—The proceedings of the Supreme Court of Orange County, in session at Goshen this week, were interrupted this morning by the sudden death of David Patterson, a juror in the damage action of Gilbert Mapes against the Union Railway Company of New York City.

The jury to which Patterson belonged had just rendered a sealed verdict of $1,500 for the plaintiff, and Wilton Bennet of this village was making his opening address in another case. While he was talking Mr. Patterson approached Judge Martin Keogh, who presided, and applied for exemption from jury duty for the remainder of the term, as he was not feeling well. Judge Keogh consented, and the juror advanced to the desk of County Clerk Taggart to get a draft signed.

He told the Clerk he was ill, but the words were scarcely uttered when he fell to the floor, gasping for breath. The proceedings were stopped and the man was carried into the retiring room, but before he entered he expired. Dr. Banks of Port Jervis and Dr. Condit of Goshen pronounced his death due to heart disease. Judge Keogh was informed of the death of Patterson, and the proceedings were resumed. Coroner Decker took charge of the body.

The Pennsylvania Limited is a delightful link in the journey to the sunny land of California.—Adv.

COMMITTEE OF FIVE AFTER POLICE OFFICIALS

Its Evidence to be Supplemented and Backed by Affidavits.

District Attorney's Office Looking Up American and English Law Relating to Responsibilities of the Police.

The Committee of Five, moved by the statement emanating from the District Attorney's office that the evidence submitted by that committee as a result of its vice investigations is valueless, will strengthen and corroborate the matter already in the hands of the Public Prosecutor by supplementary testimony, supported by affidavits.

M. Warley Platzek, a member of the committee, at the Democratic Club, last night, admitted that more evidence would be submitted, but expressed his doubt that either the District Attorney or his assistant, Mr. Schurman, had made any of the statements attributed to them concerning the insufficiency or illegality of the evidence in their possession.

"All of the evidence in the hands of the Committee of Five has not been submitted to the District Attorney," said Mr. Platzek. "What proof is to come will merely corroborate and strengthen what has gone before. I will not comment or criticize the statements said to have come from the District Attorney regarding this evidence. I doubt if he ever made use of the language attributed to him. I have known Mr. Philbin for ten years and consider him a high-minded gentleman imbued with the etiquette of his profession. Mr. Schurman I believe to be a man of like principles. I feel that if any criticism had been made by either of the evidence submitted, I would have heard of it directly from the District Attorney."

Mr. Platzek stated that no date had been agreed upon when he would place in Mr. Schurman's hands the additional evidence. "I will confer when the time comes," he said.

District Attorney Philbin's position in the matter was unchanged yesterday. He was steadfast in his inference that as Mr. Schurman had not reported to him, the evidence submitted by the Committee of Five was insufficient or not of a character to be presented to the Grand Jury with a request for the indictment of any person. Mr. Schurman would not talk for publication. The evidence, however, is understood to be directed against certain police officials. The existence of vice in certain localities is asserted in affidavits, but knowledge of the police officials of the complained-of conditions is not shown in this evidence, and such indictments would not hold, as was shown in the Lexow investigation.

Chairman Lewis Nixon of the Committee of Five evidently ascertained what the District Attorney thought of the evidence when the former called on Assistant District Attorney Schurman yesterday afternoon in reference to the evidence and the alleged statements of its lack of value. Mr. Schurman told Mr. Nixon that Mr. Philbin would do the talking for the office. Together they hunted up the District Attorney and found him in the corridor of the Court of General Sessions. Here a short conference was held among the three. Mr. Nixon was told that if he so wished the evidence would again be gone over at future conferences, and further in order that any matters submitted in future by any reform committee might be properly weighed and the responsibility of police officers, under any circumstances, be ascertained beyond question, he would direct one of his staff to prepare a complete and exhaustive brief on this subject.

Howard S. Gans was designated to prepare this brief. He was instructed to include in it a comprehensive definition of the duties and responsibilities of police officials not only of this State but of every State in the Union and in England, as determined by the decisions of courts of record. No action will be taken by the District Attorney looking toward the indictment of any police official upon evidence submitted by either the Committee of Five or Fifteen until Mr. Gans completes his task. The brief is designed for the guidance of the District Attorney's office in the preparation and prosecution of cases against the police.

It is also in pursuance of the District Attorney's purpose to have any indictments he may ask the Grand Jury to return found on such convincing legal evidence that they cannot possibly be dismissed on any technicality. Many indictments were declared void during the Lexow investigation upon demurrers that evidence insufficient and illegal was presented to the Grand Jury.

The District Attorney wishes to be fully conversant with the laws and higher court decisions of the courts of England and America upon questions involving the responsibility of the police, which have never been passed upon by the judiciary of this State. If any question of this kind arises in the trials following the various reform movements on foot at present, the court decrees of other States will be cited to the trial Judge or to the Appellate Justices as a precedent to influence their ruling.

Mr. Gans expects to complete the brief in two or three weeks.

RAIDS MADE WITHOUT POLICE.

District Attorney Merrill Swoops Down on Two Precincts with County and Private Detectives.

District Attorney Merrill of Queens County has declared frequently that he would not "stand for" any vice in his county, and that if the police could not, or would not, keep the county clear, he would, and when it became needful for him to act he would not ask the aid of the police. Last night he went over the heads of the police, invaded two precincts, and had prisoners locked up in the county jail before the police even knew that he was acting.

The raids were conducted by County Detective Dennis Sullivan, with the aid of several detectives from a private agency. The warrants had been issued by County Judge Harrison S. Moore, before whom Mr. Merrill laid the complaints. Each complaint charges the principal person arrested with keeping a disorderly house.

The first visit the raiding party made was to the hotel of Louis Orthleb, at Metropolitan Avenue and William Street, in East Williamsburg. There the proprietor and his wife were arrested. The detectives next went to the cider stube kept by Mrs. Mary Schaick, at Flushing Avenue and Garrison Street, in Newtown. Mrs. Schaick and a woman giving her name as Caroline K. Fischer were arrested there. The party then journeyed to Hammell's Station at Rockaway and visited the hotel of Mrs. Maria Jacobs at Railroad and Chase Avenues. The proprietress and a girl named Pearl Andrews were arrested there.

District Attorney Merrill said last night that all of those arrested had already been indicted. The evidence was presented to the Grand Jury yesterday by residents, and indictments promptly found. The warrants were at once issued and served. Mr. Merrill added:

"Over in Manhattan they have two committee, one of five and the other of fifteen, and they don't seem to be able to keep their part of the city clean. Over here in Queens we have one committee, but it consists of 152,000 persons; that is, every resident of the borough."

ALLEGED POLICE BRIBERY FUND.

Report of Its Establishment Called Nonsense—What May Be Done.

Rumors in regard to the getting up of a police bribery fund by patrolmen, Roundsmen, Sergeants, and the "Captains' Association" were laughed at yesterday by men who could not be ignorant of such a scheme were it in operation.

"It's nonsense," said a superior officer, who would be compelled to know about such matters. "No fund is being collected or has been collected. As to money being subscribed to pay the expenses or fees of lawyers to go to Albany to watch legislation that may affect policemen, that's another matter. While not a cent has been collected for this purpose, I do not say that it will not be. But I contend that we have just as much right to watch our own interests in this way as any body of citizens.

"As to the 'Captains' Association,' this is a new name for the New York City Police Endowment Association. It met last Monday in Chief Devery's office, and all that it did was fully reported in THE NEW YORK TIMES the next day. Like the superior officers of the department, the Sergeants met the next day to take in the fifty-eight new Sergeants. The creation of a fund was not mentioned at either meeting. As to a bribery fund, do those who start such stories stop to consider what it would probably cost to bribe the Legislature, and how difficult it would be to raise a sufficient amount, without taking into consideration the impossibility of keeping the matter a secret and the risk of criminal prosecution?"

"The same old yarn," said Commissioner Abell, "bobs up serenely every year. There's nothing in it."

SIGMUND HERTZ IN CUSTODY.

Queenstown Police Hold the Alleged Embezzler of $100,000, Wanted Here—They Find No Money.

QUEENSTOWN, Jan. 18.—The Allan Line steamer Corinthian, Capt. Henry, which left Halifax Monday, Jan. 7, for Queenstown and Liverpool, arrived here at 10 o'clock last evening with some difficulty. Sigmund Hertz of New York City, for whose extradition the United States authorities are asking on a charge of forgery, was on board. His wife accompanied him. They were the only passengers booked for Queenstown. They were transferred to the tender, and Hertz was immediately arrested by three detectives. When charged with forgery, Hertz merely replied, "I know nothing about it."

Hertz had given his name in the passenger list as "Henry Emden," and had described himself as a merchant. They landed with considerable baggage, of which the police immediately took charge. Had they decided to proceed to Liverpool, they might have done so, as the weather was so bad that it would have been quite out of the question for the detectives to venture on board.

There is no accusation against the wife, but she declined to be separated from her husband, and both were lodged for the night at the police barracks. Hertz will be charged before a Magistrate this morning, (Friday.) It is believed that he possesses a large sum of money and a quantity of bonds, but the police search discovered nothing.

Hertz, who was the confidential financial man of Stiefel, Sachs & Co., has been missing since Jan. 2. Members of the firm allege that he is an embezzler to the extent of $100,000 and that his method of operation was to forge the firm's signature to checks, cash them, and destroy them when returned by the bank. The detectives in the case allege that Hertz has been leading a double life, maintaining an establishment and purchasing jewels and horses for a woman other than his wife. He lived at 21 East One Hundred and Eleventh Street.

TO-DAY'S REPUBLICAN CAUCUS.

Senators Say the Subsidy Bill Will Not Be the Principal Measure Considered.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—It is difficult to make out, from statements made by different Senators, just what the Republicans hope to do in the caucus or conference to be held to-morrow, but several Senators who have talked about it had no hesitation in saying that its importance had been greatly overestimated. It is asserted by a member of the Steering Committee that the chief purpose of the conference will be to determine what course shall be pursued toward the Nicaragua Canal bill, part of the Senate demanding that pending legislation be proceeded with, while other Senators hold the opinion that there is no necessity for such precipitate action as to pass a canal bill before the British Government has expressed its view of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, as amended and sent to London.

The assurances of many Senators that the conference will not indicate a general order of business and, particularly, attempt to order a course for the Shipping Subsidy bill, agree with the positive declarations of Western Senators that it would be useless, and perhaps mischievous, to undertake to bind the Senate by caucus action on the Subsidy bill. Then a caucus programme might easily interfere with the attempt that has been made to reach an agreement upon amendments suggested by Senators Spooner, Aldrich, Allison, Hansbrough, and others whose constituents have asked questions concerning parts of the bill which to them have seemed mysterious and vague.

More weighty, perhaps, than all the mild remonstrances against attempted caucus control of the Republican side have been the repeated assertions of half a dozen Senators that it is physically impossible to get the bill through the Senate in the short time left for business, unless all other matters are laid aside until the Subsidy bill can be pushed through.

Senator Frye does not fully comprehend the suggestion that he has heard that a practically new bill is to be substituted for that now before the Senate. That measure, he says, embodies the purposes of the friends of subsidies, and is the result of study of the supposed needs of the merchant marine. It is out of the question to take up the Ekstine plan of discriminating duties, and even Mr. Elkins has long ago abandoned that expectation as involving the Administration in too many diplomatic disputes to be regarded as wise or practicable.

A Republican Senator, who is not ardently in favor of the Subsidy bill, was asked this afternoon how long he thought it would take to hear all the speeches to be made on the bill in the Senate. He promptly answered: "Three weeks," with the explanation, "if there is no filibustering."

The press bureau that is promoting the Ship Subsidy bill issues encouraging assurances to the country to-night. "Satisfactory progress" has been made toward reconciling Republicans hitherto opposed to the bill by offering them amendments. With those already accepted by Mr. Hanna and Mr. Frye, and a few others to come, it is assumed that all obstacles to the passage of the bill will be removed. Senator McMillan has secured the promise of changes, and is quoted as being now in full accord with Mr. Frye in his desire to pass the bill. His changes refer to the compensation to be allowed to fast steamships and the length of contracts to be made.

This difficult matter is not yet really settled. According to the amendment drawn by Mr. McMillan, the rate of compensation is made the same for all vessels of more than eighteen knots as for vessels making that speed. The effect of this will be to reduce the compensation for vessels of twenty-one miles seventy-five hundredths of 1 cent per ton per hundred miles sailed, or a net reduction of $50,000 per year for ships of that class making twelve voyages across the Atlantic and back. Considerable objection was made to this proposition on the ground that there would be no encouragement whatever for the construction of vessels of this class, which are so desirable in the event of hostilities.

It was practically agreed at the conference to-day to reduce the length of the contract stipulated in the present bill from twenty to fifteen years. Several other minor amendments were agreed upon, leaving that in regard to fast ships for adjustment at the next meeting.

An Income Tax Amendment.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Senator Morgan to-day gave notice of an amendment he will propose to the Ship Subsidy bill providing for an income tax.

"SOONERS" WARNED TO LEAVE.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Secretary of the Interior Hitchcock to-day issued a proclamation calling upon the "Sooners" on the borders of the Indian Territory to disperse, on pain of having the military called out against them. The Interior Department intended to open up some of the Indian Territory to settlers on Dec. 10 last, and in anticipation of the rush a large army of "Sooners" gathered on the borders of the Comanche and Kiowa reservations. Subsequently the department decided not to open the land until next August or later.

The "Sooners," however, did not disperse. They remained on the borders, their numbers being constantly swelled by new accessions. A state of lawlessness followed, and crimes of violence became of frequent occurrence. Then the "Sooners" began to make rushes on the land of the Indians, trying to obtain claims by force. A number of them are already in the Territory, claiming homesteads. The Indians have become restless, and worse trouble is expected.

GROVER CLEVELAND TALKS ON PHILIPPINES

Deplores the Campaign as Pregnant with Dire Consequences.

ALSO DENOUNCES BOER WAR

His Remarks Not Received with Unmixed Approval at Holland Society Dinner—Wedding Congratulations Sent to Queen Wilhelmina.

The Holland Society gave its sixteenth annual dinner last night at the Waldorf-Astoria, and the function was the largest in its history, nearly five hundred diners being at table. The principal feature of the dinner was the presence and address of ex-President Grover Cleveland, who, in speaking on "Conservatism," made his first public utterance on the Philippine question.

The ex-President said that with success in subjugating the islands a new, untried, and exceedingly perilous situation will be forced upon the Nation. "We can conquer the Philippines, and after conquering them can probably govern them," said he. "It is in the strain upon our institutions, the demoralization of our people, the evasion of our Constitutional limitations, and the perversion of our National mission that our danger lies.

"Our country will men—but he really got both. He was promised that he would be given carte blanche in his address, and so he will speak on conservatism, of which no man better than he is able to speak."

A tremendous reception followed this introduction. Men and women alike rose and, waving handkerchiefs, shouted their reception to Mr. Cleveland. The ex-President read his address, and only once were there signs of disapproval. When he said that this country could never be the same again there were cries of "Oh! Oh!" which were continued when he said that, for weal or for woe, we had passed beyond old lines.

MR. CLEVELAND'S SPEECH.

Mr. Cleveland's address was as follows:

"The cordial welcome you extend to me is exceedingly grateful and comforting, for it gives me a grain of satisfaction in the ordeal that confronts me. I am convinced that the art of making an after-dinner speech without distress is for me a sealed book; and as the years pass, I am only saved from complete wretchedness in my efforts in that direction, by the kindness and toleration of those who are good enough to listen to me.

"I cannot resent the charge that I am apt to preach a sermon on occasions of this kind, for I am afraid this accusation is justified. It has been my lot to be much on the sober side of life, and to feel the pressure of great responsibilities. Besides, I believe it sometimes happens that an excess of light-hearted gayety creates a condition of popular thought and impulse that may profitably be steadied by sedate suggestions and the expression of conservative sentiment—even though it may be called sermonizing. At any rate, I am quite willing to take an humble place among the sermonizers in this time of headlong National heedlessness, and to invoke the cultivation and saving grace of Dutch conservatism.

"This is the kind of conservatism that counts the cost, but for the sake of principle and freedom will disregard the cost; that lays out a voyage by chart and compass and follows chart and compass to the end; that loves the liberty and National happiness which rest upon tried and sure foundations; that teaches reverence for National traditions and encourages the people's satisfaction with their country's mission. It is the kind of conservatism in which our Constitution had its birth, and which has thus far been the source of our Nation's safety and strength—the conservatism of justice, of honor, of honesty, of industry, of frugality, and of contented homes.

"In this assemblage of those who know so well the meaning of these things, the question is suggested whether in present conditions this conservatism characterizes the conduct or guides the sentiment of our people. There can be but one answer to this question. Conservatism has in a great degree been jauntily cast aside or condemned as opposed to our country's welfare and glory.

"A strange voyage has been entered upon without count of cost and without chart or compass. The tried and sure foundations of our liberty and National happiness have been discredited. Reverence for our National traditions has been relaxed, and satisfaction with our country's mission has been undermined. The restraints and limitations of our Constitution have become galling and irksome under the temptations of National greed and aggrandizement. Our old love of peace, honor, and justice has been weakened, and frugality and contentment are not now traits inseparable from American character.

"War, even with the world's advanced civilization, may still be sometimes necessary and justifiable, but whether necessary and justifiable or not, the demoralization that follows in its train can never be evaded. It reaches bloody instructions, which, in a country whose citizens do the fighting, can not fail to leave their impress, for a time at least, upon public and private life in time of peace.

ANGLO-AMERICAN ARBITRATION.

"Thirty years after the close of the war for the preservation of the Union a treaty of arbitration was formulated between the United States and Great Britain, which, if completed, would have gone far toward removing every pretext of war between the two countries. Thus these two great English-speaking nations then assumed leadership in the path of peace and in advocacy of the abolition of war—with the hope and expectation that the example would be followed by other nations, and that a more general adoption of arbitration as a means of settling international disputes would result in a great advance toward the abandonment of war throughout the world. This treaty failed of confirmation in the Senate of the United States.

"Less than five years passed, and these English-speaking champions of peace and arbitration are still operating in parallel lines—one in the Philippines and the other in South Africa—but no longer for peace and arbitration. Both are killing natives in an effort to possess their lands.

"This indicates a sad relapse, and in our case it is a most serious one. If England succeeds in her attempt in South Africa she will but add another to her list of similar acquisitions; a brave people will be subjugated, and because of our engagement in a similar venture in another quarter they will miss the expressions of American sympathy which we are accustomed to extend to those who struggle for national life and independence. On the other hand, with success in our subjugating effort, a new unfriended and exceedingly perilous situation will be forced upon us.

"We can conquer the Philippines, and after conquering them can probably govern them. It is in the strain upon our institutions, the demoralization of our people, the evasion of our Constitutional limitations, and the preversion of our National mission that our danger lies. As a distinguished Bishop has said, 'the question is not what we shall do with the Philippines, but what the Philippines will do to us.'

"Our country will never be the same again. For weal or woe we have already irrevocably passed beyond the old lines.

"The Republic will in some sort be saved. Shall it be only in appearance, a semblance, with fair external appearance, but with the germs of decay fastened upon its vitals, or shall it, though changed, still survive in such vigor and strength as to remain the hope and pride of free Americans?

"The problem is a momentous one. Its solution depends upon the extent to which the old patriotism and good sense of our countrymen can be rescued from impending danger. Thus these are sober days for thoughtful citizens—days for preaching—days for sermonizing. If we are to be saved from disaster, it must be through the cultivation and enforcement of that sort of conservatism that should find a congenial home in the Holland Society.

"In the midst of reckless tumult and in the unbridled rage of national greed and bloodiness this conservatism should fearlessly stand forth and demand a hearing. Let it be proclaimed that American freedom and popular rule cannot perish except through the madness of those who have them in their keeping; and by the blood and sacrifices of our fathers, by the lofty achievements of the free institutions they established, by our glorious victories of peace and by our allegiance

TO AID CANAL TRAFFIC

Bill Introduced at Albany Allows Large Capitalization.

Repeals Limit of $50,000 for Transportation Companies—Strong Opposition Expected.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Jan. 17.—Assemblyman Remsen of Brooklyn to-day introduced a brief bill which is of far-reaching importance as affecting the canals, and incidentally the railroad interests of the State. The bill is one which is said to have the indorsement of the Chamber of Commerce of New York City. It provides as follows:

Be it enacted that Chapter 955 of the Laws of 1896 entitled "An act to amend the transportation corporation law by extending its provisions to canals and other waterways, and reducing the minimum of capitalization," is hereby repealed.

In explanation of the bill Mr. Remsen said: "The bill provides for the repeal of the law which prevents a corporation incorporating with more than $50,000 capital to carry on business on the Erie Canal. The theory upon which the repeal of this act is asked is that if companies with a larger capitalization were allowed to do business upon the canal they would use improved boats, work in conjunction with the grain elevators and shippers, and greatly increase the commerce of the canal. At the present time there is no package freight carried. There has not been a barrel of flour shipped through the canal for several years. Poor boats and the lack of docking facilities are to blame for this. Companies with a larger amount of capital would remedy the existing drawbacks to canal commerce. It costs about 10 cents to send a barrel of flour to the seaboard through the canal and 22 cents by rail."

The bill is certain to encounter formidable opposition. Many of the small boat-owners doing business upon the canal will, it is admitted, oppose the measure, because of their fear that its passage would open the way for the organization of a canal trust which would crowd them out of business. These men have come to the Capitol every year by scores to oppose any change in the statutes inimical to their business. They fought the bill backed by Erastus Wiman in 1899, which sought to bring about the same results as the Remsen measure. It is asserted, however, that quite a large number of them have become reconciled to the idea of having a large company formed to do business upon the canal, believing that, after all, such a company would be a benefit rather than an injury to them.

At present the man who ships flour or grain from Duluth to the seaboard by way of the Erie Canal cannot get his bill of lading returned until the cargo is loaded upon an ocean-going vessel. This means he does not get it for at least two weeks, and sometimes not for six. If he ships by railroad he gets his bill of lading without delay, and he can put it in bank, and save the interest upon the money which he has invested in the cargo. This interest generally more than overbalances the difference between the cost of transporting by railroad and shipping by canal. This is the explanation of the railroads getting all the flour shipments from the Northwest to the seaboard despite the fact that the canal rate is less than half that exacted by the railroads.

It is contended by those who favor the bill that if a company with a large capital were organized to do business upon the Erie Canal, it could make an arrangement with the ship owners by which a through bill of lading could be given to the shipper in Duluth as soon as his cargo was loaded on a vessel at that port. If such an arrangement were effected the railroads would then be at a decided disadvantage in competing with the canal for flour and grain shipments, and the expectation is that the commerce of the canal would be restored to something like its old-time volume.

The argument which is made to the small boat owners is that if a company with big capital were authorized to do business on the canal, it would make no disadvantageous difference to them, as they could then deal with this company instead of dealing with the elevator companies, as they do at present. The hope of increased business is held out to them.

Those who favor the measure say the most formidable opposition to the bill is expected to come from the railroad companies in the State. If the claims made for the bill are well founded, the loss of business to the railroad companies in consequence of the proposed legislation would be immense. The railroad companies are said to recognize this, and it is asserted that their lobby will do all in its power to defeat the bill.

Gov. Odell, in his recent message, recommended the repeal of the present prohibitive law, arguing that a $50,000 corporation could not increase the canal traffic in the manner that it should be. State Superintendent of Public Works Partridge also approved of the law's repeal.

May Form Big Canal Company.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Jan. 17.—It is reported here that if the legislation proposed in Assemblyman Remsen's bill to amend the canal law is enacted into law, Erastus Wiman of New York City is prepared to organize a company with a large capital to control the commerce of the Erie Canal.

LEGISLATURE'S PROCEEDINGS.

ALBANY, Jan. 17.—The Senate was late in convening this morning. Lieut. Gov. Woodruff presided. The first bill passed this year by the Senate was one received from the Assembly and provides for the paving of the streets of the village of Norwich and amending an act relating to the same. The bill was supported in the Senate by Senator Thornton.

The next bill passed was one improving the water supply of the village of Goshen. The Finance Committee reported again the name of Bernard Stark of Albany, nominated by Gov. Odell Commissioner of Mediation and Arbitration. The nomination was confirmed.

Gov. Odell sent to the Senate the nomination of Thomas S. Cheshire of Hewlett's as County Clerk of the County of Nassau, to fill the vacancy created by the death of Thomas Patterson.

These bills were passed: Senator Higgins, making the office of the County Clerk of Cattaraugus County a salaried one, and regulating the management of said office; also his bill amending charter of the City of Olean.

The Senate adjourned at 11:30 o'clock until 10 o'clock to-morrow morning.

In the Assembly the session was decidedly brief, several bills of local note being advanced to third reading.

Mr. Harburger of New York gave a notice of warning to Mr. Cooley of Westchester, whom he termed the champion of ex-Gov. Roosevelt, that he would call up his Gardiner removal resolution on Monday evening for debate. Mr. Cooley amiingly retorted that he would be on hand.

MISCELLANEOUS BILLS.

ALBANY, Jan. 17.—The following bills were introduced to-day in the Assembly:

Mr. O'CONNELL—To prevent discrimination by street and elevated railroad corporations against persons carrying receptacles for tools; also, prohibiting pawnbrokers from receiving in pawn mechanics' tools from any person unless it is shown by affidavit that the tools are legally in his possession.

Mr. O'CONNELL—Making it unlawful for elevated railroad corporations to maintain turnstiles.

Mr. RAINEY—Repealing the charter of the New York and Brooklyn Tunnel Company.

Mr. SANDERS—Allowing workingmen who sue in the New York City courts to recover judgment not exceeding $25 for services performed to secure body executions.

Mr. WEEKES—To prevent the use of unwholesome chemicals or substances in the preparation or manufacture of any articles used in the preparation of food.

Mr. RAINEY—Exempting licensed engineers of steam boilers from jury duty.

Mr. W. H. SMITH—Amending the Penal Code so that in cities of the first and second class any person who shall offer for sale any real property without the authority of the owner shall be guilty of a misdemeanor; also, making a person applying for a loan without the authority of the owner guilty of a misdemeanor.

Mr. FISH—Amending the general corporation law so that no certificate of authority shall be granted to any foreign corporation having the same name as an existing domestic corporation or a name nearly resembling it.

Mr. WEEKES—Providing that the moneys belonging to the United States deposit fund now invested in mortgages in the several counties of the State may continue to be so invested until such mortgages are paid or foreclosed. The amount received in such foreclosure or payment shall be paid into the State Treasury to the credit of the United States deposit fund.

Mr. DEGRAW—Providing that the compensation of laborers in armories located in cities having a population of 1,000,000 or over shall not exceed $2.50 per day.

Mr. WEEKES—Providing that all mortgages hereafter made by the United States Loan Commissioners in New York City shall be forthwith duly recorded in the places mortgages are recorded in said city, and the expense of so recording shall be paid by the mortgagors. In case said mortgages are not duly recorded in the City of New York by the Commissioners they shall have no more lien or priority than other mortgages in said city and unrecorded.

The following bills were introduced in the Senate to-day:

Senator MARSHALL—For the improvement of Prospect Avenue, Brooklyn.

Senator DOWLING—Exempting the estates of the Hebrew Sheltering Guardian Society, the New York Orphan Asylum, and the Dominican Convent of Our Lady of the Rosary, New York, from taxation and water rates.

Senator BUTLER—Exempting pianos, typewriters, &c., borrowed or leased, from the operation of the law relating to liens of hotels, inns, boarding houses, &c.

Senator BROWN—Amending the Code of Civil Procedure relating to appeals to the Court of Appeals on certificate, providing that the court and not "a Judge" shall grant the appeal.

Senator MARSHALL—Making twenty-four instead of thirty the maximum number of Directors of a bank.

Senator STEWART—Authorizing the Commissioners of Watkins Glen Reservation to purchase certain lands in the town of Dix, Schuyler County, for a State park, and appropriating $85,000 therefor.

NO CLASH OF ELECTION BILLS.

Senator Raines's Measure Likely to be Passed—Little Doubt of Its Constitutionality.

ALBANY, Jan. 17.—It may be stated absolutely that there is no dissension over the New York City Election Bureau bills. It is understood to-day that the Raines bill will be passed and the other one dropped. It is the consensus of opinion that it is much wiser to incorporate the proposed changes in the general elections law than to have a special bill.

Senator Raines expressed his confidence this morning that his measure would be substituted for the original Bureau of Elections bill and eventually become a law. He said:

"When the Commissioners are elected by the people they are certain of being bi-partisan, for no party would nominate for so important a commission a man about whom there was the slightest suspicion of his Democracy or Republicanism. My bill carries out the spirit of bi-partisanship, and is the only way to accomplish it in fact. The first bill permits the Mayor to appoint on the suggestion of the political parties, but there is nothing to prevent the Mayor from appointing lukewarm Republicans or professed Republicans who are in reality at war with their party. There is no disagreement existing among the Republican Senators on this matter, and a perfect understanding prevails. I believe my bill will be the one that will be favored and passed.

Senator Grady, when asked this morning what attitude the Democratic Senators would take toward the Raines Bureau of Elections bill, said: "There has been no conference of Democratic Senators, and no course has been decided on. Personally, I have not scanned Senator Raines's measure. We are certainly in favor of the separation of the Bureau of Elections from the Police Department. Further than that I have nothing to say until I read the bill carefully."

In connection with the bill the question has been raised as to whether or not the provision that only two of the four Commissioners of Election should be chosen from the same political party was Constitutional. The decision of the Court of Appeals on the Albany Police bill, passed five years ago, providing for a bi-partisan Police Board, was cited in support of the contention that the new Elections Bureau bill would not stand the test of the courts on this point.

Senator Raines said that he did not think there was any doubt of the constitutionality of the bill on this point. He was not particularly familiar with the case of the Albany Police bill, but said that the State elections law always carried the idea of bi-partisanship in matters of this kind. The Elections Commissioners under his bill were really State officers, as they were part of the elections machinery of the State.

Senator Stranahan, Chairman of the Cities Committee, and the introducer of the first Elections Bureau bill, agreed with Senator Raines as to the constitutionality of the Raines bill. He was quite familiar with the Albany Police bill case, and said that it differed essentially from the Elections Bureau bill. The Albany Police bill, he said, provided for taking two Commissioners from each of two specific parties, this bill does not. It does not provide for two Democrats and two Republicans. Two of the Commissioners may be Citizen Unionists or Prohibitionists. This, Senator Stranahan thought, advoided the objection raised against the Albany Police bill.

Further than that Senator Stranahan said that until a few years ago Elections Boards had been constituted as provided in the Raines bill.

CAUCUS ON THE POLICE BILL.

Democratic Assemblymen Will Oppose It Unless It Is Modified.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Jan. 17.—The Democratic Assemblymen held a caucus in the Assembly parlor to-day immediately following the adjournment of the Assembly. The object of the caucus was to discuss the New York Single-headed Police Commission bill and other measures that are likely to precipitate party fights. All of the forty-three Assemblymen attending the conference were pledged to secrecy.

Assemblyman McKeown of Kings presided, as he outranked Minority Leader Fribble in legislative service. Discussion of the New York Police bill began at once after the Assemblymen selected their Chairman.

It was decided to oppose the bill to the last unless a clause was inserted that the Commissioner and Deputy Commissioners to be appointed shall have the right of trial before dismissal. It was held that the principle of home rule was grossly violated by refusing to incorporate such a provision. No allusion was made to the amendments already proposed in the Senate, that no Commissioner dismissed by the Governor shall be reappointed, and compelling the immediate filling of vacancies in the Commissionership so as to prevent the permanent assumption of duties by a partisan deputy.

The Police bill, on the order of second reading in the Assembly this morning, was temporarily laid aside on motion of Mr. Kelsey, who said it was done pursuant to an agreement with the minority leader.

CRITICISM OF CHAIRMAN RIVES.

Legislators Object to His Alleged Remarks on Charter Revision.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Jan. 17.—There was much comment among Senators and Assemblymen to-day upon the statement which George L. Rives, Chairman of the Charter Revision Commission, is reported to have made last night at a meeting held under the auspices of the Citizens' Union, in the United Charities Building, in New York. Some feeling was shown, and unless Mr. Rives can show that he was reported incorrectly, the statement is likely to have no little influence in shaping the Legislature's action upon the Commission's report.

Arguing that nothing could be hoped for from the Legislature without agitation, Mr. Rives is reported to have said: "What do they know about the City of New York? I have no doubt they are estimable men, but they do not know much about New York. They are interested, first of all, in the Republican Party, and next in the needs of their respective localities. If New Yorkers want their charter revised, they must let the Legislature know it."

A group of members in the Assembly Chamber to-day were discussing this statement of Mr. Rives. "That kind of talk is calculated to help his report along up here, ain't it?" said one of them; and then others of the group made uncomplimentary references to Mr. Rives's discretion. Later in the day it was reported, upon what is believed to be good authority, that the Cities Committees of the Senate and the House had informally decided to appoint sub-committees to consider the question of charter revision, with a view of determining whether any revision was necessary. This move, if taken, will be distinctly unfriendly to the Charter Revision Commission's report.

Tax in the Bronx for Firemen's Fund.

ALBANY, Jan. 17.—The Assembly Cities Committee to-morrow will report favorably the bill of Mr. Cooley's which provides that foreign fire insurance companies and their agents doing business in the Twenty-fourth Ward of the Borough of the Bronx shall pay a tax of 2 per cent. of its receipts to the Westchester Exempt Firemen's Association of the City of New York. The money so paid to it is to be distributed as follows: To the New York Fire Department Relief Fund, 45 per cent.; to the State Firemen's Association, for the volunteer firemen's home at Hudson, 10 per cent. The remaining 45 per cent. of said money is to be retained by the association, which will render quarterly statements to the Fire Commissioners and the association of the money so collected.

New Trust Company for Brooklyn.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Jan. 17.—Assemblyman Remsen to-day introduced a bill authorizing Louis Brass, John G. Deubert, Lewis Tarlton, Charles W. Rudd, William H. Warts, William Roever, Joseph Oppenheimer, Frank Rehman, George T. Jewesson, Robert Rhodes, George Pope, and John Weber to organize a trust company to be known as the German-American Trust Company, with its principal office in the City of Brooklyn. The capitalization of the company is to be $200,000, provided the office of the company is not located within one mile of the Hall of the Borough of Brooklyn or of the main office of any other trust company. If it is located within the limits defined then the capitalization is to be $500,000.

Clerks in Municipal Courts.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Jan. 17.—Senator Audett to-day introduced a bill to amend the charter of Greater New York. The amendment provides as follows: "Where any Justice has been or shall be appointed as provided for in Sub-division 4 of Section 1,352, and has appointed, or shall appoint, a clerk and an assistant clerk of said district who shall qualify as required by law, such clerk and assistant shall hold office only until July 1, 1901, when the Justice elected to such district shall appoint their successors. When any Justice of the Municipal Court of New York shall have made an appointment for a term extending beyond July 1, 1901, such terms are abridged and shall cease at midnight of June 30."

Collateral Inheritance Tax.

ALBANY, Jan. 17.—One of the important features of the amended collateral inheritance tax law sent to the Legislature to-day is the clause forbidding money to be transferred from banks or safe deposit companies unless a sufficient amount is retained to pay the State's legal share. No such transfer shall be made without ten day's notice to the Controller. A sufficient portion must be retained to pay the State tax. Violation of this provision is to be punished by forfeiture of the company's charter.

For the Benefit of Undertakers.

ALBANY, Jan. 17.—Assemblyman G. T. Kelly of Albany to-day introduced a bill in the interest of undertakers. His measure provides that every executor and administrator shall pay the funeral expenses out of the first moneys received. If this is not done within thirty days after the grant of letters, the person having a claim for same may present a petition to the Surrogate praying that the executor or administrator may be cited to show cause.

Commissioner of Records in Kings.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Jan. 17.—Assemblyman McInerny to-day introduced a bill which provides that the office of the Commissioner of Record of Kings County shall expire one month after the passage of the act. The work now done by the Commissioner of Records is to be continued under the direction of the Register, County Clerk, and Surrogate.

Another Bill for 75-Cent Gas.

ALBANY, Jan. 17.—Assemblyman Leon Sanders of New York to-day introduced a bill regulating the price of illuminating gas in the Boroughs of Manhattan, Brooklyn, and the Bronx at 75 cents per thousand cubic feet. Any corporation violating the provisions of this act is deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and punishable by a fine of $200 or thirty days' imprisonment in the county jail, or both.

First Laws of the Session Signed.

ALBANY, Jan. 17.—Gov. Odell to-day signed the first laws of the session of 1901 and the first of his term as Governor. Chapter No. 1 is Assemblyman Allds's bill relative to assessments for paving in Norwich, and Chapter No. 2 is Senator Higgins's bill regarding the approval of the bond given by the County Clerk of Cattaraugus.

WANTS ADJOURNMENT APRIL 1.

Gov. Odell Holds a Conference on the Legislature's Work.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Jan. 17.—Gov. Odell sent for Speaker Nixon and Senator Ellsworth to-day. The three held a conference upon the work before the Legislature. Gov. Odell said he saw no reason why the Legislature should not adjourn by April 1. He urged that all possible diligence in forwarding legislation be used.

The conference concluded with the understanding that the Legislature would adjourn before April 1 if possible.

INDORSES GOV. ODELL'S IDEA.

State Bar Association Believes in Liberal Corporation Law.

ALBANY, Jan. 17.—The State Bar Association adopted a resolution, offered by W. Martin Jones, indorsing the recommendation of Gov. Odell relative to corporations of this State in his message to the Legislature.

The Governor in his message stated that corporations are treated more liberally in other States, and that "the present Legislature should not adjourn without having enacted amendments which will liberalize and make more popular our corporation laws."

GOV. ODELL GREETS FARMERS.

Regards Them as the Mainstay of the State, He Says.

ALBANY, Jan. 17.—Two hundred representatives of agricultural interests who are attending the annual meetings of the State Association of County Agricultural Societies and the State Association of Town Agricultural Societies paid their respects to Gov. Odell at the Executive Chamber to-day. After shaking the delegates by the hand, the Governor addressed a few words to them. Among other things the Governor said:

"It is a great pleasure for me to meet representatives of the farming interests. As you know, as the former Chairman of the State Committee, I have looked to the farmers for the great big Republican vote for the party, but aside from that you will believe me when I say I regard the farmers as the mainstay of our State. I have been very anxious to do what I can to advance your interests. The efforts making to reduce the taxation on your farms and for the greater efficiency of your work have my cordial approval. I suppose you are in Albany to-day to perfect your organizations and to discuss methods for your welfare, and as the Executive of the State I extend to you a hearty welcome to our Capital City."

STOLEN PROPERTY IDENTIFIED.

Miss Yvelin of Garden City Finds $3,000 Worth at Headquarters.

Miss Catherine Yvelin of Garden City, L. I., visited Police Headquarters yesterday and identified several thousand dollars' worth of property which had been taken from four men whom Central Office detectives arrested on Forsyth Street Wednesday morning. The prisoners, who are now in Police Headquarters, are Paul Goercken, Henry Strohm, James Gosser, and Joseph Brown, all giving their address as 9 Chatham Square. The men had in their possession when arrested two bags containing burglars' tools and valuable plunder.

The robbery of Miss Yvelin's property occured on Monday night, and jewelry, silverware, bric-a-brac, diamonds, silks, and laces valued at about $3,000 were taken. The burglars paid a second visit to the house on Tuesday night, but were scared away by John Mahoney, the coachman. The house was robbed during the absence of Miss Yvelin.

The prisoners will be turned over to officers from Queens County in the Centre Street Court this morning.

Edwin Holmes Dead.

Edwin Holmes, the inventor of the Holmes burglar protective system, died last night at his home, 32 West Fifty-second Street. He had been in failing health for some time. On Monday he was stricken with paralysis. He was eighty years old. Mr. Holmes evolved his system about thirty years ago. He had been President of the Holmes Electric Protective Company until a year ago, but retired and was succeeded by his son, Edwin T. Holmes. Mr. Holmes was also President of the Holmes Burglar Alarm Telegraph Company. He leaves a wife, two daughters, and a son, Edwin T. Holmes.

Baby Bear at the Park.

In the big bear pit in the Central Park menagerie in which the grizzly bears are kept, there was found yesterday morning a tiny grizzly. He is only six inches long and weighs but a pound and a half. He was taken out and an effort will be made to raise him by artificial feeding.

PABST PORTICO ILLEGAL

Municipal Court Fines Proprietor of the Hotel.

Ten Days' Stay Granted for Time to Appeal to the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court.

The Pabst Hotel portico and inclosed balcony were yesterday judicially declared to be illegal and incumbrances on the sidewalk by Justice Daniel F. Martin, sitting in the Tenth District Municipal Court. The suit was instituted by the Law Department against James B. Regan, proprietor of the Pabst Hotel. Yesterday was set peremptorily for a hearing and a determination of the litigation.

Mr. Kiernan, an architect, appeared in court with Herman Stiefel, Junior Assistant Corporation Counsel, and Gerald S. Griffin, Assistant Engineer of the Department of Highways, who had a map of an official survey of the sidewalk on which the portico squats, and police witnesses to prove the existence of the illegal incumbrance. The defendant, Regan, was absent. He was represented by Charles Grossman. Justice Martin refused to further adjourn the case at the request of Mr. Grossman, and the trial proceeded. The papers in the case cited violation of law through the incumbrance created by the portico.

The only defense presented was the resolution of the Municipal Assembly of Nov. 20 last, which authorized Charles Thorley to "keep and maintain" the portico as it stands, "under the direction of the Commissioner of Highways." This resolution reached Mayor Van Wyck, but was recalled by Alderman Joseph Oatman and was never legalized.

Justice Martin refused to admit this as evidence or to grant a delay to permit counsel for the defendant to put in a brief on the ground that no defense had been put in.

Judgment was then rendered for the City for $5 and costs on the violation of law on Aug. 3. Ten days' stay was granted for time to appeal to the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court. The Law Department will wait until this time has elapsed or until a decision on an appeal is given or action by the defendant in moving the incumbrance before proceeding to take up the other daily violations of law since Aug. 3.

"We have," said Mr. Kiernan, "established that the portico is an illegal obstruction and secured a judgment against the defendant for violation of law."

"All it amounts to," said Emanuel Blumenstiel last evening, "is fining my client $5."

"And establishing that the portico is where it is in violation of law?"

"I do not concede that. As to appealing from Justice Martin's decision, I have not yet considered the subject."

The penalties suits have been adjourned seventeen times in the Tenth District Court, and the Strasburg mandamus proceedings fourteen times in the Supreme Court. Regan's suit to enjoin the Commissioner of Highways from interfering with the portico will be argued on Jan. 25, but there is no legal obstacle to prevent Commissioner Keating acting on his last ultimatum to Regan by tearing down the portico to-day.

JULIUS FREIBERG RE-ELECTED.

Again President of Hebrew Congregations' Union—Hebrew Union College Governors.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Jan. 17.—The Executive Committee of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations to-day elected the following officers for the ensuing year:

President—Julius Freiberg of Cincinnati; Vice President—Samuel Woolnock, Peoria; Secretary—Lipman Levy, Cincinnati. Mr. Freiberg has already served eight years as President.

The Board of Governors of the Hebrew Union College were re-elected, except Dr. Leipsiger of New York, and his place was filled by the election of Louis Stern of New York. Only three members of the Board of Delegates on Civil and Religious Rights were elected, as follows: Simon Rosenberg of Baltimore, Jacob Furth of St. Louis, and J. S. Greenhut of Peoria. They succeed Louis Abraham of Washington, Nathan Frank of St. Louis, and Samuel Woolner of Peoria, Ill.

The Arbuckle-Woolson Suit.

Special to The New York Times.

TOLEDO, Ohio, Jan. 17.—The entry of the decision of the Circuit Court in the suit by the Arbuckle Brothers for the inspection of the Woolson Spice Company's books was formally approved this afternoon. The operation of the order is limited to eight days from date and all books, papers, and correspondence are included within its scope, except such as are deemed private matters by the Woolson Company. The inspection is to take place in the office of the Woolson Spice Company.

Canadian Wants Duty on Lumber.

Special to The New York Times.

OTTAWA, Ont., Jan. 17.—M. Beecher of Vancouver, B. C., who is in the lumber business, is in the city seeing the members of the Government with a view of inducing the Government to place a duty on lumber entering Canada equal to the duty on lumber going from Canada to the United States. The manufacturers of lumber on the Pacific Coast have strong competition from the United States, and Mr. Beecher wants to offset this. Efforts have frequently been made to increase the duty, but the Manitoba and Northwest farmers have always been able to stay the hand of the Government.

Chicago's Small Election Precinct.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—One of the first wards which have been redistricted into new precincts under the terms of the Carey ordinance is the First. The present abiding place of Alderman "Bath House" John Coughlin and "Hinky Dink" will henceforth hold the smallest voting precinct in the world. This is the Nineteenth Precinct, which is composed of a stretch of scarcely 100 feet along the east side of State Street, between Peck Place and Eldridge Court, in the levee district. It is composed of three lodging houses and four or five stores.

Potter Palmer Pays a Fine.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—Potter Palmer's attorney leaned over the rail in Justice Everett's court to-day and gave the clerk $29.65 in settlement of a fine the well-known hotel man was ordered to pay for keeping his barroom open Sunday. A long line of witnesses passed out of the court-room wondering why they were not given a chance to tell how on a Sunday they had slipped into the buffet. Mr. Palmer owns and bought liquor. The defense had confessed all they were there to prove.

THEATRICAL GOSSIP.

Through her representation, Miss Sadie Martinot has obtained a play from Clyde Fitch entitled "The Marriage Game," which Mr. Fitch has written from the French of "Le Mariage d'Olympe," by Alexandre Dumas fils.

The uncertainty which has existed in theatrical circles regarding Manager Alfred Aarons's failure to secure a license for his Savoy Theatre was settled yesterday when, in answer to a communication, he went to Police Headquarters and the document was given to him.

Miss Sandol Milliken, late of "The Sprightly Romance of Marsac" Company, has been engaged by Jefferson de Angelis to succeed Miss Josephine Hall in the leading rôle of Stephanie in "A Royal Rogue." She will make her first appearance with the company next week in Brooklyn.

Lloyd Bingham, through negotiation by cable yesterday with Charles Wyndham, has arranged to produce at the Criterion Theatre, London, about June 1, "The Climbers," with the original company now appearing at the Bijou Theatre. He has also taken steps toward organizing a second company which is intended to tour the small cities of this country, reserving Boston, Philadelphia, Washington, Chicago, St. Louis, and San Francisco for his wife's company.

Helen Dauvray, wife of Albert G. Winterhalter of the United States cruiser Raleigh, who has been absent from the stage for several years, is desirous of resuming her stage career. She has written to a prominent manager in this city, asking him to give her an opportunity to appear before the New York public again. It was said by some of her friends yesterday that she was prompted to take this action through her husband's assignment to China, and wishes to play against least during part of his absence.

STATE BOARD OF CHARITIES.

Proposed Law Effecting Changes Is Vigorously Denounced.

The committee recently appointed at a conference of charitable societies to take action on the Governor's recommendation to abolish the State Board of Charities met yesterday at the office of the Association for the Improving the Condition of the Poor. The committee prepared and made public a statement embodying its findings and views.

The committee finds that the entire expense of the Commissioners for the State Board of Charities, including railroad fares, &c., was but $5,643.79. To abolish the board and substitute a highly salaried Commissioner would in the committee's opinion make it impossible to save anything like the amount named by Gov. Odell —$25,000 annually—unless at the expense of the work required under the Constitution and statutes. The committee finds that "the argument for economy may, therefore, be dismissed as utterly unworthy of consideration."

The bill now before the Legislature to effect this change is referred to as one that "destroys the non-political character of the board, and would tend to introduce partisan politics in the management of the public and semi-public institutions of the State." This the committee thinks would be a calamity, and refers to other States where political control of such institutions has worked havoc to the institutions. The committee points to the recent troubles in Bellevue as "an illustration of the results which inevitably follow partisan management of charitable institutions."

The committee finds that "the present system has resulted in important economies in the construction and management of State and local institutions, and in other ways." It says the State Board has saved large sums to the State, the cities and towns. Other claims made by the committee are "that the proposed plan would endanger religious liberties and destroy the practical safeguards now surrounding the enforcement of the vital provisions of various State laws. Further it says that "the measure is apparently unconstitutional; that the proposed plan is a subterfuge, and it virtually proposes to substitute a single Commissioner for a board of twelve members.

"The composition of the board under the new plan," the committee says, "is vicious. The single Commissioner, who might be an expert, could be outvoted by the two other members of the board, who are elected to devote their time and energies to other matters.

"The State should be slow," the report says, "to do away with the services of a body of twelve public-spirited citizens who have shown an intelligent, sympathetic, and painstaking interest in the charities of the State."

Those were present at the meeting yesterday Herbert Parsons, John M. Mulry, Thomas W. Hynes, Dr. Lee Frankel, and Edward T. Devine.

Jury Finds Mrs. Mary Collins Is Sane.

A Sheriff's jury, impaneled to pass upon the sanity of Mrs. Mary Collins of Jersey City, at a late hour Wednesday night decided that she was sane and competent to manage her own affairs. Mrs. Collins is the widow of Martin Collins, a wholesale butcher at the Central Stock Yards, who died four months ago. Both had been ill, and when Collins died at Christ Hospital, leaving an estate of $85,000, Mrs. Collins was sent to the Morris Plains Asylum and David W. McCrea was appointed administrator of her husband's estate, she being his sole heir. Administrator McCrea and John Kenny, a brother of Mrs. Collins, who originated the lunacy proceedings against her, gave notice that they would appeal to Chancellor Magie.

DISLIKED COLORED POPULATION.

Mrs. Marshall's Contract with Arkansas Firm Resulted Badly.

The second trial of the action brought by Susie A. Marshall, a dressmaker, against Simon Seelig of the firm of Seelig, Bruen & Co. of Helena, Ark., to recover $5,000 damages for having induced her in September, 1897, to go to Helena and take charge of the dressmaking department of the defendant's firm, by making false representations, was begun to-day before Justice Blanchard and a jury in the Supreme Court. The plaintiff alleges that she was doing a good business at 4 and 6 West Fourteenth Street, which she lost on account of her trip to Helena, which lasted for less than three months. The defendant denied all of Mrs. Marshall's allegations and asserted that he duly fulfilled the contract made with her.

Mrs. Marshall testified that she was to receive all the proceeds of the defendant's dressmaking department and to pay for the help she required. She was also to receive a commission of 3 per cent. on all dress goods sold in the store. She was told by Seelig that good prices were paid by the women residents of Helena for dresses and waists, but found when she went there that two-thirds of the population was colored and that they would not pay prices which would leave her any profit. The climate was bad and mainria prevalent, the help she got there high-priced and incompetent, and the hotel accommodations uncomfortable and inadequate. She fell into ill-health and had to come home.

On cross-examination, Mrs. Marshall said she got about $500 altogether from the defendant. Seelig asserts that the reason Mrs. Marshall did not get good prices for her waists and dresses was because, although they would have been forthcoming if the customers were properly handled, she was unable to get the payment she ought to have secured. He further asserts that her action ought to have been for breach of contract, and not for damages on account of fraud. The case will go on to-day.

Drug Firm Must Pay $500 Damages.

Edward H. Smith, who sued the drug firm of Joseph S. Badour & Co. to recover $2,500 damages and $55 medical expenses incurred in the treatment of his infant daughter, Juliet, on the ground that for a prescription calling for 12 tablets of calomel there was substituted a dozen strychnine pills, each containing one-twentieth of a grain, yesterday recovered a verdict of $500 in the Supreme Court, before Justice O'Gorman. The child is now in perfect health, it was testified. Shortly after testimony by physicians for both sides the verdict was rendered.

"Sam" Lewis's Bequests to Charities.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—It is announced that the large bequests made by Samuel Lewis, the money lender, to charitable objects, aggregating £950,000 are reversionary, going into effect on the death of his widow. The will, however, directs the immediate payment of £500 to the Prince of Wales's Hospital Fund and of similar amounts, aggregating £5,000, to various Jewish charities.

LOSSES BY FIRE.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Jan. 17.—The department store of Edward Hunter & Co., one of the largest retail establishments in the city, was destroyed by fire to-night. The loss is believed to exceed $100,000, fully covered by insurance.

SANDUSKY, Ohio, Jan. 17.—The Sandusky Furniture Company's factory caught fire to-night in the engine room, and the establishment and contents were destroyed. The loss is estimated at $50,000; insurance, about $12,000.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 17.—The Merchant Milling Company's flour mill at Waverly was burned to-day, together with several carloads of flour on a side track. The mill cost $100,000 when built sixteen years ago, and $45,000 has since been spent on it for improvements. The insurance is 65 per cent. on the value of the property.

THE WEATHER.

LOCAL FORECAST. — Clearing, with fresh northwesterly winds.

Generally fair weather is indicated for to-day, except occasional snows in the lake regions and clearing weather along the Middle Atlantic and New England Coasts, with falling temperature along the Atlantic Coast, and rising temperature west of the upper lake region. Fresh to brisk west to northwest winds are indicated for the Atlantic Coast.

The record of temperature for the twenty-four hours ended at midnight, taken from THE NEW YORK TIMES'S thermometer and from the thermometer of the Weather Bureau, is as follows:

	Weather Bureau 1900.	1901.	TIMES. 1901.
3 A. M.	34	42	46
6 A. M.	36	40	44
9 A. M.	38	40	40
12 M.	38	40	42
3 P. M.	41	38	45
6 P. M.	38	35	40
9 P. M.	35	34	38
12 P. M.	35	32	36

THE TIMES'S thermometer is 6 feet above the street level; that of the Weather Bureau is 285 feet above the street level.

Average temperatures yesterday were as follows:

Printing House Square	43
Weather Bureau	39
Corresponding date 1900	37

Corresponding date for last twenty-five years, 30

The maximum temperature yesterday was 46 degrees at 12:10 A. M. The minimum temperature was 32 degrees at 10 P. M. At 8 A. M. the barometer registered 29.71; at 8 P. M. it registered 29.41. The humidity at 8 A. M. was 56 per cent.; at 8 P. M. it was 95 per cent.

Maryland Club

Pure Rye Whiskey

It tastes OLD because it IS old

CAHN, BELT & CO., Baltimore, Md.

The Penetrating Cold

of the Atlantic Coast is particularly trying. Wool is no protection against it.

KOTEDSILK

being a double fabric, pure silk on the finest cotton, affords perfect protection. It is warm, light, unshrinkable, and easily washed.

See the word KOTEDSILK TRADE MARK REG. U.S. PAT. OFF. on every garment.

All Leading Stores, and KOTEDSILK UNDERWEAR CO., Millbury, Mass., or 70-72 Franklin Street, N. Y.

From New Hampshire's Hills of Granite Gushes

Londonderry LITHIA WATER

Sparkling. Delicious. The Emblem of Purity and Health.

The Sparkling, in Quarts, Pints and Half-Pints.

The Still, in Half-Gallon Bottles.

The wine-like fragrance and delicate flavour of

"CANADIAN CLUB" WHISKY

make a highball, cocktail, toddy, or any drink in which whisky is used, indescribably delicious and satisfying. "CANADIAN CLUB" in any form is highly grateful to the appreciative palate.

24

New Publications. | New Publications.

These are some of the GOOD THINGS you will find in the February Number of THE SMART SET Out To-day

Rumors and a Runaway (a brilliant novelette), by Caroline Duer.
The King's Chamber (the $250 prize poem), by Theodosia Garrison
The English View of Our Society, by Mrs. Sherwood.
Lady Star's Apotheosis, by Julien Gordon (Mrs. Van Rensselaer Cruger.)
The First Victim of Reform, by Lloyd Osbourne.
The Millionaire, by Barry Pain.
Valentine Song, by Clinton Scollard.
The Rose's Avatar, by Charles G. D. Roberts.
Les Chaussettes de Papa (original French), by Jeanette Larrieu.
The Bride of San Lorenzo (a Cuban Story), by Louise Winter.

And 40 other bright stories, poems and witticisms by the cleverest men and women of America and Europe.

25 cents—$3.00 annual subscription.

All News and Periodical Dealers, or address,

ESS ESS PUBLISHING COMPANY, 1135 Broadway, New York.

The Wanamaker Store The Wanamaker Store The Wanamaker Store

This Was a BUSY STORE Yesterday

The Hosiery and UNDERWEAR Sale

The Sale of WHITE

The WALL PAPER Clearance

Fine Dress Goods Under-price

THERE were a dozen strong specific reasons; yet one was enough. The annual Clean-up Sale of Hosiery and Underwear appeals to every man and woman—every parent with children who wear out stockings so fast. Little wonder that the response was so prompt and enthusiastic. We tell below as much as we can about the chances of sharing the goods to-day. The Silver Sale has vital interest for every housekeeper who loves table and sideboard beauty, yet is thrifty enough to husband her expenditures. This luxury is no extravagance when fine wares cost so little as to-day—to-morrow they may be gone. No equal sale can come soon again, for we have swept the market clean of all lots of silverware of worthy character. The Sale of Muslin Under-garments interests hundreds of women daily, because those who come tell stay-at-home friends about our unmatched offerings; and our stocks cannot be filled in at any such prices as we obtained present lots for. A new price standard must be made when these are gone.

The most interesting feature of yesterday was the display of New Spring Costumes, and the debut of The Princess Skirt.

Wanamaker's sparkles with interest in every direction. On the one side the new—in cottons and silks, in robe patterns and finished dresses. On the other, with constant offerings of worthy merchandise at large savings from usual prices. Each day of this remarkable month the Wanamaker Store holds broad interest for its thousands of visitors.

The SILVER SALE

The Under-price Store

The HURT BOOK Sale

The New COSTUMES

The Sale of Silver

Sterling and Silver-plated Ware. The splendid offerings are now shown in the basement. All the pieces are in very desirable shapes and designs, all perfect, and all wonderfully low-priced. Still very good variety, but the list grows shorter with each day's selling.

Sterling Silver Table Ware—
Bread Trays, $18
Comports, $7.50, $9.50
Bonbon Dishes, $4.50, $10, $12.50
2-piece Carving Sets, sterling handles, $3
3-piece Carving Sets, sterling handles, $3.75
5-piece Tea Sets, $150, $185 and $257
Vegetable Dishes, $92
Soup Tureens, $103.
Meat Dishes, $20 and $22
French Coffee Pots, $16 25
Berry Bowls, $10.75, $16.25
Butter Dishes, $10.75 to $21.
Waiters, $10, $18, $25, $38.75

Plated Flat Ware—Rogers' and other first-class makes—
Tea Spoons, $1.10 a dozen
Dessert Spoons, $2 a dozen
Table Spoons, $2.20 a dozen
Table Forks, $2.20 a dozen
Triole plate Medium and Dessert Knives, $2.25 a dozen

Quadruple-Plate Table Ware—And Fancy Pieces to match.
5-piece Tea Sets, $8.75, $9.50, $12.50
Baking Dishes, $3.75, $5
Butter Dishes, $1.75, $2
Bread Trays, $1.50
Pickle Jars, $1.50. Odd Coffee Pots, $1.50

Sterling Silver Toilet Ware and Novelties—
Hair Brushes, $2 and $2.75
Military Brushes, $1.75. Combs, 50c
Mirrors, $4.25. Shoe Hooks, 50c
Shoe Horns, $1.25, $2. Nail Files, 50c
Puff Boxes, $1, $1.35 and $2.

Fine Table Cutlery—
Three-piece pearl handle beef carving set; sterling silver ferrules; in fancy box, $6
Three-piece pointed stag handle beef carving set, silver plated ferrules, $3
Three-piece stag handle beef carving set; sterling silver ferrules, $3.25
Pearl handle fruit knives; sterling silver ferrules, $5 a dozen.
Celluloid handle orange knives; saw edge; in fancy box, $2 a half dozen.

Basement.

SHEETS and PILLOW CASES

The prices we ask for this stock are just about what the mills are asking for their finished product to-day. Or, to state the proposition differently, you're offered these perfectly made sheets and pillow cases at about the cost of the muslin itself, if you were to buy it now. Cotton prices are going up. We bought our very generous quantities in time—you had better do so, too. These prices end with the closing of the present stocks:

Pillow Cases—
Made from well-known standard makes of muslin:
42x38½ in., 13c 54x38½ in., 18c

Sheets—
Made from muslins of standard make:
54x90 in., 40c 81x90 in., 56c
63x99 in., 50c 81x99 in., 61c
72x99 in., 55c 90x90 in., 62c

Fourth avenue.

Pillow Cases—
Made of muslins that will give satisfaction:
50x38½ in., 13c 54x38½ in., 15c

Sheets—
Made of the same good muslin:
54x90 in., 37c 72x99 in., 49c
63x90 in., 40c 81x90 in., 50c
63x99 in., 44c 81x99 in., 55c
90x90 in., 55c.

In the Under-price Store, Basement.

Table LINEN

There need be no suspicion ever as to the purity of the linens you buy here. They're all pure—even though the price be fifty cents a yard less than what is usually considered reasonable. See examples below. Also the other excellent grades at less-than-usual prices:

35c a yard—Silver bleached Bohemian table linen; 63 in. wide; reduced from 40c.
40c a yard—Cream table linen; almost 70 in. wide; would be cheap at 50c.
60c a yard—Bleached Irish table linen; 67 in. wide; the usual 75c kind.
90c a yard—Bleached Scotch table linen; 72 in. wide; was $1.25 last month.
$1.25 a yard—Bleached double damask; Flemish; full 2 yards wide; easily worth our regular price, which was $1.75 yesterday.

Fourth avenue.

Men's TOP-COATS

The fur trade's never very brisk at Palm Beach, Fla. The recent weather conditions are far from favorable to the large selling of overcoats. Yet if the offerings are attractive enough, a demand can be created for furs or overcoats, in the Sunny South, or here at home, now or at any time.

Here's such an offering. Over 200 men are expected to come for these splendid overcoats—about half of them are Raglans—because they offer profitable investment, even if it were April. Buy them for next winter if you think cold weather is to be omitted this season. Handsome coats of cheviots and friezes that were good values when priced up to $15.

Your Choice at Ten Dollars

Second floor, Fourth avenue.

Boys' CLOTHING

There are 90 double and single-breasted all-wool cheviot suits here this morning at $5 each. Values among them up to $10. Sizes 9 to 16 years. Some 3-piece suits for boys of same ages, and about the same excellent values as originally priced at $8. Choosing among these also at $5.

Fifty sailor suits in various mixtures and plain blue, 3 to 12-year sizes; values up to $7.50. Price, $5.

All-wool fancy mixed cheviot trousers at 75c, and some excellent corduroy trousers at 95c. Both for 3 to 16-year sizes.

Second floor, Ninth street.

BRUSH Bargains

All good qualities, and all at much less than regular prices. These French tooth brushes, with 3 and 4 rows of bristles, are 5c to 25c—would be reasonable if 15c to 40c. Bone-handled nail brushes at 10c—cheap at 15c.

A lot of excellent whisk brooms at 10c each—extra good value.

Tenth street.

Another New CANDY

This time it's "Butter Scotch Cocoanut" candy. Good. Made of highest grade sugar, purest butter and finest San Blas cocoanut. Those ingredients, when combined and boiled under the direction of an expert, such as the man that oversees all our candy making, could not be other than palatable.

Twenty cents a pound for the next six selling days. Then it goes into the 30c class—where it properly belongs.

Basement.

A Sale of GOLF CAPES

One of the large woolen mills got too enthusiastic in making fine golf cloths this season, and suddenly found that they had several thousand yards more than they could sell. No jobber could buy it; and no manufacturer would attempt it. Then they came to us. It was a matter of price. We were their only possible buyer.

We got the cloth for LESS than half the wholesale price!

Then we had it made up in two excellent styles which were the most popular sellers of the season. To-day the first shipment of the Golf Capes is ready, at

Six Dollars Each

We've had nothing so good before, under ten dollars; and the blustery days when Golf Capes are most wanted are just coming. A remarkable offering.

Second floor, Broadway.

The UNDERWEAR and HOSIERY Sale

Brief word to-day. Yesterday's selling was enormous. Lots left were chaotic last night. Yet it was certain that excellent picking would be here this morning. The list that follows tells as much as we are sure about:

Women's Underwear—
15c each, were 25c and 38c—Ribbed vests, cotton or lisle.
25c each, were 38c to 75c—Ribbed vests and drawers.
50c each, were 75c to $1.25—Vests, drawers, tights and suits.
75c each, were $1.25 and $1.50—Vests, drawers and corset covers.
$1 each, were $1.50 to $2.50—Merino vests and drawers.
$1.50 each, were $2.25 to $3.50—Merino union suits.
$2 each, were $3 to $4.50—Vests and union suits.

Children's Underwear—
12½c each, were 25c—Vests and drawers.
25c each, were 50c—Boys' shirts and drawers.
50c each, were 95c to $1.70—Merino vests, pantalettes, drawers and union suits.

Men's Hosiery—
3 pairs for 25c, were 12½c a pair—Cadet blue cotton.
12½c a pair, were 18c and 25c—Merino and cotton.
25c a pair, were 50c and 75c—Fancy cotton and lisle.
$1 a pair, were $2—English bicycle hose, with or without feet.
$2.50 a pair, were $3.75 to $6—Fancy French silk.

Men's Underwear—
50c each—Seconds of our $1 quality—White or gray merino.
Lots that were 75c, $1, $1.50 and $2.50, badly broken; not many left; but unusually good value.

Children's Hosiery—
25c a pair, were 45c to 70c—Black ribbed cotton, French; broken line of sizes. 7 to 8½ only.

The New COSTUMES

A highly pleased audience viewed the new spring dresses yesterday, if delighted comment measured appreciation. The finished and exquisite garments are shown here, before the fashion world had heard the intimation that the Princess Skirt was the feature of the season.

Another Wanamaker masterstroke.

The suits showing the Princess Skirts are displayed in various colors of broadcloth and mohair.

Other tailor-made suits of broadcloth show the new Postillion Back, of which you will hear more later on.

There is also the brilliant collection of silk costumes, showing latest designs in silks, as well as the new methods of treatment.

It is a brilliant early showing.

Second floor, Broadway.

Muslin Underwear

Unmatched, unapproached in point of variety, refinement of styles and neatness of workmanship. A movement with a broader scope than any other store cares to imitate. More news of garments and prices:

Night Gowns—
75c—Of muslin; square neck trimmed with neat insertion; yoke of fine plaits; embroidery on neck and sleeves.
$1—Of cambric; Empire style trimmed with hemstitched lawn ruffle and embroidery insertion.
$1.25—Of cambric; high neck; yoke of cluster of plaits and insertion; embroidery on neck and sleeves.

Petticoats—
50c—Of cambric; umbrella ruffle, deep hem and plaits above.
85c—Of muslin; deep cambric ruffle trimmed with embroidery and plaits.
$1—Of muslin; deep cambric ruffle trimmed with torchon lace and insertion.

Short Petticoats—
25c—Of muslin; cambric ruffle and plaits.
50c—Of cambric; ruffle of embroidery and plaits above.

Corset Covers—
35c—Of cambric; full cover; gather at waist; round neck trimmed with neat embroidery.
50c—Of cambric; square neck trimmed with point de Paris lace, insertion and ruffle.

Drawers—
15c—Of muslin or cambric; deep hem and plaits above. Not more than 3 to a buyer.
25c—Of muslin; cambric ruffle, hem and plaits.
50c—Of cambric; trimmed with embroidery ruffle; plaits above.

Chemises—
50c—Of cambric; round neck trimmed with neat embroidery; ruffle on skirt.
75c—Of nainsook; round neck trimmed with Valenciennes lace and ribbon.

Second floor.

WHITE LACES

Speaking of spring styles. What of the trimmings? Dress discussions are now on in many a home circle. Fabrics and fashions, plans and patterns—and the Wanamaker showing of all that is newest and most tasteful in everything pertaining to women's wear are the favored topics. In and about the rotunda, the delicate dimities and dainty lawns and other cottons. At the Broadway end of the store, the laces with which to complete the new, handsome, warm weather costume. The collection now includes:

French Valenciennes Edgings, ½ to 1¼ in., at 17c to 75c a dozen yards.
French Valenciennes Insertions, ¼ to ¾ in., at 22c to 45c a dozen yards.
Platte Valenciennes Edgings, 1¼ to 4½ in. wide, at 5c to 45c a yard.
Platte Valenciennes Insertions, 1¼ to 1¾ in., at 5c to 20c a yard.

Broadway.

More Book News

And it grows no less interesting as the sale progresses. The holiday selling was disastrous—new lots of "hurt books" are still found. The victims are rapidly carried away with most tender hands. Uninjured books—perfect in every respect—are on the tables, too. Priced just as surprisingly low.

To-day's word of a wholly new interest. Somebody's overestimate as to the demand for "handsome" books. Here's a lot of them at half price and less. Nearly all editions de luxe:

The Fair God. By Lew Wallace. Holiday edition, 40 full-page plates, 2 vols., $7. Our price, $3.25.
The Grandissimes. By George W. Cable. 20 photogravures, $6. Our price, $2.
Grimm's Life of Michael Angelo. Holiday edition, 40 plates, 2 vols., $6. Our price, $3.50.
Poetical Works of Sir Walter Scott. Nearly 300 illustrations, octavo, gilt edges, $3.50. Our price, $1.35.
Beginnings of New England. By John Fiske. Illustrated, $4. Our price, $2.
Story of the Revolution. By Henry Cabot Lodge. 250 illustrations and maps, 2 vols., $6. Our price, $3.
House of the Seven Gables. By Nathaniel Hawthorne. 20 illustrations, 2 vols., $5. Our price, $1.35.
Elizabethan Songs. "In Honor of Love and Beautie." Collected and illustrated by Edmund H. Garrett, $4. Our price, $1.75.
Works of J. Fenimore Cooper. 16 vols., half-leather binding. $7.
Leatherstocking Tales. By J. Fenimore Cooper. 5 vols., $1.75.
Bulfinch's Age of Fable. Illustrated gilt top, $1. Our price, 40c.
Picturesque Cuba and Our Navy. 112 reproductions with text. 40c.
Country Architecture in France and England. In the XV and XVI Centuries. 72 illustrations, 25c.

Book Store, Ninth street.

China CLOSETS

Have you a proper home for the dinner set you received on Christmas? Our tremendous selling during the past month or so has created a broad need in china closets, which to-day's offering will supply at unusually little cost. See the prices:

At $17.50, from $27—Golden oak; bent glass ends and glass door; 4 shelves; fine construction; highly polished.
At $18.50, from $25—Golden oak; bent glass ends and door; mirror back of top shelf; carved top; highly polished.
At $20, from $30—Golden oak; bent glass ends; glass door; 4 shelves; mirror back of top shelf; highly polished.
At $22, from $35—Imitation mahogany corner closet; carved top; turned columns each side of door; highly finished.
At $90, from $145—Mahogany; large size; handsomely finished; glass shelves and mirror back; heavy base; carved top.
At $118, from $158—Golden oak; large size; dome top; handsomely carved; swell ends; mirror back.
At $130, from $195—Mahogany; fine design and finish; shaped ends and swell front; plate glass door and ends; plate glass shelves; mirror back.

Fourth floor.

Girls' COATS

Here are various elegant styles at greatly reduced prices—some just half. They are of plain and double-faced cloths in all the desirable shades. Some full lengths, others three-quarters. In sizes for 14 and 16-year-old girls. Values up to $40.

Choice at Twenty Dollars

Second floor, Ninth street.

Women's Sacques

For wear about the house. Warm and pretty ripple eiderdown sacques, at half their value. Made with yoke front and fitted back; trimmed with satin ribbon; close with frogs.

This is a lot for which $2.50 each was thought to be a very reasonable price. All go now at $1.25 each.

Second floor, Fourth avenue.

Children's Waists

All that remain of the warm wool waists appear with new pricemarks this morning. They all read the same—One Dollar—though there are values among the various lots up to $4.25. The majority are $2.50 kinds. Various good styles—plain and with polka-dots. Sizes 10 to 14 years. Choice at $1.

Second floor, Fourth avenue.

POCKET-BOOKS

For women. Many kinds, at little prices. Pretty kinds, too, and good values. A second lot of those popular purses of seal chamois and alligator, at 25c and 45c. These may last no longer than the others—they went quickly enough. These long narrow purses of suede, monkey and seal, at 75c are likewise well liked.

Combination pocket-books, of genuine seal, morocco and alligator, sterling silver trimming, at $1. Clasp pocket-books, of seal, at the same price.

Wrist bags in walrus grain, black, tan and brown, at 50c and up to $3.

Broadway.

Vnder-price Store

Of chief interest to-day are the sales of women's muslin underwear, the knit underwear for men and women, and the very important offerings of silverware—sterling and silver-plated. Also sheets and pillow cases. Among the other under-price goods these are the newcomers:

Blank Books Reduced—
The former prices here quoted were already 25 per cent. less than regular. Now again reduced as follows:
Journals and Ledgers—Bound in full sheep; American Russia corners; 600 pages. Usually $1.75. Price, $1.40.
Journals and Ledgers—Bound in full duck; red leather corners; spring back; Hubbs' titles; paged; 9½x14; 500 pages. Usually $1.10. Price, 90c.
Journals and Ledgers—Bound in full duck; red leather corners; spring back; Hubbs' titles; paged; 8½x13; 500 pages. Usually 80c. Price, 70c.
Order Books—Bound in heavy full duck; good grade heavy white paper; 8x12; 500 pages. Usually 50c. Price, 40c.
Letter Copying Books—Half bound; American Russia back and corners; cloth sides; fine white parchment paper; especially adapted for copying typewriter work; 10x12; 500 pages. Usually 75c. Price, 65c.

Oriental Fabrics—
East Indian Farrukhabad print squares, about 1 yard, variety of colorings, at 30c to 55c—were 40c to 75c.
Turkish striped squares, about 1 yard, at 45c instead of 65c.
Silk squares (Turkish,) at $2.25, instead of $3.
Ends of Damascus curtains, for pillow coverings, at 45c to 60c, instead of 60c to 85c.

Novelty Candy Boxes—Filled—
They're unique candy receptacles—a German idea. Funny little adjustable figures on the outside. Surprise for the sweet-toothed on the inside. Regularly 20c—now 10c.

Bleached Napkins—
They're Scotch. Heavy, serviceable, 20x20 in. The fair price has been $2.50 a dozen. Much fairer now—$1.80.

10c to 25c Calendars at 5c.

Formerly
A. T. Stewart & Co.

JOHN WANAMAKER

Broadway, Fourth Avenue,
Ninth and Tenth Streets.

Unreserved Art Sales

American Art Galleries,

MADISON SQUARE SOUTH, NEW YORK

Free Day 9 to 6 — View Evenings 8 to 10

An Important COLLECTION OF Modern Paintings

By Prominent

AMERICAN

AND

Foreign Artists,

To Be Sold at Absolute Public Sale

By Order of

Thomas Kirkpatrick,

Fifth Ave. and 33d Street,

Who Is Discontinuing the Art Branch of His Business.

The following names are among the artists represented:

AMERICAN.

Inness,	Wyant,	Minor,
Tryon,	Dewey,	Baker (W.B.),
Murphy,	Ranger,	Chase,
Wiggins,	Brown (J.G.),	Dannat,
Grant,	Jones (F. C.),	Rehn,
Jones (H. B.),	Hart (J. M.),	Hoeber,
Pearce (C. S.),	Parton (A.),	Howe.

FOREIGN.

Diaz,	Henner,	Ziem,
Vibert,	Zamacois,	Vollon,
Bonheur (Rosa)	Edelfelt,	Hagborg,
Lefebvre,	Munier,	Perrault,
Stevens (A.),	Berne-Belle-cour,	Col,
Breton (Jules),	Muntbe,	De Beaumont,
Geza,	Massani,	Morland,
Monchablon,	Meyer Von Bremen.

Also on View

Ancient and Modern

Japanese Art

Porcelains, Fine Old Bronzes, Lacquers, Carvings, Sword Guards, Enamels, Weapons, Curios, Pottery, Textiles and Paintings,

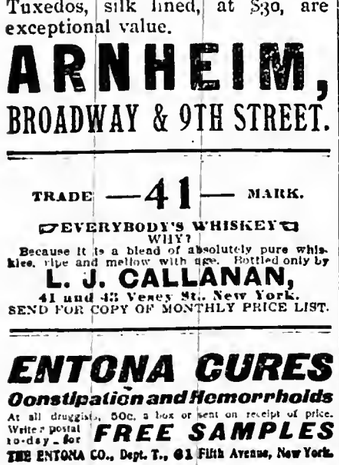
The Private Collection of Professor

Cæsar Cesaroni,

San Francisco.

Dates of Sale: Japanese Art AFTERNOONS OF January 21st, 22nd, 23d, 24th, and 25th; Modern Paintings EVENINGS OF January 23d and 24th

THOMAS E. KIRBY, Auctioneer.
American Art Association, Managers.



Our Remnant Sale is your opportunity. You can draw great bargains from it.

Suits, to order, $14; coat and vest, $10.50; trousers, $4; all fancy silk vestings, to order, $6, regardless of their former cost. We make and trim them in the smartest manner and expect to make of every purchaser a lasting friend. Money back if you think value is not sufficient.

Overcoats, made of Imported Frieze and Vicuna, up to date, long, roomy, velvet collars, slashed pockets, cuffs, satin lined throughout, $20. Our Full-dress and Tuxedos, silk lined, at $30, are exceptional value.

ARNHEIM,

BROADWAY & 9TH STREET.

TRADE —41— MARK.

EVERYBODY'S WHISKEY

WHY?

Because it is a blend of absolutely pure whiskies, ripe and mellow with age. Bottled only by

L. J. CALLANAN,

41 and 43 Vesey St., New York.

SEND FOR COPY OF MONTHLY PRICE LIST.

ENTONA CURES

Constipation and Hemorrhoids

At all druggists, 50c. a box or sent on receipt of price. Write postal to-day for FREE SAMPLES

THE ENTONA CO., Dept. T., 61 Fifth Avenue, New York.

MR. QUAY TAKES HIS SEAT

Greeted with Cheers and Applause in the Senate Chamber.

Demonstration in Honor of the Pennsylvanian Stands Alone in the History of the Senate.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—As a demonstration in honor of the seating of a single Senator and as an elaborate and beautiful floral spectacle, the return of Matthew Stanley Quay of Pennsylvania to the Senate to-day was unique in the history of the body. Within the memory of the oldest Senators nothing approximating to-day's scene ever was witnessed in the Senate on a similar occasion.

Mr. Quay's friends from Pennsylvania came to Washington by the hundred to witness his induction into office, and they brought with them floral offerings literally by the carload. An hour before the Senate convened elaborate and beautiful floral pieces began to be piled on and around the Senator's desk. By the time the Senate was called to order the messengers had found it impossible to place to advantage any more of the floral offerings.

Never before in the history of the Senate has a single Senator been the recipient of such a profusion of flowers, beautiful in themselves and lavishly elaborate in their arrangement. One of the handsomest pieces was a huge keystone arch of white immortelles, the keystone being of deep red immortelles. It was several feet in height, and across the curve of the arch was the legend "Verdict of the People" in blue immortelles.

The demonstration accorded to Mr. Quay when he entered the chamber amounted to an ovation. While he was receiving the congratulations of friends on the floor, the hundreds of persons who thronged the galleries rose as one, and applauded him tumultuously. That Mr. Quay appreciated this distinctly personal tribute was quite evident. He glanced smilingly around the galleries, nodding familiarly to friends whom he recognized here and there.

As soon as the Senate had convened Mr. Penrose, who also was the recipient of several handsome floral pieces, presented the credentials of Mr. Quay. They were read and placed on file. Mr. Penrose then requested that the oath of office be administered to his colleague. As no objection was offered, Mr. Penrose escorted Mr. Quay to the desk of the President pro tem., Mr. Frye. Before taking the oath Mr. Quay shook hands cordially with Mr. Frye.

The President pro tempore previously had announced to the people in the galleries that no applause or demonstrations of approval or disapproval were permitted under the rules of the Senate. Thus no demonstration occurred when Mr. Quay had taken the oath. After he had signed the roll at the desk of the Secretary he returned to his seat, which is the one formerly occupied by Mr. Hanna.

Within a minute after Mr. Quay took his seat hundreds of persons had left the floor and galleries, the floral offerings had disappeared from the chamber, and the Senate resumed its wonted appearance.

WORK ON WAR TAX REDUCTION.

Senate Committee May Reduce Tax on Medicines, Perfumes, &c.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The Senate Committee on Finance to-day continued its consideration of the bill for the reduction of the revenues collected under the War Revenue act. When the meeting concluded, the members of the committee announced that they were progressing with their work, but that it was not concluded and that they had no information to give to the public.

The committee has tentatively decided to reduce to the extent of one-half the tax on proprietary medicines, perfumes, &c. This does not include chewing gum, the tax on which probably will be retained at the full rate. The House took the tax entely off all these articles. The present efforts of the committee are to secure a unanimous report. The members hope to be able to make a report early next week.

PERFECTING THE FINANCIAL LAW.

House Committee Continues Hearings on New Bills.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The several measures providing for the more definite establishment of the gold standard were again under consideration to-day before the House Committee on Coinage, Director of the Mint Roberts being heard, and letters being read from prominent financial experts. Mr. Roberts approved the general idea of legislation for the exchange of silver dollars for gold. He said it would not add anything to the burden of the gold reserve. The only demand on the gold reserve would be for export purposes, and the Government was bound to meet that demand in any event.

He believed that part of the money not now available for export should be converted into money so available. This would avoid a stringency when there was a heavy outflow of gold, and there would be no danger of silver going to a discount. Mr. Roberts was cross questioned quite sharply by Representatives Cochran (Dem., Mo.,) and Shafroth, (Sil., Col.,) representing the Silver element on the committee, and Mr. Cochran announced that the opposition to the proposed legislation would ask for hearings later.

A letter from President Williams of the Chemical National Bank of New York was read, approving the purpose of the pending bills as "demanded by public sentiment and by the emphatic indorsement by the people of the principle of the gold standard." Mr. Williams expressed preference for the Levy bill.

M. L. Muhlman, in a memorandum submitted, says the silver bullion had cost us about 92.4 cents an ounce and would sell now for about 55 cents per ounce. Its coinage as subsidiary coin would be entirely justifiable, and would cause an actual gain to the Treasury cash. But Mr. Muhlman points out that if the purpose of the legislation is to suspend the coinage of the standard dollars a "repealer" would make that purpose much more definite. The hearings will be resumed next Monday.

ARMY BILL DEBATE GOES ON.

Democratic Senators Object to the Provision Conferring Power on the President.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—During the session of the Senate to-day the Army Reorganization bill was discussed at length by Mr. Money, (Dem., Miss.) Mr. Comas, (Rep., Md.,) and Mr. Bate (Dem., Tenn.) Mr. Money attacked that portion of the bill which confers upon the President discretionary power to increase the strength of the army. He held that this was an abdication of authority by Congress that was unwarranted and inexcusable. He admitted that the people did vote at the November elections in favor of Republican policies, including, perhaps, that for a large standing army. "But," said he, "is there to be no such faith in human nature as will suppose that the people will not after awhile have a lucid interval? Communities sometimes become insane."

He urged, however, that the people, after realizing the power placed in the Executive by the pending bill, and realizing that they were to be saddled with a permanent standing army of 100,000 men, would reverse the present conditions of things political.

Mr. McComas, while giving the pending bill his approbation, believed it ought to be amended in some respects. He argued in favor of eliminating the age limit as applied to the appointment of officers in the regular army from the volunteer service, urging that the President be given discretion to appoint any competent officer irrespective of age.

Mr. Bate opposed the pending bill, not only because it conferred upon the President authority which he thought should be exercised only by Congress, but also because it created a permanent standing army of 100,000 men. He urged that if the regular army was increased to 100,000 men it never would be reduced in strength, as all powerful influences, social and political, would work to prevent the reduction. He demanded that the President inform Congress for what purpose he wanted so large an army, to build up which was, in his opinion, un-American and un-republican. The building up of this army and the authority conferred upon the President by this bill were, he said, the longest strides ever taken in this country toward a centralization of power, toward "imperialism."

At the conclusion of Mr. Bate's speech Mr. Penrose (Rep., Penn.,) addressed the Senate briefly in support of an amendment he offered striking out of the bill all limitations of age as applied to appointments of officers in the regular army.

DULL DAY IN THE HOUSE.

Bill for Revision of Postal Laws Under Consideration.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—This was an exceedingly dull day in the House. The entire day was spent upon the bill to revise and codify the postal laws, which is to be the continuing order, not, however, to interfere with appropriation bills or conference reports, until disposed of. It is a bill of 221 pages, and is simply a revision of existing laws. Some disposition was manifested to inject into the measure some amendments to present law in the interest of certain classes of mail employes, but such attempts were successfully resisted.

Just before the House adjourned, when no quorum was present, W. A. Smith of Michigan offered an amendment to increase the pay of letter carriers of the first, second, third, and fourth classes, respectively, to $1,200, $1,000, $800, and $600. The amendment was defeated on a rising vote, 19 to 33, but Mr. Smith made the point of no quorum, and final action on the amendment went over. Ninety-three pages of the bill were completed to-day.

Mandate Issued in Neely Case.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The mandate of the United States Supreme Court in the Neely case was issued to-day and turned over to the Attorney General. It will be forwarded to the District Attorney for the Southern District of New York. No intimation has been received here as to whether any further steps will be taken in Neely's behalf before the writ is presented to the New York court. If not, he will be sent to Cuba, in compliance with the court's decision.

Reapportionment Bill a Law.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The President to-day signed the bill making a re-apportionment of Representatives in Congress from the several States under the twelfth census.

FILIPINOS AS FARMERS.

Bostonians Undertake to Supply Implements to Natives.

BOSTON, Jan. 17.—A new project to assist worthy Filipinos which has the indorsement of a number of prominent persons here, among them Gov. Crane and Dr. Edward Everett Hale, has been undertaken, whereby it is proposed to supply the natives with farming implements and seed. A letter which has just been received by Miss Sarah E. Hunt of Salem, formerly State Regent of the Massachusetts Daughters of the Revolution, from an officer in the Philippines, prompted the plan. The letter said:

"The general run of natives in this section desire the protection of the Americans. The most they want is to be left alone. The natives desire books and farming tools of all kinds. As a rule they are a hard working race, and live by working the ground. They work hard, and with good tools the amount of harvests would easily be multiplied tenfold. If I could get good tools for the natives I believe it would stop the insurrection in this section almost immediately."

A Philippine Deer That Barks.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Adjt. Gen. Corbin has received word from the commanding officer of a Mindanao (P. I.) garrison that he has in his possession a black male deer of a species native to that island whose peculiarity it is to bark and bay like a hound. Authority is requested for the transportation of the strange animal to the United States, with a view to its being placed in the Zoological Park at Washington. The necessary authority will be given, but it is not believed that the deer will be able to survive the long ocean journey from its home and the great climatic changes.

COL. H. B. FREEMAN PROMOTED.

Enlisted as a Private in 1855, Is Now a Brigadier General.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The President to-day sent to the Senate the nomination of Col. Henry B. Freeman, Twenty-fourth Infantry, to be Brigadier General. The Senate later confirmed the nomination.

Col. Freeman was born in Ohio, and entered as a private of Company B, Tenth Infantry, July 16, 1855, serving until the following February, when he was discharged. In July, 1861, he re-enlisted, and in October of that year became Second Lieutenant in the Eighteenth Infantry. In May of the following year he was made First Lieutenant, serving throughout the war in the same regiment. His Captain's commission was issued to him in July, 1868. Fifteen years later he became a Major. He has been Colonel of the Twenty-fourth since October, 1898.

Brevet commissions have been twice received by Col. Freeman. The first was that of a Captain in 1862, for gallant and meritorious service in the battle of Murfreesboro, and the second in 1863, brevetted him Major for gallantry in the battle of Chickamauga. Col. Freeman is the possessor of a medal of honor awarded for distinguished gallantry in the battle of Stone River, Tenn., Dec. 31, 1862.

The Bailey Makes 30.88 Knots an Hour.

Special to The New York Times.

NEWPORT, Jan. 17.—The torpedo destroyer Bailey, designed and built by the Gas Engine and Power Company and Charles L. Seabury & Co., Consolidated, of Morris Heights, New York City, had an official trial trip off Newport to-day, and she attained a speed of 30.88 knots an hour. The builders' guarantee was 30 knots an hour, and the Bailey exceeded the guarantee by almost one knot. This speed has never before been attained by any vessel of the United States Navy, therefore the Bailey will be the fastest boat the Government will own, which is very gratifying to the builders. The final official trip for the two hours' run will take place on Saturday in Long Island Sound, and from to-day's performance the Bailey should not have any difficulty in making the guarantee of sixty knots in the two hours' time.

Battleship Wisconsin Accepted.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The battleship Wisconsin was accepted by the Navy Department to-day subject to the usual three-months' reservation. No date has yet been set for putting this vessel into commission. The matter will be settled in a short time.

THE UNITED SERVICE.

Army.

The following-named officers will report to Lieut. Col. George B. Rodney, Fourth Artillery, President of the examining board appointed to meet at Fort Riley, Kansas, for examination as to their fitness for promotion:

First Lieuts. Charles Young, Ninth Cavalry; Nathaniel F. McClure, Fifth Cavalry; Clough Overton, First Cavalry; Lawrence J. Fleming, Fifth Cavalry; James J. Hornbrook, Fifth Cavalry; George W. Cole, Seventh Cavalry; Second Lieuts. Robert B. Powers, Seventh Cavalry; Willard H. McCornack, Ninth Cavalry; William D. Forsyth, Fifth Cavalry; Aubrey Lippincott, First Cavalry; Charles F. Martin, Fifth Cavalry; Frank P. Amos, First Cavalry; Robert F. Jackson, Fifth Cavalry; James B. Feechet, Ninth Cavalry; Samuel B. Pearson, Ninth Cavalry; Edward Calvert, Ninth Cavalry.

The following-named officers will report to Lieut. Col. Otto L. Hein, Commandant of Cadets, (Captain First Cavalry,) President of the examining board appointed to meet at the United States Military Academy, West Point, for examination as to their fitness for promotion:

Second Lieuts. William S. Valentine, Chalmers G. Hall, and Varien D. Dixon, Fifth Cavalry.

Major Charles Bird, Quartermaster, will proceed to New York City on official business pertaining to the transport service.

Capt. Charles H. Marple, Fortieth Infantry, United States Volunteers, having tendered his resignation, is honorably discharged from the service of the United States, to take effect Jan. 15.

The following-named officers will report to Col. Jacob E. Rawles, Third Artillery, President of the examining board appointed to meet at the Presidio of San Francisco for examination as to their fitness for promotion: First Lieuts. Edwin B. Winans, Jr., Fourth Cavalry; Charles G. Sawtelle, Jr., Second Cavalry, and Second Second Lieut. John C. Raymond, Sixth Cavalry.

The resignation of Second Lieut. George W. Bunnell, Jr., Fourth Artillery, has been accepted, to take effect Feb. 15.

Lieut. Col. Henry R. Brinkerhoff, upon his own application, is detailed as Professor of Military Science and Tactics at the University of Chicago, to date from Jan. 5.

Movements of Naval Vessels.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The training ships Lancaster and Hartford left Port of Spain, Trinidad, yesterday, the Lancaster for St. Vincent, and the Hartford for Barbados.

The Dixie sailed to-day from Funchal for Barbados.

The Iowa has arrived at Acapulco.

The Mayflower is at San Juan.

FREIGHT RATES ON COTTON.

Arbitrators Fix the Charges on Shipments from the South to Carolina Mill Points.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—S. R. Knott and T. G. Bush, as arbitrators, have rendered a decision of the question submitted to them by the various railroad lines in interest, as to what are fair and equitable rates on cotton from Alabama, Mississippi, and Tennessee junctions to Carolina mill points. The lines interested are the Southern Railway, the Atlantic Coast Line, the Illinois Central, the Louisville and Nashville, the Mobile and Ohio, the Yazoo and Mississippi Valley, the Kansas City, Memphis and Birmingham, the Charleston and Western Carolina, and the New Orleans and Northeastern. The rates vary from 48 to 64 cents a hundred from points embraced in what is known as Group 1, and 43 to 59 cents a hundred from points belonging to Group 2.

The arbitrators say in their decision that the conclusion reached by them is based on a careful consideration of the rate and other conditions which existed prior to Sept. 1, 1900. On the adoption of these rates to the Carolina mill points, the rates from the same junctions and other points affected, from which reduced rates to Gulf ports, Boston, or New England mill points have been put into effect since Sept. 1, 1900, should be restored to the figures effective prior to Sept. 1, 1900.

The arbitrators declare that they have not attempted to pass upon the question of a fixed relation or an inflexible differential as between the rates to Carolina mill points and the rates to Gulf ports, Boston, and New England mill points, and that reference to the rates to those points which were in effect prior to Sept. 1, 1900, is not intended to establish such fixed differentials.

Vice President Finley of the Southern Railway in discussing this decision said to-day:

"The extraordinary development of the cotton mill industry in North and South Carolina during the past several years has led the cotton manufacturers of those States to seek in Alabama, Mississippi, and Georgia a portion of their supply of cotton.

"The consumers in the Carolinas having contended that they could not buy in neighboring States because the rates to the Carolina mills were unfairly adjusted with relation to the rates to New England and foreign countries, and effective Sept. 1 last, the Southern Railway and Atlantic Coast Line published a line of reduced rates from points in Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, and Tennessee which were intended to bring about a proper relation as between rates to Carolina milling points and rates to Eastern mills and for export.

"This action of the Southern Railway and Atlantic Coast Line met with much opposition on the part of the other transportation lines interested in the cotton traffic from Mississippi, Alabama, and Tennessee, and led to the adoption by such lines of reduced rates to Gulf ports and to the East from competitive points to counteract reductions made by the Southern Railway and Atlantic Coast Line to the Carolina mills.

"The question was finally submitted to arbitration and the arbitrators, S. R. Knott, formerly Vice President of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad and Plant System, but now President of the Kansas City Southern, and T. G. Bush, President of the Mobile and Birmingham Railroad Company, and also President of the Alabama Consolidated Coal and Iron Company, have now announced their decision on this important case.

"While the rates established by the Southern Railway and Atlantic Coast Line to Carolina Mills have not as a whole been approved by the arbitrators, it would seem that the decision generally sustains the position of those companies, to the effect that the conditions surrounding the cotton-mill industry of the Carolinas called for a better adjustment of rates than that existing prior to the reductions inaugurated Sept. 1, 1900.

"For illustration: To such manufacturing points in the Carolinas as Charlotte, N. C.; Greenville, Greenwood, Columbia, S. C., &c., the arbitrators' decision results in a reduction as compared with rates in effect prior to Sept. 1, 1900, ranging from 5 to 22 cents a hundred.

"The rates fixed by the arbitrators involve in some cases advances from the rates issued by the Southern Railway and Atlantic Coast Line. In some of these cases the advances are slight; in other cases, notably Meridian, Miss.; Florence, Sheffield, Tuscumbia, Decatur, and Huntsville, Ala., the rates issued by the Southern Railway and Atlantic Coast Line are confirmed.

"To the manufacturing points in North Carolina east of Charlotte the arbitrators have confirmed a differential rate of 5 cents per hundred pounds higher than the rates to points in what is called the 'South Carolina group.'

"Owing to the large interests involved, this question has attracted considerable attention, and it will doubtless be gratifying to the Southern cotton manufacturers to know that the result of the arbitration has been to give them a much better adjustment of rates than they have enjoyed in the past."

CONGRESSIONAL NOTES.

Senator Lodge (Rep., Mass.) introduced a bill providing for the amendment of the immigration law so as to exclude insane, idiotic, and epileptic persons.

A bill to provide for sub-ports of entry and delivery in the Hawaiian Islands was reported by Mr. Hanna (Rep., Ohio) from the Committee on Commerce and passed.

An amendment to the Nicaragua Canal bill requiring that the cement used in the construction of the proposed canal shall be manufactured in the United States was introduced in the Senate by Senator Penrose, (Rep., Penn.)

The River and Harbor bill will be taken up by the Senate Committee on Commerce next Monday and daily sessions will be held until its consideration shall be completed. Hearings will be given to Senators on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, but no other person is to be heard.

Senator Wetmore, (Rep., R. I.,) from the Committee on Library, reported a substitute for the House bill authorizing a memorial statue to be erected in Washington to the memory of Gen. Grant. The substitute places the subject in the hands of a commission and authorizes the expenditure of $50,000.

The Senate Committee on Commerce yesterday agreed to report favorably a bill introduced by Senator Platt (Rep., N. Y.,) allowing vessels to carry automobiles propelled by gasoline. The existing law does not permit the conveyance of gasoline except under specified conditions. The bill was so amended as to permit owners of vessels to decline to carry the vehicles if they so desire.

Senator Foraker (Rep., Ohio) made another effort to secure the confirmation of James S. Harlan as Attorney General of Porto Rico, but on account of the want of a quorum made no progress. Senator Pettigrew (Silver, S. D.) stated that he desired to discuss the nomination further, but that he did not want to proceed without a quorum. Mr. Foraker himself suggested the absence of a majority of the Senators. A roll call failed to muster the requisite number, and the Senate adjourned without further proceeding.

To Exonerate Congressman Bailey.

Special to The New York Times.

AUSTIN, Tex., Jan. 17.—The Legislative committee appointed to investigate Congressman Bailey's alleged connection with the Waters-Pierce Oil Company will report to-morrow, completely exonerating him, and will show that he has been grossly slandered. The man who made the charges admits that he knows nothing whatever of the facts. Mr. Bailey testified this afternoon and cleared himself.

Lynched Negro Served in Spanish War.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Fred Alexander, the negro victim of the lynching in Kansas, was an honorably discharged soldier, who served in the Spanish-American war. He enlisted at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., May 24, 1898, joining Company F of the Ninth Cavalry. He went with his regiment to Tampa on June 30, and left on Aug. 6, going to Montauk Point. He was mustered out on Jan. 30, 1899.

No Lighting Plant for Tarrytown.

TARRYTOWN, N. Y., Jan. 17.—The proposition to bond the village of Tarrytown in the sum of $35,000 for the purpose of establishing a municipal lighting plant was voted down at the special election held to-day by a majority of 45 in 365 votes cast. It was expected the plan would meet with support to a greater extent than it did.

Carnegie Makes an Offer to Syracuse.

SYRACUSE, Jan. 17.—Mayor James K. McGuire this morning received a letter from Andrew Carnegie stating that if Syracuse would furnish a good location and agree to spend $30,000 a year upon its library, he would give the city a building to cost $200,000. The city will comply with the conditions.

NEWS OF THE RAILROADS.

CENTRAL SYSTEM MEETINGS.

New York, Chicago and St. Louis Directors Declare Dividends—Harlem Road's Action.

Grand Central Station was busy yesterday with many meetings of Directors of various lines of the New York Central system. The most important of these was the meeting of the Board of Directors of the New York, Chicago and St. Louis Railroad. A dividend of 5 per cent. was declared on the first preferred stock and a dividend of 2 per cent. was declared on the second preferred stock. It had been expected that some action would be taken regarding the retirement of the first preferred stock and a higher dividend had been expected on the second preferred stock. As these expectations were not realized, the stock declined slightly on the Exchange.

The dividend on the first preferred stock is the full rate to which it is entitled. It has only been paid twice heretofore—in 1895 and in 1900. In 1898 a dividend of 2 per cent. was paid. The dividends which were declared yesterday are payable on March 1 to stockholders of record on Jan. 24.

A statement of operations for the year 1900, as compared with 1899, was submitted. The statement which is appended is of special interest because it shows for the first time in years a decrease in the company's expenses, which is the more remarkable as the operating expenses of all the large systems show an increase:

	1900.	1899.
Gross earnings	$7,022,291.13	$6,619,985.10
Operating expenses	5,541,644.88	5,717,451.11
Net earnings	$1,480,646.25	$1,202,533.99
Other income	26,721.50	11,351.24
Net income	$1,507,367.75	$1,213,885.23
Interest on bonds	777,000.00	777,000.00
Payments on equipment trusts	104,091.68	108,241.66
Total deductions	$881,091.68	$885,241.66
Surplus for year	$626,276.07	$328,643.57
Five per cent. dividend declared this day on first preferred stock	$250,000.00
Balance	$376,276.07

Out of this balance is to be paid the 2 per cent. dividend on the second preferred stock, amounting to $220,000, and there has also been appropriated for the strengthening and renewal of bridges during the coming year, $150,000, leaving a remainder of $6,276 to be credited to the income account.

There are included in the operating expenses the sums of $70,000, spent for new bridges, $46,000 for five new switch engines, $87,000 for new dining, passenger, and baggage cars, and $45,000 for new freight cars.

The Directors of the New York and Harlem Railroad, at their meeting, declared the usual quarterly dividend of 2 per cent. C. C. Clarke resigned as Director, and E. V. Rossiter was elected in his place. There were also purely formal meetings of the Directors of five proprietary lines for purposes of organization, no changes being made.

Brief Railroad Items.

General Superintendent Van Etten of the New York Central Railroad is ill with the grip.

Jacob H. Schiff was yesterday elected a Director of the Denver and Rio Grande Railroad to succeed the late Charles Beaman.

The position of General Traffic Manager of the West Shore Railroad, made vacant by the election of Percy R. Todd as Vice President of the New York, New Haven and Hartford, will not be filled, but the duties of that office will be assumed by Nathan Guilford, General Traffic Manager of the New York Central.

Bound Brook is to have a new railroad station if the Council will permit the Central Railroad to abolish all grade crossings in the town and build one subway, under which a road will run from Bound Brook to Middlebrook. At present there are four public and one private road crossing the Central tracks from Bound Brook to Middlebrook. The borough will act at the next meeting of the Council.

The Long Island Railroad Company has purchased the Wheeden Farm, comprising about forty acres, north of the Woodhull Park station, one mile east of the Jamaica station. It is said the company will lay out a great terminal yard for the entire Atlantic Avenue system, to be operated in connection with the proposed New York and Brooklyn tunnel under the East River and the depressed railroad on Atlantic Avenue.

THE PLANT WILL CONTEST.

Testimony Taken to Prove that Testator Lived in New York.

The hearing of the application of Mrs. Margaret J. Plant to have the will of her husband, Henry B. Plant, administered in this State, instead of Connecticut, was continued before Judge Leventritt, in the Supreme Court yesterday, and more evidence was taken in proof of the fact that New York had been Mr. Plant's legal residence for more than twenty-five years.

Mrs. Plant, in response to her lawyer's questions, said that she had lived at 586 Fifth Avenue for the past twenty-seven years, and that both she and her husband had considered it their home in every sense.

During recess Miss Hands, the Plant housekeeper, produced a good-sized lunch basket and Mrs. Plant, her lawyers, and the housekeeper partook of the contents in the courtroom.

At the afternoon session Mrs. Plant was recalled and gave a great deal of testimony about a visit she made to New Haven in reference to her husband's personal property. She quoted ex-Judge Harrison as saying that he had put a large amount of securities in his wife's dress closet until a safe place could be secured for them. The witness told of a conversation she had had about a bill for $200 that had been paid. She had asked ex-Judge Harrison what it was for.

"He said," went on Mrs. Plant, "that the money was paid to ex-Gov. Ingersoll to see Probate Judge Cleveland and get him to hurry up with the probating of the will."

Albert B. Plant of Bramford, Conn., a distant relative of the dead millionaire, testified that he had always understood that New York was the legal residence of Mr. Plant. The case will be continued to-day.

DESPERADO MAKES BOLD FIGHT.

Surprised and Overpowered at Midnight —Shoots Two Officers.

LOGANSPORT, Ind., Jan. 17.—Marvin Kuhns, the desperado who has terrorized Northern Indiana for weeks and boldly defied the officers of two States, by a singular fatality finds himself in the Cass County Jail, in the very town in which he made a desperate battle for life and liberty on the afternoon of Dec. 10.

Kuhns and his brother, who was released from Columbus prison shortly after Marvin escaped, were taken after a desperate fight last night at Green Hill, a little town five miles south of Otterbein, and west of Lafayette. An Otterbein posse surrounded the house and rushed in at midnight. Marvin was awake, and seized a revolver at his bedside. Before he could fire Elmer Switser shot him in the face and the posse closed in. One man jumped from the second story window and escaped, but the brothers were overpowered after a struggle in which shots were exchanged. Wounded as he was, Marvin partially shook off the attacking party and shot H. Volt in the back and Lewis Hawkins in the arm. Neither was fatally injured.

Marvin says if he had been given a fair show he would have cleaned out the posse. The wound in his face is not serious.

LONG HUNT FOR 2-CENT ERROR.

Union Hill Councilmen Burn 50 Cents' Worth of Midnight Gas in Finding It.

When the Union Hill Town Council was about to adjourn at 10 o'clock P. M. on Wednesday the Finance Committee discovered that there was a discrepancy of 2 cents between the account for the week's expenditures and the cash in hand. Committeemen Diemer, Rannenberg, and Schmidt at once started a hunt for the error. They kept at it unsuccessfully until midnight, when Councilman Schmidt said he would rather pay the 2 cents than waste any more time over it. He went home. His colleagues said they would find the error if it took all night. It was after 1 o'clock A. M. when they discovered that a bill for $1.26 had been entered at $1.24. Then they went home happy.

Janitor Butz, who was obliged to remain at his post during all the weary search, says that the discovery of the 2 cents cost the town 50 cents' worth of gas.

WHAT A MASTER RECORD IS.

A master record is one made directly from the original source of the sound. Band records must have an entire band play each selection through for each record, and similarly for each song record the song must be sung—a slow and costly process.

Ordinarily records are made from these original or master records and others are made from these again, but at each duplication there is a loss of volume and timbre—nothing equals the master. It has no rasping or mechanical sounds. For this reason the masters have always been cheap at $1.00.

10,000 GUARANTEED MASTER RECORDS AT 45c.

We place on sale for the rest of this week 10,000 Records, every one guaranteed to be an original master, or money refunded. These include songs, band, orchestral and instrumental selections, speeches, etc., every one loud, sweet and clear. The selections were rendered by leading artists and prominent bands and orchestras. Not one has been made over two months, so that they embrace the new and popular airs, as well as the standard classical music. MASTER RECORDS IMPART TO YOUR ORDINARY INSTRUMENT ALMOST THE EFFECT OF A $100 GRAND.

45c

NOTE.—During this sale these records will be played constantly, but we cannot undertake to try each record. Each is guaranteed a master, however.

MAIL ORDERS.—Mail orders from out of town will be accepted till next Thursday upon the understanding that if specified selections cannot be furnished we will use our judgment in substituting.

ROBT. H. INGERSOLL & BRO., New York.
67 Cortlandt St. | Two Stores | 111 Nassau St

STEWART BUILDING,
Broadway, Corner Chambers St.

The Great Reduction Sale Goes On.

We told our tale—a tale of honest, bold and startling reductions that has brought us a Tidal Wave of Trade. The gigantic OVERCOAT, RAGLAN and SUIT stock—the immense TROUSER, FURNISHING, SHOE and HAT Departments are pouring out great volumes of the finest and best merchandise in the land, because this is a fair and square sale and outrivals all.

FRANK L. TAYLOR CLOTHING CO

BROADWAY cor. CHAMBERS ST.

Open Saturday Night Late

Buy a

Sparklet Bottle

and buy one to-day. At a cost of 2½ cents a pint you can make any sparkling drink for yourself—water, wine, tea, milk. It gives all the sparkle of life.

Buy a Sparklet bottle at your druggist's or grocer's, or at our store, 1127 Broadway. Buy one anywhere, but buy one.

STOLEN STOCK RECOVERED.

Was Taken from Rochester Man Last September—Replevined from Ladenburg, Thalmann & Co. Yesterday.

ROCHESTER, Jan. 17.—The fact that Elon C. Galusha, a prominent citizen, was robbed of stock certificates valued at nearly $5,000 on Sunday, Sept. 13 last, has just been made public. The robbery, which is supposed to have been accomplished by an organized band of pickpockets, occurred in the lobby of the local Post Office. Mr. Galusha did not report the matter as a robbery, but persistently advertised the certificates as lost, offering $100 reward for their return. Yesterday the Sheriff of New York County at New York replevined the stock, which was in the hands of a responsible New York firm of brokers, who had received it from London.

It is quite evident that the thieves disposed of the stock in London, and, as there were 100 shares of Southern Pacific Railway stock, all indorsed with Mr. Galusha's name, together with seven shares of Northern Pacific, indorsement to which was probably forged, it is safe to say that between $3,000 and $4,000 was realized by the robbers.

Deputy Sheriff Roberts yesterday said that he had replevined a stock certificate for 100 shares of the Southern Pacific Company, valued at $4,300, from Ladenburg, Thalmann & Co., at the instance of Elon C. Galusha of Rochester, who claimed that it had been stolen from his pocket at Rochester on Sept. 13 last, and, under an agreement between the attorneys of all parties concerned, he would hold the certificate for thirty days. The certificate is No. E 10,651.

The replevin was directed against both the firm and the Southern Pacific Company, as it was alleged that they had refused to deliver the certificate to Mr. Galusha. The certificate was presented on Jan. 12 at the office of the Southern Pacific Company in New York City for transfer. It was also alleged by Mr. Galusha that he believed the firm received the certificate in some capacity from the thief, who is unknown to Mr. Galusha, or from some person to whom the thief delivered the certificate.

Robbers Torture an Old Man.

SHAMOKIN, Penn., Jan. 17.—Martin Reich, aged sixty-two years, who lived alone at his home here, was the victim of a brutal assault by masked burglars early this morning, who also subjected Reich to frightful torture to induce him to tell them where his earnings were hidden. The burglars, five in number, overpowered the old man and applied red-hot pokers to his body and feet until he finally told them where the money could be found. This amounted to $133.60. After dividing the money among them, the burglars pounced upon Reich and kicked him until he was almost dead. They then made their escape.

Rich and Soft as Cream is

Hunter Whiskey

It is pure from the beginning and in 10 years becomes the finest type of whiskey made.

A. B. HART and FRANK MORA, Representatives
38 William St., New York, N. Y.

Thousands of Households Know

Hale's Honey of Horehound and Tar

to be the best of remedies for colds and coughs. Your druggist will supply you.

Pike's Toothache Drops Cure in One Minute.

The New York Times.

"All the News That's Fit to Print."

PUBLISHED EVERY DAY IN THE YEAR.

NEW YORK, FRIDAY, JAN. 18, 1901.

OFFICES:

NEW YORK:
Publication Office.....41 Park Row
All American District Telegraph Offices.
WASHINGTON.....515 Fourteenth St.
SWITZERLAND, Geneva: P. Drehmann, Librairie Nouvelle, Rue du Mont Blanc.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

BY MAIL, POSTAGE PAID.

DAILY, per Month	$0.50
DAILY, per Year	6.00
DAILY AND SUNDAY, per Year	7.50
SUNDAY, per Year	1.50
MONDAY, with Financial Supplement, per Year	1.00
DAILY AND SUNDAY, per Month	0.65
THE NEW YORK TIMES SATURDAY REVIEW, per Year	1.00

For postage to foreign countries add 80 cents per month.

FOURTEEN PAGES

THE TROUBLE IN VENEZUELA.

It is better from every point of view that the United States and Venezuela should settle their differences by reason, argument, and law than by means of warships. We must assume that President CASTRO's attempt to dispossess the asphalt company is made in pursuance of what he supposes to be the laws of his country. We know that the United States asks nothing more, and will accept nothing less, than the just treatment of American owners of property there under the laws of the republic. In a dispute over property rights Venezuela ought certainly to allow sufficient time for a judicial determination of the matter before she proceeds to execute a snap judgment by dispossess proceedings.

The fact seems to be that President CASTRO has attempted to annul by an executive decree the concession and property rights of the asphalt company, in the face of the Federal and State laws and legislative enactments and Court of Appeals decisions confirming its title. It appears that in 1883 the New York and Bermudez Company obtained from the Government of Venezuela a concession giving it the exclusive right for twenty-five years to dig and take asphalt in the State of Bermudez. The President and Federal Council granted the concession under the provision of the Constitution of 1881 giving to the Federal Government the right of administration of mining property, the title to which, however, is reserved to the States in which the mine is situated. The Legislature confirmed the grant. The company then acquired the mining rights in the asphalt lake near Guanoco, and later purchased in fee simple the lands under the lake and around it. An attempt was made in 1897 to deprive the New York and Bermudez Company of its property and rights, in order that they might be conferred on native Venezuelans. The Court of Appeals declared this proceeding to be contrary to law, the decree null and void, and specially affirmed the validity of the company's title.

The rights of the company are therefore based upon a Federal concession ratified by the Legislature, upon mining privileges secured according to law, upon ownership in fee simple, and upon a judicial affirmation of title by the highest court in the land. Furthermore, it has enjoyed possession for thirteen years, during which time it has spent large sums in developing the property, in building docks, tramways, refineries, and it has created the village of Guanoco, from which it runs steamships to New York. It has paid to the Government of Venezuela a royalty upon every ton of asphalt taken.

Certain persons, said to be Americans, having come into possession of claims pronounced void by the courts in 1897, have now persuaded the President of Venezuela to grant them an exclusive concession to take asphalt from the lake belonging to the New York and Bermudez Company. The company pointed to its own title and respectfully denied his authority to molest it. Dispossess proceedings were threatened, and recent dispatches indicate that a forcible ejection of the company will be attempted, even if it has not already been accomplished, in spite of the remonstrances of the State Department at Washington.

It is the policy and custom of this country to protect its citizens residing or having property in foreign countries from wrong and injury inflicted contrary to the laws of the locality. Secretary of State CASS stated the uniform principle when he said "the United States believe it to be their duty, and they mean to execute it, to watch over the persons and property of their citizens in foreign countries and to intervene for their protection when such action is justified by existing circumstances and by the law of nations." It would not be our duty or our policy to resist any process of ejectment attempted against the New York and Bermudez Company if such process were in accordance with the laws of Venezuela. Americans abroad must submit themselves to the laws of the country equally with native citizens or subjects. But a proceeding as to which there is good cause to suppose that it is contrary to local law, wrongful, and oppressive cannot pass without our notice and remonstrance, and if persisted in may lead to our active interference. The orders to the Scorpion and the Kearsarge are ominous of trouble that the sober-minded people of both republics will hope may be averted.

The President of Venezuela holds his office by virtue of a recent successful revolution. Whether from an undue assumption of power or from an incomplete understanding of the questions of right involved, he has not succeeded in convincing, or has not tried to convince, the State Department of the legality of the attempt to oust the asphalt company, and he has apparently not been willing to await the result of a judicial hearing. It seems to us that this is clearly a case to be determined by an appeal to the court of arbitration. The courts of Venezuela have affirmed the title of the company. The Executive attempts to annul it. He must have reasons that could be stated before a court of impartial arbitrators. That would be an honorable way out of a difficulty that in the extreme case would be disagreeable for us and not profitable for Venezuela.

The Government of that republic, and of all the Central and South American republics, can well understand that the confiscation of the property of Americans is not a good way to encourage the use of American capital for the development of their resources. In the coming years an increasing part of the capital of the United States will be employed in foreign investments. There is thought to be a great field for its use in the countries to the south of us. Under the protection of just laws and friendly Governments the money of citizens of the United States would accomplish wonders in opening up the resources and augmenting the national wealth of these republics. But capital will not go where it is liable to violent seizure. We hope the President of Venezuela will consider this aspect of his present action.

RALLYING FOR THE SUBSIDY.

The Republican Senators will meet in conference this morning to see what can be done with the various bills on which there has been some quarreling among them, and especially with the Ship Subsidy bill.

This latter scheme has felt the keen point of Mr. WHITELAW REID'S knife under its fifth rib at the moment that the urbane and experienced diplomatist was asking Senator FRYE, How is it with thee, my brother? The knife took the form of an entirely unanswerable question as to whom exactly the bill would help. To this Mr. FRYE, with contortions not unnatural in the trying circumstances, was compelled to make a most general and indefinite and incomplete answer. That seems to have been what Mr. REID expected, and the correspondence stops at that point. Meanwhile, the Republican opposition to the subsidy measure has become so acute and bids fair to be so obstinate that it is announced in The Tribune that at the conference to-day "a practically new" bill will be presented by Senator FRYE. Following is the rather Delphic utterance of The Tribune's correspondent on the subject:

> Senator FRYE, as the chief promoter of ship bounty legislation and as Chairman of the Committee on Commerce, presumably will present the new bill to the caucus. In its phraseology, as well as in its broadened scope, the proposed new bill will neither hurt the pride of authorship nor destroy the credit of initiative, while at the same time it will meet the views of that influential group of Western Republicans who have been threatening trouble for the original measure. If this is done the filibustering programme of PETTIGREW and other Demo-Pops against all shipping legislation cannot amount to much, because there will be a solid Republican majority to meet the filibusters at every point with a matured purpose and a carefully laid programme.

We do not pretend to understand what the new bill is to be from this description of it, and we suppose that it was not intended to be understood. But it is plain that the only hope of passing the bill at this session lies in pretty completely changing its scope and the distribution of the money under it. The only fair way to meet the opposition of the farmers of the West would be to pay the subsidy directly on the actual goods exported, no matter in what sort of a ship. That at least would assure the farmer that he was getting all the benefit of the money that could be got. It would be an unjustifiable abuse of the power of appropriation, and the farmer might just as fairly ask that his railroad freight be paid out of the Treasury as to ask that his ocean freight be paid. But there would be no cheating in the operation. There would be a definite and calculable benefit from the subsidy. It would not be paid professedly for one object to a lot of gentlemen who are at liberty to use it for their own advantage and are in nowise accountable for the attainment of the professed object.

No such honest and businesslike amendment of the bill can be expected from Senator FRYE'S committee. Our opinion is that the measure will go through substantially as a job, or that it will not go through at all. It is only as a job that it interests the powerful interests that are behind it. The scheme has no support in the public mind. It appeals to no large class. It does not even meet the selfish demands of any large class. It does not satisfy any general sentiment. It is not popular as a partisan measure. It is a big business proposition that Senator HANNA has taken hold of and is pushing as he would push a deal in his own large affairs. The bill in any shape that it is likely to take ought to be defeated, and if the majority threaten the minority with a special session in consequence, let the threat be carried out. It will hurt only those responsible for it.

DELAWARE AND MONTANA.

"Speak what thou canst of the Accomplishment of Desire," is the demand that one of Mr. KIPLING'S characters, an Indian Mohammedan of princely blood, sojourning in London, imputes to his like correspondent remaining in India.

In these United States, "the accomplishment of desire" is subjected to strange vagaries. Here, for instance, seems Mr. ADDICKS, temporarily of Delaware, to be balked of his desire, which he has been pursuing with singular singleness for a series of years, of buying himself a seat from that Commonwealth in the Senate of the United States. And, at the same time, it seems that Mr. W. A. CLARK of Montana has succeeded in the accomplishment of the same desire.

It is not novel that a man who has grown rich in other paths than that of attention to public duty should desire to crown a successful commercial career by the acquisition of distinctions irrelevant to his activities. The present composition of the United States Senate is the most complete proof that these aspirations have too extensively succeeded. The election of QUAY, upon which we have already commented, was without doubt discreditable, but it was not irrelevant. It is more creditable to Pennsylvania that a boss should have been once defeated, and again chosen by a narrow margin to the Senatorship, than to New York that its boss should have been chosen to that post without any other than the futile and absurd opposition of our present Ambassador to England, who, before he could be sent as an Ambassador to England, was forced publicly to "ko tow" to the boss as "our honored leader."

Still, the activities of QUAY and PLATT have at least been political and relevant to the Senatorship. The activities of CLARK and ADDICKS have been nothing of the kind. We do not now recall any other instances of Americans who, having acquired fortune and notoriety by arts entirely outside of politics, have so persistently sought political preferment by open purchase. They have set out to buy Senatorships, exactly as they might have set out to equip themselves with steam yachts or picture galleries, or any other appurtenances that they might have thought themselves in a position to afford. Even Mr. HANNA did interest himself in politics before he aspired to be a Senator.

One has been taken and the other has been left. The difference is, without doubt, creditable to Delaware and discreditable to Montana. It is doubtless, in the major part, the difference between an old community and a new. Neither of these States is very populous or very rich. But Delaware is old. Hence there has arisen there a feeling of State pride which makes a larger number of citizens interest and bestir themselves to avert from it the dishonor of being represented by ADDICKS than, in a new State like Montana, would similarly be agitated to resent and resist the election of CLARK. The crude and brutal methods of "the accomplishment of desire" which are efficient in Montana are not to the same extent efficient in Delaware.

A curious case is presented by the "vindication" of CLARK. A report of the committee of the Senate to which his case, upon the occasion of his former purported election, was referred, differing in detail, according to the politics of its respective members, yet agreed in imputing to him the offense of bribery. But, by a timely "resignation" of an office he did not hold, doubtless under advice of a capable criminal lawyer, CLARK prevented this report from becoming the decision of the Senate. If it had become so, he must have been declared ineligible when he came up with a fresh set of purchased credentials, since one conviction of crime must bar the convict from the Senate. But his commission of this crime is not, as the case stands, a matter of record, but merely of notoriety. So there will be a conflict between Senatorial self-respect and whatever influences are making for the admission of CLARK. We do not pretend to forecast the result of that struggle. But the renewed rejection of ADDICKS is a matter for unfeigned public congratulation.

COL. BURT'S "DEMOCRACY."

The local Republican organ in Albany, The Evening Journal, calls the attention of the Democratic papers of the State to what it calls the "good faith" of the Governor in insisting that Col. BURT shall be replaced by a Democrat duly accepted as such by the organization. It trusts that the Democrats will give the Governor credit for this maintenance of what it plainly regards as the rights of the opposition.

This is a very common conception of the requirement of the law and of equity of the situation, but we think that it is wholly erroneous. The law does not require that there shall be any Democrat on the commission at all. It simply provides that not more than two of the Commissioners shall be "adherents of the same political party." As two of the present Commissioners are unquestionably adherents of the Republican Party, the law is fully met if the third is not an adherent of that party. He may be a Democrat of the Tammany stripe; he may be one of Mr. DAVID B. HILL'S undefined group; he may be a Prohibitionist; he may be, as The Journal seems to think that Col. BURT is, a Mugwump, or he may even be one of the highly respectable little company that in the last campaign had no candidate for whom they cared to vote. In any of these cases he would completely fill the requirement of the law, which is, and is intended to be, entirely negative.

It is plain that if Gov. ODELL acted on the theory attributed to him, he acted wholly on his own discretion and not at all in obedience to the law. Had he regarded the place of Commissioner as a piece of patronage which the law meant to give to the Democrats when the Republicans were in power, we suppose it would only be playing the game fairly to see that the Democrats got their patronage. But that would be a strangely twisted view of his duty. The commission ought not to be filled by partisans of either party. Its whole work is to carry out the provision of the Constitution which sets merit and fitness above all other qualifications for appointment to the service of the State and of the divisions thereof. For this work partisans are not adapted, and by a careful and scrupulous Governor would not be appointed. The Governor has made a serious mistake in this matter, and all attempts to explain it so far only make it worse.

LORD ROSEBERY'S OBITER DICTUM.

It is a decade of years ago, if indeed it be not more, since Lord ROSEBERY put himself at the head of the "Imperial Federation" of Great Britain and her colonies. The federation was evidently a Customs Union, a Zollverein, if it had any purpose at all, and aimed at a series of preferential tariffs. It did not "go," by reason of the weight of opinion in some of the colonies, that they respectively knew more of their own interests, and cared more about them, than the mother country did or could. The same notion was flirted with by other Greater Britons, among them by Mr. CHAMBERLAIN. But Lord ROSEBERY was a pioneer, a distinction for which he now, for fairly obvious reasons, avoids claiming credit.

It is an "obiter dictum" in his latest deliverance upon the commercial difficulties of England that will mainly attract the attention of Americans. His statement of the increasing discouragements of British trade, what with German and American competition, has been anticipated. The British public is in need of no illumination upon that point, being sufficiently concerned with it already, although Lord ROSEBERY is undoubtedly entitled to the credit of a long prevision. His "obiter dictum" is conveyed by the cable, doubtless to the disadvantage of the form in which he stated it, in these terms:

> A curious feature, if I may say so without impertinence, seems to be that in combination with the American faculty for the acquisition of money there is a complete contempt for money except as a means of making more and more for power. These millionaires of whom we hear so much are often men of simple lives, whose simple rule is to make enormous accumulations in order to acquire more power.

The statement, even in these abridged terms, does undoubtedly mark a difference in points of view which it is creditable to Lord ROSEBERY'S intelligence to have perceived. A late American multimillionaire, not of the exemplary kind, was, during his lifetime, quoted as saying, in reply to an inquiry, "Do you care about money for itself?" "No, I care about it for myself." The joke was cheap and easy. And yet it is the fact that the American who hunts largely for riches is hunting them merely for a "vindication." The acquirement of them is "success." It is a mark of superiority, of power. When he has acquired this, the American "operator" is more careless what becomes of his winnings, which are to him stakes in a great game, than the successful man of any other nationality. He will, to drop into painful slang, "blow them in" on "any old thing"—hospitals, libraries, even churches. Meanwhile, the slow European grubber for a fortune has set before himself, at the outset of his career; the desirableness of so much money as a requisite to the establishment of such and such a social position for himself and his family. Not being in a game, he means to stop when he has arrived. The American operator has no idea of a "limit." The perception of the difference does credit to Lord ROSEBERY'S intelligence. But the difference does not help the British prospect in the international competition.

How to Stop Hazing.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

It is a simple matter to stop hazing. College officers, when they assert that they cannot prevent the practice, mean that they cannot prevent it by ordinary college punishments. The real difficulty is that they, like the public generally, habitually regard hazing as an amusing, boyish prank. Hazing is, in fact, the crime of assault. That crime should be treated, when it occurs in a college or school, just as it is treated when it occurs elsewhere. A person committing it should be arrested, indicted, convicted, and imprisoned, like other convicts, with cropped hair and a striped suit. One such conviction would stop the dirty business.

G. C. H.

New York, Jan. 12, 1901.

NUGGETS.

Poverty's Penalty.

"Poverty's no crime," said the Job's comforter. "Maybe not," replied the poor man, "but it seems to be punishable by hard labor for life."—Philadelphia Record.

Uncle Tom's Cabin.

"I've been to a heap of shows, but I never seen two people act more like they was really fond of each other than Little Eva and Mr. St. Clair."

"Huh! Of course! She's his mother."—Indianapolis Press.

Not Up to Sample.

"How do you buy your apples? By the barrel?"

"That's the way I try to buy them, but when I get them home I generally find I have bought them by the top layer."—Chicago Tribune.

Philadelphia Feline Duplicity.

It was during the natural history hour.

"Give me," asked the teacher, "an example of the alleged deceitful character of the cat."

"In restaurants it is sometimes said to pass itself off for a rabbit," answered the head boy.—Philadelphia Times.

THE FOUNT OF YOUTH.

From The Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

The fount of youth has oft been sought
Since days of long ago,
And oft in fancy men have seen
Its living waters flow.
Through desert, swamp, and wilderness
The search has been pursued,
In hope that by the magic fount
Youth's charms might be renewed.

But men have turned from that vain quest,
Their hopes forever crushed,
For though they searched through all the world
No magic fountain gushed.
And men resigned themselves to age
That robbed them of their grace,
That sapped their strength and thickly spread
Time's wrinkles on the face.

In later years men's thoughts have turned
To plans for longer life,
And in elixirs they have sought
New strength for daily strife.
And oft 'tis heralded abroad
That scientist or sage
Has finally evolved a plan
To stay the blight of age.

But men grow old, and women, too,
As in the days of yore,
For no elixirs they have tried
Their youthful charms restore.
And as they can't deceive themselves
Some seek to hide the truth,
And dye or bleach their hair and paint
On cheeks the hues of youth.

The fount of youth is in each heart,
And those who keep it pure
Will longer hold the charms of youth
And length of life secure.
And when at last that fountain fails,
And old age on them steals,
They'll bear it well because no man
Is older than he feels.

PRUSSIAN BI-CENTENARY

Berlin Gayly Decorated for the Celebration Yesterday.

KAISER'S THANKS TO THE DIET

Says Kings of Prussia Could Never Have Done What They Did Without the Help of the People.

BERLIN, Jan. 17.—The celebration of the bi-centenary of the Kingdom of Prussia began this morning in the midst of all the pageantry befitting such an occasion. The weather was cold and clear, and all Berlin was in holiday attire. Many thousands of flags waved from housetops and windows.

By noon immense crowds had gathered along Unter den Linden, around the Schloss, and in the vicinity of the Armory. Thousands of people from the provinces were on hand to witness the sights.

The first official ceremony was the trooping of the Guards' colors in the courtyard of the Armory.

Emperor William, the Crown Prince, and the Duke of Connaught arrived from the castle on foot. After an inspection of the color company they proceeded to the covered court, where the Princes, Generals, and officers' deputations awaited them. The Empress watched the proceedings from the palace balcony. Gen. von Bock-Polach, on behalf of the officers' corps, congratulated his Majesty on the occasion of the celebration, and called for three cheers for the Emperor, which were heartily given, and accompanied by the band playing "Heil dir im Siegers Kranz," the Prussian national hymn.

In his speech in reply, the Emperor, referring to the navy, said:

"The Great Elector first had an idea of a navy during his stay in the Netherlands. The German Navy, as well as the House of Hohenzollern, is deeply indebted to the House of Orange for the ideas which were then foreshadowed. In the future I hope our navy will develop, and that our officers will press forward without ceasing."

After the Emperor had replied the march past was carried out, and the Emperor and his party then returned to the castle.

At about noon the Knights of the Black Eagle were summoned to attend a chapter, held in the hall of the knights, under the Presidency of Emperor William, for the investiture of the new knights, including Crown Prince Frederick William, Prince George of Saxony, Prince Rupert of Bavaria, Count von Bülow, and Gen. Planitz. The function was the usual elaborate ceremonial, the Emperor personally decorating the new knights with the chain of the order and giving them the accolade.

Altogether fifty-two Knights of the Black Eagle were present at the investiture, among them three foreign knights—the Duke of Connaught of England, Archduke Francis Ferdinand of Austria, and Grand Duke Vladimir of Russia. The whole Court, together with the highest State, army, and navy officials, stood in four rows on both sides of the throne. Emperor William wore a big crown, whose diamonds alone aggregated 750 carats, besides pearls and one enormous sapphire, the whole crown weighing three pounds. The royal insignia were borne upon cushions by pages on the right and left.

During the Crown Prince's investiture Princes Henry, Frederick, and Leopold acted as parrains, or sponsors. It was especially remarked that the bearing of Count von Bülow during the magnificent ceremonies—rendered more impressive by trumpeters attired in mediaeval costume and placed in the Knights' Hall and above on the galleries, where they blew fanfares from silver trumpets—was modest, while the Kaiser showed the Imperial Chancellor marked favor.

Luncheon subsequently was attended by the members of the imperial family and the royal and princely guests.

There were 120 guests at the banquet in the royal castle this evening. Emperor William and the Empress sat opposite each other. The Duke of Aosta and Grand Duke Vladimir sat with the Emperor, and the Duke of Connaught and Archduke Francis Ferdinand sat with the Empress.

This evening the streets are illuminated and filled with people.

Throughout the whole day his Majesty was in high spirits. During the afternoon, accompanied by the Duke of Connaught, he drove to Charlottenburg, the people cheering him along the route.

Emperor William, the Empress, and the Court dropped for the time the mourning donned in tribute to the late Grand Duke of Saxe-Weimar.

No fewer than a hundred Principalities are represented in the celebration. The universities, high schools, and academies celebrated to-day or will do so to-morrow. To-day their delegations placed wreaths on the monuments of Frederick I. and William I.

The Berlin Academy of Arts has arranged a historic exposition for the present month in connection with the anniversary. The Merchants' Guild has appropriated 50,000 marks for charitable purposes in honor of the bi-centenary, and the Prusslan Veterans' Association has handed to Emperor William a fund of 120,000 marks accumulated for the relief of disabled veterans, the Kaiser accepting it with thanks.

In the lower house of the Diet to-day the President of the House read Emperor William's reply to the congratulations of the House on the bi-centenary. His Majesty declared he was well aware that the Kings of Prussia would never have been able to achieve such prominence in the world's history without the support of the people, which supplied them with officers, soldiers, and officials of all classes. These were so able that their equals could scarcely be found in any other nation. He was confident that the same spirit which raised Prussia to her present eminence would continue forever to animate the people.

Three cheers were given for his Majesty.

FRENCH ASSOCIATIONS BILL.

Reporter of the Measure Says the Anger Over It Is Mostly Artificial.

PARIS, Jan. 17.—In the Chamber of Deputies to-day the debate on the proposed Law of Associations was continued, Deputies listening to two long speeches from directly opposite positions.

Jacques Lieu, (Deputy for St. Gaudens,) representing the allied Liberal Catholics, pleaded for liberty and for fidelity to the ideas of the old National faith.

Georges Trouillot, (Republican, Deputy for Lons-le-Saulnier,) who is the official reporter of the measure, spoke for the committee, and clearly described the limits and object of the bill. Hereafter, he explained, all associations, religious or non-religious, would be free, and only when associations attempted to live as communities would the special laws be invoked. In conclusion he exhorted the Chamber to pass the bill, asserting that the anger which it had aroused was, for the most part, artificial.

During the speech of M. Trouillot a stranger in the gallery cried out:

"You scoff at the people and the Representatives of the Republic."

An attendant immediately removed him, but the incident created momentary excitement. The disturber proved to be a lawyer who was at one time a student in one of the Jesuit institutions.

The Marriage of Queen Wilhelmina.

THE HAGUE, Jan. 17.—The state entry into Amsterdam of Queen Wilhelmina and the Prince Consort (Duke Henry of Mecklenburg-Schwerin) has been fixed for March 5.

This announcement from The Hague seems to set at rest the stories of disagreements as to settlements and citizenship which have repeatedly appeared recently from various quarters. The marriage of the young Queen of Holland is to take place on Feb. 6, according to the announcements from The Hague.

The International Chess Matches.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—Up to the present neither the British Chess Club nor the chess clubs of Oxford and Cambridge have been able to fix the dates for the annual cable matches between the Brooklyn Chess Club and the chess clubs of Columbia, Harvard, Yale, and Princeton, respectively. It is, however, expected that the British Chess Club will offer April 23 and April 24, and the universities dates in May.

Toast to "The Pope and the Queen."

LONDON, Jan. 17.—The Earl of Denbigh, presiding this evening at the banquet of the Catholic Association in the place of the Duke of Norfolk, who is ill with a cold, proposed "The Pope and the Queen." He said: "We join the two because we regard spiritual welfare as taking precedence of temporal welfare, but we are not the less loyal subjects."

AMERICAN-BRITISH RIVALRY.

Mr. Chamberlain Speaks on the Need for Better Educational Facilities in the United Kingdom.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—The Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, as Chancellor of Birmingham University, made a speech to the Governors to-day on the need of the United Kingdom for higher educational facilities. He said no one could read Lord Rosebery's speech of last evening at the annual banquet of the Wolverhampton Chamber of Commerce, the subject being "The Great Commercial Warfare Being Waged Against England," without being impressed with the deficiencies of England.

Mr. Chamberlain alluded to the series of articles published in The Times on the superiority of American manufacturing appliances and methods, and to Great Britain's general commercial position as somewhat falling behind. It was a critical time, he remarked.

Mr. Chamberlain referred approvingly to the fact that, with the growth of individual wealth in the United States, had grown a sense of responsibility, the donations to philanthropic objects amounting in some cases to millions of pounds sterling.

TOLSTOI'S RULE OF FRACTIONS.

He Says a Man's Real Merit Is the Numerator and His Opinion of Himself the Denominator.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 17.—Count Tolstoi chatted entertainingly at the close of an amateur theatrical performance at Moscow last night. He declared that amateurs often surpassed professional actors, because they were untrammeled by tradition and were consequently simpler and more natural. He gave high praise to M. Chekoff, the author whose piece had been played, declaring his short, humorous efforts particularly successful. Count Tolstoi then suddenly added:

"Ibsen was much greater, and he pleased much better, in the first half of his literary career than in the latter half, because he was not so self-conscious and pretentious. The worst that can happen to an author is to think much of himself. Men are fractions. I call the soul, the best qualities, the real merit of a man, the numerator, and the opinion he has of himself the denominator. The larger the denominator, you know, the smaller the importance of the numerator."

MURDER ON ENGLISH TRAIN.

Man Killed and Woman Wounded on Southwestern Road—The Murderer Caught.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—A sensational murder was committed yesterday afternoon on a train of the London and Southwestern Railroad. The murderer entered a carriage in which were Mrs. King of Southampton and W. Pearson of Winchester at East Leigh. When passing Surbiton the man drew a revolver, killed Pearson and wounded Mrs. King in the cheek. He then rifled the pockets of Pearson.

The murderer jumped out of the train at Vauxhall, but was pursued and captured. The police, thus far, decline to give the man's name.

THE DOMINICAN DISPUTE.

Government Threatens to Expel Director of the New York Company.

SANTO DOMINGO, Jan. 17.—The Government has demanded that the Resident Director of the San Domingo Improvement Company of New York withdraw his notice (of Jan. 15) which declared null and void the Government's disposition and collection of customs duties, and reserved the company's rights against all merchants who pay duties to the Treasury. The Director is informed that in case of his refusal to withdraw the notice his passport will be given to him.

The refusal of the improvement company officials to sign liquidations for customs duties will cause the suspension of the payment of salaries to some of the Government officials. The Chamber of Commerce is paying duties to the Treasury. The Government is firm in the stand it has taken.

ST. PETERSBURG IMPROVEMENTS.

Information for Americans Who Wish to Send Proposals.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 17.—Not long ago some one advertised in a New York paper, in the name of the St. Petersburg municipality, that the city intended to introduce a modern drainage system, and invited American engineers and capitalists to submit propositions.

The advertisement was not quite clear, but it is understood that the idea was to solve the question of the disposal of garbage at the same time. A number of persons wrote to Consul General Holloway, asking for the special information and drawings which, the advertisement stated, could be had upon application at the City Hall.

Col. Holloway sent to the City Hall, and was informed that there were two sets of papers. One was to be sold for 15 rubles, the other for 50, while on a third set, now in preparation, no price has yet been placed.

PAUL JULES BARBIER DEAD.

Author of Many Dramatic Works—Librettist of Gounod's "Faust."

PARIS, Jan. 17.—Paul Jules Barbier, the French dramatic author and the librettist of "Faust" and many other well-known operas, died to-day. He was born in Paris March 8, 1825.

Besides being the author of the words of Gounod's masterpiece, M. Barbier wrote about twenty comedies and dramas and the libretti of nearly one hundred operas and opéras comiques. His first success was a drama in verse, which was presented under the title of "La Poëte," at the Théâtre Français in 1847. Then came "Amour et Bergerie," at the Odéon in 1848, and "André Chénier," at the Porte Saint Martin in 1849. His most prolific period in the production of comedies and dramas was between 1850 and 1885, when he wrote and presented, among others, "Un Drame de Famille," "La Loterie du Mariage," "Princess et Favorite," and "Néron," an ambitious tragedy in verse.

In the meantime, principally in collaboration with his friend M. Carré, M. Barbier wrote the libretti to "Le Noces de Figaro," "La Reine de Saba," "Romeo et Juliette," "Jeanne d'Arc," "Paul et Virginie," "Françoise de Rimini," and, to the music of Rubinstein, an operatic version of his tragedy "Néron," which was first produced in 1885. In the same year he translated the comic opera of Nicolai, which he called "Les Joyeuses Commères de Windsor," which met with only moderate success. He also published two volumes of poems and one of patriotic verse.

Spanish Government Denounced.

MADRID, Jan. 17.—The Liberal to-day publishes a vigorous indictment of the present régime, written by Señor Pi y Margall, the chief of the Republican-Federal Party. He says that after the closing of the Cortes the nation is less hopeful and more fearful regarding the future. He adds: "The budget has not been discussed, the Treasury debt is unpaid, we still owe the bank over 1,000,000,000 pesetas, ($205,000,000,) agricultural wealth has not increased, and fanaticism is spreading in consequence of the support the Government has given the Church, which is attacking democratic institutions and the sacred rights of man. The Government constitutes the best friend of Carlism. All dynastic governments are powerless to break the chain between King and Pope."

Burial of the Bishop of London.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—The burial of the Bishop of London, who died on Jan. 14, took place in St. Paul's Cathedral this morning. Dr. Creighton is the only Bishop of London buried there since John King, whose body was laid to rest in the cathedral 280 years ago. The ceremony, which was profoundly impressive, was attended by great numbers of prelates of all denominations, headed by the Archbishop of Canterbury, who officiated at the graveside. The Queen, Emperor William of Germany, the Prince of Wales, and the Duke of York sent representatives and floral tributes. Several of the Ambassadors, including United States Ambassador Choate, were present.

Ten Killed by German Mine Explosion.

ESSEN, Jan. 17.—An explosion at the Koenig Ludwig Mine, at Recklinghausen, Westphalia, has caused the death of ten persons.

THE BOSTON ORCHESTRA.

Hugo Becker, 'Cellist, Plays for the First Time Here.

The Boston Symphony Orchestra gave its third evening concert last night at Carnegie Hall. The clerk of the weather has no love for the concerts of the music-makers of the East in this town, and he always makes a brew and a stew of it to their discomfort. People were long in forcing their carriages to the entrance last night, but when every one had finally arrived, it was seen that there was a goodly audience, which might have been larger had nature been smiling instead of weeping cold tears. The programme of last night's concert consisted of Schumann's Overture, Scherzo, and Finale, Haydn's concerto in D major for 'cello, and Richard Strauss's symphonic fantasy "From Italy." The soloist was Hugo Becker, a noted German 'cellist, who made his first appearance in this city.

Neither of the orchestral numbers requires extended comment at this time. The Schumann composition is well known to local music lovers, though it is not played now as often as it was before the era of dazzling orchestral color pictures. It delights by its simplicity, its melody, and its buoyant moods. The Strauss composition is an early work—opus 16—and has not been heard here since Mr. Seidl gave it in Steinway Hall about thirteen years ago. It is one of the composer's sanest and most intelligible works, yet here and there one hears the voice of the singer of "Ein Heldenleben." It and the Schumann number were well played last night, and in both Mr. Gericke showed sympathy with his task.

Mr. Becker, the 'cellist, achieved an immediate and well-deserved success. He may be accepted without reservation as a virtuoso of the first rank. He has a magnificent 'cello, from which, with masterly skill, he draws a big, round, masculine tone. He has a complete and sure technic. His intonation is admirable, even in the most rapid passages, the most complicated double stopping, and the most hazardous jumps. His bowing is firm and elastic and full of life. He played last night with excellent finish, yet with abundant spirit and power. His style, though it disclosed the possession of a temperament far beyond the demands of the antiquated concerto, was appropriate to the work in hand. We have no doubt that in a modern composition Mr. Becker would make a brilliant effect. But with the Haydn work, which 'cellists in search of additions to their répertoire have unearthed of late, he established himself at once in public favor. He will be welcome whenever he appears here.

TO ENJOIN M. COQUELIN.

Chicago Man, Who Claims Authorship of "Cyrano," to Sue.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—Samuel Eberly Gross, the real estate dealer and author of "The Merchant Prince of Cornville," says he will ask the United States Circuit Court to restrain M. Coquelin from playing "Cyrano De Bergerac" at the Illinois Theatre, as he has been announced to do.

Mr. Gross says: "I don't propose to allow M. Coquelin to go about boasting and bragging about 'Cyrano' and the achievements of his friend Rostand. I have secured depositions from people in France, from copyists, and others, which prove that Rostand wrote 'Cyrano' in 1897. Now, that was twenty years after I produced my book, and twenty years is a long time. I believe my case is stronger now than ever."

CHARLES FROHMAN'S PLANS.

Decides Upon His Plays for the Garrick and Madison Square Theatres.

Charles Frohman's plans for his Garrick and Madison Square Theatres were decided upon yesterday, and in arranging his new attractions for these houses he has selected productions which in his opinion are best adapted to them and in keeping with their clientele.

At the Garrick Theatre, William H. Crane's engagement in "David Harum" will terminate on Saturday evening, Feb. 2. For the rest of the season the house will be given over to Clyde Fitch's play, "Captain Jinks of the Horse Marines," for a limited period. This will be followed, probably toward the last of the season, by Charles Frohman's comedians, whose first play will be Alexandre Bisson's comedy, now being presented at the Odeon Theatre, Paris, entitled "An Historical Chateau."

For the Madison Square Theatre Mr. Frohman proposes to continue Herbert Kelcey and Effie Shannon in "My Lady Dainty" until Saturday evening, Feb. 9, after which they will return to the Park Theatre, Boston, where they were prior to their appearance in this city, with the present play. They will be followed the following Monday, Feb. 11, with Augustus Thomas's farce, "On the Quiet," in which Willie Collier will play the leading rôle.

For the principal parts in Paul M. Potter's new play, "Under Two Flags," Mr. Frohman and Mr. Belasco have definitely decided upon Miss Blanche Bates to assume the rôle of Cigarette. Others who will support her are Macklyn Arbuckle, Edwin Arden, Frank Carlisle, Campbell Gollam, Margaret Robinson, Grace Elliston, Rose Snyder, and Albert Bruning.

Singer Settled Photographer's Claim.

Barron Fredericks, the photographer who secured an attachment against Miss Fanchon Thompson for $152, said yesterday that Miss Thompson settled the claim before she sailed on the French liner La Champagne.

A SWORD FOR CAPT. BUTLER.

West Chester (Penn.) Gives the Returned Soldier a Welcome.

WEST CHESTER, Penn., Jan. 17.—Two thousand persons crowded the Assembly Building to-night to do homage to Capt. Smedley D. Butler, the hero of three wars, and his chum, Capt. Henry Leonard, who was with him at the battle of Tien-Tsin, China. The reception was given by the people of the town, and Burgess John Thorpe acted as Chairman of the meeting. A handsome sword was presented to Capt. Butler, and a gold medal to Capt. Leonard, the presentation speeches being made by Capt. R. T. Cornwell, and the responses by C. Wesley Talbot.

A large number of Marine Corps officers were present, and the Marine Band gave a concert. Secretary of the Navy John D. Long was present, and made a brief address, in which he highly praised the work of the two young officers, paying them a flattering tribute.

SECEDES FROM ROMAN CHURCH.

Greek Church of Passaic Would Unite with the Church Here.

PASSAIC, N. J., Jan. 17.—The United Greek Church of this city, which has a congregation of almost 800 persons, last night voted to withdraw from allegiance to the Pope and apply for communion with the Greek Orthodox Church in New York. This action is a result of Bishop Wigger's death. It was argued by those advocating the change that it was certain the successor of the late Bishop would be an Irishman. The three names thus far voted upon by those who nominate to Rome are all Irish names.

The Greeks and Russians who have been attending the church here say they have no grievance except this one; they do not wish to be under the rule or direction of an Irish Bishop. The Rev. Eugene Sotiella, who has been pastor of the local church here, argued long and passionately against the step. He declared he would not follow his flock out of the church which acknowledged the Pope as its head. He was then voted out of the pastorate.

Complications are likely to arise from the action of the congregation, as it is understood the church and property it occupies belong to the Diocese of Newark and not to the church. Vicar General O'Connell is expected to take some action.

British to Pay for Abyssinian Road.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—The Daily Mail says it learns that the French concessionaires of the Jibutil, Harrar and Adis Abeba Railroad, to connect the capital of Abyssinia with the Red Sea, have entered into an agreement with three British companies whereby the latter will provide funds for the construction of the line. The railroad, tapping the immense resources of Abyssinia, will thus be practically under British control.

Portrait of Dr. Austin Flint, Jr.

A portrait of Dr. Austin Flint, Sr., by George R. Boynton, was presented to the New York Academy of Medicine at its meeting last evening in Hosack Hall, in the Academy Building, in West Forty-third Street. Dr. E. G. Janeway made the presentation speech in behalf of

SENATE AGAINST HAZING

Report Bill To-day to Expel Cadets Found Guilty.

Mr. Money Says the Practice Must Be Stopped or the Military Academy Abolished.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The Senate Committee on Military Affairs to-day discussed the question of hazing at the West Point Military Academy, and there was a unanimous expression of opinion in reprobation of the practice and to the effect that those guilty of it should be summarily dealt with. The question came up in connection with the Military Academy bill, and it was decided to incorporate the following provision in that bill as an amendment:

"Under the direction of the Secretary of War, the Superintendent of the United States Military Academy shall make and enforce such rules and regulations as will prevent the practice of hazing, and any cadet found guilty of participating in such practice shall be expelled from the academy, and shall not be reappointed to the corps of cadets therein, nor to the Army of the United States."

The question was taken up on the suggestion of Senator Warren, (Rep., Wyo.) and vigorously pressed by him, as well as by Senators Cockrell, (Dem., Mo.) and Harris, (Pop., Kan.) The bill, with the amendment, will be reported to the Senate to-morrow.

There was further discussion in the Senate to-day of the hazing practices. Mr. Money, (Dem., Miss.,) declared that hazing must be stopped or the Military Academy must be abolished. He said nobody could induce him to believe that the way to make a good soldier was to "set a great big bully" upon a small man to beat him. It was not the way to make soldiers and it was not the way to make gentlemen. He did not refer, he said, to horse-play and practical jokes, but to mob violence and cowardly brutality.

"I cannot understand," said Mr. Money, "the motives of a lot of young men, all of them scholars of charity, who are paid for taking their education, who get together and mob another young man whose only crime is that he arrived at West Point two or three years later than they."

He declared that the man who hazed others at the Military Academy would be a tyrant and a despot when the men of his command after he received his commission. He did not believe the cadets realized the contempt in which their actions were held by the American people. The practices there, he declared, ought to be and must be abated.

"I think the Senator will be satisfied," interjected Mr. Proctor, (Rep., Vt.,) one of the members of the Military Affairs Committee, "when he sees the West Point bill which will be reported in a day or two."

Mr. Money expressed the hope that the committee's bill would favor decisive action.

"And I do not want to stop at the boys," said he. "Any officer or instructor at West Point who countenances or winks at this practice of hazing ought to be dishonorably discharged from the service."

Mr. McComas, (Rep., Md.,) also denounced hazing at West Point. "The boys there," he said, "are not giving us the cheer and comfort we are entitled to expect from them."

THE CONGRESSIONAL INQUIRY.

Cadet MacArthur Denies that He Had Convulsions—He Describes His Hazing.

WEST POINT, N. Y., Jan. 17.—Only two witnesses were examined to-day by the Congressional Committee which is investigating hazing practices at the Military Academy.

The first witness was Cadet James Prentice of New York, who had accused the late Oscar L. Booz of feigning to read his Bible when he had a novel hidden inside the cover. After a long examination by the committee Prentice said he believed he was mistaken, and Booz might have been reading a lesson leaf or a supplement to the Bible.

The other and more important witness was Cadet Douglas MacArthur, of whom the committee had heard a great deal since it came here. When MacArthur was sworn Mr. Driggs addressed him, and said:

Mr. MacArthur, we have had a mass of testimony given here regarding the fact of your having been hazed so violently that you had convulsions. The committee is desirous of having you tell, in your own way, in the manner in which you were hazed, the forms of hazing, the names of the men who hazed you, and the consequences.

I had been about a month in the Summer camp of 1899 as a "plebe," when the hazing, an account of which I have read in the papers, occurred. Like most reports of the kind, it was a small affair greatly exaggerated afterward. My treatment was no more severe than that given to others, and was in no way calculated to place me in a bad physical condition.

I had no convulsions; that report is entirely erroneous. I had what you might call aggravated cramps and lost control of my muscles. I most emphatically deny that I was seized with convulsions. I was not delirious nor out of my mind.

The hazing took place in "A" Company Street. It was not my own tent; there were other men there—Farnum, Haskill, and Cunningham, my tent mate. There was a soirée and several of my classmates were hazed on that occasion. The soirée lasted about an hour. I got about 250 eagles, hung on the stretcher for two minutes at a time, and did some dips. It was a very warm night and I had been feeling under the weather all day, and was rather weak. It was dark when the soirée began and I perspired profusely, but by "taps" I was all right again.

Did you expect when you came to West Point to be treated in that manner?

No, Sir.

And you consider the treatment you received cruel at the time?

Yes, Sir.

Do you still regard it as cruel?

Yes, Sir.

Now tell us the names of the men who were hazing you.

Cadets Dockery and Barry.

Mr. Driggs tried to get MacArthur to admit that he was seriously upset by the violent exercises he was required to go through, but the witness would not. He maintained that he had cramps in his muscles and lost control of them.

Who gave you the last order that night?

I am not sure, but I think that it was Dockery.

In reply to Col. Clayton, MacArthur said the statement that cotton was stuffed in his mouth was perfectly absurd.

It was neither done by myself nor any one else. Did you moan?

Yes, Sir, I groaned, but I did not cry out.

MacArthur was very positive in his denials, and the committeemen appeared to be very much surprised at the stand he was taking.

THE MILITARY BOARD'S REPORT.

No Action Yet by Secretary Root—To Anticipate Congressmen.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Secretary Root was confined to his home to-day with the grip, but as he was able to sign the routine official mail, it was not necessary for any one to act as Secretary in his stead. The Secretary has not yet acted on the report of the military court of inquiry in the cases of ex-Cadets Booz and Breth, and his illness will delay action still further in that matter.

There is an impression at the department that the Secretary desires to act before the Congressional committee concludes its investigation of the same matters. There is every reason to believe that he will condemn the practice of hazing in unmeasured terms and instruct the authorities at the Military Academy to adopt radical and extreme measures for its complete eradication from the academy.

Big Lumber Yard Fire in Jersey City.

The Woodstock Company's lumber yard and planing and box factory turning mill on West Side Avenue and Susquehanna Railroad, Jersey City, took fire from some unknown cause last night, and the entire plant, which included three large frame buildings, was entirely destroyed, with the machinery in the buildings. The loss is about $50,000. The insurance could not be learned.

Tufts College Alumni Dinner.

The sixth annual dinner and election of officers of the Tufts College Alumni Association was held last night at the Savoy Hotel. The ticket elected was as follows: President—Taber Ashton, '69; Vice President—J. Coleman Adams, '70; Secretary and Treasurer—H. Austin Tuttle, '91; Executive Committee—F. C. Hodgdon, '94; F. O. Kendall, '94; J. C. Bennett, '85.

CHINESE EMPEROR'S REQUESTS

Asks Foreign Occupation at Taku Instead of Destruction of Forts—Wants Expeditions Stopped.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—The Peking correspondent of The Morning Post, wiring Wednesday, says:

"The Chinese Commissioners handed to the Foreign Envoys with the signed protocols a dispatch from Emperor Kwang-Su asking a foreign occupation instead of the destruction of the Taku forts. The Emperor's dispatch asked also for the fixing of a definite period for the prohibition of the importation of arms, and requested that the punitive expeditions be stopped.

"In addition to this, the Emperor instructed the Chinese Commissioners to get particulars as to the amount of land to be retained for the legations, the number of legation guards, the probable cost of the military operations, and the date when the foreigners propose to restore the public offices and records in Peking to the Chinese. The Emperor does not mention the demand of the powers for the punishment of the principal offenders.

"Although the United States Government and the American papers accuse Mr. Conger of severity toward the Chinese, the Americans here regard him as inclined to leniency."

BERLIN, Jan. 17.—An official of the Foreign Office stated to-day that the first sitting of the Peace Conference in Peking would be appointed immediately after the different foreign envoys had convinced themselves that their copies of the joint note had been properly signed and sealed by the Chinese Plenipotentiaries.

GRIP IS ON THE INCREASE.

Fatal Cases Far Exceed Those of Last Year.

Dr. T. S. Taylor of the Board of Health said yesterday that the grip was on the increase, particularly in the Boroughs of Manhattan and the Bronx. Dr. Taylor declared that the utmost precautions should be taken by people in the matter of protection from cold, and advises all to keep well buttoned up while out of doors.

There were ten fatal cases from the grip on Wednesday in the Boroughs of Manhattan and the Bronx alone. There were seventy-five fatal cases of the grip last week. For the same time last year there were but nine deaths.

NARROW ESCAPE OF TWO MEN.

Sprang from Coach Just Before a Train Ran It Down, Killing Horses.

YONKERS, N. Y., Jan. 17.—A team of horses belonging to Lawrence & Best, liveryman of Dobbs Ferry, were killed on the New York and Putnam Railroad this afternoon. They had been drawing a coach at a funeral. On the way back to Dobbs Ferry the four men in the coach ordered James Riley, the driver, to stop at Clary's Hotel on the Sawmill River Road.

When the men emerged Riley held the door open. Two of the men entered the coach and then the horses suddenly bolted. They ran toward the railroad track, and as they approached it a train was seen approaching. The two men then opened the door and leaped out and escaped injury. Train and team reached the crossing at the same moment. Both horses were killed and the coach wrecked.

STRIKE IN NIXON'S SHIPYARD.

Disagreement Over the Employment of Non-Union Men.

ELIZABETH, N. J., Jan. 17.—The painters, carpenters, and calkers employed at Lewis Nixon's shipyard are on strike over the employment of non-union men in those branches by the firm. Over one hundred men are involved, as the machinists also quit work.

A committee from the union called on Mr. Nixon at his office and asked that he discharge nine non-union carpenters. Mr. Nixon refused this request, and promptly discharged the four delegates who called on him, and ordered them to get out of the shipyard as rapidly as their legs would carry them.

The outlook is for a prolonged strike, as Mr. Nixon says he will not accede to the union's demands, and the men say no union men will work in any department until the non-union men are discharged.

DR. J. W. MOORE REINSTATED.

Bellevue Medical Board Exonerates the Suspended Physician.

The official reinstatement of Dr. J. W. Moore of Bellevue Hospital took place yesterday morning. He resumed his duties as interne in the medical wards by order of Commissioner Keller. Dr. Moore was in the insane pavilion while Louis C. Hilliard was there. Dean, Davis, and Marshall, the three nurses who had charge of Hilliard, are to be tried on an indictment charging them with being responsible for his death. Dr. Moore said things at the inquest that led to his suspension by Commissioner Keller. The Commissioner said last night that after the Hilliard inquest he secured a transcript of Dr. Moore's testimony and submitted it to the Medical Board. The Medical Board exonerated the physician from all blame, as he had charge of the alcoholic and the insane wards, and it was impossible for him to detect every error.

Committee of Fifteen Appoints Counsel.

William H. Baldwin, Jr., Chairman of the Committee of Fifteen, announced yesterday that Col. Robert Grier Monroe, a lawyer of 15 Wall Street, had been appointed counsel to the committee. The choice was made several days ago. Mr. Monroe is a native of Philadelphia and in his forty-third year. He was graduated at Princeton and at the Columbia Law School. As a Democrat he was prominent in William R. Grace's political fortunes and afterward was identified in the aggressive campaign of 1897, when the Ship Democracy forced Tammany Hall to nominate Francis M. Scott for Justice of the Supreme Court. His home is at 1 West Fifty-fourth Street. Mr. Baldwin said of the appointment that Mr. Monroe would be depended on to advise the committee and its agents in their investigation, so that no effort would be misdirected, and to properly prepare and class all evidence against ill-doers that might be or has been collected.

Mrs. Sadie Morris Noah Dead.

Mrs. Noah, who, before her marriage, was Miss Sadie Morris, a member of Charles Frohman's forces, died yesterday morning from typhoid fever. Mrs. Noah had been sick for several weeks, and on Wednesday last she was well enough to sit up. A sudden turn in her condition for the worse, late that night, resulted in her death. Her brother, William Morris, who was playing in "When We Were Twenty-One," Wednesday night, in Waterbury, was summoned to his sister's bedside, but she was dead when he arrived. The interment will take place in Boston to-morrow.

Supposed "Green Goods" Man Caught.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 17.—United States Postal Inspectors to-day arrested at Allentown, Penn., G. Barnett, alias Evans, charged with using the mails in a scheme to defraud and of counterfeiting. He is believed by the Government officers to be a member of a supposed gang of counterfeiters and "green goods" men, whose headquarters are in New York City, and from whom scores of circulars have been sent throughout the country inviting farmers and others to come into the scheme.

Isaac A. Hopper's Charity Concert.

The Poor Funds of many churches in Harlem will receive additions as a result of the Charity Concert which Isaac A. Hopper, the Tammany leader of the Thirty-first District, will give at the Harlem Opera House, next Sunday evening. Several churches have appointed committees to assist Mr. Hopper. Many professionals have expressed their willingness to take part in the entertainment, which will be conducted under the management of Andrew McCormick of the Broadway Theatre.

Huge Load of Colorado Potatoes.

Special to The New York Times.

GREELEY, Col., Jan. 17.—The largest load of potatoes known to have been hauled was weighed in Greeley to-day by Herman Fishencord. It was drawn by four horses. The actual weight of the potatoes was 16,382½ pounds, or 273 1-5 bushels, almost a carload.

Sultan Lets Students Abroad Starve.

BERLIN, Jan. 17.—The Berliner Tageblatt asserts that the Turkish students here, who number more than a hundred, and are wholly dependent upon the Sultan's stipends, are starving, as they have been without money for a year. The Turkish Legation professes to be unable to render any assistance.

COLUMBIA BOYS TUSSLE.

Freshmen Win Two Rushes and Get a Soaking from the Sophomores.

The last of this year's "scraps" between Columbia's underclassmen was held yesterday on Morningside Heights, and resulted in a victory for the freshmen. The event is supposed to mark the conclusion of all animosity between the sophomores and freshmen. The freshmen have heretofore been beaten in all class struggles, except the cane spree. Every loyal freshman turned out.

The sophomores, not generally knowing that the event was to be held yesterday, were taken by surprise, and as they could not marshal enough men, the contest went to the freshmen by default.

This victory was too bloodless. In the hope of stirring up strife the freshmen brought out their class canes and pipes, which they had carefully concealed up to this time. Flourishing their canes and puffing huge clouds of smoke from their newly bought pipes they started on a march up Broadway. In front of the Havemeyer Building they met with something unexpected. A small band of "sophs" stationed in an upper floor directed a large stream of water out of the window on to the marching "freshies," thoroughly soaking them.

After a short time quite a large representation from both classes gathered on South Field and an old-fashioned cane rush ensued, and at the end of a fierce contest the freshmen won.

About this time two kegs of what was said to be "ice water" arrived on the scene, and the cane was abandoned for refreshment.

WEDDINGS OF A DAY.

Prentice—Rockefeller.

Miss Alta Rockefeller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, and E. Parmelee Prentice of Chicago were married yesterday afternoon, at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, 4 West Fifty-fourth Street. Owing to the recent death of the bride's little nephew, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold McCormick, the wedding was very quietly celebrated. A large and elaborate church ceremony had been originally intended, and the wedding was first fixed for the early part of December. Then it was found impossible, owing to the treatment for deafness which the bride, who was with her aunt, Miss Spelman, was undergoing in Vienna. Miss Rockefeller, her aunt, and her fiancé, Mr. Prentice, arrived from Europe about three weeks ago.

The death of Mrs. McCormick's son again threatened to postpone the wedding, but it was arranged that it would take place yesterday, but that it would be a very quiet home affair. The ceremony was performed on the wide landing of the staircase in the main hall of the Rockefeller residence. The wedding party stood in front of an altar made almost entirely of American Beauty roses. The stairway was wreathed with smilax and decorated with roses and palms. Large vases of roses were everywhere, preference being given to the American Beauty.

The bride was advanced to the altar on the arm of her father. She wore a gown of heavy white ivory satin, made very simply and trimmed with point lace at the corsage and on the front of the skirt. Her veil was of point lace, fastened by a jeweled pin, the gift of the bridegroom. The bridesmaids were Miss Mary Isham Prentice of Chicago, a sister of the bridegroom; Miss Katherine Clark, Miss Evelyn Dalley, Miss Bessie Sloane, Miss Marion Platt, Miss Baird of Philadelphia, Miss Frances Scott, and Miss Bigelow, who wore white chiffon over pink taffeta, with Marie Antoinette bodices. They also wore aigrettes of pink roses and carried large bouquets of American Beauty roses.

The Rev. Dr. William H. P. Faunce, President of Brown University, and formerly pastor of the Fifth Avenue Baptist Church, performed the ceremony. The ushers were John D. Rockefeller, Jr., the brother of the bride; Emerson B. Tuttle, Henry H. Porter, Jr., Charles R. Carruth, and Monroe Johnson, all of Chicago.

After the ceremony there was a reception to relatives and friends, and the wedding presents were displayed. Mr. and Mrs. Prentice will go to Tarrytown, to the Rockefeller country home, for their honeymoon, and afterward to Cleveland.

Dugmore—Watkins.

Special to The New York Times.

SOUTH ORANGE, N. J., Jan. 17.—Miss Henrietta Louis Watkins, daughter of Mrs. Henrietta E. Watkins of Overlook, this village, and Arthur Radclyffe Dugmore, son of Saindys Dugmore of the Sixty-fourth British Infantry, were married in the presence of a large gathering of society folk of the Oranges and New York in the Church of Our Lady of Sorrows, South Orange, by the rector, the Rev. James J. Hall, this afternoon.

The bride was given away by her brother, John Patterson Watkins, and her niece, Miss Henrietta Watkins Barker, was the maid of honor. August M. Fay of East Orange was the best man, and the ushers were Nora Lynn Davis, Frederick Clinton Mott, L. Randolph Fay, and Thomas Churchill Watkins, brother of the bride. A reception at the home of the bride's mother followed the ceremony, after which Mr. and Mrs. Dugmore left on an extended tour through the South. On its completion they will go abroad to live.

ACCOUNTANTS HAVE A DINNER.

Prof. C. W. Haskins Deplores the Present Systems of Bookkeeping.

The first annual dinner of the New York Society of Accountants and Bookkeepers was held last night at the Hotel Marlborough, and was attended by about 100 members of the organization. Controller Bird S. Coler, who was to have been the principal speaker of the evening, sent word that he was a victim of the grip and could not be present. Julius Redmond, President of the society, presided. Henry Guimond was toastmaster.

Prof. Charles W. Haskins of the University of the City of New York made a speech in which he said that there was great need, at the present time, of improvement in accounting in all branches of business. He declared that the business situation with reference to accounting was grave and he cited the embezzlements of the past few months as proofs of the faulty systems of accounting in vogue in some of the large financial institutions.

Other speakers of the evening were Morris S. Wise, referee in bankruptcy, and G. Waldo Smith of the Board of Trade, William A. Prendergast, and John R. Loomis.

Homes for Pauper Children.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

Permit me to correct the statement made in your issue of this date that I have consented to the plan of placing the pauper children of Hudson County in an Industrial Home if the necessary legislation can be secured. On the contrary, I regard the proposal as thoroughly mischievous and absolutely unnecessary. I gave a qualified approval some time ago to the suggestion that something of the kind might be useful in dealing with juvenile delinquents, but even this might prove to be unnecessary if school attendance was enforced, the school facilities increased, truancy officers appointed, a parental school established, and the probation system adequately provided for.

The State Board of Children's Guardians is prepared to place all the pauper children in good private homes, and there is no excuse whatever for the proposal to burden the taxpayers with an expensive institution for them, neither is there any likelihood that the Legislature will sanction such a piece of extravagance.

HUGH F. FOX.

Jersey City, Jan. 17, 1901.

Dartmouth College Dinner.

The thirty-seventh annual meeting and dinner of the Dartmouth College Association will be held at Delmonico's on Friday evening, Jan. 25. Dr. Tucker, President of the College; Gov. Odell, Justice Edward L. Patterson, John H. Wright of Harvard, Charles D. Adams of Dartmouth, Congressman Samuel W. McCall of Massachusetts, Congressman David J. Foster of Vermont, and John B. Stanchfield will be among the speakers.

Brooklyn Regiment at Inauguration.

Brooklyn is to be represented at the inauguration in Washington on March 4 by its crack infantry regiment, the Twenty-third. Lieut. Col. Jasper Ewing Brady has determined to take the organization to Washington on a special train, and, according to the present plan, each man will foot his own expense bill. The regiment will leave Brooklyn on Sunday, March 3, and return on the following Tuesday morning.

Aid for Consumption Sufferer.

THE NEW YORK TIMES has received $5 from Dr. Thomas H. Buckler, Jr., of Baltimore in answer to the appeal from the Brooklyn Bureau of Charities for funds to keep in the mountains a young man suffering with consumption.

WHAT IS DOING IN SOCIETY.

It was rather dull yesterday. There were the usual amount of at homes and some dinners in the evening, but for the first time in quite a stretch, there was not a dance. The recalling of the invitations of the dance arranged by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lewis Morris, for Miss Eleanor Morris, gave many of the débutantes for once in a long period a free evening, but there were so many dinners that very few absolutely staid at home.

***

This evening will take place another small Vanderbilt dance. This time it will be at the residence of Mrs. H. McK. Twombly. There will also be this evening one of the vaudeville entertainments which were popular last Winter in a certain set at the studio of Mr. Howard Constable, 22 East Sixteenth Street. Mrs. H. Mason Raborg, 164 East Thirty-eighth Street, gives a musicale, and Mrs. David Lydig of East Twenty-ninth Street a luncheon. Mrs. Lydig was at home yesterday. Miss Effie Vanderbilt Caesar, who is stopping at the Kensington, gives a reception for her cousin, Miss Jessie McNamee, who is to be married to Charles D. Simons, Jr., on Feb. 12.

***

On Saturday evening Mrs. Lucius K. Wilmerding will give, as announced first in this column, a small dance for her daughter, Miss Caroline Wilmerding, at her residence, 18 East Seventy-seventh Street. Again will the same young set meet that have been present at several of the dances of the week. In fact, there is scarcely a variation in the list of any of the hostesses who are giving these small dances. Mrs. E. Henry Harriman will give a dinner at her residence, 1 East Fifty-fifth Street, and her guests will afterward go to the Wilmerding dance.

***

The ladies' day at the Army and Navy Club, 16 West Thirty-first Street, will take place to-morrow afternoon. The hours are from 4 to 7, and there will be a large gathering of officers and their families. It will be a reception only, although there have been given at the club some very amusing vaudeville entertainments and smokers.

***

Mr. and Mrs. Louis De Coppet have returned to town for the Winter and are at their residence, 35 East Fiftieth Street. Mrs. De Coppet has cards out for an "at home" this afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Hugo R. Roelker of 43 West Eighty-seventh Street will be "at home" on Wednesday evenings until April. Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Eaton of 150 West Seventy-fourth Street are to give a series of dinners from now on till Lent. Mrs. Eaton was Miss Mima F. Griffith.

***

Mrs. Robert Hoe of 11 East Thirty-sixth Street has issued invitations for a large dinner to be given for young people at her residence on Thursday evening, Jan. 31. Mrs. George R. Schieffelin has sent out invitations for a dinner to be given on Saturday evening, Jan. 26, in honor of her daughter, Mrs. Bronson Ismay. Mrs. Ismay and Mr. Ismay sailed for this port on the Oceanic the middle of the week.

***

Mrs. Frederic Gallatin has cards out for a dance for her daughter, Miss May Gallatin, on Monday evening, Feb. 11. It will be remembered that the cards for the dance scheduled for Jan. 6 were recalled, owing to the dangerous illness of an old and valued nurse in the Gallatin household, who is now recovering. The dance of Feb. 11 will be preceded by several large dinners, which will include one to be given by Mrs. Gallatin.

***

The event of to-night will be the dance that Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton McK. Twombly are to give for their débutante daughter, Miss Florence Twombly. For this affair the houses of Mrs. Twombly and Mrs. Webb, which adjoin each other, and which are so arranged as to be thrown into one when desired, will both be used. The dancing will be in the Twombly house, and the supper will be served at small tables in the dining room and halls of the Webb residence. The cotillion will be led by Worthington Whitehouse, dancing with Miss Twombly, and assisted by Munson Morris, who will probably dance with Miss Webb.

***

Worthington Whitehouse will lead the cotillion at Mrs. W. D. Sloane's on Monday evening. He will have Miss Evelyn Sloane as his partner, and, as the cotillion is to be a double one, Munson Morris will assist Mr. Whitehouse.

***

The wedding of Charles Dewar Simons, Jr., and Miss Jessie Vanderbilt McNamee is to be celebrated on Tuesday, Feb. 12, in St. James's Church at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, and the Rev. Dr. Eccleston, assisted by the rector of the church, Dr. Walpole E. Warren, will officiate. Miss McNamee's maid of honor will be her cousin, Miss Effie Vanderbilt Caesar, and the bridesmaids are to be the Misses Adelia McNamee, Florence Twombly, Mary Harriman, Barbara Ford, Mary E. Simons, a sister of Mr. Simons, Amy Willetts, Mabel Park, and Miss Duffield. Mr. Simons's best man is to be his brother, E. Henry H. Simons, and the ushers selected are Reginald E. Bonner, Frank H. Lord, Gustav Hemeken, Jr., William A. Evans, Charles M. Bleecker, T. Bache Bleecker, Ward Campbell, and Ralph Monell.

***

The most important dinner of last evening was that given by Col. John Jacob Astor and Mrs. Astor at their city residence, 840 Fifth Avenue, and which may be the last they will give before they leave for Aiken at the end of the month. Mrs. Astor wore a beautiful white chiffon gown fashioned in Empire style. The table was decorated with Liberty roses. These were arranged in a large, boat-shaped silver centrepiece, and Hodgson also placed two large silver bowls of the same flower at either end of the table. The guests included Mrs. Astor, Dr. W. Seward Webb and Mrs. Webb, Mrs. Adolph Ladenberg, Mrs. Stevens, Miss Hall, Mr. and Mrs. T. Suffern Taller, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Mortimer, Mr. and Mrs. Cass Canfield, Mr. and Mrs. Morgan, Miss Morgan, Mrs. William Page Thompson, Worthington Whitehouse, Philip Lydig, Harry Lehr, F. H. Betts, Gordon Fellows, James Stillman, and Mr. Eustis.

***

Miss Dorothy Schieffelin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Schieffelin, gave a dinner of twenty covers last evening at her parents' residence, 8 East Forty-fifth Street, in honor of Miss Sarah Gibbs Thompson and her fiancé, Stephen H. Pell. The table decorations were white and green, and the guests included, besides Miss Thompson and Mr. Pell, the Misses Josephine Drexel, Elizabeth Auchincloss, Maizie Delafield, Bertha Mundé, Augusta de Peyster, Edith Greenough, and F. Ashton de Peyster, James R. Pierson, John Delafield, Augustus Ireland, Schieffelin Stebbins, Charles Hoadley, Lawrence Atterbury, and Schuyler Schieffelin.

***

Mrs. Frederic J. de Peyster of 185 Madison Avenue gave the second of her "at homes" yesterday. She was assisted in receiving by the Misses Helen, Augusta, Frances, and Ella de Peyster and Miss Josephine Drexel. Mrs. Samuel P. Hinckley of Lawrence, L. I., who has leased for the Winter the house 126 East Sixtieth Street, gave yesterday afternoon the second of two coming-out receptions for her daughter, Miss Dorothy Hinckley. The débutante was assisted in receiving by several of her girl friends.

***

There were two meetings of dancing classes last evening. One of them was the regular fortnightly session of the Cinderellas, at Dodworth's, and the other the Third Bachelors and Spinsters, at Delmonico's. To-morrow evening the second meeting of the five cotillions at Sherry's will take place.

***

Dinners were given last night by Mrs. William Street and Capt. Warren C. Beach and Mrs. Beach, and in the afternoon Mrs. J. Frederic Kernochan and Mrs. B. S. Church gave luncheons.

SOCIETY IN WASHINGTON.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Representative and Mrs. Fowler of New Jersey entertained at dinner to-night in honor of the Speaker and Mrs. Henderson. Among the guests were Gen. and Mrs. Ludington and Commissioner of Pensions Evans.

M. Cambon, the French Ambassador, entertained Mme. Sarah Bernhardt at breakfast to-day at the French Embassy. The other guests were M. Coquelin, M. Chartrand, M. Hutin, and the members of the Ambassador's staff. To-morrow Mme. Bernhardt will attend the concert of the Marquis de Souza, where she will occupy a box with M. Coquelin, and will later be the guest of honor at a small tea at the German Embassy, where Mme. Vignal will assist the Ambassador.

Mme. Perez, daughter of the Mexican Ambassador, and Mme. Azpiroz entertained a company of young people at dinner this evening. The guests were the Countess Marguerite de Cassini, Miss Cockrell, Miss Louise Foraker, Miss Alice Ward, Miss Webb, Miss Gladys Ffoulke, Miss Katharine Ward, Miss Errol Cuthbert Brown, Miss Curtis, and Miss de Que, the young cousin of the hostess; Mr. Palido, Mr. Pastor, Mr. Geofray, Mr. Zelenoy, and Mr. Rodrigo, all of the diplomatic service; Mr. Rousseau, Walter Davidge, Jr., Horace Ffoulke, Mr. Ewing, and Benson Foraker.

Dr. and Mrs. J. L. M. Curry entertained this evening in honor of the British Ambassador and Lady Pauncefote. The other guests were the Secretary of the Treasury and Mrs. Gage, Justice Gray and Mrs. Gray, the Assistant Secretary of State and Mrs. Hill, Senator and Mrs. Wetmore, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne MacVeagh, Mrs. Postlethwaite, the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Alexander Mackey Smith, and Gen. Corbin.

The Postmaster General and Mrs. Smith entertained at dinner this evening. The German Ambassador, Senator and Mrs. Elkins, Senator and Mrs. Hanna, Senator Spooner, the Solicitor General and Mrs. Richards, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Heath, Mrs. Merriam, the Hon. Maud Pauncefote, Miss Miller of New York, and Mr. Vanderlip were the guests.

Mrs. Nicholas Anderson gave a large dinner last night in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Ten Eyck Wendell of Cazenovia. Mr. and Mrs. L. Anderson of Boston, with a party of friends en route to Mexico, are visiting Mrs. Anderson for a few days.

New Jersey D. A. R. Regents Meet.

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 17.—The regents of the New Jersey Chapters of the Daughters of the American Revolution met here this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Washington A. Roebling. The gathering was largely social in its character. One of the matters of business that came up was the passing of resolutions indorsing Mrs. Roebling as a candidate for President General of the organization at the National session to be held in Washington on Feb. 22.

A. G. Vanderbilt and Wife in Canada.

MONTREAL, Quebec, Jan. 17.—Alfred G. Vanderbilt and his bride, a maid, and a valet, arrived in Montreal via the Delaware and Hudson Express from Albany this evening, occupying a parlor compartment in the regular drawing room car. They registered at the Windsor. Mr. and Mrs. Vanderbilt are en route to Quebec, and will probably leave here to-morrow.

DEATH LIST OF A DAY.

Martha Davis Bessey.

Miss Martha Davis Bessey, for the last twenty-two years connected with the art department of Tiffany & Co., and an artist of merit, died from a stroke of apoplexy last Wednesday, at the residence of her friend, Mrs. Smith, 225 East Fiftieth Street. Miss Bessey's sudden death was a great shock to her associates and many friends throughout the Tiffany establishment. She was at work in her accustomed place in the designing department until the usual closing hour, 6 P. M., Tuesday. On her way home she called on her friend, where, soon after her arrival, she was overcome and passed away without recovering consciousness.

Miss Bessey was a direct descendant on her mother's side of Roger Wolcott, Colonial Governor of Connecticut. She was born and brought up in New York City, graduating in 1877 from Grammar School No. 50. She entered the employ of Tiffany & Co., where her artistic talent was rapidly developed into many branches of art work, becoming especially proficient in flower painting, heraldic work, illuminating, and the designing of badges and medals. Her skill in the latter brought her considerable prominence in connection with the World's Columbian Exposition in 1892.

The Board of Lady Managers of the World's Fair offered a prize of $50 for the best design of a badge by a woman, to be worn by the members of their board. Miss Bessey entered the competition, in which 247 designs were submitted, and won the prize. Miss Bessey's death is a loss deeply felt. Her helpfulness to her brother and sister artists and her gentle nature and amiable personality won her the respect and esteem of every one in the big establishment where she served so long, so faithfully, and so well.

Miss Bessey lived with her two sisters on St. Nicholas Avenue. The funeral will be held at the house in which she died this evening.

Alfred H. Seymour.

Alfred H. Seymour, who was one of the oldest telegraph operators in America in point of service, and for many years employed by The Brooklyn Times, died Wednesday night at his home, 671 Bedford Avenue, Brooklyn, after a few days' illness, of pneumonia. Mr. Seymour was born in Manlius, N. Y., sixty-five years ago. When he entered the service telegraphy was in its infancy, and when the sound service was developed he became an expert. Mr. Seymour was the first sound operator to work in Milwaukee and one of the first to work in Chicago.

At the outbreak of the civil war he was one of the first to enlist in the service as an operator. Twenty years ago he was the chief operator for the Western Union Telegraph Company, and later became manager of the Bankers and Merchants' Telegraph Company. Ten years ago he took a position with The United Press, and was assigned to work in the office of The Brooklyn Times. When the United Press failed, Mr. Seymour continued in the service in The Brooklyn Times. A widow survives him.

Col. Napoleon Stetson.

Col. Napoleon Stetson, one of the oldest residents of Orange, died yesterday. He was born in 1821. Col. Stetson was a brother of John B. Stetson of Philadelphia, and was engaged in business with him in Orange as a hat manufacturer for many years. He retired from active business nine years ago. His military title he obtained through service in the New Jersey National Guard in 1835. He was, in 1860, a member of the first Common Council of Orange. He also served at one time on the Essex County Board of Freeholders. Four daughters and one son, the latter Mayor Henry Stetson of Orange, survive him.

Obituary Notes.

DR. BENJAMIN BROWN of Chicago died at Washington yesterday, after a year's illness, aged sixty-three years. He was prominent both as a physician and in Republican politics in Chicago.

JOHN M. FAIRFIELD, fifty-three years of age, President of the Hartford Board of Water Commissioners, died at his home at Hartford yesterday of consumption. A widow and one son survive him.

A. B. SHEDDEN, bookkeeper for Indian Agent Florer at Grey Horse, Oklahoma Territory, died there yesterday. He had been in the Indian service for twenty-six years. The body is on the way to Shedden's former home at Brooklyn.

GEORGE S. STEVENS, a teller of Tanner's National Bank, at Catskill, N. Y., died there yesterday of typhoid fever, with kidney complications. Mr. Stevens was a former member of the Assembly, and a clerk of the World's Fair commission. He was fifty-nine years old.

Capt. HENRY L. FINGER, one of the pioneer steamboat owners of the Hudson River, is dead at his home in Saugerties. For many years he had been associated in the steamboat business with Assemblyman Robert A. Snyder, and was one of the principal stockholders of the Saugerties and New York Steamboat Company. He was seventy-five years old.

Mrs. MARIA T. BANNIGAN, widow of Joseph Bannigan, former President of the United States Rubber Company, died suddenly yeaterday in Chicago of acute paralysis of the heart, at the home of her niece, Mrs. Scott Linn, 2,631 Michigan Avenue. Mrs. Bannigan, who was sixty years of age, lived in Providence, R. I., but had resided in Chicago for the last two months. The body will be taken to Providence for burial.

H. H. MONROE died at his home at Thomaston, Me., yesterday, after a long illness. He was seventy-three years of age. For many years he was in the lime business in Rockland, and later was identified with Western real estate. He also was deeply interested in agriculture, and was the inventor of the rotary harrow. In 1867, 1868, and 1890 he was elected to the Legislature from Thomaston. In 1879 he was a member of Gov. Garcelon's Council. That year was the famous "State count-out" year, and, as the Governor's term expired in the middle of the trouble, Mr. Monroe, as senior member of the Council, occupied the Governor's chair for a term of two weeks.

Sir Frank Smith Dead at Toronto.

TORONTO, Ontario, Jan. 17.—Sir Frank Smith, Senator, and one of Canada's best known men, died at his residence here to-day. His death was not unexpected.

FRANK MOSS TO YOUNG MEN.

Says Croker's Example Is Good Because of the Lesson It Teaches.

Under the title "Things in General," former Police Commissioner Frank Moss last night delivered an address in St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal Church, West End Avenue and Eighty-sixth Street. The address was the first in a series on social and civic questions that will be delivered under the auspices of the Young Men's Society of this church during the present Winter. Mr. Moss, in the course of his address, said that the present evil conditions in New York were not an unmixed evil, and that Richard Croker was one of the best things that had happened to the city. He said that without one man standing as the representative par excellence of every evil principle in public life, we would never rise to the standard of citizenship or be spurred to the height of patriotism, which alone can bring about the highest good in any community.

"One reason," said Mr. Moss, "why we have failed in former reform movements is that we have wanted to get results too rapidly and without laying down the work. The aim of men in Wall Street is to make something out of nothing. The same spirit has gotten into other walks of life, and has even stolen into the reform camps.

"It is not always an unmixed evil that a false prophet arises or an evil man becomes the ruler of a community. It sets us thinking, it sets our hearts aglow, and arouses the sympathy of good citizens for each other. I warn you that the platform must be so free from stumbling blocks and so broad that Jew and Christian, black and white, rich and poor, churchman and infidel shall be able to stand together on it and fight shoulder to shoulder for the redemption of the city.

"During the last election I addressed a meeting on the lower East Side. The people down there cared little about trusts or

N.Y.Y.C.'S NEW HOME OPEN

The Club's Palatial Quarters Inspected by Invited Guests.

UNIQUE ARTISTIC STRUCTURE

Appointments of Yachtsmen's House in Keeping with the Wealth and Position of Members.

Preparatory to the formal opening of the new clubhouse of the New York Yacht Club to-morrow, a private view of the building and its appointments was afforded a number of invited guests by former Commodore E. M. Brown of the Committee on New Clubhouse, Secretary J. V. S. Oddie, and Whitney Warren, the architect of the building.

The magnificent structure, which cost $350,000 to erect, exclusive of the ground, which cost $148,000 more, and which no one but the new clubhouse committee knows how much it has cost to furnish, is all ready for occupancy in its every detail, and when the members of the club pass within its portals to-morrow, or at midnight to-night, as is hinted will be done by some of the more enthusiastic and impatient spirits, they will find themselves in the possession of the costliest and most handsomely appointed yacht clubhouse in the country, if not indeed in the world.

The new house occupies the three lots numbered 37, 39, and 41 West Forty-fourth Street, on the north side of the street, between Fifth and Sixth Avenues. Its white stone front façade is a beautiful bit of architecture, in which the charm of classic proportion has been daringly but successfully combined with a striking symbolism which bespeaks it the home of an aquatic organization to the most casual beholder.

The building is 75 feet wide and reaches back the full depth of 100 feet. There are seven stories, four of which rise from the front of the lot, the other three being set back to form a terrace in front of the fifth floor, thus reducing the apparent height and preserving the proportions of the façade, while at the same time giving the necessary number of chambers for members and servants.

The principal features of the façade are three large high windows, with peculiar bays at their bases, which light the model room, and the symbolical decorations in carved stone.

Upon entering the house one passes up a short flight of steps into the vestibule, a large square, high-celled apartment, from which almost every part of the house devoted to club purposes is accessible. The walls of this room are of carved Caen stone, a French building stone which is very soft and easily worked when quarried, but which becomes hard with age.

From the centre of this hall a broad marble staircase leads to the main floor, or second story, upon which is situated the model room, the largest single room in the house. Upon the left is the entrance to the grill room. Beyond are the cloak room, the locker rooms, baths, engine and boiler rooms, and kitchen and at the rear on one side the stairway is the entrance to a circular foyer, which will be used as a cafe, and on the other side the entrance to the elevator.

The grill room, the most unique room in the entire building, is a realistic reproduction of the midhold of an old-time sailing vessel, 75 feet long by 35 feet wide. The curved outward bulging sides are of heavy, dark, unpolished oaken planks, while the concave ceiling overhead is supported by heavy oaken beams, braced by knees where they meet the sides. Electric cluster lights set in the wall behind glazed frames give an effect of portlights and additional illumination is supplied by iron lamps of antique design swung from the ceiling and by the bulging forecastle windows of the façade. Between these windows is the nameboard of the old yacht Gimcrack, on board which in 1845 the club was organized.

The model room is not as unique in its design and appointments as the grill room, but surpasses it in every other respect. It is the largest and most magnificent room in the building, and is intended to be the centre of the social life of the club. It extends the full depth of the building, about 65 feet, and is 46 feet wide. The ceiling is 26 feet above the floor, and a heavy balcony, weighted by massive carving, runs the circuit of three of its walls. It is lighted by three tall windows which rise above three peculiar bays, which are supposed to represent the cabin windows of an old-time vessel.

Opposite the entrance is an immense fireplace of carved Caen stone, which weighs forty tons, and reaches the full height of the room. The walls of the room are covered with green burlap, the hangings and floor covering are a deep, but brilliant, red, and the furniture is of dark polished oak, upholstered in green leather. A conspicuous feature of the room is the enormous circular table, 12 feet in diameter, which occupies the centre of the room.

But the chief ornament of the room, and the proudest possession of the club, is the collection, unrivaled in this country, of models of American yachts, which almost literally cover the walls.

Other articles of more than ordinary interest in the room are an antique inlaid oaken woodbox of Dutch make, a Gatling gun from the Almirante Oquendo, presented by J. H. Hanan, and a breech-loading rifle made by Filipino artificers and captured at Cavite.

Next above the model room is a mezzanine floor, which includes the cardroom and the balcony of the model room. Then comes the fourth floor, the last in the façade proper. The entire front of the floor is occupied by the library, and back of it are the offices of the Secretary, the Librarian, two committee rooms, and a private dining room. The fifth floor contains one large, square room, known as the club-room, from which large French windows open upon the terrace, and a number of private rooms. The remaining floors are also occupied by private rooms and the servants' quarters.

Nickel Steel in Shamrock II.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—The Yachting World says: "The Shamrock's frames are punched and bent, and are now ready for working into the keel plates. An examination of the framework proves there has been no attempt to experiment with fancy metals, they consisting of nickel steel of fine quality. Close-grained and hard timbers are at all angles of this steel. The number of lengths already bent suggest they will be closely spaced. They are five-sixteenths of an inch thick. The rivet holes are punched to take three-fourths-inch rivets."

Philadelphia Trap Shooters Won.

BALTIMORE, Md., Jan. 17.—By a margin of nine birds, the team of sixteen men representing the Keystone League of Philadelphia won to-day from a similar team of the Baltimore Shooting Association. The contest was the second of a series of three between teams of the two associations for the inter-city championship, and the result to-day gives a victory to each team, the Baltimoreans having defeated the Keystone's team at Holmesburg Junction, Penn., Dec. 27, by a score of 198 to 189. In the latter contest there were nine men in each team; to-day sixteen men lined up as representatives of their respective associations. Twenty-five birds were shot at in the Pennsylvania meeting; to-day twenty pigeons were the targets aimed at by each man.

Chicago Wants College Crew Race.

CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 17.—According to The Daily News, arrangements practically have been completed for a boat race on the drainage canal some time in June or July between the crew of the University of Wisconsin and the crew of some prominent Eastern college. Negotiations are being conducted with Pennsylvania and Cornell for the race, which it is proposed to make an annual event. It could be viewed by over 50,000 people.

Gymkhana Sports on Ice.

The ice sports and Gymkhana races in the Clermont Avenue Rink, Brooklyn, last night, drew a large attendance, and produced a number of interesting competitions. Of the skaters who engaged in the races, Harry P. McDonald of the Heffly School, won two events. Peter Sinnlard won the running race. An interesting game of broom ball took place, and was won by the Berkeley Athletic Club.

The Vigilancia in Danger.

HAVANA, Jan. 17.—A high north wind, accompanied by a heavy rain, was blowing this afternoon and the Ward Line steamer Vigilancia, aground off the banks of Los Colorados, about eighty miles west of Havana, was broadside to it. The seas broke over the vessel and she pounded badly. The weather is clearing this evening, but the wind continues, the seas are still heavy, and it is feared that the Vigilancia will be a wreck.

NEW BASEBALL ASSOCIATION.

Promoters, Aided by National League, Organize to Oppose American League.

Meetings were held yesterday afternoon and evening by the men representing the newest organization in professional baseball, the American Association, so called after several changes of name, the Marlborough Hotel being the scene of the conferences. Great secrecy was observed concerning the business transacted, but the organizers of the new association did not attempt to deny that the affairs of professional baseball are sadly complicated and that a sharp fight for patronage appears unavoidable, and that the three associations proposing to conduct baseball in territory that formerly was included in the National League's schedule face the prospect of competition that may mean loss for all.

By admission of the persons concerned, the American Association is to be supported in a measure by the National League, with the purpose of putting a rival organization in the field against the American League, organized by "Ban" Johnson. This new body hopes to live by opposing Johnson's league in the cities that have no representation in the National League, and the organizers assert that they have a perfect understanding with the National League as to the methods to be used in fighting their common enemy.

The meeting for the organization of the American Association was held at 8 o'clock last night after two earlier conferences and postponements. About 10 o'clock the following statement of what had been done was made:

It is the purpose to form an organization to be called the American Association. A temporary organization has been effected, with W. H. Watkins as Temporary Chairman. A committee has been appointed to wait on the National League and the National Board of Arbitration to-morrow morning, for a partition of territorial rights. The following cities were represented:

Milwaukee—H. D. Quinn.
Indianapolis—W. H. Watkins.
Chicago—C. S. Havenor.
Louisville—H. C. Pulliam.
Philadelphia—H. C. Koek.
Boston—A. A. Erwin and G. D. Braman.
Washington—W. C. Bryan and C. D. White.
Baltimore—"By proxy."

It was also announced that applications for membership in the American Association had been made for clubs which are to represent St. Louis and Detroit. The committee appointed to wait on the representatives of the National League to-day is composed of Messrs. Erwin, Havenor, Watkins, and Koek. According to statements made by members of this committee, Soden of Boston, Brush of Cincinnati, Hart of Chicago, and Rogers of Philadelphia, representing the National League, will be here to-day to confer with the representatives of the new body. Statements were made also that the American Association has a strong financial support and is ready to war on the new American League as long as "Ban" Johnson and his associates are willing to carry on the fight.

While the American Association was forming to oppose the American League, negotiations were in progress by Johnson for the lease of the park in Philadelphia on which the National League clubs play, and, from the statements made by interested persons, these negotiations, if successful, which it is said they will be, the curious spectacle will be presented in Philadelphia of the championship games of both being played on the same grounds. Hezekiah Nyles of Philadelphia, next to Ban Johnson, is the person most interested. According to Mr. Nyles, he has a claim on the Philadelphia baseball park, acquired through the charter of the old Athletic baseball team of the American Association. This charter, which Mr. Nyles says he bought, gives him a hold on the baseball park until 1903, with the right to sublease the grounds at his pleasure, so long as he can do so without conflicting with contracts already existing. Nyles, acting on that right, says he already has permitted "Ban" Johnson to obtain an option, and, if the deal closes, the American League players will have a perfect right to play on the same field that does the Philadelphia Club of the National League.

Princeton's Baseball Candidates.

PRINCETON, N. J., Jan. 17.—Capt. William E. Green of the baseball team met the candidates for Princeton's nine to-day and gave them some instructions regarding the eligibility rules which govern this branch of the university's sports.

About thirty-five men were present, and Capt. Green informed them that Prof. Harry B. Fine of the Faculty Committee on Outdoor Sports had issued orders that any student who may have a single condition against him after the conditional examination, held in March, will not be permitted to try for the team. Cage practice will be started about ten days after the mid-year examinations, which end on Feb. 6.

QUAKERS BEATEN AT HOCKEY.

St. Nicholas Skating Club Team Had Little Trouble Winning by 4 Goals.

The Quaker City Hockey Club appeared in New York at the St. Nicholas Rink last evening after an absence of four years, and were easily defeated by the St. Nicholas Skating Club by a score of 5 to 1. The game was very even throughout the first half, and the Philadelphians' strength was quite a surprise. The visitors were the first to score on Varney's shoot, and St. Nicholas a few minutes later tied the tally on a goal by K. Gordon. Neither team could score again in the first period. St. Nicholas in the first half evinced almost a total lack of ability to play together, and their bringing the puck toward the Quakers' goal was scarcely in a single instance due to collective play. Between the halves Capt. Hayward gave the men somewhat of a dressing down, and their work in the second period showed the good effects of it. Their team work was slightly better, and their individual playing was far more aggressive and speedy. Only one goal came through concerted effort, and that was by Greer Campbell on a pass from Walton. K. Gordon tallied once on a clever dodging carry down the ice, and Walton tallied a few moments later on a side shoot. Greer Campbell, assisted by his brother, Shiras Campbell, captain of last year's Yale seven, and Howard Walton gained another point. D. Gordon, unassisted, scored the last goal. Line-up:

St. Nicholas S. C.	Position.	Quaker City H. C.
Hayward	Goal	Rhodes
Ayres	Point	Hueston
G. Campbell	Cover Point	Robertson
D. Gordon	Forward	Orton
K. Gordon	Forward	Gorman
Walton	Forward	Varney
S. Campbell	Forward	Rodgers

Goals scored—By Walton, 1; D. Gordon, K. Gordon, 2; G. Campbell, 1; Varney, 1. Referee—T. W. Post, Brooklyn Skating Club. Time of game—Twenty-minute halves.

Amateur Hockey League Meeting.

The Executive Committee of the Amateur Hockey League held a meeting at the St. Nicholas Rink last evening. They considered the case of Howard, the crack forward of the New York Athletic Club, who had been suspended from the league on account of playing with a Pittsburg team early in the year. This violates a rule of the league, which says that no player can represent two clubs in the same year without special permission. After a careful hearing of his case, the committee decided to reinstate Howard so that he will hereafter be eligible to represent the New York Athletic Club. The Mercury Foot's game with the St. Nicholas Club on Jan. 8, in which Howard played, will have to be contested again without Howard, as he was under suspension at the time he played.

The committee also decided to expel from the league William Murray of the Brooklyn Skating Club for his brutal assault on Frederick Cobb of the New York Athletic Club in the Clermont Rink on Wednesday evening. Murray will therefore be unable to represent hereafter any reputable hockey club in the country.

Skating Club Expels Murray.

William Murray of the Skating Club of Brooklyn, who assaulted Frederick Cobb of the New York Athletic Club in the hockey game at the Clermont Avenue Ice Skating Rink on Wednesday night, was expelled from the team after being called on to explain his position and asked why he committed the assault. He said: "I lost my head, and am sorry for what I did, but it will take a very strong man to have his hand broken in a hockey game and not try at least to revenge himself on the person who so injures him. I am sorry for what I did, and more for the Skating Club of Brooklyn than myself."

Murray was then expelled from the team formally and the Executive Committee of the Skating Club of Brooklyn, headed by Latham A. Fish, sent a formal note of apology to the New York Athletic Club team and further a letter to the Secretary of the Amateur Hockey League, requesting that Murray be not allowed to play hockey on any league team for the future.

MOTOR CYCLES TO ORDER

Dealers Ready to Fit a Bicycle with the New Appliance.

STRONGER FRAMES NECESSARY

Interesting Discussion on This Subject at Madison Square Garden—Ladies to Ride More.

An increased attendance was noticeable yesterday afternoon and evening at the Bicycle Show in the Madison Square Garden.

"The middle of the week is always the best," said the manager of one large cycle exhibit. There has been an unexpectedly large number of out-of-town tradesmen, and from all quarters come indications of a livelier bicycle season this year than has been the case for the last two seasons."

In this latter respect there is a marked revival of interest among women riders, and the sale of ladies' bicycles promises to be much larger this year than twelve months ago. The ladies' wheels are particularly light and attractive this year, and when one considers that a roadster, adapted for all kinds of country use, may be purchased for $25, it seems too good to refuse, in the present rôle of the bicycle as a necessity instead of a luxury.

More than half of the visitors to the Garden are inquirers—a healthful condition of trade that is received joyously by the agents and salesmen. Time is of no value in the careful explanation of improvements and novelties, and nearly every booth is always occupied with a half dozen or more seekers for information.

This fact is particularly true around the motor cycles and automobiles. Several manufacturers are taking advantage of this motor interest to show motors with their appurtenances which, it is claimed, may be fitted for use to any bicycle. The practicability of this subject is a matter that is agitating considerable discussion in the Garden just at present, and the rosy claims of several pioneers in this motor adaptation are not accepted as final by many of the bicycle dealers.

In other words, it is claimed that a rider may take his old wheel to one of these motor outfitters, have the motor, with its gasoline tank and all, fitted to the frame, and thus evolve a motor cycle from his old bicycle. The first question that naturally presents itself is, What does it cost? One of the motor firms that is making a specialty of this business offers to do the job for $140, but at the same time the frame is strengthened by a stronger head and tandem forks.

This is just where the difficulty lies in making a motor cycle from a bicycle. In explanation, one bicycle dealer said: "The strain on the wheel is first shown in the forks and the head, and the bicycle must be especially strong in those parts. If either breaks, the bicycle is wrecked, and the rider is powerless to save himself from a bad fall. The best machines are always made particularly strong in the forks."

It is easy to see the extra strain that would be given to an ordinary roadster by the addition of the motor appliance. The motor supplied by the firm previously mentioned weighs twenty-three pounds. The tank will hold five pints of gasoline, warranted to run from fifty to seventy-five miles at a maximum speed of twenty miles an hour. The entire outfit will weigh fifty pounds, while the bicycle weighs from twenty-two to twenty-four pounds. The motor gives about one actual horse power.

Several bicycles are being fitted with these motors, but it was brought out that the wheels have all been furnished by bicycle firms, the frames being considerably stronger than those put on wheels displayed for sale, and when completed they will be called motor cycles under the name of the wheel.

Another firm insists that it is practical to fit motors to any given bicycle and experience satisfactory results. As proof it shows one so fitted, which, it is claimed, has been ridden many hundreds of miles. Practical bicyclists, however, continue to be skeptical on the subject. A complete motor cycle can be bought for $200, so that the saving is only $50 or $60 in fitting the motor to an old bicycle. Patient inquiry failed to discover a single case where a private individual had brought his old wheel for motor fittings.

The Pan-American bicycle booth attracts considerable attention, and an attendant is always present to explain some of the features of that coming exposition in Buffalo. One chainless wheel combines the centre driving chainless gears with the cushion frame and hub coaster brake. The method of arranging the lower cushion on the chainless gears is an attractive novelty from the mechanical point of view. The main tubes are connected with the drop forged ring which oscillates on the side plates, connected with the lower gear forks, produced by a ball-bearing surface.

Two or three new automobiles were added yesterday, and in the evening the Garden, with its brilliant decorations, attractive booths, myriads of colored lights, and spirited music by the band, presented a gay and festive appearance.

In the voting contest for the Tribune trip-let, to be given to the most popular cycling club, the vote, including Wednesday night's stands: Greenwich Wheelmen, 1,902; Hackensack Wheelmen, 1,546; Sterling Wheelmen, 1,196; Westchester Wheelmen, 806; Harrison Wheelmen, 724.

In the contest for the Featherstone wheels to the school teacher and the scholar there are 800 names in over 9,000 ballots. No definite figures can be given until all are canvassed, after the voting closes to-night. The result will be bulletined at the Featherstone exhibit to-morrow noon.

LONG ISLAND AUTOMOBILISTS.

One Hundred-Mile Test Arranged, and Sign Posts to be Placed on Roads.

Theodore Roosevelt, Vice President-elect of the United States; Lieut. Gov. Timothy L. Woodruff, and Richard Dudgeon of Locust Valley were elected as the first honorary members yesterday of the Automobile Club of Long Island, at a special meeting held at 352 State Street, Brooklyn. The honor was conferred upon Mr. Dudgeon in view of the fact that he is acknowledged to be the first automobilist on Long Island.

The club took up the subject of placing sign posts on highways with ardor, and will at once begin the erection of forty iron sign posts at prominent points on Long Island roads. This is one of the steps toward carrying out a general placing of such road marks throughout the country, as determined upon by the Automobile Club of America last week.

ROAD DRIVERS' NOMINATIONS.

Officers Named at a Meeting Held by Nominating Committee.

The Nominating Committee, composed of George Coleman, W. P. Durando, C. C. Lloyd, F. Gerken, N. Ely, D. Randall, D. D. S., and J. W. Cornish of the Road Drivers' Association, held a meeting at the association's headquarters, Rossmore Hotel, yesterday afternoon, and named the board of officers and various committees for the ensuing year. There is no opposition ticket in the field, and the present nominees will, no doubt, be unanimously elected at the meeting of the association next month. The nominations follow:

President—Dr. H. H. Kane; Vice Presidents—John F. Cockerill, A. B. Gwathmey, J. W. Cornish; Secretary-Treasurer—A. P. Reeves

Executive Committee—Arthur L. Kerker, George W. Grote, James P. Robertson, Nathan Straus, Charles Lloyd, William E. Parsons, Jr., John A. Blaurock, Hiram H. Hollis, George T. Putney, Alexander Newberger, William P. Durando, J. W. Cornish, Dr. H. D. Gill, M. L. Reid, George Coleman, Edward Murphy, Jr., Thomas Gilroy, Thomas Byrnes, W. R. Hearst, C. K. G. Billings, Paul Dana, Kimball C. Atwood, John B. Doerr, E. E. Smathers, Walter E. Hildreth, W. G. Leland, James J. Coogan, Thomas J. Dunn, Nathan Ely, John McCullagh, Homer Davenport, H. C. Mapes, Q. Graves, Edgar Bronk, Dr. David Randall, William E. Spier, C. Reilly, Mayor Fiske of Mount Vernon, W. B. Fasig and E. Stillings.

Race Committee—George A. Coleman, Chairman; William P. Durando, Dr. David Randall, and Charles C. Lloyd.

Sloan's Tempter Here to Buy Horses.

C. A. Mills, the English turfman, was among the arrivals on the White Star liner Majestic from Liverpool yesterday. He gained considerable notoriety through his connection with the "Codoman case," by placing a bet on the horse and telling Tod Sloan that should Codoman win he would make him a present of £1,000, resulting in the action against the jockey by the English Stewards. Mills was fined for his connection with the case. Sloan had previously won an important race in France on Codoman, and when he was selected to ride the horse in England, Mills placed a bet on him for F. Gardiner, afterward informing the jockey that should he win he would receive the cash present.

When seen yesterday Mr. Mills said in referring to his visit to this country that he would remain about a month. "I may," he said, "go to the Pacific Coast before I go back. If I run across any good, likely horses I may make some purchases, as several of my friends have asked me to be on the lookout for good ones while on this side."

Race Track Results.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 17.—One mile—Rushfields, 102 pounds, (Dale,) 1; Pacemaker, 107, 2; Bequeath, 102, 3. Time—1:48½. Six furlongs—Athara, 96, (Wonderly,) 1; Kohnwreath, 97, 2; Boomsrack, 101, 3. Time—1:18½. Mile and a quarter—Silver Coin, 104, (Coebran,) 1; Woodtrice, 99, 2; Defender II., 101, 3. Time—2:15. Handicap, six furlongs—Charlie O'Brien, 106, (Mitchell,) 1; Alpacs, 102, 2; Moroni, 108, 3. Time—1:17¾. Six furlongs—Agitator, 102, (Weber,) 1; Four Leaf C., 101, 2; Mordelmo, 105, 3. Time—1:16. One mile—Pat Garrett, 104, (Dale,) 1; Frank McConnell, 111, 2; Trebor, 113, 3. Time—1:46½.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 17.—Seven furlongs—Free Lance, 113 pounds, (Mounce,) 1; Grand Sachem, 105, 2; Mike Rice, 112, 3. Time—1:30. Five and a half furlongs—The Light, 105, (Dominick,) 1; Tingaling, 111, 2; Abbey Leix L., 101, 3. Time—1:10. Three and a half furlongs—Dorine, 110, (Buchanan,) 1; Larghetta, 104, 2; Louweiza, 107, 3. Time—0:44. Mile and a sixteenth—Opponent, 105, (O'Connor,) 1; Sir Rolla, 109, 2; None Such, 103, 3. Time—1:51½. Six furlongs—Maggie Davis, 105, (Coburn,) 1; Rollick, 92, 2; Bab, 100, 3. Time—1:15. Six furlongs—Sweet Caporal, 102, (Coburn,) 1; Nullah, 99, 2; Handicapper, 101, 3. Time—1:15½.

FIVE BULL'S-EYES FOR O'CONNOR.

Perfect Score in Seventh Regiment Shoot Made by Co. I Sergeant.

The first perfect score made in the annual rifle competitions on the range of the Seventh Regiment, N. G. N. Y., was earned yesterday, the fourth day of the contests for the Edward Kemp and Col. Emmons Clark Trophies, when Sergt. W. A. O'Connor of Company I, which held possession of the range, made five straight bull's-eyes at the 500-yard mark, shooting prone. Sergt. O'Connor's perfect score at this distance helped his general average to the point that he is one of the three leading men in the contest, with a score of 48 out of a possible 50, as at the two distances, 200 and 500 yards, 48 is the highest average obtained, and two other men sharing in the leadership with O'Connor. The next best score of the day was made by Second Lieutenant J. L. Roberts, Jr., with 24 points in 25 at 200 yards and 23 in 25 at 500 yards, his total being 47. The scores:

EDWARD KEMP TROPHY MATCH.

COMPANY I.

	200 Yds.	500 Yds.	Total.
Sergt. W. A. O'Connor	23	25	48
2d Lieut. J. L. Roberts, Jr.	24	23	47
1st Sergt. B. B. McAlpin	23	23	46
Private A. E. Ranney	22	24	46
Corp. R. K. Potter	23	22	45
Sergt. B. Houstan	22	23	45
Private L. C. Berrian	22	23	45
Corp. V. C. Brown	20	24	44
Lance Corp. H. L. Stratton	22	21	43
Private J. A. Powell	21	22	43
Private A. D. F. Adams	21	22	43
Private T. D. O'Connor	21	22	43
Corp. J. A. Le Boutellier	21	21	42
Private W. D. Vanderbilt	21	21	42
Private W. B. Cragin	20	22	42
Sergt. W. B. Cowperthwait	20	21	41
Corp. G. Perrine	20	21	41
Lance Corp. J. W. Clark	17	24	41
Capt. F. G. Landon	21	19	40
Corp. A. Coppell	21	19	40
Corp. G. F. Hawkins	20	20	40
Private W. H. Mote	20	20	40
Corp. B. W. Wenman	20	19	39
Private N. C. Robbins	22	15	37
1st Lieut. J. W. Cleveland	20	13	33
Total	528	528	1,056

COL. EMMONS CLARK TROPHY MATCH.

COMPANY I.

	200 Yds.	500 Yds.	Total.
Private C. H. Platt	23	23	46
Private A. S. Cragin	19	24	43
Private H. H. Holly, Jr.	19	23	42
Private H. H. T. Noble	23	16	39
Private C. L. Phillips	20	19	39
Private E. Slosson	20	18	38
Lance Corp. C. A. Slosson	18	18	36
Private A. T. Compton	18	18	36
Private H. K. Masters	20	15	35
Private W. J. Coudert	19	16	35
Private A. D. Smith	18	17	35
Private B. Carroll	16	19	35
Private F. W. Hubby, Jr.	21	13	34
Private W. H. Morrison	18	14	32
Private S. R. Fowler	17	15	32
Private H. H. Russell	17	15	32
Private H. Hebbard	16	16	32
Sergt. W. D. Stewart	14	18	32
Corp. T. B. Aldrich	20	11	31
Private J. W. Goff, Jr.	18	13	31
Private A. W. Rossiter	16	15	31
Private E. Williams	12	19	31
Private E. MacGregor	21	8	29
Private H. W. Durham	14	12	26
Private J. B. Little	13	13	26
Total	450	408	858
Kemp Trophy scores	528	528	1,056
Grand total	978	936	1,914

INDOOR FOOTBALL.

Saranac Lads Resent a Decision at the Horse Exchange and the Game Ends in a Row.

Indoor football drew a large crowd, despite the wet weather, to the American Horse Exchange, Fiftieth Street and Broadway, last night, and the friends of four local teams were kept in a state of lively excitement for nearly three hours. The first game ended amid a storm of bitterness and indications of a general row among the young football rivals, while the opposing factions in the gallery yelled and hooted like wild Indians.

The competing teams were the Saranac second and the Monitors. With the score 12 to 10 in Saranac's favor, the referee, Fred Cuthbertson, made the decision of a foul tackle against the Saranac team, which they claimed was unjust and walked off the field. The game was awarded to the Monitors amid great excitement.

This game was followed by one between the Lafayettes of Harlem and the Junior Colleagues of East Ninety-second Street. It was a well-fought match, but Lafayette proved superior, and won by the score of 10 points to 5.

BUSINESS TROUBLES.

New York City.

ANNIE WEINSTEIN.—Schedules in bankruptcy of Annie Weinstein, dealer in dry goods at Newburg, show liabilities of $6,184 and no assets, as all the stock was turned over to an assignee on Nov. 28 last.

M. C. BOYNTON & CO.—A meeting of the creditors of M. C. Boynton & Co., corporation, dealers in cloaks at 12 West Fourteenth Street, was held yesterday at the office of N. S. Smith, Referee in Bankruptcy, at 302 Broadway. Thirty claims were filed, amounting to $10,000, and Benjamin Barker was elected trustee.

I. KRESS & CO.—Judge Brown of the United States District Court has appointed George H. Gilman receiver of the assets of I. Kress & Co., cloak manufacturers at 319 Canal Street, against whom creditors filed a petition in bankruptcy on the 7th inst., on the application of Alfred Epstein, in order to get back $1,500 worth of stock which was replevined.

WILLIAM J. BURKART.—William J. Burkart, dealer in shoes at 1,301 Broadway, Brooklyn, has made an assignment to Moses Goodman, attorney, of 320 Broadway, Manhattan. Mr. Goodman said that the assignment was due to lack of capital and competition. The liabilities are $25,000, and assets $20,000. The business has been established many years.

CHARLES L. PETTIS & CO.—Judge Brown of the United States District Court has appointed Walter P. Long temporary receiver of the assets of Charles L. Pettis & Co., produce dealers at 204 Duane Street, against whom creditors filed a petition in bankruptcy on the 7th inst. Thirteen additional creditors have joined in the bankruptcy petition. The receiver's bond is $5,000.

HUMBOLDT FOSS.—Judge Brown of the United States District Court has appointed George H. Gilman receiver of the assets of Humboldt Foss, dealer in woolen rags at 140 Baxter Street, against whom creditors filed a petition in bankruptcy on Wednesday, on the application of Benjamin & Loeser, representing creditors to the amount of $4,200. It was stated that the liabilities are $14,000 and assets $750, and that the debtor has made an offer to compromise at 12½ cents on the dollar. A creditors' committee has sold out the stock, realizing $400.

PETITIONS IN BANKRUPTCY.

HENRY HOLZSTEIN.—Henry Holzstein, salesman, of 691 East One Hundred and Fifty-fifth Street, has filed a petition in bankruptcy, with liabilities $1,080 and no assets. The liabilities are for a loan of $900 in 1899 and a judgment for $780 for shoes in 1890.

FREDERICK PAULSEN.—Frederick Paulsen, merchant, residing at 8 Hamilton Terrace, has filed a petition in bankruptcy, with liabilities $32,054 and nominal assets $9,172 in outstanding accounts, of which $4,500 is due from persons in Norway and Sweden. The liabilities were incurred from 1891 to 1894, principally for borrowed money and merchandise. Mr. Paulsen has been in the export and import trade for about twenty years, and formerly imported salt fish.

CHARLES M. HEID.—Charles M. Heid, who describes himself as a gentleman whose place of business is at 8 South William Street, has filed a petition in bankruptcy, with liabilities $37,441 and assets $229. A portion of the debts were contracted in partnership with Charles W. Hamburger, as Charles M. Heid & Co., who dissolved in 1896; and also as indorser on notes of the J. C. Godfrey Paper Company and the Quassapaug Paper Company of Southport, Conn., of which he was formerly Treasurer. He is now a seller of beeswax. His assets consist of office furniture, $100; debts due, $129. He also has outstanding accounts of $13,098, of no value, and twenty-seven shares of stock of the Quassapaug Paper Company, of no value.

JULIUS A. ROBINSON.—A petition in involuntary bankruptcy was filed yesterday against Julius A. Robinson, proprietor of the St. Nicholas Hotel, corner of Washington Place and Mercer Street, by these creditors: George H. Johnston, clerk and confidential agent, $300 for services; Edmund H. Carter, clerk, $40 for services, and the Beakes Dairy Company, $968 for milk. It was alleged that Mr. Robinson is insolvent, that on Dec. 7 he permitted a judgment to be taken against him by default in a foreclosure suit by the Irving Savings Institution, and the property was advertised for sale yesterday; that on Nov. 15 he permitted a judgment to be taken against him by default by a Mr. King for $1,300, and another by a Mr. Feigle for $155, and that on Dec. 15 he admitted in writing his inability to pay his debts and willingness to be adjudged bankrupt on that ground. Mr. Robinson has been in the hotel business in this city for over twenty-five years, and three years ago considered himself worth from $300,000 to $400,000. Bradstreet's took away his rating in September last. In 1882 he bought the property at the southeast corner of Washington Place and Mercer Street, and spent considerable money in improvements. He called the place the Commercial Hotel up to 1885, when he changed the name to the St. Nicholas Hotel. In addition to this hotel he also carried on the New York Hotel, at 663 and 665 Broadway, from 1887 to 1898. He has been in ill-health for the past two years, and his financial difficulties are attributed to that. The sale of the St. Nicholas Hotel property was adjourned yesterday until Jan. 24, an injunction having been obtained by the petitioning creditors restraining the sale. The property has heretofore been valued at $300,000, and the amount due on the mortgage, under which the sale was advertised, was $156,047.

Judgments.

The following judgments were filed yesterday, the first name being that of the debtor:

AUSTIN, Frank—E. V. Dutcher, as President, &c.	$113
BROCKMAN, Isidore—J. Kaplan	208
BLUE, Robert J.—J. Hallahan	1,452
BLINN, Etta and Christian; also Emma L. Smith—Lucia Sess.	635
BAYERSDORF, Michael—K. G. Viele	415
BIMBERG, Henry—Consolidated Gas Company	82
COLLINS, James J., and Harry E. Oxford—The People, &c.	500
COHEN, Harrie and Abraham—City of New York	262
COMBS, Henry J.—Gorham Manufacturing Company	72
CLARK, Anthony—J. B. Hall	846
COULTER, Charles L.—Supreme Court of the Independent Order of Foresters	113
DIAMANT, Adolf—Consolidated Gas Company	110
DEVINE, Jane—Henry Haffen	197
ERICSON, Alfred—James A. and E. T. Woolf	1,058
ELTERICH, G. Otto—S. P. Sturges	221
FERRERA, Antonio, and Luigi D'Ambrosio—F. De Martino	196
FOLEY, Bernard—The City of New York	122
FARLEY, Mary—The City of New York	118
FLAHERTY, Robert—C. Cary and others	368
FIELDER, Jesse M.—G. M. Buttle	37
GERATY, Frank W.—The Hannis Distilling Company	268
GRIFFITHS, Harry, by guardian, &c.—Metropolitan Street Railway Company, costs	134
GALLAUNER, Edmund—P. Ffotenhauer and another	110
GWYER, C., and William H. O'Neal—The Goshen National Bank	197
GOLDING, John J.—Consolidated Gas Company	100
HOLDEN, Ernest—W. A. Leggett and others	52
HART, Frieda and Max—The Bowery Bank	474
HACKETT, James H. and Thomas F.—The H. O. Hornehy's Oatmeal Company	85
HART, Max—Burlington Venetian Blind Company	271
HUTCHINGS, William—H. Bell	38
KEHOE, William J.—A. Prince	314
KAYNE, Alfred—J. Knutsen	110
KAYNE, Alfred—Susie A. C. Rowe	564
KAPLAN, Barnett—A. Goldstein	111
KLUG, Leonore—H. Schlose	135
LUEDECKE, Frank—Metropolitan Street Railway Company, costs	402
LEVIEN, Jane T.—William R. Laidlaw	561
MEAGHER, James — Consolidated Gas Company	176
McCRRARY, Albert—L. A. Rodenstein	104
McGARY, Joseph—R. C. Galindo	36
OSBORN, W. Russell, administrator, &c., —The National Bank of the Republic, New York	52,018
O'BRIEN, John C. — Consolidated Gas Company	43
OFFERMAN, Henry—James Winterbottom and another	93
PUTTER, Nathan—Julius Kessler & Co	499
PELLETREAU, A. Maltby, and Edward H. Yale—H. Brister	428
PORTER, William S.—H. Kelley	2,382
PETERSON, Charles H.—Jay C. Wemple Company	65
RIVERS, Charles H., Jr.—The Marks & Mayer Importation Company	43
ROSENBLUTH, Hermen—J. Isaacsohn	52
ROSENTHAL, Abraham—S. Goldberg	40
RUNDE, Adam T., and William A. Schumacher—H. Spiegel and another	79
SCHNEIDER, Peter—J. Lahres	228
SCHADE, Julius E.—F. H. Leggett and others	41
SIMS, Caroline A. B.—M. G. Rieser	285
SEIDEMAN, Harry—M. Newmarks and another	40
SMITH, Du Bois—C. D. Leverich	1,022
TOSCANO, Francesco—Consolidated Gas Company	99
TONNER, James S.—New York Telephone Company	63
THURBER, Jeanette M.—H. C. Ross	276
TAUBER, Bernard—K. Sachs and another	627
VIBBARD, Chauncey—H. Bell	21
VAN NESS, Fred—H. Russell	23
WIBERT, Henry H.—F. H. Hunter	803
THE HAVERSTRAW LIGHT, FUEL, and Gas Company—Nason Manufacturing Company, respt.	180

THE COMMERCIAL WORLD

CASH QUOTATIONS.

Wheat, No. 2 red	.79¼
Corn, No. 2 mixed	.40
Oats, No. 2 mixed	.30½
Flour, Minneapolis patents	$4.15
Cotton, middling	.07⅝
Coffee, No. 7 Rio	.07⅝
Sugar, granulated	5.80
Molasses, O. K. prime	.40
Beef, family	11.00
Beef hams	20.00
Tallow, prime	.05 3-16
Pork, mess	14.25
Hogs, dressed, 160-lb	.07
Lard, prime	7.75
Butter, Western creamery	.21

CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—Cash quotations were as follows: Flour inactive; No. 3 Spring wheat, 69@72c; No. 2 red, 74@76c; No. 2 corn, 37¼c; No. 2 yellow, 37¼c; No. 2 oats, 24c; No. 2 white, 27c; No. 3 white, 26@26¾c; No. 2 rye, 51½@52¾c; fair to choice malting barley, 54@56c; No. 1 flaxseed, $1.04; No. 1 Northwestern, $1.05; prime timothy seed, $4.45; mess pork, per bbl, $13.35@$14; lard, per 100 lb, $7.35@$7.37½; short ribs, sides (loose), $7@$7.25; dry-salted shoulders (boxed), 6¼@6¾c; short clear sides (boxed), $7.25@$7.35; whisky, basis of high wines, $1.27; clover, contract grade, $11.

COTTON.—A considerable portion of the advance established during Wednesday's wave of covering and investment buying was swept away early yesterday morning by a small avalanche of liquidation and some bear pounding. There were several reactionary movements later in the session, but prices failed to rally to the final bids Wednesday. The friends of the market were seriously handicapped by an almost total absence of investment orders from the public, which on Wednesday gave promise of taking a firm hold once more. On the opening the feeling was easy with prices down 3 to 5 points, immediately followed by an additional drop of 6 to 8 points under selling for both accounts, which seemed to come from nearly all points of the compass. Toward midday there was a change for the better, but in the early afternoon sheer dearth of supporting orders caused prices to slowly sag, after which variations were insignificant and business practically flat. The market was finally steady in tone with prices net 5 to 10 points lower. Spot cotton closed dull with quotations unchanged on the basis of 9⅝c for middling upland and 10¼c for middling Gulf. Sales none. Southern spot markets were telegraphed as follows: New Orleans, quiet, unchanged, at 9¾c; Mobile, quiet, unchanged, at 9½c; Savannah, quiet, 1-16c decline, at 9⅜c; Charleston, steady, unchanged, at 9¼c; Wilmington, firm, unchanged, at 9½c; Norfolk, quiet, unchanged, at 9½c; Baltimore, nominal, unchanged, at 10c; Augusta, quiet and steady, 1-16c decline, at 9 3-16c; St. Louis, quiet, unchanged, at 9¾c.

Contract prices ranged as follows:

	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.
January	9.61	9.62	9.54	9.55@9.60
February	9.39	9.39	9.32	9.33@9.35
March	9.35	9.35	9.28	9.30@9.31
April	9.30	9.30	9.27	9.28@9.30
May	9.30	9.31	9.25	9.26@9.28
June	9.24	9.26	9.24	9.25@9.28
July	9.27	9.28	9.23	9.26@9.27
August	9.00	9.02	8.97	9.00@9.01
September	8.50	8.50	8.49	8.49@8.51
October	8.20	8.21	8.19	8.21@8.22
November				8.10@8.15

LIVERPOOL, Jan. 17.—Spot cotton, moderate business; prices, 1-16d higher; American middling, fair, 5¾d; good middling, 5 19-32d; middling, 5½d; low middling, 5 11-32d; good ordinary, 5 1-32d; ordinary, 4 27-32d. The sales of the day were 8,000 bales, of which 500 were for speculation and export, and included 7,400 bales American. Receipts, 1,000 bales, all American. Futures opened quiet and steady and closed steady; American middling, low middling clause, January, 5 21-64d sellers; January and February, 5 19-64d buyers; February and March, 5 19-64d@5 17-64d sellers; March and April, 5 14-64@5 15-64d sellers; April and May, 5 12-64@5 13-64d sellers; May and June, 5 10-64@5 11-64d sellers; June and July, 5 8-64d buyers; July and August, 5 5-64@5 6-64d sellers; August and September, 4 57-64@4 58-64d sellers; September and October, 4 57-64d sellers; October good ordinary clause, 4 40-64d nominal; October and November, 4 31-64d nominal.

BREADSTUFFS.—WHEAT—In spite of a much steadier set of cables from Liverpool than had been expected the wheat market got a weak start yesterday, and before the day was out had lost another cent a bushel. Actual figures were almost a surprise to the bulls themselves. At New York, outports, and in the West fully 186 louis were worked, part late Wednesday, while some rumors insisted that not less than 1,500,000 bushels had been negotiated. The inside figure, however, was the one most generally accepted. Quotations for cash wheat, free on board, afloat, bushel, were as follows: No. 1 hard, Duluth, 83¾c, nominal; old No. 1 Northern, Duluth, 80¾c; No. 1 Northern, Duluth, 84¾c; No. 1 Northern, Chicago, 82¾c; No. 2 red, New York, 79¼c, afloat; No. 2 hard, Chicago, 80¼c, prompt; No. 2 hard, New York, 79¾c, scarce.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Jan. 17.—Wheat—No. 2 red, cash, 71¾c; January, 71¾c; May, 73¾@73⅝c; July, 72½c; No. 2 hard, 69@70c. Corn No. 2, cash, 35½c; January, 35½c; May, 37⅝c; July, 37¾c. Oats—No. 2 cash, 25c; January, 25c; May, 25¾c; No. 2 white, 27½c.

DULUTH, Minn., Jan. 17.—Wheat—No. 1 hard, cash, 71¾c; to arrive, 70¾c; May, 77¼c; No. 1 Northern, cash, 71¾c; to arrive, 71¾c; May, 75¾c; July, 70¾c; No. 2 Northern, 67¼@67¾c; No. 3 Spring, 58¾@60¾c. Corn, 36½c. Oats, 25¾@25½c.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Jan. 17.—Wheat—Cash, 71¾c; May, 75¾c; July, 70¾c; on track, No. 1, hard, 75¼c; No. 1 Northern, 73¼c; No. 2 Northern, 68¼@70¼c. Flour and bran unchanged.

MILWAUKEE, Jan. 17.—Wheat lower; No. 1 Northern, 74@74½c; No. 2 Northern, 71½@72c. Rye lower; No. 1, 52@52½c. Barley dull; No. 2, 60@60½c; sample, 45@57c.

FLOUR AND MEAL.—Spring patents were quoted, $4@$4.25; Winter straights, $3.40@$3.50; Winter patents, $3.65@$4; Spring clears, $3@$3.30; extra No. 1 Winter, $2.70@$2.90; extra No. 2 Winter, $2.50@$2.65; no grade, $18.00@$19.25, spot and to arrive. Stockwheat flour, $2.10@$2.20. Rye flour steady; fair to good, $2.90@$3.15; choice to fancy, $3.15@$3.50. Corn Meal Easy; kiln-dried, $2.35@$2.40, as to brand. Bag Meal—Quiet; fine white and yellow, $1@$1.05; coarse, $1@$1.02. Feed—Steady; spring bran, spot, $16.75@$17; sacks, to arrive, 200 lbs, $17@$17.50; spring bran, bulk, $16.25@$16.50; coarse Winter bran, $16@$18.50; city bran, $16.50@$17. Corn meal, $25. Linseed oil cake, $27.75. Corn oil cake, $19. Hominy chop, $17.

FUTURES.

NEW YORK PRICES.

Wheat—	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.
January	..	..	..	78¼
March	79½	80½	78⅝	79⅝
May	80	80 1-16	79¼	79¾
July	79	79⅝	78 11-16	79⅛
Corn—
January	..	..	..	46½
March	..	..	..	45
May	43⅝	44	43 9-16	44
July	..	..	..	44½
Lard—
January	..	..	..	$7.75

CHICAGO PRICES.

Wheat—	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.
January	72 11-16	72 11-16	71½	72¼
February	72 15-16	72 15-16	71⅝	72⅛
May	75¼	75¾	74 5-16	75
Corn—
January	36⅛	36⅜	35⅞	36⅜
February	36⅝	36⅝	36⅜	36⅝
May	38 1-16	38⅜	37 13-16	38⅛
Oats—
January	23½	23⅞	23½	23⅞
May	24⅜	25¾	24¾	25¼
Lard—
January	$7.35	$7.37½	$7.35	$7.37½
May	7.47½	7.47½	7.42½	7.47½
Ribs—
January	7.00	7.02½	7.00	7.02½
May	7.12½	7.15	7.05	7.15
Pork—
January	13.10	13.05	13.00	13.05
May	14.10	14.15	13.97½	14.15

PROVISIONS.—PORK—Firm; mess, $13.75@$14.75; family, $15@$16; short clear, $14.50@$17. BEEF—Steady; mess, $8@$9.50; family, $10@$12; packet, $10@$10.50; extra India mess, $14@$16. BEEF HAMS—Nominal: $19.50@$20.50. DRESSED HOGS—Steady; bacons, 6¾c; 180 lbs, 7c; 160 lb, 7c; pigs, 7¾c. CUT MEATS—Pickled bellies, firm; smoking, 8¼c; 10 lbs, 8c; 12 lbs, 7¾@8c; 14 lbs, 7½c; pickled shoulders, steady; 5¾@6c; pickled hams, dull; 8½@9c. TALLOW—Steady; city, 5½@5¾c; country, 5½@5¾c. LARD—Steady; $7.75; city lard steady; $7.50; refined lard steady; South America, $8.50; Continent, $7.85; Brazil kegs, $9.50; compound dull; city, 5¾@5¾c; Western, 5¾@5¾c. STEARINE—Steady; oleo, 7½c; city lard stearine, 8@8¼c.

COFFEE.—Contract prices ranged as follows:

	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.
January	5.55	5.55	5.55	5.55@5.60
February	..	..	..	5.65@5.70
March	5.75	5.75	5.75	5.75@5.80
April	..	..	..	5.75@5.80
May	5.85	5.85	5.85	5.80@5.85
June	..	..	..	5.80@5.90
July	5.90	5.90	5.90	5.85@5.95
August	..	..	..	5.85@5.95
September	5.95	5.95	5.95	5.90@5.95
October	6.00	6.00	6.00	5.95@6.00
November	..	..	..	5.95@6.00
December	6.05	6.05	6.05	6.05@6.10

METALS.—Iron—Northern, No. 1 foundry, $16; iron, Southern, No. 2 soft, $15.50; steel rails, $26; pig iron, warrants, $10; lake copper, spot, $17; tin, $26.15; Exchange lead, $4.37½; spelter, $4.07½.

SUGAR.—Centrifugal, 4⅝c; muscovado, 3⅝c; molasses, 3⅜.

NAVAL STORES.—Stocks—Resin, 31,615 bbls; spirits of turpentine, 2,368 bbls, and tar, 1,446 bbls. Demand quiet for small local nature, and prices were unchanged for spirits, but held tolerably steady in sympathy with Southern firmness. Resin was quiet and about steady but unchanged. We quote Tar regulars, $2; tar oil, bbls, $4, spirits of turpentine, 40@40½c; resin, Common to good strained, $1.70; G, $1.75; F, $1.80; G, $1.85; H, $1.90; I, $1.95; K, $2; M, $2.15; N, $2.35; W O, $2.85, and W W, $3.10.

WILMINGTON, N. C., Jan. 17.—Spirits turpentine, firm, 36½@37c; receipts, 37 casks. Resin steady, $1.20@$1.25; receipts, 377 barrels. Crude turpentine quiet, $1.30 and $2.30; receipts, 64 casks. Tar firm, $1.50; receipts, 335 barrels.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Jan. 17.—Spirits turpentine firm, 37½c; sales, 557 casks; exports, none. Resin firm and unchanged; receipts, 3,689 barrels; sales, 1,604 barrels; exports, none.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Jan. 17.—Turpentine market firm, 37c. Resin firm, unchanged.

OILS.—Petroleum, bbls, $7.45, and in bulk, $4.90; Philadelphia, bbls, $7.40, and in bulk, $4.85; refined, cases, New York, $8.50. Cottonseed Oil—Prime crude, bbls, 29½@29c, nominal; prime Summer yellow, 30½c; off Summer yellow, 29½c; prime white, 34@35c; prime Winter yellow, 36c. Linseed—American, raw, 56c; American, boiled, 58c; Calcutta, raw, 85c; Western linseed quoted 2c under city brands. Lard Oil—

Surrogate Notices.

ADEE, FREDERIC W.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. Frank T. Fitzgerald, a Surrogate of the County of New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against FREDERIC W. ADEE, late of the County of New York, deceased, to present the same, with vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at his place of transacting business, the office of Philip E. Connell, his attorney, No. 45 Pine Street, in the Borough of Manhattan, in the City of New York, on or before the 1st day of April, 1901.

Dated, New York, Sept. 21, 1900.

PHILIP H. ADEE, Administrator.

PHILIP E. CONNELL, Attorney for Administrator, 45 Pine Street, Borough of Manhattan, New York City.

se21-1awFdm.

ABBE, SARAH FULLER.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. Abner C. Thomas, a Surrogate of the County of New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against SARAH FULLER ABBE, late of the County of New York, deceased, to present the same, with vouchers thereof, to the subscribers at their place of transacting business, at the office of B. W. B. Brown, their attorney, No. 18 Wall Street, in the City of New York, Borough of Manhattan, on or before the 25th day of April next.—Dated New York, the 12th day of October, 1900.

WALDO F. ABBE,
SUSIE A. MORSE, Executors.

B. W. B. BROWN, Attorney for Executors, 18 Wall St., N. Y. City Borough of Manhattan.

ARMSTRONG, ANDREW C.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. Frank T. Fitzgerald, a Surrogate of the County of New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against ANDREW C. ARMSTRONG, late of the County of New York, deceased, to present the same, with vouchers thereof, to the subscribers, at their place of transacting business, at the office of Ritch, Woodford, Bovee & Wallace, their attorneys, at No. 18 Wall Street, Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on or before the 10th day of June next.—Dated New York, the 30th day of November, 1900. J. SINCLAIR ARMSTRONG, ANDREW C. ARMSTRONG, Executors. RITCH, WOODFORD, BOVEE & WALLACE, Attorneys for Executors, 18 Wall Street, Borough of Manhattan, New York City.

CLENDENIN, PAUL.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. Abner C. Thomas, a Surrogate of the County of New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against PAUL CLENDENIN, late of Santiago de Cuba, deceased, to present the same, with vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at her place of transacting business, rooms 3-5, No. 55 Liberty Street, in the Borough of Manhattan and City of New York, on or before the 12th day of February next.—Dated New York, the 8th day of August, 1900. HARRIET OSGOOD CLENDENIN, Administratrix.

WILLIAM C. WILSON, Attorney for Administratrix, No. 55 Liberty Street, Borough of Manhattan, City of New York. au10-1aw6mF

COHEN, JACOB.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. Abner C. Thomas, a Surrogate of the County of New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against JACOB COHEN, late of the County of New York, deceased, to present the same, with vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at his place of transacting business, No. 32 Liberty Street, Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on or before the 11th day of July next.—Dated New York, the 3d day of January, 1901.

SANFORD H. STEELE, Executor.

CHARLES H. OTIS, Attorney for Executor, 32 Liberty Street, Borough of Manhattan, New York City. N. Y.

DAVOREN, PATRICK.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. Abner C. Thomas, a Surrogate of the County of New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against PATRICK DAVOREN, late of the County of New York, deceased, to present the same, with vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at her place of transacting business, at the office of Victor J. Dowling, her attorney, No. 280 Broadway, in the City of New York, on or before the first day of July next.—Dated New York, the 15th day of December, 1900. MARGARET DAVOREN, Executrix. VICTOR J. DOWLING, Attorney for Executrix, 280 Broadway, Borough of Manhattan, N. Y. City. d14-1aw6mF

GORDON, WILLIAM, otherwise WILLIAM F.—The People of the State of New York, by the grace of God free and independent, to Catharine J. Greene and Mary J. Riley, of full age, and to any and all persons, if any there be, whose names and places of residence are unknown and cannot after diligent inquiry be ascertained, and who are or may be the heirs and next of kin of WILLIAM GORDON, otherwise WILLIAM F. GORDON, deceased, send greeting:

Whereas Charles J. McDermott of the City of New York, has lately applied to the Surrogate's Court of our County of New York to have a certain instrument in writing, relating to both real and personal property, duly proved as the last will and testament of WILLIAM GORDON, otherwise WILLIAM F. GORDON, late of the County of New York, deceased, therefore you, and each of you, are cited to appear before the Surrogate of our County of New York, at his office in the County of New York, on the 5th day of February, one thousand nine hundred and one, at half past ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, then and there to attend the probate of the said last will and testament.

And such of you as are hereby cited as are under the age of twenty-one years are required to appear by your guardian, if you have one, or if you have none, to appear and apply for one to be appointed, or in the event of your neglect or failure to do so, a guardian will be appointed by the Surrogate to represent and act for you in the proceeding.

In testimony whereof we have caused the seal of the Surrogates' Court of the said County of New York to be hereunto affixed. [L. S.] Witness, Hon. Abner C. Thomas, Surrogate of our said County of New York, at said county, the 11th day of December in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred.

J. FAIRFAX McLAUGHLIN,
Clerk of the Surrogates' Court.

d14-1aw0wF

TRUSDELL, SAMUEL G.—The People of the State of New York, by the grace of God free and independent, to John G. Trusdell, Warren A. Trusdell, George E. Trusdell, Abram K. Trusdell, Bernard H. Trusdell, Jane Wisner, Florence De Graw, Lucretia Brink, Manda Sayer, and Christiana J. De Kay, the heirs and next of kin of SAMUEL G. TRUSDELL, deceased, send greeting:

Whereas, Phebe J. Trusdell of the City of New York, has lately applied to the Surrogates' Court of our County of New York, to have a certain instrument in writing, bearing date the 9th day of December, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three, relating to both real and personal property, duly proved as the last will and testament of Samuel G. Trusdell, late of the County of New York, deceased, therefore you and each of you are cited to appear before the Surrogate of our County of New York, at his office, in the County of New York, on the 28th day of February, one thousand nine hundred and one, at half past ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, then and there to attend the probate of the said last will and testament.

And such of you as are hereby cited, as are under the age of twenty-one years, are required to appear by your guardian, if you have one, or if you have none, to appear and apply for one to be appointed, or in the event of your neglect or failure to do so, a guardian will be appointed by the Surrogate to represent and act for you in the proceeding.

In testimony whereof we have caused the seal of the Surrogates' Court of the said County of New York to be hereunto affixed. [L. S.] Witness, Hon. Abner C. Thomas, a Surrogate of our said County of New York, at said county, the 3d day of January, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and one.

J. FAIRFAX McLAUGHLIN,
Clerk of the Surrogates' Court.

ja11-1aw0wF

Referees' Notices.

SUPREME COURT, COUNTY OF NEW YORK. The IRVING SAVINGS INSTITUTION, plaintiff, against JULIUS A. ROBINSON and others, defendants.

In pursuance of a judgment of foreclosure and sale, made and entered in the above entitled action, bearing date the 7th day of December, 1900, I, the undersigned, the referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction, at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on the 17th day of January, nineteen hundred and one, at 12 o'clock M. on that day, by William M. Ryan, auctioneer, the premises directed by said judgment to be sold, and therein described as follows:

All that certain piece or parcel of land, with the buildings thereon erected, situated in the Borough of Manhattan, in the City of New York, being on the southeasterly corner of Mercer Street and Washington Place, and bounded as follows, viz.:

Beginning at the southeasterly corner of Mercer Street and Washington Place, and running thence easterly along Washington Place one hundred (100) feet; thence in a southerly direction, on a line parallel with Mercer Street, forty-nine (49) feet and nine (9) inches to a lot of land formerly belonging to George Lovett; thence westerly along said lot on a line parallel with Washington Place, one hundred (100) feet to Mercer Street; and thence northerly, along Mercer Street, forty-nine (49) feet and nine inches to the place of beginning.

Being the same premises which were sold and conveyed to the said Julius A. Robinson by George L. Kingsland and others by deed dated April 12th, 1882, and recorded in the office of the Register of the City and County of New York, in Liber 1672 of Conveyances, Page 81, on the first day of May, 1882.

Together with the appurtenances thereunto belonging. The land above described lies in Section 2, in block 546, on the Land Map of the City of New York.

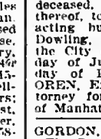
Dated New York, December 18th, 1900.

LOUIS ADLER, Referee.

FRANCIS W. JUDGE, Jr., Attorney for Plaintiff, No. 280 Greenwich Street, Borough of Manhattan, New York City.

The following is a diagram of the property to be sold, its street number now being No. 4 Washington Place:

Washington Place.



The approximate amount of the lien or charge to satisfy which the above described property is to be sold, is $156,315.73, with interest thereon from the 7th day of December, 1901, together with costs and allowance amounting to $328 30-100 dollars; together with interest thereon since December 7th, 1900, together with the expenses of the sale.

The approximate amount of the taxes and water rents or other liens to be allowed to the purchaser out of the purchase money, or paid by the referee, is about $4,501.30.

Dated New York, December 18th, 1900.

LOUIS ADLER, Referee

The foregoing sale is hereby adjourned until January 24th, 1901, at the same hour and place.

Dated New York, January 17th, 1901.

LOUIS ADLER, Referee.

Referees' Notices.

NEW YORK SUPREME COURT, NEW YORK County.—EDWIN W. GREENBOWE, plaintiff, against ALICE M. BODINE and others, defendants.

In pursuance of an interlocutory judgment of partition and sale, duly made and entered in the above-entitled action, bearing date the 14th day of November, 1900, and entered in the office of the Clerk of the County of New York on the 18th day of December, 1900, as re-settled by order of this court entered herein in the office of the Clerk of the County of New York on the 2d day of January, 1901, I, the undersigned, the referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction, at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, now located at No. 111 Broadway, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on the 8th day of February, 1901, at 12 o'clock noon of that day, by Peter F. Meyer & Co., auctioneers, the premises directed by said judgment as re-settled by said order to be sold, and described in said judgment and decree as follows: All and singular the lands and premises mentioned and described as follows, to wit:

Parcel No. 1: All that certain lot, piece, or parcel of land, with the buildings thereon erected, situate, lying, and being in the City of New York, in the County and State of New York, bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a point on the easterly side of West End Avenue distant twenty-five (25) feet and five (5) inches southerly from the corner formed by the intersection of the said easterly side of West End Avenue with the southerly side of Sixty-eighth Street, and running thence easterly and parallel with Sixty-eighth Street, and part of the distance through a party wall, eighty (80) feet; thence southerly and parallel with West End Avenue twenty-five (25) feet; thence westerly and parallel with Sixty-eighth Street and part of the distance through another party wall eighty (80) feet to said easterly side of West End Avenue, and thence northerly, along the same twenty-five (25) feet to the point or place of beginning.

Parcel No. 2: All that certain lot, piece, or parcel of land, with the buildings thereon erected, situate, lying and being in the City of New York, in the County and State of New York, bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a point on the easterly side of West End Avenue distant fifty (50) feet and five (5) inches southerly from the corner formed by the intersection of the said easterly side of West End Avenue with the southerly side of Sixty-eighth Street, and running thence easterly and parallel with Sixty-eighth Street and part of the distance through a party wall eighty (80) feet; thence southerly and parallel with West End Avenue twenty-five (25) feet; thence westerly and parallel with Sixty-eighth Street and part of the distance through another party wall eighty (80) feet to said easterly side of West End Avenue, and thence northerly along the same twenty-five (25) feet to the point or place of beginning.

Parcel No. 3: All that certain lot, piece, or parcel of ground, situate, lying, and being in the Twenty-second Ward of the City of New York, with the building and improvements thereon erected, and known as No. 68 West 22d Street, and bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a point on the easterly side of West End Avenue distant seventy-five (75) feet five (5) inches southwardly from the southeasterly corner of West End Avenue and West Sixty-eighth Street; running thence eastwardly parallel with West Sixty-eighth Street and part of the way through a party wall eighty (80) feet; thence southwardly parallel with West End Avenue twenty-four (24) feet eight and three-quarter (8¾) inches; thence westwardly, on a line parallel with said Sixty-eighth Street, eighty (80) feet to the easterly side of said Kelly Street, and thence northwardly along said Kelly Street, seventeen feet to the point or place of beginning. Being part of the premises conveyed to said Charles Tange by Marie Toelberg by deed dated June 23d, 1898, and on that day recorded in the office of the Register of the County of New York, in Liber 18, Section 10, of Conveyances, Page 184.

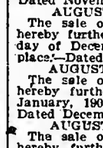
Dated New York, January 14, 1901.

ABRAHAM HERSHFIELD, Referee.

REUBEN MAPELSDEN, Plaintiff's Attorney, Office and Post Office address, No. 237 Broadway, Borough of Manhattan, New York City.

The following is a diagram of the property to be sold:

167th Street.



The approximate amount of the lien or charge to satisfy which the above property is to be sold is $4,207.50, with interest thereon from January 9th, 1901, together with costs and allowances amounting to $212.08, together with the expenses of the sale. The approximate amount of taxes, assessments, or other liens which are to be allowed to the purchaser out of the purchase money, or paid by the referee, is $200.48 and interest.

Dated New York, January 14, 1901.

ABRAHAM HERSHFIELD, Referee.

ja15-2aw3wT&F&feb5&6

SUPREME COURT OF THE STATE OF NEW York, County of New York.—HARLEM SAVINGS BANK, Plaintiff, against CHARLES TANGE, George Stark, Marie Toelberg, and others, Defendants.—Action Number 2.

In pursuance of a judgment of foreclosure and sale, made and entered in the above-entitled action, bearing date the 12th day of January, 1901, I, the undersigned, the referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, Number 111 Broadway, in the Borough of Manhattan, in the City of New York, in the County of New York, on Wednesday, the 6th day of February, 1901, at 12 o'clock noon of that day, by Samuel Goldsticker, auctioneer, the premises directed by said judgment to be sold, and therein described as follows: All that certain lot, piece, or parcel of land, with the buildings and improvements thereon erected, situate, lying, and being in the 23d Ward of the City of New York, being parts of lots Numbers 18 and 19, in Block Number 468, on a certain map filed in the office of the Register of the County of New York, on the 25th day of September, 1882, as Map Number 890, and entitled "Map of subdivision of the property of Isabel Tiffany Perry, in the 23d Ward of the City of New York, being part of the Fox Estate, &c. The premises hereby conveyed being bounded and described as follows, viz.: Beginning at a point on the easterly side of Kelly Street, distant one hundred and fifty-two feet and 92-100 of a foot southerly from the southeasterly corner of said Kelly and One Hundred and Sixty-seventh Streets, and running thence easterly, at right angles to said Kelly Street, one hundred feet; thence southerly and parallel with said Kelly Street, seventeen feet; thence westerly, again at right angles to said Kelly Street, and for part of the distance through a party wall, one hundred feet to the said easterly side of said Kelly Street, and thence northerly, and along said easterly side of said Kelly Street, seventeen feet to the point or place of beginning. Being part of the premises conveyed to said Charles Tange by Marie Toelberg, by deed, dated June 23d, 1898, and on that day recorded in the office of the Register of the County of New York, in Liber 18, Section 10, of Conveyances, Page 184.

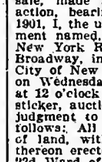
Dated New York, January 14, 1901.

ABRAHAM HERSHFIELD, Referee.

REUBEN MAPELSDEN, Plaintiff's Attorney, office and Post Office address, No. 237 Broadway, Borough of Manhattan, New York City.

The following is a diagram of the property to be sold:

167th Street.



The approximate amount of the lien or charge to satisfy which the above property is to be sold is $3,267.50, with interest thereon from January 9th, 1901, together with costs and allowances amounting to $191.17, together with the expenses of the sale; the approximate amount of taxes, assessments, or other liens which are to be allowed to the purchaser, out of the purchase money, or paid by the referee is $200.48; and interest.

Dated New York, January 14, 1901.

ABRAHAM HERSHFIELD, Referee.

ja15-2aw3wT&F&feb5&6

Referees' Notices.

NEW YORK SUPREME COURT, NEW YORK County.—EDWIN W. GREENBOWE, plaintiff, against ALICE M. BODINE and others, defendants.

In pursuance of an interlocutory judgment of partition and sale, duly made and entered in the above-entitled action, bearing date the 14th day of November, 1900, and entered in the office of the Clerk of the County of New York on the 18th day of December, 1900, as re-settled by order of this court entered herein in the office of the Clerk of the County of New York on the 2d day of January, 1901, I, the undersigned, the referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction, at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, now located at No. 111 Broadway, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on the 8th day of February, 1901, at 12 o'clock noon of that day, by Peter F. Meyer & Co., auctioneers, the premises directed by said judgment as re-settled by said order to be sold, and described in said judgment and decree as follows: All and singular the lands and premises mentioned and described as follows, to wit:

Parcel No. 1: All that certain lot, piece, or parcel of land, with the buildings thereon erected, situate, lying, and being in the City of New York, in the County and State of New York, bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a point on the easterly side of West End Avenue distant twenty-five (25) feet and five (5) inches southerly from the corner formed by the intersection of the said easterly side of West End Avenue with the southerly side of Sixty-eighth Street, and running thence easterly and parallel with Sixty-eighth Street and part of the distance through a party wall, eighty (80) feet; thence southerly and parallel with West End Avenue twenty-five (25) feet; thence westerly and parallel with Sixty-eighth Street and part of the distance through another party wall eighty (80) feet to said easterly side of West End Avenue, and thence northerly along the same twenty-five (25) feet to the point or place of beginning.

Parcel No. 2: All that certain lot, piece, or parcel of land, with the buildings thereon erected, situate, lying and being in the City of New York, in the County and State of New York, bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a point on the easterly side of West End Avenue distant fifty (50) feet and five (5) inches southerly from the corner formed by the intersection of the said easterly side of West End Avenue with the southerly side of Sixty-eighth Street, and running thence easterly and parallel with Sixty-eighth Street and part of the distance through a party wall eighty (80) feet; thence southerly and parallel with West End Avenue twenty-five (25) feet; thence westerly and parallel with Sixty-eighth Street and part of the distance through another party wall eighty (80) feet to said easterly side of West End Avenue, and thence northerly along the same twenty-five (25) feet to the point or place of beginning.

Parcel No. 3: All that certain lot, piece, or parcel of ground, situate, lying, and being in the Twenty-second Ward of the City of New York, with the building and improvements thereon erected, and known as No. 68 West 22d Street, and bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a point on the easterly side of West End Avenue distant seventy-five (75) feet five (5) inches southwardly from the southeasterly corner of West End Avenue and West Sixty-eighth Street; running thence eastwardly parallel with West Sixty-eighth Street and part of the way through a party wall eighty (80) feet; thence southwardly parallel with West End Avenue twenty-four (24) feet eight and three-quarter (8¾) inches; thence westwardly, on a line parallel with said Sixty-eighth Street, eighty (80) feet to the easterly side of said Kelly Street, and thence northwardly along said Kelly Street, seventeen feet to the point or place of beginning. Being part of the premises conveyed to said Charles Tange by Marie Toelberg by deed dated June 23d, 1898, and recorded in the office of the Register of the County of New York, in Liber 18, Section 10, of Conveyances, Page 184.

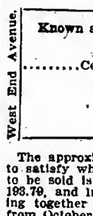
Dated New York, January 14, 1901.

ABRAHAM HERSHFIELD, Referee.

REUBEN MAPELSDEN, Plaintiff's Attorney, office and Post Office address, No. 237 Broadway, Borough of Manhattan, New York City.

The following is a diagram of the property to be sold:

88th St.



Said plots or parcels of land will be sold separately, free and clear of incumbrances, except as to the reservations as to lights and windows above mentioned.

The approximate amount of taxes, water rates, and assessments now a lien on said premises, is $330.32 on each parcel, making a total on the three parcels of $990.96.

The approximate amount of mortgages against each of said parcels is $16,000, with interest at the rate of five per cent. per annum from the 28th day of June, 1900, to be paid by the referee out of the purchase money.

DAVID McCLURE, Referee.

SUPREME COURT, COUNTY OF NEW YORK.—W. EDGAR PRUDEN, plaintiff, against JACOB D. BUTLER and others, defendants.

In pursuance of a judgment of foreclosure and sale, duly made and entered in the above-entitled action and bearing date the 10th day of October, 1900, I, the undersigned, the referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction, at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on the 21st day of December, 1900, at 12 o'clock noon on that day, by D. Phoenix Ingraham, auctioneer, the premises directed by said judgment to be sold, and therein described as follows:

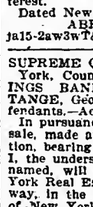
All those certain lots, pieces, and parcels of land situate in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, and which taken together are bounded and described as follows: Beginning at the corner formed by the intersection of the easterly side of Riverside Drive, or Avenue, with the northerly side of One Hundred and Fifteenth Street, running thence easterly along said northerly side of One Hundred and Fifteenth Street one hundred and ten feet and six inches; thence northerly at right angles to One Hundred and Fifteenth Street one hundred feet and eleven inches to the centre line of the block between One Hundred and Fifteenth and One Hundred and Sixteenth Streets; thence westerly along said centre line of the block eighty-seven feet and one-fourth of an inch to the easterly side of said Riverside Drive, or Avenue, and thence southerly along said easterly side of said Riverside Drive, or Avenue, one hundred and three feet, seven and one-fourth inches to the point or place of beginning, being the same premises conveyed to the party of the first part by James H. Havens and wife, by deed bearing even date and intended to be recorded simultaneously herewith, (purchase money mortgage,) this indenture being given to secure a part of the purchase or consideration moneys therein.

Dated New York, November 28th, 1900.

GEORGE W. ELLIS, Referee.

JOSEPH McELROY, Jr., Attorney for Plaintiff, 155 Broadway, Borough of Manhattan, New York City.

The following is a diagram of the property to be sold:



115th Street.

The approximate amount of the lien or charge to satisfy which the above-described property is to be sold is $22,483.30, with interest thereon from the 4th day of October, 1900, together with costs and allowance amounting to $343.78, together with the expenses of the sale. The approximate amount of the taxes, assessments, and water rates, or other liens to be allowed to the purchaser out of the purchase money, or paid by the referee, is $988.09, and interest.

The premises above described are to be sold subject to a first mortgage of $30,000, with interest thereon from January 1st, 1900, at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum, and to a second mortgage of $20,000, with interest thereon from the 5th day of October, 1899, at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum.

Dated

FINANCIAL.

Hanover National Bank
Capital $1,000,000. Surplus and profits, $5,000,000.
9 and 11 Nassau St.

Colonial Trust Company
CAPITAL, SURPLUS, AND UNDIVIDED PROFITS, $2,000,000.00.
ST. PAUL B'LD'G. 222 B'way.

Bankers' Cards.

Redmond, Kerr & Co.
BANKERS.
41 WALL ST., N. Y.
Members N. Y. Stock Exchange.
Transact a general banking business. Receive deposits subject to draft. Dividends and interest collected and Remitted. Act as Fiscal Agent for and negotiate and issue loans of railroads, street railways, gas companies, etc. Securities bought and sold on commission.
DEAL IN
High-Grade Investment Securities.
List of current offerings sent on application.
PHILADELPHIA CORRESPONDENTS,
GRAHAM, KERR & CO.

Vermilye & Co.,
BANKERS,
New York and Boston.

New York Telephone, 3790 John. Brooklyn Telephone, 391 Brooklyn.
Geo. H. PRENTISS & CO.
DEALERS IN
LOCAL SECURITIES,
48 Wall Street, New York. 208 Montague St. Brooklyn.
MEMBERS OF N. Y. STOCK EXCHANGE.

SIMON BORG & CO.,
BANKERS,
No. 20 Nassau St., New York
INVESTMENT SECURITIES.

FINANCIAL.

CENTRAL REALTY BOND AND TRUST COMPANY
59 TO 65 LIBERTY ST., NEW YORK.
Capital and Surplus, $1,500,000.
Allows interest on deposits subject to check and transacts all Trust Company business.
HENRY MORGENTHAU, President.
HUGH J. GRANT, Vice-Pres. T. STALLKNECHT, 2d Vice-Pres.
W. J. B. MILLS, Treasurer. ERNEST EHRMANN, Secretary.
DIRECTORS:

Frederic P. Olcott,	Augustus D. Juilliard,
James Stillman,	Henry O. Havemeyer,
Anthony N. Brady,	William A. Nash,
Alwyn Ball, jr.,	James N. Jarvis,
John D. Crimmins,	James H. Post,
Michael Coleman,	Frederick Southack,
Ernest Ehrmann,	Hugh J. Grant

Henry Morgenthau.

New Jersey Zinc Company.

The Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, as Trustee under the mortgage made by the New Jersey Zinc Company dated February 1, 1897, hereby gives notice of its intention to redeem the bonds secured by said mortgage bearing the numbers hereinafter mentioned, at 105 and accrued interest, which bonds have been drawn for redemption in accordance with the provisions of said mortgage, viz.: Eighty-one bonds, numbered 4, 39, 58, 59, 60, 61, 64, 122, 124, 130, 185, 198, 248, 249, 275, 290, 307, 311, 319, 321, 335, 338, 342, 423, 424, 428, 430, 451, 455, 456, 474, 495, 498, 521, 525, 526, 557, 565, 573, 627, 634, 641, 662, 667, 668, 673, 734, 738, 778, 786, 788, 791, 800, 858, 939, 948, 976, 986, 1060, 1010, 1012, 1033, 1035, 1073, 1078, 1079, 1085, 1125, 1130, 1178, 1190, 1192, 1194, 1196, 1198, 1212, 1213, 1220 1228, 1229, and 1230, for $1,000 each.

Said bonds will be redeemed upon the terms above mentioned upon presentation and surrender thereof and all unmatured coupons to the said The Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, at its office, Nos. 16-22 William Street, New York, on the 1st day of February, 1901. No further interest on the bonds so designated will be payable from and after the said date if not then presented.

The Farmers' Loan & Trust Co as Trustee,
By EDWIN S. MARSTON, President.
New York, December 18th, 1900.

The Northern Pacific Terminal Co. OF OREGON.

In accordance with the provisions of the Deed of Trust of the Northern Pacific Terminal Company of Oregon, the following bonds have been drawn for account of the Sinking Fund, viz.:
Nos. 3, 154, 315, 718, 1006, 1045, 1125, 1201, 1250, 1266, 1317, 1340, 1617, 1670, 1795, 2224, 2285, 2383, 2643, 2827, 2929, 3276;
and will be redeemed by the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, Trustee, at its office, Nos. 16-22 William Street, New York City, at 110 and accrued interest, on the 9th day of February, 1901, at which date interest will cease on the above bonds.

The Farmers' Loan & Trust Co., Trustee
by E. S. MARSTON, President.
New York, January 17, 1901.

REAL ESTATE TRUST CO. OF NEW YORK,
No. 30 Nassau Street.
CAPITAL, SURPLUS AND UNDIVIDED PROFITS $1,000,000.
DESIGNATED LEGAL DEPOSITORY.
Allows interest on deposits.
Acts as Executor, Trustee, Registrar, &c.
HENRY C. SWORDS, President.
H. H. Cammann, V Pres. H. W. Relghley, Sec.

LOUIS MESIER, Auctioneer.
By ADRIAN H. MULLER & SON,
WEDNESDAY, JAN. 30, 1901.
At 12:30 o'clock, at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway.
FOR ACCOUNT OF THE REORGANIZATION COMMITTEE OF THE CINCINNATI, JACKSON & MACKINAW RWAY CO.
41,000 shs. The Cincinnati Northern R. R. Co. pref'd
20,100 shs. The Cincinnati Northern R. R. Co. common
1,500 shs. Jackson & Cincinnati Ry. Co. common.
15,000 rls. Detroit, Toledo & Milwaukee R.R. Co.
$300,000 Jackson & Cincinnati Ry. Co. 1st Mtge. 5 p. c. Bds., March, 1896. Coups. on.
$1,500,000 Detroit, Toledo & Milwaukee R. R. Co. 1st Mtge. 5 p. c. 50-year Gold Bonds.

NOTICE.
On Monday, January 14th, 1901, at 12 M., the following Mobile City Bonds (issue 1881) were drawn for retirement, viz.: 3079, 3370, 3797, 3884, 3472, 3835, 3710, 3945, 3886, 3540, 3955, 3796, 3834.
Holders of these numbers will take notice that on and after the first day of February, 1901, these bonds will be paid in full, with one month's interest, upon presentation, by the First National Bank, Mobile, Ala., and will not bear interest after said date.
CHAS. D. WILLOUGHBY,
Cashier First National Bank, Mobile, Ala.

BROWN BROTHERS & CO.,
NO. 59 WALL ST.,
ISSUE INTERNATIONAL CHEQUES, COMMERCIAL and TRAVELERS' CREDITS AVAILABLE IN ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD.

Wanted—Bright, energetic man to handle bond business of Stock Exchange house. Post Office Box 888.

Savings Banks.

GREENWICH SAVINGS BANK.
S. E. Cor. 6th Ave. and 16th St.
INTEREST AT THE RATE OF THREE AND ONE-HALF PER CENT. PER ANNUM will be credited depositors for the SIX MONTHS and THREE MONTHS ENDING DEC. 31, 1900, on all sums from five dollars to three thousand dollars, entitled thereto under the by-laws, payable JAN. 21, 1901.
JOHN HARSEN RHOADES, President.
JAMES QUINLAN, Treasurer.
B. OGDEN CHISOLM, Secretary.
Deposits made on or before JAN. 10, 1901, will draw interest from JAN. 1, 1901.

FINANCIAL. | FINANCIAL. | FINANCIAL.

ARIMEX CONSOLIDATED COPPER COMPANY.

Capital. . . . . $5,000,000.

This company was organized under the laws of the State of New Jersey for the purpose of purchasing and operating copper producing properties.

Its capital is $5,000,000, divided into 200,000 shares of common stock of the par value of $25 each. It has no bonds or mortgage debt.

Of this capital 120,935 shares, or $3,023,375 of the capital stock, has been issued in payment for certain properties. The balance of 79,065 shares remains in the treasury of the company.

The company owns the following properties:

1,750,000 shares out of a total of 2,000,000 of the par value of $5 each, of the Table Mountain Copper Company of Illinois	$8,750,000
90,000 shares out of a total of 100,000 of the par value of $10 each, of the Angang Copper Company of New Jersey	900,000
500,000 shares out of a total of 500,000 of the par value of $10 each, of the Oxide Copper Company of New Jersey	5,000,000
	$14,650,000

The Oxide Copper Company owns the Copper Prince group of copper claims, located in the Silver Bell mining district, Pima County, Arizona, comprising thirty claims. Early in the Spring of the year 1900 a contract was entered into by the company for extensive developments by sinking a shaft five hundred feet, which, with cross-cuts, would develop a large part of the property, and in other ways. At the present time this shaft is down about 370 feet, and work is being vigorously pushed.

The Table Mountain Company owns twenty-seven claims, situated in the Bunker Hill Mining District, Pinal County, Arizona.

The Angang Copper Company consists of about four hundred mining claims, situated at Zituacuaro, in the State of Michoacan, Mexico, known as the Chirianganguceo Mines. Development was planned early in the year on a large scale, and Mr. Adolphe Rock, the resident director and general manager of the company, has devoted himself to this work. These mines were worked many years ago by Mexicans in a very desultory manner, large bodies of ore having been taken out and large dumps remaining, showing the extent of the former operations. Mr. Rock has unwatered the shafts, built houses for the workmen, buildings for the company, begun work on the roads, and generally begun a systematic development of the property on a large scale.

During the year 1900 development work on an extended scale has been carried on vigorously on the property at the Angang and Oxide Companies, and to a smaller extent on the properties of the Table Mountain Company, under the supervision and direction of the President of the Arimex Company, Mr. Charles H. Dickey of Baltimore, Md. The development has proven the property to be so rich as to warrant immediate extension of development operations on a very large scale, which operations, in the opinion of the Directors, will give enormous net returns.

From the fact that this property has been in charge of practical copper mining men, and that the chief executive officer, Mr. Dickey, is also President of the Parrot Company—which, since the formation of the Amalgamated Copper Company, has been one of that company's largest producing copper properties—the chances of mistakes have probably been reduced to a minimum.

For the purpose of placing all these properties upon a dividend earning basis in the shortest time possible, the Board of Directors have voted that 60,000 shares of the treasury stock of the company be sold by subscription at par, $25.00 per share, by Messrs. E. N. Morison & Company, Bankers, Baltimore, Md., and any other selling agents they may select.

American Loan & Trust Company, Boston, Transfer Agents.
International Trust Company, Boston, Registrars.

Jan. 12, 1901.

CHARLES H. DICKEY, President.
HARRY A. NORTON, Secretary and Treasurer.

OFFER FOR PUBLIC SUBSCRIPTIONS.

Notice is hereby given that offers for public subscription for 60,000 Shares, of the value of $25 each, of the stock of the

ARIMEX CONSOLIDATED COPPER COMPANY

will be received at the office of either of the undersigned until the twenty-third day of January, 1901, at the rate of $25 per share. Subscriptions must be accompanied by certified check for 20 per cent. of the amount of such subscription, the balance to be payable within ten days after notice of allotment.

Temporary negotiable receipts will be issued, on payment of sums due on allotment, exchangeable for certificates of stock as soon as same can be engraved.

We reserve the right to allot any or all of the above-named amount at any time on or before January 23.

We also reserve the right to allot or reject any subscription in whole or in part.

Subscription blanks sent on application.

We respectfully refer intending subscribers in Baltimore, Washington, and Philadelphia, who are more or less unfamiliar with the investment quality of copper stocks generally, to the following statement of Thomas W. Lawson of Boston, Mass.:

COPPERS IN THE PAST.

Four years ago I publicly called attention to "Coppers"—to the fact that although they had been actively dealt in on the Boston Stock Exchange for over fifty years, and had been and were still the basis of a large portion of New England's wealth, their merits as first-class and semi-speculative investments were almost unknown to investors and speculators in this country and Europe; to the fact that investigation would prove that an investment in the stock of any of the good producing "Coppers" would give much larger yearly net returns, with a surer guarantee of permanency for a longer period of time, than a like investment in any other class of stocks, and I stated my belief that so soon as these facts became known to investors and speculators throughout this country and Europe, there would begin a "scramble" for "Coppers" unparalleled in the history of the stock market, with the result that the price of such stocks then for sale in the open market would multiply, that this increased value would hold and be further increased for years to come.

At this time, and in all my subsequent statements, the following were named as some of the leading "Coppers" which would multiply in price: Butte & Boston, then selling at $2 to $14; Boston & Montana, then selling at $50 to $75, and Calumet & Hecla, then selling at $225. So radical did these views seem that they were adversely criticised by those interested in financial matters, and more particularly by professional financial critics, but it is now known and admitted that my predictions erred on the conservative side only, for the present prices of the "Coppers" then called to the attention of the public show an increase in value of hundreds of millions of dollars, or more than has ever accrued to any other class of stocks in a like period. The prices of the three named, Butte, Montana, and Calumet, alone show an increase in value of $115,000,000.

It is now known that never in the history of stocks has there been a parallel to the "scramble" for "Coppers" which carried the price of Butte from $2 to $108 per share, Montana from $50 to $400 and Calumet from $225 to $900, and others in like proportion, or another instance where such a tremendous increase in price held and became permanent. The fact that the public were so quickly educated, that such a great increase in values came in such a short time, and that this increase has held and is still advancing, and that seven out of every ten persons interested in financial matters in this country and Europe are now familiar with the merits of "Coppers," when four years ago not one in one thousand had even an intelligent idea of their worth, in my opinion proves the following statement, which was used in all my public utterances:—

"Owing to a peculiar combination of conditions, this great industry, copper, is the only one of all the great staples that has absolutely escaped the march of modern progress—escaped it for fifty years, until to-day it is possible for capital to be invested in this business on a basis that will give to it 100 per cent. net profit on all gross business—a business where the working of a natural law of supply and demand, not the artificial law of arbitrary combination, allows the producer to make his selling price such as will give to him from 100 to 150 per cent. net profit on his entire product."

THE FUTURE OF "COPPERS."

Intending purchasers of "Coppers" for investment or for speculation should first find a correct answer to these questions:—

(1) Will the earnings of "Coppers," at the present price of the metal, allow of larger net returns than can be secured from any other class of stocks?

(2) Can the permanency of production of copper mines be as surely ascertained as the future earning capacity of corporations which are the basis of other stocks, and,

(3) Will the present price of copper, the metal, be maintained? The answer to these three questions will enable one to decide whether "Coppers" are a purchase at present prices. A cursory investigation of "Coppers" will prove that no other class of business will give as large net earnings as are at the present time derived from "Coppers" at the ruling price of the metal.

A careful investigation of the present method of conducting the copper mining business will prove that in no other industry can the future earnings be as surely ascertained for so long a time in the future as "Coppers."

The reason for this is that all good producing copper mining companies first, that is, before beginning to "produce," "block out" for years in advance the copper ore which they afterwards are to "produce," and each year thereafter add to this reserve an amount of ore equal to from 50 to 100 per cent. of their yearly production; in other words, "Coppers," while paying the very large dividends they do pay, set aside each year in the form of blocked-out ore, 50 to 100 per cent. additional dividends.

So consistently has this been practiced, that mines like the Boston & Montana can at any time after their ore has "run out" pay to their stockholders a sum equal to the present selling price of their entire capital stock.

A thorough investigation will prove conclusively that the present price of copper, the metal, is permanent, that is, that it will surely be maintained for years to come, and that it will be maintained through the working of the natural law of supply and demand.

The present selling price of copper, the metal, is about 17 cents per pound. The cost of production is from 5 to 7 cents, yet with this enormous disproportionate net profit, the consumption throughout the world is so rapidly and steadily increasing beyond the possibility of production as to insure for years to come this or any other price which does not actually prohibit the use of this metal.

The only factor that can adversely affect the selling price of copper, the metal, is the discovery of new mines.

Demonstrated facts indicate conclusively that the entire production of all new mines for the coming ten years will probably not equal what has been taken from the old ones in the past three years.

The answers to these questions prove that no purchase of stocks can be made which will be so free from the risk of loss, so sure to pay for the present and for the future such large returns, and consequently so sure to give such large profits as "Coppers." In my opinion, the purchase of good, producing "Coppers" at present prices will give as large, if not larger, returns in the coming two years than have been realized in the past four.

"COPPERS" AS AN INVESTMENT.

In buying "Coppers" for speculation or investment, intending purchasers should, if possible, confine their purchases to the stocks of established, producing mines, for while such stocks are freer from the risk of loss than any other class of stocks, there is no greater risk than that which attends the purchase of the stocks of new copper mines.

No investment in a gold or silver mining stock, the stock of a land company or an industrial based upon patents, is attended with so great a risk, as an investment in the stock of a new copper mine. At least 499 in each 500 of the new copper mines whose stocks are offered for sale publicly are worthless, a large proportion of them being swindles of a most flagrant character, organized and conducted for the sole purpose of selling stock.

The reason for this is self-evident; to mine copper and legitimately conduct a copper mining business at the present time calls for the investment of a very large amount of cash capital. No new copper mining company can begin business, under the necessary modern methods, without the expenditure of at least $1,000,000 to $5,000,000 cash before any dividends can be earned, making it the most uninviting field for small capitalists who intend to conduct the business legitimately, and the most inviting field for schemers whose only purpose is to sell stocks on promises which can never be redeemed.

As an illustration of the difficulty of securing new copper mining properties: "During the past few years it has been necessary for me to closely follow all alleged discoveries of copper mining properties in the United States, Canada and Mexico. Of these there were four hundred and eighty odd which appeared to have sufficient merit to warrant investigation. Of the four hundred and eighty investigated, in only forty odd instances did they have sufficient merit to justify the expenditure necessary for complete investigation by the employment of engineers and mining machinery, and of these forty odd only three met all the requirements necessary for the establishment of a legitimate copper mining business."

E. N. MORISON & COMPANY,
BANKERS,
212 East German St., Baltimore, Md.

BROWN, RILEY & CO.
Bankers and Brokers,
Members Boston and New York Stock Exchanges.
20 Congress St., Boston.

LAWSON, ARNOLD & CO.
Bankers and Brokers,
Members Boston and New York Stock Exchanges,
33 State St., Boston.

FINANCIAL. | FINANCIAL.

SAXONY (Germany) GOVERNMENT LOAN

40,000,000 Reichmark

(ABOUT $10,000,000).

Subscription Price, 83.58.

These bonds bear 3% interest. Coupons payable semi-annually, April 1st and Oct. 1st.

COUPONS WILL BE PAID AT MATURITY AT OUR OFFICE.

Subscriptions will be received for the above loan until Saturday noon, JANUARY 19, 1901.

ZIMMERMAN & FORSHAY,
BANKERS,
9 AND 11 WALL STREET.

M.40,000,000

Three Per Cent. Government Annuity Bonds of the KINGDOM OF SAXONY.

This issue will be offered for public subscription in Germany on January 22d next. The bonds will bear April and October coupons, the first coupon maturing April 1st, 1901.

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE, 83.60 PLUS INTEREST.

MESSRS. KNAUTH, NACHOD & KUHNE, LEIPZIG, HAVE BEEN OFFICIALLY appointed to receive subscriptions for the above issue. We shall, therefore, be pleased to receive applications here and to cable them to our Leipzig house free of charge. Such applications must be in our hands not later than Monday, January 21st next, P. M.

The right is reserved to reject applications and to allot smaller amounts than applied for.

NEW YORK, JANUARY 17TH, 1901.

KNAUTH, NACHOD & KUHNE,
11 WILLIAM STREET.

Meetings and Elections.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL R. R. CO.
Public notice is hereby given that a special meeting of the stockholders of the Illinois Central Railroad Company will be held at the Company's Office in Chicago, Illinois, on Saturday, January 26, 1901, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, for the purpose of acting on these five propositions and transacting such other business as may, in connection therewith, come before the meeting.

FIRST—That in order to provide necessary moneys for the purchase of additional cars and locomotive engines needed for the accommodation of the growing traffic on the Company's lines of railway; the construction of additional second tracks, side tracks, and station and terminal facilities; the reduction of grades; the elimination of grade crossings at different places along said railway lines, and other improvements of a permanent character, some of which purchases, additions and improvements have already been undertaken, and for other corporate purposes, the capital stock of the Illinois Central Railroad Company be increased by an issue of 60,000 new shares of $100 each, from 700,000 shares to 760,000 shares of $100 each, thus making the whole capital stock of the Company $68,000,000.

SECOND—That each shareholder shall have the privilege of subscribing at par on or before March 4, 1901, for one share of such new stock, for every ten shares of stock registered to his name on the transfer books of the Company at the close of business on December 26, 1900, and for fractions of shares in like proportion—payment for the new stock to be made in full at the Company's office in the City of New York, on or before Monday, March 4, 1901.

THIRD—That stockholders entitled to subscribe for fractions of shares shall, upon payment therefor, receive scrip convertible into full-paid stock when presented in sums of $100 or multiples thereof, but such scrip shall not draw dividends.

FOURTH—That the shares, or fractions of shares, of the new issue, if any, not subscribed and paid for on or before March 4, 1901, may be disposed of by the Board of Directors at such price, or prices, not less than par, as may be approved by them.

FIFTH—That the new shares shall be entitled to participate in all dividends which may be declared payable after March 4, 1901.

For the purposes of this meeting, the stock transfer books will be closed at 3 P. M. on Thursday, December 20, 1900, and remain closed until the morning of Monday, January 7, 1901.

By order of the Board of Directors.
A. G. HACKSTAFF, Secretary.
November 21, 1900.

The New York, Chicago and St. Louis Railroad Company.
GRAND CENTRAL STATION.
New York, Jan. 17, 1901.
The Board of Directors of this Company has this day declared a dividend of five per cent. upon the First Preferred Capital Stock, and a dividend of two per cent. upon the Second Preferred Capital Stock, payable at this office on the 1st of March next to stockholders of record at 3 o'clock P. M. on Thursday, the 24th of January. The transfer books will not be closed.
CHARLES F. COX, Treasurer.

The Peoples Gas Light & Coke Co.
(of Chicago.)
The annual meeting of the Stockholders of The Peoples Gas Light & Coke Company will be held at the office of the Company in Chicago, Adams Street and Michigan Avenue, on Monday, February 11th, 1901, at 11 o'clock A. M. The transfer books will be closed, in accordance with the by-laws, at the close of business on Saturday, January 10th, and will reopen Wednesday, February 13th, 1901. C. K. G. BILLINGS, President.

CONSOLIDATED GAS COMPANY OF NEW YORK, 4 Irving Place.—December 31st, 1900.—The Annual Meeting of the stockholders of this Company for the election of the Trustees to serve during the ensuing year will be held at this office Monday, Jan. 21st, 1901. Polls open from 12 M. to 1 P. M. Transfer books will close Saturday, January 5th, at 12 M., and reopen Tuesday, Jan. 22d, 1901.
O. F. ZOLLIKOFFER, Secretary.

International Steam Pump Co.,
26 Broadway, New York, January 17th, 1901.
At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the International Steam Pump Co., held this day, a regular quarterly dividend of One and One-Half Per Cent. on the Preferred Stock was declared, payable February 1st. The transfer books of the Preferred Stock will close January 21st and open February 2d. MAX NATHAN, Treasurer.

THE ANNUAL MEETING of the Stockholders of the Bollman Brothers Company will be held at the office of this Corporation, No. 100 East 14th Street, New York, on Tuesday, January 29th, 1901, at 3 P. M., for the purpose of electing a Board of Directors and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before this meeting. OTTO BOLLMAN, Secretary.

Dividends.

Ninety-second Semi-annual Cash Dividend.
Illinois Central Railroad Co.
The Board of Directors has this day declared a dividend of THREE PER CENT. in cash, payable March 1st, 1901, to the holders of the Capital Stock of the Illinois Central Railroad Company, as registered at the close of business February 1st, 1901.
The stock transfer books will be closed for the purpose of the above dividend from February 1st until February 23d, 1901.
A. G. HACKSTAFF, Secretary.
New York, January 16, 1901.

DIVIDEND NOTICE.
American Tin Plate Company.
A dividend of Eight (8) Per Cent. has been declared upon the Common Stock of this Company, payable quarterly during 1901. This first quarterly payment of two per cent. (2) will be paid on February 15th, to Stockholders of record at close of business January 25th.
The transfer books will be closed as to the Common Stock from January 26th to February 15th, both days inclusive.
F. S. WHEELER, Treasurer.
New York, January 15th, 1901.

The Lawyers' Title Insurance Company of New York,
37 & 39 Liberty St., and 44½ & 46 Maiden Lane.
New York, January 9, 1901.
The Board of Directors of this Company has this day declared a dividend of Two and One-half Per Cent. and an extra dividend of One-half Per Cent., payable at the Company's office on February 1st, 1901. The transfer books will be closed Monday, January 14th, and reopened on Saturday, February 2nd.
JOHN DUER, Treasurer.

THE TRANSFER BOOKS OF THE GENERAL First Mtge. 4 Per Cent. Registered Bonds of the Cincinnati, Indianapolis, St. Louis & Chicago Ry. Co. will close at the office of the Central Trust Co. of N. Y., Monday, Jan. 21, 1901, at 3 o'clock, preparatory to the payment of the quarterly interest thereon due Feb. 1, 1901, and will reopen Feb. 1, at 10 A. M.
E. F. OSBORN, Secretary.
Cincinnati, Ohio, Jan. 15, 1901.

THE TRANSFER BOOKS OF THE GENERAL First Mtge. 7 Per Cent. registered bonds of the Columbus & Toledo R. R. Co. will close at the office of J. P. Morgan & Co., N. Y., Monday, Jan. 21, 1901, at 3 o'clock, preparatory to the payment of the semi-annual interest thereon, due Feb. 1, 1901, and will open Feb. 1st, at 10 A. M.
WILLIAM N. COTT, Treasurer.
Columbus, Ohio, Jan. 15, 1901.

Jan. 17, 1901.
At the regular meeting of the Board of Directors of The Denver & Rio Grande R. R. Co., held this day, Mr. Jacob H. Schiff was unanimously elected a Director of the Company to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Mr. Chas. C. Beaman.
GEORGE COPPELL,
Chairman of the Board.

Dividends.

OFFICE OF THE
Northern Pacific Railway Company
Mills Building, New York, Dec. 12, 1900.
At a meeting of the Board of Directors, held this day, there was declared from the net earnings of the company a dividend of ONE PER CENT. on the Common Stock of the Company, the same to be paid Feb. 5, 1901, to the stockholders of record at the closing of the transfer books on December 24, 1900.
For the purpose of such dividend, and for the purpose of facilitating the exchange of stock for voting trust certificates, the transfer books of this company will be closed at 3 P. M. on December 24, 1900, and will be reopened at 10 A. M. on January 10, 1901.
NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY,
By GEORGE H. EARL, Secretary.
23 Wall Street,
New York, Dec. 12, 1900.
The transfer books of the Voting Trustees for Common Stock Trust Certificates of the NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY will close in New York and Berlin at 3 P. M. on Dec. 24, 1900.
On Feb. 5, 1901, the Voting Trustees will be prepared to distribute the above dividend of One Per Cent. on the Common Stock of the Company, when received by them, among the parties entitled thereto, as the same appear of record on their books when closed as above.
The Voting Trustees having dissolved the Voting Trust, to take effect January 2d, 1901, the transfer books of the Voting Trustees will not be reopened.
J. P. MORGAN & CO., New York,
DEUTSCHE BANK, Berlin,
Agents for Voting Trustees.

The Colorado & Southern Railway Co.
New York, January 10, 1901.
At a meeting of the Board of Directors, held this day, there was declared from the net earnings for the calendar year 1900 a dividend of TWO PER CENT. on the first preferred stock of this Company payable February 14, 1901, to the holders of record of the first preferred stock at the closing of the transfer books on January 31, 1901. The transfer books for the first preferred stock of this Company will be closed at three P. M. on January 31st, 1901, and will be reopened at ten A. M. on February 15th, 1901.
The Colorado & Southern Railway Co.
By HARRY BRONNER, Secretary.
28 Broad Street, New York, January 10, 1901.
The transfer books of the Voting Trustees for the first preferred stock of the Colorado and Southern Railway Company will be closed at three P. M. on January 31st, 1901, and will reopen at ten A. M. on February 15th, 1901. On February 14th, 1901, the Voting Trustees will be prepared to distribute the above dividend of TWO PER CENT. when received by them, at the office of Messrs. Hallgarten & Co., among the parties entitled thereto, as same appear of record on their books when closed as above.
HALLGARTEN & CO.,
Agents for Voting Trustees.

THE ANNUAL MEETING OF THE STOCKholders of the GENERAL CHEMICAL COMPANY will be held on WEDNESDAY, January 30th, 1901, and in accordance with the By-Laws the stock and transfer books will be closed against transfer of stock on Saturday, January 19th, 1901, at 12 o'clock noon, and will be reopened January 31st at 10 A. M.
J. HERBERT BAGG, Secretary.

Copartnership Notices.

New York, Jan. 16, 1901.
Mr. ERNEST J. H. AMY has this day been admitted to partnership in our firm.
H. AMY & CO.

ERIE TELEPHONE CHANGES.

New Management Takes Hold at a Meeting in Boston.

BOSTON, Jan. 17.—At a special meeting of the Directors of the Erie Telegraph and Telephone Company, held to-day, the new management, representing the bankers' syndicate, took charge of the company's offices. Charles J. Glidden resigned the office of President, but will remain a Director. Charles A. Grant resigned as Treasurer. Mr. Glidden's position was not filled, and will not be for the present, but Walter Abbott was chosen Treasurer, and Mr. Grant was made Auditor. An executive committee, consisting of the following named gentlemen, who will, for the present at least, direct the affairs of the company, was appointed: Philip Dexter, Chairman; William Endicott, Jr., Reginald Foster, Francis R. Hart, and W. J. Latta.

These changes are acknowledged to be in accord with the plans that the new management of the corporation has arranged, and are a part of a broad scheme which will, it is believed, ultimately result in the absorption of this great property by the American Company.

Under agreement with the Old Colony Trust Company, the officers of the Erie Company agree to keep the Cleveland, Northwestern, and Southwestern Companies absolutely free from debt, and that they will do nothing in the management of the subsidiary companies to in any way impair the value of their stocks, which are collateral to the Erie bond issues.

COFFEE EXCHANGE OFFICERS.

Annual Election Held and an Amendment to the By-Laws Adopted.

At the annual election of officers of the Coffee Exchange yesterday the following ticket was elected:

President—James H. Taylor.
Vice President—Percy B. O'Sullivan.
Treasurer—James H. Kirby.
Members of the Board of Managers, to Serve Two Years—J. H. Laboree, J. C. Russell, George Gradenhorst, William Bayne, Sr., W. J. Buttfield, and Gustav A. Jahn.

The following amendment to the by-laws was adopted:

The Board of Managers shall select, after the appointment of the Board of Coffee Arbitrators, one member from among them, whose duty it shall be to provide fresh standards annually and to maintain them as nearly as possible on an equality. The selection of standards shall always be approved by the Board of Managers before being adopted and distributed by the Exchange. For this service the member selected shall receive an amount to be fixed by the Board of Managers.

Hudson County Bank's New President.

Dr. John D. McGill of Jersey City, who will to-day be elected President of the Hudson County National Bank, yesterday announced that he would at once give up his practice. He will, however, retain his position as President of the Police and Health Boards. Besides his private practice Dr. McGill is also the medical expert for the Pennsylvania and Lackawanna Railroads, and also for the North Jersey and the Jersey City, Hoboken and Paterson trolley companies. He is also a member of the staff of the City and St. Francis's Hospitals. Who will succeed to these positions has not yet been decided.

THE FINANCIAL MARKETS

Stocks weak.

STOCK TRANSACTIONS.

	Shares.
Jan. 17	1,042,460
To date this year	19,352,238
Corresponding date last year	7,169,940

BOND TRANSACTIONS.

Jan. 17	$2,973,300
To date this year	$45,446,250
Corresponding date last year	$22,289,600

Money rate: Collateral loans on call, 2@3 per cent.; at three months, 4¼ per cent.; at six months, 4½ per cent. Commercial paper, sixty to ninety days, 4@4½ per cent.

***

Net changes in stocks of one-half of 1 per cent. or more were:

Stocks Advanced.

Am. Tin Plate	¾	Nat. Salt	¼
Del. & Hudson	1½	Pacific Mail	½
Del., L. & W.	½	Pere Marquette	2
Den. & Rio Grande	¾	Southern Pacific	⅝
General Electric	1	Tenn. Coal & Iron	⅞
Hocking Valley	⅝

Stocks Declined.

Am. Car & Fdy	⅝	Hock. Val. pf.	1
Am. C. & F. pf.	1½	Int. Pump	1
Am. Cotton Oil	1	Iowa Cent. pf.	½
Am. Express	2	Kan. City So. pf.	½
Am. Ice	1⅝	Manhattan	3⅞
Am. Ice pf.	⅞	Met. Street Ry.	1⅝
Am. Smelt. & R.	⅛	Mexican Central	⅞
Am. S. & R. pf.	⅝	Minn. & St. L. pf.	½
Am. Steel Hoop	1½	Nat. Lead pf.	⅝
Am. S. H. pf.	2½	National Tube	1⅝
Am. Steel & Wire	1	National Tube pf.	⅞
Am. Sugar Ref.	⅞	N. Y. Central	2
Am. Tin Plate pf.	1½	N. Y., C. & St. L.	1½
Am. Tobacco	½	N. Y., C. & St. L. 2d pf.	2¾
Am. Wool pf.	1	N. Y., Ont. & W.	⅝
At., T. & S. F.	1	Norf. & West. pf.	⅝
At., T. & S. F. pf.	1	Northern Pacific	½
Balt. & Ohio	3⅝	Pacific Coast	½
Balt. & Ohio pf.	½	People's Gas	1⅛
Brooklyn R. T.	2⅝	Pressed Steel Car	1
Chi. & Alton pf.	½	Pressed Steel Car pf.	1
Chi., B. & Q.	¾	Pullman Co.	2
Chi. Great West.	⅝	Reading	⅝
Chi., I. & L. pf.	⅝	Reading 1st pf.	½
Chi., M. & St. P.	½	Reading 2d pf.	1
C. & N. W. pf.	4⅝	Rep. Steel	½
C., R. I. & Pac.	1½	Rep. Steel pf.	1½
C., St. P., M. & O.	2⅜	St. L. S. W. pf.	2⅛
Chi. Term. Tr. pf.	1⅛	Sloss-Sheff. pf.	⅝
Col. Fuel & Iron	1¼	Southern Railway	⅝
Col. So. 2d pf.	½	Southern Railway pf.	½
Cont. Tobacco	⅞	Texas Pacific	⅛
Erie	1⅛	Union Bag & P. pf.	⅛
Erie 1st pf.	1⅜	Union Pacific	1
Erie 2d pf.	⅝	Wabash	⅛
Federal Steel	1⅜	Wabash pf.	½
Federal Steel pf.	1	Wells-Fargo Exp.	½
Great North. pf.	3⅜	Wis. Central pf.	1⅛

***

Net changes in bond quotations of 1 per cent. or more were:

Bonds Advanced.

Erie 1st con. 7s	1⅜	N. Y., N. H. & H. deb. ctfs. 4s, small	1½
Mil., L. S. & W. ext. & inc. 5s	1½	St. P. City Cable 1st	1

Bond Declined.

Long Dock 6s 1

MARKET MOVEMENT.

The stock market yesterday all day long was feverish and unsettled, being generally depressed because of the unfavorable developments in the steel and iron trade, pessimists recalling that just such developments were to a large extent the influencing factors in bringing about the last sharp decline in the market some months ago. In the early trading this unsettled state showed itself in a generally lower range of prices, London contributing to this by sending over prices below the close of the previous night and following them up by some limited sales. After the first hour, however, a generally better tone developed, whereupon some of the more nervous shorts, not at all secure in their position, hastened to cover. This in its turn induced covering in other quarters, with the result that around 1 o'clock a general short covering movement was in progress, sending prices sharply up and disclosing little available stock.

This demand over, the market held steady until some highly exaggerated reports were circulated on the floor in respect to the Venezuelan affair—one statement having it, indeed, that war was forthwith to be declared. This gave to the bears renewed courage, and a savage raid upon the entire market followed, prices dropping sharply in the last half hour. Despite this, little genuine liquidation appeared, except in the steel stocks and the local railway shares, which were especially heavy. The railroads were well bought.

Best information in Wall Street is that, whether for trade or personal reasons, a big war is on among certain of the steel and iron magnates.

Selling of the coal stocks followed the announcement that there would be no meeting of the Erie Directors during the day. For some days there had been rather positive statements in the Street that the Board meeting would be held on Thursday, and in certain quarters there was a report even that a semi-annual dividend of 2 per cent. would be declared on the first preferred stock, though this was not generally credited. When, therefore, no meeting was held, bears, professing disappointment, sold all the coal stocks. On the decline there was what the Street considered good buying.

***

The positive statement of Thomas F. Ryan that Metropolitan was not contemplating a lease of Manhattan was in large measure responsible for the break in Manhattan and Metropolitan st tinued large gains made by the banks from the interior and Sub-Treasury. For the first time in some days, in spite of the easy money, the banks were inclined to discriminate against certain classes of industrials, particularly the steel stocks.

***

London was a seller on balance during the day of probably 15,000 shares of stocks, the cables reporting a nervous and irregular market there. About the only stocks bought were Southern Pacific and Ontario and Western.

FEDERAL STEEL'S AFFAIRS.

The Reported Bond Issue Regarded as a Certainty—To Compete with Carnegie Company.

Wall Street was busy all day yesterday discussing the affairs of the Federal Steel Company, most attention being given to the reported intention of the company to issue $10,000,000 or more bonds, and the talk of legal proceedings to enjoin the payment of the 5 per cent. dividend on the common stock. Less attention, however, was given to that phase of the matter talking of injunction proceedings than to that telling of the contemplated bond issue. Though secrecy is still maintained, it is practically admitted that the bond issue will soon be a matter of fact, and that it was because these bonds will of necessity have priority over the preferred and common stock that no action was taken looking to the amendment of the charter enabling the company to pay quarterly dividends on the common shares. The intention, in short, it is understood, is to defer dividend payments on the common stock for some years, using the money for improvement and betterment purposes.

The exact reasons for the bond issue do not appear, but THE NEW YORK TIMES is told, on what may be considered semi-official authority, that it is the intention to build an immense structural steel plant near Chicago, and to enter into active competition in that line with the Carnegie Company. This step is taken, not with a desire to force a war with the Carnegie interests, but, so it is declared, because the war has been forced upon the Federal Steel Company by reason of the various extensions made or contemplated by the Carnegie concern. It was, it is said, a case either of fighting or being forced out of existence, and the Federal Steel prefers to fight.

Officials of the company were as uncommunicative yesterday as on the preceding day. Chairman H. H. Porter of the Board of Directors, Anson R. Flower, and other officials declined to discuss the various reports, saying merely that they had nothing to say.

At the office of the Carnegie Company no information as to new competition was forthcoming, the only statement being that the company was extending its field, and would continue to do so.

The reports that Federal Steel intend to buy control of Tennessee Coal and Iron are merely a revival of old stories several times denied.

During the day one of the Wall Street news agencies put out the following bulletin:

It is practically admitted by Federal Steel officials that a bond issue by that company is contemplated. The amount of the bonds has not yet been decided. It is understood that this bond issue is to provide funds for the erection of the largest structural steel plant in the world. It is believed that this new plant will be made as an addition to the Illinois Steel Company in the vicinity of Chicago. There are also rumors to the effect that the Federal Steel Company may invade the territory of the American Steel and Wire Company by the erection of a plant for the manufacture of wire.

While the amount of bonds has not been decided on, it is generally believed that they will be at least $10,000,000, and it is not impossible that, if the company carries out the plan that is now in contemplation, the issue may be from $20,000,000 to $25,000,000. The failure of the company to make any provision for further dividends on the common stock at the meeting of the Directors yesterday, is regarded as significant, and there are persistent rumors in the Street that the 5 per cent. dividend declared yesterday may be the last dividend on the common stock for some time.

Iron and Steel interests are inclined to believe that a war is impending between the steel companies that may demoralize the business for a long time. Eventually, however, it is believed the steel companies will be able to come together under a community of interest, similar to the arrangements now formed by the great railroad corporations.

***

On the stock market yesterday the steel stocks continued weak, and there were further evidences of heavy liquidation. Federal Steel opened at "10,000 shares from 45½ to 47¾," as against a closing price on the preceding day of 48¾. At the low figures much covering by shorts was in evidence, running the price up at one time to 48¾. Liquidation continued, however, and on the last hour the price broke to 47, a net loss of 1¾ points on dealings in 67,000 shares. The preferred lost a point on dealings in 8,000 shares, closing at 69¾. The weakness of the preferred led to some selling of the common on the theory that, with a 6 per cent preferred stock selling below 70, the position of the common is not favorable.

In the other steel stocks there was support in Tin Plate and Tennessee Coal, but all the others lost, as follows: Steel Wire, 1; Steel Hoop, 1½; preferred, 2¼; Colorado Fuel, 1¾; National Steel, ¼; National Tube, ⅝; Pressed Steel Car, 1; Republic Iron and Steel, ½; preferred, 2½.

NEW YORK TRANSPORTATION.

For a week or more there has been a persistent rumor in the Street to the effect that an assessment is about to be called on the stock of the New York Transportation Company. The rumor has been denied, but within the last few days has been revived, and been followed by marked weakness in the company's stock. A member of the Executive Committee of the company said yesterday that such a thing as calling for a further payment had not been suggested or thought of. The company, he said, has in bank at present $480,000 or more, which will not be needed for a long time to come. The company has in operation 300 vehicles, which are now being run at a slight profit, so that the company is no longer losing money on operation, which was the case during the time it was engaged in the preliminary establishment of its business. In addition to these assets the company owns unincumbered the Fifth Avenue stage line, which is deemed a valuable property, and for which the New York Transportation Company has received and refused large cash offers.

The new station which has just been opened will afford the company much greater facilities than it has enjoyed in the past, and the officer quoted said that the company's facilities have now been sufficiently developed to demonstrate just what its earning power is. Until this has been fully established, and until further extensions are necessitated, the company will not require even as much money as it already has. Other assessments, he said, may be called in the future to extend the property, but this will not be within a year, and not until an extension is warranted by the profitable operation of the present plant.

TRUST COMPANY ELECTIONS.

At a meeting of the stockholders of the Central Trust Company of New York the old Board of Trustees of that company were re-elected, together with James Speyer of Speyer & Co. and William A. Read of Vermilye & Co. The present officers of that institution were unanimously re-elected yesterday at a meeting of the Board of Trustees.

At a meeting of the stockholders of the Trust Company of America yesterday the following named Directors were re-elected: Edward C. Schaefer, Samuel A. Maxwell, Frank Jay Gould, Philo Lehman, Charles I. Hudson, William A. Clark, and Willard Brown. John W. Griggs, Attorney General of the United States, was elected a Director, to fill a vacancy.

COTTON EXCHANGE INITIATION.

By a practically unanimous vote, the members of the Cotton Exchange, at a meeting yesterday, voted to raise the initiation fee for membership in the Exchange to $10,000 and to limit the membership to 450. The last provision practically nullifies the first, as the membership is now up to the full limit, and there can only be new members through withdrawal of older ones, or their deaths, when the seat left vacant would be sold for the benefit of the member or his estate.

The only way in which the initiation fee can be come operative is if the Exchange bought up memberships. The vacancies thus created would call for the payment of the fee. Superintendent King of the Exchange said yesterday, however, that there was no likelihood of the Exchange speculating in its own memberships. The last sale of a seat on the Exchange realized $4,800.

WALL STREET TOPICS.

No change in the Bank of England's rate of discount.

Richmond (Va.) City Council petitioned by the Southern Bell Telephone Company for a new franchise.

London advices that the imports of unwrought steel into the United Kingdom in 1900 were 179,000 tons, against 77,000 in 1899, the increase coming mainly from the United States, which sent 157,000 tons.

According to Chicago dispatches, traffic on Western roads thus far in January has been very satisfactory, and tariff rates are being strictly adhered to.

Sale of a seat on the Montreal Stock Exchange for $12,000, an increase of $1,500 over the last previous sale.

Burlington rights are offered on the Boston market at $4, and $3 is bid on 1,000 shares.

Statement that the National Steel Company will not declare dividends on its common stock for some time, the company having expended during the last fourteen months about $8,000,000 in improvements and additions to its plants.

Annual report of the Iowa Railway Commission showing an increase of $4,487,107 in the gross revenues of the Iowa lines in 1900.

Statement the Chicago Crude Oil Company has been organized with a capital of $1,000,000, which has been underwritten.

Declaration of the first dividend on New York, Chicago and St. Louis second preferred stock.

Chicago Union Traction Company shares traded in for the first time on the Stock Exchange, although they have been listed here for a considerable period.

MONEY AND EXCHANGE.

Money on call, 2@3 per cent., closing at 2 per cent.

Time money, 4 per cent. for thirty days, 4@4½ per cent. for longer periods. Mercantile paper, 4@4½ per cent. for sixty to ninety days' indorsements, 4½@5 per cent. for choice four to six months' single names, and 5½ per cent. for others.

Clearing House statement: Exchanges, $202,676,983; balances, $12,139,983; Sub-Treasury debit balance, $1,749,798.

Money on call in London, 3@4 per cent. Rate of discount in the open market, 4⅛@4 3-16 per cent. for short and 4⅛@4¼ per cent. for three months' bills.

Foreign exchange was steady. Nominal rates were $4.84 for sixty days and $4.88 for demand. Rates for actual business closed as follows: Sixty days, $4.83¾; demand, $4.87@$4.87⅛; cables, $4.88; commercial bills, $4.82½@$4.83⅛.

Continental exchange was quoted as follows: Francs, 5.18⅛@5.18¾ less 1-16 and 5.17 less 1-16@5.15⅝; reichsmarks, 94 9-16 and 95 3-16@95¼, and guilders, 40¼ and 40⅜.

Exchange on New York at domestic centres: Chicago—20c premium. Boston—Par @5c. discount. New Orleans—Commercial, par; bank, 25c premium. San Francisco—Sight, 15c premium, telegraphic, 20c premium. Charleston—Buying, par; selling, 1-10c premium. Savannah—Buying, ⅛c discount; selling, par. Cincinnati—Between banks, 14⅛@15c premium; over the counter, 50c premium.

THE LONDON MARKET.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—Money was wanted to-day and discounts were steady. There was much uncertainty whether gold would leave New York for Paris.

The expectations of failures on the Stock Exchange have so far been unfulfilled, but only through much preparation and large assistance. The affairs of the London and Globe Finance Corporation, Limited, still overshadow everything. The public is doing little and professionals are indisposed to engage in transactions.

Consols were unsteady to-day and lower on money sales said to be in connection with important new loans. Home rails were maintained, operators being hopeful regarding dividends. Argentines and Brazilians were firm.

Americans opened below parity and declined, notably Erie, on the postponement of the dividend declosing. Grand Trunks were lower on the traffic decrease largely exceeding expectations. Mines were drooping.

Consols for money 16 13-16; consols for the account, 96 15-16; Atchison, 46⅛; Canadian, 92; St. Paul, 154½; Illinois Central, 134½; Louisville, 90¾; Union Pacific preferred, 85½; New York Central, 146¾; Erie, 29½; Pennsylvania, 75¾; Reading, 16¾; Erie first preferred, 67⅛; Northern Pacific preferred, 82¾; Grand Trunk, 7¾; Anaconda, 9¼; Rand Mines, 37⅛.

Bar silver steady at 29 3-16d per ounce.

Money, 3@4 per cent. Rate of discount in the open market for short bills, 4⅛@4 3-16 per cent., and for three months' bills, 4⅛@4¼ per cent.

Spanish fours closed at 71¾.

The amount of bullion withdrawn from the Bank of England on balance to-day was £50,000.

Gold premiums: Buenos Ayres, 131.70; Madrid, 34.80; Lisbon, 41; Rome, 5.72½.

In Continental Centres.

PARIS, Jan. 17.—Prices were heavy on the Bourse to-day. Internationals were dull. Rentes were maintained. Spanish fours and Rio Tintos were easier on realizations. Industrials were offered, but they closed better. Kafirs reacted.

Three per cent. rentes 101 francs 90 centimes for the account. Exchange on London, 25 francs 12 centimes for checks.

Soanish fours closed at 71.82½.

The weekly statement of the Bank of France shows the following changes: Notes in circulation increased, 9,225,000 francs; treasury accounts current decreased, 16,275,000 francs; gold in hand decreased, 225,000 francs; bills discounted decreased, 15,800,000 francs; silver in hand decreased, 3,375,000.

BERLIN, Jan. 17.—On the Boerse to-day internationals were steady. Americans were dull, and Canadian Pacifics were easier. Mines were weak on the unsatisfactory position in Upper Silesia. Banks fluctuated.

Exchange on London, 20 marks 45½ pfennigs for checks. Discount rates—Short bills, 3 per cent.; three months' accounts, 3¾ per cent.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Jan. 17.—The Bank of Norway has lowered its rate of discount from 6½ to 6 per cent., indicating that normal business conditions again prevail.

BANK OF ENGLAND'S STATEMENT.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—The weekly statement of the Bank of England shows the following changes: Total reserve increased £1,941,000, circulation decreased £386,000, bullion increased £1,554,000, other securities decreased £1,172,000, other deposits decreased £1,919,000, public deposits increased £75,000, notes reserve increased £1,927,000, Government securities decreased £2,580,000.

The proportion of the Bank's reserve to liability is 38.90 per cent. Last week it was 33.91 per cent.

Rate of discount unchanged at 5 per cent.

RAILWAY STATEMENTS.

The following railways reporting yesterday gross earnings for the second week in January showed increases as compared with the corresponding week last year:

Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburg	$5,435
Iowa Central	10,769
Rio Grande Western	3,700
St. Paul	75,068
Wabash	43,418
Total increase, 5 roads	$138,390
Increase previously reported	19,367
Total increase, 7 roads	$158,357

***

The following showed decreases:

Ann Arbor	$4,301
Denver & Rio Grande	6,000
Wheeling & Lake Erie	368
Total decrease, 8 roads	$10,589
Net increase	$147,788

FINANCIAL ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Ernest J. H. Amy has been admitted to partnership in the banking firm of H. Amy & Co.

The International Steam Pump Company declared a dividend yesterday. Details may be found elsewhere.

Zimmermann & Forshay will receive subscriptions for the new 5 per cent. Saxony (Germany) Government loan of 40,000,000 reichsmarks (about $10,000,000) at the subscription price of 83.58. The subscription books at their office will close Saturday at noon.

OUTSIDE SECURITIES.

Somewhat greater activity showed in the outside market yesterday, but prices remained irregular, and again closing quotations showed a number of recessions, while elsewhere in the list net gains appeared. The transportation stocks were especially weak and were more active than they had been on any day recently. Some of the less active issues were in demand in sufficient amounts to cause net gains, which in some cases assumed substantial size. Very few of the active issues, however, succeeded in establishing higher prices than those of Wednesday.

***

UNITED RAILWAYS OF ST. LOUIS 4s were in large demand and showed much strength, the sale of perhaps $100,000 of the bonds causing but a very slight decline. The lowest regular sale was made at 89¾, which was the closing bid of the previous day. At the end of the day they were offered at this price, with 89½ bid. The preferred stock was traded in to the extent of only a few hundred shares, but closed substantially lower than on Wednesday. On the other hand St. Louis Transit, in which no transactions were reported, showed a slight net gain in the closing bid of 19½.

***

PITTSBURG, BESSEMER AND LAKE ERIE was in considerable demand, and sold up to 30¼ on the purchase of about 1,000 shares. It closed with a net gain of about 1 point, at 30 bid. The demand for the stock was due to the leasing of the road to the Carnegie Company, which guarantees 3 per cent. on the common stock.

***

DISTILLING OF AMERICA preferred, though not very active, suffered a sharp decline. After transactions aggregating about 500 shares, it closed at 28¾ bid, a net loss of one point. The common stock was very dull, and closed fractionally lower at 5½ bid.

***

CONSOLIDATED EQUIPMENT, after a day of unusual activity on Wednesday, became quieter and stronger. It sold up to 11½, and closed at 11½ bid.

***

NEW YORK TRANSPORTATION was traded in to the extent of 2,000 shares, an amount much in excess of the transactions usual of late in this issue. The selling of the stock forced the price down to the lowest figure at which it has ever sold. As far as appeared, the selling was due to rumors of an assessment, which were without the least foundation. The stock closed at 3 bid, showing a net loss of 1⅝ points.

***

NEW ENGLAND TRANSPORTATION declined fractionally in sympathy with the weakness of the stock of the New York company. Transactions were limited to a few hundred shares.

***

ELECTRIC VEHICLE sold just at the close at 16. Only 100 shares changed hands.

***

SAFETY CAR HEATING remained strong, but trading in the stock was light. It showed a further net gain for the day, closing at 121½ bid.

***

GENERAL CARRIAGE sold below the previous low record for the stock, but later rallied fractionally and closed with a small net gain for the day. For some days past there have been rumors that the company was in an unfavorable position financially, and that it is unable to meet certain payments becoming due on the property which was purchased last year. These rumors were said to be unfounded. The Treasurer of the company stated that the company had fulfilled all its undertakings in regard to the property referred to. But this officer, when requested for further information in regad to the position of the company, stated that he really knew less about the affairs of the company than the majority of people in the Street. He further stated that he knew no reason for the decline in the stock, and that it had no significance.

***

Closing quotations yesterday compared with those of the previous day were as follows:

Industrial and Miscellaneous.

	Jan. 17. Bid.	Asked.	Jan. 16. Bid.	Asked.
Am. Agricultural Chem.	29	30	29½	30
Am. Agricult. Chem. pf.	80½	81½	80½	81½
American Banknote	50	53	50	53
American Bicycle	6½	6¾	6½	6¾
American Bicycle pf.	24	28	24	26
American Bicycle bonds	73	75	73	75
American Bridge	42	42¾	42	42½
Am. Bridge pf.	91	92	90½	91¼
American Chicle	79	81	79	81
American Chicle pf.	77	82	77	82
Am. Hide & Leather	11	11	10	11
Am. Hide & Leather pf.	35½	39	35½	39
Am. Hide & Leather 6s.	90	90½	90	90½
American Thread pf.	4	5	4	5
Am. Typefounders	57	62	57	62
Anthracite Coal	8	8½	8	8½
Arlington Copper	5	6	5	6
Brit. Columbia Copper	20½	21	20¾	20⅞
British Exch. 3s	98½	99¼	98½	99
California Copper	¾	1¼	¾	1
Cast-Iron Pipe	5	6	5	6
Cast-Iron Pipe pf.	33	35	33	37
Central So. Am. Tel.	102	104	102	104
Central Fireworks	23	27	23	27
Central Fireworks pf.	70	75	70	75
Compressed Air	40	45	40	45
Consolidated Equipment	11½	12	10⅞	11⅞
Con. Rubber Tire	2½	4	2¼	4
Con. Rubber Tire pf.	28	32	28	32
Continental Tobacco deb.	104	106	104	106
Crucible Steel	22½	22⅝	22½	23
Crucible Steel pf.	80	81	80	81
Cramps' Shipyard	81	83	81	83
Dist. Co. of Am. tr. rcts.	5½	6	5¾	6⅛
Dist. Co. of Am. pf. tr. rcts
Electric Boat	28¾	29¼	28¾	30¼
Electric Boat pf.	21½	23	21½	28
Electric Vehicle	40½	51	49	51
Electric Vehicle pf.	15	17	16	18
Electric Vehicle 1st pf.	36	40	44	44
Electric-Pneumatic	1½	1¾	2	2½
Empire Steel	6	7	6	7
Empire Steel pf.	39	48	39	48
Flemington Coal & Coke	20	23	19	22
General Carriage	2½	2⅝	2	2½
General Chemical pf.	60	65	60	62
General Chemical pf.	97	98½	97	98½
German Treasury 4s	100¾	100⅝	100¾	100⅝
Havana Commercial	9½	11	9¼	10½
Havana Commercial pf.	45	48	45	46
Hudson River Tel.	117	119	117	119
Illinois Transportation	¾	1	¾	1
International Silver pf.	42	47	42	47
Inter-State Oil	3½	5½	3¼	5½
Iron Steamboat	2	3	2	3
Iron Steamboat bonds	55	65	55	65
Joseph Ladue Mining pf.	⅛	1	⅛	1
Lorillard pf.	100	105	100	105
†Manrkeen Copper	1½	3	1½	3
Mex. Nat. Construct. pf.	13½	14¾	13½	14¾
Nat. Enamel & Stamp	17	20	17	20
Nat. Enam. & Stamp. pf.	80	85	80	84
National Gramophone	5	12	5	12
Nat. Sugar pf.	100	102	100	102
New England Transport.	3	3¼	3½	3¾
N. Y. Transportation	3	3¾	4¾	5½
Otis Elevator	28½	29½	28½	29½
Otis Elevator pf.	91	91¾	91	91¾
Peo. Dec. & Evans	¾	1	¾	1
Pitts., Bess. & L. Erie	30	30¾	29¾	29¾
Retsof	32	..	32	..
Retsof bonds	78	85	78	85
Royal Baking Powder pf.	94	95	94	95
Royal Copper	11	12	11	12
Rubber Goods Mfg.	28½	29	28¼	29
Rubber Goods Mfg. pf.	78½	79½	78¼	79½
Safety Car Heat. & Light.	121½	..	121	..
St. Louis Transit	19½	20¼	19¼	19¾
Seaboard Air Line 4s	71	71	69¾	70½
Seaboard Air Line	10	10¼	10	10¼
Seaboard Air Line pf.	26	27	26¼	26½
Sheet Steel pf.	74½	75½	74½	76
Singer Mfg.	250	275	250	275
Southern Light & Trac.	32	35	32	35
Standard Coupler	38	38	38	39
Standard Coupler pf.	120	125½	120	125½
Standard Oil of N. J.	797	801	805	808
Sterling Copper	5¾	6	5¾	5¾
Storage Power	..	12	10	12
Tennessee Copper	..	18	..	18
Tel., Tel. & Co. of A.	$15
paid		6	..	6
Trenton Potteries	5	8	5	8
Trenton Pot. pf.	55	60	55	60
Union Copper	4¾	5	4⅞	5¼
Union Typewriter	40½	41	40¼	41
Union Typewriter 1st pf.	112	114	112	114
Union Typewriter 2d pf.	113	114	112	114
United Rys. of St. L. 4s	89½	89¾	89¾	89⅞
United Rys. of St. L. pf.	70¾	72	72	..
Va. Coal, I. & C.	4	4½	3½	4½
Va. Coal, I. & C. bonds	33	35	35	36
Westinghouse Air Brake	370	380	370	390
Worthington Pump pf.	111	114	111	114

*Selling dollars per share. Par value $5.
†Selling dollars per share. Par value $100.

Street Railways.

Broadway & 7th Av.	230	235	230	235
Broadway & 7th Av. 1st.	102½	102½	102½	103
Broadway & 7th Av. 2d.	110	113	110	113
Broadway Surface 1st 5s.	115	116	115	116
Broadway Surface 2d.	102½	103½	102½	103½
Brooklyn City R. R.	233	235	232	234
Brooklyn R. T. 4s.	101¾	102	101¼	103
Cent. Park, N. & E. R.	200	202	190½	201
Cent. Park, N. & E. R. 7s.	104½	105½	104½	105½
Columbus Railway	34	37	34	37
Columbus Railway pf.	90	92	90	92
Con. Traction of N. J.	80	86	85	90
Con. Traction 5s.	108	109	108	109
Eighth Avenue Railroad.	390	400	390	400
42d St., M. & St. N. A. 1st.	113¾	115	113½	115
42d St., M. & St. N. A. 2d.	99	100	99	100
Grand Rapids St. Ry.	29	31	27½	30
Grand Rapids St. Ry. pf.	30	32½	30	34
Jersey City, Hob. & Pat.	20	21¼	20	21¼
Jersey C. H. & P. 4s.	82¼	83	82½	83
Nassau Electric 4s.	95½	..	95½	..
New Orleans Traction	22	23	22	..
New Orleans Traction pf.	93	98	94	98
9th Av., 14th St.	198	205	198	205
North Jersey St. R. R. 4s.	83½	84½	83¾	84½
North Jersey St. R. R.	24	25	24	25
Second Av. R. R. consols.	118	119	118	119
Sixth Av. R. R.	200	210	200	210
Steinway Ry. Co. 1st 6s.	116½	118	116¼	118
Syracuse Rapid Transit.	15	20	15	20
Syracuse Rap. Transit pf.	37	43	39	43
28th & 29th St. 5s.	1996. 113¾	114½	113¾	114½
Union Ry. 1st 5s.	111	113½	111	113½

OUTSIDE SECURITIES.

	Jan. 17. Bid.	Asked.	Jan. 16. Bid.	Asked.
United Trac., Providence.	109	111	109	111
United Traction bonds.	113½	115	113½	115
Worcester (Mass.) Trac.	34	36	34	36
Wor. (Mass.) Trac. pf.	105	108	105	108
Gas Companies.
Bay State Gas	1¼	1¼	1⅛	1¼
Buffalo (N. Y.) Stock	6	9	6	9
Buffalo (N. Y.) 1st	74	76	74	76
Central Union 5s, gtd.	108½	109½	108½	109¼
Columbus Gas 5s.	106	107	106	107
Con. Gas of Newark	55	..	..	55
Con. Gas of New'k bds.	104	106	104	106
Con. Gas of New Jersey	10	15	10	15
Con. Gas bonds of N. J.	80	85	80	85
Con's'rs Gas (J. C.) bds.	105¼	108	105¼	108
Denver Gas	23½	26	23½	26
Denver Gas 5s	68	68	63	68
Essex & Hudson Gas	35	40	35	40
Indianapolis Gas	..	45	..	45
Indianapolis Gas bds. 6s.	93	95	93	95
Mutual Gas of N. Y.	295	299	295	299
Madison (Wis.) stock	75	79	70	75
New Amsterdam 5s	109	109½	109	110
N. E. Gas & Coke	12	13	12	18
N. E. Gas & Coke 5s	65	68	65	68
N. Y. & E. R. Gas Co. 1st.	112½	114	111	114
N. Y. & E. R. Gas Co. con.	108	109	106	109
Northern Union 5s	105½	106	105½	106
Nor. Hud. L., H. & P. Co.	55	56	55	56
Nor. H. L., H. & P. Co. bds.	107	109	107	109
Peo. Gas & El. (Oswego)	25	30	25	30
Peo. G. & E. (Os.) 5s, 1930	99	101	99	101
St. Joseph (Mo.)	31	38	31	38
St. Joseph (Mo.) 6s	91	93	91	93
St. Paul Gas stock	..	50	..	50
St. Paul Gas bonds	75	80	75	80
Standard Gas, New York	131	133	130	133
Standard Gas, N. Y., pf.	151	153	150	153
Standard Gas 1st	115	117	115	117
Syracuse Gas stock	8	10	8	10
Western Gas	96	100	96	100
Western Gas 1st 5s	105	107	105	107
Ferry Companies.
Brooklyn Ferry	19	21	19	21
East River Ferry	69	71	69	71
East River Ferry 5s	90	93	90	98
Hoboken Ferry con. 5s	94	95	94	95
Hoboken Ferry 1st	110½	112½	110½	112½
Hoboken Ferry	80	81	80	81
Metropolitan Ferry 5s	108	110	108	110
Union Ferry	81	33	30	31½
Union Ferry bonds	91	92	91	92

BOSTON STOCK MARKET.

Special to The New York Times.

BOSTON, Jan. 17.—Trading was quiet today, with Federal Steel and Chicago, Burlington and Quincy the active features. Only 1,000 shares of Sugar sold in the morning, with 2,700 Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, and 3,400 Federal Steel. Erie Telephone touched 67, receding to 65; American Telephone was 1½ lower at 139, but rallied to 140½. United States Oil continued heavy; it fell 1½ more, to 11½, on the lower price of oil consequent on the Texas disorders, but rallied to 12. Mining stocks were quiet. Baltic was off 1, at 33; Centennial, ½, at 22½; Copper Range, 1, at 38; Franklin, ¼, at 16, with rights selling at 15@25c, mostly at 20c. Mohawk lost 1, to 23; Trimountain, ⅜, to 21½, and Wolverine, ½, to 48½. Old Dominion advanced 1, to 31¼. Tamarack was 3 lower, at 327. Gas and Coke sold at 12⅝, and the five ats at 63½, a loss of ⅞ for stocks and ¼ for bonds.

At the Clearing House money between banks was in large supply at 2½ per cent. New York funds sold at par and 5c discount for cash.

Money on call is offered to the strongest borrowers at 3½ per cent. The going rate on the Street, however, is still 4 per cent., where all grades of collateral are accepted. Time money rates are declining and range from 3½ to 4 per cent., according to names and collateral.

Closing bid and asked:

Mining Stocks.

	Bid.	Asked.		Bid.	Asked.
Adventure	9⅝	10	Old Colony	3½	4
Allouez	2⅞	3	Old Domin.	30¾	..
Areadian	18	..	Osceola	81½	83
Arnold	1½	5	Parrot	49	49½
Ash Bed	25	50	Quincy	170	170¾
Atlantic	28	29	Rhode Island	4½	4¾
Baltic	33¼	33½	Santa Fe	6⅞	6¾
Bonanza	7⅝	8	Shoe	31½	..
Cal. & Hec.	550	..	Tamarack	325	327
Centennial	22	22½	Utah Cons.	32½	33
Franklin	15¾	16	Washington	60	1
Humboldt	50	1	Winona	5¼	6½
Isle Royale	34½	35	Wolverine	46	49
Mohawk	22⅜	23

Railroad Stocks.

Bost. & Alb.	254⅜	255	Fitchburg pf.
Bost. & Low.	242	..	N. Y. & N.
Bost. & Me.	164	165	E. Bs.
Bost. Elev.	160	161	N. Y. & N.
Bost. G. 5s	81	..	E. 7s
Cent. Mass.	15	..	West End
Cent. M. pf.	62	..

138½	140
109⅛	..
113⅜	..
93	93½

Miscellaneous Stocks.

A. T. & T.	159	160	N. Eng. Tel.
Chi. Stk., Y.	144	145	U. S. Oil
Dom. Coal	36½	..	Westinghouse
Dom. C. pf.	108½	110	Electric
Erie Tel.	65	66	Westinghouse
Mex. Tele.	2¾	2⅞	Elect. pf.

135	137
12½	..
70	72

PHILADELPHIA PRICES.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 17.—There was little spirit in the market to-day, and there was special weakness in Bethlehem Steel in sympathy with Cambria. The stock, which on Jan. 2 was at 20, fell to 17¼ and closed at 18. Cambria stock fluctuated between 16⅝ and 17½, improving slightly on yesterday's closing price. Lehigh Valley suffered at the hands of manipulators, opening at 31⅜; it was forced down to 30⅝, later crawling back to 31. Reading common was slightly weaker, 16 being its high figure, which it did not reach again after noon.

Money at the banks was easier at 4 per cial paper sales were made at 4½ per cent. cent. for call and 4@4½ for time. Commercial for good grades and a little of the best single names at 4 per cent. The greater part of the demand for paper was for the most exclusive names only, and these were difficult to obtain. Lower rates are predicted.

The market's close was steady at the following bid and asked prices:

	Bid.	Asked.		Bid.	Asked.
Am. Ry., L.	32	34	H. & B. T.
Cambria	17½	17	pf.	49	60
Citizens' Ry.			Lehigh Nav.	65	67
Ind., 5s	108½	..	Lehigh Val.	30⅞	31
Checcaw	38	38½	Marsden	6½	6⅝
C. T., N. J.	58½	61	North Penn.	107	112
C. T., N. J., 5s			Penn. Steel	67	70
	109¼	109½	Penn. S. pf.	90	93
C. T. Pitts.	27	27½	P. Trac. 4s	108½	110
E. & P. 4s	100⅝	101	Phila. & E.	33	34
El. Stg. B.	77	80	Phila. Trac.	100	100¼
E. S. B. pf.	77	82	Union Trac.	31	34¼
Cos. of A.	9	8½	U. Cos. J. C.	271	276
H. & B. T.	17	20	U. Gas Imp.	123½	124
			Welsbach Lt.	40	48

CHICAGO QUOTATIONS.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—The market to-day was not interesting. The business was done on a close range. Biscuit sold between 37¾ at the opening and 38¾, closing at 38. Match was in some demand between 134 and 134½. West Chicago brought 100@99⅜. Northwestern Elevated preferred sold at 78½. There were few other changes.

	High.	Low.	Close.
165. Linseed common	6½	6¼	6½
290. Linseed pf.	35	34¾	34¾
100. Chicago Junction	54	54	54
300. Chicago Unior Trac. pf.	50	50	50
1. Chicago City Railway	260

MINING STOCK QUOTATIONS.

Special to The New York Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 17.—The official closing quotations for mining stocks to-day and yesterday were as follows:

	Thursday.	Wednesday.
Alta	.04	.04
Alpha Con.	.03	.03
Andes	.08	.08
Belcher	.15	.15
Best & Belcher	.27	.25
Bullion	.02	.02
Caledonia	.77	.74
Challenge Con.	.21	.18
Confidence	.90	.91
Con. Cal. & Va.	1.75	1.65
Con. Imperial	.01	.02
Crown Point	.14	.15
Gould & Curry	.45	.44
Hale & Norcross	.20	.17
Julia	.02	.02
Justice	.08	.08
Kentucky Con.	.01	.01
Lady Washington Con.	.02	.02
Mexican	.34	.33
Occidental Con.	.04	.04
Ophir	.68	.63
Overman	.15	.14
Potosi	.11	.11
Savage	.16	.15
Sav. Belcher	.02	.02
Sierra Nevada	.32	.31
Standard	4.25	4.25
Sunderland	.00	.00
St. Louis	.10	.08
Union Con.	.27	.26
Utah Con.	.05	.01
Yellow Jacket	.17	.14
Silver bars	62¾	62½
Mexican dollars	50½@50⅝	50⅝@50¾
Drafts, sight	.17½	.15
Telegraph	.20	.20

Special to The New York Times.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Jan. 17.—Gardner & Co. report closing quotations as follows:

	Thursday.		Wednesday.
	Bid.	Asked.	Bid.	Asked.
Acacia	22	23½	22½	27
Almono	113½	114	113½	12
Argentum	29½	30½	30	30½
Anaconda	42	44	42	44
Butterfly-Terrible	26½	27	26½	30
Battle Mountain	24	25	25	26
Blue Bell	14½	14½	14½	14½
C. C. Cons.	11	11½	11½	11¾
C. C. & M.	87½	90	90	90½
Columbine Victor	11¾	12	11¾	12
Corbolanus	18	18½	18½	19
Dante	10	10¼	9	9¾
Damon	14½	14¾	14¾	15
Doctor Jackpot con.	96	98½	97	98
Elkton	184½	185	187½	188
El Paso	40¼	47	46	48
Findley	11	13	12	13
Golden Fleece	25	30	29	30
Gibson	20	25	20	25
Gold King	100	114½	100	115
Gold Knob	102½	103	101½	103
Gold Coin	325	600	325	600
Gold Dollar	24	24½	24½	25
Gold Sovereign	75	77½	75	80
Gould	26	30	25	25½
Hort	14½	16	15	16
Ida May	17½	17⅝
Ingham	20¼	20½	20½	21⅝
Isabella	65	67	67	67½
Independence	29	31	29	31
Jackpot	50	65	60	68
Keystone	14	14	13¾	14
Last Dollar	65	70	65	68
Lexington	12¼	12½	12½	12¾
Mount Rosa	40	45½	40	50
Mary Cashen	12½	13	13½	13½
Moon Anchor	29	30	29	30
National	90½	96¼	90½	93¾
New Haven	73¾	73¾	73¾	74
Nonpareil	25	26	25	28
Ophir	35	40	35	40
Orphan	16	18	16	18½
Pharmacist	7½	8½	7½	8
Pinnacle	15¼	17	15	17½
Portland	225	227	220	227
Rose Nicol	105	106	104½	106
Revenge	20	22	15	22½
Sedan	13½	14	14½	15½
Vindicator	123	127	125	129
Work	20½	21	20½	21
Zoe	17½	18	18½	18¾

NEW CRUISING YACHT.

Prinzessin Victoria Luise Arrives on Her Maiden Voyage.

The Prinzessin Victoria Luise, the twin-screw cruising yacht recently completed for the Hamburg-American Steamship Company, arrived in port at the end of her maiden voyage across the Atlantic yesterday. The service for which she is designed is a departure in the transatlantic passenger service, as she will not carry mail or cargo, but will be utilized in the excursion business entirely, carrying only first-class passengers. All of the appointments aboard the ship are after the most approved modern plans, and many innovations have been instituted, several of which were at the suggestion of Emperor William.

The staterooms and suites are furnished with unusual luxury, the library is well stocked with the choicest of reading matter, while a gymnasium and a stage for parlor entertainments will make life on the new vessel still more agreeable. For the use of amateur photographers a dark room has been provided for the developing of pictures. The Prinzessin is 450 feet in length, 47 feet in width, and has a depth of 30 feet. She has a clipper bow, with a full figure of the Princess on the bow, two funnels, and two masts.

Several tours for the yacht have been arranged by the company, the first of which will be to the West Indies, leaving New York the 26th of this month, and returning in time to be dispatched for a cruise in the Mediterranean and Black Seas, March 9 is the date selected for the departure of the parties who will book for the second cruise. The yacht is commanded by Capt. R. Sauermann of the German Imperial Naval Reserve. The other officers are Chief Engineer G. Edelmann, Surgeon O. Dietsch, Purser A. Schneider, and Chief Steward Schwarz. Among the passengers who arrived on the Prinzessin were Lieut. Col. von Schenck of the staff of the Grenadier Regiments, Capt. von Wedel of the Fourth Guard Regiment, Major Clifford Kocq von Breugel of the Life Hussars, Capt. Schaap of the One Hundred and Forty-fifth Regiment of the King's Infantry, and Lucius von Balthausen.

"BOWERY AFTER DARK" IN COURT

Justice Beach Has Reopened a Judgment by Default.

Justice Beach, on the application of Charles L. Hoffman, counsel for Albert H. Woods and Patrick H. Sullivan, a half-brother of Senator T. D. Sullivan, in the Supreme Court, yesterday, granted an application to have the judgment against his clients, which was granted by default after an inquest held by Justice Freedman, reopened.

F. De Fina asserted that he was a part owner in the play, "The Bowery After Dark," and entered into a partnership with the defendant Woods for its production in many cities and towns in New York and New Jersey. He asserted that Woods usurped the sole management of the play, and appointed a Treasurer to collect the receipts and made bookings on his own account. De Fina said he had expended $800 on the production. He brought a suit in New Jersey for a dissolution of the partnership and for an accounting, and a receiver was appointed.

Then, De Fina alleged, Woods formed a partnership with Sullivan, and they produced what was practically the same play at the Metropolis Theatre here and in other theatres. He sued for an injunction restraining the defendants from producing the play, and demanding the return of his scenery. He secured a temporary injunction from Justice Fitzgerald, but its continuance was denied by Justice Andrews, who held that De Fina was not irreparably injured, and that his remedy was by an action for an accounting.

NEW CORPORATIONS.

Ocean Parkway Sanitarium Company of Brooklyn, capital, $15,000. Directors—W. H. Overre, J. D. Russell, M. E. H. Flake, Brooklyn.

Masena Forum Publishing Company of Masena; capital, $4,000. Directors—J. F. Murphy, Cherebusco; Jane Murphy, Masena; W. H. McKinney, Bombay.

American Smoke Consumer Company of New York City; capital, $50,000. Directors—Ashley W. Cole and G. H. McFalls, Brooklyn; J. B. Judson, Gloversville.

G. M. Scofield Company of New York City, to do general contracting; capital, $1,000. Directors—J. Arthur Kilpatrick, G. M. Scofield, and H. D. Merchant, New York City.

Broderick & Wade of Buffalo, to construct architectural designs and erect buildings; capital, $10,000. Directors J. L. Broderick, W. W. Wade, and C. E. Chalmers, Buffalo.

Simonson Company of New York City, to carry on a ladies' tailoring business; capital, $1,500. Directors—H. Talbaim, J. J. Cunningham and Kathryn C. Daly, New York City.

Nostrand Trading Company of Cedarhurst, to deal in merchandise; capital, $50,000. Directors—W. H. Hutton and W. C. McGuire, New York City; H. H. Curran, Englewood, N. J.

Davis, French & Co. of New York City, to deal in real estate; capital, $50,000. Directors—L. H. French, New Rochelle; J. C. Davis, Richmond Hill; F. A. Barnaby, Plainfield, N. J.

Incorporated in New Jersey.

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 17.—The Development Company of Cuba, capital, $1,000,000, was incorporated here to-day to engage in the manufacturing, mercantile, and building business. The incorporators are Stephen L. McCarthy, Edward B. Hawkins, and George W. Mark of East Orange.

FIGHT FOR IVISON ESTATE.

Contestants of Will Try to Show Testator Was Incompetent.

The suit of Charles H. Ivison and the several heirs-at-law of William B. Ivison, the publisher, who died at the Hoffman House, May 20, 1896, to break his will which made David B. Ivison, a nephew, of Rutherford, N. J., the sole beneficiary, with one exception, was called in the Supreme Court yesterday afternoon before Justice O'Gorman and a jury. Mr. Ivison's estate is estimated at $600,000 to $1,000,000.

Mrs. Charles Holt of 97 Lexington Avenue, whose husband was a nephew of William Ivison's wife, was the only witness of the afternoon. She testified to several occurrences and conversations with the old man. Mr. Ivison, she said, was stingy with his wife. He would buy expensive diamonds for her but would compel her to dress in shabby clothes.

"Mr. Ivison used to tell me," said she, "that he bought diamonds because they could always be turned into money. Mr. Ivison for years compelled his wife to buy a Summer hat late in the Fall because it was cheap, and a Winter hat in the Spring because some milliner was anxious to get rid of it. Mrs. Ivison was compelled to wear these hats out of season.

"Once in the Winter time while they were staying at the Victoria, Mrs. Ivison spoke of going to Macy's. She had thin clothing on and a straw hat, and it made people stare. They frequently started to see her diamonds on and attired in shabby clothes. One necklace he purchased for her cost $20,000."

As showing the state of Ivison's mind while at the Hoffman and after his wife's death, Mrs. Holt said that several times he asked her to marry him.

"'Why, I am married to Charles,' I told him," said the witness, 'Oh, you can fix that,' was his reply. 'You can get a divorce and marry me.' Then almost in the same breath he would say, 'I ought not to marry again; my angel, Caroline, would not like it.'"

Then Mrs. Holt told how Mr. Ivison used to see visions of his wife and would reach out his hands and call, "My angel Caroline," and throw kisses at her. The witness said that for some time before his death she seemed him irrational.

Mrs. Holt said that during Mrs. Ivison's lifetime and while they were living at the Hoffman, often when she called she found Mr. Ivison cross, irritable, and downhearted.

"I asked what the matter was," she went on in answer to questions. "'I'm cross and irritable,' he said. 'David's been bothering me again about my money. I wish he would let me alone.' He was frequently nervous because he said David had been at him again. Once, when my husband was present, Mrs. Ivison said: 'I suppose David will succeed in getting all he by's.'"

The case will be continued to-day.

FIRE DAMAGES DR. JAHR'S HOUSE.

His Wife Faints While Escaping with Her Child and Is Rescued.

The handsome residence of Dr. Richard E. Jahr, at Shippen Street and Palisade Avenue, Weehawken Heights, N. J., was damaged to the amount of $1,500 yesterday by a fire which stared in the kitchen from a defective flue.

Mrs. Jahr, fearing that escape would be cut off, became so frightened that she fainted in the hallway while carrying her child to the street. They were rescued by the firemen, who extinguished the flames after an hour's hard struggle.

The rear portion of the house, including Dr. Jahr's library on the second floor, was burned away.

Dr. Jahr is the physician who was indicted in connection with the alleged plot to defraud the Colonial Life Insurance Company.

IN THE REAL ESTATE FIELD

Union Square Corner Sold—The Day's Other Dealings by Brokers and in the Auction Room.

The Central Realty, Bond and Trust Company has bought, through Frederick Southack & Co., from Austen G. Fox the four-story building 31 Union Square, northwest corner of Sixteenth Street, 32.6 by 150. The lower floor in this building has been occupied for many years by Brentano's book store.

Samuel Goldsticker has sold for Janpole & Werner to J. Hooker Hamersley the plot at the southeast corner of Fifth Avenue and One Hundred and Eleventh Street, 50 by 100.

William M. Ryan has sold for ex-Mayor Hugh J. Grant the lot at the northwest corner of West End Avenue and Seventy-first Street, 25 by 100.

Pease & Elliman have sold for Charles Buek the five-story American basement dwelling 41 East Forty-ninth Street, 22 by 100.5.

Ex-Surrogate John H. V. Arnold has sold the four-story brownstone-front dwelling 48 East Sixty-ninth Street, 25 by 100.5.

It is reported that James Livingston has sold the new nine-story apartment house at the southwest corner of Central Park West and Ninety-third Street, 75 by 100.8.

Weil & Mayer have bought from the Franklin Savings Bank the five four-story tenements 555 to 563 East One Hundred and Thirty-fifth Street, 125 by 100.

A. Kassel reports that he has bought 248 to 252 Mott Street, and 274 and 276 Mott Street; also, the dwelling 226 East One Hundred and Second Street; also, in conjunction with Krakaur & Sulzer, 224 to 234 East One Hundred and Thirteenth Street.

Hunt, Vail & Metra have sold for Charles Forster the flat 134 West One Hundred and Twelfth Street, 25 by 100.

Results at Auction.

Yesterday's offerings in the Trinity Building Salesroom resulted as follows:

By William M. Ryan.

Amsterdam Avenue, southwest corner of One Hundred and Thirty-first Street, 24.11 by 100, five-story brick flat; foreclosure sale, to the plaintiffs, Emanuel Hellner and another.....$21,480

554 to 562 West Twenty-fifth Street, south side, 100 feet east of Eleventh Avenue, 125 by 98.9, four-story brick building; foreclosure sale, to the plaintiff, James O. Trask..... 75,000

By Philip A. Smyth.

234 West Sixty-fifth Street, south side, 400 feet west of Amsterdam Avenue, 24.7 by 100.5, six-story brick tenement, with stores; foreclosure sale, to the plaintiff, Richard Cohn..... 19,281

By William M. Kennelly.

203 and 205 West One Hundred and Second Street, north side, 100 feet west of Amsterdam Avenue, each 30 by 100, two five-story stone-front flats; foreclosure sale, No. 203 to the plaintiffs, James J. Thayer and others, executors..... 15,000

No. 205, to the same plaintiffs..... 19,000

By McVickar & Co.

60 and 62 East Ninety-sixth Street, south side, 120 feet east of Madison Avenue, each by 100.8, two three-story brick flats; foreclosure sale, to the defendant, Francis J. Schnugg..... 40,000

By Richard V. Harnett & Co.

1,056 and 1,058 Home Street and 1,182 Stebbins Avenue, being the southeast corner, 53 by 94 by 102.9 by 33, three three-story frame flats, with store on the corner; foreclosure sale, to the plaintiff, Frederick Ernsting..... 10,800

By Peter F. Meyer & Co.

325, 327, and 329 West Eleventh Street, north side, 117.3 feet west of Greenwich Street, 28.8, 28.5, and 28.8, respectively, by 95.4, three five-story brick tenements, with stores; foreclosure sale, to the plaintiff, Henry C. Lytton..... 98.000

To-day's Auction Sales.

The following sales at auction are down for to-day at 111 Broadway:

By Philip A. Smyth, partition sale, Francis B. Delehanty, referee, 820 Courtlandt Avenue, southeast corner of One Hundred and Fifty-ninth Street, 25 by 92, four-story brick flat, with stores; 818 Courtlandt Avenue, east side, adjoining the foregoing, 25 by 92, four-story brick flat, with store; 816 Courtlandt Avenue, east side, adjoining the foregoing, 48.6 by 92, old frame building; 796 Courtlandt Avenue, southeast corner of One Hundred and Fifty-eighth Street, 24 by 91.11, four-story brick flat, with store; 794 Courtlandt Avenue, east side, adjoining the foregoing, 24.6 by 91.11, four-story brick flat, with store; 606 East One Hundred and Fifty-eighth Street, south side, 91.11 feet east of Courtlandt Avenue, at the rear of the foregoing, 25.1 by 98.6, unfinished four-story brick dwelling; East One Hundred and Fifty-eighth Street, south side, 117 feet east of Courtlandt Avenue, adjoining the foregoing, 25 by 98.6, vacant.

By William M. Ryan, foreclosure sale, Charles W. West, referee, Prospect Avenue, southeast corner of One Hundred and Sixty-fifth Street, 37 by 85, four-story brick flat, with store; East One Hundred and Sixty-fifth Street, south side, 16.11 feet west of Stebbins Avenue, 54.9 by 99, three two-story frame dwellings. Due on judgment, $29,892.

By D. Phoenix Ingraham & Co., foreclosure sale, Arthur D. Truax, referee, 2,332 Third Avenue west side, 75 feet north of One Hundred and Twenty-sixth Street, 24.10 by 90, five-story brick flat, with store. Due on judgment, $22,688.

By Charles A. Berrian, foreclosure sale, James M. Ward, referee, 28 and 30 West One Hundred and Twenty-eighth Street, south side, 310 feet west of Fifth Avenue, 75 by 99.11, two seven and eight story brick flats. Due on judgment, $8,182.

By Peter F. Meyer & Co., sale by order of the Sheriff, 232 West Forty-sixth Street, south side, 308 feet east of Eighth Avenue, 18.9 by 100.5, leasehold, four-story stone-front dwelling; all title and interest of Minnie E. or Mary E. Williams on Dec. 6, 1899.

By Peter F. Meyer & Co., foreclosure sale, William T Emmet, referee, 369, 371, and 373 West One Hundred and Sixteenth Street, north side, 150 feet west of Manhattan Avenue, 24, 26, and 38, respectively, by 100.10, three seven-story brick flats. Due on judgment, $146,732.

THE BUILDING DEPARTMENT.

List of Plans Filed for New Structures and Alterations.

Columbus Avenue, southeast side, 25 feet west of Filmore Street, for a two-story frame workshop, 16 by 28; Sarah E. Scott, premises, owner; W. J. Scott, architect; cost, $450.

Vickery Lane, south side, 250 feet east of Main Street, City Island, for a one-story frame shop, 25 by 29; M. S. Hofer, City Island, owner; cost, $400.

One Hundred and Fifteenth Street, north side, 215 feet east of First Avenue, for a six-story brick flat, 30 by 85.11; Joseph Bendetto, of 333 East One Hundred and Thirteenth Street, owner; H. Andersen, architect; cost, $15,000.

River Avenue, west side, 100 feet north of One Hundred and Eightieth Street, for a two-story frame dwelling, 18 by 40; A. S. Wright, 660 East One Hundred and Seventy-eighth Street, owner; Ahnemann & Youmkheere, architects; cost, $2,000.

Nos. 37 and 39 West Seventy-second Street, for two five-story and basement brick dwellings, 28 by 98.2 by 22 by 62; Cornelius W. Luyster, owner; J. H. Duncan, architect; cost, $140,000.

Bank Street, north side, 100 feet east of Bleecker Street, for two six-story and basement brick flats, each 25 by 86.10; Elias Kempner, of 55 East Sixty-first Street, owner; G. F. Pelham, architect; cost, $57,000.

Park Avenue, northwest corner of One Hundred and Seventy-ninth Street, for a three-story frame tenement, 25.4 by 59.11; Katharine Hubner, owner; Piqueron & Kruse, architects; cost, $7,000.

Alterations.

No. 34 Pell Street, to a three-story brick store; James H. Hamersley of 1,030 Fifth Avenue, owner; C. E. Miller of 111 Nassau Street, architect; cost, $400.

No. 88 Park Place, to a five-story brick shop and store; E. M. and L. M. Stevens of 20 West Thirty-ninth Street, owners; J. B. Snook & Sons of 261 Broadway, architects; cost, $500.

Nos. 108 and 110 East Eighty-seventh Street, to a five-story brick flat; Frederick W. Wichmann, owner; A. J. Corcoran of 11 John Street, builder; cost, $155.

Third Avenue, southwest corner of Fifty-sixth Street, to a five-story brick store and lofts; Joseph Burckle of 1 East Thirty-first Street, owner; Ira H. Wolson, architect; cost, $800.

Nos. 831 and 833 Third Avenue, to two and four story brick dwellings; John Spies of 153 East Eighty-second Street, owner; W. H. C. Hornum of 871 Brook Avenue, architect; cost, $1,500.

Elizabeth Street, north side, 200 feet west of Main Street, City Island, to a two-and-a-half-story frame dwelling; Mrs. J. F. Dickey, City Island, owner; A. T. Brook, architect; cost, $700.

Broadway, northwest corner of Twenty-first Street, to a three and five-story brick building; Bradish Johnson estate, owner; Stein, Cohen & Ruth of 41 Union Square, West, architects; cost, $15,000.

Second Avenue, southwest corner of Seventieth Street, to a five-story brick tenement; Bendel Isaacs of 19 East Seventy-second Street, owner; Charles Stegmayer of 306 East Eighty-second Street, architect; cost, $1,000.

Great Jones Street, southwest corner of Elm Street, to a four-story brick building; Manhattan Realty Company, Broadway and Houston Street, owner; cost, $100.

No. 38 Market Street, to a four-story brick tenement; A. Zubrinsky, premises, owner; F. Ebeling of 97 Seventh Street, architect; cost, $100.

No. 10 Hester Street, to a five-story brick tenement; A. Zubrinsky, premises, owner; F. Ebeling, architect; cost, $350.

No. 979 East One Hundred and Thirty-third Street, to a two-story frame dwelling; A. Lintner, premises, owner; C. F. Lohse of 631 Eagle Avenue, architect; cost, $300.

No. 22 Wooster Street, to a five-story brick factory and store; Samuel Eiseman of 54 West Ninety-first Street, owner; the Rushing Company of 26 Cortlandt Street, architects.

To Cost $20,000, Not $2,000.

In the list of plans filed for new structures yesterday the price in the item reading, "No. 171 East Broadway, for a six-story brick flat, with stores, 26.1 by 83.6; Y. Goldberg of 123 East Broadway, owner; F. Ebeling of 97 Seventh Street, architect; cost, $2,000," should have been $20,000.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.

In the following list "mtg" stands for mortgage and "R. S" for revenue stamps. The war revenue law provides that stamps shall be placed on all conveyances at the rate of 50 cents for each $500 of consideration. This "consideration" has been held to mean only the equity above the mortgage, except in the rare cases where the purchaser assumes payment of the mortgage. The amount of the mortgage plus 1,000 times the value of the revenue stamps on the conveyance should therefore show the true consideration:

Thursday, Jan. 17.

BLEECKER ST, 126, 25x100; Gardner Colby and others, individually and as executors, &c., to Henry L. Morris.....$48,500

BOONE ST, e s, 50 ft n of 173d St, 25x88; William R. Rose to Richard Wohlberg, (R S $1).....100

BOWERY, 84, 25.5x111.2x25.4x111.2; James R. Whiting to Henry Stein, (quitclaim).

BOWERY, 84, 25.5x111.2x25.4x111.2; Harriet and James A. Hayden to Henry Stein, ⅓ part, (R S $40).....1

BOWERY, 84, 25.5x111.2x25.4x111.2; James R. Whiting and another, executors, &c., to Henry Stein, ⅔ parts.....11,111

BOWERY, 82, 24.4x111.2; James R. Whiting and another, executors, &c., to Henry Stein, ⅔ parts.....22,222

BOWERY, 82, 24.4x111.2; Harriet and James A. Hayden to Henry Stein, ⅓ part.....11,111

BOWERY, 80, 25.3x111.2x25.4x111.2; James R. Whiting and another, executors, &c., and others to Henry Stein, ⅔ parts.....22,222

BOWERY, 80, 25.3x111.2x25.4x111.2; Harriet and James A. Hayden to Henry Stein, ⅓ part.....11,111

BROADWAY, n w corner of 97th St, 100.11x165x—x140.7, Legrand K. Pettit to Catherine Wilson, tmtg $130,025, R S $21).....1

JAY ST, 14, s s, 25x87.6; Jay St, s s, 75 ft w of Staple St, 0.10x89.2; Jay St, s s, 175 ft e of Greenwich St, 0.5¾x88.8; Barbara A. Simpson to Hugh Getty, (R S $40).....Omitted

LENOX AV, w s, 25.11 ft n of 114th St, 25x100; Emil Goldmark to Sophie Rothschild, (R S $33.50).....33,500

LEWIS, n w corner of 7th St, 74x70.11 x73.1x79.8; Stanley H. Bevins, referee, to Rudolph I. Coffee, (mtg $70,950, R S $7).....7,000

LOTS 244, 245, and 246, map of part of Hunt estate; Peter F. McGlade to Mary J. McGlade, (R S $2.50).....1

WEBSTER AV, n w corner of 207th St, runs n 101x n 781 to e s of Parkside Place x s 946.9 to 207th St x e 37.2; Patrick Goodman to Patrick J. Daffy, (R S $30).....1

WOOSTER ST, 53, w s; Charles Donohue, referee, to Thomas Monahan, (R S $18.50).....18,250

3D AV, e s, 60.3 ft n of 59th St, 20.1x100; Edward A. Morrison and another, executors and trustees, to Charlotte E. Lee, (R S $27).....27,000

22D ST, s s, 256.8 ft w of 5th Av, 27x98.9; Francis P. Harper to Lathrop C. Harper, ½ part, (mtg $40,000, R S $25).....1

41ST ST, 11 West, 22x98.9; Walter Jennings to Helen Hastings.....54,000

47TH ST, 26 West, 20x100.5; Ellen Musgrave to Lewis A. Mitchell, (mtg $40,500, R S $20).....60,500

47TH ST, s s, 350 ft w of 5th Av, 20x100.5; Louis F. Massa to Ellen Musgrave.....1

63D ST, s s, 225 ft e of West End Av, 20x100.5; Abraham and Esther Greenberg to Karolina Krejci, (mtg $14,000, R S $6.50).....1

70TH ST, 116 West, 20x102.2; Caroline W. Whiton to Julia W. Little, (R S $10).....1

83D ST, n s, 149 ft w of Madison Av, 20x102.2; Mary Hershfield to David Lydig, (mtg $35,000, R S $15).....1

88TH ST, 118 and 120 West, s s, part and all title; Ely Greenblatt to Jacob Bloch, (mtg $54,674, R S $4).....100

98TH ST, s s, 130 ft w of Park Av, 100x100.11; Alfred Steckler, referee, to Solomon Jacobs.....30,000

98TH ST, 52 and 54 West, 50x100.11; Charles Mayhoff to Ellen Musgrave, (R S $20, mtg $40,000).....60,000

107TH ST, s w corner of Manhattan Av, 55x100; Simon E. Bernheimer and another to Paul Mayer, (R S $43, mtg $82,000).....125,000

116TH ST, 108 to 172 East, 47.6x100.11; Veronika Elton to James E. North, (R S $5).....1

117TH ST, s s, 200 ft w of Lenox Av, 100x100.11; Isaac M. Berinstein to Louis Lese, (R S $12, mtg $32,000).....100

120TH ST, s s, 300 ft w of 7th Av, 25x100; Emil Goldmark to Sophie Rothschild, (R S $33.50).....Omitted

LENOX AV, n w corner of 120th St, 74x70.11 x73.1x79.8; Stanley H. Bevins, referee, to Rudolph I. Coffee, (mtg $70,950, R S $7).....7,000

LOTS 244, 245, and 246, map of part of Hunt estate; Peter F. McGlade to Mary J. McGlade, (R S $2.50).....1

WEBSTER AV, n w corner of 207th St, runs n 101x n 781 to e s of Parkside Place x s 946.9 to 207th St x e 37.2; Patrick Goodman to Patrick J. Daffy, (R S $30).....1

WOOSTER ST, 53, w s; Charles Donohue, referee, to Thomas Monahan, (R S $18.50).....18,250

3D AV, e s, 60.3 ft n of 59th St, 20.1x100; Edward A. Morrison and another, executors and trustees, to Charlotte E. Lee, (R S $27).....27,000

22D ST, s s, 256.8 ft w of 5th Av, 27x98.9; Francis P. Harper to Lathrop C. Harper, ½ part, (mtg $40,000, R S $25).....1

41ST ST, 11 West, 22x98.9; Walter Jennings to Helen Hastings.....54,000

47TH ST, 26 West, 20x100.5; Ellen Musgrave to Lewis A. Mitchell, (mtg $40,500, R S $20).....60,500

47TH ST, s s, 350 ft w of 5th Av, 20x100.5; Louis F. Massa to Ellen Musgrave.....1

63D ST, s s, 225 ft e of West End Av, 20x100.5; Abraham and Esther Greenberg to Karolina Krejci, (mtg $14,000, R S $6.50).....1

70TH ST, 116 West, 20x102.2; Caroline W. Whiton to Julia W. Little, (R S $10).....1

83D ST, n s, 149 ft w of Madison Av, 20x102.2; Mary Hershfield to David Lydig, (mtg $35,000, R S $15).....1

88TH ST, 118 and 120 West, s s, part and all title; Ely Greenblatt to Jacob Bloch, (mtg $54,674, R S $4).....100

98TH ST, s s, 130 ft w of Park Av, 100x100.11; Alfred Steckler, referee, to Solomon Jacobs.....30,000

98TH ST, 52 and 54 West, 50x100.11; Charles Mayhoff to Ellen Musgrave, (R S $20, mtg $40,000).....60,000

107TH ST, s w corner of Manhattan Av, 55x100; Simon E. Bernheimer and another to Paul Mayer, (R S $43, mtg $82,000).....125,000

116TH ST, 108 to 172 East, 47.6x100.11; Veronika Elton to James E. North, (R S $5).....1

117TH ST, s s, 200 ft w of Lenox Av, 100x100.11; Isaac M. Berinstein to Louis Lese, (R S $12, mtg $32,000).....100

120TH ST, s s, 300 ft w of 7th Av, 25x100; Emil Goldmark to Sophie Rothschild, (R S $33.50).....Omitted

LENOX AV, w s, 25.11 ft n of 114th St, 25x100; Emil Goldmark to Sophie Rothschild, (R S $33.50).....33,500

LEWIS, n w corner of 7

NEGROES HELD FOR MUTINY.

Sailors of the Ella Fought with the Bark's Officers.

Four negro sailors, members of the crew of the American bark Ella, were arraigned before United States Commissioner Shields yesterday, charged with mutiny. The men are Edward Wade, Frank Jones, Joe Goodwin, and Zenas Silva. John Random, colored, is also included in the charge, but he has not yet been arrested.

Capt. G. C. McLaughlin of the Ella, who is the complainant against the sailors, says that the bark sailed from Philadelphia on Oct. 3 with a crew of ten, arriving at Turk's Island on the 12th, where the accused men demanded their pay, stating that they would not return to New York, as the weather was too cold. When the Captain refused to grant their request, a general fight followed, in which Mates Frank Rhodes and Edward Halney and Steward Douglas were badly hurt by the prisoners.

There was a calm for a time after this until the day of sailing, when the men refused to go, with the result that they spent ten days in the Turk's Island jail charged with mutiny. They finally agreed to sail, and the home voyage was peaceful. Upon the Ella's arrival Monday the men demanded their pay, and the Captain told them to return Thursday afternoon and they would be accommodated. When they returned yesterday they were arrested by United States Marshal Henkel and several deputies.

The accused sailors tell a story entirely different from the one told by the Captain. Fear of Mate Rhodes, they assert, was the cause of their refusal to sail from Turk's Island. As they were nearing the Island, Wade says, the mate, who was at the wheel, struck him without provocation over the head with a capstan bar and the steward assisted in the assault with a knife. On the trip out from New York, they further assert, the mate frequently assaulted the crew without provocation. The prisoners say they told the Captain that unless the mate was dismissed they would not continue on the voyage. This the Captain refused to do. The Atlantic Coast Seamen's Union has taken a hand in the case. A further examination will be held to-morrow.

Arrivals on the Majestic.

The Right Rev. James D. Murray, Bishop of North Queensland, was among the arrivals on the White Star liner Majestic yesterday. He has been on a visit to Rome, where he had an audience with the Pope. He said that he was surprised at the excellent health which the Pope was enjoying. Lieut. Vladimir de Bodisco of the Russian Navy was also a passenger, and comes to America to join the new Russian cruiser Varing, recently completed by the Cramps. Other passengers were K. Inahata of the Japanese Legation at Brussels and T. Toyenaug, Professor of Agriculture in the University of Tokio.

Real Estate.

10c. per line 3 times 21c 7 times 42c Double for display.

THE LAWYERS' TITLE INSURANCE COMPANY

OF NEW YORK,

37 and 39 Liberty Street,

44 1-2 and 46 Maiden Lane.

Purchasers of Real Estate should inform themselves of its methods, its charges and its facilities for lending on Bond and Mortgage.

City Real Estate for Sale.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

$5,000 Cash and $4,500 mortgage will buy a beautiful Home and grounds; also a large variety of fruit trees. For further particulars address GEO. W. CAMPBELL, 122 West 103d St., or call between 9 A. M. and 9 P. M.

Corner plot on Manhattan Av 100.11 on the avenue by 145 ft. on the street. Terms to suit the buyer. For further particulars apply to GEO. W. CAMPBELL, 122 West 103d St. from 9 A. M. to 9 P. M.

I have a block of three family Houses, all well rented; my equity in these houses is $150,000; will exchange the same for some free and clear country Property or something free and clear in New York or Brooklyn, or I will sell the same for cash; whatever the deal may be, I must realize $60,000 in cash, as I need this money very much for my business; I will give all brokers full particulars of the property and will pay them full commission if they can carry this deal through for me; everything sent to me will be kept strictly confidential. Address J. HAMER, P. O. Box 1941, New York City.

FOR SALE,

A most attractive new 20-foot, five-story American Basement house,

NO. 318 WEST 107TH STREET,

on one of the most expensively improved blocks on the upper west side. Proximity to Riverside Drive and magnificent public improvements will very greatly enhance values in this section in the near future. Has beautiful reception room, hall in white enamel and mahogany; drawing, music and dining rooms; 6 family bedrooms and three bathrooms. Stone bay window, with charming view in both directions. Servants' stairs to fourth story.

PRICE ONLY $38,000.

Three-quarters may remain at 4½%.

CHARLES BUEK, Owner and Builder, No. 109 West 42d Street.

FOR SALE.

We are offering the following bargains in private houses:

In Eighties, a 20-foot brownstone house, suitable for altering, can be bought under $50,000

In 72d St., white stone Am. basement dwelling; owner anxious to sell under.. 100,000

In Seventies, nr. Mad. Av., 2 houses adjoining; grand site for extra wide house. 70,000

Full width house in Sixties, near 5th Av., belongs to an estate, about..... 105,000

In East 54th St., 20 feet..... 65,000

In Murray Hill, old house to alter..... 55,000

On Madison Av., 20 feet..... 42,500

Call or write for further particulars and permits.

S. OSGOOD PELL & CO.,
512 5th Av., S. W. cor. 45th St.

Madison Av., corner, below 42d St.; size 75x100; best site in the city for an apartment hotel. J. EDGAR LEAYCRAFT & CO., 1,507 Broadway.

Handsome high-stoop brown-stone residence on West 79th St., near West End Av.; 18.9x60x102.2; first-class in every respect; $10,000 equity; principals only; no postal cards. Address Owner, 184 5th St., Jersey City, N. J.

A medium four-story basement dwelling, 21st St., between 5th and 6th Avs.; excellent for residence or investment; price, $27,000. S. B. GOODALE & SON, 6 West 24th St. Fifth Avenue Hotel.

Avenue C, near 12th St.—5-story store and tenement, free and clear; will sell at sacrifice or would trade. H. RAPP, 156 Broadway.

Exchange lot 25x100, Westchester Av., near Prospect Av.; also 2 brick flats, 145th St., near Willis Av., 6 rooms, bath. OWNER, 2,850 3d Av.

Lots: Bronx bargains; Tremont, Woodycrest, Aqueduct Avs., Fordham Road; cheap Woodlawn corner. George Purvis, 156 Broadway.

Bargain; handsome private dwelling, East 50th St., near 2d Av.; little cash required. George Purvis, 156 Broadway.

Investors, Builders.—Plots on and near Broadway, 14th to 59th St. THEO. ROOSE'S BRILL, 351 West 59th St.

Jerome Av.—34 lots to close an estate, cheap, must be sold. THORN COMPANY, Fordham.

Builders.—Lot 26x92; good tenement location; $13,000. Duross, 242 West 14th St.

Staten Island Property.

COMMERCIAL WATER FRONTS, FACTORY property, houses, with large grounds, worth $10,000, free and clear; exchange for city property. B. CORNELL, Stapleton, S. I.

Real Estate for Exchange.

$60,000 EQUITY IN THREE FINE Apartment Houses; will trade for west side Lots or free and clear Country Place. Send full particulars to GEO. W. CAMPBELL, 122 West 103d st., or call between 9 A. M. and 9 P. M.

$15,000 FREE AND CLEAR LOT; what can you offer in exchange for same? Send full particulars to GEO. W. CAMPBELL, 122 West 103d st., or call between 9 A. M. and 9 P. M.

$40,000 EQUITY IN A PIECE OF manufacturing Property, leased to one tenant, who does all repairs and pays the Croton water rent; what can you offer in exchange for the same? Send full particulars to GEO. W. CAMPBELL, 122 West 103d st., or call between 9 A.M. and 9 P.M.

$40,000 FREE AND CLEAR CORNER Plot, on Park av., 100x80; what can you offer in exchange? Send full particulars to GEO. W. CAMPBELL, 122 West 103d st., or call between 9 A. M. and 9 P. M.

$22,000 EQUITY IN FINE FLAT House, situated on 106th st., Central Park West; will trade for free and clear Country Place. Send full particulars to GEO. W. CAMPBELL, 122 West 103d st., or call between 9 A. M. and 9 P. M.

$250,000 FREE AND CLEAR Apartment House; what can you offer in exchange for same? Send full particulars to GEO. W. CAMPBELL, 122 West 103d St., or call between 9 A. M. and 9 P. M.

$40,000 EQUITY IN FINE STORE Property, near 28th St. and 6th Av.; will trade for private House and cash. For further particulars address GEO. W. CAMPBELL, 122 West 103d St., or call between 9 A. M. and 9 P. M.

$20,000 EQUITY IN FINE FLAT House; will trade for free and clear private house; send full particulars. GEO. W. CAMPBELL, 122 West 103d St, or call between 9 A. M. and 9 P. M.

Brooklyn Real Estate for Sale.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

Call on Henry C. Vail, at the office of the late Henry W. Sherrill, 15 Willoughby Street, Brooklyn, for large, handsome house, overlooking Prospect Park South, with all its magnificent improvements; corner plot, 50x100.

Cheapest in Brooklyn; $3,300; easy terms; 722 Sackett St., near 5th Av. (Park Slope;) 2-story and basement; brick; 9 rooms; all improvements; decorated; cozy home; sacrifice. DEWSNAP, 150 Nassau St., Manhattan.

Several plots, fine lots, fronting on trolley in Jamaica, $60 to $125; street graded; fine cement sidewalks, electric lights; $5 down, $1 per week; Title Guarantee policy free. Edwards, 1,258 Broadway, Brooklyn.

$3,300 BUYS (DURING JANUARY ONLY) NEW 8-room detached house, Vanderveer Park, worth $4,000; take advantage owner's necessity; terms easy. PARIS, Park Row Building.

$3,000, only $300 down, balance payments to suit, buys two-story brick dwelling, 25th Ward, near L and trolleys. Ketcham Bros., 1,565 Broadway.

New Jersey Property for Sale.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

$17.00 A LOT.

Adjoining Lakewood, N. J., the famous health and Winter resort, we offer plots containing five lots, $85.00. Small weekly payments. Particulars and tickets to visit the property, Sunday, January 20th, from R. HALLEY & CO., 2 East 125th St., N. Y.

TENAFLY!—$4,000 buys good modern house; large rooms and attic; wide porch; grounds 100 x140; station 10 minutes' easy walk. H. WEATHERBY & CO., Englewood, N. J.

Country Real Estate for Sale.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

For Sale—Handsome house in Residence Park, New Rochelle; nine rooms and bath; complete order; unfurnished; $5,000, one-third cash. Apply R. GRAU, 22 Meadow Lane, New Rochelle.

At New Paltz, N. Y., adjoining college grounds, beautiful location; near depots; large house, 24 rooms, bath, closets, &c. J. COCHRANE, 2 West 125th St.

All country real estate a specialty; bargains and exchanges, all directions. Phillips & Wells, Tribune Building.

Country residence for sale or exchange for city lots or business property. D. A. Clarkson, Newburg, N. Y.

Long Island Real Estate for Sale.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

Handsome shore front property, all sizes; easy terms. Write for particulars. J. S. LEWIS, Northport, L. I.

Real Estate Wanted.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

If you want a quick sale of your property or are about to be foreclosed, send description and lowest price. BUYER, Box 201, Times.

To Let for Business Purposes.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

UNION SQUARE NORTH.
ADJOINING BROADWAY.
LOFT 184 FEET DEEP.
Building has
entrances on two streets.
Inquire at 31 East 17th St., or
J. EDGAR LEACRAFT & CO., B'way, cor. 44th.

Attractive, up-to-date three-story buildings, adjoining 3d Av., 206-208 East 50th St.; 35x100; finely lighted all sides; open plumbing; extra large elevator; suitable storage, automobile and wine warehouse, bottler, factory, express, stable, laundry, builder, undertaker, dyer, private stable; also, fine offices, stores; eight-room residence attached. Apply premises or 11A East 83d.

3D AV., NEAR 14TH ST.; FINE BUILDING; store has new double show windows; rent $1,700. J. EDGAR LEAYCRAFT & CO., B'way, cor. 44th.

CORNER 12TH ST. & THIRD AV.—Extra deep store, with large basement. J. EDGAR LEAYCRAFT & CO., B'way, cor. 44th.

STORES, LOFTS, AND OFFICES
TO LET AT LOWEST RATES.
JACOB A. KING, 491 B'WAY—61 E. 125TH ST.

Desk room, office facilities, separate room; outside windows. American Tract Building, 150 Nassau St., Room 2,020.

6th Av., 238.—Large floors, all modern improvements; will alter to suit tenants; ring janitor's bell.

326 Canal St.—Third and fourth lofts, 25x55; good light; $40 and $50. Apply to R. H. E. Elliott, 62 William St.

40th St., 438 and 440 West.—Large stores, with plate-glass fronts; two rooms; decorated; $15.

16th St., 423 West.—Large store, with three rooms and plate-glass front; newly decorated; $18.

Houses and Flats Wanted.

Large unfurnished house wanted; good order; 9th, 50th, 6th, Lexington Avs. Address Unquestionable References, Box 100 Times Office.

Excursions.

Cook's Winter Trips.

Including Hotels and All Expenses.

Havana, Jan. 19, 11 days, $90
Bermuda, Jan. 21, 8 days, $62
Florida, Jan. 25, 14 days, $65

Descriptive Programmes free on application. INDEPENDENT TICKETS EVERYWHERE.

THOS. COOK & SON
Downtown, 261 Broadway, N. Y.
Uptown, 1185 Broadway, N. Y.

Apartments to Let—Unfurnished.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

The Choicest and Cheapest Elevator Apartments in Harlem.

THE EMERSON

S. E. COR. LENOX AV. & 116th ST.

Six and seven large rooms and bath; all the latest improvements; hall service; rents $50 to $65. Small, select families will apply to Agents, on premises.

THE BROADWAY,

S. W. COR. BROADWAY & 101ST ST.

Select families with first-class references, are respectfully invited to inspect above premises.

Suites of 7 Rooms and Bath,

with all the latest improvements; elevator all night; electric light, telephone; rent, $800 per annum; renting office on premises.

71st St. 342 West.

New apartments, overlooking the Hudson and Riverside Drive; 7, 8, and 9 extra large outside rooms, with pantry; two bathrooms each; parquette floors, elevator, electric light, telephones; $1,200 to $1,500. Superintendent.

BACHELOR AP'TS.

112 West 44th St.
2 large light rooms and bath.
ASHFORTH & CO., 1,509 Broadway.

ST. NICHOLAS AV., 107, near 117th St.—Beautiful single flat; 7 large, light rooms; bath; $32.00; steam heated. Janitor.

128th St., 83 West.—Upper floor, private house, to small family; 5 rooms and bath; $17.

Brooklyn.

Hicks St., 368—Desirable apartments of two and three rooms; prices, $7 and $8.

Apartments to Let—Furnished.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

Elegantly furnished, sun-flooded apartment, eight large rooms, bath, and large closets; elevator and telephone. Crow, 251 West 95th St.

City Flats to Let—Unfurnished.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

New houses, all improvements, at 304 to 310 East 92d St.; $13 to $16; 4 rooms.
21 and 23 East 99th St., near 5th Av.—Six rooms and bath; private halls; from $23 to $26.
New buildings, s. e. cor. 118th and Madison Av., 4 and 5 rooms and baths; hot water supply, &c.; $15 to $23.

HALF MONTH'S RENT FREE.
234 West 122d St.; elegant apartments, 8 rooms newly papered and decorated; steam heat and hall service; $30 and upward. See janitor.

Elegant large flat, 7 light rooms and bath; open plumbing; steam heat; hardwood finish; hot water supply. 56 West 105th St. Janitor.

124th St., 230 West.—Large apartments; 6 rooms, bath; newly decorated; price, $16.

Jones St., 7, near West 4th St., 6th Av.—3-4 room apartments; decorated; $10-$14.50.

10th St., 224 East.—Three-room apartments; hot water, gas, and coal ranges; decorated; $12-$14.

Coal and Wood.

BUY YOUR COAL & WOOD AT THEDFORD'S

We sell and deliver 2000 lbs. THE STANDARD TON

YARDS:
27TH ST. AND 9TH AVE., Tel. 380—18
79TH ST. & B'WAY., Tel. 717 Riverside.
223 W. 42D ST., Tel. 1715—38
55TH ST. & 10TH AVE., Tel. 166 Colu.
55TH ST. AND N. R., Tel. 249 Colu.
86TH ST. AND B'WAY. Tel. 125 River

MURRAY HILL WOOD YARD

36TH ST. AND FIRST AV. Tel. 279 Madison Sq. Selected Pine and Oak for kindling. Pine Knots and extra dry Hickory for Grates and Andirons. Inspection solicited. Satisfaction guaranteed.

Storage.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

LIBERTY STORAGE AND WAREHOUSE CO. FIREPROOF WAREHOUSE, SILVER VAULTS.
PARK AV., 49TH TO 50TH ST.
HARLEM WAREHOUSE,
301-303 WEST 125TH ST.

Private compartments in silver vaults; separate rooms; free fire insurance; storage for household goods, pianos, bric-a-brac and works of art; padded vans for household movings. Telephone or write for estimate on your work.

Universal Storage Warehouse Company, 202-208 East 88th St., near 3d Av.—Storage of furniture, pianos, &c.; separate compartments; estimates given for packing, shipping, moving; city or country. Telephone, 28-79th.

Dogs and Birds.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

DOG AND CAT HOSPITAL.

New York Canine Infirmary, 140 West 53d St., H. K. MILLER, Veterinarian.—Treatment, board, washing, clipping of Dogs; exercising grounds; accommodations for country boarders; dogs called for and delivered. Telephone, 851—Columbus.

TOY BLACK AND TANS, MINIATURE KING Charles spaniel, female, $35. 331 E. 41st St., basement.

Setter dog; can do everything except talk; I wish to sell; price, $250. Josh Trayer, Hood's Mill, Md.

Dentistry.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

Artificial teeth of continuous gum highly improved. These teeth represent the highest art in dentistry. They restore form and expression to the face. The gums and roof of mouth, without seam or crevice, (all one piece, porcelain on platinum,) are a perfect reproduction of nature, even in color. Dr. DEANE, Dentist, 454 Lexington Av., cor. 45th St.; received highest award Columbian Exposition.

Groceries, Liquors, &c.

Harris's Wine and Liquor Warehouse, 1,706 Madison Av., cor. 113th.—Special reductions, holiday wines and liquors.

S. KRAUS, FINE WINES AND LIQUORS. Lowest prices, 2,119 8th Av., near 115th St. Branch, 612 2d Av.

Furs.

FUR GARMENTS REMADE, REDYED, BLENDED into fashionable shapes. Seal Sacques a specialty; estimates given. THE BARKER FUR CO., 111 West 38th St.

ROSENBLAT & FRANK, 1,032 3D AV., NEAR 61st St.—Bargains, Fur Boas, Muffs; Altering, Repairing a specialty.

Machinery.

DYNAMOS AND MOTORS, ALL SIZES IN stock, direct from factory of Triumph Electric Co.; send us postal, we do the rest. CHINNOCK ELECT. CO., 39 Cortlandt St., N. Y.

Krumberger & Clements gas engine cheap; see running after to-day. Laundry, 1,047 Park Av.

Wanted—6 or 7 horsepower gas or oil engine. Dudley, 142 West 10th St.

Millinery and Dressmaking.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

Dresscutting, ladies' tailoring millinery, thoroughly taught; $5 starts you. McDOWELL SCHOOL, 310-318 6th Av. Evening school Monday, Wednesday, Friday. $2.50 starts you.

G. MAHLER, 678 LEXINGTON AV., (cor. 56th.) Latest Parisian styles. Suits $35 up. Silk lined throughout. Fit guaranteed.

Clothing.

Highest prices paid for ladies', gentlemen's, and children's fine discarded Clothing, Jewelry, Furs, Bric-a-Brac, Furniture, Carpets. Mr or Mrs. NAFTAL, 744 6th Av.

Lawyers.

WALDRON'S DETECTIVE BUREAU, 271 Broadway.—Expert detective services; lawyer with bureau; advice free. Telephone, 2144 Cortlandt.

Horses, Carriages, &c.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

One pair of bay mares. Height, 15.2; weight, between 2,100 and 2,200. Sound, gentle, family horses. Apply private stable, 148 East 40th St.

Winter Resorts.

10c. per line $4.50 per line for 30 times.

VICTORIA South Carolina Ave., near Beach, Atlantic City, N. J. Thoroughly renovated, heated by hot water heat, open all year. M. WILLIAMS.

Pianos and Organs.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

AT

WEBER

PIANO WAREROOMS,

5th Ave., corner 16th St.

$210

WILL BUY A NEW

STUYVESANT UPRIGHT PIANO.

DURABLE, RELIABLE, AND OF GOOD TONE QUALITY.

This instrument may be exchanged at any time for a new WEBER PIANO, when a fair allowance will be made, or if exchanged within two years the full price will be allowed.
Catalogues and full particulars mailed free to any address.

WEBER WAREROOMS,
Corner Fifth Ave. and Sixteenth St.

WISSNER PIANOS

Used by Eminent Artists.

BROOKLYN: COR. FULTON ST. & FLATBUSH AV. NEW YORK: 25 EAST 14TH ST.
Second-Hand Uprights of Good Makers.
$85—$125. Grands, $175—$300.

PEASE PIANOS

109 W. 42d St., Just West of 6th Ave.

For 55 years a standard of excellence—a tone that is famous for singing qualities. Direct from manufacturer. Easy terms. Good used pianos different makes $125 up. Write for catalogue.

MATHUSHEK & SON AND OPERA PIANOS

The balance of our Holiday stock at reduced prices. You can obtain a bargain from our large stock of slightly used pianos recently taken in exchange, including some celebrated makes; rents, $4 up.

MATHUSHEK & SON, B'way cor. 47th St.

THE BIG WEST SIDE PIANO HOUSE.

A small cash payment secures for you a fine piano stool and scarf; delivered free; balance on easy payments; rents, $4 up.

741-743 8th Av., near 46th St.

$5.00 MONTHLY BUYS FULL-SIZE "BILLINGER & CO." UPRIGHT; EVERY PIANO GUARANTEED. WESER BROS., 524 W. 43D ST.

$10.00 FIRST PAYMENT, BALANCE EASY INSTALLMENTS, ELEGANT NEW UPRIGHT; DELIVERED FREE. WESER BROS., 524 W. 43D ST.

WINTERROTH PIANOS, CASH, INSTALMENTS, $125 UPWARD. 105 EAST 14TH ST. & 98 5TH AV. Open Evenings

EMERSON PIANOS.—Beautiful new designs; several slightly used; at unusually low prices; Steinway Parlor Grand; rare bargain. GEO. W. HERBERT, 10 East 17th St.

BARGAINS.—Upright pianos, $100 upward; more value for money than elsewhere guaranteed; square, $20 upward; rented, exchanged; easy payments. CHRISTMAN, 21 East 14th St.

ELEGANT MAHOGANY UPRIGHT PIANO, slightly used, for $175; easy payments if desired; fully guaranteed. W. F. TWAY PIANO CO., 94 5th Av.

SPECIAL SALE OF FINE UPRIGHT PIANOS this week, extraordinary bargains for cash. HAHN, 165 W. 23d St.

CALL AND EXAMINE OUR FOUR AND FIVE pedal pianos; something entirely new. WESER BROS., 524 West 43d St.

Steinway, every improvement, beautifully carved; great sacrifice. Elegant Upright, only $75. BIDDLE'S, 7 East 14th St.

Large assortment slightly used uprights; squares taken in exchange; "Weber" bargain. Weser Bros., 524 West 43d St.

$125 elegant Wheelock upright, rosewood piano, full size; Mason Ambiln organ; bargains. 319 9th Av., near 28th St.

Grand Upright Piano, cost $450, sell $165 cash; reliable guarantee. Inquire elevator boy, 106 East 116th St.

Sacrifices nearly new upright piano for $110; cost $625; need money. 72 Lexington Av., near 26th St.

$200 New piano, stool and scarf, $7 per month. Call at 1,569 B'way, cor. 47th St.

$3.00 to $5.00 per month rent, pianos with mandolin attachment. Weser Bros., 524 W. 43d St.

Instruction.

10c. per line $4.50 per line for 30 times.

SACRED HEART ACADEMY.

Select Catholic Boarding School; thorough academic and commercial course; athletics, military drill; terms moderate; 2nd term begins Feb'y 1st. Address BROTHER AUGUST, West Chester, N.Y.

REGENTS' Examinations. Central Preparatory School, 16 E. 42D ST SEND FOR HANDBOOK.

ISAAC PITMAN SHORTHAND; PRIVATE and class lessons; best instruction; reasonable rates. METROPOLITAN SCHOOL, 259 4th Av.

FRENCH, SPANISH, ITALIAN INSTRUCTION; best method; expert teachers; terms moderate. Prof. J. M. PELLERIN, 207 West 25th.

Musical.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

AT 112 EAST 18TH ST.....
.....The ONLY N. Y. CONSERVATORY, 112 East 18th,
....BETWEEN 4TH AV. and IRVING PLACE.
The FAMOUS MUSIC SCHOOL.....
.....The FIRST in the COUNTRY.
Lessons DAY and EVENING...Years on 14th St,
....GRADUATES PROVIDED with POSITIONS.

VIOLIN ARTISTICALLY TAUGHT, EITHER residence; terms reasonable; not payable in advance; references exchanged. CHADWICK, 2 Chambers St.

VIOLIN INSTRUCTION BY JOSEPH GOLDstein, pupil of Cologne Conservatory, Germany. Terms moderate. 250 Sixth Av., Brooklyn.

GUSTAVE REHN! PIANIST!—Desires a few more pupils; thorough instruction; very moderate terms. 1 East 113th St.

PIANO; LADY, EXPERIENCED TEACHER, instructs at pupil's residence; 40 cents per lesson. TEACHER, Box 80, 1,242 Broadway.

JEANNE ARONE, AUTHORIZED BY FLORenzo d'Arona to teach her method vocal instruction. 1,219 Madison Av.

Banjo, Mandolin instruction 10 weeks private lessons free, for annual concert. Dobson, 17 East 125th St.

Dancing.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

Remey's Central Park Dancing Academy, 915-919 8th Ave., (54th St.)—We guarantee the Waltz, Polka, Two-step, Schottische, and Lanciers all for $5.00 in 5 private and 4 class lessons. Private lessons any hour. Classes daily. Circulars.

GEORGE W. WALLACE,
Leslie Rooms, 260 West 83d Street;
Ellerslie Rooms, 80-82 West 126th St.
Class and private tuition. See circular.

Harvard Dancing Academy, 158-162 West 125th. —Waltz, schottische, two-step, polka, lanciers, waltz quadrille guaranteed 5 private, 4 class lessons, $5; 4 class lessons, $1.

BRADY'S 1,408 Amsterdam Av., 125-137 West 125th St. WALTZ

Lester's Colonial Academy, 101st St. and Columbus Av.—Class and private lessons daily; receptions Wednesday and Saturday.

COLUMBIA DANCING ACADEMY,
59th and 6th Av.—Classes forming; 4 lessons, $1; 24, $5; private, (any hour,) $1. Prof. S. Warner.

Purchase and Exchange.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

Books of every description bought, sold, and exchanged; small parcels or libraries purchased; highest cash prices paid; call at residences free; send postal. LOVERING'S NEW YORK BOOK EXCHANGE, 823 Broadway, near 12th St. Open evenings.

Household furniture, contents of houses and flats, pianos, carpets, &c. J. L., 113 University Place.

Detective Agencies.

BAYERS'S INTERNATIONAL DETECTIVE Agency, former detective Police Department, licensed and bonded. 320 Broadway, Rooms 717-718; telephone 1511 Franklin; all civil and criminal cases attended to by expert detectives; male and female.

United States Detective Bureau; male and female operators; shadowing, investigation; evidence reliable; secrecy guaranteed; night and day; telephone connections. 41-43 Maiden Lane, 1,496 5th Av.

Lost and Found.

BANKBOOK NO. 408,244 OF THE EMIGRANT Industrial Savings Bank; payment stopped. Please return book to bank, 51 Chambers St.

Business Opportunities.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

STATISTICS SHOW THAT THE SALE OF toilet articles in the United States amounts to MORE than $40,000,000.00 annually. Do you desire a fortune? Here is your opportunity; I want a partner with capital, or a person with capital to form a stock company for the purpose of increasing manufacture and exploit of seven Turkish Toilet articles, now on the market, for ladies. Highest recommendations; handsomest packages. Address, Col. J. F. MILLIKEN, 287 Broadway, N. Y. City.

MANUFACTURING SITE

NEAR NEW YORK, ON ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS; OWNER'S PLANT ADJOINING; CAN FURNISH LIGHT, HEAT, POWER, AND TRACK FACILITIES; CORRESPONDENCE SOLICITED. MANUFACTURING, BOX 379, 1,269 BROADWAY.

Wanted—An associate in a going and well-established, paying manufacturing and supply business in Western Pennsylvania. Three to four hundred thousand dollars required to control. Senior partner retiring. Closest investigation. Deal only with principals. Address D., Box 194 Times Office.

$1,000.00 OR MORE INVESTED

In a novel manufacturing business can be doubled annually with good salary; baar investigation. AUTO. PIC. CO., 88 Wall St.

Wanted to purchase an interest in a business, recently or long established, by a young man, who has had eight years' office experience with large mercantile firms in New York. Address R. A., Box 189 Times.

FOR BASKET BALL, ROLLER SKATING, etc. A large room in Carnegie Hall. Address Room 60.

Sale or Rent.—Established Coal business; trestle, buildings to handle hay or grain; easy terms. E. C. Quarkenbush, Newark Av. and 7th St., Jersey City.

If you want $875 soundly invested get a circular of the Dominion Dry Dock Construction Co. Address E. Griffith, Box 65, Roxbury, Mass.

Advice Free.—Patents promptly procured; inventors' Guide FREE. EDGAR TATE & CO., Patent Attorneys, 245 Broadway.

Partner, with $250 cash.—Business guaranteeing $50 weekly profits. Call 212 West 17th St., Adams's hall.

Music Boxes, 84 teeth, $24; 15 tunes free; other instruments. Prof. ADOLPH COHN, 167 West 23d St.

For Sale.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

IT WARMS THE LARG- est room in five minutes. The Improved Fire Vase Gas Heater for warming rooms and light cooking; fits on ordinary gas burner as easily as a chimney on a lamp; requires no pipe or hose; the gas flame is increased 500 per cent.; no explosion, odor; economical. Introduction price, small size, $1.25; large, $1.50; money refunded within twenty-four hours if not found satisfactory. The KING INCANDESCENT STUDYING LAMP beats any lamp in the market; burner, 100 candle power; double strength mantle chimney and shade. Introduction price, 75c. Mail orders filled everywhere. Sole agents for the improved Fire Vase Gas Heater, and distributers for the King Incandescent Lamp.

1,079 3d Av.,
Between 63d and 64th Sts.

I BUY OLD METAL.

Have you any old LEAD, BRASS, COPPER, ZINC, PEWTER, TEA LEAD, OLD TYPE, ELECTROTYPE, STEREOTYPE, OLD BOOKS, PAPERS? SEND POSTAL CARD. I WILL CALL.

BORNSTEIN, 84 Centre St.

CREDIT TO ALL

DIAMONDS and WATCHES on small weekly or monthly payments, lowest prices; best quality; goods guaranteed.
NATIONAL DIAMOND WATCH CO.,
177-179 BROADWAY. Take Elevator.

CREDIT TO ALL WITHOUT SECURITY.

CLOTHING for Ladies, Men, and Boys, ready made or to order. Millinery, Furs, &c. PROGRESSIVE CLOTHING AND CLOAK CO., 7 W. 14th St., bet. 5th and 6th Avs. (Open eve.)

We make wringers fit stationary tubs; allow something for your crippled wringer if it can not be put in condition for use in our hospital; latest improved Bissell carpet sweepers. Send postal and our ambulance will call for wringers or sweepers needing repairs. American Wringer Co., 7-9 East 125th St.

TYPEWRITERS.—Remingtons, Smith Premiers, and all standard makes rented, kept in repair; stands and ribbons free. Sold 25% to 75% less than manufacturer's prices. No relics of past ages carried in stock. Every machine sold kept in repair for one year free. F. S. WEBSTER CO., 317 Broadway. Telephone, 1,338 Franklin.

IDEAL CLIP.—Have this clip attached to your eyeglasses and you will agree that it is the only one that gives entire satisfaction. MEYER & ELTING, Opticians, 617 Sixth Av., near 36th St., New York.

Giving up house, offer exceedingly low all elegant new furniture, brilliant upright piano, fine parlor, dining, bedroom sets, folding beds, mirrors, &c.; suitable entering housekeeping; house for sale cheap. 109 East 58th St.

TYPEWRITERS.—Remingtons, Smiths, Blickenderfers, Hammonds, Williamses, Jewetts, Franklins, Caligraphs, sold, rented, exchanged, repaired. GORMAN, 79 Nassau St.

TYPEWRITERS REPAIRED BY EXPERTS; rented, sold, exchanged. Telephone for estimate. DURRANT, McLEAN & CO., 265 Broadway.

BRITANNICA ENCYCLOPAEDIA, 25 VOLS., last edition, $22.50; Real Estate Insurance Atlas N. Y. City, 6 vols., $30; bargain; also old books bought. 147 6th Av.

Typewriter, (new,) $40; remodeled Remington, Smiths, $35; rentals reduced; repairing, (telephone,) CONSOLIDATED TYPEWRITER EXCHANGE, 241 Broadway.

At Ehle's Art Gallery, 105 West 42d St., near 6th Av.—Antiques, curios, old jeyels, silverware, rare fans, paintings, miniatures, and weapons. Old gold bought.

ONLY HEADQUARTERS FOR GENUINE Welsbach lights is now at 66 West 125th St., between 5th and Lenox Ave.; sell at reduced prices; put up free; satisfaction guaranteed.

WM. SCHLINGLOFF'S PAPER-BOX MANUfacturing Co., established 1854; all machine boards and papers, 120 Fulton St., cash $600.

P. SORENSEN, UPHOLSTERER, DECORATOR, 2,071 7th Av., near 124th St.; slip covers cut, made; mattresses made over.

BRAATZ, NEW HAIR LIFE; LATEST DISCOVERY and finest ever compounded hair tonic; hairdressing parlors. 135 West 125th St.

Bicycle taken apart, thoroughly cleaned, for $1; repainting and enamelling a specialty. TUXTO CYCLE COMPANY, 27 West 125th St.

Desks, Rolltops, Partitions, Railings, Tables, Counters, Shelvings, Safes, Stores, Offices fitted. FINN BROTHERS, 28-32 Centre St.

TYPEWRITERS RENTED, BOUGHT, SOLD; expert repairing, R. & G. TYPEWRITER CO., 202 Broadway. Telephone, 999 Cortlandt.

PHONOGRAPHS BOUGHT, SOLD, AND EXchanged; cash or $1.00 weekly; gramaphone records, $2.50 dozen. 148 East 56th St.

Typewriters sold and rented; expert repairing done. General Typewriter Exchange, 1 Park Place. 'Phone, 1573 Cortlandt.

Goodyear's Rubber Goods, Mackintoshes, Clothes Wringers, Carpet Sweepers, &c., at lowest prices. Call 105 West 125th St.

For Sale—Fully equipped machine works; down town, New York City; capacity, 25 men. Address 618 6th St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

TYPEWRITERS.—All makes; guaranteed; rented $2, $3 monthly; ribbons, stands free. CENTRAL TYPEWRITER EXCHANGE, 203 Broadway.

HIGHEST CASH PRICES PAID FOR SECOND-hand furniture, carpets, pianos, &c. Address LENOX, 61 West 125th St.

$10.00 BARGAINS THIS WEEK.—Domestic, New Home, Singer Sewing Machines. Cash buyers. BROWN, 39 West 125th St.

At 344 6th Av. and 172 West 23d St.—Foot Knitting Co.; stockings refooted; underwear repaired.

Plumbing shop, 203 East 113th St.; big stock and tools; 3 men; steady jobbing; fine fixtures.

COHEN BROTHERS.—Fine upholstering and cabinet making. 25 East 125th St.

The only Harlem Office for Genuine Welsbach Lights, 129 West 125th St., opposite Koch & Co.

Examine Stock. Reduced rates. Going out of business, at 231 Washington Street.

Teas.—Choice teas, 25c. per lb.; choice coffees, 15c. per lb. DUNCAN, 110 Wall St.

Watches and Jewelry.

WEEKLY PAYMENTS; FINE DIAMONDS, watches; goods guaranteed; lowest prices; business confidential. WATCH SUPPLY, Three Maiden Lane.

EASY PAYMENTS.—Watches and diamonds; reliable goods only. AMERICAN WATCH AND DIAMOND CO., 19 Maiden Lane.

Credit, diamonds, watches, oil paintings, weekly payments, lowest prices, confidential. MANHATTAN DIAMOND CO., 37 Maiden Lane

AMERICAN CHRISTIANS REPLY TO BUDDHISTS

Attack on Mission Work in China Is Resented.

Demand for Indemnity Inspired by Love of Justice, Not by Thought of Revenge.

The eighth conference of Foreign Mission Boards in the United States and Canada was continued yesterday in the Fourth Avenue Presbyterian Church. The Rev. Dr. George Scholl, Evangelical Lutheran, of Baltimore, presided. The most important feature of the morning session was not on the programme. This was the report of the special committee recently appointed to consider the statements made some time ago by a number of Buddhist priests in Japan in an address to the clericals of the world. This document, perhaps the first of its kind ever penned, was addressed to the priests and clergymen of all religions throughout the world, and was published, presumably, in all lands where newspapers are published.

This Buddhist address undertook to explain the trouble in China, and incidentally the mistakes of Christian missionaries. The special committee which was appointed to consider the address prepared an answer, and that answer was read at the session yesterday. It will be issued in the name of the conference. The report, referring to the strictures made upon the foreign missionaries in China, addresses the Buddhist priests directly, saying in part:

"It is not strange that in your brief and necessarily limited survey of the work of Christian missions in China, you did not secure a complete knowledge of the character of the American missionaries. It is not to be wondered at that you failed to note the marked difference between the methods used by the American Protestant missionaries and those used by some others who are working in China. We do not wish to cast any reflection upon the work of any missionary organization, but when criticisms are made of the nature of some of those contained in the address, it would be far more just to specify the sect of the missionaries charged with those faults and transgressions.

"American missionaries have not, as you affirm, 'arrogated to themselves the power of protecting the followers of their creed in utter disregard of their criminality'; they have not even, as a rule, taken advantage of the clause in the treaties with China giving them authority to interfere to protect Christian converts from persecution. That the uprising in China was not caused by the American missionaries is evident from the fact that these missionaries and their churches, schools, hospitals, and homes were not the first attacked, but the fury of the mobs were first directed toward the railroads and telegraph lines.

"Those who attacked the missionaries knew nothing of them or their work except that they were foreigners.

"The question as to whether a missionary shall permit his country to collect indemnity for the destruction of missionary property is one that may well be considered. We must not forget that the churches, asylums, hospitals, schools, and printing presses which were destroyed were not built and maintained for the use and benefit of the Americans, but solely for the Chinese themselves.

"One company of Chinese have violently robbed another company of Chinese of that which was of great value to them, and we are sure that the sense of justice in the hearts of the best people of the world would say that the destroyed property should be restored by the parties responsible for the loss.

"Universal love always presupposes universal justice. A love which harbors or promotes injustice cannot be a true love. To excuse the lawbreaker is to foster crime and favor injustice. To defend the lawbreaker on the ground that he is forgiven or in the belief that he ought not to bear the penalty of his lawlessness is to encourage crime and to destroy the force of all law.

"For these reasons, and others which need not here be stated, the Protestant missionaries in China and the mission boards at home, in compliance with the request of our Government, have furnished statements as to the value of the mission property destroyed at the time of the recent disturbances in China. We, however, desire it understood that we wholly deprecate an assessment of damages beyond actual losses.

"It may not be strictly within the scope of a reply to your appeal, yet we cannot help referring to our deep sorrow that in the conflict of arms which has occurred in China many unrighteous things have been done by those who are allied with foreign Governments bearing the Christian name. It is not unnatural that the Chinese and others should attach the reproach of these acts to Christianity. We beg you not to make this mistake. The Boxer Society is said to have been originally a Buddhist organization, and during the recent troubles some of the leaders were Buddhist priests, but we would not think of holding Buddhism responsible for this.

"We should rejoice to have you meet our American missionaries in Japan and learn from them more fully of those characteristics of Christianity which make it impossible for us to admit that there are not radical and essential differences between it and all other religions. If it did not appear to us to contain blessings which do not exist elsewhere, we should not be eager, as we are, to carry it all over the world."

LEGAL NOTES.

INDEPENDENT CONTRACTOR FOR SEWER CONSTRUCTION.—The sewer in Greene Avenue, Brooklyn, the work of constructing which was let to James J. Moran & Co., was what is known as a relief sewer, to carry surface water that after heavy storms flooded a portion of the city some distance away. The sewer was more than three miles long, with a diameter of over five feet. Mary T. Uppington, who owned property upon the avenue, sued the city, claiming $1,500 damages, because the trench dug for the purpose of laying the sewer caused the ground to settle in front of her premises, and thus injured her house. A judgment for $300 given in her favor on the first trial was set aside upon appeal, and on the second trial a judgment was directed for the defendant. The Court of Appeals has now unanimously upheld an affirmance of that judgment by the Appellate Division in Brooklyn. Judge Vann, giving the unanimous opinion of the Court, holds that when a city lets a contract to competent independent contractors for the construction of a sewer, upon plans reasonably safe and proper, it is not liable for damages caused by the settling of the ground in front of private property on the line of the work from the negligent manner of its performance. Independence of control in employing workmen and in selecting the means of doing the work is stated to be the usual test for determining whether the contractor is independent or not. Merely reserving the right to the city as in this case, to change, inspect, and supervise the work, and to require the contractor to discharge incompetent men, is not sufficient, the Court says, to deprive him of the character of an independent contractor.

ATTORNEY'S LIEN.—Robert J. Shadbolt, a lawyer, who acted as attorney for Sidney L. Rowland and another, executors of Thomas R. Everett, secured possession of a deposit of the testator in the Williamsburg Savings Bank, while the accounts were being prepared for the purpose of settlement. After drawing the money from the bank, on an order signed by one of the executors, Mr. Shadbolt sought to retain it because of an alleged lien for his services. The Kings County Surrogate made an order directing the attorney to redeposit this money to the credit of the executors. The Appellate Division, in Brooklyn, has unanimously affirmed that disposition of the case, holding, by Justice Hirschberg, that the matter was within the Surrogate's discretion, irrespective of the validity of the lawyer's claim of a lien, and that the attorney did not in such a case acquire a lien upon the money by virtue of Section 66 of the Code of Civil Procedure, as recently amended.

Tribute to Hiram Hitchcock's Memory.

A tribute to the memory of Hiram Hitchcock, the founder and President of the Mary Hitchcock Memorial Hospital, at Hanover, N. H., was adopted at a meeting of the Trustees of that institution. The hospital was founded by Mr. Hitchcock in memory of his wife.

HIS MONEY TOOK WINGS.

Jansen, from Denver, Met Affable Strangers, and Would Now Like to See His $500.

Alexander Jansen arrived in town recently from Denver, Col., and engaged an apartment at 5 Water Street. Then he went out to view the skyscrapers and other features of interest. He soon concluded that, as a rule, the residents of this city are much more sociable and obliging than the denizens of Denver, for in almost no time he met a well-dressed and suave gentleman, with whom he soon became very friendly. It transpired during the course of the conversation that the well-dressed gentleman was an old-time friend of several of Jansen's Denver acquaintances—in fact, had three cousins and a brother-in-law in the Western city whom Jansen knew very well.

The new-found friend, having nothing but time on his hands, offered to pilot the Westerner about town. He took him through Central Park to Grant's Tomb, and then through Riverside Park, pointing out the beauties of the places.

"I used to own this property," said the New Yorker, waving his hand in the direction of Columbia University, "but I sold it to the city."

Soon after they met two other well-dressed and exceedingly affable gentlemen, both of whom greeted Jansen's friend cordially. Soon one of them desired small bills with which to pay a debt, and Jansen insisted upon giving him $500 in twenty-dollar bills, receiving as security two one-thousand-dollar bills and two five-hundred-dollar bills. This gentleman left to pay his debts, and the other two escorted Jansen to a restaurant and ordered dinner. Then they excused themselves for a moment, and Jansen waited, thinking whether he should accept a half interest in the First National Bank, which one of the gentlemen had offered him. He waited for an hour, and then stepped around to the Hamilton Bank, in West One Hundred and Twenty-fifth Street, ascertained that his money was no good, and then went to the West One Hundred and Twenty-fifth Street Police Station and told his story.

Jansen is still hanging around the restaurant, with the vague impression that the three gentlemen may have been detained and will yet return to have dinner with him.

HARLEM MAN HUNT LIVELY.

Policemen and Citizens Trail After Three Alleged Burglars.

An exciting man-hunt, participated in by policemen, mounted and on foot, men, women, small boys, bicyclists, automobiles, wagons, carriages, and dogs took place Wednesday afternoon over a mile of Harlem territory. At the end of the chase the bag consisted of three alleged burglars, who later gave their names as John Daily and Frank James of 413 East One Hundred and Twenty-third Street, and Thomas McHugh of 337 East One Hundred and Twenty-fifth Street. All three were held in $2,500 bail each in the Harlem Police Court yesterday morning.

Mrs. Sarah Palmer, janitress of the apartment house at 533 West One Hundred and Forty-fifth Street, caught the three men in the basement of the place Wednesday afternoon. She shrieked, and the men dashed out. Mrs. Palmer and several of the tenants gave chase, and in a few minutes the population of the entire neighborhood seemed to be on the move in the wake of the fleeing men. The hunted trio dashed along One Hundred and Forty-fifth Street to Eighth Avenue, and then down to One Hundred and Thirty-seventh Street, while spread out behind them like the tail of a comet was a heterogeneous mass of shouting and struggling humanity, including the policemen.

Mounted Policeman Butler of the One Hundred and Thirty-sixth Street Police Station, after narrowly avoiding running down many small boys and women, caught up with James and McHugh, and made them prisoners. A big section of the crowd stopped here and followed the policeman and his two prisoners to the station house. Meantime the chase went on. Policeman Donelly led the procession of pursuers, and was running easily. Daily, the alleged burglar, was loping along well also, but at One Hundred and Thirty-fifth Street and Madison Avenue, after he had gone a mile in much better than six minutes, he began to show signs of fatigue, and Donelly came up with the crowd spread out behind. Daily stopped suddenly, and drawing a revolver, fired at the oncoming policeman. The aim was bad, however, and a moment later Donelly was upon his man with his club. This ended the chase.

The prisoners all had burglars' tools in their possession, and were recognized as old offenders.

BURGLARS' NEW WEAPON.

Brick Wrapped in Paper and Smeared with Molasses to Break Windows.

A brick wrapped up in heavy paper and thickly smeared with molasses is the effective tool of window-breaking burglars who, despite the efforts of the police, have been committing numerous depredations in the Williamsburg section of Brooklyn. The shattered glass, instead of falling to the street and thus attracting possible attention to the noise, adheres to the molasses, and the burglar goes on with his work undisturbed. Early yesterday morning thieves by this means got away with $300 worth of shoes from the store of Alvah G. Brown, at South Eighth Street and Bedford Avenue, within a short distance of the Clymer Street Police Station.

So numerous have been the burglaries of late that all available detectives from the Brooklyn Police Headquarters and several from Mulberry Street have been detailed to Williamsburg in hopes of capturing the thieves. The streets are patrolled nightly by these men.

Dinner to Col. W. H. Boyle.

The Veteran Association of the Fifth New York Heavy Artillery Volunteers last night gave a reception and dinner at the Hotel St. Denis in honor of Col. William H. Boyle, U. S. A., who was recently retired on account of his age. Many of Col. Boyle's old friends in the army and navy, members of the Loyal Legion and the Grand Army, were present. An unusual feature of the dinner was that the wives and daughters of Col. Boyle's friends were present. Major General O. O. Howard presided, and among the speakers were Major James Regan, Ninth United States Infantry; the Rev. George R. Van De Water, John Jeroloman, Philip B. Low, and others.

FLINT'S FINE FURNITURE

REDUCED PRICES.

If you want the very newest designs, wait a week or two.

If you want last Fall's designs at greatly reduced prices, buy now.

Our mark-down sale has greatly changed the figures. Graceful shapes they are, in the best woods, with the finest finish, but we mean to get rid of them before the new stock comes in, so they are now far below factory prices, as you

"BUY OF THE MAKER"

GEO. C. FLINT CO.

43 45 AND 47 WEST 23RD ST

NEAR BROADWAY.

FACTORY 154 AND 158 WEST 13TH STREET

Amusements.

Proctor's | Continuous Performance. | 15, 25, 50c Vaudeville.

23d St. } Clayton White, Marie Stuart & Co., Delbosq, Cushman, Holcomb & Curtis, Marcel's Living Statuary, Papiota, Harry Watson's Co., Midgley & Carlisle, Tom Nawn & Co., R. Johnstone, 3 Mascagnos, Carroll Johnson, Ida Van Sicklen, Geo. W. Monroe, Maxwell & Simpson, Al Leech & 3 Rosebuds, Lew Hawkins.
5th Ave.
58th St.
125th St.

ST. NICHOLAS

SKATING RINK

69 WEST 66TH ST.

INTERCOLLEGIATE HOCKEY CHAMPIONSHIP.

YALE VS. PRINCETON.

SATURDAY, JAN. 19, 8:15 P. M.

ADMISSION 50c. RESERVED SEATS 50c extra.

MUSIC. SKATES FREE.

What are these sack suits that are marked down to $15?

Suits cut from long-wearing worsteds and long-popular rough cheviots.

Suits in various shades of Oxfords, browns, greens, blues, and combinations of these colors.

Coats cut loose and baggy and some that are "cut in."

Suits made for this winter, not the dregs of last winter.

Suits that were mostly $20, $22, $25 and $28—a little of everything you see.

Sizes 32 to 35, $13.

Sizes 35 to 46, $15.

ROGERS, PEET & COMPANY.

258 Broadway, cor. Warren, and 7 and 9 Warren St.
569 Broadway, cor. Prince.
1260 Broadway, cor. 32d, and 54 West 33d St.

We fill orders by mail.

Sale of

Men's Dress Shirts.

Cuffs attached, extra wide bosoms, open front only, for full dress,

$1.00,

value $1.50.

Also open front and back, without cuffs, for every day wear,

$1.00.

Lord & Taylor,

Broadway & 20th St.

Amusements.

METROPOLITAN OPERA HOUSE
GRAND OPERA SEASON 1900–1901
Under the direction of Mr. Maurice Grau.

To-night, at 7:45—DIE WALKURE, (in German.) Mmes. Ternina, Schumann-Heink, and Nordica; MM. Van Dyck, Blass, and Bertram. Conductor, Damrosch.

Sat. Aft., Jan. 19, at 2—LE CID, (in French.) Mmes. Lucienne Bréval and Melba; MM. Jean and Ed. de Reszke, Sizes, and Plancon. Conductor, Mancinelli.

Sat. Ev'g, Jan. 19, at 8, at Popular Prices—DER FLIEGENDE HOLLANDER, (The Flying Dutchman.) (in German.) Mmes. Gadski and Olitzka; MM. Dippel, Blass, Bars, and Bertram. Conductor, Damrosch.

Sun. Ev'g., Jan. 20, at 8:15.—Grand Popular Concert. In addition to a miscellaneous concert, Rossini's STABAT MATER will be performed. Soloists: Mmes. Nordica, Scheff, and Schumann-Heink; MM. Imbart de la Tour, Campanari, and Plancon, together with Entire Orchestra and Chorus. Conductor, Mr. Mancinelli.

Mon. Ev'g, Jan. 21, at 8:15—LA BOHEME, (in Italian.) Mmes. Melba and Scheff; MM. Saléza, Glibert, Journet, and Campanari. Conductor, Mancinelli.

Wed. Ev'g, Jan. 23, at 8—DON GIOVANNI, (in Italian.) Mmes. Nordica, Scheff, and Gadski; MM. Ed. de Reszke, Salignac, Journet, and Scotti. Conductor, Mancinelli.

Fri. Ev'g, Jan. 25, at 8—TRISTAN UND ISOLDE, (in German.) Mmes. Ternina and Schumann-Heink; MM. Jean and Ed. de Reszke, Muhlmann, and Blepham. Conductor, Damrosch.

WEBER PIANOS USED.

WALTER DAMROSCH
AT DALY'S—To-day, 2:30, DAS RHEINGOLD.

DALY'S THEATRE. To-day 2:30.
WALTER DAMROSCH
PIANO LECTURE RECITAL EXPLANATORY OF DAS RHEINGOLD.....AT 2:30
Jan. 22—Die Walkure. Jan. 25—Siegfried.

CARNEGIE HALL
Boston Symphony Orchestra
Mr. Gericke, Conductor.
Sat. Aft., Jan. 19, at 2:30.
Programme:
TSCHAIKOWSKY, Symphony No. 5, in E minor, op. 64; CESAR FRANCK, Symphonic Variations for Piano and Orchestra; LISZT, Symphonic Poem, No. 3, "The Preludes." Soloist, Mr. Cortlandt Palmer
Tickets, $1.50 to 75c. On sale at box office and Tyson's (5th Av. Hotel) at reg. prices. Adm., 50c.

EMPIRE THEATRE. B'way & 40th St. Evgs. 8:20. Matinées, 2:15.
"Decided success."—Herald. Mats. Wed. & Sat.
Empire Theatre Company in MRS. DANE'S DEFENSE

CHARLES FROHMAN'S CRITERION THEATRE. B'way and 44th St.
EVENINGS AT 8:15. MATINEE SATURDAY.
JULIA MARLOWE | WHEN KNIGHTHOOD WAS IN FLOWER.

MADISON SQ. THEATRE, 24th St., nr. B'way.
Mats. Wed. and Saturday. Evening, 8:30.
HERBERT KELCEY, EFFIE SHANNON | MY LADY DAINTY

GARRICK THEATRE, 35th St. & B'way.
Evenings, 8:15. Mats., 2:15
Last 3 weeks. Mats. Wed. and Sat.
WM. H. CRANE as DAVID HARUM.

GARDEN THEATRE—27th St. & Madison Av.
Mr. E. S. Willard | Last 2 nights—TOM PINCH.
Mat. Sat.—The Professor's Love Story
Next Mon., Tues. & Wed. Evg.—The Middleman.
Thurs. & Sat. Evgs.—Professor's Love Story.

DALY'S B'way & 30th, at 8:15. Dan'l Frohman, Mgr. Mats. Wed. & Sat. 2.
DANIEL FROHMAN'S COMPANY.
Lady Huntworth's Experiment
To-day, 2:30, WALTER DAMROSCH, (Rheingold)

LYCEUM 4th Av. & 23d.....At 8:30
Daniel Frohman...Manager
Matinées Thurs. & Sat., 2:15
.....LAST THREE WEEKS.....
ANNIE RUSSELL in A ROYAL FAMILY.
A ROYAL FAMILY.
Feb. 4—HENRY MILLER in "Rich'd Savage."

BIJOU | TO-NIGHT AT 8:15.
Matinée To-morrow, 2:15.
AMELIA BINGHAM
Presents COMPANY in Clyde Fitch's Latest Success,
Her THE CLIMBERS
ENTHUSIASM OF THE PRESS.
TIMES—"Miss Bingham has gone first the right way to work to do something worth doing for the sake of Dramatic Art." "It is true to life, splendidly acted."
HERALD—"The Climbers' is a success."
WORLD—"Thrilling modern play! None stronger has been written!"
EVE. SUN—"Amelia Bingham has covered herself with glory." "An American actress and an American dramatist scored a triumph."
SEATS NOW SELLING.

BROADWAY AND 11TH ST.
JAMES McCREERY & CO.

Tailor Made Suits.

WINTER MODELS,—fashionable materials and colors.

The greater proportion lined throughout with silk,

$11.50, $15.00, $19.00 and $25.00;
Formerly $20.00 to $50.00.

ENTIRE STOCK OF SEPARATE SKIRTS.
Cheviot, Broadcloth, applied Not and Silk.
Plain or elaborate designs,
$4.50 to $45.00;
Formerly $10.00 to $75.00.

Blanket Dep't.

150 pairs of fine CALIFORNIA WOOL BLANKETS, extra large,
$10.00 per pair.

100 pairs,—CALIFORNIA SCARLET WOOL BLANKETS,
$6.50 and $7.00 per pair.

STEAMER RUGS, $5.50 and $7.50.
One half former prices.

SILKOLINE COMFORTABLES,—full size,
$1.00 and $1.25 each.

MARSEILLES BED SPREADS,—full size, new patterns,
$2.50 each.

CROCHET QUILTS, 90 cents, $1.25 and $1.50.

BROADWAY AND 11TH ST.
JAMES McCREERY & CO.

Trade-Mark Registered.

Fancy Linens
FROM THE
Paris Exposition

Scalloped-Edge Embroidered Doylies, Centrepieces, Teacloths, Traycloths and Scarfs.

These are part of the exquisite collection of linens which was awarded Gold Medal at the Paris Exposition. They are unusually choice and desirable goods, and are now offered as part of our January Sale.

Round Doylies, per dozen.....6-inch, $4.00; 10-inch, $9.00, $12.00
Round Centrepiece, each.....16-inch, $1.25, $1.75; 20-inch, $1.75, $2.00, $2.25
Round Centrepiece, each.....24-inch, $2.00, $3.00, $3.50; 27-inch, $2.50, $3.75
Round Teacloth, each.....36-inch, $4.50
Traycloths, each.....16x24-inch; $2.50, $3.00; 18x27-inch, $2.75, 3.50
Traycloths, each.....20x30-inch, $3.25, 3.50, 3.75
Scarfs, each.....20x45-inch, $3.00, $4.50, $5.00; 20x72-inch, $5.50, 6.00, 6.50
Scarfs, each.....20x54-inch, $3.50, $4.50, $5.00, $5.50, 6.00, 6.50

Hemstitched and Embroidered Teacloths.

36x36-inch, each.....$4.50 5.50 6.50 10.00 15.00 30.00

This lot of Exposition linens includes also: Tablecloths, Napkins, Bed Spreads and Towels. Booklet describing these goods mailed free.

James McCutcheon & Co.,
"The Linen Store," 14 West 23d St., N. Y.

Cold Weather Ahead,

and plenty of it. The Spring will be late. You will realize an immediate dividend in taking advantage of our

Tremendous Cut in Prices,

—actual, genuine, vital, affecting many of our choicest lines:

$30.00, $28.00, $25.00, and $22.00 Overcoats } $15.00.
$28.00, $25.00, $22.00 and $20.00 Suits,

$18.00 and $16.00 Overcoats. } $12.00.

$7.00 and $6.00 Trousers, (fancy worsted,) } $5.00.

Boys' and Children's Suits and Overcoats in like proportion.

Hackett, Carhart & Co.

3 BROADWAY Stores: Cor. 13th St. Cor. Canal St. Near Chambers St.

Amusements.

Hammerstein's VICTORIA | 42d St., B'way and 7th Av. Ev'gs, 8:30. Matinée Saturday, 2:15. GENERAL ADMISSION, 50c.
LAST WEEK | DRESSLER. Comedy Triumph. MISS PRINNT.

BEGINNING MONDAY, JAN. 21.
Mathews & Bulger In their Latest Vaudeville, "The Night of the 4th."
Big Musical Co., including WALTER JONES.

KNICKERBOCKER. Evs. 8.25. Mat. Sat., 2.20.
REHAN "SWEET NELL OF OLD DRURY."
—ADA— LAST 2 NIGHTS.
Next Week. Seats Now on Sale. N. C. GOODWIN—MAXINE ELLIOTT, "When We Were Twenty-One."

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN.
SIXTH NATIONAL EXHIBITION OF CYCLES, MOTOR CYCLES, LAST 2 DAYS.
Automobiles and Accessories.
Open 9 A. M. to 10:30 P. M. Adm., 50c.

HERALD SQUARE THEATRE. Mats. at 2. Evgs. at 8.
Charles Frohman's Musical Comedy Co. with EDNA MAY. "Best of All Girls." THE GIRL FROM UP THERE. Mats. Wed. & To-m'w.

THE NEW YORK, B'way, 46 St. Ev. 8:15. Mats. Wed. & Sat.
New special vaudeville features Followed by Rosenfeld & Sloane's Successful review, The GIDDY THRONG

ACADEMY OF MUSIC. 14th St. & Irving Pl. LAST 2 WEEKS.
QUO VADIS Wilton Lackaye, Elita Proctor Otis, Aubrey Boucicault.
Prices 25, 50, 75, 1.00. Mats. Wed. & Sat. 2. Eve. 8.

CASINO B'way & 39th St. Evs., 8:15. Mat. Sat. FLORODORA

THE DEWEY E. 14th St. MATINEE TO-DAY. UTOPIAN BURLESQUERS. NEW LIVING PICTURES.
This Sunday Night—Grand Concert 25c, 50c.

Theatre Republic 42d St., jt west of B'way. Evs., 8:15. Mats. Wed. & Sat. 2:15.
VIOLA ALLEN "In the Palace of the King."

Amusements.

BROADWAY Theatre. 41st St. & B'way. Evgs., 8:15. Mat. Sat., 2:15.
JEFFERSON DE ANGELIS | A ROYAL ROGUE. LAST WEEK.
WEDNESDAY, JAN. 23RD.
JOHANN STRAUSS'S LATEST OPERETTA, VIENNA LIFE. (Wiener Blut.)
SEATS NOW ON SALE.

WALLACK'S Evs. at 8:30. Matinée Wednesday & Saturday, 2:15.
MARY MANNERING | JANICE MEREDITH

KEITH'S DELLA FOX. QUAKER CITY QUARTET. LEW SULLY.
TECHOW'S PERFORMING CATS AND DOGS.

MANHATTAN THEATRE. Evs., 8:15. Mats. 33d & B'way. Wed. & Sat.
THE BURGOMASTER.

WEBER & FIELDS' MUSIC HALL. Evgs. 8:15 Sharp. Mats. Tues., Sat. 2.
FIDDLE-DEE-DEE and Burlesques of Gay Lord Quex and A Royal Family.

KOSTER & BIAL'S W. 34 Strt. Grand 25c. All Orc. Mat. Daily. Evgs. 25, 50, 75. Sunday Concerts. Blockson & Burns, Harry Le Clair others & Act V. Faust, Tavary Op. Co

WORLD IN WAX. CINEMATOGRAPH.
EDEN MUSEE
Xtra attractions. Charming Concerts.

14th Street Theatre, nr. 6th Av. Mts. Wed. & Sat
MR. CHAUNCEY OLCOTT | In his greatest success, GARRETT (all new songs) O'MAGH

GRAND Opera House. Ward & Yokes | Next week Hearts are Trumps.
The Floorwalkers.

MURRAY HILL THEATRE, 42d St. & Lex. Av.
Matinee Every Day. 25c.
This Week—THE MAN FROM MEXICO.

IRVING PLACE THEATRE. To-night & Sat. Eve. Last times "Die Strengen Herren." Matinée Saturday, (popular prices,) "Uriel Acosta."

Harlem Opera House | Mr. John Hare | The Gay Lord Quex | E. S. 8:10 | M. S. 1:45
Next Week—Lulu Glaser. "Sweet Anne Page."

AMERICAN 42D ST. & 8TH AV.
Evgs. 8:15. 25c., 35c., 50c.
Mat. Daily (except Monday) 25c. THE ENSIGN.

HEARN

West Fourteenth Street.

FRIDAY, AS USUAL, BARGAIN DAY

Beginning with
A Great Sale of Curtains
At Half Value!

A purchase just made from a manufacturer who cheerfully took a loss to clear the way for spring stock..... Offering comprises best grades of Scotch Lace—White, Ecru and ivory—3 to 4 yards long—lock edge—Point de Calais, Renaissance, Irish Point, Guipure, Rococo and Arabian effects—sixty-two distinct and different patterns—

Dollar Fifty Curtains..... 79 cents
Two Dollar Curtains..... 98 cents
Three Dollar Curtains.....1.49
Four Dollar Curtains..... 1.98
Five Dollar Curtains..... 2.49
Six Dollar Curtains..... 3.98

All fresh and new—Greatest values of the season.

OTHER BASEMENT OFFERINGS

FINE BLEACHED MUSLINS
Beautiful, close, strong thread—yard wide—regular price 8 cents..... 3¾
If we could pin a sample to this advertisement, our basements could not hold the customers it would bring—No mail orders filled.

READY-MADE PILLOW CASES
Good, strong Muslin—free from dressing—quality will speak for itself.
42x36.....value 11 cents..... 6½
45x36.....value 12 cents..... 7½
Other sizes equally low.
No mail orders filled.

READY-MADE SHEETS
Same quality as above Pillow Cases—
54x90.....value 35 cents..... 25
81x90.....value 52 cents..... 38
Other sizes equally low.
No mail orders filled.

SILK FINISH LINING MOREENS
Large assortment of best colorings—make pretty petticoats as well as lining for tailor made suits—value .39.. 25

WHITE CROCHET QUILTS
Full size—Marseilles designs—hemmed—regularly 59 cents.....39

SATEEN COMFORTABLES
full size—extra good—white cotton filled—fancy stitched turkey red lined—regularly 1.95..... 1.25

4,000 CUSHION TOPS—
twenty styles to select from—value .15.. 6

MARSEILLES STRIPE BATISTES
Beautiful quality—Colored woven stripes or solid colors with heavy embroidered stripes—leading tints—31 inches wide—made to sell at 29 cents..... .15

NEW EMB. SWISSES
Exquisite colorings in stylish stripes and small blossom designs—entirely new, equal in effect to 35 cent imported goods... .14

NEW DRESS SATEENS
French designs—neat styles—best colors—Unprinted cloth is worth far more.... 7¾

NEW CORDED DRESS GINGHAMS
Stripes, fancy lines and plaids—Blue, Hello, Pink, Oxford, Violet and Turquoise—Splendid quality—fast colors—better than others are exploiting as great value at Ten cents..... 8¾

1,500 TAPESTRY REMNANTS
Gobelins, silk warp, silk and wool damasks—¾ to 1½ yards each.. 25 to 2.98
Worth double and triple.

TWO RUBBER GOODS SPECIALS
2 qt. Fountain Syringes—Three hard rubber tubes—value .39..... .39
2 qt. Water Bottles—best rubber—value .59..... .39

NEWEST IN WAIST FLANNELS
Light Blue, Pink, Gray, Nile, Scarlet, Cardinal—also Black and Navy—Crepon finish—strictly all wool..... .39

SOME MAIN FLOOR OFFERINGS

BLACK SILKS
23 inch all Silk Foulards—
27 inch Black Taffetas—
All Silk Brocades—value .59..... .39

COLORED SILKS
Brocaded Satin Stripe Taffetas—
White with colored figured Stripes—also Silk Poplins—leading shades—value 75 cents..... .59

CORDED WASH SILKS
Plaids and stripes—Best colors—value 45 cents..... .29

COLORED DRESS GOODS
46 inch all wool Cheviots—were 1.19.... .59
46 inch all wool Storm Serges—were .69 .49
46 inch all wool Zibelines—were .69..... .39

BLACK DRESS GOODS
50 inch cheviots—sponged and shrunk—value 75 cents..... .49
50 inch Camel's-hair Zibelines, were .85 .59
50 inch Venetians—were 1.19..... .89

HUCK TOWELS
Union Linen—fringed, 18x36—were .11.. 8
Hemstitched Huck—16x31—were .15..... .11

MEN'S DRESS SHIRTS
Three-ply fine linen Bosom, Cuffs and Collar Bands—N. Y. Mills Muslin Bodies—cut full and large.....39

LONSDALE CAMBRICS
Yard wide—less than case price..... 7¼
No mail orders filled.

WHITE EMBROIDERIES
Fine Swiss Cambric and Nainsook—
⅛ to 2 inch—worth .10..... 5
1 to 3 inch—100 styles—worth .15..... 9
Insertings to match.

IMPORTED APPLIQUE TRIMMINGS—
Gold, Steel, Persian and Black on emb'd silk or net—were 1.69 to 2.39.... .89
Fifty styles—were .98..... .49

ALASKA SABLE SCARFS—
8 tails—fine quality—were $10.00.....4.98
Long Scarfs—full tails—were $20.00....7.98
Muffs to match—were $12.00.....7.98

HOSIERY
Ladies' Fast Black Cotton and Fancy Prints—value .17..... 12½
Ladies' all wool Heavy Rib, Merino Heels and Toes—value .29..... .19
Children's Heavy Rib Cotton, Double Knees and Heels—value .17..... 12½

MERINO UNDERWEAR
Men's natural wool Shirts and Drawers .69
Ladies' Fleeced Rib Vests and Pants... 19
Boys' Heavy Fleeced Shirts and Drawers—were .37..... .29

VENETIAN LACE COLLARS
Square Yoke effect, also Sailor Collar, with Revers—value .98..... .69

A FEW SECOND FLOOR OFFERINGS:

LADIES' CAMBRIC NIGHTGOWNS
Yoke with six Val. lace insertings and cluster tucks—lace edge ruffle, special .59

LADIES' CANTON FLANNEL DRAWERS
Knickerbocker with ruffle, or plain with hem—worth 49 cents..... .29

LADIES' WHITE SKIRTS
Wide flounce of tucks and handsome openwork emb'y—worth 2.75.....1.69

CHILDREN'S FANCY APRONS
Long waist—full tucked—shoulder ruffles with emb'y or hemstitched ruffle—
4 to 14 years..... .49

LADIES' COUTILLE CORSETS
H. & S., Sonnette, W. B. and Dr. Warner's "Seconds"—French shape or long waist—value .79 to 1.69..... .59

MISSES' PERSIAN CURL REEFERS
Best colors—fancy collars—braid and button trim—4 to 14 years—value 5.98...2.98

MISSES' DRESS SKIRTS
All Wool Homespun—Oxford, Black and Navy—tailor stitched—12 to 16 years—value 2.98.....1.69

MISSES' KERSEY JACKETS
Jaunty Shapes—Satin lined—best colors—14 to 18 years—value $6.00....2.98

LADIES' JACKETS
Kersey and Cheviot—fitted and Box effects—satin lined—fancy pearl buttons—were 8.98 .....4.49

LADIES' PLUSH CAPES
Medium length—full appliqued—sable edge—fancy lining—were 13.98...7.98

LADIES' GOLF CAPES
Rich Combination Plaids—stitched bands—long and medium—were 7.98...3.98

LADIES' FRENCH FLANNEL WAISTS
Rose, Violet, Red, Blue and Black—box pleated front—Bishop sleeve—French Back—button trim—were 3.49..1.89

LADIES' CHEVIOT DRESS SKIRTS—
Gore effect—tailor stitched—were 3.98.2.39
Fancy Taffeta stitched bands—flare flounce—were 6.98.....4.49

BABIES' NAINSOOK SLIPS
Fine quality—Bishop style—Hemstitch ruffled neck and sleeves—value .39... .24

BABIES' SHORT DRESSES—
Cambric, Lawn and Nainsook—round, square and pointed tucked yokes—with hemstitchings or emb'y inserting; or entire yoke of insertings and ribbon run lace—newest styles..... .49

SOME THIRD FLOOR OFFERINGS:

BOYS' FLANNEL WAISTS
All Wool—Red, Navy, Brown, Gray and Green—pleated front and back—well made—all sizes—value .69..... .39

Fine Twill and Plain Flannel—most desirable colors—corded or pleated—French Sleeve—pearl buttons—all sizes—value $1.00 to $1.25..... .69

BOYS' CHEVIOT KNEE PANTS
Navy Mixtures and Corduroy—
4 to 16 years—regularly .69..... .39

Fine Cheviots, Cassimeres and Worsteds—Navy and Mixtures—were .98 ..... .69

BOYS' RUSSIAN BLOUSE SUITS
Cheviots and Serges—Navy and Mixtures—2½ to 8 yrs.—were 4.98.....2.98
Finer—combination effects—were 5.98..3.98

CURTAIN POLES
White Enamel—5 ft. long—brass and white metal ends—were .39 to .59..... .19

Highly polished Oak—turned wood ends—fluted brackets—were .59..... .29

CHILDREN'S PICTURE HATS
Black, Navy, Brown, Castor and Red Velvet—were 1.49..... .98

LADIES' FLANNELETTE WRAPPERS
Extra heavy—braid and velvet trim—yoke effect with shoulder ruffles—extra width flounce skirt—value 1.49.. .98

LADIES' TEA GOWNS
Wool Cashmere—best colors—full shirred ribbon yoke—full lined—drop skirt—were 5.49 .....3.49

LADIES' DRESSING SACQUES
Wool elderdown—crochet edge—were .79 ..... .39

Heavy Elderdown—finished seams—double breast—satin finish—were 1.24.. .69

FIGURED TAPESTRY CUSHIONS
Fifty designs and colorings—tassel corners—also Reversible Figured Velour—value 1.49 ..... .98

WINDOW SHADES
Opaque—neat, fancy fringe—36x72 inch—spring roller—were .39..... .19

Here are
Some Friday Values
On Fourth Floor:

WOOL FILLED ART SQUARES
3x2½ yards—newest and most desirable colorings—real value Three dollars.....1.69

LEATHER SATCHELS
Extra strong handles—nickel or brass trim—extra heavy frames—16, 17 and 18 inch—value 1.50.....98
Others—17 and 18 inch—value 1.98....1.49

LEATHER DRESS SUIT CASES
Cloth lined—steel frame—strong handles and lock—22 and 24 inch—value Four dollars.....2.98

LADIES' LIGHT WEIGHT SUIT CASES
Russet and Olive—strongly made—steel lock and catches—brass plated, stylish, sensible, serviceable..... .98

FINE LINEN STATIONERY
"Swiss Cloth," "Court Netherland" and "Egg Shell" finish—Cream Blue, Lilac and Gray—quire box—newest sizes—value .39..... .24

TYPEWRITERS' PAPER
Fine quality—500 sheets..... .49

CREPE PAPER LAMP SHADES
All Colors—regular prices 1

"All the News That's Fit to Print."

The New York Times.

THE WEATHER.
Snow flurries; wind northwest, becoming southerly.

COPYRIGHT, 1901, BY THE NEW YORK TIMES COMPANY.

VOL. L...NO. 15,923. NEW YORK, SATURDAY, JANUARY 19, 1901.—SIXTEEN PAGES. ONE CENT In Greater New York, Jersey City, and Newark. } Elsewhere. } TWO CENTS.

SENATE PASSES ARMY REORGANIZATION BILL

Four Democrats with the Majority —Vote Was 43 to 23.

Measure Now Goes to Conference— Amendment Against Liquor Traffic In Philippines Defeated.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Just before 6 o'clock this evening the Senate finally disposed of the Army Reorganization bill. The measure having originated in the Senate, the final question was not upon its passage, but upon agreeing to the Senate amendments. They were agreed to by a vote of 43 to 23. While party lines were drawn on the measure, four Democrats voted for it—Senators Lindsay of Kentucky, McLaurin of South Carolina, Morgan of Alabama, and Sullivan of Mississippi. Senator Hoar of Massachusetts, who was detained at his home by illness, was paired against the bill with Senator Spooner of Wisconsin.

The bill has occupied practically the entire attention of the Senate since Jan. 3, when it was made the unfinished business. While the opposition to it at all stages was vigorous, it never was bitter. Numerous amendments were made to it, but in general the committee was sustained, and the measure, with the exception of the elimination of the canteen clause, is not widely different from that reported to the Senate.

A determined effort was made to-day to amend the bill so as to provide against the sale of liquor in the Philippines and to prohibit the importation of any kind of intoxicants into the Islands, but it was defeated.

A notable speech was delivered during the day by Mr. Hale of Maine, who, while opposing the increase in the strength of the army, stated cogently his reasons for supporting the bill.

Every effort to prevent the increase in the strength of the army was defeated by a decisive majority. As the bill originated in the Senate, it now will go directly to the conference committees appointed by the two branches of Congress.

Mr. Gallinger (Rep., N. H.,) vigorously advocated his amendment providing for the revocation of all licenses granted to American saloons in the Philippines and providing against the manufacture, sale, or importation of beer, wines, or distilled liquors in the Philippines. He said the record showed there had been a steady increase in the export of liquors from the United States to the Philippines since the American occupation. For the four months last passed, of which there was a record, liquors to the amount of $360,337 had been exported from this country to the Philippines, almost one-third of the total exportations to the Islands.

"What is the necessity for this legislation?" inquired Mr. Cockrell, (Dem., Mo.,) "when the whole question is within the control of the President."

Mr. Gallinger replied there really was no necessity, as the power under which the saloons were established in the Islands could destroy them. He felt it was time for Congress to assert its authority.

Mr. Lodge, Chairman of the Philippines Committee, said that with the American occupation of the Philippines 400 or 500 American barrooms had been established and licensed in Manila. They had done and were doing infinite harm—more harm, in his opinion, to the army than to the native inhabitants, as the Filipinos, like other tropical people, were temperate. Mr. Lodge directed the attention of the Senate to the good results of Gen. Ludlow's liquor regulations in Havana, and said he did not know why a similar course had not been followed in Manila. He was satisfied that the proposed amendment would not be objectionable to the Taft Commission. It was evident from the action recently taken by the commission that the members were impressed by the evils of the liquor traffic.

In opposing the amendment Mr. Carter (Rep., Mon.,) urged that Congress, acting upon what was at best only partial and imperfect knowledge of the situation in the Philippines, ought not to enact such legislation—"ill-considered and never passed upon by any committee"—as that proposed. The proposition here presented, Mr. Carter urged, was one simply to interfere with a Town Council in Manila, and it was not consistent with the importance of the great Philippine problem. It was unwise, inopportune, and imprudent, in his opinion, for Congress thus to commit the Government to any particular line of policy, especially when that legislation was proposed in the form of an amendment hastily drawn.

Mr. Towne (Pop., Minn.,) interrupted to say that Mr. Carter, "with his customary cogency," had "demonstrated the incapacity, inaptitude, and unreadiness" of the American Congress to deal with the Philippine problem.

Mr. Carter replied that the best possible evidence of the capacity of Congress to legislate wisely for the Philippines was the fact that it refused to legislate at all in the absence of full and complete information, and until after order and peace had been restored in the Islands.

MR. HALE EXPLAINS HIS STAND.

Mr. Hale (Rep., Me.,) then, in a brief but forceful and earnest speech, enumerated some of the reasons why he should vote for the pending bill. He agreed that the time had not come for general legislation with respect to the Philippines, but he did not regard the proposed amendment as general legislation, as it dealt largely with the good order and good health of the army. Discussing the general features of the measure, he said there was no need to endeavor to conceal the purposes of the bill. There ought to be no doubt as to the objects for which the proposed large army was to be used. The burden of such a statement must rest upon Senators who advocated the bill.

"It is well known," said he, "that the army raised under this bill is to be a fighting army. It is not to fight in the old States of the Union; it is not to fight in Cuba or in Porto Rico; it is not to fight in China, but it is to fight in the Philippine Islands; and it were not for the fact that this army is to conduct this war in the Philippines no committee of this body would present here a proposition for the creation of a permanent standing army of 100,000 men."

Mr. Hale said he would be glad if the form of negotiation with the Filipinos could have been adopted as a means of settling the pending conflict, but Senators did not approve of it. He believed, too, it would be better to attach a temporary force to the present standing army, but the Senate would not hear to that. He pointed out that, unless this bill was passed, there would be in the Philippines after July 1 next, only about 20,000 American soldiers. Pressed by the Filipino forces, they would be "hemmed in Manila," and would be "lucky if they were not driven into the sea."

"No Senator could stand that," declared the Maine Senator. "No man, no party could stand upon such a condition. Therefore I am constrained, as much as I am opposed to it, to support this measure, because without it an almost immeasurable disaster and tragedy might befall the army in the Philippines."

Mr. Spooner (Rep., Wis.,) expressed the opinion that the time had not yet arrived for Congress to legislate upon the Philippines.

"When will we be ready to legislate?" inquired Mr. Teller, (Sil. Rep., Col.)

"The Senator can answer that question as easily as he can ask it," replied Mr. Spooner. "I do not undertake to say when we shall be ready to legislate for the Philippines. I do not think we shall be ready until we have sent a joint committee of Congress to investigate the situation of the people in the islands."

"When shall we do that?" inquired Mr. Teller.

"I hope," responded Mr. Spooner, "that we will provide for such a committee before this session comes to an end. I have undertaken to frame a resolution providing for such a committee."

Mr. Perkins (Rep., Cal.,) offered an amendment, which was agreed to, providing for the payment of $200 to each soldier now in the Philippines whose term of service will expire before July 1 next and who re-enlists for three years.

VOTE ON AMENDMENTS.

The debate upon the bill closed under the special order, and the voting began upon the amendments to the bill. Mr. Mallory (Dem., Fla.,) offered an amendment striking out Section 26, empowering the President to maintain the enlisted force of the army at the maximum strength during the present exigencies of the service, or until such time as Congress may hereafter direct. The amendment was rejected—26 to 42.

Mr. Money (Dem., Miss.,) proposed an amendment providing that the provisions of the pending bill should remain in force only until July 1, 1903, after which time the army should be reduced to the number provided by law prior to April 1, 1898. Rejected—25 to 39.

Mr. Berry (Dem., Ark.,) proposed an amendment directing the President to issue a proclamation within ten days after the passage of the bill, disclaiming any intention on the part of the United States to exercise sovereignty over the Philippine Islands except for the purpose of pacification, and thereafter to leave the government of the islands to their people. Rejected—22 to 43. Senators Lindsay, (Ky.,) McLaurin, (S. C.,) and Sullivan (Miss.) voted with the Republicans against the amendment.

A motion by Mr. Pettigrew to strike out Section 32 of the bill, providing for the enlistment of Filipinos, was rejected—24 to 41—as was an amendment by Mr. Daniel to fix the pay of native officers and men at the same rate paid to Americans.

Mr. Spooner suggested an amendment leaving the fixing of the pay of native troops to the discretion of the Secretary of War. It was agreed to.

Mr. McComas (Rep., Md.,) suggested several amendments, which were agreed to. They strike out the age limit for volunteer officers to be examined for the grades of Captains and First or Second Lieutenants and to include in the eligibles for such examination volunteer officers who served prior to 1898.

Mr. Gallinger offered his amendment providing that the veterinarians authorized by the bill shall have the rank and allowances of Second Lieutenants. It was rejected. He then offered a new section to the bill providing that all licenses for the sale of liquor in the Philippines heretofore granted be revoked and that none hereafter be granted; and that the importation of beer, wine, and distilled spirits into the Islands be prohibited. The amendment was rejected, 23 to 53.

The amendment of Mr. Lodge (Rep., Mass.,) prohibiting the importation into the Philippines of distilled liquors except for medicinal purposes was rejected, 23 to 41. His amendment fixing the allowance for clothing and rations of the native Porto Rican soldiers was adopted.

Mr. Bacon (Dem., Ga.,) proposed an amendment striking out of the bill the paragraphs authorizing the President to increase the number of men in any company of infantry, any troop of cavalry, or any battery of artillery to the maximum. Rejected, 22 to 43.

VOTE ON THE BILL.

Many amendments changing the bill in minor particulars were offered, but as a rule they were rejected without division. The measure having originated in the Senate, the question then was upon agreeing to the bill as amended. The motion to agree was adopted, 43 to 23, the detailed vote being as follows:

YEAS.

Aldrich, (Rep., R. I.)	McComas, (Rep., Md.)
Allison, (Rep., Iowa.)	McCumber, (Rep., N. D.)
Bard, (Rep., Cal.)	McLaurin, (Dem., S. C.)
Barrows, (Rep., Mich.)	McMillan, (Rep., Mich.)
Carter, (Rep., Mon.)	Mason, (Rep., Ill.)
Clark, (Rep., Wyo.)	Morgan, (Dem., Ala.)
Debo, (Rep., Ky.)	Penrose, (Rep., Penn.)
Dillingham, (Rep., Vt.)	Perkins, (Rep., Cal.)
Dolliver, (Rep., Iowa.)	Platt, (Rep., Conn.)
Elkins, (Rep., W. Va.)	Pritchard, (Rep., N. C.)
Fornker, (Rep., Ohio.)	Proctor, (Rep., Vt.)
Foster, (Rep., Wash.)	Quarles, (Rep., Wis.)
Frye, (Rep., Me.)	Scott, (Rep., W. Va.)
Gallinger, (Rep., N. H.)	Sewell, (Rep., N. J.)
Hale, (Rep., Me.)	Shoup, (Rep., Idaho.)
Hanna, (Rep., Ohio.)	Simon, (Rep., Ore.)
Hansbrough, (Rep., N. D.)	Stewart, (Rep., Nev.)
Hawley, (Rep., Conn.)	Sullivan, (Dem., Miss.)
Kean, (Rep., N. J.)	Thurston, (Rep., Neb.)
Kyle, (Rep., S. D.)	Warren, (Rep., Wyo.)
Lindsay, (Dem., Ky.)	Wetmore, (Rep., R. I.)
Lodge, (Rep., Mass.)	Total—43.

NAYS.

Allen, (Pop., Neb.)	Kenney, (Dem., Del.)
Bacon, (Dem., Ga.)	Mallory, (Dem., Fla.)
Bate, (Dem., Tenn.)	Pettus, (Dem., Ala.)
Berry, (Dem., Ark.)	Rawlins, (Dem., Utah.)
Caffery, (Dem., La.)	Taliaferro, (Dem., Fla.)
Chilton, (Dem., Tex.)	Teller, (Sil. Rep., Col.)
Clay, (Dem., Ga.)	Tillman, (Dem., S. C.)
Cockrell, (Dem., Mo.)	Towne, (Pop., Minn.)
Culberson, (Dem., Tex.)	Turley, (Dem., Tenn.)
Daniel, (Dem., Va.)	Turner, (Puston, Wash.)
Harris, (Pop., Kan.)	Wellington, (Rep., Md.)
Jones, (Dem., Ark.)	Total—23.

The measure was sent to conference between the two houses, Senators Hawley, (Rep., Conn.,) Proctor, (Rep., Vt.,) and Cockrell, (Dem., Mo.,) being appointed conferees on the part of the Senate.

WAR DEPARTMENT OPINION.

Power of the Staff to be Demonstrated in Conference Committees—Some Things Settled.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Ever since the Army bill became a subject of discussion in Congress it has been the chief topic of conversation at the War Department, and there have been warm controversies between those who favored the Secretary's plan for securing control of all staff appointments and changes and the others who believe that the inherent evils of the staff as now constituted have been overestimated. As the bill has been passed it contains some things that suit both of the contending sides, and some other things that do not please any of them.

Secretary Root has contributed to his liability to be made ill by his personal solicitude for the passage of the bill in something like the shape in which he sent it to the House. He has followed carefully all the changes, with varying feelings of wonder, confusion, and disgust, until he was doubtful whether it would retain any of the ideas he had suggested when it became law. Advised by one of his staff officers, he had at last quit trying to keep up with the Senate, having been reminded that whatever the bill might be when it got into conference, no man could be wise enough to predict what it would be like when it came out of conference for acceptance or rejection by the two houses.

The consideration of the bill in conference will afford a last opportunity to the War Department to prove whether the head of the department or the staff is most potent in obtaining legislation for the army. The canteen and the veterinarian corps are both beyond reach. What is settled for good is that there shall be an army large enough to carry out the plans of the Administration in the Philippines, and that it may be ended soon enough to enable the department to bring home the forces entitled by law to be dismissed on June 30, 1901. Already steps are being taken at the War Department to provide for the new forces, as there will have to be equipments provided for the whole force authorized in excess of the army of 26,000 allowed by statute.

Old Point Comfort and Richmond Tour.

Royal Blue Line, Jan. 26, via Washington, $34 round trip from New York, expenses included. Leave Liberty St. 9 A. M. Full information B. & O. R. R. Offices.—Adv.

CASHIER, PISTOLS AT HIS HEAD, DEFIES ROBBERS

Bold Attempt to Steal Receipts in Maillard's Candy Store.

Bullet Fired at Mr. Mathey Whizzes Past His Head — One Desperado Captured After an Exciting Chase.

Two men made a desperate attempt to steal the day's receipts of Maillard's candy store, in the Fifth Avenue Hotel, at 11:45 o'clock last night, and would have succeeded had it not been for the courage of Henry Mathey, the cashier, who refused to hold up his hands when one of the robbers covered him with two big revolvers and ordered him to do so.

Instead he shouted "Help! Police!" and threw his arms about the big piles of bills spread before him on the table. One of the revolvers flashed, but the ball sped harmlessly by the cashier's head, and then the bandits darted out into the passing crowd in Broadway, and in another second a wild man hunt was on which ended with the capture of one of them.

The two men came in just as the store was closing for the night, and the last customer had left. The cashier's desk or table is but a few feet from the main entrance at the Twenty-fourth Street corner of the building. Mathey sat there counting up his money, the only other person near him being John Wenger, one of the waiters in the place, who was standing at the top of a step ladder arranging one of the tall showcases. In the back of the store were five other waiters.

It was all done in a minute. The men opened the door and walked straight to the table, which was without a railing or protection of any kind. The leader quickly drew two heavy revolvers.

"Throw up your hands!" he shouted, and Mathey found himself gazing into the deadly barrels.

As the shot was fired Wenger fell headlong from the step ladder in his fright, and before he could regain his footing the other waiters had run to the front of the store, and the robbers had passed outside. There they separated, one running west through Twenty-fourth Street, and the other fleeing across Madison Square, with a crowd of several hundred in hot pursuit shouting "Stop thief!" at the top of their lungs.

Policeman John Egan ran about half a block away and joined in the chase. The man ran through Twenty-third Street to Fourth Avenue, and then turned south for one block, and at the next block the policeman seized him. The man gave up without a struggle, and walked meekly to the West Thirtieth Street Station, where he said he was Edward Burgess, twenty-five years old, a steamfitter, living at the Mills Hotel, in Bleecker Street.

When he was searched there were found upon him three crumpled one-dollar bills and a small knife and the two revolvers, both fully loaded save for the single shot which had been fired at the cashier.

Detectives were scouring the Tenderloin for his accomplice whose agreed part was probably to grab the money when the cashier's hands went up. They found clues to his identity which led them to state confidently that they would have him before daylight.

Cashier Mathey later made the following statement:

"I was making up my cash, as I do every evening, and there was about $1,000 on the table, the whole day's receipts. I was just about to roll it up preparatory to putting it in the safe, when two men came in. One of them walked up and said, 'Hands up!' I put one hand up and grabbed the money with the other and called out, 'Get out of here!' Then the waiters made a rush at him, and the man turned around and ran toward the door. As he ran he faced about and fired at me. The other man who had come in with him stood at the door and threw it open, and when his companion ran, he ran, too."

Mr. Mathey took no part in the pursuit, staying in the store and taking care of the money, but after the arrest he went to the station house and positively identified Burgess as the man who had shot at him.

DROPPED DEAD AT A CLUB.

Frederick A. Gilbert, a Boston Capitalist, Stricken While Telling a Story.

Frederick A. Gilbert of Brookline, Mass., dropped dead last night while dining with friends at the New York Club, Thirty-fifth Street and Fifth Avenue.

Mr. Gilbert was President of the Boston Electric Light Company. He was very corpulent. He was a frequent visitor to this city, and was well known at the Waldorf-Astoria, where he always staid when in New York.

Mr. Gilbert passed the early part of yesterday in the Wall Street district, and transacted much business. He was in excellent spirits, and appeared in robust health. In the early evening he was about the hotel, and, accepting the invitation of friends, went to dine at the New York Club house.

He was seated at one of the tables in the main dining room about 8:45 o'clock, and the meal was well under way. The room was well filled. Mr. Gilbert was quite jovial and was telling a story to his companions when he suddenly paled and, clutching his throat and his breast at the same time, exclaimed: "I am ill!"

Messengers were told to summon physicians, but before they had left the dining hall Mr. Gilbert lurched forward, and in a few moments life was extinct.

The incident created much excitement, and the diners gathered about the table at which Mr. Gilbert had been eating. One of the doctors who arrived expressed the opinion, after a superficial examination, that death had resulted from apoplexy or a bursted blood vessel.

Mr. Gilbert's estate is reputed to be worth $5,000,000. He was fifty-four years old, and leaves a wife and three children, one of the latter being a Mrs. Sears of Buffalo.

Special to The New York Times.

BOSTON, Mass., Jan. 18.—Frederick A. Gilbert, the President and General Manager of the Boston Electric Light Company, who died suddenly in New York to-day, was a native of New Haven, Conn. He came to Boston in 1898. He married a Miss Todd of New Haven, and they have three children. Mrs. Gilbert left for New York to-night in ignorance of her husband's death.

Mr. Gilbert's business in New York is supposed to have had reference to the attempted consolidation of his company with the Edison Company, which was stopped by the Governor and the Gas and Electric Light Commissioners last week. It is understood that negotiations were on foot looking to another form of union between these properties.

REDSKINS ON THE WARPATH.

Disaffected Creeks Cause an Uproar in Indian Territory.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 18.—A special from Eufaul, I. T., says:

Deputy Marshal Grant Johnson has brought the news that the disaffected Creek Indians, known as the "Snake Band," are up in arms and are riding through the country, whipping and maltreating peaceable Indians. Johnson says he saw a band of fifty, headed by John Creek, yesterday, near Proctor. They were heavily armed, and were arresting some Creeks, whom they took to Hickory Ground their headquarters, and whipped. It is stated that one man who resisted arrest was killed.

The Marshal says the country west of here is in an uproar, that several bands of disaffected Indians, numbering about fifty each, are out. They claim to be the legally constituted authority in the nation. They have elected an Independent chief council and other officers, and the peaceable people have applied to the Federal authorities for protection.

These Indians are all full bloods, ignorant and stubborn. They are the anti-treaty party, and say they will make no treaty and will not allow any Creek council to ratify one.

Burnett's Vanilla Extract

is the best, and the best is none too good for food and drink. Insist on having it. Avoid obeah substitutes.—Adv.

COL. ROOSEVELT WAS TREED.

Attacked by a Number of Gray Wolves and Remained a Prisoner for Four Hours.

Special to The New York Times.

MEEKER, Col., Jan. 18.—Col. Roosevelt was treed by gray wolves last night and kept a prisoner for four hours. He started alone late in the afternoon to shoot coyotes, but did not find anything till in the dusk he saw the shaggy form of a gray wolf 300 yards distant and outlined against the sky. It was too dark for accurate aim, but the bullet sent the beast limping and yelling over the brow of the hill. The tracks showed that one of the animal's legs had been broken by the shot.

The Colonel followed, without thought of danger until he noticed that the yelping of the wounded animal was answered by others. These gray wolves are twice as large as coyotes, and dangerous when in numbers.

Col. Roosevelt started for home, but had lost his direction, and in the darkness had difficulty in following his own tracks. Darkness made effective shooting impossible, and the country soon seemed alive with wolves.

In climbing the tree Col. Roosevelt lost his cartridge belt. His companions, who had become alarmed by his absence, found him when it was nearly midnight. Under the tree were a half dozen wolves he had killed with his revolvers. The others were soon scattered by the dogs.

BIG FEDERAL STEEL DEAL?

Reported to Have Bought Nearly All the Common Stock of American Steel and Wire Company.

CHICAGO, Jan. 18.—The Record to-morrow will say:

"Federal Steel interests have bought outright or secured options and proxies on practically the entire common stock issue of the American Steel and Wire Company. Arrangements have been made for the underwriting of a Federal Steel bond issue large enough to pay for the stock, much of it subscribed in Chicago, but most of it taken by the great Wall Street interests—Morgan, Porter, Flower, Gary, Mills, Spencer, Rogers, and others of similar weight. Norman B. Ream and Marshall Field represent the Chicago interest, and Boston is in it in the person of Nathaniel Thayer.

"The enormous deal has been brought to completion, nothing now remaining but the routine of casting ballots and proxies for the Federal bond issue. By the day of the annual meeting of the American Steel and Wire Company, it will be found that some of the present all-powerful men of that corporation have railway interests which will compel them to abandon executive positions in the wire company. Their places will be taken by the nominees of the Morgan-Mills-Gary-Porter company. In other words, the Gates party will virtually disappear from the wire company, or will fall into a hopeless minority and the Federal Steel Company will rule it.

"John W. Gates, John Lambert, Col. Drake, and other Directors of the American Steel and Wire Company will start for New York to-morrow. The regular meeting of the board is scheduled for Jan. 28.

"It is said that a bond issue of $13,000,000 or $14,000,000 will be required to carry out the deal and that this amount of money has been provided for."

ACTS STRANGELY AT TABLE.

William H. Duncan, Thought to be Insane, Arranges Dishes Into a "Telephone Circuit."

Much amusement and some excitement was created among the diners at Young's restaurant, Thirty-fifth Street and Sixth Avenue, shortly before 8 o'clock last night, when a well-dressed man took a seat at a prominent table and began to "play telephone" with the dishes he had ordered. First he placed a dish with mashed potatoes, a tureen half emptied of oxtail soup, a plate full of chicken à la Maryland, a dish with French peas, and a glass of ice water in a row on the table before him. Then imagining this arrangement to be a telephone exchange, such as are used in large offices, he placed an empty tumbler over his ear and proceeded to stick saltcellars and butterdishes into the food before him.

"Hello, Hello!" he began to call out. "Give me 4-11 Cortlandt. Who's this? Yes, he's in—wait a minute, I'll connect you—Hello—Hello—I want central—yes—waiting?—yes, they're going to call us up from Heaven—yes—God was busy the last time I called 'em up!"

Just then a Salvation Army lass walked into the restaurant and offered to sell him a War Cry. When he saw her his face lit up.

"Hello! Hello!" he yelled, changing a pepper cellar from the mashed potatoes into the soup. "Hello, I say, Central! Never mind about heaven. Here's God just come in Himself. Good-bye," and, dropping the tumbler, he handed the surprised girl a two-dollar bill.

By this time the proprietor of the restaurant had become alarmed and called in a policeman. When the man saw him he began to laugh. "Well, well!" he cried, "here's God, and there comes the devil, and they're both in uniform."

At the West Thirtieth Street Station, whither he was taken, the man at first could give no information. He was examined by a physician from the New York Hospital, who declared he had all the symptoms of insanity. When the policemen searched him, he suddenly remembered that his name was William H. Duncan and that he had a wife and two children. He seemed to be much alarmed for the safety of his belongings, declaring that the policemen were trying to rob him. He watched the numerous papers, matches, pencils, &c., and the money which was being taken from his pockets with an alert eye.

The physician ordered him taken to Bellevue, and as he was being hustled into the ambulance he yelled back, "Send for John J. Cox, Tremont, Fordham."

His papers indicated his name to be William H. Duncan, real estate dealer, 27 Pine Street, and northeast corner of East One Hundred and Eighty-fourth Street and Valentine Avenue, his home. His friends were notified.

MORE GIFTS BY MR. CARNEGIE.

Will Give $65,000 to Institutions in Illinois and Indiana.

Special to The New York Times.

GOSHEN, Ind., Jan. 18.—Andrew Carnegie has notified the managers of the Local Library Association by wire that he will donate $15,000 toward a public library building for this city. Goshen is the smallest city Mr. Carnegie has ever assisted.

PITTSBURG, Penn., Jan. 18.—It was announced to-day that Andrew Carnegie has made a donation of $50,000 to the Aurora College of Illinois.

WILL TAKE HERTZ TO LONDON.

Alleged Embezzler to be Transferred for Extradition Purposes.

QUEENSTOWN, Jan. 18. — Sigmund Hertz of New York City, who was arrested shortly after the arrival here Thursday evening of the Allan Line steamer Corinthian, from Halifax, Jan. 7, charged with forgery, at the instance of the United States authorities, was not brought before the Magistrate here to-day. The police are awaiting the arrival of a Scotland Yard officer to take him to London for extradition.

The sum of £350 was found on Hertz, but no trace of the missing bonds was discovered in his baggage. As there is no charge against his wife, who accompanied Hertz across the Atlantic, she was not searched. She is known to have several bank drafts. Their clothes are elaborate and costly. Mrs. Hertz spent last night with her husband at the police station. This evening she went to a hotel.

Hertz is absolutely silent on the subject of his arrest.

Secured by Silent Safeguards.

The electric pneumatic switches and signals in use on the Pennsylvania Railroad guarantee passengers' safety.—Adv.

QUEEN VICTORIA ILL; REGENCY TALKED OF

Her Majesty Advised Not to Transact State Business.

Great Apprehension in United Kingdom, but Newspapers Say Queen's Condition Is Not Alarming.

OSBORNE, Isle of Wight, Jan. 18.—The following official announcement regarding the Queen's health has been made:

"The Queen has not lately been in her usual health, and is unable for the present to take her customary drives.

"The Queen, during the past year, has had a great strain upon her powers, which has rather told upon her nervous system. It has therefore been thought advisable by her Majesty's physicians that her Majesty should be kept perfectly quiet in the house, and should abstain for the present from transacting business."

LONDON, Jan. 19.—Sir Francis H. Laking, M. D., Surgeon to Queen Victoria, has been called to Osborne to consult with Sir James Reid, her Majesty's resident physician.

Although it is fully understood that there is no cause for alarm beyond what would naturally be felt at the indisposition of any one of the Queen's age, the official announcement issued last evening has caused a shock to the country the effect of which it would be difficult to exaggerate. Her Majesty's absolute freedom from illness during the longest reign in English history has led her people to regard her almost as more than mortal, and the mere novelty of having to face the possibility of a regency alone suffices to create apprehension.

It is necessary to go back to a date prior to 1820 for a similar situation. Since that time there has never been an interruption to the smooth working of the constitutional machine. No one, not even the Prince of Wales, can act for the Queen without the authority of Parliament; and, as no steps have been taken to summon Parliament, it may be taken for granted that her Majesty's physicians have only adopted measures of precaution, and that she is still able to sign any absolutely imperative documents, though relieved of the worries of routine affairs.

The illness of Dowager Empress Frederick of Germany, the sudden death of her Majesty's old friend, Lady Churchill, together with the deaths of the Duke of Saxe-Coburg last Summer and of Prince Christian Victor subsequently, and the incidents of the war in South Africa have been great trials to the Queen, but, even within a week, she has received Lord Roberts and sent a message of condolence to the widow of Dr. Creighton, the Bishop of London.

It is understood that the arrangements for the Queen's visit to the South of France are proceeding on the originally laid down, and it is quite likely that rest and abstention from work will enable her to undertake the journey earlier than was originally intended.

All the morning papers comment upon the unlooked-for possibilities of the situation, but they do not regard it as alarming. The Daily News says:

"We fear it cannot be doubted that her Majesty's health is precarious, but it seems impossible to believe that she should be ill. We must hope and trust that a short period of repose will restore her strength of body and mind. The fact that the Prince of Wales attended the banquet to Lord Roberts, given by the United Service Club, may serve to dispel an alarming view of the case.

"The Queen's age must make any illness the cause of anxiety; but, among the penalties of a scrupulous adhesion to duty, is that of an exaggerated alarm at any intermission."

The Daily Graphic, commenting upon the Queen's "untiring self-sacrifice," says:

"We hope it is only a passing warning to her to spare herself in the future."

The Times, which takes a similar view, remarks that it is only since Tuesday that the Queen has not taken her drives, and points out that to-day she attains an age one day greater than that of George III., thus having not only reigned, but also lived longer than any other British sovereign.

Proceeding to dilate upon the immense changes and progress during the Queen's reign, and upon the "unexampled manner in which she has won her way into the affections of her people," The Times says:

"There cannot be any doubt whatever that the oldest British sovereign is also the best beloved."

The Daily Telegraph, which comments upon "the needless and unjustifiable alarm caused by the very solicitude of her people for the Queen's welfare," says:

"This gave a character to the news which we are glad to say the news does not bear and drew inferences not involved in the real facts of the case."

It is specially noteworthy, as The Times points out, that until Tuesday the Queen went out driving daily.

Up to midnight no change had been made in any of the plans of the royal family. The chaplain of the Archbishop of Canterbury said the movements of the primate had not been affected by the state of health of the Queen.

MRS. NANCY C. PREWITT DEAD.

Special to The New York Times.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Col., Jan. 18.—A telegram to Mrs. A. M. Reynolds here announced the death at Fairfield, Iowa, of her mother, Mrs. Nancy C. Prewitt, aged seventy-four years. Mrs. Prewitt was a sister to Ann Rutledge, to whom Abraham Lincoln was engaged to be married, and whose death in 1835 cast a melancholy shadow across the martyr President's life. Mrs. Prewitt's recollections of Mr. Lincoln were interesting, as he made his home at her father's house for four years. She was well-known here and in Illinois and Iowa. A son, A. M. Prewitt, is a Presbyterian minister.

TO BUY OHIO RAILROAD.

Special to The New York Times.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 18.—The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company is about to buy the Cleveland, Lorain and Wheeling Railroad, with a view of further controlling the soft-coal traffic of West Virginia. President Cowen and other Baltimore and Ohio Railroad officials yesterday completed an inspection of the Cleveland Road. It traverses the soft-coal fields and connects with the Baltimore and Ohio at Wheeling. It also connects with the Cleveland Terminal and Valley Railroad at Cleveland. The latter company is controlled by the Baltimore and Ohio. The Cleveland, Lorain and Wheeling extends from Lorain, Ohio, to Bridgeport, in that State, opposite Wheeling, a distance of 158 miles. It has a branch from Lester to Cleveland, 28 miles.

The acquisition of this property would give the Baltimore and Ohio the shortest line between Wheeling and Cleveland. The Baltimore and Ohio officials are very favorably impressed with its prospects. It is estimated that the earning capacity could be largely increased by the building of the various branches planned.

The Cleveland, Lorain and Wheeling Company is controlled by the New York banking house of Blair & Co. Of capitalization it has $8,000,000 common and $5,000,000 non-cumulative 6 per cent. preferred stock. A dividend of 3 per cent. was paid on the preferred stock in 1896, but none since. There is a first mortgage for $5,000,000 and a consolidated mortgage for $10,000,000 on the property. Of the $10,000,000 the sum of $4,000,000 is reserved for improvements.

Rapid Service to St. Louis.

The Pennsylvania Railroad trains make the journey from New York in twenty-eight hours.—Adv

THE SHAN-HAI-KWAN LINE.

Russia Consents to Withdraw the Terms for Its Return to Which the British Objected.

LONDON, Jan. 19.—The Peking correspondent of The Daily Mail, wiring Saturday, says:

"The British protest has proved effectual and Russia has expunged the obnoxious conditions from the contract to restore the Shan-hai-Kwan Railroad to the British bondholders.

"Count von Waldersee will sign the revised convention to-morrow."

YACHTSMAN KILLED BY CAR.

Capt. Charles Belmont, Who Once Commanded the Nourmahal, Run Down in Brooklyn.

Capt. Charles Belmont, commander of the steam yacht Saranac, owned by J. M. Quintard, was run down and instantly killed last night by a trolley car in Brooklyn. Capt. Belmont lived at Third Avenue and Fifty-second Street, Brooklyn, with his wife and sister-in-law. He had been visiting Capt. John Bessera, a friend, who lives in Twenty-seventh Street, Brooklyn, and was on his way home when killed.

The accident occurred at Third Avenue and Twenty-seventh Street. Capt. Belmont was crossing the first-named thoroughfare when he was struck by Car 992 of the Court Street line. It is said that he stumbled in front of the car and was struck before he could recover himself. He was knocked down and his life was crushed out by the forward truck of the car. The motorman of the car, Thomas Welch, was arrested by a policeman of the Fourth Avenue Station.

Capt. Belmont was well known among yachtsmen along the Atlantic Coast. He was fifty-five years old, and had been an officer on the yachts of a number of well-known yachtsmen of this city and elsewhere. He was at one time first officer of John Jacob Astor's steam yacht Nourmahal. About thirty years ago Capt. Belmont crossed the ocean in the schooner yacht Faustina, being one of the first to make the trip in such a craft.

CHARTER REVISION REPORT.

Not Likely that Extensive Changes Will Be Made This Session.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Jan. 18.—Gov. Odell will send the report of the New York Charter Revision Commission to the Legislature Monday evening. The Governor in his message made such recommendations for revision of the charter as he thought were urgently called for. He will let the report of the Charter Revision Commission speak for itself, it was said to-day.

The programme for an early adjournment of the Legislature does not give much hope that there is to be anything like so extensive a revision of the present New York charter as the Charter Revision Commission committee has recommended. The recommendations for revision made by the commission fill a volume of 750 pages. Many of the recommendations have aroused decided opposition. If hearings upon the suggested changes over which there is contention were given, and they were then brought up for debate in the Senate and Assembly, the session, it is feared, might be prolonged beyond the time for the early adjournment, which has been practically agreed upon.

Chairman Kelsey of the Assembly Committee on Cities has already announced that the committee would act conservatively upon the matter of revising the charter and this is generally taken to mean that there will be no sweeping changes hastily made.

EDUCATIONAL TEST APPROVED.

North Dakota Voters Adopt a Constitutional Amendment Regarding Electors' Qualifications.

Special to The New York Times.

BISMARCK, N. D., Jan. 18.—The voters have adopted a constitutional amendment providing that an educational qualification may be prescribed for electors. A bill introduced in the Senate by Mr. Lewis amends the present law and prescribes such qualification by providing that the voters shall satisfy Boards of Registration that they are able to read intelligently the Constitution of the State in the English language.

This is the first time the State has attempted an educational qualification. Such a bill, if passed and strictly carried out, will make it difficult for a number of foreign-born residents to vote.

There is much discussion of the wisdom of an educational qualification. As a general rule the foreigners in the State are intelligent and able to cope with questions of government, but in view of the heavy arrivals of colonists from Europe in later years it is deemed wise by many to put some such check on the matter of voting as that suggested by the bill.

WEST VIRGINIA COAL FIND.

Enormous Deposit Secured by Davis-Elkins Syndicate—Offer for Monongahela Mines.

Special to The New York Times.

WHEELING, W. Va., Jan. 18.—The report is made of a wonderful discovery of coal due to the careful investigations made by the Davis-Elkins syndicate that controls the mining and transporting of coal in the West Virginia central region. These men, it is said, have secured at an ordinary market price several square miles of land underlaid with a vein of the finest steam coal fifty feet thick, probably the thickest unbroken vein of coal in the world.

The tract lies in Randolph County, and by a peculiar topographical condition there is not a single outcropping in all the area underlaid by the big vein. The coal lies at a point near to the West Virginia Central Railroad, and is so laid in the hills that it can be reached by tunnels.

Other important news comes from Clarksburg, where, at a meeting of a dozen coal operators conducting mines in that region, Col. S. T. Simpson made a proposition, as the representative of New York interests, to buy outright for cash all the coal operations and abutting and contiguous coal lands on the Monongahela River Division of the Baltimore and Ohio and along the line of that road from Grafton to Parkersburg, an aggregate of over 200 miles.

Mr. Simpson's offer contemplates the appraisement of the lands and works and a substantial bonus for the good will and trade. Those to whom the offer was made looked with favor on it, but no definite reply was asked until the others interested shall have received the same proposition.

PHILIP D. ARMOUR'S WILL.

Employes of Armour & Co. Likely to be Well Provided For.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Jan. 18.—The will of the late Philip Danforth Armour will be filed in the Probate Court early next week.

That the employes of Mr. Armour will be liberally remembered in his will is regarded as certain. C. M. Favorite, the highest salaried man in the employ of Armour & Co., is said to be well provided for. A. J. Valentine, manager of the grain elevator departments, is also thought to be among the largest beneficiaries. Others who are thought to have been remembered are P. A. Valentine, financial man; D. J. Simp have passed through. Campbell's nervousness increased to a great extent during the day, and when Prosecutor Emley was getting in his hardest blows against him and his colleagues his restlessness became painful. McAlister and Death tried hard to preserve an appearance of nonchalance.

Ex-Judge Hoffman, who had managed to have his final speech for his clients deferred until the same day when the Prosecutor would make his final effort to convict, began promptly after the opening of court. He had not done much talking throughout the trial, and his forceful oratory was therefore in the nature of a surprise for the jury as well as for the auditors.

"There is one branch of this case," he began, "which has not been placed before you so strongly that I would be warranted in avoiding it. It is this, that when a man is brought into court on such a charge as this, he is not called upon to prove his innocence. The State is called upon to prove his guilt. We start with the presumption of law, humanity, and common sense, that these men here came into court innocent. As in the case when lives are imperiled by fire, shipwreck, or other accident, every effort is made at rescue; so the law masses all its forces to bring a man out from under an indictment to prevent him from going to his death without proof beyond a reasonable doubt.

"No matter what the true facts may be, the law says that you must find these men innocent unless the State of New Jersey produces proof that they are guilty. There is no legal proof in this case that Jennie Bosschieter died of chloral poisoning. There is no legal proof that a criminal assault was committed upon her on the night of Oct. 18.

"Chloral is a drug almost universally used for medical purposes. I presume it can be bought at any drug store. Yet the State, with all its resources, produced no one and nothing to tell where McAlister got the chloral he is said to have used. There were doctors on this stand who were not compelled to testify, yet they declared their inferences that the girl died of chloral poisoning. Eliminate their testimony, and that brings me to the testimony of Dr. Witthaus. He is what is called a chemical expert. He is not infallible. There have been cases, he admitted here, where juries have entirely disagreed with him. There is nothing so uncertain as the opinion of an expert employed for a certain purpose. Dr. Witthaus testified that he didn't know how chloral killed. He didn't know how it affected respiration. He didn't he know? Because his service is uncertain? He said that the ten grains of chloral that he found indicated that a much larger quantity had been given, but he could not tell how much. Throw away the necessary ignorance in his science; say it is only guesswork.

"The administration of poison has not been found, and McAlister, Death, and Campbell have sworn here that no drug was put in the girl's drink. I do not believe that these young men, with their early religious training, their home education, their business careers, would testify falsely, even to save their own lives. Moreover, I cannot conceive where in God's world the authority comes from for a police officer to take a man under arrest and ply him for hours with questions. These officers worked what they call the 'thirty-third degree' to elicit statements which they used against them."

At this point Mr. Hoffman assailed the testimony of Sculthorpe.

"There is one witness in this case who pronounces his own testimony untrue," he declared, "and that witness is Sculthorpe."

Mr. Hoffman finished his speech at 11:40 o'clock. He had talked for an hour and a half.

The accused men looked at one another as though they were pleased with their senior counsel's effort.

Mr. Emley was on his feet almost as soon as Mr. Hoffman had resumed his seat.

"Never before in all the annals of crime did lust and murder awake to such deeds as commemorate that October night," said he. "It is a crime that has filled the heart of man with neverfailing wrath, wherever its story has gone. In our own dear community it has moved public indignation to a degree never known before.

"I have asked for no man's life. I have nothing to do any more than have you with that. If these men had lives tenfold, the forfeit of them all could not atone for the deep degradation of that memorable night. If I shall succeed in convicting these men I shall convict them out of their own mouths. The chivalrous tale that they now bring into court, to tell for the first time in three months, has made no impression upon me. I will, if you will permit, call your attention to the testimony of these men as to when and where and how the meeting at Saal's saloon was brought about.

"Is Kammerling a liar when he says he heard Jennie say to Campbell 'No, no,' or this man Death, on trial for his life, when he says Jennie was speaking to him, and about his marriage? Is Death the saintly bearer of the truth?"

Prosecutor Emley went over the testimony step by step, and finally concluded with an admonition to the jury to do its duty.

"No matter what may have been the social status or character of this girl, she was just as much entitled to protection under the law as the most stately queen which walks the streets," he said. "Justice holds the scales evenly between the State of New Jersey and the prisoners at the bar, and in the name of the daughters in your homes, for the sake of the protection of the maturer women of the land, I ask you for a verdict. Give heed to the promptings of right and wrong within you, and if you heed them you will bring in a just verdict."

THE JUDGE'S CHARGE.

The Justice's charge was brief. While he was delivering it, the courtroom became painfully silent. It was as follows:

"The testimony has been skillfully presented to you and it is only the duty of the Court to apply the law. The defendants are charged under one count in the indictment of murder in the first degree. There is a second count, that on the same day they committed a rape. You may find some of the defendants guilty or some not guilty of murder or of rape, or you may find them found not guilt. Each defendant is entitled to the benefit of any reasonable doubt. If he be proved guilty of the higher crime it is murder in the first degree. If there is a reasonable doubt, he may be convicted of the lower grade of crime, or acquitted. The mind must be clear regardless of the consequences. On you rests the responsibility of the question of facts.

"I call your attention to the occurrence on the Getfle Road, where the girl was taken from the hack. The State contends that she was insensible, and that while in that condition she was lifted from the carriage and placed on the blanket. Because of what was done there a finger ring fell from her right finger, and a pin from her dress. These may throw some light on the degree of force that may have been used. The hackman says he saw the group around the girl.

"The defendants deny the assault. It is to be considered whether these men had any motive to swear falsely. Had the hackman or the police any motive to swear falsely? The conduct of the defendants in the saloon and after they had gone out throw some light on this. The legal rule as to the confession of Death is that it is only evidence as to his own guilt, but cannot be used against the other defendants. So when you are weighing the evidence of Death and Campbell you should also consider the testimony of the officers.

"Now, for the graver charge of murder. It is charked that in Saal's saloon she was drugged. If at the Rock Road the crime was committed it is easier to believe that the preparation for it was made in Saal's saloon. McAlister, it is said, ordered four drinks, and took them into the room himself. Then the hackman took the officers to the place where the bottle was found, and it contained chloral hydrate. Prof. Witthaus found ten grains of chloral in the girl's stomach. Death has said that McAlister put knock-out drops in the drinks of Jennie. She became sleepy and gave all the symptoms of chloral poisoning.

"The defendants deny that McAlister took any drinks to that room. Dr. Vanderberg did not testify that he found any chloral hydrates by his tests. Dr. Witthaus said he was not satisfied with any one test. It was reasonable for him to want all his tests to be positive.

"You must remember that the confession of one man was not evidence of guilt in another.

"The State contends that the object of administering the drug was to reduce the girl to insensibility so that one or all could assault her, and that she died under the drug. If this is correct, they are all guilty of murder in the first degree.

"If you find them guilty or not guilty of rape or of murder you must declare, in the case of murder, whether in the first or second degree. These are grave charges. They involve life and death. Also that punishment may be meted out, but not to convict an innocent party. Declare your results without fear or favor, and I pray God you may be guided to a just verdict."

The trial of Kerr, the other accused man, will probably begin a week from next Monday. It was set down for next Monday, but it is thought the Prosecutor will take a week's rest before taking up another capital case.

Three New Smallpox Cases.

Three new cases of small pox were reported to the Board of Health yesterday. All were removed to the Reception Hospital, at the foot of East Sixteenth Street. The patients are Rose Pinto, two years old, of 274 Mott Street; Bernard Hess, thirty-seven years old, of 413 East Fiftieth Street, and Mary Metz, fifty-eight years old, of 146 Amsterdam Avenue. It is said that two other cases have previously been removed from the Mott Street house.

HEARD ABOUT TOWN.

Now that Christmas Day and Christmas gifts are so far away in the background as to be an old story, it may not be amiss to tell a little story about some gifts that were received by Max Hirsch, the Treasurer at the Metropolitan Opera House. First it must be known that Max Hirsch does not use tobacco in any form, and that the only use he has for the cigars so freely tendered him by patrons of the Opera House is to bestow them on friends of his who do smoke. That fact doesn't happen to be generally known. But the odor of smoke that is so often detected at the box office is a fragrance that Max has nothing to do with. Shortly before the regulation time for the reception of presents at "the merry Yuletide" season, bundles addressed to Max Hirsch began to come to the Opera House. In the few intervals of rest he has that worthy amused himself by opening them and inspecting their contents. The first contained a handsome cigarette holder in a case trimmed with silver filigree work. Then there came a cigar holder with gold trimmings, followed by a couple of boxes of cigars. Pipes, more cigarette holders, cigar holders, packages of cigarettes and smoking tobacco, match boxes, and everything that a smoker could desire or dream of poured into the big yellow building for the popular young Treasurer until he was overcome with weariness, and suspected some one of having played a practical joke on him by notifying all his friends that he was going to open a cigar store. Things reached a climax on Christmas morning, when there arrived from Mme. Melba a superb case containing three pipes that would have filled the heart of any smoker with envy. The pipes were of the most perfect French brier wood. Their amber mouthpieces were simply perfect in their way, and the mountings were of silver of the most graceful and elaborate designs imaginable. It was almost heartrending to think that such beautiful presents were useless to their recipient. Max Hirsch is now trying to decide which it is better for him to do—learn to smoke, so as to be able to use his presents; go into the collection of smoking apparatus as a fad, with the Metropolitan Museum of Art as their ultimate destination, or have a sign prepared and posted where all his friends may see it, reading, "Much obliged but I do not use tobacco."

***

To a grillroom frequenter of one of the larger of the city clubs the death of Ignatius Donnelly recalled the experience of a young lady of Boston who was a visitor here one Winter when both Col. Robert Ingersoll and Ignatius Donnelly were on the lecture platform. The friends whom the Boston lady was visiting were residents of Brooklyn, then an independent city at the other end of the big bridge. The modern Athenian was known to her friends as a graduate of a female college, and a regular attendant at several of the lecture courses of Boston's midwinter, which are there considered the height of mental dissipation and exhilaration. So the Brooklyn people decided that the Bostonian should have her fill of her accustomed mental luxuries. First they took her to hear Col. Ingersoll deliver one of his agnostic lectures. Then she was treated to the luxury of a discourse by the Minnesota sage, who loved Shakespeare none the less, but Bacon much the more. As a tidbit she was then dragged over to this city to hear Jenness Miller lecture on the evils of modern dress, which was just then a fad in certain circles.

Early the following morning the young lady from Boston appeared at the breakfast table in traveling costume and announced her intention of returning to Boston at once. Pressed for a reason for her sudden and unexpected departure, the young lady remarked: "To be very frank with you, I cannot stand the Philistinism of you New Yorkers any longer. I have been here but three days, and you have already taken away from me my God, my Shakespeare, and my cheese. I can't stand the strain any longer, and must get back to Boston and sanity at once."

***

Overheard at the bargain counter:

"Mary Gannon told me at the soiree on Saturday that her mistress gave her a hundred-dollar bill for her Christmas."

"Did you tell her you heard the little ducks a quacking? And did you say to her that Ann Flaherty's mistress handed down to her a pair of Alaska sealskin earrings? Mary Gannon's hundred-dollar bill, indeed!

***

He will be a hard man to please who cannot be satisfied as to the demands of his stomach at the markets these days. There are now to be had the best strawberries ever received in this market at this season of the year, and at about one-half the usual prices. Boxes of the luscious-appearing fruit could be had at 60 cents most any day during the past week. Spring lamb at a very fancy price. Southern shad that are both small and bony, and with roes rather less than half developed, can be had if one cares to pay the price demanded for them. As side dishes for these delicacies there are fresh green peas, string beans, cucumbers, tomatoes, asparagus, and green peppers, all products of the forcing houses in the semi-tropical belt to the south of us that is just beginning to forward its out-of-season products. Of course the mushrooms and lettuce to be had are in their prime. The imagination has to be exercised to some extent to find true goodness in the forced fruits and vegetables that such houses as make a specialty of this sort of thing have for sale. There are a few new potatoes about the size of bullets and some small onions of the end of the century's production in the West Indies that are to be had if one has a fancy for these. It sounds well to speak of them, but the flavor is not yet that which suits the gourmet. Yet all these things can be had at the fashionable restaurants, with the dainty and delicious oyster crab served as a salad in the hearts of lettuce that are of a tint delicate enough to satisfy both eye and taste if one happens to have had a good day on Pine Street. But for the flush times down there the supplies of these luxuries would far exceed the demand. The successful speculator is, however, always an epicure.

***

It was a bit late in the season. But the well-wisher was just home from a European trip and had had no opportunity to extend the greetings of the season to friends since the opening of the new century. So it sounded a bit funny when, in his enthusiasm at welcoming one of his old pals in the lobby of a fashionable hotel yesterday, he shouted, rather to the mystification of the crowd that was about the ticker: "Happy New Year to you, old man, and may every bet you make on the ponies the coming century be a winning one!" To those who happened to know the party addressed the welcome did seem very opportune. It was certainly fairly bubbling over with that touch of true friendship that is seen much too rarely.

***

A favorite place for many New Yorkers who have a fancy for pickerel fishing through the ice has always been Bantam Lake, in Connecticut. Charmingly situated in the hills just at the edge of the picturesque old town of Litchfield—birthplace of Henry Ward Beecher and his famous brothers and sisters—the lake has been for years the home of large and gamy pickerel. The fish are sluggish and heavy, as are all other pickerel in the Summer months, when many New Yorkers make Litchfield their home. But in the Winter, when Bantam Lake is covered with ice, the fish becomes voracious and also assumes a phase as a fighter, when hooked, that warrants him in being referred to as gamy. An old Bantam Lake frequenter just back from a week's rest there from the excitement and fever of Wall Street says that the pickerel fishermen will have to go on short rations and find other places than the big fireplace in the sitting room of the Lakeside Inn for swapping stories about their catches of fish, as the inn has just been destroyed by fire. The place was a model as a fisherman's resort, having been built but a couple of years ago for this very purpose. It was there, too, that there was a cook who was deservedly famous for her way of cooking that "pig of the waters," as the pickerel is sometimes known. There was a sauce concocted in the kitchen of the inn that was toothsome in the extreme when applied to the pickerel. Without the fun of snaking the big fish out of the lake will be about half gone. So popular was the place, however, that the work of rebuilding will be begun in the early Spring as soon as the frost gets out of the earth, so as to give the workmen a chance to clean up the ground now covered with a charred and frozen pile of snow-covered ruins.

TWO MISSION WORKERS CLASH OVER TERRITORY

Mr. Tjader's East Side Project Alarms Mr. Tyndall.

FEARS FOR LABOR OF YEARS

Mr. Tyndall's Little Church May Be Overshadowed by a Movement Backed by Capital.

Richard Tjader, formerly a foreign missionary and an associate of the late Dwight L. Moody, has caused no little excitement in Presbyterian circles. Not long ago he organized the International Missionary Union, a body that is regarded as a rival by those interested in the Presbyterian Foreign Mission Board and similar bodies in other churches. Now he is planning to establish a gigantic philanthropic and religious institution on the upper east side, exactly in the centre of a territory which has been chosen by one of the most industrious of Presbyterian home missionaries, the Rev. Henry M. Tyndall.

When it was learned some weeks ago that the land at the northeast corner of Lexington Avenue and One Hundredth Street had been purchased for use by a religious institution, no information as to the benefactor's or the promoter's name could be obtained. But it came to light yesterday that Mr. Tjader was to be in charge of the new establishment, whatever it might be. Rumor said that money for the undertaking was being furnished by Mr. Tjader's father-in-law, Samuel Thorne, President of the Pennsylvania Coal Company and Director in half a dozen other large corporations.

From one of Mr. Tjader's assistant missionaries on the east side it was learned that the land had been bought for about $90,000; that it stretched to One Hundred and First Street and ran back through half the block toward Third Avenue, and that it was planned to erect thereon a ten-story building designed for a variety of ends, including two meeting places of more than the ordinary size, reading rooms, libraries and school rooms. Eventually, said the informant, Mr. Tjader planned to have a hospital in the building, and from the beginning it was purposed to train men and women for the foreign mission field. One of the meeting places will be a roof garden, for use in the heat of Summer.

Mr. Tjader was out of town yesterday afternoon. He was not at home last night. Samuel Thorne was also away from the city, but his son, Samuel Thorne, Jr., did not deny that his father was the backer of the proposed institution. Neither did he admit the rumor to be true.

"You will have to see my father about that," he said. "He is out of the city just now."

MR. TJADER AT NORTHFIELD.

Richard Tjader is not widely known among church people here, but those who have met him say that he is a man of ability, a singer of considerable talent, and an attractive speaker. Several Summers ago he spent a vacation at Northfield, Mass., the home of Mr. Moody. It was reported there at the time that he was a Swedish Count. Miss Thorne, who afterward became his wife, was in the town at the same time, as was her father, who was known to be much interested in religious enterprises. The home of the Thornes in this city is at 8 East Fifty-fifth Street. Mr. Thorne is a Director of the Bank of America, the Electric Gas Company, the New Brunswick Railway, the New York Mutual Gaslight Company, and the Sixth Avenue Railroad, and a Trustee of the Central Trust Company and the New York Life Insurance and Trust Company.

The part of the city in which Mr. Tjader has begun his missionary operations is the area east of Park Avenue and extending from Ninetieth to One Hundred and Third Street. At 200 East One Hundredth Street he has already established a temporary meeting house, to be used as the headquarters of his movement until the completion of the new building in Lexington Avenue. Associated with him are four assistants, one man and three women, his wife being among the last.

In the same territory the Rev. Mr. Tyndall has been working for the last nine years, having set up three meeting places known as the Tabernacles, Nos. 1, 2, and 3. During that time he has been collecting money to erect a church which would be the only English Protestant house of worship in all that district of Italian Catholics and Hebrews. A few weeks ago his hopes were realized when ground was broken for the edifice, the sum of $27,000 having been promised as a result of the minister's labor of years. The money had come in in small subscriptions, some of them not amounting to more than quarters and dimes. The minister, in the meanwhile, had subsisted on the scantiest of salaries, having resigned a comparatively lucrative position to undertake the work of carrying the Protestant faith to a section of the city in which there had hitherto been hardly an effort in that direction.

MR. TYNDALL'S FRIENDS AROUSED.

It is contended by Mr. Tyndall and his friends that in the district the people who are not Hebrews or Catholics number a very few hundreds. They say that if Mr. Tjader carries out his elaborate plans there will be hardly any one left to attend the church that is being built by Mr. Tyndall. For, they say, both the grown folk and the children will flock where there are offered to them the most attractions, and they will abandon the simpler church for the more ornate one, with its libraries, reading rooms, schools, more beautiful music, and more outward show throughout. One clergyman, a friend of Mr. Tyndall, said last night:

"It will be a crying shame if Mr. Tjader does this. There is no need for both of them up there, and no newcomer should seek to take the fruits of the weary years of work that Mr. Tyndall has devoted to that part of town. He sacrificed much to go there. Before he undertook it he was an assistant at the Broome Street Tabernacle, with a good salary. He thought he would be able to do some good in this section of the upper east side; so he left his place and went there.

"First he rented a store and turned it into a meeting house, calling it the People's Tabernacle No. 1. After that he rented two other places for the same purpose. Gradually the results of his work began to show themselves. He started a subscription for the new church. Various clergymen in the city helped him, and meetings were held that resulted in the swelling of the fund. He sought contributions of a few cents besides. He spent his days and his nights at work, thinking little of anything outside the services in his meeting houses and the hope of raising enough money to put up the permanent building. At last he got the amount, and work was begun on the structure. His dream of years was about to be realized, when he heard that a stranger, with plenty of money at his command, was coming in to take his place.

"It looks as if Mr. Tjader has a fondness for rivalry. Not long age he founded the new mission board. He is now its Secretary. Dr. Cuthbert Hall has become interested in this organization, which is a surprise to most of us. He was considered one of the best friends of the Presbyterian Board of Missions, and nobody seems to understand how he happens to be fostering this rival body. Mr. Tjader is, as far as I know, a good man. I have nothing to say against him, but there are many who think with me that he is not doing the right thing in setting up this gigantic institution in opposition to Mr. Tyndall."

CONTROVERSY, NOT A FIGHT.

An attempt to see Dr. Hall yesterday was unsuccessful. He, it is said, is Mr. Tjader's adviser, and knows all about the plans for the new institution. He is also a friend of Mr. Tyndall. There is no bitterness between the two contestants personally, and the controversy could hardly be called a "fight," as some have dubbed it. Mr. Tyndall's friends are more positive in the expression of their opinions than he himself is. One of them said:

"He has six missionaries whom he employs for $5 and board per week. They visit the people of the district under his supervision. He collects contributions for the furtherance of the work, and if anything is left over after he has paid them he gets it himself. Thus he makes $50 a month sometimes, more often less, sometimes nothing at all. This is the way he has lived ever since he went into the neighborhood, never making nearly so good a livelihood as when he was in Broome Street. One of his three meeting houses, which was at 1,410 Madison Avenue, he has just closed because the new church will soon be completed."

RAILROADS BEHIND THE REMSEN CANAL BILL?

Could Get Control of Canal Traffic If Measure Passes.

Would Not Be Prohibited from Buying Up the Stock of Canal Transportation Companies.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Jan. 18.—In the office of the Superintendent of Public Works the bill, introduced by Assemblyman Remsen of Brooklyn yesterday, for the repeal of Chapter 935 of the Laws of 1896, entitled "An act to amend the transportation corporation law by extending its provisions to canals and other waterways, and reducing the minimum of capitalization," is viewed with suspicion. As the bill stands, it would, it is asserted, enable railroad companies to do away with canal competition. While Superintendent Partridge was not prepared to make a full statement of his views on the bill to-day, he did say that the bill was not in line with his recommendation. The recommendation which Superintendent Partridge made was as follows:

The repeal of so much of Chapter 935 of the laws of 1896 as prevents the formation of canal transportation companies with a capital in excess of $50,000, has frequently been recommended by my predecessors. I wish to go on record as strenuously urging the repeal. This would make possible the organization of companies to own and control both lake and canal boats, as well as transfer elevators in New York. A reduction of freight rates between lake ports and New York City would be inevitable.

The criticism against Mr. Remsen's bill is that it does more than repeal "so much of Chapter 935 of the Laws of 1896 as prevents the formation of canal transportation companies with a capital in excess of $50,000." It repeals the whole act.

In his explanation of the purpose of his bill Mr. Remsen said in effect that its object was to do just what Gov. Odell in his message and Superintendent Partridge in his report urged should be done. It is possible, therefore, that Mr. Remsen has been unwittingly led into error as to the difference in scope between his bill and the recommendations of the Governor and the Superintendent of Public Works. The law which Mr. Remsen's bill would repeal is as follows:

The people of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. Section 10 of Chapter 566 of the Laws of 1890, entitled "An act in relation to transportation corporations, excepting railroads, constituting Chapter 40 of the General Laws," is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Section 10. Formation of Corporation. Seven or more persons may become a corporation, for the purpose of building for their own use, equipping, furnishing, purchasing, chartering, navigating, or owning steam, sail, or other boats, ships, vessels, or other property to be used in any lawful business, trade, commerce, or navigation upon the ocean, or any seas, sounds, lakes, rivers, canals, or other waterways, and for the carriage, transportation, or storing of lading, freight, mails, property, or passengers thereon by making, signing, acknowledging, and filing a certificate stating the name of the corporation, the specific object for which it is formed, the waters to be navigated, and in case of ocean steamers, the ports between which such vessels are intended to be navigated, the amount of its capital stock, which shall not be less than $5,000 nor more than $4,000,000; the term of its existence not to exceed fifty years; the number of shares of which the capital stock shall consist, the number of Directors thereof, not less than five nor more than thirteen; the names of the Directors for the first year, and the name of the city, village, or town and county in which its principal office is to be situated, the number of shares of stock which each subscriber of the certificate agrees to take, which must in the aggregate equal 10 per centum of the capital, and at least 10 per centum of such subscription has been paid in cash.

Such certificate shall have attached thereto, as a part thereof, the affidavit of at least three Directors, to the effect that 10 per centum of such capital stock has been in good faith subscribed, and at least 10 per centum of which must be paid in cash. No railroad corporation shall have, hold, or own any stock in any such corporation, and no corporation organized under this act, and designed to navigate any of the canals of this State, shall have a capital stock exceeding $50,000.

It is apparent that the passage of Mr. Remsen's bill would repeal the clause which prohibits railroad companies from holding stock in any corporation formed for the purpose of doing business on the canals. The way would thus be opened, it is said, for railroad companies to control canal competition by buying up the stock of canal corporations.

The bill introduced by Mr. Cooley of Westchester last year was directly in line with the recommendation of Superintendent of Public Works Partridge. Mr. Cooley did not re-introduce his bill at this session. If the scope of Mr. Remsen's bill is different from what he intended he might have avoided making a mistake by consulting with Superintendent Partridge before he introduced his bill. This he did not do. The Department of Public Works had no knowledge of Mr. Remsen's bill until it was introduced.

Superintendent Partridge's annual report will go to the Governor Monday. In it he will renew his recommendation for the repeal of the prohibition against the incorporation of canal transportation companies with a capital larger than $50,000.

TO FIGHT CANAL IMPROVEMENT

Senator Ambler Heads the Opposition to State Engineer's Plan.

ALBANY, Jan. 18.—Legislators opposed to the enlargement of the State canal system have set to work to sidetrack the $62,000,000 improvement proposition that has been submitted by State Engineer and Surveyor Bond, and upon which that official has been busily figuring for several months past. Senator Ambler, in the Senate, and Assemblyman Hatch, in the House, head the opposition movement. They are very bitter in their denunciation of the improvement scheme, and go so far as to contend that the State's "big malarial ditches" had better be filled in right away and good American oats and rye sown along the route.

It is the opinion of the anti-canalers that before State Engineer Bond gets through with his figuring, he will have to admit that the cost will be nearer $70,000,000 than $62,000,000. There is a gap in the proposed route which, it is said, the State Engineer has not figured on at all as yet. It will depend upon whether rock, shale, sand, or clay is found along this gap, to be able to state how much over $62,000,000 the cost of the proposed waterway will be.

Senator Ambler this morning circulated an anti-canal statement in the Senate and about the corridors that has for its caption, "Shall the State of New York Construct a New Canal?" The circular claims that the canals have outlived their usefulness. Traffic, it points out, has steadily diminished, and the cost of canal transportation is 50 per cent. greater than railroad transportation. Canal men, the circular goes on to say, all admit that the waterways must be enlarged or abandoned. The circular concludes thus:

On every ground the people of the State of New York should object to the barge canal proposition. The same influences which suggested and profited by the nine-million expenditure are, of course, urging this one, and there are others to whom the prospect of almost unlimited loot is an incentive that causes them to exert every pressure upon members of the Legislature and State officers to induce them to favor the proposition. The farmers of the State of New York should be especially interested in defeating it, for upon them the burden of taxation will fall with most crushing weight.

As a further evidence of their opposition, Senator Ambler and Assemblyman Hatch have both introduced concurrent resolutions to have the State Constitution amended so as to permit the sale of the canals.

THE GRIPPE.

seems to be epidemic, attacking both old and young, rich and poor alike. It cannot be prevented. The best thing to do is to go to bed at once, consult your Doctor, and as soon as you get over the acute attack, commence the use of SCOTT'S EMULSION. That will restore the vitality, and prevent Pneumonia or Bronchitis. It is a natural remedy.

Send for trial bottle free.

SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl street, New York.

STATE EXCISE REPORT.

Law Working Smoothly and No Radical Change Is Desirable.

ALBANY, Jan. 18.—The annual report of State Commissioner of Excise Henry H. Lyman was transmitted to-day to the Legislature. The report gives the usual statement showing the financial transactions for the fiscal year 1900, which is as follows:

Total amount collected	$12,622,957
Expenses of the department	280,895
Total number of certificates of all kinds issued during the fiscal year.	31,530
Number of certificates in force Sept. 30, 1900	27,747
Ratio of expense collection to gross amount collected, 2.66 per cent.

In addition to the transactions of the fiscal year, the report includes a review of excise matters for the past five years, and briefly discusses the question of liquor traffic and legislation bearing thereon in the past.

It gives results of prohibitory laws in States where the same have been tried, as compared with high license; gives extracts from colonial statutes showing that the people of the State to-day are wrestling with the very same questions and difficulties as their ancestors, in trying to restrict the trade in the interest of good order and morals.

Under the head of fake hotels, the report says that many of these places are not necessary for the accommodation of the public, but have been created simply for the purpose of obtaining the Sunday privilege, and suggests that perhaps a remedy might be found by an increased tax on places which sell liquor on Sunday.

The report says: "The law has from time to time been amended to meet apparent defects, more particularly in its administrative features, until it is now working smoothly and satisfactorily. No radical change in its main features or general scope has been made, nor are any such changes desirable."

PLAN TO PAY ALDERMEN.

Change in Charter for Second-Class Cities to be Advocated.

ALBANY, Jan. 18.—A bill amending the White charter of second-class cities will be introduced in the Legislature during February. A conference of Aldermanic committees from the four second-class cities will be held in Albany early in February, and then will be considered the propositions to be submitted by the Mayors and Corporation Counsels of Troy, Rochester, Syracuse, and Albany.

One suggestion which is strongly favored by Rochester Aldermen is that the Aldermen of the various cities receive an annual salary. In Rochester the Aldermen formerly received $750 per annum, but no salaries were received in the other cities. The Albany Aldermen now favor the salary suggestion, and believe that $500 would be the proper amount. Rochester Aldermen would like their salary placed at $1,000, while Syracuse and Troy Aldermen will be content to abide by the action of the Councils in the other cities.

Another important amendment proposed by Corporation Counsel Andrews of Albany is to permit the purchase of goods amounting to $200 without being obliged to advertise for bids. The limit under the White charter is $50.

Patronage Under Transfer Tax Bill.

ALBANY, Jan. 18.—The bill introduced in the Legislature yesterday to provide special transfer tax appraisers for Albany, Erie, New York, and other counties of the State authorizes the State Controller to make thirty-three appointments, with aggregate salaries of $69,400 per year. The bill will save the State over $100,000, but it puts a great patronage in the hands of the Controller.

Time Labels on Canned Goods.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Jan. 18.—To-day Assemblyman Remsen of Brooklyn introduced a bill the object of which is to prevent stale canned goods from being imposed upon consumers. It provides that any person or corporation engaged in the canning or packing of fruits or other foodstuffs who shall pack or cause to be packed in any can or receptacle such food, without stamping on each can the day, month, and year when such stuffs were packed, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

Bills to Reduce Ferry Fares.

ALBANY, Jan. 18.—Assemblyman Hawkins introduced a bill to-day which provides that the fare of each foot passenger upon ferries plying between Tenth and Twenty-third Streets, Manhattan, and Greenpoint Avenue, Brooklyn, shall not be more than 2 cents. The bill further provides that from 6 A. M. to 8 A. M. one boat shall be run from each side of the river every ten minutes. Assemblyman Hawkins introduced a bill providing that on ferries plying between East Thirty-fourth Street, Manhattan, and Borden Avenue, Queens, and on ferries plying between East Ninety-second Street, Manhattan, and Fulton Avenue, in Queens, the toll shall be not more than 2 cents for each foot passenger with a bicycle.

To License Massagists.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Jan. 18.—Assemblyman Fitzgerald to-day introduced a bill compelling all electro-massage establishments to take out a license and placing their operations under the regulation of the Board of Health of the city or town in which they are situated. The bill provides that a person desiring to practice massage shall receive a license from a local Board of Health, for which a fee of $10 is to be charged. The license shall not be granted unless the applicant shall satisfy the board that he is a person of good moral character and unless he is indorsed as to knowledge and skill by at least three registered and legally qualified physicians. The bill is aimed at a number of so-called electro-massage establishments which are now flourishing in the City of New York. Violation of the law is punishable by a fine of $50.

Miscellaneous Bills.

ALBANY, Jan. 18.—These bills were introduced in the Assembly to-day:

Mr. BRYAN—Appropriating $325,000 for the support and maintenance of the several State prisons.

Mr. PRICE—Amending the Penal Code so as to provide that there shall not be any limitation of time within which a prosecution for kidnaping must be commenced.

Mr. DICKEY—Providing that non-residents' real estate shall be sold for unpaid taxes only when all the returned taxes remaining unpaid shall amount to more than $2.

Priori May Get Another Reprieve.

ALBANY, Jan. 18.—Gov. Odell will give a hearing on Monday on an application for a further reprieve for Lorenzo Priori, the convicted murderer, of New York City, who was sentenced to be executed during the week commencing Jan. 7, but was reprieved for thirty days on the ground that there was newly discovered evidence. At the hearing on Monday Gov. Odell will decide if the new evidence is sufficient to warrant a further reprieve, that Priori may be able to go before the Supreme Court to ask for a new trial.

Trying to Reopen Ice Trust Case.

ALBANY, Jan. 18.—Deputy Attorney General Coman to-day made a motion before the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court that it certify to the Court of Appeals the questions involved in the Ice Trust decision, made by that court in November, in which it decided in favor of the American Ice Company. The motion was opposed by Robert G. Scherer of this city for the American Ice Company, who contended that the questions involved were not appealable to the Court of Appeals. The Appellate Division reserved decision.

$4,103,000 Bankrupt in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Jan. 18.—Liabilities which are estimated at $4,103,000, but which may not reach one-fourth of that amount, are scheduled in a petition in bankruptcy filed here to-day by Moses H. Naber. Most of the indebtedness is a stookholder's possible liability upon subscription for 39,375 shares of capital stock of the Caswell Stock Car and Transportation Company, now defunct.

In April, 1892, Naber, with the aid of other parties, formed the Caswell Stock Car and Transportation Company. He subscribed for $3,997,500 worth of the capital stock, and was elected Secretary of the corporation.

Brewing Company Increases Its Capital.

Special to The New York Times.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Jan. 18.—The capital stock of the Schlitz Brewing Company has been increased from $8,000,000 to $12,000,000.

CONFEDERATES DINE AND DANCE

Bishop Dudley Delivers a Eulogy of Gen. Lee—Gen. Wheeler Compares the Casualties of Civil War and European Battles.

The eleventh annual banquet of the Confederate Veteran Camp of New York was held at the Waldorf-Astoria last night. Major Edward Owen, Commander of the Camp, presided, and at the guests' tables were:

Bishop U. Dudley,	John C. Hertle,
Bishop Thomas F. Ostler,	Camp Chaplain Rev. G. S. Baker,
Clarence Cary, Lieut. Com. of Camp;	Edwin B. Hay of Washington,
Augustus Van Wyck, President North Carolina Society;	Rev. Henry M. MacCracken, Chancellor University of New York;
Dr. Wm. M. Polk, Pres. Southern Society;	William McAdoo, ex-Ass't Sec. of Navy;
Post Com. Dr. J. H. Parker,	J. Hampden Robb,
Post Com. Dr. G. T. Harrison,	Gov. Hugh S. Thompson,
Col. and Mrs. John C. Calhoun,	Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Caskin,
Mrs. Jefferson Davis,	Samuel H. Buck,
Dr. and Mrs. J. Marvis Dew,	Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Burras,
Mrs. Edward Owen,	Mr. and Mrs. J. R. McCay,
Miss Mary Owen,	Fred C. Rogers,
Mr. and Mrs. B. Rush Smith,	Dr. G. Bolling Lee,
Miss H. Smith,	Col. and Mrs. W. F. Owens,
Emerson McMillin,	Hugh R. Garden,
Col. T. P. Ochiltree,	Ex-Judge W. M. K. Olcott,
Gen. Joseph Wheeler,	R. W. Gwathmey,
Capt. C. P. Echols,	Col. and Mrs. A. G. Dickinson,
Col. W. P. Edgerton, United States Army;	Charles B. Rouss,
J. F. O'Shaughnessy,	Willis B. Dowd,
Patrick Calhoun,
Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Raoul,

A letter from Gov. Odell, expressing regret at his inability to be present, was read. In it the Governor said:

I believe that such organizations as yours, composed of men of Southern birth now resident in our Northern cities, have done more toward wiping out sectional lines and bringing about the present era of good feeling and good-fellowship than any other single cause.

Emerson McMillin, Senior Vice Commander, G. A. R., also sent a letter of regret, in which he said:

To my mind, it is no disparagement of others to say that there were two men of the civil war period whose transcendent abilities are conspicuous above all others, the lustre of whose deeds of greatness and goodness grows brighter with time. These two men were Abraham Lincoln and Robert E. Lee, the noblest types of American manhood.

Just before the speaking began the orchestra played patriotic airs, concluding with "The Star-Spangled Banner." The audience rose. Major Owen spoke briefly, and then gave the toast, The President and the Army and Navy of the United States; Invisible in Peace—Invincible in War." This was drunk by all standing.

Bishop Dudley then spoke, in part, as follows:

"There are men here who fought against our theories of government, and yet we commemorate a struggle that resulted in a reunion of liberty which the world could not have realized before it came about. Ours is a Nation strong to resist when attack is made upon its life. Aye, stronger still to give back all the privileges of citizenship to those who fought to achieve her destruction, and that generosity is not lost."

The Bishop then ran over the salient features of Gen. Lee's life, and, referring to his experience at West Point, said:

"I cannot but think that the degeneration of boyhood teasing into cruel hazing such as a Congressional committee has uncovered, would not have come to pass in his time. [Applause.] His boys were too brave for cruelty."

The Bishop referred to Lee as the hero of the greatest struggle ever made by men against overwhelming odds, and added:

"And yet it is said there is no place for him in the Valhalla, in the Westminster Abbey of America, so says a great New York journal, lest Washington and Jefferson, the Virginian rebels, be offended, and they were rebels against the best Government the world had ever seen up to that time. [Laughter and applause.]

"Fortunately, the good sense of the electors was such as to decide the matter differently. Lee's name will stand. But even if it had not, the judement of men would have built him a Temple of Honor of his own."

There were loud calls for

GREAT DAY OF THE PRUSSIAN CELEBRATION

Kaiser Leads in a Continuous Series of Functions.

He Is Congratulated by President McKinley—Service at the Schloss—Many Decorations Bestowed.

BERLIN, Jan. 18.—Among the principal events to-day in connection with the celebration of the bi-centenary of the Kingdom of Prussia were the presentation of congratulations to the Emperor from foreign powers, a solemn service in the Schloss Chapel, and a banquet in the castle this evening to the visiting Princes, the foreign Ministers, and the great notabilities of the empire.

To-day was the second day of the festivities, and all Berlin was in gala attire. The Boerse, banks, Government offices, and courts were all closed, and special thanksgiving commemorative services were held in the churches. The historic quarter between the castle and Brandenburg Gate was densely thronged, and the animation of the scene was increased by the coming and going of Princes and other notable persons and the marching of troops. Special interest was excited by the companies of troops sent to bear the laurel-wreathed standards from the castle to the service in the garrison church, to which they marched, headed by bands of music.

After visiting the Sieges Allee and the mausoleum at Charlottenburg and depositing wreaths on the monument to King Frederick I. and the coffin of Emperor William I., the Emperor returned to the castle and received in audience the Ambassadors, Ministers, special envoys, and deputations sent by foreign States.

MR. McKINLEY'S CONGRATULATIONS.

The United States Ambassador, Andrew D. White, presented to Emperor William the congratulations of President McKinley on the bicentenary of the coronation (Jan. 18, 1701) of the first King of Prussia. The presentation was made at the Court reception, which was held in the Knights' Hall at the Schloss, after the newly appointed knights of the Order of the Red Eagle, the Royal Order of the Crown, and the Royal Order of the House of Hohenzollern had been presented to the Emperor and Empress. During this ceremony the Princesses stood at the right of the throne, and the Crown Prince, with the other Princes, at the left.

Mr. White, when delivering President McKinley's congratulations, emphasized the fact that it was a Hohenzollern who first recognized the independence of the United States, and also that the first commercial treaty negotiated by the United States was made with Prussia. He mentioned appreciatively Germany's liberal policy in opening her universities and technical schools to foreigners.

Emperor William, in reply, pointed out that nations of German blood must hold together in the great controversies of the world. Subsequently the Emperor received the German Princes attending the festivities on behalf of their respective sovereigns.

Then followed the ceremony of the coronation of the knights and the reception of the new knights of the various orders.

Service was held in the Schloss Chapel at noon, and was especially impressive. All the guests at the reception were present. The Rev. Dr. Dryander officiated, taking his text from the First Book of Samuel, Chapter vii., 12, and the Gospel according to St. John, Chapter iii., 30. Several choirs, accompanied by a band, sang the Ninety-eighth Psalm, Luther's Hymn, and an old Dutch hymn. Dr. Dryander's sermon was a historical survey showing that God had been with the Prussian Kingdom. During the benediction, at a sign from the Schloss, a battery of Life Guards fired a salute of 101 guns.

LUNCHEON TO 1,200 PERSONS.

At 2 o'clock luncheon was served. Ambassador White and the other foreign representatives who had presented congratulations to the Emperor were among the 1,200 persons present, as were also the visiting Princes and the new knights. The luncheon was given in the gorgeous White Hall. The chief table was in the form of a hollow square, and there were tables also in the galleries. The Emperor made only a few remarks, proposing the health of the new knights.

This was the first time foreign Ambassadors and Ministers had attended an "ordensfest," a function given every Jan. 18 for the members of the Prussian orders, the reason being that this year the ordensfest coincided with the bicentenary celebration.

The imperial addresses to the Army and Navy have been gazetted. The former thanks the Prussian Army for its devotion to his Majesty, and adds:

"So long as this spirit binds the army to its Kings, no storms need be feared, and the Prussian eagle will proudly and unswervingly pursue its lofty flight for the welfare of Prussia and Germany."

To the navy his Majesty, after alluding to the establishment of the Brandenburg fleet by the Great Elector, the navy's regeneration under the Kings of Prussia and its rigorous development by the new German Empire, says:

"The fleet requires steadfast work in order to become as strong an instrument for the German Empire as the Prussian Kings possessed in the army. The principal condition for the attainment of this end is fulfilled if the spirit of the Great Elector is alive in the fleet. In order to bestow a special mark of distinction on the fleet on this great anniversary, I direct that a fac simile of the imperial signature be worn on the sword-knot and sash-buckle of the navy."

The rescript also bestows on naval bands the sole right to play the old Dutch "March of Honor," and orders that a bronze statue of the Great Elector be erected at Kiel and given in trust to the navy.

Emperor William this evening gave a banquet to the visiting Princes, the Ambassadors, and the great notabilities of the empire. His Majesty drank the health of the newly created knights, and carried on a lively conversation with those sitting near him. The Emperor repeatedly pledged the Ambassadors, each of whom in turn drank the health of his Majesty.

The Imperial Chancellor, Count von Bülow, sat opposite the Emperor. On the Chancellor's right were the Ambassadors of Italy, Russia, France, and the United States. On his left were the Ambassadors of Austria, Great Britain, Turkey, and Spain.

The city is again brilliantly illuminated to-night.

The gala opera was attended this evening by all the Imperial and royal personages, the foreign Ambassadors and Ministers, and many other notables. Emperor William arrived leading the Grand Duchess of Baden.

A NEW ORDER FOUNDED.

A new order of merit of the Prussian Crown has been founded in commemoration of the bi-centenary. The decoration consists of a single clasp, and ranks between that of the Order of the Black Eagle and the Grand Cross of the Red Eagle.

Emperor William has rehabilitated as Court Chamberlains all those who were suspended in 1898 because they voted, as members of the Diet, against the Canal bill.

Count Henckel von Donnersmarck has been raised to the rank of Fuerst, (Prince,) with the appellation of Durchlaucht. Hereditary nobility has been conferred on Prof. Behring of Marburg and Vice Admiral Reinhold Werner. Altogether, 3,772 orders and decorations were conferred today.

His Majesty has presented 50,000 marks for renovating the Cathedral of Koenigsberg. The City of Koenigsberg has presented to Emperor William a magnificent silver votive tablet, bearing an inscription, commemorating numerous private societies.

The newspapers publish appropriate articles, except the Socialist press and the Vlk. The latter publishes a cartoon caricaturing the Prussian coat of arms, showing two Prussian agrarian nobles standing guard, with clubs, upon the crown, with the caption,

"To be in touch with the crown is forbidden to the people again for the next 200 years."

The Berliner Tageblatt, the Vossische Zeitung, and a number of other papers regretfully point out that the hope indulged of amnesty being granted to-day at least to lèse majesté offenders has been disappointed.

KAISER TO QUEEN WILHELMINA.

Says His Eyes Turn First to the Creator and Next to Holland—The Queen's Reply.

BERLIN, Jan. 18.—Emperor William and Queen Wilhelmina of Holland have exchanged telegraphic greetings on the occasion of the bi-centenary. His Majesty's message was as follows:

The festival which, by the grace of God, it has been granted to my house and myself to celebrate, causes me to turn my eyes first to the Creator and next to the Netherlands. It is to the great House of Orange that we owe the virtues which adorned the Great Elector and glorious Princess who gave Prussia her first King. In commemoration of these facts and the additional circumstances that the Netherlanders were our first sailors and a Netherlander our first Admiral, we have conferred on my navy the right to play as a saluting march the old "March of Honor" of the Netherlands fleet. May God always be gracious to both our houses, as He was of old to our ancestors, in good times and bad. But my navy will take the motto of Admiral De Ruyter as its own—namely, "I would rather not be praised, not by anybody, so that I may be free to act according to my conscience and carry out my orders as I should." WILLIAM.

Queen Wilhelmina replied as follows:

I thank you with my whole heart for your telegram, which afforded me great pleasure, and for the sentiments which, in connection with to-morrow's memorable day, caused you to think of my country and ancestors and of our great De Ruyter. Your appreciation and recognition of those who have so long passed away touches me deeply. I am highly gratified at the bestowal on your navy of our old "March of Honor" as a saluting march. You know how close an interest I take in this significant festival, and again express to you my most heartfelt and friendly congratulations. WILHELMINA.

GEN. COLVILE RETIRED.

LONDON, Jan. 19.—The Gazette last evening announced that Major Gen. Sir Henry Edward Colvile, who recently commanded the Ninth Division of the South African Field Force and later was in command of an infantry brigade at Gibraltar, had been placed on the retired list with pay.

The resignation of Major Gen. Colvile was demanded by the British War Office late in December last, but he refused to resign and returned to England for the purpose of demanding a trial by court-martial. He was held responsible for the Yeomanry disaster at Lindley, Orange River Colony, in May last. This was investigated by the authorities when Gen. Colvile returned from South Africa last Summer, and he was reinstated in his command at Gibraltar in September. He is the head of one of the most ancient families in the United Kingdom.

It was announced on Jan. 8 that the case of Major Gen. Colvile had been left in the hands of Lord Roberts, the new Commander in Chief of the British Army, and it was said that since the War Office first passed on the matter much additional evidence had been received, upon which the request for Colvile's resignation was based. It was further asserted that various high officers who had recently returned from South Africa stated that Gen. Colvile on several occasions took precautions for the safety of himself and his men which verged dangerously near to showing the white feather.

COLONIALS DEFEAT BOERS.

LONDON, Jan. 19.—Lord Kitchener, telegraphing from Pretoria under date of yesterday, says Col. Grey, with New Zealanders and Bushmen, has vigorously attacked the enemy eight miles west of Ventersburg, completely routing 800 Boers.

Gen. Kitchener adds details of insignificant casualties in both forces and continues:

"Colvile's mobile column was attacked north of Standerton, Jan. 17, by a concentration of the enemy, who were driven off with severe loss. Our casualties were fifteen wounded and one killed."

New Post for Duke of Connaught.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—The Duke of Connaught will shortly become Adjutant General to the forces in succession to Gen. Sir Evelyn Wood, who will become Commander in Chief of the forces in Ireland.

Krueger Has Not Decided to Come Here.

BRUSSELS, Jan. 18.—Mr. Eloff, Mr. Krüger's private secretary, denies the report, which has been in circulation for some days past, that Mr. Krüger has decided to visit the United States.

RUSSIAN-AMERICAN ACCORD.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 18.—Referring to Washington advices to the effect that the United States is disposed to exercise its good offices with a view to bringing about the settlement of the Chinese question, the Novoe Vremya, probably inspired, emphasizes the frequent accord between the United States and Russia, whose "declarations from the beginning and common action in withdrawing their troops, show they are pursuing the same aims." The paper adds:

"To avoid sowing discord among the diplomats, Russia, then, did not raise the question whether further operations were necessary."

The Novoe Vremya concludes its statements diplomatically, yet suggestively, by saying:

"Now, however, after the note has been ratified, the conditions have so completely changed that should the United States make the friendly proposals suggested, we would not, probably, be wrong if we supported them."

While the question has not been formally discussed between the two Cabinets, it is known here that Russia is earnestly opposed to further military operations in China.

ENVOYS ACCEPT SIGNED NOTE.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—A message was received to-day from Minister Conger, stating that the Chinese Plenipotentiaries had signed and delivered the joint note.

This removes the last doubt that had arisen as to the sealing of the agreement, for it would not have been accepted unless it bore all the seals and signatures necessary to give it full force.

Russians Took Home Little Loot.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 18.—By official orders from the Minister of War, the kits of the detachments of the Thirteenth Rifles, which have just returned from China, have been examined. In 102 knapsacks examined were found four Chinese toys, five lacquered boxes, two knives, one fan, and two pieces of silk. It is considered that this result refutes the accusations of plundering brought by foreign newspapers against the Russian troops, inasmuch as the Thirteenth Rifles participated in the occupation of Mukden, where the temptation to pillage was by no means small.

MR. McKINLEY TAKES A DRIVE.

President Much Better, but Unable to Receive Visitors Till Next Week.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—The President was feeling so much better this morning that he took a drive behind his new team. Before doing so he went to his office and signed some mail.

He will not begin to receive visitors until next week.

DR. DREYER IS ARRESTED.

Charged with Issuing False Death Certificate in Smallpox Case.

Dr Moritz W. Dreyer of 60 McKibben Street, Brooklyn, the physician who attended Benjamin Tolkofsky, who died from smallpox at 31 Boerum Street on Monday last, was arrested yesterday, charged with having sent a false certificate of death in the case to the Health Office.

The warrant for Dr. Dreyer's arrest was issued on statements made by Drs. Hughes and Herkimer of the Health Department. When arraigned in the Adams Street Police Court, Dr. Dreyer pleaded not guilty and was paroled pending a hearing on Tuesday next.

NIXON SHIPYARD STRIKE.

ELIZABETH, N. J., Jan. 18.—The strike at the Nixon ship yards here continues. The strikers claim that there are now over 200 men out. They held a meeting at the Grand Army Hall on East Jersey Street, but nothing definite was made known. Mr. Nixon says that he does not know whether or not the strike will cause a general suspension of business.

The strikers say that the joiners, ship carpenters, machinists, engineers, painters, drillers, and tappers and caikers are on strike, and the boilermakers have threatened to quit work if the non-union men are not discharged or forced to join the union.

HURT IN TROLLEY CRASH.

Passengers in Suburban Cars Badly Shaken and Two Severely Injured —Motorman Blamed.

YONKERS, N. Y., Jan. 18.—Two cars on the Union Traction Company's lines crashed into each other this afternoon 300 yards east of the Dunwoodie station, on the line between this city and Mount Vernon. Two persons were severely injured and a dozen or more slightly cut by flying glass.

William Fischer, the motorman of the car from this city, is held responsible for the collision. He should, it is declared, have waited on the siding at Dunwoodie for the car from Mount Vernon. He knew that the other car was late.

Fischer started ahead in the hope of reaching a switch a half mile further on before the tardy car should appear. Meanwhile the west-bound car, with Thomas Reed as motorman, reached the middle switch and started toward this city. Reed while running down a steep hill toward a little valley heard the car in charge of Fischer descending the hill on the opposite side behind a curve. He stopped and then tried to back, but before his car could attain any motion the east-bound car dashed around the curve a couple of hundred feet away.

The passengers in the west-bound car had crowded to the rear end, and most of them were on the platform when the east-bound car hit the forward end. Some of them were hurled to the road, and as the glass fell in splinters, many of them were cut and all were shaken up and bruised.

Mrs. James Forsythe of Jerome Avenue sustained a compound fracture of the left leg and the bones tore through the flesh and protruded. Miss E. Jones of Rochelle Park had her back injured. They were taken to St. John's Hospital here, and after being attended to were taken to their homes. Those who were slightly injured refused to give their names.

SHACKLED BURGLAR AT LARGE.

Handcuffed Prisoner Escapes from a New Jersey Constable.

HOHOKUS, N. J., Jan. 18.—Burglars broke into the Allendale station of the Erie Railroad last night at 11 o'clock. A young man and woman who were waiting for the 11:30 train heard glass being broken. The young man looked in the station window and saw a man in the office. The young man pulled a revolver on him, but the burglar got away. He was found hidden away at the Waldwick lumber yard, the next village from Allendale.

A constable arrested him, putting handcuffs on him and taking him to his house. The constable searched the man's pockets and found one hundred pieces of chewing gum, one hundred bars of chocolate, and 41 cents in money, all taken from slot machines. The burglar was seen the day before at Waldwick playing a harmonica on the streets and collecting money for his meals.

During the night the burglar got away with the handcuffs still on him. He went toward Wyckoff, a small village one mile from here.

FIVE KILLED IN A COLLISION.

Heavy Freight Trains Meet at High Speed—Four Engines Demolished.

NORWAY, Me., Jan. 18.—A head-on collision between freight trains on the Grand Trunk Railroad near Locke's Mills, early to-day resulted in the death of five men and serious injury of several others, and four locomotives and thirteen cars were demolished. Both trains were very heavy, each being drawn by two engines. The dead are the two engineers, a fireman, and two unknown tramps.

One of the trains had a large quantity of explosives on board. The cars took fire, explosions scattered the embers in all directions and prevented effective work in putting out the fire.

The trains came together on a curve and both were running at a high speed. The east-bound train was made up of thirty-two loaded cars and the west-bound of ten loaded and twenty-two empty cars. In an instant the four engines were nothing but a shapeless pile of iron and steel, twisted and broken, and more than a dozen cars were smashed and thrown all about the central point of the collision. The battered wreck of one engine lay on top of the other three fully twenty feet from the ground.

Superintendent Jones of the Grand Trunk Railway says that a telegraph operator at Shelburne failed to deliver an order to a conductor. Each conductor, it is said, believed he had the right of way and the engineers were taking advantage of the down grades which meet at the point where the collision occurred.

THREE TENEMENTS BURNED.

Twelve Families in Jersey City Escape in Their Night Clothing.

Three three-story frame tenements at 2, 4, and 6 Ivy Place, Jersey City, were destroyed by fire at 3:30 o'clock yesterday morning, and twelve families were rendered homeless, losing all their furniture. Owing to the rapid spread of the flames the tenants were obliged to flee in their night clothes. They were sheltered by neighbors.

The cause of the fire could not be learned, but Policeman Lewis, who gave the alarm, says it started in a vacant store on the first floor of the middle building. The buildings were owned by Albert Maturin, Louis Hoffet, and Dr. Seth B. Sprague. The total loss is $8,000.

STEAMER DESTROYED BY FIRE.

Thieves Thought to Have Killed the Watchman and Set It Ablaze.

BENTON HARBOR, Mich., Jan. 18.—The Graham & Morton steamboat City of Louisville was destroyed by fire early to-day at the dock, where she was tied up for the Winter. Charles Southworth of Saugatuck, the watchman, was burned to death.

Investigation led to the theory of a probable murder. It is thought that thieves, desirous of plundering the vessel, murdered the watchman, and set fire to the boat to hide the crime. The hull of the vessel may be saved and the steamer rebuilt.

The City of Louisville had been overhauled and would have made her first Spring run in two weeks. The boat was built at Saugatack in 1889, under another name. In 1895 the craft was rebuilt, and since then has been named City of Louisville. She was 177 feet long, 26 feet beam, rated A1, and valued at $100,000. The loss is fully covered by insurance.

LIVES MENACED BY FIRE.

Row of Village Buildings Destroyed—A Boy's Presence of Mind.

ELIZABETH, N. J., Jan. 18.—The village of Linden was the scene of a destructive fire, which occurred early this morning and consumed a row of frame buildings located opposite the Pennsylvania Railroad Station. The drug store of Daniel G. Hilliard, the barber's shop of John Gieger, the butcher's shop of John Weidman & Co., together with the dwellings of Frederick Miller and Joseph Bartram were destroyed, with most of their contents.

The Linden Post Office was situated in Hilliard's drug store, he being Postmaster. Most of the mail matter was saved, together with the stock and money in the office. The loss, it is estimated, will reach $25,000; partly covered by insurance.

The fire began in the butcher's shop. It was discovered by Miller, who with his wife and four children occupied the house adjoining Weidman's shop. He assisted Mrs. Miller and his two little girls out of the bedroom window to the roof of the butcher's shop, over which they made their escape.

Miller's two sons, aged, respectively, five and ten years, were in another room, which it was impossible for their father to reach. The elder boy raised the window, and, taking his little brother in one arm, dropped to the sidewalk, both fortunately escaping injury.

YESTERDAY'S FIRES.

(From 12 o'clock Thursday night until 12 o'clock Friday night.)

9 A. M.—331-333 Bowery; owner, Herman Jacoby; damage, $20.

12:40 P. M.—1,112 East One Hundred and Sixty-seventh Street; owner, Thomas Sellers; damage, $10.

3:05 P. M.—437 East Fifty-ninth Street; owner, Owen Douglass; damage, $20.

5:15 P. M.—107 Lexington Avenue; owner, James Tappen; no damage.

5:15 P. M.—202 East One Hundred and Fourteenth Street; owner, Isaac Schiekler; damage trifling.

5:40 P. M.—23 Rivington Street; owner, Abraham Gilliman; damage, $100.

5:40 P. M.—218 West Twenty-eighth Street; owner, George Ganaway; damage, $200.

7:20 P. M.—407 East One Hundred and Third Street; owner, Jacob Berdstone, $500; Stephen Cenenti, $500; building, $100.

9:15 P. M.—440 East Eighty-sixth Street; Mrs. Dietz; damage, $10.

MURRAY HALL FOOLED MANY SHREWD MEN

How for Years She Masqueraded in Male Attire.

HAD MARRIED TWO WOMEN

Was a Prominent Tammany Politician and Always Voted—Senator Martin Astonished.

Murray H. Hall, the woman who masqueraded as a man for more than a quarter of a century, and the secret of whose sex came out only with her death last Wednesday night, at 145 Sixth Avenue, was known to hundreds of people in the Thirteenth Senatorial District, where she figured quite prominently as a politician. In a limited circle she even had a reputation as a "man about town," a bon vivant, and all-around "good fellow."

She was a member of the General Committee of Tammany Hall, a member of the Iroquois Club, a personal friend of State Senator "Barney" Martin and other officials, and one of the most active Tammany workers in the district.

She registered and voted at primaries and general elections for many years, and exercised considerable political influence with Tammany Hall, often securing appointments for friends who have proved their fealty to the organization—never exciting the remotest suspicion as to her real sex.

She played poker at the clubs with city and State officials and politicians who flatter themselves on their cleverness and perspicacity, drank whisky and wine and smoked the regulation "big black cigar" with the apparent relish and gusto of the real man-about-town.

Furthermore, Murray Hall is known to have been married twice, but the woman to whom she stood before the world in the attitude of a husband kept her secret as guardedly as she did.

The discovery of "Murray Hall's" true sex was not made until she was cold in death and beyond the chance of suffering humiliation from exposure. She had been suffering from a cancer in the left breast for several years, as Dr. William C. Gallagher of 302 West Twelfth Street, who attended her in her final illness, discovered; but she abjured medical advice for fear of disclosing her sex, and treated herself. When she felt that life was at a low ebb she sent for Dr. Gallagher, the awful fear of exposure being supplanted by the dread of death. He made an examination and found that the cancer had eaten its way almost to the heart, and that it was a matter of only a few days, when death must ensue.

He kept this information from the patient, fearing the shock might hasten death. He deceived himself, for "Murray Hall" knew as well as Dr. Gallagher that the end was near. In years gone by, from time to time, "Murray Hall" had purchased volume after volume of works on surgery and medicine until she possessed a good medical library. Those books were studied, and the knowledge gleaned, no doubt, served to a good purpose in avoiding detection.

Three months ago most of this library was sold to C. S. Pratt, a book seller at 161 Sixth Avenue. The books found a ready sale among Mr. Pratt's customers, and there was only one left in his shop when a reporter called there yesterday. This was a volume on "The Science and Art of Surgery," by John Eric Erichsen, and was published in 1881. The flyleaf of the book contained this inscription written in a feminine hand with a lead pencil, "Celia Lin Hall, 128 Second Avenue, N. Y." Celia was the name of Murray Hall's second "wife," who died July 7, 1898. Her name was in all the books in Murray Hall's collection, but, according to all the book sellers along Sixth Avenue who knew her, it was the "husband" who made the purchases.

A LOVER OF BOOKS.

"There were many books in the collection," said Mr. Pratt, "that were published in Ireland and England. Most of the authors, however, bore Irish names. I knew Hall well, having had many dealings with him, and believed him to be either a native of Ireland or a person of Irish extraction. He was well read and had no use for light literature. What he wanted and what I always sold him was some work on science. He would always ask to examine the book at home, and if it struck his fancy he would pay any price I fixed without quibble. He seemed to me to be a modest little man, but occasionally he showed an irascible temper. He would never talk about himself and shunned garrulous and inquisitive competitions. In fact, when I met him on the street he was either accompanied by his black and tan dog or some woman or women, strangers to me, who I suppose were clients.

"During the seven years I knew him I never once suspected that he was anything else than what he appeared to be. While he was somewhat effeminate in appearance and talked in a falsetto voice, still his conduct and actions were distinctively masculine. This revelation is a stunner to me and, I guess, to everybody else who knew him."

"I wouldn't believe it if Dr. Gallagher, whom I know to be a man of undoubted veracity, hadn't said so," said Senator Bernard F. Martin. "Well, truly, it's most wonderful. Why, I knew him well. He was a member of the Tammany district organization, a hard worker for his party, and always had a good argument to put up for any candidate he favored. He used to come to the Iroquois Club to see me and pay his dues, and occasionally he would crack a joke with some of the boys. He was a modest little fellow, but had a peppery temper and could say some cutting things when any one displeased him. Suspect he was a woman? Never. He dressed like a man and talked like a very sensible one. The only thing I ever thought eccentric about him was his clothing. Now that they say he's a woman, I can see through that. You see, he also wore a coat a size or two too large, but of good material. That was to conceal his form. He had a bushy head of black hair, which he wore long and parted on the left side. His face was always smooth, just as if he had just come from the barber's.

"He never sought political preferment for himself, but often said a good word that helped along a deserving friend. And he could say nice things and some bad things about a man, too, just as cleverly as any of the big politicians.

"Why," continued the Senator, "when the County Democracy was in the heyday of its glory, Murray Hall was one of the bright stars in that particular constellation. He was the Captain of his election district when he lived and kept an intelligence office between Seventeenth and Eighteenth Street, on Sixth Avenue. That was some years ago, when the district extended to the south side of Twenty-third Street. When the district was cut down, making Fourteenth Street the northern boundary, Hall moved so as to be in with his political pals. He used to hobnob with the big guns of the County Democracy, and I knew he cut quite some figure as a politician.

A "GOOD FELLOW."

"He finally tired of his political associations, and came to me. He asked to be taken back into the fold. He was a 'good fellow,' and kept a good line on the voters of the district. He knew most everybody and most everybody knew him, and I thought he would be a very acceptable acquisition. He had formerly been a member of Tammany Hall, and had many friends in the organization. He was at the polls every election day, voted once any way, as they say, and helped get out the vote. We made him a member of the General Committee, and he was always present and participated in the proceedings until the last two years. His health had been bad as the result of being knocked down on Fifth Avenue by a bicycle, and he had not been very active in politics of late.

"Joseph Young, one of Senator Martin's most trusted lieutenants and an officer of the Iroquois Club, was the Tammany Captain of the district when Murray Hall served in the same capacity for the County Democracy.

"I knew him well," said Young, "and I remember that we both worked tooth and nail to get the larger vote. If he's a woman he's the wonder of all the ages, sure's you live, for no man could ever suspect it from his habits and actions.

"Why, he had several run-ins when he and I were opposing Captains. He'd try to influence my friends to vote against the regular organization ticket and he'd spend money and do all sorts of things to get votes. A woman? Why, he'd line up to the bar and take his whisky like any veteran, and didn't make faces over it, either. If he was a woman he ought to have been born a man, for he lived and looked like one."

The late Patrick McCabe, who was Chief Clerk of the Jefferson Market Police Court, was an intimate friend of Hall. They had been associated in politics for years, attended chowders together, drank, smoked, and had many good times, but McCabe died without knowledge of the fact that his chum and colleague was a woman.

While McCabe was located in the Jefferson Market Court, Hall began the career of a professional bondsman. The singular character often befriended unfortunates for a consideration, and was doing a profitable business until, on one occasion, he qualified in a sum that aroused the Court's suspicion.

On investigating the bondsman's alleged wealth it was discovered that Hall had only about $5,000 in real estate, which consisted of five lots in West Chester willed to him by his "wife," "and a few thousand dollars in bank."

Hall was arrested after attending a meeting at the Iroquois Club one night and locked up in the Macdougal Street Station, but didn't stay long.

On the way to the station the policeman who had the prisoner in charge accepted an invitation to step into Skelly's saloon, at Tenth Street and Greenwich Avenue. They had several drinks, for which Hall paid. In the meantime Skelly had sent out for several politicians, who accompanied the officer and his prisoner to the station house. Skelly furnished a bond and Hall was released.

The party returned to Skelly's and had more drinks. Then Hall and several friends went to the Grapevine, Eleventh Street and Sixth Avenue, then to Teddy Ackerman's, across from Jefferson Market, drinking wine in both places until they reached a high state of enthusiasm.

ASSAULTED A POLICEMAN.

Hall was coaxed outside, refused to go home, and started in to whip Policeman O'Connor, who tried to arrest him, and succeeded in putting a storm cloud draping under the officer's eye before he was handcuffed. Hall was finally returned to the station house two hours from the time of the first arrest, locked up, and kept over night. Next day his political friends "squared it," and he was released.

Hall's acquaintances, including Senator Martin, say that he appeared to be about fifty years of age. The death certificate places the age at seventy years.

John Bremer, proprietor of the Fifteenth Ward Hotel, Ninth Street and Sixth Avenue, knew Hall well, and had some business dealings with him. "He was a shrewd, bright man, in my estimation," said Mr. Bremer, "and I wouldn't believe he was a woman if it wasn't for Dr. Gallagher's statement.

"He used to send people from his intelligence office to room here for a day or two, and often came himself to see somebody stopping here. He'd drink anything from beer up, but I never saw him smoke, though they say he did, and chew, too."

"Yes, 'n play poker or pinochle and was sweet on women," broke in a lawyer who lives at the hotel. "I've known him for a number of years. He could drink his weight in beer and stand up under it.

"Why, I saw him play poker with a party of the Jefferson Market clique one night, and he played the game like a veteran. And for nerve, well, I can't believe that he was a woman, that's all. He stood two raises, when a jackpot had been opened, on two nines. I stood directly back of him and saw the play.

"The opener drew a card. The next man drew two cards, the third man drew three cards. When Hall called for two, I thought he was crazy, for there was about $75 in the pot, and he didn't have an ace or face card to hold up with his pair.

"It was a tray he held out for a 'kicker,' and blame me if he didn't pull another tray and a nine spot. He made all but the opener lay down, and would have been betting yet if he hadn't got a call. He beat out three aces and got about $125 all told. He had a cigar in his mouth that night, but I don't believe he lit it.

"So he's a woman, eh? Well, I've read of such characters in fiction, but, if it's true, Hall's case beats anything in fact or fiction I can recall."

MRS. MEYER'S STORY.

Mrs. Johanna Meyers, who keeps a newsstand and cigar store at 100 West Tenth Street, knew Hall for many years.

"He used to come in here and buy papers and books, but never tobacco," she said yesterday. "His wife used to come in, too. She was a large, good-looking woman, almost twice her husband's weight. She did most of the business in the intelligence office up to the time of her death. She never intimated to me that her husband was a woman, neither did Hall himself nor their adopted daughter, Minnie.

"Last week Wednesday Mr. Hall sent a servant around here with a message that he was very sick and for me to call without fail between 2 and 3 o'clock next afternoon. My husband was very bad from the grip at the time, and I didn't get a chance to go. He didn't send for me again. He thought a great deal of me and used to come in and sit down and read for hours.

"On my last birthday he gave me a large cake for a present. Not once did I ever suspect from word or action that he was masquerading and was really a woman. I believe that he meant to confide in me and tell me his secret when he sent for me. If I had only suspected I certainly would have gone to see him. His adopted daughter, Minnie, was here this morning.

"The poor girl is terribly shocked over the disclosure. She said she had always believed her foster father was a man, and never heard her foster mother say anything that would lead her to suspect otherwise.

Minnie Hall, the adopted child, is the sole heir. She is twenty-two years old, and Lawyer Thomas Moran, who drew the will, says she is the only beneficiary named. The estate, he said, will not exceed $10,000 or $12,000.

Where Murray Hall came from, or who she really was, no one seems to know, not even the adopted daughter. It was about twenty-five years ago that "he" first came to public notice in New York. About that time he opened an employment bureau in Sixth Avenue, near Twenty-third Street. He had with him a woman known as his wife.

After about three years the wife made complaints to neighbors that her husband was making her life miserable; that he flirted with clients and paid altogether too much attention to other women. This woman suddenly disappeared. Whither she went, when or how, no one knows. The husband never spoke of her after her disappearance, and no one cared enough to make inquiries.

About fifteen years ago Hall moved to a building between Seventeenth and Eighteenth Streets, where he soon after introduced the woman who was known as Mrs. Hall as his second wife. The couple seemed to get along peaceably until seven years ago, when they moved to 145 Sixth Avenue. Then neighbors say they quarrelled. Mrs. Hall declaring her husband was too attentive to other women. That was the first known of Minnie Hall, the adopted daughter.

Who the child was or where she came from is as much a mystery as the early history of Murray Hall. How a woman could for so many years impersonate a man without detection, deceiving even her physician and some of the cleverest men and women in New York with whom she frequently came in contact, though the secret must have been known to at least two others—the wives—is a mystery quite as inexplicable as the character that accomplished the feat.

THE WEATHER.

LOCAL FORECAST.—Brisk westerly winds, becoming southwesterly.

The principal disturbance last night was central off the maritime provinces. A secondary disturbance developed during the day over Lake Huron. Another disturbance has appeared off the Central Pacific Coast, and a fourth disturbance to the northward of Montana. Occasional snows, with rising, followed by falling temperature, is indicated for New England, the northern part of the Middle Atlantic States, and the eastern portion of the lower lake region. Local snows, with generally lower temperatures, are indicated for the western part of the lower lake region and in the upper lake region; elsewhere generally fair weather will obtain, with rising temperature in Minnesota and North Dakota. Brisk northwesterly winds, becoming southerly, are indicated for the New England Coast; brisk westerly winds, becoming southwesterly, for the Middle Atlantic Coast, and fresh to brisk westerly winds on the South Atlantic Coast.

The record of temperature for the twenty-four hours ended at midnight, taken from THE NEW YORK TIMES's thermometer and from the thermometer of the Weather Bureau is as follows:

	—Weather Bureau—		—TIMES.
	1900.	1901.	1901.
3 A. M.	35	31	32
6 A. M.	35	29	31
9 A. M.	37	24	33
12 M.	42	22	31
3 P. M.	43	19	25
6 P. M.	44	18	23
9 P. M.	44	17	21
12 P. M.	43	17	23

THE TIMES's thermometer is 6 feet above the street level; that of the Weather Bureau is 285 feet above the street level.

Average temperatures yesterday were as follows:

Printing House Square	27½
Weather Bureau	24
Corresponding date 1900	40
Corresponding date for last twenty years	33

The minimum temperature yesterday was 16 degrees at 7:45 P. M. The maximum temperature was 32 degrees at 12:06 A. M. At 8 A. M. the barometer registered 29.61 inches; at 8 P. M. it registered 29.98 inches. The humidity at 8 A. M. was 76 per cent.; at 8 P. M. it was 44 per cent.

C. C. SHAYNE,

MANUFACTURER,

Will Continue to Sell Genuine Alaska Sealskin Coats at $50 Less Than Former Prices.

Imperial Russian and Hudson Bay sable muffs, victorines, capes and mantles at 20 per cent. discount.

Mink, 15 per cent. discount.

Persian Lamb, 10 per cent. discount.

Ermine, chinchilla, fox, marten, lynx, etc., 15 to 20 per cent. discount.

Men's fur lined overcoats, sleigh and carriage robes marked way down.

42ND STREET, BETWEEN BROADWAY AND 6TH AVENUE.

SPECIAL.—Persian Lamb Collarettes formerly sold for $35, $40 and $50. Your choice for $25

There is hardly a spot in the civilized world where

"CANADIAN CLUB" WHISKY

is not enjoyed because of its fragrant aroma and delicate and unmistakable flavour. Its remarkable blending qualities make it especially delicious in cocktails, highballs, or in any mixed drink in which whisky is used.

28

MAYOR CRITICISES NEW BRIDGE COMMISSIONERS

Expresses Dissatisfaction at the Slow Progress of the Work.

Board of Estimate on His Motion Approves of a Larger Playground for Children in Seward Park.

Mayor Van Wyck, at the meeting of the Board of Estimate yesterday, found fault with the East River Bridge Commission, of which Lewis Nixon, head of the Tammany Committee of Five, is President, and accused them of not attending to their business.

"If only the Commissioners would exercise some of their energy to try and complete the bridge, and not run around trying to buy small pieces of property, they would do better and the bridge might be finished some time," said he.

Mayor Van Wyck then introduced this resolution:

Resolved, That the Commissioners of the New East River Bridge forthwith take steps for the acquisition of land by condemnation proceedings, and immediately vest title in the city of property to be acquired for the approaches to the new East River Bridge.

Deputy Commissioner Levey said that no action had been taken to acquire title to land, although the Commissioners had the power to do so four months ago, after the application to the Supreme Court for the appointment of condemnation commissioners.

Controller Coler introduced a resolution prohibiting the Commissioners from taking any more land except through condemnation proceedings. The resolution was passed.

City Clerk Scully, who came in to head off a crusade to make the whole area of William Henry Seward Park a playground for children, was received and treated by Mayor Van Wyck with marked respect.

There was to have been a hearing at 3 o'clock in the afternoon in the City Hall, at which many well-known residents in the vicinity of the park were going to speak against the plan of Tammany officials to keep the children from using the park as a playground. City Clerk Scully, Tammany Hall leader in the district, decided to forestall the "reformers" who were going to talk at the meeting, which did not take place. He presented a petition from residents of the lower east side asking the board to establish a larger playground for children in the William Henry Seward Park.

Before Mr. Scully had a chance to proceed with his argument, Mayor Van Wyck said:

"So far as I am concerned, I heartily agree with you."

Mayor Van Wyck then moved that plans submitted by the Park Department for the laying out of the park be rescinded, and that the Park Commissioners be directed to set aside a substantial part of the park for a playground. President Guggenheimer proposed that the matter be withdrawn from the Municipal Assembly.

"That body has nothing to do with the matter as yet," said Mayor Van Wyck.

The resolution was approved unanimously. Then Mayor Van Wyck said:

"I am strongly in favor of small parks in the city, but parks like this should be almost wholly given over to a playground. I really think it would be better to have the whole park a playground, but most of it would answer the same purpose."

President Guggenheimer withdrew his opposition to the appropriation of $469,

The Wanamaker Store.

An Important Transaction in FINE FURS

THERE is one fur manufacturer in New York who has the reputation of paying higher prices for skins than other people; and he gets the choicest furs that are to be had. He is also known as the maker of the most stylish furs made in America. Each year he makes a complete clearance of his stock, so that he never has old furs or old garments. A year ago we sold his entire stock. This year we repeat the transaction, with perhaps better advantages than last year's. Styles are better, and this season has been less favorable for the sale of furs, up to the present time; hence we have choicer furs and better bargains than ever before. The transaction, at retail values, brings us

$33,000 Worth of Fine FURS Many of which Are at HALF PRICE

In fact, those pieces which are not at half price, or near it, are now scarce on the market at their regular prices. Here are jackets that are the top notch of the season's styles, splendidly made, artistic in form, exquisitely lined; same as sold at $100, now marked $50; $70 kinds at $35, and so on.

The offering is high in quality, refined in character, broad in variety, and most remarkable for low prices. Hints of details follow:

Men's SCARFS

Imperials, tecks, and English squares. Of fancy silks, light and dark shades. All good colors. Some imported. One hundred dozen from which to choose at 50c each. Many of them are $1 scarfs. The remainder are of a quality that should sell for no less than $1.50.

Men's Furnishings, Ninth street.

Men's Night Shirts

Domet Flannel. Liberally cut. Carefully made. Very moderately priced. They're the same sort—at least they're just as good—as those we've been selling at 75c. But the price of these is but 50c.

Good variety of patterns. Sizes 14 to 19.

Men's Furnishings, Ninth street.

Men's Suspenders

One hundred dozen at 25c each. They're fully worth 50c. Of light mercerized cotton webbing. Looks like silk, and wears much better. Calfskin ends; plated buckle. Wide variety of patterns and color combinations.

Men's Furnishings—Ninth street.

Boys' CLOTHING

An army of boys can be satisfactorily clothed here every day at little cost. To-day several hundred will find suits and overcoats at much less than even our very reasonable every-day prices.

These sailor suits, for instance. They are made of the best grades of blue cheviots. Dressy, durable. Sizes 3 to 12 years. Were moderately priced at $8 and $9. Only the last forty suits, at $6 each.

Reefers that were $7 to $11 are now $5. High-grade Raglans and other topcoats that were $12 to $15, are now $9. And others that sold at prices up to $20, are now $12. The last two lots in sizes 6 to 16 years.

Second floor, Ninth street.

WALL PAPER

Remarkably attractive offerings are still plentiful in this style of all tasteful wall papers. But come to-day, if possible. And be very sure to bring measurements of the room you're thinking of having papered. This admonition for your own benefit. You will thus be able to secure exactly the proper quantity. Not a little less, or perhaps a great deal more, than is required.

There were over 700 styles from which to choose when we started. And fairly good quantities as well. Both are considerably reduced, but there's splendid choosing still, and the prices are mostly less than half regular.

Third floor.

Children's DRESSES

Charming little winter dresses, warm and well made. There's an interesting display of them here this morning. But they'd look ever so much better in actual use. And here's our invitation to mothers generally to help in their immediate departure:

Six dollar cashmere dresses, also some of wool plaids, are reduced to $3. Sizes 1 to 3 years.

Nine dollar whipcord dresses are now $4.75. These in navy blue and red; plaited waist and skirt. Sizes for 2 and 3 years.

Second floor, Fourth avenue.

Women's HANDKERCHIEFS

Half price! This is a purchase of two hundred dozens of very dainty handkerchiefs at a very little price. Popular sorts, too. They are pure linen squares trimmed with lace—some have insertion and edging; others have pointed lace effects. Usually sold at 20c—to-day at

10c Each

Broadway.

Fur Coats—

At $25, from $40 and $45—Plain electric seal Eton jackets.
At $35, from $60 and $65—Plain electric seal coats; very latest and newest shapes.
At $35, from $70—Electric seal coats, with collars and revers of Nutria.
At $35, from $70—Plain Astrakhan coats, with rich, bright silky lustre.
At $50, from $100—Fine moire Astrakhan coats, trimmed with Alaska sable and sable fox.
At $60, from $90 and $110—Plain Persian lamb coats.
At $90, from $125 and $150—Persian lamb coats; collar and revers of chinchilla.
At $115, from $225—Persian lamb coats, with mink trimming.

Fur Muffs—

At $3, from $5—Electric Seal Muffs.
At $3 75, from $7.50—Manchurian Bear Muffs.
At $6, from $12.50—Sable Dyed Imitation Lynx Muffs.
At $8, from $16—Alaska Sable Muffs.
At $6, from $12.50—Persian Muffs.
At $9, from $18.50—Persian Muffs.
At $15, from $30—Mink Muffs.
At $30, from $55—Blended Baum Marten Muffs.

Second floor, Broadway.

Collarettes and Capes—

At $17.50, from $30—Irkutz sable capes.
At $25, from $40—Irkutz sable capes.
At $25, from $50—Natural lynx collarettes, with high collar.
At $50, from $110—Seal collarettes, with border of cross fox.
At $50, from $95—Stone marten collarettes, with jabot in front.
At $60, from $125—Persian lamb collarettes, with black lynx tabs.
At $75, from $125 and $150—Short seal capes.
At $100, from $200—Collarettes of Alaska seal, with long tabs; border of natural Baum marten.
